Local Farmers Giving Back Yuba River Endowment Donates to Food Pantry

By Crystal Martin, Smart Marketing & Public Affairs

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - Yuba River Endowment Board Member, Steve Waltz, presented the First Presbyterian Church Food Pantry of Marysville with a $500 check and Christmas gifts for 25 of the children served by the pantry.

The Yuba River Endowment is a non-profit organization created by Yuba County farmers. Since formation last year, the Endowment has donated over $100,000 to local organizations, including the Yuba-Sutter Food Bank, the Yuba-Sutter Fair's Jr. Livestock Auction and all Yuba County FFA programs.

"We always try and give each child a present in their holiday food basket," said Pantry Coordinator, Judy

McLeod. "With just days to go until the distribution, we did not have enough gifts for the kids. This is truly a prayer answered for those we serve."

During their weekly food distribution event, the First Presbyterian Church Food Pantry serves 40 to 60 families, and 40 to 60 homeless. The pantry is located at 1905-C Covillaud Street in Marysville, and distributes each Friday from 10am - 12pm. The pantry is staffed by volunteers and funded through donations from church members and community grants.

The Yuba River Endowment was established by Yuba County farmers from seven Yuba County irrigation districts, who have a right to water that flows on the Yuba River. In a truly win-win situation, the farmers' water is used to provide the required flow levels to protect endangered fishes on the Yuba River, then once past this critical point, the water can be sold to drought-stricken areas of the state. Proceeds from these transfers provide the funding for the Yuba River Endowment.

"Our motto for the Endowment is 'Local Farmers Giving Back,'" said local farmer and Yuba River Endowment Board Member, Steve Waltz. "As farmers, there is no better way for us to give back than to feed folks during the holidays and make sure that as many children as possible have a special gift to open on Christmas morning."

Yuba Water Receives More than $2.8 Million for Yuba River Habitat Restoration

By Bonnie Dickson, Yuba Water

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - Yuba Water Agency's board of directors passed a resolution to receive a grant worth more than $2.8 million from the California Department of Fish and Wildlife for habitat restoration and flood risk reduction work on the lower Yuba River. The grant is part of the state's Proposition 68 funding for science-based, multi-benefit projects that help Chinook salmon and steelhead trout.

The funds will be used to complete the final phases of the multi-partner Hallwood Side Channel and Floodplain Restoration Project, which will enhance up to 157 acres of seasonal and year-round floodplain and side-channel habitat on the lower Yuba River. The four-phase project is designed to improve the river's ecosystem by restoring natural river and floodplain processes, creating more food and habitat for salmon and steelhead.

"In all my years of being involved with restoration and public works projects, I can't think of a better example of a public-private partnership than the enhancement work we're doing at Hallwood," said Jeff Mathews, the agency's habitat enhancement project manager. "That remarkable partnership made us more competitive for this grant, which will allow us to continue building on the great work we've already accomplished."

The project will also remove 3.2 million cubic yards of sediment, which will reduce flood risk for Yuba County by lowering water surface elevations and flow velocities during high water events. Partners on the project include Yuba Water, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, South Yuba River Citizens League, cbec eco engineering, Cramer Fish Sciences, Teichert and Western Aggregates.

Yuba County Economic Development Priorities

During the meeting, board members also heard an update on Yuba County's economic development efforts including recommendations from Applied Development Economics (ADE) - the consultant leading the work - on criteria for prioritizing future projects and investments. These criteria include consideration of implementation timeframes, anticipated economic benefits, required resources, potential regulatory or policy constraints and the extent to which a project can serve as a catalyst for other economic investments in Yuba County.

Based on these criteria, ADE identified four economic development strategy areas with high-catalyst potential: infrastructure and planning, education, technology and tourism. The goal of the plan is to focus all future investments in the county on high-impact projects, whether the work is sponsored by Yuba Water, Yuba County, the cities of Wheatland or Marysville or others.

The board will meet again in the new year to discuss and workshop the plan further.

Paying Tribute to Outgoing Board Members

The board also bid farewell to Yuba Water directors Mike Leahy and Doug Lofton, who will complete their terms as directors on Jan. 4. Both were recognized by the board for their service to the agency.

"It is with great honor that this board recognizes directors Leahy and Lofton for their contributions and undeniable dedication of service to the citizens of Yuba County during a time of rapid growth and transformation for this agency," said Randy Fletcher, Yuba Water's board chairman. "This board is truly making a difference for Yuba County, and we're grateful to you both for being a part of that."

Fellow directors and agency staff echoed Fletcher's sentiment, commending Leahy and Lofton for their commitment to their roles over the last four years.

Yuba Sutter Arts & Culture Names Grant Winners

By David Read, Yuba Sutter Arts

MARYSVILLE, CA. (MPG) - Yuba Sutter Arts & Culture is pleased to announce the recipients of its CARES regranting program. Support was provided by the California Arts Council which received funding from the federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) program to be distributed through its network of local county-based arts organizations. The grants were designated for Yuba and Sutter county-based arts and culture organizations serving socially vulnerable populations including communities of color. As the designated arts agency for both Yuba and Sutter counties, Yuba Sutter Arts & Culture was chosen to receive funding totaling $31,000 for regranting.

The purpose of the grant program is to support under-resourced small arts and culture groups. The relief program is to help alleviate some of the extreme pressures being felt by local organizations which may not have access to the emergency support they need. This is also a means to recognize and acknowledge arts and culture workers in our area who serve our communities of color including Native American, African American, Latinx, Asian American and others. Recipients of these CARES grant funds include:

Dance.Fit.Life. - Director Francisco Serrano will use the funding to continue teaching Latin dance classes as well as Mexican Folklorico and East Indian Bhangra dance lessons.

Rise Up: Youth Program for the Performing Arts - President Julian Barkley-Brinson will continue providing affordable classes in dance, music and acting for young people throughout Yuba-Sutter, virtual for now, and in-person when it is safe to do so.

Cedar Grove Mental Health Rehabilitation Center - The facility will use the funds to enhance their art therapy programs with the purchase of additional art supplies, digital arts equipment and to create murals at their new Yuba City location.

The Village Yuba Sutter - Although a relatively new organization, this team will make an impact by offering arts and culture workshops, classes, events and other programs to enhance the quality of life for black, indigenous, people of color (BIPOC), of all ages and for all of Yuba-Sutter.

News Outlook

By Josh F.W. Cook

It's time to consider the New Year. 2021 is nigh upon us as is the annual ritual of making resolutions to change things. From the History Channel, we find the following:

The ancient Babylonians are said to have been the first people to make New Year's resolutions, some 4,000 years ago. They were also the first to hold recorded celebrations in honor of the New Year – though for them the year began not in January but mid-March when the crops were planted. During a 12-day religious festival known as Akitu, the Babylonians reaffirmed their loyalty to the king. They also made promises to the gods to pay their debts and return any objects they had borrowed. These promises could be considered the forerunners of our New Year's resolutions. If the Babylonians kept to their word, their Gods would bestow favor on them for the coming year. A similar practice occurred in ancient Rome after the reform-minded emperor Julius Cesar adjusted the calendar and established January 1 as the beginning of the New Year (around 46 B.C.). Named for Janus, the two-faced God whose spirit inhabited doorways and arches, January had special significance for the Romans.

Believing that Janus could look back into the previous year and ahead into the future, the Romans offered sacrifices to Him and made promises of good moral conduct for the upcoming year. For early Christians, the first day of the New Year became the traditional occasion for thinking about one's past mistakes and resolving to do and be better in the future. In 1740, the English Methodist clergyman John Wesley (not to be confused with John Harris of St. Timothy's Episcopal) created the Covenant Renewal Service, most commonly held on New Year's Eve. Also known as "watch night" services, they included readings from Scriptures and hymn singing and served as an alternative to the raucous alcohol-fueled celebrations normally held to celebrate the coming of the New Year (or celebrating the end of a year as we will). There is of course a secular commercialized consumption-driven advertising blitz to get people to make resolutions.

Every January sees a spike in exercise equipment sales as well as books, binders, and journals to help us make and take our new goals to reality. In my family of many children, we always encouraged our children to dream big and ask big. One of the most memorable New Years' goals was that of my daughter RileighAnne, who at the time was 7 years old. She decided that she wanted to win an art contest and become a mermaid. Those were her goals and she wrote them down. By the end of the year, she had her painting selected and hung to view as part of the International Church Art Contest, and that summer when she started swim lessons she jumped out of the pool and announced her second goal had been accomplished because, after making the entire length of the pool solo she had become a Mermaid.

Whatever you choose, good luck, it is always positive to reflect on what kind of person you are and work toward being the person you want to be. The arrival of January is a good excuse to set such goals, regardless of the religious tradition that gets you there.

When confronted with poor customer service I often grumble under my breath "the robots are coming". This - my reference to coming advances in automation that will allow payments to be made with no stop at the cash register, appointments or reservations with no phone calls, checking into your hotel room with no front desk, and other such innovations now being tested around the world utilizing mobile phones and attached personal data devices. As a devotee of what's coming next, even I was surprised to find out the U.S. Air Force had their first-ever "robot" flight with an Artificial Intelligence-based program - and this historic feat took place right over our heads, literally. This from the Beale PR squadron: The AI algorithm, known as ARTUM, flew with the pilot, U.S. Air Force Maj. "Vudu", on a U-2 Dragon Lady assigned to the 9th Reconnaissance Wing at Beale Air Force Base. Failing to realize AI's full potential will mean ceding decision advantage to our adversaries." Together, they flew a reconnaissance mission during a simulated missile strike. ARTUM's primary responsibility was finding enemy launchers while the pilot was on the lookout for threatening aircraft, both sharing the U-2's radar. Air Combat Command's U-2 Federal Laboratory developed ARTUM and trained it to execute specific in-flight tasks that otherwise would be done by the pilot. "ARTUM's groundbreaking flight culminates our three-year journey to becoming a digital force," said Dr. William "Will" Roper, Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for acquisition, technology, and logistics. "Putting AI safely in command of a U.S. military system for the first time ushers in a new age of human-machine teaming and algorithmic competition... The robots are coming."

A Deserving Family Received More than Just Gifts this Year

Officers arrested John Robert Tau for possession of a stolen vehicle. (The victim agreed to take a photo with us and said it was ok for the media to publish it.) Photo credit Marysville Police Dept.

City of Marysville

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, December 19th, the Marysville Police Department was handing out gifts and food to deserving families in the City of Marysville. As they were handing out gifts, officers heard over the radio that a vehicle was just stolen from the 1700 block of Ellis Lake Drive. With this being a time of giving, officers decided to add this family to the list of deserving families who would be receiving gifts.

About four hours later, officers arrived to deliver gifts and food to the victim of this auto theft. At the exact same time, Marysville Patrol officers spotted the stolen vehicle. Officers conducted a high-risk stop on the vehicle on the 1400 block of Swezy Street in the City of Marysville. Officers arrested 33-year-old, John Robert Tau for possession of a stolen vehicle.

The victim of the stolen vehicle not only received gifts and food, but she also received her vehicle back. We are always happy to give back to our community, and this year we were able to give a little more.

Obese Govt Starves Small Businesses

Commentary by Lou Binninger

While Sutter County Supervisors increased their monthly auto allowance to $400, Yuba Water Agency directors debated raising their pay by 5% versus 3%, and Marysville City Council is leaning to treat themselves to cell phones, thousands of local small businesses have been illegally forced to close and hundreds will never re-open.

Last week, the owners of Upper Cut Barber Shops in Marysville, Wheatland, Rocklin and Yuba City were called to an administrative hearing. They refused to close due to unconstitutional Covid demands and then rejected the state's abusive licensing authority.

However, rather than being able to confront their accusers in a court room, the owners' Constitutional rights were again denied with a phone call hearing. This is called Communism in China and Vietnam.

The defendants could have rioted for BLM and Antifa, or gone to Walmart or a casino without offense but the Covid virus is particularly contagious in a courtroom, government office or small business.

Angela Marsden gained national attention as Los Angeles Health Officials closed her Pineapple Saloon and Grille outdoor dining while in the same parking lot a film studio offered identical services. Authoritarian socialists see no problem making allowances for their friends.

After a court ruling finally stopped the outdoor dining ban in Los Angeles, attorneys Mark Geragos, Harmeet Dhillon, Mark Meuser, Alexandra Kazerian, and Matthew Hoesly, filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court against Gov. Gavin Newsom on behalf of Ms. Marsden.

This is the 17th legal action filed against the governor by The Dhillon Law Group since March, 2020. A similar lawsuit was filed by the Nevada County Restaurant Coalition (ncrcalition.com) against the governor, County Supervisors and their health officer for the government violating business owners' rights.

Upper Cut owners are weighing legal options as well since they were not only harassed by the state but ordered to close and then cited for remaining open by Marysville Police Officers. District Attorney Clint Curry suggested cutting off the shops' utilities.

Even with Uppercut's reopening, customer traffic has been crippled by false information and threats of fines. However, government employees don't miss a check, sick day, retirement, paid vacation or holidays while many work from home. Meanwhile, the people's offices are closed to the people.

While the Founding Fathers gave their all to guarantee our God-given rights the tyrants ruling over us now say these same rights are but privileges to be permitted and purchased.

The Marsden lawsuit challenges Governor Newsom's emergency powers and his and the unelected public health officials' violation of due process.

Some highlights are noted below:

"Defendants also have violated Plaintiff's procedural due process rights by ignoring California law as to the promulgation of administrative regulations as set forth in the California Administrative Procedures Act (Cal. Gov. Code §11340 et. seq.), including but not limited to the procedures for enacting emergency regulations (Cal. Gov. Code §11346.1)."

"No right granted or secured by the Constitution of the United States can be impaired or destroyed by a state enactment, whatever may be the source from which the power to pass such enactment may have been derived." Connolly v. Union Sewer Pipe Co., 184 U.S. 540, 558 (1902).

"Citizens have a fundamental right to be free from confinement without due process of law. Hamdi v. Rumsfeld, 542 U.S. 507, 531 (2004)."

"It is self-evident that the right to freely come and go from one's home is a fundamental right. See Aptheker, 378 U.S. at 520."

"The 'involuntary confinement of an individual for any reason, is a deprivation of liberty which the State cannot accomplish without due process of law.'" Connor v. Donaldson, 422 U.S. 563, 580 (1975). Also, any "confinement must cease when those reasons [giving rise to it] no longer exist." Id."

"Quarantine laws may be permitted as to infected individuals, but not the public at large. Robinson v. State of California, 370 U.S. 660, 666 (1962)."

"Both the Executive Orders and the Regional Orders mandate that Californians stay at home and shut down their 'non-essential' businesses" and "... violate Plaintiff's constitutional right to liberty."

Farm Bureau Supports Voices of Indian Farmers

California Farm Bureau Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California Farm Bureau President Jamie Johansson has released the following statement in support of Indian farmers:

"We understand the deep concern and distress from thousands of farmers in the states of Punjab and Haryana to peacefully protest recent agriculture reforms in New Delhi. The agriculture economy in India is a main source of livelihood for over 55% of India's population and accounts for approximately 15% of their gross domestic product. As such a critical part of India's economy and culture, these voices need to be heard just as we expect our voices would be heard here.

"California Farm Bureau represents a diverse set of all farmers in our state, including Sikh farmers, and stands with you in your efforts to protect the livelihood and nourishment of the communities around you. We remain hopeful that Indian farmers will be heard by the Indian government and can find a productive path forward that benefits India's agriculture sector."

The California Farm Bureau works to protect family farms and ranches on behalf of nearly 32,000 members statewide and as part of a nationwide network of nearly 5.6 million Farm Bureau members. ★

Two Teens Arrested for Attempted Murder during a Robbery

By Leslie Williams, Yuba County Sheriff's Department

YUBA COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On 12/19/2020 at approximately 3:30 p.m., a shooting in the commission of a robbery occurred in the 2300 block of N. Beale Rd in Linda. Yuba County dispatch received a 911 call reporting two male suspects had just tried to rob a man and shot him before running off toward a nearby apartment complex.

Deputies arrived at the scene and located a shooting victim on the sidewalk, with life threatening injuries. The deputies provided emergency first aid until paramedics arrived. The victim, a 23-year-old Olivehurst man, was transported by ambulance to Adventist Hospital where he underwent emergency surgery and remains hospitalized in critical condition.

Multiple witnesses at the scene described the incident as an altercation appearing to be a robbery attempt of the victim, who was operating a food-vending cart in front of an apartment complex.

Two male suspects were reported to have struggled with the victim prior to the victim being shot, and then running away from the scene. The suspects were described as black males in their teens to early 20's.

Detectives assumed the investigation, and with assistance from patrol, developed leads that resulted in the identification and arrest of two suspects on 12/20/2020, for the attempted murder, aggravated assault with a firearm, and robbery. The suspects in custody are 18-year-old Trew Smith of Olivehurst, and a 16-year-old male from Marysville. Smith was booked into the Yuba County Jail with a bail of one million dollars; and the juvenile was booked into juvenile hall. ★

Escaping Covid Camps for Homeschool

Commentary
by Lou Binninger

Yuba-Sutter Health Officer Phuong Luu's closing of campuses during the contrived 'Covid Crisis' has been an unexpected blessing. Parents are discovering the intellectual wasteland of public schools.

Once distance learning was announced for classes, many instructors panicked since parents held hostage at home could now witness the pitiful scholastic diet fed to students. Pupils and teachers were both failing.

Meanwhile, teachers unions argue against instructors ever returning to the classroom and demand first defunding the police, eliminating homelessness, canceling private and charter schools, increasing taxes on the wealthy, implementing Medicare for all, and of course billions more for education.

While the union works to convince school boards that teachers are overworked due to distance instruction, national surveys reveal nearly 50% of workers at home admit using alcohol as well as being distracted with domestic demands during work hours. They are at home because it's too dangerous to leave the house.

The chances of a student dying from Covid are far less than succumbing to the annual flu, a car accident, drowning or choking on food. Since educators are some of the smartest people in town maybe one of them could discover any child dying of just Covid without any other complicating ailments since January 2020. And, if that child is found, is a death or three worth traumatizing millions of families when we have never stopped the education universe for children perishing from the flu, asthma, cancer or suicide?

Do the unions need a 100% guarantee that neither a teacher nor a child will catch a cold in order to return to the classroom? This shutdown is really about unions controlling both schools and society. It's called communism.

Union leadership actually hates the Founding Fathers' America and has been prepping students for communism for decades. According to union leadership and its teacher propaganda America is evil and has to go.

Thanksgiving is so controversial that teachers were encouraged to tell students about worshipping ancestors and the moon, anything but Americana. Since communism says there is no God, the campus is a Jesus-free zone while any other deviant and weird belief is celebrated.

Communists don't need well-informed independent thinkers, they prefer indoctrination. The Founding Fathers insisted on literate free-thinkers that understood where they came from, the Constitution, 'ciphering' and current events, geography, the Bible and the vision for the nation. Literacy rates were better under home and local school America versus Europe and even our government schools today. "A native of America that cannot read and write is as rare...as a comet or an earthquake." (Written in 1776)

The teacher, politician and leader of today are intellectual midgets compared to the Founders. To create an intelligent and informed populace the founders touted universal education. However, nearly immediately the government control of education was usurped by socialists that diluted and discarded Judeo-Christian values and beliefs.

Even young children once studied the Constitution using "Catechism on the Constitution" as well as the Bible which provided the moral foundation of the founding documents. Early Americans spoke better proper English than in England according to Daniel Webster.

Many early orators attributed their eloquence to extensive Bible reading. Such was the case of Abraham Lincoln. The beauty of the Gettysburg Address and his many remembered sayings were not derived from college training, for he had none.

Generations of parents have now been dumbed-down through tainted and deviant curriculum. However, there may be an awakening as the percentage of homeschooled children nationally has doubled during the Covid sham. Gallup says that 10% of students were homeschooled in 2020.

Compared to the 1980's there is now an abundance of rich homeschool curricula. Families can connect with superior teachers and tutors via technology and do it all with far less time and torment than subjecting children to Covid 'prison camps.' Parents are forming associations to get equipped and embellish studies with expert speakers, athletics, music, art and spiritual training.

While the communist Covid movement seeks to crush intellectual freedom it is losing control of many parents and their children for the good of the country.

YOUR ONE MINUTE NEWS DIGEST

by Don Rae

- A man climbed on the wing of an airliner as it taxied out of McCarran airport in Las Vegas. No problem. He was stopped. What happens in Vegas stays in Vegas.
- Arrogance and elitism knows no bounds. After the mainstream media snowflakes claim the vaccine would not be available for years and Trump was a liar, they demand to be first in line for the new vaccine as they are essential workers. Really? After putting out disinformation? After not reporting at all? Lies after lies. How about being last in line?
- Newsom has used lies, junk science and hate to kill jobs, our businesses, schools and churches. People are starting to ignore the totalitarian policies of our so-called leaders. Dr. Mark Ghaly, our illustrious health leader admits the decisions to shut down businesses "really has to do with the goal of trying to keep people at home, not a comment on the relative safety of outdoor dining." As Stephen Frank wrote: "As Newsom is releasing criminals from prison as fast as he can - using the virus as an excuse, he is locking up innocent people in their homes. This is sick. It is time for us to ignore Sacramento and get back to work, school and church."
- A few years back Dinesh D'Souza expounded on the fact that Trump had decided to pull U.S. troops out of northern Syria despite those who argue he is leaving Kurdish allies open to an attack from Turkish forces. Unfortunately for any western power, Syria is a polyglot mess and has been since the Ottoman Empire managed to collapse during World War I. For an example, just to give you a small taste of the areas' religions, ethnicities and leaders all of which hate each other but try to control by coups, assassinations and all other types of mayhem. Syria is a manufactured country including Sunnis, Shiites, Alewites, Druzes, Kurds, Turkmen, and Isalis. They include Greek and Armenian Christians, Roman and Maronite Catholics as well as a dozen or so Protestant denominations not counting religious sects such as the Aramatic-speaking sect in the village of Maaloula and the Yezidis. All kinds of clans, tribes, religions and leaders. Think anyone is going to get this polyglot group to live happily together as a single nation? Especially when they all want to kill those in the next group of huts. Not a chance.

Fables and hypocrisy of America's elite: D'Souza suggested that we'd better get hold of things or we would lose our freedom. He cites the lion and the lion tamer. The latter uses his stick and the lion obeys. Why? Because the lion doesn't know his own power. The analogy suggests that we, the American people, do not know our own power and have let the politicians and bureaucrats use that deficiency to ruin our lives. Those in power are not omnipotent. They cannot throttle us if we stand on our hind legs and say enough is enough.

A similar thought came out of the mouth of former Congressman Dick Arme. "Demagoguery beats data." Snowflake environmentalists spout off that land use restrictions are required to prevent the country's last few remaining patches of undeveloped land from being "paved over." The data, however, shows less than 10% of America has been developed. Again we are being lied to.

In the 1870s a new school of meteorology was formed to perpetuate the myth that "rain followed the plow." The theory was that if the settlers plowed up the prairie, the rain would come to water the crops. This was "science." Guess what? It was bogus. So do you still believe the "experts" and their science?

Researchers found that Ohio State University employs more than 100 "diversity workers," costing around $10 million per year. That's an average of $100,000 each for job titles such as Academic Encourager and Equity Investigator. Isn't that just a wonderful use of resources?

NPR does not deserve our money or support. They have avoided even mentioning the Biden family scandal. Imagine for a moment if Hunter Biden were Hunter Trump. Defund NPR. ★

Changing Election Rules Alters Outcomes

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

Periodically, owners of major league sports teams change game rules and in doing so they inevitably affect the games' outcomes, purposely or not.

Politics are no different. Changing the rules of campaigning, voting and other political procedures affects election results.

We saw an example of that adage this year. Loosening voter registration requirements, allowing or disallowing ballot harvesting and, in some states, shifting from in-person voting to vote-by-mail affected voter turnout, altered the composition of the electorate and thus ultimately had an effect on what or who won or lost.

Obviously, writers of rules - federal and state legislators, mostly - have a motive in changing them to benefit themselves, their parties and their allied interest groups.

That's why, for instance, the national Democratic Party poured untold millions of dollars into state legislative campaigns. The campaign's avowed goal was altering the partisan balance of statehouses, now mostly Republican, to affect how congressional districts are redrawn after the 2020 census, but it largely failed.

Two constitutional amendments introduced in the California Legislature's newly convened session attest to the continuing desire of politicians to change political rules and thus outcomes.

Senate Constitutional Amendment 1, submitted by Sen. Bob Hertzberg, a Democrat from Van Nuys, would flip how referenda - measures to overturn laws passed by the Legislature - are submitted to voters.

Currently, an interest group opposed to a new law can challenge it by collecting enough signatures to place a referendum on the ballot. Voters are then asked to either validate the new law by voting "yes" or repeal it by voting "no."

Hertzberg wants a "yes" vote to repeal the new law and a "no" vote to keep the new law in place.

Is the current procedure a little confusing? Yes, particularly since the referendum process is only occasionally used. But it's doubtful that SCA 1's change would be less confusing.

Hertzberg apparently believes that the change would decrease the chances of a successful referendum because if voters are somewhat undecided or confused about the underlying issue, they are more likely to vote "no."

He introduced SCA 1 a month after his landmark law abolishing cash bail for criminal defendants was overturned by a referendum, Proposition 25, sponsored by the bail bond industry. Voters marked nearly 55% of their ballots "no" on Hertzberg's bail bill.

Proposition 25 is widely seen as a template for other referenda by business groups adversely affected by laws passed by a liberal Legislature.

Senate Constitutional Amendment 3, offered by Sen. Ben Allen, a Redondo Beach Democrat, would make a huge change in recall elections.

Currently, when enough signatures are collected to seek the recall of an elected official, such as then-Gov. Gray Davis in 2003, the issue is placed before voters in two simultaneous ballot measures. One is on the recall itself and the second is to elect someone to replace the ousted officeholder if the recall is successful.

With 135 candidates on the second ballot, action movie star Arnold Schwarzenegger succeeded Davis with about 48% of the vote.

SCA 3 would place the targeted officeholder on the same ballot as the challengers, meaning the incumbent could stay in office with a plurality of the vote instead of the harder-to-achieve majority vote currently required for the recall ballot.

When you change political rules, you likely change the outcome of the political game, just as in football or baseball.

There are Opportunities for the Nimble Entrepreneur

The capitalistic term "creative destruction" is perfectly illustrated in the current environment. The shutdowns have caused an untold number for businesses to close their doors. This analyst estimates 25% of small business will not return. The crux of the fallout will be concentrated in restaurants, various areas of retail and hospitality and other smaller mom and pop type stores.

Small business makes up a majority of overall business in the U.S. which means as businesses go under due to CoVid, a gap will be left where there once was a glut.

At any given time, new businesses continually open up in the ebb and flow of the normal business cycle, so with so many businesses going belly up, the reopening period from CoVid could be an ideal time to open up a new endeavor in the areas that have been hit the hardest.

Consider in the past when new businesses open up, their new customers are actually come from someone else's old customers. Simply put, a new business must steal customers from existing businesses to survive. This reality is because new customers do not magically appear on the planet when a new business forms. New businesses instead are for the most part, drawing off an existing customer base. This could be better illustrated by saying new businesses must steal someone else's customers.

Since humans are creatures of habit, which include their shopping habits, they are reluctant to change where they shop unless for good reason. This fact is one in a long list of stark realities that cause nine out of ten businesses to fail before reaching their second year of operation.

Although it is unfortunate that the CoVid shutdowns have caused many businesses to shutter their establishments, this is the "destructive" part of term creative destruction that the capitalistic vocabulary refers to. The creative part is the opportunity that the closing down of these businesses brings about to new business owners that have the resources to start up in the environment. This new environment will have many "holes" brought about by the CoVid closures. New businesses will not have to steal customers from existing businesses, or at least not as many. With so many of the would-be competitors now out of business, new business endeavors will just fill the gaps left by the dissolutions of the stores shuttered from CoVid.

The opportunity brought about by the destruction of so many businesses could be argued to be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to the nimble entrepreneur. Opening a new business now, in a sector that has been decimated by the shutdowns, could be just the opportunity potential startup owners could be looking for.

Another consideration is that store front real estate should be plenty, meaning one would be in a position for hardline negotiations for lease/rental rates due to the glut of available storefronts brought about by the same reason. Potential businesses should have the pick of litter when it comes to prime retail space AND the ability to negotiate a very competitive lease. Landlords will be eager to fill storefronts vacated by bankrupt businesses.

The same opportunities will exist for the businesses that were strong enough to survive. They too will benefit greatly from far fewer competitors and a more competitive environment. They will be able to negotiate current lease rates downward, or move altogether to a better location or cheaper location.

In conclusion, it is said only the strong survive, and in a capitalistic system, it can mean tremendous opportunity for some in the face of a stark reality for others.

This Month In Your Garden

by Cecilia M. Rice
BALD MOUNTAIN NURSERY

6195 BALD MOUNTAIN ROAD • BROWNS VALLEY, CA • 530-743-4856

We wish everyone a “Happy New Year” as we enter 2021. We have a very dry and cold December. Check on plants to be sure that they are not excessively dry. That is especially important for containerized plants since dry roots will freeze more easily than wet ones will.

Bare root season is the big thing many people look forward to in January. We usually have some folks who are new to gardening and the term “bare root” may not be familiar to them. It is simply what it says. The trees have been taken out of the ground and the roots are exposed, thus, “bare root”. They are less expensive since the pot, soil, and time and effort to plant them into a container has been avoided. It also requires that it must be planted right away, or otherwise stored in a way to protect the roots from drying out or freezing. We have availability lists at the nursery to help one to make decisions. Bare root season for fruit trees is usually considered very late December or early January to the end of February. By then the trees are beginning get too many new fragile roots and new leaves to handle them “bare root” without possible damage. There are advantages to planting your own fruit trees. You make the decisions of what fertilizers etc. are used and avoiding many of the unknowns of commercial grower’s methods. Allowing the fruit ripen on the tree allows much better flavor to develop as the fruit ripens than that picked early and ripened in cold storage. Often kids and adults are encouraged eat more fruit just because they like picking it themselves and it is close by.

There are many questions about the fruit trees, one being, do they all need pollinizers? Some are self fruitful and don’t need a different pollinizer and others do. Many of the peaches and nectarines are self fruitful, but not all of them. Most of the cherries need a pollinizer, but again, not all of them, and so it is with plums, pears Most fruit trees have a tag giving some of that information.

One thing that won’t be found during bare root season are citrus and avocado trees. They are evergreen trees.

They are semi tropical trees and need protection when the weather is very cold. They will be available in the spring. Chill hours may be noted on the tag. That refers to the cumulative number of hours required under 45 degrees during the entire winter season to provide normal fruit production and is generally not a concern in our area.

Many camellia plants have finished blooming for the year and the flowers have fallen causing a pile of debris at the base of the plant. That debris should be bagged and sent to the landfill rather than added to a compost pile you may have. It can carry a fungal disease that develops in the debris that then can scatter the spores and spread a problem that is easily avoided by the proper disposal of the debris.

Bare root roses are now available and have been pruned by the growers. If you have roses that are growing in your yard already, we suggest delaying the pruning until the danger of a heavy freeze is past. In our area roses usually don’t go completely dormant. What happens when you prune a rose? It starts putting out new growth at that point. That new growth is too tender to survive a hard freeze and dies back. We have lots of micro climates in the foothills, so consider the temperature range in your area and delay the pruning until freezing danger is past and do the pruning in early spring if it seems more appropriate. If by chance you do prune them and are then hit by freeze that damages new growth, no great harm has been done – the rose just has to expend more energy that might otherwise have been saved for its beautiful first bloom and has to start over again.

Some maintenance chores to be done in January – weather permitting –

Annual pruning of dormant deciduous plants – allow spring blooming plants to bloom, then prune

Prune dormant vines, grapes and cane berries

Rake up heavy litter of leaves and apply pre-emergent if weeds were a problem last year Shop early for the best selections in bare root fruit trees.

World’s Second Largest Hydroxychloroquine Plant in Taiwan Blows Up | 22 Dec 2020 | News sources in Taiwan (thanks to Dr. Meryl Nass for breaking this story here in the U.S.) are reporting that the world’s second largest supplier of raw materials to make hydroxychloroquine (HCQ) blew up earlier this week, which will most certainly put a strain on the world’s supply of HCQ. Taiwan English News reports: An explosion at a pharmaceutical factory in Taoyuan City left two injured and caused a fire early this afternoon, December 20. People as far as Tamsui District in New Taipei City reported hearing the massive blast shortly after noon. Immediately after the blast, thick black smoke could be seen pouring out of the SCI Pharmtech factory. While the factory is located close to Taipei Taoyuan International Airport, operations at the airport were not affected, according to reports in United Daily News and ET Today. The Taoyuan City Fire Department dispatched 76 personnel, 28 fire appliances and 2 ambulances to the scene of the fire.

Rep. Mo Brooks: ‘Dozens’ of House Members Joining Jan. 6 Electoral College Challenge | 28 Dec 2020 | Rep. Mo Brooks (R-Ala.), the GOP leader of a plan to challenge Electoral College votes on Jan. 6, said that “dozens” of House members are going to sponsor a measure to object. “There are dozens in the House of Representatives who have reached that conclusion that I have; we’re going to sponsor and co-sponsor objections to the Electoral College vote returns,” Brooks told Fox News on Monday morning. The move, which has to occur during the Joint Session of Congress on Jan. 6, requires a member of the House and a member of the Senate to carry out. So far, Sen.-elect Tommy Tuberville (R-Ala.) has suggested he might join Brooks and the other GOP House lawmakers. Sen. Rand Paul (R-Ky.) has also suggested he might as well. Neither Tuberville nor Paul have made public statements affirming the effort.

Trump Urges Supporters to Gather in DC on Jan. 6 | 28 Dec 2020 | President Donald Trump on Sunday urged supporters to join the planned protests in Washington on Jan. 6, 2021. “See you in Washington, DC, on January 6th. Don’t miss it,” Trump wrote in a tweet, promising more information later. A number of groups are planning to gather in the nation’s capital next month as members of Congress convene in a joint session to count electoral votes. At least 11 members or members-elect in the House of Representatives plan to object to electoral votes. They have not yet received a commitment from a senator; challenges require both a representative and a member of the upper congressional chamber. The objection wouldn’t be upheld unless a majority of each chamber vote in favor of it.

Oops! Over 4,000,000 Votes Cast By the Same Person in Pennsylvania | 27 Dec 2020 | With 521,879 last names representing 9,008,753 votes we can determine that each unique surname is responsible for an average of 17.26 votes. ...The surname to votes ratio was 17:1. If there were 245,033 surnames were identical then the same person voted 4,165,561 times. On December 26, Bobby Piton tweeted: “I have some absolutely Stunning News to report regarding PA. I examined just over 9,008,753 records and have identified 521,879 unique Last Names. 245,033 or just under 47% of the total Last Names in PA only belong to 1 and only 1 person!”

Peter Navarro Says 379,000 Illegal Ballots Were Cast in Michigan | 21 Dec 2020 | Last Thursday, Dr. Peter Navarro released an explosive report outlining the fraud in the 2020 election. The report explained how Democrats cheated in the 2020 election in various contested states. Notably however, the report did not include a detailed breakdown of Michigan. At the time of the report, Dr. Navarro explained there was insufficient data to draw estimates of how the various types of irregularities in Michigan translate into possible illegal votes. This morning, Dr. Navarro joined Steve Bannon’s War Room: Pandemic. During the interview (48:00 mark), Navarro told Bannon he now has the “receipts” for Michigan. Dr. Navarro explained that Biden’s lead in Michigan is currently alleged to be 154,000 votes. “My top line number at this point for illegal, possibly illegal ballots, is 379,000,” Navarro said. “That’s more than twice the victory margin,” he continued. ★

Continued Rental Assistance May be Available from FEMA

OES Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - If you are a California survivor of the recent wildfires receiving rental assistance for temporary housing through FEMA's Individuals and Households Program, let FEMA know if you have a continuing need.

Rental assistance is for paying rent, including a security deposit, at a place other than your damaged home. To continue to receive it, you must prove an ongoing need, which may be that suitable housing is not available, or that your permanent housing plan has not been completed through no fault of your own.

You may Qualify for Continued Assistance if you:

Demonstrate your disaster-related financial need; and Show you are developing a longer-term or permanent housing plan or demonstrate progress toward one. A contractor's estimate of repairs can point to progress.

A permanent housing plan is one that would put you back into permanent safe, sanitary and functional housing within a reasonable time frame. You must continue to work toward obtaining permanent housing to remain eligible for Continued Rental Assistance.

The deadline to register with FEMA for disaster assistance for Disaster 4558 was Dec. 11, 2020. This is for August/September wildfires in the counties of Butte, Lake, Lassen, Mendocino, Monterey, Napa, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Solano, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Trinity, Tulare and Yolo. If you registered in time, you may apply for rental assistance even if you haven't already.

The deadline to register with FEMA for disaster assistance for Disaster 4569 was Dec. 16, 2020. This is for later fires in the counties of Fresno, Los Angeles, Madera, Mendocino, Napa, San Bernardino, San Diego, Shasta, Siskiyou and Sonoma.

If you are currently receiving rental assistance and you have an ongoing need, you must ask for it to continue. This is the process:

Contact FEMA; Prove you've spent previous assistance on rent; Provide the status of your housing plan.

Extensions on rental assistance may be granted for 3-month periods, up to a maximum of 18 months from the date of the presidential declarations: Aug. 22, 2020, for Disaster 4558 and Oct. 16, 2020, for Disaster 4569.

The application must be accompanied by these supporting documents:

Pre-disaster and current household income status; Copies of pre-disaster lease, utility bills, renter's insurance information; Copy of current lease or rental agreement signed by you and the landlord; Rental receipts, canceled checks or money orders showing the rental assistance was used to pay for housing expenses.

Submit documents by creating an account at DisasterAssistance.gov or by uploading via the FEMA app to a smartphone or tablet.

Homeowners:

If your FEMA Verified Loss exceeds the amount of initial Rental Assistance award you received, the application to request Continued Temporary Rental Assistance will be mailed to you after you receive your initial rental assistance award.

If your verified loss does not exceed the initial rental award, you must call the FEMA Helpline at 800-621-3362 (TTY: 800-462-7585) and ask for an application for Continued Temporary Rental Assistance.

Renters:

You will need to call the Helpline to ask for an application for Continued Temporary Rental Assistance.

Your request will be evaluated to determine if you are eligible for the extension, but there is no guarantee of rental assistance past the first two months.
