RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Lincoln Village Community Park was abuzz with activity on a cool, sunny November 3rd morning. City of Rancho Cordova, Soil Born Farms, West Coast Arborists, and Sacramento Tree Foundation staff arrived early to set up the registration booth, lay out the eight piles of colored bandanas for each of the planting teams, "Tree Hero" shirts, and morning wake up goodies of coffee, hot chocolate, and edibles that included locally harvested apples brought in by Soil Born Farms. Shovels, bags of compost, trees, and other supplies were organized, moved, stacked, and packed into trucks for transport to the locations. Men, women, teens, children, and members of various groups arrived, signed in, picked up their packets and bandanas, chatted, and enjoyed some down time before work began.

Mayor Linda Budge strolled the park with Jake, her white poodle. Mature trees stood tall in the background beginning their annual fall color show, and a gaggle of geese wandered across the grass. She was there to celebrate the planting of the 1000th tree to be planted in Rancho Cordova since 2015 as part of an effort to expand the city's urban forest. During the first year, 100 trees were planted in the Lincoln Village neighborhood. During the next two years, the goal was to plant one tree a day. Those numbers were surpassed with 367 and 474 trees.

A Chinese pistache, which can reach 60 feet when mature, was chosen for the planting. Shiree, Soil Born Farms' Edible City Assistant, worked with Gabriel from West Coast Arborists and Jason from the Sacramento Tree Foundation to prepare the planting

Veterans Day Event Cancelled Due to Air Quality Risk

By Russell Hartley

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - While many Rancho Cordova and Sacramento-area residents planned to attend this year's Veterans Day Observance event at the VA Hospital near Mather Field, the event was unfortunately canceled due to the poor air quality conditions caused by the wildfires. The City of Rancho Cordova and its community partners reached out to attendees through social media, email notifications, and local media outlets to help notify the public.

The City of Rancho Cordova would like to thank the Cordova Community Council and all of the sponsors and organizations that helped plan this year's event. We are fortunate as a City to have many residents who have served or who are currently serving in the United States military.

"We, as Rancho Cordovans and as Americans, are grateful for the sacrifices made by our nation's veterans, and we are forever indebted to their service," said Rancho Cordova Mayor Linda Budge. "Rancho Cordova has a rich military history with many veterans still living within our community. We cannot thank you enough for your courage and patriotism that allows us all to celebrate the freedoms and liberties we practice and value each and every day."

Cordova Recreation and Park District Honored at Statewide Conference

By Neil McCormick, CSDA

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Recreation and Park District received the Innovative Program of the Year award for a large district by the California Special Districts Association (CSDA) during the association's Annual Conference and Exhibitor Showcase, which was held in Indian Wells from September 24-27, 2018.

The Cordova Recreation and Park District was awarded for their "Heron Landing Community Park" project. The district identified the need to support the growth that is expected in the Rancho Cordova community and through a decade-long planning, design, stakeholder engagement and construction process created this 20-acre park in the Anatolia neighborhood of the Cordova Recreation and Park District, the only community park in this resident area. The park is intended to support and serve a growing community with amenities ranging from programmed athletics facilities to wildlife observation to multi-generational play areas. The District anticipates programming for soccer, lacrosse, softball, flag football, tennis, bocce ball, basketball, turf volleyball, kickball, and ultimate frisbee.

During seven community outreach events, stakeholders provided input and direction regarding the selection and implementation of programming elements and desired amenities; additionally, a

The Camp Fire Effect on Livestock is Huge

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - Our community is painfully aware of the events that have transpired over the last week affecting Paradise and the surrounding areas. Gridley has seen an influx of evacuees from all walks of life seeking refuge, including man's best friend. The Red Cross Shelter located at the Butte County Fairgrounds is one of a handful of shelters that will take animals large and small. Though they are not allowed inside the main areas of the shelter, the Feather Room and Farmers Hall, smaller domesticated animals are allowed to remain on the property under supervision of their owners. This has caused many evacuees to camp outside with their animals to keep them close during this time of tragedy. For some it is their only source of comfort. While the smaller animals are allowed to stay with their owners, the larger live stock is housed near the Fairgrounds arena and show areas.

I was able to speak to Artemis Black, or “Molly” to her colleagues, who is the Lead for Large Animals for the North Valley Animal Disaster Group of NVADG. NVADG’s Livestock Rescue Unit and crew arrived on scene and immediately got to work on the intake of animals affected by the fire shortly after the shelter was established. Each animal taken in requires special handling and an array of paperwork releasing liability before it can be placed and receive medical treatment. Molly along with the NVADG crew, has been tasked with assisting the continued evacuation efforts of animals still located in the disaster area, reuniting animals with their owners, organizing supply and shelter for those animals, coordinating with trained specialists to treat the injured animals and more. NVADG in conjunction with a group called Cowboy 911, a public group dedicated to helping farmers, horseman and animal owners in times of need or disaster, have utilized social media to reunite owners with their animals and arrange assistance to help rescue those in peril. While most of the animals arrived with their owners, some have been brought in separately and remain un-identified.

Days after the shelter opened, animals continue to pour in, some uninjured but most under extreme stress. NVADG in association with the Veterinarian Emergency Response Team out of UC

Davis have been working along with skilled volunteers and private Veterinarians to treat those wounded animals and maintain a healthy environment in which they can recover. The VERT team arrived Saturday November 10th with their mobile unit, essentially a horse trailer retrofitted into a mobile Vet pharmacy and crew consisting of 2-3 Veterinarians and 3-5 students. Dr. John Madigan from UC Davis Veterinarian School and Hayley Dieckmann, President of the Student VERT Club and third year Veterinarian Student, were onsite Sunday over-seeing medical treatments, and implementing an incident command system. Dr. Madigan explained that VERT assisted in getting supplies donated and coordinating the reimbursement of medications and supplies used by private Veterinarians from their personal stock. Hayley Dieckmann explained the importance of the VERT unit in situations where animals have been critical injuries, allowing access to crucial medical supplies and treatments that can make the difference in saving the animals life. The unit provides students with the opportunity for extra training in times of disaster and plans to be on site for at least a week.

“Thinking that they had lost everything and that they would never see their beloved horses again, they made their way to the Gridley Red-Cross Shelter. Miraculously the animals survived and Cowboy 911 in combination with NVADG were able to locate their horses and extricate them from the burning area.”

RICHARD & SHARON METCALF
PARADISE

One of the horses being treated by the VERT team was Renegade, owned by Sharon and Richard Metcalf of Paradise. Renegade, a former Top 10 Canadian Nation Champion and Bronze Medalist Champion in the Las Vegas Arabian Breeders Finals, sustained burns to his muzzle and sensitive eye area. Renegade was one of 8 horses, three of which were pregnant, to survive the fire and be reunited with his owners.

Richard Metcalf first noticed that the sky was too dark to be normal last Thursday morning around 9:30 a.m. and looked out the window to discover why. Just over the treeline of his 7 1/2 acre dream ranch was a billowing cloud of black smoke. He called 911 and the operated told him to get out as fast as he could. He and his wife Sharon grabbed a handful of items and ran to open the gates to the corral that contained their prize winning horses. They flung the gates open so that their horses could have a chance of survival and hopped into their 4-wheel drive truck heading towards the Skyway. They recalled that the trees were already blanketed in white ash and the tips were beginning to singe due to the heat of the fire closing in. Leaving their home, located off of Clark Road, lost everything and that they would never see their beloved horses again, they made their way to the Gridley Red-Cross Shelter. Miraculously the animals survived and Cowboy 911 in combination with NVADG were able to locate their horses and extricate them from the burning area. Unfortunately, the Metcalfs dream ranch where they intended to spend a peaceful retirement was completely destroyed. Although their home and belongings were gone, they found solace in the fact that all of their horses survived against incredible odds.

The Metcalfs expressed their deep gratitude for the all of the assistance they had received from Cowboy 911, VERT and NVADG teams, local volunteers, and the generosity of the surround community. Students from Gridley High’s FFA Club with advisor Matt Reed have been volunteering their services to aid NVADG and help with animal husbandry concerns like cleaning pens, feeding and general care of the animals already on site. On Sunday, the animal roster included about 130 horses, and around 150 smaller animals including 5 cows, 37 goats, 38 sheep, 6 pigs, 3 donkeys, 3 llamas, 13 chickens and more. The FFA students were busy helping with kids and lambs that had been born at the evacuation center in the few days since the fire had started. The experience of volunteering during this time of crisis has inspired many of the FFA students to pursue careers in fields pertaining to animal emergency response.

Although there is no way to forecast how many more animals will arrive,

The NVADG crew at command central pictured working with Camp Fire survivors on the intake of their displaced and wounded animals.

they found that the roads were grid-locked and the street lights were not working. Desperate to get out, they ended up using the Paradise Memorial Trail way, a bike and pedestrian trail that runs through Paradise, as a road to get to the skyway and to safety. Thinking that they had the NVADG crew expects many more and will not turn away any animals in need of shelter and medical treatment. Volunteers and donations are welcome in the continued effort to help the wounded, weary, and strained animals from the Camp Fire and their equally exhausted owners. ★ hole. Mayor Budge and Sacramento Tree Foundation Executive Director Ray Tretheway wielded golden shovels for the ceremonial planting.

Steve Harriman, Rancho Cordova Public Works Division Manager of Operations and Maintenance, led the group of nearly 100 volunteers through a tree chant before sending the teams off. Volunteers included students from C.K. McClatchy and Cordova high schools, SAVA (Sacramento Area Vocational Academy), Sac State Hornets, Rancho Cordova Sunrise Rotary Club, representatives from Congressman Ami Bera's office, Rancho Cordova Police Department, Davey Resource Group, Cordova Recreation and Park District staff, members of the "It Takes a Lincoln Village" group, and citizens from near and far. Some volunteers wanted to play in the dirt. One young woman said she came because she'd heard that birds have lost nesting places and she wanted to help them and the environment. Others, like Fayzah and her family, came to help out of civic pride in their community.

Shade trees are beneficial for homes, providing much needed shade during the summer months. They can also help improve air quality, and reduce cooling costs, which is why SMUD provided the day's shade trees. There is a need to expand the city's urban forest, said Mayor Budge, which is why the city's Free Trees+ program is supported by the Community Enhancement Fund. Many trees, she added, had been lost during the drought — some died and some had been removed by homeowners who mistakenly believed that they used too much water.

One twist to Saturday's planting was the inclusion of fruit trees provided by Soil Born Farms under a grant serving the Lincoln Village community and communities in South Sacramento.

"Thanks to Soil Born Farms, we are planting fruit trees this time. Some of our home builders have selected decorative trees for our new homes that are messy or have invasive roots. We are hoping that by replacing them with a tree that has the benefit of providing fresh fruit for our families, Rancho Cordova residents will want to enjoy these trees for longer periods. In my own yard, the trees are constantly dropping leaves, flowers or seeds — all year long. So I can really understand people wanting a tree that provides shade and food at the same time!"

The orange team's first stop was Artur Margaryam's front yard where they planted two new fruit trees, a mandarin and an Asian pear, bringing his total number to eight trees which include lemon, pomegranate, and persimmon. Team leader Stephanie Robinson, Communication and Engagement Manager at Sacramento Tree Foundation, demonstrated proper planting techniques. Hole depth and width, how to build the mound, the proper height for the tree's crown were shown and then she asked for volunteers to do the work which was checked by her and Ray Tretheway.

She addressed the need to call 8-1-1 before digging so that any underground utility lines could be marked and those areas avoided. She spoke about compost and Tretheway weighed in on the importance of removing grass from the soil being dug up. As with too much fertilizer, the grass can potentially burn young roots because the grass heats up.

While volunteers took turns digging the hole and removing grass from the dirt, another group worked to free the mandarin from its container and massaged the root ball. This, Robinson explained, is important because the roots have grown into circles while in the container but they need to grow outward to prevent the tree from falling over. She covered mulch and reminded volunteers that it provides insulation from heat and cold and can be obtained free of charge from SMUD's corporation yard.

"Education is our central mission," said Robinson, adding that she wants volunteers to "feel invested in our urban forest." The foundation fields hundreds of telephone calls each week about watering, pruning, and other topics, and offers free workshops.

"This region would be unlivable without trees," she said.

City Manager Cyrus Abhar wasn't afraid to get down and dirty with the tree planting crew either. He helped mulch the Asian pear tree alongside Fayzah and her family who'd ridden up earlier on bicycles

Harriman gathered volunteers once again and led them in a tree cheer before they left Margaryam's home for their second, and last, stop where they would plant eight trees on a single property. Residents, through the Free Trees+ program, are eligible to receive up to ten trees on their property. Volunteers squatted, counted down, and then grew tall as trees waving their arms like unstaked fruit tree limbs bending in the wind and growing stronger.

By Bob McGarvey

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - My wife and I pulled up to the parking lot beside the Sacramento VA Medical Center on Sunday, November 11, 2018, and I was so unaccustomed to seeing practically no one there on Veterans Day. Panels that showed the 100 years of Mather Air Force Base and Mather Field, tents and chairs, stage and microphone, flags, and a place for the bricks were ready, and even a few of the news media were there and ready to cover the ceremony to thank our veterans for all they have done and continue to do. I spent a little time walking through the empty chairs, around the empty tables, and by where the bricks were to be placed for the ceremony. Those bricks will be placed where all the other bricks have been placed at the Veterans Memorial Plaza, and the 30 names that are on those bricks will be read on Memorial Day. The family or friends who were going to be part of the ceremony on Veterans Day will receive a letter of explanation, and it will include the lanyard that is part of the brick ceremony.

I was watching The

And Another Thing ...

*All The Leaves Are Brown,
And the Sky Is Gray...*

Weather Channel the night before, and they said that the wind could change about 4 AM on Sunday morning and clean up quite a bit of the smoke that was affecting everyone here. So when I was called Saturday night and was asked if we were going to cancel the ceremony, I said no hoping that we could move forward with the program on Veterans Day. Unfortunately, the wind didn't change, and we had to cancel the ceremony.

The smoke and the particulates in the air that were coming from the fires that destroyed the Town of Paradise made it too dangerous to continue. The Rancho Cordova River City Concert Band canceled, a Senator and other speakers canceled, and for the first time since our Veterans Day Ceremony began in 2006, it was canceled. We weren't the only ones who had to stop their ceremony, parade or other events that were planned to honor and show respect to our veterans. Many, many people had their plans changed that day in all of California because of the wildfires in both Northern and Southern California.

As I write this, the air is still unhealthy, and even though there isn't as much visible smoke that looks like fog, the Folsom Cordova Unified School District said all the schools will have their students indoors today because of the air. Looking out of my window, the sky is grey, and I am wishing that the sky was grey with rain clouds instead of smoke. The next chance of rain, according to the weatherman, is on Thanksgiving Day. No one I've talked to is against rain coming. I know there have been quite a few construction items that are ahead of their initial plans. Douglas Road, for instance, is getting close to being done by the end of the year. There is also a lot of progress being made on Mather Veterans Village. That is like a "Catch 22," wishing for the work to be done and at the same time, hoping for a lot of rain to help put out the fires that are causing so much havoc throughout the state.

I finished my column a little earlier, and the smoke wasn't like it was last weekend. I had to leave and pick up one of my grandsons after I finished the column earlier today. As I went to pick him up, the wind had changed again and the air looked like thick, smoky fog again. I think it is rather foolish for me to talk about how the smoke or air quality is because it will change the next minute. Our oldest son has to work outside on his job, but fortunately, he has good masks to protect his health. Everyone in Rancho Cordova needs to do the same thing and that includes my family, too.

From Vice Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Thank You Rancho Cordova!

continue to work together to make Rancho Cordova
as good a place to live in one

community meeting was held to specifically discuss the proposed sports field lighting. Throughout the project, Cordova Recreation and Park District worked closely with the City of Rancho Cordova, the County of Sacramento, and the Sacramento Metropolitan Fire District to create an accessible and safe community space. This park demonstrates a 21st century ethic of sustainability and technology, provides a myriad of opportunities, and furthers the District’s mission to “lead the region in recreation and parks through excellence and transparency in serving the needs of our diverse and growing community.”

Since the park opened on December 16, 2017 it has been praised by community members and professional association alike. Resident Google postings on the park give it a score of 4.8 out of 5.0. In February 2018, it received a Facility Design and Park Planning award from the California Parks and Recreation Society District 2. In March 2018, it received an award from the California Association of Recreation and Park Districts for Outstanding New Facility.

The criteria for this CSDA annual award included originality of project, tangible and positive results produced and a documented decrease in district costs or a demonstrated improvement in the district’s quality of service without significantly increasing costs.

The California Special Districts Association is a 501(c)(6), not-for-profit association that was formed in 1969 to promote good governance and improved core local services through professional development, advocacy and other services for all types of independent special districts. ★

Make Holidays Brighter for Foster Youth & Seniors

By Brenda Bongiorno, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The lives of thousands of children, teens, disabled adults and seniors are touched each holiday season by the County's Gifts From the Heart Program. For 30 years, this annual holiday gift-giving program has provided gifts to those served by the Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services.

"Since 1988, this program has made the holidays brighter for local children, adults and seniors," said Volunteer & Student Intern Services Coordinator, Tonja Edelman. "On a daily basis we provide for the well-being of those we serve, but a program like this illustrates our desire to go beyond what is required and enrich people's lives – and especially during difficult times."

Local community partners and individuals from local businesses, County staff, government agencies, religious organizations, service groups, professional groups and families participate in this annual holiday gift-giving drive. Each year, more than 100 community partners donate nearly 10,000 gifts to more than 3,000 children, youth, disabled adults and seniors throughout Sacramento County.

The gifts and contributions from community partners and teamwork of volunteers have made the Gifts From the Heart Program possible so that everyone can partake in the warmth of the holiday season.

Consider participating in the Gifts From the Heart

SouthEast Connector Funding Secure Following Proposition 6 Failure

By Lindsey Goodwin

MATHER, CA (MPG) - The Capital SouthEast Connector Joint Powers Authority has announced $20 million in grant funding previously secured through the California Transportation Commission's (CTC) Local Partnership Program (LPP) available through Senate Bill 1 (SB 1), the Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017, is secure following the failure of Proposition 6. This statewide proposition would have repealed SB 1, a 2017 law that generates $5.2 billion annually in new transportation funding that is permanently designated for road repairs and public transportation.

"The voters of California have spoken and, based on the outcome of Proposition 6, understand the importance of prioritizing funding sources to maintain our state's transportation infrastructure," said Derek Minnema, executive director of the Capital SouthEast Connector JPA. "The $20 million in funds previously secured through SB 1 will be invested judiciously to continue the advancement of the Connector, which will provide instant regional congestion relief to downtown Sacramento and close a critical rural-to-suburban connectivity gap here in our region.”

The Connector received the third largest statewide funding award of close to 90 grant applications for projects throughout California.

Earlier this year, the Sacramento Transportation Authority ranked the Connector as it's No. 1 regional transportation project pursuing funding through the CTC's LPP grant program.

The Connector closes a rural-to-suburban connectivity gap by transforming 34 miles of two-lane rural roads into a state-of-the-art, four-lane expressway connecting the communities of the City of Elk Grove, Sacramento County, City of Rancho Cordova, City of Folsom and El Dorado County. The new expressway will provide instant regional congestion relief to downtown Sacramento, provide parallel capacity to Highway 50, and an evacuation route for the southeastern part of Sacramento County. Project benefits also extend beyond the region as the Connector has been identified as a key project within California's Central Valley Major International Trade Region, and will connect three U.S. Department of Transportation's Primary Freight Network Routes that are the backbone of goods movement within the Central Valley.

The Connector JPA was formed in December 2006 and includes Sacramento County, El Dorado County, and the cities of Elk Grove, Folsom and Rancho Cordova. It is responsible for the Connector's planning, environmental review, engineering design, development and construction.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Lancers lost their playoff game last week to the Vanden Vikings 54-12. Their two touchdowns came from a punt return by Johnelle Sanders and the other from a long pass to Alvin Banks. Both scores took place late in the game.

The Lancers came into the game a little short-handed, with two of their two-way starters injured, Raymond Fite and J. Jones. Raymond has put up all-league stats all year. With the two stars they had an inside chance for an upset.

Both KJ Allen #20 and Chase Allen #5 really stepped up in replacement for the 2 missing starters. All the coaches praised their players for a great season making it to the 2nd round of the playoffs. ★
