Two Thousand Students Receive Capital Airshow Tickets

For the third year, the City of Rancho Cordova and California Capital Airshow have collaborated to offer free airshow tickets to students. For additional information about the California Capital Airshow, visit www.californiacapitalairshow.com.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) -

Two thousand students from thirteen Rancho Cordova schools - Cordova High, Cordova Gardens Elementary, Cordova Meadows Elementary, Cordova Villa Elementary, Mills Middle, Mitchell Middle, Navigator Elementary, Peter J. Shields, Rancho Cordova Elementary, Riverview STEM Academy, White Rock Elementary, and Williamson Elementary - assembled at Mitchell Middle School on Thursday, August 30 for a huge surprise. Fire drill bells sounded and students marched forth from Mitchell classes to a grassy area in front of a stage, joined during the next 30 minutes by busloads of students carrying school identification signs for what they learned was Operation Inspire the Future.

STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) was the word of the day. Councilman Sander said that it is important for students to understand that "STEM is more than just cool airplanes," which is why, for the third year, the City of Rancho Cordova and California Capital Airshow have collaborated to offer free airshow tickets to students.

"The airshow they see in their backyard is not the same show as we produce," said Angela Terry, California Capital Airshow's director of operations. "STEM is the future."

"What better investment than the next generation," said Darcy Brewer, the airshow's executive director.

And Bob Martinelli, Colonel USAF (Ret.) and Secretary, Board of Directors, said that Aerojet Rocketdyne is "running

Folsom Cordova Wins Three National Awards for Public Engagement

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Folsom Cordova's Communication and Community Engagement Office earned three awards from the National School Public Relations Association (NSPRA) for recent projects that grew support for struggling readers, highlighted the successes of students with special needs, and fostered collaboration to improve school performance.

Two of the District's three awards were in the Golden Achievement category, which recognizes exemplary work in all aspects of public relations, communication, marketing, and engagement. Folsom Cordova earned a third award in the Publications and Digital Media Awards category.

Here's more information on each award:

Golden Achievement: Education Town Halls: Inspiring Collective Action for Student Success: - Communication and Community Engagement Team

NSPRA honored Folsom Cordova's series of Education Town Halls, which sought to engage families, students, employees, and community members in the creation of the District's Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP), the District's guiding plan for closing achievement gaps among students living in poverty, learning English, and in the foster system.

Golden Achievement: Community Readers: Increasing Support for Struggling

Students: Angela Griffin Ankhelyi, Community Engagement Specialist

This award recognized a strategic overhaul of the Community Readers Program, which has increased student reading scores, grown volunteer engagement, and inspired larger partnerships with local businesses and nonprofits.

Honorable Mention (Video produced in-house): Dragon Paradise & Canine Companions - Kathy Escobar, Multimedia Communication Specialist

This District-produced video reached more than 24,000 people and was viewed nearly 10,000 times across the country. In this video, students with special needs at Oak Chan Elementary School in Folsom are featured participating in the "Dragon Paradise Cafe," the culmination of a weeks-long project to execute a fully catered lunch fundraiser for the Canine Companions for Independence program.

Sacramento Regional Transit District Rolls Back Fares

Lower Fares, 25-Cent Transfers, and 15-Minute Frequency for Weekend Light Rail Service

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) Board of Directors approved on August 27 staff recommendations to use funds resulting from cost-cutting measures and operational efficiency savings to reduce fares in an effort to invest back in the Sacramento community. Given the success that SacRT has had at controlling costs during the last couple of years, the district now has more flexibility to pass the savings back to customers by implementing improved and more frequent services. This is the first general fare reduction in SacRT's 47-year history.

The basic single ride would decrease by 25 cents from $2.75 to $2.50, and the discount single ride would decrease by 10 cents from $1.35 to $1.25. The basic monthly pass would decrease by $10 from $110 to $100, the discount monthly pass would decrease by $5 from $55 to $50, the paratransit single ride would decrease by 50 cents from $5.50 to $5, and the super senior fare would decrease by $2 from $42 to $40.

Fare changes also include the reimplementation of a 25 cent transfer ticket (allows riders who purchase a single ride ticket with cash to transfer between bus and light rail, light rail to bus or bus to bus). Riders are already able to transfer for free using electronic fare media using ZipPass or Connect Card. An aggressive implementation schedule would allow SacRT to roll out the fare reduction as early as October 2018 in order to benefit the largest percentage of riders.

In addition, the SacRT Board recently adopted a Student Monthly Pass reduction from $55 to $20 for students in grades K through 12, and a fare reduction for Los Rios Community College District students taking 1 to 3 units from $20 to $5 per month.

"I am pleased that SacRT has been able to stabilize our financial outlook to reduce fares and improve service for all of our customers," said Henry Li, SacRT General Manager/CEO. "SacRT has spent the past three years relentlessly improving SacRT's efficiencies and effectiveness, and building reserves. The hard work of our staff and board has paid off, and now the Sacramento community can receive the benefits."

SacRT is focused on building ridership and promoting the use of a system that is clean, safe and convenient for its customers. Fare reductions, re-introduction of transfers and service improvements will make the network more convenient for riders to use.

"SacRT has been able to control costs through organizational changes and operational efficiencies. These efforts have helped to build reserves of approximately $10 million and promote a more stable, long-term financial outlook," said Patrick Kennedy, SacRT Board Chair. "Given the success SacRT has had at controlling costs, we can grow ridership through fare reductions and other measures."

In addition, SacRT will increase weekend light rail service frequency from 30 minutes to 15 minutes starting in January 2019. On Saturdays, the 15-minute service will operate from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. On Sundays and holidays, the 15-minute service will operate from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. All other times on Saturdays and Sundays/holidays, light rail frequency will be 30 minutes.

Prepaid tickets that were purchased by customers at the previous fare rate will not be exchanged or refunded; however, customers can continue to use prepaid tickets in the future. In the meantime, SacRT encourages customers to use the prepaid tickets that were previously purchased before the new fare changes go into effect.

A Sky High Surprise

Mayor Budge said that she “always knew the Airshow had a purpose in education.” The schools have incorporated art, music, sports, and science, which include visits to Mather’s vernal pools and Effie Yeaw Nature Center. “The focus on STEM education is a natural evolution.”

Seven thousand tickets worth $175,000 will be distributed to the schools and used as incentives. “They have to go out and earn it,” she said. Each school will devise its own guidelines.

If vocals would have earned tickets, the assembled students would have earned extras for their ability to land the helicopter circling overhead. The helicopter, they were told, wouldn’t land if they weren’t loud enough. Voices increased several decibels until the helicopter landed in the grass behind the stage.

Sacramento Sheriff Department’s K9 unit, with lights flashing and siren screaming, escorted the day’s special guests and bags to the stage.

Cameras and phones filled the air to capture anything and everything. Students were encouraged to use their phones and the event’s Snapchat filter

Lt. Colonel James Ferrell and Major Ryan Freaney, USAFA Liaison Officers with the United States Air Force, spoke about the importance of school and turning dreams into goals.

Deputy District Attorney Shauna Franklin reminded the students that they already engage with STEM through slime, smart-phones, Fortnite, and math. “Find a mentor,” she said, “anyone you can look up to and talk to,” which is what Franklin, who attended a school with 100 students, did. She connected her studies in math and philosophy to her profession.

Rancho Cordova Police Officer Jason Hinckle said to “do well in school and tell the truth all the time.”

Tracy Jacobs, School Resource Officer, drew the most engagement from everyone when she spoke of her route to fulfill her dream. Jacobs, a Rancho Cordova native who wanted to be a police officer, went into nursing. “I was told I wasn’t good enough,” she said. She had been bullied and told that she’d only be an officer in her dreams.

“I’ve been living in my dreams for 18 years,” said Jacobs, who worked full-time in the hospital’s emergency room and attended the police academy full-time for six months. She graduated at the top of the class and is now an instructor at that same academy.

“You are good enough,” said emcee Mayor Budge, who closed the morning’s event.

Student questions included requests for autographs and the all-important “what’s in the bag?”

Thirteen large duffel bags lined the stage. The ceremony for opening those was nearly as grand as the helicopter landing. With adults carrying duffel bags filled with tickets and students donning Operation Inspire the Future backpacks, each school made its way to the helicopter for photo opportunities, with a few stops along the way to pet the German shorthair K9 officer and get a hug from SRO Jacobs.

The remaining six schools in Rancho Cordova will be notified within the next week of their big surprise.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - I am sure that this column will be shorter than usual, but at times, that happens. We had a very nice three-day weekend, and I am working on this column on Tuesday, but it feels like Monday no matter what the calendar says. Unfortunately, there is another wildfire that started off of Highway 80. The “North Fire” has grown to over 650 acres. It is out of control, and

And Another Thing ...

Short and Sweet

three campgrounds and the Lake Valley Reservoir Area have been evacuated. Those were the last details I have been able to gather so far. Since this is another wild-fire here in Northern California, and I haven’t heard what started this one, let’s all hope that no one is injured or that there is no loss of life. More information will be gathered as we get closer to the printing of the next copy of this paper. The heroes or the cartoons of today that my grandkids watch are sure different. When science fiction was fiction, its writers dreamed about things that would probably never happen, according to some thinkers. If you read the comics at that same time, the detective was someone like Dick Tracy who had a two-way wrist-watch with the face of the person he was talking to. Because of the smartphones of today, compared to the Dick Tracy phone, I find it hard to convince my grandkids that was really what happened before. Oh well. As I said earlier, this column has to be much shorter than usual, but I will have much more next week. I want to thank the many people who say they are enjoying my column.

From Vice Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

These Businesses Are Now Open in Rancho Cordova

By City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - As the economy strengthens, new businesses continue to open up around the City.

While Rancho Cordova is home to many small businesses, the City now welcomes a small business that helps start up and support other small businesses. Hacker Lab recently opened a new location at 11275 Sunrise Gold Circle, Unit A & J – its third location in the Sacramento region – to fuel entrepreneurs and advanced manufacturers of the future! Hacker Lab will offer classes on fabrication, technology, entrepreneurship and more. It will also host wood-working machines, laser cutters and 3D printers, a co-working space, and more to help small businesses get started and thrive in their industry.

“Here at Hacker Lab, we believe that everyone deserves a space and an opportunity to better themselves,” says Eric Ullrich, Hacker Lab co-founder. “We aim to inspire people by introducing new possibilities and by providing resources to empower them to think big and realize their dreams.”

The City of Rancho Cordova also welcomes Burgerim, a new mini burger restaurant located at 4040 Sunrise Boulevard, Suite 100, as well as Poke and Tea, a Hawaiian-style restaurant located at 2310 Sunrise Boulevard, Suite 3.

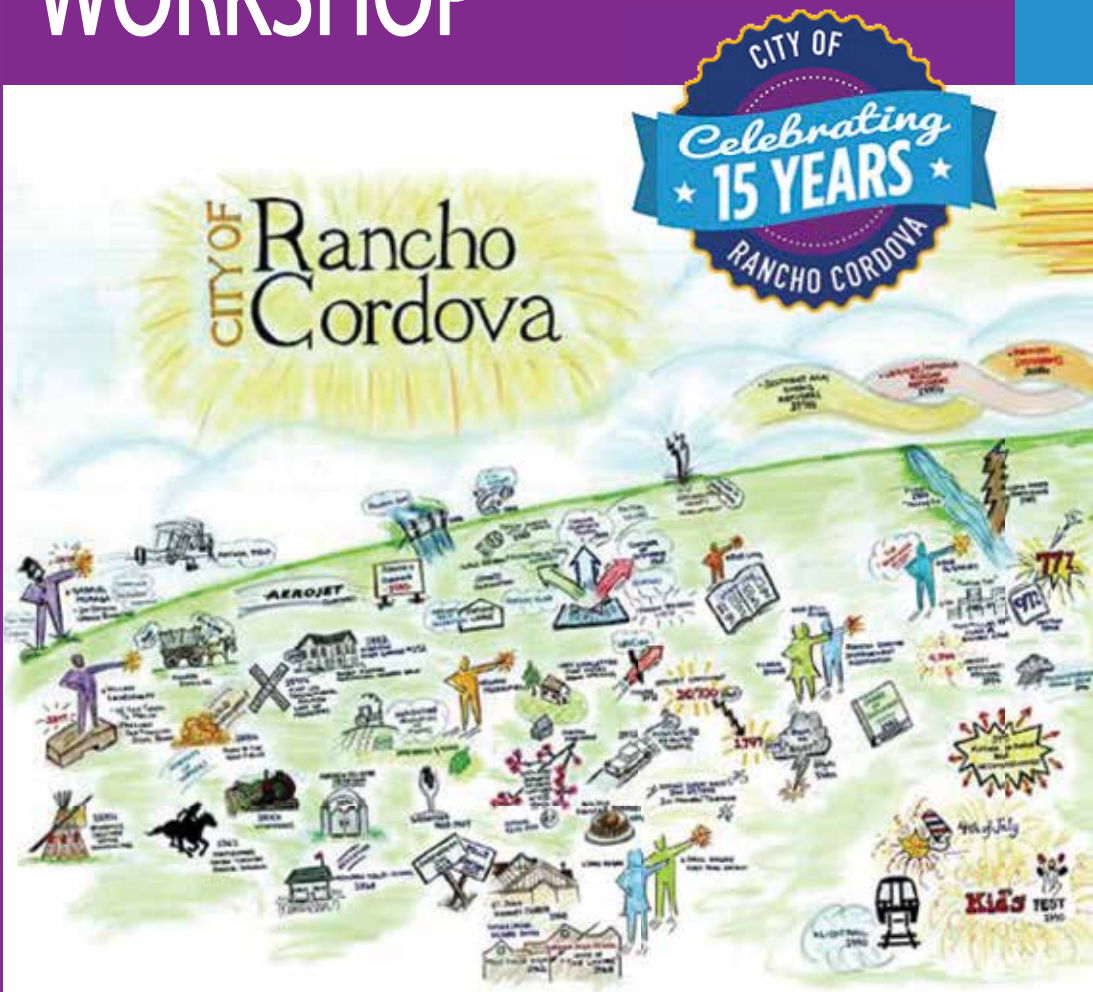

Rancho Cordova animal lovers can give their furry friends a check-up at the newly opened Rancho Pet Hospital, which opened its doors to the community at 3101 Zinfandel Drive, Suite 144.

“After working at several different hospitals, one day I decided to open my own practice to provide quality pet care at an affordable price, which every pet owner deserves,” says owner and veterinarian Dr. Ravi Pasumarthi. “As soon as I made that decision, the City of Rancho Cordova became my first choice. It has a special place in my heart since it is where I started my life in the greater Sacramento area after moving from the Bay Area in 2010. Today, I am so fortunate to serve the Rancho Cordova community through my hospital with the mission to provide quality pet care to your companion and with compassion.”

The City of Rancho Cordova welcomes these new businesses to our growing community! EE bond dilemma

Dear Dave,

I have about $36,000 in debt, not including my house. Of that amount, $30,000 is a truck that’s worth about what I owe on it, and the other $6,000 is student loan debt. I make $50,000 a year. I also have 24 EE bonds that were gifted to me that haven’t fully matured. Right now, they’re worth a combined $12,500. Should I cash those in, and use the money to pay off some of my debt, or let them fully mature before cashing them in? Also, are there any tax ramifications from cashing them in?

-Patrick

Dear Robbie,

They might be taxed, but it won’t be much to worry about. EE bonds make less than one percent, so you haven’t really earned much. Never buy those things, man. They’re a horrible investment, with an even worse rate of return.

Dave Says

I’m glad you’re working out a plan and moving toward getting out of debt. A $30,000 truck doesn’t work with a $50,000 income. So, cash in the bonds immediately, sell the truck, and use some of the money from the EE bonds to pay off the school loans. Then, find yourself a cheap, little truck that will get you around for a few years.

You can do this, Patrick. I want you to have a nice truck one day, but I don’t want that truck to be a burden. This one’s got you by the throat, and you’re feeling it, aren’t you?

Drive like no one else for a little while now, so that later you can really drive like no one else!

—Dave

ID theft protection in the baby steps?

Dear Dave,

Where in the Baby Steps does identity theft protection fall? Should we cover the kids, too, or only the adults in our household?

-Laura

Laura,

Everyone needs identity theft protection. Unless you’re one of these folks who have gone completely off the grid, someone out there probably has a few of your numbers. Between sloppiness on the part of consumers, and the massive data breaches that have occurred in the last few years, almost everyone has experienced, or will experience, some sort of identity theft. Unfortunately, this is today’s world.

I don’t really consider identity theft protection part of the Baby Steps. It’s like life insurance or car insurance, in that it’s something almost everyone needs. Things like that should just be part of your budget every month.

The Board of Directors of the Cordova Recreation and Park District will conduct a public hearing to adopt and revise the District Fee Schedule, per the provisions of CA Government Code 66018. The District will establish, through Resolution, user fees and fees for service based on the cost of providing the service, which will include direct, indirect, and capital costs. - Any new fees, fees modified by 20% or more, and fees proposed to be eliminated would be presented to the Board for approval. Modifications to existing fees of less than 20% would be presented to the District Administrator for approval during the same process.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

Truth Is, I'm Runnin' Out of People to Call

“Doctor’s office.”
“That you, Doc?”
“Sure is. How you doing, Windy?”
“Finer’n frog hair, Doc. Say, did you hear about ol’ Bob over at the junction?”
“Sure was a shame, Windy. I had no idea he was sick. Went pretty fast is what I heard.”
“Me, too. Say Doc, you remember Minnie up at the capitol? I heard she passed just last week.”

“You don’t say. That’s a shame. Used to see her at dances at the Legion. So how are you, Windy?”
“Oh, I’m okay, I guess. Them pills you gave me seem to be helpin’ with the arthur-itis and the lombardo of the back. How ‘bout you, Doc? Eatin’ good? Gettin’ some exercise?”
Doc shrugged and looked to see if his next patient was sitting in the waiting room yet. Not yet.

“Doing just fine, Windy, for a semi-old person.”
“I’m shore glad to hear that, Doc. Missus Doc doin’ good, too?”
“I heard her sister passed not long ago.”
“That’s true, but her sister was 12 years older, you know.”
“Oh, okay.”

“Say Windy, I know there must have been some reason for you to call me up today. Are you sure you don’t need to come in and see me?”
“Oh, not today, Doc. Just wanted to see how you’re getting’ along. Truth is, I’m runnin’ out of people to call.”

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons whomay be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Donald Clyde Wood. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Dwayne R. Wood in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Dwayne R. Wood, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. CHEERS & JEERS

by Damian Holbrook

Cheers to Trial & Error

for its sustained appeal. Season 2's "Lady, Killer" case was such a criminally fun platform for Kristin Chenoweth's kooky defendant and the entire ensemble cast (Sherri Shepherd, pictured, slayed!) that we will be raising several objections if NBC doesn't bring it back next summer.

Cheers to Suits

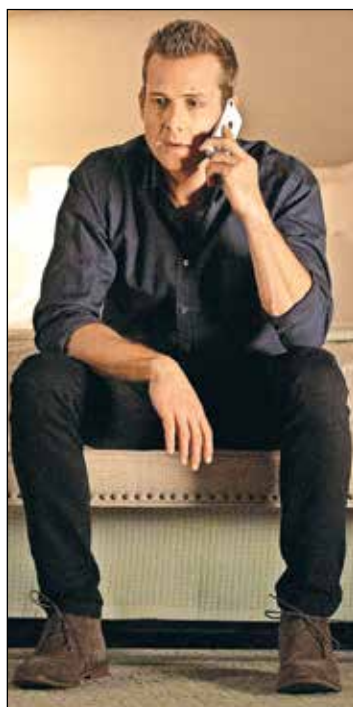

for playing its ace. After the exits of Patrick J. Adams and Meghan Markle, plus Katherine Heigl's knockout arrival, it's cool the show still knows it's at its best when Gabriel Macht's multilayered Harvey (pictured) confronts the Specter family ghosts, as he did recently while handling his unfaithful brother's divorce.

Jeers to a Designing Women reboot

Between Pose, RuPaul's Drag Race and Riverdale's Cheryl Blossom, TV's top divas these days are true originals. Go cook up something fresh and leave the classic comedy about sassy Georgia peaches (pictured) alone. You can't improve on perfection.

Jeers to The Affair

for cheating Alison out of a happy ending. The only thing worse than making it look like Ruth Wilson's character killed herself was the reveal that she'd been offed by her beau (Ramon Rodriguez). TV needs to stop passing off violence against women as a plot twist. ★

Suits' Gabriel Macht's multilayered Harvey (pictured) confronts the Specter family ghosts.

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

WHY DID THEY CANCEL FACE OFF?

Question: With all the new/old shows making a comeback, how about bringing back The Closer with Kyra Sedgwick?—Carole Matt Roush: Too soon. And very unlikely. When Kyra Sedgwick left The Closer after seven seasons, which then became Major Crimes for the next six, it seemed she had gone as far as she was willing to go with Brenda Leigh and was ready to move on. (Unfortunately, ABC's Ten Days in the Valley didn't quite work out.) Given that between the two series, more than 200 episodes were filmed, that's a pretty solid legacy. I loved her character and the show in general, and if she decided to come back to the role, I know I'd watch. The show had a great, long run, but asking for more is a bit greedy.

Question: Is The Last Ship coming back this fall on TNT?—Charles

question a lot lately, because the show traditionally has aired in the summer and many are worried they had someone missed it. The fifth and final season will begin Sept. 9.

Question: I really love the show Vikings on History. When will the new season start?—F Farmer

Matt Roush: The fifth season resumes on Nov. 28, with the remaining 10 episodes. A sixth season is already in production.

Gang Members Sentenced for Crime Spree Ending in Murder

DATE: August 27, 2018
CASE: Tevita Kaihea & Charlie Hola
(Case #15F07862)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Jeff Hightower, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Maryanne Gilliard sentenced Tevita Kaihea to 112 years to life in prison. Charlie Hola was previously sentenced to 48 years and 8 months to life in prison on June 22, 2018. On April 18, 2018, a jury convicted Kaihea of the first-degree murder of Roman Gonzalez, attempted murder, two counts of robbery, vehicle theft and being a felon in possession of a firearm. Hola was convicted of the second-degree murder of Roman Gonzalez, two counts of robbery, vehicle theft and being a felon in possession of a firearm. The jury also found true multiple firearm allegations and gang enhancements for both defendants.

Tevita Kaihea and Charlie Hola are members of the Tongan Crip criminal street gang. On September 3, 2015, Kaihea and Hola stole a car from the 47th Avenue Light Rail Station. They drove the stolen car to a Church's Chicken on Florin Road, where they committed an armed robbery. They then shot a south Sacramento resident in the face when the resident noticed the two acting suspiciously in the neighborhood. That victim survived the shooting. After dumping the car near Sacramento City College, Kaihea and Hola got into a gang fight ending in the shooting death of Norteno gang member Roman Gonzalez. Kaihea shot and killed Roman Gonzalez on the Sacramento City College campus.

Prison Inmates Convicted of Murder, Assault

DATE: August 29, 2018
CASE: Rudy Delossantos & Michael Robles
(Case #16FE016544)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Charles Gonzalez, Prison Crimes Unit

Rudy Delossantos and Michael Robles were convicted by a jury of murder and assault by a life prisoner for the killing of Humberto Torres. Delossantos and Robles were inmates at California State Prison - Sacramento. On July 7, 2016, the pair attacked fellow inmate Humberto Torres in the main exercise yard. Delossantos was armed with an inmate manufactured weapon and stabbed Torres in the chest and back. Robles punched and kicked Torres in the torso, face and head. Responding correctional officers stopped the assault by deploying pepper spray grenades. Torres received immediate medical assistance, but he died from excessive blood loss suffered as a result of the multiple stab wounds.

In 2006, Delossantos was convicted of first-degree murder. In 2005, Robles was convicted of six counts of attempted murder.

Both defendants face a sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole. Sentencing is set for October 5, 2018, in Department 24 before the Honorable Shelleyanne Chang.

Defendant Convicted of Assault, Sexual Battery While on Duty as Firefighter

DATE: August 30, 2018
CASE: Jared Evans (Case #17FE010141)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Bret Wasley, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

Jared Evans was convicted by a jury of felony assault under the color of authority and misdemeanor sexual battery.

On April 1, 2017, the 19-year-old victim had a seizure and briefly stopped breathing. Her family called 911. The Sacramento Fire Department arrived on scene and transported her to a hospital. The responding crew consisted of Jared Evans, an intern and a driver. While on duty in the back of the ambulance and supervising the intern, Evans made a comment about the victim's breasts. Moments later, Evans reached his hand into the victim's shirt, pulled out her breast and showed it to the intern. He put her breast back in her shirt and said to the intern, "Sorry bro, I had to." When Evans learned the victim was 19, he stated, "At least she's legal." Once the intern reported what had happened, the Sacramento Fire Department Internal Affairs called the victim. They quickly learned that even though she had just suffered a seizure, she could hear and feel what occurred. She heard the comment about her breasts and felt her breast being touched. She told her mother and cousin after the incident, but did not report it out of fear that no one would believe her.

Evans faces a maximum sentence of 3 years in county jail prison and will be required to register as a sex offender. Sentencing is set for October 5, 2018, in Department 38 before the Honorable Sharon Lueras.

RANCHO SPORTS

Lancers Fall to the Knights

Cordova junior Joey Estrada.

Story by Keith Jouganas

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rio Linda Knights have become accustomed to scoring a lot of points and in the last two weeks of the season they've become accustomed to winning.

The Knights once again established dominance through their offense in a 48-15 victory on the road at Cordova High Friday night.

Head Coach Jack Garceau remained cool, calm, and collective speaking to media members following the victory, citing his team's ability to bounce back and continue to work hard after losing in Week 1 of the season 40-26 to Center High School.

"We just have a group of guys who knew how to bounce back," said Garceau.

"These guys have been working hard through the whole offseason and into these first three weeks of the year and it's refreshing to see it pay off for them on nights like tonight."

In front of a raucous crowd that was decked out in a sea of Cordova High red, the Knights offense got going early thanks to the hard style running of both Johnny Serrano and team captain Cameron Skattebo.

Serrano set the tone early in the contest, having both of his two rushing touchdowns on the night coming in the first half and allowing Rio Linda to possess a firm grasp on the game.

"We have to give credit to our offensive line, they just did an amazing job tonight blocking," said Serrano.

"Our offense as a whole really played well tonight and it showed."

Garceau praised Serrano for his ability to get the tough yards in between the numbers and grind it out, draining the energy of Cordova's defense.

"We have a really good running back and he just showed what he's capable of tonight," said Garceau.

Up 27-9 with less than 15 seconds to go, Rio Linda got the ball back and opted for one more try to tack on more insurance points on the board. They succeeded when quarterback Tyson Ybarra hooked up with Kyle Deloney-Spencer for a huge passing touchdown just as the clock ticked 0 on the scoreboard to signal halftime.

Cordova could gain no ground the whole night and looked out of sync from the get go. Senior QB Johnle Sanders looked to be ready to play after suffering from symptoms of a concussion sustained in week 1 but hardly saw any time at quarterback. Instead Cordova and Head Coach John McCoy opted to go with Joey Estrada as their signal caller, who was plagued by bad snaps and turnovers all night that repeatedly took the ball out of Cordova's hands.

The Lancers made the play-offs the last two years, but an 0-3 start now has them looking to try and finally just pick up a win. It will be interesting to see what McCoy does, Sanders was played at running back for a majority of the game and held his own. Estrada displayed his talent at times, including a great touchdown pass to Anthony Diaz, yet also showed an inability to keep the ball in the hands of Cordova with numerous turnovers.

At 0-3 Cordova will travel to Rosemont and look for their first win this Friday night, September 7 at 7PM while Rio Linda will look to continue their two game winning streak when they face Roseville at home at 7PM. ★

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Folsom Lake College men's soccer team continued their torrid start to the 2018 season on Saturday night with a convincing 6-0 victory over Lassen College at Falcon Stadium. The Falcons wasted little time, with early goals by sophomore Arthur de Lima and freshman Adrian Jimenez in the first 20 minutes of play.

As the match moved into the second half, the Falcons wore down the Lassen squad, stringing together consecutive passes on the attacking end. Freshman forward Ethan Viers tallied two second-half goals along with an assist, while sophomore scoring leader Miguel Medina found the net for his state-leading fifth goal of the young season. Jimenez added his second goal of the match in the 75th minute to cap off the scoring. Viers was named 'Man of the Match' for his offensive contributions.

The Falcons are now 4-0 on the season. Their next home game is on Friday, September 14 at 4PM when they host Contra Costa.

It’s On to the Next Chapter for Rancho Cordova Pastor

By Shelly Blanchard

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Pastor David McFarland sat perched on his chair at the front of the church, the sleeves on his crisp white shirt rolled up to the elbow. Silver streaked his hair, testament to the passing of the years. And just as he has for the past 30 years at New Life Center in Rancho Cordova, he shared what was in his heart.

This Sunday was different, however. McFarland choked up occasionally as he spoke to his congregation for the last time. He is retiring, to rest with wife Marsha, who has led the church’s music ministry at his side, and to “get as close as God and one another as we can.”

McFarland has been marrying, baptizing and saying final goodbyes at New Life Center since arriving in 1988. In those early days, he and his flock weathered the shutdown of Mather Air Force Base and the immediate loss of 10 families. He estimates he has delivered 4,680 sermons over the past 30 years. He has prepared another 2,000 Bible studies.

There have been good times and not so good times, as churches have life cycles, too. And then there is his iconic little train, built beginning with an old riding lawn mower - more about that later.

McFarland and Marsha were childhood sweethearts in the tiny community of Live Oak, marrying young. McFarland says he was supporting himself and his wife as a house framer and got into the ministry at age 22 by accident – and on his talented wife’s skirt tails. An accomplished pianist, she had been invited to play on multiple occasions at a church in San Francisco. During these visits the congregation grew to love Marsha and her young husband, and to make a long story short, they were both hired – she as a music minister, he as a youth pastor.

During the next decade, while they tended to their flock, McFarland became an ordained minister in the Assemblies of God Church. With children of their own growing toward their teen years, the couple began looking to get out of the city. They ended up on Zinfandel Drive in Rancho Cordova, chosen over 63 other applicants who were hoping to make the same move, after he and Marsha peered through the window of the church on a hot Saturday morning and said it “felt like home.”

McFarland claims he got the job by “pestering” for two months. In December 1988, he and Marsha arrived in Rancho Cordova. “It’s been a love affair ever since,” he said, eyes shining with tears.

Like many pastors, ministering to the community does not end at the church door. And in McFarland’s case, that has included regularly donning a train engineer’s hat and climbing into a tiny train; his own “little train that could.”

Roll past New Life Center and you cannot help but notice the colorful mural painted on the front of the church depicting happy children waving from a train. If you are part of the preschool there you might get a ride on a train that looks a lot like it once a week, built by the loving hands of Pastor McFarland himself.

But how did it come to be?

It goes back to 2008 during the financial meltdown that came to be known as the Great Recession. During that time many parents could no longer afford to send their kids of the New Life Center Preschool and the stack of bills got higher as the enrollment rolls got shorter. It looked like the school would have to close.

But McFarland adheres to the notion that God helps those who help themselves. He conjured up the idea that building a little train for kids might just draw enough attention to the preschool that it could be saved.

He has always been mechanically inclined, and it really did not seem so hard to start with a riding lawnmower and transform it into a train. And as he worried and prayed about the future of his preschool, his little train started to take shape.

There’s an engine. There’s a blue car, a yellow car, a red car, and a caboose of sorts. And today, if you are at a community event with children in Rancho Cordova, McFarland is probably at the controls, while giggling kids of all ages take a little train ride.

At Kids Day, the train runs non-stop down to the Live Steamers Railroad, which by the way, McFarland also supports. At the Fourth of July, you will see the train in the parade, passengers waving flags. At the Christmas Tree Lighting, decked out in lights, the little train chugs happily away, a cargo of Rancho Cordovans in tow.

What happened to the preschool? Well, the train, or the good Lord, did the trick and today it continues, along with weekly rides for the kids.

To tell the truth, McFarland said, the preschool was saved mainly because another church preschool closed and the students remaining there transferred over to New Life.

“In closing their preschool, ours was able to survive,” he told us. “They gave us 17 of their students and that was enough to start the healing process and get our preschool on solid financial ground. We will always be grateful for that act of kindness. That is the kind of people we have in Rancho Cordova.”

During his 46 total years as a pastor, McFarland had a television ministry called “The Lighthouse” in San Francisco, provided by a cable television company when he objected to their adult programming. He wrote short community ministry messages published in The Grapevine Independent for three years when he first arrived in the community. He and Marsha have lived in Rancho Cordova the entire time in a home near the church which gave David a “78-step commute.”

He has given train rides to everybody from the Spanish-speaking volleyball club that shows up regularly in Ahlstrom Park next to the church, to the Hells Angels in town for a meet-up at Cal Expo, and thousands of others in between. “I just love it,” he said. The Cordova Community Council honored him as an Outstanding Volunteer for his loving “train ministry” in 2017.

As is the custom, McFarland and Marsha will “disappear” for a few months while new pastor Lance Feliciano settles in. After a period, McFarland said he would like to return and drive his train at community celebrations like Kids Day and Christmas, take the New Life Preschoolers for their weekly rides, and perhaps minister to seniors. As a retirement gig, he will be a “train for hire.”

“I am content, I am a happy guy, as long as I can drive my train,” he quipped.

He wrapped up his final sermon much as he started it, when he noted that while he and Marsha will cease to be New Life’s pastors, “we will always be your friends. We love you.”

Apologizing for running a little long, he then jabbed, “but what can you do? Fire me?”

McFarland said his successor, like other ministers, has his work cut out for him. Running a church is more difficult now, with the “busyness and difficulty of life.” He said he has watched young families struggle to make ends meet, and with time so precious, grapple to find room for church activity.

In his long career, he said he has seen the “good, the bad and the ugly,” but still feels enormously blessed.

“It’s been a ball,” he said, gazing out the window at cars passing on Zinfandel Drive. “I love the people of Rancho Cordova. It has been a wonderful, wonderful journey these last 30 years.” ★
