By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The City of Citrus Heights hosted its 2nd Annual Public Works Showcase and Career/Education Fair Thursday afternoon, May 18th at Van Maren Park, at Stock Ranch Road and Fountain Square Drive not far from city hall, showcasing opportunities to learn about a wide range of career opportunities in public works. Personnel from the City of Citrus Heights Public Works Department, Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA), the San Juan Unified School District Office of Adult Education and the Center for Employment Opportunities were among those representing the regional trade industry, technical jobs and training opportunities in the area. The free event also offered quite a bit of fun and education for all ages and the opportunity to meet the machines that support first responders and essential community workers up close to learn how they work and operate. Young children especially enjoyed the chance to sit in the driver's seat of a Metro Fire engine, patch a simulated pressurized ruptured water main, operate a wheeled excavator, or carefully guide a robotic camera through a simulated Sacramento Area Sewer District public sewer line. Warm weather didn't deter those

Help Stop Financial Abuse of Older Americans

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - May is Older Americans Month. Established in 1963, Older Americans Month is meant to raise awareness about stereotypes of older adults and the issues they face. To learn more about Older Americans Month, visit the Older Americans Month webpage.

In honor of Older Americans Month, challenge ageist stereotypes of growing older by celebrating the age, wisdom and experience of older friends, neighbors and family members. Look out for vulnerable older people and talk to them about financial wellness. Financial abuse awareness is critical for older adults who are targeted by scammers specifically because of their age. In Sacramento County and all over the United States, older adults fall victim to financial abuse or scams.

Financial abuse can include someone stealing money or credit cards. It can also occur when an older adult is forced to sign a document related to finances or property. If you or someone you know has experienced elder financial abuse, contact law enforcement and Sacramento County Adult Protective Services. Any member of the public, including an older or dependent adult seeking help, or family members and friends, can make a report to Sacramento County's Adult Protective Services (APS) at (916) 874-9377. When crimes do occur, Sacramento County's District Attorney works closely with victim advocates to provide confidential support and assistance.

"Our victim advocates provide crisis counseling, assistance with emergency protective orders, advocacy and support through the court process, assistance in applying for victim compensation, and referrals to community programs and resources. Our office is also very active in educating seniors and the general public about the types of elder and dependent adult abuse, how to recognize signs of abuse, how to prevent it from happening, and how to report it when it does occur," said Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Dawn Bladet.

If you are unsure of a situation involving an elder or dependent adult, but

New Business Attraction Incentive Launched

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The Citrus Heights City Council, hopeful that it can attract specific businesses which can "create community vibrancy and commercial area vitality," voted to approve a $1 million allocation launched as a new business attraction incentive program on March 23. The program is funded by $1 million in federal funds from American Rescue Plan Act through June 2024, said Meghan Huber, city economic and community engagement director who will serve as a single point of contact at the City to answer questions, monitor progress, and act as a liaison between city departments and business owners who apply. Huber can be reached at: 916-727-4745 or by email at: mhuber@citrusheights.net The city's economic development department office provides resources for business owners to identify available properties, land use and zoning information, as well as infrastructure information. "The city is hungry for places for our residents to meet and connect, and for new entertainment opportunities," Huber told council members. She described the new business attraction incentive plan as a "key tool" towards fulfilling the city's long-range business development plan. The general goal of the program is to help fund businesses which offer "unique or underrepresented goods or services to the residents of the city." The new business attraction incentive program, which excludes national chains, includes four general program categories under which a business may qualify. These include restaurants, bars, coffee and tea shops, entertainment attractions such as bowling alleys, movie theaters, performing arts and entertainment venues, breweries, craft beverage businesses, and other artisan manufacturing operations. "The incentive program is designed to be flexible, because the ultimate goal is to fill our existing vacant retail real estate and for new commercial construction," said Marisa Brown, the City's new communications officer. "All business concepts are different and require different levels of startup funding, so request amounts by the application, would likely be based on the specific site and type of business," Brown said. Under the terms of the new program, city staff will prepare a proposal incentive package and agreement which the city manager and city attorney will approve. Applications less than $5,000 can be approved directly by the city manager, while applications more than that amount would be presented to the city council for consideration, Huber explained. Eligible businesses may receive a grant on terms to be negotiated to be used for some combination of relocation, operating, equipment, or other legitimate or customary start up or business costs, Huber said. The value of the incentives will be within the discretion of the city to depend on the "uniqueness of the project" and the benefits that will accrue to the city and the community. Compelling aspects of the project application will be used to qualify and quantify what a potential business could provide to the city and its residents before it is approved for funding, Huber said. The city's economic development department offers additional services to help business owners further their projects. These include help scheduling needed meetings with planning and building departments, as well as other key city staff, which are designed to offer helpful feedback and help with project review. "We don't want to write ourselves out of attracting new and unique business opportunities in the city. We want to follow the market where it leads," Huber said. If the business attraction incentive program is successful, city staff will bring back its recommendations for additional funding and program extension, she told council members. The Goats Are Back... and Other Fire Prevention Measures

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - We've got some exciting news! The Sacramento County Department of Regional Parks has initiated its multi-pronged plan to reduce fire risk, defend wildlife habitats and protect our natural resources and the neighborhoods adjacent to the parks.

For its 2023 Fire Fuel Reduction Action Plan, the Department of Regional Parks has lined up sheep and goat grazing contracts, is utilizing maintenance crews to maintain fire breaks, and is issuing fuel break maintenance permits to properties bordering Park properties.

"We're seeing more vegetation than we have in past years thanks to the strong winter storms that passed through," said Liz Bellas, Director of Regional Parks. "Our fire fuel reduction work is going to be particularly critical this year as this vegetation dries out in the late spring."

To decrease the number and size potential of wildfires in our parks system, the techniques used will be applicable for each area and will include:

Firebreaks - A combination of mowing, soil discing and targeted herbicides will be used where appropriate to create perimeters around open fields, along fence lines and behind neighborhoods. This work is scheduled to be completed by the end of June.

Ladder Fuel Hand-Crews - In limited, hard-to-reach areas, hand-crews will remove vegetation that allows the potential for a fire to climb up or move into urban areas.

Grazing - There are hundreds of acres of undeveloped or protected land in our Regional Parks. Goats and sheep are ideal for vegetation management and are great at eating down weeds, bushes and grass that manned crews cannot get to. Grazing is expected to occur through the end of June.

Annual Encroachment Permits - Residents who live adjacent to Regional Parks' properties are able to apply for free annual encroachment permits to maintain a fire break behind their property line. These allow residents to string-trim grass and weeds for up to 50 feet beyond their private property line. To request a permit, provide your name, address and contact information to Regional Parks at parkinfo@SacCounty.gov.

Additionally, the Ranger Division will continue its increased education and enforcement efforts related to illegal fires and cooking along the parkway in an effort to reduce the number of new fire outbreaks.

Visitors to Sacramento County Regional Parks should be aware of the following regulations:

Open flame fires are NOT allowed, and barbecuing is only permitted in designated picnic areas.

Smoking is only allowed in developed picnic areas, asphalt surfaces, golf courses and levee tops along the American River Parkway.

Visit the Regional Parks website to learn more about the 2023 Fire Fuel Reduction Action Plan for Sacramento County Parks. If you see a fire burning in our Regional Parks, please call 9-1-1 ★

Market Open Year-round

By Brittany O'Neal

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - In May of 2022 the Fair Oaks Farmers Market set up for the first time to serve the community. A year later the market is still providing the community with freshly picked seasonal produce, handmade crafts, and live music, along with new vendors added to the lineup. Cocina Eclectica is the newest hot food vendor that fills customer bellies with healthy and delicious loaded fries and tacos. A Fresh Juice Bar vendor is making a debut this month with fresh fruit and vegetable juices, lemonade and coffee.

The dedicated vendors throughout the year have been Yanez and Esquivel Farm, Common Kettle Farm, FreshWay Fish, Sciabica Olive Oil, Grateful Bread, Spiced Up Seasonings, Beyond Wellness CBD, and Donna's Tamales. The market is nestled between the FO library and park, which creates a perfect family-friendly outing. Come on by to eat some yummy food, listen to local artists, and enjoy some sunshine. If you are lucky enough to be at the market when Pete is the musician, you will witness a crowd of kids sitting on the ground singing along to his goofy songs.

Who created this wonderful farmers market, you may ask? None other than Marga Brunner! Marga is a native Dutch farmer who transplanted to the Orangevale area in 2009 with a vision of connecting the community one fruit and vegetable at a time. Growing up in the Netherlands, Marga could see the impact farmers markets had on the community and wanted to bring that spirit to her new home.

The Fair Oaks Farmers Market is open year-round every week on Tuesdays from 9am-2pm. Come support your community! Photo courtesy of Fair Oaks Farmers Market

With this intention, Marga took on and transformed the Orangevale and Carmichael Farmers Markets and later created the Fair Oaks Farmers Market. Being a farmer herself, she understands the hard work and dedication it takes to run a farm and small business. Marga is excited to create these markets for the benefit of farmers, small businesses and the Fair Oaks community.

The Fair Oaks Farmers Market is open year-round every week on Tuesdays from 9am-2pm. If you are interested in being a vendor at a market, please reach out to us through the website below. And make sure to look for the market flyer that was delivered in your newspaper. There is a COUPON on the back! Bring it to the market to get $5 off a purchase of $25 or more with one of the vendors. Come support your community!

Ranger Adopts Pup Following a Traffic Stop

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Regional Parks Rangers are the law enforcement division of Regional Parks, and while their days are typically spent engaging with parkway visitors and patrolling our parks to keep them safe, every once in a while, something weird happens. This isn't a story about everyday Ranger operations, this is a heart-warming story about how one of our Rangers became a dog dad following a routine traffic stop.

While on patrol at Watt River Access on April 8, two Rangers, Matsui and Brennan, conducted what they thought would be a standard traffic stop. Upon stopping the vehicle, they discovered that an individual inside had an outstanding warrant for his arrest.

While being placed into custody, Rangers learned that the individual had a Rottweiler mix puppy that he rescued from an abusive owner. The individual told Rangers Matsui and Brennan that he wanted them to adopt the puppy because he wanted to make sure the puppy would have a good and loving home.

"Having an individual I'm taking into custody ask me to adopt his dog was a first for me," said Ranger Brennan. "This puppy stole my heart right away and I knew that I could give him a good home, but I also knew that I couldn't just take him home."

The Rangers took the puppy to Bradshaw Animal Shelter where he received a thorough evaluation. Once he was checked out and cleared, he was fostered out to Ranger Brennan, who ultimately adopted him. This puppy, now named Roman, lives with Ranger Brennan and his family.

"Ranger Matsui and I are pretty good friends," said Brennan. "I knew he had a Rottweiler pup at home, and now when we hang out outside of work, our pups can hang out together too."

Animal foster care providers help the Bradshaw Animal Shelter save lives. With the shelter continuously at capacity, fostering a pet creates kennel space for incoming animals in need while giving pets a cozy environment to relax in while they wait for their forever homes.

The time commitment for fostering a pet can range from a few weeks to a few months depending on the animal's individual needs. If you happen to fall in love with your pet, you can always choose to adopt them, just like Ranger Brennan did! To learn more about fostering an animal from the Bradshaw Animal Shelter, visit their website. ★

Remember

We love the parades and picnics, the day off from work and barbecues too. It's Memorial Day and we celebrate. But do we know why we celebrate on honor all soldiers who lost their lives in all wars. In 1971, It was declared a National Holiday.

When I think of all those precious lives lost in so many wars, it humbles me and my heart goes out to all those families who had to grieve for their loss. I know how difficult it can be to say goodbye to a loved one. My husband Rick and I were married a short three months when he boarded the plane on his way to Vietnam. It tore my heart out. So many did not return. I knew some of them. I am grateful that the good Lord blessed me with his return, but that is a time I will never forget! And neither should we...no matter the war. The sacrifice is still real.

There have been many stories on how Memorial Day came to pass. Originally, it was a day to honor the soldiers who lost their lives in the Civil War. They originally called it Decoration Day started on May 5th 1868 by General John A. Logan, Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. Why Decoration Day? Because family members of soldiers who died in the war decorated their graves with flowers. Did you know 620,000 Americans died in the Civil War? Incredible and sad when brothers were against brothers and fathers were fighting sons. In 1967 Congress changed the name to Memorial Day. And after WWII it was changed to

we...no matter the war. The sacrifice is still real.

So I ask you to REMEMBER and pass that remembrance on to your children and grandchildren. Fly the flag with pride and honor and stay dedicated to what we stand for in our country... freedom! Let go of the discord we are facing on so many levels, and marvel at what the founding fathers created and the lives lost to keep that dream. At 3 PM on Memorial Day, we are all encouraged to take a moment of silence from our activities to reflect about what this day means. Please think of all those men and women who gave their lives so we could celebrate in the land of the free! God Bless them and God Bless America!!! ★

New Wave of Demands Add Pressure to California's Budget Squeeze

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

One could call it the "big squeeze."

It's the ever-increasing conflict between the state government's current and projected tax revenues, which are drifting downwards, and the demands for billions of additional dollars for vital services, such as health care, homelessness and mass transit.

In January, when Gov. Gavin Newsom unveiled his initial budget for the 2023-24 fiscal year that begins July 1, he projected a $22.5 billion deficit – just a few months after boasting the state had a $97 billion surplus. This month, in a revised budget, he said the deficit had grown to $31.5 billion.

As worrisome as those numbers appear, they might be a best case scenario, according to the Legislature's budget analyst, Gabe Petek.

"Based on our assessment, there is a roughly two thirds chance revenues will come in below May Revision estimates," Petek said. "As such, while we consider the May revision revenues plausible, adopting them would present considerable downside risk."

Moreover, Petek said that using the Newsom administration's own projections and assumptions, "the budget condition would worsen in future years" with annual operating deficits of around $15 billion in the following two years, and hinted that the real shortfalls in the final years of Newsom's governorship could be larger.

These estimates of a chronic and perhaps widening gap between income and outgo also assume that the state's economy won't be clobbered by recession.

Many economists believe that the Federal Reserve System's increasing interest rates, meant to slow the economy and battle inflation, could trigger a recession within the next year. If it occurred, Newsom's budget says, "revenues could decrease by $40 billion in 2023-24 alone, largely driven by losses in personal income tax," adding that "revenue declines relative to the May Revision forecast could reach an additional $100 billion through 2026-27."

While the state has amassed more than $30 billion in reserves to cushion the impact of recession, an even moderate economic downturn would quickly consume them, drowning the budget in red ink as the Great Recession did.

To summarize: California's budget faces several years, at least, of budget difficulty. But the demand side of the fiscal ledger is not shrinking.

After the January budget was released, advocates for programs, particularly health care and social services, cranked up pressure on legislators to protect their slices of the pie. That pressure is even more intense with the May revision's deficit increase.

They have been joined by three other major stakeholders seeking multi-billion-dollar increases in state aid: hospitals, transit systems and cities on the front lines of the state's worst-in-the-nation homelessness crisis.

Hospital and transit system officials say they have been unable to fully recover from the impacts of COVID-19 on their patronage and finances and may be forced to shut down or at least reduce services. Mayors of the state's largest cities say they need an additional $2 billion per year to maintain ongoing efforts to house those on the streets.

None of the three fared well in the May revision. Newsom offered just a $150 million loan fund to hospitals, didn't include any extra money for local homelessness efforts, and only said he would be willing to discuss transit's self-proclaimed "fiscal cliff."

There's little question that advocates for existing and new state financing would prefer that Newsom and the Legislature tap into reserves and/or raise taxes to satisfy their demands. In fact, the state Senate's budget framework proposes a hike in corporate income taxes, although Newsom has rejected it.

Were California's budget squeeze to continue or grow tighter, as seems likely, the remainder of Newsom's governorship would be dominated by the difficult task of resolving it.

Grand Jurors' Association Adds Twelve New Trainers to Its Cadre

Beginning in late June the trainers will fan out across the State in teams of three or four and begin the challenging work of sharing their experience and knowledge. Photo courtesy of CGJA.

California Grand Jurors' Association News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Each Year the California Grand Jurors' Association (CGJA) looks for potential trainers from among the jurors it trains in order to further its core mission of taking on the education of civil grand juries throughout the State. This year 12 new trainers joined the association's faculty, bringing the total to 31. Consisting exclusively of volunteers, the training staff, experienced trainers, and new trainers gathered recently in Sacramento to learn techniques and strategies, review training materials and build camaraderie.

Beginning in late June the trainers will fan out across the State in teams of three or four and begin the challenging work of sharing their experience and knowledge to make each county, and our entire state, better - one report at a time.

California is the only state in the Union whose Constitution mandates that a grand jury be sworn in each year. Each civil grand jury's task is to act as a watchdog of local government with a requirement to write at least one report on one aspect of county government.

CGJA coordinates with counties throughout the state to meet with and share best practices for their jurors to be the most effective in making positive changes to all aspects of local government. Every area of grand jury service is reviewed in each two-day seminar provided by the volunteer trainers; everything from strategies jurors may use to determine the topics to investigate to conducting interviews to producing effective reports.

Each year over 1,000 jurors are provided with CGJA's training - a credit to county governments and CGJA. More than 100,000 Californians have been civil grand jurors and each year, California's civil grand juries across 58 counties issue nearly 500 reports.

Counties are currently in the annual juror selection process, often aided by local chapters of CGJA, some of whom work closely with the Superior Court's presiding judge to assist with recruitment, orientation, and vetting the applicants.

To learn more about California's one-of-a-kind civil grand jury system, CGJA's 4th edition of "California Civil Grand Juries: History, Law and How they Operate" is available as a free download at <https://cgja.org/californias-civil-grand-juries-0>

For more information, go to <https://www.cgja.org>. To apply to serve as a grand juror, check out the website of the Superior Court in your county.

The California Grand Jurors' Association is an all-volunteer, nonprofit organization 501(c)3 dedicated to promoting, preserving and supporting the civil watchdog function of California grand juries. Each year, CGJA provides training to grand juries to help them more effectively fulfill their state constitutional authority to, among other things, investigate and report on the conduct of local government as an arm of the Superior Court. ★

A Lot of Red Flags Here

Dear Dave,

I live in Dallas, Texas, and I'm wondering if I should sell my condo in order to pay off debt. I owe $120,000 on it, and it's worth around $260,000. Plus, the homeowners association fee used to be $450 a month and has gone up $100 each year for the last two years, so now we're paying $650. No one has ever told us why the fee went up so much. There haven't been any major improvements to the complex in the last five years, so I don't know what to think. Can you give me some advice??

- Zack

Dear Zack,

As a homeowner, I'd want some answers by the end of day as to why the HOA fees are so high. I mean, for a $260,000 condo, the fee you mentioned is ridiculous unless the building owners are doing a major renovation, like replacing the parking lot or updating the community's clubhouse. Even then, that's crazy! On top of all that, it devalues your condo. Nobody wants to buy a $260,000 condo with a $650 HOA fee every month, especially when the fee has gone up that much for no apparent reason.

Dave Ramsey Says

There's always the possibility the company is building up a war chest for improvements in the next year or so. But you have a right to know exactly where the money you pay in HOA fees is going. Ask to see a copy of their financials, and if they won't do that—or explain why the fee is so high and where the money's going—you need to sell the place because it's being poorly managed.

You've got to get an explanation. You're owed one. And, if you try to sell the place, you're going to have to tell prospective buyers why the HOA fee is so high. Maybe there's a good reason for it buried somewhere. But without knowing more, as a buyer, there's no way I'd take this thing off your hands.

There are a lot of red flags fluttering around the situation, Daniella. Even in a place like Dallas, this HOA fee is about double what it should be for a $260,000 condo. I'm not saying this just because I don't like HOAs, which I don't. And that's mainly because I don't like paying money for something, and then being told by someone else what I can or can't do with it. But you need some answers for your own information, peace of mind and to give potential buyers an honest answer when they ask why the fees are insanely high.

Lose the headache. Sell it.

CHP Shifts into Overdrive to Halt Reckless Driving

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

The California Highway Patrol (CHP) is accelerating its efforts to halt illegal street racing and sideshows plaguing the state's roadways and destroying the lives of innocent victims. To increase awareness about the devastation and destruction caused by this illegal and dangerous driving behavior, the CHP unveiled a new multi-media campaign while standing amid a three-dimensional installation featuring an actual crashed vehicle along Melrose Avenue in Los Angeles.

The billboard, a striking visual reminder, is just one of the more than 50 displays being erected throughout the state reminding drivers about illegal street racing and sideshows, "Thrills That Kill." The public can expect to see the billboard campaign through the summer months in areas of California that have seen a high number of illegal street racing and side-show activity. Among the locations: Los Angeles, the Bay Area, and the Central

San Joaquin Valley.

Illegal sideshows have been occurring at an alarming rate in California, and they continue to get bigger and more dangerous. In 2021, the CHP responded to more than 7,300 incidents statewide with nearly 123,000 participants. While the number of incidents decreased by approximately 50 percent last year, there is still a significant amount of work to be done to keep California's communities, and those who use our roads, safe.

"Illegal street racing and sideshows put lives at risk, upset the quality of our neighborhoods, cause damage to private and public property, and in some cases, have resulted in the death of innocent people," CHP Deputy Commissioner Troy Lukkes said. "Through our ongoing efforts we want to send the message throughout California that this dangerous and illegal activity will not be tolerated."

Over a 5-year period, illegal street racing and side-show activities have resulted in 264 crashes. Of those incidents attributed to this reckless behavior, 30 crashes were fatal, and 124 others resulted injuries.

To combat this trend, the CHP has been working with its public safety partners and community-based organizations throughout the state. Together, we are engaging in a strong education and enforcement campaign with the goal of keeping all who use California's roadways safe by encouraging others to make good choices behind the wheel.

Funding to support the CHP's efforts were made possible by the Governor's approval of a one-time state budget allocation of $5.5 million at the request of California Assemblymember Vince Fong and a former Assemblymember, Sacramento County Sheriff Jim Cooper. The funds are being used to support state and local task forces to end dangerous sideshow activities that have become a major problem in communities throughout the state.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

Homeless Student Count Grows

By Joe Hong and Erica Yee, CALMatters.org

As the number of unhoused students in California’s public schools continues to rise to pre-pandemic levels, experts and educators fear that today’s economy paired with the state’s unrelenting housing crisis will lead to unprecedented rates of homeless youth.

According to updated data released today by the California Department of Education, there are about 5.9 million students enrolled in public schools this school year, close to 40,000 fewer students than last year or a .7% drop. But the number of students experiencing homelessness increased by 9%, about 16,000, to a total of approximately 187,000 kids.

The overarching cause of homelessness among all Californians is the perennial shortage of affordable housing in the state, according to Angela James, a researcher at UCLA’s Center for the Transformation of Schools.

“It’s alarming to me, quite frankly,” James said. “Housing instability may be deepening in California as a result of the pandemic.”

The new data signals a return to pre-pandemic numbers. Last school year, about 2.9% of students qualified as homeless. The percentage is up to 3.2% this year, about the same as it was in 2019-20.

“As a state we have not made the housing and well-being of our population a priority,” James said.

“Sadly, social policies have not been responsive to the needs of young people and their families.”

Experts struggle to explain why homeless numbers dropped during the pandemic. They said students and their families may have been moving around during the early months of quarantine, so they may not have been counted. Or unhoused students may have just been falling through the cracks.

“In some cases, districts could be getting better at identifying students,” said Dion Burns, a senior researcher at the Learning Policy Institute.

Student homelessness rose this year for the first time since 2020. The count includes students living in motels, trailer parks, campgrounds or public spaces.

While statewide numbers indicate a return to pre-pandemic levels, 13 of the 20 largest districts in the state have more students experiencing homelessness now than they did in the 2019-20 school year.

Since 2015, rates of homelessness were rising gradually up until 2020, when they started dropping steadily. Student homelessness rose this year for the first time since 2020.

The California Department of Education uses a federal definition of homelessness that includes students living in motels, trailer parks, campgrounds or public spaces.

School districts and county offices of education employ liaisons who keep tabs on students and families experiencing homelessness. James said they’re often shorthanded, so collecting data may have been a challenge, especially during the chaos of 2020 and 2021.

Many unhoused students and their families have been evicted from their homes, James said. She recalled her own personal trauma of having her family’s furniture moved out to their front lawn when they were evicted. With no home, students and their families might go from one temporary shelter to another with no sense of how long they can stay in one place.

“The degree to which that impacts a child cannot be underestimated,” James said.

She added that teachers are fortunately better prepared to work with these students than they were in past decades. When a student acts out or even gets violent, a teacher might try to calm the student instead of resorting to disciplinary actions like detentions or suspensions.

According to the state’s new data, the numbers of foster youth, students with disabilities and students from low-income households have all increased by between 2% and 3%.

The rate of decline for overall enrollment shows signs of stabilizing after plummeting in the first years of the pandemic. Kindergarten enrollment took the biggest hit, but is starting to climb back up. Enrollment went from about 71,000 in 2020-21 to about 130,000 this year, but state officials said it’s partly due to the state’s expansion of transitional kindergarten. ★

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF DAVID LEROY MCDONALL, CASE NO. 34-2023-00337923. To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of David Leroy McDonall aka David McDonall.

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Claire McDonall, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Claire McDonall be appointed as personal representative(s) to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows September 5, 2023, 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129; Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, William R. Ridgeway Family Relations Courthouse, 3341 Power Inn Road, Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

The name, address and telephone number of the Attorney for Petitioner is: Edward Burns, 7889 Lichen Drive #351, Citrus Heights, CA 95621; 916-282-9799

Memorial Day: All Gave Some; Some Gave All

Sylvan Cemetery News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Memorial Day will be celebrated on May 29th, this year. Memorial Day, not to be confused with Veterans Day, is a day of remembering the men and women who died while serving in the United States Armed Forces. Veterans Day on the other hand celebrates the service of all U. S. Military veterans. Memorial Day, formerly known as Decoration Day, originated after the American Civil War in 1868 to commemorate the Union and Confederate soldiers who died in the Civil War. The end of May seemed to be appropriate since many spring flowers are available. By the 20th century Memorial Day had been extended to honor all Americans who have died in all wars in the past 248 years.

Every year, Sylvan Cemetery in Citrus Heights honors those who gave their lives in the defense of their county. We take time to salute the over 3 million men and women that have died in military service defending our country since 1775.

This year, Memorial Day service will be held on Monday, May 29, 2023, at Sylvan Cemetery, 7401 Auburn Blvd, Citrus Heights, at 11:00am in the gazebo.

On Thursday, May 25th, we will be placing a cross and small American flag on each grave of the 1400 Veterans that are buried here at Sylvan Cemetery. These will remain from May 25th – 30th. Any and all volunteers are welcome to help on these days. We will start at 8:00am. ★
