Fall Rebuild Day Changes Lives

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Volunteers are coming together to help change the lives of low-income families in Rancho Cordova. Eight Rancho Cordova homes will be improved during the Fall Rebuild Day on Saturday, October 24th, and you can be part of it!

Rebuilding Together Sacramento is returning to Rancho Cordova to organize the event with the theme of "Creating Safe and Healthy Homes."

"The City of Rancho Cordova is proud to support rehabilitation programs that improve the quality of life for our citizens," said Mayor Robert J. McGarvey. "Rebuilding Together is an ongoing community partner and the projects they provide will make an impact for years to come."

Rebuilding Together began in 1974 and has since become the largest non-profit, volunteer home rehabilitation organization in America. The Sacramento affiliate launched in 1991—as a barn raising activity to help low-income homeowners in need of home repairs. Twenty-four years later Rebuilding Together Sacramento has helped improve over 5,267 homes and 92 community facilities.

This year volunteers can sign up for the following: (volunteers) Help with painting, yard clean-up, etc.; (skilled volunteers) In need of contractors, plumbers, electricians, carpenters, roofers, fence builders, painters, landscapers, etc.; (house captain) Project manager for an assigned house; (volunteer coordinator) Coordinate volunteers at an assigned house.

Volunteers must be 16-years and older and will receive all supplies, lunch, and a t-shirt. Sign up to volunteer at <http://rebuildingtogethersacramento.org/get-involved/volunteers/>, click on "Registration" and select "City of Rancho Cordova" as the group, if you are registering as an individual. Registration will be accepted through October 2nd or until full. If you are interested in becoming a skilled volunteer, house captain, or volunteer coordinator, please sign up online and send an email to: seconome@rebuildingtogethersacramento.org.

The Fall Rebuild Day is made possible with support of a Community Development Block Grant, private sponsorships, and the City of Rancho Cordova's Community Enhancement Fund (Measure H)—a ½ cent local sales tax measure that was approved by Rancho Cordova citizens in 2014. Measure H provides funding for more than 60 approved projects during the 2015/16 fiscal year and it is anticipated to raise about $7 million annually in revenues for the City's general fund.

If you are interested in applying for help or volunteering, please call (916) 455-1880 or email bwithers@rebuildingtogethersacramento.org. Learn more at <http://rebuildingtogethersacramento.org/>.

Conservation Numbers Sliding

Customers Encouraged To Use Water
Responsibly

Commentary
by Paul Schubert,
Northern General
Manager for Golden
State Water Company

Golden State Water Company's Rancho Cordova and Gold River customers have been directed to reduce water use by 36%, compared to 2013, to comply with the State Water Resources Control Board's mandatory water reductions that took effect on June 1st, 2015.

After meeting the challenge during the first three reporting months, local conservation slipped during the month of September and customers are in jeopardy of falling below their cumulative reduction target.

The recent increase in water use is concerning, therefore, we are asking all Rancho Cordova and Gold River customers to review their water-use practices to ensure they are using water responsibly and complying with all local and state restrictions.

It's critical that we regain our conservation momentum to remain in compliance with the state's reduction mandate, a cumulative measurement that represents all local reductions since June 1st. Falling below that 36% target could trigger additional restrictions, allocations and surcharges.

Current restrictions in Rancho Cordova and Gold River limit outdoor irrigation to two days per week, before 8 a.m. or after 7 p.m. Even addresses may water responsibly on Sunday and Wednesday, odd addresses on Tuesday and Saturday. These restrictions went into effect on July 1st, when Staged Mandatory Water Conservation and Rationing was activated for Golden State Water's Arden Cordova service area.

Golden State Water will continue to educate customers regarding the drought and local conservation opportunities. Customers are encouraged to visit www.gswatersavers.com to order free indoor/outdoor conservation kits, and go to www.gswater.com/conservation to view the full list of conservation rebates and programs that are available locally.

We proudly offer online drought resources, tools and information at www.gswater.com/drought (www.gswater.com/sequia for Spanish) to ensure we are all using water responsibly and remain committed to protecting valuable water supplies during this drought emergency.

We thank our customers who are conserving and encourage the entire community to use water responsibly during this drought emergency.

Lancers Corral Mustangs in Wild Contest

Cordova quarterback Unique Perez finds room to run in last Friday's homecoming game against Foothill. The Lancer senior passed for more than 400 yards against the Mustangs' defense.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In front of a packed house at Lancers Stadium to celebrate homecoming Friday, September 25th, the Cordova High School football team gave its fans a contest to remember against Foothill.

Cordova (3-2) and Foothill traded jabs in each quarter. But the Lancers had the final punch in the final nine seconds of the game to post a wild 56-42 victory over the Mustangs.

"I was ready to call a timeout if we completed the pass," said Cordova Head Coach Darren Nill of the final seconds of the fourth quarter. "I was running off the sidelines to get the referee's attention. I think it was going to be one of those things of who's going to have the ball last."

The Lancers opted for the famous Hail Mary pass. Cordova quarterback Unique Perez found wide receiver Devin Baldwin on a 54-yard pass, who went down the sidelines untouched to score and snapped a 46-46 tie.

"It was crazy," Nill said. "We were answering touchdown after touchdown. They (Foothill) had a lot of momentum. But once we got our stuff together, they couldn't stop us."

Both teams combined to score 32 points in the final quarter, with the Mustangs scoring prior to the Perez-to-Baldwin connection in the end. Foothill scored three touchdowns in the quarter.

Cordova led 34-20 at halftime but was shutout in scoring in the third quarter while Foothill trimmed the lead to 34-26 on a touchdown.

"It comes down to execution," said Nill of the Lancers' offense stoppage in the third quarter. "In the third we weren't able execute."

On the other hand, the Lancers' defense corralled the Mustangs' offense to just one touchdown.

"We had a few stops, but they were chunking big yards," said Nill of Foothill, three touchdowns. Garcia was 9-157 and had one touchdown. Isaac Black also had a touchdown in the game and had four catches for 43 yards.

On the ground, Lancer running back Seth Trujillo had 18 carries for 101 yards and a touchdown. Cordova finished with 161 rushing yards and 596 combined offensive yards.

Leading the Lancers' defense was linebacker Michael Gonzalez, who led with 14 tackles. Defensive backs Terrill Johnson and Jason Johnson followed with 12 and 11 tackles respectively.

In the junior varsity game, Cordova remained undefeated at 5-0 with a 26-22 win over Foothill.

The Lancers return to action next Friday, October 9th when they open Sierra Valley Conference action at Galt. ★

A Royal Night for All

The royal court consisted of one boy and one girl from each class. Freshman, sophomore, and junior couples were crowned as prince and princess, while the senior couple, Alex Casal and Rebecca Manukyan, were crowned homecoming king and queen (top left). Festivities lasted well into the night as Lancers celebrated their 51st homecoming with the Lancer cheerleaders shake their poms and riling the crowd (pictured below). School spirit was in full display, with crowds adomed in school colors of red, black, and white and with Principal Dan Anklaam showing his school spirit in a variety ways (top right). Color guard (bottom) held flags proudly, while Cordova High alumni showed to express their support as well.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - As the Lancers' football team took the field and the homecoming festivities began, the crowd—adorned in red, black, and white—roared. While the Lancers' football team did not disappoint and gave the crowd much reason to cheer, many people flocked to the Lancers' field Friday night in anticipation, and with excitement, for the eventful half-time show and the much beloved tradition of the crowning of the royal court.

In total, twenty-six students in total were nominated by their fellow classmates for homecoming royalty. (Freshmen: Andrew Grogan, Zuny Hernandez, Mason Trujillo, Makara Trujillo, Edgar Zaragoza and Kimberly Yang; Sophomores: Jeremy Buck, Thuy Le, Jordyn Perry, Tytus Phillips, Tyler Shubert, Myia Burgess; Juniors: Jesse Melendez, Gina Manisap, Robert Minning, Wendy Martinez, Armine Nersisyan and Arman Tadevosyan; Seniors: Isaiah Black, Shaniah Bridges, Alex Casal, Alyisa Jackson, Ikenna Njoku, Rebecca Manukyan, James Van Dusen and Antalisha Starks).

One boy and one girl from each class were crowned prince and princess. Mason Trujillo and Zuny Hernandez won freshmen prince and princess, Tyler Shubert and Thuy Lee won for the sophomore class, Robert Minning and Wendy Martinez won the junior class prince and princess, while Ikenna Njoku and Alyisa Jackson won senior prince and princess. Last but not least, seniors Alex Casal and Rebecca Manukyan were crowned homecoming king and homecoming queen.

After the royal court exited the field, the princes and the king all leading the newly crowned and sashed women by the arm, the Lancers' football team struck out again to finish the night with a bang. And that they did. Cordova High School's Football team then won for the entire school at the end of the night, defeating Foothill 52-46. For the Cordova High School Royalty, and the entire student body, it was a great day to be a Lancer. ★

Former Riveter Finally Gets Her Wings

Story by Robert McGrath

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - It was the spring of 1942, just months after the Japanese had bombed Pearl Harbor. America was at war and preparing for a lengthy, difficult WWII. Sacramento Air Depot—later to be known as McClellan Air Force Base—was becoming a hub of military activity. In early March, 24 B-25 bombers were being modified to extend their range. On March 24th, the group was ordered to relocate to the west coast. Their destination was the Sacramento Air Depot where they went through a maintenance cycle and final preparations before they left, individually, for Alameda Air Station. There Lt. Col. Jimmy Mitchell's B25 bombers would be loaded on the aircraft carrier, the USS Hornet, for the first attack on Japanese homeland.

It was about this time a petite, 17-year-old, 98-pound, high school junior, Eileen Brady, decided she wanted to help the war effort. She heard they were hiring women at the Sacramento Air Depot, paying a hefty $45 every two weeks. Her mother, Edythe Brady, had already signed on for the war effort. Eileen left high school and spent two weeks undergoing training to become, what was to become known as, "Rosie the Riveter." Wearing blue coveralls and a bandana for her hair, she learned to rivet and "buck" at the same time, but because of her petite size, she was often called upon to crawl into the very restricted spaces in the wings to "buck" for the riveter on the outside of the plane. (Imagine the noise inside that wing while the riveter on the outside was hammering Ra-tat-tat-tat!) It was like being inside a drum," she would say. She worked this assignment, but when riveting was not needed her assignment was to unpack the life raft packs aboard every plane crossing the Pacific. She would inspect and repair every aspect of the pack, replace emergency food and water supplies, patch as needed, and occasionally leave a little note wishing good luck and God's speed—along with her phone number. She worked on B-25's, B-24's, P-61's, P-38's, whatever came through the depot, but her favorite was the B-17 Flying Fortress. One day, when they were about to test fly a B-17, and because she had performed so well on repairing parts of the plane, she was invited to "put on a chute and come on board this test flight!" Now, for this 98-pounder gearing up was a chore. Her chute and all the gear almost doubled her weight! Out she went, ready to fly, but when she got to the plane she was told by the pilot: "No women will fly on my plane." She turned, disappointed, and went back to work, crawling into wings, and listening to the Ra-tat-tat-tat of the riveter on the outside. "One day," she said, "I'll get my chance." Move forward 73-years and Eileen Lyda (now married to Don Lyda for over 50 years) got her opportunity to fly on a B-17. On September 30th, one week short of her 90th birthday, Eileen flew aboard the Sentimental Journey, a B-17, of the Arizona Commemorative Air Force squadron, whose captain will most likely said to Eileen, "You are welcome to fly on my plane." So, Eileen, hope you enjoyed the ride and thank you for your service. ★

A Wild History Lesson

By Paul V. Scholl, Publisher

Through the gracious invitation from the staff of the California Capital Airshow, I was able to enjoy a wonderful and wild history lesson earlier this week. A small news media contingent of both newspaper and television crews flew from Mather Airport to Napa to climb on board the B-17 known as "Sentimental Journey" for a return flight. The flight over to Napa was a great reminder of how much this part of Northern California has grown since I was a young boy growing up in Fairfield. It was pretty eye-opening to see the new highways and home construction from far above. The aerial view always puts things into a better perspective. The view from the B-17 on the flight back was a real history lesson. Imagining what it must have been like to be a young man flying over a foreign country on a bombing mission, being shot at by enemy fire, wondering if you were ever going to get back home, was truly sobering. This is a flight experience that should be required learning for every high school kid in America. It would instill a sense of pride, honor and respect for those who have served this country. The crew members from the Arizona Wing of the Commemorative Air Force, those who care for this precious bird, were to a man very informative and kind in explaining the long story of Sentimental Journey, sharing how she was restored, how difficult it was to find all the original missing parts, and how much they love what they are doing to advance the interests of aviation. If you get the chance, take it and bring the kids when you come out to the airshow this weekend and get a close up look of this important gem in the history of our nation. To find out more (or to donate to the cause of caring for these historic airplanes) go to www.azcaf.org. To find out more about the airshow, see their advertisement in this newspaper. ★

From the Mayor's Corner A Quiet Beginning

to that part of the City of Rancho Cordova—as thousands of people who work here and/or live here pass by and see it every day.

There was a nice article in the Grapevine last week (September 25th) about the Mather Veterans Village under construction. When the groundbreaking ceremony was held at 10 a.m., Thursday, October 30th, 2014 at 3611 Bleckely Street, there was a sigh of relief. I started working with Bob Burns Jr. six years before the earth was turned over last year. Unfortunately, Bob Burns Jr. died before we reached our goal but he was a hard worker and a staunch supporter of building the Mather Veterans Village. He was a good man to work with.

Like some other worthwhile goals that took a long time to reach, there were many meetings with Supervisor Don Nottoli (who was another strong supporter), meetings with the VA in Washington D.C., meetings with the VA at Mather, etc. But as you can see in the newspaper, the apartments and the two story building are only a block from the VA Hospital. If you get a chance to drive by and see the construction, it is something that warms the heart. We are talking about eventually having 100 apartments of permanent housing for Veterans. The 60 beds in the two story building are temporary but are there to provide a bed and a roof over the veterans' heads as they learn what their benefits are. The building is being renovated and adapted to provide offices, meeting, and community spaces as part of Phase 1. The completion of the building will be Phase 2. More will come as we get closer to the completion date of the first 50 apartments.

The citizens of the City of Rancho Cordova wake up in the morning to the cool air that comes in through their windows. Maybe they hear the sound of geese honking as they fly over their home. Perhaps a dog barking at who knows what. If you listen closely you also hear the sound of traffic as the day begins and people go to work. Actually, you probably don't have to listen very closely to hear the traffic. It usually comes in on its own and is kind of noisy. The rest of the hustle and bustle is waking up with you and the 48,000 workers in Rancho Cordova are getting ready to start the day. It is possible, however, if you are close to the American River Parkway, to actually have a little bit of the quiet beginning that you were used to when you were just a kid.

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

American River Brewing Recognized for State Fair Medal Win

Senator Tom Berryhill and Assembly Member Ken Cooley presented American River Brewing Company with a legislative resolution commending the Brewery's Gold Medal win at the State Fair and its support of the Firefighters Burn Institute. Photo courtesy of the Office of Senator Tom Berryhill

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Senator Tom Berryhill (R-Twain Harte) and Assembly Member Ken Cooley (D-Rancho Cordova) presented American River Brewing Company with a legislative resolution commending the Brewery's gold-medal win at the State Fair and its support of the Firefighters Burn Institute.

American River Brewing's Coloma Brown took home the gold-medal in the American Ale Category at this year's State Fair during the California Craft Beer Competition. There were 120 entries and it was a hotly contested title. This is not the first State Fair medal win for the brewery. In 2013, Coloma Brown received its first gold-medal at the State Fair.

The brewery was also commended for donating the proceeds of sales on its Fire Break Red Ale to the Firefighters Burn Institute.

"When there is a fire, no matter what the circumstances, firefighters show up and put their lives on the line. All too many times they are injured. It is so great to see this local business give back to a group of people that give so much to all of us," Berryhill said. "There are quite a few firefighters working just up the hill right now. I imagine a nice cold Coloma Brown or Fire Break Red Ale would taste pretty good to them when all is said and done and these fires are under control."

"A heartfelt congratulations to the folks at American River Brewing Company for a job well done," Berryhill concluded.

The U.S. Shouldn't Feel Migrant Guilt

The U.S. has joined the global bidding on Syrian refugees. At first it said it would take 10,000 Syrians. Now it says it will increase the annual U.S. overall refugee intake from 70,000 to 100,000 during the next three years to help deal with the migrant wave deluging Europe.

The Obama administration's attitude used to be that Syria is a faraway country of which we know nothing, and it stood by while Syria descended into mayhem and madness. It turns out that Syria is not so far away that some of its nearly biblical exodus – half of the country's population is displaced – won't touch our shores.

If the U.S. is letting a guilty conscience prod it into taking some of that flow, it shouldn't. The U.S. is already incredibly generous to migrants, and settling Syrians here is not the most cost-effective or sensible way for us to help.

The U.S. is already the migrant capital of the world. It is host to “about 20 percent of the world’s international migrants, even as it represents less than 5 percent of the global population,” according to the Migration Policy Institute. About a quarter of the U.S. population is foreign-born or the children of immigrants.

Our generosity has extended to Muslim migrants. Before the European crisis, the Pew Research Center projected that by 2030, the U.S. would have a larger number of Muslims than any European country besides Russia and France.

The U.S. already has been dealing with its own, smaller-scale migrant crisis. More than 100,000 migrants from Central America came here last year, and the vast majority aren't going back. There are tens of thousands more this year. Notably, no European country is offering to welcome any as a sign of its good international citizenship.

Taking people and flying them halfway around the world to come live in an alien society is much easier said than done. It used to be that refugees to the U.S. were sponsored by a family or a church. Now they are supported by a panoply of government programs on top of traditional welfare benefits, from food, housing, clothing and job training, to day care, transportation assistance and English classes, to guidance on what assistance they are entitled to as refugees. If this sounds involved and expensive, it is.

Then there's the question of security. Given that there are no records about the refugees and we won't be cooperating with the Syrian government, any definitive screening will be next to impossible. Even if the vetting is perfect, the lesson of Somali refugees in the U.S. is that a poorly assimilated population of Muslim immigrants can provide a recruiting pool for radicals.

The displaced Syrian refugees should find refuge, just not necessarily here or in the West. There are any number of nearby Muslim countries that are obvious destinations. We should (at the very least) take the resources that we would devote to resettling Syrian refugees and spend them on helping the front-line states in the Middle East.

The first step to getting a handle on U.S. immigration policy is not consent to always saying “more.”

Fall Brings New Hazards to Dogs

DEAR PAWS CORNER: Fall is here in the Northeast, with lots of falling leaves – and plenty of leaf piles to roll in. Can you remind your readers that fleas and ticks are still active at this time of year? – Charles, via email

DEAR CHARLES: You're absolutely right: Until the first hard frost, or an extended period of cold weather, ticks and fleas remain pretty active. If they're in the house, they may not go dormant at all. So, while it's fine to let your dog romp in leaf piles (as long as the neighbors aren't bothered), it's important to check its coat for fleas and ticks as soon as possible after that fun ends. Ticks should be removed and then crushed, ideally before they embed into your dog's skin. If a tick is embedded, try to carefully remove it. If you're not certain how, or if you're worried about breaking off the tick's body and leaving its head in your dog's skin, take your pet to the veterinarian within 24 hours to remove the tick. Fall also brings a change in weather to much of the country. As the temperature cools, smaller dogs and dogs that are sick or elderly could suffer from the cold. Now is the time to unpack those doggy sweaters and vests and use them on chilly mornings and evenings. The change of seasons also brings stormy weather, blowing down branches and other debris. Check your dog's paws after every walk to make sure it hasn't damaged its pads on sharp sticks or other fallen items.

Send your questions about pet care to ask@pawscorner.com.

City of Rancho Cordova Notice of Intent to Request Release of Funds

City of Rancho Cordova, 2729 Prospect Park Drive, Rancho Cordova, CA 95670, (916) 851-8785

On or about October 12, 2015, the City of Rancho Cordova will submit a request to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the release of Community Development Block Grant funds under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, to undertake a project known as the Rebuilding Together Housing Rehabilitation Program (the Program) for the purpose of minor rehabilitation of single-family homes and mobile homes owned by low-income seniors, people with disabilities, and families with children.

The Rebuilding Program is a City-wide housing rehabilitation program consisting of two categories of rehabilitation activities – Safe at Home and Rebuild Day Event. Safe at Home rehabilitation activities are intended to improve safety and will include: installation of shower and bath grab bars; shower stools and hoses; stair handrails; smoke, fire, and carbon monoxide detectors; and toilet risers. Rebuild Day Event rehabilitation activities are intended to improve health and safety conditions, energy efficiency, and aesthetics and will include: trash and yard waste removal; electrical and plumbing repairs; carpentry repairs; painting; weatherization (insulation, window caulking, weatherstripping); water conservation (installation of low-flow toilets and shower hoses, aerators); window repairs or replacement; heating and air conditioning repair or replacement; water heater repair or replacement; accessibility (installation of ramps, steps, grab bars, shower stools, stair handrails, toilet risers); and installation of smoke, fire and carbon monoxide detectors. In addition to minor modifications to the existing owner-occupied homes, Program activities may result in minor modifications to the surrounding area (i.e. landscaping). However, activities will not change contours of the surrounding land nor increase the number or the size of the homes. The Program will not conduct demolition, new construction, reconstruction, or substantial rehabilitation. The expected number of homes to be rehabilitated is 37. The Program dates are October 2015 through June 2016. Specific properties have not been identified at this time. The Program's eligible area includes the City limits of Rancho Cordova in Sacramento County.

The activities proposed are categorically excluded under HUD regulations at 24 CFR Part 58 from National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) requirements. A Broad-Level Tiered Environmental Review has been prepared to analyze area-wide factors, including airport hazards, floodplain management, coastal zone management, coastal barrier resources, endangered species, wetlands, farmland protection, sole source aquifers, wild and scenic rivers, and environmental justice. Site specific factors listed at Sections 58.5 and 58.6 (including historic preservation, explosive/flammable operations, toxic substances, noise abatement and control, and flood insurance) will be addressed in the site-specific review phase (Appendix A).

An Environmental Review Record (ERR) that documents the environmental determinations for this project is on file at City of Rancho Cordova, 2729 Prospect Park Drive, Rancho Cordova, CA 95670 and may be examined or copied 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

Any individual, group, or agency may submit written comments on the ERR to the City of Rancho Cordova Housing Services Division. All comments received by October 10th, 2015 will be considered by the City of Rancho Cordova prior to authorizing submission of a request for release of funds.

ENVIRONMENTAL CERTIFICATION

The City of Rancho Cordova certifies to HUD that Cyrus Abhar in his capacity as Interim City Manager consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to the environmental review process and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. HUD's approval of the certification satisfies its responsibilities under NEPA and related laws and authorities and allows the City of Rancho Cordova to use Program funds.

OBJECTIONS TO RELEASE OF FUNDS

HUD will accept objections to its release of fund and the City of Rancho Cordova's certification for a period of fifteen days following the anticipated submission date or its actual receipt of the request (whichever is later) only if they are on one of the following bases: (a) the certification was not executed by the Certifying Officer of the City of Rancho Cordova; (b) the City of Rancho Cordova has omitted a step or failed to make a decision or finding required by HUD regulations at 24 CFR part 58; (c) the grant recipient or other participants in the development process have committed funds, incurred costs or undertaken activities not authorized by 24 CFR Part 58 before approval of a release of funds by HUD; or (d) another Federal agency acting pursuant to 40 CFR Part 1504 has submitted a written finding that the project is unsatisfactory from the standpoint of environmental quality. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedures (24 CFR Part 58, Sec. 58.76) and shall be addressed to HUD at 600 Harrison Street, Third Floor, San Francisco, CA 94107. Potential objectors should contact HUD to verify the actual last day of the objection period.

Cordova Soccer Opens SVC Action

Story by Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - After winning its final non-league contest of the season toward the end of last week, the Cordova High School boys' soccer team was looking forward to its Sierra Valley Conference opener against Galt.

But the Warriors were just as enthusiastic and they showed it on the Erv Hatzenbuehler Field at Warrior Stadium in Galt. The Lancers (0-1 in the SVC, 7-6-1 overall) were held to one goal in the first half, as Galt posted an 8-4 victory.

In the first half, Galt (1-0 in the SVC, 10-0-3) jumped out to a 2-0 lead that expanded to 4-1 at halftime. Cordova's lone goal came from forward Miguel Medina, who scored all of the Lancers' goals in the game.

"We had a lot of mental breakdowns," said Cordova head coach Eric McCahon of Monday's conference opener. "Both teams came into the game with a lot on the line."

As the second half started, Medina started scoring his three goals for the Lancers. But it was Galt answering each time that led to the win.

"We created our chances," McCahon said. "We fought our way back into it. Offensively we played pretty well."

Luis Aguilar and Antonio Ortega scored both of the Lancers' goals in the contest. Midfielder Yevgenly Kharamtsova had an assist for Cordova.

On Wednesday, Cordova continued SVC action with its first home game against Union Mine. Next Monday, the Lancers play at El Dorado. On Wednesday, October 7th, Cordova will entertain Liberty Ranch. All three games are scheduled to kick-off at 7 p.m. ★

END OF THE BENCH BY GERRY SCHOLL
If Only Yogi Was Still Alive Today

It's all over for Yogi Berra, but really it ain't over.

The most quotable figure in the history of sports --- for his propensity to issue amusing, muddled thoughts that made no sense, but that somehow seemed to make sense to the masses --- left the adoring sports world behind last week at the age of 90. But while he came to the ultimate fork in the road and took it and left us, Yogi left behind his many familiar sayings and a joyful spirit that, hopefully, will carry on in sports.

Berra's Hall of Fame baseball career had come to be overshadowed by his popular persona. He spent most of his 18-year playing career with the New York Yankees behind the plate as a team leader, while surrounded by many of the most famous players of that dynasty era -- Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Whitey Ford and many more.

Lawrence Peter Berra was a member of more World Series championship teams than any other player in history, reaching the Fall Classic 14 times and winning ten. He was a three-time American League MVP, an All Star from 1948-1962, hit .285 with 358 career home runs, caught Don Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 Series, and was first all-time among catchers with 1,430 RBI. He won pennants in both leagues as a manager, including taking the Yankees to the Series in 1964 where they lost to the Cardinals and leading the New York Mets to the Series in 1973 where they lost to the Oakland A's.

But all of that seems secondary to the everlasting, endearing quips that the American icon delivered that have been adopted as part of the national sports lexicon and beyond. Berra rarely struck out at the plate -- just 414 times in 8,359 plate appearances -- but struck a chord with the public. So many of his sayings have returned to the fore in the days since his passing --- "It's déjà vu all over again." --- bringing smiles to the faces of those to whom they are familiar and laughter from members of a younger generation that may be hearing them for the first time.

Berra was a man of the world -- in the Navy and providing cover during the invasion of Normandy, and being wounded during a later battle and being awarded a Purple Heart. With that history Berra must've had perspective, but still knew baseball also held an important place in American culture. He might have said, "It's only a game, but it's more than just a game."

He was part psychologist --- "Ninety percent of this game is half mental." He was a restaurant critic --- "Nobody goes there anymore; it's too crowded." He was a realist --- "If the people don't want to come out to the ballpark, nobody's going to stop them." He was an economist --- "A nickel ain't worth a dime anymore."

If Yogi Berra was still alive today, what might he have said if he had been following along with recent events in sports?

If he had watched the jumbled mess that are the Forty Niners get obliterated for the second week in a row, this time at Arizona, 47-7, he might have conjured up a couple of his oldies; "If you don't know where you are going, you might wind up someplace else," and "The future ain't what it used to be."

On the performance and status of Colin Kaepernick, Yogi might've said, "Kap is an impact player; he just isn't making the players around him any better. He's the quarterback, until he isn't."

On the Oakland Raiders, Yogi

might've commented, "They've always been the Pride and Poise boys; they just haven't had any of that for a long time until now."

As for the Oakland Athletics, Yogi likely would've remarked, "They're the same old A's; it's just that all of their best players are gone."

Having been a witness to the effects of the steroid era on baseball's record books, Yogi might have stated the obvious, "The statistics are still very important; they just don't mean much anymore."

As a football fan that had followed the winning path of the dynasty that has been the New England Patriots, the career of QB Tom Brady, Spygate, Deflategate, the continuing domination of the NFL by the team, but the damaged legacies of Brady, coach Bill Belichick and the franchise as a whole, Yogi probably would have observed, "It's exactly the same old thing, only different."

If Yogi was around to stay up late to watch the beginning of the Giants' last-ditch efforts to steal the West Division title from the Dodgers in the first game of a four-game home set that turned out to be an all-time classic won by the Giants, 3-2 in twelve innings, he might've had a few things to say:

"The Giants are still in it, but they have no chance."

"The Dodgers have team chemistry, but their players don't seem to like each other very much."

"It's been an odd year, even if the Giants win it. The Giants have won it all in even years; that's odd. It would be odd if the Giants win in an odd year. It's odd, even if they lose."

If Yogi, rest his lovable soul, was alive to read this he might've said, "I never said most of those things I might've said, but I might've said them." ★

ND VISITS DEATH VALLEY

Irish eager to add another quality win to their CFB Playoff résumé

NOTRE DAME AT CLEMSON

No team has been hit harder by injuries to key personnel this season than Notre Dame, yet the Fighting Irish continue to win games in impressive fashion. They are 4-0, highlighted by wins over Texas and Georgia Tech, and have outgained their opponents by 2.7 yards per play — which is really, really good. We think Clemson is pretty good, but the sample size is too small at this point to know for sure. The Tigers are 3-0, with convincing wins over Wofford and Appalachian State and a three-point victory over a very disappointing Louisville team. Deshaun Watson, Clemson’s outstanding sophomore quarterback, is the focal point of the offense, but running back Wayne Gallman (139 yards vs. Louisville) also is a potent weapon. The Clemson faithful — with sights set on a run to the College Football Playoff — will create a great atmosphere for this prime time showdown. Notre Dame 27-24

WEST VIRGINIA AT OKLAHOMA

West Virginia hits the road for the first time after winning three games in September in impressive fashion, most notably Saturday’s 45-6 beatdown against regional rival Maryland. Skylar Howard has been superb at quarterback (10.9 yards per attempt, nine TDs, one INT), and Wendell Smallwood has emerged as a playmaker both running (6.9 yards per carry) and catching (10 receptions in three games). Oklahoma, too, has been solid through the first month of the season, though the Sooners’ defensive staff could not have been pleased after Tulsa rolled up 603 yards against OU two weeks ago. Also, there should be some concern about the Sooners’ rather ordinary rushing stats; they rank seventh in the league with only 4.3 yards per attempt. Lincoln Riley was hired to install his version of the Air Raid passing attack, but Oklahoma will need to run the ball better to remain a legitimate contender in the Big 12. Oklahoma 37-21

ALABAMA AT GEORGIA

Alabama opened as an underdog this week for the first time since the 2009 SEC Championship Game against Florida — a game won handily (32-13) by the Crimson Tide. And there is good reason Georgia is favored. Not only are the Bulldogs at home, they simply have been the more impressive team through the first month of the season. The running game, as expected, has been outstanding, and Greyson Lambert has been better than expected at quarterback. It’s not as though Alabama has been bad, but Nick Saban’s club still has to prove it can get solid quarterback play against a quality opponent. And we can’t forget Ole Miss rolled up 433 yards and scored 43 points on this defense two weeks ago. Georgia 27-24

OLE MISS AT FLORIDA

Florida is 2-0 in the SEC despite averaging only 318.5 yards of offense in its two league games. The Gators are getting it done on defense (330.0 yards vs. league foes) and with some fourth-down magic on offense (10-of-10 on the season). They will, however, need to show some more punch on the offensive end to beat Ole Miss this weekend — even in Gainesville. In their least-productive game of the season, on Saturday at home vs. Vanderbilt, the Rebels still scored 27 points and had 472 yards of offense. The Ole Miss offense features arguably the best set of receivers (including tight end Evan Engram) in college football and has a quarterback in Chad Kelly who has proven himself on the biggest of stages (Bryant-Denny Stadium in Tuscaloosa). Ole Miss 31-20

Mitch Light
Athlon Sports
Executive Editor
@AthlonMitch

DeShone Kizer is 2-0 as a starter since taking over as Notre Dame's starting quarterback following a season-ending injury to Malik Zaire.

IOWA AT WISCONSIN

This is a pivotal game in what is looking like a wide-open Big Ten West race. Iowa is quietly 4-0 after beating North Texas 62-16 on Saturday. With C.J. Beathard entrenched as the quarterback — after he shared the position with Jake Rudock last season — the Hawkeyes have been more dynamic on offense. The schedule hasn’t been overly taxing, but Iowa does have wins at Iowa State (in a bitter rivalry game) and over Pittsburgh. Wisconsin has given up a total of three points in its last three games — lopsided wins over Miami (Ohio), Troy and Hawaii. Offensively, however, it’s been a bit of a struggle in Paul Chryst’s first season at his alma mater. The Badgers rank eighth in the league in total offense (408.0 ypg), including an unthinkable ninth in rushing (188.3 ypg). Expected tailback starter Corey Clement has been sidelined with an injury, but Wisconsin’s rather ordinary rushing attack is rather shocking. Still, take the Badgers — and their strong defense — at home. Wisconsin 28-23

MISSISSIPPI STATE AT TEXAS A&M

Mississippi State is learning the value of outstanding play at the quarterback position. Despite losing a ton of key personnel off of last year’s 10-win team, the Bulldogs are 3-1 overall and 1-1 in the SEC after Saturday’s 17-9 win at Auburn. Dak Prescott isn’t likely to be a Heisman contender again this season, but the senior is still one of the elite players at his position in the nation. Texas A&M rallied to beat Arkansas in Arlington, Texas, thanks in part to another huge game from freshman wide receiver Christian Kirk (eight catches, 173 yards, two TDs). The Aggies have been surprisingly average at home at Kyle Field in recent years. That needs to change. Texas A&M 30-20

PRIME TIME PLAYERS

Cody Kessler threw for 375 yards (on only 19 completions) with five touchdowns and one interception in USC’s impressive 42-14 win at Arizona State. ... Christian Kirk continues to impress for unbeaten Texas A&M. The speedy freshman wide receiver caught eight passes for 173 yards and two touchdowns in the Aggies’ 28-21 win over the Razorbacks, including the game-winning 20-yard grab in overtime. ... Tyler Ervin rushed for a school-record 300 yards and three touchdowns on 42 carries in San Jose State’s 49-23 win over Fresno State. ... Stanford running back Christian McCaffrey has played an integral role in the Cardinal’s offensive turnaround in recent weeks, rushing 206 and 115 yards in road wins over Oregon State and USC, respectively. ...

Bowling Green quarterback Matt Johnson completed 43-of-59 passes for 402 yards to lead the Falcons to a 35-28 win at Purdue. Johnson is the only player in the nation to throw for 400-plus yards in all four games this season. ... Memphis quarterback Paxton Lynch (412 yards, two TDs) outduelled Cincinnati’s Hayden Moore (557 yards, four TDs) in the Tigers’ wild 53-46 win over UC on Thursday night. ... A week after throwing three interceptions against BYU, UCLA freshman quarterback Josh Rosen was 19-of-28 for 284 yards with two TDs and no interceptions to lead the Bruins to a key Pac-12 road win over Arizona. ... Northwestern sophomore Justin Jackson ran for a season-high 184 yards in the Wildcats’ 24-19 win over Ball State.

Josh Doctson, WR, TCU

On a day when Doctson scored three touchdowns and set a school record for receiving yards (267) and tied a school and Big 12 record for receptions (18), his biggest play did not result in a catch. On the Frogs’ final snap of the game — with TCU trailing by four points — Doctson tipped a pass to an open Aaron Green in the end zone for a 4-yard touchdown reception that gave the Horned Frogs a 55-52 win over Texas Tech.

STOCK REPORT

▲ Utah has emerged as a legitimate contender in the Pac-12 South after its shocking 62-20 win over Oregon in Eugene. Oft-injured quarterback Travis Wilson had his finest moment as a Ute, accounting for 327 yards of offense and five total touchdowns. Utah is 4-0 for the first time since 2007.

▼ Auburn’s nightmare 2015 season took another bad turn with a 17-9 loss at home to Mississippi State. The Tigers, now 0-2 in the SEC, failed to score a touchdown for the first time since the final game of the 2012 season. Quarterback Sean White was sacked four times and threw one INT in his first career start.

▲ Michigan recorded one of the more impressive wins in Week 4, dominating BYU 31-0 in Ann Arbor. The Wolverines defense held the Cougars to 2.1 yards per play and forced eight three-and-outs. Given Utah’s rout of Oregon on Saturday, Michigan’s lone loss (24-17 at Utah) doesn’t look quite so bad, either.

▼ Randy Edsall’s tenure at his “dream job” might not last too much longer. Two weeks after losing at home to Bowling Green, 48-27, Maryland was alarmingly uncompetitive in a 45-6 loss at rival West Virginia. The Terps have given up 600-plus yards twice this season.

HEISMAN RACE

- 1. Leonard Fournette, RB, LSU The big man from New Orleans takes over the top spot after rushing for 244 yards and two touchdowns on 26 carries in the Tigers’ 34-24 win at Syracuse.
- 2. Nick Chubb, RB, Georgia With his 131-yard performance in Saturday’s win vs. Southern, Chubb tied Herschel Walker’s Georgia record with his 12th straight game with at least 100 yards.
- 3. Trevone Boykin, QB, TCU Boykin was masterful in the Horned Frogs’ thrilling 55-52 win at Texas Tech, throwing for 485 yards and four touchdowns and no interceptions.
- 4. C.J. Prosise RB, Notre Dame Prosise replaces wide receiver Will Fuller as the Notre Dame player in this week’s top five. Thrust into a more prominent role due to a rash of injuries, Prosise has rushed for 600 yards (on an 8.1-yard average) and six TDs in four games.
- 5. Myles Garrett, DE, Texas A&M Garrett was relatively quiet (two tackles, one sack, one forced fumble) against Arkansas but remains arguably the most feared defensive player in the nation.
