RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In early spring of this year, Patrick Larkin, the District Administrator for the Cordova Recreation and Park District, turned to community partner Rebecca Budge, a Program Assistant for the Folsom-Cordova Unified School District's Homeless Student Services, to find out what area youth need most.

Upon hearing the answer, the Cordova Recreation and Park District launched "We've Got Your Back," a backpack and underwear drive for elementary to high school aged youth. Last week, Cordova Recreation and Park District made their first delivery to Rebecca Budge, who will work to distribute donations to those that need them most. This first delivery included over 50 contributions made by a combination of district residents and CRPD employees.

A number of teens, all members of the Cordova Recreation and Park District's HYDE Out Teen Center, also joined the "We've Got Your Back" effort. During their afterschool program, the teens personalized the district's plain collection containers, covering them with inspirational quotes, bright flowers and colorful designs.

In addition to the backpack and underwear drive, the Cordova Recreation and Park District partners with the City of Rancho Cordova's Homeless Outreach Team to engage and assist individuals and families experiencing homelessness and help them improve their situation.

The Homeless Outreach Team, comprised of two officers, code enforcement and a Homeless Navigator, builds relationships with homeless individuals and families to assist them in finding services, education and resources to help them become self-sufficient, while also enforcing violations of the law, throughout the city.

The backpack and underwear drive will continue until the close of the year and donation bins can be found at locations across the Cordova Recreation and Park District. Call 916-842-3300 for more information. ★

ISIS Member Arrested on Eastern Avenue

Held in Sacramento
County Without Bail

By MPG Staff

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Last week the FBI arrested an ISIS member wanted for the murder of an Iraqi police officer in June of 2014. The suspect, Omar Abdulsattar Ameen, 45, is also connected to other acts of terrorism and terrorist organizations. Federal Agents, with the aid of the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department and Metro Fire, raided an apartment in the Eastern Villa complex on Eastern Avenue on the morning of Wednesday, August 15.

"Ameen, originally of Rawah, in the Anbar province of Iraq, fled Iraq following the alleged murder, and later settled in Sacramento as a purported refugee," according to an official US Department of Justice release. "It is alleged that Ameen's family supported and assisted the installation of al-Qaeda in Iraq (AQI) in Rawah, and that Ameen was a member of AQI and ISIS. It is also alleged that he participated in various activities in support of those terrorist organizations, including helping to plant improvised explosive devices, and committing the murder that is the subject of the extradition request. Ameen concealed his membership in those terrorist groups when he applied for refugee status, and later when he applied for a green card in the United States."

The FBI Joint Terrorism Task Force has been investigating Ameen since 2016 for suspected violations, including fraud and misuse of visa, permits and other documents.

According to reports, Iraqi authorities want US officials to allow Ameen to be extradited back to his home country to face charges that could result in the death penalty. Ameen is currently being held in Sacramento County without bail and is seen as a flight risk and a danger to society. ★

Multicultural Business Expo Relocates to Carmichael

By Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Now in its ninth year, the Multicultural Business Expo has relocated to the Patriot Event Center at Milagro Centre on Fair Oaks Boulevard at Marconi Avenue. Olga Ivannikov, CFO of Russian American Media and the event's organizer, is excited about the new location. "The expo is going to be both outdoors with canopies and indoors with a hall filled with exhibitors," she said, adding that local restaurants, breweries, and wineries would be on hand with samples for hungry attendees and exhibitors.

More than 100 businesses and non-profit agencies are expected to exhibit at this year's event, which, based on the event's continued growth, should draw more than 2,000 attendees from the greater Sacramento region. "This year we wish to make an emphasis on personal connections," she said. The face to face meeting is why the event draws so many people.

The expo provides a forum for small business owners to connect with other small business owners or with banks, credit unions, or with many businesses that offer subcontracting opportunities. For students and recent graduates, there will be opportunities to connect with

The Multicultural Business Expo will be held on Wednesday, September 5 from 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. at the Milagro Centre in Carmichael.

Institute, and CSUS will be on hand with information about undergraduate programs, the transfer process for community college students, opportunities for working adults, and the all-important financial aid. Asher College, founded in 1998, is a trade school specializing in medical, business, and IT with campuses in Sacramento, Dallas, and Las Vegas. SETA, now in its fourth decade, features Sacramento Works with offices in Sacramento, Mather, Rancho Cordova, and Citrus Heights.

Job seekers should be prepared with resumes and proper business attire to meet with the many businesses that will be on hand. Connect with Wells Fargo Bank, SAFE Credit Union, American River Bank, and others to learn about available positions, the hiring process, or to submit your resume in person.

Other exhibitors with business or learning opportunities include GRID Alternatives, a non-profit organization based in Oakland. GRID works in the highly popular field of renewable energy and offers volunteers the opportunity to assist with installation projects, a sort of try before you buy idea. GRID also has training, certification programs, and jobs. ANG Health Care, Inc., located in Folsom, will be on hand to discuss its offerings in skilled nursing, speech therapy, and in-home care services. Insurance companies, accounting firms, medical offices, and health clubs are expected to be on hand to answer questions and provide information.

The expo has grown each year and draws people from Sacramento County and surrounding areas. "We started out as a local community fair and grew into a major business exposition which is organized by a number of non-profits and all major chambers in the Sacramento valley," said Ivannikov. "We reach out to Rancho Cordova, Roseville, Elk Grove, West Sacramento, Sacramento. We contact all of the multicultural chambers, the Asian Pacific, Hispanic, African American, and the metro chamber."

businesses that may have job opportunities like the Sacramento Sheriff's Department or California Highway Patrol. Mid-career business people will also find opportunities to connect and pass out resumes. The general public can connect with possible service providers, pick up samples, and wander the booths.

Some exhibitors will be familiar names throughout the region. SMUD's Supplier Emerging Enterprise Development (SEED) team will help small business owners learn about state certification and bid on SMUD contracts. "They'll provide an overview of our business contracting procedures and explain the SEED program in detail," said Chris Capra, SMUD's Public Information Specialist. Exhibiting at this business expo helps SMUD grow its pool of qualified potential contractors and helps business owners learn how to maneuver the state's certification program, a win-win for both. "SMUD also realizes reciprocal benefits by promoting the economic development of its customers who own the company," added Capra.

Other exhibitors, like Language World Services, Inc., may be less familiar. This translation and interpretation organization, located in Carmichael, provides services in more than 80 languages for healthcare, law enforcement, conferences, insurance, disaster preparedness, and many other areas. Job opportunities are available throughout the Sacramento region and San Francisco Bay Area.

Exhibitors will be on hand in three different areas. The business expo will feature government and corporate entities offering resources and contracting opportunities to small business owners. Joining SMUD will be Siemens, DGS, and others. Owners interested in business financing, presenting their products or services, investigating export opportunities, and reaching new customers should stop by with business cards.

Students and recent high school graduates may wish to peruse the educational opportunities area. Asher College, Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA), Pacific Charter

RCPD Welcomes New Motor Officers

By Ashley Downton,
City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rancho Cordova Police Department (RCPD) has three new motorcycle officers to support our community.

RCPD's Traffic Unit includes six motor officers whose focus is to enforce the vehicle code traffic laws, investigate serious and fatal traffic collisions, and assist patrol officers with traffic collision and driving under the influence investigations. The motor officers also respond to traffic complaints made by residents, proactively enforce bicycle and pedestrian laws, and provide traffic control for large community events.

RCPD is pleased to welcome three new motor officers to the Traffic Unit following the recent retirements of other officers. Two of these officers you may remember from the inaugural edition of The Dispatch when they graduated from motor school. Please help us welcome our new motor officers.

Officer Mark Baxter

Officer Mark Baxter began his law enforcement career in 1999 when he attended the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Academy. Upon graduation, he became an officer with the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department and worked at the main jail and with Sacramento Regional Transit police.

Officer Baxter grew up in Rancho Cordova and attended Peter J. Shields Elementary, Mills Middle School and Cordova High School. When Rancho Cordova became a city in 2003, he joined RCPD as a patrol officer.

"I had lots of friends and family in the Rancho Cordova area," said Officer Baxter. "I wanted to play a role in ensuring Rancho Cordova was a safe and great community for everyone to live in."

Officer Baxter had always ridden motorcycles personally and decided to take a Sheriff's Motor Training Class in 2004. He then joined RCPD's Traffic Unit as a motor officer and served in that role until 2007.

Officer Baxter then served on the Problem Oriented Policing (POP) Unit for eight years. He often partnered with the Sacramento County Probation Department and City of Rancho Cordova's Code Enforcement team to address long-term public safety issues and properties with numerous calls for service. The Unit also created the Christmas in Cordova program in partnership with the Folsom Cordova Community Partnership and other local organizations to support families in need during the holiday season.

In 2015, Officer Baxter had an opportunity to join the Investigations Unit and enjoyed learning the investigations side of law enforcement. However, he missed the opportunity to be out in the community and re-joined the Traffic Unit as a motor officer in 2018.

"It's an honor to be back serving the community as a motor officer," said Officer Baxter. "The motor team has always been a family to me, and I feel like I'm back with that family."

Officer Baxter also has been involved with the Rancho Cordova Police Activities League since its inception. He enjoys being able to make a difference, one child at a time.

After serving the majority of his law enforcement career in Rancho Cordova, Officer Baxter feels as if he's been able to play a role in serving his community.

"I became an officer because I wanted to help the community and enjoy interacting with people," said Officer Baxter. "Since incorporation, the city as a whole has improved and RCPD has always played a role in that by putting the community first."

Officer Ken Gouveia

Officer Ken Gouveia's grandfather was a Deputy for the Stanislaus County Sheriff's Department for 30 years, and he spent a lot of time at his grandparents' house growing up. Due to his grandfather's example, Officer Gouveia knew he wanted to pursue a career in law enforcement at eight years old.

Officer Gouveia was taking courses at California State University, Sacramento when he decided to apply for the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Academy. He attended and graduated from the Academy, and he became an officer with the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department in 2005. Officer Gouveia has worked at the Main Jail, North Patrol and East Patrol for the last 13 years.

Officer Gouveia always had an interest in doing motorcycle and traffic enforcement. In 2017, Officer Gouveia decided to go to the Sacramento Regional Drivers Training Facility's Basic Police Motor School class to get one step closer towards his goal. He graduated after completing 160 hours of pre-training and training to teach him how to safely ride a police motorcycle. In March 2018, Officer Gouveia joined RCPD's Traffic Unit as a motor officer.

"RCPD is unlike any other division in the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department," said Officer Gouveia. "Everyone is always happy and uplifting, both the people I work with and the residents who regularly wave to you when you're out in the community."

Officer Gouveia enjoys learning about a new spectrum of law enforcement as a motor officer that he wasn't familiar with before, including new procedures and laws.

"On top of it, who would not like to have their job be on a motorcycle all day?" he said.

Officer Ron Sutter

Officer Ron Sutter came from a military family, and law enforcement was the closest career that didn't require him to move around. He also had a high school girlfriend whose dad was a former California Highway Patrol and often told him stories about his career. Both of these experiences influenced Officer Sutter to take criminal justice courses in college before applying for and attending the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Academy in 1994.

Upon graduating from the Academy, he became an officer for the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department and served in various roles including the Rio Cosumnes Correctional Center, Main Jail, North Patrol, East Patrol and patrol in the Delta area.

His first experience with RCPD was on East Patrol in 2006 serving the unincorporated areas of Sacramento County. The Rancho Cordova Police Station houses officers serving both the City of Rancho Cordova and the East Division. After leaving to serve other communities, he was able to re-join East Patrol three years ago.

"I was born in Sacramento, and my dad was in the U.S. Air Force assigned to Mather Air Force Base," said Officer Sutter. "Our first house was in Rosemont. I am happy to now be working in the same area I grew up in."

In 2017, Officer Sutter had aspirations of working with the community as a motor officer. He decided to go to the Sacramento Regional Drivers Training Facility's Basic Police Motor School class to get one step closer towards his goal. He graduated after completing 160 hours of pre-training and training to teach him how to safely ride a police motorcycle. In March 2018, Officer Sutter joined RCPD's Traffic Unit as a motor officer.

"I am proud to be part of the Traffic Unit making a difference in the community," said Officer Sutter. "Each day, we are making people better drivers through traffic enforcement and getting drivers who are under the influence off the streets."

Interest rates are variable and subject to change without notice. 2. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is effective for accounts opened between 7/9/2018 to 8/31/2018 and is subject to change at any time without notice. The 11-month New Dollar CD special requires a minimum of $25,000 brought to Wells Fargo from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank N.A., or its affiliates to earn the advertised APY. Public Funds and Wholesale accounts are not eligible for this offer. APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. Interest is compounded daily. Payment of interest on CDs is based on term: For terms less than 12 months (365 days), interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or at maturity (the end of the term). For terms of 12 months or more, interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. A fee for early withdrawal will be imposed and could reduce earnings on this account. Special Rates are applicable to the initial term of the CD only. At maturity, the special rate CD will automatically renew for a term of 6 months, at the interest rate and APY in effect for CDs on renewal date not subject to a Special Rate, unless the Bank has notified you otherwise. APY shown offered at Wells Fargo Bank locations in CA, MS, MT, NC, and SC. Due to the new money requirement, accounts may only be opened at your local branch. Offer cannot be: • Combined with any other consumer deposit offer. • Minimum new money deposit requirement of at least $25,000 is for this offer only and cannot be transferred to another account to qualify for any other consumer deposit offer. • If you wish to take advantage of another consumer deposit offer requiring a minimum new money deposit, you will be required to do so with another new money deposit as stated in the offer requirements and qualifications. • Reproduced, purchased, sold, transferred, or traded. 3. The Portfolio by Wells Fargo program has a $30 monthly service fee, which can be avoided when you have one of the following qualifying balances: $25,000 or more in qualifying linked bank deposit accounts (checking, savings, CDs, FDIC-insured IRAs) or $50,000 or more in any combination of qualifying linked banking, brokerage (available through Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC) and credit balances (including 10% of mortgage balances, certain mortgages not eligible). If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the bonus interest rate on all eligible savings accounts, and discounts or fee waivers on other products and services, will discontinue and revert to the Bank's then-current applicable rate or fee. If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the remaining unlinked Wells Fargo Portfolio Checking or Wells Fargo Prime Checking account will be converted to another checking product or closed.

And Another Thing ...

A Time to Remember

and cemeteries were made to thank and remember the United States military that saved many countries and brought peace back to the world. There are, of course, many heroic things remembered by some for a while, but generations are replaced by new generations and many of those heroic events fade away. That is why remembering time, people and places are so important for the new generations to learn what the generation or two before them did and how it affects them. Maybe their own grandparents or great-grandparents did much more than they may ever know if they never ask.

Something that isn't kept in history books, nor is it mentioned on Memorial Day or Veterans Day, is the way the prisoners of war were treated by the United States and its allies after World War II. It was commented on by Justice Robert Jackson, Chief U.S. Council to the International Military Tribunal, in Nuremberg, Germany on November 21, 1945, "That four great nations, flushed with victory and stung with injury stay the hand of vengeance and voluntarily submit their captive enemies to the judgement of the law is one of the most significant tributes that Power has ever paid to Reason." Looking at some of the history of the past, and what some victors of the past have done to their enemies after they won a war, makes me very proud of something else that the "greatest generation" did after World War II ended. I wish that reason was still in the vocabulary of people who lose all reason when they get angry, for example, like driving on the road.

I know this is between Memorial Day and Veterans Day, but some of the calendars I mentioned earlier make me think about history again. Each of us remembers their own history and what we remember was going on then, and how different or better things were then. Our memories may help us remember more of the good than the bad, but a few hold on to the bad and brush aside the good. That can make life seem harder than it need be. I told our children that when they are upset or angry about something or someone, to think for a minute about how important that will be to them in the next hour. Time today goes by too fast and there are too many events that can happen in that hour than to hold on to one negative and ignore the positive.

Road rage is, excuse the term, stupid considering how lives are taken away or changed for the rest of people's lives because of a moment's lost temper. We spend too much time driving every day to let something that happens in one instant seem to be so significant and important in our lives. If we were only driving one time in our lives, then anything that happened during that one time might have more meaning. However, since we are not talking about driving only one time in our lives, let us all hope that the drivers of today can have that word reason included in their vocabulary too. Have a little patience even though it may be very hard to do. Eleanor Roosevelt said, "It is not fair to ask of others what you are unwilling to do yourself."

From Vice Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Convicted for Murdering Jail Cellmate

DATE: August 16, 2018
CASE: Richard Russell Harden (Case #09F01356)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Satnam Rattu, Homicide Unit

Richard Russell Harden was convicted by a jury of the second-degree murder of Evaristo Ramirez and assault with a deadly weapon.

On February 16, 2009, Richard Harden walked into the Home Depot on Folsom Blvd. and attacked an employee with a hammer. Harden was booked into jail and placed in a cell with Evaristo Ramirez. The next day, Ramirez was found unresponsive in the cell. An autopsy revealed that Ramirez was strangled to death and had multiple blunt force injuries to his head and torso.

Harden faces a maximum sentence of 19 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for September 14, 2018, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 19 before the Honorable Ernest Sawtelle.

Defendant Sentenced for Series of Armed Robberies

DATE: August 17, 2018
CASE: Taher Farraj (Case #17FE007880)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney James Wax, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Tami Bogert sentenced Taher Farraj to 31 years and 8 months in prison. On June 6, 2018, a jury convicted Farraj of three counts of robbery. The jury also found true gun use and intentional discharge of a firearm allegations. Prior to trial, Farraj pled to being a felon in possession of a firearm and being a felon in possession of ammunition.

On April 15, April 18 and April 24 of 2017, Farraj robbed the same convenience store on Fruitridge Road while armed. Farraj would either ask for change or make a purchase to get the clerks to open the cash register. He would then pull out a silver revolver and grab money from the registers. During one of the robberies, Farraj fired the gun off at the store ceiling. The three robberies were captured on surveillance cameras inside the store. A probation search of Farraj's residence and car revealed clothing that matched the clothes worn by the suspect during the robberies and a .22 caliber silver revolver, which was loaded with 6 rounds.

Farraj has prior convictions for being a felon in possession of a firearm and the sale/transport of marijuana.

Gang Members Convicted of Gun Possession

DATE: August 20, 2018
CASE: Raheem Thomas, Adrien Hines, Isaiah Taylor (Case #18FE002528)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Nicholas Johnson, Targeting Armed Recidivist Gang Enforcement Team (TARGET)

Raheem Thomas and Adrien Hines were convicted by a jury of being a felon in possession of a firearm with a gang enhancement. Isaiah Taylor was convicted of unlawful possession of a firearm with a gang enhancement.

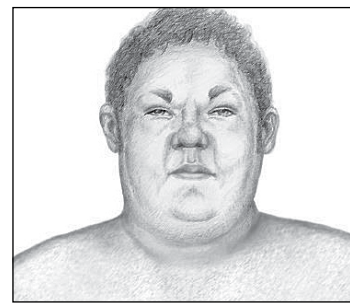

On February 7, 2018, Sacramento County sheriff's deputies had information that Raheem Thomas had an outstanding warrant. When deputies contacted Thomas, he was in the driver's seat of a parked vehicle. When they went to remove Thomas from the vehicle, they found a semiautomatic handgun on the front passenger floorboard. The firearm was fully loaded with a round in the chamber. Thomas later stated that he was a gang member, but denied knowing about the firearm. Adrien Hines and Isaiah Taylor were with Thomas at the time. Hines later gave a statement that the gun will have his DNA and fingerprints on it, but denied owning, using or knowing it was in the vehicle. Deputies also found a firearm in Taylor's front left pocket. The firearm was fully loaded with a round in the chamber. Taylor later gave a statement admitting the gun was his, and that he was a gang member.

Additional allegations that Thomas has a prior 2016 conviction for carrying a concealed gun for the benefit of a criminal street gang and that Hines has a prior 2016 conviction for discharging a firearm at an unoccupied vehicle and a prior 2014 conviction for inflicting corporal injury on spouse will be determined at the sentencing hearing.

Thomas faces a maximum sentence of 17 years in prison. Hines faces a maximum sentence of 16 years in prison. Taylor faces a maximum sentence of 7 years in prison. Sentencing for Thomas and Taylor is set for September 12, 2018, at 9:00 a.m. Hines will be sentenced on October 5, 2018, at 9:00 a.m. Both sentencings will be in Department 39 before the Honorable David Abbott. ★

Incompetent CA DMV Had 13 Years to Implement Real ID Program

Commentary Katy Grimes, Investigative Journalist

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Those incredibly long lines at California DMVs look more like the release of the iPhone X or ticket sales for Beyonce and JayZ. But they are not. People are stuck in long DMV lines just to renew and update their drivers licenses.

Yet the notorious California Department of Motor Vehicles is about to be rewarded for its ineptitude and failures by the California Legislature with an unlimited budget.

News outlets throughout the state have written about 4, 6, and even 8+ hour waits since the January implementation of the DMV's Real ID program

Republican Gubernatorial candidate John Cox has been traveling around the state visiting DMVs handing out bottled water and talking with the folks waiting in these long lines.

What's the problem at the California DMV besides plain old government incompetence and arrogance?

Real ID Issues

The California DMV has had since 2005 to figure out how to implement the Real ID program.

But when the Department of Homeland Security announced that REAL ID enforcement would begin on February 5, 2018, California irresponsibly began its program, without a plan.

According to the Department of Homeland Security, "the REAL ID Act enacted the 9/11 Commission's recommendation that the Federal Government 'set standards for the issuance of sources of identification, such as driver's licenses.' Passed by Congress in 2005, The Act established minimum security standards for state-issued driver's licenses and identification cards and prohibits Federal agencies from accepting for official purposes licenses and identification cards from states that do not meet these standards."

So, despite having 13 years to implement a Real ID, as most other states already have, the California DMV asked for extension after extension — for 13 years. Then, they abruptly started issuing the Real ID in January—even though DHS has not yet approved California's version.

I contacted DHS and asked if the approval has not been granted because California issues California Drivers Licenses to illegal aliens under Assembly Bill 60, signed into law by Gov. Jerry Brown, because the California DMV has been spending vast amounts of resources on making sure illegal aliens have proper identification over California citizens being able to acquire the Real ID.

Or because Gov. Jerry Brown signed the "Gender Recognition Act" allowing

“A friend's college age daughter who recently lost her drivers license, went to the special Capitol DMV office and tried to get a replacement license this week but was turned away. Oddly, she said she was initially told at the Capitol DMV office that they only serve Capitol government employees. They sent her on her way without a replacement license.”

KATY GRIMES

people to change gender on their California Drivers License and birth certificates. CA now allows a third gender on the drivers license — a “non-binary” designation — again, because the California DMV has been prioritizing the gender confused over California citizens being able to acquire the Real ID. Or is there some other reason?

DHS replied back that they “are in the process of reviewing California’s compliance certification and cannot discuss either internal or external deliberations at this time.”

Why No Audit?

Assemblyman Jim Patterson (R-Fresno) requested an audit of the DMV, but at the direction of Gov. Jerry Brown, the Joint Legislative Audit Committee rejected the audit. Brown assured Democrat lawmakers that he would fix the DMV's problems.

I'm not sure how Jerry Brown, who has never had to wait in line at the DMV with the great unwashed and unserved, knows what to do to fix this — other than throw more money at the problem.

This reminds me of the definition of insanity: doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results. Giving an unlimited budget to the California DMV is no different than giving unlimited amounts of heroin to an addict.

Gov. Brown, along with current and former lawmakers enjoys special concierge DMV services at their own private DMV. The tiny, unmarked DMV office is buried deep inside of the Legislative Office Building across the street from the Capitol, devoted to serving the Legislature and its staff. And it is not open to the public. The office serves members of the Legislature and Congress, legislative staff; employees of the Legislative Analyst's Office, the Legislative Counsel and the Legislative Data Center; and elected and appointed officials.

A friend's college age daughter who recently lost her drivers license, tried to get an appointment with her local DMV for a replacement license, but was not able to get in until October. She remembered hearing about the Capitol DMV. She went to the special Capitol DMV office and tried to get a replacement license this week but was turned away. Oddly, she said she was initially told at the Capitol DMV office that they only serve constituents. When she identified herself as a Sacramento voter and constituent, she was then told the special Capitol DMV only serves Capitol government employees. They sent her on her way without a replacement license. To hell with you, peasant!

The CA Legislature has created these problems, and just yesterday a legislative committee passed a bill to allow the DMV to request unlimited future funds with little oversight.

As for the special Capitol DMV office for the elitists in the Legislature, I'm thinking it should be shut down until the DMV is cleaned up statewide, and wait times are reduced to 1 hour or less. Let the lawmakers stand in an 8-hour line. The audit would be approved immediately.

If I can apply for most things online and have them ready for pickup when I arrive, why can't the DMV?

Assemblyman Jim Patterson wanted to know how often DMV computer systems crash? He asked DMV Director Jean Shiomoto in a committee hearing, but she said she didn't know. Patterson said she told him she'd get back to him the next day...that was last week. He is still waiting.

How does Jean Shiomoto still have a job?

In California, the birthplace of the high tech industry, why can't the DMV manage to put a reliable computer system in place? Why such gross incompetence? And why can't a college student get a replacement drivers license before October? ★

USDA Forest Service Announces New Strategy for Improving Forest Conditions

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Forest Service (USFS) announced today a new strategy for managing catastrophic wildfires and the impacts of invasive species, drought, and insect and disease epidemics.

Specifically, a new report titled Toward Shared Stewardship across Landscapes: An Outcome-based Investment Strategy (PDF, 3.7 MB) outlines the USFS's plans to work more closely with states to identify landscape-scale priorities for targeted treatments in areas with the highest payoffs.

"On my trip to California this week, I saw the devastation that these unprecedented wildfires are having on our neighbors, friends and families," said U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue.

"We commit to work more closely with the states to reduce the frequency and severity of wildfires. We commit to strengthening the stewardship of public and private lands. This report outlines our strategy and intent to help one another prevent wildfire from reaching this level."

Both federal and private managers of forest land face a range of urgent challenges, among them catastrophic wildfires, invasive species, degraded watersheds, and epidemics of forest insects and disease. The conditions fueling these circumstances are not improving. Of particular concern are longer fire seasons, the rising size and severity of wildfires, and the expanding risk to communities, natural resources, and firefighters.

"The challenges before us require a new approach," said Interim USFS Chief Vicki Christiansen. "This year Congress has given us new opportunities to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with state leaders mitigate to identify land management priorities that include mitigating wildfire risks. We will use all the tools available to us to reduce hazardous fuels, including mechanical treatments, prescribed fire, and unplanned fire in the right place at the right time, to mitigate them."

A key component of the new strategy is to prioritize investment decisions on forest treatments in direct coordination with states using the most advanced science tools. This allows the USFS to increase the scope and scale of critical forest treatments that protect communities and create resilient forests.

The USFS will also build upon the authorities created by the 2018 Omnibus Bill, including new categorical exclusions for land treatments to improve forest conditions, new road maintenance authorities, and longer stewardship contracting in strategic areas. The agency will continue streamlining its internal processes to make environmental analysis more efficient and timber sale contracts more flexible.

The Omnibus Bill also includes a long-term "fire funding fix," starting in FY 2020, that will stop the rise of the 10-year average cost of fighting wildland fire and reduce the likelihood of the disruptive practice of transferring funds from Forest Service non-fire programs to cover firefighting costs. The product of more than a decade of hard work, this bipartisan solution will ultimately stabilize the agency's operating environment.

Finally, because rising rates of firefighter fatalities in recent decades have shifted the USFS's approach to fire response, the report emphasizes the agency's commitment to a risk-based response to wildfire.

The complete strategy is available at www.fs.fed.us/sites/default/files/toward-shared-stewardship.pdf. Photographs of the event are available at: <https://flic.kr/s/aHskGkVYkN>

The mission of the USFS, an agency of the USDA, is to sustain the health, diversity and productivity of the nation's forests and grasslands to meet the needs of present and future generations.

CHEERS & JEERS

by Damian Holbrook

Jeers to MTV

for checking into the Lohan Beach Club. Just when we thought the Jersey Shore was the lowest tide reality TV could wade into, here comes a shallow new “unscripted” series centered on professional train wreck Lindsay Lohan and her efforts to build a resort in Greece. So. Not. Fetch.

Jeers to PBS

for sticking a fork in The Great British Baking Show. Now that the near-perfect food-porn import from across the pond is airing on commercial television in the U.K., it's looking highly likely that the season that just ran in the U.S. on public TV was our last serving. That's a hard one to swallow.

Cheers to Nashville

for going out on a high note. The country-fried soap wrapped its run with relatively happy endings for all, including fans, who got one last encore from Connie Britton's late Rayna Jaymes (pictured) when she visited Deacon (Charles Esten) in a daydream before joining the cast in a farewell sing-along.

Cheers to Making It for being craftier than your average DIY show. In addition to giving us a Parks and Recreation reunion, NBC's how-to competition hosted by Amy Poehler and Nick Offerman is a joyful celebration of creativity, with contestants who are both gifted and supportive of their fellow artisans.

sisters—this trio including a half-sister the others had no idea existed until the show begins. It's possible there will be call-backs to the original series within the new show's mythology, but such things would likely go over this casual observer's head. I get that die-hard fans of the original Charmed, which went off the air more than a decade ago, would be skeptical. But the CW is betting on nostalgia for the good old WB days—which may also partly account for the Buffy reboot also in development—to spark interest in this. Conjuring up a new/old version of Charmed is how this genre tends to operate.

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

ANY NEWS ABOUT THE CHARMED REBOOT?

Question: As a fan of the original Charmed, I am very doubtful about the reboot. But I may check it out just for the sake of seeing what all of the fuss is about. I want to be sure I understand the concept. Since it's a reboot, this means that the show is basically starting at the beginning of a similar story with different characters. Right? But is this story set in the same world as the original Charmed? Do the Halliwell sisters exist in the universe of this show?—Elizabeth

Matt Roush: Basically, the idea here is: Same premise, new story, characters and setting. As far as I can tell from the pilot episode (all I've seen, and am likely to see until it premieres in mid-October), there is no direct connection between the Halliwell sisters of the original series and the reboot's Vega

Cordova Loses Tough Road Opener

Varsity Lancers Fall Short to Vista del Lago

Story by MPG Staff
Photos by Rick Sloan

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Lancers kicked off their varsity football season on the road last week as they visited the Vista del Lago Eagles. Behind first year Head Coach John McCoy, the Lancers came out with much needed energy, holding Vista del Lago to just three first half points. But the fired up Eagles came out of their home locker room to score 29 second half points as Cordova fell by final score of 32-21.

It was a tough loss but the Lancers must quickly regroup as they head to Davis to take on the Blue Devils on Friday, August 24 before their home opener on August 31 against the Rio Linda Knights. ★

Cordova senior Alvin Banks scurries down the field against Vista del Lago.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Folsom Lake College Kinesiology, Health, and Athletic department excitedly welcomes two new full-time hires for the 2018-19 school year. Ali Mollet takes the reins of the second-year women's basketball program, while the women's softball program is now under the guidance of Amber Grahman. Both new hires have been working feverishly throughout the summer recruiting new student-athletes, building their coaching staff, purchasing equipment, and relocating to a new area. "We are absolutely thrilled to welcome these two new head coaches to the Falcon Family," remarked FLC Dean/Athletic Director Matt Wright. "They were both extremely well respected assistant coaches prior to coming to Folsom Lake and I have no doubt that they will hit the ground running here. We are really looking forward to what the future of Women's Basketball and Softball at FLC look like under the leadership of Coach Mollet and Coach Grahman." Coach Mollet comes to FLC after having spent the past six seasons as assistant women's basketball coach at Chico State under head coach Brian Fogel. Prior to arriving in Chico, Mollet served as Director of Women's Basketball Operations at Sacramento State in 2010-11 and spent two seasons as an assistant at Sacramento City College from 2008-10 while working on her master's degree. Ali was a prep star at San Jose's Del Mar High School, where she received a McDonald's All-America nominee as a senior. She is still the school's all-time assist leader, and a member of the Del Mar High School Hall of Fame. Mollet played her college ball at Sacramento State, spending three seasons as part of the Hornets' backcourt corps. She received her bachelor's degree in Digital Media Communications from Sacramento State in 2008 before obtaining her master's degree in Kinesiology/Sport Performance from Sac State in 2010.

Coach Mollet looks forward to an exciting year as she welcomes eight new recruits to go with the seven returning Falcons from the 2017-18 inaugural season. Amber Grahman comes to FLC after serving as the co-head coach at Santa Ana College for three years, where she led the Dons to the CCCAA state playoffs each year. Prior to Santa Ana, Coach Grahman spent 3 seasons (2012-2015) at Long Beach City College as an Assistant Coach, where she focused primarily on helping her student-athletes get to four-year universities and obtaining academic success. Amber has been coaching within the California Community College system for over 12 years and has transferred over 40 of her student athletes to 4-year institutions with athletic scholarships. Amber started her coaching career in 2003-2004 as an Undergraduate Assistant at her alma mater, San Diego State University, after playing catcher for the Aztecs from 2001-2003. While she played, the Aztecs' softball team won back to back Mountain West Conference Championships. Coach Grahman graduated from San Diego State with her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Social Science and later attended Azusa Pacific University to earn her Master's Degree in Physical Education. Ken Cooley: Reifying Participatory Government

By Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Assemblyman Ken Cooley joked about the origin of the word “politics” at the Rancho Cordova Luncheon on August 17. Cooley said, “It is derived from the Greek word poli, meaning many, and ties, meaning blood-sucking insects.” However, Cooley’s interest in politics began early. He still has the envelope with the Kennedy White House return address that he received in answer a letter he sent at the age of nine. When he was 11, living in Las Vegas, he spent a day shadowing the city manager, and at 17 had lunch with the city manager of Pacific Grove.

Cooley worked tirelessly with his colleagues for Rancho Cordova cityhood and he first ran for public office in Rancho Cordova. He was elected to the first city council when Rancho Cordova became a city in 2003. “It was sixteen years ago this month,” Cooley said, that I started what is now very much my trademark going door to door and knocking on doors and talking to people.” He was reelected to the city council in 2004 and 2008, and served as mayor in 2005 and 2010. In November 2012, District 8 elected him to the California State Assembly.

Sarah Koligian, Superintendent of Folsom Cordova Unified School District and also a member of the Senate Education Committee, said that Cooley hears from people like herself often on bills that have direct impact on education. “Last year he came out and visited all our preschool programs at Cordova Lane Center,” Koligian said. “He was right there with the students and very much an advocate for early education and supports the First Five initiative.”

Cooley talked about the neighborhood “walks with the mayor” he carried out, and the involvement of the public at an unofficial opening of the new Rancho Cordova City Hall in 2005. “We invited the community in to write messages to the future on the floor and walls of our chamber, so that our community would enter the building and own the chambers before the council ever met there,” Cooley said.

The August luncheon was attended by Mayor Linda Budge, Vice-Mayor Bob McGarvey, Council Member Donald Terry, and many others who are regularly at the monthly luncheons. It was the first time attending for Allegra Pickett of Teichert Foundation. As grants manager for the foundation, Pickett said, “We are focused on helping the communities in specific ways that they need, and so this is a part of that, for getting to know Rancho Cordova and understanding more about what our needs are here.”

One thing that stood out to Pickett about Cooley’s address was his use of the word reify, applied to making participatory government more real. “I definitely feel part of my approach to being present in public life,” Cooley said, “is being out, being visible, sitting at Starbucks . . . and connect(ing) people to the system of which it has been said, ‘Democracy is the worst form of government, except for all the others.’”

As chair of the Joint Committee on Rules, Cooley has been involved in the Annex Project at the State Capitol. The West Wing of the capitol is invested with an abundance of symbols of our system of governance, while the Annex is totally devoid of those symbolic references. The purpose of the Annex Project is to re-establish a functional “People’s House” that will support California’s executive and legislative branches of government for the next century. This includes incorporating the historic symbolism and narrative to be compatible with the original West Wing.

The completion of the Annex Project, Cooley said, is perhaps 10 years away. A new office building must be built and the legislature, now in the Annex, moved into that building temporarily. The Annex will be renovated, and the legislature moved back. “I at most can serve six more years, so I won’t actually be in the legislature when this thing gets done,” Cooley said. “A lot of professional endeavors are like launching a ballistic missile. In a ballistic missile . . . it takes a very big motor to get the thing up off the ground and up high. Then little motors to steer it back wherever it’s going. I sort of feel my job is to, with my team, be the big motor to get this thing up and running. So then when I’m not here, others can kind of step in and it will be a little easier to carry on.”
