Farewell, ARCO!

Kings Organization and Fans Say Goodbye to the 'Old Barn'

SACRAMENTO CA (MPG) - ARCO Arena, Power Balance Pavilion, and Sleep Train Arena are three names that were synonymous with the home of the Sacramento Kings for 28 years.

ARCO Arena officially closed Saturday in Natomas for good, as members of the Kings organization and fans said their final farewells to a building that opened in 1988 and meant so much to a city for so long.

"This is a shining example that in Sacramento there was a time when we were at the top of the basketball world and this is where you had to come to see the 'Greatest Show on Court,' so that gives us hope," said Doug Christie, who played shooting guard in Sacramento from 2000 to 2005. "This building is different than Golden 1 (Center).

Golden 1 has things to walk around and see. But here, there was 17,000 people already sitting in their seat. When we came out of that tunnel it was energy, if you didn't have it, they gave it to you."

Christie, now an assistant coach with the Kings, Vlade Divac and Brad Miller were the former Kings players in attendance Saturday. Olympic gold medalist Ruthie Bolton made an appearance to represent the Monarchs, the former WNBA team that won a championship for Sacramento in 2005 before disbanding in 2009.

"This was the venue (where) the fans were the soul, and we were the show," Christie said. "That mix is something that you don't find. We were white-hot before Miami. We were beautiful basketball before Golden State. The only thing we didn't do is put a ring on it. I told (Kings' owner) Vivek (Ranadivé) when we were

MealPro Expands Operations

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - An online meal service, MealPro, founded in 2018, with corporate headquarters at 7433 Greenback Lane in Citrus Heights, has reached a new milestone, with the purchase of its building, a transaction which will double the size of its current operations.

The company as Sartori Holdings, LLC, purchased 7433 Greenback Lane for $3.23 million from investor Ethan Conrad, said founder Andy Sartori, using financing from the U.S. Small Business Administration.

MealPro closed escrow on March 11, for the 18,208 square foot property and will expand into vacant space within the building. A separate business entity, Andy Sartori Investments, will earn then standing here, 'It's gonna happen, it will. And when it does, right on the bottom down there, just put ARCO because that would be so very fitting.'"

Ranadivé, who kept the team from moving out of Sacramento in 2013, and former owner Gregg Lukenbill, who brought the franchise to the 916 in 1985, each spoke Saturday morning about the former home known to many as the "Old Barn."

"I know this is a bittersweet moment for everyone because there is some amazing memories," Ranadivé said. "I describe this place as a communal fireplace. The firepit is the arena, the players are the fire, they lit that fire. The fans huddled around that communal fireplace and it's been an amazing fireplace. So, thanks to all of you for the memories."

Also in attendance for the farewell were politicians, Sacramento Mayor Darrell Steinberg and Vice Mayor Angelique Ashby, as well as former Kings coach and broadcaster Jerry Reynolds.

"This is very emotional because there isn't a Sacramentan who hasn't been part of this community for decades who doesn't have incredible memories of experiences here at, I know it's Sleep Train, ARCO Arena. It's what it is, ARCO Arena," Steinberg said. "The memories, even the painful ones, are all good."

The "Farewell to ARCO Arena" event was open to season ticket holders starting at noon Saturday and to the public from 2-6 P.M. Fans had the opportunity to walk through the old arena, take photos and write farewell messages that will remain on the site.

The Kings also gave away an abundance of free boxes of team memorabilia like jerseys and signed basketballs that were stored over the years at ARCO, to those who were willing to brave the long line. The event was one last get-together for Kings fans at the place they called home for many years.

It is well documented that Sacramento has struggled for many years on the court, as the current team is 25-48 and close to missing the playoffs for what would be an NBA record 16th consecutive season. However, the Kings' best years in Sacramento so far were at ARCO, including nine playoff appearances, eight consecutive from 1998 to 2006, and a trip to the 2002 Western Conference Finals.

In 2013, the arena set a Guinness World Record for loudest indoor sports roar at 126 decibels.

"I truly appreciate the soul of this building," Christie said. "I never knew that wood, metal and plastic could make such a sound. But it was a sound that I will never forget."

Off the court, ARCO hosted concerts, high school and college sports, WWE, MMA, Disney on Ice and so much more.

After fighting for years to keep their team in town, Kings fans were rewarded in 2016 with the Golden 1 Center. Now, the space in Natomas that they once called home will be demolished in the coming months to make way for a new medical center and hospital.

"One of the epic moments of my life was to be able to stand here, and I'll just repeat what I said, I said, 'This is your team, and it is here to stay,' Ranadivé said. "This is a place that has been giving for years and years so I'm really happy that that tradition of giving is going to continue as we open a world-class hospital over here so it's going to keep giving to the community."

"As bitter as it is, it's also sweet because we have a beautiful new arena downtown. As great as the past has been, the future is going to be even better." ★

By County Supervisor Sue Frost

Through the generosity of the Citrus Heights Messenger, this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the community of Citrus Heights.

We are all aware that the county’s homeless population has been growing and we can see the impacts every time we leave our houses. As we continue to tackle homelessness, we run into challenges at almost every turn including state laws, court decisions, pandemics, and judicial rulings. That being the case, we are constantly adapting our approach and, I am happy to say, enhancing the ways we try to solve the homeless problem.

The solutions we have put forward include increased access to treatment for mental health and drugs and alcohol addiction, and we are increasing our outreach to connect people to those services. While treatment for mental illness and addiction is the best thing we can do to help people get off the streets, it will never be enough on its own. We have to do more than treat the root causes and offer options that help connect people to services and get them into safer environments. For that reason, Sacramento County is moving forward with a plan to establish sanctioned encampments throughout the county, and shutting down the illegal encampments.

A sanctioned encampment is almost certainly

Citrus Heights Community Update

The Path to Eliminating Illegal Homeless Camps

what you think it is: an area designated by the county for homeless individuals to live/camp legally and safely. While this may not sound like something you want to get excited about and might even concern you, I believe this is the best thing we can do at this time. First, Sacramento County cannot get back to enforcing ordinances that prevent camping on public land until we can offer an alternative due to a decision at the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals. Second, a sanctioned encampment is far preferable to unregulated camping.

We have learned from the failures of other sanctioned sites and intend to keep the county’s new sites staffed at all times, regulated to prevent drug use and other criminal behavior, and we will put them in the areas that will see the greatest benefit. By areas that will receive the greatest benefit, I mean the areas currently being the most heavily impacted by unchecked campsites. While many people may jump to the conclusion that the best place to put a sanctioned site is as far from developed areas as possible, the real best approach is to find locations that are near where large groups of homeless people are already dwelling. This ensures we get the most people we can living in sanctioned encampments because it is an area they already have a connection to.

Most importantly, sanctioned encampments are more than just a place for homeless individuals to sleep. We will be using them as an opportunity to connect individuals to the services we know they need to get into transitional or permanent housing and back to a self-sustaining lifestyle. Sanctioned encampments will have the benefit of being staffed by mental health and behavioral health professionals that can get at the issues that are keeping so many people trapped in homelessness. Regardless of whether or not substance abuse or mental illness is the cause of a person’s homelessness, for many it has become part of what prevents them from escaping homelessness.

Again, while this may not sound ideal to some, and I am sure there are people who are worried that one of these encampments will be near where they live, shop, or dine, I am confident this is the right move. Fewer homeless individuals making campsites around the county is a good thing. Increasing outreach and connection to drug/alcohol treatment and mental health services is a good thing. And getting the power back to shut down illegal camping sites all over the County is also a good thing. These sanctioned encampments are the balance between compassion and toughness my constituents have been telling me they support for as long as I have been a Supervisor. This is just one of many important steps we must take as part of our comprehensive approach to relieving the County’s homeless crisis.

Thank you for reading – and as always, if you want to contact me, call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@sacounty.net.

Regional San Awarded Funding for Harvest Water Project

Regional San Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Water Commission recently announced that Regional San will receive about $4.3 million in additional Proposition 1 grant funding from California’s Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP). These funds will help finance Regional San’s Harvest Water Program. This additional funding adds to the previous $287.5 million in WSIP funding, for an overall total award of about $292 million.

Harvest Water was established to meet Regional San’s goal of increasing the use of recycled water by providing tertiary-treated wastewater for farmers – demonstrating Regional San’s ongoing commitment to environmental stewardship.

Harvest Water represents one of the largest agricultural water reuse projects in the United States. Once complete, it will provide up to 50,000 acre-feet per year of drought-resistant recycled water to irrigate up to 16,000 acres of permanent agriculture and habitat conservation lands near the Cosumnes River and Stone Lakes National Wildlife Refuge in Sacramento County.

“Regional San takes its commitment to environmental stewardship very seriously,” said Christoph Dobson, Regional San’s General Manager. “Securing these funds helps our efforts to provide a safe and sustainable water supply for agriculture, irrigation and habitat protection. It also reduces the need for groundwater pumping, a critical need in today’s drought conditions.”

Next steps include continued planning efforts with local farmers and development of designs for pumping, transmission and distribution systems to convey recycled water from the wastewater treatment plant near Elk Grove to farmers in southern Sacramento County. The first phase of the recycled water delivery system is expected to be operational by 2025.

Follow the Plan, and make Stuff Happen!

Dear Dave,

I just started Baby Step 3 of your plan. It took me about 12 months to pay off $8,000 in debt during Baby Step 2. I am 50, and I work in the printing industry making about $38,000 a year in a city with no local or state income tax. I have not done a lot about retirement yet, and that worries me now that I am learning to manage money in a smarter way. How can I stay on track with the Baby Steps and still do something about retirement?

— Blake

Dear Blake,

I generally look at a time-frame of six months to a year for saving a fully funded emergency fund. So, if it took you about a year to pay off $10,000 in debt, you're probably looking at about the same length of time – or less, since the debt is gone – to save up an emergency fund. Keep in mind that an emergency fund is three to six months of expenses, not income.

But here's the thing. If you start building retirement right now and have an emergency, do you know what you'll use? Yep, you'll use your retirement. That's why an emergency fund comes before retirement in the Baby Steps.

The median household income in America is around $68,000, and that's often two incomes. You're probably working pretty hard for that $38,000, so I would challenge you to think about and work toward something you could be doing in the near future to make that much money or more.

I want you to open your mind and imagination, and start thinking fresh again. Don't do something silly like quit your job today, but if you're going to be making $38,000 five or 10 years from now it's time to aim at something else.

I'm trying to speak to your retirement fears, as well as warn you against addressing retirement without having an emergency fund in place. Save up a solid emergency fund over the next year, while at the same time doing some serious thinking and goal setting.

Maybe you'd like to do something completely different, or even own a printing company by that time. Who knows? The cool thing is you can make it happen, and the choice is all yours!

— Dave

How Will Newsom's Gas Price Relief Promise Work?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters.org

It's time once again for some fun with numbers, in this case data surrounding the sharp spike in gas prices.

Although the recent uptick in fuel prices varies from community to community and even station to station, a good estimate of the increase, perhaps a bit conservative, is $1 per gallon. It's mostly due to global oil markets reacting to the Russian invasion of Ukraine and efforts to punish Russian President Vladimir Putin with economic sanctions.

Last week in his State of the State address, Gov. Gavin Newsom dropped his previous proposal to offset the gas price increase with a very small "pause" in a scheduled state gas tax increase.

"Now, it's clear we must go further," Newsom said. "That's why, working with legislative leadership, I'll be submitting a proposal to put money back in the pockets of Californians to address rising gas prices."

That was it — no details, just a vague promise. While we await some indication of what Newsom intends, let's put a buck-a-gallon price increase in numerical perspective:

—Californians own and drive 29 million automobiles and light trucks, such as pickups and SUVs;

—Each year, they rack up 330 billion miles of automotive travel, an average of about 11,000 miles per vehicle;

—Motorists burn 15 billion gallons of gasoline each year, which averages out to 517 gallons of fuel for each vehicle (43 gallons per month) and an average of 21 miles to the gallon;

—Therefore, on average Californians are paying an extra $43 per month to drive, if one assumes the price increase has been $1 per gallon.

Higher costs for refueling their cars can certainly be painful to those in lower income brackets or those, such as long-distance commuters, who are running up high mileage counts. But unto itself, $43 a month shouldn't be a critical issue for many Californians.

That said, we tend to focus on sharp price increases in everyday commodities, such as gasoline, as an indicator of high inflation. It's a squeaky wheel in political terms — and politicians feel compelled to grease the wheel or face a popular backlash.

So what can Newsom and legislators do to offset higher gas prices in this election year?

The tax increase pause Newsom originally proposed would have cost about $500 million or a $17 annual savings per vehicle, hardly worth doing.

However, fully offsetting the jump could be a major hit on the state budget. At $1 per gallon, it would require the state to rebate about $15 billion to motorists for a full year — almost exactly what the prison system costs — or just over $500 per vehicle.

The trick will be to make rebates large enough to have some positive psychological response from California motorists but small enough to avoid a major budget impact.

Would $100 per car — enough, perhaps for one 20-gallon fillup — sufficiently impress Californians that their politicians' hearts are in the right place? Even that relatively small amount would cost the state budget about $3 billion.

Rebates of any size would be relatively easy to distribute if done on a per-vehicle basis, since the state already has data on vehicle ownership.

It would become infinitely more complex to focus relief for those who are feeling price increases most keenly, such as low-income motorists or super commuters. That could become a bureaucratic nightmare on a par with the dysfunctional Employment Development Department.

The rebate promise is now on the agenda and it will be a very interesting situation to monitor.

2. WALK BAREFOOT OUTDOORS ON THE NATURAL GROUND. This is called earthing or grounding and you will be absorbing salubrious electrons through your feet into your body to boost your immunity, vitality and mood.

3. STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH. Faith is an invisible and invincible magnet that attracts to itself whatever it fervently desires and expects. In 2 Corinthians 5:7 we read: Worry ends when faith begins.

4. LIVE BY THE GOLDEN RULE. Treat others with the compassion you wish to receive, and you will instantly feel more joy and peace. This starts with being compassionate with yourself and letting go of any negative self-talk.

5. FIND WAYS TO VOLUNTEER YOUR TIME. When you share your love and time with others, your brain's pleasure and rewards centers light up like a Christmas tree, and you release the neurotransmitters serotonin and dopamine, feel good chemicals which combat anxiety and depression.

6. STRIVE TO GET 7-8 HOURS SLEEP AT NIGHT. Studies reveal that when you get more sleep on a regular basis, your stress level abates and you become a more compassionate, positive uplifted person.

7. CARVE OUT TIME TO MEDITATE DAILY. Practicing meditation will change your brainwaves in a positive way, and make you feel calmer, less anxious, more compassionate and optimistic and even help increase your income.

8. WHAT YOU EAT AFFECTS YOUR MOOD. If you want to feel more uplifted daily, you must eschew foods made with white sugar and white flour and choose to eat foods as close to the way nature made them as possible with lots of fresh fruits and veggies.

9. EXERCISE TO FEEL HAPPY AND UPLIFTED. Just ten minutes of aerobic exercise doubles the level of norepinephrine in the body, a chemical to happiness. Try to work it in at the beginning of your day to reap the benefits all day and have no excuses later in the in the day to skip your workout.

10. SPEND TIME IN NATURE. Nature calms us down and reduces anxiety. Whenever possible, find ways to exercise outdoors. In her book "Uplifted" she writes about a disease she calls NDD... "Nature Deficit Disorder." Too much time away from nature wrinkles our soul and deprives us of a cost-free "visual valium" experience. Our moms were right when they said "Go outside and play. To this she added..."Go outside to play and pray.

Representative Bera Secures $3.76 Million for Community Projects

Office of Representative
Ami Bera, M.D.

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - On Wednesday, March 9, 2022, Representative Ami Bera, M.D. (CA-07) announced that he secured over $3.76 million in funding to directly support nine community funding projects in California's 7th Congressional District. The funding was secured through H.R. 2471, the 2022 Fiscal Year government funding package, which passed the House of Representatives today with strong bipartisan support.

"I'm incredibly proud to secure over $3.76 million in funding to directly support nine projects throughout Sacramento County," said Representative Bera. "These investments will support vital water infrastructure projects in our region, will improve public safety, and will fund the construction of important youth and recreation centers. This funding will go a long way in making Sacramento County healthier, safer, and stronger for generations to come."

Funding secured by Representative Bera will support projects in Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Fair Oaks, Folsom, and Rancho Cordova.

Project Sponsor: Citrus Heights Water District

Project Name: Citrus Heights Groundwater Production Well

Project Location: 8026 Patton Avenue, Citrus Heights CA 95610

Amount Secured: $585,000

Explanation: Funding would support the planning, design, and engineering phase for a new groundwater well. The well would be capable of producing 1,000 gallons per minute of drinking water and would be constructed with Aquifer Storage and Recovery (ASR) technology to allow for the injection of surface water into the groundwater aquifer for storage. This additional groundwater storage would provide additional water supply for the Citrus Heights Water District and allow them to reduce surface water usage during dry periods, leaving more water in the river for fish and wildlife. ★

Prayer and Healing
Explore the connection

Sponsored by Fujiko Takai Signs, CSB
Christian Science practitioner and teacher
A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship

Carmichael, CA: Around the world people are looking to prayer for solutions, safety, and well-being. Fujiko Signs, practitioner of Christian Science healing and international speaker, will present an online talk titled, “Love without limit, Life without fear,” Thursday, April 7 at 7 PM, online at www.tinyurl.com/yc286hfd and in-person viewing at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmichael located at 4949 Kenneth Ave. in Carmichael. The lecture on-line link can also be accessed directly at the church website ChristianScienceChurchCarmichael.com

The talk will focus on universal healing precepts found in the Holy Bible, especially in Christ Jesus’ life and teachings, showing how they are available for anyone to understand and experience through the lens of Christian Science. This live web lecture is free, open to the community, and hosted by First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Carmichael.

“We will explore the relationship between prayer and healing through the universal divine truth that unites us,” says Signs. “We will talk about the practical understanding of God as ever-present love so we can make progress, unafraid like trusting children.”

Sharing examples of healing from her own life and professional practice of Christian Science, Ms. Signs will explain why Christian Science is both Christian and scientific, meaning that people can prove its effectiveness for themselves, as fully described in the book Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, written by the founder of the Christian Science movement, Mary Baker Eddy.

Ms. Signs will also touch on the life of Mary Baker Eddy, a mid-nineteenth century American woman, who came to understand, confirm, and teach what she felt was original Christian healing. Eddy herself said she was especially inspired by Jesus’ demand, “He that believes on me, the works that I do will he do also; and greater works than these will he do, because I go unto my Father” (found in the Gospel of John 14:12 in the Bible).

For over 150 years, people around the world have worked to follow Christ Jesus in this practice of Christianity and continue to do so today, experiencing healings of physical ills and personal difficulties.

Fujiko Signs has been a Christian Science practitioner for many years, helping people on a daily basis through this scientific approach to prayer. Based in Tokyo, Japan, she speaks to audiences around the world as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

The Posse is Coming Shooting Investigation Underway

By Jack Frost,
Co-Director of the CSPOA
Nor-Cal Chapter

Remember yesteryear when the town Sheriff would form a “Posse” and ride out on horseback to chase down the “Law-Breakers”? Well, the CSPOA Citizen-Posse is gearing up and we need YOU to prepare to saddle up with us because we have a lot of work to do.

You ask...what is the CSPOA? It’s the Constitutional Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association Founded by Sheriff Richard Mack in 2011. Go to www.CSPOA.org and “Join the Posse” for access to video’s, articles, and a weekly webinar with Sheriff Mack.

The first CSPOA Chapter in California has just been approved and will be led by three Co-Directors, Jason Nole, Brenna Toppenberg, and Jack Frost. The goal is to approve all 58-Counties in California to become “Regional County Affiliates” (RCA’s). The mission is to educate Law Enforcement, Elected Officials, and Citizens about their “Constitutional Rights” and the duties and responsibilities of their “Oath of Office.”

Our first CSPOA Training featuring Sheriff Mack and KrisAnne Hall is scheduled for April 2nd at the “Church of Glad Tidings” in Yuba City.

Go to www.GorillaLearningInstitute.org/cspoa and purchase a ticket while they last! Gorilla Learning Institute, founded by Supervisor Sue Frost, is a 501-C-3, sponsoring CSPOA’s educational efforts through a Re-Grant Project known as “Friends of CSPOA” allowing your registration and donations to be tax deductible. The “Mission” of Gorilla Learning Institute is to educate citizens about the Constitution, U.S. History, Civics, and the Free Enterprise System.

We hope to see you at the April 2nd CSPOA Event so you can learn your Constitutional Rights and “Join the CSPOA Posse.”

By Sergeant Rod Grassmann,
Sacramento County Sheriff’s Dept.

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - At 8:51 a.m. on Thursday, March 17, 2022, the Sacramento County Sheriff’s Office Communications Center received a call from a citizen at the intersection of Orange Grove Avenue and Auburn Boulevard stating that an adult male subject had been shot after an apparent “Road Rage” incident.

Witnesses at the scene stated the driver of Vehicle 1 intentionally drove into Vehicle 2. The driver of Vehicle 1, a 46-year-old male, got out of his car and approached the driver of Vehicle 2, a 24-year-old male, both residents of Sacramento County.

Surveillance footage supports multiple witness statements that Driver 1 stopped his vehicle in the roadway and approached Driver 2 who was seated inside Vehicle 2. Witnesses say Driver 1 reached inside Vehicle 2 and was shot one time in the torso by Driver 2.

Deputies arrived and located a male victim, who was later determined to be in possession of a knife, in the roadway next to a vehicle. Deputies rendered first aid until Metro Fire arrived on scene to transport the victim to the hospital where he died hours later. Driver 2 remained on scene and was cooperative with deputies. Detectives later interviewed Driver 2 and released him without charges. The Sacramento County Sheriff’s Office will confer with the Sacramento County District Attorney’s Office regarding evidence and charging.

Detectives are asking anyone with information relating to this incident, to please contact the Sheriff’s Office at (916) 874-5115 or Sacramento Valley Crime Stoppers at (916) 443-HELP. Tip information may also be left anonymously at www.sacsheriff.com or by calling (916) 874-TIPS (8477). ★

Arrest Warrant Issued in Robbery Series Investigation

Citrus Heights Police Department

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Last week, an arrest warrant for James Michael Sawyers was issued by the Sacramento County Superior Court in the amount of $100,000 for two Citrus Heights robberies.

Following several weeks of thorough investigation, and in collaboration with the Roseville Police Department, 45-year-old James Michael Sawyers was arrested on March 8th for committing a robbery in the City of Roseville and booked into the Placer County jail on their robbery charge, as well as additional weapons and drug charges.

Citrus Heights Detectives were simultaneously investigating Sawyers for two additional robberies in Citrus Heights, in which he was positively identified for each. Sawyers was responsible for the robberies at the Lowe’s home improvement store in the 7800 block of Greenback Lane in Citrus Heights on Feb 21, 2022 and for the same crime a day later, Feb. 22, 2022, at a Walmart store in the 7000 block of Auburn Blvd in Citrus Heights. In both robberies, Sawyers used a demand note which stated he had a firearm in his possession.

On March 7, 2022, Citrus Heights Police Detectives became aware that a subject matching Sawyers’ description committed a robbery at a Walmart in the City of Roseville’s jurisdiction. Roseville Police identified Sawyers following that crime, and both Department’s investigators worked together to conduct surveillance of the suspect leading to his eventual arrest.

Citrus Heights Police appreciate a strong working partnership with the Roseville Police Department and our Citrus Heights community. Together, we were able to bring resolution to these victims, prevent further victimization to our communities, and bring the responsible party to justice. ★

Social Workers: Making Communities Better

Nominate a Volunteer for the DOVIA Sacramento Awards

By Laurie Slothower, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Social workers make communities better. They help protect children, youth, and the elderly from abuse. They connect people suffering from substance abuse and mental illness to services. They link people challenged by homelessness, poverty and lack of healthcare to housing, benefits and employment. They help severely disabled individuals live in the least restrictive environment possible.

March is National Social Work Month, and Sacramento County joins the National Association of Social Work (NASW) in celebrating this great profession and in sharing this year’s motto, “The Time is Right for Social Work.”

The goal of Social Work Month is to inform the public, policymakers and legislators about the way social workers meet people where they are every day and help them live to their fullest potential.

Sacramento County employs almost 600 social workers in many different County departments. The Department of Child, Family and Adult Services (DCFAS) and the Department of Human Assistance (DHA) have the largest numbers of social workers on staff.

DCFAS social workers link individuals and families to services that promote the safety, health and well-being of community members across all ages. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, they continued to provide in-person visits, working on the frontlines along with doctors, nurses, law enforcement and other essential employees.

At DHA, social workers help families who are experiencing homelessness, domestic violence and other family crises. They help clients learn job-seeking skills. A team of social workers specializes in helping clients navigate the challenging disability benefits process. DHA also has a social worker in the General Assistance Program making referrals to service agencies.

In addition to these efforts, DHA also has social workers assigned to the Homeless Outreach and Encampment Teams working with Sacramentans experiencing homelessness to navigate public benefits and shelter/housing options.

“Our DCFAS social workers are everyday heroes and I feel privileged to be a part of this team,” said Michelle Callejas, Director of the Department of Children, Family and Adult Services.

“The social workers in DHA work tirelessly to help those in the greatest need of services become self-sufficient and independent. It is because of their efforts and the efforts of those they work with across department and jurisdictional lines that Sacramentans can thrive and be safe,” said Ethan Dye, Director of Human Assistance.

Social work is one of the fastest-growing professions in the United States, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. At the same time, Sacramento County has an ongoing need for social workers to help the community’s most vulnerable residents. The Human Services Social Worker and Human Services Social Worker (with Master’s Degree) positions are on continuous file, meaning the County is always accepting applications.
