The Underground Clothing Connection

Venture into Style and Fashion for Teens at Sunrise Mall

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The difference between failure and success can be found in just the right clothing, especially when you are a teenager. Enter, The Underground Clothing Connection.

The Underground, a one-of-a-kind store at the Sunrise Mall in Citrus Heights recently opened for qualified high school students to shop free of charge for all their clothing and accessory needs.

A community partnership between the Citrus Heights Homeless Assistance Resource Team (HART), Sunrise Mall, San Juan Unified School District (SJUSD) and Sunrise MarketPlace (SMP) has made this history making project possible.

Many high school students in the SJUSD, while living in secure housing of some kind, are facing hard times with their families in other ways. After filling their basic needs, parents or guardians are often left with little if any funds for adequate, if not stylish clothing and other accessories for their teens.

The school district attempted to fill this need with a clothing closet at a satellite location. When it was noticed that students were not going there, HART board members Stan Munoz and Kaylon McBride, formed a small panel of Mesa Verde High School students to find out why.

The students asked Munoz if he would have gone into a store where, when he came out, he would have been teased about getting his clothes from that “poor kids’ store.” Acknowledging the dilemma, Munoz asked them “how can we change this and give these students a sense of pride?” The answer, find a location away from their school where all students would be proud to go.

The stars lined up for the project as Munoz presented the issue to HART Chair and Executive Director of the Sunrise Marketplace Kathilynn Carpenter. Carpenter met with Sunrise Mall general manager Natalie Worstein, who was happy to be part of this community partnership. With 30 percent of the mall vacant, Worstein offered the former REI 21 space for the new venture at no charge.

Munoz, with 40 years as manager at J.C. Penny’s enlisted Casa Roble student volunteers to create this only store of its kind in the country. Asking them how they want the store to look, he sent them into Macy’s and J.C. Penny’s for ideas. “We want it to be the best-looking store in the mall. We don’t want it to feel or look like a thrift store. We want it to feel like you’re just shopping.” They have succeeded.

The name, The Underground, was also chosen by the students. These volunteers set up the store, and are continuing to take care of it under Munoz’s guidance. There are no tables, all clothing is hung and well-marked. Volunteers help the customers find what they are looking for. The most sought-after items: torn jeans, leggings and hoodies.

Clothing and other donations are plentiful. The clothing on the clothing trailer was brought to the store. Mall shoppers, teens and adults alike, mistaking the Underground for a regular store, would leave and return

Felony Assault Weapons Charges for Mission Avenue Incident

By Sergeant
Rod Grassmann,
Sacramento Sheriff’s Spokesman

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - At 1:53 a.m. on Thursday, February 25, 2021, the Sacramento County Sheriff’s Office Communications Center received a call from a male subject in the 1400 block of Mission Avenue in Sacramento County. The male stated that the people who were in his house to repair a gas leak were instead eating his food and he had them at gunpoint. Moments later dispatch heard a single gunshot; the subject then stated he shot someone. Deputies arrived at the residence and with assistance from dispatch, calmed the subject and convinced him to walk out of the residence where deputies detained him without incident.

Deputies entered the home to search for a victim(s) but found no one else in the residence. It was evident that a shot had been fired inside and a gun was located. The subject and sole occupant of the house at the time of the incident was identified as Bradley Imre Bodai (38). Bodai was showing signs of a mental health crisis. Due to Bodai’s acute state of mental health, a Gun Violence Restraining Order was sought and signed by a judge at approximately 5:58 a.m. A search of the residence revealed a massive cache of guns, ammunition, weaponry hardware and ballistic safety equipment. A large gun safe contained what appeared to be 3 sticks of dynamite with a charge timer which prompted an evacuation order of a half mile radius affecting 1800 residences. Sacramento Sheriff’s Office Explosive Ordinance Detail (EOD), Special Investigative Intelligence Bureau (SIIB) as well as the FBI Joint Terrorism Task Force, State DOJ and Alcohol-Tobacco-Firearms (ATF) converged on the scene to assist with the evacuation and search for and inventory of the firearms.

The dynamite turned out to be an authentic looking imitation. Approximately 30,000 AK-47 rounds, 5,000 AR-15 rounds and tens of thousands of semi-automatic handgun rounds were recovered. In addition to 21 semiautomatic handguns, 4 revolvers, 18 rifles and 3 shotguns, investigators found 3 Polish Made Grenade Launchers, many armor piercing rounds, firearm silencers, equipment to manufacture firearm silencers and an array of ballistic safety equipment. Some of the weapons had been

Open Up SJUSD Protests at Sit-In

By Patrick Larenas

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - San Juan Unified school students, parents and supporters held a Sit-In Protest joining the movement Open Up SJUSD on February 23, 2021. Assembling at several district schools, including the SJUS District Office on Walnut Avenue in Carmichael, the groups demanded the still unavailable in-person learning option under COVID.

Sit-In participant Tammy Shade demonstrated with her two boys and said it had been quite the challenge “constantly dealing with kids all day for almost a year now”. She says her sixth grader gets really tired of “watching a screen the whole school day”. The boy is a very social child and was really looking forward to all the band music, physical education and diversity of classes offered at middle schools.

UC Davis graduate, and father of two district students, Ken Firl joined the movement concerned that “it would take years to academically catch up after this.” He said, “Most teachers would be here, but the main problem is the unions.”

The Open Up SJUSD Sit-In Protest came in between two scheduled clinics which vaccinated thousands of district employees in the last weekends of February.

An agreement reached in November 2020 by the employee-represented unions and the district that once in the red tier teachers would return to in-person teaching, whether or not all are vaccinated, has had no effect

Citrus Heights Receives Tree City USA Recognition

By Jackie Schmitt, City of Citrus Heights Communications Intern

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - For the third year in a row, the City of Citrus Heights has been named a "Tree City USA" by the Arbor Day Foundation, in honor of the City's ongoing commitment to effective urban forest management. Citrus Heights achieved

Tree City USA recognition by meeting four requirements set by the Arbor Day Foundation, including having a tree board or department, a tree care ordinance, an annual community forestry budget of at least $2 per capita, and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

"Receiving Tree City USA recognition is a goal that started back in 2015, but as a City we've been focused on planting and preserving trees in our community since inception," said Citrus Heights Mayor Steve Miller. "In fact, over the last three years alone, the City of Citrus Heights has overseen the planting of more than 300 oak trees within our public parks through community planting events. It is an honor to see those efforts recognized through the Tree City USA designation."

The City of Citrus Heights will be honoring Arbor Day the week of March 7-14 on social media, and encouraging the community to participate in National Plant a Tree Day on April 10 while staying safe and minimizing the impacts of COVID-19 on our City.

The Arbor Day Foundation is a conservation and educational non-profit, with more than a million members. The organization's mission is to inspire people to plant, nurture, and celebrate trees. They want to educate people to know the benefits of having, maintaining, and planting trees in their communities. Trees help to improve the visual appeal of a neighborhood, increase property values, reduce home cooling costs, remove air pollutants, and provide wildlife habitat among many other benefits. ★

The source of parent frustration, that not all counties, school districts or private schools are under the same phase restrictions, added to what is a serious learning loss and harmful effects to the mental well-being of their children.

Parent attendee Michelle Amiot said her kids transferred to Placer County schools but is aware of the Sacramento County situation. Amiot says she knows a lot of students from volunteer coaching girls basketball in Citrus Heights

Kingswood K-8, and believes "many would not be failing this year at Mesa Verde and San Juan High Schools."

Jeff Ratchford is concerned with his third and fourth graders at Deterding Elementary in Carmichael. He said, "With all the glitches last year was just a waste of time. If the school doesn't open on its own, I'll pull my kids off and send them off to St. John's. We all look at teachers as heroes... and I see teachers shopping and doing things outside, but not for the education of our kids. They need to show some more courage." ★ with their own donations; Word of mouth and social media is spreading the word. Private mother's online groups help each other, all taking on a life of its own.

As in the major stores, each section of clothing and accessories is a separate shop. Girls and boys separated by age. Juniors, young men, shoes, a boot bar and, handbags. Shoppers are given a shopping list with up to 25 items they can take home. Mothers who come in with their students and younger children are often pregnant. They now have maternity, small children and infants clothing.

This experience is bringing out the best in both the student customers and volunteers. With their integrity restored some customers say they want to volunteer to work. While many are earning their community service hours from school, they say they would work even without getting credit.

These jobs look good on a resume. Students are learning about customer service, merchandising, displays and cleaning. They have spent endless hours sorting bags and bags of clothes. Some are finding they have a good eye for what's in style.

Shopping is by appointment only, two days a week. Customers are referred by a school principal, counselor or school liaison. Kaylon McBride, SJHS alumni, is the customer and volunteer scheduler working with the schools.

On a feedback form, one shopper commented, "Very welcoming, loving people; When I feel that kind of spirit, I don't feel like I'm being judged."

More volunteers are needed in order to expand their hours of operation.

Initially Bodai was booked into the Sacramento County Main Jail on a single misdemeanor charge of Discharge of a Firearm in a Grossly Negligent Manner and placed on a mental health hold. He has since been add-booked with 19 felony charges of Possession of an Assault Weapon and is being held on $250,000 Bail. At this time, no further suspects are outstanding. San Juan Unified Announces Classified Employees of the Year

SJUSD Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - San Juan Unified has just honored five Classified Employees of the Year, surprising each employee at their site with balloons, flowers and a certificate. The 2021 Classified Employees of the Year are:

Deana Lacey - Clerk, Deterding Elementary

Lacey was nominated by her site because of her ability to brighten a room and her willingness to pitch in on any task, especially during a hiring freeze where Deterding was without a secretary or ICT. One of the big projects she took on was the library checkout system for students to pick up books every Monday.

“She is amazing to watch as she multitasks between phone calls, teacher tech requests, parent needs and sick children,” Fifth Grade Teacher Gretchen Johnson wrote in the nomination. “She knows every student and the majority of the parents, and her school involvement doesn’t stop at the end of the working day. She is always seen at every school function, helping before and after events, in every way.

Beverly Stover - Nutrition Services Worker II, Marvin Marshall. Photo: SJUSD

Beverly Stover
Nutrition Services Worker II
Marvin Marshall

Nominated by her colleague Jennifer Stroud, Stover is credited for having a mentor role in nutrition services for the Early Childhood Education program.

“She always makes sure I understand what she is teaching me and always makes me feel valued and appreciated,” Stroud wrote. “She also is a great listener and actually asks for my feedback. Bev always has great ideas and is always willing to help in any way possible. She always has great ideas to improve her site and do things in a more efficient way.”

Stover is also credited for ensuring all Marvin Marshall students received meals during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Deana Hegland - Instructional Assistant II, Greer Elementary

As an IA for over a decade, Hegland has learned to become what Greer administrators call a “warm demander.” This means she has developed structured routines, has clarity for learning targets for each student and builds on individual strengths and interests so that they each have a strong confidence.

One project that Hegland led that was “above and beyond” was to coordinate a harvest event for kindergarteners when the site was unable to get a bus for the annual pumpkin patch field trip. Hegland reached out to her 4H connections and built an event that included a petting zoo, a pumpkin for each student, face painting and games.

Jennifer Martinez
Instructional Assistant III
Greer Elementary

Martinez is being recognized for her ability to build trusting relationships with her students and their parents. Working with special education students, she has been able to help break down barriers for students that have autism, ADHD, mental health challenges and learning disabilities, and help them move from defensive to focused to reach academic success.

“She works with the most upset and agitated students in a calm and supportive manner. Instead of engaging in a power struggle, she listens to them, seeks to understand why they are upset and helps them to solve the problem they are facing,” the nomination states.

Aleksandr Melnichuk
Lead Custodian
Cowan Fundamental Elementary

Like all of San Juan Unified’s lead custodians, Melinchuk is known at Cowan for being reliable, punctual and for paying close attention to detail for daily tasks. Cowan Principal Millie Happoldt nominated him for Classified Employee of the Year for the help he provides.

Along with being a skilled craftsman – one example is building a rolling storage shelf to fit under the multipurpose stage – Milinchuck has dedicated some softer skills as well.

“He will make time to assist a parent, student or family in need of help translations from Ukrainian to English,” Happoldt wrote. “Aleks has an empathetic heart and will reach to console a student that is having a rough day. He can even be seen on occasion shooting hoops of basketball with a student to get them to smile again.”

Congratulations to all five Classified Employees of the Year! ★

Record Gun Sales in California, Nationally and 39 States

By Molly Haley, Prism PR

LOS ANGELES, CA (MPG) - During times of unrest in America, gun sales have historically spiked, and a new study analyzing 20 years of data shows the pandemic in 2020 led to a record-breaking year for gun sales in Alabama, nationally and in 39 states.

California ranks third for overall gun sales, but it comes near the bottom after adjusting for its large population. Nationally, a record 23 million guns were sold in 2020, a 60% increase from 2019.

SafeHome.org today released a study: Guns in the U.S.: 20 Years of State and Federal Data using data from 2000 through October 2020 from the FBI, U.S. Census Bureau, CDC, among others.

The unprecedented spike in 2020 can be attributed to the worst pandemic since 1918, and social and political unrest, not seen since the 1960’s and the Civil War, respectively. It also marks the continuation of a 20-year trend of more guns in America.

Key Findings in California:

California ranks in the top 15 for both total gun sales and per capita sales in 2020; 2020 Total Sales: 548,598(3rd); 2020 Per Capita Sales: 0.127(15th); 2000-2020 Total Sales Change: 64%(46th); 2000-2020 Per Capita Sales Change: 15% (48th)

Key National Findings:

Gun sales in 2020 increased by 158% from gun sales in 2000; Since 2000, gun sales have risen in every state, the majority increasing by triple digits; 25 states had record sales months in 2020 –16 of them in March when coronavirus lockdowns began; 16 states had record sales months in December 2012, the month of the Sandy Hook shooting, and six states in December 2015, the month of the San Bernardino shooting.

Knock, Knock; Someone’s in Trouble

By Rev. James L. Snyder

For some reason, the last several weeks we have been getting many visitors at our door. I’m not sure if this is a general trend or if it is just our door. Some of them have been salesmen, religious people, scam artists, and a host of other people. They only had one goal in mind, and that was to get our money. Money we have not, and the more they pester us for our money, the more frustration we acquire. If they want frustration, we have plenty of that and are more than happy to give it to them. When someone calls on the phone, you can always hang up or not even answer it. When somebody knocks on your door, you do not have that kind of choice. You do not know who is there or what they want. It might be somebody scoping the neighborhood for a house to rob. Because my wife knows everybody in the neighborhood, as soon as someone knocks at our door and almost before the door is closed, she has texted everybody on the street to be aware of someone coming to knock on the door. It is great when a neighborhood hangs together.

A few weeks ago, it was getting terrible. Almost every day, someone was at the door knocking. I usually handle the phone calls, and she handles the door. I could see she was getting frustrated, and I understood, quite severely. She just finished making our lunch, and we just sat down and began to enjoy our lunch together. Then, someone knocked at the door. My wife sighed very deeply and said, “Whoever that is, I’m going to give them a piece of my mind. I’m tired of this.” Although we had prayed for our lunch, I was now ready to pray for whoever was at the front door. On several occasions, I have had a piece of her mind. It’s not a pretty sight. She has enough mind to give to many people, and I was very concerned about the people at the front door. “I don’t care who you are. I don’t care what you’re selling. I don’t want it, and I want you to leave and never come back again.” With that, he slammed the door shut and walked away. “Who was at the door?” She just looked at me and then said, “I don’t know, but I gave them a piece of my mind.” I was chuckling underneath, trying not to let it come to the surface for any recognition. “Are you sure,” I said as serious as I could maintain, “that you gave them the right piece of your mind?” She just stared at me, “What do you mean?” “Are you sure you did not give them the left piece of your mind?” She finally smiled and then said, “No, I’m saving that piece for you.” I was smiling on the outside but not on the inside. I was honored that she has a special piece of her mind for me, but I have no idea what it will be and when it will come my way. I thought of the Scripture along this line. “And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise” (Luke 6:31). I think this is hard to do for many reasons. God can give me the strength to do this for his honor and glory. Dr. James L. Snyder is pastor of the Family of God Fellowship, 1471 Pine Road, Ocala, FL 34472. He lives with his wife in Silver Springs Shores. Call him at 352-687-4240 or e-mail jamesnsnyder2@att.net. The church web site is www.whatafellowship.com.

By Pastor Ray Dare

Usually we think that God only uses really gifted, multi-talented people. But that’s not true! God uses ordinary people. God uses imperfect people. You don’t have to be perfect to help other people. If that were true, nobody would get helped! You just must be headed in the right direction. If you are just one step ahead of somebody else, guess what? You’re a leader! You can help that person take their next step. If you’re in recovery for one reason or another (and the truth is we all need recovery in some way), the proof of your recovery is when you begin to focus outside yourself. You’re no longer self-absorbed with “my problems, my hurts, my needs,” and your focus begins to shift, “How can I help other people?” The Bible says, “God comforts us in all our troubles so that we can comfort others.

Pastor Ray’s Encouraging Words

Share Hope with Others

When others are troubled, we will be able to give them the same comfort God has given us. So, when we are weighed down with troubles, it is for your benefit... we can be an encouragement to you.” 2 Cor. 1:1,4 (NLT) Your greatest contribution to the world will not be through your strengths. It will be through your pain, through your problems, the difficulties that you’ve gone through. People are helped when you’re honest, when you’re authentic about your weaknesses, problems and pain. When people see your strengths they think, “Well that’s great for him! That’s great for her! But I’ll never be that! I could never do that!” But when you share about your weaknesses, when you say, “I went through this pain...I went through this difficulty... I had this problem...but this is how God brought me through it. This is how God helped me.” People can relate to that, and they begin to think, “Maybe God can help me too? Maybe God can see me through my situation too?” Don’t waste your pain. Begin to give hope to others. Everybody needs hope, because everybody is hurting in some way. People need hope to cope. That’s why God wants you to share your story. Share how God has helped you. You don’t have to be a Bible genius to share your story. You don’t have to have all the answers. You simply say, “This is how God is changing me...this is what God is doing in my life.” I want to encourage you to begin sharing your hope with other people, your story. People could care less about your religion. They don’t want to hear about religion. What people are starving for is hope. Share your story how God has given you hope, it’s that simple. As you begin to share with others you will begin to see hope rise on the inside others and God will begin helping them the same way He’s helped you. Pastor Ray New Beginnings Church www.NBC4U.org

Do you feel alone? Do you feel like no one really cares about you? Do you feel like a wandering child? Those feelings may have even existed for many years and you have never heard what will now be shared with you to experience a most magnificent love experience you will ever have if you do it. Friend, there is someone who cares for you more than anyone in the world who is capable of loving and caring and His name is Jesus. He loves everyone who will accept His gift of payment to purchase forgiveness of all wrong doings done by you when He died on a Cross. His love and gift of salvation is His gift to all who “invite Him into their heart and life.” He loves so much He promises to never you leave or forsake you too. He stands at the door of your heart “waiting” to be invited. That’s all you need to do! That’s all! Today on television I just heard the testimony of a man, who was a burglar and a killer. It was all he knew do, then by accident, he went into a stadium full of people thinking he could gain a lot of money. It was near full of people and he had to climb to the top to find a seat. The music began he had never heard before. Then, a man began to talk about God’s love for everyone gathered there. He had never heard such things before about God and His love. When the invitation to accept Jesus as Lord and Savior was presented, the man went forward and made the most important decision of his life! He was “born-anew.” His whole life was transformed, delivered, healed and gifted by God’s Holy Spirit. As his story continued, he stared that it was over twenty years ago and today he was an Evangelist in Africa sharing the good news about Jesus life, death and resurrection to bring God glory in his life as souls were saved. The more you learn about the Heavenly Father/God, His loving light will shine within you. Join a Bible teaching church, Read, Study and Listen to God’s Word and then BE Obedient to follow what speaks to you and you will be blessed beyond anything you ever dreamed possible. Listen to the song “Amazing Grace” a testimony of what can happen to you! It is what is in store for you dear friend. Get off on a Good Foot

God Will Never Give-Up On You!

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Footy Rooty, at 7855 Greenback Lane in Citrus Heights across from Lowe’s home improvement center is now open in the location of the former Happy Day Spa, the first Sacramento-area franchise location for the McAllen, Texas-based company which is now entering the California massage and spa market.

The former Happy Day Spa, acquired by Footy Rooty Foot Care and Spa, continues to honor all its Happy Day Spa tickets through July 30th for redemption. New clients are encouraged to use their Happy Day Spa tickets for the first six months of operation under the Footy Rooty Foot Care & Spa brand, according to a flyer prominently posted at the store’s reception desk.

Citrus Heights husband and wife co-managers, Jian and Zining Tang referred an interview request to Footy Rooty’s Texas corporate office where company president Bill Lieu responded.

“We were looking to open in the greater Sacramento region, and this location in Citrus Heights was ideal,” Lieu said. The 2,500+ square foot facility completed a $500K physical refresh. Five certified massage specialists were hired for the Citrus Heights facility.

Footy Rooty, founded in 2011, is welcoming new customers with a variety of promotional specials, with free child-care, snacks, and drinks during massage sessions. Services include foot detox, foot herbal steam, reflexology, foot skin care, Swedish and Eastern massage.

“In Chinese medicine, the foot is most often referred to as the second heart of the body,” he said. “There’s the expression ‘foot to human, root to tree,’” and that’s where our business name comes from.”

Footy Rooty has 14 locations in Texas. Another spa will open in San Jose, Calif. later this year.

Lieu considers his company a “pioneer in its specific focus on massage of the foot, rather than just offering its customers a general massage of the body.” In his opinion, “a quality, thorough therapeutic foot massage, including reflexology treatment could make a large impact on the lives of everyone.”

He became convinced that reflexology should be offered to everyone possible, and at an affordable price. Lieu said Footy Rooty requires all massage staff to become fully certified and offers training and assistance required licensing.

“My goal is to make the cost of training tuition-free, so it provides an incentive for all to pursue the growing profession, including newly-arriving immigrants and first-time workers.”

Footy Rooty’s lobby price chart offers its customers foot and body massages from a simplified menu of choices. All full prices are generally reduced with V.I. Feet membership, with the introductory 30-minute foot massage discounted from $30 to $19.99.

“We believe that the foot is one of the most important parts of the body because, like a root to the plant, it requires attention and care,” Lieu said. “Our feet bear our weight each day and are integral to our overall health and well-being. Increasingly people are recognizing this and seeking a way to pamper their feet.”

“The health and well-being of our customers is our top priority,” Lieu said. Footy Rooty massage staff follow state cleanliness protocols with frequent hand washing, masks, gloves and face shields being used by all personnel.

“All individual massage room sessions are done in accordance with a room card issued by the front desk to ensure the used room has sufficient disinfection time and air circulation time,” he said.

New customers can purchase a yearly V.I. Feet membership with a $24 donation to the Make A Wish Foundation to receive monthly specials and earn reward points.

Footy Rooty offers its customers six massage options. Two choices of foot massages and two different full body massage (clothing off) sessions for the upper body and back in either Swedish or Eastern styles are offered.

New customers should visit footyrooty.com or the local Citrus Heights Facebook page to plan their spa experience. Information on pricing, spa etiquette and general questions are promptly answered. A cell phone application allowing customers to directly book appointments or message their preferred massage therapist should be launched soon, Lieu said.

Footy Rooty in Citrus Heights is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Call 916-723-7778 to determine a wait time before your tired tootsies walk in. ★

Three Strikes for Bald Eagle

by Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The bald eagle found dying near Folsom’s Johnny Cash Trail last month had a three-strike run-in with urban influences. While its flesh showed minor traces of two rodenticides, the great raptor was not poisoned to death. Neither was the angler’s hook found in its system fatal.

A California Department Fish and Wildlife analysis last week concluded the eagle – an otherwise healthy young adult with good muscle and fat distribution – died of “massive trauma and blood loss” after some sort of violent impact. The male bird was discovered huddled against tree roots and later transported to a Folsom vet clinic, where he died.

When one of a protected species – and America’s iconic national symbol – dies through human influences, federal and corporate agencies react. The eagle’s remains were necropsied at the California Fish and Wildlife Investigations Laboratory in Rancho Cordova. Tissue samples were sent for further analysis in a UC Davis lab. While the nature of the fatal accident might never be proven, a Fish and Wildlife scientist theorized the bird might have collided with power lines, then plummeted to earth. Either the collision or the fall – through trees and branches – fractured sternum and keel bones. The bird’s stomach was empty, so it had likely been hunting in the nearby American River.

For the couple that found

The bald eagle that perished near the American River at Folsom had minor traces of rodenticide, plus an embedded fish hook in its system. Cause of death is nevertheless judged to have been a collision with power lines that stretch over the Johnny cash Trail.

the fallen icon, a Sunday walk turned into an afternoon of heartbreak. Danny De Lange and girlfriend Sydney Frank explored a mud track near the Johnny Cash Trail. Their steps followed a creek near Folsom Prison fence line. Above was a thick canopy of branches and – rising with the ravine slope – a dozen power cables. The hikers found the bald eagle in the throes of a tragedy that saddened nature lovers everywhere.

“My girlfriend warned me not to turn quickly, recalls De Lange. “She’d seen a bald eagle behind me. I expected it to be in a tree but when I looked, it was leaning on the roots of an oak. I could see blood on the side of its head. Its eyes were open and it was breathing. It seemed in pain and unable to move.”

“Our gut reaction was emotional. Here was the embodiment of our nation, helpless.” Using cell phones, the couple contacted the police and animal agencies. “To our frustration, no one we called could come to pick up an eagle,” says De Lange. A nurse assistant, he judged the raptor in bad shape. “A couple of times, we heard him cough and gag. I knew that could indicate internal bleeding. We stayed with him for more than two hours, talking to him and trying to keep him awake. We kept our distance and did not touch him. We took a photo only because we knew he was a protected bird. We felt some sort of evidence might be needed.”

As darkness fell, US Fish and Wildlife biologist Jennifer Brown arrived with a transport carrier. Animal rescue expert Ben Nuckolls came minutes later. “I was struck by how beautiful the eagle was,” says Jennifer Brown. “My biggest impulse was to get him help.” Anticipating a struggle, she first gloved up. “But when I lifted him, there was just no fight left in him.” Brown drove her fragile passenger to a Folsom veterinarian; he died 30 minutes after arrival.

“When you’re working in animal rescues, you steel yourself for the worst,” she says. “His chances were slim but I still had hopes. When I heard he passed away, I was very sad. Especially with an eagle – its species has such an amazing recovery story from near extinction. I knew he was a young adult. He hadn’t had a chance to live a full life.”

Transmission lines along the American River supply the power grid from Folsom and Nimbus dams. SMUD, PG&E and WAPA (Western Area Power Administration) maintain cables that pass over the Johnny Cash Trail and adjacent areas. PG&E offers this statement: “At PG&E safety is our most important priority, and we work closely with wildlife organizations to protect all endangered species. With respect to the incident near the Johnny Cash trail, our team is investigating the circumstances, however there are no definitive results at this time.”

Footnote: Rare in Sacramento County, bald eagles have established a presence on Lake Folsom and on American River stretches over the last 12 years. At least six nests are documented in this vicinity. The deceased male is possibly from a Folsom Lake family. Necropsy examination revealed the raptor had recently engaged in breeding. Although eagles mate for life, widowed adults can eventually continue breeding with another partner. ★
