California Military Department's Consolidated Headquarters Complex Breaks Ground in Rancho Cordova

Stantec/Walsh Construction Company II Project Team Creates Unprecedented Sustainable Administration and Operations Space for 40 User Groups

By Ryan Lamont

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- The California Military Department (CMD) hosted its ceremonial groundbreaking for the new Consolidated Headquarters Complex (CHQC) in Rancho Cordova, Calif., on April 30, 2018. The CMD is a diverse, communitybased organization comprised of four pillars: the California Army National Guard, the California Air National Guard, the California State Military Reserve, and the California Youth and Community Programs. The new CHQC will be responsible for command and management of the CMD.

The design-build team of Walsh Construction Company II and Stantec will deliver the new $135 million Consolidated Headquarters Complex. Walsh and Stantec bring nearly 30 years of design-build teaming experience to the project. The 285,000-square-foot, multi-building campus will sit on a 31-acre site adjacent to Mather Airport and will host a headquarters office building, warehouse, emergency operations center, utilities building, badging center, and access con-

"This headquarters complex will go a long way toward ensuring the Military Department is an effective and energy-efficient force," said Capt. Will Martin, spokesperson for the California Military Department. "Our leadership has worked closely with this facility will set a standard for state agencies for years to come."

The CHQC is one of the first large scale new Zero Net Energy (ZNE) projects that will be implemented by the State of California after Gov. Jerry Brown's Executive Order B-18-12 to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and improve energy efficiency in California. The project is targeting LEED Gold certification and will be constructed to achieve a variety of sustainable goals to reduce environmental impact, optimize performance, lower energy and operating costs, conserve resources, and increase occupant satisfaction and productivity. On-site renewable energy is generated by a photovoltaic array that will serve a dual purpose as parking shade structures

How the campus relates to the adjoining planned development community was an important consideration since design inception. The design solution balances this sensitivity with an aesthetic that is befitting its stature as a Military Headquarters. The facades are well articulated with a combination of brick veneer, metal panels, and fenestrations. All the buildings on the campus are designed with the same architectural principles, broadcasting a cohesive campus aesthetic to the surrounding community.

"The goal was to make this more than simply a military facility," said William Walsh and Stantec throughout Ketcham, Stantec Principal this process, and we believe based in Chicago. "The primary entrance to the building is designed to be public and open and friendly. It's more like a corporate headquarters than a typical military building. The design of each of the facades is specific to the building orientation and aids with the daylight harvesting and Net Zero Energy goals."

"We are excited for the CHQC to break ground, because it's more than just a traditional project," said Arun Kaiwar, Stantec Principal based in Sacramento. "Helping design the state-of-the-art CHQC for the California Military Department to deliver their critical mission is in line with Stantec's goal to serve and design for the communities we live in."

Stantec is providing architecture, interior design, ZNE consulting, sustainability, energy modeling, landscape design, acoustics, lighting, security, and information and communications technology design services. Stantec's Chicago office is leading the project design in collaboration with global expertise from other Stantec offices including Sacramento, Van Nuys, San Francisco, San Diego, Petaluma, Seattle, and Atlanta.

"We look forward to starting construction and delivering the California Military Department's new headquarters with the highest standards in safety and quality," said Dennis McBride, vice president for Walsh Construction.

The ceremonial groundbreaking took place on April 30. The facility is set to open in 2020. ★

Mental Health Month: Celebrate Wellness and Recovery

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) -

It is estimated that one in every five people will experience a mental illness during their lifetime. In Sacramento County alone, more than 300,000 residents live with mental illness. But, two-thirds of these individuals do not seek support or treatment because they worry they will lose their jobs, their friends or family, or be isolated because of the stigma and discrimination associated with having a mental illness.

Six years ago, the Sacramento County Division of Behavioral Health Services initiated a multimedia and community outreach project that aims to fundamentally alter negative attitudes and perceptions about mental illness by replacing myths and stereotypes with examples of wellness, recovery, and hope.

In recognition of Mental Health Month this May, the "Mental Illness: It's not always what you think" project will be participating in several upcoming events within the community, distributing helpful information to attendees in an effort to help stop stigma and discrimination, promote mental health and wellness, and inspire hope for people and families living with mental illness. These will be great opportunities for you - and residents throughout the County - to get involved in spreading messages of hope and increasing awareness for individuals and families living with menGet involved and help to stop stigma during Mental Health Month:

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) -

By Bob McGarvey

There are two things which used to be standard that are no longer as popular as they were in the past. One of them is sending postcards or collecting postcards from where you were on vacation or where you went on a convention, etc. The other thing that was being phased out for a while was cursive handwriting. But in 2017, cursive writing was looping back into style in schools across the country. The two of them depend on each other because if you can't write, then how do you send a postcard? Even more, the generation of students who know only keyboarding, texting, and printing out their words in longhand, find it very hard to read historical documents. (I guess George Washington couldn't depend on spell-check). When we first became a City, I was very annoyed because no matter where I went, I couldn't find a postcard from/for/about our City. I found postcards for other cities and for unincorporated communities, but nothing for Rancho

Cordova. Eventually, we began gathering photos from individuals like Public Works Manager

Steve Harriman and others,

and we had our first postcard printed. You can find postcards

here at City Hall in the Planning

Department, at the receptionist desk, and in my office on the second floor. While there aren't many in most retail stores, you may be able to find them in a few hotels. I am going to begin working on the postcards again,

And Another Thing ...

Old Standards

because when there are more visitors here than ever before to see family, compete in the Sac. State Aquatic Center, etc., it would be much more helpful if our Rancho Cordova visitors could send Rancho Cordova postcards home instead of having to send postcards about all the cities around us except our Another thing that many people who ride bicycles seem to ignore or really don't know is that bicyclists must obey STOP signs and red signal lights, and follow basic right-of-way rules. If you ride in the same direction as traffic, you are more visible to drivers entering roads or changing lanes. Use bicycle lanes, ride far enough away from parked vehicles to avoid being hit by an opening door, and use turn signals when making turns by using your arm or turn signal light. The few rules can be found at the DMV office, and you can bring up the information at the DMV offices or online. I witnessed a young girl crossing Zinfandel Drive from a side street and was hit because she didn't stop at the stop sign when crossing the main thoroughfare.

Another reminder which seems to be either forgotten or was never known is that you are responsible for calling Republic Services and setting a day for them to pick up bulk waste in front of your residence. The bulk waste is only supposed to be placed in the street for no more than 48 hours. That can be done three times a year, and it doesn't cost you extra. We have that convenience built in as part of the garbage bill. But again, you are responsible for calling in the pick-up. The City doesn't have anyone driving around looking for the bulk waste to be picked up, but you can reach Republic Services at (916) 638-9000.

Later this year, we will have another date and location in which I will be handing out the Vietnam War Veteran lapel pins to Vietnam Veterans who were not welcomed home after they served their country with dignity. There are many who have finally received a welcome home, but as we all know, there are many more who have not yet heard that a grateful nation thanks and honors them. That is what we are doing here in the City of Rancho Cordova. We are thanking and welcoming them home, and giving them the lapel pin which recognizes them as a "Vietnam War Veteran."

There are almost 7 million Vietnam War Veterans who are still alive today out of the 9 million who served during that war. When Congress passed legislation in 2012, and the President signed it into law, many organizations throughout the country began thanking those veterans for serving their country. Our Veterans Day and Memorial Day committee in Rancho Cordova have handed out hundreds of the lapel pins and commemoration papers to those who served active service in the military from November 1, 1955 to May 15, 1975. Those who served during that time are officially listed by Congress as Vietnam War Veterans. I realize that for many, that information isn't new, but it is surprising how many veterans are not aware of the honor they deserve. So we will continue to show respect to our Vietnam Veterans and all veterans because there is no end date for that. According to Congress, we will continue to give those lapel pins until November 11,

From Vice Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see vou next time.

CAGOP Convention Winner: Lt. Governor Candidate Cole Harris

Commentary by Jon Fleischman

The California Republican Party's state convention is now in the rear-view mirror and the election is upon us. Millions of absentee ballots are being mailed out today and Californians will start voting later this week.

There are a lot of observations to be made about the weekend confab - but out the gate I am going to name the clear big winner of the convention - businessman Cole Harris, who is running for Lt.

Jon Fleischman

cially endorsed candidate of the State GOP. Harris wins the FlashReport Winner of the Convention honors for two reasons.

The first was his ability to run a strong enough effort before and at the convention to garner the support of more than 70% of the delegates as a virtual unknown. Harris announced his candidacy late, and has had to define himself in short-order with the party faithful. The second reason is that, unlike the other candidates who were endorsed at the convention, Harris (because his success in business gives him the ability to self-fundraise with millions of dollars) has the ability to use direct voter contact tools (mailers, digital messages and such) to let likely Republican voters know that he's been endorsed by the CRP - a very useful tool, targeted to GOP voters, when you are a first time candidate, and unknown to the electorate. Look for his television and cable spots to be non-partisan, with messaging to appeal to California's no party preference voters, and less ideologically inclined Democrats.

While much prognostication is taking place about who will make the top two in the Governor's race - with a significant chance that no Republican advances - Harris is well positioned to make the runoff in his race. While there are other GOP candidates, none are well resources of Harris, and obviously Democrats. But also in the race are for California

Democrats there

time, and is out known and none have the financial of central casting for California

two extremely wealthy candidates - Jeff Bleich and Eleni Kounalakis - both of whom will spend millions of dollars. Running as a Republican in California means that for Harris to win in November, he will have to do everything right, and still catch a favorable tailwind - a tough order in blue California. But thus far Harris is off to a good start, and clearly his efforts wooing the GOP, and his ability to convert an endorsement into an important message for him to take to Republican voters has earned him the FlashReport Winner Of The CAGOP Convention Award! ★

If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. He's the Master of the Chorus

Dr. Kendrick Retires from Sacramento State after 33 Years of Teaching

Special to MPG

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - "Singing is a joyous experience," explained Dr. Donald Kendrick. "Choral music prepares you for life."

In August 1985, Dr. Kendrick accepted the position of Director of Choral Activities at Sacramento State University. For the past 33 years, this energetic Canadian has worked diligently to create an awareness of the power and importance of choral and orchestral music via three important pillars of our society - the Community, the State and the Church.

"33 years is a long time," admitted Dr. Kendrick. "I have seen so many students come together to perform beautifully."

Don's final gift for his 110 students and community members in his three Sacramento State choirs will be to provide them with an opportunity to partner with the Sacramento Choral Society & Orchestra. The students will have the rare chance to sing with a professional orchestra at the SCSO's season finale on Saturday, May 12 at the Sacramento Community Center Theater: Praise and Jubilation.

Kendrick lovingly refers to this SCSO season finale as his downtown Sacramento State retirement party. There will be a post-concert reception in the Sacramento Community Center Theater lobby following the final performance.

This unique performance will also feature the Sacramento Children's Chorus Director Alexander Grambow. The musical forces on stage will include 280 singers, three soloists and a 52-member professional orchestra. The main fare on the program is a West Coast première of American composer Dan Forrest's stunning

Jubilate Deo. This work was only recently premiered in Carnegie Hall in 2016

The rousing performance will feature seven languages with projected supertitle translations. The work brings to life the global aspect of the traditional Psalm 100 text "O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands" by setting it in seven different languages and drawing from a wide spectrum of musical influences. Each movement combines some characteristics of its language-group's musical culture with the composer's own musical language

In the first half of the program Kendrick has programmed Dvorak's Te Deum (Hymn of Thanksgiving), a work that he recorded with the SCSO and some of the Sacramento State students at the Liszt Academy in Budapest during their summer 2004 European Tour. Respighi's Ancient Airs and Dances will showcase the SCSO Orchestra to round out the concert.

Kendrick feels strongly about having his choirs perform out in the community. For twenty-five years his three choirs performed in the beautiful acoustics of Sacred Heart Church in Sacramento. His December Procession of Carols is a tradition that we fervently hope Sacramento State will continue following Don's retirement.

For more than three decades Kendrick has demonstrated his mastery of creative concert programming. His impact as an educator and conductor has greatly enhanced the quality of life in our region and has resonated on a national and international level.

"I have so many happy memories.
So many of my students went on to perform around the world," said Dr.

The dedicated teacher of over three decades has enhanced lives through great music, bringing beauty, hope and inspiration to our community, but when asked what he learned over the years, Dr. Kendrick graciously replied, "Patience and understanding.

"The most important thing is that we have music in our lives – period," said Dr. Kendrick. "And we should bear in mind that we all have a voice."

 20th ANNUAL FAIR OAKS CEMETERY

MEMORIAL DAY EVENT

★ SATURDAY, MAY 26th, 2018 @ 10:00AM ★

Military Chaplains

The Fair Oaks Cemetery District and the Memorial Day Ceremony Committee are finalizing plans for one of the most popular and inspiring Memorial Day events in the area.

The twentieth Annual Memorial Day and Avenue of Flags Ceremony will be held on Saturday, May 26 th, at Fair Oaks Cemetery, located at 7780 Olive St., Fair Oaks. The formal ceremonies begin at 10 a.m.

This year's theme is to honor our Military Chaplains from all wars. Some of the first chaplains were appointed in the late 1800's. Many more were commissioned during World War II. More than 400 chaplains have died while serving in the U.S. military.

The Chairman of the Fair Oaks Cemetery District's Memorial Day Committee, Bob Clouse, will be the Master of Ceremonies. The main speaker(s) will focus on the history and facts of the United States Military Chaplains.

The Fair Oaks Cemetery will be decorated with over 400 American flags lining its roadways as "The Avenue of Flags". We will also be adding more names to the Veterans Memorial Wall.

The laying of the wreath at the Memorial, in honor of over 1800 Veterans who are buried in the cemetery, will be done by VFW Post 6158 and American Legion Post 383.

The musical program will consist of Pipers, a Drummer, and recorded music provided by a local Disc Jockey. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the ceremony, provided by the Orangevale/Fair Oaks Grange and the Fair Oaks Historical Society.

The Fair Oaks Cemetery's Memorial Day Ceremony is a fine example of how we, the community, remember our loved ones and say thank you to our Veterans and their families for their sacrifices.

First, lay a solid foundation

Dear Dave,

When is it okay to have a little fun, and buy things you want, when you're following the Baby Steps plan?

-Kaitlin

Dear Kaitlin,

The time for a little fun is after you've completed the first three Baby Steps. Baby Step 1 is saving $1,000 for a beginner emergency fund. Baby Step 2 is paying off all debt, except for your home. And Baby Step 3 means you go back and add to your emergency fund until you have three to six months of expenses set aside.

Once you're debt-free except for your home — and you have your emergency fund completed - you've laid a solid, financial foundation for your life.

Dave Says

That's when you can have a little fun and spend some money on a vacation, new furniture, or something like that.

Children think about their immediate wants and do what feels good. Adults, on the other hand, devise smart, logical plans, and stick to them. I want you to have a great life, but you have to put in some hard work and say "no" to yourself sometimes in order to attain that great life!

—Dave

It's Baby Step 1 for a reason

Dear Dave,

I'll be receiving my income tax refund soon. It will be enough to completely pay off my two smallest debts, or get my starter emergency fund of $1,000 for Baby Step 1 in place. What should I do?

-Brandy

Dear Brandy,

I love that you're excited about using your refund to start the Baby Steps, and begin gaining control of your finances. But we call the beginner's emergency fund Baby Step 1 for a reason.

Bad things can happen while you're working to get out of debt. That's why I want people to get a little money set aside before they start Baby Step 2, which is the debt snowball. What if the alternator on your car goes out, or your refrigerator dies? Life happens, and things go wrong. When this kind of stuff pops up, and you don't have any money set aside, you're likely to quit the plan and wind up going even deeper into debt.

I know you want to get out of debt. I want you to get out of debt, too. But I want you to stick with the plan, and actually get out of debt, instead of falling off the wagon the first time you hit a bump in the road!
