CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Long hours and hard work paid off this summer for eight dancers with the KM Dance Arts Studio in Citrus Heights. Upstage, a competition dance group of girls, ages 11 to 18, competed and won in numerous categories at the Sheer Talent nationals competition held at Harrah's in Las Vegas,

Fifty-two dance studios from the United States and seven other countries competed during the demanding weeklong competition. Tap, jazz, ballet, hip-hop, musical theater, and contemporary were just some of the genres of dance represented in dozens of categories from solos, duets, trios, and group productions.

Despite being one of the smallest studios competing at the July event, KM took awards in almost every category entered. This included winners from almost three dozen dance routines entered at the national level. More than 10 routines received top five awards, and four KM dancers placed in the most competitive title competition.

Under the direction of owner and teacher Amberlee Prosser, Upstage students prepared for competition by practicing five to six days a week, two to five hours a day.

Upstage's journey to the top began in April 2014 at the Sheer Talent regional competition between Northern California dance studios, which took place at the Crest Theater in Sacramento. Thirty-one dance routines were brought to this competition; in the end, 12 dancers received workshop scholarships and 14 dancers earned scholarships to the Sheer Talent Ballet Intensive.

New City Hall Location Proposal Fountain Square and Stock Ranch Road

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Over the past year, several community workshops and meetings have been held that reviewed the potential for a medical office building to be constructed on the site of the current City Hall and relocate City Hall to a vacant property on Antelope Road. On August 14, 2014, the project was presented to the City Council. At that hearing, the City Council voted to take no action on project and directed staff to conduct additional environmen-

Shortly after this hearing, the City was approached by Capital Partners, who submitted an unsolicited preliminary proposal to for an alternate site for the City Hall building. The new site, located on Fountain Square Drive and Stock Ranch Road, would accommodate a single-story, 35,000 square foot building with adjacent storage yard at a cost that is comparable to constructing City Hall on the Antelope Road site.

On September 25, 2014, the City Council designated the newly proposed Stock Property as the preferred site for possible relocation of City Hall, and directed City staff to conduct a full Environmental Impact Report (EIR) utilizing the Stock Property for City Hall and the current City Hall property for the medical office building.

In compliance with CEQA, a public meeting to review the Notice of Preparation (NOP) and receive comments regarding the scope of the EIR will be held on October 14, 2014 at 4:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers located at 7117 Greenback Lane, Citrus Heights.

Community Feedback Mixed for New City Hall Site Proposal

By Julia Baum

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) -Redirecting their attention on a recent land offer from developers, the Citrus Heights city council voted unanimously at a September 25th meeting to conduct a full environmental impact report on a possible new site for a future city hall, and promised to explore all development possibilities with community input.

Community members attending that meeting voiced mixed reactions. The conflicting opinions are about the September 17th meeting where Capital Partners Development, Co. presented an unsolicited proposal at a public information meeting for 10.69 acres of property located north of the Post Office and extending east along Fountain Square Drive towards Stock Ranch Road that would serve as the site for a new city hall. Developers suggest constructing a single-story buildings by most residents would project in March 2015. building then selling it and the be infrequent.

land to the city, costing approximately $18 million—the same price point projected for building a two-story city building on the proposed Antelope Road site between Auburn and Sunrise boulevards. The new location would allow the city hall to remain close to other civic buildings while also letting Dignity Health build a three-story medical office building on the current city hall site at Greenback Lane and Fountain Square Drive.

Resident Barb Miller was concerned that Dignity moving to the new site could increase traffic at Greenback Lane and Fountain Square Drive, and threatens the efficiency of emergency services.

"There's nothing wrong with the site we have," Miller said. 'We don't want to jeopardize what we have in response time." Retiree Mildred Loutensock said that traffic concerns were overblown and that visits to civic

"How often do we go to the Post Office?" retiree Mildred Loutensock said. "Everybody doesn't come at once."

Chamber of Commerce board member Ilene Martzen supported conducting a full EIR and encouraged council members to "move the ball forward" while resident Janet Botill urged the council to exercise "due diligence" and "look long and hard" at relocating city hall.

Vice Mayor Sue Frost gave her full support for a move to Stock Ranch Road and urged building soon while she said construction costs are lower. Frost and other council members, minus an absent council member Jeff Slowey, also promised to organize a public forum in the future outlining details of the financial arrangement after several more residents expressed concerns about managing the city's finances. The council is expected to review the CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Be Money Smart USA's new venture, a program that helps veterans start their own businesses, got a recent funding boost with a county fair themed gala. The event was hosted by the Armor Mini Storage facility on Auburn Boulevard.

Visitors enjoyed a barn dance, carnival contests, and a tri-tip barbecue. Some guests endured brief incarcerations in the "county jail"—a storage unit repurposed as a prison cell. Bail was negotiable.

A success story for founding eight farmers markets in Carmichael and other suburbs, the Be Money Smart USA non-profit was launched in 2008 to help high-schoolers develop business skills through running these weekly markets. Owners Don and Marie

Their new Veterans Build Your Own Micro Business Academy aims to help service people transition from military to civilian life. Pumpkin Farm Offers Tons of Pumpkins, History and Fun for the Whole Family

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - One of Northern California's oldest family-run pumpkin patches, The Pumpkin Farm at 7736 Old Auburn Road in Citrus Heights, has many attractions and activities to entertain and educate children and adults alike.

Through Halloween Day at 6 p.m., visitors will find a wide variety of farm rides and other fun attractions to keep them busy. Attractions include the newly revamped Haunted Barn, a jumping castle, and a 40-foot lookout tower and slide.

Guided tour hayrides, an 8-car train, and go-carts amble past a 200-year-old blue oak, and through the 16 acre farm, past sunflowers, a corn maze, century old fruit and olive orchards, and past baby pigs, sheep, goats, and chickens. A bit of farm history can be seen in the authentic antique farm equipment. Unique scarecrows are shown portraying many aspects of farm life, while scare-zombies stand by quietly observing all the activity.

Finally, 100 tons of pumpkins of all shapes and sizes are ripe for the choosing. One giant pumpkin weighing 1,535 pounds took first prize at the Hall Moon Bay Giant Pumpkin Festival in 2012.

In 1972 Leonard Shymoniak and his family moved here from Canada and acquired the Farm as a poultry-egg ranch. In 1974, seeing the potential for a new agricultural niche, Shymoniak began to grow and harvest pumpkins. Today the family tradition continues. Son Thomas and daughters Yvonne and Yvette are involved in all aspects of running the farm, including working with the many schools and other organizations that visit during the month of October.

The land the Farm sits on has a long history of making the most of its bounty. The Nisenan Maidu and Plains Miwok Native American Indians originally inhabited the area in small hunter-gatherer societies. The nutritious seeds and acorns from the many oak trees on this land were a mainstay of the Native Indian's diet for many centuries.

In the late 1850s the oak forested land was subdivided into 10 acres small farms for new immigrants moving in after Gold Rush. The Pumpkin Farm is on the 15 Mile section of the old Auburn Road, which ran from Auburn to Sacramento and on to San Francisco during the Gold Rush.

The land was initially logged to produce lumber to supply the needs of Old Sacramento and the railroad, then eventually developed into a mixed nut and fruit orchard, a dairy and cattle ranch and turkey farm, and a bee-keeping operation. The Shymoniak family has been continuing this tradition for 39 years and plans to do so for many more.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Customers at 14 Sacramento-area agencies (listed below) reduced water use by 20 percent or more in August compared to the same period last year, according to an analysis by the Regional Water Authority (RWA), which represents water providers in Sacramento, Placer, El Dorado, and Yolo counties. The findings come from a review of August water use data submitted to RWA and the State Water Resources Control Board

"Residents have been spectacular in their water use reductions," said RWA Water Efficiency Program Manager Amy Talbot. "August is typically one of the hottest months of the year, which makes the temptation to ramp up sprinklers hard to resist. But the data shows that residents have made a serious commitment to preserving our limited resources during the severe dry conditions."

Overall, the region averaged a 21 percent reduction in August, and is averaging a 19 percent reduction from January through August 2014, compared to the same timeframe last year, RWA's analysis found.

"As we move into fall and winter, it will be important for residents to continue conserving water," Talbot said. "Even normal or above-average precipitation three dry years. We're in this for the long haul."

One action that residents can take immediately is to reduce sprinkler times by at least two minutes per zone. "Fall is prime time for overwatering landscapes," Talbot said. "Shorter days and cooler temperatures reduce the water demands of lawn, trees, shrubs and plants, so it's time to dial back sprinklers," Talbot said.

New Drought Resources Available

The Regional Water Authority has launched a revamped Web site at BeWaterSmart.info to provide additional drought information and tips for reducing water use.

The site includes a new sprinkler scheduling tool that allows visitors to enter information about their landscape (such as plant materials, soil type and sun exposure) and receive a custom watering schedule based upon the weather and local watering restrictions

Other features include brief videos about low-tech solutions for determining when and how much to water your landscape, as well as how to fortify and maintain your landscape while reducing water use. Both the sprinkler scheduling tool and the videos were spon-

The San Juan Unified School District continues to debate options to fix Sylvan Middle School's deteriorating learning environment. The District's Superintendent, Kent Kern came to Citrus Heights Elementary on September 4th to announce closing Citrus Heights Elementary as one of the newest "options." Apparently, this new option was being discussed over the summer without notifying parents, the community, or teachers, so there was no opportunity to be involved in those discussions. The board is slated to make the decision at the November 18th board meeting. Carriage Elementary and Sylvan Middle Schools have been fighting the good fight since last school year trying to get the board to make the right decision for their school communities. Citrus Heights Elementary families will have less than two months. The community of Citrus Heights is tired of the talk of displacing three community schools within a one-mile radius. We are now taking action as a community. The newest "option" is to close Citrus Heights Elementary and move Sylvan over to that campus; all while spending millions to build a middle school façade. The elementary students from Citrus Heights will be merged with the Carriage campus, splitting the seams of that school with a population of 750 students, as well as making it a K-5 campus. In addition, it will displace a T-K classroom, two Special Day Autism preschool classes, two state preschool classes as well as the Bridges after school program at Citrus Heights. Carriage may not be "displaced", but it would become the new neighborhood school rather than an open enrollment option. No one has answered whether it will maintain its "performing arts" status.

The City of Citrus Heights needs and deserves a state of the art middle school. Sylvan Middle School did not start deteriorating overnight. The come from decades of neglect in which District board after board has chosen to allow it to get to this condition. If we had a new middle school campus with the newest technologies and learning environments, along with an effective leadership and teaching staff, Sylvan Middle School would be on the competing edge with other highly sought out middle schools in the District.

Teachers and community members spoke at the SJUSD board meeting on September 9th... the message was is that we need the board to postpone their decision so the Citrus Heights community can come up with a better solution. At the board meeting, new football fields in the district were being celebrated; the district spent $6.7 million of the $350 million Measure N Bond money on the fields. We don't discount the benefits of athletics, but in times when we are just overcoming deficits in school funding, we don't know how football fields take priority over the students of Citrus Heights. If you look up the Measure N bond, the funds can only be used on "school and classroom improvements" and is also intended for "modernizing aging classrooms." An amusing anecdote if we were being equitable with tracks and fields, have you seen the one on the Mesa campus? As a taxpayer in the SJUSD district, I don't think of football fields fitting in to the category of Measure N. The board meeting minutes have not yet been posted, but during discussions, apparently the board commented that enough money has been spent on the schools in Citrus Heights. There is also talk that we will be re-instating class size reductions in the next few years. By filling a school to capacity, there is absolutely no room to accommodate class size reduction. It is the responsibility of the board and district leadership to have insight and vision in to our near future.

Strategy 3 of the district's Strategic Plan is, "We will ensure effective two-way communication that is honest, transparent, and timely to build a unified collaborative learning community." I am not sure how transparent the district is being when new "options" are being developed without community participation. As Carriage parent, Jim Cowger stated at the board meeting, "The district is trying to put a band-aid on something that needs surgery. We will just be back here in 5-10 years when the band-aid falls off.'

45 million is an enormous figure to rebuild Sylvan Middle School, but it doesn't have to happen overnight. Our students and families in the area deserve it. What parent doesn't want a quality education for their child(ren)? There are many more options than closing schools and displacing children and programs. With the historical richness of Citrus Heights, the induction of Common Core Standards, and teaching in the 21st Century, we could be looking at a wonderful community partnership with local businesses to Save Our Schools. Opportunities to think outside of the walls of a thirty by thirty foot classroom with ideas like an on-site Citrus Heights Historical Museum run by students, and a fully-thriving school garden are some of the endless possibilities that could possibly help raise funds to re-build Sylvan, even if it is wing-by-wing! It is truly an amazing opportunity for our community!!

We just want to do what is right for the students in our community and we want a modern middle school. While we will remain diligent in voicing our concerns, we spend our days focused on the students and families we serve in our school communities. We need the community of Citrus Heights to turn out in mass at the Community Forum at Sylvan Middle School on September 24th from 6:30-8. We build community, we don't tear it down. The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.00% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC). The initial APR is based on the Index value of 3.25% and a margin of .75%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $100,000, and a total maximum Loan-To-Value Ratio (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence. $100,000, and a total maximum Loan-Io-Value Ratio (LIV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Irust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than EI Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. The APR may vary based on changes in the value of the Index. The Index for the 10-year draw period is the highest prime rate as published in the Money Rates column in the Wall Street Journal on the last business day of each month. The minimum APR on all Home Equity Lines of Credit is 3.50% and the maximum APR that can apply is 10%. Rates, APR, terms, and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $375 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $50 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Variable Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

By Ronnie McBrayer

John Steinbeck was one of America's most prolific and insightful novelists. Renowned for his prize-winning works that most of us either enjoyed or endured at some point in our education (depending upon our perspective), one of Steinbeck's lesser known novellas is my personal favorite. It is a penetrating little book called The Pearl.

Steinbeck's story begins with a poor Mexican pearl diver named Kino. He happily ekes out a living for his wife and son with a little canoe and a thatch hut on the beach. When Kino's child is bitten by a scorpion, the wealthy doctor will not see the child, for Kino has no money.

Nor will the priest come to pray for the child, because Kino and his wife aren't properly married – again, because Kino can't afford to pay the church for a proper wedding ceremony. But through grace or ill-fated fortune, Kino discovers a pearl as big as his fist: The "Pearl of the World," the locals call it, the most incredible treasure the village has ever seen

Now Kino will be rich. He and his wife will be properly married. His son will be healed. The family will get new clothes and a larger house. His life will be transformed. But, things don't work out as well as Kino had Greed takes over in entire village. Thieves attempt to rob him. The pearl traders refuse to barter with him. His friends grow psychotically jealous. Kino begins to spend all his energies hiding and protecting his treasure. His wife, who sees how the new wealth is destroying their family, tries to get rid of the pearl, only to have Kino viciously attack her.

More robbers burn their house down. They are forced to run for their lives while would-be assassins mercilessly stalk the family like prey. Yet, Kino cannot let this pearl go. He cries out in desperation: "What can I do? This pearl has become my soul!"

In the end Kino loses everything: His home, his young child, his little canoe by which he made a living, his respectability in the village, and his ability to escape to a better life. He and his wife stand on the Pacific shoreline and heave the evil pearl back into the ocean.

The treasure he thought he wanted, in the end, breaks him. Thus, Steinbeck's little story is about far more than a poor Mexican diver. It a tale of human nature; it is about getting what one wants, only to discover that the fulfillment of that desire is one's undoing.

We all enter this world with empty hands, open hearts, and restless spirits searching for some kind of treasure - something to fill the emptiness. The search is intrinsic, natural, and good. Jesus spoke of this search in a way that Steinbeck later duplicated: We are searching for the "Pearl of Great Price," Jesus said, that invaluable treasure of the soul that is worth more than all the world. It is an acquisition of the soul - and only the soul - that satisface acceptance.

The glitch in all of our pursuits is that many of the things we seek do not actually fulfill us. They are actually detrimental to us and to the world. My guess is that the majority of individual and cosmic suffering is the direct result of our improper and misguided searches

The itchiness in our hands and in our hearts sends us looking for an emotional and spiritual scratching post, but we entrust ourselves to people and objects that simply cannot deliver the goods. To quote an old country song, we go "looking for love in all the wrong places." And when we go looking in all the wrong places, we end up with all the wrong outcomes.

But it's never too late to find the satisfaction we can't seem to corner. We just have to turn our attention to the true treasure of the soul, the Pearl of Great Price. We just have to search in the right place, and almost magically, we end up with the right results.

Bob Walters for San Juan Water District Board of Directors

By Bob Walters

Eight years ago, a good friend asked me if I would be interested in serving on a local water board; I told him I would give it some consideration. I was just settling into a well-deserved retirement having recently sold my interest in a successful professional advocacy firm, and that, combined with the proceeds accumulated over many years as a shareholder in a well-known Sacramento law firm, would allow me to "rest on my laurels" so to speak.

However, after all the years of decision-making, listening to various points of view, different philosophies and downright haggling, I knew I could and should be an active participant on the local level—the level where I feel we truly can make a difference in people's lives. Over the years I have run for public office and served in various appointive public offices including a stint in top level staff positions for Governor Ronald Reagan as well as a member of his transition team. I have worked with and in public policy and politics most of my professional and public life, but, at this point in time, I believe local government is where my talents and work ethic can best be used. Thus, I told my friend that I was very interested in serving on the board of a local water district—that district is the San Juan Water District (SJWD), and I have served on its Board of Directors for eight years.

The SJWD is a rarity because it's both a wholesale district

(it contracts with the Federal Bureau of Reclamation to purchase water from Folsom Lake, treat it to meet safe drinking water standards and transfer it to two local water districts and one local nonprofit water company), and it also sells treated water to a small local district which was created as a part of the SJWD. These local agencies, which make up the SJWD, then sell the water to their rate payers who live, work and conduct business within their jurisdictions. In addition, the SJWD also services part of the City of Folsom.

The bottom line is that the SJWD has one major, overriding objective—to provide reliable, safe water to over 300,000 residents of Sacramento County and a portion of Placer County. The San Juan Water Board (SJWB) must maintain the trust and confidence of its rate payers in order to create a productive environment in which to do business. It must maintain a viable infrastructure, provide a state of the art water treatment process and ensure a diversified, creative workforce that approaches its responsibilities professionally while preserving its fiscal integrity.

In recent years, the SJWB has had to add an ever increasing number of State and Federal relationships. We must engage in an ever increasing need for external "lobbying" to preserve our ability to serve our rate payers and meet our number one priority—the reliable delivery of water. There will always be challenges in the world of water, especially those precipitated by droughts, some made by nature and others made by human mismanagement or inadequate planning and facilities. Is it challenging and exciting to serve on the SJWB? Yes! It has allowed me to adapt and put into practice knowledge gained in other areas of government, the law and volunteer service. It has challenged me to learn in depth and stay current on issues of Water Law, and to make the difficult decisions that affect all of us today.

I want to continue this journey and hope you will support me in the upcoming November 4th election. Many local water district and community leaders support me. Look for Robert (Bob) G. Walters, Incumbent, San Juan Water District Board of Directors. I won't let you down! Thank you.

By Pastor Ray Dare

You were made for more than just getting up and going to work and coming home and getting up and doing it all over again and again for 50 or 60 years. You must understand that you are a person of destiny. You are here in God's divine plan. He has strategically placed you here at this particular time in history because He has great confidence in you to be the person He's made you to be for Him. God didn't choose Moses, or David, or Paul to live in this hour. He chose you to live in this hour to make a difference with your life.

The Bible tells us in 1 Timothy 1, to "Stir up the gift of God..." that is within us. God is counting on you to make a difference and He has given you incredible gifts and talents that must be developed. The enemy will tell you you're "just" a housewife. You're "just" a businessperson. You're "just" a plumber. You're "just" an accountant...whatever. No. Listen friend, God has given you something very important to do for Him. You've got to be obedient; you've got to be open to following the God-given dreams and desires He's put on the inside of you.

So many people are waiting for a big voice to boom out of Heaven to instruct them what to do. But most of the time, it's not like that. It's going to be a simple desire. The Bible talks about "A still, small voice". You may be sitting around waiting for the right time to do what God's been telling you to do. You think as soon as my kids get out of school, I'll do it. I'll be obedient to God. I'll get involved. As soon as this big project at work gets over, then I'm going to get involved. Whenever the right time comes, then I'm going to do what God's calling me to do. But friend, you all know as well as I do, there will never be a right time. The time to do what God's telling you to do is right now. We've got to quit making excuses. Everyday you put it off, you're missing out on God's best for your life.

Jesus told a parable of the talents in Matthew chapter 25. I encourage you to read it today.

God has given every one of us talents. Let me ask you a very important question today, what are you doing with the talents God has given you? Are you making the most of what God has entrusted you with? Or are there weights that are holding you back? Are you too busy to come to church on a regular basis? Are you letting the enemy deceive you into thinking you don't have what it takes to do what God's telling you to do?

Let me challenge you: Don't hide your talents anymore. You've got to stir yourself up and step out in faith and do what God's been telling you to do. You will never be truly fulfilled if you compromise what God has put on the inside of you. Get in the race. Get involved. Act on the dreams and desires He's put in your heart. You have seeds of greatness on the inside of you. You have more to offer this world than you can imagine.

I believe we're living in a very historic and critical time in God's timetable. He's counting on us to rise up and to make a difference in this generation. Soon, you and I will be giving an account to our Master as to what we've done. Let's make the most of the time. Be serious about your relationship to God. Stay focused on the things of God. Stay in church. Be faithful in your tithe. Don't hide your talents anymore. Be quick to obey God. If you will dare step out in faith and begin developing the potential He has placed within you, God will be pleased.

BOO !!!

Halloween is just around the corner! Got scary superstitions? I asked some of my colleagues if they suffer from the same fate.

Had a chance to talk with Rob Stewart of KVIE's "Rob on the Road" fame when he and I did the KVIE Auction a couple of weeks back. He is mortified of snakes. But, he said, "I'm way too scared to tell you what I'm really scared of...but I'll do it anyway. I'm horrified of ghosts. Sometimes you can tell when there is positive energy or a negative energy (some say that's a ghost) in a place you walk into. The negative energies scare me to pieces. So scary ghosts and scary snakes send me-SCARED!" Remind me to 'not go' on the road with you Rob. Maybe you are a ghost magnet.

Then I checked in with our morning guy at KAHI AM-950 from 6-9 AM...Casey Freelove. I didn't think anything would scare him. He's too macho sports guy and all that! You know what creeps him out about Halloween? Adults who don't have children and they insist on dressing up for Halloween. He added, "Last time I dressed up (I was forced to) I felt odd until I got to the party I attended, and then felt very weird when I exited the party. Here's why.

This party was at the Venetian Casino in Las Vegas in 2008, and I ended up spending the night at the hotel. Then I had to walk through the entire casino in my football player costume the next morning. Embarrassing? Yes! "Hey Casey, next time, pack a bag! Oh, He's superstitious too. "Black cats crossing my path and walking under ladders.

I also have a 'lucky' bottle opener. Why is it lucky? "It was my mom's bottle opener when she attended college at Chico State back when they still had the Pioneer Days celebration, and I think that's pretty darn cool, and lucky!"

That's great, but how do you make it to the station every day with all those superstitions? Never mind. You have the lucky bottle opener, right?

I have known Michael Marks, "Your Produce Man" from the KOVR News and "Good Day Sacramento," for a long time. He visits with me every week on the KAHI Noon News. So what creeps him out farmers with pitch forks?

Nope! This is what he told me. "What creeps me out are over-cooked Brussel Sprouts and Asparagus. Slimy. Stinky. Sickening. No wonder so many kids have learned to hate Brussel Sprouts and Asparagus. Please don't creep me out. Don't overcook your veggies! I know, Michael, raw is relevant!

Finally, I checked in with our newest addition to the AM-950 KAHI family Bob Stephenson. He is our Afternoon News Guy from 4-6 PM. This one got serious! He is claustrophobic. "When I was a child, I got caught underwater in the ocean for several seconds and became very disoriented and VERY scared. Since then, tight spaces or anything than makes it impossible for me to move or stretch out makes me feel very uncomfortable." Bob, I guess that turtle neck sweater I was going to get you for Christmas is out of the question. Just kidding, of

Now for my bugga-boos. Ooops. Ran out of space. Here's a hint though. My ancestors come from Transylvania!

Council Considers Crude Oil Shipments Options

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Citrus Heights City Council members, along with other local government representatives, recently signed on to a letter addressed to the city of Benicia demanding they conduct a more thorough study of train derailment risks before approving daily crude oil train shipments through multiple local communities to a Bay Area refinery.

In a collective show of protest, representatives from the Sacramento Area Council of Governments, consisting of six counties and 22 cities, say they are acting in the best interests of the public against a proposal by Valero Refining Co. to transport approximately 2.7 million gallons of crude oil daily through Davis, West Sacramento, Sacramento,

One factor of concern for the communities is crude oil shipments from the Bakken region in North Dakota, known for its volatility. Citing multiple crude oil accidents in the last 18 months, including a 63-car derailment that resulted in 47 fatalities last year in Canada, SACOG members are calling upon federal regulators from the U.S. Department of Transportation to make crude oil train shipments safer. Some safety actions that SACOG would like to implement include phasing out unsafe tank cars, providing training and notification to local emergency response services, and reducing train speeds from 45 down to 40 mph through certain cities such as Davis.

A study commissioned by the city of Benicia says that a derailment and spill between there and in Sacramento feel that the risk has been minimized or studied enough.

"We felt there were some additional things that the applicant could be doing," Council member Jeff Slowey said at a September 11 city council meeting, noting that it was "unusual to weigh in on an issue in the Bay Area." Currently SACOG is preparing a final comment letter for the end of September weighing in on the DOT's recent Rule Making for Crude Oil notice, which includes new operational requirements for transporting certain flammable liquids and tank card standards improvements. The letter will be delivered by Sept. 30 prior to SACOG's Board meeting.

Citrus Heights 4th Annual Mutt Strut Raises over $10,000 for Needs of Visually Impaired in Sacramento Area

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The last week of summer proved to be perfect timing for over 100 dog lovers to walk, run, and strut their canine companions as they helped raise funds and awareness for the blind and visually impaired in the Sacramento area.

The forth-annual California Council of the Blind (CCB) 2K/5K Mutt Strut run and walk took place on Saturday, September 13th at Rusch Park in Citrus Heights.

KCRA meteorologist Tamara Berg was again Master of Ceremonies. The event was organized and officially timed by On Your Mark Events out of Calaveras

Over 275 people participated in the event, including 106 race contenders from surrounding counties, more than 100 volunteers, and a dozen vendors. Family and friends cheered on their teams as they enjoyed the morning, which included a pancake breakfast put on by the Land Park Lion's Club. Dawn Sirstad, owner of Good Eats was volunteer coordinator for the breakfast.

Jeff Thom, president of the California Council for the Blind explained that CCB is a national program which offers college scholarships, low interest loans for businesses, technology support, advocacy, crisis intervention, peer support, and information and referral services, all free of charge to their clients.

Runners and walkers took home medals in many categories; those in training could use their race time to qualify for future events.

Two race competitors came to the Mutt Strut from as far as Denmark and Italy. Foreign exchange students Charlotte Soerensen from Denmark and Saverio Barbagallo of Italy, both 16, are here as part of the Youth for Understanding student exchange program. Barbagallo attends John F. Kennedy High School in Sacramento, and Soerensen is at Mira Loma High in Sacramento for the school year.

Thirteen fundraising and walking teams competed for top dog fundraising honors. Team Tahoe with Elena Thomason and her golden retriever, brought home first place in the individual fundraising category for the forth year, raising $1,942. Team Guide Dog Users of California earned group first place by raising over $2,000. Finally, Frank Welte's team with his dog, Jeep, raised $2,250 for the event.

Volunteers are the lifeblood of any event. Over 100 volunteers of all ages from throughout the community again made this Strut memorable. Nursing students from Sacramento State, the Delta Gamma Sorority at U.C. Davis, Mesa Verde High School students, and members of the Boy Scouts Troop 635 and Girl Scouts Troop 1982 pitched in to carry out tasks of all kinds during the day. Valley of the Blind and Citrus Heights United Methodist Church also had volunteers working throughout the day. The Citrus Heights Queens and Ambassadors, led by Tamara Barbu-Brown, had the honor of dropping the starting flags for the 2K and 5K races, did face painting, and helped wherever needed during

THE CHANGE OUR STUDENTS NEED THE VOICE THEY DESERVE

MIKEMCKIBBIN.ORG

Dear Friends,

My experience as a teacher, parent of a current San Juan student, and my work in teacher development and school improvement provides me with a unique set of skills that I would like to apply in this district as we face a pivotal time for this district and all our children. My experience in classrooms as a teacher and a parent volunteer has taught me what it takes to engage students in their learning. My work on San Juan Advisory Boards and School Site Councils has taught me how this district functions. My years of management and oversight of large budgets at the state level has taught what it takes to be a careful steward of public funds. My work and research on school improvement and teacher development has helped me understand what needs to be in place for high quality schools and teachers to flourish and create conditions where students expand their intellect, find their purpose and their passion, and explore their God-given talents. I understand the challenges confronting this district; I want to be part of the solutions. I ask for your vote.

Yours Sincerely,

newly appointed Director Kurt Pearsall will be overseeing his first concert as CPCB's conductor. Pearsall, who has an extensive background as a musician and music educator in the Sacramento region, is only the second full-time CPCB director since the band was founded in 1997.

The band's musical performance, starting at about 7 p.m., will include some traditional German music, plus some spooky Halloween tunes. The Sacramento Capitolaires will perform throughout the evening. The men's chorus has a tradition dating back to the immediate post-World War II era, featuring music that appeals to all ages.

Another highlight will be the Creative Connections Arts Academy of North Highlands, part of the Twin Rivers Unified School District, youth dance team performing the classic

Ghoul Dance in a band arrangement of Michael Jackson's timeless "Thriller" hit. Partygoers are welcome to take to the dance floor during the musical numbers.
