A Right to Housing?

By Manuela Tobias,
CALMatters.org

The law says that every student is entitled to a free public education. What if it said the same about housing?

That's what Darrell Steinberg, the mayor of Sacramento, believes to be the key to addressing California's homelessness. He recently proposed an ordinance that would require the city to provide at least two housing or shelter options to people living on the streets.

If those options weren't available, the person could sue the city. But if the homeless individual turned down the available options, they would be compelled to come inside, albeit using social workers, not police.

In the latest episode of the California Housing Crisis Podcast, The Los Angeles Times' Liam Dillon and CalMatters' Manuela Tobias interview Steinberg on his proposal, and how it has evolved over the years.

"I want to put out what I believe, which is fundamentally, that the public policy of the society must be that people live indoors," he said. "Ninety to 95% of that is the government's obligation. The last five to 10% may fall on some individuals."

Aside from housing or shelter, two of the options that a person must be offered include spaces at "Safe Ground" sanctioned tent encampments, hotel rooms, tiny homes and trailers.

"People have a much better chance to get permanent housing if they're indoors rather than outdoors," Steinberg explained. "We can't get mental health treatment or substance abuse treatment for people living on the river."

But, like the rest of the state, Sacramento is far from able to provide at least a single shelter bed per person, much less an affordable housing unit. If approved by the City Council, Steinberg's plan would take effect starting in 2023, or later if the city makes substantial progress on housing options by fall 2022.

Liam and Manuela also discussed the results of a poll on homelessness in Los Angeles County conducted by the L.A. Business Council Institute and the L.A. Times.

The poll found 94% of voters

CHP Helps Prepare Senior Drivers for Years to Come

California Highway Patrol Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The California Highway Patrol (CHP) is determined to help drivers age 65 and older maintain their driving independence through the support of a yearlong federal grant, Keeping Everyone Safe (KEYS) XIII. The CHP will continue to offer this in-person and virtual traffic safety program emphasizing roadway safety and mobility for California's senior drivers.

The Age Well, Drive Smart class is an education program specifically designed to help seniors tune up their driving skills, refresh their knowledge of the rules of the road, and discuss normal age-related physical changes and how they affect driving ability. Since 2015, the CHP has conducted over 1,800 senior driver traffic safety presentations, reaching more than 100,000 people.

"The CHP is committed to helping seniors drive safer," said CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray. "This course is designed to assist the state's most experienced drivers in refreshing their driving skills and ultimately saving lives."

The CHP invites California's older drivers to attend a free two-hour Age Well, Drive Smart class that provides senior drivers the tools to driving safer and driving longer. The class is offered at local CHP Area offices as well as many community centers. It is a great way for seniors to educate themselves, evaluate their driving abilities, and improve their driving skills.

To attend a class, either in person or virtually, contact a CHP Area office near you for available dates and times.

Funding for this program was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

Yuba-Sutter Joins Well-Being Movement

Adventist Health
Press Release

YUBA-SUTTER, CA (MPG) - Adventist Health and Blue Zones LLC announced the launch of Blue Zones Project® to help residents in Yuba-Sutter live longer, better lives.

Blue Zones Project Yuba-Sutter joins the recently launched Blue Zones Project communities of Upper Napa Valley, Mendocino County, Tuolumne County and Lake County as Northern California areas where Adventist Health is launching this unique community-driven initiative to boost well-being, health and happiness in the communities it serves. The initiative is supported locally by Adventist Health and Rideout, which will work in close collaboration with other local stakeholders to promote healthy choices and lifestyles in the region.

“Community is essential to the Adventist Health mission, and Blue Zones Project offers a unique opportunity to support everyone in the Yuba-Sutter area by emphasizing greater health and well-being through the transformation of our built environment, policies and programs,” said Monica Arrowsmith, community well-being executive for Adventist Health and Rideout. “Our organization is passionate about introducing an initiative that will bring about lasting, permanent changes that will benefit future generations for many years to come.”

Based on research on the world’s longest-lived communities by National Geographic Fellow and best-selling author Dan Buettner, Blue Zones Project is the leading nationwide well-being improvement initiative. Blue Zones Project is a first-of-its-kind population health initiative that helps entire communities get healthier by optimizing public policy, social connections and the places and spaces where people spend the most time so that healthy choices are easy and accessible. Participating communities have seen double-digit drops in obesity and smoking rates, economic investment in downtown corridors, grant funding awards to support policies and programs aimed at improving health equity and measurable savings in healthcare costs.

Blue Zones Project and Adventist Health initiated the site assessment of Yuba-Sutter earlier this year, meeting with community leaders from across the counties to begin to understand readiness for and scope of a Blue Zones Project. The assessment covered areas that a Blue Zones Project engages, including the built environment, food and tobacco policy, worksites, schools, faith-based organizations and civic and nonprofit groups.

“With over 60 communities across the country, Blue Zones Project has shown it creates powerful and lasting well-being change in neighborhoods, cities, counties and regions,” said Ben Leedle, CEO of Blue Zones and co-founder of Blue Zones Project. “The need for proven well-being solutions has never been greater as communities continue to contend with the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, and we look forward to working together to empower everyone in the Yuba-Sutter community to lead healthier and happier lives.”

Blue Zones Project Yuba-Sutter will be led by Steve Kroeger as executive director of the initiative. In this role, Kroeger will oversee implementation of Blue Zones Project within the two counties with a goal of driving community engagement and overall improvement in the well-being of Yuba-Sutter residents. Kroeger has resided in the Yuba-Sutter community since 1994, and previously served the City of Yuba City for close to 20 years in the capacities of city manager, assistant city manager and administrative service director. Kroeger holds a master’s degree in public administration from the University of Southern California and a bachelor’s degree in finance from Santa Clara University.

“I came to the Yuba-Sutter area because this is where my wife was born and raised. We’ve been blessed to raise our family here, and I’ve grown to love the community and appreciate all that it has to offer. I am therefore honored to assist in leading this effort to improve our collective well-being,” said Kroeger. “The success of the initiative will be directly related to community engagement. Through collecting community feedback and evaluating related data, we will be able to identify areas to focus our efforts. The Blue Zones Project will provide us with the tools and methods needed to pinpoint these specific areas for improvement, and thereby enable us to reach higher levels of community well-being. It’s a very worthy effort.”

All residents of Yuba-Sutter are welcome and encouraged to take part in Blue Zones Project programs and offerings, by taking a well-being assessment.

Dick Marquette, 70,000 Miles in 40 Years

Dick Marquette
Submitted by Lelah Holmes

For 40 years Dick Marquette did his job the old way – walking his route through downtown Marysville with his mailbag slung from one shoulder.

He declined offers of a cart and wanted no part of a motor route. He wanted to walk and carry, and boy did he ever.

Five days a week for 41 years, Dick hoofed the same seven-mile route and delivered a daily average of 3,000 letters, plus 460 odd-shaped items and packages to 566 addresses.

The supervisors at the US Postal Service calculated that Marquette has walked about 70,000 miles (the equivalent of almost three times around the world) and packed 37 million pieces of mail weighing close to 700 tons. He wore out 20 mailbags in the process but still keeps the battered letter pouch he began with in 1954 as a souvenir.

At the age of 60 and still walking with long strides the lanky, white-haired postman delivered his last letter and retired, going into the Postal Service record book as the longest-serving pouch-hefting all-walking mail carrier in the country.

It was put into the inter-office e-mail system to see if anyone could challenge his record. No one could top him. All the others had gone to pushcarts or mail trucks.

So Marquette, who clung to the old ways, took the national cake.

Dick made the comment “I don’t feel any different than when I started, but I won’t be taking up hang-gliding.” as he neared the end of his last day.

Many missed him along the route where he was on a first-name basis with nearly everyone and was a walking historical directory of interesting facts about the town that 40 years ago ranked just behind Atlantic City for vice and corruption.

Dick has since then wrote many stories on the historical and Interesting things of downtown Marysville.

One of his hobbies was the historical preservation of downtown Marysville. It was he that discovered that the city did not, as everyone had assumed, own the long-forgotten Jewish section of the municipal cemetery. The deed belonged to a Jewish beneficial society that itself had lost track of and gratefully accepted it back.

He kept a route map when the downtown district was a booming international zone – where Anglo Americans and Japanese, Chinese, Basque, East Indian and African Americans toiled side-by-side – it was used by the Japanese American Citizens League to write a chronicle of Japanese families in Marysville.

Marquette kept a map to know which families lived where, who got the Japanese and Chinese newspapers, which had big dogs and that sort of thing.

His route back then was not only international but worldly, with more than 50 bars and 20 brothels packed into an area called “the Lower End.”

“Vice-ridden and money-making: is how Dick described the flavor of those times. “Most of the (professional) ladies had post office boxes, but I delivered mail to Anne Davis, the madam at the Davis Hotel, 220-1/2 First Street. Her customers called her Icewater Annie, because she didn’t have hot water to wash up with.” ★

California Gun Law Headed to Supreme Court?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

California has some of the nation’s tightest gun control laws and virtually no session of the Legislature ends without additional restrictions being enacted.

In polling and by their votes, Californians have heartily endorsed making gun purchases and ownership increasingly more difficult.

As California’s restrictive laws proliferated, however, the state’s current and would-be gun owners complained that notwithstanding their political popularity, the laws violate Californians’ constitutional right to bear arms, codified in the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Those complaints are now likely to reach the U.S. Supreme Court because of Tuesday’s decision by the 9th District Court of Appeals upholding two of the state’s most controversial gun control laws, banning the sale and possession of magazines holding more than 10 rounds of ammunition. One was enacted by the Legislature and the other in a ballot initiative (Proposition 63) sponsored by Gavin Newsom in 2016 when he was lieutenant governor.

A federal judge in San Diego, Roger Benitez, became a hero to gun owners when he struck down Proposition 63’s 10-round magazine limit two years ago, saying that it unconstitutionally interfered with using guns for self-protection. “The statute hits at the center of the Second Amendment and its burden is severe,” Benitez wrote.

Newsom had become governor when Benitez ruled and denounced the judge as a “wholly-owned subsidiary of the gun lobby and the National Rifle Association.”

A three-three judge panel of the 9th Circuit Court sided with Benitez but on Tuesday, the full 11-judge court, dividing along ideological lines, ratified the magazine laws. It declared that they “reasonably supported California’s effort to reduce the devastating damage wrought by mass shootings.

The majority opinion added that requiring owners of higher-capacity magazine to get rid of them is not an illegal government “taking” because “the government acquires nothing by virtue of the limitation on the capacity of magazines.”

The case sparked a welter of opinions from individual members of the court both endorsing the majority opinion and dissenting.

Three judges appointed by former President Donald Trump were sharply critical of the majority, saying, “these magazines are lawfully owned by millions of people nationwide” and warning that applying California’s law across America would “require confiscating half of all existing firearms magazines in this country.”

Newsom, of course, hailed the ruling that upheld his ballot measure, tweeting, “Weapons of war don’t belong on our streets. This is a huge victory for the health and safety of all Californians.”

California being what it is, the nation’s most populous state with some of the nation’s tightest gun laws, the eventual outcome of the magazine capacity case could have wide effects. Blue state prosecutors filed briefs supporting California’s position while those in Texas and other red states backed Benitez’s ruling.

The possibility of it becoming a landmark case was enhanced when lawyers for gun owners who challenged the state’s magazine limit immediately promised that they would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

If, as Tuesday’s decision indicated, judicial attitudes about gun control laws divide along ideological lines, California’s limit on magazine capacity could face rough treatment from the Supreme Court’s 6-3 conservative majority.

In recent decisions, the Supreme Court has become increasingly critical of restrictive gun laws and has a landmark case now pending, involving New York’s ban on carrying guns outside the home.

During arguments a few weeks ago, majority justices gave every indication they would overturn the law, criticizing it for interfering with citizens’ rights to self-defense. That’s essentially the same line of reasoning that Judge Benitez adopted in overturning California’s magazine limit.

Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

EU Leader Calls for Throwing Out Nuremberg Code in Favor of Forced Vaccinating All Dissenters – Comments come on the heels of Austria and Germany locking down the unvaccinated | 3 Dec 2021 | On Wednesday, Ursula von der Leyen – the president of the European Union (EU) Commission – told the press that she would like to see the long-standing Nuremberg Code ignored completely in favor of allowing countries to force vaccinate anyone who is refusing to take the experimental jab. Her alarming comments come just days after Germany followed Austria’s lead, mandating an authoritarian lockdown on only the unvaccinated. In addition to being in full support of the segregated lockdown, von der Leyen said it was “understandable and appropriate” for EU countries to discuss mandatory COVID vaccinations because of the new Omicron variant, which has already been detected in 12 countries in the EU. From The BBC: “European Union countries should consider mandatory vaccination to combat Covid and the Omicron variant, the head of its Commission has said.”

‘Tool to Enforce Orwellian Rules’: 80 House Republicans Help Pass Bill to Fund Federal Vaccination Database | 1 Dec 2021 | Eighty House Republicans voted with Democrats on Tuesday to pass the Immunization Infrastructure Modernization Act, which if passed by the Senate and signed into law would fund a federal vaccination database. According to the bill, also called H. R. 550, the government would provide $400 million in taxpayer dollars to fund “immunization system data modernization and expansion,” a system otherwise defined as “a confidential, population-based, computerized database that records immunization doses administered by any health care provider to persons within the geographic area covered by that database.” Rep. Mary Miller (R-IL), who was one of the 130 Republicans to vote “no,” told Breitbart News exclusively on Wednesday that the legislation would enable the federal government to “track” unvaccinated Americans who “will be targeted and forced to comply with Biden’s crazy ‘global vaccination’ vision.”

U.N. Taking Down Private Websites – Domain Level Censorship By Ice Age Farmer | Dec 2, 2021 | The U.N. This reflects a new level of internet censorship, but it is not just publishers who are in the crosshairs...it is all of us. Christian breaks it down in this Ice Age Farmer broadcast.

Dying COVID-19 Patient Recovers After Court Orders Hospital to Administer Ivermectin | 1 Dec 2021 | An elderly COVID-19 patient [Sun Ng, 71] has recovered after a court order allowed him to be treated with ivermectin, despite objections from the hospital in which he was staying, according to the family’s attorney. After an Illinois hospital insisted on administering expensive remdesivir to the patient and the treatment failed, his life was saved after a court ordered that an outside medical doctor be allowed to use the inexpensive ivermectin to treat him, over the hospital’s strenuous objections... The judge issued a preliminary injunction that day directing the hospital to “immediately allow... temporary emergency privileges” to Ng’s physician, Dr. Alan Bain, “solely to administer Ivermectin to this patient.” The hospital resisted the order on Nov. 6 and 7, denying Bain access to his patient. The hospital claimed that it couldn’t let Bain in because he wasn’t vaccinated against COVID-19 and that its chief medical officer wasn’t available to “proctor” Bain administering ivermectin. The daughter’s attorneys filed an emergency report with the court on Nov. 8 and Fullerton heard from both sides. The judge admonished the hospital and restated that it must allow Bain inside over a period of 15 days to do his job. When the hospital filed a motion to stay the order, Fullerton denied it, again directing the facility to comply. The ivermectin appears to have worked, and Sun Ng has recovered from COVID-19. He was discharged by the hospital on Nov. 27.

Austria Now Threatening PRISON to Anyone Who Refuses Vaccine – | 1 Dec 2021 | Unjabbed Austrians who refuse to comply with the government’s draconian mandates could face prison sentences and crippling fines for non-compliance. After initially placing unjabbed citizens under lockdown, Chancellor Alexander Schallenberg announced that the jab would become compulsory from February 1 onward. Questions as to what would happen to those who refused to comply with the mandate have now been answered in the form of a draft that was leaked to the media. “Under the bill, anyone who refused to attend a scheduled vaccination appointment would receive an official summons from local authorities. If an individual failed to show up, they would then be summoned one more time within the next four weeks,” RT reports... Summit.news reports: No one will be “forcibly brought” to a vaccination center to get jabbed against their will, although rest assured, they will be “forcibly” placed behind bars if they continue to refuse. If it passes, the legislation will stay in place for three years, with the government deciding if having recovered from COVID is a reasonable exemption. ★

Juvenile In Custody after Bringing Firearm onto High School

Marysville Police Department Press Release

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - On the morning of Thursday, December 2, 2021, Marysville Police Department officers were dispatched to Marysville High School in reference to a juvenile student in possession of a handgun. Officers arrived on scene and began conducting an initial investigation into the matter. Given the circumstances, a hard lockdown of the school was put into place and all normal campus operations ceased.

Officers determined one juvenile student had gotten into a physical altercation with another juvenile student while in a campus bathroom. During the physical altercation, one student produced a handgun and pointed it at the other student.

The involved students were located and identified with the assistance of staff. The student who was suspected of pointing the handgun at the other student was positively identified through the course of the investigation as a 15-year-old sophomore. The student suspected of pointing the firearm at the other student was taken into custody.

A handgun was also located and seized during the course of the investigation and the firearm was confirmed to have been linked to the in-custody student.

Officers continued the investigation after the arrest of the in-custody student was made. Officers eventually determined there weren’t any additional threats to the safety of the students and staff on campus. As a result, the hard lockdown on the campus was lifted and the school began normal operations.

The in-custody student was booked into the TrI-County Juvenile Hall detention facility for being in violation of several firearms related charges, including California Penal Code Section 245(a)(2).

The Marysville Police Department would like to thank the administrative and support staff at Marysville High School for their assistance with conducting this investigation and for their assistance with ensuring the safety and security of the students and their fellow staff members on campus. ★

The Brownsville Bailinick & Beyond

Books & More will be closed for a week after Christmas. Nicolai will be visiting us, so good to see him. We plan to reopen January 5 if all goes as planned.

We have been seeing truckloads of cut Christmas trees heading down the hill. It is time for outdoor lights to be up, listening to Christmas music and making lists. We have gift lists, lists of chores to accomplish, cards to address and more. Remember to relax and enjoy. It is a great time of year to remember past holidays, too. Time to get ready!

Look Back in Time – Colonel Rackerby sold the finest Mental Invigorator at his store along with feeds and clothes for both man and beast (sure wonder about the invigorator).

Rising Fuel, Fertilizer Costs Challenge California Farmers

Rising fuel and fertilizer costs are impacting California farmers and, over time, could create uncertainty in the food market. Just a year ago, a gallon of diesel fuel for tractors averaged $3.25. Now it's about $4.50. The cost of fuel has tripled since 2020 for agricultural aircraft used for crop applications. Meanwhile, supply chain issues are spiking costs of nitrogen fertilizers. Farmers say the trend could affect supermarket produce selections if they need to alter planting decisions due to costs.

Mushroom Farmers Impacted By Shortage Of Wheat Straw

In California farm country, one crop's success – or lack of it – may affect another. A case in point involves wheat and mushrooms. Mushroom growers use wheat straw for cultivation. But straw supplies are diminishing as wheat farmers cut back on planting acreage due to drought and falling wheat prices. That means less straw on the market for mushroom farmers. Mushroom growers say they're also impacted by worker shortages and rising labor costs.

Yolo County Farmers Critical of Rural Event Center's Impacts

A Yolo County special events center and bed-and-breakfast venue is drawing fire from local farmers concerned about traffic and crowds. The Yolo County Farm Bureau, the Farmland Protection Alliance and the Tuleyome conservation group of Woodland have challenged the 2016 use permit for the Field & Pond commercial venue near Winters. And last month, a California appellate court ruled the center needed a full environmental review on its potential impacts on protected species.

Hearst Ranch Beef Grows With Ranch-To-Customer Sales

A California beef company with a historic address is seeing increased consumer demand for home-delivered beef during the pandemic. Cattle have grazed coastal hills near Hearst Castle in San Simeon since 1865. Now Hearst Ranch Beef is capitalizing on online beef sales and a meat subscription service it provides in partnership with The Larder Meat Co. Hearst's director of agricultural operations says demand has been "off the charts" during the pandemic. ★

Man Arrested for Attempted Murder

Yuba County Sheriff's Department Press Release

LINDA, CA (MPG) - On 11/26/21 at approximately 8:00 a.m., Yuba County Sheriff's Deputies arrested 50-year-old Tong Yang of Linda for Attempted Murder, following the shooting of a 59-year-old woman inside a Linda residence. Deputies responded to a 911 call reporting a relative inside a home threatening family members with a gun, in the 2000 block of Horman Drive. Upon deputies' arrival to the home, they heard two shots from inside the residence. Following the gunshots, several people exited the home and advised deputies that another family member inside was holding down the alleged shooter and that a woman was shot.

Deputies entered the residence to find Tong Yang held on the ground by another man and the injured gunshot victim on the floor. Deputies immediately detained Yang and rendered medical aid to the victim, who was later transported to the hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound to the abdomen.

Over a dozen family members were in the home at the time of the incident, including several children. The victim remains hospitalized with serious injuries but is stable.

Yang was booked into the Yuba County Jail for Attempted Murder, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, and Threats, with a bail of 1 million dollars. The investigation remains active and ongoing. ★

Bitcoin Gold and Silver for Inflation Hedges

Gold and silver have obviously been around the longest. In fact, since the earth began, these metals existed. Humankind has used these two metals since he first needed to exchange goods and services, and stories of gold and silver as a medium of exchange date back as far back as recorded history.

Bitcoin, and the many cyber coins like it, are a little more than a decade old. The length of time in existence is not even remotely comparable. Despite this fact, many have put tremendous faith and funds, into this new phenomenon called cyber coin.

One of the difference between the two metals and cyber coin is that the metals exist in the physical and the digital world, while cyber coin exists only in digital form. I dwell on this oddity from time to time, and ponder that if the power went out all over the world, does cyber coin actually exist?

I know the money spent to buy it would still be there, but would the cybers? An interesting concept, yet probably a moot point, as the odds of a global power outage that never comes back is next to nil.

That said, the thought does provoke a deeper analysis of what digital currency is versus the physical ones like metal coins or paper dollars. After all, we can hold the one type in our hand while only being able to view the other on an electronic screen.

Although the digital currency and physical ones have their similarities, there are other differences as well.

For one, the price swings in the digital cyber coin arena are wildly volatile, and although gold and silver do have their fluctuations, they are not nearly as drastic as cyber coin to say the least.

Bitcoin has gone from a few pennies a coin to over $65,000.00 in under 12 years. Not what I call exactly stable. And since we are talking about inflation protection, a price stable medium is preferred. This makes gold and silver the obvious candidate when considering stability. Many might argue if bitcoin goes up, it's a better hedge than metals. But the price of cyber coin goes down drastically as well. Maybe cyber is a better speculation but not better protection based on its price volatility.

Ease of transfer is easier with cyber coin as long as one is connected to a power source and has some sort of computer. Gold and silver stocks are also immediately movable when the markets are open, but not so the physical coins. Coins can also be harder and take more time to sell and the spread between the buy and sell price can be significant.

Taxes are due on both transactions and how much is dependent on a variety of conditions. The jury is arguably still out on what the tax liability will be on cyber transactions.

Gold and silver, having been around so long, are easier to transact in electronic form from any stockbroker firm. Cyber coin exchanges are difficult to use in my experience, and there are few Wall Street versions of bitcoin funds that are available as of yet.

The stunning price increases in cyber coin has indeed attracted a lot of attention. So much so, when comparing price action of Bitcoin to any other asset in recent history, the mania and price increases surrounding bitcoin is the most volatile ever witnessed. Nothing compares, even in the slightest, to the astounding price swings witnessed in Bitcoin and its cyber relatives. There is little doubt this is a mania of historic proportions. Manias can crash horribly.

There has been talk that buyers of cyber coin have taken a little bit of the luster from gold and silver, which is to say some investors are buying cyber coin instead of the metals. That said, it is likely that at least some funds that would have been destined for gold and silver have made it over to cyber coin. But with the difficulty in the coin exchanges, wild price swings, and not having nearly the history that gold and silver have, it remains to be seen whether cyber will replace the metals as an inflation hedge.

In this analysts opinion, the reasons given above tell me gold and silver are still the safer and more dependable inflation hedge. That may change at some point, but for now its the metal of kings for my inflation protection asset.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: JUNE EILEEN LICON CASE NO. PRPB21-00148

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both of JUNE EILEEN LICON

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ALICIA NELSON in the Superior Court of California, County of Yuba.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that ALICIA NELSON be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/20/21 at 9:00AM in Dept. 4 located at 215 Fifth Street, Ste. 200, Marysville, CA 95901

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Pursuit with Standoff on SR-99 Sutter County

Department of California Highway Patrol Press Release

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - On 11/23/2021 at 8:23am, a stolen vehicle report for a Silver Chevy Silverado was taken by a Yuba-Sutter CHP Officer. At 10:07am, another CHP officer located the stolen vehicle and was waiting for additional officers to respond when the vehicle fled from the officer. A pursuit was initiated at 10:10am.

The vehicle entered southbound SR-70 from McGowan Parkway. The pursuit continued for 22 miles on SR-70 and eventually onto SR-99 southbound. The vehicle was disabled by OnStar and came to a stop on the Riego Road offramp for SR-99 southbound. A felony stop was initiated by CHP officers and the male driver failed to comply with instructions.

The male, later identified as Kyle Ross McCray, continued to refuse to exit the vehicle. A request was made for Sutter County Sheriff SED team to respond for a barricaded subject. McCray called the Sutter County Sheriff Office dispatch and informed them he had a bomb, a gun, and a 5-year girl that he would kill. CHP ordered SR-99 and Riego Road to be shut down out of abundance of caution. After several phone conversations with Sutter County hostage negotiators, McCray refused to cooperate.

Sutter County SED deployed tear gas into the vehicle. McCray exited the vehicle and took up a fighting stance and the Sutter County K-9 was deployed. McCray was bitten by the K-9 and taken into custody at 12:47pm. The roadway was opened up shortly after. McCray was transported by AMR ambulance to Adventist Health Rideout hospital for treatment of the K-9 bite.

McCray was booked at the Yuba County Jail violating 2800.2(a)VC - felony evading, 10851(a)VC - auto theft, 3056PC - Parole violation, 14601.2(a) VC - Driving on a suspended license. No firearm, explosive device or 5-year-old was located. ★ viewed homelessness as a serious or very serious problem – a similar number as two years ago. However, over the past couple years the city and county have spent hundreds of millions of dollars to deal with homelessness.

What has changed, however, is how people think the issue must be addressed: While voters were evenly split last time about spending money on short-term solutions such as shelter and on long-term solutions such as housing, 57% said officials should focus on "short-term shelter sites."

Senator Nielsen Urges Caution on Projected $31 Billion State Surplus

Office of Senator Jim Nielsen

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senator Jim Nielsen, R-Red Bluff, issued the following statement in response to the Legislative Analyst's Office report, The 2022-23 Budget: California's Fiscal Outlook, which projects a $31 billion surplus.

"A $31 billion surplus is not an invitation to build future spending obligations.

"Legislative Democrats used up their bag of tricks last year to avoid triggering the Gann Limit, which restricts how fast state spending can grow.

"The Gann Limit, which was passed on the heels of Prop. 13, expressed the wisdom of voters. The surplus either needs to go back to taxpayers or be used for essential functions, like education, infrastructure and paying down debt.

"As the vice chair of the Senate Budget and Fiscal Review Committee, I urge The Legislature and the governor to proceed with caution."

Elected to the State Senate in January 2013, Senator Nielsen represents the Fourth Senate District, which includes the counties of Butte, Colusa, Glenn, Placer, Sacramento, Sutter, Tehama and Yuba. To contact Senator Jim Nielsen, please call him at 916-651-4004, or via email at senator.nielsen@senate.ca.gov. Follow him @CASenatorJim. ★
