Get Out of My Gas Tank

Will Californians ever strike a blow for lower taxes and gasoline prices? MPG stock photo

Commentary by Merrill Matthews

Californians had the opportunity to get the government out of their pockets -- or, more accurately, out of their gas tanks. Not completely, but it's a start.

Last year the Golden State's legislature increased gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and vehicle fees. Proposition 6, on the November ballot, would have repealed those tax increases and required voter approval for future gasoline and vehicle fee increases. The measure failed to pass. Californians should have known better.

Last year's 12-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax increase pushed the state's gas tax to 55.22 cents per gallon, the second highest in the nation after Pennsylvania. That's on top of the federal gasoline excise tax of 18.40 cents per gallon.

The stated goal of the tax increase was to raise about $6 billion a year for road repair. But when it comes to gasoline and diesel taxes, what states claim and what they actually do can be two different things.

According to the Federal Highway Administration, California raised $4.8 billion from the state's gas tax in 2016 -- before the additional 12-cent tax took effect. Nearly $4 billion went to "highway purposes." But $578 million was redirected to mass transit and $247 million was spent on "general purposes."

There's more. The state collected $6.97 billion from motor vehicle registrations. And while most was devoted to highways, $709 million was spent on mass transit and $304 million, as well as $408 million from toll revenues, was spent on general purposes.

So of the various California gasoline taxes and car fees, $1.3 billion was redirected from road repair to mass transit and $960 million for general purposes. Would Sacramento have needed that 12-cent increase if it had funneled all of that revenue to road repair?

California is not alone. Nationwide, the FHA says that about 25 percent of gasoline taxes are redirected to mass transit and other purposes. And those other purposes vary significantly. For example, about 25 percent of gasoline taxes in Texas are redirected to public education.

Now, states are free to spend gasoline tax and fees

however they choose. But it's duplicitous to impose a tax ostensibly for the purposes of road and highway building and repair and then redirect those funds to other purposes. And then whine that the state needs even more money for infrastructure.

Another problem: gasoline taxes are some of the most "regressive," meaning they hit lower-income folks harder than they do higher income.

Liberals tend to strongly oppose regressive tax structures; they prefer a "progressive tax system" -- one that imposes higher rates on higher-income people.

Yet many of the states with the highest gasoline taxes -- e.g., California, Washington, Pennsylvania, New York,

Raising Your Awareness of Human Trafficking

By Andrea Hansen, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - During the month of January, advocates, organizations and individuals unite to raise awareness about human trafficking. Human trafficking is an issue that touches every community, including Sacramento County youth.

Since September 2015, Sacramento County Child Protective Services has identified 199 adolescents who were sexually exploited or at risk of being sexually exploited. 98 percent of those youth are female with the median age of 13-17, and a disproportionately high number of these youth -- 45 percent are African American.

Child Protective Services (CPS) is the lead agency charged with providing services and support, including placement, for these vulnerable youth. CPS has a significant need for Foster Families, now called Resource Families, to provide loving and stable homes for all children and youth that enter foster care. There is a specific need for youth that have been sexually exploited. Learn more about becoming a Resource Family and/or adoptive parent by attending a Resource Family/Adoptive Parent Orientation or call 916-875-5543.

In 2015, the District Attorney's Office created Sacramento Together -- a Human Trafficking Task Force coalition. Sacramento Together wants to raise awareness about this issue and encourage all members of the public to attend a showing of the documentary entitled, "California's Forgotten Children." This film gives viewers the tools to combat this epidemic.

The Sacramento County District Attorney's Office is also part of a number of collaborative efforts to rescue and assist victims including; Sacramento Together Anti-Human Trafficking Coalition.

"California's Forgotten Children" is a feature documentary about child sex trafficking.

LOCAL SHOWING: CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) and University of the Pacific George School of Law on January 31 at 6:00 - 8:30 p.m. The address is 3200 5th Ave, Sacramento, CA 95817, Classroom C. There are 150 seats available, first come first served. There is free street parking. ★

"Here for the Long Haul" — Mayor McGarvey Looks Back and Ahead at Chamber Luncheon

Story and photos by Trina L. Drotar

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - "I'm pleased to join you today to discuss what's in store for the great city of Rancho Cordova," said Mayor Robert McGarvey to a full audience at the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce's first luncheon of 2019.

Before looking at 2019 and beyond, he reflected on 2015, the last time he served as mayor. He focused heavily on Measure H, the Community Enhancement Fund that has generated more than $26 million from sales taxes and is funding upgrades at Mills Middle School, including the girls' softball field with an expected 2020 completion. In Hagan Park, the pool complex is currently in the design stage.

"The swimming pool you've been waiting for for a long time is going to be there."

Measure H helped fund the Rancho Cordova Performing Arts Center, a 450 seat theatre for performances by Folsom Cordova Unified School District employees and students and by community artists and organizations like Symphony d'Oro's annual fundraiser, "Poperetta!," on February 16.

In 2015, the Rancho Cordova Center of Folsom Lake College was under construction and currently offers local SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With 24 museums participating by offering complimentary admission, the 21st Annual Free Museum Day takes place on Saturday, February 2, 2019, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. New this year, the popular day is also the kick-off to Sacramento Museum Week (February 2-8, 2019) filled with special events, activities and activations at various museums. While admission is complimentary to everyone on Free Museum Day only, regular admission applies at all museums during Sacramento Museum Week. Coordinated by Sacramento Area Museums (SAM) with the support of Visit Sacramento, Free Museum Day and Sacramento Museum Week in 2019 are proudly presented by Sutter Health and sponsored by California Family Fitness.

"We are thrilled to present the 21st Annual Free Museum Day plus extend the fun by offering a new Sacramento Museum Week this year," said Sacramento Area Museums Chair Delta Pick Mello. "We'd especially like to thank our presenting sponsor Sutter Health and our returning sponsor California Family Fitness for providing much-needed resources to help us to present these important events. Our continuing goal as a collaborative organization is to introduce the community to the amazing array of arts, culture and museum offerings available in the greater Sacramento region."

Free Museum Day is a popular cultural tradition designed to encourage all members of the community to experience the Capital City's incredible wealth of art, history, science and wildlife, free of charge. Many of the museums are within walking distance of each other and easily accessible via public transportation.

And, to help easily and conveniently transport guests who wish to visit multiple museums in Sacramento's urban core, Sacramento Regional Transit (SacRT) is offering free rides on all buses and light rail trains on Saturday, February 2 only with a printed SacRT Museum Day flyer (only one flyer needed per family or group). A screen shot of the flyer from a smartphone is also acceptable. To print or display the flyer, please visit www.sacr.com. For more information specifically about SacRT park-and-ride stations and schedules, visit www.sacr.com/services.

On Free Museum Day, event coordinators suggest that guests plan to visit no more than two or three different museums on this day in order to allow adequate time to enjoy the experience and to travel between individual sites. Due to the popularity of Free Museum Day, some locations must limit the number of admissions for safety reasons. The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. but note the last guests will be admitted at 4 p.m.

students courses from accounting to theatre arts. "Students will be able to attend the center fee-free," he said, "as part of the Rancho Cordova promise program."

The program is open to Rancho Cordova residents graduating this year and covers the first year at the college up to twelve units per semester. The application period closes August 1.

Mills Station Arts and Culture Center, across the street, hosts a wide range of exhibits and events including last month's "Bricking Bad" and 2018's Anne Frank exhibit with talks by Bernard Marks and Kiyo Sato.

"A lot of things in Rancho Cordova are free," he said after highlighting a cross section of the more than 100 events scheduled for 2019. "We're able to do that, thanks to Measure H."

One of the biggest events to hit Rancho Cordova in 2019 will be the stage two start of the Amgen Tour of California in May.

"We're thrilled to host this event."

He is excited to bring back the mayor's walks so that he can get out to neighborhoods, meet residents, and talk. Walking, he said, provides opportunities missed when bicycling or driving. The walks were begun in 2010 by current Assemblymember Ken Cooley when he was mayor and titled "20 Tons in 2010."

Sidewalk and street construction and upgrades, new housing and businesses have been underway and will continue through 2019, he said, highlighting several projects and new businesses.

The city's focus on homelessness includes Mather Veterans Village, opening this fall to serve homeless veterans and Mather Community Campus for formerly homeless individuals and families run by Volunteers of America. The Homeless Outreach Team (HOT) consists of two police officers, code enforcement, and a Homeless Navigator and serves to enforce violations and build relationships with homeless individuals and families with the goal of helping them become self-sufficient. Mayor McGarvey praised Rancho Cordova's police department for all it does.

"The police are there to help, to hand out toys. We do many things with them and they with us and we are very fortunate." The applause was deafening.

A new civic center will be located in the lot adjacent to the college center, across from MACC, on a lot recently purchased by the city. The mayor spoke of many public works projects, improving grades at Cordova High School, and his desire to bring a Fisher Foundation House to Rancho Cordova to serve families of veterans and military during medical treatment. The homes, he said, are similar in scope to Ronald McDonald Houses.

"It's an exciting year for Rancho Cordova. 2019's going to be busy," said Mayor McGarvey after the whirlwind trip through the past, present, and future.

Women's Empowerment Receives $25K from US Bank

Funds will provide job skills training and financial literacy for homeless women

By Kristin Thébaud

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment has received a $25,000 grant from U.S. Bank Foundation's Community Possible program. The grant will fund job skills training, career-readiness classes and financial literacy programs for Sacramento women experiencing homelessness.

"U.S. Bank continues to invest in the bright futures of homeless women through its generous donations to our job-readiness programs," said Lisa Culp, executive director, Women's Empowerment. "Our partnership with U.S. Bank ensures women can break the cycle of homelessness by gaining the skills needed to secure employment, regain a home and manage finances. When our mothers become financially self-sufficient, they create a better life for their children."

Since 2001, Women's Empowerment has been working to break the cycle of homelessness for women and children in Sacramento. In the initial nine-week program, women who are homeless receive free onsite child care in the group's child development center and transportation assistance. Each woman works with a master's level social worker to address her root causes of homelessness. She attends classes on job-readiness, confidence building, health and empowerment, as well as support groups for domestic violence and substance abuse. Financial empowerment courses are provided, including budgeting, improving credit score and second chance checking. With the help of volunteer teachers, women unlearn financial habits and create a step-by-step action plan for achieving their financial goals. Women then focus on job placement with their employment specialist and volunteer career mentor.

Women who have graduated from the nine-week program can enroll in the group's graduate services at any point when they need assistance. Services include paid job training, vocational certifications, counseling with a social worker and employment specialist, access to a professional clothing closet, and job retention services for employer and employee.

"At U.S. Bank, we invest in and support programs and organizations that help people succeed in the workforce and gain greater financial literacy," said Jessica Cook, assistant vice president at U.S. Bank. "Through our Community Possible giving and engagement platform we are working to close the gaps between people and possibility. Our partnership with Women's Empowerment is doing just that."

is an award-winning organization that has graduated 1,554 homeless women and their 3,738 children. Last year, 82 percent of graduates found homes and 76 percent found jobs or enrolled in school or training. The program combines self-esteem courses, job training, health classes and support services to help homeless women across diverse ages, races and cultures. Women's Empowerment is funded through private donations from the community and receives no government funding except for in-kind rent from the County of Sacramento. To make a donation: www.womens-empowerment.org.

Community Possible is the corporate giving and volunteer program at U.S. Bank, focused on the areas of Work, Home and Play. The company invests in programs that provide stable employment, a safe place to call home and a community connected through arts, culture, recreation and play. The Mayor's Corner

I will be watching with you how well our hired public servants in D.C. can do their jobs. Or not!

By Bob McGarvey

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

Last week, I commented about going to Washington D.C., or not. I decided that with the weather here and in D.C., the federal government shutdown on day 35 and counting, and enough going on here in Rancho Cordova, I didn't think I would be able to accomplish my goals. While I write this column, there have been 32 days of the government shutdown. Unless something unexpected happens, it will still be shut down when this column is printed and is in your hands. So, I didn't go to the U.S. Conference of Mayors, and there are and still are too many things to accomplish here for now. I believe that if I were able to get everything done here, and still be sure I would be able to fly back from D.C., it would be a different story.

Many people in these United States are still receiving their Social Security checks, and many people were worried about those checks also being held back when the government shut down. I worry about those millions of people as well as the 800,000 federal employees who aren't being paid for a second time now. I realize that differences of opinion are one thing, but many citizens have seen how being able to compromise will get you to your goal. Having the government shut down is penalizing so many employees across the country and is affecting the economy of our country. I will be watching with you how well our hired public servants in D.C. can do their jobs. Or not!

Whether you are talking to others about your beliefs in religion, politics, family, etc., I read a quote from Frank A. Clark who lived from 1860 to 1936. Reading one of his quotes seemed to fit very well today with people who are just stubborn, and it seems like they don't really understand what their beliefs are. Mr. Clark said, "There's nothing that can help you understand your beliefs more than trying to explain them to an inquisitive child." I think there are some people in Washington D.C. who need to find out exactly what they believe. If they were able to understand all the aspects of what they are saying, and not just be stubborn, maybe we wouldn't be in the predicament our country is in now. Hopefully, the shutdown will end sooner rather than later.

I looked back at some of my last few columns, and I realized that I am much more representative than I thought. I know that Rancho Cordova citizens are as tired as I with what hasn't been done in D.C.

I will try to pay attention to doing that and give you information that is both informative and helpful. It was helpful to the people at the Lutheran luncheon on Tuesday when I passed on to them information that was part of my speech last Friday. Many of them weren't able to come to the Rancho Cordova Luncheon so they appreciated receiving information that was new to them. The name of the 1/2 cent sales tax measure that they passed in November 2014, which was Measure H or the Community Enhancement Fund, was new to many in the audience.

Supervisor Don Nottoli and I were both surprised to learn that we both spoke to the Lutheran luncheon in January 2015. We were both able to update them with the information we passed on from both the City and the County. For example, information about the sidewalks and other improvements we are putting in from Rod Beaudry Drive to Bradshaw Road. Everyone appreciated information on the project that will make it much easier and safer as they go down Folsom Boulevard walking and/or riding a bicycle. Hopefully, my next column will have much more information about items that will be beneficial to everyone. From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

A Vital Emergency Bridge Program for Foster Children

By Andrea Hansen, Sacramento County Media

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

Counties throughout California are working to recruit loving families to care for foster children, but some families may feel they cannot afford to bring a foster child into their home due to budget constraints. To increase the number of foster parents and meet the needs of foster children, the Emergency Child Care Bridge Program for Foster Children was established for counties to help caregivers pay for child care until they find other subsidized child care or are able to pay for child care themselves.

Introduced in January 2018, the Bridge Program aims to increase the number of stable, sustainable family placements for children in foster care. The program provides eligible caregivers vouchers to pay for child care. These vouchers help ensure that caregivers have adequate support to balance work and home lives and increase the likelihood of a smooth transition.

In 2018-19, 46 counties opted in to receive a portion of the $31 million allocated to provide Bridge Program services. As of November 30, the program in Sacramento County had served 72 foster children in nearly 60 foster families.

On December 11, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors approved a nearly $500,000 increase of the Bridge Program contract funding to expand child care support services. The $1.3 million budget for Fiscal Year 2018-19 will be used to contract with Child Action, Inc., the local child care resource and referral agency, for Child Care Vouchers, Navigator Services and Trauma-Informed Care Training/Coaching.

"With more parents working outside the home, the ability to recruit and retain foster parents is becoming more challenging," said Michelle Callejas, Sacramento County Director of Child, Family and Adult Services. "The Bridge Program is vital to help the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services place more local foster children in homes where they will receive high-quality care. The amendment of the contract will allow our department to support even more families who open their homes and hearts to foster children."

The Bridge Program is comprised of three major components. This includes emergency child care vouchers that are issued to eligible families to cover child care costs for children ages 0-12 for 6 to 12 months; support from a child care navigator who will work with families to find a child care provider, assist with completion of child care applications, and develop a plan for long-term child care; as well as trauma-informed care training so child care providers can learn strategies for working with children in foster care, many of whom have experienced trauma.

There are many types of families in the foster care system who are eligible for the Bridge Program: Resource families that have completed the Resource Family Approval (RFA) process; Foster Family Agency-approved or County-approved homes; families who care for foster children in an emergency placement; an approved relative or a non-related extended family member; parenting youth and non-minor dependents; or those who have children placed with them for a compelling reason.

For additional information on the Bridge Program, contact Bridge Program Contract Monitor, Gloria Bedford.

Sacramento County DA Reports

Career Criminal Sentenced for Assault on Police Station

DATE: January 22, 2019
CASE: Fernando Sanchez (Case # 17FE017119)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Sydne Jones, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Allen Sumner sentenced Fernando Sanchez to 88 years and 4 months to life in prison. On November 20, 2018, a jury convicted Sanchez of assault with a deadly weapon, assault on a police K9 causing serious bodily harm, attempted carjacking while armed with a weapon, burglary while armed with a weapon, felony evading officers and vandalism.

On September 11, 2017, an officer attempted a traffic stop on Fernando Sanchez when Sanchez sped away onto South Avenue. Sanchez rammed through the secured gates at the Kinney Police Station, striking a marked patrol vehicle. He then continued through the secured lot and rammed another set of gates, before driving onto a residential street and crashing into a fence. He then fled on foot and a K9 officer was deployed. When the K9 caught Sanchez, he struck the dog multiple times with a razor blade. An officer believed Sanchez had a gun and fired at Sanchez, hitting him in the leg. Sanchez fled on foot into a backyard, where he armed himself with a metal pipe. He then went to a nearby home and demanded the homeowner drive him out of the area. Sanchez struck the victim multiple times with the metal pipe. When the victim was able to take possession of the pipe, Sanchez ran into the victim's house and came out a short time later with the victim's car keys and a metal cooking pot that he swung at the victim's head. Sanchez ordered the victim into the car with him, but the victim refused and the two struggled. When officers arrived at the home, Sanchez was detained after a struggle. Reno the K9 sustained two large lacerations across his torso, cutting down through the muscle.

Sanchez was sentenced under California's Three Strikes Law having been previously convicted in 2004 of assault with a deadly weapon, kidnapping and attempted robbery.

Gang Members Sentenced to Life for Multiple Murders

DATE: January 14, 2019
CASE: David Javier Jaimes and Alex Martinez Camacho (Case #14F01928)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Morgan Gire, Gangs & Hate Crimes Unit

The Honorable Maryanne Gilliard sentenced David Javier Jaimes and Alex Martinez Camacho each to two terms of life in prison without the possibility of parole, plus 111 years and 4 months to life consecutive. On July 19, 2018, a jury convicted Jaimes and Camacho of the first-degree murders of Gladis Quinteros and Enrique De La Cruz as well as attempted murder. The jury also found true the special circumstance that both defendants committed multiple murders. Allegations that the defendants personally discharged a firearm causing death and committed the crimes for the benefit of a criminal street gang were also found true.

On May 21, 2013, Jaimes and Camacho were in a car with fellow North Sacra Norteño ("NSN") gang members. While driving on Birdcage Street, they saw who they believed was a rival Sureño gang member talking with another man and woman. The defendants got out of the car and shot the victims multiple times. The victims died at the scene. The defendants fled and the case went unsolved. A month later, Jaimes and Camacho were again in a car with other gang members. The defendants mistakenly believed they saw Sureño gang members in a truck and followed them. While stopped at the intersection of Arden Way and Morse Avenue, one of the gang members in the car opened fire on the truck, critically wounding the passenger. A nearby sheriff's deputy heard the shots and pursued the suspect vehicle. During a high-speed chase, a handgun was thrown from the vehicle and was later recovered.

An examination of the handgun revealed a connection to the murders on Birdcage Street. It was also linked to a series of shootings in Sacramento and Citrus Heights. Further investigation showed Jaimes and Camacho were responsible for the vast number of those shootings. ★

Journey Through Time with Neal Schon

"Faithfully" returning to their roots, the band will showcase songs from the very beginning and pay tribute to your favorite classic hits.

By Emily Tirapelle

JACKSON, CA (MPG) - Neal Schon's Journey Through Time will bring the Grand Oak Ballroom Stage alive with all the greatest Journey hits we've all come to love. They will also perform choice selections (some which have not been played in 40 years) from their earliest recordings. Neal Schon will take the stage alongside former Journey members Gregg Rolie, and Deen Castronovo, along with Marco Mendoza, Marti Frederiksen, and Chris Collins on Friday, February 22. One of only two scheduled tour dates!

Neal Schon, founding member of the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame inducted band Journey, is proud to present Neal Schon's Journey Through Time along with two time Rock & Roll Hall of Fame inductee and former Journey and Santana band-mate, Gregg Rolie. Schon and Rolie debuted Journey Through Time in February of last year at The Independent in San Francisco, CA to a sold-out crowd, performing songs spanning Journey's 14 year existence - including the first three albums Journey, Look Into The Future, and Next.

Multi Grammy-nominated Neal Schon founded Journey in 1972 and remains the sole consistent member, having participated in every album and tour to date. Schon was also a member of Santana and has performed with a variety of other acts including Bad English, Jan Hammer and HSAS. He has released 10 solo albums including his latest, Vortex. His guitar style has been described as soulful and melodic, admired by such fellow legends as Eric Clapton and Prince.

"Faithfully" returning to their roots, the band will showcase songs from the very beginning and pay tribute to your favorite classic hits. When the lights go down...in the Grand Oak Ballroom you'll be fully immersed into the lyrical symphony and emotion provoking sounds of the chart-topping hits that have been regarded as some of the most defining notes of Rock and Roll.

SMUD Seeks Local Families for Research Project on Lighting and Autism

Initial pilot showed lighting had positive impacts on children with autism

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - SMUD is seeking local families for a research pilot project to evaluate the effects of lighting on children with autism. Interested families are invited to attend an informational meeting on January 24, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at 6301 S Street in Sacramento to learn more.

"Studies have shown that lighting affects our circadian rhythms and may have impacts upon our health and behaviors," said SMUD's Lighting Expert Connie Samla. We're excited that our initial tests showed promise, so we wanted to reach 30 additional families to further identify changes in sleep and behavioral patterns."

Eligible participants are families that live in the Sacramento region with children ages 5 to 10-years-old with autism spectrum disorder. If selected, SMUD will provide $1,500 in lighting products for participants in the project.

For the first study, SMUD partnered with the Folsom Cordova Unified School District to study the effects of tunable LED lighting systems in the classroom and at two homes of children with autism. After 16 months of study, technical experts found positive results and released their findings with recommendations for further home study. Highlights from the first study are below.

- Students reported a slight increase in overall feelings of wellness and slightly lower energy levels.
- Teachers had positive feedback and all reported the new lighting helped them teach more effectively.
- The new lighting systems reduced electrical demand by 60-74% and energy consumption by 26-57%.

• One of the families in the home study reported dramatic improvements in their child's behavior. The other family reported modest behavioral changes, but a dramatic reduction in the amount of time it took their child to fall asleep.

After reviewing the results, SMUD technical experts recommended that school districts should install LED lighting systems that include lighting control scenes. Districts should consider installing tunable-white LED systems for new classrooms, especially those used at night or for teaching students with special needs. SMUD also suggested that more research needed to be done in the homes of students with autism and thus the reason for the second project.

Cheers to The Titan Games

Like an American ninja warrior on human-growth hormones, the premiere of NBC's feats-of-strength competition from Dwayne Johnson helped the network win Thursday night in viewers age 18-49 for the first time in two years (not including sports programs). That's some serious muscle!

probably could have risen to the level of awards-show nominations—especially for Elliott, given his long career. But as I note just about every time I'm asked this question about any show, there are just a staggering number of shows and performances to choose from these days, and when even the brilliant Rita Moreno of Netflix's One Day at a Time can get overlooked, countless others are going to be left out of the race. As for ratings: Who knows? Netflix is beyond secretive about such matters, but they seem pleased enough to extend The Ranch into a fourth season.

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

What Do You Think of The Ranch on Netflix?
Question: Thanks as always for talking to TV fans. Why no love for Netflix's The Ranch? I am amazed at how good this show is. Ashton Kutcher and Sam Elliott are killing it as a real father/son relationship. This isn't something that smacks of perfect father/son on other shows (I'm looking at you, This Is Us). This is real and heartbreaking. Kutcher consistently rises to Elliott's level of greatness. So, I guess I'm asking why no award/Emmy love for these performances? And how are the ratings? —Dana Matt Roush: Watching Sam Elliott on the Golden Globes, I was reminded of how great this veteran actor still is—not just on A Star Is Born, which should earn him a supporting Oscar nomination, but in The Ranch as well. His scenes with Ashton Kutcher are the heart and soul of the show, and in another time, they played after press deadline) is in contention for first place in the Greater Sacramento League.

From the start, three players proved to be immediate leaders and helped to be the "cohesive glue" as Ramey says to create the team environment. They are co-captains Senior Mid-Fielder Kiran Pooni (#11), Senior Forward Shelby Konarski (#9) and Junior Forward Gabriella "Gabby" Maduri (#4). "These three girls have shown leadership on and off the field" said Ramey.

Other notable stand-outs are Junior forward, Annetta Medina (#7), Sophomore Mid-Fielder Maritza "Maddy" Negrete (#18), Senior Goalie Baily Carlson (#1) and Senior Defender Annalise Tate (#16). Not overlooking the rest of the team, the coaching staff has much praise in their ability to work together as a unit. As such, they believe the principals of the great philosopher and Hall of Fame NFL Coach Vince Lombardi, "The achievements of an organization are the results of the combined effort of each individual."

GO BIG RED!

Get Out of My Gas Tank

Last year's 12-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax increase pushed the state's gas tax to 55.22 cents per gallon, the second highest in the nation.

Illinois, etc. -- can be some of the most left-leaning states.

Put bluntly, high-gas-tax states don't have a revenue problem. They have a spending problem. Had California utilized all those gasoline- and car-related tax revenues for road building and repair -- nearly $2.3 billion -- it wouldn't have needed to raise the gas tax.

States need to be held financially and politically accountable for spending decisions. If they claim they need a gasoline tax increase in order to repair the roads, that's what they should use the money for. But they won't unless voters hold them accountable.

Californian voters failed to do that this November. Other states should learn from their mistake.
