MERRY CHRISTMAS!

International Baccalaureate Open House at Cordova High

*The Event Will Highlight
Teachers and Students, and Invites the Community to Learn More*

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Families, students and community members are invited to attend a special open house to learn more about Folsom Cordova's International Baccalaureate program.

The open house will be held Tuesday, Jan. 12 at 6:30 p.m. at Cordova High School, 2239 Chase Drive in Rancho Cordova. Families are encouraged to RSVP at www.fcusd.org/IB. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions, tour new, state-of-the-art facilities, and participate in engaging activities with students and IB teachers.

Folsom Cordova has two International Baccalaureate programs: the Middle Years Programme (MYP) and the Diploma Programme (DP).

All students in grades 6-10 attending Mitchell Middle and Cordova High schools participate in the MYP Programme, and students who choose to continue their IB studies in grades 11-12 can participate in the Diploma Programme, which can signal to selective universities that students are prepared for success.

Both IB programs are internationally recognized, rigorous academic pathways that prepare students to make an impact in the world around them through interdisciplinary, hands-on learning. IB connects classroom learning with the real world, developing well-rounded, independent thinkers ready for the global economy.

Dessert prepared by the school's student culinary program will be provided. Translation services and child care also will be provided for attendees.

For more information on the District's IB program and to RSVP for the Jan. 12th Open House event, families can visit www.fcusd.org/IB.

Mills Middle School Celebrates Christmas in Cordova

Story and photos
by Seraphim Winslow

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Over 300 volunteers—including about 200 youth from the local community—assembled at Mills Middle School in Rancho Cordova on Saturday, Dec. 19th, for the sole purpose of making people happy. It was Christmas in Cordova.

Hosted for the fifth year in a row by the Rancho Cordova Police Department, this event marshals the charitable forces of local non-profit organizations and faith communities in order to gather up new toys and gifts for children up to age 17 who would otherwise greet the holidays empty handed. Christmas in Cordova supports hundreds of families through a toy drive that distributes gifts to over 353 participating families who are often confronted with a variety of daily difficulties like buying food, making rent, or just coping with the pressures of daily life, which often intensify during the holiday season.

Not only do the parents, who have been pre-selected by the police department before the event in order to participate, get to draw numbers in a free raffle for big-ticket items like bicycles before they browse for age-appropriate gifts with the help of volunteers at a holiday shopping mall filled with toys, but their selections are then gift-wrapped by other helpful volunteers at the end of line. Visits to Santa are available for visiting children, and all families get to enjoy a free barbecue lunch.

Rancho Cordova Police Chief Michael Goold said, "This is just a wonderful event that the police department partners up with community leaders to create, in order to make the holidays a little brighter for those who could use some cheering."

The Rest of the Story

The Almost Atomic Bombing of Rancho Cordova

Five Rancho Cordova historical Society volunteers going through old issues to help save the Grapevine. Photo by Jerald Drobesh

Commentary by Jerald Drobesh

As a volunteer with the Rancho Cordova Historical Society an interesting project has come my way: to help save old copies of the community newspaper, the Grapevine.

The paper was first printed back in the 1960s and while stationed at Mather Air Force Base in the early 1970s, I read my first issue.

It was a great newspaper then and it still is!

The city of Rancho Cordova recently voted to fund the project to save all the old Grapevine copies that had been stored in boxes over the years, from first print date over 50 years ago.

With a few other volunteers from the Rancho Cordova Historical Society, I've been going through stacks and stacks of old issues of the Grapevine. I was a part of the group that was organizing the old copies by week, month, and year. The plan is to have all issues copied and installed on a future website.

As I was going through the stacks of old issues, I noticed an article that jumped out at me. It was a true story about a B-29 WWII bomber on its way to the Pacific while on a top secret mission in 1945. The bomber had stopped at the local Mather Air Force Base to refuel and possibly for crew rest before a long flight to an island in the Pacific Ocean. From there the second atomic bomb on board the B-29 bomber would be flown to the Japanese city of Nagasaki, and dropped—bringing about the end of WWII.

I had previously written about this true story—that I had read from an old issue of the Grapevine—but now this is the rest of the story.

Yes, the B-29 bomber almost crashed while carrying the atomic bomb, and taking off from Mather Air Force Base.

According to the article, somehow a rubber life raft or other gear came loose from the bomber on takeoff. It jammed the rear flight controls causing the bomber crew to lose control of the airplane. Somehow, the pilots were able to maneuver the aircraft and release the blockage on the flight controls and the bomber went safely on its way to the Pacific, carrying the atomic bomb and carrying out their mission, ending WWII.

Because the nation was at war with Japan at the time, this information was kept top secret... but now you know the rest of the story. The B-29 didn't crash, and our beautiful community of Sacramento/Rancho Cordova went on about its business, without an atomic bomb explosion!

I, for one, like happy endings.

The day after Thanksgiving is named Black Friday by stores, the mass media, and I’m not sure who else. As my wife and I said, we personally named it Golden Friday since it was our Golden Wedding Anniversary. I wonder if there is a special name for the day after Christmas, since many people shop after Christmas for everything from Christmas lights, toys, etc. If not, I’m sure someone will think of one.

There are activities going on in Rancho Cordova to celebrate Christmas and all the other holidays. On Wednesday, December 16th, there was a Christmas Parade in Lincoln Village, and a Rancho Cordova Police Christmas Parade on Ambassador Drive. The Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce had an Open House on Thursday, December 17th. All of these things will be completed before you read this, but I like to remind everyone how many people put in a tremendous amount of volunteer time and make these different activities in Rancho Cordova as successful as they are.

The Christmas Parade in Lincoln Village was a huge success with many people involved who hadn’t had the opportunity to participate in parades before or hadn’t ever had a Christmas Parade in their neighborhood. The parade was held along the same route that we used when we had the Mayor’s Walk in Lincoln Village. The parade ended at A.M. Winn Elementary School, and I was told that there were over 400 people who were there. Santa Claus was at the school, and about 200 people were in line so the kids could have their picture taken with Santa. It was an opportunity that many of the children didn’t have before.

And Another Thing ... Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

The Rancho Cordova Police Christmas Parade along Ambassador was a nice surprise to many of the people who live there, and was a great surprise to many. You could tell that a lot of time was put into all of the decorations on the cars, and a lot of thoughts and many hours were put into the floats. The planners and organizers of that parade did a wonderful job too. Having two parades in our City at the same time was quite a feat. The music, colors, and participation combined bring out the enjoyment and delight you can see in the look on people’s faces, and that makes it all worthwhile. What a marvelous and phenomenal way to help close the year 2015.

I want to thank publisher Paul V. Scholl for covering the many stories that are provided to him by his reporters, of course, but also by accepting the news that is given to him by our City. If you notice the bottom of the pictures and articles in the Grapevine Independent, you will read “Source: City of Rancho Cordova” or “Photo courtesy City of Rancho Cordova.” As you know, we almost lost the Grapevine, and I think it is really important that we keep our local paper so we have a voice. And again, I want to thank Mr. Scholl for picking up the paper before it “bit the dust.”

This coming week of Dec. 20th, 2015 to Dec. 26th, 2015, City Hall will be closed. So that’s Monday the 21st through Friday the 25th. City Hall will be back to regular business hours on Monday the 28th, but City Hall will only be closed on Friday, New Year’s Day of that week. The normal after-hours telephone number of (916) 851-8700 will still be working and provide the information you may need. Any activities that are scheduled in City Hall during Christmas week, e.g. using the American River Rooms for activities, will still be operating as planned. I think that’s all for the rest of the year, because the next column (even though it will come out before Jan. 1st, 2016) will be officially the first one for 2016.

And as I was closing this column, I realized that I almost missed saying, “And Another Thing, merry Christmas and happy New Year!!!”

One of the most impressive things about Christmas in Cordova is the volunteer power that it harnesses from the community, all for the purpose of putting smiles on children’s faces. Even though Rancho Cordova is a modest city of about 68,000, it draws in hundreds of volunteers on this special day to do everything from greet families as they arrive; chaperone shoppers through the toy mall; giftwrap donated presents; guide drivers through the parking lot; and answer questions about the day’s activities.

Giving her reason for volunteering her time on this wintery Saturday morning, Lourdes Cruz, a Rancho Cordova resident and gift mall volunteer, said, “It feels really good to come here and help people shop. It makes them so happy.”

Rancho Cordova resident, Stephanie Hudspeth, chooses something special for her children with the help of volunteer, Lourdes Cruz, at the Christmas in Cordova holiday gift mall.

Climate Make-Believe in Paris

Saving the planet has never been so easy.

The Paris climate talks concluded in a rousing round of self-congratulation over an agreement that, we are told, is the first step toward keeping Earth habitable. If generating headlines and press releases about making history were the metric for anything, Paris might be as consequential -- if misbegotten -- as advertised.

The fact is that Paris is very meta. The agreement is about the agreement, never mind what's in it or what its true legal force is -- namely, nil. Paris is a legally binding agreement not to have legally binding limits on emissions. It might be the most worthless piece of paper since the Kellogg-Briand Pact outlawed war -- about a decade prior to the outbreak of World War II.

The Paris summit operated on the principle of CBDRILONCWRG, or "Common but Differentiated Responsibility in Light of National Circumstances With Respective Capability." That means nothing was actually mandated on anyone because that proved -- understandably enough, dealing with all the countries in the world -- completely unworkable.

Instead, countries came up with so-called Intended Nationally Determined Contributions. That's climate bureaucratese for "You make up your emissions target, whatever it is, and we will pretend to take it seriously." Thus, do the waters recede and Earth is saved from looming climate catastrophe.

President Barack Obama praised 180 countries for coming to Paris "with serious climate targets in hand." This was ridiculous climate grade inflation. As Oren Cass of the Manhattan Institute points out, Pakistan produced a one-page document promising to "reduce its emissions after reaching peak levels to the extent possible." For this we needed a headline-grabbing global confab?

No one will mistake Pakistan for an industrial juggernaut. How about China, the world's largest carbon emitter? It promises to reach peak emissions around 2030, when one U.S. government study estimates that it would hit peak admissions anyway, Cass notes. The more China promises to confront climate change, the more it stays the same.

India's assurance that it will make a roughly 30 percent improvement in carbon intensity is, according to Cass, also about where it was projected to be headed anyway. India still wants to double its output of coal by 2020. As The Guardian put it, India "says coal provides the cheapest energy for rapid industrialization that would lift millions out of poverty." India would be correct.

The agreement's celebrants believe that by making countries report their progress on cutting carbon emissions and by sending a stern signal against fossil fuels, Paris will catalyze painful cuts in carbon emissions somewhere off in the future. It speaks to a naive belief in the power of global shame over the sheer economic interest of developing countries in getting rich (and lifting countless millions out of poverty) through exploiting cheap energy -- you know, the way Western countries have done for a couple of centuries.

If this is the best hope of the climate alarmists, their global campaign will be a welcome fizzle. All things considered, it probably is best that they occupy themselves with grand meetings and with the exertions attendant to believing their own PR. Otherwise they could do real damage.

Young Puppy Just Can't 'Hold It'

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: We adopted a puppy last month. "Jake" is having some problems adjusting to his new home. He has soiled his own bed three times so far (we crate him at night) and doesn't make it through the day -- he starts whining by the door around lunchtime and, if we're not home, will just go anywhere in the house. How can we fix this?

- Carl B., via email

DEAR CARL: How old is Jake? It sounds like, barring any unknown physical issues or illness, that he is a young puppy with a small bladder. He simply can't hold it as long as a fully grown dog.

The fact that Jake makes it a point to whine by the door means that the house training is effective, but you may be waiting much too long to take him out. When he has to go, he will go. That includes soiling his crate, which is an absolute last resort for a dog.

Follow this guideline, published by the American Kennel Club, called the "month-plus-one" rule: Take your puppy's age in months, and add one. That gives you a rough estimate of the maximum number of hours Jake should wait before going outside to pee or poop.

For example, if Jake is four months old, add one to that number. The total, five, means he should be taken outside every five hours. Every puppy is different, so Jake may need to go out a little sooner. And yes, that means he may need to go out in the middle of the night, or on a pee pad.

He should always be taken out just before bedtime and first thing in the morning, regardless of his age.

Send your questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

Golden State Water Increases Drought Patrols

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Golden State Water Company (Golden State Water) has increased drought patrols in Gold River and Rancho Cordova to enforce outdoor irrigation restrictions that were implemented to help the community meet its state-mandate 36 percent reduction in water use. Golden State Water's patrols are monitoring outdoor irrigation and issuing enforcement letters to customers who are not complying with current local drought restrictions. "Our Cordova system that serves customers in Gold River and Rancho Cordova received a violation letter from the State Water Resources Control Board for falling below its 36 percent reduction mandate, and we have increased patrols to ensure customers are complying with drought restrictions that address outdoor irrigation days and times," said Paul Schubert, northern general manager for Golden State Water. "During the first two weeks of increased patrols, we issued 98 enforcement letters to customers to alert them of their violations and request that they make adjustments to avoid penalties." Current restrictions for Golden State Water's local customers limit outdoor irrigation to one day per week, permitting even addresses (0, 2, 4, 6, 8) to water on Sunday and odd addresses (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) on Saturday. All outdoor irrigation must occur before 8 a.m. or after 7 p.m., and should not exceed 10 minutes per station. Non-compliance with irrigation restrictions may result in the installation of a flow restrictor or termination of service along with associated fees. Restrictions do not apply for trees or edible vegetation watered solely by drip or micro-spray systems. "We, as a community, have missed the state-mandated 36 percent reduction three consecutive months, and our cumulative reduction has fallen to 33.2 percent for the period from June 1-Dec. 13," said Schubert. "It's critical that we regain our conservation momentum to avoid triggering additional restrictions, allocations and surcharges." Golden State Water's Cordova System remains in Stage 1 of Staged Mandatory Water Conservation and Rationing (Schedule 14.1), which was activated on July 1, 2015, to help customers meet the 36 percent reduction mandate assigned by the State Water Resources Control Board. Customers are encouraged to visit gswater.com/arden-cordova for weekly reduction updates, local drought restrictions and additional information about Staged Mandatory Water Conservation and Rationing. Please call Golden State Water's 24-hour Customer Service Center at (800) 999-4033 to learn more about the drought and local conservation resources, or follow Golden State Water on Twitter @GoldenStateH2O. City of Rancho Cordova Notice of Public Comment Period

2016-2020 Consolidated Plan Community Needs Survey

The City of Rancho Cordova Community Development Department is releasing a survey to assess community needs in regards to public services, facilities, and housing. The survey will be available to the public from December 28, 2015 until February 5, 2016 and will be available online in English, Spanish, and Russian through a link on the City of Rancho Cordova's website www.cityofranhocordova.org under Community Development, Neighborhood Plans and Projects. Printed copies of the survey will be available at City Hall, Neighborhood Services, the Rancho Cordova Public Library, and the Folsom Cordova Community Partnership.

The purpose of this survey is to provide information for the 2016-2020 Consolidated Plan and the potential establishment of a Neighborhood Revitalization Strategy Area. Cities and Counties who receive annual funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) must prepare five year Consolidated Plans to plan how they plan to spend the funds. The plan assesses housing needs, social services needs, and population demographics to help identify where HUD funding can do the most good. Cities and Counties report on accomplishments annually toward the goals set in the Consolidated Plan.

The Neighborhood Revitalization Strategy Area (NRSA) is an area identified by HUD as a special target neighborhood where HUD funding can be used to encourage economic development. The primary benefit of the NRSA is that HUD is less restrictive about how funding is spent in an NRSA, and the additional flexibility means that funding can stretch farther and have a more direct impact on improving a neighborhood.

The City of Rancho Cordova will be holding three public meetings during the months of January and February to solicit additional community input on the formation of the 2016-2020 Consolidated Plan. These meetings will be noticed at least 15 days prior to the meeting date.

Lancers Win Tourney Opener

By Mike Bush

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A high-scoring game ended in favor for the Cordova High School boys’ basketball, competing in the first round of the St. Hope Elite Classic Tournament last Saturday.

Playing Valley, the Lancers jumped out to an early lead and then held off a late Vikings’ rally that produced a 73-69 victory. Cordova (4-5) continued action at the tourney earlier this week.

Because of an early deadline at the Grapevine Independent because of Christmas, the results of Monday and Tuesday’s games, as well as the tourney finale on Wednesday for the Lancers, will appear in the Jan. 1st issue. On Monday, Cordova was scheduled to play Bethel of Vallejo.

Trailing 58-57 after three quarters, Cordova rallied in the final quarter that included many shots, which led to second and third chances against Valley. By end the Lancers outscored the Vikings 15-11.

“They were just going at it,” said Cordova head coach Fletcher Johnson of his squad and the Vikings. “It was a really tough game.”

Cordova jumped out to a 23-18 first quarter lead over Valley that was aided by four, 3-point shots from the Lancers. But the Vikings rallied the following quarter with an 18-15 scoring advantage that cut the Lancers’ lead to 37-36 at halftime.

Now in the third quarter, the Vikings continued their come-from-behind approach, outscoring the Lancers 22-20 to take a 58-57 lead.

“They came back and played tough,” Johnson said. “They guys were just battling. There were a lot of missed shots, they were getting offensive rebounds and put backs.”

Four Lancers scored 13 points each; Damion Baldwin, DeAnte Wilkins, Jason Novik and Ben Danielyan. Najee Clark followed with six points and teammates Mike Brown and Joseph Gomez had five points each.

The St. Hope Elite Classic Tournament has 32 high school varsity boys basketball teams, mostly from the Sac-Joaquin Section, competing. ★

Annual Cordova Christmas Classic on Tap

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Monday, the Cordova High School boys’ basketball team will open the three-day, 40th annual Cordova Christmas Classic inside the Lancer Gym.

The Lancers will open their own tourney against Encina at 7:30 p.m. The eight-team tourney tips-off at 3 p.m., followed by games at 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. The tourney concludes on Wednesday.

According to Cordova head coach Fletcher Johnson, the teams taking part are Cordova, Encina, Inderkum, Grant, Monterey Trail of Elk Grove, Burbank and Wood of Vacaville.

“A lot of good teams,” Johnson said. “[Many] evenly matched teams.”

According to Johnson, Cordova and Encina, along with Grant and Inderkum, are in the same bracket.

The most notable of the teams in the tournament are Burbank and Grant.

“[Burbank] is pretty loaded,”

said Johnson of the Titans, who are ranked in the top 10 among Sacramento area boys basketball teams.

According to Johnson, Grant is returning to the tournament, as the Pacers have played in the Classic over the years past.

Earlier this month, Cordova hosted Wood in a non-league game in which the Lancers fell 50-43.

The Lancers concluded action at the St. Hope Elite Classic Tournament earlier this week. ★
