The Butterfly Effect

By Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Western monarch butterfly population has declined, according to Xerces Society, by 99.4% in fewer than four decades. Angela Laws, Monarch and Pollinator Ecologist at Xerces Society, said that although this species' numbers have been declining since the 1980s, the "sharp drop in numbers this year is alarming."

Extinction is a possibility for this iconic brown and orange species. Environment California, Xerces Society, lawmakers, ecologists, and citizens throughout the state are working to preserve the Western monarch.

California Assemblyman Mark Stone (29th District) authored AB-2421, Wildlife Conservation Board: Monarch Butterfly and Pollinator Rescue Program, which was approved by Governor Jerry Brown on September 26, 2018.

Stone said that in addition to the butterfly's iconic status, it is also "an indicator species that is helping us begin to understand the impact we are having on the habitats that monarchs, as well as native bees, beetles, and birds, depend on to survive."

The Wildlife Conservation Board met in Sacramento on March 7 and approved guidelines for the Monarch and Pollinator Rescue Program. Grant project applications will be announced on the board's website. Applications will be accepted year round for one of the four annual review periods. Funds may be used for restoration or enhancement of breeding habitat on private or public lands and may be used for seasonal or temporary habitats.

At a presentation at Pietro Talini's Nursery in January, Laws said that the Thanksgiving count of the Western monarch showed an 86% drop since the 2017 count.

"Several factors come into play," she said, "and one is the loss of habitat and loss of food." She is currently working with City of Sacramento District 3 councilmember, Jeff Harris, to plant a butterfly garden at Niños Parkway in South Natomas and encourages others to do the same.

Since the majority of the overwintering land is located on private property, residents and land owners may be the best hope for the species, whose numbers are down to an estimated 200,000 from its high of 10 million in the 1980s.

Native milkweed is necessary for the butterfly's survival and is being lost due to land development and herbicide use. It can, however, be planted, as Laws

Annual Creek Week Has Volunteer Opportunities

By Matt Robinson

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Creek Week 2019 is around the corner. Join other Sacramento County residents to clean-up and beautify our creeks, Apr. 4 to 14. Creek Week offers all ages the opportunity to appreciate, explore and learn how to protect our local creeks and aquatic life. There will be plenty of fun and educational activities for the whole family to enjoy!

The Sacramento Area Creeks Council kicks off activities with the Creek Week Splash-Off on Thursday, Apr. 4, starting at 11 a.m. This year's Splash Off will be at Camp Pollock, 1501 Northgate Blvd. Dr. Roland Brady will be awarded the 2019 Creek Steward Award for his extraordinary efforts to organize and carry out the clean-up of Steelhead Creek.

There will be educational events and activities all week throughout Sacramento County with the big finale on Saturday, Apr. 13, starting at 9 a.m. All involved are then invited to celebrate their efforts at Carmichael Park (5750 Grant Avenue) from noon to 2 p.m.

Volunteers are responsible for making the Creek Week experience work. Last year, more than 2,000 volunteers removed more than 19 tons of trash from neighborhood creeks and the Delta.

You can be part of an area-wide volunteer effort to improve and enhance our urban waterways by removing trash and invasive plants to help support a healthy creek system by volunteering for this annual spring cleaning of our waterways.

For more information on Creek Week activities and to find out how you can volunteer, go to the Creek Week website. ★

Richard Pan Breaks Another Promise

By Christina Hildebrand, A Voice for Choice

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - State Senator Richard Pan, the author of SB 277, a law that requires kindergartners to get twenty-seven different doses of medication and fifteen different shots or forego a public education, has introduced SB 276, a bill that would require government permission for a doctor to opine that certain vaccines could harm a patient. This is an unprecedented and dangerous intrusion into the doctor-patient relationship, likely violates doctor's free-speech rights, and contradicts Pan's own public promises from just a few years ago.

Pan has claimed there is a problem with "medical exemptions" -- i.e., official opinions by a doctor that if a child is vaccinated, that child could suffer harm. Medical exemptions are extremely rare, and doctors grant them only if a child or a family member suffers from things like a debilitating disease (such as leukemia), or if a child or a family member had a well-documented negative reaction to a vaccine or one of its ingredients. Just 0.7% of students obtain such an exemption, up from 0.2% before the passage of SB 277, a change that is not statistically significant. The total number of children exempt from the state's vaccine requirements

(i.e., including those 1.1% exempt due to disabilities) has actually dropped since the passage of SB 277, going from 2.6% to 1.9%, indicating that Pan's plan is a solution in search of a problem.

Pan's legislation would require doctors to get permission from a government department -- the state Department of Public Health, before issuing an opinion for a patient on this issue. Such interference in the doctor-patient relationship is unprecedented, and the only analogous laws have been in state's requiring state approval of abortions -- something that has been universally deemed improper.

Pan's planned attempt to crack down on doctors would almost certainly get in the way of a doctor making an evaluation based on empirical, scientific evidence. "Imagine being the parents of a child who the federal government concluded was injured because of a condition that made them susceptible to vaccines, and then your family doctor tells you she is too terrified to exempt your younger child from those same vaccines, because the thought police might take her license," said Christina Hildebrand, President and Founder of A Voice for Choice Advocacy, a non-profit that advocates for medical freedom. "I can't imagine what good would

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Cappuccino Cruisers has a lot to celebrate as it enters its 25th year in the Sacramento Region. This classic car club is open to vehicles from 1979 or earlier and is probably the longest running weekly event in Northern California, according to Ray Marchese, the group's contact.

Each week, the club collects non-perishable foods for the local food bank, and once a month different groups of vehicles are featured for the club's theme nights. Woodies, wagons, and delivery trucks are a favorite with enthusiasts as are the T-buckets, rat rods, and hot rods. Rancheros and El Caminos also have quite a following.

"In June prior to 9/11, our theme night was 40s night spotlighting the cars, the war, the USO. After 9/11 happened, we decided that we needed to remind people where those freedoms came Folks with restored military vehicles are invited to bring their cars and trucks out to display. In past years, the Red Cross has attended. Folsom's American Legion presents colors, and Marchese selects patriotic music for the event. In the tribute tent, a list of the names of those who lost their lives on 9/11 is displayed as are memorabilia that belonged to members' parents or grandparents.

This event is the start of what looks to be a busy year for this active group. In May, the group heads to Roseville to host its annual "Cruisin' for K-9s and Roseville SPCA" to raise funds for Placer SPCA and Roseville

Memorial Day weekend brings the group to the Folsom Zoo. "With the help of sponsors, we buy and give away up to 500 passes," said Marchese. Home Depot supplies plants and the club also hosts a how-to clinic where children can pot a plant to take home.

To date, Marchese estimates the club has donated more than $200,000 in canned foods, toys, and money to various local organizations. And the group does it while having fun and working very hard to put on the shows and events.

community includes stuffing 30,000 plastic eggs for Folsom's Easter egg hunt one day and returning the next day to assist with the event. And it can include stepping up for unexpected community needs like it did in 2017 with its "Firestorm 2017" event which raised over $1500.00 in cash, canned goods, and gift cards or a special raffle to raise funds to replace a man's wheelchair.

“The philosophy we adopted in the very beginning is that if we’re going to do something to help somebody, as much as we can, we want to be able to see the results,” said Marchese, so the group supports local organizations like Shriner’s Hospital or the local food bank.

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The SMUD Board of Directors is holding two public workshops and a public hearing to discuss proposed rate changes.

The Chief Executive Officer & General Manager's Report and Recommendation on Rates and Services, released by SMUD CEO & General Manager Arlen Orchard, outlines a proposed rate increase of 4.75 percent in 2020 and 4.50 percent in 2021 for all customer classes, a commercial rate restructuring, and a proposed charge for on-site renewable electricity generation.

While SMUD has been able to reduce its overall costs by 2 percent, there continue to be new spending requirements that cause SMUD rates to increase. The rate increase will be used for wildfire mitigation, including the increased cost of wildfire insurance and additional vegetation management; additional capacity to ensure reliability during peak demand; technology to support cybersecurity and customer experience; and, investments for new renewable energy resources, and building and transportation electrification to meet carbon reduction goals.

Also included in the report are the following proposals: A grid access charge for customers with on-site generation facilities, such as solar, that access the SMUD grid.

The proposed grid access charge will be effective January 1, 2020 and includes grandfathering provisions for existing customers with on-site generation facilities. Under the proposal, the cutoff deadline to be grandfathered is March 31, 2019:

for customers with on-site generation facilities who are also on our low-income Energy Assistance Program Rate (EAPR). Proposed also is a rate restructure for businesses and other non-residential customers that better reflects the cost of providing services, and to improve consistency which will make it easier for business customers to transition between rate classes.

Detailed information on the proposed rate action and a complete copy of the Chief Executive Officer & General Manager's Report and Recommendation on Rates and Services can be found on smud.org/RateInfo, and at all Sacramento County Public Libraries.

SMUD will work closely with customers and other stakeholders — including community groups, service organizations, business groups, elected officials and more — to discuss these changes.

In addition, two Board of Directors' workshops and a public hearing will be held for customers to learn more about the process and comment on the proposed changes. All three meetings will be held at SMUD's Customer Service Center, Rubicon Room, 6301 S Street; Sacramento, CA 95817. The Public Workshop will be on Tuesday, April 23, 2019 – 10:00 am; The Public Workshop will be on Thursday, May 9, 2019 – 6:00 pm; The Public Hearing will be on Tuesday, June 4, 2019 – 6:00 pm.

Accommodations are available for disabled individuals. If you need a hearing assistance device or other aid, or have questions about the proposal, please visit smud.org/RateInfo or call SMUD at 855-736-7655. ★

Teams Announced for 2019 Amgen Tour of California

By Maria Kniestedt

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - We're just under two months away from the 2019 Amgen Tour of California Stage 2 Start in Rancho Cordova, which will take place on Monday, May 13th at 10 AM in front of City Hall. We are excited to share the news that teams have been officially announced!

From May 12-18, 19 men's teams will compete in a 773-mile contest across California's most scenic highways, mountain roads and coastlines from Sacramento to Pasadena with a stop in our City.

"I'm really looking forward to coming back for my 10th Amgen Tour of California. I really love the Amgen Tour of California....come visit us and enjoy," said BORAHANGSGROHE's three-time World Champion Peter Sagan.

The 2019 Amgen Tour of California will feature the current top-three World Tour teams and a world-class peloton featuring World and National Champions, Olympic and Tour de France veterans. View the list of all 19 teams by visiting www.amgentourofcalifornia.com.

You can keep up with all the Amgen excitement and information about the Rancho Cordova Stage 2 Start on May 13 by tuning in to the City's social media channels and visiting www.cityofrancho-cordova.org/amgen ★

New Coaches for Cordova and Folsom High School Football

Jason Bubaca
Cordova High School

Paul Doherty
Folsom High School

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Folsom Cordova Board of Education on Thursday, March 14 announced the hiring of two new head varsity football coaches. Both were selected after gathering and listening to feedback from students, families, and employees.

Both have a reputation for building positive relationships with student athletes, supporting their academic and athletic success while nurturing character development on and off the field.

Jason Bumbaca for Cordova High School will also teach physical education full-time; He was selected for his experience running a large program in ways that will build on the long-standing traditions of the Cordova High community.

Coach Bumbaca has coached for 12 years at the high school level, including six seasons at Santa Clara, four seasons at Del Mar and two seasons at Wilcox. He also is currently the athletic director at Del Mar; In October, Coach Bumbaca was recognized by the San Francisco 49ers as the Wedemeyer Memorial Coach of the Week.

Paul Doherty for Folsom High School was previously an assistant football coach at Folsom High and a physical education teacher in the District. Prior to coaching in Folsom, he spent three years at Whitney High School teaching and coaching.

Coach Doherty spent five years at Sacramento High School, making five playoff appearances and leading the school to its first playoff win in program history. He left Sac High with a record of 42-18 in five years. ★

Museum Offers FREE Admission Day

By Traci Rockefeller Cusack

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento History Museum will officially re-open to the public on Saturday, March 30, 2019 at 10 a.m. The museum was temporarily closed earlier this year for a much-needed renovation project that included removing the escalator and remodeling the ground floor space.

To celebrate the re-opening, the Sacramento History Museum will offer free admission that one day only along with free activities such as gold panning, storytelling, crafts and period games for kids.

"The successful renovation project was a big step in our long-range strategic plans to reposition and refresh the Sacramento History Museum," said Delta Pick Mello, Executive Director of the Sacramento History Alliance. "Now that the outdated escalator has been removed and the space redesigned with a more open and welcoming layout, we are pleased to invite the community to revisit the Museum, and also consider it for upcoming events and exciting activations."

Even while the Sacramento History Museum was closed for renovations, their popular Old Sacramento Underground Tours, Gold Fever! Games and school field trip program all continued operating with minimal disruption. Looking forward, a new season of Old Sacramento Underground Tours and Gold Fever! Games will debut the weekend of April 6-7, 2019.

The Sacramento History Alliance is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization that manages the Sacramento History Museum, Sacramento Visitors Center, Old Sacramento Underground Tours, Gold Fever! Games, Anytime Tours, and Living History Programs, and works collaboratively with the City of Sacramento to support the Center for Sacramento History.

The Sacramento History Museum is open daily* 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located at 101 I Street in Old Sacramento. For more information about the museum and/or to purchase advance tickets for Gold Fever! Games or Old Sacramento Underground tours, please visit www.sachistorymuseum.org. ★

“A dream doesn’t become reality through magic; it takes sweat, determination, and hard work.” It was Colin Powell who said that, and truer words were never spoken. To become successful in anything takes all three of those points, and perhaps even more. Ask any parent about the emotional part of life as they see their children from the moment they are born to when they leave their home and go into the world on their own. I think about that when I watch the parents and grandparents as they take the toddlers into the Sacramento Children’s Museum next door to our City Hall. It is a very busy place now, and it looks like it will be even busier as spring and summer weather approach.

I know our grandchildren really enjoy all the hands on stuff in the museum. Expanding more with children means that all three items listed above, sweat, determination and hard work, will go into play as they grow older. It is amazing as you watch them learn and have fun at the same time in the museum. From the easier new baby items and then on to the physical, parents lovingly give emotional hard work and determination to the toddlers. They will also give more so more can be given to the children who enjoy and don’t want to leave the museum.

The Mayor's Corner

The weather is one of those aspects of life that is a nice beginning of a conversation or a hard part of life when the weather brings flooding, mudslides or drought, and we have to wonder about tomorrow. We learn from experience as we go through life, but as Doug Larson said, “The trouble with learning from experience is that you never graduate.” I guess he is right in that we never learn everything, and we experience new things and meet new people every day. An example of something new I experienced in the mail today was a free baseball cap for the St. Louis Cardinals. It makes me think about the “free” Christmas cards and so forth, which are things I never order. Oh well. It is a nice cap. Onward!

March 23, 2019 was going to be the Cordova Girls Softball Opening Day and a celebration of its 54th season. Initially, it was going to happen rain or shine, and everyone was welcome to attend. Unfortunately, the weather said “oh yeah” and dumped about 1 ½ inches of rain during the night, and the softball fields turned into softball lakes instead. Being realistic about it all, President Rod Borba said they will have their opening next week-end. (Rain, rain go...never mind).

The Transforming Local Government (TLG) Conference is going on in Reno, NV from April 9-12. The City of Rancho Cordova will be attending and presenting on Mather Veterans Village, including showing a two to three minute video about the project called “A Place to Call Home.” We look forward to highlighting Mather Veterans Village among our local government colleagues. The most important thing of all about this project is that we were able to put roofs over the heads of some of our former homeless veterans, and let them know that we truly care about them and thank them for what they have done for all of us.

On Sunday in our City Hall parking lot, there was a Festival of Colors “Holi” community celebration. It is a Hindu festival that marks the end of winter. It was primarily observed in South Asia, but it has spread across the world in celebration of love and the changing of the seasons. Children and adults celebrated with bursts of color in red, yellow, blue and green. Some of us came to see the celebration, and we found out how we look decorated in some of the colors. It was a lot of fun.

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

DOVIA Presents Annual Awards

By Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - On March 14, volunteers were recognized by Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) at Shriner's Hospital for Children – Northern California. Nearly 100 people attended the annual awards ceremony which recognized three categories of volunteers – Youth Volunteer of the Year, Individual Volunteer of the Year and Outstanding Achievement in Volunteer Engagement.

Rachele Doty, CVA is the board's chair and presented the welcome to all nominees, their friends and families, judges, and Brian Ricks from Assemblyman Ken Cooley's office. Doty said that each of the nearly twenty-five nominees present received certificates from DOVIA and from Cooley's office. He was unable to attend this year but is very supportive of the awards.

The Youth Volunteer of the Year award was presented to Abby Schumacher, who currently be students. They are also required to have donated a minimum of 25 hours of service during the year and are nominated by their organizations.

Schumacher was nominated by Fairytale Town's more. We are so proud of her, and she is truly a wonderful volunteer."

Doris Henke, a decades-long volunteer with Snowline Hospice received the Individual Volunteer of the Year award. She received a certificate and a $100 honorarium gift for Snowline Hospice. Henke has spent a lifetime giving back to the community in El Dorado County where she has lived since the 1960s.

"Doris Henke is a name to be recognized and remembered. Her name is truly synonymous with love and caring because of the profound difference she makes in the lives of others," wrote Bonnie Davis, CVA, Director of Workforce and Volunteer Services for Snowline Hospice. Davis nominated Henke for the award. "It is impossible to quantify the hundreds or thousands of lives she has touched through the years. This loving wife, encourager, mother, caregiver, businesswoman, selfless giver, community developer, friend, ministry-builder, and mentor lives an intentional life of service to others and is a shining example of 'giving your all'."

The Individual Volunteer Award of the Year is new this year, said Doty. "We had always focused on the youth volunteer, and

The final award for Outstanding Achievement in Volunteer Engagement award was presented to Darlene Cullivan, CVA of Eskaton for her work. "I am honored to receive this special award as it demonstrates Eskaton's vibrant philanthropic culture. Eskaton is grateful for the over 2600 volunteers who invest their time, talent and compassion to enrich the lives of seniors. I am inspired Eskaton volunteers illustrate our belief that Age is Beautiful."

Nominees were judged by Carla Lehn, CVA, Cole Forstedt, and Valeri Mihanovich and had, Doty said, a difficult time making the final decision this year because all of the nominees were "so wonderful." Volunteer service must have been performed in Sacramento, Yolo, Placer, or El Dorado counties during the 2018 calendar year.

Service includes work release time, without pay or for student course credit, and each nominating organization must provide service for the larger community, not simply for its members.

Nominees were involved with Access Leisure and Paralympic Sport, Sacramento Food Bank and Family Services, ACC Senior Services, Sacramento Sheriff's Explorer Program, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Sacramento, Breathe California Sacramento Region, yolo County 4-H, Project R.I.D.E., Inc., Sacramento Tree Foundation, First Call Hospice, Sacramento SPCA, Foothill Therapy Dogs, Sutter Hospice, Oak Park Community Center, Gardenland/Northgate Neighborhood Association, and Junior League of Sacramento, Inc., Snowline Hospice, Eskaton, and Fairytale Town.

"DOVIA exists to support the volunteer managers, to provide networking, continuing education and support," said Doty who has held several board positions. DOVIA presents at least one event each month.

The Green New Deal Plus Modern Monetary Theory Equals Socialism

The Butterfly Effect

Commentary by Dr. Mark Hendrickson

Thank you, Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. The Green New Deal (GND) she has unveiled is most illuminating. It is now unmistakably clear that AOC, Bernie Sanders, and other democrat socialists in the Democratic Party don't want "socialism lite" but rather they want the federal government to take control of the "commanding heights" of the economy. Although they may settle for the variant of socialism in which businesses remain nominally private, even as the government dictates what they must do, they plainly want central economic planning, albeit with a 10-year rather than five-year plan.

This is no exaggeration. The GND essentially calls for conscripting the American workforce and putting us to work in accordance with what the elite government planners want instead of what "we, the people" want. They propose to replace our market economy, in which privately owned businesses compete to see who can best supply the needs and wants of the people, with a command economy in which government is the master and citizens build what the planners say must be built.

Here are some planks in AOC's GND:

- The elimination of fossil fuels in 10 years, which would entail the closing of all gas stations, replacing them with electric-charging stations; replacing or retooling tens of millions of vehicles that travel by land, sea, or air (with the alarming acknowledgment "we aren't sure that we'll be able to get rid of ... airplanes [in 10 years]"); replacing all power plants that use fossil fuels with wind and solar, and eliminating all jobs involved in the exploration, extraction, refining, and transportation of fossil fuels.

- "Retrofit every building in America."
- "Overhaul ... agriculture."
- "Provide job training and education to all."
- "Guarantee a job with family-sustaining wages"
- "Provide high-quality health care [and] housing."
- "Ensure universal access to healthy food ..." and much, much more.

What the GND proposes – essentially, rebuilding America's physical plant and infrastructure from top to bottom – is physically impossible to do in 10 years. In fact, it couldn't be done in 100 years. The economy would collapse long before then in the chaos that socialist economies always experience as the inevitable consequence of replacing market prices with government edicts.

The GND is economically impossible, too, although its proponents seem to think that they can bypass economic reality by implementing what is called MMT—Modern Monetary Theory, a new label for the old, failed practice of printing more money.

In everyday economic life, money acts like a claim on goods and services; if you have enough of it, you can obtain what you want. Under MMT, the government has access to as many fiat dollars as it wants—a virtually unlimited supply. (Fiat currencies are not backed by anything material but are created out of thin air and rely on legal tender laws to compel people to accept them as payment for goods and services.) Using its monopoly power over money, MMT in practice would give the federal government unlimited purchasing power. That would enable the government to outbid all private interests for labor, materials, equipment, etc. In short, what the government wants, the government gets, and private individuals and businesses are correspondingly deprived.

What about inflation—wouldn't printing all those additional fiat dollars cause prices to rise? According to MMT, the government can prevent inflation by draining purchasing power away from the private sector through higher taxes. Thus, while printing more money increases the government's purchasing power, inflationary pressures would be offset as government removes purchasing power from the private sector. MMT is a game rigged so that the government always wins and the private sector always loses. No wonder socialists love MMT!

There is a well-known word that describes overwhelming power that government wields over people: tyranny. MMT boils down to government using its monopoly over money to dictate and control production, obliterate free markets, suppress private enterprise, and impoverish the people—i.e., socialism. A more apt name for MMT is Money Monopoly Tyranny. Indeed, MMT is a destructive tool tailor-made to assist the implementation of the socialistic Green New Deal.

and Harris are doing, in gardens and other locations. The milkweed is critical since it is where the butterfly lays its eggs and the caterpillar feeds on the plant so that it can grow and become a monarch.

Native nectar plants are also necessary since they provide the food for the adult monarch. Both plants need to be available in order for the monarch to thrive through its complete lifecycle and during overwintering.

According to Xerces Society, "the Sacramento Valley, Sierra Nevada Foothills, and Coast Range are vital to the survival of the first generation of monarchs produced each spring," and the group is urging the state to work to protect the butterfly by protecting its habitats from pesticide use, better manage overwintering sites and restore breeding and overwintering habitats.

Other ways that individuals can help are to contribute to citizen science by making and logging observations of the monarch, stop using insecticides and herbicides which not only harm the butterfly, but these can also kill milkweed. Xerces Society and Environment California also encourage people to encourage others to do the same.

According to Tierra Curry, a senior scientist at the Center for Biological Diversity, increased habitat has helped the Eastern monarch butterfly numbers to rebound, but she said that a single good year is not an indicator of future years and calls for continued protection.

In June, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will make a determination whether to add the monarch to the list of threatened species under the Endangered Species Act of 1973. USFWS has been reviewing data since the request was submitted in 2014.

come from the government regulating a doctor's free will to diagnose as he sees fit – it starts to resemble regulation of free speech," Hildebrand concluded.

Pan, a politician representing the Sacramento region, is a regular beneficiary of campaign contributions from the pharmaceutical industry, averaging just shy of $100,000 from it every legislative session. He is the top recipient of such funds in the state legislature, and the pharmaceutical industry, in turn, is his largest contributor.

"Any legislation or action on behalf of drug-makers that interferes with a doctor's individual judgment will be hotly contested," said Hildebrand. "We cannot let government determine what is in the best interests of any individual, overriding the doctor-patient relationship. Every doctor and patient in the state should be alarmed if such action is brought forward. If this can be done with vaccinations, what medical treatment will be next? Patients need to be able to trust their doctors and not worry that they are being pressured or worried that their honest, scientifically based medical judgement will be overruled by a legislatively appointed official who has never met them."

City of Rancho Cordova Notice of Public Hearing

NOTICE is hereby given that on Monday, April 15, 2019, at 5:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, the City Council of the City of Rancho Cordova will hold a Public Hearing at the Rancho Cordova City Hall, located at 2729 Prospect Park Drive, Rancho Cordova, to consider the following:

APPROVAL OF THE ANNUAL ACTION PLAN FOR THE 2019-2020 COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT (CDBG) Program Year

The purpose of this public hearing is:

The community is invited to attend and comment on the approval of the 2019-20 Action Plan (AAP). This is a document that provides an estimated CDBG funding amount received from HUD, anticipated program allocations for these funds, and an overview of priority goals to be addressed in the 2019-2020 CDBG program year. Public comment will be accepted at this hearing for anyone who wishes to comment on the Annual Action Plan.

CDBG is a federal grant program run by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development that provides communities with funds for infrastructure, neighborhood improvements, and other community planning and development programs. The grant also helps the City to fund needed services in the community, including programs for seniors and disadvantaged youth.

The 2019-20 Action Plan describes the programs and activities proposed to be funded by the grant during the 2019-20 program year. The City estimates it will receive approximately $500,000 in CDBG funding for the program year. The release of this notice is part of the City's activities to fulfill citizen participation requirements. Federal regulations require localities to provide the public with reasonable access to CDBG documents.

The 2019-20 Action Plan is available for public review at Rancho Cordova City Hall at 2729 Prospect Park Drive and on our website at www.cityofranchocordova.org. Copies will be made available upon request and are free of charge. Written comments and any questions regarding this matter may be directed to:

The City of Rancho Cordova encourages interested parties to attend public meetings and comment on the issues being discussed. If you wish to provide testimony and are unable to attend the meeting, written comments that are delivered to the City Clerk's office prior to the time of the hearing will be made a part of the public record.

Questions regarding this matter should be directed to the City of Rancho Cordova Community Development Department at (916) 851-8750.

NOTICE REGARDING CHALLENGES TO DECISIONS

Pursuant to all applicable laws and regulations, including without limitation, California Government Code Section 65009 and/or California Public Resources Code Section 21177, if you wish to challenge in court any of the above decisions (regarding planning, zoning and/or environmental decisions), you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing(s) described in this notice/agenda, or in written correspondence delivered to the city at, or prior to, this public hearing.

ADA COMPLIANCE STATEMENT

In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, if you need special assistance to participate in this meeting, please contact the City Clerk's Department at (916) 851-8720. Notification 48 hours prior to the meeting will enable the City to make reasonable arrangements to ensure accessibility to this meeting.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF RAMON VICTOR PEREYRA
CASE NO. 34-2019-00249889

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Ramon Victor Pereyra, deceased A Petition for Probate has been filed by Raymundo Pereyra, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Raymundo Pereyra, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows April 11, 2019 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Attorney for Petitioner is: Tonya Nygren 1903 21st Street Sacramento, CA 95811 916-739-1900 Publish: March 29, April 5, and 12, 2019 WINN 170622 4-12-19

CHEERS & JEERS

By Damian Holbrook

Cheers to Project Blue Book for its X-ceptional odd couple. Hynek (Aidan Gillen) and Quinn (Michael Malarkey) were an engaging, prickly pair that kept Season 1 of History’s UFO drama grounded even as the skies filled with cases ripped from real life.

Jeers to American Idol for focusing on the wrong talent. ABC’s reboot returned to find a new singing star, but the season premiere spent so much time on the jokey vibes between judges Lionel Richie, Katy Perry and Luke Bryan, most auditions barely had a chance to shine.

Jeers to Netflix
for not completing its Grand Designs. The addictive British series about outlandishly constructed homes has been running in the UK for 19 seasons—plus spin-offs!—yet there are only two years of episodes available for streaming. Way to undervalue an incredible property.

Cheers to USA’s Suits for its finely tailored season finale. In addition to delivering a crafty twist that showcased the always awesome Wendell Pierce (as exiting partner

Hynek (Aidan Gillen) and Quinn (Michael Malarkey) were an engaging, prickly pair that kept Season 1 of History’s UFO drama grounded.

Robert Zane), fans also got a hookup between Donna and Harvey (Sarah Rafferty and Gabriel Macht) that was as hard-earned as it was hot. ★

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

Should I Check Out Mom On Cbs?

Question: A lot of people recommend watching Mom, but when I heard it was created and written by Chuck Lorre, the same guy who made The Big Bang Theory, it was an instant “nopes!” But since I trust your TV judgment, is it worth watching? –Thelma

Matt Roush: These questions are tough to answer, because while I have been on record from the start as a fan of Mom, that style of comedy isn’t to everyone’s taste. If you flinch at the very thought of The Big Bang Theory, then maybe a sitcom in the same style—big broad jokes in front of a studio audience—won’t be to your liking. But I’ve always found Mom to be a cut above the Chuck Lorre norm, more in the mode of a show like original Roseanne or Grace Under Fire, as it tracks the lives of mostly working-class people trying to put their lives together while in recovery from addiction. These characters often suffer serious setbacks, but never lose their blunt sense of humor. Mom began as more of a domestic comedy but has evolved into a female buddy comedy about hard-working Christy (Anna Faris), her more outrageous also-in-recovery mom Bonnie (Allison Janney) and their core group of friends in a support group. (Kristen Johnston joined the gang this season as a boisterous ex-con.) I recommend Mom, while acknowledging that it might not be your beverage of choice.

Lancers Volleyball Builds Momentum at McClatchy

By James Darnell

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - As a talented but young and inexperienced team, the Cordova Lancers' boys varsity volleyball team had yet to put together a consistent effort, having won just one set in their first four games of the season leading up to their non-league matchup at McClatchy on Thursday, March 20. But even though they ultimately fell 3-1 (14-25, 13-25, 25-22, 27-29) against the Lions, they finally put together a full-game performance that displayed what they are capable of when they're on the same page.

After falling behind 0-2 heading into the third set, the Lancers (1-5 overall, 1-1 Greater Sacramento League) picked the best moment to play their most inspired volleyball of the season. Having lost by double digits in their first two sets, Cordova went back and forth with the Lions, with the largest lead being a slim five points. Sophomore outside hitter Marius Culibaba almost single-handedly willed the Lancers to the third set victory, tallying four of his nine kills on the night and three service aces to avoid elimination.

The tooth-and-nail affair continued in the match-deciding fourth set, as the largest lead was had by McClatchy (9-7 overall, 2-3 Metro League) at 12-7. The score was tied at 14 apiece before Cordova went on a 6-3 run to take a slim 20-17 lead. Unfortunately, the Lancers were unable to hold court as the Lions secured the victory with a 29-27 match-sealing final set.

The Lancers finally put together a full-game performance that displayed what they are capable of when they're on the same page.

Even so, the smiles on the Lancers' sideline said it all. They finally put together a strong performance worthy of a win, much to the satisfaction of Cordova head coach Mark Reuter.

"Tonight the biggest strength that I saw was that we played more together," Reuter said. "It wasn't six people on the court; it was one team on the court."

In addition to Culibaba's solid effort, standout junior Kenny Brown led Cordova with 10 kills and eight blocks.

Reuter also felt that his team's output against McClatchy would do wonders for its confidence moving forward.

"Tonight we built confidence and played a lot better," he said. "I think looking towards the future, what's really going to make a difference here is being able to build upon tonight and not get over-confident. Know that we did better, but still have areas to improve in."

As it turns out, Reuter was right about building some momentum. The very next night at Natomas, the Lancers earned their first victory of the season with a 3-0 win.

Bad Weather Putting a Damper On Cordova Baseball

By James Darnell

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - While the State of California is no longer enduring its dry spell due to the seemingly never-ending rain this winter, the wet conditions have ironically caused a separate drought for the Cordova Lancers boys' varsity baseball team.

After having to postpone two of their Greater Sacramento League games against Johnson last week due to rain-outs, the team was forced to postpone their home game against Florin this past Monday due to field conditions. The Lancers were also scheduled to play a make-up game against Johnson on Tuesday, but were unable to take the field for that contest as well. That's four games missed within just the past two weeks alone, not counting contests that were postponed at the start of the season due to inclement weather.

For a young team eager to grow together, the weather has been quite the obstacle according to Lancers' head coach Doug Hughes.

"To be honest with you it's really hurt us," he said. "Not being on the field, having the kids throwing flat when they should be throwing off the pitcher's mound, we haven't been able to do the things we normally do. We can't hit in the cages because of the weather."

We've practiced inside the gym a few times, but with volleyball, tennis, softball and track in the gym too, it's been first-come-first-serve. We're behind the 8-ball a bit here."

Following Tuesday's postponement, Hughes said the Lancers will try to get games in Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, with the possibility of a game tomorrow. At the time of printing, their exact schedule was unknown. But having to play several consecutive games due to CIF regulations forcing teams to play on the next available day weather permitting isn't something Hughes is a fan of, due to having to use his pitching rotation so frequently.

"Three games in a week is tough enough," Hughes said. "It's not just us though. Teams in our league don't have that much pitching."

While it is Hughes' job to figure out the logistical aspects for his team, his players are chomping at the bit to get in some quality time on the diamond and compete in live game situations. Hughes said if it was up to his players, they'd play regardless.

"They just want to get out on the field," he said. "They don't like being inside. They want to be on the field and they want to play. They're tired of practicing."

Chamber Bestowes Best In Business Awards

By Patrick Larenas

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - This past month of March, the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce celebrated the 2018 BIBA Best in Business Awards for businesses and individuals contributing to the economic prosperity of the region.

The Chamber of Commerce bases its awards on “business growth, financial health, excellence in the marketplace and contributions to the community.”

The Micro Business Award was given to Gloria Howe Nycum and Kerry M. Shaw of Howe’s It’s Done Catering; The Small Business Award was given to Usha Datla of AlphaGraphics a graphic design, sign and banner company serving Rancho Cordova; The Medium Business Award was given to Heritage Community Credit Union.

For Large Business, Redtail Technology was awarded and recognized for its Web-based financial advising firm which inter-Rancho Cordova. The Rising Star recognition was given to Fox Family Heating and Air.

This year, the Chamber introduced a new feature to their awards ceremony

Cordova, and Aerojet Rocketdyne were inducted.

The retiring Haven was lauded for having turned Rancho’s tide after the Mather Air Force Base shut down over three decades ago. Assemblyman Ken Cooley attending the awards told the audience, “I know what it takes to succeed in business and what you need is a good story, and this man has it.”

Haven of 62 years of age said, “I am retiring to make room for other people and to mentor a new generation.” “I know there are some really strong business women in this place,” directing a welcoming invitation to the new leadership of the city.

Celebrating 70 years of Aerojet Rocketdyne’s history, the aerospace and defense manufacturer, with some 5,000 local employees, joined Haven in Rancho Cordova’s Business Hall of Fame.

The recognition for Ambassador of the Year award was given to Thomas L. Steinbach of Steiny’s Mobile Notary Service; Steinbach a 55 year old native of Rancho Cordova with a passion for his city has been an ambassador of the Chamber since 2015.

Steinbach is a Graduate of The Leadership Academy and heads Rancho Cordova’s HART Homeless Assisted Resource Team. Mixing passion and compassion for the community is a driving ideal for him. “Any person can become homeless, the

The Chairman’s Award was given to the Cordova Community Council for its 60 years of service and having Rancho Cordova recognized as an ‘All American City’. Larry Stafford of the council received the award on behalf of the organization.

The Chamber of Commerce also welcomed the new additions to the Chamber’s Board of Directors for 2019 including: Ken Henderson, Sublime Digital Marketing Group; Hyowan Kim, KP International; Anil Kondakrindi, Sacramento Telangana Association; Krysta Malonson, Redtail Technology; and Chad Suggs, Heritage Community Credit Union.

New directors Hyowan Kim and Anil Kondakrindi were highlighted for bringing a “vital global perspective.” Recently, Rancho Cordova was recognized #1 city in building diversity in the State of California.

The Chamber also thanked those completing their service: Douglas A. Brewer (State Farm Insurance Agency), Board Chair 2016 & Director 2013-2018; Kate Malmgren (VSP), Director, 2016-2018; David Mathis (Small Business Representative), Director 2017-2018 Steve Millner (US Bank), Chair 2014 & 2015, Director, 2012-2018.

Chamber staff member Ani Salakian of Administrative and Membership Services received a touching bouquet of flowers and will be missed by the staff. ★
