Local Schools Earn IB Authorization

RANCHO CORDOVA. CA (MPG) - Folsom Cordova Unified School District's Cordova High and Mitchell Middle schools are the latest campuses in the region to be designated an acclaimed International Baccalaureate (IB) World School offering the Middle Years Programme (MYP) to local students in grades 6-10.

The IB MYP program is an internationally recognized rigorous academic pathway that prepares students to make an impact in the world around them through non-traditional hands-on learning. IB connects classroom learning with the real world, developing well-rounded independent thinkers ready for the global economy.

In addition to MYP, Cordova High School

also offers the IB Diploma Programme for students in grades 11-12. Earning an IB Diploma is an opportunity for students to demonstrate to selective universities they are prepared for the challenges of college and beyond.

"We're developing young learners into future leaders, and the IB program provides our students with world-class academic opportunities," said Superintendent Deborah Bettencourt. "We're thrilled to be kicking off the school year with this news."

To receive IB authorization, Cordova and Mitchell have undergone an intensive multiyear implementation that has included new curriculum, teacher and staff training, and course additions.

All students at Mitchell Middle School and students in grade 9-10 at Cordova High participate in MYP coursework. Cordova High was authorized to offer the Diploma Programme in 2014. Since then, the number of students taking Diploma Programme courses has continued to grow.

"Our teachers and staff at Cordova and Mitchell have worked tirelessly to create a comprehensive IB program that prepares our students for a rapidly evolving world," said Cordova High Principal Dan Anklam.

Flash Back to the 80s

Music fans look back to the 80s with nostalgia, and "Flock of 80z" will bring that decade to life on August 21st.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Lace gloves, skinny ties, rubber bracelets, and headbands—all are icons of the 1980s pop culture scene that brought with it some of the favorite music of all time.

More than 30 years later, music fans look back to the 80s with nostalgia as a time when pop, dance, and new wave music emerged and genres like Thrash Metal to Glam Metal were making it big.

Rancho Cordova concertgoers can live it all again at the Cordova Community Council's Friday Night Concert on August 21st as "Flock of 80z" brings to life this fun decade of sound on the Village Green Amphitheater stage.

As a musical phenomenon, 80s music is most remembered for an increase in digital recording, synthesizers, and other electronic tricks. With so much happening with music and emerging new sounds, the technology used to produce the music improved.

One thing is certain: 80s music remains popular, topping a 2010 survey by Music Choice, which revealed it to be the most favored tune decade of the last 50 years.

Admission to Village Green Park (3141 Bridgeway Drive) is free of charge and music starts at 7 p.m. The preliminaries begin at 6 p.m., so come early to grab a great spot for your blanket or lawn chairs. Visit www.cordovacouncil.org and follow the links to hear a sampling of the "Flock of 80z," and check out other upcoming bands.

Here's the line-up:

- August 21st: Flock of 80z (Pop from the 80s)
- August 28th: Cripple Creek Band (Country)
- ·September 4th: Superlicious (Rancho Cordova's favorite party band)

Special thanks to concert series sponsors: City of Rancho Cordova, Folsom Cordova Unified School District, The Art of Popcorn, SMUD, Cordova Recreation and Park District, Wing Stop, Beazer Homes, Republic Services, Heritage Community Credit Union, Atlas Disposal, Kids Care Dental, and Cordova Community Council.

"We want to recognize and celebrate all of the Officer-Involved Shooting in Rancho Cordova RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) -At 4:40 a.m. on August 18th, the Sacramento Sheriff's Communications Center received a call from a man who reported hearing voices taunting him from across the street of his residence within the 11200 block of Point East Drive in Rancho Cordova. Once the dispatched officer arrived, he determined the subject to be intoxicated but able to care for himself, creating no threat to himself or others.

As the dispatched officer was exiting the apartment into a dimly a 10-year veteran with the lit, self-enclosed stairwell, he encountered a darkened figure at the base of the stairwell who he believed was holding a weapon. The dispatched officer fired one shot from his duty weapon at the subject, who turned out to be a second uniformed officer responding to provide cover. The second officer was fortunately uninjured as the round missed him and lodged into the stairwell door frame nearby.

The dispatched officer is Sacramento Sheriff's Department currently assigned to the Rancho Cordova Police Department. He has been removed from his enforcement assignment until investigators can discover more information on the circumstances of the shooting and determine what, if any, administrative actions are necessary.

Photographs of the suspect vehicle were captured by a nearby surveillance camera moments before the shooting occurred. (Please note: the quality of the video did not allow a clear view of the license plate). The vehicle is described as a light grey or silver 2015 Hyundai Sonata fourdoor sedan. The vehicle appears to be a stock model with no additional window tint. There is also a shark fin antenna attached in the center of the rear window near the roof line.

It is still unknown what the relationship was between the victim and the suspects. Crash Leaves One Dead, One Injured

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - At off of the roadway, leaving him approximately 10:45 a.m. on August 14th, a vehicle accident occurred at the intersection of White Rock Road and Luyung Drive. The collision took place when a passenger vehicle with two male occupants struck a power pole at the aforementioned location. Preliminary investigation suggested that the driver of the car was travelling eastbound on White Rock Road when he lost control of the vehicle and ended up across the roadway on the westbound side. He then struck a power pole just trapped inside the vehicle and his male passenger injured.

Emergency responders had to extricate the driver, a man in his mid-20s, from the car. He was transported to a local hospital, where he later died as a result of his injuries. The passenger of the vehicle, another male in his mid-20s, was treated at the scene for minor injuries.

This accident is being investigated by the Rancho Cordova Police Department's (RCPD) Traffic Unit. It is believed that speed may have been a factor, but additional information is being sought from persons who may have witnessed the incident. Anyone having information related to this crash is asked to contact the RCPD Traffic Unit at (916) 875-9623.

The identity of the victim in this case will be released by the Sacramento County Coroner's Office after proper notification has been made to his next of kin.

After sending last week's column to the paper, I realized that I left out one of my grandsons. Billy is going to Mitchell Middle School this year so he is also experiencing quite a change in his life. When you go from an elementary school to a middle school, everything changes. At least it seems that way to him. So three of the four boys changed schools this year. And I was wrong about the grandson who is going to the classroom his dad was in; I was correct about the classroom, but his first grade son is in it, not his third grade son. (The boys know if grandpa is wrong, so I corrected my mistake.) Their sister (Scarlett) is two months old on the fifteenth of this month, so her job for now is just to look cute (and she does).

more complicated than they already are. I hope to see you at our next Mayor's Walk this Saturday, August 22nd at Sunrise Elementary School; refreshments start at 8:30 a.m. and the walk starts at 9 a.m.

Speaking of school, I received a call from a homeowner in the Anatolia neighborhood, and she wanted to know why that part of our City has to be in another school district. Her granddaughter is picked up at 6 a.m. in the morning and is brought back home at 4:30 p.m. I told her that part of the City of Rancho Cordova is with the Elk Grove Unified School District and was part of that school district before we became a City or before a single home was built. I agreed about her granddaughter who has special needs. It would be better for everyone in her family if she could get an inter-district transfer and go to the Folsom Cordova Unified School District. She said that her request has been denied two times, but she will try again anyway. I hope the third time is a charm for her and her granddaughter.

El Nino is becoming more powerful according to the meteorologists. It may actually break the back of the drought "IF" it does what El Nino did in 1997. At least some of the "experts" are waiting until the rain comes down and the reservoirs are full before they will absolutely state that is a fact and that is what WILL happen this coming rainy season. I don't know what we can expect this fall or winter or spring any more than the next person, but none of us want the flooding or devastation that happened in California

We watch what the weather does back east, and the people back east watch the weather (and the fires) here in the west. Many people have family members scattered across the country, and there isn't much vou can do but hope for the best. I know quite a few people in Rancho Cordova who have friends and family members around the world because our City has such a diverse population. We are all just human, and all we can do is keep watch and contact those we know and care about.

We have so much to be happy about here in the City of Rancho Cordova. Just look at the wonderful changes we have been able to make. There were some things that we will worry about, of course, like the weather. But most of the time what we are worrying about an hour ago isn't worth the heartburn it gives us. What were you worrying about yesterday? Or as E. Joseph Cossman said, "If you want to test your memory, try to recall what you were worrying about one year ago today."

From Mayor Bob Mcgarvey, God bless, and see you next

MEMORIAM

Brayton Walters December 2, 1991 - July 31, 2015

near Truckee, CA. Brayton was a stellar student with two degrees and a hard-working young man. He graduated from Cordova High School in 2010 and was attending American River College while working for Tony's Fine Foods with his brother Taylor and his father Tom. Brayton was scheduled to join the Coast Guard, as he wanted to serve others, as he has done many of times in the community.

Brayton enjoyed playing Football, but found his true passion in playing Rugby and the friends and family it brought him. He loved nothing more than building up his Toyota and to be in the outdoors wheel'n in the snow, rock crawling, fishing, camping and enjoying his time spent with his family and friends laughing, joking and hanging around the campfire.

Brayton loved his family and was considered a leader within the family by his brothers. Some might say he was a Mama's Boy but he was his Dad's Proud Young Man as well.

Brayton is preceded in death by his mother, Mindy Walters who passed less than a year ago on August 24, 2014. Brayton is survived by his father Tom Walters, his brothers Taylor and Austin Walters, his grandparents Herb & Ruth Walters (Eagle Lake, CA), Rita Granada (Pacific Palisades, CA) and Leroy Martinez (Anguilla, BWI), girlfriend Zuray (Suedy) Perez (Rancho Cordova, CA), and aunt Melissa (Michael) Riner of (Castaic, CA), Karen (Barry) Cohen of (Pacific Palisades, CA); Nephews Ian (Danica) Riner of (Valencia CA), Aaron Riner (Castaic CA), Max Cohen; nieces Elise Riner of (Santa Clarita, CA) and Arielle Cohen.

A celebration of Brayton Walters's life is set for September 19, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. Information will be posted to his Facebook page where the brothers have asked to see any photos and to share any comments from those whose lives have been touched by Brayton.

THE RICH LOWRY COLUMN

By Rich Lowry

Killing Cecil

"Until the lion tells his side of the story, the tale of the hunt will always glorify the hunter."

-- African proverb

On the ledger of global outrages, the killing of Cecil the lion outside of a Zimbabwe national park should barely register.

What is the fate of one big cat compared with the civil wars and human-rights abuses that fill the headlines -- or should fill the headlines -- every day? Even in Zimbabwe alone, where grotesque misgovernance is the rule, the death of one lion should hardly be a blip.

And yet the animal's shooting by a Minnesota dentist, Walter Palmer, has evoked a fierce reaction. Some of it is hysterical and insipid. Palmer shouldn't be personally ruined, let alone brought up on war-crimes charges, as some seem to suggest. The outpouring over this particular cat is, in part, based on the childish anthropomorphism of his having a name, Cecil, after Cecil Rhodes, the British imperialist and founder of Rhodesia, subsequently Zimbabwe.

Nonetheless, at the core of the outrage is a natural and healthy revulsion at the wanton destruction of an animal of great majesty. The regal self-possession of the lion stands in stark contrast to the tawdriness of Walter Palmer's hunt.

There was the money-grubbing -- he reportedly paid about $50,000 for the privilege of killing one of the beasts. There was the unseemly baiting of the animal to lure it out of the sanctuary of Hwange National Park. There was the cruel incompetence of his method -- supposedly wounding it with a bow, then tracking the creature for another 40 hours before completing the kill with a gun. And there was the casual butchery after the fact -- beheading the cat and leaving its carcass to vultures and other scavengers.

When it emerged that the lion he had killed was Cecil, a popular fixture long tracked by researchers, Palmer issued a statement saying he had no idea that the lion he "took" (although he won't be giving it back) was a local favorite. As if it would be OK to wound and hunt down over two days some pitifully unpopular and anonymous lion.

Trophy hunters like Palmer have a passion for killing polar bears and the like. There is no accounting for taste, but surely there are other engrossing hobbies that don't involve shooting the planet's most stunning creatures.

Anti-poaching laws, which might have been broken in this case, should be as tightly enforced as possible, and the act of killing a glorious beast for a photo with his carcass and a stuffed head on the wall back home should be considered the shameful waste that it is.

None of this is to say that lions in particular should be sentimentalized. They are man-eaters whose social life is Hobbesian in the extreme. They also are a wonder of nature whose numbers are dwindling. We can disagree about the exact parameters of our obligations to the animal kingdom, but surely going out of our way to slay a creature like Cecil the lion should be out of bounds.

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: You recently updated readers about ways to help pets, including volunteering at shelters. Another place to volunteer is at an assisted-living, or seniorcare, facility. Many residents have their pets and sometimes aren't able to exercise them enough, and they appreciate someone to take their pets on walks or to help bathe them. There is even a need of "babysitting" if the owner goes in for a procedure.

-- David P., via email

DEAR DAVID: That's a great idea! While not all assisted-living facilities permit pets, many do, since they often have residential facilities in which the residents have varying levels of independence.

Most facilities have a volunteer coordinator; if not, there's always an activities director. Contact information for a facility near you can be found on the Web or in the local phone book. According to AARP's Create the

Volunteerism Revisited

Good organization, senior-care facilities have a great need for volunteers at many levels, from simple visits to say hello to more involved care or administrative assistance. To volunteer, you generally will need to pass a background check and follow the facility's regulations about visits and volunteer activities, including pet care. You can learn more at www.createthegood.org.

If there isn't a pet-friendly senior-care facility in your area, you still can reach out to seniors in your community. Talk to seniors that you know in the neighborhood on a regular basis to make sure things are going OK, and ask if they ever need free pet-sitting from time to time. Or, look for senior-care organizations locally and ask if their clients have pet-care needs.

Send your questions or tips to ask@pawscorner.com.

A travel plan might need to undergo some considerable adjustment because of unexpected changes. Keep an open mind and let the facts guide you on how you want to handle this.

- ▶ It was noted 18th-century German scientist, philosopher and satirist Georg Christoph Lichtenberg who made the following sage observation: "It is almost impossible to carry the torch of truth through a crowd without singeing somebody's beard."
- ▶ The lyrics to that favorite Irish ballad "O Danny Boy" were actually written by an Englishman.
- ▶ Famed comedic actor Charlie Chaplin was born in England, but at the age of 19 he came to the United States as a performer with the prestigious Fred Karno company. Interestingly, Stan Laurel, of Laurel and Hardy fame, emigrated to the U.S. at the same time, as part of the same company -- as Chaplin's understudy.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

Marion Cotillard in "Two Days, One Night"

"Aloha" (PG-13) - Defense contractor Brian (Bradley Cooper) has to close an important deal, face his past mistakes, fall in love, reconcile with his ex-wife, learn about Hawaiian culture and stand up to the military-industrial complex in this jumbled joyfest from Cameron Crowe ("Jerry MaGuire," "Almost Famous"). While on business in Hawaii -- his former home -- Brian is paired up with a perky Air Force liaison (Emma Stone). They are soon in love, but there are a bunch more subplots in the way, including ones with Alec Baldwin, Bill Murray, Rachel Mc-Adams and John Krasinski.

It's always a wonderful sign when a famous director publicly apologizes to a star for casting her in his movie. The film already had a pall over it on its premiere, since leaked Sony emails showed the studio was none too pleased with early looks at the movie.

"Where Hope Grows" (PG-13) - Calvin (Kristoffer Polaha) had his chance in the majors, then choked under pressure and left the league in disgrace. Now he's a washed-up alcoholic whose boozy antics have wrecked every relationship in his life, and his daughter (McK-aley Miller) has taken the brunt of it. On his way to rock bottom, Calvin finds friendship with a grocery store worker nicknamed Produce (David DeSanctis, a young man with Down Syndrome in his first acting role), whose endearing positivity is the opposite of Calvin's wallowing.

Polaha and DeSanctis develop a real screen chemistry, never seeming wooden or forced. While the movie has this interesting dynamic, the trajectory of Calvin's soul is made clear pretty early on when it's shown that Produce is a devout churchgoer and carries a Bible with him everywhere he goes.

"Two Days, One Night" (PG-13) -- After taking a medical leave from her job manufacturing solar panels, Sandra (Marion Cotillard) returns to find that her job is up for a vote: her co-workers must decide whether Sandra is let go or if they keep their 1,000 euro annual bonus. Actually, they already decided to let Sandra go, but she pleads for a re-do, giving her one weekend to convince enough co-workers to change their vote. Cotillard brings an amazing performance that has already stirred up awards both abroad and in the U.S.

"Citizenfour" (R) - This film is the most up-close look we have at Edward Snowden, one of the most wanted and influential people of our day. A government contractor and computer-security specialist, Snowden leaked a mountain of classified information that continues to reverberate through the global stage. Back in 2013, documentary filmmaker and Pulitzer Prize-winner Laura Poitras started receiving anonymous messages hinting at huge revelations related to government surveillance. Later, Poitras and journalist Glenn Greenwald started meeting with the enigmatic source. This rare and engaging glimpse at a polarizing and still-relevant figure is worth checking out.

Cordova Football Preparing for Scrimmage

Story by Mike Bush Photos by Raelynn Flippo

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, August 22nd, the Cordova High School football team will be in action at Lancer Stadium. The Lancers will scrimmage Capital Christian High School football squad starting at 9 a.m. This will give first-year Cordova head coach Darren Nill and his coaching staff an opportunity to see what his 43-player roster can do against the always-tough Cougars.

Here's a look at the Lancers on both sides of the ball:

Returning to guide the Lancers' offense is quarterback Unique Perez, who completed 125 of 212 passes for 1,659 yards and 16 touchdowns last fall. He was also an all-Sierra Valley Conference (SVC) first team selection.

"Unique understands our offense much better than he did last year," said Nill, whose squad will continue to run the shotgun spread offense. "He is seeing the field much better and taking what the defense is giving him. He is very comfortable with all his receivers and throws to all with confidence. He's matured as a player and a leader.'

Lancer receivers are Isaac Black and Devin Baldwin, who had 42 receptions for 886 yards and seven touchdowns last fall. Black was 13-161 last season. "Passing game and versatile offense that defenses should find hard to zero in on," Nill said.

On the ground, Cordova will be led by running back Seth Trujillo, who had 69 carries for 425 yards and three touchdowns last fall.

Newcomers for the Lancers are juniors Trevor Chew (receiver) and running backs Kenny Haney and Terrill Johnson.

Two Cordova football players, Damian Jackson (right) and Albert Garcia, battle in a tackling drill in

The offensive line will be anchored by returning players Max Mudrow and Albert Garcia. Juniors moving up to the varsity squad to help the line are Fidel Romero, Michael Gonzalez, and Joseph Salcedo. Deante McCullough is a transfer and is expected to join the Lancers' receiving core.

'This offense is capable of scoring a lot of points when we execute," Nill said. "We are a younger team than last year and our guys are figuring out that every play counts. I think offensively we will be fun to watch.'

Defense

Four players return to run Cordova's 4-3 base set: defensive lineman Chance Manzanares, defensive backs Mathew Giles and Sam Nawalu (who had 26 tackles last season), and free safety Isaac Black. Manzanares followed Nawalu in tackles with 19. Giles and Nawalu were all-SVC second team picks Newcomers for the Lancers are linemen Fidel Romero and Clifford Bright, a sophomore moved up from the Cordova frosh/soph squad. Linebackers are Gonzalez, Haney, and Jacob Yang, another sophomore. In the secondary are Brian Estrada, Johnson, and McCullough.

"We are so young everywhere else that it's easy to pick our secondary as a strength," Nill said. "[Giles and Nawalu] are both playing with a heightened sense of confidence and they are eager to help the younger players. Terrill Johnson plays strong safety exceptionally well. We have a battle at free safety with four players [Estrada, Black, Chew, McCullough] vying for playing time. We have some fine young linebackers made up of very hardworking and eager to learn."

Cordova quarterback Unique Perez rolls out of the pocket to find a receiver in Monday's practice.

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) More than 100 Rancho Cordova football players ranging from the smallest Jr. Lancer to one who made it all the way to the Super Bowl gathered on the Village Green Amphitheater Stage Saturday night for "Meet the Lancers," kicking off the Coach Nill era of Big Red Football.

Hundreds of supporters gathered as former Denver Broncos running back and Cordova High School alumnus Gerald Wilhite shared the stage with the current crop of teammates for an evening of pep talks, team introductions, cheerleaders, and Lancer pride—highlighted by Wilhite's

There is not much to it. It's just parenting techniques --- that also Let the kids decide where to place of wood that has a gold-painted metal figurine of a baseball player in a batting stance mounted on top. The whole thing stands a bit over six inches tall, that's all. It has a tiny metal plate on the front that is engraved with an abbreviation of the school, followed by "Frosh," the year "1966" and a

If it wasn't for that trophy it would be me who had had that 14-year major-league baseball career that included 124 pitching victories (I think I could've done better). It would be me calling those San Francisco Giants games on television, not that darn Mike Krukow. I suppose Kruk's dad would've thrown a trophy like mine right into the trash. That stinking little "participation trophy" has caused untold (until now) psychological damage to my very soul and has had an everlasting, debilitating effect on my entire life on this planet since I was fourteen (can't you tell?). James Harrison --- once the Defensive Player of the Year in the NFL, a Super Bowl champ, an All Pro linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers --- has two sons, ages six and eight. He may have saved his two little boys from lifetimes of regret by taking away and returning their "participation trophies" that they recently received and posting the whole situation on Instagram for all the world to digest. Or, perhaps, pop overreacted, like so many others

Harrison's family values have created a bit of a stir throughout many media outlets. Many people seem to agree kids should not receive trophies for just showing up. Harrison said his boys didn't "earn" their awards. "(They) aren't entitled to something just because they tried their best... cause sometimes your best is not enough." Harrison has received quite a bit of support for his

a little two-inch-square nice piece included making it all available the value. for public consumption.

This is a guy who, as noted on Deadspin, "...once beat up his girlfriend, smashed down a door, and broke her cell phone to prevent her from calling the cops over an argument about the baptism of his older son." Great techniques. Did he get an award for that?

After the Steelers won Super Bowl XLIII, Harrison elected to skip the team's White House visit, arguing that if Arizona had won the game the Cardinals would have been invited instead. He was quoted as saying, "This is how I feel --- if you want to see the Pittsburgh Steelers, invite us when we don't win the Super Bowl." But James, you are not entitled to the invite if you lose.

Oh, and by the way James, do you really think you have "earned" the millions you have made playing football, or are the television executives largely responsible for the money you and your cohorts make nowadays? Do you and your fellow Pro Bowlers deserve any awards or extra paychecks when you decline to play in that game even when it includes a free trip to Hawaii? You should only receive those things when you show up. And how many of you wore a varsity block letter in high school for participation in sports, win or lose? And why do so many stars show up for those ridiculous ESPY Awards?

Should your kid grow up under pressure, believing he must become an All Pro or he deserves no recognition? Should he grow up like Gaylord Focker, with a Wall of Gaylord shrine with a vast array of participation awards and plaques for tenth-place finishes? Keep it somewhere in between.

Give your kids some credit for knowing the difference between a "participation" trinket and a championship or MVP trophy.

My little trophy has been in a box in the garage for almost fifty years along with a few other things. There's a little handful of those old Little League pins that you got each year to put on your cap. Looking at them reminds me of the teams I played on, of some of the players and coaches, and some personal highlights. Without those pins, I would never think of those things. There are three championship ribbons from the city grammar school Christmas basketball tournaments; but they don't mean a lot because our school, that played in an organized league, always dominated by lopsided margins over teams put together in short order. More meaningful is a second-place elementary school intramural ribbon because, as a team captain, a point was made to choose that kid that nobody ever wanted on their team, and our team taught him to play a little. There are a few other mementos around collecting dust that are cheap pieces of junk that carry their worth in the form of treasured memories. Whenever I visit one lifelong friend I can spot a duplicate of that silly "Frosh" trophy resting as an inconspicuous bookend, though in plain view. A shared memory. That team started out losing its first nine games and we were trailing a better team when our coach looked down to the end of the bench. Miraculously, we rallied. I threw three shutout innings and my buddy made a game-saving catch for that elusive first win. And don't you ever forget it!

In closing, you are welcome to cut this column out of you newspaper, save it with your other memorabilia, or maybe even frame it and hang it in the garage as a souvenir of our special time together. Thank you so much for participating.

Believe the hype: Top prospects are delivering

Sluggers Bryant, Schwarber shining bright for surging Cubs

eams across baseball appear to be valuing their top prospects more than ever, and at the same time, the prospects themselves are getting increased coverage across the media.

The 2015 season seems to be the Year of the Prospect, with nearly every notable prospect getting called up to the majors: 26 of the top 50 prospects according to Baseball America and 11 of the top 15 have appeared in at least one game this season.

Although they have only just begun their careers, some have made big impacts on playoff contenders. Here's a quick look at how Baseball America's top-50 prospects have performed this season to date. The numbers listed are the players' rankings before the season.

1. Kris Bryant, Cubs

Bryant is the frontrunner for NL Rookie of the Year, leading rookies in WAR (4.1) and on-base percentage (.362) with big power. Grade: A

2. Byron Buxton, Twins

Buxton only lasted 11 games before landing on the DL with a thumb injury and has since been optioned back to Triple-A. He was hitting only .189/.231/.270. Grade: C

3. Addison Russell, Cubs

Russell has shifted from second base to shortstop, taking over for the struggling Starlin Castro. Grade: B

4. Carlos Correa, Astros

Correa has lit the world on fire, hitting .286/.357/.540 with strong defense. He leads all shortstops in WAR prorated for a full season. Grade: A+

6. Joey Gallo, Rangers

Gallo has displayed his massive power but has also struck out 43.9 percent of the time. Normally a third baseman, he's played outfield to keep his bat in the lineup. Grade: B-8. Joc Pederson, Dodgers

Pederson leads all rookies in home runs (22) and is second in walk rate (15.8 percent), which makes up for his .217 batting average. Grade: A-

9. Francisco Lindor, Indians

Strong defense and good on-base skills (.296 batting average and .329 on-base percentage) at 21 are extremely impressive. Grade: A-

11. Noah Syndergaard, Mets

He's striking out more than a batter an inning, and his peripheral numbers (3.10 FIP) match his impressive ERA (3.07). Grade: A

12. Jorge Soler, Cubs

His power-speed combination hasn't showed at all, but he's gotten on base at a solid rate (.270 average and .327 on-base percentage). Grade: C+

13. Miguel Sano, Twins His bat is everything it was advertised to be (.279/.392/.533), but he's played almost all his games at DH, which hurts his value. Grade: B+ 15. Carlos Rodon, White Sox

He made his MLB debut 10 months after being drafted third overall but has struggled to a 4.51 ERA, although he has 9.92 K/9. Grade: C+

17. Blake Swihart, Red Sox Called up because Boston had no other catcher options. Swihart's defense has been fine, but his bat (.258/.291/.347) has struggled. Grade: C+

18. Daniel Norris, Tigers

Norris was the centerpiece of the David Price trade but has struggled with his command, ending up with a 4.24 ERA. Grade: C+

19. Kyle Schwarber, Cubs

He's been so good (.315/.403/.586) that the Cubs have benched Starlin Castro and Miguel Montero to keep his bat in the order. Grade: A-

21. Rusney Castillo, Red Sox

He's spent most of the season in Triple-A, but since he was recently called up, he's hitting .339/.373/.518. Grade: B

24. Jon Gray, Rockies

A strict pitch limit has held Gray to 15 innings over three starts, although he's been very effective with a 2.40 ERA and 8.40 K/9. Grade: B

27. Aaron Sanchez, Blue Jays

His ERA (3.30) has been good, but his low strikeout numbers (6.0 K/9) and high walk rate (4.5 BB/9) are concerning. Grade: B+

30. Dalton Pompey, Blue Jays

Pompey was hitting so poorly (.193/.264/.337) that he was demoted at the start of May and hasn't been called up since. Grade: D+

Kris Bryant, who began the season as the top prospect in baseball, has hit 16 home runs with 66 RBIs since being called up by the Cubs in mid-April.

32. Michael Taylor, White Sox

He's been great defensively with nine runs saved and has 15 steals, but his bat (.243/.287/.380) is lagging behind. Grade: B

33. Steven Matz, Mets

Matz made only two starts before landing on the DL with a torn muscle in his back, but he was very effective with a 1.32 ERA. Grade: B

34. Matt Wisler, Braves

Wisler has struggled over 10 starts with a 4.74 ERA, poor strikeout numbers (5.8 K/9) and a low ground ball rate (34.4 percent). Grade: C 35. Luis Severino, Yankees

Severino has been solid over three starts with a 3.18 ERA and an equally impressive 9.5 K/9 and 2.1 BB/9. Grade: B

37. Steven Souza, Rays Souza is third among rookies with 15 home runs despite missing 22 games due to hand injuries. His .214 batting average and .303 on-base percentage aren't great. Grade: B-

39. Aaron Nola, Phillies His command is as advertised (1.8 BB/9), but his high rate of allowing home runs (13.3 per fly ball) has led to his bloated 4.25 ERA. Grade: B-

42. Andrew Heaney, Angels Heaney has allowed two or fewer runs in all but one start, and his good control has helped him to a 2.53 ERA despite few strikeouts. Grade: A-

44. Henry Owens, Red Sox

One terrible start out of three ballooned his ERA to 6.19, but he does have a 9.6 K/9 and 3.4 BB/9. Grade: B-

DUI Checkpoint Planned This Weekend

The Rancho Cordova Police Department Traffic Unit will be conducting a DUI/Driver's License Checkpoint on August 22nd at an undisclosed location within the city limits between the hours of 7 p.m. and 2 a.m. DUI checkpoints are a proven enforcement tool effective in reducing the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol-involved crashes. Research shows that crashes involving alcohol drop by an average of 20% when well-publicized checkpoints are conducted often enough.

Officers will be contacting drivers passing through the checkpoint for signs of alcohol and/or drug impairment. Officers will also check for proper licensing and will strive to delay motorists only momentarily. Drivers caught driving impaired can expect jail, license suspension, and insurance increases, as well as fines, fees, DUI classes, and other expenses that can exceed $10,000.

"Over the course of the past three years, DUI collisions have claimed three lives and resulted in 44 injury crashes harming 66 of our friends and neighbors," said Sgt. McCamy of the Rancho Cordova Police Department Traffic Unit.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), checkpoints have provided the most effective documented results of any of the DUI enforcement strategies, while also yielding considerable cost savings of $6 for every $1 spent. Checkpoints are placed in locations that have the greatest opportunity for achieving drunk and drugged driving deterrence and provide the greatest safety for officers and the public

"Deaths from drunk and drugimpaired driving are going down in California," said Christopher J. Murphy, Director of the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS). "But that still means that hundreds of our friends, family, and co-workers are killed each year, along with tens of thousands who are seriously injured. We must all continue to work together to bring an end to these tragedies. If you see a drunk driver, please call 911."

Funding for this checkpoint is provided to Rancho Cordova Police Department by a grant from OTS, through the NHTSA, targeting those who still don't heed the message to designate a sober driver.
