RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

John McGinness focused his talk at the October Rancho Cordova Luncheon on the need to vote responsibly. After assuring the attendees that they were an exception to the uninformed state of many voters, he said, "Folks in this room, you have to accept yourself, you're different than the masses because you know who's on your City Council, you probably know who represents you in the Assembly and the State Senate, you probably read the ballot measures." Then came the kicker. "If you don't read them, that's okay, but please don't vote (on them). Please don't vote!"

McGinness served for more than 31 years with the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department. He especially enjoyed the Sheriff's motorcycle detail where he was training officer and team leader. He said the worst thing about his career was seeing the human suffering, especially involving children. After being promoted through the ranks he became undersheriff in 2001 until being elected sheriff in 2006. He is an adjunct professor of criminal justice and other subjects at California State University, and hosts his own show on NewsRadio KFBK.

McGinness pointed out that the passage of Proposition 47 in 2014, titled the Safe Neighborhoods and Safe Schools Act, was the result of official, intentionally deceptive information in the title and the information booklet sent out to voters.

To illustrate, McGinness asked how many in the room thought it was a good idea to reduce the criminal consequences for possession of the date rape drug, possession of methamphetamines, theft of a firearm valued at $950 or less, from a felony to a misdemeanor. No one raised a hand. "How many people voted for the Safe

Neighborhoods and Safe Schools Act?" McGinness asked, and said most people raise their hands on this question at his speaking engagements. "If you voted for the Safe Neighborhoods and Safe Schools Act, also known as Proposition 47, you voted for all those things," McGinness said. "And you voted against imposing consequences against people for engaging in certain kinds of offensive behavior." Those included, McGinness said, injecting drugs in public, discarding those hypodermic needles on playgrounds, on streets, on sidewalks, defecating and urinating in public. "And I

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) released final data on sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) in California in 2018. According to the data, syphilis, gonorrhea, and chlamydia cases are continuing to increase throughout California and are at the highest levels in 30 years.

Particularly concerning, the number of congenital syphilis cases was 14% higher than the previous year and nearly 900% higher than in 2012. Congenital syphilis can be fatal to infants: there were 22 stillbirths or neonatal deaths in 2018.

STDs can cause a number of serious health problems. If left untreated, chlamydia and gonorrhea can cause pelvic inflammatory disease and lead to infertility, ectopic pregnancy, and chronic pelvic pain. Syphilis can cause permanent loss of vision, hearing and other neurologic problems.

The highest rates of STDs are among young individuals ages 15-24.

"STDs are preventable by practicing safe-sex, and many can be cured with antibiotics," said Acting State Public Health Officer Dr. Charity Dean. "Regular testing and treatment are essential prevention strategies, even for people who have no symptoms. Most people infected with an STD do not know it."

CDPH is collaborating with local health departments and organizations throughout the state to coordinate efforts to control STDs, hepatitis C and human immunodeficiency virus infection (HIV).

The 2019-2020 state budget includes increases in funds to help address the rise in STDs, including:

- $40 million over four years to enhance the capacity of local health departments to identify, monitor and respond to communicable diseases;

- $5 million per year for STD prevention and control by local health departments and community based organizations;

- $5 million per year for HIV prevention and control by local health departments and community based organizations.

- $5 million per year for Hepatitis C prevention and control by local health departments and community based organizations.

- $2 million per year to enhance local health department capacity for STD prevention and control.

Sprouts Healthy Communities Foundation Announces $3M in Annual Giving

By Kalia Pang, Sprouts Healthy
Communities Foundation

PHOENIX, AZ (MPG)

The Sprouts Healthy Communities Foundation announced $3 million in donations to nonprofit organizations that specialize in nutrition education and fresh food access. Funds include Neighborhood Grants that support grassroots children's nutrition education programs, as well as large, multi-year Impact Grants designed to help partners increase organizational capacity and scale programs.

"Each year, our network of nonprofit partners continues to grow and our work in local communities continues to deepen," said Lyndsey Waugh, Executive Director of the Sprouts Healthy Communities Foundation. "As a result, children and their families have greater exposure to nutrition education and hands-on cooking and gardening programs in their schools and community centers, and urban farms are increasing access to fresh, nutritious produce in food desert communities."

This year, Sprouts will award 118 Neighborhood Grants totaling $725,000 to nonprofit organizations across the U.S. Recipients of these grants, ranging from $2,500 to $10,000, including programs in Sprouts' new markets in Louisiana, New Jersey, and Virginia.

To culminate the nonprofit support, Sprouts and the Foundation will host the second annual Day of Service on Saturday, November 9 when hundreds of team members will participate in 40 volunteer events from coast to coast.

"Central to Sprouts' identity is giving back to the communities we operate in, and the Day of Service gives team members the opportunity to engage with the organizations the Foundation supports firsthand," said Waugh.

Day of Service volunteer events with 2019 grant recipients will include Soil Born Farms Urban Agriculture and Education Project (Sacramento, Calif.) - During the Day of Service activity, Sprouts team members will be on-site at an elementary school to install raised garden beds, plant and beautify the school garden. Soil Born Farms Urban Agriculture and Education Project empowers youth and adults to discover and participate in a local food system that encourages healthy living, nurtures the environment and grows a sustainable community.

Created in 2015, the Sprouts Healthy

Communities Foundation focuses on empowering individuals, especially children, to live healthier lives by supporting programs that teach nutrition education and increase access to fresh, nutritious food. In five years, the Foundation, together with Sprouts' vendors and customers, has donated over $10 million to more than 300 nonprofit partners. Sprouts covers 100 percent of the Foundation's operational expenses, ensuring that every dollar raised is used to support their nonprofit partner agencies. SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Attending the 14th Annual California Capital Airshow at Mather Airport on October 5-6, 2019, was a thrilling experience!

I have never heard of this military group, but by show's end, I became quite a fan. The WASP organization was formed in 1942 with 23 women making up the first graduate group of Service Pilots. Their job was to ferry and test aircraft and to train other personnel in their use. While this group became part of history by being the first women to fly military aircraft for the United States, their organizational mission was just beginning. The title of this article is attributed to Kimberly Johnson, one of the keepers of the official archives of the WASP organization located at Texas Women's University in Denton, Texas. Kimberly told me a fascinating story about Colonel Paul Tibbets, the pilot of the Enola Gay and the B-29 Superfortress, (the plane that dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan during World War II). "The B-29 was a scar-

As I climbed into the cockpit area, I asked Vera if she experiences “any visitors” when she is flying the B-25? “I think about those 20-year old WASP’s talking together,” she said. She piece of our nation's military history, and one that needs to be told on a more frequent basis. The Women Airforce Service Pilots crosses many generations and has made an impact on young women of today. It certainly made an impact on Vera as she said “this is the plane I wanted to fly.”

As with any group throughout history who want to make a positive difference to those around them, I can say the Women Airforce Service Pilots did just that. Kimberly Johnson said she felt the women “persevered and really had something think the consequences of that, coupled with the horrible opioid crisis, frankly are coming home to roost.”

Though the Act was billed as “supported by law enforcement” McGinness said that, in fact, it was opposed almost unanimously by State district attorneys, sheriffs, and municipal police chiefs, numbering in the hundreds. “Could they say, honestly, that there was some law enforcement support?” McGinness asked. “Yes, approximately two or three people, and by the way, the labor groups all opposed it also.”

“Now, a person could walk into a retail store, 365 days a year, every single day of the year,” McGinness said, “and steal $949 worth of merchandise, and they’re never going to see a minute in custody. “Don’t believe what you read in the summary and title. Please, please, please read the ballot data.”

McGinness informed the group that typhus, which was eradicated in the 1800s, has now resurfaced in Los Angeles County and added that the water at the confluence of the Sacramento and American Rivers exceeds the acceptable levels of E. coli by a substantial margin and is not safe. “Groundskeepers working at the State Capitol have been assaulted and battered on numerous occasions,” McGinness said. “There are homeless people that are doing it, but they’re not people who lost their lease because of the increased cost of living... That’s something else entirely.”

In summary, McGinnis said, “Please, know what it is for which you’re voting.”

Caterer for the luncheon was West Coast Events, with co-owners David Maestas and Jan Parker. Maestas has lived in Rancho Cordova for 12 years, and his father was sheriff of Los Angeles County at one time.

- The Folsom Cordova Unified School District Board of Education on Thursday, Sept. 26 honored the Cordova High School staff, nurses, and regional first-responders who recently saved the life of a tenth-grade student.

On the morning of Aug. 29, Cordova High School sophomore Sunn Carson collapsed during class. School nurses and the Rancho Cordova Police Officer assigned to the campus immediately began CPR, but the student was unresponsive as Sacramento Metro Regional Fire crews rushed him to the UC Davis Medical Center.

After his stunning recovery during several days in the hospital, it was learned that Sunn had a previously undetected medical condition. Doctors believe he would not be alive today had it not been for the heroics of Cordova High’s first responders. ★

Rancho Cordova Improvements Roll Along in City Council

By Shelly Lembke

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

- The City Council of Rancho Cordova had its regular meeting on Monday, October 21. After the meeting was called to order, the City Council officially presented several Community Enhancement Fund awardees checks for their organizations and had an official proclamation of celebration of National Friends of the Rancho Cordova Library Week.

The main City business included roll call votes pertaining to items such as the Mather Field Road Rehabilitation Project, the Little League Renovation Project, the Cordova School Zones Project, a tax zone for transit services for, and the Annexation for police services to, the Bradshaw Village Project.

Among those who were recognized during the meeting were Blessings in a Backpack, the Sacramento Theatre Company, Whisker Warriors Animal Defense Fund, Soil Born Farms

Urban Agriculture Project and Rebuilding Sacramento Together.

Blessings in a Backpack provides backpacks with food to local elementary school children who rely for on school food programs to eat regularly during the week, but whose family situations mean they might have no food resources during the week-ends. The organization begun in 2014 regularly provides these students backpacks with food to last during the weekend, so they do not go hungry.

The Sacramento Theatre Company operates a School of the Arts for elementary-age students through grade 12, with various programs from a conservancy and ensemble for young and pre-professional performers, camps, and partners with schools to provide a range of educational opportunities in the arts.

Whisker Warriors Animal Defense Fund partners with other area animal services and provides free or low cost spay, neutering, vaccinations and microchipping to Rancho Cordova cat, dog and even rabbit owners. They also provide feline feral trap and adoption (or release, if necessary) services. There are no income requirements. According to Executive Director Tera Kolvenbach, the funding from this year’s Rancho Cordova Community Enhancement Fund grant will allow the group to continue to provide these services, which just last year, according to Kolvenbach, numbered in the high hundreds. “At least 700 pets and nearly 800 if you count the ferals,” said Kolvenbach.

Soil Born Farms is a 55-acre urban farm that operates in Rancho Cordova. They provide many classes for adults and children on everything from planting and harvesting to cooking classes. In addition, they run a seasonal farm stand with special events and are open to the public.

Rebuilding Sacramento Together (RTS) has a mission to repair homes, revitalize communities and improve lives, according to the group’s website. RTS “Understands the connection between the conditions of a home and neighborhood and a person’s ability to thrive. Our services improve the health, safety, efficiency and curb appeal of homes and neighborhoods in the Sacramento area.” ★

By Bob McGarvey

Right now, I am working on my column. There are times where I can sit down, and it is easy to begin. It is much better to go ahead and write when you are in the mood to do so. On occasion, I have a hard time just beginning to write. At other times, I can hardly wait to start. For instance, right now as I look out the window, it is grey and there isn't even a breeze. The weather forecasters say there will be quite a wind this coming afternoon, and the temperature will be about 10 to 20 degrees higher than normal. They will also be sending alerts for possible wildfires. It would be normal for it to be raining, my mind says. My rain gauge says there has been .76 inches of rain, and it should be cooler or colder. The weather doesn't agree with me though. But the calendar says it is fall. We'll see, I guess.

The year is winding down, the days are shorter, the nights are longer, and if you have a fireplace, the colder weather almost makes the fireplace beg for you to start a nice warm fire. We will all have to wait until it is just right for that to happen, but it makes me remember the fireplace in my home when I was growing up. It was very warm and friendly during some of the Indiana falls and winters.

The Mayor's Corner

Speaking of weather, I looked at this year's The Old Farmer's Almanac again, and while most of us hear about Groundhog Day, I read about a few other animals and the weather. Like it says in the Almanac, "Observe animals and you'll see that they too have their own ways of predicting weather. Here are some animal weather proverbs and prognostics. Expect rain when dogs eat grass; cats purr, wash and sneeze; sheep turn into the wind; and when swine are restless. When cattle lie down in the pasture, it indicates early rain. When horses and cattle stretch out their necks and sniff the air, it will rain. When rabbits are fat in October and November, expect a long, cold winter. Wolves always howl more before a storm." I thought a little information like that would not only be interesting, but who knows. You may have some pets that are very good weather forecasters.

Last year about this time, we were getting close to Halloween, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, the Cordova Community Christmas Tree Lighting, New Years, and other holidays and celebrations. But last year was also election time. This isn't an election year, but the news media and those running for president seem to have forgotten that. They have been running for president for a year. The news media seems to be running for their candidates for a year too. Many candidates are still forgetting that they were hired by their fellow citizens to WORK for two years or four years or six years. Campaigning for years instead of just campaigning on the election year takes time away from when they should be working. The public watches to see how well their hired public servants learn and perform their jobs. And just for general information, they will never learn everything. They will learn more while working on the job instead of just campaigning for the job.

And another thing is a reminder of the Mayor giving the 2019 State of the City Address. It will be held on Thursday, November 7, 2019 at City Hall at 5:30 PM. I hope you will be able to come and learn some of the wonderful events that have happened in our great city

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

SPOOOOOKY!

Little ghosts and goblins will be at your door to celebrate Halloween. It's all about dress-up and treats! But traditions go back a lot longer than you can imagine. Halloween straddles fall and winter...plenty and paucity...life and death. It is a time of celebration and superstition. It's thought to have originated with the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain, when people would light bonfires fires and wear costumes to ward off roaming ghosts. Like they were so stupid they wouldn't recognize you all decked out in some crazy getup? But I digress. The Celts, who lived some 2,000 years ago in the area that is now Ireland, the United Kingdom, and Northern France, celebrated the New Year on November 1. This day marked the end of summer and the harvest, and the beginning of the dark, cold winter, a time of year that was often associated with human death. Celts believed that on the night before the New Year, the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead became blurred. That's why on October 31, they celebrated Samhain. They thought these roaming ghosts would cause trouble and damage crops, that the presence of the other worldly spirits made it easier for the Druids, or Celtic priests, to make predictions about the future. These prophecies were an important source of comfort and direction during the long, dark winter.

When Halloween came to America, it was extremely limited in colonial England because of the rigid Protestants. Merging different ethnic groups and Native Americans gave America a distinct version of Halloween. The first celebrations included "play parties," public events held to celebrate the harvest, where neighbors would Young women believed that they could divine the name or appearance of their future husband by doing tricks with yarn, apple parings or mirrors. By the late 1800s, there was a move to mold Halloween into a holiday more about community and neighborly fun than about ghosts, pranks, and witchcraft.

Today's Halloween traditions may even dates back to the early All Soul's Day share stories of the dead, tell each other's fortunes, dance, and sing. Colonial Halloween festivities also included the telling of ghost stories and mischief making of all kinds. In the second half of the 19th century, America was flooded with new immigrants, millions of Irish fleeing Ireland's potato famine of 1846. That helped to popularize the celebration of Halloween nationally. Taking from Irish and English traditions, Americans began to dress up in costumes and go house to house asking for food money. The "trick or treat" tradition was born.

parades in England. During the festivities, poor citizens would beg for food and families would give them pastries called "soul cakes" in return for their promise to pray for the family's dead relatives. The soul cake was encouraged by the church as a way to replace the ancient practice of leaving wine and food for roaming spirits.

So go the stories I gathered from history.com. They will all come-a-calling on with their funny costumes and the call of "trick or treat." My choice...Chocolate please!!! BOO!!! ★

With Halloween on the Horizon, Halt Hazards with These Tips!

National Fire Protection Association Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Halloween has become a hugely popular time for fun and festivities, but with it comes the potential for a variety of fire hazards. The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) encourages everyone to take these simple precautions to stay safe without sacrificing that fun.

“Halloween brings an opportunity to wear fun costumes, decorate our homes, and eat too much candy,” says Lorraine Carli, NFPA’s vice president of Outreach and Advocacy. “However, without proper safety precautions, we run the risk of turning good times into the wrong kind of scary ones.”

According to NFPA

research, between 2012 and 2016, decorations were the item first ignited in an estimated average of 800 reported home structure fires per year, resulting in an average of two civilian deaths, 34 civilian injuries and $11 million in direct property damage. The decoration was too close to a heat source such as a candle or equipment in almost half of these fires.

NFPA offers these tips to stay safe during the spooky season:

Costumes: Avoid fabric that billows or trails behind you, as these can easily ignite. If you are making your own costume, avoid loosely woven fabrics like linen and cotton, which can be very flammable.

Decorations: Many common decorations like cornstalks, crepe paper, and dried flowers are very Without proper safety precautions, we run the risk of turning good times into the wrong kind of scary ones. Photo by Steven Libralon flammable. Keep these and similar decorations far away from any open flames or heat sources, like candles, heaters, and light bulbs.

Candles: Using candles as decoration can be risky if not done correctly. Keep them in a well-attended area out of the path of potential trick-or-treaters. Remind children of the dangers of open flames, and make sure they are supervised at all times when candles are lit. Extinguish candles before leaving an area.

Jack-o-lanterns: Glow sticks or electric candles are the safest choice when it comes to lighting up your jack-o-lantern, but if you choose to use a real candle, do so with extreme caution. Light a candle inside a jack-o-lantern using long fireplace matches or a utility lighter, and keep it away from other decorations.

Visibility: Give children flashlights or glowsticks for lighting, these can even be incorporated into the costume. If your child has a mask, ensure the eye holes are large enough for them to see clearly.

Smoke Alarms: This is a great time to make sure your smoke alarms are functional and up-to-date.

Exits: Exits are NOT an appropriate place for decorations. When decorating, ensure that nothing is blocking any escape routes.

Make It Fun and It Will Get Done!
The Secret to Being Organized
Pam Young's Corner
A Fun Way to Have an Organized Wardrobe:
The Farewell Wearing Ceremony

Spring is what I call my ex-husband season. My ex was always unpredictable and the only thing predictable about him was his unpredictability. Before you unconsciously store the warm sweaters, knits and jackets that are for colder days, to make room in your closet for your spring clothes, remember how ex-husbandy spring's weather can be and join me in a few Farewell Wearing Ceremonies.

What's a Farewell Wearing Ceremony? It was coined by my good friend Krista. She's very organized and she always looks great in her clothes. I used to see her once a week because we sang in a chorus together. She shared with me this fabulous idea she partakes in regularly to keep her wardrobe reflecting just what she loves and therefore wears. I just had to tell you about it, before you unconsciously store your warmer clothes that perhaps have seen better days.

Krista is always looking for items of clothing she doesn't wear regularly (those articles in your closet or dresser drawers, you keep passing over for various reasons, ending up picking something you really want to wear). Say she chooses a sweater she hasn't worn in a couple of months; she puts it on and wears it for the day. (She often wore such garments to our chorus rehearsals and once had a jacket that was being worn for its Farewell Wearing when she told me about this.) During the day of wearing the sweater, she remembered as much about it as she could; where she bought it or who gave it to her. She thought about all the times she had worn it, and if there were special occasions she remembered wearing it and she pulled up specifics about those events in her mind and relished the enjoyment she had. She talked to it and thanked it for its service.

As part of the ceremony, she informed the garment that she'd wear, it and IF, during the day, someone complimented it, it'd get a temporary reprieve from disposal! At the end of the day, the blouse got put in the Salvation Army bag, because it got no compliments. (She didn't tell me how much time the compliment buys, but I suppose that'd be an individual thing.)

So before you pack those sweaters and jackets away to make room for your spring wardrobe, why not try Krista's idea? As spring gets closer to summer and the weather is more predictable, you'll have a nice collection of garments that have taken part in a Farewell Wearing Ceremony and you can head to the Salvation Army.

Mother Nature's Closet

Don't you love the change in seasons? I like to think of the trees in my yard as people. I've got a flowering cherry tree that's all decked out in her new dress right now and in another couple of days all the trees will be dressed in a multitude of shades of green. We can learn from Mother Nature. She gets rid of the old, worn out garments of last year, and dons new clothes in the spring. Wouldn't it be great to get all new clothes every spring? I don't have Mother Nature's limitless budget for all new clothes, but for every Farewell Wearing Ceremony victim, I've promised myself a new spring garment to replace it.

Under 65: What Should I Do During Medicare Annual Period (aka Open Enrollment)?

Reader Alert: Effective October 1 st , the new Medicare.gov Medicare plan finder was released. Navigating this site is not easy. Please take your time when searching a new Medicare Part D or Medicare Advantage plan ... Toni

Toni,
I turn 65 next March, and I'm overwhelmed by all of the mail I am getting this year for Medicare Annual Enrollment. What do I do? All the mail from all the companies say theirs is the best, but they all offer the same thing. If I don't do something at the right time everybody says I'll get a penalty that will last the rest of my life.

How does someone know what is the right decision for their situation? Look forward to your answer.

Matt, Hoover, Alabama

Matt,

Matt...you must do NOTHING!!! NADA!!!

You have no idea how often we are asked this question during a Toni Says Medicare appointment. America is absolutely horrified about making a Medicare mistake and receiving a penalty that can last a lifetime. The answer to your question is NO...you do not have to do a thing during this year's Medicare's Annual Enrollment Period (aka Open Enrollment) because you are not 65 yet; therefore, you have not enrolled in Medicare yet.

Now next year, Medicare's Annual Enrollment Period (aka Open Enrollment) is when you can make a change to your Part D plan, change, or enroll in a Medicare Advantage plan.

You MUST have already turned 65 before Medicare Annual Enrollment Period (aka Open Enrollment) to affect you during this time period.

Since you are turning 65 in March, then 90 days prior beginning January, is a good time to find out which Medicare option is the right choice for your specific Medicare needs. As we say in the Toni Says® office, "Medicare is not a cookie cutter, one size or plan does not fit everyone." Although the insurance companies' marketing their specific Medicare plans want you to believe that. Your health and prescriptions needs are not the same as your friends and so you cannot compare your Medicare to theirs.

Toni Says® Alert: Medicare Annual Enrollment Period (aka Open Enrollment) is for those who are already 65 and enrolled in a Medicare Plan. You do not have to make a change during the if you enroll in Medicare for the first time that year or are happy with your current plan.

Concerned that your medical providers or facilities are not accepting the Medicare Advantage plan which you are considering. There are specific Medicare rules when changing from a Medicare Advantage plan to a Medicare Supplement. Call the Toni Says Medicare Hotline at 1/844-250-8664 to have your Medicare questions or concerns answered or email info@tonisays.com.

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Convicted of Murdering Girlfriend at Hotel

DATE: October 17, 2019
CASE: Lucas Sanchez (Case #17FE016812)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Allison Dunham, Homicide Unit.

On October 4, 2019, Lucas Sanchez was convicted by a jury of the first-degree murder of Jennifer Rutter. The jury also found that Sanchez personally used a deadly or dangerous weapon in the commission of the murder. Sanchez entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity. On October 16, 2019, the jury found Sanchez was legally sane when he committed the murder.

Sanchez and the victim were in a relationship. On the morning of September 11, 2017, Sanchez and the victim were sleeping at a local hotel. Sanchez woke up paranoid and delusional from using methamphetamine. He took a closet rod out of the closet and beat the victim in the head as she slept. The victim fled out of the hotel room naked and bleeding. Sanchez proceeded to beat her in the head with the closet rod in the hotel hallway. A public safety conference was taking place at the hotel that morning. Law enforcement officers arrested Sanchez on the scene. An autopsy determined the victim died from seven to 10 blunt force blows to her head causing multiple facial and skull fractures.

Sanchez faces a maximum sentence of 26 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for November 14, 2019, in Department 20 before the Honorable Michael Sweet.

Defendants Sentenced for Murder Outside Arden Way Nightclub

DATE: October 15, 2019
CASE: Julian Garcia and German Zamora-Canada (Case #16FE021333)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Jeff Hightower, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Ernest Sawtelle sentenced Julian Garcia to 149 years to life in prison and German Zamora-Canada to 99 years to life in prison. On September 17, 2019, a jury convicted Garcia of the first-degree murder of Cesar Aleman-Luna, two counts of attempted murder and being a felon in possession of a firearm.

Zamora-Canada was convicted of the second-degree murder of Cesar Aleman-Luna, attempted murder and being a felon in possession of a firearm. The jury also found true firearm allegations for both defendants.

On October 9, 2016, Julian Garcia and German Zamora-Canada got into an altercation with the surviving victims after a concert at La Nueva Tropicana nightclub on Arden Way. Garcia and Zamora-Canada pulled out guns and opened fire, striking three victims. Those victims survived, but suffered major injuries. Cesar Aleman-Luna was working at a taco truck outside the nightclub when he was also struck five times, killing him.

Both Garcia and Zamora-Canada have a prior strike conviction and both were sentenced under California's three strikes law. Garcia was previously convicted of assault with a firearm in 2010 and Zamora-Canada was previously convicted of robbery in 2012.

Defendants Sentenced for Murder and Abuse of 22-Month-Old Victims

DATE: October 11, 2019
CASE: Taylor Montgomery-Gutzman and Rebecca Thomas (Case #16FE022095)
PROSECUTOR: Supervising Deputy District Attorney Chris Ore, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

The Honorable Allen Sumner sentenced Taylor Montgomery-Gutzman to 31 years to life in prison. Rebecca Thomas had been previously sentenced 25 years to life in prison. On May 3, 2019, a jury convicted Taylor Montgomery-Gutzman and Rebecca Thomas of the second-degree murder of 22-month-old Kash Thomas, and felony child abuse involving Kash's 22-month-old twin brother. Montgomery-Gutzman was also found guilty of assault on a child causing death.

On October 13, 2016, Taylor Montgomery-Gutzman strangled Kash Thomas to death. Rebecca Thomas, the children's mother, had seen injuries on her children prior to the murder, but nonetheless left the 22-month-old twins in Montgomery-Gutzman's care. Thomas had been told to seek medical attention for both children, but she failed to do so. ★

The Foolhardy Campaign Against 'Endless Wars'

Barack Obama and Donald Trump are diametrically opposed figures, representing the categorical rejection of the other for his supporters, yet they share significant foreign-policy DNA.

They both defined themselves in opposition to George W. Bush's foreign policy. Obama probably wouldn't have defeated Hillary Clinton for the 2008 Democratic nomination if she hadn't voted for the Iraq War and if he didn't speak out against it at the time. Likewise, Trump outpaced all his 2016 GOP rivals in denouncing our Middle East commitments.

Obama represented the internationalist left, while Trump is the champion of the populist right, and there are important policy differences between the two (Obama cut the Iran nuclear deal; Trump withdrew from it). Yet, in his pullback from the Syrian border, exposing our Kurdish allies to a Turkish invasion, Trump now has his own version of Obama's foolhardy pullout from Iraq that created the opening for the rise of ISIS.

The cost of Trump's decision is a betrayal of the Kurds, a worsening relationship with Turkey, a possible lifeline for ISIS and a boost to the influence of Russia, which should be able to leverage it for continued strategic gains in the region.

The pullback has managed, astonishingly enough, to alienate both the Kurds and Turkey from the United States. Usually, given the historic enmity between the two, it's possible to alienate only one at a time. After we dumped them, the Kurds have fallen into the arms of the Assad regime in Syria, while Turkey will be as hostile to the U.S. as ever once Congress gets done trying to punish it for its invasion.

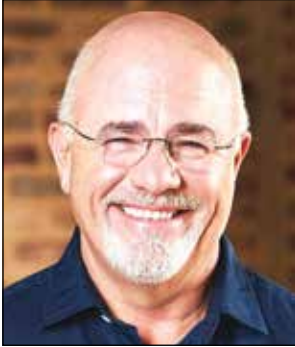

Just like Obama's withdrawal from Iraq, Trump's pullback in Syria is a belated reaction to the Iraq War. Obviously, there is no political support on the right or left for invading and occupying a Middle Eastern country again. But there's a vast distance between the height of the occupation of Iraq, when we had 150,000 troops fighting a war of counterinsurgency, and our minimal commitment in Syria aimed at creating and supporting a proxy force to do the hard fighting against ISIS.

To throw both the Syria and Iraq interventions together under the rubric of "endless war" is to fail to make distinctions. It's senseless to oppose a relatively cost-free action in Syria that has succeeded in its own terms (the ISIS caliphate has been defeated) because the Iraq War was fought for years at a high cost with dubious results. It'd be like opposing the invasion of Grenada because the invasion of Normandy required so much blood and treasure.

The long-standing American military reflex is to win and go home, but it's rare that even the most clear-cut victory is so neat. We won a decisive conventional military victory in World War II in Europe, and we still have troops in Germany. The first Gulf War is supposed to be the model of a rigorously limited commitment, but it still resulted in a no-fly zone over Iraq, the creation of an autonomous region for the Kurds in the north and a constant effort to enforce U.N. sanctions.

Nor is getting out as clean as advertised. Obama triumphantly exited Iraq, only to have to go back in when things spun out of control. If Trump wants to be done with Syria, it might not be done with him.

Test His Resolve

Dear Dave,

Our son is 27, and he has a good job making $55,000 a year. Recently, we learned he financed an expensive car he's now upside down on. In addition, he has accumulated over $15,000 in credit card debt. He lives in a small town, and only pays $650 a month in rent, but he is asking for money. We taught him about living on a budget and staying out of debt when he was younger, and now it seems he didn't listen very well. How do you think we should handle this situation? – Bryce

Dave Ramsey Says

Dear Bryce,

The first thing I'd advise telling him is that you and his mom aren't going to whip out the checkbook, and make his problems disappear. That may sound harsh, but he had a really good thing going until he messed it up by acting impulsively and irresponsibly with his finances. Nope, I wouldn't take care of it for him – not at his age. This young man needs to have some skin in the game.

I'd tell him to sell the fancy car, and get something way cheaper to drive for a while. I'm talking about a little beater in the $2,000 to $3,000 range. It sounds like he'll have to get a small loan to cover the difference, but a little car debt is better than a lot of car debt. I'd also advise him to pick up a part-time job nights or weekends until he gets that credit card debt paid off.

In other words, let him wallow in it and worry about things for a while. Then, if he's willing to accept responsibility for his actions, and starts handling money more wisely, you two might help out every so often with a little extra cash on the payments.

But I'd test his resolve first. And I'd want to see proof he has learned from his mistakes! – Dave

Both Men’s & Women’s Soccer Teams Fall on Tuesday

Story by Ron Richardson

With a two-week hiatus from Big 8 Conference play, the Falcons traveled to Clovis on Tuesday afternoon for the first of four crossover matches with Central Valley Conference teams, but had a long ride home after a close 3-2 loss to Clovis. The Falcons took an early lead on Ricky Miranda’s goal in the 15th minute, but the Crush responded with the first of two goals by Andres Nuñez in the 23rd minute.

Nuñez struck again in the 38th minute to give Clovis a 2-1 lead that they would take into the halftime break. In the second half, Miranda tied up the contest when his penalty-kick goal beat Clovis keeper Robby Rosas in the 58th minute. Ironically, Miranda had another chance to put Folsom Lake ahead in the 62nd minute, but his penalty shot went wide left. The teams remained tied until Clovis’ Jose Rivera netted the game winner in the 78th minute. ★

The FLC women had never lost two consecutive conference matches in the seven-year history of the program, but that stat came to an end on Tuesday afternoon at Falcon Stadium when the upstart Cosumnes River Hawks downed the Falcons, 2-0. Coming off last Friday’s narrow 3-2 loss to Big 8 leader Sierra, the Falcons were expected to defend the home turf and re-establish their winning ways. It certainly looked that way in the opening half against the Hawks, as the Falcons spent most of the first 20 minutes in front of the Hawk’s goal. Somehow, the Hawks managed to fend off every attack and went into the halftime break tied 0-0. The second half saw a different

CRC team take the field, as they seemed to win every 50/50 ball and controlled possession a majority of the time. When CRC’s Obioma Omejeme lofted a shot over Falcon goalkeeper Hunter Caspersen 10 minutes into the half, one could sense the tide turning. The Hawks, now buoyed by their 1-0 lead, were playing even more inspired than before. Still, the Falcons kept fighting for the tying goal but were repeatedly denied by the Hawks’ goalkeeper and defenders. When CRC added to their lead with a second goal by Omejeme in the 78th minute, the Falcons’ body language told the story: this was not to be their day. When the final whistle sounded, the Hawks had every reason to celebrate; they’d toppled the #4 ranked team in California on their own field. ★

Women’s Volleyball

Story by Ron Richardson

With a trio of heavyweight Big 8 matches lurking in the immediate future, the Falcons could have easily looked past Wednesday night’s match at Sacramento City College. Luckily, they stayed focused and swept the Panthers in three sets, 25-22, 25-19, 25-19 to improve their Big 8 record to 5-2. With a gauntlet of one-loss teams lined up in the next week, the Falcons needed to record a win. “It was great to see them focused on the task at hand; it would have been easy to look beyond Sac City,” noted head coach Molly Hanrahan. Upcoming for the Falcons are home matches against Santa Rosa (4-1 in Big 8) on Friday and American River (5-1 in Big 8 and fresh off a 5-set win at Big 8 leader Sierra) next Wednesday, and at Sierra (6-1 in Big 8) next Friday. Ouch! A winning streak during that stretch, however, could set the Falcons up for a run at the Big 8 title. Stay tuned ★

Cordova Girls Golf Finish Season Fourth Place Within League

Story by James Darnell

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Girls varsity golf team wrapped up its season on Monday, October 14, compiling a 1-7 overall record this fall, good for fourth place within the Greater Sacramento League.

But for head coach Scott Freeborn, the growth he saw from his team from start to finish proved more to him than any individual victory could.

“I was very pleased because of how much improvement everybody seemed to show,” Freeborn said. “Considering four of the seven girls on the team never played golf before, I feel like they did pretty well as new golfers.”

Freeborn quickly mentioned senior Pele Toelee as a standout on this years’ team. Toelee, who elected to skip volleyball to instead focus on golf her senior year, impressed her coach in her first season ever playing golf.

“She picked up clubs for the first time ever, and she finished 12th overall in league,” he said. “Considering she never played golf before, that was pretty impressive. I was very happy with that.”

Additionally, sophomore

Amanda Dong figures to be a solid player for the Lady Lancers’ golf program for years to come as she put together a solid second season. Finishing 11th within the GSL, Freeborn said the youngster appeared to get into a groove this year with several consistent finishes, typically finishing in the top five of most matches.

Overall, Freeborn was happy with the effort his team put forth every time out, and he is eager to coach the team once again next fall. Additionally, he hopes to coach on the boys’ side this spring and continue to help build up the golf programs at Cordova.

“I was very happy with how they played, and their attitudes were always great,” Freeborn said of the girls. “Such a joy to coach them, honestly. I got to know a really good group of kids and I enjoyed spending time with them. I’m looking forward to coaching them again next year, and if all goes well, I will also coach on the boys’ side in the spring, and I’m looking forward to that as well.” ★

Seniors Face Economic Eviction Due to Rising Rental Costs

Residents of Rancho Cordova’s Mobil Country Club senior community addressed the City Council about the financial hardships they are facing due to ever-increasing rental costs.

by Shaunna Boyd

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Due to the rising cost of living in their hometown of San Jose, CA, Bob Van Cleef and his wife Mary moved to the Rancho Cordova senior community at Mobil Country Club (2473 Sunrise Blvd.) last December. When they discovered this community, they “fell in love,” Van Cleef said. They were drawn to the gorgeous house, spacious community, and the active social calendar. They quickly became involved in the activities at the community clubhouse and enjoyed the amenities while bonding with their new neighbors. Van Cleef said they thought they had “hit the jackpot. It’s a great place to live, a great community.”

“But there’s another side of the story,” said Van Cleef.

Van Cleef said that to increase profits, Mobil Country Club (owned by Storz Realty) implements an increase to residents’ monthly rental fee each December. Van Cleef said Storz has reduced the amount of staff employed at the park and there has been no increase to park maintenance, so residents are not seeing any benefit from these extra costs.

The rental fees the residents pay only guarantee them the spaces where their homes sit. Van Cleef said because residents in the Mobil Country Club community own their homes, they are responsible for all home repairs, maintenance, utilities, taxes, and insurance.

When residents receive notice of rent increases, they are not given any justification for the increase – just a warning that the increase will take effect in 90 days. And Van Cleef said the newest rise in rent will be an increase of almost 7%.

Helen Fredericks moved into the community in September 2017. Right after moving in, her monthly rent increased by $36. The following year her rent went up by an additional $50. And residents recently received notice that the monthly rent will increase by $46 on December 1, 2019. With the upcoming increase, Fredericks said her monthly rental fee will have increased by 18% in just over two years.

Mobil Country Club is a community for seniors over the age of 55, and Fredericks said many of the residents are veterans, disabled, and on fixed incomes. With the cost of the mortgage and utilities, Fredericks said the ever-increasing monthly rental fee will eventually push some residents out because the costs will become too high.

“We own the houses,” said Van Cleef, “but they’re not mobile.” He explained that not only is it cost prohibitive to move the houses, but there is nowhere to move them. “There haven’t been any new parks made in 30 years.” In the existing parks, there are very few open spaces available, and Van Cleef said most won’t accept older homes.

Van Cleef said he believes the goal is to “raise the rent high enough to push out the [residents] because they can’t afford to pay – and then they’ve left behind their only asset.” And once a resident stops paying rent, Van Cleef explained that Storz can declare the home abandoned, take ownership of the home, and then fix it up and resell it for a profit – starting the cycle over again.

“So many are getting economically evicted,” said Fredericks. “This is an affordable housing crisis. Why isn’t it treated as emergency, as a crisis? ... It’s legal extortion.”

Van Cleef said, “I was under the impression I would live here forever. ... It’s marketed as a community where we can live out the rest of our lives.” He said, “It’s all because of greed ... and the government oversight isn’t there. The people voted to represent us aren’t representing us.”

Fredericks explained that there are some cities that have implemented rent control to protect seniors from economic eviction, but she said Rancho Cordova does not currently have any such legislation. Hoping to change that, residents of Mobil Country Club addressed the Rancho Cordova City Council during public comment at the meeting on October 21.

Van Cleef told the Council what the residents are facing: “The recent rent increases have resulted in a major restriction in their ability to pay utilities, to buy food and medicine, and just live a normal happy life.”

Gloria Olsen said that a $50 increase in the monthly rent is too much to afford: “It’s a financial hardship.”

Barbara Thomen asked, “If it keeps going up $50 (every year), where am I going to go? What am I going to do?” Mayor Bob McGarvey thanked the residents for sharing their stories and encouraged them to set up meetings with City staff to provide more information about this issue.

Storz was asked to comment on this story but did not respond to the request. ★

Motorcyclist Killed In Collision On I-80 Westbound

By Mike Zervas,
California Highway
Patrol

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MP) - On October 22, 2019 at approximately 4:32 am, The California Highway Patrol (CHP) received a call of a multiple vehicle traffic collision involving a motorcycle on I-80 westbound near the Antelope Scales. CHP officers responded to the collision scene and learned that a 38-year old man out of Los Angeles had been riding his 2009 Kawasaki motorcycle westbound on I-80 and was approaching the Antelope Scales when he collided into the rear of the sedan (2012 Ford Fusion) that was driving in front of him. This caused the motorcyclist to be fully ejected from his motorcycle. Both the rider and the bike were sliding on the roadway and came to rest in the #4 westbound traffic lane directly in the path of a big rig (2019 Peterbuilt with box trailer). The driver of the big rig was unable to stop or avoid the rider and collided with him. The motorcyclist was pronounced dead on scene at 4:42 am.

The #2 thru #5 traffic westbound lanes were closed until 6:20 am while CHP officers conducted their on-scene investigation. The cause of this collision is under investigation. It is not known if drugs or alcohol were a factor in this collision however no arrests were made on scene.

The drivers of both the sedan (a 58-year old woman from Citrus Heights) and the big rig (a 64-year old man from Granite Bay) were not injured, remained on-scene, and cooperated with the investigation. Any persons who may have witnessed this collision or who can provide any additional information regarding this collision should call Officer Mike Zervas at the North Sacramento Area CHP office at (916) 348-2300 or Officer Amy Walker by cell phone at (916) 798-0975. ★
