Summer Camp Experience

The program will be supported by 15 interns from Cordova High School. Photo courtesy City of Rancho Cordova RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Are you looking for a kid-friendly summer camp? The Boys and Girls Club of Greater Sacramento is bringing one to White Rock Elementary School, and it's FREE to you!

We are proud the Boys and Girls Club has selected Rancho Cordova to expand its summer camp program. The summer camp will run from June 20th through July 22nd from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m., and is open to kids in the community entering 1st through 6th grades.

Kids will enjoy local field trips, arts and crafts, sports, and exciting adventures. Plus, daily lunch is provided!

Adreana Rubio, Coordinator at Boys and Girls Club of Greater Sacramento, moved to Rancho Cordova six months ago and is currently heading up the summer camp program. Her goal is to create a welcoming space for students to express themselves.

"I feel having a program where kids can truly express who they are is important," said Adreana. "After-school programs give kids that liberty and help them discover their talents. I think that's the magic of the Boys and Girls Club."

The program will be supported by 15 interns from Cordova High School, ranging from freshman to seniors. The goal is to teach students career techniques that will serve them during and after high school.

"This is a first-time job for the students so they will learn how to be on time, function in a professional atmosphere, and work well with others," said Adreana.

One part of the internship is for the students to work together to develop an end-of-summer celebration for the summer camp program.

The program is supported by a $200,000 grant from the City's Community Enhancement Fund.

For more information and to sign up, contact Adreana at (916) 281-8567 or arubio@bgcsac.org.

Phone Directory Scam Returns to Four Counties

Special Report from Better Business Bureau

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Better Business Bureau (BBB) is warning business owners of a well-known invoice scam that is making its rounds throughout the region once more.

Businesses are receiving solicitations via fax, demanding fees ranging between $499 and $1,999. The invoices are being sent from various names and locations. Businesses have reported receiving the solicitations in Butte, Placer, Sacramento and Yolo counties.

They closely resemble solicitations that circulated the area in Nov. 2014. However, rather than luring companies with phone directory advertisements, they are hoping to reel victims in with social media.

The solicitation identifies the product name as "Facebook and Twitter Features," and includes a warning that reads: "LAST CHANCE TO PROTECT YOUR CREDIT SCORE IN GOOD STANDING!"

According to the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), a business may not send an unsolicited advertisement via fax unless they have an established relationship with the recipient. The advertisement must also inform the recipient of their right to opt out of future solicitations, and must contain information about how to do so. No such information was found on the solicitations.

Tips for business owners:

- Do not respond. If you receive a fax or phone call from a company asking for payment, verify that you employed their services.
- Do not be fooled by fake logos and company names. Scammers will often use logos and names of legitimate businesses as an attempt to gain your trust and reel you in.

- Do not rely on caller I.D. Scammers have the ability to spoof a legitimate phone number, and it may look like you are receiving a call from a trusted organization or business.
- Report scams to the BBB Scam Tracker. Contact your local Better Business Bureau and report scams at bbb.org/scamtracker.

Community Enhancement Fund Grants Announced

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The City of Rancho Cordova is proud to announce the award of 48 community grants from the Community Enhancement Fund for the 2016/2017 fiscal year. The Community Enhancement Fund is supported by Measure H, a ½ cent local sales tax measure that was approved by Rancho Cordova citizens in November 2014.

The 48 approved projects were submitted by a range of individuals, organizations, businesses, and community partners, and each showcase an investment in the Rancho Cordova community. Each project clearly exhibits support for community priorities, including arts, culture, history, and entertainment; education, afterschool programs, and school gardens; sports; and overall community benefit.

"The Community Enhancement Fund grants will ensure Rancho Cordova's priorities happen that much faster," said Rancho Cordova Mayor David Sander. "This year's applicants showed creative and innovative ideas that will continue making us a vibrant community that values opportunity, partnerships, and fun."

Rancho Cordova's Fourth of July Parade will be even more entertaining this July 3rd-4th with a high school marching band competition, youth bike parade, and a 5k color run. Rancho Cordova high school graduates will have an opportunity to go to the new Rancho Cordova Center of Folsom Lake College free for the first year. Sports are taking a lead role with new state-of-the-art technology and training for the Cordova High School football program to prevent and monitor brain injuries and concussions.

The Community Enhancement Fund generates approximately $7.2 million annually in revenues for the City's general fund. The community grants total $1.8 million of this revenue, with the remaining $5.4 million allocated to public safety, public works, economic development,

Foundation Announces Recipients of Immediate Need Grants

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Region Community Foundation granted over $74,000 to nine local nonprofit organizations to support critical and time-sensitive community needs region-wide.

"The Foundation is committed to remaining responsive to urgent needs in our region. These nine grants address funding gaps that would have greatly hindered services at a number of local nonprofits and support the development of a handful of vital projects that meet essential needs in our community, too," said Jeannie Howell, the Foundation's Community Impact Officer.

The nine recipient organizations were selected from 73 proposals submitted to the Foundation's highly competitive Immediate Need Grants program, which is designed to respond flexibly to pressing needs throughout the Sacramento region, supplementing the Foundation's donor-advised granting and its sustained grantmaking aligned with its four Strategic Initiatives.

The nonprofit awardees serve a range of sectors -- including health, human services, and youth and seniors -- and will use the funds to meet a variety of community needs in Sacramento, Yolo, Placer, and El Dorado counties.

Among the Immediate Need Grants awarded is one that will replace a leaking roof at an emergency shelter for domestic violence survivors, another that will educate area high school students on the uses and risks of opioids, and another that will ensure local Hmong seniors have access to resources in a safe and supportive environment after the organization serving their community closed recently. Altogether, the Foundation granted $74,069 across the four-county region to 3Point0, Asian Resources, Inc., Atkinson Family Services, Bridge Network, Harm Reduction Services, Inc., My Sister's House, Sacramento Life Center, Saint John's Program for Real Change and Women's Empowerment.

These organizations join the 17 nonprofits that were awarded grants from the program during its inaugural year in 2015. Combined with those awards, the Foundation has granted over $290,000 to address pressing community needs quickly and flexibly through the Immediate Need Grants program.

As with all of its efforts, the Immediate Need Grants program furthers the Foundation's work to foster a thriving community exemplified by opportunities for all to live in a vibrant economy, benefit from a strong nonprofit sector, live with a sense of dignity, and flourish through the strength of regional diversity.

Sacramento Region Community Foundation has been the trusted steward of charitable assets, a community catalyst for meaningful change and the advocate for shaping vital impact through philanthropy since 1983. The Foundation's mission is to transform our community through focused leadership and advocacy that inspire partnerships and expand giving. Learn more at www.sacregecf.org.

Golden State Water Adjusts Outdoor Irrigation Restrictions

Customers May Now Water Landscapes Up To Three Days Per Week, Effective June 1

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Golden State Water Company has announced adjusted outdoor irrigation restrictions for its Arden and Cordova systems. Effective June 1, 2016, Golden State Water customers in Arden, Gold River and Rancho Cordova may water outdoor landscapes up to three days per week.

The adjusted restrictions permit addresses ending in an even number (0, 2, 4, 6, 8) to water on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday; odd addresses (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) may water landscapes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. All outdoor irrigation must occur before 8 am or after 7 pm, and should not exceed 10 minutes per station. Restrictions do not apply for trees or edible vegetation watered solely by drip or micro-spray systems.

“Last month, the State Water Resources Control Board adopted new emergency regulations that give water providers an opportunity to tailor their conservation strategies based on the local supplies and anticipated demand,” said Paul Schubert, General Manager of the Northern District for Golden State Water. “While we are still assessing how the new regulations may impact our customers and conservation requirements, the current supply conditions for our Arden and Cordova systems afforded us the opportunity to make an adjustment to the outdoor irrigation restrictions for our Arden, Gold River and Rancho Cordova customers.

“We encourage customers to continue using water responsibly, and also remind the community that these adjusted outdoor irrigation restrictions could change again in the coming weeks when supply conditions are verified.”

Golden State Water’s Cordova System—which serves customers in Gold River and Rancho Cordova—remains in Stage 1 of Staged Mandatory Water Conservation and Rationing (Schedule 14.1) to help customers meet the 32 percent reduction mandate assigned by the State Water Resources Control Board. Additionally, customers are reminded that the following actions are now permanently prohibited in California, as outlined in Governor Jerry Brown’s Executive Order issued on May 9, 2016:

- Hosing off sidewalks, driveways and other hardscapes.
- Washing a motor vehicle with a hose, unless the hose is fitted with a shut-off nozzle.
- Operating a fountain or decorative water feature, unless the water is part of a recirculating system.
- Watering outdoor landscapes in a manner that causes excess runoff, or within 48 hours following measurable precipitation.
- Irrigating ornamental turf on public street medians.

Customers can visit gswater.com/arden-cordova for weekly reduction updates, local drought restrictions and information about Staged Mandatory Water Conservation and Rationing, or call our 24-hour Customer Service Center at 800-999-4033 for additional information about the drought and local conservation resources. Please follow Golden State Water on Twitter @GoldenStateH2O for real-time information about the drought and local water service.

Two Rancho Cordova Homes Damaged, Third Saved in Mid-afternoon Fire

Sac Metro Fire Special Report SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA - Around 3:00 p.m. June 1st, Metro Fire crews arrived to a home on the 10000 block of Scotsman Way in Rancho Cordova to find heavy fire from a home, already spreading to a second home. Firefighters immediately initiated fire attack in both structures, while searching for possible victims. A third home was also threatened; the engine crew assigned to that home held the fire at the fence line, saving the structure from any damage.

Crews from four fire engines, two trucks, and two medics worked to extinguish the fire and protect as much of the residents’ belongings as possible. One cat was rescued from the fire and appeared to be unharmed. Three people initially reported difficulty breathing, but after assessment by medics on scene, denied treatment or transport. No firefighters were injured. The fire destroyed roughly 75% of the home in which it started, and approximately 60% of the

IRS Offers Service by Appointment at Sacramento Tax Assistance Center

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Taxpayers in need of service at the Sacramento IRS Taxpayer Assistance Center will need to call to schedule an appointment. However, they should first see if their answer is available at IRS.gov. They may be able to resolve their tax question by visiting the IRS website, eliminating the need to be seen at a local TAC.

Taxpayers requiring assistance should call 1-844-545-5640 to schedule an appointment at the Sacramento Tax Assistance Center, located at 4330 Watt Avenue. The IRS will begin taking calls on June 6 for appointments starting June 13 or later. Taxpayers should always check IRS.gov for days and hours of service as well as services offered at the location they plan to visit.

The IRS is moving to an appointment service at this office as part of an ongoing effort to eliminate lines and reduce frustration for taxpayers with more complex tax matters who require in-person tax help. Prior studies show that many taxpayers visit an IRS office to get a tax transcript, make a payment, resolve a notice, obtain a form or publication or ask about their refund. Many of these issues can be resolved at IRS.gov without traveling to an IRS office.

IRS.gov offers numerous online options for tax help that can save time and effort. You should check out all the online services available before setting a local appointment.

Community Pride Scholarship Winner Announced

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The City of Rancho Cordova is proud to announce its 2016 Community Pride Scholarship winner Delainy Salazar from George Washington Carver School of Arts and Science!

She was selected as the recipient of the $500 scholarship because of her outstanding academic performance and proactive attitude in improving our community.

Delainy volunteered in numerous community events, such as the Heartstoppers Haunted House and the Cordova Community Food Locker's Free Rabies Clinic. The most distinguishable feats that Delainy accomplished during her time at George Washington Carver was her ability to make changes to her school's lunch program by saving energy invested in transportation, preparation of lunch ingredients, and disposal of school lunches. During her time as Student Body President, Delainy also created the Charity Event Initiative that requires every event hosted by student government to sponsor a charity by donating funds raised and educating students about the cause.

Delainy plans on pursuing her academic career at Willamette University to obtain the Juris Doctor that would prepare her to take the State Bar. In her scholarship essay, Delainy said, "I feel lucky to have been raised in Rancho Cordova and will forever remember the opportunities I was given here. As I go on to attend college I feel that many of the reasons I was accepted to such outstanding institutions is thanks to the vast number of resources I was given by my community."

We wish you the best of luck, Delainy! City of Rancho Cordova employees ensure the Community Pride Scholarship program is possible. Each year, they contribute towards the $500 scholarship and select a graduating high school senior for the award.

And Another Thing ...

Why the Electoral College is Still in Use?

It's time to vote in the primary election, June 7, 2016, in which the major political parties will have their presidential candidates, other federal and state candidates, and one measure will be chosen by the people. Then in the November election, which I found to be rather odd this year because the election will be on the second Tuesday of the month instead of the first Tuesday. I called the Sacramento County Registrar of Voters and asked why the election is on the second Tuesday of November instead of being on the first Tuesday of November. They said the election has to be after the first Monday of the month. So this year, since the first Tuesday is also the first day of the month, the election has to be on the second Tuesday, which is November 8th. My next question of course was why does it have to be after the first Monday? And they said, I don't know.

The encyclopedia showed the answer. I will quote some of what was said and paraphrase some of the other, "No Federal law regulated the 1788 federal election. In 1792, the federal law permitted each state to conduct presidential elections in the state (i.e. to choose their electors) at any time in a 34-day period before the first Wednesday of December, which was the day set for the meeting of the electors of the U.S. President and vice-president (the Electoral College), in their respective states." This gave each state some flexibility when they held their elections because of the harvest and because of the winter storms that were coming on. "However, in this arrangement the states that voted later could be influenced by a candidate's victories in the states that voted earlier, a problem later exacerbated by improved communications via train and telegraph. In close elections, the states that voted last might well determine the outcome."

"A uniform date for choosing presidential elections was instituted by the Congress in 1845. Many theories have been advanced as to why the Congress settled on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The actual reasons, as shown in records of Congressional debate on the bill in December 1844, was fairly prosaic." The bill was initially set for the first Tuesday in November, but that caused a problem in some years because the period between the first Tuesday in November and the first Wednesday in December was more than 34 days. That violated the Electoral College Law. "So, the bill was reworded to move the date for choosing presidential electors to the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, a date scheme already used in New York. The period between Election Day and the first Wednesday in December is always 29 days."

"In 1845, the United States was largely an agrarian society. Farmers often needed a full day to travel by horse-drawn vehicles to the county seat to vote. Tuesday was established as Election Day because it did not interfere with the Biblical Sabbath or with market day, which was on Wednesday in many towns."

There have been many debates in modern times questioning why the Electoral College is still in use, and I imagine that that will be argued for quite a while. There are more and more people who use the absentee ballot today, and I believe Colorado is the third state to conduct all elections by mail. We all know that elections and how they are conducted will continue to change as time goes by. But no matter how the voters are allowed to vote in California, I hope more people will see the value of their voice/vote and cast their vote to hire their fellow citizens through the vote to get the jobs done that need to be done in the Federal, State, Regional, and the Local levels. No matter how much money is spent by those who have "the all mighty dollar", when it comes to Election Day, all those who spent so much money also have to wait to see what the voters decide. Voting is when all of us have and exercise the most power in this country. Don't give it up by not voting. Alice Walker said, "The most common way people give up their power, is by thinking they don't have any."

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Q&A with Buyers & Sellers

This column is here for you as a resource in sorting out buying and selling property. When you ask a question we answer here so everyone benefits. What don't you know about buying and selling property? Let me help.

It's easy, just email your question to us and we share the answer so everyone can learn from it. Email: ellenherrle@hotmail.com or leave a message at 916-761-2108.

Q Hi Ellen: We need your help. How do you know whether the price of a home per square foot is reasonable or if you are about to make a bad decision?
Barb, Fair Oaks

A It's a great time to buy with the low rates we have been enjoying for the past few years. This seems like an easy question, but it is a little more complicated. Remember, there is a lot more that goes into the estimation of market value of a house than just the square footage. For instance, two houses same sq. ft., but one might have 3 bedrooms and the other one has 4. Same example with 2 ,bathrooms versus 1 bathroom. 2 car garage versus a 3 car garage. Yet, they might have the same square footage, but the one with the more bathrooms, a 3rd car garage, etc. will sell for more, usually. Again, depending on the condition and other factors. However, if you compare recent sales of similar homes, the cost per square foot should be similar to those properties. That's a good place to start. Call us if you have any other questions at (916) 726-9000. We have been in the business for m,over 3 decades. Also, listen to us live at 105.5 FM, M-F, 12 to 1, KSAC, The Wall Street Business Network.

We think of selling real estate like selling lifestyles. Let us know if we can help you with any of your real estate needs.

For those who get in touch each month you'll also receive one of three pamphlets on buying and selling strategies, and be entered in a random drawing for a dinner for two at one of our great Sacramento or Placer restaurants! Don't spend more than you have too, or sell for less than you deserve by asking the expert first! Call us to help when you decide to buy or sell at 916-761-2108.

Next time: Buyers and sellers learn more to earn more! Listen weekdays at noon on Money 105.5 ★

IT'S ALL ABOUT YOU

When selecting a real estate agent, you need someone who puts your needs and wants above everything else. You need an agent who:

- Listens and understands your particular needs
- Communicates on a regular basis
- Knows local markets • Handles details
- Gives you the best value - whether you are buying or selling property!

For honest, ethical and reliable real estate assistance, call Ellen today.

American and British Intelligence Uncover Payoffs to the FBI & U.S. Attorney Offices

Commentary by Richard Lawless

As the CEO of Commercial Solar Power (CSP), Mr. Lawless ordered a forensic investigation into the $13,200,000 losses the company incurred while doing business in Puerto Rico. In an effort to better understand the causes for such losses, Mr. Lawless and his team uncovered questionable practices by the Puerto Rico Government and outright fraud by the Credit Rating Agencies, Fitch, Moody's and S&P

The very first step in considering an investment of company resources in any company is to check the credit ratings of the company and make sure they are financially sound. In this case, the rating agencies were giving the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority an "A" rating. A pretty sound rating for a utility company.

Given that the credit rating was the companies first step in their due diligence process, CSP did an audit of the bond offering memorandums that these good ratings were based on. The audit uncovered hundreds of millions in missing funds and a utility that has been technically bankrupt since 2007. It seemed inconceivable to the CSP team that all three rating agencies gave a bankrupt company an investment grade credit rating. We delivered the results of our audit to the Puerto Rico FBI, U.S. Attorney and the Puerto Rico Legislature.

After receiving no response for many months, I wrote an editorial that appeared in many Puerto Rico Newspapers and Blogs. Shortly after I wrote the article I started receiving phone calls. One of the calls was from someone who implied he was from the CIA and stated that the CIA has been listening into phone activity between the utility and Hugo Chavez (Venezuela). The calls detailed a criminal enterprise that was stealing literally billions in public funds through bogus oil purchases and fraudulent municipal bond issues. While listening in to the conversations over a number of years it became clear that the Puerto Rico FBI Office and the Puerto Rico U.S. Attorney Office were (and are) accepting payoffs to insure no interference from those agencies. This story was confirmed to me by British Intelligence and confirmed a third time by the editors of Caribbean News Now.

Shortly after this disclosure the FBI got back to me. I was left a voicemail that suggested the agency was very concerned about my criminal complaint but could not find criminal grounds to pursue charges. I was surprised by that response so I contacted all persons of interest and discovered no one was ever interviewed by the FBI. In addition, during this time frame, two private parties filed RICO charges against the utility that were challenged and upheld by the courts. Amazing that private parties can file charges claiming that the utility is an organized criminal enterprise but the DOJ can't.

To make matters worse for the FBI and the U.S. Attorney, the Puerto Rico Senate issued a 23-page report outlining the theft of billions and the purchase of knowingly fraudulent credit ratings from Moody's, Fitch and S&P. These phony credit ratings have already resulted in billions of losses for those bond holders. Once again the FBI and U.S. Attorney did nothing.

We have a 23-page confession and financial audits supporting all of the illegal activity. No charges, no investigation.

It was brought to my attention that Treasury Secretary Lew while COO for Citibank, and Treasury Counsels, Weiss and Campbell while working for Lazard, participated in this fraudulent activity by selling these knowingly fraudulent bonds before joining the Treasury Department. This may help explain the reluctance of the FBI and DOJ to do anything about any of this.

Now it is up to the Press to bring pressure on our legislators to get involved.

AMAC Launches Protest Over Government's Invasion-of-Privacy Rule

'The government wants to regulate every aspect of our personal lives including our biological need to use the toilet.'

WASHINGTON, DC, JUNE 3 - President Obama's "invasion of privacy rule" that would force children to share bathrooms in schools has sparked widespread protests across the nation.

"Dissent is rampant on this issue and the Association of Mature American Citizens wants to do something about it," according to AMAC president Dan Weber. "Our 1.5 million members demand an end to such blatant abuse of power. The government wants to regulate every aspect of our personal lives including our biological need to use the toilet."

Elementary schools, high schools and institutions of higher learning that receive federal funding are now required to allow boys and girls who seek transgender identities to use whichever toilet facilities they choose under the new federal decree.

"By directing the Department of Education to force schools to allow people of the opposite sex to use whatever bathroom, locker room or shower room they feel like using, President Obama has overstepped his authority and has assumed dictatorial powers. The President has absolutely no ability, according to the Constitution, to pass laws by himself," Weber said. "But he continues to completely ignored Congress and the checks and balance that are part of our Constitution."

AMAC is giving away wristbands with the single word, Privacy, on them to anyone who wishes to express their resistance to the government's latest proclamation. "We want to protest the edicts and regulations issued by this administration that fundamentally change our way of life and take away our individual liberty. Whether the issue is illegal immigration, religious freedom, the I.R.S. or personal modesty."

The new regulation will likely be tested in the courts. But commentator Larry O'Connor posted an article online that noted: "Regardless of how this gets worked out in the courts, every parent in America will wake up this morning having to deal with an issue they probably never thought they'd have to face several years ago. Parents now have to decide how they will deal with the reality that their child will not enjoy a basic level of privacy when they use a restroom or locker room when they go to school. Will this bring about a rise in private school attendance? Will it inspire more parents to home school their children? Will states flirt with the idea of refusing federal education funds? Either way, if anyone wondered what President Obama meant when he promised to 'fundamentally transform the United States of America,' now they know."

AMAC president Weber said that the association's wristband give-away is open to anyone who wishes to express "displeasure" at the administration's action. To order a wristband go to <https://amac.us/privacy/> or call 888-262-2006 and ask for "Wristband"

The Association of Mature American Citizens [<http://www.amac.us>] is a vibrant, vital senior advocacy organization that takes its marching orders from its members. We act and speak on their behalf, protecting their interests and offering a practical insight on how to best solve the problems they face today. Hey Ag Harris: No Position on Water Storage? Then Visit the Valley

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senator Tom Berryhill (R-Twain Harte) and a bi-partisan coalition of legislators from the San Joaquin Valley invited California Attorney General Kamala Harris to visit the San Joaquin Valley and learn more about the importance of agriculture and water. She claims to have no position yet on major water storage projects.

Additional water storage is one of the most important challenges facing California, particularly in the San Joaquin Valley region. The sustainability of the region depends upon a reliable, safe, and clean water supply.

"Kind of scary that one of California's Constitutional Officers would profess to have no position at all on arguably one of the most debated and important issues facing the state," said Berryhill. "Agriculture, a multi-billion dollar industry in California, provides millions of jobs and feeds the world. We invite her to visit the Valley and see what all the fuss is about."

Senator Berryhill represents Rancho Cordova and the counties of Amador, Calaveras, Inyo, Mariposa, Mono, Stanislaus, Tuolumne and parts of Fresno, Madera, Sacramento and Tulare.

Two Lady Lancers Earn Honors

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Two members of the Cordova High School softball team that earned a top three finish in the Sierra Valley Conference has also earned top individual honors by the conference.

Lady Lancer shortstop Nikki Jones and centerfielder Vanessa Cain were selected to the all-SVC team. The duo helped Cordova to a third place in the SVC with a 7-8 record and 11-14 overall. The Lancers also earned a Sac-Joaquin Section Division III playoff berth.

In 23 games at the plate, Jones, a senior, was second in batting for the Lancers with a .528 mark. She was also second on the team in runs scored at 28. Jones had 21 RBIs, along with seven doubles and two triples.

Cain, also a senior, had a .429 batting in also playing 23 games this season for the Lancers. She touched home plate 20 times this past season and had four doubles, three triple and two home runs. Cain also sent teammates home; she had 19 RBIs. She was also walked 10 times.

As a team, the duo and the rest of the Lancers had a .418 batting average and .483 on-base percentage. They scored 192 times during the season and cranked out seven home runs; four from Mason Pittaro, plus two from Cain and one from Traci Mahony.

After winning only three of its first seven games of the season, Cordova won seven of its final 14 games, all in SVC action. Those wins earned the Lancers a third place spot that launched them into the play-offs. Cordova lost to Oakdale in the first round of post-season. ★

END OF THE BENCH BY GERRY SCHOLL

Muhammad Ali Influenced The Greatest Decision

It was the most emotionally tumultuous day in the lives of so many boys becoming men, July 1, 1970. One young friend, the nicest, mild-mannered fellow you might ever meet, had the unfortunate birth date of July 9, 1951. He was number one. Whatever happened to him?

It was the day of the lottery – not the NBA Draft Lottery, nor the NFL Draft Lottery. It was the U. S. Selective Service System's Viet Nam War Draft Lottery.

Almost a hundred guys rendezvoused and overran the small campus snack bar area. We were all in this together. All the rules were to be broken on this day – drinking, smoking whatever, shouting and a few things got thrown. We were sure similar scenes were playing out all across the land. How could this be happening to us?

At 19, we were still relatively innocent and naïve. But we had been growing fast – being pounded relentlessly with the horrors of the realities of the world around us.

At 12, our president, John F. Kennedy was murdered. Five years later, his brother who would have been president was gunned down. In between, Martin Luther King, Jr., who marched undauntedly for peace and civil rights, was assassinated. There were “four dead in Ohio.” The American dream was a nightmare. Who is running our country? What evils lurk? What's going on? Can't we give peace a chance?

The increasingly unpopular war and its atrocities were coming through loud and much too clear on television and in the news media. Our hearts were being bludgeoned with the daily reports of the death tolls from an unfamiliar land. It was as if a huge cloud of Agent Orange had traveled thousands of miles around the world and was burning at our very souls.

And now as young men who could not legally vote nor drink, but could be selectively inducted to fight and die in battle, we waited to have our future fates doled out on this perverted game show on TV. The well-to-do were confident that whatever number they drew daddy would find a way to get them off the hook. Those of lesser means were full of unbearable, nervous anxiety, knowing they only had undesirable options from which to choose. Anything under 195 – the number reached in the first draft the year before – and you knew you were at great risk.

All of us – boxing fans or not – knew the Muhammad Ali story and held personal interest in watching how that would develop. His saga might influence our very lives.

The “Louisville Lip” had grown up in a segregated south in our land of the free as one of many, many Americans being treated as second-class citizens because of the color of their skin. As Cassius Clay, he rose from the depths to become an Olympic gold medal boxing champion in 1960, but was still considered less than a man back home in Kentucky.

He abandoned his “slave name” and found new religion in the Nation of Islam. In the golden age of heavyweight boxing, he was the star, ultimately winning the crown three times. He had risen to the top (with significant support from popular sportscaster Howard Cosell) and was regarded as the most recognizable figure around the globe when he chose to defy the U. S. government head-on, by refusing draft induction into the Army in 1967 as a conscientious-objector because his Muslim beliefs would be violated.

“If justice prevails,” Ali was quoted as saying, “if my constitutional rights are upheld, I will be forced to go neither to the Army nor jail. I am confident that justice will come my way, for the truth must eventually prevail.”

He was convicted of draft evasion, stripped of his title and exiled from the sport at his peak. His appeal would last about three and a half years, until the Supreme Court overturned his conviction in 1971. He went on to rise to the top once again.

In the meantime, our boys of 1970 would draw their lots in life. Some patriots elected to step in line and go fight. Some patriots were terribly disillusioned by the course their country had been taking and chose to venture across borders. Some patriots were angered by the faulty decisions being made by their government and acted out, protesting and possibly going to jail. Some who won the luck of the draw with high numbers had the option to stay in school with student deferments for as long as they could and hope the war would de-escalate before their turn would come around – delaying the decision and the test of their convictions. Many wondered if they could make a stand as Muhammad Ali had done.

Ali's fights in the ring were for show, for sport, for entertainment emanating from the wealthy, notoriously corrupt world of professional boxing. His greater fights were outside the ring – for justice, for peace, for the underprivileged, for a cure for Parkinson's disease from which he suffered for many years until his death at age 74, Friday. Though no known cause has yet been determined for the incurable neurological disease, it is hard to deny that his deterioration of brain cells likely got its start during his time spent in the ring.

It is ironic, of course, that Ali, who was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 2005 and lit the Olympic flame in Atlanta in 1996, would rise from a stage of brutal violence into an existence of humanitarianism through many avenues, including right down Muhammad Ali Boulevard in Louisville where he will be memorialized this week.

“Muhammad Ali shook up the world. And the world is better for it. We are all better for it,” came a statement from President Barack Obama.

He called himself “The Greatest,” and now so does almost everybody else. ★

A Little Gin Just Might Improve Your Marriage

It’s worth a try!
You were probably thinking, when you read the title of column this week, that I was writing about drinking gin. I’m not going to go there today. Instead, this is about the card game called Gin Rummy.

Okay, I’m no marriage counselor so I probably shouldn’t be going around giving advice to married couples, especially since I’m on my second marriage and so is my husband, but the idea of letting a little gin improve your marriage is really a good one, at least for Terry and me and I thought I’d share with you why it is.

You probably should know that Terry is a workaholic because that’s one of the reasons I came up with this idea in the first place. He’s never without his cell phone or IPAD and he looks at weekends as catch up days to finish all the work he didn’t accomplish during the week because of overbooking. It seems when each day comes to an end, his “to do” list is longer because for every task he crosses off, he adds a couple more jobs.

I realized early on in our marriage (which is on its 28th year) that if I were going to get any attention from him, I’d have to get on his “to do” list or at least find a way to sneak into his daily routine. That’s where the gin comes in. It’s such a fun, easy card game that doesn’t require a mind that can count cards in order to win. I think I introduced the cards on a weekend in an effort to get him into a playful mood. Workaholics don’t think about playing unless it’s on a list.

We were meant to play and be lighthearted and when it’s absent, we can get dreary.

What happens when we play cards is magic! First of all there’s competition, (we play four hands every day except Sunday when we play six hands) and we keep a running score through the week with a winner on Sunday. Second, while we’re playing, we tend to talk about lighthearted issues like what I did to him on April Fool’s day. I’d put a 12-inch length of string in his scrambled eggs as a joke. It was almost a joke on me, because I honestly thought he was going to swallow it. So on that particular morning this was the card-playing conversation.

“Gad I wasn’t sure your tongue was gonna find the string when you were eatin’ your eggs and I started to get scared you were gonna swallow it.”

“And if I had?”
“Well, it wouldn’t hurt you, I’d just have to think up another joke. What’d ya think when your tongue found it?”

“Well I wasn’t thinking today was April Fool’s Day, but when I pulled it out of my mouth and you started giggling I knew you got me!”

Just a little aside, I don’t think guys like tricks played on them, so maybe if you’re having marital problems you might want to consider not making a fool out of your spouse just because it’s a day to celebrate fools.

Back to gin. Now that playing gin is a habit and it’s part of our morning routine, I get to look forward to having playful, quality time with my workaholic spouse every day. Oh, and if, God forbid, our routine gets derailed and we don’t play in the morning, Terry insists we play before the day’s out so he’ll be able to cross it off his daily “to do” list so he can get a good night’s sleep.

Be sure to schedule play into your daily round. We were meant to play and be lighthearted and when it’s absent, we can get dreary. If you’ve been feeling down lately, see if you’ve been too busy to play.

Now go play!
