Live Nativity Draws Large Crowds

By Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The live Nativity performances at Temple Hill in Rancho Cordova have finished for this season, but the 18 half-hour performances over a period of four nights drew close to 7,400 visitors. Titled "O Come Let Us Adore Him," the program ran Thursday, Dec. 10th, through Sunday, Dec. 13th with performances starting at 6:30 p.m. and the last showing at 8:00 p.m. An extra performance was added on both Saturday and Sunday nights to accommodate the crowds attending.

"This live Nativity presentation is our gift to the community, an expression of our love for Jesus Christ and a chance to honor Him by celebrating His birth," said Dan Harrison, president of the Folsom Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, comprised of members in Folsom and El Dorado Hills. "It is my hope that families and friends (could) come together and feel the love that God has for them."

The Nativity performances involved two complete sets of cast, totaling more than 100 volunteers, and drew nearly twice as many visitors as expected. Over the course of the 18 performances, six different newborn babies made their acting debut as the baby Jesus, the central figure of the event and the season. "Children watch and wait to see if it's a real baby," said Heather McCauley, who organized the double cast for the event. "We call it a 'live Nativity' because we want to take people to that moment, to feel like they are a part of that scene in Bethlehem."

The event took place at the

Cordova High Among Region's Top Schools for UC Admissions

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Cordova High School is ranked 13th out of the 50 public and private high schools in the Sacramento region where students are most likely to earn admission into a University of California school, according to a recent report by the Sacramento Business Journal.

The business publication ranked schools by the percentage of applicants offered admission to a UC school in the fall of 2014. Cordova High's admission rate was 73.2 percent.

Earlier this year, Cordova High—in addition to Vista del Lago and Folsom High—was recognized by U.S. News and World Report as one of the state's Best High Schools and earned a "bronze" national rating by the publication.

Residents Give High Ratings to Local Parks

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Residents in the Cordova Recreation and Park District (CRPD) are highly satisfied with the condition of local parks, according to a recently commissioned independent survey. The survey was conducted Sept. 12th through Sept. 17th, 2015 by the opinion research firm EMC Research.

Respondents were overwhelmingly pleased with the quality of local parks with 74 percent of respondents rating them as either "excellent" or "good." Also, 74 percent of respondents rated the job CRPD is doing as either "excellent" or "good."

"The Cordova Recreation and Park District prides itself in providing quality parks and recreation programs to the community," said CRPD Administrator James Rodems. "We are pleased residents are happy with the overall quality of the parks we provide."

The survey also showed that residents are somewhat concerned about safety at local parks with only 54 percent rating "the safety of local parks" as "excellent" or "good."

Additionally, over 80 percent of respondents rated "maintain clean and safe parks," "maintain safe playground equipment," "improve park security with additional patrols and safety lighting," and "reduce homelessness and drug use in our parks," as either "very" or "somewhat" important priorities.

"Safety has always been a priority in our parks," said Rodems. "The truth is, while our parks are properly maintained, we do have significant infrastructure needs. We want to improve park safety at all of our parks by adding safety lighting, installing security cameras, and increasing park security patrols."

"Children must feel safe and be safe in our parks," added Rodems. "Parks and the programs they provide are important in keeping local children and youth safe and out of trouble when they are not in school."

The survey also revealed residents were interested in providing local funds to maintain quality parks, senior services and afterschool youth programs. Approximately two-thirds of likely November 2016 voters indicated they were interested in providing local funding for parks and recreation. Additionally, after hearing information about local park and recreation needs, 75 percent indicated they would be interested in providing local funding.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Wednesday, Dec. 9th, members of a collaborative effort between the Sacramento Municipal Utility District (SMUD), the City of Rancho Cordova, and the Respite Club at the Cordova Neighborhood Church gathered to celebrate the dedication of a Memory Garden.

The Building Leadership Talent group, representing SMUD, was at the forefront and the driving factor in turning the garden into reality. Ron Lehman, senior business technology analyst with SMUD, described the day as “phenomenal.”

The Club is a drop-in program providing respite for caregivers and socialization for stroke victims and seniors with memory loss. It is designed to give caregivers much needed time for themselves. For the participants, it is a social time in a safe, loving environment. The Club is open Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and is working on being open on Thursdays. Pastor Mike Mitchum of the Cordova Neighborhood Church was instrumental in providing the facility for the Club when first approached about it more than 20 years ago.

When the garden project was first suggested to SMUD “all we were looking for ways to build a fence around the patio,” said Rebecca Graulich, marketing director for the Respite Club. The enclosed area would then allow the people suffering from dementia to enjoy the outdoors while preventing them from wandering away.

From this humble idea came

A Pleasant Day in the Neighborhood

Benefits of the Memory Garden may include helping people with dementia reminisce and encouraging social interaction as well as improving one's own mind and body.

a much grander plan and, in the words of Ron Lehman, “It was amazing to see what has been accomplished from our original goals.”

In fact, this is the biggest amount of money SMUD has raised in support of a single cause, totaling over $100,000.

The SMUD Leadership Talent team has always supported children’s organizations, but after many conversations with the Respite Club’s directors, they realized it was time to support other community needs. Lehman and his leadership team of 14 men and women from SMUD support the Sacramento region with various projects as their way of enhancing the community and making a positive impact on individuals. In addition to the Memory Garden, the Alzheimer’s Association and the Asian Community Center have also received support.

As far as the Memory Garden itself, April Kangas, strategic planner and project manager at SMUD, explained that horticultural therapy plays an important role because “certain plants may jog memories of familiarity.” There are azaleas, rhododendrons, and many more. Additional benefits of the garden may include helping people with dementia reminisce and encouraging social interaction as well as improving one’s own mind and body.

The Memory Garden is designed to be low maintenance and accessible to those who are in wheelchairs so that everyone can participate in keeping the garden looking spectacular. In the springtime, the participants of the Respite Club will be growing their own vegetables.

The impact of the dedication ceremony went well beyond the Memory Garden. Some employees of SMUD shared that they, too, are dealing with, or have dealt with, dementia in their own families. They realize the importance of caregivers “getting a needed break” to manage their own lives. As the ceremony concluded, it was clear that the contributions from the SMUD team, the City of Rancho Cordova, and invited guests will make a positive impact on families they will never meet. Everyone left the Memory Garden with smiles.

If you would like to volunteer or contribute financially to the program, contact Program Director Flora Maloney for more information at (916) 635-5147. ★

RT Holiday Bus Tradition Continues

On the 14th of November, RT employees and their families celebrated the start of the holiday season by taking part in RT’s Annual Holiday Bus Painting Party. Photo by Rick Sloan

Story by Rick Sloan

In 1994 the marketing staff of Regional Transit (RT) asked me if I could design and carry out the completion of an RT Holiday Bus. Being the energetic young artist that I was, I said “sure.” Little did I realize at that time that this artistic endeavor would be asked upon me for the next 21 years.

In November of this year, I completed my 22nd RT Holiday Bus. On the 14th of November, RT employees and their families celebrated the start of the holiday season by taking part in RT’s Annual Holiday Bus Painting Party. This year more than 80 RT artists used a “paint-by-numbers” technique to bring the decorative 40-foot bus to life.

In 2012 I retired from RT, where I spent 23 years as a part of the creative force that made up the RT marketing department. Every November since, RT has hired me back in order to keep the tradition alive. During this month I help supervise and apply my talents guiding participants in painting the candy canes, snowmen, teddy bears, poinsettias, and other fanciful holiday creations that covered the entire bus. Even though this was the 22nd RT Holiday Bus I created, I approached it with the same enthusiasm as the first.

I’m so appreciative to RT for continuing this great experience. This event has evolved into a tradition that includes family and friends. It’s been a pleasure to see how my own family and the children of RT employees have grown in the last 22 years. The kids and parents that take part in this special event really feel a great sense of pride when they witness the bus driving down the road like a giant greeting card.

The Holiday Bus serves as a way to thank passengers who use the RT system and to give back to the community as a whole. Free to passengers, the Holiday Bus will be operating on different routes in the Sacramento region through Jan. 3rd, 2016. The schedule can be found by visiting www.sacrt.com/holidaybus15.stm. Once inside, passengers listen to festive holiday music and view on display several holiday themed posters painted by some of the younger children.

In lieu of fare, monetary donations and non-perishable food items will be collected on the bus to benefit the River City Food Bank, a non-profit organization that provides emergency food and housing assistance in Sacramento County. For more information about the food bank visit www.rivercityfoodbank.org. ★

Well, there has been the bloodless mayoral change in the City of Rancho Cordova again and your new mayor is David Sander. I think most of the citizens in Rancho Cordova already know that, but there are usually a few people who were on vacation, or working, or missed the paper, or whatever, and to them I pass on the “breaking news.” That’s not really being sarcastic, but it does seem to be rather odd that almost all “news” you see on T.V. is breaking something, so I decided to break the news too. And another thing, I’m still on the City Council in case you were wondering.

What has the year 2015 meant to you? Did it bring you a new job, or graduation, or new member of the family, or a new home? Did you write a poem, or compose a new song? Maybe you wrote a letter (by hand—not an email) to someone who needed to hear from you, or perchance you received the letter. When some of our kids were in the service (the Air Force), I probably wrote more letters than I have since. But that’s OK because I know when I was in the Air Force receiving a letter meant a lot, especially when you are far away from home. That’s something to think about, you know, especially at this time of the year, and you may be thinking of your own Christmas story. I grew up in Indiana, but I don’t remember any of the kids I knew freezing their tongue to a pole at school like they did in the movie “A Christmas Story.”

And Another Thing ... Pondering Christmas, and All That Comes With It

Many people who are native Californians think of playing in the snow as getting in your car, driving to the Sierra, and playing in the snow. Then when you are done, you get back in your car and drive back to Sacramento Valley (or whatever valley) and look at the snow from a distance. I have to admit that doing that is easier than opening the door of your home, getting the snow shovel, and cleaning the ice and snow off the sidewalk and around your house. The weather this year is almost a reverse of what it was last year in the continental U.S. This year, the eastern two thirds of the country is much warmer than normal (whatever normal is), and the western third is colder than last year. I know we really need the rain and snow and cold temperatures so the snow doesn’t melt. Some of the ski areas have about five feet of snow more or less. And another thing, I hope it keeps piling up all winter. It would be nice to see Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake, and all the rest of the lakes and our reservoirs full again.

There seem to be more people working now than there have been for a while, and I know that an unknown number of them are working because of the holidays, but I am glad the jobs are there. Granted we still see some homeless people around, but I read somewhere “the poor you have always with you...” and that seems to be very valid. Many are homeless because of circumstances and a few are homeless by choice. I hope the economy will improve and some employers will be hiring those who are searching for and finding well-paying jobs this coming year.

I will be working on next week’s column this week, because the paper will be out earlier. At least I’m guessing it will be out early on Christmas week so those who can enjoy Christmas will be able to. And another thing, if you miss next week’s paper, I am wishing an early “Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year” to everyone.

From Councilman Bob Mcgarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Cruz vs. Rubio -- A Better GOP Race

A funny thing is happening on the way to the GOP meltdown.

According to the latest Quinnipiac poll, the two most popular and broadly acceptable candidates in the field are perhaps the most talented and most reliably conservative. Oh, and by the way, they are Hispanics in their 40s.

Donald Trump is still leading the polls and has demonstrated a staying power that has confounded his critics, but Marco Rubio and Ted Cruz are now beginning to stand out in the rest of the field, clustering with Ben Carson in effectively a three-way tie for second place nationally.

According to the latest Quinnipiac poll, Rubio and Cruz have the highest net favorable ratings in the race at 58 percent and 56 percent, respectively. Only 5 percent of Republicans say they wouldn't consider voting for Rubio, and 6 percent say that of Cruz, the lowest numbers in the field (Trump and Jeb Bush are unacceptable to the most Republicans, at 26 percent and 21 percent, respectively).

Unlike with Trump or Carson, explaining the emergence of Rubio and Cruz doesn't require figuring out why the laws of political gravity have been suspended or psychoanalyzing GOP voters. They are advancing in a completely typical track.

They both have thought about running for president for a very long time. They both paid their dues -- Cruz in the George W. Bush campaign and administration; Rubio in the Florida House. They both serve in a body, the U.S. Senate, that practically exists as a steppingstone to the White House. They both look, talk and act like politicians -- because they are politicians, and good ones.

If the race eventually winnows down to a Rubio-Cruz fight, it will feature supremely skilled campaigners who are eloquent and sure-footed and represent the best next-generation politicians the party has to offer. A Cruz-Rubio race would play as grass roots vs. the establishment, although Rubio in the establishment slot would be an enormous victory for the tea party, which over the years has backed some flagrantly unsuitable candidates.

There is no doubt that the two are now positioned differently. From the beginning of his Senate career, Cruz has focused on bonding with the grass roots of the party, while Rubio sponsored a misbegotten immigration bill that hasn't been forgotten or forgiven by conservatives. Cruz is working from the right of the party out (he's strongest among self-identified very conservative voters), and Rubio is working from the center of the party out (he's strongest among self-identified somewhat conservatives).

There are doubts about both of them. Is Cruz electable? Can Rubio be trusted on immigration? Does Cruz lack a winning personal touch? Is Rubio too youthful-looking? And Donald Trump can't be wished away.

If Trump wins Iowa, it will indeed be like the First Bull Run of the Republican civil war. Regardless, the race is still highly unpredictable, and the last couple of weeks before Iowa and New Hampshire always bring surprises.

But Republicans hyperventilating over Trump should pause long enough to appreciate the steady rise of two conservative 40-somethings who represent the party's future.

Why Are Cats Such Finicky Eaters?

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I find it weird that my two dogs, "Shep" and "Bull," can eat just about anything (I have to hide all the pet food), while my cat, "Trudy," will turn up her nose at most food. And although she's perfectly healthy, sometimes she gets sick after eating wet or fresh food. Why?

-- Sarah in Madison, Wisconsin

DEAR SARAH: Cats' eating behaviors have long been a source of curiosity for both pet owners and the scientific community. Why do they turn their nose up at certain foods and chow down on others? Why do they sometimes throw up after eating? Why do they gnaw on grass when they're meat-eaters?

The answer is: It's complicated, and no one is entirely sure. A recent study, for example, found that cats have some genes that are more commonly possessed by herbivores (animals that eat only plants, like cows). These particular genes help them detect bitter flavors, alerting them to potentially poisonous plants.

This research opens a new avenue into understanding why cats are more picky about their food than dogs -- also meat-eaters -- tend to be. If cats are detecting a bitter taste in their food then they may be less inclined to eat it. And, a bitter taste also may trigger a vomiting response to safeguard against ingesting what is perceived to be poison.

The study's results could lead to changes in how commercial producers formulate their cat food. Whether that is a good thing remains to be seen.

In the meantime, feeding a finicky cat remains a trial-and-error process. Try small amounts of different foods -- dry, wet and fresh -- and note Trudy's likes and dislikes.

Send your questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

Live Nativity Draws Large Crowds

Mormon Center patio, 2110 California Circle in Rancho Cordova, next to the LDS Temple. This is the first of what is intended to be annual free performances.

"In 2016 we will need to think more about how to accommodate the large crowds," said Eric King, spokesman for the Folsom/El Dorado Hills area of the LDS Church. "We were hoping for about 4,000 during our first year, but it has become obvious that many people are looking for ways to bring Christ to the forefront of Christmas and a live Nativity is a great way to do that." ★

'Tis the Season

Commentary
by C. P. McCauley

Everyone seems to be rushing, so many things to do. Will it all be ready in time?
After having experienced many Christmas seasons, I sometimes wonder if we have lost the true spirit of the season with the seemingly constant shuffle of shopping, cooking, gift wrapping, and on and on. Friends, neighbors, family members, and complete strangers are making an effort to be nice. That is a good thing, of course, but shouldn't we try to be nice all year long?
Perhaps if we keep busy, it will make it easier not to think of "the stuff" that requires real effort and for a longer time. Here come some suggestions that could apply to all of us. And, yes, I am including myself.
Forget about dieting. Instead, take food to a homeless shelter.

Want to go shopping? OK. The Salvation Army could use some new clothes, like the ones you are about to discard.
On your way to the beauty salon for your stylish haircut, get some toiletries and simple beauty supplies for the abused Women's Center in your community.
Going to lunch with a friend? Include someone from the skill senior facility near you. Or, better yet, bring treats to the center and share them with some of the senior residents who seldom have company from the outside.
How about a visit to a hospital? Oh, that might be depressing, you tell yourself. Try it once. You could be giving someone a nice break.
Let our veterans know you appreciate their sacrifice and listen to their war stories. We owe them so much. Plus, it could be fun!
And speaking of fun, try reading stories to small children.

Whether at a pediatric unit of a hospital or at a public library in your community, it is guaranteed that you'll love it!
If you qualify, have you looked into being a foster parent, or a big sister or brother to a not-so-small kid?
Take the time to listen to someone. Really listen. It is a wonder that the most joyous season of the year is also the time when most suicides take place, especially among young adults. It is also the time when depression tends to increase. Just thinking of all the loved ones that are no longer with us will make us nostalgic. Talking with someone may make it easier.
So, if you are looking to make some New Year's resolutions and be nice all year long, read this again. And, Season greetings, happy holidays and merry Christmas! ★

HURLEY, HIS WIFE, AS JOINT TENANTS, as Trustor(s), in favor of MORTGAGEE ELECTRONIC REGISTRATION SYSTEMS, INC. as nominee for US BANK N.A. as Beneficiary, WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, that certain property situated in said County, California described the land therein as: AS MORE FULLY DESCRIBED IN SAID DEED OF TRUST The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 2101 KELLOGG WAY, RANCHO CORDOVA, CA 95670 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $192,369.36 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - One quarter of scoring made the difference for the Cordova High School boys' basketball team in Tuesday's home non-league game against Vista del Lago.

The end result: Lancers fell 101-91 to the Eagles. Trailing 26-19 after the first quarter, Cordova (3-5) looked to get back into the contest. But the Eagles soared to a 36-9 advantage that led to a 62-38 halftime lead.

In the second half, the Lancers rallied as they outscored Vista del Lago, 65-39. Additional results of the game were not available at press time.

Cordova 69, Tokay 64 (OT)

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

Sometimes It's Just A Child's Smile And A Small Taste Of Love.

Mabel Adams was sitting in the day room at the Rest of Your Life retirement home when the children came in. She smiled and so did all the others in the room except for two who didn't know what was going on.

The old-timers in the home knew the kids were coming and had put up Christmas decorations in the day room and on the doors of their own small apartments and on themselves. Mabel had been reminded several times by that staff that morning that the kids were coming over, this being necessary as Mabel's memory isn't what it used to be. And she put a sprig of imitation holly in her hair and tied a red ribbon on the other side.

The little girl smiled and walked over to Mabel.

"Are you a grandma?" she asked.

"Why, yes dear, I am."

"I brought you a present, Grandma," she said, handing a box to Mabel. Mabel opened it and was delighted at the sandalwood-scented hankies inside.

"Why thank you so much, Honey!" she said. "And what is your name?"

"I'm Candice. I'm four."

"Well, Candice, merry Christmas to you. Have you been here before?"

"Well ... no, I guess. Mom said this is where the grandmas are and we can have fun bringing presents to the grandmas."

"I see," Mabel said. "Well, Candice, come over here, dear and let me give you a hug. There!"

Sometimes, it isn't the cost of the hankies, or the fun wrapping them up. Sometimes it's just a child's smile and a small taste of love that makes us treasure Christmas.

END OF THE BENCH

BY GERRY SCHOU

"Go! Bears!" "Go! Gaels!"

As the two college hoop teams were warming up for the first meeting between the schools in eleven years, one fan turned to the other and offered, "This is the McDonald's All-American Team against the Australian National Team." No joke, because it wasn't that far from the truth.

When the California Golden Bears hosted the Saint Mary's Gaels Saturday afternoon it was the first time since 2004 that the teams clashed on the hardwood. What have they been waiting for?

Cal, with three McDonald's All-Americans among its top six players, edged SMC, that has six Australian players on its roster, 63-59, before a really-into-it crowd of around 10,000 at Haas Pavilion in Berkeley. The decider was a missed free throw with 1.7 seconds left.

The high-energy, see-saw competition for East Bay bragging rights was just the thing to stir up some more excitement and interest in college hoops. Where has this been? It's a much more attractive draw than watching the Bears destroy Rice, Sam Houston State or Incarnate Word (?), or the Gaels doing the same to Manhattan or CSU-Bakersfield.

Saint Mary's brought a strong contingent of fans from 14 miles away through the tunnel for brunch and basketball. The Gaels are a worthy opponent for the area's Pac-12 programs, Cal and Stanford. The Cardinal, though, may be regretting a 78-61 loss at McKeon Pavilion in Moraga, Nov. 22, on national television. That was the first time those two met since 2002.

In his 14 years at SMC, coach Randy Bennett has built and maintained a solid program and a West Coast Conference power, with the help of his Australian player pipeline. He has led the Gaels to nine postseason appearances (five NCAA, four NIT). The Bears and Cardinal should make a date against Saint Mary's an annual event. There's nothing to fear, renewed rivalries and considerable financial gains are here.

Cal, mistakenly ranked as high as 14th in preseason polls on the basis of its two highly-touted recruits --- freshmen starters and McDonald's stars Jaylen Brown (Marietta, Ga.) and Ivan Rabb (Bishop O'Dowd, Oakland) --- was a heavy favorite for Saturday's game. Young and still meshing into a team, the Bears, 7-2 going in, had come back to earth and dropped out of the top 25 after losses to San Diego State and Richmond at the Las Vegas Invitational. St. Mary's was 6-0, all home victories.

As the game progressed, and with an allegiance to one team and an affinity for the other, the two fans, one a Cal grad, the other an SMC alum, found themselves applauding and cheering the good plays by both teams and bemoaning the bad plays by both. Quite the deal.

Behind the shooting of junior guard Jordan Mathews, who scored all of his 13 points in the first half, and the all-around inside play of the 6' 11" Rabb, the Bears took the lead at the seven-minute mark, pulled away to a 37-26 margin at the break and appeared to have a handle on the game.

But the Gaels, who lost all five starters from last season, overcame a size disadvantage with some hot shooting early in the second half, while the Bears hit a cold spell. SMC, the nation's No. 1 field goal percentage shooting team entering the game (54.5), connected on five 3-pointers in the first eight minutes of the period and took a 49-44 lead to complete a 23-7 run. Watching the TV replay two days later, that's the point that prompted analyst and Hall of Famer Bill Walton to call out, "Australia, standing tall on American soil!"

During the rally the Saint Mary's fans began a chant of "Go! Gaels!" Cal mascot Oski the Bear responded to lead the classic side-to-side "Go! Bears!" cheers. Good stuff.

St. Mary's leading scorer Emmett Naar's (16.5 ppg) three to take the lead was his only score of the game, though he did have eight assists. Cal's top scorer, senior point guard Tyrone Wallace (18.4) was just 2-for-12 with seven points. Dane Pineau rallied from a slow start to help the SMC comeback with a strong double-double (10 pts., 15 rebounds), along with center Evan Fitner (15) and point guard Joe Rahon, who was impressive throughout (14 pts., 5 reb., 4 assists).

With the ultimate climax at hand, one bro said to the other, "Since one team has to lose this thing, I'm glad they'll lose it to the other." That's terrific.

Rahon drove for a lay-up and a 59-58 SMC lead with 1:46 to go. That score remained until Cal was to inbound in the closing seconds. The two fans debated Cal's options and thought the ball should go to Rabb, who was dominant inside the whole game (15 pts., 11 reb., four blocks). On TV, Walton suggested they should "take the first good shot."

The ball was swung around to the third McDonald's All-American, Jabari Bird (2013) on the right wing. Having hit a pair of threes from the same spot earlier, Bird (13 pts.) let another one fly quickly and hit it clean for the lead, 61-59, with 15 seconds on the clock. During a wild scramble for a loose ball at the other end, Wallace was called for a foul with only 1.7 remaining. Rahon, the Gaels' floor leader throughout the second-half comeback, missed the first free throw of a one-and-one situation. Brown rebounded for Cal and hit two foul shots at 0.5 to end it.

Afterward, the two fans agreed they were both hoping Rahon would make both shots and set up five more minutes of wild overtime hoops.

On the air, Walton, the Great Exaggerator Extraordinaire, described the scene at Haas as "the basketball center of the universe!" He later added, "This day will go down in the history of the glory and the heartbeat of intercollegiate men's basketball in the San Francisco Bay Area!"

Not so sure about all of that, but would certainly agree with Walton's summation: "This has been an outstanding day!" Let's do it every year. ★

IN MEMORIAM

Tom Meredith

Tom Meredith passed away at the age of 58 on Friday, December 4th at home in Rancho Cordova. He leaves behind a wife, Keri, and 5 children, Krystal, Jessica, Matthew, Erik and Nick. He also leaves behind two wonderful grandchildren, Lucas and Giuliana, along with one on the way, Ella Patricia-Lynn. He was born to Patricia and Fred Meredith in Indiana. His family moved around following his father's work prior to settling in Rancho Cordova around Tom's kindergarten year. He attended Cordova Lane, Mitchell Jr. High and graduated from Cordova High Class of 1975. After high school, he started his own carpet business in EDH and was a "Great Salesperson". Following his father and brother, he worked as an electrician for 35 years. He was passionate about his job and his position as President of IBEW Local 340, the Electrical Workers Union. He was an active member of the Moose Lodge where he reunited with numerous old friends and shared great times! Tom was a very involved father with his kids, a loving husband, and lived for his grandchildren. An uncle, brother, cousin to Jerry Sighting of the NBA, brother-in-law, coach and an IBEW Brother for life! Tom's favorite motto was "Never let the truth interfere with a good story!" Tom was preceded in death by both his mother and father, as well as his brother Larry. His celebration of life will be held on December 19th at 2 pm at St. John Vianney in Rancho Cordova. In honor of Tom, please dress in SF Giants, Dallas Cowboys or IBEW attire. In lieu of flowers please donate to the IBEW Local 340 JATC program.

Join the Baby Basket Drive

Donations Needed for New Moms at Sacramento Life Center

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - As local women and teens spend the holidays preparing to become new moms in the coming year, the Sacramento Life Center is holding its annual Baby Basket Drive through Dec. 31st so it can continue to provide a basket of needed items to every patient who gives birth in 2016. Donations can be made online at www.saclife.org. Gifts can be made in any increment, but a donation of $50 buys one basket, which includes formula, diapers, newborn clothes, pacifiers, and more.

“Our patients may come in for a pregnancy test, but they leave with a strong support system and resources,” said Marie Leatherby, executive director. “We want to encourage women and teen girls and their partners that they are capable of caring for a child, and we understand the hurdles that they often face—sometimes as simple as wondering if they will be able to afford diapers. These baby baskets give new moms a boost of confidence and needed supplies.”

The Sacramento Life Center’s mission is to offer compassion, support, resources, and free medical care to women and couples facing an unplanned or unsupported pregnancy. The Sacramento Life Center’s licensed Sac Valley Pregnancy Clinic includes a primary clinic and two Mobile Medical Clinics that provide all services for free, including pregnancy tests, STD tests, ultrasounds, peer counseling for men and women, education, and resource referrals. The nonprofit also offers a school-based teen education program, a 24-hour hotline and a program for women seeking support after having an abortion. Water-Wise Tips for the Holidays

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - What’s the best way to conserve water this holiday season? Consider these tips from Sacramento Suburban Water District. They’re easy and can help make a big difference in reducing water use over the winter months.

1) Let Your Sprinklers Have a Holiday

Turn off your sprinklers this winter season and leave them off until spring. With winter’s cooler and shorter days, as well as the anticipated rains, your yard won’t need much or any supplemental watering.

2) Help Your Guests Conserve

Will you have a houseful of guests this holiday season? Create a five-minute reel of holiday music they can play while in the shower. When the music ends, the shower should, too.

Some holiday themed songs to consider for your playlist: Frosty the Snowman, Jingle Bell Rock, Santa Baby, White Christmas, Winter Wonderland, and Grandma Got Run Over by a Reindeer are all under five minutes long.

You can also put a friendly, little note on the mirror reminding them to turn off the water when brushing their teeth or shaving.

3) Scrape the Plates

Serving up a big holiday meal? Clean off dirty plates by scraping food into the trash or compost bin instead of using the garbage disposal.

And remember to put your dishwasher to good use. Every minute the kitchen faucet runs sends 2.5 gallons of water down the drain. Instead of washing dishes by hand, use your dishwasher instead. You’ll have more time for wrapping presents or enjoying a glass of eggnog.

4) Collect Water from the Shower or Sink

The water you collect can be used to provide water for Fido, or to make sure your trees and plants stay green. SSWD has handy shower buckets available.

5) Give the Gift of Water Conservation

Looking for the perfect gift for that special someone in your life? Consider giving them a high-efficiency showerhead, water-efficient toilet or weather-based irrigation controller. Look for products with the WaterSense label, which are certified to be high-performing and water-efficient.
