Friday is Motown Night at Village Green

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

- When music legend Berry Gordy launched his special blend of cool in a small studio in Detroit more than a halfcentury ago, it would have been impossible to predict that "Motown" music would become an irresistible force of social and cultural change.

But decades later, the music of Diana Ross and the Supremes, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, Stevie Wonder, Marvin Gaye, Michael Jackson, and many other superstars are still touching people around the world.

Rancho Cordova concertgoers can live it all again at the Cordova Community Council's Friday Night Concert on August 14th as Nathan Owens brings to life the classic sounds of Motown on the Village Green Amphitheater stage.

The label launched an incredible number of stars, including Gladys Knight and Pips, Lionel Richie and Commodores, and the Temptations, eventually moving to Los Angeles and becoming one of the most enduring American musical styles in history. Motown had more than 180 number one hits worldwide and still influences music ranging from pop to hip-hop.

IRS Warns Taxpayers About New Tricks by Scam Artists

Victims of These Scams Report Losses Totaling Over $20 Million

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -

Following the emergence of new variations of widespread tax scams, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has issued another warning to taxpayers to remain on high alert and protect themselves against the everevolving array of deceitful tactics scammers use to trick people.

These schemes—which can occur over the phone, in emails, or through letters with authenticlooking letterhead—try to trick taxpayers into providing personal financial information or scare people into making a false tax payment that ends up going to the criminal.

The Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA) has received reports of roughly 600,000 contacts since October 2013. TIGTA is also aware of more than 4,000 victims who have collectively reported over $20 million in financial losses as a result of tax scams.

"We continue to see these aggressive tax scams across the country," IRS Commissioner John Koskinen said. "Scam artists specialize in being deceptive and fooling people. The IRS urges taxpayers to be extra cautious and think twice before answering suspicious phone calls, emails, or letters."

Scammers posing as IRS agents first targeted those they viewed as most vulnerable, such as older Americans, newly arrived immigrants, and those whose first language is not English. These criminals have expanded their net and are now targeting virtually anyone.

In a new variation, scammers alter what appears on your telephone caller ID to make it seem like they are with the IRS or another agency such as the Department of Motor Vehicles. They use fake names, titles, and badge numbers. They use online resources to get your name, address, and other details about your life to make the call sound official. They even go as far as copying official IRS letterhead for use in email or regular mail.

Brazen scammers will even provide their victims with directions to the nearest bank or business where the victim can obtain a means of payment such as a debit card. And in another new variation of these scams, con artists may then provide an actual IRS address where the victim can mail a receipt for the payment—all in an attempt to make the scheme look official.

The most common theme with these tricks seems to be fear. Scammers try to scare people into reacting immediately without taking a moment to think through what is actually happening.

These scam artists often angrily threaten police arrest, deportation, license revocation, or other similarly unpleasant things. They may also leave "urgent" callback requests, sometimes through "robo-calls," via phone or email. The emails will often contain a fake IRS document with a telephone number or email address for your reply.

Rancho Cordova's Chick-fil-A Restaurant Opens Soon

New Location Creates 80 New Jobs, Awards Year Supply of Meals to First 100

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rancho Cordova's first standalone Chick-fil-A restaurant will open August 19th, bringing 80 new jobs, the chance for 100 adults to win free Chick-fil-A meals for a year, and the opportunity for community members to donate books that will benefit

After almost 12 years and more than $25 million in free food given away, Chick-fil-A's "First 100" celebration continues to be the chain's signature grand opening event, which transforms the restaurant parking lot into a 24-hour community-friendly party as the crowd awaits the opening.

Williamson Elementary School.

The new restaurant at 2354 Sunrise Boulevard in Rancho Cordova will host the next First 100 event, awarding more than $32,000 in free food. A digital offer card loaded with a oneyear supply of free Chick-fil-A meals will be given to each of the first 100 eligible adults, ages 18 and older with identification, in line when the doors open at 6 a.m. on Wednesday, August 19th. If more than 100 people are onsite when the line officially opens at 6 a.m. on Tuesday, August 18th, then all 100 spots will be determined by a drawing held that morning with those selected needing to camp out for 24 hours to secure their spot. This community event is open to guests who live in specific zip codes surrounding the restaurant. Interested participants may obtain a complete listing of zip codes and rules at www.chick-fil-a.com/ locations/first-100.

Chick-fil-A believes in partnering with organizations that enrich education, literacy, and youth. In that spirit, Rivergate Cordova Chick-fil-A operator Liviu Vizitiu is collecting new children's books at the new restaurant between 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Tuesday, August 18th and during normal business hours on Wednesday, August 18th and Thursday, August 19th. The books collected during the grand opening celebration will be placed in a Book House and donated to Williamson Elementary School. The Rivergate Cordova Chick-fil-A restaurant will create 80 new jobs. Featuring the chain's newest interior and kitchen design, the new location can seat 122 in the dining room with additional outside patio seating. The restaurant includes dual drive-thru ordering lanes to expand the chain's award-winning drive-thru service, enabling motorists to place their orders at separate screens and then merge into a single lane to pay for and pick up their orders. With a majority of Chick-fil-A customers choosing the drive-thru, the ability for two drivers to simultaneously order will mean quicker service.

Customers will be able to stay connected through the restaurant's free Wi-Fi, and parents will appreciate the indoor play area that includes an interactive section for toddlers. The

"A City Divided: Sacramento and the Pullman Strike of 1894"

- California State Parks and the California State Railroad Museum are proud to debut a new exhibit titled "A City Divided: Sacramento and the Pullman Strike of 1894." This new exhibit enables Museum visitors to revisit the dramatic and volatile two months during the summer of 1894 when America experienced a major, nationwide railroad strike. During this emotionally charged time, Sacramento took center stage for the heated confrontation between employers and employees. The new exhibit is focused on what happened in and near Sacramento, but will also briefly cover national implications as well. To help Museum guests understand the series of events, mannequins in military uniform along with compelling photos and murals will be on display depicting the historical events, people, strike activities, and military presence throughout the city.

In addition to the national railroad network, the large-scale Pullman Strike of 1894 involved 27 states and was the first time the Federal government responded to a labor action by issuing an injunction. Although there had been earlier railroad strikes on a national scale, this was also the first time California was significantly affected. Sacramento was a city with sharply divided loyalties during the strike. Nearly one-third of the city's working population was directly employed by the railroad while many people (including local politicians) resented what they saw as the railroad's overbearing attitude. President Grover Cleveland ordered state militia to enter the city to break the strike, and then later sent in federal troops when the members of the militia proved too sympathetic to the strikers. Labor was ready and willing to resist, martial law was declared, and conflict-even sabotage—ultimately ensued.

The "A City Divided: Sacramento and the Pullman Strike of 1894" exhibit will remain on display in the Museum's main-floor Empire Gallery through July 11th, 2016. Railroad Museum admission is $10 for adults, $5 for youths (ages 6-17), and children ages five and under are free. More information about the California State Railroad Museum is available at (916) 323-9280 or www. csrmf.org

Popular Seasonal Pumpkin Brew Projected to Sell Out Fast

Early Demand May Surpass Additional Production at Local Brewery

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

- Autumn will come early this year to Rancho Cordova craft brewery American River Brewing Company (ARBC), with seasonal production getting underway already in early August for its ever-popular Pumpkin Falls Ale.

Brewers David Mathis and Andy Armstrong made the decision to start the brewing process earlier than normal for this season as well as ramping up production to try to keep up with the demand for what they describe as "pumpkin pie in a glass."

"Last year we sold out of Pumpkin Falls before Thanksgiving," Mathis noted, "and each year we've been selling out earlier and earlier." Because this ale is normally produced only once a year for the autumn season, supply has been understandably limited. "People tell us that this is the best tasting pumpkin beer they've ever had," Mathis said, "so the aficionados may be stocking up for the winter ahead."

This season ARBC will start brewing Pumpkin Falls several weeks ahead of last year's schedule and also increase production by 25% for its initial run. "Last season we made a grand total of 90 barrels, which is nearly 2,800 gallons," Armstrong said. "For this fall we're starting off with 120 barrels and may brew even more during the season if demand continues to grow."

The first production run of Pumpkin Falls for 2015 is scheduled to be released on August 20th. "It's gratifying to see how our regular customers line up for this beer every year," Mathis stated. "Some of them have told us that when they purchase a case they use the individual bottles in gift baskets instead of wine"

Armstrong chuckled and nodded in agreement. "It really is that good," he said.

Pumpkin Falls Ale is seasonally produced each fall in limited quantities and is available at select retailers, pubs, and restaurants.

CASE: Marquis Marshall & Clifford Roberson

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Kristen Ilharreguy, Targeting Armed Recidivist Gang Enforcement Team (TARGET)

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that the Honorable Ben Davidian sentenced Marquis Marshall to 16 years in prison and Clifford Roberson to 10 years, 4 months in prison. On June 9, 2015, Marshall and Roberson pled no contest to assault with a semi-automatic firearm. Both defendants are Strawberry Manor Gangster Blood members.

On May 27, 2014, the victim was seated in his vehicle at a 7-11 when multiple shots were fired at him. The victim ducked into his vehicle and was able to avoid being struck. The shooters fled the scene, but were stopped in the area a short time later. A search of their vehicle revealed a firearm, which was later found to match the shell casings left at the scene of the shooting.

CASE: Alejandro Arroyo

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Michelle Becker, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that the Honorable Donald Currier sentenced 21-year-old Alejandro Arroyo to 7 years, 4 months in prison. On June 30, 2015, a jury convicted Arroyo of two counts of first-degree residential burglary.

Between January 10, 2014, and March 12, 2014, a series of seven residential burglaries were committed in homes on the levee in the River Park community.

One of the victims had his home burglarized three times. His house was ransacked and close to $20,000 worth of valuables were stolen, including a medallion. The second break in was caught on surveillance. Police responded quickly, but the suspects were not caught

Another victim returned home to find the power shut off and he could not get into his garage. When he was able to get into the house, he found it had been ransacked and the back glass door had been shattered. A flat-screen TV and two rifles were stolen along with other valuable, irreplaceable items worth close to $19,000.

CASE: Ulises Godinez

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Quirina Orozco, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit/Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert announced that Ulises Godinez was convicted by jury of two counts of robbery with personal use of a firearm, forcible sodomy, sodomy of an unconscious person, sodomy of an intoxicated person, and furnishing marijuana to a minor.

On July 6, 2013, a female adult victim attended a house party where Godinez was a guest. After consuming several alcoholic drinks, she passed out on the host's couch. She woke up to find Godinez holding her down by the neck and sexually assaulting her. The victim immediately reported the assault to the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department. Godinez was not identified until months later.

On December 22, 2013, two girls, ages 16 and 17 years old, attended a gathering at Godinez's house. Godinez provided them with marijuana and engaged in sexual acts with the 17 year old. He offered to take both girls home, but he instead drove to a sparsely populated area of Rancho Cordova where he pulled out a revolver and demanded the girls' cell phones. He then made the girls get out of his car and sped away. The girls found their way to a 7-11 and called 911. Officers later located Godinez and found one of the cell phones in his car.

Godinez faces a maximum potential sentence of approximately 28 years in prison. Sentencing is set for September 18, 2015, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 20 by the Honorable Michael Sweet.

The Riverview S.T.E.M. Academy (formerly Riverview Elementary School) had a huge crowd on Monday as parents and their children found the classrooms they were supposed to go to on Tuesday for the start of the school year. They also, of course, met their teachers who were standing outside their classrooms. My wife and I went to find the rooms that our two grandsons would be going to. We have another grandson going to Mitchell Middle School and another grandson who is a junior at Cordova High School this year. Our son went to Riverview Elementary School and found out that his third grade son will be going to the same room that he went to when he was in the second grade there. only Phase 1 of the campus. There are plans for Phase 2 and Phase 3 to be added to the campus in the future. But for now, the first classes will begin in October of this year, and all the classes will be in operation by spring 2016. This community college will be such a great addition to our city, and it will bring such a wonderful change to that neighborhood.

What the school teaches has changed over the years as everything changes, and when the school year begins has changed too. Years ago, the school year usually began after Labor Day, but not anymore. School began Tuesday, August 11th this year in the Folsom Cordova Unified School District. Change is something you can be sure of, just like death and taxes.

The citizens of Rancho Cordova know the importance of a good education, and they also know that like B.B. King said, "The beautiful thing about learning is that nobody can take it away from you."

THE RICH LOWRY COLUMN By Rich Lowry

The Immigration Secessionists

It turns out that everything we've heard about the evils of states and localities defying federal law is wrong.

So long as a jurisdiction is sticking its thumb in the eye of the federal government on behalf of illegal immigrants who have been arrested and jailed, defiance of federal authority is progressive and commendable.

Through the years, the left has created dozens upon dozens of so-called sanctuary cities devoted to frustrating federal immigration enforcement. On this issue, they are little islands of secession. Somewhere John C. Calhoun must be smiling -- although slightly puzzled -- over the renewed prestige of a version of his old, discredited idea of nullification.

attention in the wake of a horrific murder in San Francisco, a case amplified by the bullhorn of Donald Trump. Kathryn Steinle, 32, was shot and killed by an illegal immigrant, Juan Francisco Lopez-Sanchez, who had a long rap sheet and had been deported five times. The murder was easily avoidable. A few months prior, the city had arrested Lopez-Sanchez on drug charges, but it simply released him when the charges were dropped, even though Immigration and Customs Enforcement wanted to take custody of him for deportation.

This wasn't an isolated misjudgment. San Francisco has long been a sanctuary city that doesn't honor so-called federal detainers (i.e., notices that Immigration and Customs Enforcement wants to take custody of an illegal immigrant upon release from jail). It is a policy of calculated irresponsibility meant to create a zone of lawlessness. In this instance, the human cost was heartbreakingly high.

The immigration debate is famously fraught. Maybe we can't agree on building a fence. Maybe we can't agree on a pathway to citizenship. But surely we can agree that illegal aliens who have landed in jail should be deported?

Apparently not. We have a "broken system," as the supporters of amnesty always like to say, in part because they took a sledgehammer to it.

The number of sanctuary cities has been increasing during the Obama years. The administration has thrown the book at states of federal immigration law, but hasn't moved against jurisdictions acting at crosspurposes to the law. Indeed, it has eased the way for them.

It reinterpreted, with no legal justification, a federal regulation in order to make detainers voluntary. It kneecapped the successful Secure Communities program that shared the fingerprints of local arrestees with the feds, replacing it with a significantly watered-down program.

Obama has gutted interior enforcement. The former acting head of Immigration and Customs Enforcement said recently, "If you are a run-of-the-mill immigrant here illegally, your odds of getting deported are close to zero."

What to do about sanctuary cities? It is already against federal law for jurisdictions to forbid their officials from sharing immigration information with the federal government. Congress should tighten up the law by making it clear again that detainers are mandatory and withholding certain federal funds from jurisdictions that still won't comply.

Of course, it would take a different president to sign such a bill, one who cares about the laws he is pledged to enforce and who doesn't seek a sanctuary nation.

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I was shopping recently and noticed a healthy-looking man pushing a cart around the store with a big dog by his side. As they came closer, I saw the dog was on a regular leash and wore an assistance dog vest, but the guy didn't look disabled. Was he faking it?

- Suspicious in Pittsburgh

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: No, the man was not "faking it." I can't emphasize this strongly enough, but many people with physical challenges do not appear, to those who don't know them, to be challenged.

Service dogs or assistance dogs have increasingly become essential companions for people with different kinds and levels of disability. While many of us are familiar with guide dogs for the blind, dogs providing other types of assistance are more prevalent today

Assistance Dogs Are the Real Deal

as well. They provide everything from emotional support to actively alerting their owners to potential dangers. For example, many dogs that provide assistance to people with hearing disabilities are small- to medium-size. Seeing a Chihuahua with an assistance vest may be odd to some folks, they are a vital part of that person's interaction with the outside world.

Military veterans with injuries ranging from PTSD to limb loss, paralysis, traumatic brain injury or other issues also have been greatly helped by assistance dogs that provide a varying range of services.

City of Rancho Cordova Early Notice of Public Review of a Proposed Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain

This is to give notice that the City of Rancho Cordova has determined that the using Community Development proposed action Grant (ČDBG) funds made available by the U.S Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has the potential to be located in the 100-year floodplain, and the City of Rancho Cordova will be identifying and evaluating practicable alternatives to locating the action in the floodplain and the potential impacts on the floodplain from the proposed action, as required by Executive Order 11988, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management and Protection of Wetlands.

The Rebuilding Together Housing Rehabilitation Program (the Program) is a Citywide housing rehabilitation program implemented by Rebuilding Together Sacramento. The Program consists of two categories of rehabilitation activities - Safe at Home and Rebuild Day Event, both of which provide minor rehabilitation of singlefamily homes and mobile homes owned by low-income seniors and people with disabilities. The Rebuild Day Event also provides minor rehabilitation of singlefamily homes and mobile homes owned by families with children. Safe at Home rehabilitation activities are intended to improve safety and will include: installation of shower and bath grab bars; shower stools and hoses; stair handrails; smoke, fire, and carbon monoxide detectors; and toilet risers. Rebuild Day Event rehabilitation activities are intended to improve health and safety conditions, energy efficiency, and aesthetics and will include: trash and yard waste removal; electrical and plumbing repairs; carpentry repairs; painting; weatherization (insulation, window caulking, weatherstriping); water conservation (installation of low-flow toilets and shower hoses, aerators); window repairs or replacement; heating and air conditioning repair or replacement; water heater repair or replacement; accessibility (installation of ramps, steps, grab bars, shower stools, stair handrails, toilet risers); and installation of smoke, fire and carbon monoxide detectors. In addition to minor modifications to the existing owner-occupied homes, Program activities may result in minor modifications to the surrounding area (i.e. landscaping). However, activities will not change contours of the surrounding land nor increase the number or the size of the homes. The Program will not conduct demolition, new construction, reconstruction, or substantial rehabilitation. The expected number of homes to be rehabilitated is 37. The Program dates are October 2015 through June 2016.

Specific properties have not been identified at this time. The Program's eligible area includes the City limits of Rancho Cordova in Sacramento County. Based on review of the August 16, 2012 Flood Insurance Rate Maps issued by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), approximately 1,165 acres of the Program's eligible area were determined to be in the 100-year floodplain. Thus, the Program could impact the 100-year floodplain of the City of Rancho Cordova.

There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in floodplains and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas. Commenters are encouraged to offer alternative sites outside of the floodplain, alternative methods to serve the same project purpose, and methods to minimize and mitigate impacts. Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information and request for public comment about floodplains can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks and impacts associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in floodplains, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk

Written comments must be received by the City of Rancho Cordova at the following address on or before August 30th, 2015 [a minimum 15 calendar day comment period will begin the day after the publication and end on the 16th day after the publication]: City of Rancho Cordova, 2729 Prospect Park Drive, Rancho Cordova, CA 95670 and (916) 851-8785, Attention: Peter Ibrahim, Housing Services Division. A full description of the project may also be reviewed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the above address.

Comments may also be submitted via email at pibrahim@cityofranchocordova.org.

Pop Remembers WWII, Also

Billy's been a busy guy ever since he became the official town dog here. Sally had been the town dog until she passed away on Doc's porch, and then Billy's owner died just two weeks after that, so it was something of a natural progression. Sometimes offices are filled without an election.

The high school wood shop boys built Billy a dog house next to the school crossing, but Billy preferred Aunt Ada's couch in the cold months and a nice dog depression under an oak tree when it's warm.

Billy was making the rounds this morning. He had snacks at the Gates of Heaven Chinese café (back door, of course) and the Mule Barn truck stop, and conned a granola bar out of some kids just leaving the convenience store. Then he headed down the main street, turned right at the drug store, and ended up on the porch of The Rest of Your Life Retirement Home. A brief scratching and whining gave him access, and he cruised around, being petted and loved, until he found Pop Walker.

Pop can remember what happened in World War II right down to the mess hall menu, but he has a tough time with names and if he's had breakfast today

"Uh ...?" Pop looked at the lady in the nurse's uniform.

"I'm Jean, Pop."

"Oh sure ... Jean, okay if I go outside with the dog?" "Only in the back yard, Pop.

Okay?" He grinned. "Okay."

Pop and Billy walked around back there for a while, and Pop found a stick and threw it for Billy a few times. Then they went to a bench in the shade and Billy laid his head on Pop's knee and got some free ear rumples.

Pop looked down at the dog. "I'm glad you came over today ... Billy," Pop said.

Pop remembers World War II,

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A previous misunderstanding continues to taint the atmosphere to some extent in the early part of the week. But cooler heads prevail, and the situation eases by week's end.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) With home-related matters taking on more importance this week, now could be the time to make some longdeferred purchases. But shop carefully for the best quality at the best price.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations. While that family problem might still rankle, it should be easing thanks to your efforts to calm the waters. Also, a workplace situation seems to be moving in your favor.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat's energy levels should be rather high these days, and you might do well to tackle any tasks that still need doing. This will clear the way for those upcoming projects.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Someone's criticism might not be as negative as you perceive. Actually, it could be helpful. Discuss the matter with your critic, and you both could learn something valuable.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A business matter could cause some friction among your colleagues. But once again, that logical mind of yours comes to the rescue. And the sooner it does, the better!

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) There might still be some heated temper flare-ups out there. But your sensible self should advise you to stay out of these situations until things cool down and calm is restored.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Changing your mind could be the right thing to do if you can't resolve your doubts. You might want to discuss the matter with someone whose advice you trust.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The Sea Goat's merrier side dominates this week, and this means that, despite your usual busy schedule, you'll be able to squeeze in parties and all sorts of fabulous fun times.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An educational opportunity could lead to something other than what you had planned. But keep an open mind, and before you decide to turn it down, check it out.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

Nicole Kidman in "Strangerland"

"Strangerland" (R) - In a dusty town in the Australian desert, a mother is pushed into a nightmare when her two teenage children disappear in the middle of the night. Nicole Kidman and Joseph Fiennes play Catherine and Matthew Parker, a couple already dealing with a divide in their marriage and alarmingly provocative behavior from their 15-year-old daughter. After the disappearance, a local policeman (Hugo Weaving) leads the search as an epic dust storm swallows the town. The cinematography and setting shine, which carries the sense of isolation and smallness you're supposed to feel. Kidman does a great job maneuvering the heavy emotions set on her character. Unfortunately, the movie struggles with pacing while the script keeps hitting the same notes of dread and anxiety.

"Little Boy" (PG) - Rent this movie, and you'll see something so syrupy, sentimental and gosh-darn cute that even Norman Rockwell would groan. The movie follows the precious Pepper, a bullied 8-year-old boy whose father has been taken off to the Pacific by World War II. The boy looks to his church for help and gets lessons about the power of faith (which he confuses with a magic act). As a favor to the priest, a persecuted Japanese-American man mentors Pepper, who recently vandalized his house.

Watching this is like trying to eat a too-sweet apple pie frosted with bits of Hallmark cards and salty tears. There isn't a single moment that isn't oversold with narration or musical cues. There are even a few cringe-worthy parts where the movie's tone totally misses the mark and tries to be cute about something very dark.

"5 to 7" (R) - In the clean and shiny part of New York, Brian (Anton Yeltsin), despite being 24 and a struggling novelist (probably the second most popular occupation for fictional male characters in NYC), somehow manages to charm Arielle, a French woman in her early 30s -- sophisticated, sublimely beautiful and married with kids. Not to worry! Arielle and her husband have a very French arrangement where extramarital affairs are OK between the hours of 5 and 7. Clearly, nothing could go wrong, and this young man will certainly go on without having to experience the complicated nature of love.

"Hoodies Vs. Hooligans" (R) -In this UK-based crime-thriller, the leader of the new breed of gangster (Harley Sylvester) brutally enforces his dominance over the streets of his London neighborhood. This somehow makes people nostalgic for the last batch of brutes who used violence and intimidation to rule the neighborhood. The retired members of the old "firm" -- The Guvnors -- decide that it's time to show these youngsters how it was done back in the day. It's entertaining gangland, but it falls prey to just about every cliche, especially the one where older crooks are seen as more respectable in their exploitation.

Practices Underway for Cordova Football

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Monday, August 10th, members of the Cordova High School football program started practices.

Both of the Lancers' squads-varsity and junior varsity—started conditioning drills and running offensive and defensive plays. According to Cordova varsity head coach Darren Nill, there are 44 varsity players and 64 on the JV team.

"We were swamped by new players showing up wanting to play JV," Nill said. "This caused me to panic, scramble, and try to order more uniforms for the JV [team]."

During the first two days of practices, Lancer players on both teams reviewed offensive and defensive basic formations and plays. "Getting the finer details coached now that the players have been repping the plays since June 1st," Nill said. "Working so closely together since weight training started...[earlier this year], we are demanding and getting a cohesive group who really are coming together for the common goal."

Nill said that on Wednesday players from both teams would be able to suit up in shoulder pads. That day is set by the Sac-Joaquin Section in which high school football programs can allow their players to suit up. "We are moving into contact slowly Wednesday, with Thursday and Friday scheduled to be ramped up days," Nill said.

Prior to Wednesday's practices, the Lancers have been busy performing many tasks in addition to running offensive and defensive plays. One of those drills is hitting the tackling sled. "Our sleds are already our guys' best friends," joked Nill. "Defensive line, offensive line, and linebackers use them daily. Tackling is something we are progressing deeper in now that we have full gear on."

Another fun drill for the Lancer squads has been the pursuit drill that emphasizes 11 players on defense pursuing the ball carrier.

Looking for a receiver down the field in Monday's practice is Lancer wide receiver Isaac Black, who is Cordova's back-up quarterback. Black returns as one of the team's receivers.

Notable dates for Cordova football is Saturday, August 22nd at Lancer Stadium at 9 a.m. That's when the Lancers will host Capital Christian High School football squads—varsity and JV—in controlled

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Do you want to meet members of this year's Cordova High School football teams before they hit the field for their first scrimmage on Saturday, August 22nd?

program, are scheduled to

According to Cordova varsity football head coach Darren Nill, the "Meet the Lancers" rally is scheduled to have guest speakers that include Cordova High School Principal Dan Anklam, Zak Ford, Otis Griffin, and Gerald Willhite.

At 8 p.m., players, coaches, and people attending will be treated to the movie "When the Game Stands Tall." The summer 2014 film that was released nationwide is about the success of the De La Salle High School football program, as the private Concord school held a remarkable 151-game winning streak that stretched from 1993 to 2003, with an emphasis on the 2003 squad that had many ups and downs during the season.

Admission for "Meet the Lancers" is free.

Not So Bright, Sunshiny Days

Jon Miller, on another beautiful day for baseball in Chicago Sunday, invoked the lyrics of what must be one of his favorite songs.

When the sky opened up over the fine shrine to baseball, Wrigley Field, Miller broke into his familiar (to Giants fans) spoken-word version of the 1972 Johnny Nash hit: "I can see clearly now, the rain is gone. I can see all obstacles in my way. Gone are the dark clouds that had me blind. It's gonna be a bright, bright sunshiny day."

It couldn't have been much better, weather-wise, through the four days the Giants were in Chicago, and it was pretty cool to see the championship-starved (since 1908) Cubs fans enjoying themselves so, though it was at the expense of the team for which Miller works.

Wrigley and its famed ivy-covered walls were dazzling in the bright sun, but dark clouds hovered over the Giants' fortunes as the Cubs completed a four-game sweep. The Giants were down, 2-0, late in the fourth game of the series when the real clouds rolled in and rain (remember rain?) began to fall, just in time to stop Hunter Pence's eighth-inning bid for a three-run homer about five feet

After a winning stretch of 13 out of 15, the dog days of August have taken some bites out of the Giants' legs and they limped home from a rough, rough road trip after going 3-7. Fortunately, the hounds are after the West Division-leading Dodgers as well and the Giants began a six-game homestand Tuesday just 2 ½ games behind. These games are part of a stretch of 22 games in 23 days, all against contenders.

If the defending-champions are to be in the mix again, they will really have to earn it, starting now. They will have to overcome several obstacles in their way. All Star second baseman Joe Panik (.309 avg., 7th in the NL) is on

As he has done from time to the shelf with a bad back, and Harbaugh tops that list. After a newly-acquired starting pitcher Mike Leake made one solid start before injuring a hamstring and joining Panik on the disabled list along with catcher Andrew Susac and pitchers Tim Hudson and Tim Lincecum. Jake Peavy has pitched well since rejoining the rotation, but has little to show for it because either the offense or the bull pen has let him down. Matt Cain looks as though he should've rehabbed a little longer in Sacramento, because he continues to make location mistakes at the worst possible times. Nori Aoki lost momentum when a pitch broke his lower leg and now he took another one to the head. Angel Pagan's back and both knees are barking, and though he is trying to play through those injuries he looks like a fragment of his former self. On the bright side, the Giants have seven games left against L. A. and boast a 9-3 mark against the Dodgers thus far.

Clearly, the dark days keep on coming for the San Francisco 49ers. Maybe they have hit rock bottom with the most-recent incident involving preeminent pass rusher Aldon Smith that has resulted in the star player being released by the team after four troubled years. The fifth time was the charm for Smith. The 25-yearold has had five brushes with the law since January 2012. Smith has wreaked havoc on the field and off. Events off the turf included multiple DUIs, firing guns and getting stabbed at a "party?" at his home, illegal-weapons charges, bomb threats at the airport, lawsuits, a nine-game suspension, fines, probation, 235 hours of community service, an apparently ineffective rehab stint, smashed up cars, (only?) a few hours in jail, assorted felonies and misdemeanors, hitand-run and vandalism and...he nerves "in the building," and a disappointing 8-8 record last season, highlighted by an offense in disarray, Harbaugh left for his alma mater, Michigan. All-time 49ers rushing leader Frank Gore left for the Colts. Other major notable departures: LB Patrick Willis, DT Justin Smith, OT Anthony Davis, LB Chris Borland, WR Michael Crabtree and, previously in the style of Aldon Smith, Ray MacDonald.

Smith joined a lengthy list of important figures to leave the 49ers over recent months. Of course, former head coach Jim

The 49ers' once stout defense has been ravaged. It will clearly be a case of "next man up." The team did draft for defense this year, with their first three selections being DL Arik Armstead (Oregon), S Jaquiski Tartt (Samford, not Stanford) and OLB Eli Harold (Virginia). Also added were free agents DT Darnell Dockett and CB Shareece Wright. New coach Jim Tomsula and everybody else hopes that three-time, First Team All-Pro linebacker NaVorro Bowman can return to that form after a brutal knee injury that kept him out all of last season. There are also hopes for a rejuvenated offense even though the line will have to develop. QB Colin Kaepernick is expected to improve after his off-season sessions with Kurt Warner, a twotime NFL MVP and a Super Bowl champion and MVP. That can't hurt. The team also added experienced producers RB Reggie Bush and WR Torrey Smith. But it will likely take some time for the sun to shine on the Niners.

Things appear to be somewhat brighter across the bay for the Oakland Raiders, now that they have settled on their QB of the future, Derek Carr, added top draft pick WR Amari Cooper and brought in a successful, experienced coach in Jack Del Rio. But fans may be blinded by those dark clouds of renewed talks about the Raiders leaving town again.

» HOUSTON'S SLUGGING SHORTSTOP

Five-time All-Star Troy Tulowitzki has strengthened an already powerful lineup by giving Toronto some power at the shortstop position.

Jays surging in AL East

Franchise seeks first postseason appearance since 1993

ust two weeks ago, the Toronto Blue Jays were a game under .500 and eight games behind the first-place Yankees. Not only that, they were also trailing the Orioles and Rays within the division.

Fast forward to the present, and they're the hottest team in baseball, winners of 10 of 11, and just 1.5 games out of first place after sweeping the Yankees in the Bronx.

The Blue Jays' turnaround isn't all that unexpected, though. Even on July 28 when they were treading water right around .500, they were second in the league with a plus-94 run differential. Thanks to an unsustainably low 10-22 record in one-run games, they were massively underachieving.

The Jays' front office recognized that this team, despite its rather ordinary record, had the potential to be among the best in baseball — with a few additions. General manager Alex Anthopoulos made two tremendous moves prior to the trade deadline, acquiring shortstop Troy Tulowitzki and left-handed pitcher David Price — two of the elite players in the game.

Yes, the Blue Jays had to give up a lot for the pieces. For just two months of Price — he will be a free agent after the season — the Jays gave up one of their most promising young arms in Daniel Norris plus two more prospects in Matt Boyd and Jairo Labourt. Tulowitzki's trade cost them their other top pitching prospect, Jeff Hoffman, along with a couple other prospects. That deal did, however, allow them to get out from under Jose Reyes' large contract.

The early returns are very promising. While Reyes is toiling away with a .238 on-base percentage and .256 slugging percentage, Tulowitzki has a .358 OBP and a .489 SLG with improved defense. In his first two starts, Price has allowed just one run, striking out 18 batters over 15 innings.

All of a sudden, Toronto has the best right-handed power in the league — 108 home runs among Tulowitzki, Jose Bautista, Josh Donaldson, Edwin Encarnacion and Russell Martin is more than 18 teams have total — and an offense that has scored 68 more runs than any other team.

This isn't the first time the Blue Jays have pushed in all their chips, either. Many declared them the offseason champions of 2013 when they emptied their farm to acquire Reyes, Mark Buehrle, Josh Johnson and Emilio Bonifacio from the Marlins along with reigning Cy Young Award winner R.A. Dickey from the Mets and also signed Melky Cabrera.

Unfortunately, being crowned "offseason champions" didn't help much in the regular season when injuries and poor performances all around led to just a one-win improvement from 73 to 74 wins.

Young players such as Noah Syndergaard, Travis d'Arnaud, Henderson Alvarez, Jake Marisnick, Anthony DeSclafani and Justin Nicolino were gone with little to show in return. Dickey's ERA ballooned from 2.73 in his final season with the Mets to 4.21 in his first year with the Jays; Johnson made three trips to the disabled list and had a 6.20 ERA; Reyes only played in 93 games due to injuries; and Cabrera produced -0.8 WAR, a 5.3 WAR drop-off from the previous season.

That season represented a worst-case scenario for what can happen when a team goes all-in. Although some of the players have departed through free agency — Johnson and Cabrera — Anthopoulos has kept most of his key players together and has even supplemented his young core by trading for promising hitters like Donaldson and Devon Travis over the past nine months.

And just as the Blue Jays reloaded with a bevy of stars and role players such as Ben Revere, Cliff Pennington, LaTroy Hawkins and Mark Lowe, the division-leading Yankees stood pat, and in a way took a step back.

Instead of their usual move to add a marquee name, the Yankees only traded for utility man Dustin Ackley, who promptly landed on the disabled list five days after he was acquired.

The lack of moves looks even more questionable because New York's pitching rotation has a growing number of question marks. CC Sabathia is having a second straight season with an ERA over 5.00. Michael Pineda will be on the disabled list until at least September. And Masahiro Tanaka is an injury risk at any time.

The Yankees did call upon top prospect Luis Severino to take a rotation spot, and they still can acquire another pitcher before the waiver deadline at the end of the month. But it might not be enough. They've now lost seven of their past 11 games, including a three-game sweep at the hands of the Blue Jays.

Now armed with the best run differential in the league and the wins to finally match it, the Blue Jays look like one of the best teams in baseball. They will face off with the Yankees 10 more times this season, with six coming at the Rogers Centre in Toronto.

The AL East, which looked like a one-horse race just after the All-Star break, could be the most intriguing division in baseball down the stretch. The Yankees are currently in the lead, but there is no denying that Toronto has the best team.

AROUND THE HORN

Marlins right-handed pitcher Jose Fernandez strained his right biceps tendon and may miss the rest of the 2015 season, although an MRI revealed no structural damage. He returned from Tommy John surgery at the start of July after suffering the initial injury in May of 2014. ...

The Braves traded Chris Johnson to Cleveland for Michael Bourn and Nick Swisher, a trade involving approximately $58 million in remaining salary for three players who have combined to produce -2.3 WAR over the past two seasons....

Highly touted prospect Luis Severino made his major league debut for the Yankees, allowing just one earned run (along with an unearned run) over five innings against the Red Sox. He struck out seven while allowing only two baserunners but ultimately took the loss when New York could score only one run off knuckleballer Steven Wright. ...

Dave Dombrowski was fired as the Tigers' GM after serving in that position since 2002. He has been a general manager since 1988, when he ran the Expos at age 31, and brought the Tigers back to relevancy with several big trades, including ones for Miguel Cabrera and Max Scherzer. Al Avila was promoted to general manager and executive vice president of baseball operations, becoming the first-ever Cubanborn general manager in baseball history....

After trailing the San Francisco Giants by a half game for the second wild card spot, the Chicago Cubs swept the Giants to open a 3.5-game lead for the final playoff spot. The Cubs, winners of nine of their last 10, also lead the Nationals by five games and Diamondbacks by eight games following the weekend. ...

Mets reliever Jerry Blevins saw his season end in a rather unfortunate way: He re-fractured his left forearm when he fell off a curb. ...

Garrett Richards has allowed five home runs in his last four starts, leading to a 4.55 ERA over that stretch. He has allowed 13 home runs this season after allowing only five home runs in 2014....

Seattle Mariners' slugger Nelson Cruz is hitting .455/.526/1.091 for the month of August, including six home runs in eight games.

NUMBERS GAME

Carlos Correa is slugging .557 this season through 54 games, which is by far the highest among shortstops. Brandon Crawford is second at .493. Correa is on pace to have the best slugging season for a rookie shortstop; only Nomar Garciaparra (.534 in 1997), Juan Uribe (.524 in 2001) and Cory Snyder (.500 in 1986) have slugged at least .500 as rookie shortstops.

TURN BACK THE CLOCK

Aug. 11, 1991

Chicago White Sox lefty Wilson Alvarez, 21, throws a no-hitter in his second career start, becoming the 17th rookie in baseball history to throw a no-no. Alvarez took the second-shortest amount of time to throw one, topped only by the St. Louis Browns' Bobo Holloman, who threw a no-hitter in his first career start in 1953.

IRS Warns Taxpayers About New Scam Artists

It is important to remember the official IRS website is IRS. gov. Taxpayers are urged not to be confused or misled by sites claiming to be the IRS but ending in .com, .net, .org, or other designations instead of .gov. Taxpayers should never provide personal information, financial or otherwise, to suspicious websites or strangers calling out of

Below are five things scammers often do that the real IRS would never do:

• Angrily demand immediate payment over the phone, nor will the agency call about taxes owed without first having mailed you a bill.

• Threaten to bring in local police or other law-enforcement groups to have you arrested for not paying.

• Demand that you pay taxes without giving you the opportunity to question or appeal the amount they say you owe.

- Require you to use a specific payment method for your taxes, such as a prepaid debit
- · Ask for credit or debit card numbers over the phone.
