RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Multiple Olympic medal winner and ABC's Dancing with the Stars champion Shawn Johnson will headline the Gymnastics and Acro of Fair Oaks (GAFO) Flip for Gymnastics Gala at Technique Gymnastics in Rancho Cordova, Calif.

Taking place on Saturday, May 14th from 4 to 6 p.m., the Gala serves as a fundraiser for the GAFO, a one-hundred percent volunteer-run 501(c)3 non-profit organization, which benefits the competitive teams that train at Technique Gymnastics.

In addition to the keynote address by Johnson, this elegant semi-formal event will include a fine array of hors d'oeuvres and desserts, a gymnastics showcase featuring some of Technique's nationally and world-ranked gymnasts from each of the club's competitive teams programs, a silent auction, and raffles.

Johnson won four medals at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China. She earned the gold medal in balance beam, along with silver medals in team, all-around, and floor exercise disciplines. She is also a five-time Pan American Games gold medalist, 3-time U.S. all-around champion, as well as individual all-around World Champion.

Creek Critters Need Water Too!

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Did you know that there are 35 miles of waterways in the Sacramento area? Waste that is dumped into creeks can destroy plants, pollute water, and endanger wildlife. Creek critters and plants need our help during the continued drought.

Rancho Cordova is mobilizing to clean up its creeks on Saturday, April 9th from 9 to 11 a.m. Five creeks will be targeted for trash-pick up this year, and the city needs your help!

Volunteer registration is now open. Sign up to volunteer by visiting www.creekweek.net/vrancho. Hurry before all spots are filled!

Rancho Cordova's clean-up event is part of Creek Week, an annual event that is organized by the Sacramento Area Creeks Council. The clean-up on April 9th will be followed by a free barbecue lunch at Stone Creek Park, 3625 Spoto Drive in Rancho Cordova, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. to thank all our community volunteers.

"As a city, we want to protect the environment and maintain all of the beautiful outdoor areas in Rancho Cordova for generations to come," said Mayor David Sander. "That's why we're proud to participate in Creek Week every year."

Interested in a nature walk? Join the City for a scientific tour at Bear Hollow Reservoir.

Discover the native plant species and wildlife that can be found there. The tour will be led by a wetlands biologist. This is the perfect activity for nature lovers. Meet your tour guide in the parking lot at Stone Creek Park, 3625 Spoto Drive in Rancho Cordova, at 10:30 a.m. on April 9th. Then head over to the reservoir just across the street.

Chain Link Fences, Gone!

Receive $1,000 to Remove Your Fence and Help Beautify Your Neighborhood

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova has 600 single family homes with chain link fences in the front yard. In late January the City of Rancho Cordova launched a new Chain Link Fence Buy Back Program to facilitate the removal of these fences.

Property owners can now receive up to $1,000 dollars to remove the fence and beautify the space. The program is funded by the Community Enhancement Fund (Measure H) that supports local priorities. Since the program launched 19 property owners have already applied for removal.

The City's first applicant, Jeanne Taise, had her fence removed by a group of volunteers on Saturday, Feb. 27th.

Taise moved to Rancho Cordova six years ago to be closer to her place of work at Vision Service Plan (VSP). She has wanted to remove the chain link fence to improve the appearance of her home. Now, she has an incentive to do so and will receive $1,000 once the project is completed.

When Rancho Cordova voters passed Measure H, a one-half cent sales tax measure, they partnered with the City to determine how the funding should be spent. One of the priorities identified was to beautify neighborhoods; the Chain Link Buy Back Program does just that.

Chain link fences reduce property values and create a perception of unsafe neighborhoods. More than 600 properties have chain link fences. Cities throughout the state have tried to create programs to address this concern, beautify their communities, and increase overall quality of life. Few of these programs have been successful...until now.

Angel Platters A Village Café Opens in Rancho Cordova

By Annika Darling

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, Feb. 13th, Angel Platters, A Village Café—a breakfast and lunch café and event center—had their grand opening. The introduction of the community oriented restaurant was an all-day event—running from 6 a.m. to 7 pm that night.

In attendance was not only crowds of supportive community members, but city officials, such as the mayor and former mayor. Chamber members were also present as well as family and friends of Angel Platters' owners.

Attendees cheered at the ceremonial ribbon cutting, and witnessed moving proclamations. In a post-press release of the event, the Café gave a special thanks to Kingdom Equipping Center, Dokimos Project, and Thrive Insurance. They also extended appreciation to their “amazing employees for putting in a very long day” adding that they are proud to be a part of the Rancho Cordova community.

Angel Platters is a “giving back to the community” restaurant. One way they do this is by giving scholarships through the proceeds of events that they host at night time at their Event Center. The facility is available to rent seven nights a week from 4 p.m. to midnight. The space can be rented for business meetings, meet-ups, weddings, fundraisers, and more.

Another way the Angel Platters dedicates itself to serving the community is by hiring staff through nonprofit agencies and assists them in getting back into the work force.

Janice Jordan is the owner of Angel Platters A Village Café. She received the vision of using a restaurant to help others. But she wanted more than just hiring people in need she also wanted to help businesses and nonprofits. This concept helps them all.

Janice previously owned Jordan's Referral Network. As a speaker, author, and trainer of marketing with a niche in networking she knows how much the community is in need of places for businesses and organizations to meet or have events, such as training and workshops. In the last few years she has worked with many nonprofits and felt they also need venues for their fund raisers.

Not only is Angle Platters is giving back to the community one platter at a time, and they are doing it at affordable rates. They are known for their biscuits and gravy, and rumor has it they have the best burgers in town. Their meals are farm fresh and delicious, and prepared specially for each guest.

River Cats vs Giants!

Historic Exhibition Game to Be Televised

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA - The Sacramento River Cats and CBS Television Sacramento jointly announced that the Exhibition Game between the River Cats and the three-time World Champion San Francisco Giants will be locally broadcast on CBS owned, KMAX (CW31) on March 30th at 6 p.m. This is a historic first ever matchup of the two clubs.

Due to the high level of interest in the game, the River Cats are expecting a large crowd for this significant contest. As a result, the River Cats organization has partnered with CBS Television Sacramento to broadcast the game locally.

“As a local TV station, we are excited to bring the River Cats/Giants contest to a wider audience,” said Kevin Walsh, vice president and general manager of KOVR and KMAX TV. “For those that can’t get to the game, viewers will be able to experience this highly anticipated game.”

His sentiment was echoed by Chip Maxson, general manager of the River Cats: “We’d love to welcome everyone into the ballpark for the River Cats and Giants game if we could. Fortunately, this provides a way for us to share this historic matchup with more fans in Northern California.”

Fans, whether watching on CW31 or experiencing the game at Raley Field, will have the opportunity to not only see the River Cats roster but also their favorite members of the three-time World Champion San Francisco Giants. Three-time All-Star Buster Posey and World Series MVP Madison Bumgarner are expected to take the field alongside fan-favorite Hunter Pence and Gold Glove winner Brandon Crawford.

The baseball experience is even greater at Raley Field. A fan zone, presented by Golden1 Credit Union, allows baseball enthusiasts to enjoy interactive tailgating experiences and a unique pre-game atmosphere to welcome the Giants to Sacramento.

Tickets to the Exhibition Game can be guaranteed in advance by purchasing any of the River Cats’ various season ticket memberships. As previously announced, tickets for the game go on sale to the public on Sunday, March 6th (the official opening of the Raley Field Ticket Office) at noon. An online presale will become available on Saturday, March 5th.

And Another Thing ...

Local Benefits Available for Our Vietnam Veterans

There are many retired veterans in the Rancho Cordova area who decided to stay because of the people, weather, and facilities that are still available for them at Mather and McClellan. At Mather, the VA Hospital and its expanding facilities provide many services for retired veterans and active military personnel. The Mather Veterans Village will provide 100 permanent housing apartments for veterans. The second story of the former barracks, which is part of the Mather Veterans Village, will include 50 to 60 transitional beds. It will also include facilities that offer help getting more homeless veterans off the streets and educate them about what they are eligible for and what is available at Mather.

I served four years of active duty and two in the reserve in the Air Force. I only recently found out that in the City of Sacramento at 2007 19th Street, (916) 874-6811, is a Sacramento County Veterans Services Office in which all veterans can bring their DD214 to that office and leave with a Veterans Identification Card. With that card, you will receive a thank you for your service in stores like Lowe's and Home Depot where they take 10 percent off of any purchase, large or small. While you are at the Veterans Services Office, you can also pick up papers that list different stores, restaurants, and other facilities that show when, where, and what they offer to veterans. So as you can see, you don't have to be a retired veteran to receive a thank you for your years of service to your country.

Many of the veterans I am talking to, and about, don't think of themselves as veterans because they didn't fight in Vietnam and haven't thought of their military past for quite a while. However, one of the facts of the Vietnam War isn't known by many, and that is that veterans who served active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces from November 1st, 1955 to May 15th, 1975, regardless of location, are listed as Vietnam veterans, and are eligible to receive the Vietnam War Veterans lapel pin. At our City Council meeting on April 4th, we will be giving Vietnam War Veterans lapel pins out to veterans who served active duty during the Vietnam War period. We will place that information in the Grapevine Independent, online, and any other source of information so we can reach as many as possible with this new information. For those of you who fit in that time period, please contact Delisa at City Hall at (916) 851-8809 so we will know how many veterans to honor and give the lapel pin which says "Vietnam War Veteran."

Onward to other things, one of which is that there are more senior citizens who have to depend on public transportation to get around town. A good example would be some of our residents who live in apartments on Data Drive and other areas, and some who live in their homes, are extremely limited because they have no transportation. I talked to a resident of those apartments the other day and found out that if you have to walk to our new Folsom Lake College Campus at night, they won't take the classes. Mather Field Road is very dark and threatening at night because there are no lights there, and they said that makes them feel even more uncomfortable so they don't take classes at the new college campus at night. There should be street lights along Mather Field Road and the streets in many other neighborhoods. With no transportation, it is too far to walk and/or hard to fight the weather, so many can't shop at our stores very often.

I was told that Paratransit charges $10 for seniors and others who call, and when you are on a fixed income, it is too costly to go shopping whenever you want or sometimes even need. We need a small bus or a trolley whose cost would be set at a rate like the 50 cents charged on the Rancho Cordovan, which goes through the business area and Stone Creek, Sunridge, Anatolia, and Kavala Ranch neighborhoods. Those neighborhood's residents pay something like $85 a year in addition to the 50 cents a ride, but I believe that there would be much more business for some of our retailers if there was an easier way to increase the number of senior citizens that shop around town. We also have new residents in our city who wouldn't mind finding easier and less expensive transportation because they are just beginning their lives and their careers.

Looking over this column reminds me that like many things in life, I have learned more by listening to others and trying to work what they say, ask, or suggest. Just listening to myself gets very repetitive because I just hear the same thing and that is very repetitive and...

City of Rancho Cordova Public Hearing Notice

Community Development Block Grant 5-year Consolidated Plan

The City of Rancho Cordova is preparing a five-year Consolidated Plan and providing opportunities for citizens to participate in the development of the document. The City invites interested residents and stakeholders to attend a public hearing work session of the City Council of the City of Rancho Cordova on Tuesday, March 29, 2016, starting at 5:30 p.m. or soon thereafter, at Rancho Cordova City Hall, in the American River North Room at 2729 Prospect Park Drive.

The Consolidated Plan focuses primarily on the Community Development Block Grant program (CDBG), administered by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), but may provide further grant funding opportunities for additional HUD programs in the future. The Consolidated Plan will include a five-year strategic plan that identifies community development needs and strategies for effective, coordinated neighborhood and community development. The Consolidated Plan will set long-term goals for community revitalization by providing decent housing, a suitable living environment, and expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- and moderate-income persons.

The City is also proposing a Neighborhood Revitalization Strategy Area (NRSA) as part of the Consolidated Planning process. The NRSA would allow the City to more efficiently use HUD funds, like CDBG, to effect targeted revitalization programs and projects. Furthermore, these benefits would include increased flexibility with regards to the use of CDBG funds for housing and economic development activities that revitalize a neighborhood. A map of the proposed NRSA can be viewed by accessing the link provided below.

At the public hearing, the City Council will review the first draft of the Consolidated Plan and discuss the NRSA. The public comment period for the Consolidated Plan and NRSA begins on April 1, 2016 and ends May 2, 2016 at 5:00 p.m. On May 2, 2016, the City Council will review the final draft of the Consolidated Plan. Upon approval, the final draft will be finalized and submitted to HUD for review. The City must submit a completed Consolidated Plan to HUD no later than May 15, 2016. Public comments regarding the Consolidated Plan are always welcomed. Citizens wishing to address the Council on any matter pertaining to the Consolidated Plan are encouraged to attend the public hearing.

Copies of the Consolidated Plan will be made available at the Rancho Cordova City Hall and the Rancho Cordova Public Library. The Consolidated Plan will also be made available on the City's website. Regular updates regarding the Consolidated Plan process are available on the City's website at: <http://cityofranchocordova.org/index.aspx?page=627>

Citizens have an opportunity to comment on the Consolidated Plan and NRSA in writing any time during the public comment period. Written comments may be addressed to:

Aloha Rancho Cordova Event Says Mahalo to Business Community

By Annika Darling

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Aloha Rancho Cordova has quickly become one of the community's favorite yearly events. Not only does the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce recognize the business community for their many successes but they do so in an incredibly festive fashion, serving up a Hawaiian BBQ and Hawaiian themed cocktails, offering raffles and a silent auction, and filling the night with fitting and talented entertainment.

This year, the Chamber offered entry to the extravagant event for $50, and tables were reserved for $500—a bargain deal, considering it included reserved seating for eight as well as drink tickets and specialty dessert.

The packed event took place on Thursday, March 3rd. The doors opened at 5:30 p.m. and, while the awards and entertainment ended by 9 p.m., many stayed to enjoy the atmosphere long after, making Friday morning's "business as usual" a challenge, to be sure.

The Sunrise Event Center, located at 11167 Trade Center Drive in the heart of Rancho Cordova, offered the perfect setting for such an elaborate event. The large entry way gave the beautiful women in grass skirts on either side of the doorway room enough to adorn each arriver with either a green leafy leis or a bright colorful one. The large room, set off to the right, offered room enough to display the abundant silent auction items: sports and adventuress tickets, quilts and blankets, art, crafts, and jewelry, wine and beer, and picnic and movie night gift baskets were among the raffle and silent auction items...just to name a few.

Making the room the most popular place to be pre-event was American River Brewing Company, where founder David Mathis set up a booth offering two different tasty brews to event goers. The Firebreak Ale was a big hit and the bigger the hit the greater amount goes to charity, for this is the Brewery's charity beer and every pint sold a percentage of the sale goes to The Firefighters Burn Institute. The other beer the Brewery brought to the event is no stranger to the Rancho Cordova community: the River Bend Hefeweizen, originally brewed for the Chamber's 15th Anniversary and has non-officially become "The Beer of Rancho Cordova."

For non-beer drinkers, other stations serving wine and festive libations were propped up in opposite corners. A small hors-d'oeuvre table kept guests satisfied as the perused the auction items and sipped on tasty delights, or even got their face painted with festive designs.

The main section of the Event Center was arranged with numerous tables, leaving a large aisle for entertainers and award winners to file down. The stage area gave the event's emcee, Todd Lute, a perfect perch to welcome awardees and to crack dozens of sly (and not so sly) jokes—certainly adding charm and laughter throughout the night.

The night was filled with awards, smiles and pictures and broken up with a variety of numbers from talented entertainers. Makamae Melia O' Polynesia was the group that entertained the quests that evening, and what a good job they did. The name translates to "Treasured Plumerias of Polynesia." The dancers were versed in many styles of Polynesian dance: including dances of Hawaii, Tahiti, and Maori. One dancer lit up the stage, literally, bringing excitement into the show by lighting his dance props on fire.

Overall the night was a huge success, and the Chamber celebrated 53 years of service to the community and proved how dedicated they are to the prosperity and success of the businesses in the community.

Lancers Baseball Game Ends in Tie

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Before last weekend's rainstorms, the Cordova High School was able to get in one game. Hosting Burbank in a non-league game on March 2nd, the Lancers and Titans spent a lot of time crossing home plate that led to a 7-7 tie. Going into the sixth inning, the Lancers led 6-3. But Burbank scored four times in the top of the frame to take a 7-6 lead. Cordova scored the tying run in the bottom of the inning. The tie gives the Lancers an 0-2-1 record for the season. On Wednesday, Cordova was scheduled to play at Inderkum in another non-league game. Yesterday, Thursday, the Lancers will open Sierra Valley Conference action at home against Union Mine, weather permitting. Area weather forecasters called for rain on Thursday. Cordova returns to SVC play next Tuesday, March 15th when El Dorado pays a visit. Game time for first pitch is 4 p.m. ★

Lady Lancers Ready for Another Run

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - New Cordova High School softball Head Coach Tracy Cole has a mixture of returning and new player on this year's team. Cole takes over for Lindy Willeford, who coached the Lady Lancers for three seasons. Last spring, Willeford and Cordova took second place in the Sierra Valley Conference with a 13-2 mark and 22-6 overall. The Lady Lancers also had a deep run in the Sacramento Section Division III playoffs. Before taking over at Cordova this spring, Cole coached softball at Mills Middle School. Eight players return from last year's team; second baseman/outfielder Joycelyn Brown, first baseman/outfielder Traci Mahony, outfielder Vanessa Cain, outfielder/first baseman Leila Cooper, catcher/third baseman Mason Pittaro, pitcher/outfielder/first baseman Kal'lee Cole, infielder Nikki Jones and outfielder Delacy Cobb. Newcomers are junior infielder Sierra Reyes, outfielder Julia Rosales, freshman Cassandra Rucker, outfielder Alysia Jackson and shortstop/third baseman Samantha Lutman. One of the Lancers' strengths this season is returning players. Anything else is trivia for now, according to Cole. "That's a secret," Cole said. "I don't show my strength is tell game time (against defending SVC champion Union Mine)." The Diamondbacks returns plenty of players from last year's squad that includes junior pitcher Bethany Hammer and plenty of infielders and outfielders. Last season, Cordova, along with Union Mine, joined Liberty Ranch, which took third place in the SVC, made the playoffs; the top three teams from the SVC advanced into post-season. On March 4th, the Lancers competed in the Sutter Invite Tournament. Before the rainstorms hit the Sacramento region last weekend, Cordova was able to get in one game against Foothill of Sacramento, which posted an 8-0 win. The Lancers had only one hit in the contest. Next game for Cordova is Wednesday, March 16th when powerhouse Elk Grove pays a visit for non-league meeting. The Lancers are scheduled to begin SVC action on April 4th at Galt. ★

END OF THE BENCH BY GERRY SCHOLL

It Can Be a Hard Pill to Swallow

Have you ever picked up a prescription at the pharmacy and opened up the bottle to find pills so big that only your horse could swallow them? You would be afraid to even try to take one out of fear that it would get stuck in your throat and you might choke on it. Maybe you could chop it into pieces or grind it up and sprinkle it on your cereal. One way or another, though, you just have to take your medicine. As a fan, you readily recognize that there is plenty of pill-popping going on within the world of sports and those that partake don't have much trouble getting them down, but it is the tough pills that that world doles out that are the toughest ones to swallow. A prime example of a tough one to take was the Golden State Warriors' lopsided loss Sunday afternoon in Los Angeles to the lowly Lakers, 112-95. For years upon years, though it still hurt, a loss to the Lakers was accepted as routine by fans of the formerly woeful Warriors. Now that defending-NBA champion Golden State continues on with its record-setting pace this season --- chasing the all-time wins mark of 72; standing at 56-6 after Monday's win at home over Orlando (a record 45th straight victory at home) --- losing to L. A. (with the worst record in the Western Conference) and Kobe Bryant (on his last legs) after going in as an 18-point favorite is unacceptable. A bitter pill. On the other hand, Sacramento Kings fans have become accustomed to a regular overdose of bitterness. On almost all occasions, watching a Kings' game right after watching a Warriors' game can lead to a form of basketball depression. The best remedy is to just turn it off. But Sacramento fans are addicted to hope, so most would probably suffer a relapse into a need to see how the game was going. They would tune back in only to find out that the Kings had built a good lead and blew it all in the fourth quarter, further stabilizing their usual standing somewhere around a No.-7 pick in the next draft --- a seemingly incurable affliction. Lately, the NBA has developed a new technique for treating the patience of its fans that is totally lacking in human kindness. While the ever-rising costs of anything fan-related (tickets, TV subscriptions, merchandise and everything else) is making it more difficult to thrive as an ardent follower of the league, the patrons that pay the high, premium prices to attend games are at risk of having to endure the absence of some of the top stars in the game because they are "resting, comfortably." As the baseball season is on the horizon, a couple of sore spots have appeared. MLB has withdrawn the two-game suspension for Dodgers' infielder Chase Utley, originally imposed as a result of his dangerous slide in the NL Division Series that broke the leg of Mets shortstop Ruben Tejada. Almost everybody thinks it was a dirty play by Utley...a notion supported by the understanding that it was the obvious impetus for the new slide rules going into effect. San Francisco fans are suffering through psychological damage resulting from thoughts of never seeing their beloved two-time Cy Young Award winner Tim Lincecum in a Giants uniform ever again. It will be tough to swallow if he makes it all the way back from injury to resume his career in a Padres, Mariners or Dodgers uni. Every season about this time college basketball inflicts us all with its recurring virus that is the conference tournaments that send their champions directly into the NCAA Tournament, regardless of what happened for months through the course of the regular schedule. A lower-seeded team can get on a sudden hot streak and pull off a couple of upsets in a couple of days and advance, while the top conference squads that have proven their worth throughout the year can have one bad game and get knocked out....enough to make them ill. And then there is the retiring Peyton Manning; are you a fan or are you sick of him? It was sure swell of him to give us all his blessing during his retirement speech Monday, as he hung up his cleats after 18 seasons in the NFL that concluded with a victory for his Denver Broncos in the last Super Bowl. Manning seems to be one of those superstars that makes it hard to completely buy into his overall act. The beer-drinking, pizza lover always seems so professional, yet annoyingly calculating at the same time. He can be just a good ol' boy, or relatively amusing on his Saturday Night Live appearances. Who knows what will ever become of those controversial times back in college at Tennessee or the performance-enhancing drugs questions? But there is no denying that, on the field, he was among the top quarterbacks of all time, love him or hate him. He was a master technician. "No one could out-prepare me," he said in his manicured speech. "Every moment..... was about reverence for this game." He reverently guzzled a Gatorade on camera prior to Super Bowl 50. After the victory he planted a reverent kiss on Papa John, and placed an order for a large combination to go with those Budweisers he said he was going to knock down after the game. Being involved in sports is like being in school. Blended with all of the good things going on there are a wide range of sicknesses that might grab hold of you. You are always exposed, but hopefully you will build up your immunities to the prevailing diseases and they won't bring you down. ★
