Assistance League of Sacramento Purchases Building

Assistance League of Sacramento, a local 46-year old nonprofit organization serving children, women, and families, has purchased its first building to house its philanthropic programs and retail business. This larger retail space will expand the charity's ability to generate revenue, which represents over 60% of the funding used to bring services to the neediest segments of our area.

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Assistance League of Sacramento (2528 Yorktown Avenue) has purchased the property located at 2751 Fulton Avenue to house its philanthropic center, administrative offices, and retail business. This community based philanthropic organization serves over 20,000 individuals each year in the Greater Sacramento area.

This permanent home will allow the organization adequate space to operate its eight philanthropic programs, which service local school districts, hospitals, senior residences, and emergency and youth social services. It will also provide administrative headquarters and a permanent home for its resale retail business.

Assistance League Thrift Shop has operated from three leased locations in its 27 years of continuous business operation. This larger retail space will expand the charity's ability to generate revenue, which represents over 60% of the funding used to bring services to the neediest segments of our area. Assistance League provides school clothing for over 5,000 children in four local school districts each year.

Partnering with Wells Fargo Bank, the property will undergo renovation and is not expected to be operational until sometime in 2015. Greg Thomas, senior vice president Cornish Carey, has worked with the organization for over three years to purchase a property in the Arden-Arcade area suitable for both administrative offices and a retail business. Thomas said, "This is an ideal location in the Fulton Avenue corridor. It is close to the schools served by Assistance League. The proximity between the revitalization of Town & Country Village & Mueller Corner (Fulton and Marconi) and Kuni Auto (Fulton and El Camino) will boost Assistance League's ability to provide quality services to those in need." ★

Production of Little Women Includes Local Talent

by Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Red Bench Entertainment will retell the classic story of the four March sisters in three performances of Little Women. The company will perform the 1800s novel by Louisa May Alcott at the 24th Street Theater/Sierra 2 Center, 2791 24th Street, Sacramento, at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, August 15 and 16, and 2 p.m. Sunday, August 17.

Jo, the protagonist and second in line of age, is played by Kristina McCarty, 17. She has been acting since third grade. “You get all sweaty and your heartbeat stops, and the thrill of it all . . . the whole thing is just amazing,” she said. She is a senior at San Juan High School in Citrus Heights.

The oldest sister Meg is played by Melissa Gomez, 19, of Sacramento, who attends Sacramento City College. “It’s always terrifying trying something new, getting your new script, but once I’m actually saying my lines, all the nerves are gone,” Gomez said. “I love the dynamic of our sisters, how each one has her own personality, particularly my character.”

The younger sisters are played by Rancho Cordova area actresses Eden Dronoff, 13, who plays Beth, and Jenae Noble, 16, who plays Amy, the youngest. Eden has been attending St. John Vianney Catholic School in Rancho Cordova. “I was very excited to audition,” she said. “I’ve always wanted to do a classic . . . It’s very fun, it’s being able to be someone who has a whole different history, a whole other character, a whole other person.” Jenae, 16, attends Sacramento Waldorf School. She loves being the people she has read about in books. “I love that I can be the hero and be all these wonderful people. I can go kill a dragon, I can actually do that, in some ways.”

The four girls consider their interrelationships as sisters one of the most important aspects of the play. “We all have different connections with each other, and definitely each one of them shows,” Kristina said. “What I love best is that we grow up as sisters together, and we mature together in the play.”

Red Bench Entertainment began in 2012. Two Rancho Cordova women are founders of the non-profit: Cheryl Rubio Barrios is CEO and Executive Director and her daughter Angela Zaniboni serves as artistic director, production manager, and is stage manager for Little Women.

“It was an honor to bring this much-loved classic story to life and to get close to such an amazing and truly gifted cast,”

March’s loyal cousin. Melissa had help with her autism throughout school, but that help stopped after high school. “I wanted to act as a career, so I thought I’d start somewhere . . . I’ve grown a lot

Barrios pointed out that the entertainment industry is very broad, and the most important element to have is perseverance. “It’s really knowing where to go to, the contacts, your portfolio,” Barrios said, “and your drive for really going 100% and not giving up.”

One of the objects of the organization is to help their members to grow. This can be attested to by Melissa Sampson of Elk Grove, who has a problem with autism. She plays Hannah, the

Tickets for the show are $5.00 for children 12 and under, $10.00 for students with ID, and general admission $20.00. In addition, Saturday night VIP Gala tickets are available for $40, and will include pre-show reception, exclusive backstage tour, and reserved VIP seating. Tickets may be purchased at the door. ESKATON ASSISTED LIVING and MEMORY CARE

Are you a veteran or surviving spouse?

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs offers a little known tax-free pension available to help qualified veterans, spouses and surviving spouses pay for assisted living.

Last year, an estimated 1.9 million veterans qualified but did not know about the benefit, or did not know how to file a claim. With 60% of the seniors in the United States being veterans or spouses of veterans, this pension can be a lifeline to receive the care you need and deserve.

Come listen to how U.S. Senior Vets can help guide you through what can be a complex (but rewarding) process.

Mail Carrier Stops in for a Drink, Comes out $650,000 Richer!

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Susan Nichols is a mail carrier in the Sacramento area and after her route, she sometimes stops into a local gas station for a cool drink – especially on a hot day. Back in July, she did just that and decided to also buy a $1 California Lucky Life Scratchers® ticket! She scratched it and realized right away she had won, but she and her husband kept it a secret for almost a month before coming into the California Lottery’s Sacramento District Office to claim their prize. During that time, they figured out the best way to claim the prize (payments or cash option) and how to make the money work for them.

Nichols chose the cash option and will receive $375,000 in a lump sum amount. She purchased her ticket at the Shell station, which is located at 3510 Fair Oaks Boulevard in Sacramento. She plans on paying off some debt with her prize and also starting a college fund for her daughter. As for any vacation plans, she replied, “Maybe in a year or so, we’ll plan a family vacation.”

The California Lucky Life Scratchers family is part of the Lottery’s continued effort to give out more prizes, create more winners and earn more money for education. For more information on the game and how to play, click here.

Also, like all Lottery Scratchers games, the California Lucky Life family of games comes with a second chance to win the top prize. Just subscribe to our 2nd Chance Program and submit any non-winning California Lucky Life Scratchers ticket code for a chance to win.

The California Lottery is a $5 billion enterprise based in Sacramento. It is one of the few state agencies that is a revenue generator, not accepting taxpayer dollars. Its mission is to provide supplemental funding to California schools while simultaneously supporting local communities. In FY 2013-14, the Lottery created 89 new millionaires. More than 95 cents of every dollar spent by our players goes back to local communities in the form of contributions to public schools and colleges, prizes and retail compensation. The California Lottery urges its customers to play responsibly and within their budgets. If you feel you have a gambling problem, or know someone who does, you can get help at 1-800-GAMBLER. ★

At times, people feel that it is necessary for them to say, “That’s mine!” And with that, there is no doubt who the owner is. But it really bothers me when the owner no longer wants “it” because “it” is no longer of any use to them when the container is empty, torn, etc. They just toss it out the car window or drop it on the sidewalk. Then you definitely will not hear them shouting, “That’s mine!”

There are litter laws, of course, and littering tickets are expensive – if someone catches the offender. What about the people who drive around the City or go just outside the city limits so they can dump their trash and not have to pay the cost of going to the County dump site? It is frustrating to drive to work or to the store or be on your way home and see that people don’t seem to care what our City looks like and they just get rid of stuff. The City is considering putting up cameras in places that are prime “dump” sites. My guess is that most of the people who are doing the dumping are not doing it close to where they live nor would they like to be on camera. There was a TV commercial a few years ago in which two men followed someone for a full day. During that day, the two men picked up all the trash that the person they were following, threw out of his car onto streets, in parks, and on store parking lots. At the end of the day, the two men knocked on the person’s door and when the door was opened, they dumped all the trash they had collected onto the litterer’s living room floor. Needless to say that person was mad and said, “Don’t trash my house.” In response, the two men said, “Don’t trash (our City) our State!”

I would like to have a contest of some sort amongst our City schools. The class/school that picks up the most trash and keeps their school the cleanest for a week, would win a prize or prizes. Maybe the kids (and their parents and school visitors) would be so proud of how great the school looked that they would try to keep it clean after the contest – at least for a while! When my children were kids, we would go to State parks and they would participate in contests about who could fill up the little trash bags the Park Ranger would give them. When they were done, all of them would win something: a junior ranger badge, candy, or other things. It was a nice incentive. Today, with fewer Park Rangers in most parks, many of the programs are gone but the idea is still good.

There are businesses across the country that lose billions of dollars every year because of theft, but how much money is lost every year because of breakage? Now I include many things into that one word – breakage – because I couldn’t think of a better one. When someone drops clothes off a rack and doesn’t take the time to pick them up, chances are that piece of clothing could be torn or snagged and won’t be sold. A glass is dropped, a lamp is knocked down, food hits the floor, etc. and that business, which often already has a narrow profit margin, can only write off some of the loss: loss from theft and loss from breakage.

I have been talking about those who dump garbage, throw trash away, or those who leave damaged goods in their wake. Picking up a piece of paper that someone else dropped or paper that was blown there by the wind is easy because it stands out like a sore thumb. Many people are leaders and don’t even know that they are. They show they care through example and don’t mind attacking a problem by doing something about it – simply picking up trash counts. But other people like to think of themselves as leaders as long as nothing needs to be done AND they have been around for a long time. Publilius Syrus, a Roman author in the 1st Century B.C., said, “Anyone can steer a ship when the sea is calm.” ★

Sacramento Resident Among the First Human West Nile Virus Fatalities This Summer

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The first two deaths of the summer due to West Nile virus infection have been confirmed by the California Department of Public Health (CDPH), announced Dr. Ron Chapman, CDPH Director and state public health officer. The first was a senior citizen from Sacramento County. The second was an adult from Shasta County.

“These unfortunate deaths remind us that we must protect ourselves from mosquito bites to prevent West Nile virus and other mosquito born infections,” said Chapman. “West Nile virus activity is greatest during the summertime.”

West Nile virus is transmitted to humans and animals by the bite of an infected mosquito. The risk of serious illness to most people is low. However, some individuals—fewer than one percent—can develop a serious neurologic illness such as encephalitis or meningitis.

People 50 years of age and older have a higher chance of getting sick and are more likely to develop complications. Recent data also indicate that those with diabetes and/or hypertension are at greatest risk for serious illness.

To date in 2014, West Nile virus has been detected in 36 California counties.

CDPH recommends that individuals prevent exposure to mosquito bites and West Nile virus by practicing the “Three Ds:”

DEET – Apply insect repellent containing DEET, picaradin, oil of lemon eucalyptus or IR3535 according to label instructions. Repellents keep the mosquitoes from biting you. DEET can be used safely on infants and children 2 months of age and older

DAWN AND DUSK – Mosquitoes bite in the early morning and evening so it is important to wear proper clothing and repellent if outside during these times. Make sure that your doors and windows have tight-fitting screens to keep out mosquitoes. Repair or replace screens with tears or holes

DRAIN – Mosquitoes lay their eggs on standing water. Eliminate all sources of standing water on your property including flower pots, old car tires, rain gutters, and pet bowls. If you know of a swimming pool that is not being properly maintained, please contact your local mosquito and vector control agency.

California’s West Nile virus website includes the latest information on West Nile virus activity in the state. Californians are encouraged to report all dead birds and dead tree squirrels on the website or by calling this toll-free number: 1-877-WNV-BIRD (968-2473).

Sacramento County Expresses Opposition to State Delta Plan

Sacramento County Special Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) -This week, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors formally submitted comments challenging the findings of the Bay Delta Conservation Plan (BDCP) state environmental impact report (EIR) and federal environmental impact statement (EIS). Of significance, the comments expressed the frustrations of many residents with a plan to build twin tunnels and take additional water from the Sacramento Delta.

A recognized expert on water issues and elected representative of Sacramento’s Delta communities, Supervisor Don Nottoli expressed, “The BDCP proposes to irreversibly change, and in many instances, permanently destroy the generations-old socioeconomic fabric and physical landscape of the Delta.”

“Constructing massive twin tunnels won’t produce any more water, but make no mistake, it will leave a legacy of negative impacts on the Delta, its economy, and its people. The BDCP doesn’t solve California’s water problems and sacrifices the Delta to benefit others. Simply, this is not acceptable, and never will be.”

Among the many flaws in the environmental reports, the County noted that there are major negative impacts to the lives of county residents, the local economy, and natural resources in and around the Sacramento River, the Delta itself, and south Sacramento County communities where twin tunnels are slated for a 10-12 year construction project.

The Supervisors cited the following significant impacts that the planning document either inadequately addresses or ignores altogether: Direct/indirect impacts to existing legacy communities and agriculture from long-term construction activities and project operations; Uncertainties surrounding future water project operations and how these operations will impact water supplies; Impacts to the roadway/transportation network from construction activities; Impacts from the conversion of agricultural land to habitat; Economic and social impacts to the local Delta communities from the long term displacement of businesses and residents; Impacts to Airport operations; and, Impacts from changes to drainage pattern changes resulting from project construction.

Next, federal and state agencies tasked with reviewing comments will evaluate and consider the comments submitted by stakeholders, including, non-governmental organizations, individuals, and governmental entities. It is important to note that given the huge volume of comments submitted, the evaluation process will take several months at best. It is anticipated that a Final Draft document will be prepared following the evaluation process.

Two Words That Changed My Life

Dr. James L. Snyder

This week is a hallmark in the lives of the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage and me. Forty-three years ago this week, we began a journey that has just become better with each year. That is the benefit of marrying up.

Getting married was not something I had put together. Very few men put together their wedding plans. After all, that is why we get married.

It came to me rather suddenly. I was at Bible college and one morning one of the guys in the dorm said to me, “Congratulations. I just heard the good news.”

I smiled and nodded my head thinking about my plans for the day. I had no idea what he was talking about and at the time I did not have the time to ask him what he was talking about.

Everybody I met that morning was congratulating me and telling me how happy they were for me. Soon I was beginning to wonder what in the world was going on. I did not have any test in any my classes yesterday so it could not be anything like that. I do not play the lottery so I could not have won the lottery. I could not think of anything I did yesterday that would cause all of this congratulatory remarks in my direction.

Finally, when I had about as much as I could take, I asked somebody, “What is everybody congratulating me for?”

The person that I queried looked at me, broke out in laughter and said, “Man, you got to be kidding!” Then he turned around, walking away laughing every step of the way.

I went to my class, found my seat and got situated then one of the young ladies passed by, patted me on the shoulder and said, “I am so happy for you and I think it is a wonderful thing. And I know you are going to be happy for the rest of your life.”

Well, I had had it. I looked at her and very firmly said, “What are you so happy about?”

“Your wedding,” she said laughing, “you’re getting married.”

“Oh,” I said, nodding my head. “Thank you very much.”

Then what she said dawned on me. I looked at her and said, “I’m getting what?”

“Silly boy,” she said, laughing hysterically, “it’s all over campus so it must be true.”

I then had to think about this situation I was in. Everybody on the campus knew I was getting married, except me. Was I still sleeping? Was this just a dream I am having?

I began to think about the events the preceding evening, and remembered a little conversation I had with the girl I was now supposed to be getting married to. In the course of our conversation, as I remembered it at the time, she said something to the effect, “Wouldn’t it be great to get married.”

As I recalled the conversation, I nodded my head and said something to the effect, “Yea, I guess it would be.” That was the end of the conversation as far as I was concerned, but the beginning of an ongoing conversation as far as someone else was concerned.

Why is it that the groom-to-be is always the last one to know?

Then I asked one of the girls in the hallway, “When am I getting married?” At the time, I did not have the foggiest idea.

She turned away laughing and muttering to herself something to the effect that I had a really good sense of humor. Believe me, I was not laughing.

As it turned out, me and the young lady I was to be married to, were engaged to be married and, I do not want to pry into this point very much, the wedding dress already purchased.”

As it turned out, it was the best thing that ever happened to me. Looking back over life, most of the good things that have happened to me were never of my doing. I’m convinced that is the way God works. If you are doing what you want to do, you are probably not doing what God wants you to do. At least I have developed that philosophy to this point of my life.

Some things in life I am rather good at planning, a wedding not being one of them; not even close.

After all these years, I can still remember that wonderful day when the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage and I were united in holy matrimony. Our wedding was rather simple and the focus point of the wedding was the wedding vows. When I said, “I do” it clinched the deal and I was married and I have been doing it ever since.

I have said many words in my life, and written thousands and thousands of words, but the most important words that have changed my life were those words, “I do.”

The Bible has a lot to say about marriage and husbands and wives. “Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it” (Ephesians 5:24-25).

There are some empty words that we use every day but every once in a while we say a word or two that fills our life with joy unspeakable and full of glory. ★

Dare to Live Without Limits

Get Back Up

by Bryan Golden

We all face challenges and have to deal with adversity. What should you do when you stumble and fall? Get back up. Failure only occurs when you quit.

How do babies learn to walk? Their success is far from instantaneous. They fall down after their first attempt. Then they get back up and fall again. This process is repeated hundreds of times. As infants, we all learn to walk by simply getting up one more time than we fall down.

Becoming discouraged is learned, not innate. As we mature, our unshakable childhood determination weakens. Had we attempted to learn to walk at a later age, we would conclude that it was impossible after just a few unsuccessful attempts.

You were successful at walking because of adamant tenacity. You didn’t give it a try. It was something you were going to accomplish because you had not yet learned the concept of failure.

How’s your attitude now? Are you ready to give up after one or more unsuccessful attempts at reaching a goal? Do you justify giving up by telling yourself and others that at least you gave it a try?

Creating a rewarding life is a challenge. Tripping and falling or getting knocked down is to be expected. The only way to avoid this is to do nothing, which accomplishes nothing. Whenever you are down you must get back up.

When you fall, there will be no shortage of people attempting to comfort you with an endless list of reasons why it’s OK to give up. Don’t listen to them! All you need is one reason to get back up. Throughout history, there has never been a single accomplishment by anyone who has remained down.

Getting back up isn’t easy. It requires lots of effort. Repeated falls drain your energy. When you feel down and out, you must do whatever it takes to get back on your feet. Failure only occurs when you stay down.

Feed your motivation by maintaining a focus on your goal. Visualize all of the benefits you will accrue once an objective is attained. Imagine how you will feel and act once you have reached your destination. These strategies direct your mind to work non-stop to get you to where you want to be.

Seek help, guidance, and encouragement from those who are where you want to be. You don’t have to know them personally. You can read what they write or what others write about them. Look for inspirational stories in the media and online. Keep in mind that regardless of the challenges you may be facing, other people have also been through them and have found solutions.

Make your steps as small as necessary when getting back up. Maintain a forward focus. Avoid getting caught up in the past. Learn from your mistakes. Don’t turn them into anchors that hold you down.

Don’t blame anyone else when you fall. Don’t feel sorry for yourself. Don’t become angry or resentful. Negative emotions such as bitterness weigh you down, making it very difficult to get back up. Don’t fixate on what you think you don’t have, concentrate on what you do have.

Developing an attitude of gratitude wards off bitterness.

It’s never too late to get back up. It doesn’t matter how long you have been down or what your age is. Each day is a new beginning filled with unlimited opportunity. So whatever challenges come your way, trip and fall as you may, just get up one more time than you fall, and all will be OK. ★

BOE Notifies California Retailers of Upcoming Visits

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA - Retailers throughout the state are receiving letters from the California State Board of Equalization (BOE) notifying them about upcoming visits from Statewide Compliance and Outreach Program (SCOP) teams. The visits are intended to educate retailers about properly reporting sales and use tax, increase compliance with tax laws, and maintain outreach efforts to assure taxpayers that the state's tax system is fair and equal for all Californians.

The BOE is mailing letters to 8,539 business owners in the area including Sacramento (95827).

SCOP teams conduct door-to-door, in-person visits in the zip code areas they cover. It is important for retailers to understand that the BOE asks only business-related questions, and does not inquire about personal financial information. Businesses found to be operating without a seller's permit are provided instructions on how to register with the BOE, as well as information about other necessary licenses. Home-based businesses are not visited.

Since 2008, SCOP has visited 489,056 businesses statewide to verify that retailers are registered and to ensure noncompliant businesses do not have an unfair advantage over registered businesses that are reporting their sales and use taxes and/or fees to BOE.

The BOE has found that more than 98 percent of the California businesses are operating with the correct permits. However, noncompliance contributes to more than $2 billion in uncollected sales and use taxes that make up part of the state's "tax gap" – the difference between the amount of taxes owed and the amount paid, negatively impacting all state taxpayers.

If business owners have any questions about these upcoming visits, they may contact their local BOE SCOP Team or visit the BOE's SCOP Web page at www.boe.ca.gov/sutax/SCOP-Overview.htm.

The wounds are still fresh. It still stings. It was made clear to me on July 4th that I am a bonafide Loser—with a capital L. (Place your right thumb and index finger in the shape of an L in the middle of your forehead and look in the mirror now.)

Admittedly, Chuck and I kind of futzed around the weeks preceding the Fourth of July. We weren't proactive in making any plans on one of the most fun, sunny, carefree holiday weekends on the American calendar. We languished in hope and optimism that we'd get an invitation to go, like, to Northridge Country Club, or Tahoe, or Carmichael, or down the street, to celebrate with friends and eat barbecued hot dogs and hamburgers and drink adult beverages and watch spectacular fireworks.

The phone never rang. No “Are you guys free to go with us to Tahoe for the Fourth?” calls. Zero texts like: “Do u guys wanna come down 4 a bbq?” Nada. As that big fat number four on the calendar drew nearer and blaringly glared at us, the silence between us Empty Nesters was deafening. I can’t speak for my husband, but I was kind of mortified.

I get that our daughters will never darken our doorstep. Newport Beach and Portland on the Fourth will trump time spent with the parentals in the River of Gold every time. I understand all that. And let's see: the Bs were headed with the Zs to Graeagle; the Hs were in Hawaii; the Es were en route to Tahoe; and the Fs were on their way to Oregon.

And the Myerses of Gold River? We were smack dab at the intersection of Desperation and Embarrassment.

Late on the evening of the third, though, Chuck's cell phone rang. The Rs of El Dorado Hills asked, "Hey, are you guys available to meet up at the Folsom Rodeo and see some fireworks tomorrow night?"

Chuck's quick reply was, "Sure! We'd love to. It's been too long since we've gotten together!"

Whew! We had been invited somewhere. A sense of relief washed over me. Gratitude filled my every pore. Thank you, R's, for reaching out to us – even if we were, obviously, your Z-Lister friends, the ones that are way down low on your invitee list.

Chuck had a stellar idea. "Let's go to Mikuni first, just you and me, and then we'll drive up and meet them." Great plan. Done.

Ecstatic, excited and no longer red-faced with embarrassment, we set out for sushi a deux prior to what promised to be a fun/friends/firework-filled evening. As we were in the middle lane ready to turn left into Mikuni's parking lot, we were accosted by the appearance of a vast, empty parking lot, void of any living beings.

“Are you kidding me? Mikuni’s can’t be closed!” We were in shock, filled with disappointment. “I cannot believe it!” It never even occurred to us that it would be closed.

Certain that other more business-savvy restaurants would be open, we decided to head up to El Dorado Hills Town Centre. "I bet all the restaurants up there will be open," I said. Again, we drove into a black crater of inactivity, with nary a human in sight.

Right then, Mr. R. called from the Folsom Rodeo. “Chuck, I don’t think tonight’s going to happen. We’ve been waiting in line for 30 minutes, and they’re telling us they’re sold out for the fireworks. So I think we’re going to just go home and barbecue with our neighbors.”

Alrightey then...

Have you ever experienced that feeling of acute loneliness and loser-ness, when you feel like everybody else in the world is at that very moment laughing and having fun ... but you?

"Baby, we're Losers," I said. I had to laugh to keep from crying.

Ever the optimist, Chuck suggested we go back through Old Folsom. "Maybe Hacienda will be open."

Well, Hacienda was not open, nor was any other restaurant in Old Folsom, except for one. And it was chock-full of other Losers. Just like us.

Hampton's on Sutter is the name of the restaurant. Now that is one customer-oriented, very smart business! (Well, either that or they're dumber than a box of rocks for making their now-disgruntled employees work on a night when every other restaurant in town let their employees enjoy the summer holiday.)

Anyway, so we put our name on the Losers-in-waiting list. We ordered a beer/wine, consoled and commiserated with other fellow Losers, and waited for "Myers, Party of two" to be called. And you know what? We had a pretty delicious meal at a great table, on a quaint deck, overlooking charming Sutter Street.

We survived, actually enjoyed, and later laughed at our quiet, ill-fated, not-a-firework-to-be-seen Fourth of July holiday.

So yeah, L is for Loser—and also Lesson Learned. You can bet that next year we'll be hinting around for a Fourth of July invitation starting the day after Easter. ★

Lancers Football Back in Action

“We’ve doubled our number on varsity,” Head Coach Vance Mueller said. “We’re finally able have a full practice for the first time in two years. We haven’t had enough bodies to do scrimmages.” Photo by Rae Lynn Flippo

By Mike Bush

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Monday marked the first day of practice for the new season for the Cordova High School varsity and junior varsity football teams. According to CHS varsity Head Coach Vance Mueller, who is in his third year of running the Lancers’ grid program, there are 48 players each on the varsity and junior varsity teams. That’s a huge increase from last season, when varsity had 26 players and JV had 42.

“We’ve doubled our number on varsity,” Mueller said. “We’re finally able have a full practice for the first time in two years. We haven’t had enough bodies to do scrimmages.”

The players on both teams spent Monday and Tuesday evenings conditioning and doing classroom work. “Basically getting back into football shape from the dead period,” Mueller said. “They had 16 days off, and a lot of them were anxious (on Monday). The classroom time is to get them mentally sharp for practices.”

On Wednesday, Lancer gridders strapped on shoulder pads for the first time since competing at a full-contact football camp at Monterey Trail High School of Elk Grove last month. “(Wednesday) real football starts,” Mueller said.

“They are excited about being out there.”

Today, Friday, both squads will start practice at 6 p.m. Mueller said the practices are open to the public. Next Monday, the CHS football teams return to their practice schedule from last year during the regular season. On Mondays and Tuesdays, players on each team have study hall after school then practice starting at 6 p.m. On Wednesdays and Thursdays, the squads will practice after school.

Cordova will host Capital Christian in a scrimmage on Saturday, Aug. 23rd. Both varsity and junior varsity teams will start at 9 a.m.

On Friday, Aug. 29th, Cordova will open its 2014 season with a non-league home opener against Pioneer of Woodland. Three of the Lancers’ non-league games will be played at home; McClatchy visits Friday, Sept. 12th, and Johnson stops by Friday, Sept. 19th. Cordova will play at Bella Vista the week after its game against Pioneer and at Foothill of Sacramento on Sept. 26th.

This season also marks Cordova returning to the Sierra Valley Conference that features El Dorado, Union Mine, Rosemont, Galt and Liberty Ranch. Cordova will host Galt in the conference and homecoming game on Saturday, Oct. 11th.

A preview of the CHS varsity football team will be in an upcoming issue of the Grapevine Independent. ★

Cordova Jr. Lancers

Members of the Cordova Junior Lancers Pee-Wee football team go over instructions and drills at Monday’s practice at Cordova High School. The squad, along with the Pee Wee, Junior Midget, and Midget Jr. Lancer teams will kick off their season tomorrow, Saturday, at Hughes Stadium on the Sacramento City College campus in a jamboree. The start times are: Junior Pee Wee, 11 a.m.; Pee Wee, 1 p.m.; Junior Midgets, 3 p.m.; and Midgets, 5 p.m. The season starts in earnest on Saturday, Aug. 23rd when the four squads play at the Rio Linda Jr. Knights. The first home game for the Jr. Lancers is Saturday, Aug. 30th against the Ponderosa Jr. Bruins’ teams. Photo by Rae Lynn Flippo

Around the Horn

• On Saturday night, Albert Pujols homered to end a 19-inning game between the Angels and Red Sox. Less than 24 hours later, Jose Bautista lined a shot that one-hopped the wall with the bases loaded for a walk-off win for the Blue Jays over the Tigers in the bottom of the 19th. It marked the first time in major league history that 19-inning games were played on back-to-back days.

• It's understandable if the Detroit Tigers are looking over their shoulders for the Kansas City Royals. Kansas City has won 15 of its last 18 games to pull within a half game of the Tigers in the AL Central. During that time the Tigers lost 10 of 18.

• On Sunday, the Colorado Rockies defeated the Diamondbacks 5-3 in 10 innings for Colorado's 46th win, tied with the Texas Rangers for the fewest wins in the majors. Way back on May 10, the Rox beat the Reds to improve their record to 23-16. While it took the team just 41 days to notch its first 23 wins, it has taken 92 days to reach its next 23 wins.

• According to ESPN's MLB Ballpark factors, Coors Field in Denver is not the best park for home runs. That honor goes to Great American Ballpark in Cincinnati. Ranking 2-5 are Yankee Stadium, Rogers Centre, Coors Field and Dodger Stadium. The toughest places to hit homers? PNC Park in Pittsburgh, AT&T Park in San Francisco, Nationals Park, Fenway Park and Busch Stadium.

AL Player of the Week

Billy Butler, Kansas City
The Royals remain the hottest team in baseball as they close in on the Detroit Tigers in the AL Central. A key figure in the offensive surge is designated hitter Billy Butler. He hit safely and scored in all six games last week. Butler posted 10 hits, including five doubles in the six contests.

AL Pitcher of the Week

Garrett Richards, Los Angeles
As the Angels continue to chase the A's in the AL West, Richards continues to post stellar pitching performances. Last week, he tossed a five-hit shutout over the Dodgers at Dodger Stadium, allowing just two walks and striking out nine. He followed that with six innings of no-hit ball vs. Boston before giving up three runs (one earned) before the Angels won in 19 innings.

NL Player of the Week

Chase Utley, Philadelphia
Last week featured few worthy candidates for NL Player of the Week. Utley led the senior circuit with a 1.309 OPS and swatted a pair of homers with six RBIs. He scored five times and had four extra-base hits.

NL Pitcher of the Week

Johnny Cueto, Cincinnati
The Reds' ace reached 14 wins last week with victories over Cleveland and Miami. He gave up only two runs and retired 12 Indians via groundouts in a complete game win at Cleveland. He tossed eight innings and gave up only two solo homers in the Reds' win. For the week, he was 2-0 with a 0.82 WHIP and 2.12 ERA. He had 15 Ks over 17 innings.

Farm Report

James Ramsey, OF, Cleveland
A few years from now, we likely will look back at the 2014 trade deadline and think of James Ramsey-for-Justin Masterson as another John Smoltz-for-Doyle Alexander deal. The first round pick of the Cardinals in 2012 projects as a centerfielder with plus speed and a solid bat. He was batting .300 with 13 home runs, 36 RBIs and 47 runs in 67 games at Double-A prior to the trade. The Indians have promoted him to Triple-A Columbus.

Athlon Spotlight

The Case for Clayton Kershaw for MVP

It has been 45 years since a pitcher won the MVP in the National League. Bob Gibson, with his amazing 1968 season featuring a 1.12 ERA, was the last to be honored with the most prestigious award in the senior circuit. Only three times since 1968 have pitchers finished in the top three. In 1969, Tom Seaver was runner-up to Willie McCovey; reliever Mike Marshall, who appeared in 106 games, was third in 1974; and Greg Maddux finished third in 1995.

So, suffice it to say that pitchers haven't received much consideration over the years for NL MVP. But here's why 2014 could be different.

NO CLEAR CANDIDATES

Offense is down across all of baseball this season, and few players have distinguished themselves in the National League. And those that have risen above have also suffered significant injuries that will derail their candidacies. Troy Tulowitzki of Colorado has posted some gaudy numbers this season. But recent injuries have sidelined him, he toils for the worst team in the league, and many voters will consider his stats artificially boosted by playing home games at Coors Field in the thin air of Denver. Paul Goldschmidt — first baseman for the second-worst team in the NL — was putting together another stellar season before a broken hand sidelined him for the remainder of the year. Reigning MVP Andrew McCutchen of Pittsburgh was almost single-handedly willing the Pirates back into the hunt when a broken rib put him on the shelf temporarily. It's likely the center fielder will avoid a stint on the disabled list, but his effectiveness while recovering will be limited.

RAW PITCHING STATS

Despite missing six starts early in the season, there are five significant pitching categories in which the Dodgers' lefthander leads the National League. He's tied for first in wins with 14, and he's alone in first in ERA (1.78), WHIP (0.86), opponents' OBP (.233) and opponents' OPS (.528). For good measure, he also stands alone at the top in complete games (5), K/BB (8.58), K/9 IP (10.76) and fewest pitches per inning (13.8). And sabermetricians love this guy as well. He's tops in the NL in WAR at 5.9 and leads several other categories. Obviously, there is a quarter of the season left to play, and the landscape could change dramatically. But for now, Kershaw is the most valuable player in the NL.

HALO EFFECT

In case you happen to be in the camp that doesn't appreciate bestowing MVP honors on pitchers, consider Kershaw's effect on his team when he doesn't pitch. (It's pretty clear the effect he has when he's on the hill.) Through Aug. 10, manager Don Mattingly has used an average of 2.2 relievers to cover 2+ innings the day before Kershaw starts. In Kershaw's starts, 1.8 relievers cover just over an inning per start. The day after the lefty pitches, it takes three relievers to cover three innings. So, Mattingly isn't reluctant to use his bullpen the day before Kershaw is scheduled, and he has a rested pen the day after.

The Dodgers' lefthander is clearly the best pitcher in the majors now, perhaps the best player in the NL.Tom DiPace

JUST WIN

Of course, the most important stat of all is winning. And the Dodgers do that with regularity when Kershaw is on the mound. Los Angeles is 16-3 in his 19 starts, just 51-49 when he others start. And consider that the "others" include Zack Greinke, Josh Beckett and Hyun-Jin Ryu among others. Not bad company, but they aren't in Kershaw's class.

Turn Back the Clock

Aug. 15, 1916
Babe Ruth of the Red Sox outduels Washington's Walter Johnson for a 1-0 win in 13 innings as both pitchers go the distance. The Senators' Clyde Milan robs Ruth of a homer.

Aug. 14, 1964
The Philadelphia Phillies send 18-year-old Rick Wise to the mound to face the Mets in the second game of a doubleheader at Shea Stadium. Wise gives up two solo home runs to fellow teenager Ed Kranepool (19), but survives to earn his fourth win of the season.

Aug. 17, 1980
George Brett of the Kansas City Royals goes 4-for-4 in a win over Toronto to raise his season batting average to .401. Brett would reach .407 on Aug. 26, but finish at .390 in his quest to become the first player to bat .400 since Ted Williams in 1941.

Numbers Game

- 5 Consecutive games with a home run by the Orioles' catcher Caleb Joseph. The rookie catcher spent the last four seasons at Double-A but was given a chance to play often with the injury to Matt Wieters. Prior to his home run spree, Joseph, who made his major league debut on May 7, had three career home runs.
- 457 Career home runs for Adam Dunn of the White Sox at the time he took the mound on Aug. 5. That is the third-highest career home run total that a player has taken to the mound. The two highest totals belong to Babe Ruth (686) and Jimmie Foxx (534).
- 892 Games started together by Ryan Howard, Chase Utley and Jimmy Rollins of the Phillies. On Tuesday, Aug. 4, the trio passed the mark of 886 games started by Steve Garvey, Dave Lopes and Bill Russell of the Dodgers.
- 688 Strikeouts this season for Kansas City hitters. The total is the fewest in the majors and is 114 fewer than the next lowest team.
- 267 Walks this season for Kansas City hitters, the fewest in the majors.
- 147 Home runs for the Baltimore Orioles, the highest total in the majors.
- 31 Stolen bases for the Baltimore Orioles, the lowest total in the majors.

THIVA ANSWER: Pedro Felix started 210 games with the record-setting threesome. David Bell is second with 146.

Trivia Corner

Ryan Howard, Chase Utley and Jimmy Rollins have started 892 games together (and counting) as of Sunday, Aug. 10. Can you name the third baseman who has started the most games alongside the trio?

THE MILLIONAIRE MASTER PLAN

So you want to be a millionaire? How would you like your own personalized plan to financial success? Well, Social Entrepreneur and Asia's best known wealth educator Roger James Hamilton went from serious debt to being that millionaire. Now he shares that road to success in "The Millionaire Master Plan." When he set out to create his plan, he found that there is no one-size fits all formula to creating wealth. Instead, your own path is determined by what kind of inner genius you already have. There are four kinds. Which one are you?

1. DYNAMO GENIUSES. They love to Create (Richard Branson, Bill Gates, Steve Jobs, Michael Jackson, Thomas Edison).

2. BLAZE GENIUSES. They love to Connect (Bill Clinton, Oprah Winfrey, Ellen DeGeneres).

3. TEMPO GENIUSES. They love to Serve, take their time, and persevere with care (Warren Buffet, George Soros, Woodrow Wilson, Gandhi, and Michael Phelps).

4. STEEL GENIUSES. They love the Details (John Rockefeller, Henry Ford, Mark Zuckerberg).

You can even take an online companion assessment to discover which kind of genius you are and your current level of wealth in order to find your flow. When you follow your genius compass and grow your flow, you'll move across a spectrum of nine levels of wealth from "victims" to legends". You can chart your own path to developing positive cash flow, designing the life you deserve to live, and making impact on the world.

So why do so many people seeking wealth creation get it wrong, rushing into solutions without first mastering the skills needed? According to Hamilton, it's because we have been taught things about wealth that are not or are no longer true. The first challenge for most is unlearning the five biggest myths of wealth.

1) Myth: You can get wealthy by going into debt to buy assets that will give you positive income so you can no longer have to work for a living.

TRUTH: You've just dug a hole, not a river. All income needs to be managed, which means you need to know how to manage a team and experts who can manage your portfolio of assets.

2) Myth: The more income streams you can start, the wealthier you become.

TRUTH: Success comes from growing teams, not streams: multiple teams of income.

3) Myth: Wealth comes when you sell out: Plan an exit strategy where you can work hard now and earn the money later.

TRUTH: Don't strive to make a pie so you can sell it. Own the bakery so you can bake as many pies as you want, sell some, and keep the rest.

4) Myth: The path to wealth begins by being your own boss and choosing what you do and when you do it.

TRUTH: Wealth comes from not being your own boss, but from choosing who your boss will be.

5) Myth: The hero's journey is the nature of entrepreneurship and comes from putting everything on the line for your big idea. Big risks achieve big rewards.

TRUTH: From climbing Mount Everest to going to the moon, the most heroic journeys are the ones that minimize risk: the ones in which you progress deliberately, testing and measuring each step before you take it to stay on the path to success.

That's the start, and now you can go to www.millionairemasterplan.com for more information. The book "The Millionaire Master Plan" is not an infomercial, it's Roger James Hamilton's true story. Good Luck! ★
