Veterans Center Celebrates Season

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - When the Citrus Heights Community Veteran's Center puts on an event, they pull out all the stops. Located at the old Sylvan Schoolhouse at 6921 Sylvan Road, "Jean's Team" once again transformed the yard of the old schoolhouse into a fall festival wonderland on October 30.

Jean Rounsavell, owner of the center and her team didn't skip a beat after being rained out the prior Saturday. Mother Nature scheduled her bomb cyclone rain event on the same day as the Center had scheduled their festival. Nature won but the team quickly regrouped and came back even stronger with a fun event to help raise funds for everyday expenses to keep the doors of the Center open for its veterans.

Volunteers brought in hay bales, hundreds of bright fall leaves and even a bounce house. Games, crafts, face painting and, of course, food was enjoyed by visitors. The all-retired veterans country band, Free Range, entertained with real old-time country tunes. Six high school students from the Mesa Verde High glee club helped to keep things running smoothly.

Since the passing of Jean's husband Jim in March, the priority has been to maintain and improve the property for the enjoyment of the veterans for many years to come. A major renovation is being planned for the inside of the 159-year-old structure. Several contractors working with the Center are making generous donations of in-kind time and services.

The Center is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. with a hot lunch for the veterans served every Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a.m.

Jim Rounsavell's Celebration of Life was held at the Center on July 17. His legacy will continue in this Center. Mayor Steve Miller gave a good perspective on the age of the old schoolhouse. He noted that Abraham Lincoln was president at the time, and the United States was in a civil war. Showing how important it is to preserve these walls, he ended with these words, "If these walls could talk, they would say, 'thank you Jim for mending us, and creating a welcoming place for our veterans and our community'. Jim has joined a long, esteemed and notable line of city pioneers, and while he will be missed by all, his impact on our community will be eternal."

City Ends Fiscal Year with Surplus

Story by Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - At the October 28 meeting, Interim Administrative Services Director Bill Zenoni provided the Citrus Heights City Council with a financial update on the City's general fund. The budget for the 2020-2021 fiscal year, which ended in June, included an expected shortfall of $3.7 million, with plans to utilize a line of credit to cover the gap. However, the City actually ended up with a surplus of $3.6 million.

The surplus can be attributed to higher-than-expected revenues as well as lower expenditures. Maintaining staff vacancies saved a significant amount of money on expenditures, and federal funding awards helped bolster the revenue stream and fund operating costs at the Citrus Heights Police Department. Sales tax revenues were also higher than expected, because although local sales decreased due to COVID-19, online sales increased enough to cover, and exceed, the difference in sales tax revenue.

The Council also moved forward with an amendment to the residential solid waste collection and recycling services agreement with Republic Services. The service changes and proposed rate increases are a result of unfunded organics recycling mandates required by California's Senate Bill (SB) 1383 to reduce methane gas production.

Weekly garbage collection and bi-weekly recycling collection will continue, while green waste will increase to weekly a collection that must now include organic food waste. The cost of the organics recycling program will total approximately $2 million per year, due to the costs of additional trucks, processing services, customer outreach and education, and administration services to monitor the program.

Collection rates for Citrus Heights residents have increased much slower than the Consumer Price Index (CPI), which allows for a maximum of 3.5% increase each year. Current rates are only about a dollar higher than in 2010, but increases will be necessary to maintain current services and cover the additional mandated services.

Most Citrus Heights customers subscribe to the 64-gallon carts, which will cost $23.61 per billing cycle in January 2022. When the organics recycling program is implemented in July 2022, the cost will increase to $29.80. Additional scheduled increases will occur each January throughout the contract, with the rate hitting $35.40 by 2027. Even with the increases, City staff said

Broadcasting the State of the City

City of Citrus Heights

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The City of Citrus Heights is hosting its second annual State of the City Broadcast on November 8 at 6:30 p.m. Community members who want to watch live and participate in interactive polling are encouraged to register at CitrusHeights.net/SOTC.

The broadcast will include an address from Mayor Steve Miller, including a month-by-month look at the year so far to highlight some of the community's key accomplishments. Mayor Miller's address will be complemented by a presentation from Interim City Manager Chris Boyd who is planning to give an update on the state of Economic Development and Public Safety in Citrus Heights.

The City also plans on debuting a few videos, including a spotlight on the new Chief of Police, Alex Turcotte, a video about a new community coalition called Connect Citrus Heights, and more.

"In some ways, it is hard to believe it's already time to present the State of the City Broadcast," said Citrus Heights Mayor Steve Miller. "Until you look back at the long list of everything already accomplished in 2021, it can feel like the year has flown by. I urge the community to take the time to tune in and hear about the important work being done to improve our City and meet a few of the staff members working behind the scenes."

As mentioned, those interested can register to watch live, but the City will also have a recording running on Sacramento Metro Cable Channel 14 and share the broadcast

Women's Empowerment Receives $20,000 Grant

Graduates of Women's Empowerment's first Banking Academy, a paid training program to become bank tellers, celebrate their graduation in October. Photo provided by Thébaud Communication

By Kristin Thébaud, Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment recently received a $20,000 grant from Arata Brothers Trust to educate and empower women experiencing homelessness with the skills and confidence necessary to secure a job, create a healthy lifestyle, and regain a home for themselves and their children during the pandemic and housing crisis.

"Our partnership with Arata Brothers Trust over the last several years has helped hundreds of women and children break the cycle of homelessness amidst wildly changing circumstances here in Sacramento," said Lisa Culp, executive director, Women's Empowerment. "We are grateful for the steadfast funding we receive from Arata Brothers Trust as we face another tumultuous year ahead."

The grant from Arata Brothers Trust will help Women's Empowerment offer its nine-week program that targets the barriers women face while experiencing homelessness, as well as paid job training for women who have graduated from the program. Women's Empowerment's paid job training programs include its Get A Job Kit training program for graduates hardest to hire, as well as its paid training in property management, a career that usually includes housing on the managed property. Women's Empowerment also offers paid training to become a security guard or bank teller, as well as training in green energy.

"For the trustees of the Arata Brothers Trust, 2020 and 2021 revealed the most nimble and effective nonprofits in the Sacramento region," said Matson Sewell, co-trustee, Arata Brothers Trust. "Women's Empowerment led the way in this landscape, continuing to deliver highly impactful programs to such an under-resourced population, adapting to public health requirements for both mothers and children, and moving forward despite the new challenges. These challenges are not behind us yet, and Women's Empowerment has earned the support of anyone looking to make a huge difference in the lives of homeless women and children."

The mission of Arata Brothers Trust is to enhance the quality of life in the Sacramento area by supporting systemic change through innovative and effective educational programs. For more information, visit ArataBrothersTrust.org.

Celebrating its 20th anniversary this year, Women's Empowerment provides a full nine-week employment-readiness and empowerment program, paid job training, childcare and support services so all women and their children can break the cycle of homelessness. Women's Empowerment offers the most comprehensive job-readiness program in the Sacramento area designed specifically for women experiencing homelessness, and their children. Eighty-two percent of graduates secure a job or enroll in school. Despite the housing crisis, 75 percent regain a safe home for themselves and their children. The award-winning organization has graduated 1,719 women and their 3,842 children. Women's Empowerment is funded through private donations from the community and grants. # Sylvan Cemetery Service to Honor Veterans of Armed Forces

Sylvan Cemetery District

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Veterans Day will be celebrated on Thursday, November 11, this year. Veterans Day, not to be confused with Memorial Day, is a day of remembering the men and women who served in the United States Armed Forces. Memorial Day on the other hand remembers those that 'Gave their all and did not return'. Veterans Day, first called Armistice Day in recognition of the end of WWI, is now the day that we remember all those that have served our Country in the past 245 years.

Every year, Sylvan Cemetery in Citrus Heights honors all those that have worn the uniform – U.S. Army, U.S. Navy, U.S. Marine, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Coast Guard, and U.S. National Guard - in the defense of America. We take time to salute the over 40 million men and women that have served defending our country since 1775. This year the Veterans Day service is being planned to be held on Thursday, November 11, 2021, at 11:00 am at Sylvan Cemetery, 7401 Auburn Blvd., Citrus Heights. We are planning on going forward with our normal Veterans Day ceremony at Sylvan Cemetery. We are planning on doing the march through the cemetery and then doing about 1 hour in the gazebo. The Harmony Express will be in attendance as well as the CHPD honor guard. Folding chairs will be provided for those that want to sit but there will be standing room as well. We would love to have you here, but if you are concerned about your health and do not want to attend, we understand. Please always keep our veterans in your heart and in your prayers. ★

City Honors Military Families

Citrus Heights Mayor Steve Miller Citrus Heights presents the November Proclamation to Honor Military Families to Suzanne Winters (center) as a representative of American Legion Auxiliary 383. ## Story by Shauna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The Citrus Heights City Council issued a proclamation recognizing November as National Military Family Appreciation Month. Mayor Steve Miller read the proclamation, stating that “the United States is a Beacon of hope, freedom, and opportunity to people around the world,” and those who “fight to defend our liberty embody courage, patriotism, and loyalty.” Service members and the families who support them are “vital to the security and prosperity of our nation,” said

Mayor Miller. “Military families exemplify the courage and resolve that define our national character.” These families make many sacrifices for their fellow Americans, and our Country has a responsibility to support and honor them, said Miller. Citrus Heights resident Elise Spleiss helped organize the proclamation, and Suzanne Winters accepted the proclamation as a representative of American Legion Auxiliary 383. Winters thanked the Council, and said, “This proclamation acknowledges their sacrifice, it acknowledges and honors their service.” ★ rates in Citrus Heights will still be among the lowest in the region.

Affected property owners can protest proposed fee increases under Prop 218, and the public hearing on this issue is set for January 27, 2022. If a majority of account holders submit written protests, the City cannot impose the fee. But if the City does not comply with the SB 1383 requirements, the state can impose significant financial penalties – up to $10,000 per day.

Councilmember Bret Daniels called the mandate “ridiculous.” He acknowledged that it needed to pass but said he would vote no “symbolically.”

The motion passed 3-2, with Daniels and Tim Schaefer dissenting. Mayor Steve Miller said, “I wanted to vote no, too.” Councilmember Bruins agreed: “I think we all did.”

Councilmembers Daniels and Bruins brought forward an item suggesting that Council approve a resolution supporting citizens’ choice regarding the COVID-19 vaccine.

Section 1 of the resolution stated that the Council “encourages people to make an informed decision, assess risk and make the best decision for themselves and their families including the right to determine if they should receive the COVID-19 vaccine.”

Section 2 specified that the Council “encourages families to voice their opposition and concerns regarding mandates for students to be vaccinated or wear a mask.”

Section 3 expressed support for “all employers, including private sector, education, public agencies, including the City of Citrus Heights, to allow employees the choice as to whether or not to be vaccinated.” Daniels said, “The virus is real, the vaccine can be effective, and if you want to take one you should. And if you don’t want to take one, you shouldn’t have to.”

Councilmember Schaefer said he believes in the vaccine, but “I also believe in liberty.”

Vice Mayor Porsche Middleton didn’t think this issue merited an official resolution from the Council: “We don’t need a mandate or a resolution saying that you can do whatever you want to do. We live in America.”

Mayor Miller spoke passionately against this resolution, stating that he agreed with making an informed decision, but he believes that decision should be informed by doctors and not conspiracy theories. He pointed out that in addition to protecting yourself and your family, getting the vaccine helps protect anyone you come in contact with, including young children and other vulnerable people who cannot be vaccinated.

Miller took further issue with the wording of Section 2, which seemed to specifically support “opposition” to mask and vaccine mandates in schools. “This language does not sound like a resolution promoting choice; it sounds like the Citrus Heights City Council is providing direction to you to oppose measures to keep our children safe.”

He pointed out that public K-12 schools already have an array of vaccine requirements before students are eligible to attend: “You have the choice to have your children vaccinated or not. Like all the other vaccines, if your kids are not qualified for a valid exemption, and you choose not to have them vaccinated, there are consequences to your choices.”

Regarding Section 3, Miller said, “Citrus Heights does not have a mandate policy. We have no plans for such a policy.” And he said it is not within the Council’s purview to make suggestions for other agencies and businesses: “Instead, I support their choices to keep their students, customers, and employees safe.”

Miller called the resolution “a huge disservice to the men and women on the front lines who have carried the world through this pandemic.” He expected our country to “come together” to protect each other during this time, and the rampant misinformation about masks and vaccines “is keeping us from fully opening our businesses, hospitals, schools, travel, entertainment venues, on and on.”

He encouraged anyone doubtful about the vaccine to talk to their doctor before making their choice. “We can do better than this,” he said.

Councilmember Bruins seemed swayed by Mayor Miller’s words, saying that it helps to hear other perspectives. She suggested setting the resolution aside to reconsider, or moving forward with only Section 1, but Councilmember Daniels didn’t think Section 1 was enough on its own.

Councilmember Schaefer agreed that the language in Section 2 was too “adversarial,” and the consensus was to change to more neutral wording regarding mask and vaccine mandates for students, from “voice their opposition” to “voice their position.”

Vice Mayor Middleton didn’t think Section 3 was necessary, and so Daniels changed his motion to include just Section 1 and the amended Section 2. It passed 4-1, with Mayor Miller dissenting. ★

Kindergarten Project is Now Underway for Winter

SBSK delivers a double-fleece blanket and a Beanie Baby in a fleece pouch to EVERY kindergartener in the last week of school before winter break. Photo provided by SBSK

SBSK Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - This wintertime, you can help local kids stay warm and join the efforts of Sacramento Blankets for Sacramento Kids in “Kindergarten Project” by making handmade blankets for children to be given out this December 13th.

Every December, we choose the lowest income Title 1 schools and find out in October how many kindergarteners they have. Then the last week of school before winter break, we deliver a double-fleece blanket and a Beanie Baby in a fleece pouch to EVERY kindergartener! Some of these kids sleep in their cars! For most, this is all they get for the holidays and our volunteers want to ensure kids have a beautiful experience for the holidays.

SBSK has been doing Kindergarten Project for 9 years now and has been expanding its reach to low income schools in the Sacramento Region every winter. The first year we were able to reach 6 schools. This year, we can reach 27 schools – over 1,800 blankets and Beanie Babies! We always hope to add more schools each year.

Now that the holiday season is here, retailers, such as Joann’s, offer huge discount on their Blankets for Sacramento Kids kits, which you can put together with no sewing or specialized skills. We have people of all ages contributing from girl scouts to seniors.

If you have a Beanie Baby or have a huge

If anyone would like to donate Beanie Babies to this project or join us in making blankets for this special Kindergarten Project, they can email Claire Gliddon at claire@sacblankets4kids.com.

The Kindergarten Project is wildly popular and the more low-income kindergarteners we can reach, the better chance of realizing school is a cool place!

Sacramento Blankets for Sacramento Kids (SBSK) is a nonprofit organization that makes handmade blankets all year round for children in need in Sacramento and Placer Counties, as well as for State emergencies (fires, floods) and National emergencies (9/11, Katrina). ★

Farmers Lose Two Skirmishes in California Water War

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

The most important battleground in California's perpetual war over water is the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

Dozens of Northern California rivers and streams coalesce in the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, which join to form the Delta estuary and whose waters then flow into San Francisco Bay.

The state's massive water infrastructure was constructed on an assumption that water left to flow to the sea was wasted. The web of reservoirs and canals diverts river and Delta water to farms in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys and domestic users as far south as San Diego.

However, in recent decades environmental groups and their allies, such as Indian tribes and fishermen, have demanded reductions in diversions, arguing that they severely damage habitat for fish, such as spawning salmon, and other wildlife.

The conflict has been played out in multiple arenas – the Legislature, Congress, federal and state regulatory agencies and the courts. It's been trench warfare with long periods of stalemate, occasional gains by one side or the other and periodic attempts at armistice.

A few years ago, the state Water Resources Control Board was poised to impose some limits on diversions that the agricultural industry saw as draconian – particularly since the state was also beginning to regulate farmers' ability to pump groundwater to fill gaps in surface water supplies.

Govs. Jerry Brown and Gavin Newsom wanted to head off a full-fledged legal showdown by urging "voluntary agreements" on river flows acceptable to both farm water agencies and the water board and negotiations have been underway for several years.

One such agreement affecting the Sacramento River and its tributaries appears headed for adoption, but this month, the draft of a second affecting the San Joaquin River hit a huge roadblock. In a letter to the river's major diverters, the Newsom administration rejected their proposal and said it would urge the water board to resume direct regulation of San Joaquin flows.

Environmental Protection Secretary Jared Blumenfeld and Natural Resources Secretary Wade Crowfoot told the San Joaquin districts that "at this point it is clear that despite considerable efforts, proposed voluntary actions by water agencies on the San Joaquin River tributaries have fallen short of needed flow and habitat improvements, and viable proposals are not being offered at this time."

The two administration officials added, "We will ask the State Water Board to resume all activities necessary to implement the flow objectives established by the 2018 Bay-Delta Plan for the Lower San Joaquin River and its three major tributaries, the Stanislaus, Tuolumne, and Merced rivers."

Although Blumenfeld and Crowfoot said the San Joaquin agencies could re-enter the process "if they propose necessary levels of additional water flows and habitat," their rejection letter sets the stage for political and legal warfare. San Joaquin Valley farmers see the water board's pending actions as severely damaging their ability to continue operations.

Dave Eggerton, executive director of the Association of California Water Agencies called the administration letter "very concerning" because of the potential for all-out legal war.

However, as news of the letter spread in the water community, environmental groups celebrated. They had long viewed the "voluntary agreement" process as a tool to subvert stricter regulation necessary to protect habitat.

They scored another win last week when Fresno Superior Court Judge D. Tyler Tharpe refused to validate a very controversial water supply contract that the huge Westlands Water District obtained from the Trump administration. In his ruling, Tharpe cited procedural irregularities, including violation of state open meeting laws.

Thus, as drought grips California, the battles over the state's very limited supply of water seem destined to intensify.

Redistricting Draft Maps Now Available for Comment

Sacramento County Press Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County is seeking community input on draft maps proposing new district lines in Sacramento County. The draft maps can be viewed on the County's Redistricting Webpage.

The Board of Supervisors will review, discuss and provide staff direction on possible revisions to the draft maps, taking into consideration the public's input in the process.

The County is encouraging all interested stakeholders to provide their input on these draft maps in any of the following ways:

Send written comments by email to redistricting@saccounty.net; Draw boundary line maps using these tools; Attend a Board of Supervisors meeting or virtual workshop and provide public testimony.

Upcoming Board Meetings/Workshops

November 2, 6:05 p.m., Board of Supervisors Meeting (First Round Draft Maps); November 6, 1 p.m., Public Virtual Workshop (First Round Draft Maps); November 16, 6:05 p.m. Board of Supervisors Meeting (Second Round Draft Maps); November 17, 2 p.m., Board of Supervisors Meeting (Second Round Draft Maps); December 7, 2 p.m., Board of Supervisors Meeting (Final Adoption of Map)

Visit Sacramento County's redistricting webpage for information about redistricting, including the redistricting process, written public testimony, a timeline and more.

Every ten years, following the Census count, the resulting census data is used to geographically define electoral districts, at all levels of government, through a process called redistricting. Redistricting ensures that each of the electoral district boundaries have about the same number of people and comply with the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Redistricting is important because it determines which neighborhoods and communities will be grouped together for the purposes of electing a Board member.

Sacramento County residents are encouraged to participate in the redistricting process. Residents can sign up for Redistricting news stories, information and upcoming meetings via email or text. People can also view past and upcoming meetings at the Redistricting Meetings webpage and are encouraged to check-in for additional upcoming workshops and hearings. ★

Families Now Receiving October Child Tax Credit Payments

IRS Media Relations

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG) - The Internal Revenue Service and the Treasury Department announced that millions of American families are now receiving their advance Child Tax Credit (CTC) payment for the month of October.

This fourth batch of advance monthly payments, totaling about $15 billion, is reaching about 36 million families today across the country. The majority of payments will be issued by direct deposit.

Under the American Rescue Plan, most eligible families received payments dated July 15, Aug. 13 and Sept. 15. Future payments are scheduled for Nov. 15 and Dec. 15. For these families, each payment is up to $300 per month for each child under age 6 and up to $250 per month for each child ages 6 through 17. The vast majority will be issued by direct deposit.

Here are more details on those payments:

- Families will see the direct deposit payments in their accounts starting Oct. 15. Like the prior payments, the vast majority of families will receive them by direct deposit.

- For those receiving payments by paper check, be sure to allow extra time, through the end of October, for delivery by mail. Those wishing to receive future payments by direct deposit can make this change using the Child Tax Credit Update Portal, available only on IRS.gov. To access the portal or to get a new step-by-step guide for using it, visit IRS.gov/childtaxcredit2021.

- Payments went to eligible families who filed a 2019 or 2020 income tax return. Returns processed by Oct. 4 are reflected in these payments. This includes people who don't typically file a return but during 2020 successfully registered for Economic Impact Payments using the IRS Non-Filers tool on IRS.gov or in 2021 successfully used the Non-filer Sign-up Tool for advance CTC, also available only on IRS.gov.

- Payments are automatic. Aside from filing a tax return, including a simplified return from the Non-filer Sign-up Tool, families don't have to do anything if they are eligible to receive monthly payments.

- Families who did not get a July, August or September payment and are getting their first monthly payment this month will still receive their total advance payment for the year. This means that the total payment will be spread over three months, rather than six, making each monthly payment larger.

The IRS is currently sending letters to some Americans reminding them it is not too late for families who haven't filed a 2020 income tax return – including those who are not normally required to file because their incomes are too low – to sign up for advance CTC payments. Most low-income families can get these monthly payments. The IRS urges families who normally aren't required to file a tax return to visit IRS.gov for more information on how to file a return and receive their credit.

Update on Sept. advance Child Tax Credit payments

In September, the IRS successfully delivered a third monthly round of approximately 36 million Child Tax Credit payments, totaling more than $15 billion. Given the new components of this program, the IRS continues to work hard to make improvements and deliver payments timely.

After the September payment was issued, the IRS resolved a technical issue, which the agency estimates caused fewer than 2% of CTC recipients not to receive their September payment on the scheduled payment date. Payments have since gone out to affected individuals.

The impacted group primarily included taxpayers who recently made an update to their bank account or address information using the IRS Child Tax Credit Update Portal. In particular, the issue affected payments to married taxpayers filing jointly where only one spouse made a bank account or address change, which usually results in payments being split into two (between the existing account or address and the new account or address).

In some of these cases, the split payment caused a delay in making payments, and further caused individuals to receive slightly more than the correct payment in September. To address this, the payment that each spouse receives in October, November and December will be reduced slightly to adjust for the overpayment. For each taxpayer receiving a payment, the typical overpayment was $31.25 per child between 6 and 17 years old and $37.50 per child under 6 years old. This will result in about a $10 to $13 reduction per child in the three remaining monthly payments.

The IRS will send letters to affected individuals with this information. The IRS continues to closely monitor this program and the agency appreciates the patience of those whose payments were affected.

The IRS encourages partners and community groups to share information and use available online tools and toolkits to help non-filers, low-income families and other underserved groups sign up to receive these benefits.

Links to online tools, a step-by-step guide to using the Non-filer Sign-up Tool, answers to frequently asked questions and other helpful resources are available on the IRS' special advance CTC 2021 page. It's at IRS.gov/childtaxcredit2021. ★

Why You Should Never Give Up

Giving up may seem tempting when things aren't going well. If you are feeling tired, frustrated, worn out, or disheartened, giving up on a goal is appealing. Regardless of how drained you are, you should never give up because you only fail when you give up.

There are numerous reasons to persist. You never want to regret that you gave up on pursuing a goal you really wanted. Anything worthwhile takes effort. Taking the path of least resistance doesn't provide the elation goal achievement provides. Success feels great. The more difficult the goal, the better it feels once reached.

You never know how close you are to achieving your objective. More often than not, you are closer than you realize. Persistence is essential in order to reach your objective. Utilize the principle of the slight edge: A small amount of extra effort produces results far in excess of the effort required. Giving up guarantees you won't make it.

You learn and discover. Setbacks are a normal part of the road to success. Setbacks are a learning experience. They are never justification for giving up. Setbacks identify areas which need to be adjusted. Setbacks may also indicate an alteration in your course is warranted.

Fears are overcome through persistence. Giving up reinforces fears. Breaking through fears opens up more possibilities. It's amazing how much more can be accomplished once your fears are no longer limitations.

You become more creative. Creativity is essential for solving problems. By refusing to give up, you use your creativity to overcome obstacles. There is always a way to reach your objective. You have to adapt, adjust, and improvise as needed. Purge the concept of impossibility from your self-talk.

Your confidence level increases. Being successful builds confidence. Solving problems builds confidence. When you persist, it becomes a way of life. Giving up creates self-doubt and insecurity. People who give up will do so in response to the slightest adversity.

You connect with your inner strength as you realize that you already have within you what you need to be successful. This self-reliance is a tremendous asset which is often overlooked. Too many people look instead to external factors they erroneously believe are responsible for their success or failure.

You also realize how much you are capable of accomplishing. You go through life being told what you can't do by all of the naysayers. Ignoring them in order to follow your own path enables you to reach amazing destinations.

You develop a can-do, will-do attitude which enables you to get things done. There's a big difference between making a commitment to do something versus saying you'll give something a try. Trying is a back door to failure. If something isn't successful, people who try say, "Well, at least I tried," as they give up.

With each successful accomplishment, you realize how many possibilities are open to you. You start thinking about all you can do and stop worrying about what you can't do. Conversely, when someone gives up, they add another item to their growing list of things that won't work.

You discover that things not working out as planned is not failure, but rather an incentive to change strategy or direction. Since you never fail unless you give up, you always look for a way to move forward. If you fall, you get right back up and keep going.

You keep learning. As you persist, you discover effective strategies to repeat, along with ineffectual approaches to avoid. You learn from your own experiences as well as from those who have gone before you.

Never give up. Regardless of how tough your circumstances are, keep going forward. Giving up is a dead end without possibility. Perseverance and determination get you to where you want to be.

My Veteran Tribute

Veteran's Day is a special tribute to all veterans who have placed their lives on the line to keep our democracy viable. They selfishly do the job they are asked to do and do it with respect and great dignity. But let's be honest, unless you were in the military or are part of a military family, you cannot fathom what it's like to live day by day with the thought that he or she may not return. I know that happens with many other careers from police officers to firefighters and others too. But we ask these men and women to go around the world and try to understand how to get the job done in some really incredible circumstances.

I had a little of that experience too. Rick (my husband) and I were married about four months when he was deployed to Vietnam. It was a long time ago, but it still hits home every Veteran's Day. I can still feel the emotions he and felt as we said goodbye at the airport, not knowing if we would ever see each other again, hoping and praying that we would. It was not a popular war as if any war is, but this one was very difficult for those who returned and the names they were called. After several months, we met for R&R in Hawaii. The joy was there, but dread too, because he had to return to Vietnam after just a few days. But we were grateful.

Thank God my First Lieutenant returned to me with no injuries on the outside, but what about the inside? We never really talked about all that went on for quite a few years. I felt he would share when he was ready. Perhaps it was better that he was a little older...about 24...and he took on the job of looking after some of the younger guys to keep them out of trouble. I remember the letters he sent, which I still cherish and the cassette tapes we sent back and forth just talking about stuff. I can still remember hearing the pouring monsoons in the background and how he tried to keep busy painting his room.

After Hawaii, it was some months before he came home. It was over the New Year holiday, and I can still feel the terror when I did not know where he was as Saigon was falling. I heard nothing for days and then the call came from him that he was in Seattle. I was at Indiana University working on my Phd, but no gift or degree could have given me such joy as when I heard his voice.

I can't even imagine what it would be like to have a chaplain and officer come to my door, or know that his wounds were so bad, he would never be whole again. But it's been 50 years and we are still together. Please think of those brave souls who do this job for us and bring them home safe! Thank you for your service! God Bless Them ALL!!! ★

“The Reluctant Candidate”

Commentary
By Bruce Lee

Ever notice that we treat our elected officials very kindly? We call them the “Honorable.” We stand when they walk in. We ask them to sit at the head table. We may curry favor with them for future gain. However, while we should absolutely treat people kindly and with respect, we may be planting the seeds of our own problems with this underlying deference!

Electeds begin to think “I’m all that, plus a bag of chips!” You see, they begin to believe their own public relations messaging. Within the State Capitol we call it “memberitis”. Per Matthew 23:6, “They love the place of honor at banquets and the most important seats in the synagogues.” They think they are “hot stuff”, rather than simply as our elected employees – which is how we should treat them. Respectfully, honestly, but as our employees who we hold accountable as their employers.

The result of this favorable treatment is we have people running for office for all the wrong reasons! Not everyone, but many seek fame, ego, power, or privilege, rather than run as a public servant. Asking candidates why they are seeking office, some have candidly admitted to me, “I’m not sure why.” They know that it may be unlikely for them to win – but simply running brings exposure and notoriety. It’s almost a game.

Then, if elected, do they know why they are there? It’s unlikely they have any grounding in constitutional responsibilities or even basic managerial skills. They pursue whatever their imaginations conceive and frequently have NO sense of priorities. This explains recent laws from the State Capitol that makes it illegal to remove condoms during intercourse without mutual consent, or restaurants to offer small packets of condiments (e.g. mustard).

I recently relayed an observation to a reporter from my years as a local elected, “Being elected does not mean that you are necessarily intelligent!” He laughed and laughed in agreement ... almost as the child who declared that, “The emperor has no clothes!”

Of course, everything is on a continuum. I have met bright and dim electeds. But, we pull our candidates from the general population. So, if the average person is just stumbling through life trying to figure it out, then our candidates and ultimately electeds are doing the same thing!

Hence, my “Thesis of the Reluctant Candidate”: the most reluctant candidate out of a group of candidates may be the best candidate. Take ten people who are asked, “Who wants to be Mayor?” Nine shout, “Oh, me, please me, I really want to be Mayor!!” They jump up and down trying to be picked – and this is not an unrealistic scenario. Now, I wonder why are they so eager to be in power? And, if so eager to gain power, won’t they be eager to stay in power – to do whatever it takes to play the political games to win again and again? (I have been in the backrooms where electeds contrive to manipulate offices so as to stay in power.)

By contrast, the reluctant candidate may say, “Well, damn, I really have other things to do, but I guess I could serve for a term as a public service.” I’d argue that may be the better candidate. They are not in it so much for ego or personal gain.

The lessons for citizens as owners of our government are as follows. We need to inspire the highest quality of candidates. We should look for the necessary qualifications in deciding for whom to vote. And, finally, we must treat our electeds with respect, but treat them as our employees!

Lead Poisoning is Still an Issue in Area Houses

By Laurie Slothower,
Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Did you know that more than half of all homes in Sacramento County were built before 1980? Houses built before 1978 are likely to have lead in the paint. Not to mention that lead can be found in numerous other items around the home including plumbing, dirt, traditional home/folk remedies, imported cosmetics like surma, imported herbs and spices, imported or antique ceramic pottery, some toys and costume jewelry.

Occupational sources that can bring lead exposure at home include being a construction worker, mechanic or electrician, or spending time at a shooting range.

Lead is dangerous to young children, as even low levels can cause behavioral problems and learning disabilities. The good news is that lead poisoning is 100 percent preventable. Learn how to prevent lead poisoning at the Sacramento County Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention website or the California Department of Public Health Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Branch website.

If you think your child has been exposed to lead, ask your child’s doctor for a lead test at their next visit. If you would like to receive a free information packet on how to protect your child from lead, call the Sacramento County Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program at (916) 875-7151. ★

Dave Ramsey Says

Address the Deeper Issues

Dear Dave,

My boyfriend is not very good with money, and he is in a bad situation right now. He has a huge car payment every month, plus about $30,000 in credit card debt. He also lives in a very expensive apartment. He recently quit a really good job because he doesn't like his boss anymore. He has talked about filing bankruptcy, and yesterday he asked if he could move in with me. I love him, but I'm also scared. I try to manage my money well by saving, investing for retirement and staying out of debt. What does this mean for our future together?

- Crislyn

Dear Crislyn,

My guess is the guy's not really bankrupt, but it sounds like he has some maturity and character issues that need to be addressed. I'm not saying things can't change, but this is not someone to move in with or consider marrying anytime soon. You two would have a hard time as husband and wife unless he makes some real course corrections in his attitudes about money and life.

For starters, he needs to get another job, sell the expensive car and find a cheaper place to live. Leaving one position for another is okay, but deciding you just don't like something and walking away from it without another job waiting - especially when you've got bills and a bunch of debt - is just plain irresponsible.

Lots of people identify too strongly with what they drive or where they live. They come to believe those things are indications of their value or worth, and that's sad. It means something inside them is broken, and bankruptcy isn't going to fix that.

All this doesn't mean he isn't basically a decent guy, but it does mean he needs to get control of his finances - and that he's got some soul searching and growing up to do.

- Dave

The only perfect truth you can give to children comes from Almighty God and Words in His Holy Bible. Every one of us were created a little different from each other and we all learn and accept things according to our understanding. It is when we look to the Holy Words of God and use them to guide and direct our lives - finding the adventure of real victory, peace and joy!

It is not about attending a particular church! It is about reading, following, believing and being obedient to the rules and laws we learn from the Holy Bible! "Learning and knowing them actually make our lives worth living".

If you claim to believe in God? Is it the true Creator/

Parents! Stop Confusing Your Children!

God of the Bible OR one of your own making?

Do you realize that kind of god may have been created by God's enemy Satan? He was a deceiver from the beginning of time because he wants to be god and worshipped. (Read Genesis 1-2) And it is his goal to find worshippers for himself and cheat human beings any way he can of the genuine TRUE AND LASTING love of God.

Jesus stated, "If God were your Father, you would love me; for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself but He sent me. Why do you not understand His speech? And you cannot hear my words."

You are of your father the devil, and the lust (and evil) of your father you will do. He was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth. Because I tell you there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. And because I tell you the truth, you believe me not." (St John 8:42-45)

Parents open your eyes and heart! Stop listening to lies! Almighty God is deeply concerned about you and the future of your children. He knows all about you and longs for you to become His faithful child and write your names in the "Lambs Book of Life".

God longs to give you His blessings. Learn the story about His Son Jesus and what He was willing to do to purchase complete forgiveness and the gift of eternal life just for you! It is a magnificent adventure beyond your fondest dreams!

By County Supervisor Sue Frost

Citrus Heights Community Update

The Predator Next Door

Through the generosity of the Citrus Heights Messenger, this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the community of Citrus Heights.

The rush to release prisoners from our jails and prisons was initially a response to court orders to reduce prison overcrowding, but lately it's become a radical effort to recast criminals as victims and abandoning actual victims and their families. Now we are facing the placement of sexually violent predators (SVPs) that some bureaucrats decided are fit to rejoin society.

Other than the primary risk of creating more victims to sexual violence, there are additional concerns that counties have no input in whether or not an SVP can be placed in their communities. Recently, the San Diego County Board of Supervisors took a definitive position on the state's policy for how SVPs are placed. Knowing that Sacramento County has faced its own battles to keep SVPs out, I intend to join San Diego's example and bring an item before the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors to demand more say in the dangerous practice of placing violent sexual predators in our neighborhoods.

Many Sacramento County communities have had to fight to keep an SVP out of their neighborhoods. In 2019, an SVP convicted of multiple sexual acts with minors was being considered for placement in Del Paso Heights. That same SVP was nearly relocated to Wilton earlier this year. That SVP had no connection to Sacramento County, but the courts were considering placing him here anyway. When such risky placements are proposed, community members can, and thankfully did, voice their opposition to having an SVP dropped in their neighborhood, but no formal avenue exists for the County to influence such decisions. What San Diego County proposed, and what I will be proposing, is a change in the state law that dictates how SVPs are placed that gives the counties a formal role in the process.

Currently, an SVP is a person that has been convicted of one or more violent sex crimes, has a diagnosed mental disorder, and is likely to engage in violent, criminal behavior. At the discretion of the courts and California Department of State Hospitals, SVPs can qualify for conditional release (CONREP). CONREP allows SVPs to live in a community with supervising and treatment requirements dictated by the court. They have daily contact with a Liberty Healthcare regional coordinator and must wear a GPS bracelet at all times. After a year of CONREP, SVPs can then petition the court for unconditional release. While the protocols of CONREP seem thorough, and I am sure Liberty Healthcare and all involved agencies want to keep communities safe, how can any community or parent feel safe knowing that an SVP is down the street? How do the courts, especially courts in other counties, know which communities are best to locate their SVPs?

The current code says that counties will provide assistance and consultation for the placement of SVPs but it does not create a formal avenue for input on their placement. There is also the perception that the courts tend to place SVPs in communities with high minority populations or in rural areas. In all things, the County leaders can make better decisions about their communities than someone from a completely different county. Especially when that decision is where to place an SVP with no ties to the area. For that reason, I am joining San Diego in asking our County Chief Executive Officer (CEO), to oppose the placement of any SVPs in Sacramento County until the welfare and institutions code (WIC) is amended to give local jurisdiction a formal role in release and placement of SVPs. That includes the authority to veto their placement in our county entirely.

It is unfair that any of our residents should have to fear the placement of known sexually violent, mentally ill criminals with no mechanism for their local officials to stop it. I will bring this before our board before the end of the year so that Sacramento County, and hopefully other counties to follow, can join the effort to formalize our authority in this process and we can protect our communities.

Rehabilitation and redemption are important values, but support for crime victims and protecting our communities should be our top priority.

Thank you for reading – and as always, if you want to contact me, call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@sac-county.net.

Counting Blessings and Giving Thanks

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - As we move into the holiday season the Sunrise Christian Food Ministry has much to be thankful for. Beginning with their beautiful new bright blue delivery truck, made possible by community support and donations then followed by a close second with lessons learned from COVID-19 and what has turned out to be a "blessing in disguise."

According to volunteer coordinator, April Jacek, at the beginning of the pandemic the food ministry, located at Advent Lutheran Church at 5901 San Juan Avenue, was immediately forced to make drastic changes to their distribution system to keep all involved safe, while maintaining the highest level of sanitation and service to their clients. Eighteen months later, these changes have led to a much more efficient, faster, personal and dignified food distribution system. Gone are the days of standing in long lines and carrying off heavy food boxes, rain or shine.

Sunrise Christian Food Ministry, which is supported by the Sacramento Food Bank, was able to pivot to a drive-thru distribution model, where clients remain in their vehicle as volunteers greet, register and provide food, all from the comfort and safety of their car. The food closet provides clients with a pre-packed TEFAP emergency food box and when available, fresh produce, dairy, bakery items and frozen meat.

The continued success of the food closet is thanks to its over 100 weekly volunteers and the support of local faith communities, service organizations, grocers, and community. As a result the Sunrise Christian Food Ministry can now serve two to three times more clients, from the 50-70 pre-Covid households per day up to more than 200 households per day, at their peak. Additionally, these numbers are expected to grow by 40 percent by the end of December, according to the Sacramento Food Bank.

Turkey Giveaway

Planning is now in the works for the annual holiday turkey distribution to take place on November 18 and November 19, 9am-3pm, NO TICKET OR ADVANCE REGISTRATION IS NEEDED. Regular food distributions will be suspended as thousands of frozen turkeys, plus a bag of holiday food, are provided to families in the community.

Many hands will make light work during this special event including those from both inside and outside of Citrus Heights. One special partnership, new for this year, is with the Sacramento State Community Engagement Center. On November 19, the CEC will be coordinating over 40 volunteers to help distribute turkeys while at the same time, providing their students a hands-on service learning experience.

A special thanks to the Sacramento Public Library and Sylvan Oaks Library for donating four deaccessioned laptops for future use as well as for the turkey giveaway.

We Love Our Volunteers

The food closet recently had the chance to host a Volunteer Appreciation luncheon with 80+ volunteers attending. This was a special time for board members as well as Rocky Peterson, Director, to give thanks while providing the history of the food closet. Volunteers were also given time to share memories of what the food closet means to them. It was a wonderful afternoon topped off with a delicious lunch generously provided, in part, by Olive Garden.
