LDS Church Opens Feather River Temple for Tours

By Seti Long

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Area members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS) have been patiently awaiting the completion of one of their faith's most sacred buildings since plans for it were announced by Church President Russell M. Nelson in 2018. On Tuesday, August 15th, members of the media, local and state dignitaries were invited to join

Church Officials and volunteers for an open house and exclusive first tours of the Feather River Temple. The Feather River Temple sits on a 9-acre site originally sold to the church by Mehar Tumber, a devout Sikh man. Years prior, the church had difficulties in finding suitable grounds to build a Stake Center chapel and although Tumber's peach acreage was not up for sale, he agreed to allow the sale. His daughter Raji told the Church her father felt it was "a blessing to have a religious organization...as an anchor to our property." Those grounds are now gorgeously landscaped with local flora and fauna, preserved oaks, and transplanted trees, including 100-year-old olive trees brought in from Corning and planted at the four corners surrounding the 38,000 sq. ft. holy LDS temple. Caltrans Honors Fallen Highway Workers with Signs at Rest Areas

Caltrans News Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - Caltrans District 3 (Marysville/Sacramento) announced on August 16, 2023, that it will install memorial signs in roadside rest areas along the California state highway system to honor its 14 workers who died in the line of duty and to encourage travelers to drive responsibly. The memorial signs were designed, manufactured, and will be installed by Caltrans workers to recognize the 191 highway workers who have been killed on the job statewide since 1921. Every year, Caltrans employees, family members of fallen workers, and community members throughout California gather to honor these workers and to promote safe driving campaigns.

"Safety is Caltrans' top priority," said Caltrans Director Tony Tavares. "Lives are literally at stake every day. We hold a sacred duty to remember all the people who have lost their lives working with us, and I implore all Californians to please slow down and move over in every work zone, every time. A life may depend on it." Since 1923, District 3 has lost 14 employees who were performing their normal duties on the job. "We will never forget our fallen employees who worked diligently to ensure our roadways were safe for the traveling public," said District 3 Director

Marysville Police Encourages Safe Driving During Final Days of Summer

Marysville PD News Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - As the summer travel season wraps up, the Marysville Police Department reminds drivers to stay safe and be responsible by never driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. The community's well-being is our top priority, so we're asking that if you know you'll be out drinking to have a game plan for how to get home safely. There is never a good excuse for driving after drinking or using drugs that impair. The Marysville Police Department asks residents to take the necessary precautions to protect yourself and your family by buckling up, avoiding distractions behind the wheel, following the speed limit, and not driving impaired. To help keep our community safe, the Marysville Police Department will have additional officers on patrol Aug. 16 through Labor Day (Sept. 4) looking for drivers suspected of driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. The additional efforts to prevent impaired driving are part of a national enforcement campaign, Driver Sober or Get Pulled Over. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 13,384 people were killed in drunk-driving crashes in 2021 — that's one person every 39 minutes. While drunk driving is a significant traffic safety problem, driving while impaired is not just from alcohol. Prescription drugs, over-the-counter medications and cannabis products may also impair. If you plan on drinking or taking medications with a driving warning label, let someone who is sober drive. If you see someone driving impaired, call 9-1-1. Share your thoughts about impaired driving by participating in the Go Safe Movement, a call-to-action traffic safety survey from the California Office of Traffic Safety. Take the survey at gosafel-yca.org. Funding for this program is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. ★

A Year of Tribulations Honoring Fallen Highway Workers

2022 Crop Report Documents Drought Devastation

Harvest in 2021 placed rice as the top commodity in Colusa County, but drought and water allocations resulted in a 80% plunge in value just one year later.

COLUSA COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Colusa County’s agriculture was once on a trajectory to reach $1 billion annually, but the impact of multiple years of drought and other unprecedented weather conditions last year plunged agricultural production values 47.7%.

The gross value of Colusa County’s agriculture in 2022 was $433 million, down from $828 million in 2021, Agricultural Commissioner Anastacia Allen reported to the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday.

“Crop production hit unprecedented lows,” noted Allen, who issued the 2022 Crop Report to California Agriculture Secretary Karen Ross on Aug. 1. “The drought conditions throughout California led to some of the lowest water allocations ever seen in Colusa County. The allotments of water were so low that many growers were forced to fallow fields, while others pulled orchards. The crop values presented in this report are a reflection of a year that will always be remembered as a year of tribulations.”

Allen said Colusa County’s agriculture industry faced a devastating crop year due to drought, freeze, and a late season heat that practically wiped out the county’s top three commodities. Agriculture production had already been in decline amid severe weather conditions the past few years and dropped more than $98 million the year before. Between 2013 and 2020, Colusa County steadily produced between $800 million and $932 million in gross agriculture values, the report shows.

Almonds once again overtook rice as the county’s top crop in 2022 but freeze reduced harvest 62%, grossing $82.6 million, down from $217.5 million in 2021, Allen said. About 55,000 acres of almonds were harvested, down from 67,000 acres the year before, with yield and value also down. The value of almonds dropped from $3,921 per ton in 2021 to $2,868 per ton in 2022.

Allen said water allocations took down rice, last year’s top crop, by 80 percent, with total values plunging from $271 million in 2021 to $82.6 million, putting rice for the first time behind tomatoes.

Although rice values jumped from $482 per ton to $666, only 16,958 acres were harvested, down from 99,214 acres the year before.

Walnuts, historically Colusa County’s third leading crop, were hit by extreme heat in September, affecting walnut quality, which dropped their value by 49 percent, Allen reported. About 22,000 acres of English walnuts were harvested, down from 26,749 acres the year prior, with price per ton dropping from $1,660 per ton to $816.

The gross value of walnuts dropped from $80.3 million in 2021 to $40.9 million in 2022.

Tomatoes, which has historically claimed fourth place in the top ten commodities in Colusa County, jumped above rice and walnuts by increasing in both yield per acre and value. Processing tomatoes were harvested on 12,400 acres, down from $13,200 in 2021, but production increased from 653,400 tons to 669,000 tons, with prices coming in at $106 per ton, up from $81 in 2021.

The total value of tomatoes jumped from $52.9 million to $71 million, the crop report states.

Miscellaneous fruit and nut crops held steady at fifth place with values at $25 million in 2022 and 2021.

Although not hit as hard as the county’s leading crops, drought had an impact on nearly all other agriculture commodities as well. Almond pollination, at $23.8 million, dropped from $24.9 in 2021, but retained its position as the seventh leading crop. Miscellaneous fruit and vegetable crops also dropped in 2022, from $24 million to $23 million. Cattle & Calves, in eighth place, dropped from $22.7 million to $21.6 million.

Alfalfa, at $14 million, displaced certified rice seed in ninth place, after rice seed values plunged from $21.8 million in 2021 to $12.4 million. Alfalfa hay was harvested on 7,439 acres, down from 7,774 in 2021, but values increased from $237.90 per ton to $345.

Although they are not leading crops, Colusa County did see slight increases in wine grapes and prunes, due to increased values per ton.

That the agriculture industry can flip from an upward trajectory in value to complete devastation - due to extreme weather - serves as a reminder of how important it is for Colusa County farmers to complete the annual crop survey, officials said.

Allen said she appreciated all the growers, individuals, and industry stakeholders who assisted the county by providing the data necessary to compile the report, which is mandated by the state.

Colusa County’s 2012 crop report can be viewed online at countyof-colusa.org. ★

Amarjeet S. Benipal. “The tremendous sacrifices by these public servants remind us of the enormous loss to their family, friends and Caltrans.”

District 3’s last on-the-job fatality occurred in 2010 after Chico Maintenance Leadworker Gary Smith, 57, was struck and killed by a motorist while performing traffic control for a detour around an earlier fatal crash. The driver of the vehicle that struck Smith later pleaded guilty to gross vehicular manslaughter while intoxicated and sentenced to prison.

Three years earlier, 35-year-old Highway Maintenance worker Matthew White was struck and killed by a vehicle exiting at the Interstate 5 Southbound Elk Grove Boulevard off-ramp during the morning hours. White was a second-generation Caltrans employee.

On Monday, Caltrans crews installed the first District 3 memorial signs at the west- and eastbound Interstate 80 Gold Run rest areas. The signs also will go up at the I-80 Donner Summit and Interstate 5 Elkhorn, Dunnigan, Maxwell and Willow rest areas.

District 3 maintains more than 4,385 lanes miles of state highway in 11 Sacramento Valley and Northern Sierra counties. From 2013 to 2022, 1,424 people lost their lives on the region’s state highways stretching from Butte County to Sacramento County and from Colusa County to El Dorado County. Of that number, 39 deaths resulted from 38 vehicle crashes in active construction zones.

With the passage of the federal Infrastructure Investment and Jobs of 2021 as well as Senate Bill 1, the Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017, Caltrans and local agencies now have significant additional funds to repair and maintain California’s transportation system. The additional funding has increased the number of Caltrans employees and contractors working on the state highway system, highlighting the importance for drivers to stay vigilant and aware.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, highway construction and maintenance work is one of the most hazardous occupations in the United States. In 2021, more than 9,500 work zone collisions occurred on California highways, resulting in an estimated 2,971 injuries and 73 fatalities. Nationally, drivers and passengers account for 85 percent of people who are killed in work zones.

In 2022, Caltrans announced a new Director’s Policy on Road Safety, which commits the department to the Safe System approach and reaffirms the vision of reaching zero fatalities and serious injuries on state highways by 2050. This policy takes steps to further a shift that began in 2020, as state transportation leaders recognized a bolder and more focused approach was necessary to combat the troubling rise in fatalities and serious injuries on California roads. The state’s 2020-24 Strategic Highway Safety Plan – managed by Caltrans and involving more than 400 stakeholders – was updated to include the Safe System approach.

Caltrans has partnered with the California Transportation Foundation to develop two funds to benefit the families of Caltrans workers killed on the job. The Fallen Workers Assistance and Memorial Fund helps with the initial needs a surviving family faces and the Caltrans Fallen Workers Memorial Scholarship is available to the children of these workers. The Knot Between Heaven and Earth said that before its construction, teams performed a precedent study to understand the area and get a feel for it, which then translated into the temple’s overall design, including its landscaping, architecture, and décor aesthetic.

At the entrance to the temple, guests are met with the inscriptions, “Holiness to the Lord” and “House of the Lord,” carved in stone and written in gold above the great doors to the building. Elder Mark Bragg, president of the North American West Area for the LDS Church said that the words were “both a declaration as to what it (temple) is but also a reminder that all things within the house of the Lord point us to him.”

During the press conference, Elder Bragg said that the church likes to think of its temples as “an intersection between life here and eternity.” He continued, “I’ve heard it described sometimes as the knot that ties Heaven and Earth together. That’s what we hope you will feel.”

Upon entering the building, one observes a quiet calm and peace about the space. An image of Jesus Christ welcomes those into the reception area which is beautifully adorned with colorful custom artwork and textiles, representing native plants and landscapes, such as the California poppy and golden rolling hills adorned with oaks. The colors orange, gold, blue, and white permeate the décor, both on the lower and upper floors. Intricate stained-glass windows throughout the temple reflect almond blossoms seen in our area during spring, and rich gold leaf and mahogany add warmth to the serene interiors.

Guests are ushered through the lower floors that serve as office spaces for the temple presidency and their wives, other functional spaces such as laundry areas, and the main feature, the baptistry.

A large baptismal font rests on the back of 12 life-sized oxen, representing the 12 Tribes of Israel. The upper floor of the temple features instruction rooms, the elegant Celestial Room, and Sealing Room where sacred ceremonies are conducted, including marriages. A moment is provided in the Celestial Room for guests to sit and contemplate surrounded by light, glistening chandeliers, and large mirrors that reflect each other, giving the impression of visitors images continuing into eternity.

The building is indeed exquisite and a testament to the belief that it is truly the house of God on earth. Senator and church member Rosilicie Ochoa Bogh said that “the temple is a physical representation of our faith, but it is here as a testament to the strength of our commitment to the teachings of Jesus Christ.” After taking a tour, Chairman of the Sutter County Board of Supervisors, Karm Bains said it “is a world class structure that will welcome thousands of visitors to our community.”

The temple will predominantly serve members from the Yuba-Sutter area, Gridley, Biggs, Chico, Oroville, Redding, Ukiah and Placer County. It is one of 12 temples in California, the first to be constructed since the Sacramento Temple opened in 2006.

During all the excitement of the Feather River Temple’s grand opening, committees and crews of hundreds of local volunteers worked to promote and welcome the public to share the temple experience – and not just members of the LDS church.

Area Manager of Communications for the LDS Church Kim Farah described the work of the volunteers and members of the public who made the open house possible. “This community overall, is extraordinary. This community loves each other. The interfaith and nonprofit groups work together,” she said, to make events like the temple grand opening and tours possible.

Exclusive tours were held until the temple opened to the general public on Saturday, August 19th. The open house tours will continue until Saturday, September 9th, 2023, with the exception of Sundays, August 20th, 27th, and September 3rd. Tours run from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. The temple will be formally dedicated Sunday, October 8th, wherein it will only be accessible to members of the church. ★

A Retirement Letter Parody

Many of us old folks will recall the infamous retirement letter. These letters were embellished summations of our careers secretly written by us and presented to our employers for publication prior to heading out of the door into the fixed income world of retirement. Such letters were often a source of ridicule by the younger employees until their careers were closing at which time the desire to toot one’s own horn became important.

Maurice M. Mukitup Memorial Medical Center is a 102-bed, full service hospital located in Gophersboro, Tennessee. The hospital is named for the famous Appalachian mountain man, Maurice Milford Mukitup.

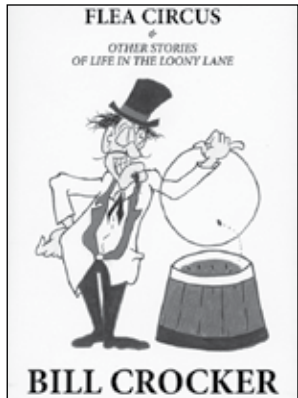

The following announcement appeared in the March 2022 issue of Maurice M. Mukitup Memorial Medical Center’s quarterly bulletin, The MukMed Missive.

Benny Balhoon, MukMed’s food service director, will retire on April 13 after thirty-two years of a memorable food service career.

Benny overcame a relatively unhappy childhood in Turtlesbutt, Tennessee. His parents abandoned him as a child, and he was raised by a family of coyotes. This unfortunate period accounts for his shifty eyes, barking, barring his teeth when agitated, and his short stature.

He was found and re-

Stories from The Great Zelito Flea Circus by Bill Crocker A collection of humorous essays about the funny side of life significant reduction in the prison’s population due to untimely deaths during Benny’s tenure. The cause was never determined.

His first civilian job was as a cook at St. Brendan’s Academy for the Socially Inept. He took pride in the fact no student deaths were attributed to his cooking.

Over the years, Benny continued to create unique and tasty delights at MukMed. Granny’s chuck roasts were most popular. Fortunately, hospital patients were unaware of the source of this succulent entrée. His oyster stew was very popular. It was made with Tennessee tendernads, a variety of mountain oyster.

Benny’s employment with MukMed was very rewarding. He advanced from cook to food service director in just three years. The speedy advancement was due less to talent and more to reducing the number of complaints involving his culinary experimentation. This move was further hastened by his particularly nasty experiment involving bacteria as a cheap source of protein for developing countries. The colostomy bag strapped to Benny’s waist was quite convincing.

In retirement, Benny and his wife, Maud, intend to return to the Turtlesbutt area and pursue their passion for dog breeding. Their stud, Shorty, a Doberman pinscher-dachshund mix, holds promise of a new breed that is tough and built low to the ground.★

Gavin Newsom Channels Jerry Brown With Constitutional Amendment Proposal

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

When Proposition 13, California’s iconic property tax limit measure, went before voters in June 1978, the state’s governor, Jerry Brown, denounced it. “It’s a ripoff,” Brown declared. “It’s a long-term tax increase.”

Two months later, after voters overwhelmingly endorsed the measure, Brown did a 180-degree pirouette, declaring himself a “born-again tax cutter.”

“No new taxes,” Brown promised. “Voters have told us they want a tax cut. They don’t want a shell game.”

Facing re-election to a second term later that year, Brown sponsored a state tax cut to obey, he said, the popular mandate.

Two months after winning re-election, Brown delivered his inaugural address and proposed an amendment to the U.S. Constitution requiring the federal government’s budget to be balanced.

“A constitutional convention to propose an amendment to balance the budget is unprecedented, but so is the political paralysis that prevents necessary action,” Brown said, blaming deficit spending for a sharp increase in inflation “as destructive to our social well-being as an invading army.”

Thereupon, Brown

beseeked the state Legislature to pass a resolution supporting his call for a constitutional convention, touching off a circus-like round of legislative hearings.

It was carefully orchestrated political theater, clearly aimed at carving out a platform for Brown’s second run at the presidency in 1980 by portraying incumbent President Jimmy Carter as a spendthrift out of touch with popular support for austerity and tax cuts.

Brown garnered much media attention for his newly minted cause but his 1980 presidential run was a disaster, winning exactly one delegate to the Democratic convention. Carter later lost the presidency to Brown’s predecessor as governor, Ronald Reagan.

This bit of political history is offered because it seems to be repeating itself 45 years later.

Gov. Gavin Newsom, who is obviously trying to raise his national political profile for whatever reason, is now embracing his own amendment to the U.S. Constitution, adding gun control provisions emulating those in California.

It would raise the legal age for gun ownership to 21, require universal background checks, impose minimum waiting periods and institute an assault weapons ban.

“We want to go on the offense and be for something and build a movement that’s bottom up, not top down,” he told Politico in advance of his announcement in June.

More recently, as a resolution was drafted in the Legislature to support Newsom’s crusade, he castigated the U.S. Supreme Court’s gun control decisions, much as Brown had pinned inflation on Carter 45 years earlier.

“This Supreme Court is that bad,” Newsom said. “The Bruen decision was that bad. When I say code red, this is code red. California’s led the nation on common sense gun safety laws.

“And we have the receipts,” Newsom added. “The efficacy of those laws is demonstrable. The data bears out – California’s gun death rates significantly declined since California’s leadership in this space.”

The cause-and-effect relationship Newsom poses is questionable, because there are many other factors affecting violent crime. Moreover, the state’s gun control laws are not as bulletproof as he implies.

California’s assault rifle ban is something of a joke. The targeted firearms are readily available in gun stores after undergoing a few cosmetic alterations that do nothing about their lethality. While law-abiding gun owners must go through paper hoops to buy new firearms, there’s a vigorous illicit market that allows the feloniously inclined to buy all the guns they want.

Like Brown’s effort, Newsom’s gun crusade is just a political stunt designed to garner him more national media attention. He has zero chance of getting his gun control amendment introduced, much less adopted, and he knows it.

Dan Walters has been a journalist for more than 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

The Fed’s Hesitation

With the market’s recent rally, and inflation backing off, some investors may be thinking the worst of the current financial crisis is over.

Potential buyers of stocks might argue we have seen the inflation highs of the period, and that prices will soon return to normal, that the Federal Reserve (Feds) will back off their interest rate increase crusade and that the swallows will once again return to San Juan Capistrano in masse.

Pun intended of course on that last one.

Readers of this column will know that, in my opinion, inflation will not subside, may even go higher and that the Feds will be forced to keep interest rates higher for longer to address it. Higher interest rates are the perceived medicine to squash inflation.

In the Fed’s July 26th, 2023 meeting press release they stated: “The Committee will continue to assess additional information and its implications for monetary policy”.

In a nutshell, the Feds have indicated they have no set path and will adopt a wait and see policy as it pertains to inflation and the interest rate increases to address it.

Many investors might not be old enough to know the historical events that may be guiding Fed Chief Jerome Powell’s decision to keep interest rates elevated and continue to maintain a restrictive monetary environment.

The historical event I am eluding to is known as “Volcker’s Mistake”, and refers to Fed Chief Paul Volcker during the late 1970’s.

Volcker took over the Federal Reserve Bank as head honcho in 1979, and immediately set about the task of ending the worst inflation the U.S. had seen since the end of World War II.

Volcker raised interest rates quickly and by a lot.

As expected, the economy was subsequently hit by recession in January of 1980 which fostered massive employee layoffs and a spiraling economy.

Under intense pressure to take his foot off the brakes and provide relief to the suffering economy, Volcker quickly cut rates by seven percentage points. Although massive by today’s standards, but not so back then, a seven percent reduction in the interest rate was still considered a drastic move.

The recession did begin to subside by July of that same year but inflation stayed stubbornly high. In fact, it accelerated even faster.

As a result, the Feds credibility as inflation fighters was severely damaged. Volcker then backpedaled and had to raises rates once again which fostered a repeat of the earlier recession that was worse than the first one and lasted until 1983.

Had Volcker ignored the 1980 recession and stood his ground on interest rates, he might have avoided the inflation that roared back and the more severe recession that followed. A monetary blunder by any measure.

Fast forward to today and Fed Chief Powell is well aware of the mess Volcker made of things by acting too quickly and dropping rates too soon which spawned additional inflation and a reoccurring recession that amplified an already bad situation.

Powell does not want to make the same mistake Volcker did. He does not want to go down in the history books for the same thing nor put the economy through anything worse than what is already upon us.

For this reason, Jim Rickards of the Daily Reckoning in his July 31st, 2023 musing concluded: “The Fed is not done and more rate hikes are coming”.

Rickards ought to know. He is an investment banker with over 30 years’ experience working in capital markets, advises the Department of Defense on global finance, serves as a facilitator studying financial war games for the Pentagon and was the principal negotiator in the 1998 bailout of LTCM by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

I hold the opinion Rickards knows of what he speaks and agree with his conclusions that we may be far from being out of the woods as it pertains to inflation and future interest rate increases by the Fed.

Test of Time

By Kathy Craig

Nearly 30 years ago I was an aspiring writer. Doug Lory was an aspiring actor.

Ken Hendricks was an aspiring filmmaker.

Call it what you will. I prefer to call it a God thing that brought us all together.

I wanted to write, Doug wanted act and Ken wanted to make movies.

Ken was a native North Dakotan so he wanted his movie to highlight our state’s wonder and beauty.

A group of New York actors and North Dakota actors were assembled to make ‘Dakota SunRise’. A fledgling writer signed on s the film’s public relations agent.

North Dakota’s own Native American flutist and traditional storyteller Keith Bear brought to the production the Native culture for which Ken was looking.

While the movie ended up on a shelf somewhere, the bonds of friendship it created was its real success.

Doug, Keith and I became family. It’s a family bond that has lasted these many years.

This past week, Doug returned to North Dakota to perform a his one-man show ‘Merton and Me a Living Trilogy’.

The production was wonderful.

Doug brought with him his wife Alex and stepson Tom so that he could introduce to them the people and the place he fell in love with so many years ago.

In turn we fell in love with them.

I am so very proud of the spiritual man Doug has become.

I knew a 25-year-old boy who didn’t know how to shape a cowboy hat or ride a horse.

A young man wearing the now shaped hat returned to us. A writer, actor and NYC tour guide returned to us .

Keith shared powwow with the family. This New York City family were in awe of the event and of the magic that is Keith.

By the end of our visit we were assured that although the movie didn’t make us famous it did launch our future careers. Most importantly it gave to us each other. It was meant to give us the gift of each other for a lifetime. We are thankful.

Life is good today. ★

The Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Sometimes we forget to be “neighborly” One of our “Neighbors” died in a car wreck last week. You never know what might happen, so one must be aware that any day may be our last. Use friendly words with neighbors, a wave even to a stranger is good, smile at those you meet at a store. Respect the rights of all around you, be fair in your “dealings”.Most of all be kind to each other. Let’s all help to make our communities a great place to live.

On Sept. 3, Sunday of Labor Day weekend, Yuba Feather Next Step is holding a Vendor Fair at Ponderosa Park. Money raised will go towards the Mountain Transit project, keeping our van on the road. If you want a table for “flea” market stuff, please call Chris Seelye -530 675-9576. The Vendor Fair will open at 10:00 and go until it closes (?). They hope to have a bouncee house, lunch will be served and there will be Bloody Marys at the bar. Hope to see you there.

End of Summer Bash is being planned for Sept. 16 at the medical center park. Tawyna is pulling things together to have a full day of fun. There will be a breakfast at the fire house, followed by music in the circle at the center and many other activities. Please put this date on your calendar and join us for a day of fun.

Look Back in Time – In 1910 traction engines were hauling lumber from the hardwood mill in Woodleaf to Oroville. They wanted to have a million feet hauled before snow flew (today it is hard to imagine snow, it is HOT).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon. ~ Yvonne ★ to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner

The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, fornia Civil Code. The law requires that information about auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil tion. If you are an "eligible bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after

Recycling Business Owner Held to Answer for Murder

Butte County DA News Release

BUTTE COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On July 25, 2023, a Butte County judge found sufficient evidence during a preliminary hearing to hold an Oroville man to answer for the stabbing murder of an alleged romantic rival last November.

In addition to the murder charge, Daniel Shamblin, 40, was also held to answer on additional charges of resisting arrest while also being a felon in possession of firearms and ammunition.

Butte County District Attorney Mike Ramsey said the evidence produced at the hearing showed the murder victim, Christopher McHugh, 50, had driven with two friends to Shamblin's recycling business on 5th Avenue in Oroville during the early morning hours of November 22, 2022, to purchase drugs from Shamblin.

While at the business, Shamblin came out and confronted McHugh about an alleged affair with Shamblin's girlfriend. The confrontation turned physical as Shamblin began striking McHugh with his fists while McHugh was still in the driver's seat of his vehicle. Shamblin then stabbed McHugh in the left side of his torso. McHugh then sped away from the business with his two passengers and headed toward Oroville Hospital.

However, shortly before the hospital, McHugh lost consciousness with his foot still on the accelerator. The friends struggled to bring the vehicle to a stop, which they did near the middle of Oro Dam Boulevard and Gilmore Lane. They removed McHugh from the car to get his foot off the gas pedal but could not get him back into the car. They left McHugh in the roadway and drove the car to the hospital emergency room where they alerted staff that McHugh was in the road and needed medical attention. McHugh was found by ambulance staff and was transported a short distance to the emergency room. Despite life-saving efforts, McHugh died shortly after arriving at the hospital.

Oroville Police Department detectives obtained an arrest warrant for Shamblin and enlisted the aid of Butte County Sheriff's detectives, who spotted Shamblin's girlfriend, Kayla Spoon, 27, driving in the Bangor area on the night of December 1, 2022. The detectives realized Shamblin was in the car and attempted to stop it. However, Spoon refused to stop and rammed the detectives' vehicle.

After a pursuit, Spoon crashed her vehicle and Shamblin began to exit the vehicle. When sheriff's detectives attempted to detain Shamblin, he fought with detectives for several minutes. During the fight, Shamblin was able to grab a knife from his pocket while also continuously attempting to reach into his jacket pockets where two concealed pistols were later found. He was eventually brought under control without injuries to the detectives.

Ramsey said Shamblin's prior convictions were for felony theft and drug offenses. Shamblin was also out on bail at the time of his recent arrest for drug and weapons offenses connected to his 5th Avenue shop from February 2022.

Shamblin remains in custody in the Butte County jail on a no-bail hold. His next appearance in Butte County Superior Court will be on August 31, 2023, for setting of his jury trial. ★

BYLT Protects 128-Acre Wildflower Ridge Preserve Forever

Bear Yuba Land Trust News Release

GRASS VALLEY, CA (MPG) - Bear Yuba Land Trust (BYLT) is thrilled to announce the permanent protection of Wildflower Ridge Preserve, a 128-acre property located at Rough & Ready Highway and Ridge Road in Grass Valley.

Long at risk for subdivision and development, BYLT has purchased the property with support from Sierra Nevada Conservancy and through the generosity of a dedicated conservation donor. This acquisition of open space and important wildlife habitat joins BYLT's 25,000+ acres of land permanently protected in the Bear and Yuba River watersheds.

Gather with BYLT Board and staff, friends, and neighbors for a toast to the land and a Preserve-inspired reading by Nevada County Poet Laureate Kirsten Casey on Thursday, September 14, 2023 from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm. The celebration will be held free of charge at Wildflower Ridge Preserve on 13167 Ridge Road, Grass Valley.

Explore Wildflower Ridge Preserve's two public trails, Wildflower Ridge Trail and Rough & Ready Ditch Trail, and experience diverse habitats in the beautiful wildflower meadows, unique lava cap areas, heritage black oak groves, and conifer forests. With easy access from local schools, BYLT is delighted to protect and enhance a place for youth to explore nature.

Protection of this land also creates the opportunity for BYLT to collaborate with the Nevada City Rancheria Nisenan in the establishment of a cultural conservation easement that grants permanent land rights and access to the Tribe. BYLT intends to work closely with the Tribe and other community partners on further enhancements of the land and trails for the benefit of the community.

Now protected forever, Wildflower Ridge Preserve will continue to be a destination for local residents and visitors to connect with the benefits of nature. With its protection, BYLT has the opportunity to expand trails and outdoor recreation, including developing outdoor living classrooms ★

Adventist Health and Rideout Receives Geriatric Emergency Department Accreditation

Adventist Health and Rideout News Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - Adventist Health and Rideout has achieved Geriatric Emergency Department Accreditation (GEDA) from the American College of Emergency Physicians. That means the hospital's emergency services have been recognized for providing the necessary expertise, equipment and staff to deliver excellent care to older members of the community.

As an accredited geriatric emergency department, Adventist Health and Rideout's protocol-driven approach to treating geriatric patients allows it to provide quality, customized care. The GEDA accreditation means that the Adventist Health and Rideout team works together to ensure:

It provides standardized approaches to care that address common geriatric issues

It ensures optimal transitions of care from the emergency department to other settings (inpatient units, home, rehabilitation centers, etc.)

It works together to achieve geriatric-focused quality improvements

"Adventist Health and Rideout is on a pathway to excellence, one that starts with a commitment to providing the highest quality care for the community we are privileged to serve," said Chris Champlin, Adventist Health and Rideout President.

"This recognition is a testament to our dedication to this community, especially its most vulnerable members. I am immensely proud of our doctors, nurses and ancillary professors for earning this prestigious honor."

Research shows that older adults visit the emergency department at high rates and often arrive with multiple chronic conditions.

Seniors who visit hospitals accredited by the American College of Emergency Physicians can know that they have enhanced staffing, education and geriatric-focused policies and protocols to provide appropriate care and to help get older patients back into their daily lives after an emergency occurs.

Indians Shutout Wolves, Hosted Natomas in Week Two

by Steven Bryla

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - The Marysville Indians started their season off in the right way on Friday, August 18 as they held the Woodland Wolves from scoring in a 44-0 victory at War Memorial Stadium in Marysville.

Marysville controlled the game from start to finish as Woodland's offense was non-existent due to the constant hounding and great defensive reads by the Indians defense. The Wolves competed the game with only 27 yards of total offense.

Marysville head coach Will Claggett told the Dispatch defensively his team played good overall as the front seven played hard and the back end of the defense had good coverage throughout the night.

Whenever you saw Woodland snap the ball, Indians senior running back and defensive end Zion Smith-Brown would be in the mix of the action on making the stop. Claggett added that the game defensively was good overall.

The Marysville offense looks different this year with a ton of new faces in the backfield as the Indians are going to use a lot more players than they did in Claggett's first year last season.

In the game against Woodland, seven different Indians carried the ball en route to 240 rushing yards on the night. The leading ball carrier for Marysville was junior running back Dennis Syders.

Syders put the Indians up 14-0 in the first quarter as he had a 13 and a nine-yard touchdown rush to start the big victory. Syders expressed that he and his teammates are happy with how the hard work paid off with the teams starting to get ready for the season back in January.

Marysville junior running back Dennis Syders (4) rushes the ball in the Indians' 44-0 victory over Woodland on Friday, August 18.

Marysville senior quarterback Jace Erickson (3) runs on the open field during the Indians' 44-0 shutout over Woodland on Friday, August 18.

Syders ended the game with three rushing touchdowns along with 11 Carries for 82 yards. On the defensive side of the ball, Syders contributed three tackles. The Indians took a 14-0 lead into the half. The Marysville defense was alert and didn't lift an inch to Woodland as they controlled the Wolves all night long. The special team's unit for the Indians played superb as Smith-Brown caused a safety in the third quarter.

Claggett told the Dispatch that the special teams was one of the best ways for guys to get out on the field and play.

Smith-Brown led Marysville in tackles on the night with five. The Indians had 12 different people make at least one tackle throughout the game and that showed the depth of Claggett, everyone on the defensive side of the ball getting involved. In addition to Smith-Brown, senior defensive tackle Gerald Prescott had five tackles and senior linebacker Bradford Pietz had four tackles.

Prescott and Pietz also blew past the Woodland offense to snag two tackles for loss each.

Other standouts for the Indians offensively included junior running back Vincent Vega who had 54 rushing yards on nine attempts, which included a five-yard touchdown rush in the third quarter to extend the Marysville lead 23-0.

The final two touchdowns of the game were scored in the fourth quarter by junior running back Jackson Love, who is another speed guy that if you allow to get to the corner, he is gone and you can forget about it as he scored on rushes for 29 and 48 yards.

Love finished the night with 106 yards on the ground with four carries.

The Indians had a short week as their next game was this past Thursday, August 24 as they hosted Natomas. Claggett told the Dispatch he expected a tough game as they were also a playoff team last season.

Claggett added the key for Marysville to be successful against Natomas was to get a good week of practice and take care of their bodies. ★

Huskies Ease Past Senators in Season Opener

Story and photos

SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The Sutter Huskies football team easily took care of the Carson Senators in the opening week of the 2023 season with a 54-7 victory on Saturday, August 19.

Sutter has a well balanced offense that allows them to keep opposing teams on their toes instead of the ground and pound attack they have been the last few years.

Huskies head coach Ryan Reynolds told the Dispatch that he knew coming into the season that this was the first season since 2017 where Sutter would be able to throw the ball more on a consistent basis.

Huskies senior quarterback Jagger Beck said during the pre-season and postgame of the Carson game they have more weapons now that is going to be better for their offense as a whole and allow the running game to open up.

Beck utilized seven different receivers on the night as he went 17/19 passing, threw four touchdowns, rushed for one, along with 264 yards in the air.

Two of Beck's main targets on the night were senior wide receiver Jordan Lee and junior wide receiver/running back Dominic Souza. Lee had a couple of deep ball receptions in the first quarter that led to Sutter scores.

Lee ended the night with five receptions for 105 yards receiving and a touchdown reception.

Sutter had a 28-7 lead at the half as the only points Carson scored during the game were off a kick return for a touchdown in the second quarter.

Souza had 154 total yards with three touchdowns as he rushed for 71 and had 83 receiving yards from Beck. Souza gave credit to his line for blocking on the night that allowed him to get into the open field.

"If I didnt have the good

Sutter junior running back Dominic Souza (9) follows his blockers in n the Huskies' 54-7 win over Carson in Sutter on Saturday, August 19.

Sutter senior running back Killian Brucie (20) eyes the open field in the Huskies' 54-7 victory over Carson on Saturday, August 19.

blocking, theres no where to run the ball and I wouldn't have that vision without them," Souza said. The Huskies produced 535 yards of offense against the Senators in the opening week and included seven different ball carriers on the night as well.

The leading rusher for Sutter against Carson was junior running back Killian Brucie as he had 78 yards on the ground and senior running back Tristan Watkins had a rushing touchdown as well.

As much as there is to talk about the offense, the defense for the Huskies made the statement early it was going to be a grind and they brought it to the Senators.

In the preseason, Reynolds told the Dispatch the secondary was a question mark going into the season because of how young they were with starting two sophomores, one junior and a senior. The secondary showed up against the Senators and made their presence known as they had four total interceptions and combined for over 10 tackles.

The two sophomore safeties in Justice White and Max Bringgold brought the confidence and humbleness that they are years ahead of their time and picked the brains of the older players on defense. Junior defensive back Corey Underwood had one of the interceptions on the night along with the tackle. Senior defensive back Rylan Giovannoni had three tackles in the win.

Bringgold and White left blue streaks of the Sutter uniform all over the Carson white jerseys last Saturday as they were consistently driving the Senators to the ground and in the mix on most of the plays throughout the night. Bringgold could have been a receiver for Carson as he had three interceptions on the night with 63 return yards from them.

White expressed to the Dispatch that he is aware of what the Huskies defense has a reputation of being aggressive and top notch. He told the Dispatch that they will continue to grind and hit people hard.

Additionally on the defensive end, senior defensive linemen Eric St. Onge and Tristan Leal both led Sutter with nine tackles each during the game and St. Onge had six tackles for loss and Leal forced a Carson fumble.

The Huskies play at Chico tonight with kickoff at 7 p.m. Reynolds said the key to victory is going to be stopping their senior running back Dion Coleman. Reynolds added if they can contain him during the game, they will have a good opportunity at a victory. ★

It's a Guideline, Not a Rule

Dear Dave,

Is there any flexibility in your rule about not spending more than 25% of your take-home pay on rent or monthly mortgage payments? I live downtown in Washington, D.C., and I'm finding it's pretty hard to do here. I make about $90,000 a year, but I'm spending a little over $2,000 a month in rent. Rent is my largest expense by far, and I don't spend a lot of other money, so I'm still able to save a little and do other things. Can you give me your opinion about this approach?

– Tanner

Dear Tanner,

True, I advise people to spend no more than 25% of their take-home pay on housing. Math still works in every city and state in the country. You don't get a pass on math just because you live in Washington, D.C., even though Congress and a lot of other people there think you do.

But there's really nothing magical about 25%. The purpose behind it is, I don't want you to be house poor. If you find yourself still able to save and invest because you keep other financial aspects of your lifestyle so low, then you're okay. The problem with most people starts when they've got a high cost of housing, and those payments put a real squeeze on their budgets. It doesn't leave them enough room to save up to buy the next car, so that car becomes debt. The same thing happens with Christmas and vacations and everything else. They don't have enough extra money to save for things because a huge chunk of their income is flying out the door every month wrapped up in rent or a house payment.

Now, you're telling me your situation works for you because you've made room in your budget and live a very frugal lifestyle by choice. That's cool. I'm not mad at you about that. But here's the thing: Whatever you spend on rent disappears. And the more money you burn, the less you've got on hand for other things.

I'm not exactly sure how you adjust that in your situation. Maybe you move outside the city and commute, or perhaps you add a roommate into the equation. Or, maybe you're fine with how things are and that's the way you want to live. That's okay too. But my reasoning behind the 25% figure—which is actually more of a guideline than a rule—is so you don't become house poor. I want you to be able to save, invest and give generously. Plus, I want you to own your own home one day.

And you won't be able to do that if everything you make is going toward big payments!

– Dave

Delayed Planting For Processing Tomatoes Leads To Harvest Backlog

As California growers harvest this season's processing tomato crop, there is concern that canneries could struggle to keep up with a backlog of fruit deliveries. Heavy rains left tomato fields wet and muddy through spring, disrupting planting of processing tomato transplants, which continued through May. With much of the crop now being harvested at once, growers are worried about risks to fruit that can't be processed right away. Bruce Rominger of the California Tomato Growers Association said some growers may be encouraged to harvest early when tomatoes are a little green.

Klamath Farmers Hope To Finish Harvest Before Water Supplies Run Out

Farmers relying on water supplies from the federal Klamath Water Project say they are trying to finish harvest before their water supply is cut off in the coming weeks. Scott Seus of Tulelake-based Seus Farms, which grows horseradish, onions, mint and grain, said the growers face water shortages again this season, despite a plentiful water year. That's because the Klamath Water Users Association had expected a water delivery of 285,000 acre-feet this year. Instead, irrigators got an initial allocation of 215,000. Still, that is vastly improved over last year's 50,000 acre-feet supply

Napa Valley Winegrape Grower Testifies Before House Panel On Wildfire Dangers

As the 2017 Tubbs Fire was bearing down on his vineyards, sixth-generation Napa Valley winegrape grower Johnnie White battled the blaze with the St. Helena Fire Department. White testified last week before the House Committee on Natural Resources about the consequences of the fires on rural communities, urging proactive steps including increasing removal of wildfire fuels. He told lawmakers that "our industry continues to witness damage and destruction to our livestock, commodities, farms, ranches, wineries, farm homes, employee housing and equipment."
