CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Construction has begun on a new commercial kitchen that will become a part of a training academy located on Mariposa Avenue near Antelope. The facility is operated by The Glass Slipper, a non-profit organization based in Citrus Heights. The new kitchen will be used to train participants in culinary, hospitality and nutritional skills. The Glass Slipper is an all-volunteer organization that helps girls and young ladies in the foster-care system make a successful transition to adulthood through its Ready by 21 Academy.

With many years of experience in the foster care system, Jackie Guzman saw that girls raised in this environment often lacked life skills training and emotional support. These girls entered the foster-care system through no fault of their own. Sadly, despite the efforts of social services, it's easy for them to fall through the cracks.

When compared to other youth in America, foster youth have the highest rates of school drop-out, unemployment, exploitation and teen pregnancy, and are highest risk of homelessness upon emancipation from the system.

Jackie and a small group of volunteers started The Glass Slipper in 1997 to help these "at risk" girls. The training, mentoring and emotional support that they provide helps the girls to improve their life skills and self-esteem while receiving guidance in positive directions.

The commercial-grade kitchen under construction will add new life skills training to the existing Ready by 21 Academy. Construction of the commercial kitchen is also a volunteer project. A non-denominational men's Bible study called, "The Band of Brothers," as well as other volunteers and trades-people will provide most of the labor to build the kitchen from the ground up.

Money for materials is dependent upon private donors, community and local churches. Construction is currently under way on the 810 square foot kitchen addition and is expected to be substantially completed this year.

The Glass Slipper always welcomes volunteer support and monetary donations. The Glass Slipper Organization, Inc. is a 501(c) (3) non-profit. Donations and gifts are tax-deductible, as allowed by law. The Glass Slipper's Federal Tax Payer I.D. Number is 20-8599121 ★

Healthy Foods, Healthy Pets

Story by Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Last November the Citrus Town Center welcomed a new locally owned and operated health food store for dogs and cats. Ben's Barketplace, located at 7935 Greenback Lane in Citrus Heights, strives to improve the health and well-being of dogs and cats by improving their nutrition through species-appropriate diet.

Steve Burk, one of the owners of the Citrus Heights location, explained that dogs and cats are carnivores, so in the wild their diet consists entirely of raw meat. But domesticated dogs and cats are frequently given a diet of dry food. Burk described the typical dry foods as "high in carbohydrates, low on protein. That's what makes them cheap."

"Dry food is a convenience for people," said Burk. "It's for us ... it's not for dogs and cats. Raw is their species-appropriate diet." Typical dry food is inexpensive because it has very little protein and high amounts of fillers such as corn, wheat, soy, oatmeal, and rice. The dry foods sold at Ben's Barketplace are very different. "We carry a higher quality of dry food ... with higher protein levels and lower carbohydrates," said Burk.

To meet pets' nutritional needs, Ben's Barketplace also uses better carbohydrates in their dry foods — such as legumes, which are a plant-based protein low in starches and glycemic levels. "It's a better carbohydrate to use, but they can be more expensive to use," said Burk. Although higher levels of

Annual Creek Week Has Volunteer Opportunities

By Matt Robinson

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Creek Week 2019 is around the corner. Join other Sacramento County residents to clean-up and beautify our creeks, Apr. 4 to 14. Creek Week offers all ages the opportunity to appreciate, explore and learn how to protect our local creeks and aquatic life. There will be plenty of fun and educational activities for the whole family to enjoy!

The Sacramento Area Creeks Council kicks off activities with the Creek Week Splash-Off on Thursday, Apr. 4, starting at 11 a.m. This year's Splash Off will be at Camp Pollock, 1501 Northgate Blvd. Dr. Roland Brady will be awarded the 2019 Creek Steward Award for his extraordinary efforts to organize and carry out the clean-up of Steelhead Creek.

There will be educational events and activities all week throughout Sacramento County with the big finale on Saturday, Apr. 13, starting at 9 a.m. All involved are then invited to celebrate their efforts at Carmichael Park (5750 Grant Avenue) from noon to 2 p.m.

Volunteers are responsible for making the Creek Week experience work. Last year, more than 2,000 volunteers removed more than 19 tons of trash from neighborhood creeks and the Delta.

You can be part of an area-wide volunteer effort to improve and enhance our urban waterways by removing trash and invasive plants to help support a healthy creek system by volunteering for this annual spring cleaning of our waterways.

For more information on Creek Week activities and to find out how you can volunteer, go to the Creek Week website. ★

WE SUPPORT OUR MILITARY

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Cappuccino Cruisers has a lot to celebrate as it enters its 25th year in the Sacramento Region. This classic car club is open to vehicles from 1979 or earlier and is probably the longest running weekly event in Northern California, according to Ray Marchese, the group's contact.

Each week, the club collects non-perishable foods for the local food bank and once a month different groups of vehicles are featured for the club's theme nights. Woodies, wagons, and delivery trucks are a favorite with enthusiasts as are the T-buckets, rat rods, and hot rods. Rancheros and El Caminos also have quite a following.

"In June prior to 9/11, our theme night was 40s night spotlighting the cars, the war, the USO. After 9/11 happened, we decided that we needed to remind people where those freedoms came Folks with restored military vehicles are invited to bring their cars and trucks out to display. In past years, the Red Cross has attended. Folsom's American Legion presents colors, and Marchese selects patriotic music for the event. In the tribute tent, a list of the names of those who lost their lives on 9/11 is displayed as are memorabilia that belonged to members' parents or grandparents.

This event is the start of what looks to be a busy year for this active group. In May, the group heads to Roseville to host its annual "Cruisin' for K-9s and Roseville SPCA" to raise funds for Placer SPCA and Roseville

To date, Marchese estimates the club has donated more than $200,000 in canned foods, toys, and money to various local organizations. And the group does it while having fun and working very hard to put on the shows and events.

For additional information, visit <https://www.facebook.com/pg/CappuccinoCruisers/>

The proposed grid access charge will be effective January 1, 2020 and includes grandfathering provisions for existing customers with on-site generation facilities. Under the proposal, the cutoff deadline to be grandfathered is March 31, 2019:

Accommodations are available for disabled individuals. If you need a hearing assistance device or other aid, or have questions about the proposal, please visit smud.org/RateInfo or call SMUD at 855-736-7655. ★

United Way Announces Sacramento Foster Youth Summit in April

Stephanie Bray of United Way stands with keynote speaker September Hargrove, emcee Kitty O'Neal from KFBK and local foster youth at the annual Women United Luncheon where she called for a summit to address foster youth graduation rates.

By Kristin Thébaud

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

- United Way is gathering foster youth and community leaders working on foster care issues for its inaugural Foster Youth Summit on April 5 from 9 am-3 pm at the Sacramento State Ballroom, 6000 J Street.

The summit will identify opportunities to increase the number of foster youth who graduate from high school and go on to complete post-secondary education. Summit findings will be released as a report that will determine the direction of United Way's foster youth programs. For more information and to sign up: YourLocalUnitedWay.org/FosterYouthSummit.

Stephanie Bray, president and CEO of United Way California Capital Region, announced the summit to 300 supporters at United Way's 17th Annual Women United Luncheon on March 21. More than $78,000 was raised through the luncheon for United Way's programs that are preparing foster youth for success in college and career. Since 2002, United Way's Women United action group has raised more than $2 million for programs for local foster youth.

"It's time to take our work to the next level," Bray said at the luncheon. "For far too long, we have talked about the drop-out and homelessness rates for foster youth. We know that no one person or organization can do this alone. So we are convening a public forum to discuss how we move the needle on high school graduation and college or career attainment for foster youth so that fewer struggle as they transition into adulthood."

Nonprofit service providers, state and county foster youth advocates, school districts, foster youth and other supporters will come together for a deep dive into community level data, a foster youth panel on real-world implications of the data, breakout sessions and a keynote speech by Jennifer Rodriguez, JD, executive director of Youth Law Center and a former foster youth.

At the luncheon, Bray cited a 2018 Annie E. Casey Foundation report that noted without any support, California foster youth drop out of high school at a rate of 24 percent, 30 percent do not have stable housing and 51 percent are unemployed.

"That is so much lost potential," Bray said. "We at United Way believe that every child, including each foster youth, has the opportunity to achieve. Imagine the impact if we don't invest in our foster youth's potential."

Bray referred to luncheon keynote speaker September Hargrove as an example of how foster youth achieve success, not only for themselves but for communities across the country. Hargrove, a former Sacramento foster youth who volunteered with United Way a decade ago, is now VP of global philanthropy at JPMorgan Chase & Co., leading the company's $150 million commitment to Detroit through neighborhood revitalization, small business, financial capability and workforce development.

For nearly 100 years, United Way California Capital Region has brought local people together to make community change happen. Today, the nonprofit is bringing people together across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties for its Square One Project, a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of students in our region who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond.

United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones and their families receive support and resources. To learn more and make a donation: YourLocalUnitedWay.org. ★

Terminally-Ill Man Receives NASCAR Dream

Winston Cain with the partners, volunteers, and friends from Genentech (one of Dream Foundation's Mission Partners) and Snowline Hospice, as well as, his wife.

EL DORADO HILLS, CA (MPG)

- Despite being diagnosed with ALS, which has left him paralyzed from the neck down apart from the use of one arm and hand, 71-year-old El Dorado Hills resident, Winston Cain, hasn't stopped dreaming.

Winston has always loved NASCAR and car racing, having attended many races throughout his life. Now bed bound, Winston watches NASCAR intently every Sunday. He loves to imagine himself as the announcer, "Start your engines!" and dreams of attending one final race with his family.

With support from Autoclub Speedway and Homewood Suites, Dream Foundation fulfilled Winston's final Dream. This past month, Winston, his wife, daughter, and son-in-law enjoyed VIP treatment and a special meet and greet with his favorite driver, Chase Elliot at the Fontana NASCAR race of March 16th. The foundation will also provide accommodations, a wheelchair accessible van rental and extra travel funds for the trip.

Glory Ariche from Genentech, one of Dream Foundation's Mission Partners, served "Dream Host" at the intimate gathering of Thursday, March 14th delivering everything that Winston needed for his Dream journey. Also in attendance were Snowline Hospice's Rene Hamlin, Jeremy Lansing, and Janice Curtin who referred Winston to the organization's dream-granting program. Their commitment to Winston was instrumental in bringing his final Dream to life.

Dream Foundation, the only national dream-granting organization for terminally-ill adults, fulfills final Dreams that provide inspiration, comfort and closure at the end of life. With the support of a nationwide network of volunteers, hospices, health care organizations and committed donors, Dream

Foundation has given life to more than 30,000 final Dreams over the last twenty-five years.

The Foundation is proud to maintain Charity Navigator's four-star rating—its highest—for sound fiscal management, ensuring its donors and partners that their investment will be used wisely. Dream Foundation receives no state or federal funding—we rely solely on private donations. To support our mission please visit: DreamFoundation.org/donate.

Snowline Hospice serves the Sacramento, El Dorado, and Placer Counties, delivering end of life care and support to patients and their families. Since 1979, Snowline has been dedicated to meeting the unique physical, emotional and spiritual needs of those who are nearing the end of life's journey. Our goal is to enhance living, comfort the dying and support the grieving with compassion and dignity. ★

DON'T FLUSH YOUR MEDS

Help prevent medication misuse and keep them from entering our waterways.

Please dispose of unused prescription and over-the-counter medications responsibly.

Proper disposal is as easy as 1-2-3!

1. Remove pills from containers and put them in a clear zipper bag. Keep medicated liquids and creams in original containers.

2. Recycle your empty containers, but first scratch off or black out personal information.

3. Find a medication collection bin near you, and place the zipper pill bags, liquids, and creams in the bin.

Only household prescription, over-the-counter, and pet medications are accepted.
Controlled medications are accepted at select locations.
Sharps and business waste are not accepted in the bins.

The next National Prescription Drug Take Back Day is April 27.

Richard Pan Breaks The Butterfly Effect Another Promise

By Christina Hildebrand, A Voice for Choice

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - State Senator Richard Pan, the author of SB 277, a law that requires kindergartners to get twenty-seven different doses of medication and fifteen different shots or forego a public education, has introduced SB 276, a bill that would require government permission for a doctor to opine that certain vaccines could harm a patient. This is an unprecedented and dangerous intrusion into the doctor-patient relationship, likely violates doctor's free-speech rights, and contradicts Pan's own public promises from just a few years ago.

Pan has claimed there is a problem with "medical exemptions" – i.e., official opinions by a doctor that if a child is vaccinated, that child could suffer harm. Medical exemptions are extremely rare, and doctors grant them only if a child or a family member suffers from things like a debilitating disease (such as leukemia), or if a child or a family member had a well-documented negative reaction to a vaccine or one of its ingredients. Just 0.7% of students obtain such an exemption, up from 0.2% before the passage of SB 277, a change that is not statistically significant. The total number of children exempt from the state's vaccine requirements (i.e., including those 1.1% exempt due to disabilities) has actually dropped since the passage of SB 277, going from 2.6% to 1.9%, indicating that Pan's plan is a solution in search of a problem.

Pan's legislation would require doctors to get permission from a government department -- the state Department of Public Health, before issuing an opinion for a patient on this issue. Such interference in the doctor-patient relationship is unprecedented, and the only analogous laws have been in state's requiring state approval of abortions -- something that has been universally deemed improper.

Pan's planned attempt to crack down on doctors would almost certainly get in the way of a doctor making an evaluation based on empirical, scientific evidence. "Imagine being the parents of a child who the federal government concluded was injured because of a condition that made them susceptible to vaccines, and then your family doctor tells you she is too terrified to exempt your younger child from those same vaccines, because the thought police might take her license," said Christina Hildebrand, President and Founder of A Voice for Choice Advocacy, a non-profit that advocates for medical freedom. "I can't imagine what good would come from the government regulating a doctor's free will to diagnose as he sees fit – it starts to resemble regulation of free speech," Hildebrand concluded.

Pan, a politician representing the Sacramento region, is a regular beneficiary of campaign contributions from the pharmaceutical industry, averaging just shy of $100,000 from it every legislative session. He is the top recipient of such funds in the state legislature, and the pharmaceutical industry, in turn, is his largest contributor.

"Any legislation or action on behalf of drug-makers that interferes with a doctor's individual judgment will be hotly contested," said Hildebrand. "We cannot let government determine what is in the best interests of any individual, overriding the doctor-patient relationship. Every doctor and patient in the state should be alarmed if such action is brought forward. If this can be done with vaccinations, what medical treatment will be next? Patients need to be able to trust their doctors and not worry that they are being pressured or worried that their honest, scientifically based medical judgement will be overruled by a legislatively appointed official who has never met them."

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Western monarch butterfly population has declined, according to Xerces Society, by 99.4% in fewer than four decades. Angela Laws, Monarch and Pollinator Ecologist at Xerces Society, said that although this species' numbers have been declining since the 1980s, the "sharp drop in numbers this year is alarming."

Extinction is a possibility for this iconic brown and orange species. Environment California, Xerces Society, lawmakers, ecologists, and citizens throughout the state are working to preserve the Western monarch.

California Assemblyman Mark Stone (29th District) authored AB-2421, Wildlife Conservation Board: Monarch Butterfly and Pollinator Rescue Program, which was approved by Governor Jerry Brown on September 26, 2018.

Stone said that in addition to the butterfly's iconic status, it is also "an indicator species that is helping us begin to understand the impact we are having on the habitats that monarchs, as well as native bees, beetles, and birds, depend on to survive."

The Wildlife Conservation Board met in Sacramento on March 7 and approved guidelines for the Monarch and Pollinator Rescue Program. Grant project applications will be announced on the board's website. Applications will be accepted year round for one of the four annual review periods. Funds may be used for restoration or enhancement of breeding habitat on private or public lands and may be used for seasonal or temporary habitats.

At a presentation at Pietro Talini's Nursery in January, Laws said that the Thanksgiving count of the Western monarch showed an 86% drop since the 2017 count.

"Several factors come into play," she said, "and one is the loss of habitat and loss of food." She is currently working with City of Sacramento District 3 councilmember, Jeff Harris, to plant a butterfly garden at Niños Parkway in South Natomas and encourages others to do the same.

Since the majority of the overwintering land is located on private property, residents and land owners may be the best hope for the species, whose numbers are down to an estimated 200,000 from its high of 10 million in the 1980s.

Native milkweed is necessary for the butterfly's survival and is being lost due to land development and herbicide use. It can, however, be planted, as Laws and Harris are doing, in gardens and other locations. The milkweed is critical since it is where the butterfly lays its eggs and the caterpillar feeds on the plant so that it can grow and become a monarch.

Native nectar plants are also necessary since they provide the food for the adult monarch. Both plants need to be available in order for the monarch to thrive through its complete lifecycle and during overwintering.

According to Xerces Society, "the Sacramento Valley, Sierra Nevada

Foothills, and Coast Range are vital to the survival of the first generation of monarchs produced each spring," and the group is urging the state to work to protect the butterfly by protecting its habitats from pesticide use, better manage overwintering sites and restore breeding and overwintering habitats.

Other ways that individuals can help are to contribute to citizen science by making and logging observations of the monarch, stop using insecticides and herbicides which not only harm the butterfly, but these can also kill milkweed. Xerces Society and Environment California also encourage people to encourage others to do the same.

According to Tierra Curry, a senior scientist at the Center for Biological Diversity, increased habitat has helped the Eastern monarch butterfly numbers to rebound, but she said that a single good year is not an indicator of future years and calls for continued protection.

In June, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will make a determination whether to add the monarch to the list of threatened species under the Endangered Species Act of 1973. USFWS has been reviewing data since the request was submitted in 2014.

Now the Innocent Can Protect Themselves

Commentary by Randy Thomasson, SaveCalifornia.com

If home invaders, hell-bent on rape and murder, kicked down your door, would you want to have more bullets than they had?

What a great victory for innocent families in California!

A federal judge in San Diego has ruled as unconstitutional a 2016 voter initiative limiting ammunition to 10 rounds in the magazines of handguns, shotguns, and rifles.

On March 29, U.S. Judge Roger Benitez, an anti-communism, Cuban-born, constitutional judge - who President George W. Bush nominated in 2003 — has ruled that the Second Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America defeats the bad law passed three years ago by foolish or anti-family California voters.

Benitez ruled that in response to "a few mad men with guns and ammunition," California's law "turns millions of responsible, law-abiding people trying to protect themselves into criminals." Benitez wrote that "Individual liberty and freedom are not outmoded concepts."

The judge also said that Proposition 63 "hits at the center of the Second Amendment and its burden is severe."

Prop. 63's path to the ballot was led by Democrat Governor Gavin Newsom, who raised money and collected signatures statewide. His unconstitutional heart must be aching over his unexpected defeat. He must hate that this constitutional judge got here to California!

What's next? You can expect that uber-liberal California Attorney General Xavier Becerra will appeal this just and constitutional ruling to the full Ninth Circuit federal appeals court. But win or lose, I expect this issue to ultimately go to the U.S. Supreme Court and win for family protection nationwide.

Meanwhile, you can still match bullet for bullet any home invasion attacker. He will never obey limits on guns and ammunition, and thanks to a pro-Second-Amendment judge who didn't lie about his allegiance to the United States Constitution, you can have as many bullets as a would-be killer has. Because whoever has the most rounds in his gun - wins.

Personally, I'm relieved that I can keep my 15-round magazines that go with my home-defense handgun without fearing that firing it to save innocent lives could result in me going to jail for a year under Prop. 63. What nonsensical tyranny Gavin's initiative is and was!

Find and Follow Your Passion, Celebrating Women in Aerospace

Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Aerospace Museum of California Executive Director Tom Jones invited five women from across STEM careers to share their real world experience with young people, their families, and other interested parties in a STEM Education Day event, Celebrate Women in Aerospace. The morning kicked off with activities throughout the museum for children and their families which included a scavenger hunt, photo challenge, phonetic alphabet activity, but the most popular was the paper airplane table situated between some of the indoor display aircraft.

The weather also provided opportunities to view outside exhibits and look into some of the airplanes, including the FedEx classroom plane used by Sacramento City College Aviation students. Docents were on hand to share stories and history, and Warren Searles and his crew were helping aviators in training in the museum's Flight Zone.

The event's highlight was the panel talk which kicked off with keynote speaker, Rear Admiral Bonnie Potter. "I don't fly," said Potter, but that did not hinder her distinguished career which includes becoming the first female physician in the US Navy to be selected for flag rank.

"My parents encouraged me to do anything I wanted to do."

She wanted to be a veterinarian, a desire shared by

panelist Chelsea Engberg, CEO and founder of Aviatrix LLC. Potter's road led her to the US Navy where she received a scholarship through the US Navy Health Professions Scholarship Program. She quickly learned that Title 10 prevented her from serving her residency on a ship, as a flight surgeon because she would not be permitted to land on any ship, or on a submarine.

"How you think is everything." She was determined to become the best doctor she could be. In 1990, she was assigned to the USNS Comfort, a 1000 bed floating hospital that was deployed in support of Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm. Part of her responsibility was to set up the hospital, which meant unpacking crates, improvising when parts were not available, and developing an evacuation plan. She became certified as a Life

Raft Commander. "You can't just wait for things to come to you. You have to go out and look for them," she said. "Take chances. Test your ability."

These words and phrases were echoed by the panelists who highlighted their careers, challenges, and successes.

"Live your life with honesty and integrity," she said, reminding them that "the wrong post can keep you from getting the job you want," referring to social media.

Following Potter's address, Jones asked the panelists questions beginning with who their greatest supporters were or still are.

Captain Carola List, US Coast Guard Commanding Officer Air Station Sacramento, credited the support of Chief Petty Officers and her lifelong interest in flying.

"If you don't know your passion, try many things," she said. "Don't be afraid to fail."

Chelsea Engberg said that the film, Top Gun, was a huge inspiration.

"I wanted to be a fighter pilot." She wrote many unanswered letters to President Reagan asking why she could not be a fighter pilot.

"I fell deeply in love with physics."

She also fell in love with flying and earned a master's degree in aeronautical science. Her parents purchased her one hour of flight time with Sean Tucker, and that was the start of a lifelong career, leading to her becoming the school's COO.

"Don't give up. It's all about the journey."

She is a tough woman, even by military standards, having spent fifteen hours in centrifuges. She is a flight instructor, aviation safety expert, movie and television consultant, and aerobatic pilot.

She also credits the strong women in her life and a flight to Europe as a child when she was invited to sit in the cockpit with the pilot.

"The journey will take you where it's going to take you. Don't close the door on finding your passion."

She dreams of solo hiking the John Muir Trail.

Sarah O'Meara is currently a Ph.D. student at UC Davis and intern at the Johnson Space Center focusing on human-robotics integration and physiology, and she is a Link Foundation Fellow who uses all aspects of STEM in her research.

"Math is an everyday thing," said the quiet young woman who dreams of someday ice diving in Antarctica.

She created, with several classmates, SOAR (STEM Outreach for Academic Reinforcement) Mentorship program.

"I guess our parents all went to the same camp," she said when asked about mentors. Her mother had a Ph.D. and encouraged her to follow her dream, with a twist. O'Meara was directed to pursue engineering for her undergraduate degree. After that, she was free to study whatever she wanted.

"Stop being a perfectionist," she said, adding that enjoying the process and not being afraid to share ideas are important.

Shannon Sanders Swager owns Sanders Aviation in Ione and has her master's degree in business administration.

"I've got a pacifier in my pocket," she said, a reminder that she is also a mom who, like many women, wears many hats. She also credits her grandmother as a role model and many of the men she encountered on the journey which took her from possible history teacher to working at Disney and returning to college.

"Don't let people tear you down," she said. "Look to people who build you up."

She advised students to enjoy life because they never know where it will lead.

"Don't be afraid to try. If you don't try, you may never find your passion," she said.

Upcoming events include Rocket Appreciation Day on Saturday, March 30 and ACE Career Expo 2019 on Saturday, April 6 where interested students and others can learn about STEM career pathways and meet professionals in all of the STEM areas.

It is only in loyal obedience to the laws of God one will ever experience any kind of significant reward! Scripture clearly states that the “wages of sin is death”. Sin steals the blessings God desires to plant into any our lives. When one’s personal satisfaction and physical will is greater than and more important than fulfilling the will of God, one is in big trouble!

If anyone has refused to put honoring God FIRST in their lives, they are living in very dangerous territory! They are listening to the wrong voice and it is time to recognize that voice is Satan. God cast him out of heaven onto the earth and this is his home. He lies to us about many things and those words are recorded in the Holy Bible. Our lives are NOT to be about me – myself and I! Loving oneself above God is folly!

Jesus Christ had to come and be sacrificed to redeem us from our fleshly desires, actions and sin. Any one who is disobedient to any one of God’s laws dishonors what-ever their faith in God is and affects the whole church. The Church throughout the whole world represents - Everyone who believes, honors and follows Jesus Christ as their personal Savior and Lord. It is not just a particular denomination. Jesus is Lord of All and He is to be honored “FIRST” in every life.

Warning: Not putting God FIRST (#1) in one’s life - puts a curse on that life! A curse cripples their personal journey to accomplish anything throughout their lifetime.

Scripture puts the word FIRST plainly for us to understand in Matthew 6:33 “Seek you first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all things will be added unto you.” Putting the Lord God FIRST will prove to us He can and will do exceedingly abundantly all we ask according to His will for life when He is in His rightful place which is FIRST.

God has recorded hundreds of promises in the Bible for those who believe to read and claim in their lives. One that is meaningful to a new believer is: “He will never leave or forsake you once you have accepted His death on the Cross and invited Jesus into your life as Lord and Savior of your soul” There is a lot to learn and it is a “life-time journey” of a loving adventure getting to know and love God with your heart and soul. Then, at a specific moment and time His Gift of Eternal Life in heaven with Him becomes your very own.

Victory is coming!

I heard a story about a group of young men that decided to play a practical joke on a young bachelor executive that worked with them in Dallas. Each Thanksgiving it was the custom of their company to give free turkeys to the employees. However, the young bachelor made it known to his friends that he really didn’t want a turkey, it would have been too much food for him alone and he had no desire to cook it. So, his friends decided to play a little trick. They confiscated his turkey and replaced it with one made from paper mache.

The young bachelor, unaware of the switch, tucked his bogus bird under his arm and caught the street-car home. As he was sitting there, a man sat down next to him. Since the turkey was an obvious conversation piece they were soon engaged talking about Thanksgiving and the turkey. In the course of time, the young man learned his companion was without a job and had been down on his luck for some time. He was on his way home with a few pounds of hamburger meat to be the entire Thanksgiving meal for his family. Our friend had a brilliant idea. Why not swap? The man, of course, was delighted. The generosity was overwhelming. With a great sense of gratitude, they made the exchange.

Pastor Ray's Encouraging Words

When You Don't Know all the Facts

Of course, you can imagine the outcome and the man's thoughts when he removed the wrappings from the turkey with his children crowded around wide-eyed with anticipation. I’m sure he had nothing but contempt for that young bachelor, “How could he do such a thing!?” The young bachelor, when he learned what his friends had done, searched for days for that man who he had unwittingly cheated. Unfortunately, he could never find him.

The point is obvious. The poor, defrauded man, from his vantage point, would never understand the young man’s actions. How could he? He didn’t know all the facts. He didn’t have the full story. But to this day, I’m sure from his limited knowledge, he has nothing but contempt for the young bachelor’s actions. Yet from the young man’s point of view, his actions were pure.

Question, who’s actions are you questioning without knowing all the facts? Who are you judging? The Bible says, “Does our law condemn a man without first hearing him...” John 7:51a That’s a rhetorical question. The obvious answer is “no”. It’s wrong to judge when you condemn somebody without all the facts.

To avoid condemning others we must remember our role. God did not send Jesus to judge people, but to save them, John 3:17. Judging wasn’t the mission of Jesus, why do we feel it’s ours? It’s not. It’s not our role, it’s not our mission. There’s only one judge and that is God. He will judge everyone one day and He will judge rightly and fairly because He knows all the facts. Let’s leave the judging to Him.

*The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.50% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for the repayment period is 5.875%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 10%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $150,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $475 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $75 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Sentenced for First-Degree Murder of Wife
DATE: March 26, 2019
CASE: Joshua Childers (Case #17FE005883)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Scott Schweibish, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Ernest Sawtelle sentenced Joshua Childers to 50 years to life in prison. On January 31, 2019, a jury convicted Childers of the first-degree murder of Victoria Vasquez. The jury also found true a use of firearm enhancement.

On March 28, 2017, a Placer County 911 dispatch received a call from a man reporting he had shot his wife and she could be found in a mobile home park in South Sacramento. A record check of the phone number used to call 911 located an address associated with the phone number. Officers responded to the residence and found a deceased woman in a bedroom. Law enforcement then located Childers by pinging his phone and he was taken into custody the same day.

Early Prison Releases:
March 2019 Update
Since 2015, 374 inmates sentenced from Sacramento County have been granted early prison release by the Board of Parole Hearings (BPH) as of March 29, 2019.

Many of the offenders who are granted early prison release have violent and lengthy criminal histories. District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert feels it is important for the public to be aware of the so-called “nonviolent” offenders being released early from prison into our neighborhoods. Press releases are issued to provide the public with a sampling of recent noteworthy offenders, including:

Inmate Convicted of Shooting, Paralyzing Victim & 25+ Year Criminal History (Julio Luna – Case #15F01091) – Julio Luna has a prior 1993 strike conviction for assault with a deadly weapon. In that case, Luna and his friends got into an argument with the victim. Luna ended up shooting the victim at close range. The bullet lodged in the victim’s spinal cord resulting in paralysis. This level of violence and the seriousness of the resulting injury makes this a highly aggravated crime. Since this strike conviction, Luna has been paroled nine times and has returned to custody on nine separate occasions due to violations and new offenses. He continued committing crimes including assault with a firearm, making criminal threats, felony evasion from police, various kinds of theft and larceny, illegal gun and ammunition possession and domestic violence. In his current commitment offense, Luna and a friend went into a store and tried to buy six Best Buy gift cards with a fraudulent credit card. When employees attempted to detain Luna, he pulled out a knife. The employees let Luna leave, but reported his license plate number to law enforcement. When officers located Luna in his vehicle, he fled. In the process of the evasion he ran three red lights, several stop signs and ran into a curb. He continued his evasion after his vehicle got a flat tire, and officers had to use a PIT maneuver multiple times before they could eventually detain him. Luna endangered the store employees, other drivers and the pursuing officers. He was convicted of identity theft and evading officers. The Board of Parole Hearings found this inmate to be a nonviolent offender who does not pose an unreasonable risk of violence to the community and granted release on March 13, 2019.

The Sacramento County District Attorney’s Office takes an active role in evaluating NVSS and NVPR cases. For inmates who appear to pose a danger to the public, the office writes opposition letters to BPH with an overview of the inmate’s criminal history and current commitment offense, and an opinion on the public safety risk if an inmate is granted early release. NVPR cases are especially concerning since prosecutors are denied access to records of the inmate’s behavior behind bars, which is critical to rehabilitation, and do not have a right to appeal an early parole decision.

Information about more of these inmates can be found on the Early Prison Releases webpage at www.sacda.org/early-prison-releases. ★

Shake It Up!

Are you living an adventure-starved life? Have you fallen into a routine of drudgery? Are you just going through the motions? Got some lessons from Vella Mbenna who told me on POPPOFF that she wants to share her life so you can recharge yours in “Muddy Roads Blue Skies” My journey to the Foreign Service, from the Rural South to Tanzania and Beyond. Let me count the ways.

1) Commit Yourself To A Self-Imposed Tv Or Social Media Ban. Before you can start your adventures, you need to stop doing the stuff that sucks up all your free time and keeps you in a state of lethargy. 2) Force Yourself To Do Something That Scares (Yet Excites) You. You’ll never reach your full potential by living small. So take a risk and challenge yourself to step outside your comfort zone and do some things that intimidate you.

POPPOFF!

with Mary Jane Popp

3) Take A Class Or Learn A New Skill. Learning shouldn’t end once you’ve left school. Exploring interests is what keeps us alive. How about a coding class, learn to speak Russian or learn how to scuba dive. 4) Plan Frequent Mini Adventures. When you need to shake things up a bit, choose a destination you’ve never visited within 100 miles of where you live, and take a day-long trip with your friends or family. It quenches wanderlust without breaking the bank. 5) Budget For A Great Trip. If you dream of traveling to the exotic locales you’ve only seen in photographs, you can absolutely make it a reality someday. Start and “adventure fund” by putting a small amount of money aside each month. 6) Expand Your Circle. It’s fine to socialize with a core group of friends, but don’t close yourself from meeting new people. You never know how a new friendship or relationship could transform your life. 7) Say Yes To Every Invitation That You Possibly Can. As you start meeting new people, they’ll invite you to do things.. Maybe they’ll ask you to be on a committee or join them in a fundraising event. It can lead you to meet new people. 8) Don’t Waste The Weekends. Yes, you are exhausted after the work week, but if you’re not careful, you’ll go into crash mode and squander the weekend recuperating. Napping all weekend isn’t rejuvenating anyway. 9) Get Outdoors Every Chance You Get. There’s a reason we associate “adventure” with the great outdoors. That’s where the mountains and oceans and rivers are. It’s where you get to camp under the stars or hike or see the sunrise. 10) Find Novel Ways To Celebrate Your Milestones. Big achievements like promotions, anniversaries, graduations, even birthdays deserve thoughtful commemorations. Celebrate them by doing something you’ve never done before. 11) Instill Curiosity And Wonder In Your Kids. You can teach your kids to enjoy an adventurous life by exposing them to the world at an early age.

Dave Ramsey Says

through pre-marital counseling to make sure you’re on the same page when it comes to handling this and other issues.

If you and her mom really want to show her you love her, you’ll make sure she starts learning some character and discipline. And it’s very important that both of you are on the same page and in agreement every step of the way. You might also want to read a book together by Dr. Henry Cloud called “Boundaries.” This is a great book, and it will give you both several ideas for creating a reasonable timeline aimed at teaching her more responsibility.

I would advise letting her mom present any changes to her initially. Neither of you wants to create a scenario where you’re viewed as the bad guy. Let her mom start the process by explaining that she made a few mistakes in terms of teaching her more about personal responsibility and self-reliance when she was younger. Then, she can begin to lay out the first few rules and expectations.

In my mind, there’s nothing wrong with requiring her to get a job within 30 days if she doesn’t already have one. If she needs to go job hunting, make sure she’s out of bed and on the road no later than 8:00 a.m. every morning. During this first phase, looking for work every day should be her job. It wouldn’t be a bad idea to start teaching her about budgeting, saving, and everything else that goes into handling money responsibly during this time, too.

Next, phase two might consist of requiring her to help around the house doing chores on her days off, or whenever mom needs a hand. Then, after a month or two of this, phase three might consist of her paying a small amount in rent.

Do you see what I’m doing? By stepping up the expectations gradually you’re building a foundation so she’ll have the tools and knowledge to where, in the sixth or seventh month, she’s moving out and taking care of her own responsibilities.

Like an adult!

Orangevale Letter Carrier Joins ‘Million Mile Drivers’

By Meiko S. Patton

ORANGEVALE, CA (MPG) - An Orangevale letter carrier, Pawitter Nahal, has joined an elite group of Postal Service employees who have individually driven more than a million, accident-free miles. He was recognized during a ceremony on April 2, 2019 at the Orangevale Post Office, 6261 Hazel Ave., Orangevale, CA 95662.

How did Pawitter achieve such a feat? He did so by: driving defensively — expecting the unexpected; maintaining a safe distance of one car length for every 10 mph between them and the car in front of them; being courteous; using turn signals and obeying all laws; Keeping their options open — have a “what to do if I’m cut off” strategy; not driving distracted, turning off mobile devices when driving — no cell phones or texting. “Safe driving is no accident,” said Orangevale Postmaster Mark Campbell. “It is an honor to recognize these dedicated employees for the safe way in which they care not only for the sanctity of the mail, but in the way they drive.” The National Safety Council’s Million Mile Club is an honor reserved for employees driving one million miles — or 30 years — without an at-fault accident. Postal Service drivers are among the safest in the world. The achievement of driving, in this case over two million miles, for a total of 32 years, all accident-free is truly remarkable. ★

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues:
Implants with “Snap On” Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!

TV GUIDE MAGAZINE

CHEERS & JEERS

By Damian Holbrook

Cheers to NBC
for rebuilding its comedy brand. Between Superstore, Brooklyn Nine-Nine, Will & Grace (pictured), The Good Place and A.P. Bio, it's safe to say that Thursday nights are a Must-See buffet the Peacock Network can be proud of.

Jeers to Aunt Becky with the Bad Rap

After being busted in the college - admissions scam (along with Felicity Huffman), TV-movie queen Lori Loughlin was fired from her Hallmark shows, including the Garage Sale Mysteries series, and the final season of Netflix's Fuller House.

Jeers to Shameless
for giving Fiona a bum's rush. Yes, Emmy Rossum's decision to exit the Showtime dramedy left the writers in the lurch, but surely they could have come up with more than a forced twist that saw Fi leaving Chicago to basically find herself.

Cheers to Colton Underwood for sticking to his guns. The Bachelor took ABC's long-running franchise into real virgin territory by foregoing the usual finale to preemptively end things with Tayshia and Hannah G. before winning back Cassie (pictured, with

It's safe to say that Thursday nights are a Must-See with Will & Grace.

Colton), the woman he really loved. Glad to see he was here for the right reasons. ★

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

What's The Best Role For Nathan Fillion?

Question: I haven't seen any talk about Nathan Fillion's talent for comedy. Anyway, I cringe to watch him as The Rookie when he was so perfect in the role of Castle.

I know that actors don't want to be typecast, but I feel he's not showing his potential in this Rookie role. Your opinion? -Granny

Matt Roush: I get where you're coming from, and there's no question that the lighter touch required on Castle suited his considerable comedy chops better than this more earnest procedural. But I also feel that there's an innate likability and vulnerability to the way Nathan Fillion plays Rookie's John Nolan, as he tries to start over at middle age with the cards stacked against him. Shows end and an actor's career goes on, and it's understandable that you'd prefer one role to another, especially

Question: On the March 11 episode of Magnum P.I., was the barber played by the original T.C.? -William

Matt Roush: Yes, good catch. That was Roger E. Mosley playing John Booky, a Vietnam vet who offers advice along with his cuts. Don't know if we'll see him again, but that was a nice callback to the show's origins.

DOVIA Presents Annual Awards

By Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - On March 14, volunteers were recognized by Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) at Shriner's Hospital for Children – Northern California. Nearly 100 people attended the annual awards ceremony which recognized three categories of volunteers – Youth Volunteer of the Year, Individual Volunteer of the Year and Outstanding Achievement in Volunteer Engagement.

Rachele Doty, CVA is the board's chair and presented the welcome to all nominees, their friends and families, judges, and Brian Ricks from Assemblyman Ken Cooley's office. Doty said that each of the nearly twenty-five nominees present received certificates from DOVIA and from Cooley's office. He was unable to attend this year but is very supportive of the awards.

The Youth Volunteer of the Year award was presented to Abby Schumacher, who currently be students. They are also required to have donated a minimum of 25 hours of service during the year and are nominated by their organizations.

Schumacher was nominated by Fairytale Town's more. We are so proud of her, and she is truly a wonderful volunteer."

Doris Henke, a decades-long volunteer with Snowline Hospice received the Individual Volunteer of the Year award. She received a certificate and a $100 honorarium gift for Snowline Hospice. Henke has spent a lifetime giving back to the community in El Dorado County where she has lived since the 1960s.

"Doris Henke is a name to be recognized and remembered. Her name is truly synonymous with love and caring because of the profound difference she makes in the lives of others," wrote Bonnie Davis, CVA, Director of Workforce and Volunteer Services for Snowline Hospice. Davis nominated Henke for the award. "It is impossible to quantify the hundreds or thousands of lives she has touched through the years. This loving wife, encourager, mother, caregiver, businesswoman, selfless giver, community developer, friend, ministry-builder, and mentor lives an intentional life of service to others and is a shining example of 'giving your all'."

The Individual Volunteer Award of the Year is new this year, said Doty. "We had always focused on the youth volunteer, and

The final award for Outstanding Achievement in Volunteer Engagement award was presented to Darlene Cullivan, CVA of Eskaton for her work. "I am honored to receive this special award as it demonstrates Eskaton's vibrant philanthropic culture. Eskaton is grateful for the over 2600 volunteers who invest their time, talent and compassion to enrich the lives of seniors. I am inspired Eskaton volunteers illustrate our belief that Age is Beautiful."

Nominees were judged by Carla Lehn, CVA, Cole Forstedt, and Valeri Mihanovich and had, Doty said, a difficult time making the final decision this year because all of the nominees were "so wonderful." Volunteer service must have been performed in Sacramento, Yolo, Placer, or El Dorado counties during the 2018 calendar year.

Service includes work release time, without pay or for student course credit, and each nominating organization must provide service for the larger community, not simply for its members.

Nominees were involved with Access Leisure and Paralympic Sport, Sacramento Food Bank and Family Services, ACC Senior Services, Sacramento Sheriffs Explorer Program, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Sacramento, Breathe California Sacramento Region, yolo County 4-H, Project R.I.D.E., Inc., Sacramento Tree Foundation, First Call Hospice, Sacramento SPCA, Foothill Therapy Dogs, Sutter Hospice, Oak Park Community Center, Gardenland/Northgate Neighborhood Association, and Junior League of Sacramento, Inc., Snowline Hospice, Eskaton, and Fairytale Town.

"DOVIA exists to support the volunteer managers, to provide networking, continuing education and support," said Doty who has held several board positions. DOVIA presents at least one event each month.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Amanda Klentz of Citrus Heights, California, earned a free trip to Arizona thanks to the success of her home-based business through Plexus Worldwide. Klentz was flown to Scottsdale, Arizona with a guest, where they received the royal treatment including luxurious accommodations, spa visit, lunch and dinner with Plexus Executives, a tour of the corporate offices, plus $300 spending money. Plexus Worldwide is a leading direct-selling health, wellness and weight management company with 20-products including the new line of Plexus Lean meal replacement shakes, which provides a donation to Feeding America for every serving sold. With more than 700,000 independent business owners (“Ambassadors”) worldwide, Plexus is among the world’s 40 largest direct sales companies and has often been featured on the Inc. 5000 list of fastest-growing companies. The combination of Plexus products and opportunities help individuals to meet their health-wellness and financial goals. For more information about us visit www.PlexusWorldwide.com. ★

River Cats to Broadcast Games on CW31

By Daniel Emmons

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento River Cats and CBS13/CW31 have announced that they will collaborate to broadcast 12 games during the 2019 regular season. The games will be available locally in the Sacramento market on CW31, home of Good Day Sacramento.

After a successful season of broadcasts in 2018, including the Exhibition Game between the Sacramento River Cats and San Francisco Giants, the partnership has been renewed for 2019 to include 10 home games and two road games. Broadcast dates for this season include April 6, April 20, May 4, May 11, June 1, July 13, July 27, August 10, August 31, and September 2. CW31 will also broadcast two River Cats road games against the Las Vegas Aviators (Oakland Athletics) in Las Vegas, Nevada on June 22 and June 23.

“The team at CBS13/CW31 were tremendous partners last year,” says Chip Maxson, General

Manager of the River Cats. “We’re excited to build on last season and work together to bring even more River Cats baseball to the homes of Sacramentans.”

“We are extremely happy to continue our great partnership with the River Cats as they celebrate their 20th season in Sacramento,” said Justin Draper, Vice President and General Manager, CBS 13 and CW 31. “Last season’s broadcasts were well received and we look forward to airing additional games this year, including two road games.” Membership plans and special ticket packages are available by calling the River Cats ticket hotline at (916) 371-HITS (4487) or emailing tickets@rivercats.com. A full promotion and giveaway schedule for the 2019 season is now available at rivercats.com.

The Sacramento River Cats are the Triple-A affiliate of the three-time World Champion San Francisco Giants. The team plays at Raley Field in West Sacramento, consistently voted one of the top ballparks in America. Season Tickets, Mini-Plans, and Flex Plans can be purchased for the River Cats’ 20th season by calling the River Cats Ticket Hotline at (916) 371-HITS (4487). The only place to guarantee official River Cats tickets is at www.rivercats.com. For information on other events at Raley Field, visit www.raleysfield.com ★

Rico’s Mexican Food held their grand opening ribbon cutting on Friday, February 8. They are located at 7967 Auburn Blvd. in Citrus Heights. Owners Francisco and Norma Juarez cut the ribbon.
