Fundraiser BBQ Supports Wounded Service Members

One last look of the Twin Towers and the New York City skyline from the Staten Island Ferry just a few months prior to 9/11. Photo by Paul V. Scholl

Commentary by Paul V. Scholl, Publisher

It is a fog, the fog of every-day life that gets in the way of our remembering that world-changing moment. You turned on the television, picked a channel, any channel, and there it was unfolding for every eye to see. A catastrophe of such magnitude that it made you wonder if you had actually awakened or if it was just some eerily bad dream.

It was just yesterday for many of us, but children starting high school this year never saw it in real time. They never experienced the sense of real fear and awe in the wake of those airplanes crashing, wondering how many more would do the same.

As the years passed by, and the world changed, we got further and further from the truth. Thousands of theories, hundreds of conspiracies, millions of prayers prayed for those lost in the horrendous acts of cowardice. And we still do not have all the answers.

What we do know is there were so many heroes. What we do know is that the people of New York who served their fellow man are extraordinary. What we do know is that we are a strong nation that will come together when we need to in order to help one another in time of need.

Unless one was about to forget, nearly 3,000 people died that day. Countless others suffered mightily through their loss, injuries, or endless nightmares. It was a day that changed the world, even for those who refuse to accept it.

On this September 11th, remember that moment and honor those who gave their all for others. Remember those who passed who never had another chance to tell their families that they loved them. And for those who will, pray for our nation, that we may one day come together to be greater than we have ever been before. ★

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)
- Real Estate Brokers Russ Knapp and Rory Hoelker will be hosting a free BBQ on September 13th from noon to 1:30 p.m. at Anatolia Club House Park, 11828 Chrysanthy Boulevard in Rancho Cordova. This fundraising event will assist service members who have been injured in the line of duty. All proceeds and donations from the BBQ will be donated to the nonprofit organization Wounded Warrior Project (WWP) and will support a full range of programs and services for this generation of injured veterans and their families.

Over 47,000 servicemen and women have been injured in the recent military conflicts. In addition to the physical wounds, it is estimated that as many as 400,000 service members live with the invisible wounds of war including combat-related stress, major depression, and post-traumatic stress disorder. Another 320,000 are believed to have experienced a traumatic brain injury while on deployment.

WWP's 18 programs and services are uniquely structured to nurture the mind and body and encourage economic empowerment and engagement.

Knapp and Hoelker of Riverside Properties feel that it is key to give back to the community and thus have taken on the task of organizing and paying for the BBQ. They in turn are asking the community to give back to help WWP with any donation they can provide. Anyone who wishes to be more involved or donate money as a co-sponsor is encouraged to contact Rory Hoelker at (916) 548-4475 or at Rory@MyBrokerRory.com.

Local Students Attend YMCA Youth and Government Event

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - California YMCA Youth & Government held a community outreach event on August 28th to help recruit new youth to participate in their programs for the upcoming year. The event took place at the Rancho Cordova offices of Keenan, California's largest privately held insurance brokerage and consulting firm. The goal of the event was to generate awareness of the program through community and school outreach and enlist support for local YMCA Youth & Government chapters.

The program provides hands-on experiences designed to inspire young people to become active and concerned participants in government as citizens. Delegates come from a wide range of backgrounds throughout the state. A centerpiece of the program is the annual five-day Model Legislature and Court session, where the delegates convene to write bills, select governmental positions for role playing, learn legislative and judicial procedures, attend training conferences, and run for various elected offices. Other longstanding activities include the Model United Nations program.

In addition, the KeenanDirect individual and family plans division provided information about the upcoming Covered California health insurance open enrollment. Many school districts and municipalities have been very interested in these programs for their non-benefit-eligible employees and other family members.

Keenan is in its fifth year of active involvement with and support of the YMCA Youth & Government program as an integral aspect of its ongoing corporate social responsibility efforts, much of which focus on

Prostate Cancer Awareness Month

Rancho Cordova, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova Mayor Robert J. McGarvey presents a proclamation to Richard Montgomery (right) in recognition of September as "Prostate Cancer Awareness Month" in the City of Rancho Cordova. Prostate cancer is the most frequently diagnosed cancer in men aside from skin cancer, and it is estimated that one in seven men will develop this disease in their lifetime. Early prostate cancer usually has no symptoms and studies suggest strong familial predisposition may be responsible for 5% to 10% of the disease cases. The survival rate approaches 100% when prostate cancer is diagnosed and treated early but drops to 28% when it spreads to the other parts of the body. Photo courtesy of the City of Rancho Cordova

New Creek and Trail Coming Soon

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The County of Sacramento in partnership with other local agencies including Rancho Cordova is renovating a creek and building a new walking trail near the Cordova Meadows neighborhood. This effort is part of the Cordova Creek Naturalization Project. You may have seen the concrete-lined canal that borders Soil Born Farms and the American River Parkway. The project will remove the concrete and replace it with a natural meandering creek including native trees, shrubs, and groundcovers. This will enhance the environment by creating a pleasing and safe habitat for wildlife, while also enhancing the appearance of the creek.

A new walking trail will also be constructed to provide public access from Dedo Way off La Loma Drive in the Cordova Meadows Neighborhood to the American River Parkway. This will allow citizens to take advantage of the beautiful parkway in Rancho Cordova and see the sites of Soil Born Farms' American River Ranch. Construction has started and will occur in two phases, with completion expected by December of 2016. If you have any questions or concerns during construction, please contact Project Manager David Bolen at bolend@sac-county.net or (916) 874-8645. Source: City of Rancho Cordova ★

Honoring the 1% Who Protect Us All

Magazine. Mr. Wong is a Veteran of the Iraq and Afghanistan wars. In the article, he ponders the 14 years that have passed since 9/11/2001, and how we have not dismissed the memory of our loved ones who were killed at the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and the field near Shanksville, PA.

An article by Jeff Stoffer also talks about that 1%, stating, “Today’s soldiers were at day-care centers trying to color inside the lines, a decade before the first iPad appeared on the market and could do it for them.” Terrorists attacked the United States and changed the world we all occupy. War as we knew it was always someplace else, another part of the world, or another time in history. But when terrorists killed over 3,000 people in the continental United States, the way we see and fight wars changed forever.

Stoffer said, “When former U.S. Sen. Jim Webb of Virginia received the [American] Legion’s Distinguished Public Service Award in 2013 for authoring the Post-9/11 GI Bill, the highly decorated Vietnam War combat Marine described today’s newest veterans as ‘the next greatest generation.’ [President] Obama described them this way to the American Legion in Minneapolis: ‘A generation of innovators, they’ve changed the way America fights and wins its wars.... Never before has our nation asked so much of our volunteer force—that one percent of Americans who wear the uniform.’”

The VA Hospitals are expanding and taking on more as time goes by.

One of the reasons more Veterans are signing up for doctors and treatments at the VA Hospitals is because it costs more for health care outside of the VA if they are eligible. The number of Veterans signing up has increased 30%. That is quite a bit more than was expected. And as we all know, Veterans today are living longer than they did in the past. The VA Hospital at Mather in the City of Rancho Cordova continues to expand, and the VA is negotiating with Sacramento County to buy more property so the VA can provide more needed services to our Veterans.

Another goal of the Department of Defense and the VA is to have their separate computer records working together so both can have access to the individual Veteran’s records by 2017. I hope they are successful because too many Veterans have to wait for the two different computer records to be gathered to show the needed information about that Veteran.

The world has changed, and not always in the best way. The wars of the past are no longer somewhere else, they are knocking on our front door. Fourteen years ago today, as Alan Jackson said, “Where were you when the world stopped turning?” I think all of us know where we were.

November 11th, 2015, is Veterans Day. That’s only two months from now, and we still need to say thank you to Veterans when we meet them.

From Mayor Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time. ★

Yes, Pander to Trump on Immigration

Donald Trump’s rise in the polls is inextricably linked to the issue of immigration. He probably wouldn’t have achieved liftoff without it, and now that his campaign has entered a new phase of semi-attempted seriousness, it is fitting that an immigration plan is the first policy proposal he has committed to paper. Amid the bar-stool bombast about deporting all illegal immigrants already here is the core of a program that is more sensible than the “comprehensive” solution offered by the political establishment. What Trump offers is an entirely different framework for considering the issue. It is populist rather than elitist, and nationalist rather than cosmopolitan. It rejects the status quo rather than attempting to codify it. It puts enforcement first and dares to ask whether current high levels of legal immigration serve the country’s interest. In short, it takes a needed sledgehammer to the lazy establishment consensus on immigration. First, at the beginning of the Trump plan is a statement so uncontroversial that it should qualify as pabulum: “Real immigration reform puts the needs of working people first -- not wealthy globe-trotting donors.” Who could disagree? Second, at the heart of Trump’s written immigration-plan policy are enforcement measures that should be the lowest common denominator for Republicans: E-Verify, more Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents, an end to catch-and-release at the border, and a crackdown on sanctuary cities. They aren’t accompanied with any assurances of various pathways for illegal immigrants, and this is as it should be. Enforcement of our laws should come first, so any eventual amnesty of current illegals doesn’t draw yet another population of illegal immigrants. Finally, the written plan calls for allowing “record immigration levels to subside to more moderate historical averages.” This is an aspect of the immigration debate that almost no one else will touch. But why should we blithely accept historically high levels of legal immigration with almost no discussion? Conventional wisdom assumes that the Trump plan is a political train wreck.

The thrust of it isn’t. Byron York of the Washington Examiner points to an academic paper that recounts the public reaction to a full gamut of seven possible immigration policies, ranging from open borders to a shutdown of the border coupled with deportation of illegal immigrants. As York notes, the largest plurality, about a quarter of people, favor the strictest option. If you add in those favoring the two next most restrictive options -- basically allowing high-skilled immigration but building a wall or deporting current illegal immigrants -- you get a majority of 55 percent. A Vox analysis looked at the public-opinion data and concluded, “There is very little support for any policy that the public perceives as increasing immigration.” Trump is giving voice to a popular impulse almost entirely absent from the elite policy discussion. Other Republican candidates shouldn’t seek to mimic his witless bravado, nor should they follow him down the rabbit hole of his ill-considered fixations (like getting Mexico to pay for a border wall, or revoking birthright citizenship). But they should learn from his approach, which is a blunderbuss corrective to polite opinion.

Preparing Pets for Disaster

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: Here in Florida, we're urged to have a hurricane preparedness plan between June and November, which is traditionally hurricane season. But often emergency officials forget about pets. Can you remind readers to include their pets in any disaster planning? -- Larry in Deerfield Beach, Florida

DEAR LARRY: Absolutely! We've seen in past natural disasters like Hurricane Katrina that our pets can suffer greatly if no plan is in place for them. Dogs and cats cannot fend for themselves after a disaster. Different regions of the country can experience different issues, too. For example, the Northeast had one of its coldest, snowiest winters in almost two centuries this year. Roofs collapsed, people had trouble heating their homes and many seniors, often with pets, were stuck indoors for days on end. It was a different kind of disaster, but no less stressful for those who were displaced or suffered health issues. The Humane Society (www.humanesociety.org), American Red Cross (www.redcross.org/prepare/location/home-family/pets), Ready.gov (www.ready.gov/caring-animals) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (www.cdc.gov/features/petsanddisasters/) all have detailed information to help you prepare pets in case you have to quickly evacuate your home. Guidelines include but aren't limited to: making sure your pets' vaccinations are up to date and that they wear ID tags, license and ideally are microchipped; having a pet carrier for each pet; adding pet supplies, medications and extra leashes and collars to your disaster kit; and keeping a copy of all pet records with your critical family documents.

How to Find River Crappie

Finding crappie in rivers can be a whole lot easier if you remember that crappie rarely challenge the main flow of a river. They prefer to use eddies, slack water, and cover that breaks the current.

Speckled perch will spawn out of current in areas that warm more quickly than the main flow, with peak spawning at 66 to 70 degrees water temperature.

Vertical cover that extends from the river bottom to above the surface provides good holding places for crappie in rivers with heavy current. The heavier the current the wider the cover must be to hold them.

In rivers with slower current, trees, brush and stumps become more important as crappie holding areas. Crappie will almost always use the down current side of cover.

Executor to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. Bond is not required.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: October 6, 2015, 9:00 a.m. in Dept. No. 129 at Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. Cordova's Second Half Rally Not Enough

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In its first home game of the season at Lancer Stadium last Friday, September 4th, the Cordova High School football team was looking to play strong against non-league rival Bella Vista.

But the Broncos raced out to an early lead that led to a 21-17 win over the Lancers (1-1). Bella Vista scored a touchdown in the first and second quarters and led 14-7 at halftime.

Cordova scored its only first-half touchdown in the second quarter when quarterback Unique Perez tossed a 35-yard pass to wide receiver Devin Baldwin. That TD tied the game at 7-7. Then the Broncos took the lead for good with another score before halftime.

“They came ready to play,” said Cordova head coach Darren Nill on Bella Vista. “As the game wore on, second quarter, into the second half of the game, we started to take over.”

After Bella Vista scored its final touchdown in the third quarter to take a 21-7 lead, Cordova responded with a touchdown and safety. In the third quarter, Lancer running back Seth Trujillo crossed the plane on a one-yard rushing TD. The two-point conversion was good, trimming the Broncos’ lead to 21-15.

With five minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Lancers recorded a safety in the Broncos’ end zone when Bella Vista, deep in its own territory, was forced to punt. But the Broncos’ punter intentionally stepped out of his team’s end zone to award Cordova its final points.

Nill felt his team was going to make a come-from-behind comeback, but fell just short. What hurt the Lancers in the game were a combined three touchdown passes dropped, all in the second half.

“They were tired, they were beat up,” said Nill of the Broncos’ offense and defense units. “We were starting to have our way with them. We ran out of time. But I give Bella Vista a lot of credit; they took us out of our game right from the beginning. We made some adjustments [on defense] at half-time and we were able to climb right back in it. We never quit, which is always a good sign for a coach.”

Last night (Thursday, September 10th) Cordova played McClatchy (0-1) at Sacramento City College in the Lancers’ only Thursday night game of the season.

After last night’s game, Cordova resumes action on Saturday, September 19th when it plays at Johnson, also another non-league game. ★

Victories Adding Up for Lancer Soccer

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Tuesday, September 8th, the Cordova High School boys soccer team posted a 7-0 win over Center in a non-league road game in Antelope.

In the first half, the Lancers scored four goals for a comfortable 4-0 lead. They scored the final three in the second half.

Miguel Mendez accounted for three of the Lancers’ goals in the game. Teammate Luis Aguilar followed with two, and Eder Gomez and Mark Romanyuk had one each. Kevin Bejines and Pedro Flores split time as goalie.

Cordova 4, Capital Christian 0
Aguilar and Medina booted two goals each for the Lancers

(4-3-1). Aguilar also had an assist on Monday’s road game.

“We had a total team defensive effort,” said Cordova head coach Eric McCahon.

Jesuit 1, Cordova 0

On September 3rd on the road, Cordova hosted the No. 5 ranked high school boys soccer team in the nation by USA Today/National Soccer Coaches Association of America poll.

The huge non-league home game also included “tactical adjustments” McCahon made against the Marauders “that seemed to click everything into place,” he noted. One of the changes was putting Alex Casal to midfield with Vanexer Ramirez and Aguilar.

“The boys really rose to the occasion,” McCahon said.

Along with the defensive unit of Jose Rodriguez, Abraham Gamez, and Fernando Vasquez, the Lancers played well against Jesuit. But the Marauders found a way to get the ball into the net for the game’s lone goal.

“We came away with a tremendous amount of confidence and a lot to build on for our upcoming matches,” McCahon said.

On Thursday, September 10th, Cordova continued its non-league slate at River City. Next Tuesday, September 15th, the Lancers play at Chavez of Stockton. On Thursday, September 17th, Cordova will host Edison of Stockton. Game time is scheduled for 6 p.m. ★

END OF THE BENCH BY GERRY SCHOU
High Expectations a Byproduct of Wishful Thinking

Do you ever feel as though someone has let the air out of your football?

You always expect so much out of yourself, but you are often disappointed when you have come up short and must face the realization that it was just wishful thinking anyway.

In spring training there are thirty Major League baseball teams expecting to be contenders, or, at least, that’s what the guys hanging around the batting cage will tell you. They proceed to chase their dreams until they turn into nightmares. That happens quickly for some (Oakland A’s), later for others.

The San Francisco Giants, winners of three World Series over the last five seasons (lest we forget), meandered through an obstacle course of injuries this year and found themselves just 3 ½ games behind the West Division-leading Los Angeles Dodgers heading into a crucial three-game set in L. A. beginning August 31. Three days later, the Giants were 6 ½ out after three straight grinding one-run losses.

Going in, Giants fans and, for sure, the team were expecting to close the gap by winning two or three of those games and turn the rest of the season into a head-to-head chase down the stretch to the finish. Didn’t happen. Set to face this season’s probable Cy Young Award winner, Zack Greinke (16-3, 1.69 ERA), and three-time Cy Young winner and nemesis Clayton Kershaw (12-6, 2.18) in two of those games, it was all wishful thinking at best.

The Giants had to face that dynamic duo after losing the opener, 5-4, in 14 innings and over five hours on the field, and with minor-league call-up Mike Broadway taking the loss. Greinke and Kershaw both won 2-1 decisions to complete the deal. Greinke is now 7-0 with a 2.15 ERA in his career against the Giants, and Kershaw, who struck out 15, is 15-7 with a 1.61.

But what could you realistically expect from a fractured team, patched together with trainers’ tape, forced call-ups and virtual castoffs from other teams, going against two of the best pitchers in the game. Nobody in pro sports wants to openly admit to making excuses. They say, “Injuries are part of the game. It’s next man up.” But, sometimes, the excuses are actually reasons, because the next men up just aren’t good enough.

Since the four-game sweep earlier in Chicago against the Cubs all but eliminated the Giants from a wild card spot (which served them so well a season ago), it will take a long winning streak to get the team within reach of the Dodgers again when the teams meet for four games in the final week of the season. That’s a lot to wish for...

The Forty Niners have plenty of built in excuses (er, reasons), considering all that has been going on in the recent past, why not much should be expected of them this season. But, again, the guys will tell you that they expect to contend. We’ll soon find out if that optimism is unfounded when they take to Levi’s Stadium Monday night in the opener against Minnesota in their newfangled BLACK (?) uniforms. Don’t they believe in omens? Are they dressing for their own funeral?

The Oakland Raiders have years upon years of particularly low expectations accumulated through their recent history, but with experienced head coach Jack Del Rio (an East Bay native) taking over there is a sense of some hope for improved fortunes. Emerging quarterback Derek Carr and rookie receiver Amari Cooper, along with prize linebacker Khalil Mack, may be the type of impact players to lead the team out of its dark, black hole.

Many high expectations were dashed serious blows during the first weekend of the college football season. Virginia Tech was the only team to defeat last season’s national champion, Ohio State, 35-21 in Columbus. Lane Stadium in Blacksburg was packed and bursting at the seams for the rematch, and the Hokies (is that a sandwich, a bird, a fish, a joke, or just something somebody made up?) surprisingly took a 17-14 halftime lead...only to be crushed 42-24 in the end. Expect the Buckeyes to win it all again and Cardale Jones to be the Heisman Trophy winner...and skip all of the debate.

A lot of people thought Stanford, ranked #21, would be pretty good...lost at Northwestern, 16-6. Penn State was making a resurgence...until losing to Temple, 27-10. Nebraska, under former Oregon State coach Mike Riley, was shucked by BYU on a “Hail Brigham” pass on the final play, 33-28. (Payback to Riley for keeping Cal out of a No.-1 ranking years ago). Washington State’s Cougars (are they still in the Pac 12?) was upset by little Portland State, 24-17. Washington was feeling the blues on the blue turf at Boise State, the Huskies’ new coach Chris Peterson’s former home field, 16-13. Cal’s dream is alive, after mauling visiting Grambling State (?), 73-14.

It might be wishful thinking, but we all should be able to expect clean, honest, sportsmanlike competition from all athletes of all ages (regardless of the amount of money at stake; ha!). It must have been an honest mistake when those two Texas high school football players all but destroyed that poor referee when he wasn’t looking. And those lovable New England Patriots really know how to set a fine example to all about forthright competition. If they were playing in an old wild west poker game something terrible would’ve happened to them by now. ★

DUCKS HUNTING KEY WIN

Oregon heads to Michigan State in pivotal Pac-12 vs. Big Ten clash

OREGON AT MICHIGAN STATE

It's only Week 2, but this is an enormous game for both programs. With a win over Oregon in its back pocket, Michigan State could survive a loss to Big Ten East rival Ohio State and remain in the hunt for a College Football Playoff spot. Oregon, meanwhile, wouldn't have to run the table in the Pac-12 if it had a quality road win over Michigan State on its résumé. Both teams had to sweat a bit in Week 1 wins — Oregon gave up 549 yards to Eastern Washington in a 61–42 win, and Michigan State didn't shake pesky Western Michigan until the fourth quarter of its 37–24 win in Kalamazoo. The key will be the Spartans' ability to slow down Oregon's high-powered spread attack, which rolled up 491 yards (318 passing, 173 rushing) in the Ducks' 46–27 win in Eugene last September. The triggerman has changed — graduate transfer Vernon Adams has replaced Heisman Trophy winner Marcus Mariota at quarterback — but UO's collection of skill-position players is stronger this time around. The Ducks will give up a bunch of points. They will score more. Oregon 44-41

OKLAHOMA AT TENNESSEE

Neyland Stadium will be at a fever pitch for this intriguing non-conference showdown. Third-year Tennessee coach Butch Jones, who has stocked the program with outstanding young talent, appears to have the Volunteers on the verge of breaking out of a seven-year rut that has seen the program average only 5.7 wins per season. Beating Oklahoma, which took care of UT with ease in Norman last year, would be a tangible sign of significant progress. The Vols' offense operated at a high efficiency in a 59–30 win over Bowling Green in Nashville last week, but the defense — most notably the secondary — was a problem area. Bowling Green quarterback Matt Johnson threw for 424 yards and averaged 8.7 yards per attempt. Oklahoma took to the air in its first game under new offensive coordinator Lincoln Riley, a Mike Leach disciple with roots at Texas Tech. The Sooners threw the ball on 54.5 percent of their offensive plays in their 41–3 win over Akron; last year, they attempted a pass on only 40.1 percent of their snaps. With Tennessee's struggles defending the pass, expect another pass-happy plan of attack from Riley and the OU coaching staff. Oklahoma 33-30

LSU AT MISSISSIPPI STATE

LSU would have loved to get some work for Brandon Harris, the new starter at quarterback, but the Tigers' opener against McNeese State was cancelled due to inclement weather. Harris' only start last season against an SEC opponent was a disaster; he completed 3-of-14 passes for 52 yards in a 41–7 loss at Auburn in early October. The reports in preseason camp were all positive, but Harris — now a sophomore — will have to prove himself to a skeptical fan base that is growing frustrated by the program's inconsistency at the QB position under Les Miles. Quarterback is one spot where there are no issues for Mississippi State. Dak Prescott, a Louisiana native, is one of the few proven commodities on a Bulldog team that is replacing key personnel on both sides of the ball. Prescott was sharp in MSU's workmanlike 34–16 win at Southern Miss on Saturday night. The level of competition will be quite a bit better in Week 2. LSU 24-21

BOISE STATE AT BYU

BYU posted the most thrilling win of the opening weekend, beating Nebraska in Lincoln on a 42-yard touchdown pass on the final play of the game. That's the good news. The bad news? Standout quarterback Tay-

Sophomore running back Royce Freeman rushed for 180 yards and scored three touchdowns in the Ducks' Week 1 win over Eastern Washington.

som Hill will be sidelined for the remainder of the season with a foot injury. Tanner Mangum played well in relief, but this is a significant blow for the BYU offense. Boise State dominated Washington on the stat sheet last Thursday night but had to hold on for a 16–13 win in Chris Petersen's return to the blue turf. Ryan Finley, making his first start, completed 16-of-26 for 129 yards with no touchdowns and one interception. The Boise offense, as a unit, averaged only 4.2 yards per play. The Broncos will need to be far more efficient if they hope to flirt with a spot in a New Year's Six Bowl as the top Group of 5 team. BYU 27-20

HOUSTON AT LOUISVILLE

Throughout parts of the last two decades, these two schools were in the same conference — Conference USA (1996-2004) and the AAC (2013). Louisville is now in the ACC, one of the Big 5 conferences, while Houston remains in the AAC and part of in the Group of 5 — the term for the five "other" leagues that make up the FBS. Houston, coached by former Ohio State offensive coordinator Tom Herman, opened its season with a dominating (52–24) win over Tennessee Tech. Dual-threat quarterback Greg Ward Jr. threw for 275 yards and led the Cougars with 101 yards on the ground. Louisville rallied from a 24–0 deficit vs. Auburn but ran out of time — thanks in part to poor clock management from coach Bobby Petrino — in a 31–24 loss. The rebuilt Cards' defense limited the powerful Auburn offense to 327 total yards. That bodes well for the rest of the season — beginning this week against Houston. Louisville 33-17

Malik Zaire, QB, Notre Dame

Zaire was brilliant on the big stage Saturday night, completing 19-of-22 passes for 313 yards with three touchdowns and no interceptions to lead Notre Dame to an impressive 38–3 win over Texas. The Fighting Irish will emerge as a legitimate threat to make the College Football Playoff if Zaire — a dual-threat QB known more for his running ability — continues his strong play in the passing game.

PRIME TIME PLAYERS

Josh Rosen's debut for UCLA went quite well. The true freshman quarterback — the No. 1 recruit at his position in the nation — completed 28-of-35 passes for 351 yards and three TDs in the Bruins' 34–16 win over Virginia. ... With All-American James Conner sidelined by a knee injury (ACL), redshirt freshman Qadree Ollison stepped in and rushed for 207 yards on 16 carries in Pittsburgh's 45–37 win over Youngstown State. ... Tennessee's dynamic backfield duo of Jalen Hurd and Alvin Kamara combined for 267 yards and five touchdowns as Tennessee topped Bowling Green 59–30 in Nashville. ... Quarterback Seth Russell, the next man up at Baylor, completed only 50 percent of his passing attempts, but he threw for 376 yards and five TDs to lead the Bears to a 56–21 win over SMU. ... Northern Illinois' Kenny Golladay was the only player in the nation in Week 1 to compile more than 200 receiving yards. The junior caught nine passes for 213 yards in the Huskies' win over UNLV. ... Former Florida Gator Jeff Driskel threw four TDs and averaged 18.3 yards per attempt in his first game at Louisiana Tech. ... Marshall safety Tiquan Lang returned two interceptions for TDs and recorded 17 tackles in the Thundering Herd's 41–31 win over Purdue. ... Old Dominion sophomore Ray Lawry is the nation's leading rusher after gaining 223 yards in the Monarch's 38–34 win at Eastern Michigan.

STOCK REPORT

A Northwestern was one of the most impressive teams in Week 1, recording a 16–6 win over Stanford in Evanston, Ill. The Wildcats' defense limited Stanford to 240 total yards and forced three turnovers. Sophomore tailback Justin Jackson led the way for the Cats' offense with 134 yards rushing.

V Year 2 of the James Franklin era is not off to a promising start. The Nittany Lions were manhandled by in-state foe Temple en route to a 27–10 loss in Philadelphia. Quarterback Christian Hackenberg completed only 11 passes and was sacked 10 times. Temple had lost 31 straight games to Penn State.

A Arkansas has proven it can bulldoze opponents with its running game. Now, the Razorbacks look like they have the passing attack to match. Quarterback Brandon Allen was ultra-efficient against UTEP, completing 14-of-18 passes for 308 yards with four TDs and no INTs in a 48–13 win.

V Texas' miserable offensive effort — the Horns managed only 163 yards against Notre Dame — was the talk of the opening weekend, but the UT defense, so formidable last season, was torched for 527 yards (7.0 per play) in Saturday night's 38–3 loss in South Bend.

CASE: Fabian Pozos
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Darren Goodman

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that the Honorable Russell Hom sentenced 23-year-old Fabian Pozos to 26 years to life in prison. On August 4, 2015, a jury convicted Pozos of first-degree murder and found the use of a knife allegation to be true.

Pozos lived in an apartment next door to Maurice Lynch at a housing facility operated by Volunteers of America. At around midnight on June 21, 2014, Pozos was inside Mr. Lynch's apartment with other guests. Pozos was being aggressive with a female guest and Mr. Lynch confronted him. After a brief altercation, Pozos threatened to kill Mr. Lynch and other guests before going back to his apartment. Pozos retrieved a knife from his apartment and confronted Mr. Lynch, who was on his way to alert staff at the facility of Pozos' behavior. Pozos stabbed Mr. Lynch in the chest, puncturing his heart. He died minutes later.

CASE: Enrique Calles
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Omar Singh, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that 19-year-old Enrique Calles was convicted by jury of rape of an intoxicated person, rape of an unconscious person, and annoying or molesting a child.

On May 4, 2015, the 16-year-old victim attended a house party in Galt. As the night went on, she became increasingly intoxicated. Calles helped her to an upstairs bedroom for her to sleep for the night. He returned to the room a short time later and had sex with the victim while she was unconscious. She was found a short time later by her friends and was described as appearing to be dead, or near dead, and barely breathing. The victim remembered the distinct voice and words used by Calles, and his DNA was left on her neck during the sexual assault.

Calles faces a maximum potential sentence of eight years in prison. Sentencing is set for October 19, 2015, at 9 a.m. in Department 44 before the Honorable Christopher Kreuger.

CASE: Elizabeth Radmand
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Morgan Forrest, Special Investigations Unit

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that 63-year-old Elizabeth Radmand pled no contest to grand theft and making false entries in records. She also admitted to enhanced taking and aggravated white collar crime allegations.

Radmand was a trusted employee at the Polam Federal Credit Union between 1993 and 2010. She used her position of trust to steal approximately $141,000. In order to conceal her theft, Radmand falsified bank documents. When she was caught, she made up a story that the credit union had been burglarized by two men.

The Honorable Laurel White sentenced Radmand to three years in state prison and ordered her to pay $180,142 in restitution.

CASE: Daniel White & Marcel Johnson
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Monica Robinson, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that 21-year-old Daniel White and 20-year-old Marcel Johnson were convicted by the Court of multiple counts of lewd acts with a child under 14; human trafficking of a child under 14; using a minor to pose for child pornography; and furnishing marijuana, methamphetamine, and cocaine to a minor.

From April 30, 2014, to May 6, 2014, Johnson and White persuaded a 13-year-old girl to leave her home and prostitute for them. Within an hour of driving away from her house, they both sexually assaulted her. The defendants rented a motel room and took sexually explicit photos of her to post on a prostitution website. They prostituted the victim to more than 20 men. White gave the victim marijuana, methamphetamine, and cocaine to lower her inhibitions. Sacramento Police Department detectives with the Safe Streets Task Force discovered the online advertisement for the victim, who was reported missing by her family. Detectives posed as a "John" and found the victim in a Sacramento motel room.

White faces a maximum potential sentence of 43 years, eight months in prison. Johnson faces a maximum potential sentence of 38 years in prison. Sentencing is scheduled for November 6, 2015, in Department 15 before the Honorable Kevin McCormick. ★
