#InspireTheFuture Delivers Free Airshow Tickets to 3,600 Rancho Cordova Students and Their Parents

By Asha Kreiling

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - A surprise Mitchell Middle and Williamson Elementary School assembly at Dave Roberts Community Park on Thursday morning, August 24th, kicked off an exhilarating morning organized by the City of Rancho Cordova in partnership with the California Capital Airshow. After listening to inspiring speeches by their school principals, Airshow Operations Manager Angela Terry, City of Rancho Cordova Vice Mayor Linda Budge, Congressman Ami Bera, and Superintendent Dr. Sarah Koligian, students were still unaware of what was in store for them.

That's when California Army National Guard pilots landed a Blackhawk helicopter in the middle of the park and military teams from the California Army National Guard and California Air National Guard carried in "Top Secret" boxes, which contained backpacks filled with free exclusive "Operation #InspireTheFuture" tickets. Valued at nearly $175,000, these tickets to the September 9-10 California Capital Airshow were distributed to 3,600 Rancho Cordova students and their parents.

The City held its first Operation #InspireTheFuture events last year to give Rancho Cordova students the opportunity to experience the thrill of flight at the Airshow cost-free, learn about Rancho Cordova's military history, as well as the exciting STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) opportunities in the military and beyond.

After the surprise assembly at Dave Roberts Community Park, 13 more Rancho Cordova elementary, middle, and high schools received special visits from Rancho Cordova City Council members, military squadrons from the California Air National Guard and California Army National Guard Air Force, and Airshow representatives. The military teams encouraged students to dream big and work hard in school, while sharing insights about their own jobs and passions.

Five additional Operation #InspireTheFuture deliveries are planned, giving students at each of the 20 elementary, middle and high schools in Rancho Cordova the opportunity to experience the Airshow. Each school will determine how best to distribute tickets to their students, such as awarding them to students for living school values and academic performance.

"The City of Rancho Cordova is committed to giving our young people opportunities to engage in fun and educational activities that inspire them to accomplish great things and make a difference in our community and beyond," said Rancho Cordova Vice

Senator Praises Work of Sacramento County Farm Bureau

Senator Jim Nielsen Cites Commitment to Agriculture and Farming

By Bill Bird, SCFB

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Farm Bureau (SCFB) has drawn both the admiration and praise of Northern California State Senator Jim Nielsen (R-Gerber), who recent congratulated the organization for its 100-years of service to the Sacramento County community and its recent recognition from the California Agriculture Heritage Club. Nielsen, who represents that 4th State Senate District and serves as Chair of the Senate Republican Caucus, Vice Chair of the Senate Committee on Veterans Affairs and Vice Chair of the Senate Budget & Fiscal Review, praised the SCFB for its "commitment to agriculture and farming for the past 100-years."

"I appreciate your continued efforts to promote and defend the agricultural interests within the county; such support is invaluable," Senator Nielsen wrote in a letter to the SCFB. "Additionally, I applaud the efforts the organization and its board have taken to remain fiscally responsible for its duration. The accomplishments you have achieved over this past century surely give you a lot to be proud of."

Senator Nielsen also praised the SCFB for its "celebratory milestone" and its statewide recognition from the 2017 California Agricultural Heritage Club Ceremony held last month at the California State Fairgrounds in Sacramento.

"Senator Nielsen's recognition of the work and accomplishments of the SCFB is an important triumph for this organization," said SCFB Board President Virginia Hemly-Chhabra. "Senator Nielsen is no stranger to agriculture. He grew up on a small farm in the San Joaquin Valley and later worked as a ranch foreman and operated the family cattle, field and row-crop ranch. His recognition of SCFB efforts is greatly appreciated."

The SCFB was honored for 100-years of services last month at the 2017 California Agricultural Heritage Club Ceremony held at the California State Fairgrounds in Sacramento. Membership in the Agricultural Heritage Club is a prestigious award, which is only given to farms, ranches, organizations and agribusinesses that have maintained a fiscal responsibility in the state for at least one full century.

Sacramento County is the 25th largest agriculture producing county in California with total agricultural production approaching $500 million. The top five county crops include wine grapes, poultry, grain corn, milk and Bartlett pears.

Sacramento County farmers put food on your fork. Our agricultural operations and products are as diverse as the lands we carefully manage. We are proud to provide healthy, fresh food for your family and ours. We invite you to join our efforts to protect Sacramento County's agriculture, rural character, and our ability to produce local, high-quality food for your table. ★

Regional Parks Safety Tips for Labor Day Weekend

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - As Sacramentans get ready for the final holiday weekend of summer, Sacramento County's Department of Regional Parks is reminding visitors to have fun and be safe. People of all ages should be aware of the rules and regulations at County parks. These rules promote safety and help preserve the parks.

Be Safe in the Water:

- Life Looks Good On You—and so does a life vest! Before you dive in, put on a life vest. There are borrowing stations along Sacramento's waterways and at local fire stations. Remember, even the strongest swimmer can be pulled under by the strong river currents.
- Kids Don't Float—but life vests do. Make sure your child wears a life vest. Sacramento County ordinance requires any child under 13 to wear a life vest before accessing any public waters (Sacramento County Ordinance 13.08.301). Bring a life vest for each of your children to the river.
- Rivers are running especially fast and cold this weekend. Sacramento County recommends that people of all ages and abilities use caution when swimming or boating. Visit the Sacramento County's Department of Regional Parks website about water safety tips.

Under the baton of Director Emeritus Jerry Lopes, the CPCB performance will include some of the band's traditional American favorites that have entertained Northern California audiences for nearly 20 years.

There is no admission charge to attend the event. Voluntary donations will be accepted on-site by both the CPCB and Christ the King Lutheran Church.

Hot dogs, chips and beverages will be available for purchase. Attendees are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and blankets to enjoy the show on the church green adjacent to CTK's patio area.

Started in 1997, the CPCB has performed a diverse portfolio of high-quality, well-prepared music heard by thousands of concert-goers throughout Northern California. The Citrus Heights-based, self-supporting, nonprofit community band of about 60 musicians represents a wide cross-section of the Sacramento area. Christ the King Lutheran Church is the band's rehearsal site.

For more information on the Capitol Pops, visit www.capitol-pops.org or its Facebook page. The Guemmer & Myers Trio website is <http://guemmerandmyers.weebly.com>. The RC Swing Dance Band website is www.rcswing.com.

More details on the Sept. 9 event can be obtained at www.christthekingov.com, on the church's Facebook page or by calling 916-988-2484. ★

- Open flame fires are not allowed, and barbequing is only permitted in designated picnic areas.

Parking Fee Increase:

The number of visits to Regional Parks increases dramatically during holiday weekends, which increases the cost to staff and maintain the parks. In order to offset these costs and provide maximum staffing and enforcement, the vehicle entrance fee will increase to $8 for single vehicles and $13 for oversized vehicles and vehicles towing watercraft.

These increases will not affect annual pass holders. Visitors who regularly enjoy County Parks are encouraged to purchase an Annual Parks Pass, not only to save money but to help keep our parks safe and clean.

Visit the Sacramento County Regional Parks website for more information. For emergencies, call 9-1-1.

Call 3-1-1 to report non-emergency or maintenance issues.

Martin Barre Band Headlines Harlow's

My new band is going to be pulling from an amazing repertoire of the Tull classics, adding in my own band's bluesy riffs and interpretations, but positively we are going to be making our fans happy, said Martin Barre. Photo by Martin Webb

By Jacqueline Fox

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, (MPG) - You'd have to be living under a rock not to notice the resurging interest in classic rock and roll, live performances specifically, and riding that wave is former Jethro Tull guitarist Martin Barre, who's new band is currently enjoying its first West Coast tour with a September 8 gig set for Harlow's Nightclub downtown.

"I get the best of both worlds," says Barre, 71, explaining how he and former Tull lead man, Ian Anderson who founded the band in 1967, have an understanding that the music of Tull, which officially disbanded in 2011, belongs to them equally. As such, fans new and old of Tull's original music can fully expect the Martin Barre band to come through, pulling heavily from Tull's more than two dozen albums and compilations, delivering familiar and new versions of the songs that shaped the British rock band's 45-year run, including, Crossed Eyed Mary, Thick as a Brick, Skating Away and the 1971 release that essentially put the band on the map in the United States, Aqualung.

"Ian and I have an understanding that, although Jethro Tull are finished, we both have full access to our music," said Barre. "My new band is going to be pulling from an amazing repertoire of the Tull classics, adding in my own band's bluesy riffs and interpretations, but positively we are going to be making our fans happy. I talk to our fans and I know what they want and it's important to me."

Harlow's gig marks the third stop on the band's 2017-18 tour, which culminates in Germany next May. The band has just released an album, Back to Steel (71st Street Music) and is preparing for a second album release sometime in early 2017, said Barre. Barre joined Tull amidst the release of its second album in 1961, Stand Up.

The Martin Barre Band's approach will please fans who remember the earthy, bluesy sounds of early Tull, as well as their popular folkly and progressive rock sounds. But don't be surprised if the performance takes you right out of the Tull bubble for a minute and into alternative territory with Barre's own version of a couple of tunes from fellow British rock favs.

"We'll be doing a very cool version of two Beatle's songs Eleanor Rigby and I Want You (She's So Heavy)," said Barre. "Why, because they are fun."

When you spend more than four decades with a band, explains Barre, it becomes like a marriage: evolving with time and changing points of view. But what has remained constant is the founding members' original purpose: to produce great music and entertain the fans. The fact that Barre and Anderson are not fighting over performing and recording rights to the original music, ensures it will continue to be available.

"My entire purpose is to produce great music," says Barre. "This is what I live for every day and to say that we are lucky to have been able to do that for 45 years, is amazing. Now, here I am at 71 enjoying both the ability to keep playing all of the fantastic music we (Jethro Tull) produced, while enjoying a new chapter, where I get to make new music of my own and bring new ideas and sounds and creative attention into the present. It just doesn't get any better than that, and neither I or Ian want to see that stop."

Barre said he spent several years working on his new sound before audiences across his home country of Great Britain and abroad, including a string of shows on the East Coast over the last couple of years. This tour, he says, marks the Martin Barre Band's first opportunity to continue the build out of the new band's sound and Barre says he thinks West coasters are "really going to be impressed."

"I spent 45 years building up the Tull brand and it is a solid brand," said Barre. "Then, with my new band, I spent a good deal of time working on building out my own brand. Now, I'm ready to start doing the same thing out on the West Coast. We are all just so excited to be here and to be doing what we love." ★

Mayor Linda Budge. “Operation #InspireTheFuture was exciting. We want one of our kids to be on that first trip to Mars!”

“Partnerships like these are what dreams are made of,” said Darcy Brewer, Executive Director, California Capital Airshow. The Airshow was founded on thrilling and inspiring the next generation to reach for the stars and accomplish great things. Thanks to the City of Rancho Cordova, thousands of students will be inside the Airshow gates on Sept. 9 and 10 to enjoy an amazing and educational weekend.

“The service people talked about how working hard and paying attention to math and science in school empowered them to be able to work on machinery and fly helicopters, and that really resonated with students throughout the day. Having both men and women military personnel also showed them that, whether you’re a boy or girl, the sky is the limit,” said W.E. Mitchell Middle School Principal Jim Huber.

“Operation #InspireTheFuture makes attending the Airshow a reality for thousands of students from every school in our City. It is a joy to give them this truly inspirational experience,” said Cyrus Abhar, Rancho Cordova City Manager.

My wife and I went to Clear Lake State Park last weekend, where we relaxed and did some fishing (actually catching) too. Now for those who have missed this in the past, I am talking about the kind of fishing in which you can put a weight on the end of your fishing line, toss it in the water, and read a book, etc. Now the other kind of fishing is the kind in which you catch a fish. Most of the time, I go fishing instead of catching. Anyway, we were both catching some fish, and after a couple of hours, we realized we had better get out of the sun before we wished we had.

Like many people are experiencing in Rancho Cordova, the heat from the sun at Clear Lake State Park was just too much, so we found some air conditioning and were very thankful for whoever invented it. I thought (hoped) that we had finished the days on end heat waves, but so much for that idea. This is a repeat, but there was a flyer that was handed out again to churches, the Folsom Cordova Community Partnership, and other locations in Rancho

And Another Thing ...

While There is Some Tension Between Nations, Today the Only One That is Questionable Seems to be North Korea And its Leader

Cordova to let people know that the City of Rancho Cordova wants to help our community beat those dangerous temperatures of 100 degrees plus. We invited residents to the City's Cooling Center which has been open all week through 6 PM today, September 1st, to cool down, hydrate with free water, enjoy free snacks, and watch movies. And for those who are very vulnerable to the heat and have no transportation, we have been offering rides to and from City Hall by calling (916) 851-8937. Like many people who called, they have had enough summer this year. I am looking forward to the autumn leaves and the cooler weather that comes with them.

This year, almost all public schools in this area have already begun their school year instead of waiting until after Labor Day September 4. The California Capital Airshow will be September 9 to September 10. The League of California Cities Convention is in Sacramento from September 13 to September 15. Autumn begins September 22. The last day of the rainy season is September 30, and I'm waiting to see how close we have come to setting a record. I know different weather forecasters have shown from 27 inches to 34 inches this year, compared to the 30 inches (more or less) that they received in Texas over just 24 hours because of Hurricane Harvey.

And another thing; some of us went through a much more stressful time during the Cold War between the Soviet Union and the United States and others. President John Fitzgerald Kennedy said as part of his inaugural speech, "Finally, to those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: that both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

Now while there is some tension between nations, today the only one that is questionable seems to be North Korea and its leader who doesn't seem to realize (or care?) what he is doing to the world and all of its nations. Even China seems to be wondering exactly where North Korea is going. I was stationed at Chennault Air Force Base which was located near Lake Charles, Louisiana when the Cuban Missile Crisis hit in October 1962. We don't need another crisis like that!

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Make It Fun and It Will Get Done!
The Secret to Being Organized

Pam Young's Corner

Let's Try to Be More Tolerant

Let's Try to Be More Tolerant

A few years ago my son Michael and his wife Meredith were invited by the FOX network to go to the Super Bowl and Terry and I were invited to babysit our two grandchildren Jack, age eight, and Brooklyn, age eleven. I have such fun with these two!

The first night we were with them, when it was bedtime they both wanted me to tell them a bedtime story. Since they slept in separate rooms I sat in the hallway with the light on so they could both see me if they sat up and it was easy for them to hear me. I love to make up bedtime stories because I never know what I'm going to say myself. I guess I should say Nelly (my inner child) loves to hear my stories or maybe she's the one who makes them up? Whatever, I love to do it.

Here's the story I told that night:

Rabbit Ears, Elephants, and Donkeys

Once upon a time there was a wonderful family that was happy and healthy. There was a mom and a dad and a boy, eleven and a girl eight. (I reversed the ages for the story so the kids wouldn't think this story was about them.) The family lived way out in the country and the mom homeschooled the two children (neither of them knew what that was). There was one small, genetic problem with the family; they were born with bunny ears. Beautiful, long soft bunny ears. The parents raised the children to be thankful for their ears. They showed them pictures of human ears and of course their ears were much better looking because human ears are just plain ugly!

One day the parents told the children that Mom was going to have to go to work and she would no longer be able to home school them and they would have to go to public school. They explained to the children that when they got in school there probably would be some children who would be mean and tease them about their bunny ears, but that they should just ignore them.

Sure enough, on the first day of school, the boy was out on the playground and a nasty, mean girl came up to him and said, "Hey rabbit ears, want a carrot?" The boy ignored the wicked girl, but she wouldn't relent. "Hey, can't you hear with those big ears or are you just stupid?" She was just one of those people who is intolerant of people's differences.

At this point in my story, Jack, my sweet eight-year-old love, said, "Was she a republican?"

Now I was already sitting on the floor so I didn't have far to fall in my hysterics! I laughed till I couldn't breathe and then I said, "Jackie, did you know I'm a republican?" Both children sat up in bed and stared at me as if I'd said, "Did you know I'm a witch and I'm going to eat you alive?"

When their liberal parents came home, I forgot to tell them about the incident, but a few weeks later I was on the phone with Michael and remembered to tell him what happened. He laughed and said, "You know Jack came to me a few days after you guys left and said, 'Dad, did you know Gramma's a republican?' I told him I did."

Then I said, "Michael, you know it might just be the right time to explain to the children that we need to respect each other's differences. You'd have thought I'd confessed to murder with the shocked reaction I received." It was quiet on the phone.

I love America! I am a republican and some of my best friends are democrats. My husband is a democrat and our votes probably cancel each other out, but that's what makes this country great! We can never go too far left or right. If you are a democrat, be nice to a republican today. If you are a republican, be nice to a democrat today. That's all I'm ever going to say about politics.

Dave Says

You're not in the middle of a cornfield, dude. If she can't find something in the next four-to-five months, there's some other issue you're not telling me about.

Now, in the very unlikely event she doesn't land another gig, you guys are going to have to put Baby Step 2 on hold for a while, and cut your spending down to the bare necessities until something does come along. But your lady has a super-employable skill set. If she gets out there and really busts it looking for another job, I think you two are going to land on your feet and in even better shape than before!

—Dave

Time to leave

Dear Dave,

My brother-in-law moved in with us several months ago. He's 32, and he doesn't have a job or contribute anything in terms of helping around the house or with bills. I think he needs to move out, but my wife is hesitant to say anything. She complains about the situation to me, but she knows her family will be upset if we do anything. How can we handle this?

- Chuck

Dear Chuck,
Responsible adults don't behave like bums, and I don't care what the rest of the family thinks. This issue is between you and your wife. You two are the only ones dealing with this, so it's easy for others to chime in about what should happen.

You shouldn't just kick the guy out, but you do need to get busy formulating a plan that will allow him to get back on his feet. Have a gentle talk with him about the situation and his future, and tell him things aren't going to continue on the same path. Let him know he must have a job within 30 days, and 30 days after that he has to move into his own place. Write it down on the calendar, if it will help, but make sure he understands why you're doing this and the date he must move out.

I know these things can be difficult, but sometimes you've got to take the bull by the horns and make something happen. It's what's best for him – and both of you – in the long run.

—Dave

Single-Payer: Coming Soon to a Theater Near You?

Commentary by Sally C. Pipes

Hollywood loves a sequel. This summer, studios are releasing a fifth Pirates of the Caribbean, a third edition of the Despicable Me franchise, and another Spiderman.

But warmed-over ideas are not the sole province of the film industry. Progressive lawmakers are launching a reboot of their own -- Single-Payer Health Care: A Future We Can Believe In.

The trailer promises a futuristic, universal healthcare system without premiums, deductibles, or copays. But this feature is sure to flop. Single-payer's previous runs have been horror shows, with billions of dollars in cost over-runs and patients waiting helplessly for necessary care.

Lawmakers across the country are vying to be the first to establish a single-payer system.

The California state Senate passed a bill that would abolish private health coverage and enroll all residents in a single-payer system. The state Assembly shelved the measure for now -- but may consider it next year. Washington state senator Maralyn Chase is drafting a similar proposal.

In May, New York's state Assembly approved a bill that would establish a single-payer system in the Empire State. And in June, Nevada Gov. Brian Sandoval vetoed legislation that would have allowed any state resident to sign up for the state's Medicaid program.

At the national level, a single-payer plan introduced by U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., has over 100 co-sponsors.

These bills would destroy the healthcare system and the economy.

Consider the California bill. The state Senate's Appropriations Committee found that the measure would cost $400 billion annually. That's more than three times the state's annual budget.

The state would fund its plan by raiding taxpayers' wallets. The Appropriations Committee calculated that it would take a new 15 percent payroll tax to come up with half that tab.

In New York, single-payer could cost $226 billion in 2019 and destroy 175,000 local jobs, as companies flee to other states.

Those crippling taxes are among the reasons that even liberal voters have panned previous attempts to impose single-payer.

Colorado voters rejected a single-payer proposal last November by an 80-20 margin. The plan would have subjected residents to an additional 10 percent payroll tax. Even Democratic Governor John Hickenlooper didn't back it.

Vermont's dalliance with single-payer was also short-lived. In 2011, the state legislature approved a single-payer plan. It would have cost $4.3 billion annually -- requiring an 11.5 percent payroll tax and an additional 9 percent individual income tax. Former Governor Peter Shumlin scrapped the plan, deeming it too expensive.

Single-payer systems also deliver atrocious care. In Canada's single-payer system, the median patient waited 20 weeks in 2016 between referral from a general practitioner and receipt of treatment from a specialist. A 2014 study of 11 industrialized countries ranked Canada dead last in timeliness of care.

Many Canadians leave the country to get the care they need. In 2015, more than 45,500 Canadians received non-emergency medical treatment outside of Canada. In recent years, local health officials have authorized over $100 million in spending to send Ontario patients waiting for critical transplants to U.S. hospitals.

In the United Kingdom's government-run system, patients aren't faring any better. In 2015, over 130,000 patients did not receive timely cancer care.

Single-payer systems have consistently received poor reviews from those trapped in them. Once American audiences realize that, they'll give pitches for single-payer a big thumbs-down.

Some people who have an outstanding level of intelligence often get caught up in their own self-importance. It is extremely dangerous position. Some may even consider their opinions and knowledge higher than God Almighty. They are listening to the wrong voice! Their conscience needs a fresh resurrection, and they need to acknowledge God knows everything and is greater. They often believe that their intelligence and self-importance diminishes what other's think and believe. They never believe their truth is misdirected or an untruth. It is their way or no way!

The worship of one's own opinions is a form of "idolatry" and not recognized by a Sovereign/Creator God of all that exists. It is a very dangerous and places that person in a sinful state which will ultimately lead them into an eternal hell. Placing one self above God is exactly what Adam and Eve did in the Garden of Eden when they dishonored the Lord's instructions. He therefore, cast them out of heaven to earth.

The only way an intelligent person can find resolve and a right standing with God is to recognize this sin and need for God inviting His Spirit into their heart and life. Then, read and become familiar with the Bible. Pray faithfully, asking forgiveness for this attitude of spiritual superiority to leave. Then, they will receive the miracle to have a clear understanding of the words they read in God's Holy Word, God's Love Book.

I assure you God will be listening and His Spirit will answer because He loves all of us completely with an everlasting magnificent love beyond anything any of us have ever known. He is the God of divine and pure love and forgiveness. He is the great I AM and He awaits your prayer.

A New Inconvenient Truth

market, now is the time to face the truth. Inconvenient, yes, but it's a reality and pretending that it doesn't exist is no longer an option.

It's highly likely that you or someone you're close to is already a victim of the New Career Economy. Downsizing and the impending threat of layoffs are forcing many people to reevaluate their current professional situations.

For example:

- "Am I really happy with my career choice?"
- "Am I where I thought I would be 10 years ago?"
- "Where do I see this career path taking me in the next 10 years?"

Is the road you are on getting you closer to your Income, Lifestyle, Wealth and Equity expectations?

These are some things to keep in mind when you're considering a possible change. Remember how big and limitless your dreams were when you were a child?

You were able to focus on the end result without being daunted by the journey to get you there. You never considered failure to be an option. What if you could think that way again?

You can! Let the New Career Economy be your catalyst. This is your chance to revisit those dreams you may have set aside at some point in the past. Even if you still have the same personal and family goals you originally set out with, who says you can't alter the journey to get you there?

Remember, nothing is set in stone—you can begin to transform your future today. That's right, the onion, with all its intricate layers, can be likened unto the needs, wants, likes, dislikes and desires that make you who you are. To "peel the onion" is to take a mini journey in self-discovery to uncover your core – we can help you to discover what motivates you along your own personal journey.

By discovering what motivates you, you can begin to decipher what you may need to change. Another way we open possibilities at The Entrepreneur's Source is the determination of your I.L.W.E. (Income, Lifestyle, Wealth, Equity). These are key components that contribute to your overall happiness and satisfaction with life.

Once you begin the discovery process, so many factors come to the surface that you'll reach a point of clarity about what you want your life to look like. At that point, the solution, or, really a way to get where you want to go ultimately presents itself. We provide the tools, you draw the conclusions. Since this is a discovery process, you are in charge of how fast or how slow you want to go through the process.

Want to start your journey today? Give me a call. Lou McNerney, 916-335-1126

Slim Randles’ HOME COUNTRY

It was Thursday again. Mabel Adams asked at the desk to be sure. “Thursday all day, Mabel,” the girl said. “Don’t forget to get your hair done today. Two o’clock ... right?”

“Right,” Mabel said, locking the time away in her mind. “Two o’clock. On Thursday.” She took her purple walker and went half a block to the counter at the drug store. That nice Williams girl came over with a smile and a menu. “Tuna on toast, Mrs. Adams?” “Uh, sure. I like that.” “Hot tea?” “Yes please.”

After she ate, she started down the sidewalk toward the Curl Up ‘N Dye beauty parlor. The watch pinned on her dress said one forty-five. Mabel went over to her usual chair and sat down. Fran came over and looked at Mabel’s hair with a smile. “You still look pretty ravishing, Mabel,” she said. “Sure you want a touch-up today?” Mabel nodded. “Going to watch that movie with the girls tonight?” Movie. Tonight. “Sure,” said Mabel. It’s nice to live in a small town, because if you don’t know what you are doing, someone else does.

Raiders Rally to Beat Lancers in Opener

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - A two-point lead was something that the Cordova High School football team was looking to expand in the fourth quarter against Rio Americano in the season opener.

But the Raiders were the ones who came away with a 42-35 win over the Lancers at Del Campo High on Aug. 25th. The loss was tough for Cordova, which had a combined 488 total offensive yards against the Raiders' defense.

Entering the final quarter, Cordova (0-1) led 27-25. But two interceptions by the Raiders' defense led the way toward touchdowns. On top of that, two kickoffs were returned for touchdowns.

"What caused us the game was our lack of effort on the kickoffs," said Cordova head coach Darren Nill. "Those are just back-breakers."

That helped the Raiders score 17 points in the final eight minutes of the game to secure the victory. An 8-yard pass, plus the extra-point kick, gave Rio Americano a 32-27 lead. A rushing touchdown and two field goals cushioned the Raiders' lead to 45-27.

The Lancers cut the lead toward the end of the quarter when quarterback Johnnele Sanders threw a 75-yard pass.

Cordova opted and converted on the 2-point conversion, but that was all of the Lancers' scoring in the game.

In the first quarter, both teams scored a touchdown each, but failed on the extra-points, for a 6-6 score. Then in the second quarter, Sanders completed a 25-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Calvin Augusta. Add the extra-point, and the Lancers had their first lead of the season at 13-6.

After the Raiders scored to cut the lead to 13-12, the Lancers added a 5-yard touchdown run to increase their lead to 20-12. But Rio Americano returned the kickoff 100-yards to trim into the Lancers' lead to 20-19, all in the second quarter.

"We're making some personnel changes on our kickoff," said Nill of the kickoff team that allowed the touchdown. "Trying to get some more hungry kids out there, some more physical kids, to stop that type of thing."

Sanders hit Augusta again, this time on a 73-yard pass, midway through the third quarter to increase Cordova's lead to 27-19.

The Lancers had four fumbles in the game, all in the first half. But lost the ball only once to the Raiders.

"I thought that Rio Americano came out and outplayed our guys in the first half," Nill said.

Sanders completed 7-of-9 passes for 185 yards and a touchdown in the game. He also rushed 11 times for 102 yards and another touchdown. Raymond Fite had three receptions for 99 yards.

On defense, Augusta, from his defensive back spot, had 12 tackles and outside linebacker Yusef Pugh had nine.

Tonight, Friday, Cordova will play its first home game of the season at Lancers Stadium against Chavez. The Stockton school fell to Mountain House, 33-12, in the season opener on the Mustangs' field last Friday. Game time for today's game is 7:30 p.m. ★

Experience Returns for Cordova Football

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - A group of returning players gives the Cordova High School football team momentum this season.

Tonight, Friday, the Lancers will host Chavez of Stockton at Lancers Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

Prior to the season opener against Rio Americano last Friday – see elsewhere in this section on the game – Cordova football head coach Darrin Nill talked about the squad after his Lancers On Aug. 18th, Cordova scrimmaged at Capital Christian.

"You had some positive surprises, and some negative surprises," Nill said.

One of the positives was the Lancers' consistency on moving the ball on offense. "We moved the ball well on them," Nill said.

On the other side of the ball, the Cougars were more physical than the Lancers.

"I think that surprised our guys," said Nill of the Cougars.

Spearheading returning players are senior quarterback Tyreke Tate (6-foot, 187 pounds), who led the Lancers' defense at free safety that led to a share of the SVC title with Liberty Ranch and El Dorado last fall.

Joining Tate, who will continue to play the free safety spot, is wide receiver Calvin Augusta, second in the SVC in receiving last year and like Tate was all-SVC player. Augusta also play defensive back. Junior Alvin Banks is back at wide receiver and defensive back, another all-SVC player.

"That kid can just flat out play football," said Nill of Banks. "He's a fantastic athlete; he can throw the ball, he can catch the ball. I think if he could throw the ball and catch it himself, he probably would."

Looking to carry the ball on the ground is senior running back Clifford Bright, who will be one of the Lancers' defensive ends and a three-year starter. Joining Bright in the backfield will be junior Raymond Fite, who started as a sophomore last season. Fite is also listed as a defensive back, a spot he made all-SVC.

On the offensive and defensive line for the Lancers are seniors, starting with center/defensive tackle Austin McCoy (6-foot, 260) and offensive/defensive tackle Michael Castillo (6'1, 245), left guard/defensive tackle Joseph Salcedo (5'9, 270), another three-year starter and right guard/defensive end Josh Colvin (6'3, 200). ★

Falcons Notch First Victory With Shutout Win Over Chabot

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, (MPG) - The FLC men's soccer team smartly escaped the valley heat on Tuesday afternoon as they traveled to the Bay Area to take on Chabot College (Hayward) in a non-conference match, and came home with a 1-0 victory.

Unlike their opening game when they fell behind early, the Falcons started strong against the Gladiators with five shots on goal in the first 20 minutes of play. Though none of the shots found the net, the team's confidence was building. The match remained a scoreless tie well into the second half as both teams battled for chances to score.

Upcoming Sports Schedule

Fri Sept. 1 Men's soccer at Cabrillo (Aptos) at 6:30 pm
Women's soccer vs Solano at FLC, 7:00 pm

Sat Sept. 2 Men's soccer at West Valley (Saratoga) at 11:00 am
Women's Volleyball at Shasta Tournament (Redding), 1:00 and 3:00 pm

Falcons sophomore Austyn Ciampa scored the game's only goal with a successful PK in the 65th minute.

Finally in the 65th minute, FLC sophomore forward Santiago Peniche drove through the Chabot defense and into the box where he was fouled, resulting in a penalty kick. Sophomore Austyn Ciampa calmly knocked the PK into the net for the only goal of the match and a victory for the Falcons, their first of the young season. Now sporting a 1-0-1 record, the Falcons will travel to Aptos to take on Cabrillo College on Friday (Sept 1) evening at 6:30 pm. ★

TEEN HEART SCREENING

Sponsored by FOLSOM CORDOVA UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

INVITED: All teens and young adults ages 12 to 25 years are invited to participate in Via Heart Project's heart screening event.

WHY: It is estimated 1 in 500 school-aged children suffer an undiagnosed heart defect, which can lead to sudden cardiac arrest and death. A typical annual physical does not screen for advanced heart abnormalities. This screening does not take the place of your annual or pre-participation sports physical.

WHAT: Screenings take 60-90 minutes (wait times may vary). A team of medical volunteers; including cardiologists, sonographers, and nurses from the Sacramento and Bay area, will conduct a health history questionnaire review an EKG test, and if warranted, an echocardiogram. The entire process is non-invasive—no needles or x-ray exposure—and we ensure each teen's confidentiality, privacy and individual modesty is respected throughout all aspects of the screening.

HOW: Your child must be registered online in advance. Please bring their completed Health Form to the event. Please register and access forms at <http://viaheartproject.org/screenings> Registration opens August 7, 2017 until noon on September 15th, 2017. Registration is limited to 750 students.

WHEN: Sunday, September 17th, 2017, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

WHERE: Cordova High School, 2239 Chase Drive, Rancho Cordova, CA 95670

COST: VIA Heart Project screenings are offered free of charge thanks to sponsors. Consider paying it forward to allow VIA to keep saving young lives. Just $25 helps them screen another teen. Donations may be made at the screening or during the online registration process.

2016 FCUSD Event Results: 286 students screened

- 20 students needed follow up:
- 3 for asthma
- 8 for high blood pressure/hypertension
- 9 for cardiac issues (3 were serious issues)
- 89 echos were performed
