“Forgotten War” Remembered

The memories of war never fade. And we should never forget those who served. Photos by Rick Sloan

By Shelly Lembke

MATHER, CA (MPG) - The fighting men of the United States military that left their homes to fight a war and defend the country of South Korea were honored this Memorial Day in a public ceremony at Veteran's Plaza at Mather. The veterans were paid tribute by a host of local dignitaries, officials and the Consul General of the Republic of Korea in San Francisco, the Honorable SHIN, Chae-Hyan.

Dress in the crowd was purposely patriotic. Amid the red, white and blue ensembles, many sported caps shirts, vests and jackets displaying their veteran status and military affiliation. Uniforms ranged from Boy Scouts to kilts to Navy White Dress and veterans in Revolutionary garb, complete with tricorne hats.

Memorial Day 2017 marked the 11th Annual Memorial Day Service at Mather and this year's ceremony was specifically in honor of United States veterans who served in Korea from the time the U.S. entered the war in 1950, to the conclusion in 1953, as well as those who remained until 1955 as part of the United Nations Peacekeeping Force.

While there were many hard-fought battles lost and won, members from the United States Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps all served. One of the most memorable operations took place under the command of General Douglas MacArthur. Consisting mostly of Army soldiers and U.S. marines in the winter of 1950, that particular band of brothers inadvertently became what is commonly known as “the Frozen Chosin.” Surrounded by opposing forces in the Chosin Valley, officially recorded temperatures are known to have gone as low as minus 54 Fahrenheit.

After brief remarks from Rancho Cordova Mayor Donald Terry, other speakers included Congressman Ami Bera, Senator Ted Gaines, Assemblyman Ken Cooley, Deputy Secretary

Theresa Gunn of the California Department of Veterans Affairs and Sacramento County Board of Supervisor Don Nottoli, and concluded with the key note speech of the Consul General and a presentation to the American veterans of certificates and medals on behalf of the Republic of Korea.

Rancho Cordova City Councilmember and ardent veterans' advocate Bob McGarvey also gave some initial remarks, citing the ongoing improvements to the hospital and Veteran's Plaza. “It is a humbling experience to stand before you today,” McGarvey said to the audience and referencing the historical significance that Veteran's Plaza represents. “We've had men and women go around the world...to believe they were right to answer the call of duty,” he said.

Supervisor Don Nottoli spoke, invoking the memory of United States veterans and their families, “Lives lost, dreams never realized,” he said of the unnumbered sacrifices of our servicemen and women and their spouses and children who suffered their absence and all too often mourned their loss, and that we who enjoy life and liberty today should “not take for granted,” the cost paid for freedom. “Our fallen heroes knew full well that they

Click It or Ticket Campaign Shows Zero Tolerance

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - As summer kicks off and families hit the road for vacations, The Rancho Cordova Police Department and the California Office of Traffic Safety is reminding motorists to Click It or Ticket. Aimed at enforcing seat belt use to help keep you and your family safe, the national seat belt campaign takes place from May 22 through June 4, concurrent with one of the busiest travel and holiday weekends of the year. Officers will conduct nighttime seat belt enforcement operations during the two week Click It Or Ticket mobilization to help lower California's traffic deaths. In addition to these special patrols, officers on routine patrol will also be looking for unrestrained drivers and passengers to stop and cite.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), nearly half of the 22,441 passenger vehicle occupants killed in crashes in 2015 were unrestrained. During nighttime hours, that number soared to 57 percent of those killed. That's why one focus of the Click It or Ticket campaign is nighttime enforcement. Participating law enforcement agencies will be taking a no-excuses approach to seat belt law enforcement, writing citations day and night. In Rancho Cordova, the ticket cost for an adult seat belt violation is $162, with penalties for not restraining a child at $465

In 2015, 545 Californians were killed because they did not buckle their seat belts according to NHTSA. Nationally, almost twice as many males were killed in crashes as compared to females, with lower belt use rates, too. Of the males killed in crashes in 2015, more than half (52%) were unrestrained. For females killed in crashes, 42 percent were not buckled up. Please, help us spread this life-saving message before one more friend or family member is killed as a result of this senseless inaction. Seat belts save lives, and everyone needs to remember to buckle up, every trip, every time.

Great Make Day to Showcase Hacker Lab Potential

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Hacker Lab, a co-working space with two locations currently in Midtown Sacramento and Rocklin, is looking to develop a third location in Rancho Cordova.

With a focus on innovation and entrepreneurship, Hacker Lab offers workspaces to “makers” to hammer, glue, solder, weld and build. The organization also hosts events and offers classes on various technologies, such as 3D printing and laser cutting. While it has only been in the Sacramento area since 2012, Hacker Lab is already working to expand its two current locations to larger facilities, and hopes to develop another co-working space in Rancho Cordova and leverage the City's existing manufacturing and industrial resources.

The City of Rancho Cordova completed feasibility studies in 2012 and 2014 to determine whether an innovation center would be successful in the City, and the studies had positive results, with local businesses and entrepreneurs supporting the idea of having a Hacker Lab “maker space” in their community.

“We're seeing a growing trend in co-working spaces and innovation in the Sacramento region, and a Hacker Lab in Rancho Cordova aligns with the growth that we want to see in the City,” said City of Rancho Cordova Economic Development Manager, Amanda Norton.

Hacker Lab hosted smaller events in Rancho Cordova this year, but recently has been working with the City to organize their premier event called Great Make Day on June 10, 2017. Following the event, Hacker Lab will be finalizing their feasibility study which will determine if there is enough demand in Rancho Cordova to build their third site in Rancho Cordova.

“Great Make Day is an opportunity for people to come out and explore what making is. Ultimately, you will find that we are all makers, and that places like Hacker Lab can help broaden creativity in anyone.”

United Way Women Collect Hundreds of Towels, Toiletries and Luggage for Foster Youth

United Way volunteers package towel sets that were donated to United Way's Women in Philanthropy Spring Drive for local foster youth moving out on their own. Photo courtesy United Way

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - United Way's Women in Philanthropy and members of the community donated 360 towel sets, 100 pieces of luggage and hundreds of toiletries for local foster youth preparing to move out on their own. The items from United Way's Women in Philanthropy Spring Drive were donated to Sacramento County's Foster Youth Emancipation Basket program for more than 260 local foster youth getting ready to leave the system. More than a dozen volunteers came together in late April to package the towel sets and write notes of encouragement to each of the foster youth who will receive an emancipation basket

"It was incredible to see so many people from the community come together to support local foster kids, many of whom are getting ready to move out with nothing but the clothes on their backs," said Romy Cody, member of United Way's Women in Philanthropy Leadership Council. "Luggage, toiletries and towels are tangible items that many of us take for granted but will mean a better start for these resilient kids transitioning to adulthood."

United Way's Women in Philanthropy brings local women together to end poverty for local foster youth by helping them become financially prepared for life after foster care. This focus is part of the Square One Project, United Way's 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of local students who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. Through nine decades of work and research across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties, the local United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones to prepare for success in college or career. # Lancers Graduates Looking to Lead

By Daniel Thigpen
Folsom Cordova Unified School District

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Cordova High graduates celebrate next chapter of success

Cordova High School’s 53rd graduating class was an energetic and ambitious group of students who bonded over their desire to leave a mark on their beloved school and community. They’ve done so by achieving at high levels inside and out of the classroom.

They celebrated their graduation with proud family and friends in a spirited ceremony on May 26, as many of them prepare to move on to college, the military, or to get a head start on pursuing their professional dreams.

“Many of us chose to make the most of high school and to strive to do what we love in life,” said Zackary Szabo, one of Cordova High’s four valedictorians. “Graduation is more than a milestone, it is a step forward in our life journey.”

Szabo and the other three school valedictorians also received prestigious International Baccalaureate (IB) Programme diplomas, earned for taking the most rigorous coursework possible.

It was a year of many milestones for the roughly 360 graduating students of the Class of 2017. Here are just a few of them:

College-bound graduating classmembers include sixteen students headed to University of California system schools including: UCLA, Berkeley, UC Merced, UC San Diego, and UC Davis.

Another 57 are enrolling in California State University system schools, including Los Angeles, San Francisco Art Institute, Northridge, Long Beach, Sacramento and Chico.

Many students are travelling out of state for college, to destinations such as Boise State, University of New Mexico, Kings College in New York City, and others.

Forty-five graduates are the first in their families to go to college.

112 will benefit from a year of free tuition to Folsom Lake College through the Promise Program, a partnership with the college and the City of Rancho Cordova.

International Baccalaureate (IB) achievement includes twenty-one students on full IB Diploma Programme graduates, earning them a competitive advantage to selective colleges.

Another 43 students took one or more IB Diploma Programme classes, choosing to add rigorous coursework to their packed school schedules.

In all, about 100 students maintained a grade point average of 3.0 or higher all four years of high school.

“We are a class filled with passionate warriors,” said Wendy Martinez, Cordova High’s senior class president and the outgoing student member of the Folsom Cordova Board of Education. “Now it is time for us to move on and make a new mark. I hope the world is ready.” ★

“Forgotten War” Remembered

“This alliance was forged in your blood.”

The Honorable SHIN, Chae-Hyan were strong and to the point. After thanking the City of Rancho Cordova for the warm welcome extended to himself and his wife, he got right to the point. “You American have fought all around the world.” The United States military, he said, has given many people the opportunity for “new life” in the face of threat and oppression.

Regarding his own country, the Republic of Korea, he said quite simply, “You saved our lives. You defended and protected our liberty and freedom.”

The Consul General went on to tell the assembly that by the end of the war, his country was “in ashes,” but they have spent decades rebuilding their culture, infrastructure and strengthening their government and diplomatic ties with the United States.

The Republic of Korea and the United States, he said have an allegiance. To the assembled veterans of the Korean War and on behalf of his grateful nation he said of this relationship between the two countries,

Chae-Hyan and his wife then presented medals and certificates to individually to each Korean War veteran. The medals awarded are unique. According to a spokesperson for the City of Rancho Cordova, “The Ambassador for Peace Medal Ceremony specifically is an opportunity for the Korean Government to pay tribute to local U.S. Korean War Veterans.”

The event, which had been interspersed with stirring music by Rancho Cordova’s River City Orchestra, concluded with a fly-over of vintage military planes trailing colored smoke to mark the occasion and an exceptional performance by bagpipe player and Army veteran Rob Roy who played “Amazing Grace.” The orchestra’s final piece was a rousing rendition of “God Bless America,” to which the crowd enthusiastically sang along. ★

Hillside Park Wins Top Facility Award

Hillside is the 36th park in the District and opened in June 2016. The park previously was honored by the Sierra Chapter of the American Society for Landscape Architects in November 2016.

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Hillside Park was awarded as the 2017 Outstanding New Facility by the California Association of Recreation and Park Districts. The distinguished award was presented to the Cordova Recreation and Park District at the 2017 Spring Conference in May.

Hillside is an 8-acre neighborhood park located in the Sunridge/North Douglas area in Rancho Cordova. The park features playgrounds, a play field, a basketball half-court, covered picnic areas and a “play hill” with concrete and steel tube water-fall slides, a rope ladder and other play structures.

Hillside park also includes water-conserving no mow grass and drought-tolerant native plants.

Award judges commented that Hillside Park is a “well-executed solution to a site with challenging topography” and they “appreciated the attention to water conservation through the use of drought tolerant plantings.”

Regional Parks Deploys Park Resource Team

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

- In order to tackle the impacts of illegal camping and other crime within County Parks and the American River Parkway, Sacramento County Regional Parks introduced the Park Resource Team in January 2017. The Park Resource Team (PRT), consists of a dedicated crew of five park rangers and four maintenance staff focusing primarily on the impacts of illegal camping, crime, and trash removal.

“Regional Parks deployed the Park Resource Team in January to areas hardest hit by recent flooding and illegal camping trash,” said Jeff Leatherman, Director, Sacramento County Regional Parks. “Through the work of the team, we’ve been able to improve our response and cleaning up areas impacted by illegal camping, making our parks and Parkway a better place for visitors to recreate.”

Since January, the PRT has made 65 arrests and issued 150 citations.

While the rangers continue their law enforcement efforts, County Parks maintenance staff work to remove debris accumulated from illegal dumping and flooding. This year, the maintenance team received the addition of a lightweight tractor and the support of a debris transfer vehicle—both courtesy of the County’s Department of Waste Management and Recycling.

With the addition of the tractor, maintenance staff can remove more debris than was previously removed with hand crews. The equipment also ensures maintenance staff safety by minimizing the amount of trash staff have to hand load into trucks for transport to the dumpsters or landfill. The machinery also assists staff in collecting heavy debris such as mattresses, couches, and large containers, in hard-to-reach places along the Parkway.

Additionally, trash dumpsters are emptied daily, minimizing the re-depositing of trash back into the park system from the dumpsters. Between January-May, the maintenance team has removed 165.5 tons of garbage from the Regional Park system.

On Monday we honored our veterans and their families on Memorial Day. It was our 11th Annual Memorial Day Celebration in the City of Rancho Cordova, and it was truly an event that stood out to add to the wonderful memories we have of our veterans. Honoring all of our veterans was first, but then this celebration let our Korean War Veterans know that they have a place in our history books and the books of the citizens of South Korea too.

The Honorable SHIN, Chae-Hyun, Consul General of the Republic of Korea in San Francisco, came to our celebration to honor and to thank those brave American Korean War Veterans who fought alongside the South Korean soldiers and won their freedom back for them. The beautifully designed “Ambassador for Peace Medal” was personally given to each Korean War Veteran who was there by the Consul General. We felt very privileged to have him there, but he said it was his privilege to be able to thank our brave veterans.

Our City staff are working on gathering more Korean War Veterans names who

And Another Thing ...

Our Korean War Veterans Know That They Have a Place in Our History Books

were't able to come, or didn't know about the medals that were part of Rancho Cordova's Memorial Day celebration. Being thanked by the Consul General of the Republic of Korea in San Francisco, Congressman Ami Bera, State Senator Ted Gaines, Assemblyman Ken Cooley, California Department of Veterans Affairs Deputy Secretary Theresa Gunn, County Supervisor Don Nottoli, Rancho Cordova Mayor Donald Terry, Vice Mayor Linda Budge, and myself was much more than they received when they came home from fighting in Korea.

Now granted they weren't treated like the troops who came home from Vietnam, but the books show there were no ticket tape parades for them either. Like many, many veterans, they were there because they were called to duty. They did what they thought was right, then they came home, went back to work, and took care of their families.

This is what the proclamation that was part of the thank you from the Republic of Korea said;

“AMBASSADOR FOR PEACE” Official Proclamation

“It is a great honor and pleasure to express the everlasting gratitude of the Republic of Korea and our people for the service you and your countrymen have performed in restoring and preserving our freedom and democracy.

We cherish in our hearts the memory of your boundless sacrifices in helping us reestablish our Free Nation.

In grateful recognition of your dedicated contributions, it is our privilege to proclaim you an “AMBASSADOR FOR PEACE” with every good wish of people of the Republic of Korea. Let each of us reaffirm our mutual respect and friendship that they may endure for generations to come.

Consul General SHIN
Chae-Hyun
On behalf of the Korean Government
Minister
Patriot and Veterans Affairs
Republic of Korea”

And another thing that has to be discussed is that at the June 5th City Council meeting, your City Council will be working to choose someone to finish Dan Skoglund's term in office. And we will be voting on our City's budget, so it will probably be a long meeting. Just thought you'd like to know.

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Dave Says

Don’t compromise your emergency fund

Dear Dave,

My wife and I are debt-free, and we’re ready to start building our first home. We’re a little short on cash to make the 20 percent down payment you recommend, but we do have a fully funded emergency fund in place. Would it be okay to take a little out of our emergency fund to make up the difference?

- Chris

of expenses stashed away would worry me. That’s the way you’ve got to look at it. Just use a little common sense with the numbers.

I’d love for you to put down 20 percent because you’d avoid private mortgage insurance (PMI), which runs about $75 a month per $100,000 borrowed. It costs you a lot of money if you don’t put down 20 percent. You should try to do that if possible, but don’t be irresponsible with your emergency fund in the process.

Your emergency fund, when it’s there, tends to keep emergencies away. When it’s not there, you have a tendency to attract emergencies and your life starts to sound like a sad country song!

—Dave

enough integrity to even think about this means you’re a conscientious, honest person. I think you’re going to be okay.

Making and serving coffee is not a proprietary set of information. It’s done all over the world by lots of people, so you’re not violating any ethics by doing that. Now there would definitely be something wrong with you stealing another company’s exact recipes or logo, but I think you already knew that.

There’s nothing wrong with learning how to make different coffee drinks that are made all over the world. Starbucks doesn’t have a corner on that. There are coffeehouses all across America these days, so there’s no ethics breach. Just understand what’s proprietary about a company or a brand, and don’t duplicate that.

Best of luck to you, sir!

—Dave

Dear Chris,

Well, you didn’t give me exact numbers here. I don’t know how short a little short is, and I don’t know how big your emergency fund is. If you use a little of your emergency fund to round off the 20 percent and then you have an emergency, where are you going to be?

I recommend always having three to six months of expenses set aside for emergencies. If you’ve got $50,000 in your emergency fund and you use $10,000 of it, you’ll be fine. But anything that leaves you with less than three or four months

Ethics and integrity

Dear Dave,

I’ll be getting out of the military soon, and I want to open a coffee roastery in civilian life. I had planned to work at an established place like Starbucks for a while so I can learn the business. Recently, I’ve become concerned with this idea from an ethical point of view. Can you give me some guidance?

- Wayne

Dear Wayne,

First, thank you for your service. The fact that you have

SMUD and GRID Alternatives Partner

Provide Solar Panels and Energy Efficiency Upgrades to Low-Income Customers

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - GRID Alternatives is a national nonprofit focused on making renewable energy technology and job training accessible to underserved communities. SMUD has worked closely with GRID Alternatives to help them find candidates eligible to receive free solar electricity systems in SMUD’s service territory. SMUD reaches out directly to customers who are currently enrolled in SMUD’s Energy Assistance Program Rate (EAPR). Interested customers contact GRID Alternatives directly to continue the process and potentially receive a free solar electricity system. The systems are funded by California Climate Investments, a state-wide program that puts billions of cap-and-trade dollars to work reducing greenhouse gas emissions, strengthening the economy and improving public health and the environment—particularly in disadvantaged communities.

SMUD energy experts also work with the selected customers to perform complete energy audits of their homes and determine the most effective ways to improve each home’s energy efficiency. Contractors then install multiple efficiency measures, which can include upgrades to insulation, lighting, weather-stripping and more. All of these upgrades are done at no cost to the customer.

“We’re committed to helping all of our customers save energy and money,” said SMUD’s Chief Customer Officer Nicole Howard. “Partnering with GRID Alternatives to provide free solar electricity systems along with energy efficiency upgrades is a win-win for our underserved communities.”

SMUD and GRID Alternatives have completed upgrades to approximately 50 homes in Sacramento County to date. SMUD expects to complete upgrades to another approximately 150 homes over the next 18 months.

"For over a decade, GRID Alternatives has been on the leading edge of creating access to solar and solar technology for low-income communities,” said GRID Alternatives North Valley Executive Director Bob Gragson. "In Sacramento County, SMUD’s leadership has helped us to deliver services to families in the greatest need through our program."

SMUD is also working to provide energy efficiency upgrades to low-income customers beyond the scope of the GRID Alternatives partnership. SMUD currently has three additional programs—Deep Home Energy Saver, Energy Saver Home Bundle and Energy Saver Apartment Bundle—that are designed to provide SMUD’s EAPR customers with energy efficiency upgrades. SMUD’s Board of Directors has approved the allocation of more than $10 million to these programs over the next several years above and beyond the current program’s budget.

The Insecurity of Job Security

Louis McNerney

When you think back to the impression you've been given your whole lifetime, you can probably tie the word "job" to security. Always accepting the notion that the longer you stay somewhere, the better off you will be. Some of you reading this may even have upheld that notion and are now at a crossroads; you've severed ties with a longstanding employer and you're well into your working years.

Whether you have experienced it already or perhaps indirectly, the presence of ageism in the workplace exists. Employers want talent and experience, but not too much experience.

Here are the disturbing figures:

- ✓ People over 45 that are looking for a new job, often wait twice as long to find a job versus younger age groups
- ✓ There are often 3 people applying for every job
- ✓ Peak incomes are declining
- ✓ Outsourcing has become an effective tool in cutting higher operational and managerial expenses.

One would think that knowledge and experience is extremely valuable and that those years of experience would be worth acquiring and keeping, but the statistics show this is not likely the case or most employers.

In a situation where you're faced with jumping back into the pool of employment candidacy, you can do one of the following:

- ✓ Re-train or re-invent yourself (ie: go back to school, take a certification course, etc.)

- but this can often be difficult and costly.
- ✓ Wait it out and continue the application and interview process hoping that something will come along that meets both the employer's needs and yours. This could take in some cases up to- or more than – a year.
  - ✓ Start your own business or purchase a franchise.

Want to control of your own destiny? Provide yourself with long-term security? Achieve an income stream as well as increased equity and wealth protection? Business ownership is one of the few areas where one can achieve these qualities; often not provided with many jobs.

It is a common misconception that the cost of owning a business is well, expensive. Not true! A common method of business ownership that eliminates a lot of the typical costs is Franchising.

Owning a franchise reduces the cost of business ownership in many cases. There's often less risk associated, as well.

Franchising allows you to use others' trial and error to maximize your potential for success. Franchise ownership costs have decreased almost 30% over the last 5-10 years! Many of the newer and more high-demand concepts available enable people to operate out of their homes and even provide products and services nationally giving you a broad customer base.

A variety of programs are available to help fund your business including a program that allows one to use their retirement funds tax, penalty and debt free. This method is called Roll Overs for Business Start-Ups or "ROBS". Many of the country's leading brands in franchises and can offer you expert counsel in making what once may have seemed like an expensive dream, an inexpensive and successful reality.

Game Plots

Games Tear Down the Empathy Wall

By Noah Howard

The greatest innovation of video games as an art form is the utter elimination of the empathy wall. Most storytelling mediums rely on the consumer's natural empathy to form an emotional bond with fictional characters, but although this elicits undoubtedly moving and powerful reactions, by the very nature of empathy the emotional response is only a diluted shadow of what the character is going through. But in a video game, that wall emotionally separating you from the world of the screen, canvas, page, or stage doesn't exist. In a game, things don't happen to a character, they happen to you. In this way games can provoke a more raw genuine response, undiluted through the lense of empathy, by communicating emotion directly to the player.

But when games knocked down one wall they accidentally erected a more difficult obstacle in its place. A game is only emotionally effective as long as a player feels rooted and grounded in its world; otherwise it's a toy on a screen like anything else. Game designers are faced with the challenge of tying the player's mind and the player's onscreen avatar together. If the player can project themselves into this digital persona, then by manipulating the persona, designers can directly emotionally manipulate the player.

Of course, one strategy to tie the player and the avatar together is through tried-and-true empathy. Through writing and dialogue, designers can create strong fully-realized characters for a player to control, but though this effectively conveys a sense of responsibility for the character, it often fails to convey a sense of unity with the avatar. Bizarre disconnects can occur between the player and the character, as the player is forced to direct the avatar to do something that they wouldn't do in that situation. Though a few games play with this dichotomy effectively (Spec Ops: The Line is a great example), most lose the player's emotional investment.

Better methods take advantage of the unique aspects of video games. Darks Souls and The Legend of Zelda: Breath of the Wild, for example, employ "blank slate" characters in a world where the player has a high degree of freedom. These characters, which are often physically customized by the player themselves, act as a sort of "second body" for the player to completely project themselves onto without any individual characterization to get in the way, and often become like a paintbrush for the player to express themselves onto the world. The character onscreen isn't some representative character, it's quite literally the embodiment of you, allowing the game to communicate emotions directly as if you had experienced them yourself.

But arguably the most effective method unites the former two, creating fully-realized characters that players still have the freedom to guide and project themselves onto. In games like The Witcher 3 and Life is Strange, players can't fundamentally change the personality or appearances of the onscreen characters, but they can guide them in key decisions, and so imbue a touch of their own personality into the character's. In the best of these style of games, the digital avatar and the player form a bond by learning to think like one another, creating an out-of-body and out-of-identity experience for the player that the developer can still emotionally manipulate without sacrificing creative control over the story.

Ultimately, the youth of the video game artform means that no method is perfect, and numerous more techniques are yet to be discovered. However, because of their ability to tear down the empathy wall through interactivity, games have the potential to become an emotional tour de force of an art form.

Defendant Sentenced for Murdering Wife

DATE: May 18, 2017

CASE: Justin Jesus (Case #15F07687)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Shelly McGill

The Honorable Michael Bowman sentenced Justin Jesus to 26 years to life in prison. On May 2, 2017, a jury convicted Jesus for the first-degree murder of his wife, Elizabeth Masters. The jury found the allegation that Jesus used a knife in the commission of the murder to be true. Jesus was also convicted of felony domestic violence, including allegations that he inflicted great bodily injury and used a deadly weapon.

Jesus had a history of domestic violence. In the course of their tumultuous relationship, Ms. Masters left their home to stay with her family in Folsom. Approximately one week later on December 20, 2015, Jesus showed up at Ms. Masters' parents' home in Folsom. Ms. Masters and Jesus left the home around midnight. Several hours later, family members heard a commotion outside and found Jesus in the backyard holding a knife. Soon after, the family discovered Ms. Masters' body on the side of the house, buried under a pile of leaves. She had been stabbed numerous times including severe lacerations to the neck. Jesus was apprehended by law enforcement a short distance away, and in possession of the murder weapon.

Defendant Convicted of Kidnapping & Assault with Intent to Commit Rape

DATE: May 9, 2017

CASE: Thomas Chavez (Case #15F04824)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Maria Wilson, Adult Sexual Assault Unit

Thomas Chavez was convicted by a Sacramento Superior Court judge of kidnapping and assault with the intent to commit rape.

On August 6, 2015, at approximately midnight, a woman was walking down Stockton Boulevard when Chavez pulled up behind her in his car. He jumped out of his car, grabbed her from behind, held an ice pick to her neck and forced her into his car. Chavez drove behind a nearby store to an isolated area. Fortunately, CHP officers who were nearby observed Chavez drive behind the store and went to investigate. The officers shined their light into the vehicle and heard the woman screaming for help. Chavez was arrested soon after.

The Honorable Laurel White found Chavez guilty of kidnapping and assault to commit rape. In addition, the court found Chavez had suffered prior convictions for sexual assault in 1988. Chavez faces a sentence of 30 years to life in state prison. Sentencing is set for June 2, 2017 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept 10.

Defendant Convicted for North Highlands Party Shooting

DATE: May 12, 2017

CASE: Ira Johnson (Case #15F04234)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Jeff Hightower, Homicide Unit

Ira Johnson was convicted by a jury for the second-degree murder of Rogelio Gastelum, and two counts of attempted murder. The jury also found true allegations that Johnson personally discharged a firearm causing death or great bodily injury.

On July 12, 2015, Ira Johnson and his friends attended a party in North Highlands. When asked to leave, the group started a fight. Johnson and another unidentified man pulled out guns and fired multiple shots into the crowd of partygoers, killing Rogelio Gastelum. Two other victims were shot, but survived their injuries.

Johnson faces a maximum sentence of 59 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for July 21, 2017, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 41 before the Honorable Helena Gweon.

Defendant Convicted for Murder by Lying in Wait

DATE: May 12, 2017

CASE: Timothy Varmall (Case #15F01019)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Omar Singh, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Michael Bowman found Timothy Varmall guilty of the first-degree murder of Smurti Patel. Judge Bowman also found true the allegations that Varmall was personally armed and committed the murder by means of lying in wait.

Between September 2014 and February 2015, Timothy Varmall followed Smurti Patel and planned "coincidental" run-ins with her to make her think favorably of him. His purpose during those months was to find the best opportunity to kill Ms. Patel. On February 9, 2015, Varmall stalked Ms. Patel and followed her onto a light rail train. As they exited, Ms. Patel spotted Varmall and agreed to walk with him. As they walked across a dark lot, Varmall stabbed Ms. Patel seven times. Varmall fled the area while Ms. Patel staggered across the street to a restaurant, where medics were called to the scene. Ms. Patel died from her wounds on February 13, 2015. Varmall confided in one of Ms. Patel's friends that he murdered her because he was romantically interested in Ms. Patel and she rejected him.

The Court also found true that Varmall suffered two prior strike convictions for purposes of the Three Strikes Law. In 1994, Varmall was convicted of sexual penetration with a foreign object and forced oral copulation.

Varmall faces a maximum sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole. Sentencing is set for June 9, 2017, at 10:30 a.m. in Department 20 before the Honorable Michael Bowman. ★

Lancers' Flight in Post-Season Ends at Masters

By Mike Bush

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - A good season came to an end for members of the Cordova High School track and field program.

Five Lancers competed at the Sac-Joaquin Section's Masters Championships at Elk Grove High on May 25th. Competing in the trials, the Lancers were unable to advance to the finals, which were held the following day, also at Elk Grove High.

In the trials of the 400 meter race, the Lancers' 4x400 boys relay team of Bryan Estrada, Philip Cadena, Andrew Roberts and Elijah Morgera took sixth place in the second heat at 3 minutes, 30.02 seconds. The top eight teams with the best times qualified to advance to the finals.

In the first of two flights in the girls' shot put, Cordova's Faauga Toele, a freshman, was 11th with a toss of 35 feet, 3 inches. She was 12th overall. The winning mark was 39 feet, 11 inches.

The top three in the finals, plus the fourth place finisher, qualified for the 99th annual California Interscholastic Federation State Track and Field Championships, which start today, Friday, at Veterans Memorial Stadium at Buchanan High School in Clovis. ★

Cordova Football Players Taking Part in Challenge

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - A new adventure begins for the Cordova High School football team.

Yesterday, Thursday, the Lancers started spending time on the field, running their offense and defense in 7-on-7 drills in preparing for the upcoming season. High school football teams in the Sac-Joaquin Section can compete from June 1st through July 10th. Practices that include pads later in the week begin on July 31st.

Since February, returning players and sophomores who will be juniors when the 2017-18 school year begins in early August, have been in the weight room lifting weights. According to Cordova head coach Darrin Nill, the players will continue to pump iron as well compete in 7-on-7 drills.

In addition to getting ready for the upcoming season, the program is taking part in the 2017 Cordova High School Football Challenge.

As part of the program's fundraising efforts, the Lancers are conducting their yearly Lift-a-Thon to help each individual player raise $160 to cover the cost of their Lancer Player Pack, which include short-sleeve dri-fit T-shirt, long-sleeve Under Armour dri-fit T-shirt, and a pair of athletic shorts for use in the weight room and practices.

Each player is trying to raise $160 that would cover their costs for the items listed in the previous paragraph. Any type of donation for one or some of the players contributes toward expenses such as helping pay for passing tournament fees, trainer supplies, digital video equipment used as a teaching tool and to assist in college recruiting and the program's end of year banquet and awards ceremony.

The program is also trying to raise funds to purchase new sideline communication equipment for both the varsity and frosh/soph football teams.
