Cordova Accelerated Performing Arts Brings Community Theatre to Youth

Accelerated Performing Arts

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Just imagine it! Cordova Accelerated Performing Arts, or CAPA, kicked off their first summer of community theatre with rehearsals last week and with that their dream became reality.

The group includes teachers, college and high school students, community members, and professionals from the region's stages sharing their passion for theatre with high hopes of fostering a lifelong love of the performing arts and civic engagement.

"It took a village to launch this program from a little idea between two co-workers back in the spring of last year to this summer's production of A Midsummer's Night Dream," said co-founder Shannon Mahoney.

The partners truly made this dream a reality. The program is funded by the City of Rancho Cordova's Community Enhancement Fund and in-kind contributions from the Folsom Cordova Unified School District, the Cordova Recreation & Park District and non-profit partner Big Idea Theatre. CAPA is designed to help youth and young adults gain more confidence to pursue greater academic and professional success.

CAPA is free to youth and young adults age 15-23 years old who live in the City of Rancho Cordova and offers a tuition rate for those from neighboring communities. For young folks interested in learning about lights, sound, set construction, costumes and make up, there's still time to join in this summer's fun!

CAPA's summer rehearsals will end with community performances highlighting Rancho Cordova's homegrown talent on July 19 and 20 at the Cordova High Performing Arts Center. If you're interested in supporting the program, volunteers and sponsors are still needed to help make the performances free to the community.

You can check out the program on Facebook as Cordova Accelerated Performing Arts or for more information email CordovaPerformingArts@gmail.com. ★

Positive Altitude Offers Students an Aviation and STEM Experience

By Liz Fox Johnson,
California Capital Airshow

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, June 22, from 11 am to 2 pm, the California Capital Airshow (CCA) will introduce hundreds of students to aviation and STEM through, Positive Altitude, a day-long, hands-on experience held at Mather Airport. K-12 students have the opportunity to interact with aviation professionals from all walks of flight and get up close with a wide variety of airplanes, helicopters, first responder vehicles, military assets and more.

Offering eye-opening encounters with potential careers in the fields of aviation and science, technology, engineering and math (STEM), the day seeks to inspire kids to consider their own future in these fields.

Through CCA's Positive Altitude program, more than 10 students have been offered an introductory instructional flight lesson with a certified flight instructor. The students awarded this opportunity are the winners of an essay contest in which they have described how they will change the world when they grow up. These first flights will take to the skies from 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. during the Positive Altitude event.

Positive Altitude is sponsored in part by Sacramento Jet Center, along with Sacramento County, City of Rancho Cordova, UPS, Keurig Dr. Pepper, Mach 5 Aviation, and Jelly Belly. Each of these organizations plays a key role in supporting the CCA's year-round educational programming.

Mather Vets Campus to Lose Full Capacity For Housing

Julie Beckner,
Volunteers of America

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -Volunteers of America (VOA) is facing a funding shortfall that will permanently impact Mather Community Campus, the region's most successful program to combat homelessness. This loss of funding is forcing VOA to cease critical components of the Mather program model which will significantly affect the program's ability to help clients get off the streets and back on their feet.

Without immediate and ongoing support, Mather will no longer be able to operate at full capacity and will have to cease operations in one of the campus' 13 residential buildings - a building that can house 90 individuals for up to one year in a transitional housing setting. That's 90 people who are on the streets now, ready for change, but will have nowhere to go.

Loss of funding also strikes fatal blow to Mather's Community Dining Hall/ Culinary Training Kitchen: The Community Dining Hall will close; clients will no longer receive 3 hot meals daily at a shelter without kitchen facilities in resident quarters; The Culinary Training Kitchen program will close - clients will no longer receive valuable job training that prepares them for employment once they leave the shelter.

Since 1993, Mather Community Campus has helped more than 4,500 people forge their own path out of homelessness through an innovative, proven approach that combines transitional housing with a multitude of supportive services.

"We actually give people their life back. We help them recover the things they need to function in society like getting their driver's license, opening a bank account, and working on credit repair or record expungement. Mather also helps with clothing, vocational training, and employment placement," said Sherman Haggerty, Division Director, VOA Employment Services. "We provide the foundational tools people actually need to become a part of the community again. No other program does these things."

Volunteers of America has created a webpage that details the budget deficit and impact more fully. Anyone wishing to learn more can visit www.savemather.com. Individuals and organizations who are interested in supporting Mather Community Campus should contact Christie Holderegger, VP/Chief Development Officer at (916) 213-4133 or donate online at www.voa-ncnn.org. ★

The events are open for anyone to attend. Heath said, "It's a lot of fun. It's not too churchy." They serve free dinner, dessert, coffee, and other refreshments. Higher Power is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization; donation checks can be written to Higher Power Ministry and then mailed to Lakeside Church, 745 Oak Avenue Parkway, Folsom, CA 95630. ★

Rancho Cordova Schools- in-Review: Academics

From the City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova offers a wide range of academic options for elementary through high school students, including arts and sciences at George Washington Carver High School, an International Baccalaureate (IB) Program at both Cordova High and Mitchell Middle Schools, Career Technical Education (CTE) Programs at Cordova High School, as well as a Science, Technology, Engineering and Math focus at Riverview STEM Academy. As the school year comes to an end, we take a look back at just a few of the many stories that showcase the academic success of students and faculty in Rancho Cordova.

Ranking in the Top 10
for College Admissions

Cordova High School in the Folsom Cordova Unified School District placed in the Top 10 for University of California admissions in the Sacramento region! According to recent data, nearly three-quarters of Cordova High School students who applied to the highly competitive University of California campuses earned admission, which places them 8th out of 88 Sacramento-area high schools. Schools with International Baccalaureate Programmes, such as Cordova High's program, fared among the best in their admission rates.

Caring for Our Watersheds Competition

Two student teams at Sacramento City Unified School District's George Washington Carver School of Arts and Science in Rancho Cordova placed in the Top 10 out of 550 proposals submitted to the Caring for Our Watersheds Competition! One student team submitted a proposal that would enhance habitats for bees and other pollinators, while another team focused on ways to reduce waste at school. Both projects are already being implemented on campus by switching out plastic "spork" packets for real silverware and introducing a pollinator garden.

STEM Competition

The Riverview Rockets team competed in three STEM tournaments in Davis, CA and came away winning two design awards and a sportsmanship award. The team was invited to the state championship at Sierra College and placed 7th out of 11 teams in the competition.

One of our students from Riverview STEM who is on a middle school team, CyborgX with Riverview STEM alumni earned 1st place in the middle school category and is going on to the world championships! The City of Rancho Cordova's Community Enhancement Fund has funded the school's robotics program for the past three years.

Responding to a Crisis

But academic success isn't only measured by grades and admissions, but also by giving back to your community by using learned skills to help others. After learning about the devastation caused by the recent fires in California, students in the Cordova High School construction class volunteered to construct dog houses for pets whose families have lost homes in the Camp Fire. These extraordinary students were interviewed by local media outlets while loading up their finished projects on a trailer headed to Paradise, CA.

Teachers and Trophies

Cordova High School teacher Jennifer Rossiter was honored with the Exemplary International Baccalaureate (IB) Middle Years Programme Educator Award from the California Association of IB World Schools (CAWS)! Jennifer also manages a student floral design program and oversees the Future Farmers of America on campus. She earned this honor for being a champion of the school's IB program, and for her student-centered approach to teaching, learning, and building positive relationships with students.

Teachers on the Cutting Edge

Cordova High media teacher Josh Creeger was named the Sacramento Educational Video Awards Teacher of the Week this year. Creeger has been teaching for eighteen years, all of them at Cordova High. He currently teaches anatomy and physiology, along with media production and student government at the school. Creeger pioneered the schools media program six years ago with the help of colleagues Scott Southard and Paul Hatcher.

A College Promise Kept

At the beginning of the year, Folsom Lake College/Rancho Cordova Center welcomed the 2nd cohort of the Folsom Lake College/Rancho Cordova College Promise Program as they embarked on their first college semester of their freshmen year. Approximately 90 new high school graduates living in the City took advantage of the opportunity to attend their first year of college fee-free through funding from the City's Community Enhancement Fund. ★

CHP Offers Cool Tips for Safe Summer Trips

By Fran Clader,
California Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Summer road trips are a well-loved tradition for many. To make sure a trip is enjoyable, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) reminds everyone that prevention and planning for summer driving may take time up front, but can spare drivers from dealing with the consequences of a breakdown or worse. "Get your vehicle ready, plan your route, and above all, drive safely," CHP Commissioner Warren Stanley said. "When you are the driver, your only responsibility is to keep your eyes on the road, hands on the wheel, and concentrate on the task of driving," he added. Summer driving can be more dangerous than other seasons for several reasons. Vacationing drivers, unfamiliar with an area, may also drive erratically or unpredictably. More teenagers, who are inexperienced drivers, are also more likely to be on the road. The CHP recommends: Make sure vehicle maintenance is up-to-date. Summer temperatures can put serious stress on engines. Tires, air conditioning, belts and hoses, fluid levels, interior and exterior lights, and wiper blades must all be in good condition; Program any global positioning systems, whether in your phone or in your car, in advance. The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) has a mobile app for traffic information, or visit <http://quickmap.dot.ca.gov> for highway conditions. Prepare for device malfunctions or loss of connection by knowing your route before you leave and packing maps; Buckle up! Be sure everyone in your vehicle is wearing a seat belt. Check that young passengers are using the correct child safety seat for their height and weight; Never leave pets, children, or the elderly alone in a car for any length of time. California laws address how to handle situations in which children or animals are left in vehicles. However, the best approach if you see an unattended child or animal is to call 9-1-1; Expect road construction and plan for delays. Remember to "be work zone alert" and move over or slow down when passing any stationary vehicle displaying emergency or warning lights, including emergency vehicles, Caltrans vehicles, and tow trucks. The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

Friday, June 14 was Flag Day, the U.S. Army’s 244th Birthday was celebrated at Village Green Park, Moonlight Movies was held at Village Green Park and will be held every Friday night in June, and much more. Saturday was our granddaughter’s birthday, Sunday was Father’s Day, and June 17 was our next regular City Council Meeting. As I write this, today is June 18. Earlier today was the Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito and Vector Control District Board Meeting, and I decided that it would be a good time this afternoon to work on this column. This coming weekend, our City will compete for the chance to be named a 2019 All-America City by the National Civic League. The following weekend is the U.S. Conference of Mayors 87th Annual Meeting. I didn’t go to the U.S. Conference of Mayors 87th Winter Meeting because over 700 commercial flights were cancelled when it was time to go. I guess that’s enough about some of the things going on and in Rancho Cordova for now. Lou Holtz said, “You were not born a winner, and you were not born a loser. You are what you

The Mayor's Corner

You are What you Make Yourself to Be

make yourself to be.” That quote fits many people who forget that each and every one of us can do more if we just try. While that fits many people, that quote can and does fit the City of Rancho Cordova because we never quit trying. While we were working toward cityhood, there were more than a few people who said, “Rancho Cordova will never be a city.” We can all look back and see what we have been able to do over the last 16 years. We will be celebrating our 16th birthday this coming July 1st as the city that “... will never be.” When the vote came in FOR cityhood in November 2002, there were many, many people who could hardly wait for the eight months to go by after the election. Those eight months were used to get us ready to hit the ground running, and we did. So, everyone in Rancho Cordova can celebrate “their” birthday on July 1, 2019. As Lou Holtz said, “You are what you make yourself to be.” Just a quick note about the weather this year. I think it is crazy. The continued extreme storms, hot and cold temperatures, extra rain, etc. makes me think back at how easy it was to predict the weather when I first came to Rancho Cordova and Mather Air Force Base in March 1963. Today, the weather forecasters really need the satellites to give them pretty accurate predictions. That being said,

I think they are accurate about 50 percent of the time. My “weather rock” does pretty well, too. If it’s wet, it’s raining. If I can’t see it, it is either nighttime or it is foggy during the day. If it is white, it’s frosty or it’s snowing. I received that rock for my birthday a long time ago, but it’s still as accurate now as it was then. We are very glad that our children and grandchildren love to read. They learned that opening a book or a birthday card, or even looking at a newspaper can open a whole new world to them that they didn’t know existed. Sometimes, just by chance, you find that someone you never heard of before said something that made a connection you hadn’t thought of. For example, Mia Hamm who was a professional soccer player said, “I learned a long time ago that there is something worse than missing the goal, and that’s not pulling the trigger.” That made me think of where we would be today in Rancho Cordova if we hadn’t “pulled the trigger.” Can you imagine what our community would be like if we hadn’t voted for cityhood? The history of Rancho Cordova would be so different than we know it today. We would all be doing different things than we are today.

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Rotary Charitable Foundation Awards Over $11,000 In Hometown Hero Grants

By Chase Armer, Rancho Cordova Rotary Charitable Foundation, President

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rancho Cordova Rotary Charitable Foundation (Foundation) is pleased to announce it has awarded more than $11,000 in 2019 Hometown Hero Grants to five applicants:

1. The Mentees at Cordova High (MACH) Program has been awarded $2,900 for its “Literacy Buddies of Rancho Cordova” project.
2. The Lincoln Park Little Free Library has been awarded $600 in Barnes and Noble Gift Certificates to provide material for the “Lincoln Village Park: Summer Reading” program.
3. The Folsom Cordova Community Partnership has been awarded $1,200 for its “Everyone Can Read” program.
4. The Folsom Cordova Community Partnership has been awarded $4,819 for its “Computers for Youth” program.
5. Supporting a young student to attend Fuel Up To Play 60 Summit in the amount of $1,275.

The Foundation awarded these grants through a competitive application and review process. There were many excellent applications which made the final selection for 2019 a difficult choice for the award committee. Additional funding from Planned Solutions and Golden State Water Company allowed two additional grant awards this year. The committee is looking forward to selecting additional worthy recipients in 2020! The Rancho Cordova Rotary Charitable Foundation was founded in 1999 to support the Rotary Club of Rancho Cordova’s charitable activities. The Foundation provides funding for scholarships at Cordova and Kinney High Schools, baby diapers and baby food to the Cordova Food Locker, and many literacy programs in the community. It is through generous donations from Rotarians, local businesses, and community members that makes funding these programs possible. CHEERS & JEERS

By Damian Holbrook

Cheers to The Fix

for solving its central mystery. Even though ABC canceled the Marcia Clark – produced crime drama, fans still got a solid, twist-filled finale that saw attorney Maya (Robin Tunney, pictured) finally closing her years-old murder case against celebrity suspect Sevv (Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje).

Cheers to Emily Deschanel

for adding new ferocity to Animal Kingdom. Make no Bones about it: The actress who spent 12 years playing Fox’s quirky Temperance Brennan is a stone-cold revelation as a hardened ex-junkie with a criminal past on TNT’s deliciously gritty crime drama.

Jeers to Stranger Things

for unleashing something scarier than the Demogorgon. In honor of the Netflix hit’s upcoming 1985-set third season, Coca-Cola is planning to rerelease that year’s short-lived and so-not-lamented New Coke. Strangest thing about this? We’ll probably like it this time around.

Jeers to The Jeopardy! Leaker.

James Holzhauer’s 32-game winning streak ended on June 3rd, but the big shock was spoiled days earlier by some loser who tweeted footage of the champ being out-smarted by librarian Emma Boettcher. No question: The producers should sue! ★

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

Will We See Another Season Of The Village?

Question: I love the show The Village. The writing and acting are beautifully done. Any news on the show? – Debbie C

Matt Roush: Sorry to tell you that NBC just dropped the ax on three of its underperforming mid-season shows, including The Village, Abby’s and The Enemy Within. I’d bet that NBC had the highest hopes, and made the toughest call, regarding The Village, which the network no doubt saw as its next This Is Us with its emotional heart-tugging storylines. I found it a poor and obvious substitute, but others rallied to its cause. I’ll admit I was surprised at this cancellation as well. And before you ask, it’s unlikely it will be rescued, as it was an in-house production from Universal TV, and with such a large cast to service, it’s doubtful anyone would pick up that bill.

Question: Will there be a second series of What We Do In The Shadows? I just loved that show and laughed out loud in spite of watching it by myself! Sure hope so.— Betty Matt Roush: I was laughing right there with you, and I’m delighted to confirm that FX did renew this inspired and hilarious vampire comedy (that was adapted from the 2014 movie of the same name but with a new cast) for a second season. It’s one of my absolute favorite new shows of this year.

Democrats Arbitration Proposal Binds Patients Badly

Commentary
by Peter Roff

It's been more than 100 days since the Democrats were restored to power in the House of Representatives. They haven't accomplished much, aside from talking. Some of what they have to say is just partisan politics. There are other things they are talking about doing of which we should be wary. One is House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's plan to reduce prescription drug prices by promoting binding arbitration. Pelosi's plan empowers unaccountable government officials to have the final word on how much Medicare should pay for certain drugs. This price controls by a different name approach has attracted support from numerous lawmakers – but it's a terrible idea. Implementing this plan will reduce competition, the one mechanism that guarantees seniors can get what they need at the lowest cost and highest quality. Currently, the government doesn't provide prescription drug coverage to Medicare beneficiaries directly. Instead, it allows private insurers to sponsor and sell drug plans to seniors. Insurers compete with one another to win seniors' business. Insurers are usually able to negotiate bulk purchase agreements with drug companies. Occasionally though, insurers think a drug company's requested price is too high. Right now, when negotiations over price stall, the government doesn't do anything. The feds let insurers decide which drugs to include or exclude from plans. Pelosi's vision allows Medicare officials to intervene in negotiations. If an agreement can't be reached, Medicare administrators could appeal to a government-appointed arbitrator. Medicare would suggest a price. So would drug manufacturers. Both sides having put forward their best arguments, the arbitrators, in theory independent and unbiased, would choose one or simply propose their own price in a legally binding decision neither side could appeal. Except, unlike the way that works at the Better Business Bureau, the government arbitrators would probably be predisposed to side with Medicare in any conflict. Germany passed a similar arbitration policy in 2010. As a result, drug makers are less willing to sell their products in Germany. When a new cancer medication is approved by regulators anywhere in the world, American patients can access it within three months, on average. By contrast, German patients must wait 11 months, on average. Binding arbitration would discourage innovation and leave patients without the drugs they need. It takes an average of $2.6 billion to create a new medicine. Only 12 percent of drugs that enter the first phase of clinical trials are approved by the FDA. If the government could indirectly set artificially low prices for medicines, such investments would become too risky. President Trump needs to reject the Pelosi plan in favor of a market-based approach that uses competition to bring prices down. *Peter Roff is a senior fellow at Frontiers of Freedom and a former U.S. News and World Report contributing editor who appears regularly as a commentator on the One America News network. Walmart and Sam's Clubs Raising Funds for UC Davis Children's Hospital

By Kimberly Ericksen Camilleri,
Elevate Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On June 11, 2019, all Sacramento area Walmart stores and Sam's Clubs kicked off this year's Children's Miracle Network Hospitals (CMN Hospitals) fundraising campaign to help treat local children who are sick or injured. All money raised during the Sacramento area CMN Hospitals campaign directly benefits UC Davis Children's Hospital to fund critical treatments, pediatric medical equipment, research and charitable care. The Walmart - Sam's Club CMN Hospitals campaign runs through July 7. "There are so many Sacramento families depending on donations from Walmart's Children's Miracle Network campaign to provide hope in times of desperation," said Roseville Walmart store manager Patrick Phelps. "We are proud to raise funds for the UC Davis Children's Hospital, and admire the customers who help us give back every year with their donations." Walmart and Sam's Club associates, members and customers in Sacramento area have raised over $7,080,273 for UC Davis Children's Hospital, most of it one dollar at a time. On a national level, Walmart and Sam's Club have raised more than $1 billion for CMN Hospitals; the largest cash amount ever raised by one company for a nonprofit in North America. The need is staggering – 62 children enter a Children's Miracle Network hospital for treatment every minute. Helping these children is easy, here's how to participate: Donate $1 or more at the checkout lane or self-checkout of any Sacramento area Walmart store or Sam's Club; Spread the word and encourage others to support the CMN Hospitals campaign via social media with custom CMN Gifts and the hashtag #HelpKidsLiveBetter Through the leadership of Sam Walton, Walmart and Sam's Club joined the CMN Hospitals fundraising family in 1987. This annual fundraising campaign supports Walmart's core belief of leveraging the company's strength to give back to local communities. Children's Miracle Network Hospitals® raises funds and awareness for 170 member hospitals that provide 32 million treatments each year to kids across the U.S. and Canada. Donations stay local to fund critical treatments and healthcare services, pediatric medical equipment and charitable care. Since 1983, Children's Miracle Network Hospitals has raised more than $5 billion, most of it $1 at a time through the charity's Miracle Balloon icon. Its various fundraising partners and programs support the nonprofit's mission to save and improve the lives of as many children as possible. Find out why children's hospitals need community support, identify your member hospital and learn how you can Put Your Money Where the Miracles Are, at CMNHospitals.org and facebook.com/CMNHospitals. ★

CA Prosecutors Launch Statewide Recruitment Campaign

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The California District Attorneys Association Foundation has launched a new campaign aimed at encouraging young people from all backgrounds to consider becoming prosecutors and fostering greater diversity in district attorney's offices throughout the state. A new website, <https://www.californiaprosecutors.org/>, provides tools and resources for those considering a legal career or who currently are attending law school. It includes information on law schools, minority prosecutor associations, internships and jobs. The website features written and video testimonials from California Attorney General Xavier Becerra and deputy district attorneys from throughout the Golden State about why they chose their careers. "Public service is enriching and rewarding," said California Attorney General Xavier Becerra. "Prosecutors play an essential role in our democracy by holding criminals accountable and providing justice and support to victims." The project was the idea of Los Angeles County District Attorney Jackie Lacey who recognized the need for prosecutorial offices to reflect the diversity of the communities they serve. District attorney's offices statewide are involved in the effort.

"As a prosecutor, you fight for equal and fair justice for all and you are the voice for the most vulnerable victims," said San Diego District Attorney Summer Stephan who has championed the right of human trafficking victims to receive justice. "Prosecutors have the unique ability in the criminal justice system to seek truth, justice and accountability through traditional courts or alternative diversion programs that they design to meet the needs of diverse communities, victims and offenders" said Yolo District Attorney Jeff Reisig. He established a restorative justice program called Neighborhood Court which keeps many lower level cases out of the criminal justice system. Alpana Samant, a Deputy District Attorney in San Mateo County, described her first encounter as an intern connecting with a domestic violence victim who needed another woman to hear her story. "I realized then that I too wanted to take on the responsibility of helping people feel safe and heard and visible in my community," she said. "I too wanted to invest my time and energy into doing work that mattered to people who sometimes felt like they didn't matter to anyone." Source: Yolo County Media ★

CHP Freeway Shooting Investigation Leads To Multiple Arrests

By John Harris, CHP
Public Information Officer

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Highway Patrol (CHP) Valley Division today announced making arrests in a freeway shooting that occurred on March 17, 2019, on Interstate 80 in Placer County. The shooting took place between two groups of individuals on westbound Interstate 80 at Douglas Boulevard. Multiple rounds were fired into the victim's vehicle resulting in the driver sustaining major injuries. Immediately after the shooting, the suspect vehicle fled the scene by driving his vehicle the wrong way on the northbound Douglas Boulevard on-ramp to westbound I-80. Through a collaborative effort with our partners in the Roseville Police Department, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF), Solano County Sheriff's Department, Richmond Police Department, the Vallejo Police Department, and the Federal Bureau of Investigations Safe Streets Task Force, three arrests have been made related to this case. Early this morning Tevarus Hill, 27, was arrested in Benicia, for attempted murder and multiple weapons charges. At the same time, Myles Sherman, 24, was arrested in Vallejo, also for attempted murder and multiple weapons charges. A third suspect, Enacio Bolton, 26, is in custody as the result of an unrelated incident and will be held for attempted murder charges. "We want to assure the public that these acts of violence are not random but often targeted attacks between parties that know each other," said Chief Brent Newman, commander of CHP's Valley Division. Based on a recent increase in highway violence including freeway shootings, the CHP has taken several proactive steps to address this issue. These include re-deploying staff, adding to investigative teams, involvement in zero-tolerance gang enforcement operations, and increasing communication at all levels among the involved law enforcement agencies and community leaders. "We know how scary these types of incidents can be to a community and the CHP is doing everything in our power to locate and arrest those responsible for these senseless acts of violence," added Chief Newman. Anyone with information regarding a freeway shooting is asked to call the CHP Valley Division's Investigative Services Unit at 916-731-6300. The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

UCSF Drops Proposed Partnership with Dignity Health

By Sean Crowley,
Compassion and Choices

SAN FRANCISCO, CA (MPG) - Compassion & Choices praised University of California at San Francisco (UCSF) officials for responding to letters of protest from hundreds of Compassion & Choices volunteers in California and other state residents by dropping a proposal to expand its relationship with Dignity Health. If the University of California's Board of Regents had approved the proposed partnership, Dignity Health's Catholic 'common values' would have prevented patients at UCSF's four Bay Area hospitals (Dominican Hospital, Saint Francis Memorial Hospital, Sequoia Hospital and St. Mary's Medical Center) from using or receiving information about California's End of Life Option Act. UCSF's announcement to drop the proposal follows Compassion & Choices' May 23 grassroots campaign launch, resulting in nearly 400 of its volunteers writing UCSF officials to oppose the partnership. "The irony of Dignity Health's 'common values' rejection of medical aid in dying is polling shows three out of four Californians say medical aid in dying is a common value they support," said Kim Callinan, CEO of Compassion & Choices. "We greatly appreciate UCSF's decision because it shows the medical community is undergoing a critically important transformation to ensure that patients' values drive the decision-making process for their healthcare, especially at the end of life." "...[W]e have seen and heard hundreds of thoughtful, principled, and impassioned statements about UCSF's proposal to expand our relationship with Dignity Health... a health care system that has certain limits on women's reproductive services, LGBTQ care, and end-of-life options," wrote UCSF Health Chancellor Sam Hawgood and President/Chief Executive Officer Mark Laret in a letter posted today on the UCSF website. "Given the concerns, we will not continue to pursue the affiliation as it had been envisioned."

"We thank the hundreds of Compassion & Choices' volunteers and our coalition partners, including the ACLU and LGBTQ groups, whose advocacy helped persuade UCSF officials to drop this ill-advised proposal," said Samantha Trad, California State Director for Compassion & Choices. "Without this collective effort, UCSF officials would have moved forward with this proposed partnership that would have caused needless suffering for patients at its four Bay Area hospitals." "Two Dignity Health-owned facilities rejected my wife's request for medical aid in dying to peacefully end her suffering from terminal cancer, so I thank UCSF officials for dropping this proposed partnership," said Tom Whaley, whose 42-year-old wife Christina finally was able to find a provider who would write the prescription at UCLA, 200 miles from their San Luis Obispo home, so she could die peacefully last year. "The reality is most terminally ill people who try to utilize the End of Life Option Act are much older and weaker than Christine was, so they wouldn't be able to overcome the obstacles she did to use the law to end their suffering." A total of 768 terminally ill Californians received prescriptions for aid-in-dying medication and 485 (63%) of them took the medication between the first day of the law took effect, June 9, 2016, until Dec. 31, 2017, according to California Department of Public Health annual reports. California is one of eight states — including Colorado, Hawaii, Montana, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, and Washington — as well as the District of Columbia, that have authorized medical aid in dying. Collectively, these nine jurisdictions represent more than one out of five Americans (21%) and have 40 years of combined experience successfully implementing this end-of-life care option. *Compassion & Choices is the nation's oldest and largest nonprofit organization working to improve and expand health care options at the end of life, with 450,000 volunteers nationwide. Sacramento County Recommended Budget Approved

Kim Nava, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to approve the $4.4 billion recommended budget for Fiscal Year 2019-20. “Sacramento County’s FY 2019-20 budget provided substantial challenges due in part to decreased state and federal revenues, significant costs around lawsuits and increased expenditures,” said District 2 County Supervisor and Board Chair Patrick Kennedy. “We were able to weather these challenges with a balanced budget that minimizes the impact to critical services, without eliminating whole programs or services.” The County’s General Fund and Restricted Funds budgets for FY 2019-20 totaled $2.7 billion in appropriations, which is a 4.2 percent increase over last year’s total. Enterprise and special revenue funds comprise the remaining $1.68 billion. “We were able to recommend a balanced budget that avoided eliminating whole programs or services, limited the impact on Board-priority programs and avoided employee layoffs,” said County Executive Nav Gill. In spite of the growth of revenue, reductions in positions and programs were necessary due to lawsuit costs, investments in the jails in order to resolve a lawsuit around conditions of confinement, decreases in state and federal revenue for certain programs, as well as other obligations. To close a general shortfall of $55 million, Sacramento County recommended $43 million in reductions in General Fund Departments and $12 million in General Fund reserves to bridge the gap. General Fund departments identified a number of targeted program and position reductions. The reductions included the elimination of 181.3 FTE positions that were either vacant or, in a few cases, filled by employees who were shifted to other positions in the same class. No layoffs were necessary. The budget also recognized areas of growth, including: $21.7 million to make improvements to the County’s jails as part of continuing efforts to resolve conditions of confinement concerns identified in a recent lawsuit; $2.3 million in state and federal revenue to add 25 FTE positions in Child Support Services; $1.2 million in 2011 Realignment Local Innovation funds to add seven positions in Probation to establish a Pre-Trial Assessment and Monitoring Pilot Program; $1 million set aside for costs related to the Hardesty/Schneider lawsuit against the County; $3.5 million to add 29 FTE positions in Airports Department to handle the impact of increasing passenger and freight volume; and $668,000 to cover the cost of postcards and postage for the March 2020 Primary Election, as required by state law. The budget also continued funding for programs and services that were initiated over the last few years with Board approval, including: Homeless Initiatives: The FY 2019-20 Budget expands services in several areas using state and federal funding, for a total of a $20 million budget for the initiatives. A $700,000 reduction in funding for the Scattered Site Housing program subsidies (contractor did not need the full amount and placed families in federally funded housing slots). The remaining amount for the Scattered Site Housing program is $2 million; The Parkways and Unincorporated Communities Clean-up and Safety Initiative to reduce the incidence and mitigate the impact of illegal camping in the County’s parkways and unincorporated communities received continued funding with a reduced level of deputies on the Homeless Outreach Teams, reduced hours for the Parks Resource Team and eliminated funding for an animal control officer; The intelligence-led policing model implemented by the Sheriff’s Department; The Healthy Partners Program that provides healthcare services to undocumented immigrants; A strategic plan to reduce disproportionate African-American child deaths through community-based contracts and targeted staffing in Child Protective Services, Public Health and Probation; Implementation of an Adult Supervision Model in Probation that will prioritize supervision and services for high-risk probationers in the first six months to a year of probation; Behavioral Health Services enhancements to provide appropriate services to persons with serious drug and alcohol use disorders, reducing reliance on hospital emergency rooms, and ensuring that individuals experiencing a mental health crisis receive treatment in the most appropriate setting for their needs; Continue to implement the Board-approved three-year MHSA (Mental Health Services Act) to expedite mental health services for individuals with serious mental illness and/or co-occurring substance use disorders and are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless; Animal Care Initiatives focused on improving animal care, increased spay/neuter services and increasing the Bradshaw Shelter’s live release rate. The budget recommends reductions in contracts and two positions, but the department expects to continue to maintain its high live release rate; Efforts to reduce fire danger and illegal camping, increase debris removal and enhance the visitor experience in the American River Parkway and the County’s Regional Parks will continue with a reduced number of seasonal staff hours from 9,000 to 4,654; For details, read the County Executive’s Budget Letter or view the budget documents on the Office of Budget and Debt Management; The numbers on the Recommended Budget will change between now and September, when the County receives new information, including the impact of the State Budget and updated revenue totals. The Final Budget will come back to the Board of Supervisors in September for review and adoption. By the numbers: $4.4 B: Total Budget; $1.8 B: General Fund; $1.6 B: Enterprise and Special Revenue; $918 M: Restricted Funds; 12,307: Number of Employees. ★

CEOs for Abortion

Clarity of thought and expression about moral issues is not a core competency of CEOs.

If anyone had any doubt, look no further than the "historic" pro-abortion statement by nearly 200 CEOs that ran in a full-page ad in The New York Times. It is a festival of absurdity and euphemism, an exercise in perverse virtue-signaling to a progressive audience that believes that maintaining one of the most permissive pro-abortion regimes in the developed world is a virtue.

The CEOs define abortion as "equality" ("Don't Ban Equality") and, of course, refer to it as "comprehensive reproductive care," the ubiquitous phrase that has the advantage of sounding like the opposite of what it's describing.

The CEOs contend that abortion is central to their businesses, which might be true if all of their companies had the same business model as Planned Parenthood. But Bloomberg L.P., Amalgamated Bank and H&M, to name three of the companies whose CEOs signed the ad, are hardly dependent on abortion to thrive.

The old saw was, "What's good for General Motors is good for America." Now, according to top CEOs, what's good for abortion is good for American business. They seem to consider abortion a crucial component of GDP just like personal consumption, business investment, government spending and net exports.

They argue that "equality in the workplace" is an important business issue, and it is impossible to achieve without unrestricted access to abortion. Any restriction "threatens the health, independence and economic stability of our employees and customers."

The idea that abortion is necessary for the health of women is one of the most misleading pro-abortion clichés. Comprehensive data from Florida last year shows that only a small percentage involve a threat to the mother's life or health, and pro-life laws account for such cases -- even the sweeping Alabama law has a health exception.

The contention that restrictions put "the economy at risk" is nonsensical. Are we supposed to believe that the reduction of the abortion rate in the U.S. from its high in 1980 of 29.3 abortions per 1,000 women of childbearing age to its post-Roe v. Wade low of 14.6 as of 2014 has been a calamity for corporate America?

By this standard, Utah must be a terrible place to do business since its abortion rate is so low, and the District of Columbia an enticing place to do business since its abortion rate is so high. (To the contrary, Forbes ranks Utah as the second-best state for business in the country.)

The implication is that these CEOs prefer that their employees and customers not become mothers, or if they are mothers, not have more children. It apparently hasn't occurred to them that unborn children will grow up to buy their products or perhaps work for their firms one day.

The CEO ad is another sign that the debate over abortion has entered a new phase. It isn't enough anymore to say that abortion should be safe, legal and rare, the old Bill Clinton formulation, because that implies a moral disapproval. Now, abortion is a positive good.

Pro-life laws will have to prevail against this inflamed pro-abortion sentiment -- and the swath of big business that shares it.

Golden State Killer Case Selected
As 2019 DNA Hit Of The Year

The forty-five year investigation into the horrifying serial murders, sexual assaults and burglaries in California resulted in arrest after law enforcement's use of investigative genetic genealogy.

Kobe, Japan - June 18, 2019: Gordon Thomas Honeywell Governmental Affairs (GTH-GA) has announced that the Golden State Killer case investigated by numerous California police departments was selected as the 2019 DNA Hit of the Year. The case was selected from 70 cases submitted from 20 countries. It was chosen by a panel of seven international judges with career backgrounds in forensic DNA. The recognition was announced during the annual Human Identification Solutions (HIDS) Conference held in Kobe, Japan.

Now in its third year, the DNA Hit of the Year program is organized by GTH-GA, an international authority on DNA database policy, legislation, and law. "The 2019 list of cases expresses the extraordinary commitment police have to solve and prevent crime with forensic DNA databases," said Tim Schellberg, GTH-GA's President.

Judges selected the California case from seven finalists. The six runner-up cases were from Austria, Dubai, South Africa, Brazil, Massachusetts and New York. A full list of submitted cases and a presentation on this year's selected case and other case highlights can be found at <http://www.dnare-source.com/hitoftheyear-2019.html>.

The Golden State Killer is accused of committing terrifying crimes between 1973 and 1986.

Multiple DNA strategies were utilized while trying to solve these cases. The break in the case occurred when the crime scene DNA was placed into a genealogy database and an investigative lead was developed through a distant relative. The announcement of the Golden State Killer's arrest through the use of investigative genetic genealogy set off a national phenomenon to identify suspects in some of the worst unsolved crimes in US history.

Sacramento County District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert said: "Using investigative genetic genealogy to identify those who are accused of horrific crimes has revolutionized law enforcement's ability to solve violent crime. The arrest of the alleged Golden State Killer was an amazing moment for his victims as well as for the United States' crime fighting history. This new law enforcement tool is bringing hope to victims and their families who have waited decades for justice."

"Having the Golden State Killer case chosen as the 2019 Hit of the Year is a great honor. The DNA Hit of the Year program demonstrates the value of DNA databases to solve and prevent crime through real cases. It is my hope that governments continue to expand DNA programs to stop criminals and save lives," said District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert.

COMPUTER INSIGHTS

#1 Computer Safety Tip: Backup Regularly!

So, you've stored all of your financial information, documents, and contact information on your Mac or PC and now it's all gone! Does it really matter what caused it? Maybe you accidentally deleted some files; the hard drive could have crashed; there was a fire; or maybe a virus or hacker trashed your files.

Protecting against any of those things and endless other possibilities is really EASY. You just have to BACKUP your important files. That way if they're lost, you can always get them back.

You can even schedule the file saves so that once it's set up, the system can back up your important files automatically at a time that is convenient for you. All without giving it a second thought. Sound good?

If you're one of those folks who forget to do it, there is no need to kick yourself because research shows that more than half of PC users don't backup their systems or don't do it often enough.

However, since the consequences are so devastating and the fix is so simple, don't you think you should be doing it regularly?

Here Are Some Tips

1. Files to backup should include your emails, contacts, browser favorites, as well as any important folders, files, and documents that you've been working on.

2. Schedule your backups so that if something happens between backups you can recreate any lost files. A one week period works for individuals, but businesses often need a daily backup.

3. Use an external flash drive, hard drive or storage device that is large enough to store your files.

4. A USB drive attached to your system should be remove and stored in a safe place when done.

5. A network drive is a good destination for backups and can be used routinely.

6. Consider backing up to the cloud or a remote server in another physical location from your system. This is a big plus if you are considering a more complete disaster recovery.

7. In addition to the backup systems built into the computers operating system, you can purchase pretty cheap software that does everything automatically.

The Mac provides Time Machine which is a complete backup solution. On Windows 10 you can do a backup using "File History" or use the Control Panel's "Backup and Restore (Windows 7)" which lets one backup everything on a schedule. Of course, more full featured backups can be had for either platform by purchasing third-party software. There are so many, I am reluctant to recommend one in particular, but I've seen great apps for as little as $20.00 bucks.

When you put it all together, a regular backup will cost you next to nothing except a little bit of time and will ensure that your files are safe and recoverable no matter what happens!
