All Blue Skies for High-Flying Kids Day

By Shelly Blanchard,
Cordova Community Council

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - There was no shortage of giggles Saturday as thousands of Rancho Cordova children and their families celebrated the wonder of flight at the 29th Annual Kids Day in the Park.

Celebrating the theme "High Flyers" – a nod to the 100th Anniversary of Mather Field – Kids Day exhibitors shot off rockets, hosted birds, flew kites and so much more under picture perfect blue skies.

With more than 100 exhibitors including sports leagues, health care providers, education institutions and more, it was wall-to-wall families in Rancho Cordova's Hagan Park. The City of Rancho Cordova celebrated the city's 15th anniversary by hosting a cupcake decorating attraction where children frosted – and consumed – more than 600 birthday cupcakes, exhausting the supply.

Presented by the City of Rancho Cordova, Sacramento County Department of Health Services, and a host of other sponsors, Kids Day showcased health resources, school options and more than 100 free things to do. The event was produced by the Cordova Community Council.

The event also marked the Sacramento County kick-off for National Children's Mental Health Awareness Day.

Among the other fun, free attractions were a giant airplane jump house, a petting zoo and giant obstacle course. An Aerojet engineer set off a rocket each hour to showcase high flying Rancho Cordova history, too.

Kids learned about bike safety at the popular Police Activities League (PAL) Bike Rodeo where 100 bicycles donated by the Sheriff's Toy Project were given away to lucky children, along with hundreds of free bike safety helmets, supplied by the Sierra Sacramento Valley Medical Society Alliance.

While Kids Day is all about fun, children's health is the primary objective. Organizers worked with health providers

Forum Offers Facts on Childhood and Teen Drug Use

by Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Folsom Cordova Unified School District offered a Drug Awareness Forum at Cordova High School on April 23. It presented vital information for parents and educators. Earlier use and more dangerous substances make the problem worse for kids than in their parents' generation. "We're so tired of getting students where it's the last straw, where we didn't have that preventative step, and we end up . . . suspending or even expelling, when it's just lack of education," said Scott Meyer, child welfare coordinator for FCUSD.

Panel members Amy Rose of Recovery Happens and Scott Meyer of FCUSD answered questions after the event. All of the presenters provided critical information to help families prevent, recognize and deal with drug abuse.

Besides Meyer, the program featured a guest panel of Detective Adrian Zuniga from the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department, Amy Rose of Recovery Happens and Angela Da Re of Delta Prevention.

Detective Zuniga showed around 60 slides – down from an original 200 he wanted to use, with graphic images of "meth-mouth" tooth decay and loss caused by methamphetamine use, as well as progressive deterioration in physical appearance of users over a period of only months. He illustrated immediate and chronic side effects by which aware parents can tell if their children may be experimenting or using regularly. He described the gamut of substances currently available and showed photos of drug paraphernalia and common hiding places.

Golden State Killer Update

By Rich Peters, MPG Editor

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - After coming up empty for four decades, detectives finally caught their suspect in the case of the Golden State Killer/East Area Rapist last week. Since the arrest of 72-year-old Joseph James DeAngelo Jr. of Citrus Heights an abundance of information has flooded news streams, but none bigger than law enforcement's usage of ancestry websites to finally track down the alleged serial killer.

The FBI's access of DNA websites like ancestry.com and 23andme.com poses as a hot topic in its own right, which will eventually lead to a new direction in forensics, followed by new state and federal laws. But breaking down barriers and changing laws is nothing new in the case and search of the Golden State Killer and questions surrounding the controversial methods are already pointing at tracking down and solving the heinous crimes committed by the state's other terrifying murderer at large, the Zodiac Killer.

Since the arrest of DeAngelo, additional crimes have already been linked to him with more likely to come. The November 1978 slaying of Rhonda Wicht and her young son Donald wrongfully sent Craig Coley to prison for almost 40 years. Coley, who was dating Wicht at the time of the murder, was convicted and served time in prison until he was pardoned last November after Ventura County prosecutors no longer believed he committed the horrific crime because his DNA didn't match samples at the scene.

Now authorities suspect that DNA might match up to DeAngelo. "It's within the realm of possibility that he could be a suspect in our case," said Simi Valley Deputy Chief Joseph May. "We've made a request for a DNA comparison to find out if the DNA they recovered from Mr. DeAngelo is consistent with the DNA that we have in our case."

DeAngelo appeared in court briefly for the second time on Wednesday morning but Sacramento Superior Court Judge Michael Sweet, who did not allow cameras in the courtroom, said he is going to take time to consider a new motion focusing on a sealed search warrant filed by his public defender, Diane Howard, according to the Sacramento County District Attorney.

Judge Sweet will also take the time to evaluate Howard's request for the DA to stop taking further DNA, major case prints or body photographs from DeAngelo.

Another court hearing is scheduled for Thursday at 8:30 a.m. ★

Sacramento Sheriff Receives "Smart 50" Award for Homeless Outreach

By Sergeant Shaun Hampton, Sheriff's Spokesman

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - In late March 2018, the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department was recognized by the Smart 50 Awards for implementing comprehensive and innovative strategies in working with our local homeless population and finding resources to address homelessness in our communities.

The Smart 50 Awards, in partnership with Smart Cities Connect, Smart Cities Connect Foundation, and US Ignite, annually recognize global smart cities projects, honoring the most innovative and influential work. This year, primary categories included governance, mobility, energy, citizen life, and networks.

The Sacramento Sheriff's Department Homeless Outreach Team and Technical Operations Unit worked with software developer TerraGo to develop a mobile application to assist in reaching the homeless in our community. The application not only improves the quality of information for Sheriff's Department services but also makes detailed homeless data available to our partner agencies for smarter services and policy-making. Here is how it works.

This project provides digital transformation of field reporting procedures and by making outreach data readily available to community partners. It will improve near-term and long-term outcomes for homeless individuals, families, and the community.

The application replaces paper forms and manual processes with smart mobile questionnaires and digital workflows. The mobile reporting app provides significant efficiency improvements for field officers over paper forms, manual data entry, and spreadsheets that were used previously. One of the most important benefits is the improvement of knowledge retention and information sharing as opposed to relying on the experience of individual officers. In the past, an officer's retirement or transfer to another assignment often meant the loss of a great deal of community knowledge regarding people in crisis and what services might be effective for assistance.

The ability to share detailed data on homeless individuals and families to our partner agencies, such as the Sacramento County Department of Human Assistance, Sacramento Steps Forward, and California State University, Sacramento Institute of Social Research, enables insights and intelligence that will help provide optimal services and education beyond traditional baseline enforcement. Policies, education, and enforcement can be better shaped with data-driven facts to prevent homelessness and provide transition programs.

Questions such as primary and secondary reasons for homelessness, duration of homelessness, addiction to drugs or alcohol, treatment programs, education level, sources of income, willingness to accept assistance, and more will allow the Sheriff's Department Homeless Outreach Team and our partner agencies to create custom-tailored responses and strategies to provide services.

The Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Technical Operations team had already deployed hundreds of mobile devices as part of an ongoing strategy to transition to paperless reporting and enable mobile collaboration in the field. The Homeless Outreach Team mobile application now provides cloud-based collaboration and field data collection that is more efficient provides continuously improving data-driven knowledge and enables data analytics to identify solutions to problems, both near-term and long-term.

The Sacramento County Sheriff's Department is proud of this achievement and continues to seek out additional technological advances to improve services to everyone in our communities. ★

Vol. X-No. 48
Rancho Cordova, California
March 22, 1978

Suspected murderers

A third sweep through the Rancho Cordova neighborhood where Brian and Katy Maggioro were suddenly and cruelly shot to death Feb. 2, has brought no further evidence on the identity of the killers or a motive for the shocking crime.

In cooperation with the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department, The Grapevine is printing likenesses of the suspected killers who were seen by at least two witnesses as they climbed over a fence.

According to Sgt. Don Haebecker of the County Sheriff's Office, the investigation still leans heavily toward a suspicion the men are military personnel.

The sweep through the area of the killing (near the West La Loma and Folsom Blvd. intersection) was made since there is the possibility the pair may reside in the immediate area. They were not seen again after the killing and virtually disappeared into thin air.

The 23-year old Maggioro and his wife, 20, were believed to be walking their dog when they were accosted on La Gloria Way in the Cordova Meadows area. They ran through a yard of a La Gloria residence and into the backyard of the La Gloria property. The fence was down. Brian was shot in the back in the backyard of the La Gloria property and Katy was shot in the head as she attempted to get through a front gate onto La Gloria.

Laguna petitions circulated

Members of the Committee for a Quiet Neighborhood began circulating petitions last week in the neighborhoods heavily impacted by the noise from the Laguna Grand Prix Raceway bordering highway 50.

Early returns indicated the carriers were obtaining over 90 percent success in gaining signatures on the petition which protests the noise from the raceway.

The petitions will be delivered to the County Board of Supervisors as evidence of the growing resistance to the constant drone of the race cars. The Committee received an answer to their request for a place on the agenda of the Board of Supervisors when Clerk of the Board, Betty Poohar, notified the Committee they will be heard at 10 a.m., Monday, April 10, in the Board Chamber Room.

A.M. Winn to Celebrate May Faire

By May Faire Committee

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - One of just a handful of public Waldorf schools in the Sacramento region, A.M. Winn Public Waldorf School is gearing up to host its annual May Faire and invites the Sacramento and Rancho Cordova community to join in the fun.

Located at 3351 Explorer Drive on the border of Sacramento and Rancho Cordova, A.M. Winn is an elementary school in the Sacramento City Unified School District providing a free Waldorf education to children in early kindergarten through eighth grade. In addition to academics, the unique school prepares students not just for further education, but for leading fulfilling lives socially, physically and emotionally. Art and music are integrated into academics at all grade levels, and students enjoy ample time outdoors enjoying and learning about nature.

The May Faire is a festival that is open to the public and includes games, food, crafts, performances and community booths. The first and fifth grade students will perform the traditional Maypole dance beginning at 10:15.

Admission and many activities are free, though the fundraiser will also be selling tickets to participate in additional activities as well as purchase crafts and food. A silent auction and raffle will feature items such as a stay in Cancun, fencing lessons and family-friendly outings.

The event is sponsored by the school's parent-teacher organization, the A.M. Winn Community Guild. In addition to raising money to support its thriving art, music and language programs, one of the Guild's goals is to foster positive relationships with the Lincoln Village neighborhood as well as the greater Sacramento/Rancho Cordova community.

Forum Offers Facts on Childhood and Teen Drug Use

Amy Rose, program director of Recovery Happens, said that marijuana is not an innocent substance. "People think of it as, 'Well, they're just smoking weed,'" Rose said. "They go back to remembering what the weed was when they were teenagers in high school, and it is not the same drug today." In the 90s, the THC levels in the plant itself were 3.96 percent. Today, she said, it is up to 30 percent. With methods such as "wax dabbing" THC levels inhaled can be as high as 80 to 90 percent. Marijuana edibles can have up to 3000 mg of THC and take 45 minutes to absorb into the system. Therefore uneducated children, not feeling any effects after a short time, may continue to ingest and overdose on the THC.

Angela Da Re, president and CEO of Delta Prevention, spoke extensively on the importance of family in the role of prevention. Three types of skills are especially important for parents to develop: 1) Bonding by creating warm, loving relationships, 2) Creating boundaries with clear, firm rules and consequences, and 3) Monitoring activities and well-being. As far as talking to your kids, Da Re said, "Use your ears more than your mouth."

Drinking to get drunk begins in early, starting at an average age of 12 years. "I think it is actually much younger than that," Da Re said. "In Lake County the average age is 9, and Fresno County 8." The younger a child has the first experience, the more likely they are to become addicted later on in life, and the higher the likelihood of delayed development of the brain and brain damage.

"I really believe that it takes a village to raise a child," said Rancho Cordova Chief of Police Chris Pittman. "My son goes to Folsom Cordova High School District and I really much appreciate your involvement here to learn more about the illicit drugs and issues that are out there."

Although attendance was sparse, Dr. Sarah Koligian, FCUSD superintendent, hopes for a better turnout in the future. "I would say there was something to be learned from every one of (the presenters) to help us as parents," Koligian said. "I think strategically we need to look at when it might be more available, and then really get the messaging out through our PTA councils, through our parent coordinators . . . through our support staff, our counselors, and just really hit the message hard. Because I believe we will do this again. I think there is great value to it."

Organizations such as Safety Center Incorporated, Kaiser Permanente, The Camp Recovery Center, and Sacramento County Coalition for Youth were present to provide resource information to help children, teens and others to prevent, recognize and treat abuse and dependency to drugs. ★

And Another Thing ...
The Story Will Unfold
By Bob McGarvey

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - To say the hottest items in the news isn't worth repeating, but by the time this column reaches your hands, there will have been enough coverage about the East Area Rapist suspect and anything I might say will already have been said. Mr. Joseph James DeAngelo's past, present, and future will still be speculated by the whole nation. However, the story will unfold as time goes by.

Now another thing which is a completely separate from the story mentioned above, and that is the story about the City of Rancho Cordova. For example, we planted 15 trees in the Kilgore Cemetery last Thursday, which was one of the 15 ways to recognize our City's 15th birthday. And that also added to our City's tree canopy. Rancho Cordova is working very hard, going neighborhood to neighborhood to add more trees throughout our City. You can learn about the 15 Ways to celebrate the City's 15th birthday by visiting www.CityofRanchoCordova.org/Birthday.

Our granddaughter Scarlett was with us at the tree planting, and helped me (and our City Manager Cyrus Abhar) place some of the dirt back around one of the new trees. She is 2 1/2 years old, and allowed me to "help" on occasion. Most of the time I was told - especially when she wanted to help - it was "by myself." Funny, but that does seem to be the language that is passed on down, generation to generation, when they reached the age 2 or 3. I wouldn't have it any other way.

Another event that was headline news was the actual meeting of the two leaders of North and South Korea in the Korean Demilitarized Zone, which roughly follows latitude 38 degrees North (the 38th parallel). During the last three years, some people in our country began talking again about building bomb shelters like there were in the 1950s. People today were just as uncomfortable and/or afraid when the threat of nuclear attack might be possible. What the leader of North Korea was saying and doing about developing intercontinental ballistic missiles brought back memories in the minds of many who lived through those stressful years.

If there is a chance that the Korean Conflict could finally be over, and that the people of North and South Korea could finally live in one country, then the year 2018 could be added to the history of the world in which a real step was taken toward peace. There are many Korean War Veterans living today who could be able to see the end of the continuous tension between North and South Korea. What a release to the hearts of those veterans who fought that war over 60 years ago.

Talking about WWII, the Korean War, or the Vietnam War is part of history in which many of the people living today hadn't yet been born to witness. But many people who are living today who watched the Berlin Wall fall saw how the people in Germany were able to feel peace. Those who lived in that city were able to move and reconnect with their family like they hadn't been able to do for three decades. That wonderful feeling of peace that may not have been in the country before was felt by many around the world. We can all hope for success in the endeavors of the two leaders of North and South Korea.

Introducing the City's Homeless Outreach Team

By Russell Hartley,
City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The City of Rancho Cordova has a unique strategy and resources in place to assist individuals and families experiencing homelessness.

The Homeless Outreach Team (HOT) is comprised of two officers, code enforcement and our Homeless Navigator. The team builds relationships with homeless individuals and families to assist them in finding services, education and resources to help them become self-sufficient. The team also enforces violations of the law, such as illegal camping and aggressive panhandling.

"The Homeless Outreach Team focuses on a service-oriented approach to help the homeless," said City Manager Cyrus Abhar. "The team has already made great progress by surveying homeless in our community to identify their needs and connect them with resources, in addition to addressing public health and safety issues."

We are pleased to introduce you to our Homeless Outreach Team!

Homeless Navigator
David Elliott

David Elliott was homeless for over 10 years in the Sacramento region. He also struggled with drug addiction starting when he was 12 years old. In 2007, Elliott decided he didn't want to live like that anymore and found the support he needed.

Three years ago, Elliott had an opportunity to support homeless individuals and families as a Homeless Navigator with Sacramento Steps Forward. He jumped at the chance and feels he has found his niche in life. Elliott brought his passion to Rancho Cordova when he joined the City's Homeless Outreach Team.

"The last 10 years, I've have had a roof over my head and steady employment," said Elliott. "I understand that lives can change. If I can help somebody change their life through services such as housing resources, mental health services, or drug and alcohol counseling, I'm all for it."

The City is asking its residents and businesses to help be our eyes in the community. Here are ways you can report a homeless concern:

- Report homeless camps, trash or debris that might have come from a homeless camp, and abandoned shopping carts using Fresh Connect, the City's online reporting system. # Sacramento Taxpayers Association Releases 2018 Golden Fleece Award Recipients

By Katy Grimes, Investigative Journalist

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Taxpayers Association held its Fourth Annual GOLDEN FLEECE AWARDS, bestowed upon public officials, governmental agencies and organizations for their "wasteful, ridiculous, or ironic use of taxpayers' money," at the STA Annual Dinner April 18, 2018.

"The Sacramento Taxpayer Association is a non-partisan, non-profit, member-supported organization, working to hold government accountable, make it reliable, responsive and efficient – at all levels," said STA President Katy Grimes. "What could be more non-partisan than taxes?"

"The late U.S. Senator William Proxmire, a Democrat, used to famously issue monthly Golden Fleece awards to public officials he believed were squandering public money," Grimes said. "It is in his memory that we do the same. I only wish we also could do it monthly," Grimes added.

The Winner of the 2018 Golden Fleece Award: Ballot Initiative to Impose Strict Rent Control in the City of Sacramento – Democratic Socialists of Sacramento, Sacramento Housing Alliance, Tenants Together and Other Travelers. A coalition of hard Left groups are seeking to qualify for the November general election ballot a measure that would amend the City of Sacramento's charter to impose the most draconian rent control of any in the State of California. Coupled with a statewide initiative effort to repeal the Costa-Hawkins law which limits rent control to older units, the proposed rent control initiative in Sacramento, if approved by voters, is certain to snuff out new construction of rental properties, reduce the rental housing stock and worsen our existing housing crisis.

1st Runner up.: Darrell Steinberg's "Project Prosper – Mayor Steinberg and the City of Sacramento. The Mayor held a series of three public meetings earlier this year, dubbed "Project Prosper," to ostensibly obtain public input on how Sacramento could "invest" more in Sacramento neighborhoods. In fact, the effort was a thinly veiled PR effort to try to persuade Sacramento voters to not just permanently extend the expiring one-half percent Measure U "temporary" sales tax approved by voters six year ago, but to double the Measure U tax to a full one percent.

3-Way Tie for 2nd runner up: "Winter Triage Center"- City of Sacramento. With minimal notice to the impacted residents of Woodlake and North Sacramento, the City, with zero prior experience in running a homeless shelter, opened a "Winter Triage Center" on Railroad Dr. It has no bathrooms, no showers, no heat, no kitchen, no trash facilities, and no facilities for pets or personal belongings. It's operating at a cost of $425,000 per month, over $2,000/mo. per resident. The City promised the North Sacramento community that the shelter would be open for just 3 months. A few months later, it decided to keep it open indefinitely - at a huge increase in monthly rent.

"Housing First" Policies - Federal, State and Local Government. Under misguided "Housing First" policies, no facilities that house the homeless can insist that its residents commit to sobriety, treatment or make any other effort to improve their own lives. All government-funded homeless facilities are now "wet," allowing drunk and drugged homeless to obtain free housing without precondition. Privately run homeless programs which do require a commitment to change - such as the St. John's Center of Real Change that cares for women and children - have been defunded by federal and Sacramento County governments, putting their programs in peril.

Twin Rivers Public Housing Project - Sacramento Housing & Redevelopment Agency (SHRA). SHRA is tearing down an existing public housing project on Richards Blvd. and building a replacement high density project with double the number of units. It's intended to be a "mixed income" project, with 50% homeless/public/subsidized housing and 50% market-rate housing. The apartment units will cost an astronomical $636,000 per apartment.

Royal Wedding Fever

A celebration of Prince Harry's marriage to American Meghan Markle is planned for Carmichael Library on May 12. Photo by Sam Hussein

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- With the year's most anticipated nuptials just weeks away, Carmichael Library will break out the bouquets to preview Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's big day.

A May 12 "Royal Wedding Fever" program will include an exhibit of memorabilia from historic royal milestones. Carmichael author Susan Maxwell Skinner -- previously a Buckingham Palace court correspondent -- will share memories of attending the late Princess Diana's wedding and give insight into the pomp and planning of such royal events. "It's amazing how the whole world gets caught up in a royal wedding," says Skinner. "Even Sacramentans will be up at night watching the ceremony. It's especially exciting that Harry's bride is an American."

Susan Skinner collected royal family memorabilia from the time when she worked as a journalist in London. Her exhibit includes royal bride dolls, much china crockery and tea towels. Britain's knick-knack industry,"

A one-day display will include dolls and souvenirs from past royal weddings, on loan from Carmichael author and royal commentator Susan Maxwell Skinner.

she explains, "goes into overdrive at the sniff of a Windsor romance."

Apart from Diana and Prince Charles' wedding, Skinner witnessed their sons' debuts. "I saw William and Harry, as newborns, leave hospital in Diana's arms," she says. "It was pure deja-vu when William and Kate brought their third baby home from the same hospital last week."

Skinner will docent her exhibit in Carmichael Library from 11 am on Saturday, May 12. A free presentation begins in the community room at 2 pm. Refreshments will be provided; festive attire is encouraged. "We'll have tea and I'll share memories from my years with Prince Harry's mum," says the author. "I have a feeling Diana will be smiling down on Windsor Chapel on May 19. She adored her little red-head. She knew marriage to the right woman would be his making. This is a chance for royalty fans to get in the mood for Harry and Meghan's big day."

Carmichael library is located at 5605 Marconi Avenue. For information on the "Royal Wedding Fever" program, call (916) 481 0334. ★

Dave Says

That's when you can have a little fun and spend some money on a vacation, new furniture, or something like that.

Children think about their immediate wants and do what feels good. Adults, on the other hand, devise smart, logical plans, and stick to them. I want you to have a great life, but you have to put in some hard work and say "no" to yourself sometimes in order to attain that great life!

—Dave

First, lay a solid foundation

Dear Dave,

When is it okay to have a little fun, and buy things you want, when you're following the Baby Steps plan?

-Kaitlin

Dear Kaitlin,

The time for a little fun is after you've completed the first three Baby Steps. Baby Step 1 is saving $1,000 for a beginner emergency fund. Baby Step 2 is paying off all debt, except for your home. And Baby Step 3 means you go back and add to your emergency fund until you have three to six months of expenses set aside.

Once you're debt-free except for your home — and you have your emergency fund completed — you've laid a solid, financial foundation for your life.

It's Baby Step 1 for a reason

Dear Dave,

I'll be receiving my income tax refund soon. It will be enough to completely pay off my two smallest debts, or get my starter emergency fund of $1,000 for Baby Step 1 in place. What should I do?

-Brandy

Dear Brandy,

I love that you're excited about using your refund to start the Baby Steps, and begin gaining control of your finances. But we call the beginner's emergency fund Baby Step 1 for a reason.

Bad things can happen while you're working to get out of debt. That's why I want people to get a little money set aside before they start Baby Step 2, which is the debt snowball. What if the alternator on your car goes out, or your refrigerator dies? Life happens, and things go wrong. When this kind of stuff pops up, and you don't have any money set aside, you're likely to quit the plan and wind up going even deeper into debt.

I know you want to get out of debt. I want you to get out of debt, too. But I want you to stick with the plan, and actually get out of debt, instead of falling off the wagon the first time you hit a bump in the road!

By Ron Richardson,
Folsom Lake College Athletic Coordinator

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Men's Golf - The FLC men's golf team finished the 2018 Big 8 season with their 12th tournament victory (out of 14) after winning at Chardonnay Golf Club in Napa on Monday. The Falcons shot 385 to defeat Sierra by four strokes and American River by six. Falcon freshman Max Menconi wrapped up perhaps the finest season by a Big 8 individual golfer, shooting 69 to claim the individual Big 8 MVP award. The Big 8 champion Falcons will now prepare for next Monday's CCCAA NorCal Regional championship at Dragonfly Golf Club in Madera, where they'll play 36 holes in one day with the top four teams qualifying for the state championship tournament.

BASEBALL - The Falcons will head to the Fresno to open the CCCAA Regional playoffs on Friday as the tenth seed, opposing Central valley Conference champion and seventh-seeded Fresno City College (28-12) in a best-of-three series. Game one will be played at 2:00 pm on Friday, with game two scheduled for 11:00 am Saturday. If a third game is needed, it will start 30 minutes after the conclusion of game two on Saturday.
