RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The 25th annual Operation Gobble took place on Friday, November 20th at Rancho Cordova City Hall. Golden State Water Company donated 200 turkeys to the City of Rancho Cordova, which in turn were donated to local organizations to help those in need this Thanksgiving.

The Folsom Cordova Community Partnership received 25 turkeys, the Rancho Cordova Elks Lodge #2484 received 59, and Rancho Cordova Kiwanis Club and the Cordova Community Food Locker received 116 collectively.

The Cordova Community Food Locker is looking to help make the holidays meaningful for low-income families. On Monday, November 23rd, food donations were given to families for Thanksgiving.

On Wednesday, November 25th, the Folsom Cordova Community Partnership held its annual A Partnership in Thanks luncheon to feed families in our community. Families who participated also had the opportunity to win food to supplement their own Thanksgiving celebration.

Golden State Water will donate more than 8,000 turkeys this month to community organizations that serve those less fortunate in our community.

Bera Statement on Syrian Refugee Screening Bill

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Congressman Ami Bera, M.D. released the following statement after voting for H.R. 4038, the American Security Against Foreign Enemies (SAFE) Act. The bill requires the Department of Homeland Security to verify that each refugee entering the United States has undergone a background check to ensure they are not a security threat.

"It is critical that our first priority is to keep America safe—that is why I voted today for a bill to ensure that all Syrian refugees are thoroughly vetted. However, we can't let the terrorists win and influence who we are as Americans. Our country has always been a place for those fleeing violence or oppression and we must stay true to those values. This additional screening step will ensure that we know those coming into the country are not a security threat."

Congressman Ami Bera, M.D. represents Sacramento County. Born and raised in California, Bera is a physician and the only Indian American currently serving in Congress. He's fighting to rebuild an economy that works for middle class families and to reduce our country's debt in a responsible way. One of Bera's first acts in Congress was to help lead the effort to pass the No Budget No Pay Act, which says if members of Congress don't pass a budget, they don't get paid. As a leader of the No Labels' Problem Solvers, he's working with people from both parties to find bipartisan solutions to our nation's challenges. He and his wife Janine live in Elk Grove with their daughter Sydra. For more updates on Rep. Bera follow @RepBera on Twitter, like Congressman Bera on Facebook, or visit <http://www.bera.house.gov>.

Rancho Cordova Named a Top 2015 Digital City

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - For the third year in a row, the City of Rancho Cordova has been named a Digital Cities Survey Winner by e.Republic's Center for Digital Government.

The award recognizes Rancho Cordova for its top 10 Information Technology (IT)-related initiatives that excel in promoting transparency, accountability, and communication. Rancho Cordova ranked fifth in the "less than 75,000 population category."

One of Rancho Cordova's 10 initiatives is mobile offices for Code Enforcement officers, Animal Services officers, and building inspectors. The challenge the City's IT team encountered was how to provide technology and connectivity so staff can work in the field versus at a stationary desk.

The City identified and installed technology solutions in City vehicles that now provide virtual desktop access, printers, and WiFi. These programs increase productivity, allow staff to work more effectively, and set the City apart from other local government agencies.

"I have seen other jurisdictions try to implement this technology in the field but the great part about our system is that it actually works," said Rancho Cordova Building Inspector Howard Williams.

Another initiative relates to the City's Fresh Take branding campaign launched in 2014. The City's Communications team was looking to get a fresh take on citizen engagement and identified technology solutions that would help in the effort.

It started by launching a new mobile application called Fresh Connect that allows citizens to submit, track, and view service requests via a computer or mobile device. The tool also allows citizens to submit and receive requests in over 80 languages to accommodate Rancho Cordova's diverse community.

In 2015, the City continued its roll-out by creating and launching a new website at AFreshTake.org that features many local amenities and services, and Fresh News: a monthly e-newsletter. These tools allow the City to provide information on a more frequent basis, which increases transparency and promotes education.

"After three consecutive years of being named a Digital City, it is clear Rancho Cordova is on the cutting edge of technology," said Rancho Cordova's Information Technology Director Jay Hadley. "Our City Council, City Manager, and all our staff continue to support our efforts to innovate through technology. The results increase citizen engagement, contribute to a positive workplace culture, and save money."

Now in its 15th year, the Digital Cities Survey focuses on collaboration among cities, counties, and regions in the United States. Responses are reviewed and judged based on a set of criteria and how well the cities implemented these services across the entire city.

"The top-ranked digital city governments in this year's survey are using cloud services, data analytics and mobile apps — among other technologies — to help citizens interact with government more easily than ever before," said Todd Sander, executive director of the Center for Digital Government. "These cities are true innovators and we applaud their efforts to increase transparency and open government, encourage citizen participation, and enhance cybersecurity. Congratulations to the winners!"

"Hometown for the Holidays"

Rancho Cordova Residents are Focus of Holiday Hotel Campaign

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova Travel & Tourism (RCTT), the organization that serves as the region's tourism bureau, has unveiled a marketing campaign directed at Rancho Cordova residents. The campaign, titled: Hometown for the Holidays, gives residents 20 percent off at selected Rancho Cordova hotels for stays from Nov. 15th, 2015 through Jan. 2nd, 2016. Typically, RCTT focuses efforts on out-of-town markets.

"Last year we had requests from residents for special hotel offers for family and friends over the holidays," said Lisa Jones, chairperson of Rancho Cordova Travel & Tourism. "So, this year we created a special deal exclusively for residents' family and friends."

The Hometown for the Holidays campaign will be promoted to residents through digital advertising, social media, and direct mail marketing.

For a complete list of participating hotels and offers visit www.visitranchocordova.com/holidays.

Rancho Cordova is home to 16 lodging properties with a total of over 2,000 rooms. Properties range from economy hotels to an AAA Four Diamond hotel. While corporate business drives much of the midweek occupancy, sports tourism, leisure, and other segments comprise much of the weekend business.

In addition to the many events in the region, including rowing events at the Sacramento State Aquatic Center and the California Capital Airshow, sports tourism will be an area of focus for the organization.

Rancho Cordova Travel & Tourism is a Tourism Business Improvement District (TBID), and as such, is funded through an assessment on hotel room nights. The organization, which was formed by agreement of hoteliers and a City of Rancho Cordova resolution in 2011, is governed by a board of directors comprised of hoteliers, a representative from the City of Rancho Cordova, and a representative from the Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce. For more information on Rancho Cordova Travel & Tourism visit www.visitranchocordova.com.

Holiday Pop-Up Art Gallery Provides Source for Unique Gifts

Story and photos by Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - This year Christmas shoppers can find a selection of the work of 12 Rancho Cordova area artists at the Holiday Pop-Up Art Gallery at Capital Village in Rancho Cordova. The Gallery will be open for three weekends: 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Nov. 27th to the 29th, and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Dec. 4th to the 6th, and Dec. 11th to the 13th. “It’s a way for people to get a gift that they couldn’t get anywhere else for someone, and to support the local art scene,” said Marsha Mason, chairman of the Gallery. The space has been provided at no cost for the holiday use of the artists by property managers Merlone-Geier.

Mason will have a wide selection of her paintings available at the Gallery, and also a series of “tea cup cards.” From tea cups inherited from a great aunt, Mason has created ten different designs in ink and watercolor, reproduced on greeting cards, inserting a tea packet in a slit in the design. “Somebody can mail that and gift a cup of tea,” Mason said.

Annette Heacox, originally from Paris, France, paints mainly in acrylic and watercolor. Her work can be seen at the Holiday Pop-Up Art Gallery at Capital Village.

Artists represented at the Gallery this year are Judy Gustafson, Ron Hall, Annette Heacox, Sheri Kindsvater, Christina Marcella Lemar, Marsha Mason, Charla McKenna, Robin Moyher, Linda Nunes, Patience Vargas, Donine Wellman, and Sid Wellman.

“I really think there is an art community [in Rancho Cordova], both young and older people that are learning how to put together art,” said artist Ron Hall, who is also helping with the event. “I think they’re really trying to make Rancho Cordova a great art destination.” Hall does a lot of detailed, technical multimedia work. But, he said, “Sometimes when I’m caught up doing a more detailed piece it’s fun to just go in the backyard and sling paint. It’s kind of a release.”

Visitors will find a variety of mediums and styles at the Gallery, including fused glass and jewelry by Patience Vargas and clay work by Judy Gustafson. Just walking through the displays gives a wide view of the disparate artwork created by these artists.

Linda Nunes organized the first Gallery last year. An artist all her life, she has been working in encaustic for 10 years, an ancient process that uses beeswax and resin and can create many different effects. “It’s laid out at 200 degrees,” Nunes said. “It’s really an ‘ooh aah’ moment the first time you see the wax moving around, dancing on the panel.”

Artist Annette Heacox paints mostly in acrylic and watercolor. She especially enjoys working en plein air, and goes out at least once a week. “I think when you’re outside your feelings are all so different,” Heacox said. “So whatever scene you have, you see it through your own eyes. To me, it will never look the same in somebody else’s painting right next to me. You really put your guts into it, in other words.”

Sid Wellman and his wife Donine are also artists who are helping to create the Gallery this year. Donine Wellman uses a subtle palate, while Sid Wellman uses bright colors and mixed media. “I kind of splatter, I paint, I throw paint on here, spray paint it,” Wellman said. “[I use] markers, just about anything to get me the look that I want.”

The Capital Village Holiday Pop-Up Art Gallery is located at 3231 Zinfandel Drive, near the Rancho Cordova Lowe’s store. Turn onto Capital Village Lane from Zinfandel and the Gallery is the last shop on the right, across from Nemo Sushi. ★

Molly's Revenge

A 10th Annual Winterdance Celtic Christmas Celebration

Molly's Revenge, whose lineup includes bagpipes, fiddle, whistle, guitar, mandola, and bodhran have toured extensively in the U.S. as well as Australia, China, and Scotland. The band is known for its unique and infectious on-stage enthusiasm. Photo courtesy of Mark Wiederanders

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG - On Friday, Dec 4th, Molly's Revenge and special guest vocalist Christa Burch with the Rosemary Turco Irish Dancers will present a festive evening of music, song, and dance. The performance will include Christmas songs played with a Celtic twist, as well as new numbers for yearly attendees of the performance.

Molly's Revenge, whose lineup includes bagpipes, fiddle, whistle, guitar, mandola, and bodhran have toured extensively in the U.S. as well as Australia, China, and Scotland. The band is known for its unique and infectious on-stage enthusiasm. Their arrangements of traditional jigs and reels bring these dance tunes up-to-date with a driving, hard-edged accent that always leaves audiences shouting for more.

The California-based group has toured since 2000 as a four- and five-piece acoustic band, releasing eleven CDs along the way. Just last year, Molly's Revenge and Christa Burch recorded a collection of Celtic Christmas and winter-themed music at a remote windswept retreat in the redwoods of the Mendocino coast. This beautiful holiday album will be available at the shows.

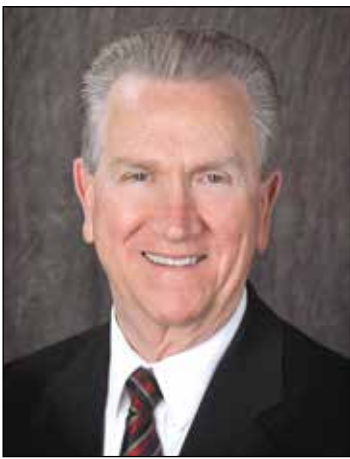

Guest vocalist Christa Burch possesses a singular voice: warm, supple, expressive, intimate, and instantly recognizable. Part of a vibrant new generation of American folk singers, Christa deftly marries intuitive musicianship and storytelling through song. To balance the gentle beauty of Christa's songs, the Turco Irish dancers will bring a percussive, joyful, and colorful exuberance to the stage.

As always, this 10th Annual Celtic Christmas Celebration will capture the traditional spirit of the season and warm the hearts of all who attend.

Don't miss this festive performance on Friday, Dec. 4th, at 7:30 p.m. The performance will take place at the beautiful St Michael's Episcopal Church, 2140 Mission Avenue, Carmichael, CA 95608. Tickets are $20 in advance, $24 at the door, and $10 for kids. For more information or to purchase tickets online visit: www.brownpapertickets.com/event/2461403. Email wiederan@sbcglobal.net regarding any other performance questions.

The Grapevine Independent will be printed on the day before Thanksgiving. I am glad the people who are working at the paper have time to celebrate Thanksgiving with family. We will have some family members coming to our house for Thanksgiving, and some who will not. But with computers, and smart phones, and iPads, and many more ways to communicate today, we will be "getting together" in other ways besides giving thanks at the same table. Whoops, I almost forgot, you can call on a phone and just talk; really an old fashioned concept. Now the next part of the column is away from where I started, but it is important 365 days a year (and 366 in leap years).

I read somewhere that "The good Lord didn't create anything without a purpose, but mosquitoes come close." I believe that most of us would probably be happy without that itchy, annoying bite from a mosquito. Mosquitoes are not only able to adapt to any weather, but they can also travel long distances courtesy of planes, boats, trains, etc. I did a little research and found out, that on their own, "The mosquito species that has been known to fly the furthest is the salt marsh breeders. They have been known to fly up to 100 miles in certain circumstances, although traveling 20-40 miles is much more common for this species when blood hosts are few and far between."

From the Mayor's Corner

Random Interconnections, and Happy Thanksgiving to All

"The newest species that has appeared recently in California is the Asian Tiger Mosquito, which has a limited flight range of up to 300 feet." However, there has been an infestation of the Asian Tiger Mosquito in Southern California. And according to the experts, they are speculating about not "if" but when that mosquito will show up in Northern California. We'll keep you informed.

Another change in suggestions, which was passed by the Trustees of the Sacramento-Yolo Mosquito & Vector Control District at the Nov. 17th Board meeting, is not to pick up or handle dead squirrels. Just report them to the Mosquito & Vector Control District, and they will handle it. Fleas are looking for a warm body, and the dead squirrel is very cold. Fleas will jump on you if they are still on the dead squirrel. Fleas are carriers of different diseases too, so they are "vectors" or carriers just like mosquitoes.

There are still quite a few things and holidays to celebrate before we come to the end of the year; Thanksgiving, birthdays, Christmas, New Year's Day, and many more that haven't been mentioned. The holidays can bring joy and happiness to all those who wish to celebrate and observe them.

I have received quite a few wonderful comments about the State of the City presentation, and all I can say is thank you all very much. The events that we covered were of great interest to everyone in Rancho Cordova, and of great interest to many people outside our city. 2015 was one of those years that didn't seem to go by as fast as others do. There were many different things that were of individual importance, and yet they all seemed to be connected in different ways.

Celebrating and honoring the veterans on Memorial Day and Veterans Day were connected to the VA Hospital, and they were connected to the traffic light on International Drive that will help people get to and from the VA Hospital, and to Kaiser, and to businesses at Mather, and homes at Independence at Mather, and the Airport at Mather, and that could go on and on. I just used that as an example to show how all of us and all the things we are doing in the city of Rancho Cordova are interconnected. That interconnection shows the relationships, junctions, and affiliations in Rancho Cordova that will continue to grow as we mature as a city. To everyone in our homes and our businesses: happy Thanksgiving to you all.

From Mayor Bob Mcgarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

After Paris, Empty Symbolism

The instant online symbol of global support for Paris after last week’s attacks was a roughly rendered peace symbol with an Eiffel Tower in the middle of it. The French designer Jean Jullien sketched it as soon as he heard the news of the atrocity. He called it “Peace for Paris,” and it immediately became a sensation on social media.

Its success is a sign of the times. We have become experts at treacly online mourning. We take grotesque atrocities and launder them into trite symbols and slogans that are usually self-congratulatory and, of course, wholly ineffectual. The 19th-century author William Dean Howells once said, “Yes, what the American public wants is a tragedy with a happy ending.” On social media, the happy ending is the widely shared and tweeted image or hashtag.

After the slaughter at the offices of the satirical French magazine Charlie Hebdo earlier this year, it was “Je suis Charlie,” or “I am Charlie.” It was a well-intentioned expression of solidarity, so long as you overlooked the absurd presumption of it.

You are Charlie? Oh, OK. Then draw a sketch of Muhammad and post it online. Better yet, do it over and over again, until you get constant threats and your office is firebombed, just as a warmup. No, you aren’t Charlie (for that matter, Charlie isn’t even Charlie anymore -- it’s given up on mocking Islam for understandable safety reasons).

The “Peace for Paris” image is simple and emotive, if inapt. Paris doesn’t need to give peace a chance. It doesn’t need to make love, not war. It doesn’t need to be more understanding or more hopeful. It needs to be better protected by all those unsentimental means that have been neglected in recent years, or overwhelmed by the growing threat of ISIS.

Paris -- and more broadly France and the West -- needs more surveillance of suspected terrorists and police raids; a more restrictive immigration policy that doesn’t create large, unassimilated Muslim populations, or welcome terrorists as refugees; and a serious, multilayered campaign to destroy ISIS and deny it the safe havens from which it recruits and trains, and plots against the West.

If someone can come up with a catchy symbol for that, I’ll embrace it (although “La Marseillaise” isn’t so bad: “To arms citizens/ Form your battalions/March, march”). Meanwhile, spare me the #PrayforParis hashtag. Forgive me if I’m unmoved by lighting up world landmarks in red, white and blue, or your putting a tricolor filter on your Facebook profile picture. And please don’t tell me, in the words of the designer Jean Jullien, that “in all this horror there’s something positive that people are coming together in a sense of unity and peace.”

Nothing positive comes from innocents getting shot down in cold blood for the offense of going to a concert on a Friday night. If there aren’t going to be more -- and worse -- attacks in our cities, the path ahead won’t be one of unity and peace. It will be the hard, thankless work of protecting civilization from its enemies.

Helping Pets in Need

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: As the holiday season swings into full gear, many people may be looking to do something more enriching than just shopping for gifts and getting things we don't really need. Please encourage your readers to consider donating to their local shelter or offering some of their time as volunteers to help pets during the holidays and year-round. -- Avid Volunteer in Virginia

DEAR AVID: You told them, and I thank you! The holidays can be a very hectic time for many people. But finding time to volunteer at your local shelter, or helping to host a fundraising or pet-supplies drive, can be an enriching experience and a break from shopping and planning for holiday events.

While some local shelters don't have a formal volunteer program, many do. The first step is to contact the shelter or visit its website to find out if it accept volunteers, what jobs they're expected to do, and how to apply. If you have children who are interested in volunteering, find out the minimum age and what kids can do if they're too young to volunteer.

For example, the adoption center at Boston's MSPCA Angell center requires a six-month commitment of two hours per week from volunteers, who handle a variety of tasks from cleaning habitats to feeding the animals, walking dogs, socializing with smaller animals, or interacting with visitors. That's quite a commitment, but the volunteer program often is completely filled each year.

Single-day or weekend volunteer activities also may be available, often as group events. These are a great way to get familiar with being a shelter volunteer.

Send your questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

AUTUMN TIPS FOR OUTDOOR LANDSCAPING

Golden State Water Company wishes to thank you, our customers, for the steps you have taken to reduce water use during the drought, and is offering these tips to help you maximize your water-use efficiency this autumn.

Lawn Irrigation Tips

- Autumn should bring rain and cooler temperatures, presenting an opportunity to scale back irrigation.
- Turn off lawn irrigation systems during rainy periods, and avoid watering during and 48 hours following measurable precipitation.
- Install a weather-based smart irrigation controller and water-efficient sprinkler heads.
- Check to make sure sprinklers are positioned to irrigate your lawn and not your sidewalk, driveway or gutters

- While hand watering your lawn, focus on dry spots and pay close attention to avoid runoff.
- Avoid watering your lawn on windy days to limit overspray and evaporation.
- Survey your lawn irrigation system and fix any sprinklers, valves and lines that may be damaged or leaking water.
- SAVE YOUR TREES: Capture the water that runs while your shower warms up, and use it to water your trees.

Bonney Field Selected as First Venue for Rugby League

PRO Rugby is sanctioned by USA Rugby and World Rugby in an effort to showcase the talents and skills of American players. Participation and interest in the sport has made rugby the fastest-growing team sport in North America.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Representatives from PRO Rugby, Spectra, and Cal Expo announced that a partnership has been developed to bring the professional sport of rugby to Sacramento. PRO Rugby launched the newest professional sports team at its new home, Bonney Field, on the grounds of Cal Expo. The venue agreement is for a minimum of two years.

A contest will be launched soon to develop the new team name. The club expects to begin play in April 2016 with tickets going on sale in January 2016.

“We are excited to launch PRO Rugby in Sacramento and five other cities around the United States,” said PRO Rugby CEO Douglas Schoninger. “Sacramento’s support of USA and international rugby games during the California State Fair proved that there is strong demand for professional competition in the Sacramento region. We look forward to connecting fans with this new team and the league.”

PRO Rugby is sanctioned by

USA Rugby and World Rugby in an effort to showcase the talents and skills of American players. Participation and interest in the sport has made rugby the fastest-growing team sport in North America.

“Bonney Field was created to serve as a community gathering spot for sports and entertainment activities in the Sacramento region,” said Nick Nicora, vice president of Development for Spectra, owners of Bonney Field. “We welcome PRO Rugby to this community which has shown great support for its professional sports teams.”

Spectra operates the food and beverage in the following facilities in Northern California, and manages the ticketing at UC Berkeley: Cal Expo/Bonney Field, Sacramento, CA; Raley Field, West Sacramento, CA; Banner Island Ballpark, Stockton, CA; O.co Coliseum, Oakland, CA; and Alameda County Fairgrounds, Pleasanton, CA.

“As a showcase for our remarkable State, Cal Expo plays an increasing role in helping to build a vibrant community and a more robust region. The launch of PRO Rugby in Sacramento is a logical progression that builds on the success of the international rugby matches that have already occurred at Cal Expo,” said Rick Pickering, Cal Expo CEO. “As home to the oldest professional sport in Sacramento—horse racing—and the newest professional sport—soccer—Cal Expo is honored to provide a platform for the historic launch of professional rugby. Celebrating achievement through competition is core to our mission as the State Fair.”

Bonney Field has drawn large crowds in the past for Sacramento Republic FC soccer games and exhibition international rugby games. The stadium’s capacity is approximately 11,000.

The inaugural PRO Rugby season will include 10 games from April to July. Additional venues will be announced shortly for the other PRO Rugby league teams.

Local Organizations Receive Grants from the Community Enhancement Fund

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - At a recent City Council meeting, the Rancho Cordova City Council presented checks to local organizations who received grants from the Community Enhancement Fund

(Measure H). Over 60 organizations received funding this fiscal year for various projects to support community priorities. Source: City of Rancho Cordova ★

The fourth check is for Rancho Cordova Whisker Warriors for their spay/neuter services in partnership with the Sacramento SPCA. They provide spay and neuter services for cats and dogs of low income and working Rancho Cordova residents. They also provide vaccines, antibiotics, and ear mites and tapeworm treatment for animals including homeless cat populations within the City. (Pictured left to right: Council Member Donald Terry, Jeanne Boss, Vice Mayor David Sander, Gail Gifford, Mayor Robert McGarvey, Marie Angeloni, Tera Kolvenbach, Council Member Dan Skoglund, and Council Member Linda Budge.)

Two checks were presented to the Folsom Cordova Unified School District for its Pilot Parent Teacher Home Visit Program and After School Education and Safety Program. The goals of the home visit program are to provide a positive opportunity to ensure that families are meaningfully informed of their child’s academic standing and to build trust between families and teachers. It is anticipated that the program will increase attendance, raise test scores, and decrease suspensions, expulsions, and vandalism at schools. The after school program will be implemented at 10 elementary schools and two middle schools in Rancho Cordova. The program will consist of an educational component that reinforces the school’s academic program. The enrichment component will include visual and performing arts, music, and fitness activities. The program will consist of two hours after school. (Pictured left to right: Council Member Donald Terry, Vice Mayor David Sander, Superintendent Debbie Bettencourt, Mayor Robert McGarvey, Council Member Dan Skoglund, and Council Member Linda Budge.)

The last check of the evening was presented to Rebuilding Together Sacramento. The Spring Rebuild Day is scheduled for Saturday, April 30, 2016, during which repair, maintenance, and rehabilitation work will be performed at residences owned by low and moderate income persons, the elderly, or disabled, in the City. (Pictured left to right: Council Member Donald Terry, Vice Mayor David Sander, Executive Director Carrie Grip, Mayor Robert McGarvey, Council Member Dan Skoglund, and Council Member Linda Budge.) The last three checks were presented to Rancho Cordova Whisker Warriors, Folsom Cordova Unified School District, and Rebuilding Together Sacramento.

END OF THE BENCH BY GERRY SCHOLL

The Moment of Decision

When Dusty Baker was in the dug-out for San Francisco, one of his key strategies was managing the “inning of decision” --- the point in the baseball game that Dusty identified as the moment of truth.

And the truth is, Baker, who recently landed the managerial position of the Washington Nationals, was very good at his job with the Giants (10 years, 840-715), the Chicago Cubs (4, 322-326) and the Cincinnati Reds (6, 509-463). His record of 1,671-1,504 ranks him 17th on the list of winningest MLB managers, with a better winning percentage (.526) than eight of those listed ahead of him. Johnny B. Baker, who played high school and junior college ball in Sacramento and still lives in the area, was a member of the initial class of inductees into the Sacramento Sports Hall of Fame in 2013.

Baker was a two-time All Star during his 19-year playing career, and in 20 seasons as a manager his teams won five division titles and placed second six times, though he has a disappointing 19-26 postseason record. He was chosen NL Manager of the Year three times and was second in the voting three times. He took S. F. into the 2002 World Series against the Anaheim Angels --- any solid Giants fan should recall what happened there.

The point of all that, besides giving Dusty a nod, is that Baker knows what he is doing (though he has had a few issues with his pitching staffs along the way) and his strategies have been effective.

The moment of decision cannot only alter the outcome of a game, but also the future course for a player or team.

Take the San Francisco Forty Niners --- please. They visited their house of horrors, otherwise known as Century Link Field in Seattle, Sunday and left with a familiar result --- a fifth straight defeat at the home of the Seahawks. The moment of decision came very early in the 29-13 loss.

After the opening kickoff, the Niners began their first series with a pair of runs up the middle, directly into the teeth of an amped-up Seattle defense, that netted two yards. That set up an obvious passing situation for recently promoted quarterback Blaine Gabbert --- the predictable result was a sack for loss, a punt, great field position for the Seahawks, and a quick touchdown for the home team jacking up the volume of the already deafening crowd. It was all downhill from there for the 3-7, last place 49ers.

The team has had a few fateful moments of decision in recent seasons that finds them in that place they are today. The Niners decided to hire Jim Harbaugh as coach, who quickly turned them into a winner. They decided to go with Colin Kaepernick at quarterback over Alex Smith --- successful for a while, until the league made adjustments to Kaepernick’s style of play, and his production and that of the offense was greatly diminished. They decided to part ways with Harbaugh and things got worse. They have decided to go with Gabbert at QB over Kaepernick (who has been placed on season-ending injured reserve under conspicuous circumstances).

Gabbert played well in his first start that resulted in a win over Atlanta. Why not cut him loose immediately against Seattle to see how he would respond, to surprise the Seahawks and have them guessing from the start? Rather than the same old grind-it-out approach when the team has nothing to lose, why not open it up to see if Gabbert has any potential as the QB of the future? He played reasonably well as the game went on, but the ultimate outcome was decided early.

The team that decided to move out of The City and into new Levi’s Stadium fifty miles south in Santa Clara, driving some uncomfortable wedges between it and their faithful fan base for the sake of a lot of money, must conquer some “moments” in the near future to be competitive.

After a string of poor draft classes the last few years, a strong one is a must. The team may have as many as twelve picks next time. The defense, that allowed an all-time team record 209 rushing yards to undrafted Thomas Rawls out of Central Michigan (filling in for Marshawn Lynch), needs more help. The offense, that is last by a lot in scoring in the league, needs a ton of help.

Some top-flight “big uglies” up front on the offensive line should be a top priority to get the running game going and to protect Gabbert, if he is the guy going forward. Since it appears that Kaepernick will be leaving the scene, another QB must be added; wouldn’t it be great if they don’t bypass a local guy this time (never forget about Aaron Rodgers) and are able to land Jared Goff from Cal.

Whenever sophomore Christian McCaffrey elects to enter the draft --- get that guy! The nation’s leader in all-purpose yards, McCaffrey rolled up a Stanford school-record 389 total yards in Saturday’s 35-22 Big Game victory over Cal, the Cardinal’s sixth straight in the series. He ran 29 times for 192, caught a 49-yard TD pass and returned a kickoff 98 yards for a score. Goff did his best to keep the Bears in the game, completing 37 of 54 pass attempts for 386 yards, two scores, no interceptions. Three Cal receivers had seven receptions each, led by Bryce Treggs’ 102 yards.

Cal has a strong history of advancing offensive skill-position players into the NFL. Currently on rosters are receivers Keenan Allen (Chargers), DeSean Jackson (Wash.), Marvin Jones (Bengals); running backs Shane Vereen (Giants), Justin Forsett (Ravens), Lynch (Seahawks), C.J. Anderson (Broncos); tight end Richard Rodgers (Packers) catching some passes from Aaron, just to name a few. Stanford checks in with QB Andrew Luck and TE Coby Fleener (Colts), TE Zach Ertz (Eagles), WR Doug Baldwin (Sea.) and Ty Montgomery (G.B.)

Former offensive stars out of Cal include greats such as Tony Gonzalez, Chuck Muncie, Wesley Walker, Craig Morton; Stanford: John Elway, Jim Plunkett, Gene Washington, James Lofton, Tony Hill, Ed McCaffrey (Christian’s dad).

In the moment, it might be a good decision for the 49ers not to look any farther than their own backyard. ★

Tips for Fishing Heavy Cover

A mistake a lot of fishermen make when flipping and pitching is dropping the bait on the outside edge of the structure or cover, and that spooks any resident bass. Instead, drop it right at the base.

Most fishermen naturally don't want to get hung up, but you have to get over that if you are going to improve your flipping and pitching skills and begin catching bass in heavy cover. Most of the time you will find that the thickest spots are holding the biggest fish, so this is where you should put your first flip or pitch.

Practice flipping and pitching at a target around your house so when you are on the water you have the confidence you need to put your lure where you need to. Then you won't have to worry about getting hung up as much. Besides, you aren't fishing where you can catch big fish if you aren't losing a few lures.

Savory Mushroom, Bacon and Gruyere Bread Pudding

Servings: 6

- 1/2 pound bacon
- 1/2 pound (about 1/2 loaf) crusty sourdough bread
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh thyme leaves
- 1 1/2 teaspoons kosher salt, divided
- 1 1/2 teaspoons fresh ground pepper, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 6 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 1/2 cups chopped onions
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup chopped red pepper
- 1/2 pound sliced button mushrooms
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley leaves
- 2 teaspoons dried oregano
- 4 large eggs
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Gruyere cheese, divided

Place bacon in freezer to chill. This will help make it easier to chop. Heat oven to 375 F.

Cut bread into 1/2-inch cubes and place in large bowl. Drizzle olive oil over bread and sprinkle with thyme, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and garlic powder. Toss with spatula to coat evenly, then spread bread evenly in one layer onto rimmed baking sheet. No need to clean bowl yet. Bake bread for 20 minutes or until bread starts to turn golden. Remove from oven and lower oven temperature to 350 F.

Remove bacon from freezer and finely chop it. In 3 1/2-quart oven-proof stovetop casserole pan, cook bacon over medium-high heat until crispy. Use slotted spoon to move bacon pieces to bowl lined with paper towel. Pour bacon grease out, but don’t wipe out pan.

Add garlic to pan and cook over medium heat for 30 seconds or until it starts to smell fragrant. Add onions, celery and red pepper and cook for 2 minutes, stirring frequently. Add mushrooms and cook until all vegetables are soft, about 5 more minutes. Season with remaining salt and pepper.

Pour toasted bread into original large bowl and add vegetables and cooked bacon. Add parsley leaves and dried oregano, and mix together with large spatula. In medium bowl, whisk together eggs and cream. Pour over bread and vegetables, add 1/2 the shredded Gruyere cheese and mix with spatula. Pour entire contents back into casserole pan.

Sprinkle top of pudding with remaining cheese. Place in oven and bake for 30-35 minutes or until top of bread pudding has turned golden brown and cheese is melted. Serve warm.

Recipe Reimagined

Eat the Love blog author Irvin Lin offers these variations and tips for a winning dish your guests will love:

- Make the bread pudding vegetarian by omitting the bacon, using 1 tablespoon of olive oil to saute the vegetables and adding 1/2 cup of smoked Gouda cheese to the filling.
- If you can’t find Gruyere cheese, feel free to substitute Jarlsberg or Swiss.
- To reheat the pudding if you prepare ahead of time, bake for 15 minutes in the oven at 350 F.
