CHPD to Reinstate 22 Positions

A portion of ARPA funding was unanimously approved by Citrus Heights City Council for the Police Department. Photo: City of Citrus Heights

City of Citrus Heights

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - At the June 24, 2021 City Council meeting, Interim City Manager Chris Boyd and staff recommended a budget amendment to Council to allocate a total of $5,353,210 from the City's portion of 2021 American Rescue Plan Act funds to restore 22 positions within the Citrus Heights Police Department for Fiscal Years 2021-2022 and 2022-23. The amendment was approved unanimously by Councilmembers and staff will immediately begin the recruitment process for filling the now-funded vacant positions. While several of these positions may be filled immediately, the extensive recruitment process and subsequent training may take many months to complete. A total of 28 positions were originally left unfunded in order to balance the City's two-year budget. The City of Citrus Heights is set to receive a total of $15,676,972 of Federal ARPA funds for COVID-19 relief and economic recovery, with one-half of the funds ($7,838,486) received in May and the remaining funds to be distributed in May 2022. The newly-approved budget amendment will appropriate $2,541,434 in Fiscal Year 2021-22 and $2,811,775 in Fiscal Year 2022-23 for a total of $5,353,210 from the City's allocation of 2021 American Rescue Plan Act funds. The City Council received an extensive update from staff on ARPA funding on June 10, 2021. While the final guidelines for expenditure of the one-time Federal recovery funds are still being worked on by the U.S. Department of Treasury, the current draft Interim Final Guidelines identify the rebuilding of public sector capacity – including rehiring public sector staff to pre-pandemic levels - as an eligible expenditure. ## Medication Users Need To Know Summer Heat Risks

By Samantha Mott,
Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - As the weather heats back up it's important for everyone to have a plan for staying cool and hydrated. It is especially important for those who may be extra susceptible to heat and dehydration due to certain medications. Some medications can impair the body's ability to regulate temperature. During hot and humid weather, individuals taking medications can be at increased risk of developing excessive body temperature, or hyperthermia. "Individuals taking certain medications, including those used to treat mental illness, need to take extra precautions to ensure they have a plan for staying cool and hydrated," says Dr. Ryan Quist, Sacramento County Behavioral Health Director. Those with chronic medical conditions are especially vulnerable, e.g. heart and pulmonary disease, diabetes and alcoholism, etc. Heat exhaustion is the most common heat-related condition, which is most likely to occur in people who are involved in physical activity outdoors during heat waves. Keep as cool and hydrated as possible: drink plenty of water, avoid spending time outside, especially during the hottest part of the day, and limit outside activities as much as possible. Cooling down a few hours a day will allow the body to recover and tolerate the heat better for the rest of the day. "It is important for individuals to continue taking their medications as prescribed," says Quist. "Those with questions or concerns regarding medications and heat should contact their prescribing clinician." Don't get caught unprepared as temperatures keep reaching into the triple digits. Have a plan to stay cool, stay hydrated and be aware of the signs and symptoms of heat-related illness. ★

Capital Improvement Construction Is Underway

Story by Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - At its July 8 meeting, the Citrus Heights City Council heard updates about capital improvement construction projects. City Engineer Leslie Blomquist highlighted projects that are underway or slated to begin soon. The 2021 Residential Street Resurfacing Project will begin mid-July on 14 neighborhood streets: Blowing Wind Way, Carol Ave., Celestial Way, Covewood Ct., Creekmont Way, Daly Ave., Flaming Arrow Dr., Forbs Way, Glass Slipper Way, Hatfield Ct., Maidstone Way, Picnic Ct., Scribner Ave., and Three Sisters Ct. The $1.3 million project is funded by Senate Bill 1 (SB 1) Road Maintenance Rehabilitation funds and the Gas Tax. The LED Streetlight Conversion Project will convert 593 streetlights to energy efficient models; 522 have already been completed. The total budget for the project is $560,000, with $540,000 funded through a low-interest loan from California Energy Commission and $20,000 coming from SMUD rebates and incentives. After completion, there will be a $31,200 reduction in annual energy costs. Those savings will be used to pay back the loan over the next 15 years. The project is expected to be completed this September. Construction on the Various Signalized Intersection Safety Improvements project will include upgrades to 30 intersection signal indicators, upgraded pedestrian countdown indicators at eight intersections, ADA upgrades at two intersections, and installation of median fencing at the Greenback/Auburn intersection. The new signal heads will improve visibility and should help reduce the frequency of intersection collisions. After project completion, all the signals in the city will have the pedestrian countdown feature, which has been shown to reduce pedestrian-involved crashes at intersections. The project totals $949,819 and is funded through various grants such as the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), Highway Safety Improvement Project (HSIP), Tire-Derived Aggregate (TDA), Transit Impact funds, Measure A funds, and Storm Water Utility fund. Construction started in June and is expected to be completed in October. Construction also started in June on Phase 4 of the Mariposa Avenue Safe Routes to Schools project, which will include installation of new sidewalks, bike lanes, street lighting, upgraded traffic signal at Madison/Mariposa, and five new ADA accessible curb ramps. The project budget is $1.4 million, funded by the Active Transportation Program (ATP) grant and Measure A. Work is expected to be completed this October. A variety of county-shared projects are also underway on roads that have shared jurisdiction between Citrus Heights and Sacramento County. Road repairs and resurfacing are in progress on Madison Ave., including video detection at signalized intersections, repaving, replacing damaged median noses, and restriping. Kenneth Ave. is also being resurfaced, in addition to upgrades at the Kenneth/Wachtel/Oak intersection such as ADA compliant curb ramps, replacing damaged curbs and sidewalks,

Get Ready for the Unexpected with a Disaster Go Bag

By Adrian M. Barnes, Jehova's Witnesses News

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Don't think you need an emergency kit? Think again, say families who needed one.

Flashlights, bottles of water, a first aid kit, and ready-to-eat meal packs line the Royal family's dining room table. The family isn't going camping—they're preparing for disaster by putting together a "go bag."

Preparing in advance with a disaster-ready kit has helped families nationwide through extreme and abnormal weather events, which experts warn are on the rise.

Having lived in California all their lives, Sacramento residents Warren and Laurie Royal know the possibility of disaster. The Royals have even seen the Sacramento Valley impacted by disasters outside of fire season. "We have had our share of surprises. In the past, floods have devastated parts of the Sacramento Valley," said

Warren. "Preparing a go bag can be somewhat daunting. Our family has found the resources regarding disaster preparedness on the website jw.org especially helpful. Practical, common sense suggestions are available to make preparation and execution of a disaster plan much easier."

"Having a personal preparedness plan increases your chances of staying safe," according to a training program from the Columbia University's National Center for Disaster Preparedness.

Jolted awake by a neighbor's urgent knocking, Aaron and Jacqueline Pate were horrified to see the encroaching flames of the fast-moving Woolsey fire that had been miles away when they went to bed. It burned to within 100 feet of their Westlake Village home in 2018 as part of California's deadliest wildfire season on record.

"Because we had go bags, we weren't running around trying to pack things at the last minute," said Jacqueline.

"We had the time we needed to comfort our kids and get everyone safely into the car."

The Pates credited the disaster-preparedness help they received as Jehovah's Witnesses, both through periodic reminders at their congregation meetings and from tips for putting together go bags on the organization's website, www.jw.org.

"Life is precious, so we encourage all to heed the Bible's advice to take practical steps to protect ourselves from danger," said Robert Hendriks III, spokesman for Jehovah's Witnesses in the United States.

Go bags also have proven useful in the opposite circumstances as "stay bags."

Disaster-preparedness suggestions and tips for putting together a go bag are available from FEMA at ready.gov and from Jehovah's Witnesses at <https://www.jw.org/en/library/magazines/awake-no5-2017-october/disaster-steps-that-can-save-lives/>. ★

Administrative Services Director Bill Zenoni, who is head of the City's Finance Department, explained that staff feel there is enough clarity on that specific element of the guidelines, which is the basis for the latest budget amendment to support the Citrus Heights Police Department.

As mentioned in previous updates, there are two phases of proposed ARPA spending in Citrus Heights:

Immediate amendment to the Police Department budget, to utilize one-time ARPA funds to restore 22 positions for Fiscal Years 21/22 and 22/23; Ongoing community engagement, including education around the Treasury's guidance as it is further defined and collecting input and ideas on applicable spending for remaining funds.

With the Police Department budget amendment approved, CHPD will begin its process of recruiting and training. "The men and women who serve the Citrus Heights Police Department are committed to delivering the highest quality of service to our community," said Police Chief Ron Lawrence. "Our recruiting and training processes emphasize empathy, professionalism, and care. Our department has become well known for our partnerships with our community, and we continue to work with our businesses and residents to keep Citrus Heights safe." As the Police Department looks to fill 22 positions, they would like to remind the community that the recruitment and training process takes time; some positions may not be filled until the end of the calendar year, and only 22 of the 28 vacant positions are funded with the ARPA funds.

City staff will continue to provide updates on ARPA funding and engage the community, as Citrus Heights received further clarification on the Treasury guidelines and moves into the second phase of its Federal relief spending plan. ★

Sac County EMS Leader Named Director of the Year

Dr. Hernando Garzon
By Samantha Mott,
Sacramento County News

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Brave, dedicated, willing and reliable - these words describe the 80,000 licensed or certified Emergency Medical Services (EMS) providers in California. They demonstrate these qualities every day by coming to the aid of others when they are most in need and working to ensure that the EMS system operates well. However, each year, due to circumstance or extraordinary effort, certain individuals among us shine.

Sacramento County EMS Director, Dr. Hernando Garzon was named as the 2020 EMS Medical Director of the Year for his heroic acts and extraordinary contributions to EMS by the California Emergency Medical Services Authority (EMSA) earlier this month.

The EMSA seeks to recognize those individuals through the California Emergency Medical Services Awards Program. The awards program honors special accomplishments, meritorious and heroic acts, innovations or fresh ideas to improve EMS in the state, or other unique and/or significant contributions by EMS personnel, physicians, nurses, EMTs, other medical providers, local officials, members of the law enforcement community, citizens, and first responders.

Dr. Garzon was selected for his tireless efforts and selfless leadership during the COVID-19 response. Through a long career in disaster response, Dr. Garzon learned how to organize a systematic approach and efficiently mitigate a large-scale incident.

During the pandemic, Dr. Garzon assisted the state by building models and predictive theories, enabling local and state-wide leaders to be better prepared to respond to the approaching “storm” of patients. He continued leading one of the largest EMS systems in the state, guiding the development of an “Emerging Infectious Disease” policy that provided direction and clarity to the greater EMS community about a sensible approach to preventing transmission of the COVID-19 virus, mitigating the spread of the disease among the workforce, and safe return to work guidelines.

“I most enjoy working on EMS system-wide and quality improvement issues, because I see that as the key to ensuring the highest quality prehospital care for all people in Sacramento County,” said Dr. Garzon. “I also still enjoy Emergency Department shifts and caring for patients.”

When asked what a typical work day might look like for him, Dr. Garzon said “between clinical work, EMS work, and COVID-19 work with EMSA/CDPH in the last year, I don’t really have a “typical” work day. Of late, they have generally started with multiple conference calls, and a mix of Sacramento and State EMS work, as well as CDPH work for COVID-19. Several times a month I also get to throw in late afternoon Emergency Department shifts to round it out.”

Dr. Garzon’s Notable COVID-19 Projects: Assisted EMSA with the State EMS COVID guidelines and response; Developed a template for local EMS tiered response during COVID surge; Developed a Hospital COVID-19 Burden Score to rank hospital strain with COVID-19; Lead the effort to write state pandemic crisis care guidelines, Assisting with development of the Alternate Care Site (ACSs) operations guidelines; Facilitated patient inter-facility transfers to off-load over-burdened hospitals during COVID-19 patient surges; Developing a simple growth model to project ICU availability that was used to determine when the State entered and exited the Stay-At-Home-Order.

Sacramento County Department of Health Services has tremendous gratitude and thanks Dr. Garzon for all his important work. Please join us in congratulating him on this achievement. ★

First Potluck Brings Out Good Food, Friends and Fun

The potluck experience is back in many churches. Photo by Elise Spleiss

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - After more than a year, the potluck experience is back in many churches!

Members of Messiah Lutheran in Citrus Heights began planning their first potluck in over a year in April. Anticipation mounted until on Saturday, July 3, over 60 Messiah members, friends and relatives packed the festively decorated social hall, with a centerpiece of tables full of the usual deviled eggs, salads, pastas, casseroles, sandwiches, and of course the ‘mile long’ dessert table.

Garrison Keillor made the Lutheran potluck famous in his “A Prairie Home Companion” stories from 1974 to 2016.

The potluck is much more than a meal. It is a camaraderie shared by its participants, as they present their favorite dish to be shared, relax, let down their hair and share many stories, and go back for seconds of course. Messiah did all of that and more.

Besides good food this potluck included a challenging “Thirteenth of July” 25 question early American trivia quiz, with the winner getting only 11 questions correct. The day wrapped up after Messiah’s usual rousing 12 games of nearly professional Bingo with wonderful prizes for all. Betsy Ross even made an appearance in her own ‘homemade’ gown and cap.

“A good time was had by all” is an understatement for this church potluck. Hopefully the first of many more! ★ and restriping to narrow the travel lanes and install bike lanes. Residents have frequently identified that intersection as a safety concern, so other traffic calming measures have been implemented: Right-turn yields have been replaced with full stops and large sidewalk bulbs will reduce the intersection size for shorter pedestrian crossings.

For the county-shared projects, the City’s portion of the costs will be a maximum of $1.5 million, funded through SB 1. The actual amount will be billed based on the work completed in the City’s jurisdiction. Construction on these projects started in May and should be completed later this month.

The Council also heard a report from the Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD) about the response to illegal fireworks over the July 4 weekend.

CHPD Chief Ron Lawrence said, “There was a tremendous amount of fireworks, both safe and sane as well as illegal fireworks, throughout the Sacramento region.” He said that the level of illegal fireworks this year far exceeded what’s been seen in years prior.

The Council passed a temporary urgency ordinance in June, giving the CHPD authority to issue citations to event hosts at locations where illegal fireworks were set off. The administrative fine is $750 for a first offense, and $1,000 for each subsequent offense. But enforcing the ordinance is challenging; illegal fireworks explode in the air, making it difficult to determine where they originated. And tips from the public often provide general areas, leaving officers searching for a specific location after the fact.

CHPD had a dedicated enforcement team of six officers, supported by 10 additional patrol officers during the peak hours of 9:00 PM to 12:00 AM. Officers did witness one illegal firework incident and were able to cite the violator on the scene. Another 16 possible violations were also identified; these have been referred to code enforcement for review, and citations will be issued if appropriate.

Over the 48-hour period of July 3 and 4, CHPD received 457 fireworks-related calls—53% of total calls during that weekend. These calls strain 911 operations and stress an already under-manned police force.

Councilmember Jeannie Bruins said, “I’m just appalled at the volume that has more than doubled since last year.” She asked if there is any information about why this year was so much worse than usual, but CHPD Acting Commander Wes Herman said he could only speculate. No one has a definitive answer about the increase and determining the source of the illegal fireworks would likely need to be a state-level operation.

Councilmember Tim Schaefer said he was “stunned” by the level of explosions in his neighborhood. He asked that CHPD update the Council about the outcome of the 16 possible citations to help inform the Council about whether the ordinance should be made permanent.

Councilmember Bruins said the Council should seriously consider making the ordinance permanent to let the public know how important it is to curtail illegal fireworks. She also suggested bringing the issue to the County Supervisors as well as elevating it to the state level.

Mayor Steve Miller said, “The end game here is if we can’t get a handle on these illegal fireworks, it’s going to be all fireworks. And nobody’s going to be happy. ... I don’t want to go there. I think safe and sane have a place in our celebrations, and hopefully we can get a handle on this.” ★

Citrus Heights Police Crackdown on Illegal Firework Hosts

By Lt. Wesley Herman, Citrus Heights Police Department

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - This year, the Citrus Heights City Council adopted a temporary social host ordinance designed to deter the use of illegal fireworks. The goal of the program was to hold event hosts responsible for allowing the use of illegal fireworks at their gatherings. Every year, the use of fireworks increases the chance for injuries to people and damage to buildings in our community.

On July 3rd and 4th, the Citrus Heights Police Department received approximately 457 firework related calls for service through our dispatch center. In addition to these firework calls, the department handled an additional 396 routine calls for service (crimes in progress, medical aids, traffic collisions, domestic disputes, etc). The firework calls represent approximately 53% of the 853 total calls for service received during this time frame. The community provided 264 online tips related to fireworks in their neighborhoods. Similar to Citrus Heights, reports from other neighboring jurisdictions in the Sacramento region confirmed they also experienced an overwhelming number of firework related calls.

During the holiday weekend, Citrus Heights patrol officers seized approximately two dozen expended illegal fireworks and identified 16 social hosts who were in violation of the temporary ordinance. These hosts will be receiving an administrative citation from the city’s Code Enforcement unit starting at a $750 fine for the first offense.

A significant number of the reported illegal fireworks calls were made by community members who gave general areas for aerial fireworks and were unable to provide specific locations, making it difficult for responding officers to identify responsible parties. This appeared to be a common challenge throughout the region making it difficult to enforce these ordinances.

The City of Citrus Heights utilized social media platforms to communicate with the community about the new temporary social host ordinance and the permitted hours for the use of legal fireworks.

The City of Citrus Heights experienced a total of three structure, or outbuilding, fires during these two days and eight brush fires. While fireworks were a possible cause for a couple of the brush fires, none were confirmed as the source of ignition.

The Citrus Heights Police Department appreciates the cooperation from the community in reporting the use of illegal fireworks. The safety of our community and their property is the Department’s highest priority. ★

SASD Addresses Increase in Cockroaches

Sacramento Area Sewer District

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento region has seen an increase of cockroaches this season and because these pests like dark, damp places, Sacramento Area Sewer District (SASD) is taking measures to address cockroaches in the sewer system.

The Sacramento Area Sewer District (SASD owns and operates 4,600 miles of sewer pipelines, including 67,000 sewer manholes. Many dark and damp environments, including landscaping, storm drains, crawl spaces, and sewer systems, can attract cockroaches. Over the years, SASD has used several cockroach control methods to address customer concerns and discourage cockroaches from inhabiting the sewer system.

What is SASD doing to control cockroaches?

When a customer calls (916-875-6730) with a concern about cockroaches in the sewer system, SASD investigates within 2 hours. If the investigation confirms cockroach activity, SASD uses a number of proactive and reactive measures including:

Fogging and Baiting: SASD works with qualified pest control specialists to perform a pest control treatment where an insecticide fog is released that instantly kills roaches in the manhole, and bait is left behind to kill other roaches. After the treatment, we monitor for the effectiveness and re-treat when necessary; Manhole Painting Pilot Project: Recently, SASD implemented a new proactive pest control method called “manhole painting” that has the potential to be a more effective long-term cockroach control solution; Preventative Maintenance Program: In locations where SASD’s sewer pipes have a repeat history of cockroach activity, SASD performs ongoing inspections and cleanings to further address the issue.

What is “manhole painting”?

Manhole painting is a pest control treatment process where latex paint that contains an insecticide is applied to the inside walls of a manhole. The goal is to provide a longer-lasting insecticide to eliminate cockroaches over time. As part of a pilot project, 1,100 manholes were painted throughout SASD’s service area, with the goal of fewer roaches in the sewer system and fewer customer concerns. Once manholes are painted, SASD will conduct ongoing inspections to determine how effective this new method is. The pilot continued through December 2020 and SASD will implement this approach on a broader scale across SASD’s service area.

Are these cockroach control methods safe?

Yes. SASD’s mission is to protect public health and the environment. As part of that commitment, SASD has worked with the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District and others to ensure all eradication methods meet local, state, and federal requirements for the protection of public health.

What if I see cockroaches after SASD has already come out?

If fogging and baiting was performed: Please allow 7-10 days from the date this was completed before calling to report cockroaches. While this method is highly effective, it may take several days to work completely; If the manhole was painted: Please allow three weeks from the date SASD came out to perform the inspection. As the goal is to provide a longer-lasting insecticide that kills cockroaches as they continue to enter the area, allow time for the treatment to affect as many cockroaches as possible. At the three-week mark, SASD will come back out to re-inspect the manhole and determine the appropriate next steps; SASD does not address cockroach issues on private property. If you see cockroaches on your property or in your home, please consider performing pest control treatment or contacting a pest management company, just as you might do for any other property-invading pest like ants, wasps, termites, or ticks.

For more information, check out these additional FAQs from SASD or visit the organization’s website at <https://www.sac-sewer.com/>. ★

Safe Swimming Pool Tips for Families

By Samantha Mott, Sacramento County News

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Summertime is swimming time. As families enjoy gatherings and newly-opened swimming pools, Sacramento County Public Health reminds parents and caregivers to practice water safety tips in and around pools. Even inflatable pools can be dangerous for children.

In Sacramento County, 70 percent of drowning deaths occurred in children under the age of five, according to the Safe Kids Program of Greater Sacramento. Drowning is the leading injury-related cause of death for children ages 1-4, and many of those deaths occurred in backyard pools or spas.

Here are a few tips to keep children safe while swimming in pools:

Watch your children at all times or designate an official Water Watcher who can swim to monitor children in or around the pool. This should be an adult who is 18 years old or older. Their ONLY job is to supervise children in the water – they should not be reading, texting or playing games on their phone; Teach children to stay away from drains in pools and spas; Ensure all pools and spas - both in a backyard and any public pool you may visit - have drain covers; Keep a phone nearby for use in an emergency; Enroll your children in swimming and water safety lessons; Learn infant and adult CPR; If a child is missing, check the pool/spa first; Own a pool? Install proper child-proof barriers, covers and alarms on and around your pool and spa; Cover pools and spas when not in use; Remove ladders for above ground pools when not in use.

California has a Segregation Problem

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

Deeply blue California’s top political figures, from the governor downward, portray the state as a model of multi-cultural integration.

In fact, however, as a new study from UC-Berkeley’s Othering & Belonging Institute reveals, most California metropolitan areas have high levels of racial segregation in housing and it has become more pronounced over the last two decades. Oddly, too, California’s segregation tends to be highest in areas most likely to lean to the left politically.

The Los Angeles-Long Beach-Santa Ana metropolitan area, the study found, is the nation’s sixth most segregated region of 200,000 residents or more. Other California areas with high levels of segregation include San Francisco-Oakland (25th), San Diego (38th), San Jose (45th) and Sacramento (82nd).

Of the 11 California regions on the report’s “high segregation” list, only two, Bakersfield (37th) and Fresno (72nd), hew to the right politically. The San Luis Obispo-Paso Robles area, which also is somewhat conservative politically, is one of only two regions in the nation deemed to be highly integrated, the other being Colorado Springs, which is a Republican bastion.

We’re celebrating six years of providing free, fair and accessible news that informs Californians and empowers them to engage with their state government. We couldn’t have reached this moment without our supporters. Support our mission with a donation during our birth-day month.

Okay, so California is not the exemplar of integration it often pretends to be. But isn’t the state trying to make its housing patterns more inclusive?

Officially, yes. State housing guidelines and recent legislation seek more integration of multi-family housing into what have been exclusively single-family neighborhoods as determined by local zoning laws. A mixture of housing types, it’s argued, would create more neighborhood diversity.

Those efforts, however, have faced stiff opposition in suburban communities where single-family homes predominate, with the fiercest resistance in suburbs dominated by Democratic voters, such as Marin County.

The outcome of California’s housing war remains in doubt. However, as California pursues – at least on paper – more integration in housing, it seems to be encouraging more segregation in political representation through a concept called “community of interest” or COI.

When California’s Citizens Redistricting Commission, created by a statewide ballot measure, first tackled the redrawing of legislative and congressional districts in 2011, it assumed that one of its jobs was to identify COIs and make them a dominant factor in redistricting.

The commission is just beginning to do its work again, using still-to-be-released data from the 2020 census, and is putting even more emphasis on COIs, although how to define them remains uncertain.

The current commission is staging “COI input meetings” around the state and seeking participation but admits in its latest invitation that “there are no clear rules on how to define a community of interest.”

It’s assumed that under federal law, redistricting plans must not inhibit the ability of ethnic and racial groups to elect representatives. To insulate the new maps from legal challenge, the commission will use data on concentrations of potential voters (over the age of 18 and citizens) to create “majority-minority” districts that, in effect, preordain the election of legislators and congressional members from the designated communities.

Although California’s overall population has seen only scant growth over the last decade, whites have continued to decline proportionately while Latino and Asian populations have increased. Thus, as the state’s leading redistricting expert, Paul Mitchell, has written, “it’s more likely than ever that the data will tell (the commission) there are more majority-minority districts that need to be drawn than ever in light of heightened segregation within our cities and counties.”

So on one hand, California officialdom says it wants to lessen segregation in housing, but on the other hand it wants to reinforce racial and ethnic segregation in legislative and congressional districts. That’s California in a nutshell.

THE RICH LOWRY COLUMN

Republicans Should Bail on Infrastructure Deal

So far, the bipartisan infrastructure deal is going through the normal life cycle of such proposals – alive, dead, revived, uncertain.

For Republicans, the best answer should be dead.

They have nothing to gain by blessing a portion of President Joe Biden’s spending plans, when an ungodly amount of money is going to go out the door regardless of whether they vote for a chunk of it or not.

The conventional wisdom is that the Senate has to prove that it can work, and the test of its functioning is how much of Biden’s spending Republicans endorse.

This is a distorted view of the Senate’s role, which shouldn’t be to get on board a historic spending spree for which Biden won no mandate and which isn’t justified by conditions in the country (it’s not true, for instance, that the nation’s infrastructure is crumbling).

Besides, if bipartisan spending is the test, the Senate just a few weeks ago passed a $200 billion China competition bill by a 68-32 vote. It used to be that $200 billion constituted a lot of money, but now it doesn’t rate, not when there’s $6 trillion on the table.

The infrastructure deal lurched from gloriously alive to dead when Biden explicitly linked its passage to the simultaneous passage of a reconciliation bill with the rest of the Democratic Party’s spending priorities in it.

Then, it revived again when Biden walked this back, and promised a dual track for the two bills.

The fierce Republican insistence on these two tracks doesn’t make much sense and amounts to asking Democrats to allow a decent interval before going ahead with the rest of their spending – Democrats are going to try to pass a reconciliation whether the bipartisan deal passes or not.

In other words, at the end of the day, there’s only one track.

The calculation of Republicans supporting the deal is that a significant bipartisan package can take some of the heat off of Sens. Joe Manchin and Kyrsten Sinema in their resistance to eliminating the filibuster.

A deal that passes and is signed into law will certainly be a feather in their caps, but it’s hard to believe they’d change their minds on the filibuster if the deal fell apart.

They are both so extensively and adamantly on the record in favor of the filibuster that a climb-down would be politically embarrassing and perilous.

Republicans supporting the deal also think that it will make passing the subsequent reconciliation bill harder. First, the parts of infrastructure that have the widest support – roads and bridges – will be in the deal and not in the reconciliation bill. Second, the unwelcome tax increases excluded from the bipartisan deal will be in the reconciliation bill.

This isn’t a crazy calculation, although it’s not clearly correct either. The higher the top-line number is for the reconciliation bill, the harder it will be to pass. By allowing Democrats to cleave off some spending into a bipartisan deal, the overall number for the reconciliation bill gets smaller. In other words, the bipartisan deal could make the partisan reconciliation easier, rather than harder, to pass.

It’s not as though Biden is fiscally prudent on all other fronts except in this one area, which he considers a particularly important national investment with unmistakable returns. No, he’s universally profligate. His reckless spending on all fronts (except defense) makes it more imperative for Republicans to stake out a position in four-square opposition.

The bipartisan deal is hardly exemplary legislation, by the way. It resorts to all the usual Beltway gimmicks to create the pretense that it’s paid for, when it’s basically as irresponsible as the rest of the Biden spending.

Bipartisanship has its uses, but so does partisanship. Joe Biden wants to be known for his FDR- and LBJ-like government spending, believing that it’s the key to political success and to an enduring legacy. Fine. Let him and his party own it.

Oregon may use National Guard for door-to-door COVID questions –Health official: ‘We’re looking to bring on a team’ | 9 July 2021 | After Joe Biden’s recent COVID move – a door-to-door visit to Americans to promote vaccines – was announced, one member of Congress openly suggested while the door knocks this year may concern COVID vaccinations, those next year might be about collecting Americans’ guns. But a report from Press California explains Oregon already is considering ways to implement Biden’s agenda, and “one tactic could be to send out the National Guard to neighborhoods.” The state actually has some 70% of its residents vaccinated, but “that’s not enough, according to zealous public health bureaucrats,” the report said. “In the state’s fourth most populous county, which includes the college town of Eugene, National Guard members may be among the teams designated to persuade people to take the shots, according to Jason Davis, Public Information Officer with Lane County Public Health,” the report explained.

CNN medical analyst: life ‘needs to be hard’ for unvaccinated Americans – Wen urged President Biden to get behind ‘vaccine credentialing’ | 10 July 2021 | CNN medical contributor Dr. Leana Wen suggested Saturday that life needs to be “hard” for Americans who have not received a[n experimental] COVID-19 vaccine and individuals who refuse to get shots should perhaps face weekly testings. “It needs to be hard for people to remain unvaccinated,” Wen, the former Planned Parenthood president, said. “Right now, it’s kind of the opposite.” Unvaccinated people, she fretted, can at the moment go about their lives as normal without any consequence.

Panetta calls on Biden to mandate COVID-19 vaccines for military | 10 July 2021 | Former Defense Secretary [deep-state nut-job] Leon Panetta said that Joe Biden should require all military members to get the COVID-19 vaccine. In an interview with Greta Van Susteren set to air on Sunday, Panetta said it was a matter of “national security.” “I frankly think the president ought to issue an order requiring everybody in the military to get a COVID-19 shot, period. That’s an issue involving our national security,” Panetta, who served under the Obama administration, said... The vaccines are under an emergency use authorization by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Therefore, the Pentagon cannot legally require that all military members get the vaccine, although Biden could grant an exception to this rule.

Sen. Rand Paul to Introduce Bill to Bar ‘Farce’ Mask Mandate on Planes | 11 July 2021 | Sen. Rand Paul (R-Ky.) said that he will reintroduce legislation that would bar the public transportation mask mandates on airplanes that were implemented earlier this year by the federal government. “When the Senate returns to session, I will be introducing an immediate repeal of the mask mandate on planes. Enough! Time to stop this farce and let people travel in peace!” he wrote last week on Twitter. On his second day in office, Joe Biden signed an executive order requiring that face coverings be worn when using all forms of public transportation, including inside airports and on airplanes.

Texas Investigating 386 More Cases of Voter Fraud, Attorney General Tells CPAC | 11 July 2021 | Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton told an audience at the Conservative Political Action Conference (CPAC) on July 11 that his office is investigating nearly 400 more cases of voter fraud and told audience members that concern about election fraud isn’t overblown. The 386 cases that are being investigated come in addition to more than 500 cases that his office has prosecuted, Paxton said, without elaborating on the details of some of the cases. “Do not believe the narrative because in Texas we are going to fight election fraud,” Paxton said, adding that Republicans would have struggled during election day last year if his office didn’t stop local election officials from breaking rules around balloting.

Trump easily wins CPAC 2024 GOP presidential nomination straw poll | 11 July 2021 | Former President Donald Trump easily won the 2024 GOP presidential nomination poll at the Conservative Political Action Conference (CPAC) gathering this weekend in Texas. Trump, who’s repeatedly flirted with making another presidential run in 2024 to try and return to the White House, captured 70% of ballots cast in the anonymous straw poll, according to results announced by CPAC on Sunday afternoon. That’s a boost from the 55% support he won in the hypothetical 2024 Republican primary matchup straw poll at CPAC Orlando in late February. ★

When Should I Claim My Survivor Benefit?

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: My wife passed away in 2014. I’m 60 years old and have been retired since August 2020. I know I’m entitled to survivor benefits, but my question relates to when to file for them. To say the information online is confusing is an understatement. Some background. My wife was born in 1960 and would have turned 62 next year. I was born in 1960 and turned 60 this past April. I do not plan on taking my SS until age 67 (I could wait until age 70 if it is more beneficial). I have not remarried. When should I file for survivor benefits to maximize the benefit? Signed: Surviving Husband

Dear Surviving Husband: Survivor benefits reach maximum when you reach your full retirement age (67), but you can claim a reduced survivor benefit as early as age 60. The amount of your survivor benefit will be determined by a) the benefit your wife had earned up to the month she passed, and b) your age when you claim the survivor benefit. At age 67 you would get 100% of the amount your wife was entitled to when she passed; if you claim at age 60 you would only get 71.5% of the benefit amount your wife had earned up to her death. The reduction may, or may not be, acceptable to you depending on your personal circumstances.

First, you should be aware that if you claim your survivor benefit before your full retirement age (FRA) and return to work, you’ll be subject to Social Security’s earnings test which limits how much you can earn before SS takes away some of your benefits. The earnings limit for 2021 is $18,960 (changes annually) and if that is exceeded SS will take back benefits equal to $1 for every $2 you are over the limit. The earnings limit applies until you reach your full retirement age, although the limit is much higher and the penalty less severe in the year you attain FRA. If your earnings prior to your FRA are high enough, it could disqualify you from receiving a survivor benefit. Of course, if you are not working and do not plan to return to work, the earnings test is not a concern.

Assuming you are fully retired from working, here are some things to consider:

- Claiming your survivor benefit now at age 60 would permit you to receive 71.5% of the survivor benefit for at least 7 years (until you reach your FRA), or perhaps longer until you are 70. Although the survivor benefit would be reduced, claiming it at age 60 would also permit you to delay taking your own Social Security benefit until age 70 when your personal benefit would be 24% more than it will be at your FRA. The above would be prudent if your age 70 (or 67) benefit amount will be higher than the survivor benefit you would be entitled to at your full retirement age.

- If your survivor benefit at your FRA would be more than your own benefit will be at age 70, then it would be wisest to maximize your survivor benefit. To maximize your survivor benefit you must wait until age 67 (your FRA) to claim it. If your full survivor benefit will be the highest you can get, then maximizing it by waiting until your FRA to claim it is your smartest move.

So, as you can see, you have a choice of when to claim your survivor benefit. If your personal benefit at age 70 would be higher, it would be wise to claim your survivor benefit first (at age 60) and collect the reduced survivor benefit until you later switch to your own higher benefit. But if your survivor benefit at maximum would be more than your age 70 benefit, then waiting until your full retirement age of 67 to claim your survivor benefit would be your best choice.

By Marlys Johnsen Norris, Christian Author

I am writing this because the process to really know Him is extremely important. It has taken me a lifetime to get to this place in my life and my hope is that my story will help you get there sooner! If you are a believer and meet someone who is “new in their faith walk” ... talk with them about their decision. This is very important no matter the age of the individual. (No one really talked to me and I have “wasted years”)

My grandfather sang gospel songs to me as a child when he took me to the park. I went to church with every old lady that invited me because my parents did not take me to church. They were raised in two different denominations and did not go until my little sister began to go with a neighbor friend. By then, I was in my early teens and didn’t go at all.

At twelve years of age I was going to a Presbyterian church with a second cousin and after hearing an evangelist’s message I went forward and accepted Jesus as my Savior.

Jesus did not become “Lord of my life” until I was counseled and prayed for by a Church of God Pastor when I was thirty-four years old. Then, I was “born-again” and began my sincere walk to know and love the Lord God with my heart and soul.

In between those years (12-34) I had many personal issues to deal with such as: depression, headraces, fears, weight, sensibility issues, bad thoughts, agoraphobia, poor self-esteem, childless, and a voice that told me to jump out of the car on the freeway and kill myself. (I didn’t know Satan wants those who believe to die.)

Praise God! Jesus and the Holy Spirit have helped me deal with all of these and set me “free from their bondage” of all of them. Knowing who God is ... and how He loves ... every single person born on this earth, has been an amazing adventure for me to learn and understand.

Then, to be gifted by God to write about His love to help someone find and experience His love for them - brings joy, peace and satisfaction within my heart. If you are that person, please let me know!

Pastor Ray's Encouraging Words

How to Face A Crisis?

Have you figured out, that when you spell “life”, there’s a big “IF” right in the middle? You don’t know what’s going to happen tomorrow much less next year. Every year as we begin a new year, everybody starts making predictions about what’s going to happen in the future. Of course, this year we’ve got a lot of extra predictions because of the Coronavirus and the world economy.

Unfortunately, there are a lot people and media that love to hype-up the latest crises, whether it’s a natural disaster, a shooting, or the latest health crises. I want to warn you, you’re going to hear a lot of hysteria in the weeks to come concerning our health and the economy. You may even hear some crazy things, bizarre predictions and cataclysmic end-of-the-world type predictions; it’s already happening. I want to warn you: don’t believe everything you hear. Even if the person claims to be a Christian, even if they are worried about the future, you need to meditate on this next verse, Matthew 6:30-33, where God says, He cares for you and will take care of you. Don’t get caught up worrying about things beyond your control.

Second, avoid arrogant assuming. These are the people who say, “Nothing’s ever going to go wrong. Everything’s always going to be great. Don’t worry – be happy.” Great song but lousy theology. Proverbs 22:3, “A prudent person foresees danger and takes precautions. The simpleton goes blindly on and suffers the consequences.” The Bible says instead of arrogant assuming, you ought to prepare. Take precautions. There is a lot of good articles on the Internet about how to protect yourself from catching COVID-19. But avoid the doom and gloom.

God is in control, so we trust Him. We also foresee danger and prepare. You do both.

Dare to Live Without Limits

Look in the Mirror

If you want to see who is responsible for your life then look in the mirror. You are not a victim. You are in control of your thoughts, emotions, and actions. If you don’t take active control of your life, you are allowing other people and circumstances to make decisions for you.

Life isn’t always fair. Unanticipated circumstances occur. Adversity, challenges, problems, and obstacles occur. Although you can’t control external situations, your response is up to you. You decide how you handle your circumstances.

Taking control of your life is more satisfying and requires less effort than constantly struggling in reaction to what’s happening. It’s the difference between being proactive vs. reactive. Taking the initiative to get where you want to be puts you in the driver’s seat.

Eliminate excuses. Excuses are a roadblock. Don’t waste time justifying why you can’t, or won’t be able to accomplish your objective. Instead, formulate reasons to succeed. Every problem has a solution. There is a way around each obstacle. Any challenge can be overcome.

Don’t blame other people or circumstances for your situation. You have free will to choose who you associate with, along with the circumstances you involve yourself with. You can say NO to anything or anyone that is a negative influence.

Stop procrastinating. Don’t wait for something to happen, make it happen. Make positive decisions. Only by taking action are you able to steer your life in your desired direction. A passive approach leaves you drifting aimlessly.

Stop worrying. Worry drains your energy with nothing to show for it. You can’t control other people or circumstances. The past is over. Replace worry with action. What you do today prepares you for tomorrow, so focus on the present.

When you look in the mirror you see who is responsible for solving your problems. Issues which are ignored tend to worsen. The best time to solve a problem is as soon as it’s identified. Small problems are easier to fix. As soon as a problem is recognized, concentrate on solving it.

Don’t waste any time complaining about a problem. Complaints drain your energy with no positive results. If you need assistance with a problem, turn to those who have successfully solved a similar problem. Following bad advice accelerates the worsening of your problem. Looking for sympathy accomplishes nothing.

Attempting to run away from, or hide from your problems doesn’t work. Your problems follow the person you see in the mirror. They go wherever you go. Start fixing your problems right now, wherever you are.

Your perception is your reality. How do you see the person in the mirror? Do you see someone in charge of their life, or do you see a victim? Do you see a problem solver, or do you see a problem creator? Do you see a happy person, or someone who is miserable? Changing your perception is key to changing your direction. Your mind follows your self-image.

Look for the best in yourself and your circumstances. Be solution oriented, not problem oriented. You always have a choice as to what path you take. You are in control of your thoughts and emotions.

Don’t get offended by the actions of others and don’t take things personally. You have no control over what others say, think, or do. You do have control over your response. You are in charge of your emotions.

The person you see in the mirror has control of your life. You determine your thoughts, emotions, and actions. You have free will to make any changes you desire. You are in charge. Use this responsibility to shape your life in the way you desire.

Water Saving Can Be Beautiful When You Garden Like Nature Intended

By Debbie Arrington,
BeWaterSmart.info

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Spring is the time to fall in love – with California native plants. From golden poppies to vibrant redbuds, they bloom in a rainbow of brilliant hues, brightening nearby hillsides as well as suburban landscapes. And these easy-care plants put on this eye-catching show even during dry years.

“Everything looks fantastic!” says landscape designer Soleil Tranquilli, owner of Tranquilli Gardens and a water-wise specialist. “This is the best time of year to see native gardens in Sacramento.”

Refreshed by winter rains, plants native to our Sacramento Valley and Sierra foothills look their best in early spring. That’s how nature intended; the better to attract bees. Their flowers provide needed nectar and pollen to dozens of native bee species.

Once established, these cast-iron perennials and shrubs can tolerate the driest conditions. Even in years with normal rainfall, they save water compared to traditional lawn-based landscaping because they naturally need less moisture year-round to look their best. That adaptability is a huge asset.

“Native plants and low water-use plants will be more climate change resilient in the future as well,” Tranquilli says. “When you plant natives, you use way less water,” Tranquilli adds. “You also spend way less time managing your garden. They are less expensive, too; there’s no need for chemical fertilizers and pesticides. It makes it better for us when we make it better for nature.”

Need another reason? Rebates from your water provider may be available for lawn removal and landscape makeovers. Learn more at <https://bewatersmart.info/rebates-services/>.

You can view local examples at the Fair Oaks Horticulture in Fair Oaks Park or by visiting the WEL (Water-Efficient Landscape) Demonstration Garden created by the UC Cooperative Extension Master Gardeners of Sacramento County. The garden is open free daily, dawn to dusk. Online, find extensive galleries of local landscapes featured on Gardens Gone Native garden tours. Hosted by the Sacramento Valley chapter of the California Native Plant Society, these tours showcase gardens using at least 25 percent natives. Visit: <https://www.sacvalleycnps.org/photo-gallery>.

Here are Soleil Tranquilli’s top five best native shrubs or perennials to grow in Sacramento region - Bush anemone (Carpenteria Californica): Evergreen shrub with showy white flowers. Golden currant (Ribes aureum): Can take Sacramento’s summer heat with practically no summer water. Hummingbird sage (Salvia Spathacea): Produces lots of fragrant pink and lilac flowers in dry shade. Coffeeferry (Frangula Californica): Makes a great hedge or divider that bees can’t resist. Cleveland Sage (Salvia Clevelandii): Gray-green aromatic foliage contrasts with whorls of blue flowers. ★

With Summer in Full Swing, Local Museums Welcome the Community

By Traci Rockefeller Cusack, T-Rock Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - As local museums continue to ramp-up, fully reopen, and welcome the community back, many favorite destinations offer plenty of must-see and must-do experiences perfect to explore this summer. In compliance with all state, city and county guidelines, most local museums have reopened in some capacity (while some have modified hours/offers, are open by appointment only, etc.).

The community is encouraged to show support for local museums by making plans to visit their favorite destinations (or discover new ones). As a starter list, a sampling of must-see and must-do experiences and activations offered by local museums this summer include the following:

California Museum – Developed by the California Museum in collaboration with First Partner Jennifer Siebel Newsom, the must-see exhibit “Fight for the Right: 100 Years of Women Voting” continues through August 29. The limited-time exhibition features artifacts, historic photographs and interactive activities that chronicle the struggle for women’s suffrage from the mid-19th century to the ratification of the 19th Amendment in 1920, drawing parallels to the ongoing fight for women’s equality that continues today. For details, please visit www.californiamuseum.org/fight-right.

California State Capitol Museum – Surrounding the California State Capitol is a free, must-see luxurious 40-acre park in downtown Sacramento with shady winding paths, flowers in bloom, benches, and plantings from all around the world...some of which are the largest trees of their kind in the state. And, for virtual tours inside the museum and more, please visit www.capitolmuseum.ca.gov.

California State Railroad Museum – Presented and curated by the National Model Railroad Association (NMRA), the must-see “The Magic of Scale Model Railroad” exhibit appeals to all ages and is designed to introduce and attract a new generation of scale model railroading enthusiasts. Visitors are treated to an impressive number of model train layouts and locomotives, information panels, a Timeline of Scale Model Railroad, and much more. For more, please visit www.californiarailroadmuseum.org.

Crocker Art Museum – Organized by the Richard H. Driehaus Museum and toured by International Arts & Artists, Washington, DC, Louis Comfort Tiffany: Treasures from the Driehaus Collection is a celebration of beauty. The must-see exhibition revels in Tiffany’s artistry and craftsmanship, featuring 60 objects that span more than 30 years of Tiffany’s prolific career. Now on view through September 12, 2021, more information is available at www.crockerart.org/exhibitions.

Locke Boarding House Museum – Located in the historic and picturesque town of Locke, one new and must-see exhibit at the museum is titled “Locke – From Its Founding to WWII.” The fascinating exhibit offers a glimpse into the daily lives of the early Chinese residents and merchants of Locke. A sample of artifacts on display include an extensive collection of pre-war clothing, household items, tools, musical instruments, traditional Chinese medicines, and information placards. For more information, please visit <http://www.lockefoundation.org/locke-museums/> www.lockefoundation.org/locke-museums/.

Sacramento History Museum – An absolute must-do experience is to take an interpretive Old Sacramento Underground tour (the cool underground spaces are especially nice on a hot summer day). Guests have the unique opportunity to explore what has been hidden beneath the city for more than 150 years, while uncovering the facts and legends that lie below historic buildings and sidewalks. Tour guests explore excavated foundations, enclosed pathways and interesting archaeology exhibits while hearing sounds of 1860 street life. Old Sacramento Underground Tours are offered Fridays through Sundays. For tour times and more details, please visit www.sachistorymuseum.org.

Sutter’s Fort State Historic Park – New this summer, California State Parks is offering extended evening hours during the months of July and August. On Fridays and Saturdays, operating hours will be extended to 8 p.m. so visitors can enjoy an evening visit that often provides more shade, a nice delta breeze, and must-see sunsets during self-guided tours or the Park. For more information, visit www.parks.ca.gov/suttersfort.

Verge Center for the Arts – To kick-start creativity, Clay Lab is a must-do, hands-on experience that is open to everyone (supplies and firings provided) on Tuesdays from 5 to 8 p.m. & Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Those interested in “playing in the mud” can simply drop in this open lab and explore on their own or receive guidance from friendly and knowledgeable staff. For more about classes and pass options, please visit www.vergeart.com.

For more information about upcoming activities offered by Sacramento area museums visit the user-friendly website at www.SacMuseums.org.

*Comprised of more than 25 greater Sacramento area museums working in partnership with Visit Sacramento, SAM’s mission is to raise awareness of local museums by giving the community the opportunity to discover the region’s fine art, history, science and wildlife treasures. SAM achieves its mission through implementing cooperative promotions and developing strategic marketing alliances, by encouraging sharing of knowledge and resources among its partner institutions. # Don't Get Stumped, Get Easystumps

By MaryAnne Povey

ORANGEVALE, CA (MPG) - Do you love trees? I love trees! Doesn't everyone love trees? If there's one thing we can all agree on...it's trees! Besides the aesthetic value they bring to our surroundings, they provide shade, protection, and value to our properties! So, it goes without saying that it's very important to take care of them.

Speaking of proper care, there's a person you need to know when it comes to caring and maintaining your trees, it's Darren Lang, owner/lead tree guy, for Easystumps Tree Service and his amazing crew. Darren and his wife Adrienne run the business and it is so busy, we barely had time to get together for this interview!

Easystumps officially started in 2018, but Darren had years of experience with Cal Fire starting back in 2010. It was there he discovered his passion for working with trees through intense "on the job training" during wildfires. With a background in construction too, Darren and wife Adrienne decided to start their own business to have more control over their hours and family time.

"I loved it from the start," Darren said about his early days working in the field, "And today I still love the adrenaline rush of working outdoors, climbing trees and figuring out how best to handle each situation. Not to mention, the people I meet and help along the way."

If you follow him on Facebook, you can see some pretty amazing videos of his team making "easy" work of climbing 100 ft. trees, carefully pruning or taking them down in no time or grinding

Trees hundreds of years old can be an immense hazard without professional attention. The team at Easystumps is ready to tackle those and many more jobs. Photo by MaryAnne Povey up a huge stump in minutes. They have the equipment and expertise to make big jobs seem easy.

Although they make the work seem easy, the Easystumps team works hard and long hours daily even during extreme weather. They are superheroes when it comes to helping homeowners in emergency tree situations.

Most recently, after finishing a full day in triple digit temps, Darren and his crew came to the rescue of an Orangevale resident whose 250-year-old oak split and smashed into a neighboring house. His crew not only cleared the debris, but helped the homeowner navigate their insurance claim.

"He was so helpful and caring," said homeowner Annette Johnson, "He not only took care of my tree quickly, but helped me with my insurance claim too. He went above and beyond the call of service!"

While some emergency situations like Annette's can't be avoided, Darren does stress how important it is to know the health and safety of your trees. If a tree looks like it could be endangering your home/property or showing any sign of disease like fungus growing on the trunk or branches, give him a call. Other signs of potential issues are unusual bumps appearing on bark or leaves falling off early, or a tree's root system affecting the property (foundation, yard and driveway).

Besides running a highly successful business, Darren also believes in giving back to the community. If you've seen the giant American flag at his yard off of Greenback or at the recent Food Truck Friday honoring our vets, law enforcement and first responders, you have Darren to thank for that! He also has been known to give Santa a lift at the Annual Community Christmas tree lighting!

Easystumps has been voted "Best of Orangevale" for two years running Darren's practices of safety, efficiency, reliability, and high tech equipment to get the job done quickly is why people rave about him and his crew. People love him for being trustworthy and "just a great guy to work with."

What is a Retiree HRA Account?

Toni King

Hi Toni:

My husband is an oil company retiree and two weeks ago, we received a letter stating that his employer is terminating current Medicare eligible retirees group benefits with a termination date of September 30, 2021, when the plan renews. His employer has chosen a specific HRA company to help us choose the right Medicare and Part D options and assist with administering the HRA account that pays our insurance premiums. My husband and I will want an appointment with your office to sort out what is the right option for our retiree benefits.

We do not want a major catastrophe by making the wrong decision for our future Medicare needs.

Thanks, Becky from Sugar Land area

Becky:

I have good news for you because I personally attended an Employer Retiree Educational Seminar recently. The seminar was professionally presented with the speaker making sure that all the Retirees questions were answered.

The insurance rep advised all that attended to discuss with their doctors, hospitals, and pharmacies which Medicare Advantage, Medicare Supplement and Medicare Part D plans, they accepted. She discussed how to prepare for the phone consultation and that the retiree and spouse will be assigned a specific benefits counselor not a random customer service rep that moves on to the next phone call.

From the meeting, I learned that for the remainder of 2021, the retiree and spouse who are in a Retiree plan will have a specified amount to help pay for Medicare and Prescription drug plans monthly cost.

A Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) is an account that has been established for the employee (you) and funded by an employer. You can use the funds in your HRA to receive reimbursements for eligible health care expenses up to the allocated amount.

The HRA is tax-free if the retiree and/or spouse meets certain requirements to qualify for the HRA funding.

Once you have enrolled in a Medicare plan through employers which provide HRAs, one will then have access to the HRA and use the HRA to reimburse your costs for items listed below:

- All or a portion of the monthly premiums for individual Medicare Supplemental insurance, Medicare Advantage plans, Medicare Part D Prescription drug plan.
- Medicare Part B or D premiums (if any)
- Eligible medical out of pocket such as coinsurance, co-payments and deductibles
- Dental and/or vision premiums enrolled thru the HRA plan.
- Your HRA can be used to pay for all IRS Code Section 213 (d) expenses.

The speaker discussed "what is a guaranteed issue" time for the retiree who is enrolled in Medicare Part A and B with health issues which prevents one from qualifying for a Medicare Supplement medically.

With guaranteed issue rights, an insurance company must:

- Sell you a Medigap/Medicare Supplement policy. "You have the right to buy any Medigap/Medicare Supplement Plan A, B, C, F, K or L that's sold in your state by any insurance company if your Medicare Part A starts prior to January 1, 2020. Those who's Medicare Part A begins after January 1, 2020 qualify for Medicare Supplement Plan A, B, D, G K or L with plans C and F no longer available.
- Cover all your pre-existing health conditions.
- Cannot charge you more for a Medigap/Medicare Supplement policy, regardless of past or present health problems.

New “Jazzershop” Community Chorus Forms in Fair Oaks

By Thomas J. Sullivan

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - A new mixed-voice a cappella community chorus, “Stay Tuned” has formed in Fair Oaks. Their vocal style is decidedly “jazzershop,” a term coined by their musical director Terrie Carrozzella.

“We are jazz-focused, but we also sing some pop and other a cappella music.” The term barbershop relates to the way which the music is arranged,” she said.

The chorus welcomes all singers and embraces the motto “everyone in harmony,” said its director. The chorus is a subsidiary of a well-known Sacramento-based men’s barbershop chorus, the award-winning Voices of California (VoCal) Chorus.

Membership is approximately 25, Carrozzella said. She anticipates that number to grow as the public looks to engage in more community group activities such as singing.

Fifteen members of the chorus attended the group’s first in-person rehearsal in more than a year Sunday, June 27th in the backyard of a member’s residence in Granite Bay.

“It’s my first rehearsal,” said Raphael Pazo, who said he didn’t mind the drive from Lodi. “It’s a very friendly, diverse mix of singers. I look forward to singing with them.”

Cynthia McCarver, of Elk Grove, sings baritone. She’s sung before in a vocal quartet with Carrozzella. McCarver said she was attracted by becoming part of a mixed a capella group where so many choral groups are segregated by gender.

“It’s a relaxed and supportive environment. If you do sing, don’t be shy. Come to a rehearsal,” she said.

Dwayne Smith, a resident of Antelope, sings bass. “I’ve been singing most of my adult life, mostly in all-male choruses and barbershop groups,” he said. Smith, a member of Voices of California (VoCal) said the chance to sing in a jazz style in a mixed chorus creatively appealed to him.

Carrozzella told chorus members they now have a rehearsal space at the Old Fair Oaks Library at 4200 Temescal Street near the arts council building for the next four to six months. Their next rehearsal will be Sunday, July 25th from 2 to 5 p.m. in Fair Oaks at the new location.

“Since we’re a non-profit, we needed to find an affordable rehearsal facility which welcomes our unique culture and can host us on Sunday afternoons,” Carrozzella said.

“Our songs aren’t typically traditional barbershop songs. Our repertoire includes “Life is Just a Bowl of Cherries,” “We Can Change the World,” and the Frank Sinatra favorite, “That’s Life,” all sung in jazz style,” she said.

The members of Stay Tuned had met for their first and only physical rehearsal last spring in Fair Oaks just before the pandemic suspended their ability to gather.

“What kept us going during the pandemic was that the singers in Stay Tuned are top-notch, and were eager to get back together and sing,” she said.

“Members came to our spring Zoom practice sessions knowing their music, and their singing was of such high quality, that the singers themselves could sense our chorus has the potential to be a very strong unit with a really amazing sound,” Carrozzella said.

Carrozzella, a singer herself, directs two choruses and trains singers from across the West Coast. A native of Placerville, Calif., she has been singing in barbershop choruses for over 25 years. She attended Shenandoah Conservatory of Music after high school. The barbershop organization’s Sweet Adelines and the Barbershop Harmony Society, to which she still belongs to, taught her much about music, performance, and vocalization, she said.

“Barbershop is a unique art form and it’s not what most people expect,” she said.

“It’s not all about men in straw hats singing dated music. Barbershop music can be as current as today’s pop. The structure of the chords can create an incredible ringing tone or ‘fifth voice’ from four parts.”

“It takes a lot of skill to sing barbershop arrangements well. We are all a cappella, so we do not have instruments to tune to,” she said.

Stay Tuned welcomes new singers with an ability to sing at a high level and understand that since the chorus meets for rehearsal only once a month, “they’ve got to come to rehearsal prepared,” Carrozzella said.

The chorus also has an audition process to ensure that the overall quality of its sound remains. The audition process requires singers to learn their part and then sing it in a quartet with other members.

“This way, we ensure singers can hold their part against others. One of the big benefits of the chorus is that we don’t just provide music, we also provide learning tracks, so non-music readers can still join us,” she said.

“Part of the reason why I started this chorus, was that I was not seeing the level of diversity in other choral groups which I thought should be there,” Carrozzella said.

“I have learned that some singers don’t feel comfortable in some chorus environments, and it’s vital that all singers have a place to fully share their voices without having to question if they belong. I simply do not accept members who don’t embrace this message.”

Carrozzella expects to have some sectional rehearsals periodically which will also help solidify the group’s overall vocal sound.

“In regard to COVID, we are being very cautious. All of our members are vaccinated. We are also in discussion over how we will move forward with welcoming new members, but ensuring the overall safety of all,” she said.

The Stay Tuned Chorus continues to welcome new members. Email the chorus at staytunedchorus@gmail.com or call Terri Carrozzella, musical director at 530-350-0247 for audition information. ★
