Ellis Lake gets restocked for the Summer

California Dept. of Fish and Wildlife (CDF&W) was asked to plant catfish for those who wish to fish this summer. Photo submitted by Edward Brown

By Edward Brown

MARYSVILLE, CA (MPG) - During the past years the Marysville Kiwanis have put on the Jim Watson Ellis Lake Fishing Derby. Unfortunately, this year's event on May 16th, was cancelled, due to the Covid-19 Virus. Concerned citizens are continuing the fish-out. The California Dept. of Fish and Wildlife (CDF&W) was asked to go ahead and deliver the catfish.

A tanker truck was dispatched from Modesto and arrived in Marysville on Thursday, the 6th of June. CDF&W biologists planted one-third of the fish in the north end of the lake and the other two-thirds in the 12th Street access and the south area boat ramp. ★

End State Licensing

Commentary by Lou Binninger

Mercedes Brockman, co-owner of Beyond Appearance Salon and Spa in Marysville said that the California Board of Barbering and Cosmetology threatening her stylists with loss of license if they did not stop working caused five to leave and never return. Brockman and co-owner Shenise Evans determined to defy state threats to keep from going bankrupt during the Corona shutdown.

The state's intimidation damaged Brockman and Evans' business by intimidating those employees, their most valuable assets.

Three blocks away Randy Mitchell cuts hair at his Upper Cuts Barbershop. Mitchell is the only Yuba-Sutter business owner cited by the police for staying open and has also received robo-call threats from the state along with personal calls from State Board employees.

Mitchell informed the state that it can take his barber shop's license and his personal license since he no longer recognizes their authority nor will pay fees to them in order to support his family.

The state, the county and the city have violated Mitchell's Constitutional rights to the free use of his property. And the state uses work permits as a means to control, extort money and intimidate licensees.

The State of California is nationally notorious for its excessive use of permits, licenses and fees to work. Over two million Californians must apply for permission to work in over 200 occupations from one of 42 government bureaus and boards. In the process, job seekers may have to spend thousands of dollars and spend years in government-mandated classes.

The State of California spends more than quarter of a billion dollars annually to regulate and license occupations ranging from tree trimmers to animal trainers. Funding comes from fees and citations issued by the licensing boards, and significant portions of licensing board budgets are used for enforcement (e.g. audits, sting operations) of board policies.

Licensing often requires submitting fingerprints, paying application fees, and documentation of fulfilling certain educational and/or work experience outlined by board policies. For some occupations, the educational and work requirements may take years and thousands of dollars; for others, individuals may just need to submit fingerprints and a fee.

What ever happened to laissez-faire capitalism? Laissez-faire is a French term meaning 'let do.' It is an economic system in which transactions between private parties are absent of any form of government intervention such as regulation and subsidies. Laissez-faire embraces the following principles; The individual is the basic unit in society; The individual has a natural right to freedom; Markets should be competitive, a rule that the early advocates of laissez-faire always emphasized. The state is a free-market crusher.

The state claims for example that it "protects consumers by regulating the construction industry through policies that promote the health, safety, and general welfare of the public in matters relating to construction." Similar language is used by other licensing boards, such as the Board of Barbering and Cosmetology, which claims to "ensure the health and safety" of Californians by "enforcing the laws of the beauty industry."

The fact is that their fees and licenses do not guarantee quality services nor the health and safety of consumers. Being licensed does not guarantee a good teacher, stylist or painter. The sickening aspect is that the state actually sends in undercover staff to set-up stings to entrap hard-working people.

There are already a myriad of laws and regulations providing recourse for consumers if damaged, exploited or defrauded by an occupation. And there are professional organizations that exist to offer training and promote best practices.

On average, other states license less than half the occupations California does. There is no evidence proving that state licensing protects the public or enhances public safety. State licensing of businesses is about control and collecting money for enforcement. It undermines freedom, keeps prices high and reduces competition from newcomers.

The Dhillon Law Group filed a suit to stop the state's recent harassment of barbers, salon and spa professionals for working during the Corona shutdown. Governor Newsom stopped his bullying nonsense the day before his day in court. These thousands of hard-working professionals should hire the Dhillon Group to set them free from being ruled by the state altogether.

Newsom Announces New Policing and Criminal Justice Reforms

Office of Governor Gavin
Newsom Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - After a week of engagement with civic leaders and law enforcement in the wake of the killing of George Floyd and demonstrations nationwide, Governor Newsom announced his support for new policing and criminal justice reforms. Governor Newsom will work toward a statewide standard for policing peaceful protests and ending the carotid hold. This announcement follows the work California did last year to enact the nation's strongest standard for police use of deadly force.

"We have a unique and special responsibility here in California to meet this historic moment head-on," said Governor Newsom. "We will not sit back passively as a state. I am proud that California has advanced a new conversation about broader criminal justice reform, but we have an extraordinary amount of work left to do to manifest a cultural change and a deeper understanding of what it is that we're working to advance. We will continue to lead in a direction that does justice to the message heard all across this state and nation."

Governor Newsom called for the creation of new standards for crowd control and use of force in protests. Governor Newsom committed to working with the Legislature, including the California Legislative Black Caucus, the California Latino Legislative Caucus and other legislative leaders, in consultation with national experts, community leaders, law enforcement and journalists to develop those standards – much like the collaboration that produced AB 392 last year, California's nation-leading use-of-force bill.

Additionally, he called for the end of the carotid hold and other like techniques in California, directing that the carotid hold be removed from the state police training program and state training materials. He committed to working with the Legislature on a statewide ban that would apply to all police forces across the state.

BCSO Announces Arrest of Oroville Resident for Possession of Child Pornography

Dwayne Hansen of Oroville, 49
Butte County Sheriff's Office Press Release

BUTTE COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Butte County Sheriff's Office (BCSO) announced the arrest of Dwayne Hansen of Oroville, 49. On May 29, Butte County Sheriff's Office deputies assigned to the Marine Unit were patrolling the area of the Monument Hill Boat Launch, Oroville. Deputies located a motorhome with expired registration parked in the Monument Hill parking lot. Deputies contacted Dwayne Hansen, the individual who was living in the motorhome. A records check indicated Hansen was required to register pursuant to the Sex Offender Registration Act.

During the contact with Hansen, deputies located marijuana and methamphetamine. While searching the motorhome deputies located children's underwear. Deputies questioned Hansen about the children's underwear. Hansen told deputies he used the children's underwear while performing sexual acts. Deputies continued speaking with Hansen, at which time Hansen disclosed he had child pornography on a cell phone located inside the motorhome. After disclosing he was in possession of child pornography, Hansen stood up and attempted to run away from deputies. After a short foot pursuit, Hansen was arrested without incident.

Detectives arrived and collected Hansen's electronic devices. Detectives authored a search warrant for the electronic devices, and a forensic download of the devices was conducted pursuant to the search warrant. Detectives located numerous images of child pornography on Hansen's electronic devices.

Hansen was booked into the Butte County Jail for a felony count of possession of more than 600 images of child pornography, a felony count of possession of child pornography showing the intentional infliction of pain on minor victims for the purpose of sexual gratification or stimulation, a felony count of possession of a controlled substance, a felony count of possession of nunchakus, a misdemeanor count of resisting or delaying a peace officer, and a misdemeanor count of possession of narcotics paraphernalia. The Sheriff's Office is asking anyone with additional information to contact Detective Jason Miller at 530-538-7671. ★

has been a key priority of Governor Newsom's first year in office. He placed a moratorium on the death penalty, citing racial and economic disparities in how it was applied. He proposed to close the Division of Juvenile Justice and proposed closing two state prisons. In his May Revision budget, Governor Newsom proposed expanding opportunities for rehabilitation and shortening prison time for offenders participating in treatment programs, in education programs and otherwise engaging in good behavior; as well as increasing access to higher education for young people who are incarcerated.

Governor Newsom acknowledged that more action is needed, and stated that additional reforms around police practices, educational equity, economic justice, health equity and more must be addressed with urgency. ★

2020 Nevada County Fair Canceled Amid COVID-19 Restrictions

Nevada County Fairgrounds Press Release

NEVADA COUNTY, CA (MPGF) - The Nevada County Fairgrounds Board of Directors voted to cancel the 2020 Nevada County Fair due to the COVID-19 public health crisis. The Board also voted to authorize an online junior livestock and ag mechanics auction.

The vote comes after delaying the decision two weeks ago following Governor Newsom's same-day announcement that California was moving rapidly into the next reopening stage. Since that meeting, the Fairgrounds Board and staff discussed the feasibility of different options with various Fair partners, communicated with State and public health officials, and further reviewed the Governor's executive orders and updated guidance regarding the COVID-19 pandemic and mass gatherings.

Nevertheless, according to the California Roadmap to Recovery, fairs and festivals remain in Stage 4 of the reopening plan and will not be permitted until the roadmap is complete and all shelter in place restrictions are lifted. At the Governor's May 29 daily update, he stated that "We're not ready for Stage 4 - concerts, big outdoor stadium events, festivals, and large conventions. We're simply not there. There is no sectoral guidance that's been given, no authority for local health officials to move into that phase."

"While it was an extremely difficult decision for the Board, and one that we were hoping could go in a different direction, it is the only decision we could make in light of the restrictions on mass gatherings," said Jeanette Royal, Board President of California's 17th District Agricultural Association. "The Board and staff realize that this action has a huge impact on so many - our community, local businesses, sponsors, youth in agriculture, vendors, entertainers, local nonprofit organizations, and the Nevada County Fairgrounds itself - and we actively explored numerous possibilities before making this devastating decision. However, the Fairgrounds are state-owned property and the Board of Directors is responsible for the health and safety of our community, guests, and staff. We are following the guidelines set by the Governor and State public health directives to postpone mass gatherings until we can safely host them again."

Since the 17th District Agricultural Association was formed in 1884, the Nevada County Fair has been one of the county's most popular and longest standing events. This will be the first time since World War II that the annual Fair will not take place.

"We are deeply saddened to not be celebrating together at Nevada County's favorite event," said Fairgrounds CEO Patrick Eidman. "But until we are able to safely gather again at the Fairgrounds, our team will be exploring opportunities to hold virtual exhibit contests and other activities in the spirit of the Fair. Additionally, we are steadfastly committed to working with the Nevada County Livestock Producers to support our livestock and ag mechanics exhibitors with an online auction."

Last year, the Nevada County Fair welcomed more than 95,000 guests to the grounds, generated millions of dollars for the local economy, provided more than $700,000 to youth in agriculture, broke record sales on Treat Street that infused almost $1,000,000 into local nonprofit organizations, showcased local entertainers and vendors, and provided nearly 250 jobs.

United Way Grills & Grilles Event Postponed

Funds raised by United Way go to help individuals with the basic needs of food, emergency shelter and access to health care. Photo: United Way of Nevada County

United Way of Nevada County Press Release

NEVADA COUNTY, CA (MPG) - United Way of Nevada County is postponing its annual Grills & Grilles event, which traditionally takes place at Western Gateway Park. Due to COVID-19, and the uncertainty of the upcoming months, it was necessary to postpone this event, which was scheduled for mid-October. This was a difficult decision, as this is United Way of Nevada County's largest fundraiser. The Board and Staff decided to cancel the event because it usually attracts more than 500 people and social distancing practices would be impossible to enforce.

United Way of Nevada County relies heavily on the funds raised from this event, which has been going on for twelve years. These funds are needed now, more than ever, to support United Way programs like Food Access Saturday and the High School Food Pantry. The need for supplemental food has greatly increased during this time and United Way has continued to work on growing these programs to meet the current needs of the community.

Megan Timpany, Executive Director of United Way of Nevada County said, "The impact that COVID-19 is having on the small business community and non-profits in our community is heart breaking". United Way works very closely with the small businesses and non-profits in this community. They have consistently and enthusiastically stepped up and supported United Way through the years. These businesses and nonprofits have helped United Way make Grills & Grilles a huge success. "As we begin to enter into this new environment, United Way encourages everyone to support our local business and non-profit community. They have been here for us, it is time for us to be there for them", says Timpany.

United Way of Nevada County Events committee hopes to come up with some new events that are better suited to our new environment. In the meantime, United Way plans to hold Grills & Grilles again in 2021, and would like to thank the community, Backyard BBQ teams, and businesses for their past support. All the funds raised from this event have gone back into the community to help individuals with the basic needs of food, emergency shelter and access to health care. BEALE AIR FORCE BASE, CA (MPG) - U.S. Air Force Gen. Mike Holmes, Air Combat Command (ACC) commander, announced ACC annual award winners.

Air Combat Command is the primary force provider of combat airpower to war fighting commands, which makes receiving recognition at that level prestigious. Our very own Senior Master Sgt. Adam Barraclough, 9th Security Forces Squadron superintendent, won ACC Senior Non-commissioned Officer (SNCO).

"It is an extreme honor to be selected to represent

Recce Town on the 12 Outstanding Airmen of the Year playing field," said Barraclough, "It's truly humbling because I don't feel I did anything special or out of the ordinary for a SNCO in the Security Forces career field."

Barraclough competed against six other SNCO's to win and he now moves up to the next level of competition with the Department of the Air Force level awards.

Barraclough leads 320 active duty, reserve, DoD civilian and DAF guard personnel in the safeguarding of $3.5B in Department of Defense (DoD) assets including a Protection Level 1 strategic missile and space tracking and warning system.

Barraclough serves as the principle adviser to the Security Forces Squadron commander on all issues regarding the welfare, readiness, morale, proper utilization and progress of 297 enlisted members. ★

Volunteers Get Fresh — Produce!

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - Volunteer muscle helped Gridley Relief Group and Gridley Area Chamber of Commerce distribute 8 pallets full of fresh vegetables and fruit last week.

Volunteer members of the groups set up at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church early in the morning of Wednesday, hoping to beat the heat and have the majority of the 325 boxes of produce given out before noon.

The fresh goodies were provided by Oroville's Hope Center and due to the sheer size of the donation and perishability, the fresh produce giveaway was open to the community. Each box was packed full of bags of potatoes, apples and onions. Chamber of Commerce Lynne Spencer helped deliver some boxes to the City of Gridley and organizations/persons in need, while other volunteers loaded boxes into vehicles.

Although it took a little longer than expected, the volunteers were able to distribute all the boxes to a very grateful community. ★

Corona Con Job

Commentary by Lou Binninger

A Con Job was used by the global cabal to instigate national emergencies in order to take control. Not new to communist countries, it was though for freer political systems and it worked. Declaring the common cold to be a 'Black Plague' scared the 'sheep' into dazed compliance.

Liberal governors thought they went to dictator heaven. They aimed for achieving total submission and will do their best to keep this as the 'New Normal.'

They are now micromanaging society by determining what people wear, how far apart to stand, who could meet and who could not, essential and nonessential businesses, fishing or not, walking or not. You know the routine by now. It is a 'psyop' (psychological experiment or operation).

The experiment's amazing success illustrated that people are amenable to being managed and controlled via psychological gamesmanship. Most folks still miss the point, being intellectually groggy like a patient trying to awaken in the recovery room. Many are still bickering over the efficacy of masks.

The 'psyop' employed the use of the Alice in Wonderland technique, a form of military mind-control or torture. The aim of the Alice in Wonderland or confusion technique is to confound the expectations and conditioned reactions of the interrogatee. He is accustomed to a world that makes sense, at least to him: a world of continuity and logic, a predictable world.

Humans are creatures of habit and routine, feeling confident and competent in an understandable world. They do not thrive in constant chaos. Tony Fauci and Deborah Birx were the American conductors of the confusing train down the black hole.

Remember when masks were not essential, then they were and now they are symbolic. Staying indoors would save you but then most people got the Corona Cold from their family member in close contact at home.

You could get the bug at church but not at Home Depot. Big box stores were Corona-free but not the small operator. Remember when churches would never meet again?

We may need to stay at home until we get vaccinated but now you can attend a riot to upend America. You could not travel freely any longer for enjoyment. Campgrounds were closed but other people can go anywhere. Some cities even became off limits to visit.

Schools must close though kids are nearly immune. So you need to teach your children at home while you are going broke not working. Then, schools may open sometime in the future under limited days and times and kids will have to wear masks. Why?

Last January, you were shamed for using disposable plastic bags because bags were contributing to the end of the world in 12 years. Now, 'virus-free' disposable bags are important to keep you in the world.

The CDC (Centers for Disease Control) said every surface was contaminated with Corona until it decided they weren't. Since no one ever heard of the common cold killing someone, psyop managers determined that people now die 'with Covid 19' not from it even if there is a bullet to the head, heart disease or brain cancer.

This Covid doublespeak is accepted today because Americans have been so dumbed-down they can't critically think any longer. They are like cows staring at a new gate or CNN.

Hospitals are empty to make room for the 'scamdemic' patients while canceling cancer surgeries, but abortions are essential services. Inmates are released from jail to save them while new arrests are booked and released to commit more crimes. Does your world seem upside down yet? That's the idea. Flustered people are submissive.

This is the first time in history that healthy people were mandated by government to quarantine. However, people are immune to Covid if they riot, kill police officers and shop keepers. Remember those 32 law-abiding citizens arrested May 1 for peacefully being on Capitol grounds in Sacramento? They violated Covid rules and disagreed with Governor Newsom's closure of the state.

Those behind the global exercise do not believe George Floyd or Blacks matter at all or the demonstrations would be at abortion clinics where most Blacks die. Liberal power brokers are intent on exterminating them whatever the technique, shooting each another, abortion or mandatory vaccinations.

Don't try to make sense of it. Evil is confusing. No logic. No honesty. No integrity.

Price Controls Would Prevent COVID-19 Medicine

Sally Pipes

Commentary by Sally C. Pipes

America's biopharmaceutical industry dwarfs most other economic sectors. It's one of our nation's single biggest job creators, supporting close to a million positions across the country. And its products save countless lives each year.

Yet for some reason, politicians in both parties seem determined to snuff it out by imposing crippling price controls on medicines. That would be a disaster for employees and patients alike.

The industry has been an economic behemoth for decades. It contributes more to GDP than the agricultural and utility industries combined. The total value of the goods and services directly produced by drug firms totaled $560 billion in 2017, according to a new report from TEconomy Partners. And after factoring in the output from drug companies' vendors and other partners, that figure exceeds $1.1 trillion.

The industry also generates millions of high-paying jobs. Drug companies directly employed more than 811,000 Americans and indirectly supported over 3 million others in 2017. A third of those jobs are coveted science, technology, engineering, and math positions – the occupations of the future. And average compensation in the industry exceeded $126,500 per worker in 2017. That's more than twice the U.S. private sector average of $60,700.

Of course, the industry isn't just an economic powerhouse. It's also the global leader in medical innovation, producing half of the world's new medicines. Right now, U.S. researchers are working on more than 4,500 new drugs.

Despite these successes, drug development remains an expensive and risky venture. The White House Council of Economic Advisors estimates the cost of developing a single new drug at $2 billion. Firms generally dedicate 15 to 20 percent of their revenues to drug development.

ut now, some lawmakers want to weaken the industry responsible for this economic growth and medical innovation. The recent drug pricing bill passed by the House, H.R. 3, would empower the government to cap the price of 250 common brand-name drugs. The prices could not exceed 120 percent of the average prices paid in six other developed countries with government-dominated health systems, including Canada, France, and the United Kingdom.

These price controls would reduce drug companies' revenues by $1 trillion over 10 years, according to the Congressional Budget Office. Based on the Council of Economic Advisors' assumptions, that means firms will devote roughly $200 billion less to research and development, resulting in 100 fewer new drugs over the next decade.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee is pushing its own price control bill. The legislation would bar companies from raising prices faster than the rate of inflation. And it would effectively levy taxes on drug companies by increasing their cost-sharing liability in Medicare's prescription drug benefit. All told, the bill would cost biopharmaceutical firms $100 billion over the next 10 years.

Once these price controls, taxes, and other penalties begin depleting their revenue, firms will curtail research and development – and thus lay off American workers. According to a recent poll, 45 percent of drug firms said that "significant" reductions in research and development could force immediate job cuts and facility closures.

Let's hope our leaders in Washington reconsider proposals that would cripple one of America's largest and most innovative industries – and leave patients without the lifesaving drugs they need.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

"I'm using a dry fly!"

It was just one of those things. It didn't really mean Marvin Pincus had lost his mind. Consider this yourself for a minute. Marvin had opened the mail that morning and in it was the Fenwick glass fly rod he'd ordered. Oh, it was used, of course. But there's a feel to a Fenwick that only a man dedicated to a life of using dry flies can appreciate. The weather was gorgeous. The fish were biting on Lewis Creek. But there was a hitch. Marvin had broken his ankle the previous week and was temporarily in a wheelchair. It was his right ankle, so he couldn't drive down to the creek. And there, in his hands, was the Fenwick. He put it together, attached a reel and some four-weight line and set it on the couch and looked at it. Marjorie was off visiting her sister, so she couldn't help him. But there's a pull, an irresistible draw to a fly rod. He had to cast it. Now. It took Marvin about 20 minutes to negotiate the front steps with that wheelchair and the Fenwick. Oh, he could've called a friend to help him, but how could he possibly explain why? Finally, he negotiated the sidewalk and then the edge of the street itself. There were no cars coming this early afternoon. Up came the Fenwick. A few swishes in the air told Marvin he'd done the right thing in ordering the rod. So he ran out some line and began casting. About half-way across the street was a large mulberry leaf. He did a double haul on the line and sent the fly toward the leaf.

It took several tries before he hit it, but when he made that cast, you could've sold tickets to it. His fly came to rest about three feet above the leaf and then fluttered gently down onto its target. Marvin's smile said it all. Then the school bus came around the corner full of kids heading home, and Marvin realized he was casting a fly rod from a wheelchair onto dry pavement. "Hi Mr. Pincus!" yelled one of the kids. "Catch anything?" "A little slow today, Billy," he yelled back. "Isn't it hard to catch fish without water?" Billy yelled. "It's okay, son," Marvin said with a grin. "I'm using a dry fly!" Brought to you by The Fly Fisherman's Bucket List. More than 100 places to go to have a great time. Check it out at www.nmsantos.com. ★

Sector Rotation

"Sector rotation" in stocks means money comes out of one area of investment and moves into another.

At any given time, certain areas of investing can be hot while others are not. Certainly during the period leading up to the dot.com stock mania, one could safely say technology stocks were in favor and explosive price growth was the sought after result.

Any stock with a dot.com moniker would be gobbled up by greedy investors looking for fast and furious gains. Meanwhile the old "stodgy" stocks that paid consistent dividends like utilities or oil stocks may have been shunned in favor of the hot stocks of the day. Investors thought the stalwart stock names of oil, food, autos or what-have-you did not offer the lighting-fast, explosive growth that a dot.com stock promised.

Fast forward a few years and dot.com fell from favor. They were replaced by housing stocks and its various related sectors.

Sector rotation can take place at any time and for a variety of reasons. A new discovery such as a cure for cancer could cause a sector rotation into health care or pharmaceutical stocks. History is rife with well-known sector rotations.

A decade or so back, the health benefits of grape related drinks caused a rotation into the wine and beverage sectors. Looking farther back the Texas oil bonanza caused oil and oil related equipment producers to rally. The movement to alternative energy caused related stocks in that sector to rise while hydrocarbon type stocks may have fallen.

The reality is sectors can fall in and out of favor and for a variety of reasons.

It's this ebb and flow of investor dollars that may cause stock prices in certain sectors to fall in mass for no other reason than a sector is becoming yesterday's news.

Catch a hot sector early and profits could be made. Be late to the party or stay too long, and falling stock prices reflecting investors vacating the sector for greener pastures could hurt portfolio balances.

Early on during the CoVid shutdown, most all areas of the stock market fell in concert. A few weeks in and investor monies surfaced into a variety of stock sectors. Biotech and pharmaceutical stocks caught an early bid as did the internet communication stocks, streaming movie companies, online retailing and the companies that serviced and maintained the conduits of such businesses.

Meanwhile the hardest hit sectors were the vacation and travel stocks like hotels, theme parks, airlines, cruise ships and similar sectors. Companies that by their nature facilitate people in close proximity to each other like movie theaters and restaurants also suffered.

Sector rotation into the "stay-at-home" economy stocks caused a significant river of investor dollars to flow into certain sectors while other sectors fell mercilessly.

Last week saw another sector rotation that may have taken many investors and advisors by surprise and it was fast and furious in its migration of dollars.

On Friday June 5th, the Labor Department reported that May payrolls increased by 2.5 million, shocking investors and analysts alike. Forecasters had called for another dreadful report following a sharp decline of 20.7 million lost jobs in the prior month. The gain was the largest positive number going back to 1939.

That report, coupled with the fact that all 50 states were in various stages of reopening, caused an obvious sector rotation out of the "stay-at-home" stocks into what I call the "get-away-from home" stocks.

Video conferencing, health care, online shopping and other related sectors fell hard with little exception or reason, while the hardest hit shutdown stocks like hotels, airlines, cruise ships, retail and other related areas rose.

The stocks in these areas had been stealthily lifting off their lows in recent days and the jobs report lit the afterburners of many of these companies.

This was a clear example of nothing more than sector rotation, based on investor expectations that the lows in some of these stocks may have already been reached and that it was time to go shopping in the bargain basement of the stock market. Meanwhile holders of the stay-at-home stocks were left scratching their heads as to what had happened to cause their recent favorite stocks to crater. The answer was nothing specifically. They were simply a victim of sector rotation.

Community to Hold United Way Drive-thru for Food Access

United Way of Nevada County Press Release

NEVADA COUNTY, CA (MPG) - During these unprecedented times, many individuals in our community are struggling to get food on the table. Due to COVID-19, United Way of Nevada County (UWNC) and Interfaith Food Ministry (IFM) have implemented a safe, drive-thru distribution for Food Access Saturday. They will be monitoring the situation closely and taking necessary precautions to help make sure that everyone remains safe. The need for food has grown exponentially during the pandemic, making this program even more critical.

United Way and IFM envision a community where individuals do not have to choose between buying food and paying for basic needs. The Food Access Saturday program was formed three years ago for working individuals who need help putting food on their table, but are unable to pick up food at local food distributions during the workweek. Nutritious supplemental food is distributed on the second Saturday of each month. The program has grown to encompass a larger population; welcoming others to the table, including anyone who needs food but is unable to make it to other local food distributions. Since the program began, nearly 8,000 bags of food, including fresh fruit and produce, have been given out to over 3,520 individuals. Megan Timpany, Executive Director of United Way of Nevada County, said "Our partnership with IFM created this great program, which helps feed food to insecure families of Nevada County."

United Way of Nevada County strives to assure individuals and families in Nevada County to meet their basic need for food, emergency shelter and access to health care. Interfaith Food Ministry works to reduce food insecurity in Western Nevada County. They feed the hungry, helping to sustain good health and human dignity. The distributions take place at 440 Henderson Street, in Grass Valley, from 10am-noon on the 2nd Saturday of each month. For more information, contact United Way at 274-8111 or admin@uwnc.org. ★

Social Security Matters

How Do I Apply with Social Security Offices Closed?

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I am 64 years old and would like advice on how to move forward to apply for Social Security now instead of waiting until I am the "magic" age of 66.5 years. Signed: Ready for Retirement

Dear Ready for Retirement: All Social Security offices are currently closed to public visits, but they are still providing telephone services (although telephone wait times are usually longer these days). You can apply over the phone if you wish. However, the most efficient way to apply for your Social Security benefit, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic, is to apply online. You will need to create your personal "My Social Security" account prior to applying online, but that is easy to do at www.ssa.gov/myaccount. For information, Social Security uses a "two-factor" identification process for security purposes, usually by asking you to enter, in addition to your password, a special ID code sent to your cell phone (or email).. Once you have set up your personal account, you can use the online application process at www.ssa.gov/retire.

Here is a link to a short video from Social Security which explains the online application process: www.ssa.gov/hlp/video/iclaim_r01.htm. When you start the online process, be sure to write down the reentry code, which will allow you to save and re-enter your online application as many times as needed before you finally submit it. Once it is submitted, Social Security will call you or write you to get any additional information they need. A couple of things I want to be sure you are aware of:

By claiming before your full retirement age (FRA) your benefit amount will be permanently reduced. The reduction is about 0.556% per month prior to your FRA that you claim (at 64, a reduction of about 15%).

Finally, if you are still working, you'll be subject to Social Security's earnings test until you reach your full retirement age. If you start benefits mid-year 2020, you'll be subject to a monthly earnings limit of $1520, and if you exceed that limit you won't be eligible for benefits for that month. The following years you'll be subject to an annual limit, until you reach your FRA when there is no longer a limit to how much you can earn.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being ing auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.altisource.com/MortgageServices/DefaultManagement/TrusteeServices.aspx> using the file number assigned to this case 2020-00385-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

Food & Farm News

Klamath Farmers Face Early Water Shutoff

With their water supplies due to run dry by mid-June, farmers in the Klamath Basin say they face the "heartbreaking" prospect of watching crops wither. Farmers planted crops based on an April allocation from the federal Klamath Project – only to have the allocation cut sharply in May. After a dry winter, project operators reduced irrigation supplies out of concern for protected fish.

Pepper Growers See Robust Demand

On-farm prices for California-grown green bell peppers have been sharply higher than a year ago, but farmers say that has more to do with short crops in other regions than pandemic-related changes in demand. In the Coachella Valley, farmers say they're harvesting red and yellow bell peppers along with green bells. Fewer peppers than expected from Mexico have been reaching market, heightening demand for the California crops.

Usda Analyst Says Food System Remains Resilient

Despite the shocks the pandemic has delivered to the food system, the chief economist at the U.S. Department of Agriculture says people "can continue to rely on abundant food supplies." USDA economist Robert Johansson says food markets remain well-supplied, and describes disruptions as "temporary and limited." He says the food system has weathered impacts of the pandemic well, though it's hard to predict how conditions will evolve.

Agritourism Farms Adapt Their Operations

As farmers adjust to how the pandemic has changed markets, those who run agricultural tourism businesses modify their operations to fit the times. With school tours and other offerings suspended, agritourism farms have focused on farm stands, subscription services and drive-through markets. A Northern California farmer who runs a pumpkin patch says he'll start planting this month and still plans to open this fall, though with some changes. ★
