Orion Jettison Motor, the Journey to Mars

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Aerojet Rocketdyne successfully tested its third development jettison motor for NASA's Orion spacecraft at its facility in Rancho Cordova, California. Orion is being built to take humans farther into space than ever before, and the jettison motor is a critical element for ensuring astronaut safety. Leaders from NASA and Lockheed Martin, the agency's prime contractor for the Orion spacecraft, visited Aerojet Rocketdyne to witness this key test.

"The first crewed flight of the Orion spacecraft is just around the corner," said Roger McNamara, Lockheed Martin Launch Abort System director. "The Launch Abort System is such an important safety feature; it's great to see progress happening across the country and right here in Sacramento."

In the event of an emergency during launch or ascent, Orion is outfitted with a Launch Abort

System (LAS) that can activate within milliseconds to propel the capsule away from danger and position the crew module for a safe ocean landing. The LAS consists of three solid rocket motors: the abort motor that pulls the crew module away from the launch vehicle; the attitude control motor that is used to steer the crew module following an abort; and Aerojet Rocketdyne's jettison motor, which separates the launch abort system from the crew module so that parachutes can be deployed for a safe splashdown.

Aerojet Rocketdyne's jettison motor is the only LAS motor that will be activated on Orion's next test flight, Exploration Mission-1 (EM-1), which is scheduled for 2018. During the three-week EM-1 mission, Orion will travel about 40,000 miles beyond the moon and return to Earth.

"Reliability of the jettison motor is critical to the safety and execution of the mission. Unlike other launch abort system motors, the jettison motor operates every time," said Jim Paulsen, vice president of NASA programs at Aerojet Rocketdyne. "Astronaut safety and reliability of our exploration systems is paramount at Aerojet Rocketdyne. EM-1 is the first integrated flight of Orion and the new heavy lift Space Launch System rocket, and Aerojet Rocketdyne propulsion systems will be supporting the mission from liftoff to splashdown."

Domestic Violence Shelter Funding Extensions Signed by Brown

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Governor signed two bills strongly supported by the Chairwoman of the California State Board of Equalization (BOE) Fiona Ma, CPA, to help victims of domestic violence and businesses devastated by natural disasters.

AB 1559 (Baker) will create a checkoff box on California personal income tax return forms which will allow Californians to donate to the newly created Domestic Violence Victims Fund. Domestic violence shelters will be able to apply for a grant from the new fund, administered by the California Office of Emergency Services, to help provide much-needed assistance to victims.

According to the National Network to End Domestic Violence (NNEDV), nearly one-third of all women murdered in the United States in recent years were murdered by a current or former intimate partner. In 2010, 1,017 women, more than three a day, were killed by their intimate partners. A survivor's safety and well-being is most at risk during episodes of violence and when attempting to leave an abuser. Domestic violence shelters are a key part of safety planning to prepare ahead of time and be as protected as possible.

"Women and children who have endured physical, mental, and emotional abuse need our help putting their lives back on track. AB 1599 (Baker) will help keep the shelter doors open and provide a place where women and children can sleep soundly, without fear," said Chairwoman Ma.

During her six year tenure in the Legislature, Chairwoman Ma served as Chair of the Domestic Violence Select Committee and witnessed how many California domestic violence shelters were forced to turn away women and children because of a lack of funding. In 2013 NNEDV conducted a 24-hour survey of domestic violence programs across the nation and reported 66,581 adults and children had found refuge and assistance, while an additional 9,641 requests for services were unmet because of a lack of resources. Each one of those unmet requests is another lost opportunity to break the cycle of violence. Now that Governor Brown has signed AB 1399 (Baker), shelters will receive greatly needed financial resources.

"California business owners who have been severely impacted by natural disasters are focusing on the recovery of their business, which will affect their ability to file and pay their taxes," said Chairwoman Ma.

"The Board of Equalization can now grant tax relief to countless businesses across the state that have been impacted by natural disasters. I'd like to thank Governor Jerry Brown for recognizing the urgency of this bill and acknowledging that California needs to do more to assist victims in the recovery process," said Assemblymember Bill Dodd. ★

And Another Thing ...

There Are Quite A Few Things We Need To Read, Or Write, As We Go Through Life

Reading is the easiest escape from boredom, and the cheapest. One of our grandsons found that out for himself when he got tired of playing with the same toys (and couldn't get his hands on his brother's things), so he put the toy down and picked up a book. He learned quite a bit about bugs, dinosaurs, and who the presidents of the United States of America were. I haven't asked him for a while, but when he was six years old he could tell you who was the 1st president, or the 13th, or the 31st, or the 44th, or any of the others. Kids can do some amazing things on occasion.

Speaking of reading, we all learned how to read at some time or another. There are some people today who, because of the way life is sometimes, don't know how to read. Organizations like the National Institute for Literacy, a federal organization, are offering to help people develop the skills needed so that they can be more successful in life. There are a few people who have been able to go through life without being able to read, but those numbers are very small. To succeed at work, at home, or in the community where you live, the vast majority of the people of our country find that they need to read, and they need to read well. We are told at school what we need to read for our classes, we need to read at work, and we need to read the propositions we will be voting for or against this coming election. But sometimes when you are told to read something...

I received an email from one of our daughters a good ten years ago, but it is still pretty funny. "A minister told his congregation, "Next week I plan to preach about the sin of lying. To help you understand my sermon, I want you all to read Mark Chapter 17." The following Sunday, as he prepared to deliver his sermon, the minister asked for a show of hands. He wanted to know how many had read Mark Chapter 17. Every hand went up. The minister smiled and said, "Mark has only 16 Chapters. I will now proceed with my sermon on the sin of lying.""

There are quite a few things we need to read, or write, as we go through life. And while it isn't always easy to get through a boring text book, or read a lesson for class, or read the Drivers Manual that you get from the DMV, you know you had better just read it. Or you will be coming back to take the test again so you can eventually get your driver's license. We just received the "book" from the Secretary of State with the 17 propositions we will be voting on. Just looking at the first few I know I will not try to read them at night, unless I am looking for something that will put me to sleep. The way some of them are written makes you wonder where they went to school. And others are written by attorneys in legalese so they are very confusing. I will be talking to others about some of these before I vote on them, and I will be reading some of them more than once because they don't sink in the first time.

Reading can be very enjoyable, and reading about kids is fun. I have some stories about kids in church and they are a lot of fun. Here is one of them; "A Sunday school teacher asked her little children as they were on their way to church service, "And why is it necessary to be quiet in church?" One bright little girl replied, "Because people are sleeping."

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Light Rail in a Sad State

Many of us in Rancho Cordova are working hard to make this a city to be proud of. I am sick that when I use Light Rail, that between the stations of Butter Field and Zinfandel, it looks more like a trash dump every day. Homeless camps are knocked down and then just left there. As for the stations at Mather and Zinfandel, they are not much better. While trash is picked up at the stations, they are never steam cleaned and trash next to the station is just left there.

Many of us do our part to clean up the city. Not long ago I saw people who live in the Miller Park Estates pick up trash along the Light Rail tracks. About a month later a homeless camp was knocked down by a work crew and left there.

With City Hall, the new construction, new developments and hotels by Zinfandel and Folsom, the Light Rail stations should reflect that. Sadly it does not.

Can Someone Steal Your Identity?

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - One of the biggest fears of modern life is that someone may steal your identity or access your private files or drain your bank accounts. Almost daily we hear of that happening, and it causes tremendous hassles and serious problems for victims. But how can you prevent that from happening to you?

A free workshop sponsored by the Rosemont Community Association on Tuesday, Sept. 27, will give you valuable tips to keep your information safe. It will also give you helpful information on managing your risks in general and on protecting yourself with proper insurance. The workshop, supported by a grant from State Farm, will be led by professionals from the Financial Planning Assn. of Northern California. It will be from 7:00-8:30pm at Atonement Church, 9242 Kiefer Blvd. To sign up and reserve a seat, email your name and request to info@rosemontca.org or leave a message at 916-936-1959. CDPH Urges New Tuberculosis Screening Recommendations

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Director and State Health Officer Dr. Karen Smith has urged health care providers to adopt new recommendations recently announced by the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force calling for adults 18 years of age or older who are at increased risk of tuberculosis (TB) to be screened for the disease.

Those considered to be at increased risk of TB include individuals born in countries with elevated rates of the disease and individuals who live in settings with a large number of people, like group homes or homeless shelters.

“I urge health care providers in the state to adopt these new screening recommendations as quickly as possible,” said Dr. Smith. “Local health departments should work with providers to ensure that today’s new recommendations are implemented.

Today’s recommendations, if universally adopted, can help us eliminate TB in California in the next few decades.”

Evidence shows that screening of individuals at increased risk for TB is an effective method for preventing the development of TB disease.

TB is a disease caused by bacteria called Mycobacterium tuberculosis. The bacteria usually attack the lungs but can also attack any part of the body such as the kidney, spine and brain. It can be spread through the air from one person to another by coughing, sneezing or speaking.

When TB bacteria actively grow in people and cause symptoms, the condition is known as TB disease and can be deadly. People with TB disease can infect others. The bacteria can also be inactive, causing no symptoms and held in check by the immune system. This condition is known as latent TB.

Elimination of TB in California is possible by detecting and treating latent TB infection before it progresses to infectious TB disease.

In California, an estimated 2.4 million people have latent TB infection. In 2015, 2,137 people were diagnosed with TB disease in the state.

Health care providers can consult with their local health departments to develop specific plans for screening their patient populations. The CDPH Tuberculosis Control Branch provides technical assistance to local health departments and health plans to implement tuberculosis prevention efforts.

CDPH has developed the California Risk Assessment Screening Tool to help health care providers to quickly identify people at risk for developing the disease and also a fact sheet that offers suggested courses of treatment.

For more information on TB, please visit www.cdph.ca.gov

Team Eskaton Hits the Football Field to Help Prevent Seniors from Falling

In addition to the fall-prevention video, Eskaton is offering fall-prevention assessments and classes. Between September 15-23, Eskaton communities will provide an exercise class, such as Tai Chi or yoga, that is open to the public and will focus on better balance, strength and flexibility.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (PRWEB) - Eskaton's No Falls League recently got out on the football field and recorded a video for National Falls Prevention Awareness Day, coming September 22, 2016. The video, "Ready Steady Balance," was named after the National Council on Aging's 2016 initiative. Eskaton developed the video to highlight efforts in providing resources and programs to transform the aging experience while supporting larger efforts to reduce the number of falls. In the video, Eskaton's Fall Prevention Team shows their peers how to have fun while exercising and prevent falls. "We take a fun and new approach to teaching fall prevention, which can help reduce the number of falls each year," said Eskaton Fitness and Wellness Coordinator Christy Barry. "The specially designed fall prevention exercises help strengthen muscles, improve coordination, and build faster reaction times, just in case you do lose your balance."

The No Falls League, comprised of Eskaton's independent living residents, are seniors aged 67 to 95, wearing football jerseys reflecting their age. Led by Barry, the seniors in the video demonstrate several exercises showing how easy it is to improve balance and strength, helping to reduce fall risk. Low-impact exercises include knee lifts, weight shifting, shoulder rolls, overhead arm reach, arm reach across the chest and more. To watch the video and download a checklist, please visit <http://www.eskaton.org/fall>. In addition to the fall-prevention video, Eskaton is offering fall-prevention assessments and classes. The vision of Eskaton is to transform the aging experience. ## “Well, Haven’t You Been Reading What Each Candidate Stands For?”

“This whole election process just doesn’t work for me,” Dud said, sipping his coffee. “There’s no way we can tell who is best for the job.”

Doc, being the senior member of the Mule Barn truck stop’s world dilemma think tank, looked kindly at Dud. “Well, haven’t you been reading what each candidate stands for, Dud?”

Dud shrugged. “Sure. But I firmly believe they only tell you what you want to hear. They’re the best, and the other fella is going to take you straight to ruined aspirations.”

“Ruined aspirations?” piped up Steve, the cowboy with the owlish look of pure bowlegged intellectualism. “That’s why I’ve always thought we need a contest. A real contest. Have them put their aspirations where they’ll do the most good.”

“A contest?”

“Bull riding,” said Steve, nodding sagely. “Just set their aspirations on a bull’s back and the first one to fall off loses.”

“But what does bull riding have to do with taxes and warfare and education and all that stuff?” asked Doc.

“Nothing at all,” said Steve, “but you can bet it will separate the serious candidates from the oh-what-the-heck guys.”

“Makes some sense to me,”

said Dud, with a grin. “Only problem is, if they ride bulls, one of them might get killed.”

Steve grinned, “Simplifies the selection process, doesn’t it?”

Make It Fun and It Will Get Done!

The Secret to Being Organized

Pam Young's Corner

Imagine That!

Are you disorganized? Have you read a bunch of get organized books in the hopes of cleaning up your act, but you're still in a mess? According to Amazon, there are 4,939 titles in print on the subject and not one result matched for "using your imagination to get organized." You probably already know being organized is simply about routines and habits, so if you're disorganized, you just haven't found the motivation to do it.

If you are disorganized you know it affects every area of your life: your health and fitness, appearance, finances, relationships and even your spiritual life. By getting a handle on organization you'll be able to improve in all areas of your life. All you need are a few scenarios to jump start your imagination and help you put entertainment and drama into your otherwise humdrum, boring, uneventful or maybe even sad life, by turning mundane tasks into high adventures . . . until they become automatic habits.

Getting organized is more about MIND management then it is about TIME management. Our minds are the key to our success in getting and staying organized. William James, a famous philosopher said: "Things are not as they are, but as we are." Our job then is to approach our problem with a new way to see our situation. Einstein said: "Imagination is more important than knowledge." So let's start using our fabulous imaginations to put a new spin on our circumstances and get organized just for the fun of it.

• Sweeping the floor is much more fun if you pretend you are on television and you're doing a commercial demonstrating how easy your Swiffer sweeper picks up dust and crumbs. Turn any household task, washing dishes, windows or the toilet into "commercial mode" and you are the spokesperson.

• If your kids are small and they misbehave, pretend they are someone else's children you are babysitting. It'll help to keep your cool and keep from exploding. Also pretend you are caring for them behind a two-way mirror and an agent from child protective services is on the other side.

• Turn cleaning your bedroom into a great archeological dig. What if every dirty sock you picked up you pretended was really a priceless artifact and worth millions of dollars?

• You could pretend to be Scarlett O'Hara and Ashley Wilkes spent the night while Rhett was away and now you've got to get your bedroom cleaned up before Rhett gets home in ten minutes.

• With your marvelous imagination you can turn a simple walk into a horseback adventure over rugged mountains on the Oregon Trail or turn drying your dishes into magic-genie-lamp rubbing.

• You can pretend you are a rich queen in the 1600s and you are the only one in the world with electricity, therefore all of your appliances and modern conveniences are absolute miracles.

• Imagine up a twin to help you! How much more fun would it be if you had a clone who looked just like you? Divide your room in half and split the work with your twin. After 15 minutes trade sides! You can even be disgusted with how little work your twin did, or not.

• It's errand day and you have to go to the grocery store, post office, dry cleaners and the bank. Pretend you are a famous, sexy, gorgeous movie star (you choose the star) in a disguise that looks like you. Your movie star choice gets to be you for the day and experience the joy of anonymity and the freedom from fans' stares, autograph hounds and interruptions that go along with being famous. You get to imagine being that movie star in a disguise. That means you have to carry yourself like the star, buy the food you think a star with that body would eat and feel stardom as you go about your commonplace errands.

Once you get started using your imagination, it'll come up with more ways to have fun with the ordinary, mundane tasks of the homemaker.

35 Points Proves Not Enough Against Vista del Lago

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Three Cordova High School football players posted impressive offensive numbers against Vista del Lago in last Friday’s non-league game at Lancers Stadium.

That led to a high-scoring first half between the Lancers and visiting Eagles. But in the final 24 minutes of the game, the contest belonged to Vista del Lago, which posted a 52-35 victory over Cordova (2-2).

“The second half, I think, they just wore us down,” said Cordova head coach Darren Nill of the Eagles. “They were a more physical team than we were. They were bigger, they were stronger.”

Vista del Lago (2-2) led 32-29 at halftime. The signs showed that the second half could be a repeat of the first half.

“We were neck-and-neck,” said Nill of the first half. “They came out with a different defense than anybody has really played us all year. Their game, I believe, was just to take away our run and make us throw.”

In the third quarter, the Lancers looked like they had the Eagles grounded in terms of an offensive drive being stopped. But on third down, the Lancers were called for pass interference. That gave Vista another first down, and led to one of its two touchdowns in the quarter for a 44-29 lead.

“That really turned the momentum,” Nill said. “They were able to continue their drive.”

The Lancers’ next offensive drive, following the Eagles’ touchdown, resulted in a punt. But the punt was blocked, and the Eagles recovered the ball in Cordova territory. That led to Vista’s next touchdown in the quarter.

“It was those two events that took the wind out of our sails,” Nill said.

Both teams scored a touchdown each in the fourth quarter. But by that time, Vista secured the win.

The Eagles loaded the box on defense. That allowed Cordova quarterback Xavier Johnson time to throw the ball, and was very successful. The sophomore completed 18-of-30 passes for 333 yards for four touchdowns. When he wasn’t throwing the ball, he rushed 13 times for 121 yards.

“He had a great game,” said Nill of Johnson.

Cordova wide receivers Calvin Augusta and Alvin Banks also had outstanding games. Augusta, a junior, had only three receptions but for 123 yards and two touchdowns. Banks was 7-122 and a touchdown.

On defense, Lancer middle linebacker Kenneth Haney led the way with 15 tackles.

In the frosh/soph game, Vista del Lago was also winners over Cordova, 48-12.

Tonight, Friday, Cordova wraps up its pre-season schedule with a short trek to play at Foothill of Sacramento.

“I think it’s a win that we really want to have,” said Nill of tonight’s game against Foothill (1-3).

Game time for tonight’s game is scheduled for 7:15 p.m. ★

Lady Lancers Defeat Pacers

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - As the preseason schedule is nearing to an end, the Cordova High School volleyball team chalked up another victory.

Playing at Grant, the Lady Lancers went four games to produce a 3-1 win over the Pacers; the final scores were 23-25, 25-21, 25-19, 25-12.

The win improves Cordova to 3-3 for the season. On Wednesday, the Lancers hosted Foothill of Sacramento. Yesterday, Thursday, Cordova opened Sierra Valley Conference action at home against rival Rosemont.

In the Sept. 16th match at Grant, the Lady Lancers picked up momentum of the match in the third set, thanks to the players talking with each other on the court.

“They did a great job in communicating,” said Cordova head coach Shavonna Andrews. “It made a huge difference.”

The Lancers were led by the setting from Adrienne Hammond, along with teammate Gianna Bell.

“Adrienne stepped up as a setter,” said Andrews of Hammond. “Gianna had some big hits. The girls played great as a team.”

Cordova was without the services of two key players in the match in setter Kelsi Graf and Diana Ramirez, both out with injuries. But Andrews noted that Graf practiced on Monday. Yesfir Oliferchik converted tough serves for the Lancers in the match against the Pacers.

After Thursday’s SVC opener against Rosemont, Cordova continues action at Galt next Tuesday. Next Thursday, Cordova host Union Mine. Match time for both are scheduled for 6 p.m. ★

Men’s Soccer Earns a Tie, Women’s Soccer & Volleyball Lose Big 8 Matches

Women’s Soccer

With just one loss between the two teams prior to Friday’s match, the Folsom Lake and Santa Rosa women’s soccer teams were ready for a close battle. As it turned out, a single defensive miscue was the difference in the game as Santa Rosa managed a late first-half goal and hung on for a hard-fought 1-0 victory. The Falcons kept pressuring the Bear Cub defense, including two shots that hit the post, but could not break through. The loss drops the Falcons’ record to 1-1 in Big 8 play (6-1 overall). Looming large is Tuesday’s showdown with undefeated Diablo Valley (7-0, 2-0 in Big 8) in Pleasant Hill.

Women’s Volleyball

The Falcons opened Big 8 Conference play by hosting perennial contender and undefeated Sacramento City on Friday night at Falcon Gymnasium. The pesky Falcons stayed close throughout the match but eventually fell, 3-0 (25-16, 25-16, 25-23). Kylie Haverson recorded 11 kills for the Falcons, while Alexis Mauck and Samantha Hegseth tallied 16 and 12 digs, respectively. On Saturday, the Falcons traveled to Redding for the Shasta College Tournament, where they had matches against Shasta, Simpson University (JV), and Cañada. The Falcons lost a tight match to Shasta, 3-1 (22-25, 25-20, 24-26, 22-25) in the opener, then defeated both Simpson and Cañada in straight sets. After a busy weekend, the Falcons have a 9-3 record in their first season of competition. This week, they’ll travel to Santa Rosa on Wednesday and host Modesto on Friday evening.

Men’s Soccer

The Falcons concluded their round-robin tournament with a Saturday match against West Valley College. Despite giving up two goals in the first 10 minutes, the Falcons collected themselves and fought back to tie the match in the second half with goals by Luis Aguilar and Santiago Peniche. With the tie, the Falcons conclude their non-conference schedule with a record of 3-1-2. They will open Big 8 Conference play next Tuesday (Sept 27) against American River at Falcon Stadium. ★
