RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rancho Cordova annual Veterans Day Observance took place at the Cordova High School Performing Arts Center for the first time, enabling veterans, friends and family members to enjoy in comfort. The River City Concert Band supplied music, and Master of Ceremonies Bob Burns led the program. Rick Swinford led ceremonial placing of wreaths by National Sojourners.

John Hinson, Associate Director of VA Northern California Health Care System, announced the newly placed commemorative bricks as the veterans or their representatives received recognition, escorted by Cordova High School Air Force Junior ROTC. Hinson served in the U.S. Marine Corps in Afghanistan and Iraq. "We all have a sense of brotherhood . . ." Hinson said. "The main thing is camaraderie. It's not something you get anywhere else."

A veteran of the U.S. Navy, Lindsey Sin, Deputy Secretary, Women Veterans Affairs, spoke about supporting our veterans. "We as a society and community of people who want to support our veterans can do a lot when veterans come home," Sin said, "and even when people are serving active duty

November is National Adoption Month

By Brenda Bongiorno, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - In California, there are more than 62,000 youth living in foster care and more than 34,000 waiting for a permanent family. In Sacramento County alone, there are 1,690 children and youth in out-of-home care with about 350 of them needing a loving and affirming forever family.

Each November during National Adoption Month, Sacramento County wants to remind the community that you can make a difference in the life of a child by becoming a resource parent/family. These resource parents, once known as foster parents, provide love, parental care, guidance and stability to children until they can either return to their parents or provide a permanent home through adoption or legal guardianship.

Whether you are married or single, gay or straight, a homeowner or a renter, an aunt, teacher or simply a loving person that wants to positively impact the life of a child, Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services hopes you will consider fostering a child.

We have a particular need for new resource families that can help us move children from a group home setting to a family-based setting. The more families who can open their doors to our children and youth, the better. We are looking for resource families who are able to foster all ages, but particularly, teenagers, LGBTQ youth, African-American children, children with medical needs, emergency/last-minute placements and homes for sibling sets.

Sacramento County supports, trains and offers guidance, support and assistance to resource families to make sure the journey is a positive transition. While reuniting children with their biological families is the primary goal, staff can help resource parents adopt or take legal guardianship when reunification is not possible. There is now only one approval process, which creates a continuous care experience for children, as they will not have to switch homes at the point of adoption.

On November 6, we pause our busy lives long enough to speak the names of thousands of California children who are waiting in foster care for the love and support of a permanent family. Sacramento County and several adoption agencies are hosting the 31st Annual Calling Out of Names at the State Capitol in Room 112 from 9:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. During the vigil,

Rancho Cordova State of the City Draws Large Crowd and Support

By Shelly Lembke

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova City Hall last week hosted the City's Annual State of the City Address, and the City didn't misstep in providing attendees a low-key mixer replete with information from City, civic organizations and a smattering of businesses promoting Rancho Cordova, along with light refreshments.

Standard-bearers such as the Rancho Cordova Police Department answered questions and promoted their Business Watch and Crime Prevention programs. The City's Department of Public Works had a display of city-wide improvements and programs.

Concert Entertains at VA Hospital

by Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Home of the Brave Campaign last week brightened Friday for hundreds of veterans at Sacramento VA Medical Center, Mather.

Along with free lunches, ice cream, bedside visits and tee shirts, veterans enjoyed three hours of live music. The day of tribute kicked off veteran weekend celebrations by honoring more than 300 patients and visitors.

Lady and the Tramps’ concert filled the hospital lobby with classic rock tunes.

The Home of the Brave program was established in 2012 by Hewlett Packard employees in Houston TX and Herndon VA. The volunteers later partnered with Veterans Affairs Voluntary Service; the VA Homeless Program and Soldiers Angels. Corporate contributors include Perspecta, Bristol-Myers Squibb and Micro Focus. The campaign’s mission to support veterans has created giving events all over America. Fundraising and sponsor donations provide hats, blankets, water bottles and backpacks to thousands of veterans in 42 states, and in Washington DC and Puerto Rico

Playmakers Hosting Youth Basketball Game

Coach Roz

Story by Shaunna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Local non-profit The Playmakers Organization is hosting a basketball game for special needs and at-risk kids at Oak Hills Church (1100 Blue Ravine Rd. in Folsom). Playmakers is partnering with the Special Olympics, Big Brothers Big Sisters, and UCP of Sacramento and Northern California (which provides programs and services for people with developmental disabilities).

Playmakers founder Greg Roeszler explained that at-risk kids have a 40% chance of living in a single-parent home, and the risk is increased for special needs kids. Playmakers is working to provide support networks for these parents to help their children thrive. “We’re really pleased with how we’re beginning to work together with other agencies toward the same goal,” said Roeszler.

Roeszler said, “We’re converting Oaks Hills Church into the Golden1 Center with a DJ, music, and a great deal of fun. Our desire is that this is the first of ongoing Playmakers events partnering with these agencies to create more fun activities and resources for kids and their families.”

The game will be held on Saturday, November 16, and it will kick off at 9:00 AM with a breakfast catered by the Burgess Brothers BBQ & Burgers, who will be serving their special ChurWaffles.

The game is scheduled from 10:00 AM to 1:00 PM, and the participating kids will be assisted by the Folsom High School freshman football team. “It’s a very inclusive event,” said Roeszler.

Roeszler spent years coaching football, so Playmakers events usually focus on his favorite sport. But Roeszler is excited to be expanding into basketball because it is not dependent on the weather and can be played indoors year-round — so they can offer more frequent events for the kids.

Roeszler said Playmakers is grateful to be working with a group of “wonderful Corporate partners” for the event: Mortgage Consultant Group, FitGuard, Asher College, Republic Services, Palm Tile, Go Forth Coaching, and Serenity Spa — which will be offering massages at the game.

The public is invited to attend the game and there is no cost to attend. Roeszler said, “We’re hoping for wonderful attendance. Come and cheer and have fun, eat waffles, and meet our partners.”

There is still space available for more game participants, and kids can be signed up at www.ThePlaymakers.org. ★ adoptive parents, child advocates, community leaders and elected officials will take turns reading the names and ages of every single child in California that is waiting for a permanent family. Sadly, some names have been read year after year.

Another event to recognize National Adoption will be held later in the month, when Sacramento Superior Court judges and staff, Department of Child and Family Adult Services, Child Protective Services, Sheriff’s Department, Lilliput, Sierra Forever Families, Uplift, Koinonia, CASA and Soroptomist of Greater Sacramento come together to celebrate the adoptions of several children and their forever families. Along with the adoption proceedings, there will be refreshments and activities for children including hand painting, family photos, balloons and much more.

If you are interested in learning more about becoming a resource family for local foster children or an adoptive parent, please attend the next Resource Family/Adoptive Parent Orientation or call (916) 875-5543 and visit the Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services Resource Family web page. ★ affectionately known as the MACC, provided listings of its upcoming receptions, Winter Art Fest and galleries.

Explore Rancho Cordova, the City’s arm of Travel and Tourism proudly provided displays, maps and info on the constantly growing list of fun things to see, to eat and do in Rancho Cordova and along the American River Parkway.

Other organizations or businesses were the Soroptimist International of Rancho Cordova and the St. John Vianney Cordova Community Food Locker, the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce and KP Market, which is sponsoring a full-fledged ice rink in its parking lot—the first in the City in well, over five years.

Less frequent representatives were there from the U.S. Census Bureau in advance of the national 2020 census.

The capstone event of the evening was the actual formal address of current Mayor Robert McGarvey, who voiced even more accomplishments of the City and its partners in business, such as the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce, and in government, within the last year. Rancho Cordova is the site of the newly opened California Capitol Film Office, The City also snapped up yet another coveted All-America City Award, which McGarvey described as “A rare and important honor,” (plus several more awards for excellence in things such as fiscal reporting and public works).

Plans for new housing at Mather Veteran’s Village and the hotly anticipated Rio Del Oro Developments were highlighted. Beautification and safety improvements along Folsom and Coloma roadways continue or are nearly completed, such as the school crossings near Mills Middle and Cordova High. Also, badly continued plans for more long needed sidewalks in targeted areas, keep rolling out and into action.

According to Mayor McGarvey the future Civic Center, also known as the Mills Station District Project, adjacent to the Folsom Lake College location in Rancho Cordova, is moving forward. McGarvey also noted that in the last year, the City has pumped $14 million into City infrastructure improvements.

Former Rancho Cordova City Councilmember and current Assemblymember Ken Cooley wrapped up the event by reading from a few messages for the future, written back in 2005 when City Hall was on the verge of opening. A six-year-old Rancho Cordova boy wrote, “I hope city hall will be the best city hall ever,” Cooley read. They are working it, kid. ★

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Join us for the fifth annual Holiday Craft Faire!

This year we are proud to welcome a very special guest - Lisa He of Borderlands Bakery here in Rancho Cordova.

The Holiday Craft Faire will showcase Lisa and share her special cookie decorating talent with our guests.

Lisa first started baking in college for stress relief. She practiced for years and was eventually featured on Netflix's Sugar Rush and won a Food Network competition. Fast forward to today, Lisa recently left her stable biotech career to put all her efforts into Borderlands Bakery, where she'll continue to make beautiful (and delicious) cookie art and teach it to those who want to learn.

Borderlands Bakery takes very limited custom dessert orders throughout the year and has pop up shops around the Sacramento area. Lisa teaches cookie decorating locally and will soon have online offerings. She also sells a variety of cookie decorating tools via her website, borderlandsbakery.com.

Check out Rancho Cordova’s local crafters, artists, and direct sales vendors at the fifth annual

The Rancho Cordova Veterans Day Observance was held on Monday, November 11 at the Cordova High School Performing Arts Center. It was the first time we held the ceremony in a location away from the Veterans Memorial Plaza in front of the VA Hospital. It went very well in the center. There was a little concern this year as we all remembered the smoke from the wildfires last year that stopped our ceremony. Some of the concern was very legitimate this year too as we all watched the Kincade Fire burn 77,758 acres.

Ross Johnson suggested looking into using the Performing Arts Center for the Veterans Day

The Mayor's Corner

The Most Important Part of the Day Was Being Able to Honor Our Veterans

Observance. My committee members were very glad when we learned that the center was available as the school was closed. We know that the theater portion of the center is used by the school and community organizations too, like the Symphony d'Oro Rancho Cordova for example.

We were happy that it worked very well. After the ceremony was over, I asked some of the members of the audience what they thought of the location after having the event done at Mather since it began in 2006. It was the first time for some of them to be in the center, and they were very happy to have it there. We will have to see if we will be able use it again on Memorial Day in 2020 because there are so many events at that time of the year with the school year ending. We will have to see how it works. But for now, I think the vast majority of people who worked on the Veterans Day Observance and those who came believe it was a great success.

The most important part of the day was being able to honor our veterans. The Rancho Cordova River City Concert Band performed wonderfully as usual, the Cordova High School Air Force JROTC did a wonderful job, the Boy Scouts performed extremely well, and all the speakers gave such heartfelt warmth and thanks to the veterans that I felt that it was very successful.

And foremost, let me thank our veterans who answer the call to defend our nation and make sure that our freedoms and liberties are safe in the United States of America. All of our veterans who were at the event know that they are respected, honored and valued. That will never be doubted in the City of Rancho Cordova

Sacramento Area Native Gathers Intelligence from the Air for U.S. Navy

By Mass Communication Specialist 2nd Class Jackson G. Brown, Navy Office of Community Outreach

OAK HARBOR, WA (MPG) - Petty Officer 3rd Class Ian Barragan, a native of Elk Grove, California, joined the Navy for a change in lifestyle.

"I felt the need to utilize my life in a way that would benefit myself and those around me," said Barragan.

Now, a year and a half after joining the Navy, Barragan serves with the "World Watchers" of Fleet Air Reconnaissance Squadron One (VQ-1), working with the Navy's premier intelligence-gathering aircraft at Naval Air Station Whidbey Island, Washington.

"My command is very mature and responsive, as well as quick to address issues, which is a good environment," said Barragan.

Barragan, a 2012 graduate of Franklin High School, is a naval aircrewman with VQ-1, a state-of-the-art intelligence-gathering squadron flying the EP-3 "Aires," a variant of the venerable P-3C "Orion."

"My job involves in-flight radar operation, as well as looking out for crew safety," said Barragan.

Barragan credits success in the Navy to many of the lessons learned in Elk Grove.

"My high school psychology teacher, David Weinstock, taught me how to handle classroom stress, which comes surprisingly handy in the Navy," said Barragan.

Members of VQ-1 conduct reconnaissance as well as intelligence-gathering missions. They deploy around the world to monitor the world's oceans wherever they are needed.

The EP-3 "Aires" is a land-based, long-range, signals intelligence-gathering aircraft. It is a variant of the P-3C "Orion," which has been in operation since the 1960s. They are still in service and performing missions all over the world.

Serving in the Navy means Barragan is part of a world that is taking on new importance in America's focus on rebuilding military readiness, strengthening alliances and reforming business practices in support of the National Defense Strategy.

A key element of the Navy the nation needs is tied to the fact that America is a maritime nation, and that the nation's prosperity is tied to the ability to operate freely on the world's oceans. More than 70 percent of the Earth's surface is covered by water; 80 percent of the world's population lives close to a coast; and 90 percent of all global trade by volume travels by sea.

"Our priorities center on people, capabilities and processes, and will be achieved by our focus on speed, value, results and partnerships," said Secretary of the Navy Richard V. Spencer. "Readiness, lethality and modernization are the requirements driving these priorities."

Though there are many ways for sailors to earn distinction in their command, community, and career, Barragan is most proud of graduating Naval Aircrew Candidate School.

"The school was a challenge, but well worth it to get to work with some of the best sailors in the Navy," said Barragan.

As a member of one of the U.S. Navy's most relied upon assets, Barragan and other sailors know they are part of a legacy that will last beyond their lifetimes contributing to the Navy the nation needs.

"Serving in the Navy means being a part of the most important service in the world, and actively promoting my country's ideals to far-off nations," said Barragan. ★

HOW DO I PREPARE FOR A PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

WHAT EVERY PG&E CUSTOMER NEEDS TO KNOW

Do you have an emergency kit with nonperishable food, one gallon of water per person per day, medications, flashlights and batteries?

Public Safety Power Shutoff, or PSPS, is a safety program that proactively shuts off electric power lines when there is an elevated fire risk.

All PG&E customers should be prepared for possible power outages that could last for multiple days.

If power is temporarily turned off, customers should consider these questions:

Do you know how to open your garage door manually?

If anyone in your family depends on electricity for their medical needs, have you made preparations?

Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including your pets?

If you own a generator, is it safe to operate?

Are your mobile phones fully charged? Do you have a portable back-up charger or a solar charger?

"My name is Pam and I'm a Crapaholic."
Clutter is a spiritual problem

A lovely woman reported she had systematically and completely decluttered her family home, but she asked, "How do I keep from bringing the clutter back in?" She went on to say she yo-yos between a peaceful streamlined home and one that's cluttered and filled with tension.

If you frequent auctions, church bazaars, garage and estate sales, chances are you're a junk junkie and I don't know of an AA-type program for you.

But you could use the 12-Steps with just a few adjustments. If you think about the problem of having too much stuff can you see that it's a spiritual problem? God takes care of us every moment of our lives and He wants us to have material stuff, but when the collection of the stuff grows beyond our ability to enjoy and use it, and week continue to seek out more, the stuff becomes a god. The spiritual aspects of the 12 steps really apply to the addiction to gathering more than we need. This is what I imagine crapaholics would say:

1. We admitted we were powerless over articles priced under a dollar, - that our homes Had become unmanageable because of them.
2. We came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
3. We made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood Him.
4. We made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves and why we love other people's junk.
5. We admitted to God, to ourselves and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs: bulging closets, cupboards, drawers, storage units filled to the brim, jam-packed basements, bloated garages and stuffed attics.
6. We were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.
7. We humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.
8. We made a list of all venues where stuff is sold, i.e. Goodwill, Salvation Army, auctions, barn sales, garage sales, church rummage sales and bazaars.
9. We made a promise to stay away from those venues.
10. We continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly get rid of what we bought.

11. We sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the Power to carry that out.
12. We having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to crapaholics and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

I hope you're not insulted with my play on AA, but I truly believe that hoarding and collecting too much stuff is a spiritual problem. I'd never read the 12 steps before writing this blog and I can see now why AA is so successful. My heart goes out to all of you who are staying sober because of this profound program. You'll note if you are familiar with AA, that I didn't alter any of the steps that included God in them, because it's no joke, no matter what your problem, go to God first.

We as Americans do have a big spiritual problem; we haven't learned when enough is enough. In another column I asked, "Whatever your religion, do you think the one who started it had too much stuff?" Of course he didn't.

The woman I spoke of who asked for help, said she loves "collections," and I've been in many homes where the collections had got out of hand! One woman had more than 500 Precious Moments figurines! My friends, more than 10 and they lose their preciousness. I think I know what's behind "collecting." It feeds a woman's natural urge to gather. That urge is why we love to shop, looking for just the right berry, nut, vegetable or purse. Men have the "hunting" instinct and that's why they make lousy shoppers. They already know what they're hunting for, they go straight to it and head to the cashier.

Stay Out!

Dave Ramsey made a comment on the radio many times. He said, "Until all your credit cards are paid off, the only reason you get to go to a restaurant is if you work in it." If you've spent a great deal of your time de-junking, you know how much energy your excess stuff takes. The only reason you get to go to a yard sale is to drop stuff off.

Bye Bye Mattress is Working for California

By Mary Parra,
Randle Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)- More than 4 million mattresses have been recycled in California by the Bye Bye Mattress program since it began in 2016, according to the recently released 2018 Annual Report from the Mattress Recycling Council (MRC). "The continued growth of the Bye Bye Mattress program demonstrates California is still a global leader in waste reduction at a time when the recycling industry is facing significant challenges," said MRC's Managing Director Mike O'Donnell.

Key to that success is MRC's ongoing efforts to increase program accessibility for all Californians, no matter where they live in the state. In 2018 alone, MRC reported more than 1.4 million mattresses were recycled, an increase of 11 percent from the year before. In addition, more than 80 percent of mattresses discarded in California are now being diverted from landfills, where they would otherwise take up valuable and limited space.

"Easy access to the Bye Bye Mattress recycling network is vital to program participation," said O'Donnell. "We accomplish this through innovative collaborations with mattress retailers, solid waste facilities and curbside collection programs. We also have non-profit partners, including the California Conservation Corps, Goodwill Industries and Habitat for Humanity."

MRC increased the number of no-cost permanent collection sites from 163 to 190 across the state in 2018. Bulky item collection programs grew from nine to 40 and collection events increased from 74 to 97. Today, all of California's 58 counties have access to mattress recycling services.

In addition, MRC's digital mapping analysis shows that 93 percent of Californians live within 15 miles of the program's collection network. Even in rural counties, access was measured at 79 percent. This accessibility is even greater when including mattress retailers that are required by law to offer to take back old mattresses during new product delivery.

"We are raising awareness among Californians that mattresses are recyclable and that no-cost recycling options exist throughout the state," said O'Donnell. "Recycling mattresses keeps them out of landfills and off of our streets, alleys and other public spaces that are often targets of illegal dumping."

MRC helps combat illegal dumping by participating in local and state task forces as well as through the Illegally Dumped Mattress Collection Initiative. This program collects data on illegally dumped mattresses and uses these statistics to target affected communities. Each year, $1 million is budgeted to fund clean-up activities.

"We are proud of the success of the California mattress recycling program," continued O'Donnell. "Through MRC, the mattress industry has demonstrated its commitment to environmental stewardship, fostering sustainability and a greener future."

The Mattress Recycling Council was formed by the mattress industry to operate recycling programs (known as Bye Bye Mattress) in states which have enacted mattress recycling laws – California, Connecticut and Rhode Island. Since its inception in 2016, the program has recycled more than 4 million mattresses in California through a network of partnerships with local governments, solid waste facilities, non-profit organizations and small and minority-owned businesses throughout the state. 'Nationalism' Shouldn't be a Dirty Word

If there's one thing that elite opinion tends to agree about on the left and the right, it's that nationalism is a very bad thing. If anything, this view has become even more entrenched as nationalism has demonstrated its potency in recent years, from the election of Donald Trump to Britain's vote to leave the European Union.

When President Trump first openly embraced the term "nationalist" at a 2018 campaign rally, commentators reacted in horror. Patriotism is about love, nationalism about hate, New York Times columnist Nicholas Kristof opined. Trump, insisted Jennifer Rubin of The Washington Post, is "normalizing a hateful political philosophy that is contrary to our deepest-held beliefs."

As I write in my new book, "The Case for Nationalism," this reflexive hostility to the concept is ill-informed and an attempt to deem nationalism a swear-word and end all discussion on that basis.

At its most basic, the scholar Azar Gat writes, nationalism is "the doctrine and ideology that a people is bound together in solidarity, fate, and common political aspirations." Historian Anthony Smith described the national ideal as "a belief that all those who shared a common history and culture should be autonomous, united and distinct in their recognized homelands."

When Europe went off the rails in the early 20th century, nationalism as such didn't cause its crash so much as social Darwinism, militarism and the cult of charismatic leadership. The aftermath of World War I added its own poison.

Regardless, American nationalism — which encompasses such diverse, rightly beloved figures as Alexander Hamilton, Abraham Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt — is not to be feared. As with so many other things about this country, it is more benign than the versions to be found in Europe and elsewhere.

This is true for a number of reasons. First, we are the inheritors of an Anglo-American tradition that has profound respect for the individual and the rule of law and is a fundamental part of our national identity.

The sheet anchor of American sovereignty, the U.S. Constitution, makes it clear that authority ultimately resides with "we the people of the United States." The Constitution also happens to be a durable mechanism of self-government and itself an object of patriotic loyalty and national pride.

Finally, the United States was never infected with the dream of universal empire that Europe inherited from Rome and that has lingered on in differing forms from Charlemagne to the European Union.

The rise of Donald Trump has pushed the left further away from respect for nationalistic attitudes and even patriotic symbols. Democrats — and the country — would be much better served if they countered Trump's nationalism with aversion of their own.

On his own side of the aisle, Trump has made Republicans more nationalistic. Still, much of the party is quietly uncomfortable with this. If Trump loses in 2020, the party's establishment may try to snap back to its pre-Trump disposition of relative indifference.

Yet, if there's one clear political lesson from the long history of nationalism in this country and elsewhere, it is that a party interested in moving people and selling a program should make some sort of an appeal to it—even if conventional wisdom

Emotions, Basics, and Change

Dear Dave,
I've gotten out of debt before following your plan, but I always seem to fall right back in. I find myself spending more than I mean to whenever I go out shopping or running errands. I'm tired of all this, and I want to stop busting my budget and get control of my money once and for all. Do you have any advice?

– Patrick
Dear Patrick,
Years ago, when I lost everything financially, there were two or three extremely strong emotions that spurred me toward change. Probably the biggest emotion was fear. I was scared to death I'd be broke for the rest of my life, and not be able to take care of my family. Don't misunderstand me, though. I don't think you should ever live your life in fear. But a reasonable, healthy level of fear where some things are concerned can be a fantastic motivator.

Another emotion was disgust. I realized the way I had been living and handling money was stupid. So, I made a proactive, conscious decision that I was going to change, and things were going to be different. The third emotion was contentment. You know, advertisers try to make us believe our lives will be better, and we'll be happier, if we just go out and buy their stuff. I can tell you from personal experience when this idea is crammed down your throat every day, it can warp your perception of contentment and happiness. Lots of stuff does not equal lots of happiness.

If you've tried several times, and are still falling back into the same old trap, maybe you should approach your situation in a practical, day-to-day way. Stop going places where you're tempted to spend money on silly things. When you go out running errands and shopping, make a list of only the bare necessities, and take along just enough cash to pay for them.

Spending money on a bunch of stuff you don't need, and probably don't even really want, isn't going to bring you contentment. It's just going to bust your budget, and put you in a financial hole that will, sooner or later, become very difficult—if not impossible—to dig your way out of!

On Impeachment Democrats are Sloppy with the Constitution

Harold Pease, Ph. D

The Constitution is presently used by both major political parties defending or opposing the House Intelligence Committee impeachment inquiry against President Donald J. Trump. Both argue their loyalty to it. It reads: “The House of Representatives ... shall have the sole Power of Impeachment,” (Art. I, Sec. 2, Cla. 5). The people place a president in power and their representatives – the House – alone initiates and formulates the charges for his possible removal. The “Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments.” So one indicts, the other tries. Simple enough. But formulating the charges does require a favorable vote of the FULL House, -not just a committee. Therein lies the rub. The House Intelligence Committee charged with finding a crime hasn’t yet found bribery, treason or any high crime, – the only impeachable offenses – but it “knows” one exists somewhere. During three years of a dozen or more attempts to impeach Trump charges crumbled from lack of documentation. Probably the most profound statement made regarding impeachment was made by Democrat Jerrold Nadler, Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, presently engaged in impeaching Trump: “The effect of impeachment is to overturn the popular will of the voters. We must not overturn an election and remove a President from office except to defend our system of government or our constitutional liberties against a dire threat, and we must not do so without an overwhelming consensus of the American people. There must never be a narrowly voted impeachment or an impeachment supported by one of our major political parties and opposed by another. Such an impeachment will produce divisiveness and bitterness in our politics for years to come, and will call into question the very legitimacy of our political institutions” (144 Cong. Rec. HI 1786 daily ed. Dec. 18, 1998). This Nadler argued during the impeachment proceedings of Bill Clinton. Using Nadler’s criteria Donald Trump does not pose a “dire threat” to our system of government or constitutional liberties, there is no “overwhelming consensus,” and only the Democratic Party is working for his removal. Most Americans oppose impeachment. The Constitution give the House sole power to create the charges against a president. Additional authority is housed under past practice which in time effectively adds to the Constitution unless found to conflict with an original part of the document. Only Andrew Johnson, Richard Nixon, and Bill Clinton have been indicted. House past practice in each has been based upon fairness. In each a vote of the full House was required to initiate an impeachment inquiry, for Nixon the vote was 410-4 and for Clinton 258-176 (See H. Res. 803, 93rd Cong. 1974 and H. Res. 581, 105th Cong. 1998). The full House participated in defining the scope of impeachment and established its rules and procedure. After the vote was taken to form an impeachment inquiry both the chair of the inquiring committee and the ranking member of the opposing party had co-equal subpoena powers to call witnesses subject to a vote of the full committee upon the request of either. The indicted president’s council participated. It exercised the right to attend all hearings and depositions, to present evidence, to object to the admittance of evidence, to cross-examine witnesses and to recommend a witness list. Thus far Nancy Pelosi has opposed a full House vote to authorize an impeachment inquiry as was established in previous impeachments nor has the full House been given input in “defining the scope, rules and procedures” as before. The Committee Report accompanying H. Res. 581 developed in the Clinton impeachment stated: “The full House of representatives should be involved in critical decision making regarding various stages of impeachment.” One serious constitutional provision yet remains in our consideration of the attempt to impeach Trump – due process. This is housed in several places in the Constitution especially Amendments 5, 6, and 14. Democrat Jerrold Nadler referenced them when Bill Clinton was impeached, “the power of impeachment demands a rigorous level of due process ... the right to be informed of the law, of the charges against you, the right to confront the witnesses against you, to call your own witnesses and to have the assistance of counsel” (Hearing before the Subcom on the Constitution of the H. Comm. on the Judiciary 105th Cong. 17, 1998). These have not been extended to Trump. As Trump’s council recently wrote. “These due process rights are not a matter of discretion for the Committees to dispense with at will. To the contrary, they are constitutional requirements. The Supreme Court has recognized that due process protections apply to all congressional investigations...[even] impeachment proceedings” (Pat A. Cipollone, Counsel to the President White House, October 8, 2019). Thus far none of the above established practices have been followed in the case of the proposed impeachment of President Trump, especially due process. No House vote and no formation of an impeachment inquiry committee after the vote. Pelosi simply asked the House Intelligence Committee, led by Adam Schiff, to assume the responsibilities and he is behaving as though his committee will do it alone including the trial constitutionally reserved to the U.S. Senate. Moreover, Schiff has been holding secret hearings of witnesses denying House Republican observers of other committees. He forcibly removed colleague Matt Gaetz. Clearly, respecting impeachment, Democrats are sloppy with the Constitution. Dr. Harold W. Peasearold Pease is a syndicated columnist and an expert on the United States Constitution. He has dedicated his career to studying the writings of the Founding Fathers and applying that knowledge to current events. He taught history and political science from this perspective for over 30 years at Taft College. Newspapers have permission to publish this column. ## Housing Legislation Delays Relief for Struggling Homeowners, Sets Up Vague Investment Scheme

By Jacqui Nguyen

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senate Republican Leader Shannon Grove (R-Bakersfield) released the following statement after Governor Gavin Newsom signed Senate Bill 113, a housing trailer bill into law. The newly-signed legislation addresses the state's plan to spend $331 million in national mortgage settlement funds. Senate Democrats passed SB 113 on a partisan vote. The $331 million was created as part of the National Settlement Defense Fund in 2012 following the mortgage crisis. The funds were intended to help distressed homeowners who were victims of predatory lending. But Governor Jerry Brown used the funds to backfill the state budget. The National Asian American Coalition (NAAC) sued the state of California in 2012 for the return of the funds and was finally victorious in July 2019. Both the previous and current Democratic governors, Brown and Newsom, appealed earlier court rulings against their actions until the California Supreme Court directed the state of California to assist homeowners as originally promised. In September, Governor Newsom's administration testified that it plans to take a year or more to set up a nonprofit trust that would invest the funds in still-unknown ways, and that it would only spend investment profits, not the actual settlement funds. “Since 2015, Senate Republicans have been fighting to help struggling homeowners who suffered during the mortgage meltdown. Families should have had their victory at long last, but instead the Newsom administration has concocted a scheme to study the issue for another year and then channel the funds through a vague and possibly risky investment trust. “This decision will create a needless delay of potentially two more years before homeowners might see a dollar in assistance from unknown investment profits. Also, if the investments lose money, there is no guarantee that the trust would have any profits to spend on homeowner assistance. “Families in California already face affordability issues in our state, and now this overdue assistance is delayed once again. This legislation should have simply directed the state to immediately spend the $331 million for its intended purpose of assisting homeowners, not create more delays and disappointments,” said Senate Republican Leader Shannon Grove. Senate Republican Leader Shannon Grove represents California's 16th Senate District which encompasses large portions of Kern, Tulare and San Bernardino counties and including the cities of Bakersfield, Barstow, California City, Exeter, Frazier Mountain, Joshua Tree, Mojave, Needles, Ridgecrest, Rosamond, Taft, Tehachapi, Twentynine Palms, Tulare, Visalia, Yucca Valley and portions of the Kern River Valley. ## 2018 was Record-Breaking for County Agriculture

By Laurie Slothower, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The gross value of all agricultural products in Sacramento has topped all previous records, Agriculture Commissioner Chris Flores told the county Board of Supervisors on Sep. 24. The value increased by $24 million in 2018, pushing the gross production number past the half-billion-dollar mark. The gross value was $520,613, 000, which translates to “the greatest amount of agricultural production in our county, ever,” Flores said. Wine grapes continue to be the county’s leading commodity. More than 30 varieties of wine grapes are grown on more than 36,000 acres in Sacramento County. Harvested wine grapes are sold to home winemakers, small boutique wineries and large production wineries across California. Every year, the value of specific commodities rises or falls based on weather, supply and demand, and market forces. In 2018, wheat, rice and almonds experienced slight increases. Poultry, pears and tomatoes experienced slight downturns. Top 10 Commodities Produced in Sacramento County in 2018: (1) Wine Grapes, (2) Milk, (3) Poultry, (4) Pears, (5) Nursery stock (6) Aquaculture (fish, crustaceans, mollusks and aquatic plants), (7) Hay (alfalfa), (8) Cattle & Calves (9) Rice, (10) Field Corn County agriculture puts the “farm” in the farm-to-fork movement, with more than 500 farmers, growers and agricultural producers making their home in Sacramento County. ★

008-0000 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property.
You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER:
The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee:
CA-19-864289-BF. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser

Soccer Teams Make Strong Statements with Emphatic Wins

Story by
Ron Richardson

Tuesday afternoon’s showdown with American River was essentially a battle for third place in the Big 8, with the Beavers lurking just one win behind FLC in fourth. But when Emma Thompson lofted a floater over the Beavers’ goalkeeper in just the 5th minute of play, the body language on both sides made it clear that the Falcons now controlled this match. Neither side scored again in the first half, though the Falcons were dominating possession time and shots on goal. The floodgates opened early in the second half, though, when Big 8 scoring leader Michaela Clark angled a shot from 30 yards out on the far left side that flew over the keeper and into the top corner of the side net for a 2-0 Falcon lead. Ten minutes later, Clark stole a lazy pass intended for the Beaver goalkeeper and punched in an easy goal. And less than one minute later, Emma Thompson added to her state-leading assists total with a feed to Sarah Scott for another Falcon goal and a 4-0 lead. Finally, Michaela Clark tallied her FIFTH hat trick of the season when she scored her 3rd goal of the game – and 25th goal of the season - in the 69th minute. The Falcons recorded their ninth shutout of the season as they improved to 14-3-3 overall and 9-3-2 in Big 8 play. With just two matches remaining in the regular season, the Falcons have a bye on Friday, then host Sierra (16-3 overall, 11-2 in Big 8) on Tuesday evening at 6:00 pm before closing at Cosumnes River next Friday. ★

Men’s Soccer

Story by Ron Richardson

Facing a very tough Delta College squad in a match to determine second place in the Big 8, the FLC men prevailed on Tuesday night at Falcon Stadium, 2-0. The match was every bit as close as the first time these teams played on September 27 in Stockton when they tied 0-0. After a scoreless first half that saw the Falcons put eight shots on goal, they final broke through in the 60th minute when sophomore Ethan Viers created an open shot off a rebound and nailed the top right corner of the net. The Mustangs, now desperate for a tying goal, continued to look for a crack in the Falcon defense but never succeeded. In the final minute, with Delta’s defenders playing at the offensive end in desperation mode, FLC’s Zvannah Johnson broke free for a one-on-one attempt that the Mustang goalkeeper somehow stopped. But an opportunistic Ethan Atterberry collected the ball and fired it into the net for an insurance goal as the Falcons celebrated. The Falcons now sit alone in second place in the Big 8 at 4-1-2 with three regular-season matches remaining. They will host cross-town rival American River (4th place at 3-3-1) on Friday evening at 6:00 pm, then travel to Cosumnes River and Santa Rosa for the final two matches next week. ★

Ron Richardson

After their upset win over Big 8 leader Delta on Friday night, the Falcons were determined to not have a letdown when they hosted Cosumnes River on Wednesday night. The extra focus paid off as the Falcons handily defeated the Hawks in three sets, 25-15, 25-15, 25-18. The Falcons even had three starters held out of the lineup (Madi Pearce, Yasmine Sowell-Scott, and Kaitlin Bullock) with varying injuries, but still enough firepower to defeat the Hawks. the ball with authority every time it was set to her – and led the team in kills, while Cassie Regan got a chance to start and made her presence felt with some big-time blocks and timely kills. Jenna Matheson also made the most of her playing time as she teamed with Julin Kenison at the net. Saki Yamamoto had three consecutive service aces, and setter Kennedy Crawford ran the offense to perfection. ★

Cordova Cross Country Preparing for Subsection Meet

By James Darnell

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Lancers’ varsity cross country team will be taking part in the CIF Sac Joaquin Section Subsection meet next Saturday, November 9, at the Calaveras County Fairgrounds in Angels Camp. The meet provides Cordova the chance to have runners qualify for the Section championships held the following Saturday, November 16 at the Willow Hill Reservoir in Folsom. For head coach Josh Gruver, the upcoming Subsection meet is huge for the program. “We have such a young team and it has been a building process, but we’re going to make a really strong push (qualifying as many as possible for Sections),” he said. “We’re giving them as much motivation as possible, and things are looking pretty good.” Just being able to compete at this juncture is a big deal for Gruver and the team, ★ as last seasons’ Subsection and Section meets were postponed several weeks due to wildfires ravaging the region. Although there are ongoing fires in the bay area, the air quality in the area appears to be a non-factor and the meet is set to happen as scheduled. Gruver mentioned several names he expects to perform well at the Subection meet, and potentially qualify for Sections. Those runners would include sophomores Elliot Fry and Elijah Smith, Juniors Michaela Laret and Richard Kozhokar, and seniors Gavin Sullivan and Temara Fletcher, respectively. The Lancers’ cross country team also participated in the Greater Sacramento League championship meet this past Wednesday, October 30, however final results were unavailable at the time of printing. Check back next week for an update on which runners the Lancers will be sending to the Section championships, as well as information regarding the GSL meet. ★ to make sure that they’re getting all the support that they need.” In an interview later Sin said that a lot of progress has been made, but that, “We still have a long way to go to make sure that all military service members are supported, male and female, childless or with children, starting families or not . . . we have some more work to do.”

Keynote speaker David Stockwell, Director, VA Northern California Health Care System, suggested four ways to help a veteran. First, consider hiring a veteran. Second, volunteer at your local VA Hospital. Third, consider donating to a trustworthy veterans’ service organization. Fourth, don’t forget the ones who are left behind, family members, spouses, left with uncertainty. “Thinking of a way to step into that gap and meet that need on behalf of a veteran’s family might be something you can do to make a difference for veterans . . .” Stockwell said. “Whether it’s a teenager who is a veteran or someone that is 90 or 100 years old it is important to remember how much they sacrificed for our freedom. Today is the day we remember that. So to all veterans, God bless you and God bless America.” ★

City of Rancho Cordova Notice of Public Meeting

NOTICE is hereby given that on Wednesday, December 4th, 2019, at 6:00 p.m., the City of Rancho Cordova Community Development Department will hold a Public Meeting at Mountain Mikes Pizza at 3609 Bradshaw Rd Suite B, Sacramento, CA 95827 to consider the following:

The purpose of this public meeting is to:

GIVE CITIZENS AN OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE THEIR COMMENTS KNOWN REGARDING COMMUNITY NEEDS, PRIORITIES, AND POTENTIAL ACTIVITIES TO BE FUNDED UNDER THE CDBG PROGRAM IN THE UPCOMING CONSOLIDATED PLAN AND 2020 ANNUAL ACTION PLAN

The CDBG program provides funding for activities that benefit low-income persons, eliminate slum or blight, or serve an urgent need. Eligible activities include property acquisition, public improvements, housing rehabilitation, economic development, and public services.

As a recipient of Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding, the City will develop a five-year Consolidated Plan and one-year Annual Action Plan that will determine the priorities and activities to be undergone in the upcoming CDBG program plans. The Consolidated Plan describes the priorities and needs of the community while offering a strategic five-year plan to address the needs and priorities identified, while the 2020 Action Plan generally describes how the City will utilize program funds for eligible activities during the upcoming fiscal year.

Recently, the City has changed their CDBG program year from July 1st–June 30th, to January 1st–December 31st.

The City of Rancho Cordova encourages interested parties to attend public meetings and comment on the topics being discussed. If you wish to provide comment and are unable to attend the meeting, written comments that are delivered to the City Clerk’s office prior to the time of the meeting will be made a part of the public record. Questions regarding this matter should be directed to the City of Rancho Cordova Community Development Department at (916) 851-8757.

NOTICE REGARDING CHALLENGES TO DECISIONS

Pursuant to all applicable laws and regulations, including without limitation, California Government Code Section 65009 and/or California Public Resources Code Section 21177, if you wish to challenge in court any of the above decisions (regarding planning, zoning and/or environmental decisions), you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public meeting(s) described in this notice/agenda, or in written correspondence delivered to the city at, or prior to, this public meeting.

ADA COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, if you need special assistance to participate in this meeting, please contact the City Clerk’s Department at (916) 851-8720. Notification 48 hours prior to the meeting will enable the City to make reasonable arrangements to ensure accessibility to this meeting.
