Helping Homeless Students Succeed in School

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Joe Rich is the Committee Chair for Project 680, an organization geared towards helping students who are homeless in the Folsom Cordova Unified School District.

"I was really struck by the story of high school students that were separated from their parents, but still fighting to finish their education," says Rich. That's why he joined the group in 2012, just a few years after it started. "I realized that solving the problem was a big effort, but I knew there had to be something I could do. So I searched the internet and found Project 680!"

Project 680 started in 2008, after the Folsom Cordova Unified School District found they had 680 homeless students in their district. The number of homeless students has increased to 1,500.

Project 680 has held multiple drives to provide basic necessities to students including clothing, hygiene products, and shoes. The organization is now hosting its fall drive and is in need of the following: new polo shirts (youth small, medium, and large); shampoo, conditioner, and body wash (full sizes and sets of all three requested); and cash or gift cards for purchasing products in bulk.

Donations are now being accepted through Monday, October 19th in the lobby at Rancho Cordova City Hall, 2729 Prospect Park Drive. Checks can be made payable to "Cordova Community Council" (501c3 sponsor) with "Project 680" in the memo.

"We can't solve the homeless problem for all our students overnight," says Rich. "But by providing some of the most basic needs, we can show them we care and remove some of the stress that they face on a daily basis."

A final event will celebrate the

Spring Occupancy Expected for Phase 1 of Mather Veterans Village

Phase 2 of the Mather Veterans Village project (above left) will result in 60 transitional housing beds, when the previous Mather Air Force Base officers' quarters, shown here, have been redone. "We're doing what we call a 'gut rehab' or a substantial rehabilitation," said Reed Flory, reinvestment and housing opportunities manager for the City of Rancho Cordova. Tony White, superintendent for Broward Builders on Phase 1 construction at Mather Veterans Village, looks over blueprints at the construction site (above center). "Working for the veterans has been awesome," White said. Worker Maverick America (at right) of Vineyard works on Phase 1 housing at Mather Veterans Village. Construction on this portion of the project is scheduled for completion in February 2016.

Bill Gives Local Municipals Control of Marijuana Venders

By Roberta L. Barth, Government Beat Reporter

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In 1996, California voters approved Prop 215, which legalized marijuana for medicinal purposes, but that ballot measure failed to provide consumer protections and regulations to thwart criminal activity.

After nearly two decades of failed attempts in the state legislature to fix Prop 215, a three-bill package now sits on Governor Jerry Brown's desk awaiting approval. The bills are the Medical Marijuana Regulation & Safety Act (MMRSA). One of them, AB 266, will be a landmark action because it puts the licensing power to grow or sell marijuana in the hands of the cities and counties.

"It gives us local control so we can jump on problems immediately and nip it in the bud," said Tim Comartie, legislative representative for the League of California Cities, which co-sponsored that bill.

At Monday night's Rancho Cordova City Council meeting, Assemblyman Ken Cooley (D-Rancho Cordova) updated the council on AB 266.

Rancho Cordova Mayor Robert J. McGarvey said the city had been on the front lines of this issue having to deal with the impacts from a lack of legal structure for the marijuana industry. "Hopefully the governor will sign that bill so we get control of the problems," McGarvey said.

One example of Rancho Cordova's issue is that in 2012 a father of two girls, who lived a few yards from Mitchell Middle School, was doing his operation in the home. But police were only able file charges of child endangerment.

Parents and school officials throughout California have been expressing frustration at law enforcement and public officials for not stopping teens and children from having access to marijuana, and at the denigration of their communities.

Last year, Citrus Heights Police Chief Christopher Boyd asked Cooley to fix Prop 215's flaw. Cooley then co-authored AB 266 with Assemblymen Rob Bonta (D-Oakland) and Reginald Jones-Sawyer (D-Los Angeles).

"My interest in this matter comes from having been one of the founding members of Rancho Cordova cityhood and serving on the council for over a decade," Cooley told the Grapevine Independent. "I personally know from experience that local municipalities need more control over what is happening in their jurisdictions."

In April 2014, Citrus Heights police seized 850 lbs. of marijuana, cash, weapons, and ammunition from a drug operation that stretched to the L.A. region. Boyd, who at that time was also the president of the California Police Chiefs Association, had been aware that lawlessness from Prop 215 was epidemic around the state.

Under MMRSA, the California Department of Consumer Affairs would enforce health and safety standards while the California Department of Agriculture would require marijuana growers to comply with the same environmental and health and safety standards that fruit and vegetable farmers must comply with to protect the public.

Threatening to sue the state if it enacts those laws, the American Medical Marijuana Association (AMMA) issued a press release declaring the proposed laws would kill patients because a provision in one of the bills requires that a patient must have a legitimate prescription from a licensed primary physician.

"These bills are a mean-spirited attempt to thwart the will of the people and deprive them of medical cannabis," stated Steve Kubby, executive director of AMMA, in his press release. "The medical community is not up to speed with cannabis' medicinal properties. It is unacceptable and illegal infringement on our rights under Prop. 215."

By press time, no one at AMMA had returned the Grapevine Independent's telephone call.

Disagreeing with Kubby's assertions is Chula Vista Police Chief David Bejarano, who is also current president of state's police chiefs association. He counters that the proposed laws will solve problems. "With these bills, law-abiding people will be allowed to flourish while for the first time the same will not be said about illegal operators," Bejarano said to the Grapevine Independent.

City Attorney Honored for Excellent Service

By Roberta L. Barth, Government Beat Reporter

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - At Monday night’s Rancho Cordova City Council meeting, council members surprised their city attorney, Adam U. Lindgren, with a plaque honoring him for his service to the city since it incorporated 12 years ago.

Also, Assemblyman Ken Cooley (D-Rancho Cordova) brought a framed declaration honoring Lindgren.

Lindgren was recently selected as the best in the Municipal Law category in The Best Lawyers in America, 2016 edition. In 2005, Lindgren was featured as the best in the Northern California Super Lawyer, Law and Politics, 2005 edition. ★

Looking at what we have in Rancho Cordova makes me very thankful: new homes being built, new businesses opening their doors and welcoming you and me, a new performing arts center at Cordova High School, a Folsom Lake College campus beginning next month, and apartments being built at Veterans Village at Mather. We are very fortunate here and most people are aware of that fact. Life will bring some negative times in our lives. The people who have lost their homes in the Valley and the Butte fires have to face a rough time this coming winter. Like almost everyone in Northern California, I am hoping for enough rain this coming winter that we can get out of the drought. But the people who seem to have lost so much are able to smile when they see and meet the firefighters who gave their all to save lives and homes.

“Making one person smile can change the world—maybe not the whole world, but their world,” another quote from that “Anonymous” author. If you smile when looking at a child, for example, they smile back nine times out of 10. The one time in which they don't smile will usually mean they are hungry, tired, or need a diaper changed. Kids are kids, and our three-month-old granddaughter isn't any different than our kids were. Our kids grew up on us, but we are able to keep our diaper changing skills up by practicing on their kids. Grandkids also bring smiles to their parents and grandparents. It's a fair trade.

Last Saturday morning, September 19th, there were about 40 residents who came together and joined me on the Mayor's Walk. Meeting some wonderful people like that brings smiles to everyone who joined us. We began our walk in the parking lot of A.M. Winn Elementary School at about 9 a.m. While enjoying each other's company we also had a chance to see the neighborhood around the school. We had senior citizens in our group, and the youngest member of our group was a three-month-old baby girl named Scarlett.

There were a few homeowners out who were surprised to see that many people walking through their neighborhood early in the morning. My wife said we should have a sign of some sort that lets people know why we are there. There were a few people who drove by who also wondered who we were. We will work on creating a sign for our next walk. The upcoming walk will be the last one this year. We will be gathering at Riverview STEM Academy on Ambassador Drive. It will be on Saturday, October 10th, and I hope you will be able to join us. A casual walk with friends and meeting new folks does bring a smile or a grin as your weekend starts.

George Eliot said, “Wear a smile and have friends. Wear a scowl and have wrinkles.” So smile. (It is a very inexpensive way to remove wrinkles.)

From Mayor Bob Mcgarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Blessings in a Backpack Benefits Local Schools

Rancho Cordova, CA (MPG) - Blessings in a Backpack day was recognized on September 17, 2015. Blessings in a Backpack Rancho Cordova organized an event to stuff the first bags of the school year for children at Rancho Cordova Elementary and Cordova Villa Elementary. Mayor Robert J. McGarvey, Council Member Linda Budge, and volunteers of all ages got involved. Rancho Cordova provides six meals and two snacks each Friday to students using the free/reduced lunch program. The organization ensures that local children don't have to worry about having food to eat over the weekend.

CASE: Michael Eugene Addson
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Thomas Asker, Homicide Unit

Twenty-seven-year-old Michael Eugene Addson was convicted by jury of first-degree murder during the commission of an attempted robbery.

Marc Zhuchenko was an employee at the O'Reilly's Auto Parts store on Elkhorn Boulevard. On January 9, 2014, Addson attempt to rob the store. Mr. Zhuchenko tried to fight him off and injured Addson, who then shot Mr. Zhuchenko. Addson left a trail of blood as he fled the store. Due to the vigilance of the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department and its homicide detectives, Addson was detained within two hours at the Methodist Hospital. Detectives were also able to locate the murder weapon. Analysis by the District Attorney's Laboratory of Forensic Services linked Addson's DNA and his gun to the crime scene.

The jury also convicted Addson of five counts of robbery with use of a gun based on three separate incidents at O'Reilly's and Autozone stores in July, September, and October of 2013. Those robberies were solved by Sacramento County sheriff's detectives following Addson's capture on January 9, 2014.

Addson faces a minimum sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole. Sentencing is set for October 16, 2015, in Department 16 by the Honorable Marjorie Koller.

CASE: Kareem AbdulMitchell
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Allison Dunham, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

Forty-three-year-old Kareem Abdul Mitchell pled no contest to two counts of oral copulation with a person under 18 years old and one count of committing lewd and lascivious acts on a child.

Mitchell was a choir director for the New Testament Baptist Church. During that time, he molested three male choir members between 2001 and 2012.

Pursuant to the plea agreement, Mitchell will be sentenced to three years state prison and will be required to register as a sex offender for life. Sentencing is set for October 21, 2015, at 1:30 p.m. in Department 63 before the Honorable Michael Bowman.

This case was investigated by the Sacramento Police Department.

CASE: Randell Bryant
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Samuel Alexander, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Marjorie Koller sentenced 28-year-old Randell Bryant to 10 years plus 75 years to life in prison. On July 2, 2015, a jury convicted Bryant of three counts of residential burglary. Bryant has three prior strike convictions, all residential burglaries from 2005, 2007, and 2008.

On September 3, 2013, two homes in Land Park were burglarized. A passerby heard the house alarms and gave police descriptions of four males walking away from the scene carrying property. Soon after, another burglary occurred in Greenhaven. Witnesses there also described four males fleeing the scene. The residences were ransacked for cash, jewelry, electronics, and other items. The total loss was more than $30,000.

An iPad from one of the burglaries was traced to an address in north Sacramento, where more items taken in the burglaries were found. After further investigation revealed Bryant was living at that residence, he was arrested. Bryant was picked from a live lineup by a witness.

Co-defendants Koleon Crawford and Dominique Spruill pled no contest to three counts of burglary and both were sentenced to five years, four months in prison. The fourth perpetrator was a juvenile at the time of the crimes.

This case was investigated by the Sacramento Police Department.

CASE: Gregory Wyrick
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Maria Wilson, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

Thirty-five-year-old Gregory Wyrick was convicted by jury of six counts of sexual intercourse and/or sodomy with a child under 10 years old and six counts of committing lewd and lascivious acts on a child under 14 years old. The jury also found true a multiple victim enhancement.

From 2012 to 2013, Wyrick molested two victims multiple times when they were staying at his house. The victims were five and seven years old at the time.

Wyrick faces a maximum potential sentence of 150 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for October 9, 2015, in Department 33 before the Honorable Michael Savage.

This case was investigated by the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department. ★

Biden Being Biden

While Hillary Clinton’s team of consultants is locked in a room somewhere trying to figure out how she can project authenticity, Joe Biden is out doing it.

The vice president’s recent interview on “The Late Show With Stephen Colbert” was compellingly human, as Biden talked of the tragic loss of his son Beau and his decision whether or not to make a late entry into the Democratic presidential race.

It’s rare for someone who has been at the pinnacle of our politics for decades to get a second look. But Biden’s latest family tragedy (he lost his first wife and a daughter to a car accident in the 1970s) means that the vice president is viewed through a prism of sympathy, as a grieving father rather than just another politician. And Hillary’s struggles, especially her woodenness, put an accent on Biden’s let-it-all-hang-out, true-to-his-self personality.

You can disagree with Biden, you can mock him, you can cringe at his miscues -- but it is impossible not to like him. Hillary’s team can come up with the best, most elaborate plan for her latest makeover (it will emphasize spontaneity, The New York Times reports) and still not come close to matching the bizarre charm of Biden being Biden.

We are constantly assured by people around her that Hillary Clinton is “warm in private.” Biden is warm in public. His performance swearing in new senators earlier this year was a nonstop Bidenesque spectacle of selfies, folksy comments and general crazy-uncle antics, some of dubious appropriateness.

Their public personas are captured in the story of two parades. One of the enduring moments of the Hillary campaign so far is of reporters being corralled in a roped-off pen to keep them away from the candidate during a small July Fourth parade in New Hampshire -- creating an instant metaphor of arrogance and control.

When Joe Biden showed up at a Pittsburgh Labor Day parade, he broke into a trot, eagerly bouncing from one side of the route to another, shaking hands, dispensing hugs and kissing babies. Low energy, in Donald Trump’s signature phrase, this was not. Biden was a joyous retail campaigner in his element.

On paper, Biden is hardly a natural match for the populist, anti-establishment mood. He first got elected to the Senate in 1972, a year after Florida Sen. Marco Rubio was born. His resume includes 17 years as chairman or ranking member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and 12 as chairman or ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This is a resume for a gold watch, not for a late-developing insurgent president campaign.

Yet Biden is a practiced and, unfortunately, fairly effective demagogue. He can denounce the rich with the best of them.

If he gets in, he will immediately be evaluated by a different standard. He’ll be an actual candidate rather than the intriguing potential new entry. He’ll be the old white guy trying to “stop history.” But he’ll also be a breath of fresh air in a Democratic race that was supposed to be the stultifying march to the nomination by one of the duller politicians of our time.

Home Alone

anxiety. You may be able to help him see that you’re not going away forever, and that each time you leave the house you will come back. A common way to do this is to dress as if you’re going to work, say goodbye to General, and leave -- but only for about five minutes. Then come back inside and greet him. Repeat this frequently, slowly lengthening the time you’re away until you can be out for an hour or more. You also can leave little treats or toys around the house for General to play with. Walking your dog before you leave can relieve some of his restless energy. If you’re only taking General out to relieve himself before you head off to work, try going out much earlier and walking further or playing with General. If medication and/or desensitization training don’t work, consult a trainer who specializes in separation anxiety.

Send your questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

DEAR PAW’S CORNER:

Whenever I’m away for several hours -- at work, mostly -- my dog tears up the house. “General” will knock over lamps, chew sofa cushions, destroy my shoes ... you name it. My boyfriend says he’s got behavioral issues, and I need to be more dominant. How do I do that? -- Sara T., Philadelphia

DEAR SARA: Dominance, or showing a dog who’s boss, isn’t the issue here. (In fact, many dog behaviorists turning against the idea of using dominance or making yourself the “alpha dog” for any reason.) General is suffering severe separation anxiety. You do need to address it for his emotional and mental well-being. First, talk about his behavior with the veterinarian, who likely will recommend medication to calm him when you leave the house. The better goal, however, is to help General get past his site, construction is on schedule at this point for completion in February of 2016, and the apartments are expected to be ready for occupancy in the spring.

Phase 2 will be the rehabilitation of the existing old officers’ quarters, to provide 60 “beds” of transitional housing. “Our initial plans were to knock it down,” says Reed Flory, reinvestment and housing opportunities manager for the City of Rancho Cordova. “We did some engineering studies and found that would be foolish, given the energy efficiency potential of the building. It has a lot of thermal mass to it and structurally...it will live forever.” Flory has been instrumental since 2006 in getting the project funded.

Phase 3 will duplicate the Phase 1 construction of 50 apartments of permanent housing.

“We believe that the final application for its funding will occur in March of next year,” Flory says. “Then, in June 2016, we will receive word that we’ve been selected, and then we’ll have 180 days to begin construction after the award of that final chunk of funding.”

Mather Veterans Village is located on some of the property formerly occupied by Mather Air Force Base, which closed in 1993.

According to Clark Whitten, Mather program manager for the county of Sacramento, “When the federal government closes a military base, what they traditionally do is they look to the local community to transfer the property to the local community so they, in turn, can develop it in hopes of recapturing the jobs that are typically lost when you close a military base. ... In June of 2013 we took the Mather Veterans Village lease to the Board of Supervisors. In a unanimous vote, they approved us leasing the property to the City of Rancho Cordova for 99 years—it’s free.”

The Board’s District 5, served by Supervisor Don Nottoli, encompasses the area of the project. “To know that we have a facility, housing, with some of the related services available, not only here but in our community, but at that location, it’s just great,” Nottoli says.

The fact that the Veterans Village is just down the street from the VA Medical Center makes the location ideal for access to healthcare services not provided by Veterans Village.

The program is an example of partnership and cooperation between agencies. The federal government and Air Force made it possible for the county to acquire the property. The project is co-sponsored by the City of Rancho Cordova, Sacramento County, and the Sacramento VA Medical Center. In addition, the developer, Mercy Housing, is the managing general partner, and Veterans Resource Centers of America is the services coordinator and co-general partner.

“[There are] a whole lot of folks, but all for a very good purpose,” Nottoli says. “It shows that people working together can really achieve some very good things, and this is a very good thing, in my mind.” ★

If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. Cordova Football Shuts Out Hiram Johnson

By Mike Bush

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - After losing back-to-back non-league games by less than seven points, the Cordova High School football squad was looking to get back on the winning track.

Last Saturday at Hiram

Holdout of All Holdouts, Blowouts and Knockouts

The word is circulating that an area sports columnist has been formulating plans for a holdout.

The nature of the pundit's most recent demands have also been leaked to the press. Reportedly, he has backed off significantly from his original proposal of seven years guaranteed, $95 million with incentives and additional bonuses for holidays, full medical coverage for himself, his family and friends, and full sponsorship of his beer league softball team in exchange for continuing to deliver his pitch on a weekly basis.

According to unnamed sources, he has lowered the level of his demands to include: a lifetime supply of pizza; a weekly full-body massage to alleviate the stiff back and other aches and pains caused by the hours spent hunched over the keyboard; a better chair to help reduce the magnitude of the issues previously listed; a little more elbow room in the office to lessen the effects of the intimidation factor of the baskets of unfolded laundry hovering over the shoulder; an extra-large carnitas burrito (with extra pico de gallo) every Friday; World Series tickets if ever the Giants or A's return to glory; and a gift certificate to Starbucks upon filing of each weekly article for the sake of celebrating its completion in style with a favorite dessert of a Double Chocolate Chip Crème Frappuccino.

None of those exorbitant demands are expected to be met. The beleaguered, humiliated wordsmith is expected to slink back to his desk and proceed, as usual, with the performance of his duties for as long as the unwitting readership is willing to absorb the nonsensical dribble produced forthwith and beyond.

The Seattle Seahawks are undoubtedly wishing that resolving the current holdout of star defender Kam Chancellor would be as simple.

The Seahawks have been in Johnson the Lancers did just that—and early. Cordova jumped out to a 27-0 lead after the first quarter that led to a 49-0 victory.

Cordova (2-2) continued its scoring ways in the second quarter with two more touchdowns for a 42-0 halftime lead.

“We’re playing team ball,” said Cordova head coach Darren Nill after the game. “We don’t have 11 people trying to make heroic plays. We just had everybody playing within the system.”

The Lancers scored their final touchdown in the third quarter. “I think we needed the losses in those two games,” Nill said. “I think a lot of guys learned how to play team football. A lot of younger guys grew up a little bit; they see what they’re doing wrong when we’re watching [game] films and they responded.”

Leading the way to the shutout was Lancer quarterback Unique Perez. He completed 11 of 14 passes for 292 yards and four touchdowns. Perez also scored a touchdown in the contest.

Two of Perez’s TDs went into the hands of running back Seth Trujillo, who had a combined 72 total offensive yards.

Another standout for the Lancers was wide receiver Devin Baldwin, who had five receptions for 137 yards and a touchdown. Isaac Black also had a touchdown and pulled in two passes for 52 yards.

On defense, the Lancers were led by defensive lineman Fidel Romero, who had six tackles. Defensive backs Terrill Johnson and Brenden Wentworth, along with linemen Dawson Upchurch and Michael Gonzalez, had four tackles each.

A Lancer who stood out in the game was wide receiver Nate Williams, but not on offense. Williams was inserted into the game as a defensive back. “He came out and was hitting people,” said Nill of the 5’ 5,” 139-pound Williams.

One of the benefits of last Saturday’s blowout over Hiram Johnson was that Nill and his coaching staff played all of their players on the Lancers’ roster. “We tried to get a lot of people in [the game] to play and we did,” Nill said.

In the junior varsity contest, Cordova produced a 46-0 victory over Johnson. The JV Lancers are 4-0 for the season.

On Friday, September 25th, Cordova will celebrate its fall homecoming game and close out its preseason by hosting Foothill. Kick-off is scheduled for 7:15 p.m.

Lancer Soccer Corrals Mustangs

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In Sierra Valley Conference action, the Cordova High School boys soccer team continued to roll on Tuesday.

Hosting Foothill at Lancer Stadium, the Lancers blanked Foothill, 5-0. In the first half, the Lancers (6-5-1) scored three goals. In the second half, Cordova scored its final two goals.

“The boys played well,” said Cordova head coach Eric McCahon of Tuesday’s contest. “Everything seemed to be clicking. The defense played solid.”

Lancer forward Miguel Medina scored three of the team’s goals in the contest. Midfielders Luis Aguilar and Fernando Vasquez scored a goal each in the game. Aguilar and Medina had an assist each, along with Mark Romanyuk. Cordova goalie Kevin Bejines had two saves.

In a non-league home game, also at Lancer Stadium, on September 17th, Cordova scored a goal in the first half and two in the second for the win.

Medina and Aguilar joined teammate Bernardo Valdez in scoring a goal each in the contest for the Lancers. Aguilar had an assist.

On Thursday, September 24th, Cordova closed out the preseason at Placer. On Monday, September 28th, the Lancers begin SVC action at Galt. Next Wednesday, September 30th, Cordova will host its first conference game when Union Mine pays a visit. Both games start at 7 p.m.

Josh Rosen, the No. 1 quarterback recruit in the country last year, will make his first Pac-12 start when the Bruins head to Tucson this weekend.

ROSEN CHOSEN TO LEAD

UCLA pins its Pac-12 title hopes on true freshman quarterback

UCLA AT ARIZONA
This is the most intriguing of several key showdowns in the Pac-12. Arizona received a bit of a scare in the opener against UTSA but has posted some gaudy offensive numbers en route to its 3–0 start. The schedule has been soft, but the Wildcats lead the Pac-12 in both scoring offense (54.3 ppg) and total offense (584.7 ypg). Sophomore tailback Nick Wilson is the league’s top rusher with 144.7 yards per game. UCLA is also 3–0, with home wins over Virginia and BYU sandwiched around a victory at UNLV. After a near-perfect debut against Virginia, freshman quarterback Josh Rosen is showing signs of being, well, a freshman. In the past two games, he has completed just over 50 percent of his passes with two touchdowns and three interceptions. The Bruins will need Rosen to be sharp if they hope to successfully navigate a difficult league slate that includes trips to Arizona, Stanford, Utah and USC. The guess here is that Rosen will shine in his first Pac-12 road game. UCLA 37–30

USC AT ARIZONA STATE
Neither team has lived up to lofty preseason expectations. Arizona State lost its opener to Texas A&M, 38–17 in Houston, and then looked less than impressive in wins over Cal Poly and New Mexico. USC cruised to wins over Arkansas State and Idaho by a cumulative score of 114–15 but lost its Pac-12 opener to Stanford, 41–31, at the L.A. Coliseum. The Stanford offense that did not score a touchdown and managed only 3.9 yards per play in a Week 1 loss to Northwestern torched the talent-laden USC defense for 41 points and an average of 6.5 yards per snap. A win in Tempe would quiet the rumblings — for the short term — from the USC faithful who are starting to lose confidence in second-year coach Steve Sarkisian. USC 34–31

TEXAS A&M VS. ARKANSAS (AT ARLINGTON, TEXAS)
Arkansas is reeling after back-to-back losses at home to Toledo and Texas Tech. The most alarming stats: The Razorbacks rank 10th in the SEC in rushing attempts per game (36.0) and ninth in yards per rush (4.8). This team will not be a factor in the SEC West unless it returns to its roots and starts to run the ball with success. Texas A&M is off to a 3–0 start — and has looked good doing so. The Aggies have no worries on offense; they are sixth in the SEC in passing and fourth in rushing. It’s still early, but there is no denying that new defensive coordinator John Chavis has had a positive impact. Against a decent non-conference schedule, A&M is allowing only 4.6 yards per play. The true tests will come in league play, but the early returns are positive. Texas A&M 30–20

TENNESSEE AT FLORIDA
This doesn’t have as much national import as Tennessee-Florida games of yesteryear, but it’s a crucial game for both programs. Tennessee fans are craving a statement win from Butch Jones, who has dominated on the recruiting trail but has yet to make the Vols nationally relevant. Florida is having some issues on offense — starting with the QB position — but the Gators are 3–0 and have an SEC road win (over upstart Kentucky) on their résumé. Florida’s roster is far from elite, but the defense is good enough to keep this team in the SEC East race all season. Florida 20–17

Athlon Sports
Executive Editor
@AthlonMitch

TCU AT TEXAS TECH
Texas Tech is fresh off a satisfying win over an Arkansas team that physically dominated the Red Raiders in Lubbock last season. Tech still has to prove itself in league play, but there are early signs this could be Kliff Kingsbury’s best team at his alma mater. TCU received a scare from SMU before pulling away for a 56–37 win over the Mustangs in Fort Worth. Quarterback Trevone Boykin is the leader of a dynamic offense that will put a ton of pressure on the Texas Tech defense. The Raiders will need to force at least three turnovers to keep this one in range. TCU 44–30

UTAH AT OREGON
Utah is quietly 3–0 with some decent wins — Michigan and Utah State at home and by 21 points at Fresno State. Quarterback Travis Wilson missed the Fresno State game with a shoulder injury and is questionable for this week’s trip to Eugene. Former Oklahoma Sooner Kendal Thompson played well in relief, but this team is at its best with a healthy Wilson running the show. Oregon hopes to have its quarterback back in the lineup as well. Vernon Adams Jr. missed the win over Georgia State with a broken finger but expects to get the start for the Ducks’ Pac-12 opener. Oregon 38–21

GEORGIA TECH AT DUKE
After two weeks — and two lopsided wins — Georgia Tech was getting some buzz as a possible College Football Playoff contender. Not anymore. In Saturday’s 30–22 loss at Notre Dame, the Yellow Jackets’ usually potent rushing attack was limited to 216 yards, the program’s lowest total since a loss to Ole Miss in the 2013 Music City Bowl. Duke must regroup after a 19–10 defeat to Northwestern at home in which the Blue Devils struggled to find any offensive rhythm. Duke managed only two scoring drives — one went 26 yards for a touchdown, the other 38 yards and ended with a field goal. Georgia Tech 33–20

PRIME TIME PLAYERS

Jordan Howard, a transfer from UAB, rushed for 203 yards on 31 carries as Indiana held on for a 38–35 win over Western Kentucky. Howard leads the nation with 507 rushing yards. ... One week after leading Oklahoma to a thrilling comeback win at Tennessee, quarterback Baker Mayfield threw for 487 yards and four TDs in the Sooners’ tougher-than-expected 52–38 win over Tulsa. ... Vanderbilt sophomore Trent

Sherfield broke a single-game school record with 240 receiving yards in the Commodores’ 47–7 win over Austin Peay. ... With freshman quarterback Josh Rosen struggling (106 passing yards, three INTs), running back Paul Perkins led the way for UCLA with 220 yards rushing (on an 8.4-yard average) as the Bruins remained unbeaten with a 24–23 win over BYU at the Rose Bowl. ... C.J. Prosise, one of the few healthy tailbacks on the Notre Dame roster, rushed for 198 yards and three touchdowns in the Fighting Irish’s impressive 30–22 win over Georgia Tech. ... Both quarterbacks shined in California’s 45–44 win at Texas on Saturday night. Jared Goff completed 27-of-37 attempts for 258 yards with three TDs and no INTs for the victorious Golden Bears, while Texas’ Jerrod Heard — in his second career start — threw for 364 yards and rushed for 163 yards and three scores. ... Marshall Koehn drilled a 57-yard field goal as time expired to give Iowa a 27–24 win over Pittsburgh. The Hawkeyes are 3–0 for the first time in six years. ... Georgia quarterback Greyson Lambert threw for 330 yards and set an FBS record by completing 96 percent of his passes (24-of-25) in the Bulldogs’ 52–20 win over South Carolina.

STOCK REPORT

A Ole Miss has emerged as a legitimate national title contender after beating Alabama 43–37 in Tuscaloosa. Quarterback Chad Kelly, in his first SEC start, threw for 341 yards and three TDs to lead an offense that averaged 6.7 yards per play. Ole Miss is 3–0 and leads the nation in scoring offense (64.0 ppg).

V Auburn survived subpar performances in its first two games to beat Louisville and Jacksonville State (in overtime). The Tigers weren’t so fortunate Saturday afternoon in Baton Rouge en route to a 45–21 loss to LSU. Auburn’s usually potent offense was limited to 260 yards, the fewest since Gus Malzahn was named head coach.

A Memphis improved to 3–0 with a 44–41 win at Bowling Green, keeping alive the Tigers’ dreams of an undefeated showdown with Ole Miss on Oct. 17. In the last two weeks — wins at Kansas and Bowling Green — quarterback Paxton Lynch has a combined 740 passing yards with five TDs and zero INTs.

V The Mountain West has lost 21 straight games against FBS opponents since Week 1, including a 16-game losing streak against the Power 5 foes since Week 2. Among the carnage are losses at home to North Dakota State and Eastern Michigan (both by Wyoming) and South Alabama (by San Diego State).

When Girls Lead, the World Succeeds

Registration Is Open Now for Girl Scouts

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Girl Scouts Heart of Central California (GSHCC) is inviting girls to join the fun and register for Girl Scouts. Girl Scouts is an exciting way to engage girls all year round by providing countless opportunities for making friends, trying new things, and exercising leadership skills through activities like building robots, participating in the Girl Scout Cookie Program, playing sports, and more.

National studies from the Girl Scout Research Institute (GSRI) show it's not just what girls do, but how they do it that makes Girl Scouts so beneficial. Girl Scouts is unique because girls get to learn by doing, and they do so in a girl-led environment. This means that, in addition to girls learning in a hands-on and active way, they are encouraged to choose their activities, decide which topics they want to explore, and determine how they want to go about exploring them. Girl Scouts is the largest girl-led organization in the world, and it is a significant contributor to its members' success in and enjoyment of life.

GSRI reports that at least 75% of girls who experience the fun of "learning by doing" and are part of a girl-led program become better at conflict resolution, problem solving, team building and cooperation, and developing self-confidence. In addition, nearly three in four girls who experience learning by doing and who are part of a girl-led program say that, because of Girl Scouts, they've become a leader in more activities with their friends and classmates, as well as in their community.

"When girls lead, the world succeeds. Girl Scouts is the largest organization in the world where girls call the shots and take charge of their own future," said Anna Maria Chávez, CEO of Girl Scouts of the USA. "A troop who loves rollercoasters might invite an engineer to join them at their local amusement park to learn about what makes their stomach drop in real time, while another troop might be interested in what happens when you recycle a bottle and plan a visit to their town's recycling plant. By doing what they're interested in and deciding how to learn more, they are developing leadership skills that aren't offered by any other extracurricular activity."

While Girl Scouts is open to all girls from kindergarten through grade 12, anyone over the age of 18 can become a Girl Scout volunteer. Girls cannot experience the positive impact of Girl Scouts without adult volunteers, and each adult who volunteers has the opportunity to make a real difference in the life of a girl. Girl Scout volunteers come from all walks of life: they are men, women, young professionals, retirees, college students, and more. Both girls and adult volunteers can join at any time of the year. To join Girl Scouts or learn more about volunteering, please visit www.girlscouts.org/join.
