Saving Power and Paying More

High-stakes battle brewing over California power bills

Charging you more because you earn more? What's next, higher prices on food, water and the air you breathe? Photo courtesy of Pixabay

By Lynn La. Calmatters.org

California utility companies are working on a controversial pricing structure that would bill households a different fixed charge depending on their income — but the idea is catching heat from Republicans who argue it will hurt low-income families.

As you may have already noticed on your own bill, monthly electric bills come with a few fixed fees that are added on top of the charges proportional to your usage rate. These charges go toward operating costs for the state's electric grid, including maintenance.

Earlier in April, three companies — Pacific Gas & Electric, Southern California Edison and San Diego Gas & Electric — submitted a proposal to the California Public Utilities Commission that includes an income-based pricing system for these fixed charges, as called for in a 2022 state law. According to KTLA 5, the monthly charge would vary between the companies, and range from: Households making less than $69,000 a year: $20 to $34; Households making $69,000 to $180,000 a year: $51 to $73; Households making more than $180,000 a year: $85 to $128.

The companies say the rate of kilowatt-hour usage will also lower for all customers, but low-income households will benefit the most. PG&E and Southern California Edison estimate its lowest-income customers would, on average, save as much as a 21% on their bill.

But Republican legislators are skeptical that a plan from “a government sanctioned monopoly” will save customers money. On Friday, the Senate Republican caucus fired off a letter to the utilities commission arguing that the pricing proposal would “unfairly burden” low-income residents:

Senate GOP leader Brian Jones of El Cajon and other Republican senators, in the letter: “The goal of trying to stabilize the grid and lower electricity rates is something we support; however, the tactic of implementing a structured fixed-charge system that diminishes individual responsibility and usage in favor of an ‘identity’ subsidization is not, in our opinion, an answer. More fees are not a solution to already ridiculously high utility bills.”

The rising cost of natural gas has caused utility bills to surge, frustrating Californians across all economic levels. But lower-income residents end up paying a disproportionate share of utility expenses.

In the meantime, the first round of comments for the proposal will be due by June 2 and the Public Utilities Commission will be expected to make a final decision on the pricing structure by July 2024. ★

Yuba River

News Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG)

- After completing interviews of potential scholarship recipients, the Yuba River Endowment board unanimously approved increasing this year's scholarship fund from $50,000 helping 20 students, to $71,500 helping 32 students.

The Endowment's scholarship application was launched in late 2022. To be eligible to apply, the applicant's primary residence needed to be in Yuba County, or the applicant needed to be a senior at a Yuba County high school; and the applicant must be planning to attend, or continue at, a trade school, junior college, or college in the fall of 2023.

100 students applied by the scholarship's January 31st deadline. As a reward, every student who applied was given a $10 Dutch Brothers gift card. In late March, 32 of the applicants were interviewed by a panel of Endowment board members.

“Taking part in the interview process was a phenomenal experience,” said Yuba River Endowment board member, Kelly McNally. “Whether they were heading to trade school or college, they were all very focused and driven. It was so inspiring to hear their goals and their passion to come back and better Yuba County.”

The 32 scholarship winners include 21 high school seniors going on to higher education; two students attending trade school to be linemen; two students continuing at community colleges; and seven students continuing at four-year colleges. Of the high school seniors, two are from the Marysville Charter Academy for the Arts, three from Wheatland High, seven from Lindhurst High and nine from Marysville High.

The 32 awards were distributed as twenty $2500 scholarships, seven $2000 scholarships, and five $1500 scholarships. Endowment representatives plan to attend the scholarship recognition events at each of the Yuba County high schools prior to graduation. As students receive and submit their fall registration confirmations, the funds will be distributed directly to them. All students who meet the eligibility criteria

Cold River Flows Require Caution During Spring Snowmelt

PG&E News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - With the near-record California snowfall, water flows will be significantly higher in rivers and streams as the spring snowmelt accelerates. Outdoor recreationists should remain aware and cautious of as higher flows mean dangerously cold, swiftly moving water.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) urges those who venture near or into water to take extra precautions, especially around hydroelectric facilities and dams, where flow conditions can change rapidly. As trout-fishing seasons generally opening in April, anglers are especially encouraged to take precautions.

“The abundant snowfall is good for California but will result in much higher flows and potential flooding when warmer weather arrives,” said Jan Nimick, PG&E vice president of Power Generation. “We encourage everyone recreating in or near water to be situationally aware and have a plan to quickly and safely escape in case of changing water flows and cold temperatures.”

Most California rivers are fed by snowmelt, making them cold even in summer. Simple actions can save lives, such as recognizing if the water is too cold or swift, knowing your limits, wearing a life jacket or simply by not entering the water when conditions seem unsafe.

Below are some water safety tips:

Know the Risks

Prevention is the best way to save a person from drowning. By the time a person is struggling in the water, a rescue is extremely unlikely and places the rescuer at risk; Sudden immersion in cold water can stimulate the “gasp reflex,” causing an involuntary inhalation of air or water. It can even trigger cardiac arrest, temporary paralysis, hypothermia and drowning. When faced with swift water, even the strongest swimmers can be easily overwhelmed; Cold water entering the ear canal can cause vertigo and disorientation. This can confuse swimmers, potentially causing them to venture deeper into the water;

Cold water also reduces body heat 25 to 30 times faster than air does at the same temperature and causes impairment that can be fatal.

Learn About Self-Rescue Techniques

If you do fall into the water, here are some survival tips:

Don’t panic. Try to control your breathing; don’t gasp. A sudden, unexpected fall into cold water causes an involuntary gasp (or torso) reflex. It takes less than one-half cup of water in a person’s lungs to drown. If you remain calm, you have a greater chance of self-rescue;

If you have a boat, stay with it. It will help you stay afloat and will be seen more easily by rescuers. If it’s capsized and a portion of the craft is above water, try to climb on top;

Stay afloat with the help of a life jacket, regain control of your breathing and keep your head above water in view of rescuers;

If possible, remove heavy shoes. Look for ways to increase buoyancy such as by holding onto seat cushions or an ice chest;

If you’re in the water with others, huddle together facing each other to help everyone stay afloat and keep warm;

If you do fall into a river without a life jacket, keep your feet pointed downstream and turn onto your back;

If you fall into the water with waders on, roll onto the shore. Wear a belt with waders.

Know Your Limits

Swimming in open water is more difficult than in a swimming pool. People tire more quickly and can get into trouble;

Many unseen obstacles can be lurking below the water’s surface. This is especially the case during spring and early summer snowmelt. Rising water can make these obstacles even more treacherous. Guided trips for inexperienced paddlers are recommended.

Wear a Coast Guard-Approved Life Jacket

Conditions change quickly in open water and even the best swimmers can misjudge the water and their skills when boating or swimming.

Adult Supervision

Actively supervise children in and around open bodies of water, giving them your undivided attention. Do not assume that someone is watching them. Appoint a designated “water watcher,” taking turns with other adults. Use the buddy system and never swim alone. ★

By Kit and Janet Burton

SMARTSVILLE, CA (MPG) - Smartsville's Pioneer Day is an annual festival, on the last Saturday of every April, honoring the gold rush pioneers and settlers that made this town unique. It is also our way to thank the many dedicated and generous citizens that are helping to restore the historic former Catholic church in Smartsville.

This year at Pioneer Day our historic church will have a more complete interior and, at last, will start to look like the beautiful building we have been working so hard to reveal. Visitors can begin to see real restoration progress.

A festival for the entire family, Pioneer Day features live music on stage, tours of the historic mining area, historic re-enactment, delicious food from a variety of vendors, and activities for children. Many of our visitors return each year and this 14th event looks to be every bit as good.

Here are some of the incredible arts and crafts we expect to see this year: N. R. Vogt Art Studio & Gallery is returning with his bright, period-oriented paintings, prints, and greeting cards. Nick is also our featured judge for the children's art contest, held annually.

From Rough and Ready Jewelers, we'll have silver and bronze jewelry, earrings, rings and pendants with stones. JT's Gems and Jewelry have hand-made cabochon stones, jewelry and hand sewn heating pillows. California Charm Girl brings women's clothing, including tie dye and accessories.

Debbiee Designs makes wind chimes and mosaic birdhouses. Tutu Girl offers fun tutus, cool ties, crocheted animals and other crocheted items. Liladaira Farms makes soap, candles, lip balm, bath bombs, and horse shoe art. Mitoma Products will bring metal signs, kids' necklaces and earrings.

A demonstration by blacksmith Doug Ward shows you how he makes various items on his forge. Last year he made a small spoon to a little girl. When she lost it, her parents returned after the event all the way from Marysville back to Smartsville, but couldn't find it. Luckily, another blacksmith was still in town, so Ben Crott, Certified Farrier, made her another little spoon!

Inflation Continues to Take Bite Out of Organic Fresh Produce Sales

Organic Produce Network
News Release

MONTEREY, CA (MPG) - Ongoing inflation continued to impact organic fresh produce sales in the first quarter of 2023 as overall dollar sales grew by slightly less than 1 percent, and volume declined by 3.4 percent from the same per year-over-year period, according to the Q1 2023 Organic Produce Performance Report released by Organic Produce Network (OPN) and Category Partners.

Overall, the total produce department gained 2.6 percent in dollars for Q1 2023 compared to the same period in 2022 and declined by 1.3 percent in volume. Sales of organic fresh produce totaled nearly $2.4 billion for the first quarter of 2023, while overall volume topped 703 million pounds. Conventional produce dollars rose higher than organic dollars by about 2 percent and declined in volume by a smaller degree than organic. The average price gap between conventional and organic is now the largest it has been in the last four years.

The Q1 2023 Organic Produce Performance Report uses Nielsen IQ syndicated data to track and report the performance of organic fresh produce—and specifically the 20 leading organic categories. The report suggests that the rising prices may cause consumers to be more selective in their organic shopping.

"In an inflationary period, we see this standard of growth for dollars and decline for volume repeated for most organic and conventional items. When we look at pricing, conventional produce average price per pound grew by 4.3 percent compared to the first quarter of 2022, while organic produce average price per pound rose by 4 percent," said Tom Barnes, CEO of Category Partners. "With rising prices, we may be seeing more selective organic shopping from consumers as they substitute conventional items for higher-priced organic items."

Organic tomatoes were the most noticeable example of substitution as their price per pound increased by almost three times the amount of conventional, resulting in a volume decline of 8 percent. Most other categories with large differentials in price increase (compared to conventional) did not see large drops in organic volume.

Organic grapes had an incredible quarter with a 37.3 percent increase in volume and a 40.2 percent increase in dollars. The first quarter is deep into the import season for grapes. Imported organic grapes are closing in on entering the top 20 organic categories in Q1 with $22 million in sales for the quarter this year, which places them in the 22nd spot by dollars. A 40 percent increase in dollars and a 37 percent increase in volume means that import grapes are a category to keep an eye on as we continue to track organic produce sales each quarter.

Prepackaged salads and the berry category (strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, and blackberries) led the quarter as the top organic produce categories in dollars, accounting for nearly 40 percent of all sales.

Current trends show both conventional and organic produce volume shrinking year over year. At the same time, while volume for conventional produce is below 2020 and organics are on par with 2020, both are consistently gaining in dollars. For the first quarter of 2023, half of the leading 20 organic categories posted increases in dollars. Organic onions generated the largest percent increase in dollars at 10 percent, followed by bell peppers, lettuce, and herbs. Inversely, avocados posted the largest decline in dollars, while apples also posted noticeable declines.

In the first quarter of this year, 15 of the leading 20 categories posted declines in volume, with only seven of those 15 categories displaying positive year-over-year dollar growth. Organic apples posted the largest year-over-year decline in volume (by total pounds) of the leading categories, followed by bananas and carrots.

Despite the flat dollar growth and minor decline in volume across the country, OPN Co-founder and CEO Matt Seeley is bullish on the long-term prospects for growth of organic fresh produce. "Inflation and supply chain challenges have impacted pricing in the short term; however, organic fresh produce will remain an important component of weekly food shopping as consumers look for healthy, safe, and nutritious products for their families," he said.

The Q1 2023 Organic Produce Performance Report covers total food sales in the US, including all outlets (i.e., supermarkets, mass merchandisers, club stores, dollar stores, convenience stores, and military commissaries) over the months of January, February, and March of this year. The full Q1 2023 Organic Produce Performance Report is available on the Organic Produce Network website. ★

It's Just The Right Thing To Do

Dear Dave,

I'm about to start paying off debt in Baby Step 2, but there's a motorcycle loan my ex-girlfriend took out for me. I crashed the motorcycle and sustained some injuries. After two months of litigation, I received a settlement of about $15,000 that was just enough to cover the loan. Do I use the settlement money toward my debt snowball, or should I pay her back so I can get her out of my life for good?

— Arnold

Dear Arnold,

Pay her back. Anything else would be unfair. And, on top of that, it's just the right thing to do.

The whole move of her taking out a loan to buy you a motorcycle was kind of a dumb anyway. It was dumb on her part, and it was dumb on your part. And you can see why it was now, can't you? It has left you in a lurch emotionally and relationally. We're not talking about a random chunk of cash here. This money was for the motorcycle, from the motorcycle and about the motorcycle. So, you just pay her back, and that'll clear things up. I'm sorry the relationship didn't work out, brother. But I'm glad you're taking steps to be in control of your finances. And I hope making things right where the bike is concerned will bring you a little peace of mind.

The Navy
An Alien Subculture

I have always been fascinated by the possibility of the existence of alien civilizations in far off galaxies, but I'm sure I won't witness a visit in my lifetime. However, I may have been exposed to an alien civilization right here on earth: the US Navy.

There are several aspects of naval life that are unusual, such as uniforms, badges, shoulder and lapel emblems, medals, and headgear that signal certain behaviors such as salutes, polite verbal addresses, and physical deference. However, even stranger still is the naval language.

Although there is no proof of this, I would expect the eighteenth century sailor had two ways in which to learn this language. The choices were to either sign up for Strange Naval Lingo 101 at a local educational facility or get drunk in a San Francisco waterfront tavern and be shanghaied (asked to join the fleet) aboard a ship in the harbor. The latter method, though not preferred by the shanghaiee, nevertheless happened more often than not. The unfortunate drunk, never having been aboard a ship in his life, learned the language quickly with the help of the boatswain of the ship (ship's mob boss) and his cat o' nine tails (a handy maritime attitude adjuster).

It was quite easy to tell the officers from the sailors cafeteria). Officers slept in cabins in the stern (the back of the ship) separated from the sailors by a contingent of armed marines. The rats slept in and around the morning's pot of gruel.

As the centuries passed, uniforms and shipboard living conditions improved to the point at which they were no longer a source of comedy. Although the language changed, it did not necessarily improve. The old language was simply replaced by an equally strange new language. Try translating the following typical instruction from the captain to the officer in charge on the bridge of a modern aircraft carrier as he heads off to his sea cabin for a nip of the sauce and a mid afternoon snooze.

"OOD, small boys are at 322 and 038/1000. Keep Pri-Fly informed of station changes. CAG is on the bubble."

The translation is: Officer of the Deck, the two destroyers serving as our security screen are positioned at 322 degrees and 38 degrees relative to our ship's bow and 1,000 yards in front. Keep primary flight control informed of any changes in this ship arrangement. The carrier air group commander is in the next aircraft to be launched.

So, with a twenty-seven year naval career behind me, I consider myself to be bilingual, and I am available as a translator. You may contact me at: cdr.willy@scuttlebutt.net. ★

High Living Costs Solidify California's Two-tier Economy

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Why California is what it is – a state with an immense economy but equally immense socioeconomic divisions – is the topic of perpetual academic, media and political debates.

There is one factor, both a cause and an effect, that cannot be debated: California is an enormously expensive place in which to live and work. And if anything, the relatively high inflation that has plagued the national economy in recent years has exacerbated the angst that Californians were already feeling as they struggled to make ends meet.

Gov. Gavin Newsom's crusade against gasoline refiners, accusing them of price-gouging, exploits that angst by virtue signaling to his constituents that he's sympathetic to pain in their wallets. However, the state's high fuel prices are just a tiny fragment of the state's high cost of living and its corrosive effects.

How high? Insure.com, a website that analyzes insurance costs, recently updated its comprehensive, state-by-state guide to living costs of all kinds, and revealed that it costs 46.8% more to live in California than the national average – the third highest behind Hawaii's 85.5% and 54% in the

Its high cost of living is the single most important reason why California, despite its world class economy, has the nation's highest rate of functional poverty, as measured by the U.S. Census Bureau. Its supplemental poverty index is weighted for the cost of living and California's high costs, especially for housing, drive the state's ranking.

Moreover, when the near-poor are added, well over a quarter of Californians are suffering from serious economic stress, according to the Public Policy Institute of California.

High living costs, again particularly for housing, are also a major factor in California's outflow of population to other states and thus its recent loss of population.

"Since 2015, California has experienced net losses of over 500,000 adults who cite housing as the primary reason, according to the Current Population Survey," PPIC fellows Hans Johnson and Eric McGhee noted in a recent report. "About half of those who leave the state buy a house in their new state, whereas only one-third of those moving to California buy a house."

California is several million housing units – the exact number is often debated – short of what it needs to house its people, even despite recent population drops. Despite much ballyhooed efforts at the state level to increase production, the gap between supply and demand remains largely unchanged, thus putting upward pressure on rents and home prices.

According to the World

Population Review, California's average rent, $1,586 a month, is the third highest in the nation, topped only by Hawaii and the District of Columbia, and also third highest behind those two markets in median home price at $538,500.

High home prices make ownership an impossible dream for millions of California families, thus explaining why the state has the nation's second lowest level of families living in homes that they or their families own, 54.6%. New York is the lowest at 53.6%, thanks to New York City's rental-dominated housing market.

A new study by Moneywise, a website devoted to consumer finance, reveals that first-time home buyers in California would have to cough up the nation's second highest average down payment, $98,904, topped only by Hawaii's $110,360.

California's extremely high housing hurdles not only explain why so many residents are fleeing to other states, but why it's so difficult for working-class families to build generational wealth via home ownership. It solidifies the state's two-tier economy – white and Asian Californian majorities in its over-class and Black and Latino Californians dominating the underclass.

Political pontificating about gas prices really misses the point.

The Pavlov Fed

In an article out April 15, 2023, Yahoo Finance concludes that despite the brief 2023 rallies we have seen in the markets, the average retail investor is down 27% on average since November 2021.

<https://finance.yahoo.com/news/retail-investors-are-sitting-on-heavy-losses-despite-a-2023-stock-rally-134826847.html>

Hopefully your portfolio didn't lose that much but them are the numbers.

Investors looking for a "V" type recovery like we saw after the 38% Dow trouncing in March of 2020 have been burned repeatedly by believing the bear market rallies we saw all through 2022 and even into the start 2023 were the real deal.

Instead, each 2022/2023 rally fell apart shortly after it started and the market continually plummeted to lower lows.

Most analysts agree that inflation and the Federal Reserves (FED) attempt to stop it is the cause of the continued market erosion.

Embarking on an historic series of interest rate increases, the FED has to dampen demand to cool inflation.

In my opinion, this market crash is very different than all those that preceded it in the last 40 years.

Since the 1980's, every market crash has had the same response from the FED. They lower interest rates, print up a ton of money, and spray it everywhere. Well, everywhere but to you that is.

Most of the newly created money is done under the guise of helping the average Joe and saving him from a crashing economy.

However, outside of the $600 refund sent out to you during the 2009/2010 banking implosion, most of the money the FED gave out previously went exclusively to financial institutions.

The thinking was that the average citizen could roll over and the economy would survive. However if the banking system went kaput, the whole system would collapse.

Probably correct in this assumption, that our economy has arrived at the point where the financial piping is so fragile as to be susceptible to complete collapse is a problem of the FEDS own making.

Too big to fail comes to mind, while you are too small not to.

Since 1980, analysts have always warned that if the FED kept throwing money around to bail out failed intuitions, inflation would rise up and smash any recovery brought about by the money raining down from FED heaven.

Since 1980, every market crash has been followed by a firehose of FED cash. After multiple market crashes were put out by the FED cash firehose yet inflation did not rear its ugly head, the FED, and their handlers, Washington, came to think printing up oodles of cash did not result in inflation, so repeated the process whenever markets crashed.

Market crashes were addressed from then on with the same remedy. More cash into the system. (Not your system mind you). But you knew that.

The FED thought they had found the Holy Grail, the sweet spot of markets, the magic blue pill, which fixed all crashes.

Print up trillions and toss it at the banks and whoever else was big enough to be a member of the "Too Big to Fail" club.

Like Pavlov's dog, every time the crash bell rang, they fired up the presses.

Fast forward to CoVid and the FED slightly altered the recipe however.

This time around, the cash went to the banking system, true, But now they thought they could turn the cash hoses on every man, woman and grown child in America.

After all, this CoVid thing had shut down the world's businesses entirely. This was not a slowdown, but a shut down. Down went commerce and their owners and customers as well.

This time around, the printing presses ran over time, and instead of a $600 check, many individuals got thousands, hundreds of thousands, and even businesses and conglomerates held out their hand for billions more.

This time around the amounts given out dwarfed all previous amounts far and away of what is imaginable.

And finally, true to decades of analyst's warnings, inflation did take hold. Failing to recognize it early on, they kept the money spigots open, until such a time when the inflationary fires were raging hot.

Having finally put two and two together, the FED realizes the blue pill won't work. In fact, turning on the cash hoses now would only make things worse.

The FEDS cannot print away this crash. The inflation chickens have finally found their way home. The medicine is truly the cause of the illness. No more free cash. The printing presses must remain idle.

That is the reason this market correction has been so prolonged, and in this analysts opinion, will continue. And where it stops, nobody knows.

Storms Create Challenges for Small Farmers and Farmers Markets

Storms that battered farms across California took an especially harsh toll on small organic farmers who rely on farmers markets to sell their produce. Across the Sacramento Valley, organic farmers have reported harvest and planting delays, which will be felt for months. The flood impacts come after a challenging winter, in which crop losses and production gaps resulted in slim vegetable selections at farmers markets. Meanwhile, the unusually wet weather may test organic farmers, who are wary of pests and diseases this year.

Imperial Valley Farmers Await Federal Actions on Colorado River Supplies

The federal government is considering two options to prevent the Colorado River from running dry. Both plans announced last week would require water users in the river's Lower Basin to dramatically cut their use. The April 11 announcement of the two plans by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation came after the seven states that draw water from the river failed over several months to form a consensus on how to cut their water use. The outcome could significantly affect farming in California's Imperial Valley.

Farmers in Shasta, Scott River Regions Still Face State Water Restrictions

Farmers along the Scott River and Shasta River watersheds in Siskiyou County have faced curtailments of water supplies since 2021. After storms dramatically increased snowpack and reservoir levels this year, a March 23 executive order by the governor temporarily suspended drought curtailment orders for some watersheds. But farmers in the Shasta and Scott watersheds respectively will remain under drought-emergency restrictions until at least April 30 and May 2, state officials say.

New California Program Pays Ranchers for Livestock Losses, Impacts from Wolves

A new state program is compensating ranchers for livestock losses due to wolf depredation. California has allocated $3 million for the pilot program. The first two parts were implemented last year to begin compensating farmers for livestock losses and deterrence. By early April this year, 32 applications had been processed and approved, with a total compensation request of nearly $440,000. Of the 32 applications, 11 were for direct livestock losses and 21 were for wolf deterrence methods. ★

The Brownsville Bailinick & Beyond

Is spring really on its way? We just had more freezing weather a couple of week ago. It is too early to plant tomatoes unless you plan on covering them. I have found that they really don't grow much until hot weather is here. However, we are looking forward to Farmer's Market opening so we can get some fresh produce. Looks like opening day is May 12, open from 4-7 pm. There are many cool weather plants, though: chard, radishes, peas and more. We are looking forward to getting some at Farmer's Market.

A reminder: Cinco de Mayo dinner at the community center is May 6 at the community center. Mexican themed dinner with raffles make a good opportunity to help Yuba Feather Community Services pay for some repairs to the building. Because it is the first Saturday of the month, too, there will be a monthly Event at Books and More: vendors welcome and a hot lunch available.

The plan is to begin our Mountain Transit Van in May. So far we have had very few inquiries. We hope the routes will cover all of our local Yuba Feather areas: Clipper Mills to Dobbins and include Rackerby and Forbestown. If you or someone you know can use a ride to Stone Soup on Thursdays, please call Penny Helton 675-9145 or Books & More 675-3275.

Look Back in Time – In 1914 Rackerby Rural Telephone Company had seven subscribers and the plan is to put in the line in a few weeks (I wonder if they were private numbers or shared lines).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon. ~ Yvonne ★

Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust has deposited all documents evidencing the obligations secured by the Deed of Trust and has declared all sums secured thereby immediately due and payable, and has caused a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be executed. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the County where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (916)939-0772 or visit this internet website http://search.nationwideposting.com/propertySearch-Terms.aspx, using the file number assigned to this case CA2300288218 Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction if conducted after January 1, 2021, pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (916)939-0772, or visit this internet website http://search.nationwideposting.com/propertySearch-Terms.aspx, using the file number assigned to this case CA2300288218 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
YUBA COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Yuba County Board of Supervisors will conduct a public hearing on Tuesday May 9, 2023 at 9:00 a.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter will be heard, in the Board of Supervisors Chambers located at 915 8th Street, Marysville, California, in order to discuss the submittal of an application in response to the January 8, 2021 State Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Mitigation funding for the Resilient Planning and Public Services Program through a Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA), and to solicit citizen input.

The major activity categories for funding under this NOFA can be used for a variety of activities to increase mitigation and resilience; including Planning and Capacity Building and Public Services. Eligible activities considered under this program include the creation or updating of current plans for better alignment with mitigation principles or, in some cases, examining hazards and establishing actions to increase resilience and preparedness. Entities may also use the funding to increase public services through establishing educational campaigns or local job training initiatives to ensure disaster preparedness is a vital component of community resilience efforts going forward.

Projects funded with CDBG Mitigation allocations must benefit the area designated by the U.S Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), as most impacted and distressed (MID) areas within the disaster declared impacted counties under federally declared disasters DR-4344 and DR-4353. Planning activities do not have to meet a National Objective. Public Services projects must meet one of two National Objectives, either benefit low-to moderate-income (LMI) individuals or meet an unmet need mitigation.

The Community Development and Services Agency, on behalf of the County of Yuba, intends to submit an application(s) to the State of California, Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) to request the jurisdictions funding allocation, up to the maximum amount of not more than $250,000.00, under the CDBG-MIT NOFA or the following Planning Study:

- Mitigation Planning - Foothill Audible Alarm System Planning $250,000.00

The purpose of the mitigation planning study is to identify locations that have existing power and are at an elevation / position so that neighboring communities can hear the alarms across the Sierra terrain. Determine which locations, in combination, would be the best sites for the initial phase of an eventual comprehensive audible alarm network System.

The purpose of the public hearing is to give citizens an opportunity to make their comments known of the proposed activities/application. If you require special accommodations to participate in the public hearing, please contact Karma Ferguson at (530) 749-5452.

Written comments are invited and should be received no later than the date of the public hearing. Written comments may be sent to the attention of Karma Ferguson, Administrative Analyst of Yuba County Community Development and Services Agency, 915 8th Street, Suite 123, Marysville, CA 95901.

In addition, information is available for review at the address below. You may call or visit the Community Development and Services Agency between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday-Friday or at the address below:

If you are unable to attend the public hearing, you may direct written comments to:
Community Development and Services Agency
915 8th Street, Suite 123
Marysville, CA 95901
(530) 749-5430

All members of the community are encouraged to attend and comment on the plan uses and purposes, especially low-income residents who benefit from the CDBG program. The County of Yuba promotes fair housing and employment opportunities and makes all its programs available to low and moderate income families regardless of age, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual preferences, marital status or disabilities.

If adopted by the Board of Supervisors, following an opportunity for public comment and participation, the will be submitted and on file at the State of California Department of Housing and Community Development. (TD) April 28, 2023

IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder’s office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-916-939-0772 or visit this internet website: http://www.nationwidepost-

ing.com address for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case 6942966. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website http://www.nationwideposting.com. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 1-916-939-0772, or visit this internet website http://www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 6942966 to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee’s sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee’s sale. If you think you may qualify as an “eligible tenant buyer” or “eligible bidder,” you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The undersigned mortgagee, beneficiary or authorized agent for the mortgagee or beneficiary declares that the mortgagee or beneficiary has satisfied the requirements of California Civil Code 2923.5. # Huskies' Big Inning Pushes Past Lady Pirates in Sweep

by Steven Bryla

SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The Sutter Huskies' softball team continued their dominance over the Sac-Joaquin competition as they finished off the Pioneer Valley League series sweep over the Wheatland Pirates in a 5-3 win on Friday, April 21.

The win last Friday extended their winning streak to four games after they had their lone loss in a tournament down in Santa Maria, California April 13-15 to Huntington Beach, who was ranked fourth in CA, according to the latest CalHi sports rankings on April 17.

Prior to the loss, Sutter had 38 consecutive victories dating back to last season with their only loss to Elk Grove, who plays in the competitive Division I Delta League.

Sutter head coach Stefanie Danna expressed to the Dispatch the game against Huntington Beach was a turning point in the season for her squad.

"They put pressure on us, we had to make plays all seven innings," Danna said. She added that she was happy with playing close games in tournaments and throughout the year instead of having one for the first time during the playoffs.

The Huskies and Wheatland played an extra inning thriller on April 19, where Sutter had an explosion of eight runs in the eighth including junior outfielder Rylee Gillespie hit two of her three home runs on the afternoon.

The Huskies combined for 30 hits over the series against the Lady Pirates, including 11 last Friday. Danna exclaimed to the Dispatch that her roster from player 1-13 can carry them and has shown it throughout the season as they average 17 hits per contest throughout their first 19 games.

"We can rely on different parts of our lineup in different situations to come through," Danna said.

Wheatland took an early 1-0 lead in the second inning on April 21, when sophomore pitcher Chasidy Sills hit a run-batted-in (RBI) single to right field. Sills went two-for-two at the plate in the game and picked up the loss on the day as she pitched 2.2 innings and gave up five runs along with nine hits.

Sutter (18-1, 8-0 PVL) scored all five runs in the bottom of the third with two outs as they had five total hits in the inning. Gillespie hit a frozen rope down the left field line for a double to clear the bases loaded and advanced to third on an error fielding the ball.

"I had the intensity of knowing they were trying to throw me off because we all know each other, but I stuck to my pitch selection and drove in the runs," Gillespie said. Gillespie went one-for-three and 3 RBI's.

Huskies junior pitching ace Olivia Bauer was in the zone for Sutter as she expressed to the Dispatch postgame.

"I was a lot more confident in myself with my pitches and not second guessing myself," Bauer told the Dispatch.

Bauer surrendered three runs off of 10 hits and posted nine strikeouts to an offense that averages 12 hits per game. She also went two-for-four from the plate as well.

The main word used around the program is "Grind," and that is what is ahead of them as we approach the last couple of weeks in the regular season.

Prior to the PVL matchup against Wheatland, Sutter was ranked first in the April 16 Sac-Hi sports softball poll.

On top of the rigorous schedule the Huskies have with their softball season, they also gave back to the community the following day as they hosted a softball clinic for the local youth and coaches.

Sutter hosted kindergarteners through seventh graders as they were able to learn skills and share the field with the Huskies and coaches. Danna told the Dispatch it's important to give back to the community because of the astronomical support they get from the area.

"Our community supports us a lot and it's important our girls understand how they carry themselves," Danna said.

She added the analogy of how game situations like a big hit or looking at a third strike are perceived by the younger generation and how their reactions can impact those thoughts.

On top of the illustrious championships Danna has won at Sutter in her eight seasons as head coach, she can add the first piece of hardware to the 2023 season as she was awarded the CIF Model Coach Award on Wednesday, April 19 in a media release by the California Interscholastic Federation.

Danna was the only recipient from the Sac-Joaquin Section and the release stated that the recipients of the MCA demonstrated and teach the six core ethical values, or "six pillars of character," that include respect, responsibility, fairness, trustworthiness, caring and good citizenship.

"It feels good to receive the award, I just want to see softball grow in positivity," Danna said. "It taught me so much as a player and I want to give it back to all the girls I coach." ★

Lady Honkers Drop Fifth Consecutive Game in Loss to Tigers

Story by Steven Bryla

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - The Yuba City Lady Honkers lost their fifth consecutive game on Tuesday, April 18 as they were beaten by the Inderkum Tigers 12-1 in a Capital Valley Conference matchup.

Inderkum was ranked 20th following the win over Yuba City in the Sac-Joaquin Section in the April 20 MaxPreps poll.

The Lady Honkers held their own for the first four innings before the Tigers put up crooked numbers in the final three innings.

Yuba City head coach Amy Olchefske expressed to the Dispatch that she was happy with the consistency of her team hitting the ball hard in play.

"I can look up and down our lineup and know they are taking good approaches and putting a good stamp on the ball," Olchefske said.

Inderkum got on the scoreboard in the third inning when sophomore second baseman Anyssa Luttig hit a run-batted-in (RBI) double to left field for the early lead.

Lady Honkers sophomore pitcher Tori Hernandez was dealing as she retired nine of her first 12 hitters of the game. Overall, Hernandez pitched 5.1 innings and gave up 10 hits, 10 runs and struck out three Tigers.

Inderkum held the Yuba City offense to five hits overall in the game, including the two captains of the Lady Honkers that made an impact at the plate.

Lady Honkers junior infielder Drew McDonald went two-for-three at the plate with a double and junior catcher Lexi Dell went one-for-three.

McDonald expressed to the Dispatch that they are still adjusting to the new regime under Olchefske as it takes time to get a new routine set in place.

Dell and McDonald exclaimed to the Dispatch that Olchefske has done a lot for the program in the first few months of taking it over.

The captains expressed that Olchefske has put up some new scoreboards, an outfield fence for the junior varsity level, and additional uniforms.

Yuba City (1-5, 0-4 CVC) freshman shortstop/pitcher Chloe Gonzales singled in the bottom of the fourth and beat the throw before the right fielder could throw her out.

The ball was overthrown and Gonzales advanced to second and that allowed McDonald to tie up the game at 1.

The Tigers took a three-run lead after they strung a few hits together as they were able to find the open holes in the Lady Honkers defense.

Gonzales came in relief in the sixth inning after Inderkum started to pull away from Yuba City as they committed a few errors defensively.

Although the Lady Honkers haven't won a game since the beginning of March, Olchefske told the Dispatch the girls are still coming in daily and giving their best effort.

Dell and McDonald added that they are doing team bonding with things such as team lunches.

"We have had a group chat throughout the year and that has helped us understand one another a lot more," McDonald said.

Yuba City got beat 5-1 by Woodcreek on Thursday, April 20. Hernandez pitched a complete game where she surrendered seven hits and struck out one.

The Lady Honkers were scheduled for a slew of games this week as they are in the process of making up games from the multiple rainout games due to the wet weather throughout March.

Yuba City was scheduled to have a double-header at Antelope on Tuesday, and home games Wednesday and Thursday against Woodcreek and crosstown rival, River Valley. ★
