RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - With sun shining off the rippling blue-green river, tranquil songs of the many birds making homes in the majestic native trees overhead, and the relaxing feel of sandy pathways that widen into substantial beaches where families and friends find respite from the heat of the summer, the American

River Parkway is a wonderful place for stimulating the senses and a true jewel of this region.

Attracting large numbers of nature-seekers in need of fun and relaxation, the parkway sees heavy use and the ensuing "recreational trash" left by visitors. Yet for the most part, the eastern portion of the parkway stays pristine thanks to the hard work of many community members.

To keep the river trails looking pristine, the American River Parkway Foundation guides volunteers along the many pathways of the river system to remove non-native plant species and clean up the trash. On August 20th, they led a group of energetic volunteers with USI Insurance Services on a trail cleanup near the El Manto River Access in Rancho Cordova.

Nonprofit Operation Provides Backpacks for 7,800 Area School Children

By Julie Beckner, Volunteers of America

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Operation Backpack, Volunteer of America's (VOA) annual school supply drive to raise funds and collect backpacks and school supplies for students in need, collected 7,812 backpacks and more than 152,000 school supplies through a collaborative effort between 73 local businesses, 11 corporate sponsors, 465 volunteers, and 818 donors.

Operation Backpack provides a brand new backpack filled with grade-appropriate school supplies to all of the families and children in Volunteers of America's shelters and programs. VOA also distributed backpacks to 65 partner agencies, nonprofits and school districts, including Sacramento Food Bank & Family Services, Keaton's Child Cancer Alliance, American Indian Education Program, and also to students recovering from the Camp Fire in Paradise, CA. Volunteers of America's longstanding partnerships in the community ensure as many children as possible get the tools they need to start the school year off on the right foot.

"Having a backpack and school supplies provides confidence and helps a child's self-esteem," says Ana Bankert, VOA Development Officer, Foundations & Corporate Giving. "Feeling prepared alongside every other child in the classroom is crucial to their ability to thrive. Volunteers of America is very grateful to work with sponsors, partners, volunteers, and donors who understand the importance of this cause and the children it supports."

Operation Backpack would not be possible without the support and generosity of campaign sponsors Sutter Health, Golden 1 Credit Union, CBS, Phoong Law, Jamba Juice, Basin Street Properties, and a variety of local non-profit organizations and businesses who have donated funds and hosted donation drop off sites throughout Northern California.

"Volunteering for Operation Backpack provided our team a meaningful connection to why Golden 1 supports VOA. Seeing first-hand the hundreds of donated supplies and backpacks truly made an impression on me and my team," says Erica Taylor, VP of Communications and Community Relations. "Knowing these backpacks were going to families and children in need made us all feel incredibly grateful. More than 100 Golden 1 employees volunteered their time to stuff and sort in addition to donating 378 filled backpacks, proving we are indeed Stronger Together!"

Sign Up and Support the RCPD Business Watch

By Ashley Downton,
City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - RCPD has launched Business Watch, a crime prevention program designed for businesses in the City of Rancho Cordova. The goal of the program is to bring neighboring businesses together in partnership with RCPD to continue preventing and reducing crime.

Three Business Watch groups are currently active in our community in the areas of Ramos Circle, Investment Circle, and Folsom-Olson-Zinfandel. The program has helped create a safe, secure environment for business employees and customers, allowed neighboring businesses to get to know each other, and taught businesses how to prevent and reduce crime on their business property and in their area.

"Business Watch is modeled after Neighborhood Watch but focused on supporting our business community," said Crime Prevention Specialist Tina Aldama. "We created the program as one way to partner with businesses to help their businesses continue to thrive and ensure our community continues to be a safe place to do business, shop and dine."

To start a Business Watch group, the first step is to invite your neighboring businesses to a meeting on Business Watch and crime prevention techniques. RCPD can partner with you by providing resources to help you and your group

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Recycling at home or work has become part of our daily routine, but one ubiquitous device that still raises questions over disposal is light bulbs. Do they go out with the normal trash? Get tossed in recycling containers? Do you save them for the next neighborhood e-waste event? The answers aren't easy, thanks in part to new technologies to Thomas Edison's illuminating invention along with society's growing environmental concerns.

A 60-day initiative to help raise awareness on how citizens and companies can properly recycle lighting devices launched on Aug. 20. The Green Lights Initiative is sponsored by LEDtronics, one of the largest U.S.-based manufacturers of LED products, and whose lighting has put a shine on Sacramento from a downtown comic book store to the passenger trains that roll through the downtown and Roseville stations.

Besides donating to Keep America Beautiful with a check purposely dated Nov. 15 to coincide with America Recycles Day, the Torrance, Calif.-based company is taking to social media, print and electronic media to get the word out. New and long-time supporters of proper lighting disposal will be urged to sign an online petition at Change.org.

“When my light bulbs

burn out, where do I put them?' Being in the lighting business for nearly 40 years, we get that question a lot," said Shaan Lodhie, LEDtronics' chief operating officer. "Our company makes only LEDs, which are safe to dispose of in trash bins because they contain no hazardous chemicals. But that's not necessarily the right option for environmental, safety and other reasons. When it comes to CFL and fluorescent bulbs, both of which contain small amounts of mercury, chucking them in the trashcan or with the recycling isn't wise for intensified reasons.” LEDtronics’ donation to Keep America Beautiful will help the non-profit with its mission to “inspire and educate people to take action every day to improve and beautify their community environment.”

When a real light bulb goes out, how great it would be if an imaginary light bulb appeared over your head to signal a bright idea for what to do next. With so many types of lighting on the market, even a single home or business can have multiple ways to illuminate. Materials being shared through the Green Lights Initiative include a “how to” on properly disposing and recycling the most common types of light bulbs. Here’s a summary of tips by lighting category:

CFL and fluorescent – Small amounts of the toxic chemical mercury make these bulbs harmful to your health and environment. Simply tossing them in the trash is unwise, and in some circumstances unlawful. Because broken CFL and fluorescent bulbs are damaging to the environment if they enter landfills or the water supply, more stringent and rigorous steps are required to dispose. A local home improvement store or recycling center might be able to take this work – and the bulbs – off your hands:

LED – Safe as it is to dispose of LEDs in trash bins due to an absence of toxic chemicals, recycling them is still the best option from an environmental and safety perspective. Better than tossing them in your recycling container, locate a recycling center that accepts LEDs, which contain reusable components;

Incandescent and halogen – Like LEDs, these types typically contain no toxic chemicals. Disposing them in a trashcan or recycling bin is one solution, but a better one is handing them over to a recycling center. Because glass in incandescents and halogens shatters easily, wrapping the bulbs in recyclable packaging materials is also smart.

If you need help finding a recycling center that accepts bulbs, visit search.earth911.com or batteriesplus.com/t/recycling/ Light-Bulb.

Kahn was named Folsom Cordova's 2019-20 Teacher of the Year in May. She is a special education teacher with nearly 30 years of experience. As an educator in the Counseling Enhanced Program (CEP), Kahn helps children of all abilities develop the skills they need to access their education.

During her banquet speech, she was joined on stage by former Principal Carole Vargas, with whom she previously worked at Navigator Elementary, her Facility Assistance Dog, Gigi, and former student D'Angelo Smalley. During his remarks, Smalley expressed his gratitude for Kahn's efforts years ago to help him successfully transition into mainstream classrooms. ★

By Bob McGarvey

Labor Day is the beginning of fall, school and the holidays, or the unofficial end of the summer, or what? I read that maybe we have forgotten the reason we are celebrating Labor Day. We don't really have any rituals or things to do on Labor Day, like put up colorful lights and such. We usually only do things like barbecue, shop and enjoy a three-day weekend. The first Labor Day was September 5, 1882 in New York City, and it wasn't what you would really call a holiday because the workers had to strike to celebrate it. Ten thousand workers marched from City Hall to Union Square, and they had picnics and get togethers, and some relaxed while they talked about the day.

The first time it was a "holiday" was when it was moved to the first Monday in September because Congress passed legislation making Labor Day a national holiday in 1894. I guess today, the day is more of a chance for us to remember the accomplishments of workers in the past. They talked about working conditions and salaries, and then they had

The Mayor's Corner

Labor Day is for us to Remember the Accomplishments of Workers in the Past to work harder to reach their goals. Many people today believe that the improved safety conditions at many jobs are attributed to what the laborers fought for and received.

In September, there are many days to remember. One thing about September that is not on the calendar is National Prostate Cancer Awareness Month. Prostate cancer is the most frequently diagnosed cancer in men, and the second leading cause of cancer deaths in men. The American Cancer Society recommends that men be tested for prostate cancer and talk to their health care provider about early detection. The five-year survival rate approaches 100% when diagnosed and tested early.

Now, here are a few days that are on the calendar in September. The 8th is Grandparents Day, the 10th is when the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corps Incorporated (1962), the 11th is Patriot Day and National Day of Service and Remembrance, and the 14th is when the "Star-Spangled Banner" was written by Francis Scott Key (1814) and also when the Ladies Auxiliary VFW Organized (1914). On the 17th, the U.S. Constitution was approved (1787) and it's Constitution Day and Citizenship Day. The 18th is when the U.S. Air Force was established (1947), the 20th is National POW/MIA Recognition Day, the 23rd is the first day of autumn, and the 29th is National VFW Day honoring when the VFW was established (1899). Those are only the days shown on one of my 2020 calendars, and I have many other calendars. But they are days that are important to many people in our wonderful city and throughout our country.

Well it's September, and "The Autumn Leaves" haven't drifted by my window, or on my lawn, or in my pool or fountain yet. The over warm temperatures this year are fooling the trees, but when the leaves finally start coming down, I'll be ready. We have rakes and leaf bags, and a few grandchildren who will help their grandparents get them all picked up. It's funny though how much the grandchildren liked to help when they were younger, and how much more fun it was then as they ran and jumped into the piles of leaves. We'll see how it goes this year if they are beginning to see it as work. Granted, that's a four letter word, but it wasn't a bad four letter word in the past. Perhaps it will still be fun if grandpa jumps in first. Maybe not!

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

What is PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

Public Safety Power Shutoff
or PSPS is a precautionary safety measure that may proactively turn off power lines when extreme fire danger conditions are forecast. We will do this to reduce wildfire risks and keep our customers safe.
To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

What criteria does PG&E consider when calling a PSPS?

No single factor will initiate a Public Safety Power Shutoff as each situation is unique. The factors we generally consider include:

- A Red Flag Warning declared by the National Weather Service
- Forecasts of strong winds and wind gusts
- Low humidity levels
- Critically dry vegetation that could fuel a wildfire
- And on-the-ground, real-time observations from PG&E field crews

In the interest of public safety, we continue to update and refine our criteria and protocols on an ongoing basis.

How will I know if a PSPS has been called in my neighborhood?

Because extreme weather threats can change quickly, our goal is to provide notice through phone calls, emails and text messages to customers 48 hours in advance, again at 24 hours and again just prior to turning off the power for safety. Updates will also be shared through social media, local news, radio and pge.com until the time power is restored. To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

How can I prepare for a PSPS?

We advise you to think in advance about your family’s needs and how you might be impacted in the event of a power shutoff — or for any emergency.

- Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including pets?
- If you own a generator, is it ready to operate safely?
- Do you know how to open your garage door manually?
- Do you have cash and a full tank of gas, in the event ATMs and gas stations are unavailable?
- Are your mobile phones fully charged?

CHEERS&JEERS

By Damian Holbrook

Cheers to To Tell the Truth

for booking some straight-up icons. We cannot lie, the sight of legendary producer Norman Lear and One Day at a Time's Rita Moreno (pictured) on the same stage had us thinking that ABC's other game shows should go after more guests with such impressive TV roots.

Cheers to Pennyworth

for being the butler who does it with style. Like a young Michael Caine, Jack Bannon is the hero we'd happily hold the door for in Epix's super-cool period thriller about Batman's future manservant back when he was a stylish, sexy James Bond type.

Jeers to 9-1-1

for soaking its stars in disaster-film drama. When you have a cast of first responders that includes powerhouses like Peter Krause, Angela Basset and Aisha Hinds, you don't need Irwin Allen-level stunts like mega-earthquakes and Season 3's impending tidal wave. Let's leave that silliness for movies starring The Rock and better special effects..

Jeers to Animal Kingdom

for eating its own! Even for a show that's always been violent and unpredictable, we never imagined they'd dare kill of Ellen Barkin's Smurf. Not only because Mama Cody is the hard-hearted, horrifying center of the twisted Cody clan, but also because Barkin is a badass who just can't be replaced. ★

We cannot lie, the sight of legendary producer Norman Lear and One Day at a Time's Rita Moreno (pictured) on the same stage had us thinking.

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

Why Is A Show Like Love Island On Cbs?

Question: I've really enjoyed Blood & Treasure on CBS. It's one of the best on TV and typical of the quality of CBS's shows. On the other hand, I was surprised to see Love Island on CBS, not at all something I'd expect to see on my favorite channel. Is CBS trying to compete with The Bachelor and The Bachelorette? Isn't Big Brother enough of that sort of show? Hopefully, Love Island won't be renewed. — Carley

Matt Roush: This is a good news/bad news situation and also a perfect illustration of a broadcast network trying to be all things to all people, especially during the summer months when its tentpole hits are all in repeats. I doubt there's much intersection between the fan base of guilty-pleasure reality trash like Love Island — which plays to the Big Brother crowd — and classic action-adventure fare like Blood & Treasure, but each of these genres has its respective audience and a network like CBS is probably smart to go after both. Love Island wasn't the breakout hit CBS had hoped, but it delivered social-media buzz and a consistent audience much younger than the network's norm, and the execs believe the show will grow with exposure, so yes, Love Island will be back next summer. But on the plus side, so will Blood & Treasure, which as you rightly note is much more in keeping with the CBS brand. Be thankful for small victories.

Lancers Showing Improvement Despite 0-2 Start

By James Darnell

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Sometimes, the score-board isn't indicative of what actually happens on the football field during the

we did last week," Lancers' head coach Jason Bumbaca said. "We came out and tried to put in the work." Davis (2-0) is undefeated for a reason, however, as they would intercept

Davis. Although things would snowball in the second half, the Lancers continued to show signs of a team coming together. The team communicated well and course of a game. Despite losing 64-0 to visiting Davis last Friday evening in their second-consecutive home game to begin the season, Cordova showed visible signs of improvement throughout the contest. The team played aggressively on defense, particularly early, when they forced Davis to punt on their first possession. The Blue Devils' first drive featured three run plays stuffed for negative yardage by an attacking Lancers' defensive front, which fired up the home sideline and fans. "I thought we played a better football game than

Cordova (0-2) senior quarterback Joey Estrada on the Lancers' first offensive play on the night and parlay that into a quick two-yard scoring run by Davis' senior quarterback Brennen Garvin. That would be a trend on the evening as Garvin tallied three rushing scores. The Blue Devils would continue to find the end-zone in the first half, taking a 34-0 lead into half-time in large part due to junior tailback Aaron Turner, who compiled three of his four rushing touchdowns in the first half. Turner ran 16 times for 152 yards in an impressive effort to lead remained energetic despite the lopsided affair, much to the liking of Bumbaca, who understands things may be rocky as he begins building the program in his image. "I keep trying to tell them we have to keep getting better each week," he said. "The thing is to just keep their heads up and staying positive, and just keep moving forward." For the Lancers, junior Kelton Stevens and senior Salvador Bautista had strong outings defensively as they were in on several tackles, with Bautista recording a sack. Another big highlight of the evening was the team honoring former legendary coach Max Miller at half-time for his contributions to the program. Miller, who has the most wins by a coach in school history, enjoyed the moment and showed his support for Bumbaca and the football program. "I know he (Bumbaca) is just getting started," Miller said. "But he's got some very good kids. It'll be tough, but I wish them the very best." Cordova's schedule won't get any easier as they travel to Rio Linda High School on Friday, September 6, and take on the defending CIF Sac Joaquin Section Division 5-AA State Champions, with kickoff set for 7:00 p.m. ★

Freeborn Eager To Build Lady Lancers' Golf Program

Story by James Darnell

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Two weeks ago, the Cordova Lady Lancers' varsity golf program had a vacancy at head coach. And although he'd never coached golf before, Scott Freeborn knew what he had to do. Seven years ago, Freeborn stepped away from coaching after stints coaching tennis as well as the freshman and junior varsity football programs at Cordova, with the expectation he would only take a year off. As time wore on, he knew one day he'd return to the coaching ranks. Having also coached basketball and flag football in his earlier days, Freeborn is no stranger to a challenge, and no matter the sport, the coaching instinct never left him. Thus, he pounced on the opportunity to coach Lady Lancers golf. "There was a spot available and I was kind of looking to get back into coaching something," he said. "Golf came open, and I sat down with the Athletic Director and Vice Principal, talked about some things including the direction I was hoping to take the program and build it up." Freeborn enters a situation where he will try to build the foundation of what he hopes will be a successful and consistent program, and wants to foster the type of atmosphere that bolsters learning and fun. "I really like coaching kids," Freeborn said. "I just want to try and teach them some things along the way, whether it be something they might pursue in college as far as a sport to play, but really, it's just about giving kids the opportunity to learn something that they could do and enjoy throughout their life." In addition to coaching athletics, Freeborn is also entering his 21st year as a Physical Education teacher in Rancho Cordova. He also mentioned his enjoyment in seeing students grasp the concept of what he's trying to teach them, or as he called it, "when that lightbulb comes on," as something he takes great pride in. This year's team figures to be led by senior and four-year golfer Tabitha McKenzie, as well as sophomores Hannah Gibson and Amanda Dong, who Freeborn mentioned are three players who immediately stood out after he took over the program. The Lady Lancers opened their season this past Tuesday when they faced off against Greater Sacramento League power West Campus at Bing Maloney Golf Course. Final results were not available at the time of printing. They return to the course on Tuesday, September 10 when they face Natomas. ★

Women's Soccer Earns a Tie and a Win

By Ronald Richardson, Folsom Lake College

FOLSOM, CA (MPG) - The Falcon women's soccer team had a busy Labor Day weekend with matches against Lake Tahoe on Friday and Evergreen Valley on Sunday, with both being played at Lake Tahoe Community College. Friday's game against top-ranked Lake Tahoe was an intense match that remained scoreless through the first 70 minutes of play. The Coyotes managed a goal and looked like they would be victorious, but the Falcons fought hard to create scoring chances and finally tied the score when Sarah Scott connected a cross to Emily Doty in the final minute of play for the 1-1 draw. On Sunday, the Falcons came out a little flat but managed a first-half goal in the 38th minute when Emma Thompson crossed to Sarah Freed for a 1-0 lead, which turned out to be the only goal of the match. "It wasn't our sharpest outing," coach Donny Ribauda noted. "However, every good team finds a way to get the result, even when things aren't going well. It was a long weekend and two good results. I'm happy for the team's success." The Falcons will work hard this week in preparation for Friday's match at West Hills Lemoore. They'll play at Folsom next Tuesday, September 10, when they host Feather River at 3:30 pm. ★

Air Force Communications Satellite Relies on Aerojet Rocketdyne Propulsion

By Todd McConnell, Aerojet Rocketdyne

CAPE CANAVERAL, FLA (MPG) - From the five AJ-60A solid rocket motors that provided a combined 1.7 million lbs. of added liftoff thrust for the United Launch Alliance (ULA) Atlas V rocket, to the XR-5 Hall Thrusters used to steer the spacecraft in orbit, Aerojet Rocketdyne provided a variety of propulsion systems to support the successful delivery of the fifth Lockheed Martin-built Advanced Extremely High Frequency (AEHF-5) satellite to orbit for the U.S. Air Force.

“Helping to launch critical assets into orbit that provide our nation and its allies with secure, global communications is an important mission that the Aerojet Rocketdyne team takes very seriously,” said Aerojet Rocketdyne CEO and President Eileen Drake. “Our propulsion systems support this mission from the launch pad to orbit to final end-of-life decommissioning of the satellite.”

According to Lockheed Martin, “The Advanced Extremely High Frequency system provides vastly improved global, survivable, protected communications capabilities for strategic command and tactical warfighters operating on ground, sea and air platforms. The jam-resistant system also serves international partners including Canada, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom.”

In addition to the five AJ-60A solid rocket motors that helped lift the Atlas V off the launch pad, Aerojet Rocketdyne provided the RL10C-1 rocket engine that provided 22,900 lbs. of thrust to propel the rocket’s Centaur upper stage. The company also built the MR-106 reaction control system thrusters that provided upper stage pitch, yaw and roll control. Composite overwrapped pressure vessels that store high-pressure fluids used to support operation of the Atlas V and Centaur were manufactured by ARDÉ, a subsidiary of Aerojet Rocketdyne.

Onboard the AEHF-5 spacecraft, Aerojet Rocketdyne provided electric XR-5 Hall Thruster strings and mono-propellant rocket engines that steer the spacecraft through its mission, including safely deorbiting the satellite at the end of its service life. The XR-5 Hall Thrusters on AEHF satellites enable a propellant mass savings in excess of 2,000 lbs. when compared to performing the mission with all chemical propulsion.

“The propellant mass savings enabled by our XR-5 Hall Thrusters provides end users with more flexibility when planning spacecraft missions,” added Drake. “Aerojet Rocketdyne is a world leader in electric propulsion technology; we have provided more than 550 electric propulsion thrusters on over 200 spacecraft.”

Aerojet Rocketdyne, a subsidiary of Aerojet Rocketdyne Holdings, Inc. (NYSE:AJRD), is a world-recognized aerospace and defense leader that provides propulsion systems and energetics to the space, missile defense and strategic systems, and tactical systems areas, in support of domestic and international customers. Presenting Two Evenings of VIP Cocktail Farm-To-Fork Train Rides

By Traci Rockefeller Cusack, T-Rock Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

- Showcasing the rich history and deep connection between agriculture and the railroad, the California State Railroad Museum Foundation is proud to continue its multi-year partnership with Visit Sacramento as an official Farm-to-Fork sponsor. To celebrate the important role the railroad once played in bringing the fruits of the farm to emerging new communities throughout the region and nation, the Foundation is excited to present two evenings of VIP Cocktail Train Ride experiences on Saturday, September 28 & Sunday, September 29, 2019.

The VIP Cocktail Train first debuted in 2015 and was recognized as a finalist in Sunset Magazine’s Travel Awards competition in the “Best Train Experience” category. New this year, the elegant experience features themed wine and food pairings courtesy of Michelin Guide Bib Gourmand winner Frank Fats as guests travel along the picturesque Sacramento River in beautifully restored luxury train cars.

“2019 continues to be an important year for the railroad and we’re thrilled to continue the celebratory activities aboard Cocktail Train Rides while partnering with the esteemed Fat Family Restaurant Group, the oldest restaurant in the city to be owned exclusively by one family,” said Cheryl Marcell, President & CEO of the California State Railroad Museum Foundation.

“The Sacramento Southern Railroad was once primarily used to transport pears, asparagus, celery, seeds and other agricultural products to markets from local Delta communities. Today, the Museum and Foundation are proud to offer historic and authentic excursion train rides and VIP Cocktail Train ride experiences on the very same Sacramento Southern Railroad.”

With VIP train rides on each evening at 6 p.m. departing from the Central Pacific Freight Depot along the Old Sacramento Waterfront, VIP Cocktail Train ride guests can sit back and experience what first-class was like during the early decades of the 20th century as developed by the Southern Pacific Railroad. Once they board, ticketed guests will be treated to a series of exquisite small plate appetizers provided by Frank Fat’s and paired with a craft cocktail, wine or sparkling selections.

The deliciously delightful menu includes Honey Walnut Prawns paired with a craft cocktail that features Gold River Distillery Vodka; Vegetable Chow Fun paired with a Chardonnay from Talbott Vineyards; Cumin Spiced Lamb Skewers from Superior Farms paired with a Cabernet Sauvignon from Mettler Family Vineyards; and finished with a choice of delicious desserts that include

Banana Cream or Chocolate Cream Pie Shooters paired with Champagne served in a keepsake souvenir glass.

Uniformed stewards will provide the finest first-class service onboard three of the California State Railroad Museum’s first-class cars: the Audubon dining car, the El Dorado lounge car and the French Quarter lounge car from the 1950s that served the famed Southern Pacific “Sunset Limited” service. As an added treat, the cars will be pulled by two eye-catching locomotives – Western Pacific No. 913 and Southern Pacific No. 6051 – both of which are classic streamlined locomotives representative of the first generation of diesel-electric locomotives.

Space is limited on the Farm-To-Fork Cocktail Train and tickets are on sale now. Train ride tickets cost $125 per person and all train ride guests must be 21 years of age or over. The VIP Cocktail Train is a Foundation fundraiser for the California State Railroad Museum and Railtown 1897 State Historic Park, and corporate sponsorships are available by calling 916-407-2213.
