Roaring in the 20s

First place was awarded to Monica Lee. "My motto is 'Finding beauty and purpose in the discarded,'" Lee said. Photo by Elana Rapp

By Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Roaring in the 20s could easily refer to either the 1920s or the 2020s, with all that happened then and is happening now. The art show of that name at the Mills Station Arts and Culture Center is a collaboration between the MACC and the Rancho Cordova Arts Council, which now numbers nearly 150 members. It is the work of those members that is featured in this show.

There are 30 artists participating in the show, with a total of 59 artworks – up to five each were allowed. Mallorie Marsh, associate director of education at the Crocker Art Museum is the juror for the show. Marsh chose first through third place pieces as well as Best in Show and two honorable mentions.

Melani Grube won Best in Show with "Skelly Jazz." It's part of a "Skelly" series that includes previously done Skelly Pirates. "Hopefully it's a joyful picture," Grube said. "Both Halloween and Day of the Dead have inspired me to do this series – I see it as almost a freedom, a freedom that we can remove our masks and be who we really are." This work is in mixed media with acrylic paints, ink, and pastels, using light-hearted colors.

First place winner was Monica Lee's "Divided States of America." Previously a professional still photographer, Lee now teaches creative reuse workshops all over the Bay Area. She took her love of repurposing, books, typewriters, and sewing and combined them all together with a gutted United States history book. "I honestly couldn't think of something for the 1920s so I thought, well maybe I won't enter this year," Lee said. "Then at the last second I thought, I'm going to try it and see what happens . . . I decided, well what is going on in 2020?"

Second place artist Katherine Kunz-Davies took glass photographic negatives created in 1989, put them into a window, and made them into "Future." To the 1920s, 1989 actually was far into the future. "I've had these plates probably 20 years," Kunz-Davies said. "I collect things and think, 'I should do a window out of that.'"

Cheryl Gleason, MACC event coordinator and curator, won third place with acrylic mixed media on board, "Open Your Eyes." Gleason said about her work, "This piece is about how in the past century black lives were taken from us for peacefully protesting for equality, for the right to vote, for how black men are perceived by white people, and about the change that needs to happen."

Honorable mentions were awarded to

Taxpayers Should File by July 15

By David A. Tucker II, IRS

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - The Department of the Treasury and IRS announced the tax filing and payment deadline of July 15 will not be postponed. Individual taxpayers unable to meet the July 15 due date can request an automatic extension of time to file until Oct. 15.

The IRS reminds taxpayers filing Form 1040 series returns that they must file Form 4868 by July 15 to obtain the automatic extension to Oct. 15. The extension provides additional time to file the tax return – it is not an extension to pay any taxes due.

The IRS urges people who owe taxes, even if they have a filing extension, to carefully review their situation and pay what they can by July 15 to avoid penalties and interest. For people facing hardships, including those affected by COVID-19, who cannot pay in full, the IRS has several options available to help. To avoid interest and penalties, the IRS encourages them to pay what they can and consider a variety of payment options available for the remaining balance.

Individual taxpayers have several easy ways to file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, by the July 15 deadline. The IRS also reminds taxpayers to check their state filing and payment deadlines, which may differ from the federal July 15 deadline.

IRS Direct Pay allows payment directly from a checking or savings account. This service is free; Electronic Federal Tax Payment System, or EFTPS. Pay by phone or online. This service is free; Debit or credit card payment. This service is free, but the processing company may charge a fee. Fees vary by company; Check or money order made payable to the United States Treasury (or U.S. Treasury) through the mail.

Several payment options are available on IRS.gov/ payments to help taxpayers who can't pay in full and some can offer taxpayers smaller penalties. Though interest and late-payment penalties continue to accrue on any unpaid taxes after July 15, the failure to pay tax penalty rate is cut in half while an installment agreement is in effect. The usual penalty rate of 0.5% per month is reduced to 0.25% For the calendar quarter beginning July 1, 2020, the interest rate for underpayment is 3%. For more info see IRS.gov. ★

Masks for Sacramento Seniors is a Collaborative, Grassroots Effort

By Patrick Larenas

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - As California attempts to reopen to its more normal economic, recreational and occupational activities, Seniors should keep in mind that those who are 65 years and older are still the most vulnerable to COVID-19. Arising to the task of protecting those most at risk, Cindy Rose of Rose Senior Placement organized Masks for Sacramento Seniors, a collaborative effort to donate and produce masks for those in need.

Infrastructure Enhancement Projects Continue in Rancho Cordova

Projects like the Folsom Boulevard Beautification and Sunrise Boulevard Rehabilitation have made much headway in Rancho Cordova's infrastructure. Photo: City of Rancho Cordova

City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - You've probably seen the orange cones and digital signage that reads "Road Work Ahead." That's because the Public Works team at the City of Rancho Cordova is working on several projects to further enhance the city's existing infrastructure:

Highway 50 and Zinfandel Drive Interchange Improvements

Construction on the Highway 50 and Zinfandel Drive Interchange Improvements Project is coming to an end. This project added an additional lane on Zinfandel Drive over Highway 50, modified the highway entrance and exit ramps, added bicycle lanes and modified traffic signals. This project will improve operations, alleviate congestion and provide safer routes for drivers, bicyclists and pedestrians on Zinfandel Drive from White Rock Road to Olson Drive.

Folsom Boulevard Beautification and Enhancement

The final phase of the Folsom Boulevard Beautification and Enhancement Project, Phase V, is underway. The project will enhance Folsom Boulevard from Bradshaw Road to Horn Road and from Kilgore Road to Sunrise Boulevard. This will include landscaped medians, new sidewalks, streetscape improvements at intersections, drainage facilities and new streetlights. Construction began in February and the project is expected to be completed in Fall 2020.

Sunrise Boulevard Rehabilitation

The Sunrise Boulevard Rehabilitation Project began in Spring 2020 and is anticipated to be completed by Fall 2020. This project will renovate Sunrise Boulevard between Folsom Boulevard and White Rock Road. Project improvements will include resurfacing the roadway, rehabilitating the landscaping, improving ADA access, shared use paths, bike lanes, striping and traffic signal modifications. The project is designed to continue to improve transportation, accessibility and safety for drivers, bicyclists and pedestrians traveling in the area.

These and many other projects make Rancho Cordova a great place to live, work, learn and play. Cheryl Gleason, event coordinator and curator for the MACC, won third place. "Art has an immediacy and evokes questions and thoughts that may linger for some time in the viewer's mind, all from a 10-20 second glance," Gleason said. Photo courtesy Cheryl Gleason

"Masks are a must," said Gleason. The gallery will have plenty of those available. Guests use hand sanitizer on entering, there's a certain direction to seeing the exhibits, and there's a separate entrance and exit. "We have taken every CDC guideline seriously, and really gone above and beyond that by doing temperature checks at the door," Gleason said.

This is a three-week exhibit, beginning Thursday, July 9. Thursday and Friday hours are 3-8 p.m., and Saturdays 11-4, ending July 25.

"Art has an immediacy and evokes questions and thoughts that may linger for some time in the viewer's mind, all from a 10-20 second glance," Gleason said. "Art records history, culture, community, politics, and relationships. It allows us to dig deep inside ourselves or allows a bit of solace and happiness during tumultuous times."

By Bob McGarvey

Like many people when the year began, we were all expecting some wonderful things to happen in 2020 because everything seemed to begin so well and exciting. The stock market hit a record high, businesses were doing very well, and everything seemed to be going better than we thought it. There were so many changes waiting for us just around the corner. And then George Floyd was killed in Minnesota by a police officer, and demonstrations began as peaceful protests. But their peaceful protests were high-jacked by outside groups who began riots, fires and destruction. What a shame.

Something happened last week that many had been waiting for, for 45 years. The “East Area Rapist/Golden State Killer” Joseph James DeAngelo was in court. A man who terrorized Rancho

And Another Thing

We Were All Expecting Some Wonderful Things to Happen in 2020

Cordova, Sacramento and the State of California admitted that he killed 13 people, kidnapped 13 people, and committed 62 rapes, as well as other crimes. I think that after he was arrested and was in court, it was the end of the terror and fear. The victims and their families were there, and he admitted that he was the terrorist who the victims had been waiting for, for 45 years. Now on to other parts of our lives.

We are all now trying to guess how the 2020-2021 school year will begin. I am sure we are all waiting with bated breath to see if our kids are going to attend school at the school, a hybrid/modified on campus, or full virtual learning at home. Heaven only knows what will really happen, but we hope that when the schools in the Folsom Cordova Unified School District begin on August 12th, they will be much closer to the education we (and they) are used to.

And another thing, celebrating the Fourth of July this year will be remembered because it was so different. No parade, no music in the park or rides in the park, and just fireworks in the evening of the Fourth of July. Don’t forget that even though this year’s celebration was different:

- Every day, we begin our morning, either aloud or in our minds, with a Pledge of Allegiance to our flag and to this great republic.
- Every day, we are reminded that we live in the greatest democracy in the history of the world.
- And every day, we are reminded of how fortunate we are to be here, in this country, at this time (coronavirus or not).

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we’ll see you next time. ★

Public Notice

Former Mather Air Force Base Action Memorandum Issued

The Air Force signed an Action Memorandum to document the decision to conduct an Emergency Removal Action in response to the presence of perfluorooctane sulfonate (PFOS) and perfluorooctanoic acid (PFOA) in one private drinking water well near former Mather Air Force Base. The Air Force has notified the State of California and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency of the action.

The Action Memorandum outlines the steps taken and planned to eliminate the risk of exposure to PFOS/PFOA in drinking water. The steps underway include providing an alternate water supply (bottled water) and evaluating options to provide a long-term water supply for the well owner.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency classified PFOS and PFOA as contaminants of emerging concern and set a lifetime health advisory level for drinking water of 0.07 micrograms per liter individually or combined. PFOS and PFOA are components of legacy Aqueous Film Forming Foam used to extinguish fires at the former base.

This Action Memorandum is issued in accordance with the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA) and is available for public review for 30 days as of this notice. This Action Memorandum can be found at: AR.AFCEC-cloud.AF.MIL. # United Way Offers Virtual Free Tax Help with Get Your Refund Website

By Kristin Thébaud, Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With the tax deadline extended to July 15, households throughout the Sacramento region are still eligible for free virtual help preparing taxes and claiming credits this year, saving an average of $200 in preparer fees and earning up to $6,500 in credits. United Way California Capital Region's Free Tax Prep program is partnering with GetYourRefund.org to provide virtual assistance. More households are eligible to participate through the partnership – those earning $66,000 or less in 2019. Qualified households can upload documents online and a United Way IRS-certified volunteer will call them to help claim the maximum tax credits for which they are eligible before submission, including the federal and state Earned Income Tax Credits (EITC and CalEITC). To get started: GetYourRefund.org/?s=UWCCR.

“More than a third of households in the Sacramento region were a paycheck away from homelessness before the pandemic hit – that number is going to rise in the coming months,” said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. “United Way’s Free Tax Prep program not only saves them preparer fees, it puts money back in their pockets through tax credits that many people don’t even know they are eligible for. For some families, receiving $6,500 in tax credits can mean the difference between paying rent and living on the streets.”

Age qualification for CalEITC expanded last year to include ages 18-24 and working adults ages 65 and up, giving more taxpayers the opportunity to earn credits, including those who are self-employed. Many CalEITC-eligible households are not legally required to file taxes due to low income; however if they file, they can claim state and federal credits.

This tax year, California introduced the new Young Child Tax Credit. To qualify for the credit, taxpayers must be able to claim a child under age 6 on their 2019 tax return and have earned less than $30,000 for the year. The Young Child Tax Credit can increase the state refund by an additional $1,000.

More than $11 million in refunds were claimed across the Sacramento region in 2019 through United Way’s program, up more than $1 million from the previous year. More than 9,000 local households received free help from nearly 500 volunteers in 2019, saving a total of $1.8 million in tax preparation fees. Last year, $18.6 million was received in Sacramento County from CalEITC refunds. With new increases to CalEITC and the Young Child Tax Credit, Franchise Tax Board estimates that Sacramento County could receive up to $40 million this coming tax season.

For nearly 100 years, United Way California Capital Region has brought local people together to make community change happen. Today, the nonprofit is bringing people together across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties for its Square One Project, a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of students in our region who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones and their families receive support and resources. ## Ask Toni

Need Help Selecting the Right Medicare Advantage Plan for Mom!!

Toni King

Dear Toni:

My mother has recently been laid off and losing her company benefits effective August 1. I need help finding a Medicare Advantage plan that can better meet her medical needs. She receives $1,350 on her Social Security check and cannot afford to purchase a Medicare supplement. Can you please advise me what I can do to help my mother make a better choice in picking a Medicare Advantage plan? I look forward to what you have to discuss since you counsel people every day on the maze of Medicare.

Thank you,
Becky from Katy area

Hello Becky:

I know how confusing enrolling in the right Medicare Advantage plan is for your mother because I talk to clients every day who ask the same question. I also help my own mother with her Medicare Advantage plan!!

Here is step by step advice on what you can do to help your mother make the correct choice for her Medicare Advantage plan or Medicare health plan as it is called in the Medicare and You Handbook.

1) Talk to your mother’s primary care physician or specialists to see which Medicare Advantage plans, they are still accepting.

- 2) Go to www.Medicare.gov which has the best tool for helping you narrow your search for a Medicare Advantage or Medicare Part D drug plan.
- Click on “Find Plans” which is next to “What’s Covered” and click on “Continue without logging in” then follow the steps. You can use the plan finder to compare the different Medicare Advantage plans or even compare stand-alone (Part D) Medicare Prescription Drug plans. The Medicare Supplement area is a little confusing and may not be a good option to view.
- 3) With Medicare HMOs, there is less out of pocket, but you may have more restrictions because some Medicare HMOs must have “Referrals” and some HMOs have “Open Access” options which says that you can go to any specialist without referrals.
- 4) Medicare PPOs and PFFS plans may have less restrictions but may have more out of pocket when choosing out of network VS in-network providers.
- 5) Areas in the summary of benefits for Medicare Advantage plan you need to review:
  - a. Maximum out of pocket-This is the most she will have to pay in a year. Many are not aware that Medicare Advantage plans have maximum out of pocket.
  - b. Inpatient hospital care:
    - Some plans have a single co-pay such as $300 or $500 per stay for inpatient hospital stay.

(example only)

Census Bureau Reveals Which Workers Are Hardest Hit by COVID-19

United States Census Bureau Press Release

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - Self-employed workers in states where businesses are hardest hit by the COVID-19 pandemic are more likely to face economic hardships, according to new findings from the U.S. Census Bureau’s experimental Household and Small Business Pulse surveys.

Creating jobs and running small businesses are just a couple of examples of the vital roles self-employed workers play in the U.S. economy.

Economic uncertainty related to COVID-19 has presented unique challenges for self-employed workers, from temporary closures to revenue losses.

We combined results from two new surveys to shed light on these challenges, using the Small Business Pulse Survey to identify states with businesses most affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and demographic data from the Household Pulse Survey.

Self-Employed Hit Harder Where More Businesses Closed Temporarily

In states where business conditions were hardest-hit by COVID-19 (states with 25% or more of businesses temporarily closed for one day or more), 13.9% of self-employed workers received free groceries or a free meal during the last seven days from sources such as food banks, religious organizations, community programs, or family, friends or neighbors.

In contrast, 8.7% of non-self-employed workers in these states received free meals.

In the least-affected states (those where 10% or less businesses temporarily closed for one day or more), there was no statistical difference by self-employment status in the rate of those receiving free groceries or a free meal.

Self-employed workers in the hardest-hit states reported either “sometimes not having enough to eat” or “often not having enough to eat” 5.9% of the time in the past week, which is not statistically different from the rate reported by other workers in these states.

Similarly, there was no statistical difference in food insufficiency by self-employment status in states least affected by the pandemic. ★

What is California Thinking by Adding to its Small-Business Owners’ Woes?

Commentary by Anthony Malandra

On the day California hit motorists with its annual increase in the gas tax and on the eve its state Senate is looking to pass a greatly expanded family leave law socking small-business owners with new costs, NFIB’s month Jobs Report showed, to little surprise, a worsening economy.

“You have to ask if California’s policymakers think the whole COVID-19 crisis is just a minor, ephemeral distraction that shouldn’t stop their regulatory agenda from proceeding at its break-neck pace,” said John Kabateck, California state director for NFIB, the nation’s leading small-business association. “As our Jobs Report cries out, every effort should be made to make re-opening small businesses and fostering their ability to stay open Priority No. 1, but instead we get things like Senate Bill 1383, which expands leave time for employees who may never get it if they don’t have jobs to return to. State leaders talk a good game about the need to help small business, but then pass bills like SB 1383, which is opposed by more than 100 business organizations. Just because you can force new mandates on small employers doesn’t make it right.”

Today’s Jobs Report showed the small business labor market has further weakened in June. Firms reduced employment by 0.28 workers per firm over the past month, weaker than the decrease of 0.17 workers per firm in May. Unchanged from last month, 6% reported increasing employment an average of 2.6 workers per firm and 22% (up one point) reported reducing employment an average of 4.6 workers per firm (seasonally adjusted).

Commented NFIB Chief Economist Bill Dunkelberg, “As states change reopening rules and dates, sometimes easing restrictions, small businesses are feeling various levels of uncertainty as to what comes next. With recent COVID-19 spikes in some cases, many state governments are reversing prior decisions and reducing the potential for small business to earn needed revenue.”

Keep up with the latest on California small-business at www.nfib.com/california or by following NFIB. ★

Vacationers Arriving at Second Homes Need to Respond to the Census ... Again

By Marna K Davis,
U.S. Census Bureau

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - Many families will head to their vacation homes and cabins this holiday weekend in the more rural counties in California. They are likely to find a 2020 Census questionnaire packet at their doors even if they already responded from their primary residences.

It's required that homeowners complete a separate census form for every house they own, including seasonal residences. If homeowners have been staying in their seasonal homes during the COVID crisis, they still need to complete a census form for their primary residence. People should count themselves at the residence where they live and sleep most of the time under normal conditions.

Here are instructions on how to self-respond online with information on a cabin, vacation rental property, or any other home where someone does not live and sleep most of the time:

Visit www.my2020census.gov; Enter the Census ID or address for this secondary property. Owners will find the ID number in the information packet that census takers left on the property or at a mailbox if the home has a regular mailing address; Enter "0" for the number of people living at this property; Hit Next... the survey will not advance, but it will show a second prompt. Hit Next again to advance; Select "No" when asked a confirmation question about how many people live there; Select primary reason – Seasonal (most likely); Complete!

You may also respond to the 2020 Census by calling (844) 330-2020, or returning the paper questionnaire by mail.

For more information go to www.2020Census.gov

Rancho Cordova Soroptimists Want You!

By Sheryl Longsworth,
Soroptimist Int'l of Rancho Cordova
& Gold River

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Soroptimist Int'l of Rancho Cordova & Gold River invite you to join our Legacy of Community Impact! Since the club was chartered in August, 2009, it has made significant and measurable impact on Rancho Cordova and the world. Here are just a few examples of what our club has done for the community and world:

Purchased several cases of vitamin-fortified water and snacks for healthcare and facility support workers at the Mather VA Hospital;

Arranged for a donation of nursing bras to teen moms working to graduate high school, rather than dropout or settle for a GED;

Donated Hygiene Kits to the Folsom Cordova Community Partnership to be given to at-risk families;

Over 300 homeless teen girls in the Folsom Cordova school district, are now passing their P.E. classes because they are no longer ashamed to change into their P.E. uniforms, allowing their peers to see their beautiful new undergarments and are doing better in school in general, because of their higher self-esteem and confidence, due to the new bras and panties we bought for them, over the last 10 years;

Over 1200 domestic violence survivors, over the last 7 years, feel more normal and loved because they received one of our Comfort Kits. Over 300 children of domestic violence survivors, over the last 4 years, also "felt the love" and are also able to restart their young lives with their very own Comfort Kid kit;

Approximately 150 girls per year, since 2014, stayed in school, because 15-30 minutes of heating pad use, which we provided to the school nurses at both Cordova and Kinney High schools, relieved their menstrual pain enough so they could return to class, rather than be sent home for the day;

Over 750 girls won't be a target of traffickers due to the hundreds of Dress a Girl Around the World dresses that we helped make between 2015 and 2016;

We would love you to be a part of our club's success; to continue existing programs, like the ones described above, as well as offer even more programs. WE NEED YOUR HELP! Please email siranchocordova@soroptimist.net or call club president, Sheryl Longsworth at 916-833-1218.

Social Security Matters SSDI Denied; Will Claiming Early Hurt Spouse or Survivor Benefits?

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I applied for Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits and was denied. So, because I turn 62 this month, I plan to file for my early SS retirement benefits. Since I've not worked a lot due to health issues I won't get much and I realize my benefit will be reduced by about 30% from my full retirement age amount, but we need the extra income to help with my medical bills. My husband is 57 and still works. Social Security will be our only retirement so he will be working for as long as he can. My question is, how will my early retirement affect any spousal benefits I might qualify for in the future? Or my widow's benefits if he should die before I do? Signed: Worried Spouse

Dear Worried: Claiming your own SS benefit at age 62 will cause your spousal benefit to be less when your spouse benefit starts (when your husband claims). That's because your spousal benefit will be in the form of a "spousal boost" which will be added to the reduced SS benefit you will get by filing at age 62. The amount of your spousal boost will depend upon how old you are when your husband claims (which is when your spousal benefit kicks in). If you've reached your full retirement age (FRA) of 66 years and 8 months, your spousal boost will be the difference between 1) your SS retirement benefit amount at your FRA (regardless of when you claimed) and 2) half (50%) of the benefit your husband is entitled to at his FRA (regardless of when he claims). At your FRA you get the full amount of the spousal boost; but taken before your FRA the spousal boost will be actuarially reduced according to the number of months prior to FRA it is taken. Since the spousal boost is added to the benefit you are already receiving, you claiming your reduced benefits at age 62 means your spousal benefit will also be reduced. But your spousal benefit (while your husband is living) is entirely different from your survivor benefit if your husband dies before you.

As your husband's widow, provided you have reached your FRA you will get 100% of the amount he was receiving (or entitled to receive) at his death, instead of your smaller benefit from claiming at age 62. In other words, that you claimed your own benefit at 62 doesn't affect your survivor benefit. But if the survivor benefit is claimed before you reach your full retirement age it will be reduced due to claiming it early (the reduction is about 4.75% for each year early). Note that you do not have to claim the survivor benefit immediately; you may wait to claim until it reaches maximum at your FRA.

One final point: Statistically, about 2/3rds of all initial SSDI disability applications are denied. If you believe strongly that you've been unfairly denied, you can appeal that denial, even if you go ahead and claim your own SS benefit at age 62. To appeal the SSDI denial you should submit form SSA-561 – Request for Reconsideration, which you can find at this link: www.ssa.gov/forms/ssa-561.html.

City of Rancho Cordova Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) and Public Meeting for Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) 2021 NOFA, Applicant Workshop, and Community Outreach

NOTICE is hereby given that on Friday, July 24, 2020 the City of Rancho Cordova will release applications and funding criteria for the 2021 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program year, and on Friday, August 7, 2020, there will be a NOFA application and a community needs workshop held with residents and local community stakeholders.

The City expects to receive approximately $600,000 in CDBG funds for the 2021 program year and welcomes applications from eligible non-profits and public agencies to help provide public services and capital improvement projects intended to benefit the quality of life for the city's low- and moderate-income residents.

The community is invited to attend this meeting on Friday, August 7, 2020 to provide citizen-feedback on priority needs in the City. The information gathered from this meeting will be used to guide where CDBG funds are allocated in the upcoming Annual Action Plan

Applications will be released on Friday, July 24, 2020 and will be available online through the City's website at www.cityofranchocordova.org. All applications must be submitted via e-mail to the appropriate City staff.

Applications will be due Monday, August 31, 2020 at 5:00 pm. Late applications may be rejected.

Potential applicants for CDBG funds must attend the MANDATORY application workshop, community needs, and stakeholder outreach meeting to be held Friday, August 7, 2020 at 3:00PM via virtual conference call. If you would like to attend this virtual meeting, please contact Stefan Heisler (sheisler@cityofranchocordova.org) at (916) 851-8757, or Chance Finley-Ross (cfinleyross@cityofranchocordova.org) at (916) 851-8688 to arrange for call-in attendance and for general questions.

The release of this notice is part of the City's public notice requirements for the City to provide information on its activities to the public and to provide the public an opportunity to review and comment on those City activities.

Thank you for your interest in the CDBG program.
