RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - To find out what the business community is feeling, thinking, and needing, the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce and City of Rancho Cordova have teamed up to produce a series of surveys to discover the impact of COVID-19. The Business Impact Assessment survey contains 42 questions, based on mainly two sources, said Amanda Norton, economic development manager for the City of Rancho Cordova. Some questions originated from Chamber research on the subject and communication through other chambers of commerce throughout the country. "A large percentage of the questions came from the International Economic Development Council," Norton said. "A lot of these questions are being used in surveys by other people through the region, as well as some that people might use nationwide."

Responses are confidential and results will be reported only in aggregate, names and contact information are optional and confidential as well. The survey asks responders questions related to the COVID-19 impact on their business, and what they expect for the future. Sections focus on different aspects including whether the business is open, its hours, and how goods and services are currently being delivered. The option is given to include promotional information about the business that responders would like to have publicized.

Sac County Health Officer Extends COVID-19 Order

Sacramento County Press Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Public Health Officer has issued a new Public Health Order effective at 11:59 p.m., May 1, and will be in effect until 11:59 p.m., May 22, 2020, or until it is extended, rescinded, superseded or amended in writing by the Health Officer.

The Public Health Order reinforces the direction for all individuals to stay home and extends the terms of the order to continue social distancing and reducing person-to-person contact to further slow transmission of COVID-19.

"While there has been some relaxation of rules as they relate to recreational activities, it is absolutely vital that we maintain social distancing," said Dr. Peter Beilenson, Director of Health Services. "The intent of the order is to ensure that the maximum number of people stay home as much as possible while enabling essential services to continue, and that has been a significant factor in reducing the spread of COVID-19 in Sacramento County."

"We will continue to look at the health data and the availability of testing, and those factors will inform our decisions about modifying the Public Health Order in the future."

The new Public Health Order has clarified some essential activities and allowable recreational activities from the previous Order. Those include:

Essential Activities now allow for visiting a health care professional for medical or dental care for chronic conditions or preventive services; Allowing non-contact recreational facilities and activities that include the use of shared equipment, including shooting and archery ranges, disc golf, tennis courts and boating, provided that activities are in conformance with social distancing requirements and appropriate disinfectant processes; Contact sports or activities, including basketball, football and soccer are prohibited outside of residences; Healthcare providers and hospitals may reschedule appointments for care that was considered non-urgent and canceled when the Public Health Order was first issued. This includes elective procedures, preventive services such as immunizations and other care for chronic conditions; Residential viewings for rentals, leases and home sales are now allowable when the occupant is still residing in the residence. The requirement is still in place

A COVID Message Update from Your City Manager

Dear Rancho Cordova Residents and Businesses,

This has not been an easy six weeks. The world changed in a heartbeat, and these changes affected our day-to-day lives in ways that seemed unimaginable just a short time ago. Members of our community have experienced changes on many fronts: from their health to their jobs, from their businesses to the way we interact with our families and friends. And, yet, the human spirit is indomitable. Despite these trying times, I have seen much hope, kindness and inspiration in our community.

During this difficult time, it is my hope that you are staying healthy. I want to thank you for following the stay-at-home orders and social distancing guidelines. Your efforts, despite the great sacrifice, have made all the difference in mitigating the effect of COVID-19/coronavirus in our city.

As I have over the past six weeks, I want to take some time to update you on matters related to the stay-at-home orders, as well as services to assist you during this time.

First, the timeframe for the stay-at-home orders has been extended through May 22, 2020. The Sacramento County Public Health Officer issued a new Public Health Order effective at 11:59 PM on May 1 through 11:59 PM on May 22, 2020.

The new Public Health Order clarifies some essential activities and allowable recreational activities from the previous Order:

1. Essential Activities now allow for visiting a health care professional for medical or dental care for chronic conditions or preventive services; 2. Allowing non-contact recreational facilities and activities that include the use of shared equipment, including shooting and archery ranges, disc golf, tennis courts and boating, provided that activities conform to social distancing requirements and appropriate disinfectant processes; 3. Contact sports or activities, including basketball, football and soccer are prohibited outside of residences; 4. Healthcare providers and hospitals may reschedule appointments for care that was considered non-urgent and canceled when the Public Health Order was first issued. 5. This includes elective procedures, preventive services such as immunizations and other care for chronic conditions; 6.

Residential viewings for rentals, leases and home sales are now allowable when the occupant is still residing in the residence. The requirement is still in place that the visit must be by appointment with no more than two visitors at a time residing within the same household or living unit and one individual showing the unit; 7. Food trucks have been added to Essential Businesses.

During this time, the city has made it easy for you to access trusted information related to COVID-19/coronavirus, key services, and resources—all in one place at CityofRanchoCordova.org/coronavirus. Resources are updated daily including information, such as:

1. Free grocery delivery is available to our residents.

KP International: The Quiet Heroes

By Paul Scholl

RANCH CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In a time where things appear to be so uncertain on a national level, looking for certainty in our own neighborhoods brings a feeling that we and our neighbors can overcome the current crisis together.

In these challenging times neighbors and shoppers want to be sure where they are shopping and visiting are serious about battling the possibility of the spread of the virus. They want to be sure that regular cleaning and precautions are in place.

One local grocery center, KP International Market, has been stepping up to create an even safer and cleaner environment. Lead by their management team, the store has adhered to all the government guidelines for social interactions while keeping the store open for business daily.

KP staff regularly clean, disinfect and sanitize the entire store, grocery carts, and all service areas. They are quietly and professionally dedicated to making every patron feel safe about their visit.

All staff are wearing face masks and gloves, changing them after each use. All checkers are wearing face shields while in the checkout stands. All checkout stands are being wiped down with disinfectant every few minutes. The entire store is quarantined and completely sanitized weekly.

The store management is providing masks and gloves for all shoppers when they enter the store. They are making every effort possible to have all protocols in place.

Mr. Hyowan Kim, Community Relations Director, gives the thumbs-up to the clean checkout area. Photo by Paul Scholl

A great resource for many items you can't normally find at other stores, this store is remaining nearly fully stocked of the items regularly purchased by their international shoppers.

They are now selling hand sanitizers for their shoppers. BJ Yu, the store owner, reported that getting the sanitizer for sale to their shoppers had been extremely difficult and they are grateful they were now able to provide it.

The Food Court, always a favorite lunch venue for shoppers and local business people looking for a quick and tasty meal, is also open daily for take-out.

KP International is one of the community's more supportive companies. They donate to many local non-profits and to many annual events put on by the city and local organizations.

The store has had to cancel a few of their own events that normally would draw large crowds to the center. These events were cancelled out of an abundance of caution for their attendees.

Owner BJ Yu said in our interview; "These are difficult times, but we must keep working hard and be considerate of each other. We must keep going and we will get through this together as a community."

He and his entire staff have a big heart for the community and they are showing it again with all the extra pre-cautions being taken to clearly put the safety of their shoppers first.

KP International is located at 10971 Olson Drive, Rancho Cordova, just across the street from the local post office in the big shopping mall. They are open from 8:00 am to 9:00 pm Monday through Sunday. You can find out more by visiting their web site at sac.kpinternational-market.com ★

Chamber and the City Economic Development team as they reviewed drafts of the survey. "It really is about wanting just to hear from (businesses), as far as what they're thinking," Runner said, "and depending on the results, what the actions might be to look at moving forward." When the survey answers have been compiled and evaluated, the City Council will assess the results as well.

In the meantime, businesses are struggling, each in its own way with its own individual situations and adjustments. Nonprofits are not immune to difficulties arising from the COVID-19 situation. Andrea Fournier founded sonder SOLUTIONS in 2016, working with the Department of Rehabilitation to provide employment services for those whose particular disabilities might not qualify them for the usual resources. "We tend to focus boots on the ground with getting people to work," Fournier said. "We prefer to empower people with the necessary tools so that when they find their job, it was their doing, with our support. They are the ones who get all the glory for it. They are the ones who put the work in, they're the ones who saw it all the way through."

Since the shutdown, the nonprofit's income has been cut by around 50%. "We act as employer of record to students who are working toward their work experience," Fournier said. The organization also provides a paid work experience for adults to identify what jobs they can and cannot do. Every one of those jobs, about 40 individuals, was obliterated by the current situation. "A lot of these individuals were on work permits through the schools," Fournier said. "When the schools shut down, any work permit is considered a school sponsored activity, which means it's been revoked."

sonders SOLUTIONS keeps operating expenses as low as possible, and are going to be all right for a while. But if the shutdown continues for a long period of time, even they would be wiped out. "You're talking about minimal income coming in versus maintaining the same level of expense," Fournier said. "I don't know any industry that would survive that."

The organization has recently started a program called Rancho Rises Up. It serves any resident of Rancho Cordova who is currently out of work as a result of COVID-19 and who is, or will be, actively seeking employment. "If you are currently out of work due to this global pandemic and would like assistance," Fournier said, "we urge you to reach out to us via e-mail at info@sondersolutions.org or by phone at 916-249-0203. All services are able to be provided remotely."

Runner is sure that this will not be the last time the Chamber and the City will want to hear from businesses. "I don't think that anybody has really dealt with a situation like this before from a business standpoint," Runner said, "where they have to figure out how to go from . . . operating 100%, then down to 0 and back up to 100%. What does that look like?"

Runner has over 18 years of experience in municipal government with a primary focus in economic development and management. In his current role as Deputy City Manager, he oversees economic development, community development, facilities and the community enhancement fund. ★

Investigation is Underway on Police Use of Force and Juvenile Incident

By Sgt. Tess Deterding, Sheriff's Spokesperson

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On April 27, 2020, a Problem Oriented Policing (POP) Officer with the Rancho Cordova Police Department was proactively patrolling the area of Mills Station Road and Mather Field Road. The deputy was in the area due to complaints from citizens about hand-to-hand sales of alcohol, tobacco and drugs to minors.

It's important to put video footage into context, especially in relation to a use of force incident. In this case, the deputy saw what he believed to be a hand-to-hand exchange between an adult and juvenile. As the deputy turned around, he lost sight of the adult, who left the area. When the deputy approached the juvenile, the juvenile was uncooperative and refused to give the deputy basic identifying information. He told the deputy he was 18 years old. Having reasonable suspicion that criminal activity was occurring, the deputy attempted to detain the juvenile so he could conduct further investigation. The juvenile became physically resistive at that time, causing the deputy to lose control of his handcuffs, which landed several feet away. The deputy attempted to maintain control of the juvenile without his handcuffs and while alone waiting for his partners to arrive and assist him.

Ultimately, the deputy recovered tobacco products from the 14-year-old juvenile, which is presumably the reason for his resistance. The juvenile was cited and released to his guardians.

This type of situation is hard on everyone--the young man, who resisted arrest, and the officer, who would much rather have him cooperate. The community should know our deputies have a heart for the Rancho Cordova community, especially for the youth they serve through the schools, PAL sports, and our new Youth Center.

These are the facts as we know them. The Sheriff's Office and Rancho Cordova Police Department, however, have proactively started an investigation into the use of force by our deputy in order to gain a complete and thorough understanding of the events that took place during this incident. Maintaining the public trust and remaining transparent are of paramount importance to the Sheriff's Office and Rancho Cordova Police Department.

Note: These are the facts as we understand them at this time. This investigation is in its infancy and the facts as we understand them now are subject to change as we conduct a more thorough and complete examination of the circumstances surrounding this incident. ★

And Another Thing Onward with the "New Norm"

By Bob McGarvey

There are changes going on throughout the world because of the coronavirus. And here in Rancho Cordova, we are in a learning curve for the council members and for our staff in order for us to learn how to work in the "new norm." It was such a sudden difference to catch up with it, and it is time consuming. We will have to continue to use what we have been doing for the last 17 years, but we also have to change and/or add what we need to do to work in today's new rules. There have been changes for municipalities, schools and school districts, park districts, counties, states, and the federal government; everything is different. And those changes that were created by the coronavirus need to be followed and watched until medicines and vaccines are created, tested and sent around the world. Even after that is done, some of the new ways of doing things will continue.

All of us are involved in the way things are new or different. Many just want everything to be exactly the same, but it won't be. Just remember that we will learn differently. Benjamin Franklin said, "Tell me and I forget. Teach me and I remember. Involve me and I learn." Getting my hands in the middle of things taught me the details and complexity of running a local government. None of us will ever learn and remember everything, but I feel very fortunate to be part of the City of Rancho Cordova. And another thing I am learning is how fortunate we have been in being able to help our grandchildren with the teaching from home. More later, but for now onward with the "new norm."

And another thing, Happy Mother's Day to all of the wonderful mothers in Rancho Cordova.

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

Social Security Matters

Should My Wife Take Her Social Security at Age 62?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I have been advised by my financial planner to start my wife's social security benefits at the age of 62 (she is now 61). I am 65 and still employed, not on Medicare, and not taking social security benefits. My wife's benefits are much less than mine. I hope to wait until age 70 before starting my benefits. My income is currently $160,000. Do you see this as a wise choice to start my wife's SS benefits at age 62?
Signed: Inquiring Wife

Dear Inquiring Wife: Whether your wife should start her benefits at age 62 depends upon whether her own benefit at age 70 would be more than she is entitled to as your spouse at her full retirement age (FRA). You can get these estimates from Social Security. If her own benefit would eventually be higher than her spousal benefit from you, she can wait to get her own higher benefit at age 70 (as you are). But if her benefit as your spouse will be the highest she can attain, then claiming her own benefit before you claim yours could be a good choice, but there are some things to consider if she does that: First, if your wife claims at age 62 (or any age before her FRA), that will mean that her eventual spousal benefit when she claims it (when you claim your SS) will be less than 50% of the benefit you are entitled to at your full retirement age. Taking her own benefit earlier than her FRA will mean her spousal benefit from you will be reduced to less than half of your FRA benefit amount, even if that spousal benefit starts after she has reached her FRA.

Second, if your wife is still working, by claiming her own benefit before her FRA she will be subject to Social Security's "earnings test" which limits the amount of money she can make without SS taking back some of her benefits. For 2020, the annual earnings limit is $18,240 (changes annually) and SS will take back benefits equal to half of any earnings which exceed that amount. The earnings limit becomes less severe during the year your wife reaches her FRA and goes away entirely after she reaches her FRA, but if she works while collecting early SS benefits the earnings limit could affect her benefits.

Third, your wife's Social Security benefits will become part of your taxable income (assuming you file "married-jointly"). Taxation of your wife's Social Security benefits will be determined based upon your combined income if you file your taxes as a married couple. At your combined earnings level, up to 85% of your wife's SS benefits will become part of your taxable income.

I'm not suggesting you not follow your financial planner's advice; I only want to make sure you're aware of all the factors involved when benefits are claimed early. Sometimes, a wife claiming at age 62 is a prudent choice as your financial planner has suggested. But sometimes understanding the above factors may lead to a different strategy.

New Measure for Transferring Property Tax Base Eligible for California's November Ballot

Secretary of State Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Secretary of State Alex Padilla announced that an initiative became eligible for the November 3, 2020 General Election ballot yesterday.

In order to become eligible for the ballot, the initiative needed 997,139 valid petition signatures, which is equal to eight percent of the total votes cast for governor in the November 2018 General Election.

A measure can become eligible via random sampling of petition signatures if the sampling projects that the number of valid signatures is greater than 110 percent of the required number. The initiative needed at least 1,096,853 projected valid signatures to become eligible by random sampling, and it exceeded that threshold yesterday.

On June 25, 2020, the Secretary of State will certify the initiative as qualified for the November 3, 2020 General Election ballot, unless it is withdrawn by the proponents prior to certification pursuant to Elections Code section 9604(b).

The Attorney General's official title and summary of the measure is as follows:

CHANGES REQUIREMENTS FOR TRANSFERRING PROPERTY TAX BASE TO REPLACEMENT PROPERTY. EXPANDS BUSINESS PROPERTY REASSESSMENT. INITIATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Removes the following requirements to transfer property tax base to replacement residence for homeowners over 55 or severely disabled: that replacement property be of equal or lesser value; that replacement property be in eligible county; and that transfer occur only once. Allows three such transfers. Removes location and replacement-value requirements for transfers of contaminated or disaster-destroyed property. Adjusts replacement property's tax base, based on market value. Limits tax benefits for certain transfers between family members. Expands circumstances requiring business property reassessment. Summary of estimate by Legislative Analyst and Director of Finance of fiscal impact on state and local governments: Local governments could gain tens of millions of dollars of property tax revenue per year, likely growing over time to a few hundred million dollars per year. Schools could receive similar property tax revenue gains. Other local and state revenues each could increase by tens of millions of dollars per year. County property tax administration costs likely would increase by tens of millions of dollars per year. (19-0003.)

The proponent of the measure, Alexander Creel, can be reached c/o Kurt Oneto of Nielsen, Merksamer, Parrinello, Gross & Leoni, LLP at (916) 446-6752. The address for Nielsen et al., LLP is 1415 L Street, Suite 1200, Sacramento, CA 95814.

Let's Get Growing Food in Our Backyards!

Nothing beats the flavor or nutritional value of food straight from the garden. MPG file photo

Soil Born Farms Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Soil Born Farms has been inspiring and teaching families to grow some of their own food and herbs since 2000. One of the original objectives of Victory Gardens that started during World War I applies to the current challenge we face today to maintain the vitality and morale of Americans on the home front through the production of nutritious vegetables outdoors. We know that spending time in nature and getting our hands in the soil goes a long way to reduce anxiety and boost our immune system. Nothing beats the flavor or nutritional value of food straight from the garden.

As we prioritize health and safety guidelines currently in place at the farm we are thrilled to offer collections of organic starts of vegetables, herbs and flowers and fruit trees to create a victory garden or add to your home garden, patio, backyard orchard or urban farm. We have selected varieties that do well in our climate. The Greenhouse Garden Shop is a micro business that grows healthy seedlings for the farm, school gardens, community gardens and home gardens while engaging youth and adults in the process. The greenhouse and fruit tree nursery are important components of our Grow Your Groceries and Harvest Sacramento programs. Proceeds benefit SBF education programs.

As an organic farm committed to practicing regenerative principles in the service of wellness and providing healthy food to our customers and community, we are determined now more than ever, to do everything possible to move forward with that purpose. Behind the scenes we are digging deep and being creative. We are revising plans, seeking emergency funding, reaching out to partners, funders and friends to help our nonprofit farm and education center survive this crisis and carry on with our mission.

In 2000, Soil Born Farms reintroduced urban farming in Sacramento. We believe that it is possible and important to grow food in backyards, schoolyards and community spaces. This simple act is a powerful piece of the puzzle to reduce hunger and improve the health in our community. It is useful, healthful and empowering to anyone who engages. Twenty years later, as we face uncertainty, the simple act of growing food in our own backyards has never been more important. Spending time at home over coming weeks can be used to forge a deeper, more intentional connection to our food and to the earth that provides it. Many of our grandparents answered the call during World War II by producing most of the fresh food the country needed in front and backyard victory gardens. Facing the Covid-19 pandemic is our generation's opportunity to step up in a similar way. ★

Online Extortion Scams Increasing During the COVID-19 Crisis

FBI Office of Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) has seen an increase in reports of online extortion scams during the current "stay-at-home" orders due to the COVID-19 crisis. Because large swaths of the population are staying at home and likely using the computer more than usual, scammers may use this opportunity to find new victims and pressure them into sending money. The scammers are sending e-mails threatening to release sexually explicit photos or personally compromising videos to the individual's contacts if they do not pay. While there are many variations of these online extortion attempts, they often share certain commonalities.

Scam Commonalities:

Online extortion schemes vary, but there are a few common indicators of the scam. The following characteristics are not all-inclusive but should serve as red flags. It is important to remember that scammers adapt their schemes to capitalize on current events such as the COVID-19 pandemic, high-profile breaches, or new trends involving the Internet, all in an attempt to make their scams seem more authentic:

The online extortion attempt comes as an e-mail from an unknown party and, many times, will be written in broken English with grammatical errors; The recipient's personal information is noted in the e-mail or letter to add a higher degree of intimidation to the scam. For example, the recipient's user name or password is provided at the beginning of the e-mail or letter; The recipient is accused of visiting adult websites, cheating on a spouse, or being involved in other compromising situations; The e-mail or letter includes a statement like, "I had a serious spyware and malware infect your computer," or "I have a recorded video of you" as an explanation of how the information was allegedly gathered; The e-mail or letter threatens to send a video or other compromising information to family, friends, coworkers, or social network contacts if a ransom is not paid; The e-mail or letter provides a short window to pay, typically 48 hours; The recipient is instructed to pay the ransom in Bitcoin, a virtual currency that provides a high degree of anonymity to the transactions.

Tips To Protect Yourself:

Do not open e-mails or attachments from unknown individuals; Monitor your bank account statements regularly, and your credit report at least once a year for any unusual activity; Do not communicate with unsolicited e-mail senders; Do not store sensitive or embarrassing photos or information online or on your mobile devices; Use strong passwords and do not use the same password for multiple websites; Never provide personal information of any sort via e-mail. Be aware that many e-mails requesting your personal information appear to be legitimate; Ensure security settings for social media accounts are activated and set at the highest level of protection;

Verify the web address of legitimate websites and manually type the address into your browser.

The FBI does not condone the payment of online extortion demands as the funds will facilitate continued criminal activity, including potential organized crime activity and associated violent crimes.

Victim Reporting:

If you believe you have been a victim of this scam, reach out to your local FBI field office, and file a complaint with the IC3 at www.

ic3.gov. Please provide any relevant information in your complaint, including the online extortion e-mail with header information and Bitcoin address if available. ★

MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATION

Fair Oaks Cemetery
 Saturday May 23, 2020 at 10:00am
 7780 Olive Street, Fair Oaks, CA 95628

Due to COVID-19, celebration will be limited to drive by in your vehicle. Come and enjoy our flags display and music!

This memorial Day weekend Americans everywhere are reflecting on those that gave their lives in service to our country. In the American public's consciousness, WWII was the apex of the U.S. military's glory. The Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and supporting military had saved the world from pure evil.

Over the intervening seven-plus decades, the United States has become entangled in less popular conflicts where the enemy and the objectives have been more elusive. While the reasons for these wars and the outcomes have seemed less tangible and more distant, the sacrifices of the men and women of the U.S. military are every bit as courageous and selfless as those in World War II.

When duty has called, American military personnel have answered with determination, grit and bravery. Memorial Day is designated to honor those who perished in the efforts. From the American Revolution in 1775 through ongoing military operations in Afghanistan and elsewhere, more than 1.3 million members of the U.S. military have died in war. Please join us in our twenty second annual Memorial Day Avenue of Flags Ceremony remembering those who have given the ultimate sacrifice.
