First Place Marysville Parade

For Creative Lighting

by John Mistler

Marysville, Ca

The theme of the 69th Annual Marysville Christmas Parade was "Nautical or Nice". The parade consisted of "A Beachy Boat Parade of Lights through Historic Downtown Marysville".

The First Place winner for Most Creative Lighting was Shayla Metal Buildings and

More. Shayla Sullivan found the boat in a field and it was scheduled to be destroyed. She immediately saw that the boat could be repurposed and with the help of her husband Robert they put it on a trailer added lights and it became a float in the Beachy Boat Parade.

Shayla said, " Since the parade she has talked to several people in the area that have memories of the boat. At one time it was even used as a playhouse for kids.

The boat is now on display for the Christmas Season, at the Rubel Ranch, highway 20 in Hallwood.

Miscues at TE Mathews / Carden

by Lou Binninger

Usually when trouble or miscues are discussed regarding Carden School at Juvenile Hall or TE Mathews (TEM) School for youth on probation the students are the topic. However, this year, it's the teachers.

Carden teacher Heather Frey, 41 resigned in April when it was discovered that on February 23 she married a former juvenile hall inmate Joseph Etchevarria after he was transferred to Yuba County Jail. Etchevarria took a plea deal for voluntary manslaughter and was moved to the jail after turning 18. There had been a tip that Frey and Etchevarria were romantically involved when he was a minor at the hall.

Then, TEM instructor Sylvester White was placed on administrative leave October 30 after making an disparaging

Feucht Takes on Garamendi

by Lou Binninger

Author, recording artist, business owner and missionary Sean Feucht (pronounced foyt) is challenging 45-year politician Congressman John Garamendi to represent California's Third District (Colusa, Sutter, and Yuba counties plus portions of Glenn, Lake, Sacramento, Solano, and Yolo counties) in Washington D.C.

The seventy-four-year-old Garamendi was first elected to the California Assembly in 1974. He entered politics after graduating from college and serving two years in the Peace Corps. Garamendi has also been elected to the State Senate, as Insurance Commissioner and Lt. Governor of California. He was appointed to be Deputy Secretary of the Interior under President Bill Clinton.

Garamendi, a democrat, has represented the Third District since its borders were redrawn to take in more liberal re-

Package Theft Suspect Arrested

Linda, Ca.

At approximately 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday 12/17/19, Yuba County Sheriff Deputies arrested 34-year-old Anthony Benjamin Duran Jr of Linda on an outstanding warrant after responding to a call reporting a subject stealing a package from the front of a residence in the 1500 block of Tadpole Way in East Linda.

A neighbor called the Yuba County Sheriff's Department to report the suspect, later identified as Duran, had just taken a package from his neighbor's home and was running on Cobblestone Drive toward the elementary school. Upon deputies' arrival to the area, they spotted Duran, who tossed the package when he saw the deputies and continued to flee on foot.

Deputies pursued the suspect to the area of Park Ave and Hammonton Smartsville Rd where he was located and detained after jumping a fence into the backyard of a residence.

Duran was arrested on a warrant out of Yuba City for a violation of probation and booked into Yuba County Jail. The package was returned to the victim, who declined charges for the Petty Theft.

Deadline Approaching for Filing Fire Claims in PG&E Chapter 11 Case

Fire Claimant Proof of Claim Forms Need to be Received Before the Deadline of December 31, 2019 at 5:00 PM (Pacific Time)

San Francisco, Ca

PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas and Electric Company (together "PG&E") are sharing an important reminder that the Bankruptcy Court-approved deadline for unfiled, non-governmental fire claimants to file claims against PG&E is December 31, 2019, at 5:00 p.m. (Pacific Time). The deadline for filing claims is known as the Bar Date.

Claims related to the Northern California fires that arose prior to January 29, 2019, must be filed in PG&E's Chapter 11 cases and received no later than the deadline of December 31, 2019, at 5:00 p.m. (Pacific Time). If any person or entity believes money is owed to them by PG&E for loss or injury resulting from the Northern California fires that arose before PG&E filed for Chapter 11 on January 29, 2019, then they must file a Proof of Claim before the Bar Date.

If those who are affected do not submit a Proof of Claim by this extended deadline, they may be barred from filing a claim against PG&E and give up rights to any payment or other compensation.

Fire claims can be filed at one of six PG&E Claim Service Centers (listed below), or

Comedy Night Returns to the Burrows Theater in Marysville

Tickle Your Funny Bone

Marysville, Ca.

Come January, you are going to need a jolt of something strong to get you out of your post-holiday slump. How about spending an evening with some really funny folks for a night of hilarity at the “Tickle Your Funny Bone” comedy show at Yuba Sutter Arts?

Show producers Stoney Meagher (the photographer and wanna be comedian) and Rudy Gonzalez (the Fantastic Shine guy and wanna be comedian) have put together a fun evening guaranteed to make you laugh. Comedians performing include Randy Warner, who will serve as the host for the evening, headliner, Cami Oh, Phil Corbin, aka Phil from Chico and Dillion Collins. Rudy and Stoney will also present some short side skits between comics so you don't get bored.

So, what do comedians do when they are not on stage being funny? After a long career in supply chain management, Stoney now runs a full-service photography business and Rudy has a commercial cleaning business, but what about the others? Randy Warner is a Staff Programmer Analyst for the California

Air Resources Board. Cami Oh is a local radio personality. Phil from Chico lists his many job skills as bartender, construction worker, driver and graphic designer and his nickname is DJ Thunder Pickle. And Dillon Collins owned an Entrée Express business and is a counterperson at McDonald's. It seems like “a [comedian's] got to do what a [comedian's] got to do” to support the comedy habit.

The show will be held at the Burrows Theater at Yuba Sutter Arts, 630 E Street in Marysville on Saturday, January 24th. Doors open at 6:30 for cocktails and the shows start at 7:00. General admission is $10. Light appetizers will be available and there will be a full no-host bar.

Tickets may be purchased online at yuba-sutterarts.org or in person at Yuba Sutter Arts, 624 E Street, Wednesday through Friday from 11-4. Plenty of free parking is available on the adjacent streets and in the nearby Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots.

Come out and support live entertainment in the community. Contact Yuba Sutter Arts at 530-742-ARTS or email david@yubasutterarts.org for more information.

CRITIC'S CORNER

by Matt Woolery

Knives Out

Starring: Daniel Craig, Chris Evans and Ana de Armas. Rated: PG-13. Runtime 2 hrs, 10 min

A private detective is hired to investigate the apparent suicide of a wealthy mystery author by an anonymous party. As the investigation ensues motives are sussed and intents are questioned.

Knives Out, earns three out of five, Gold Digging Monkeys. The story is laid out through many narrative perspectives and yet is easy and fun to follow. The acting is fun to watch and it is a properly produced film. All in all this is a fun movie to watch at the spur of the moment and wont leave you regretting the cost of admission.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan “Boots” Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Fishing folks, guides and just about anyone who loves to fish for striped bass showed up in Sacramento to protest, once again, the regulations pertaining to Striped Bass at last week's meeting. Once again the attempt by the Department of Fish and Wildlife to seriously curtail striped bass fishing in California was shot down.

Once again the experts and concerned sportsmen invaded the December 5th meeting and disagreed with the Fish and Game in regard to the striped bass being responsible for the decline in Salmon.

Recent and ongoing foul weather has raised the rivers and muddled them up a bit which has started the sturgeon to move upstream. This time of year, when the water turns brown is the best time to fish for these huge monsters. Catfish are also on the bite.

Our weather source tells us to expect wet conditions on and off through the end of December. In fact he has advised us to possibly expect a white Christmas down as low as Grass Valley. Those of us who live in the valley might just be able to throw a snowball or two in the Sutter Buttes.

A report tells us that Eagle Lake, above Susanville is starting to freeze over. This popular natural lake closed to all fishing on December 31st.

We wish all a Merry Christmas. May your dreams be answered and your wishes come true.

Closing thought: “If you have a person on your Christmas list you missed or had not gotten to yet a present which involves fishing is a great idea.”

Which of These Costly Homeseller Mistakes Will You Make When You Sell Your Home?

- A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9 Step System that can help you sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market. The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their homes and become disillusioned and - worse - financially disadvantaged when they put their homes on the market. As this report uncovers, most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable. In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar".

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-855-925-1076 and enter 1000. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

What is fair and who decides?

It is said if you want to convince the masses of something, develop a short and concise theme and repeat it over and over.

Most of us have been subjected to many of these. I call it brainwashing and certainly I have fallen for a few in my lifetime but I try to remember what my dad always said “when everybody is thinking the same thing nobody is thinking”.

I do seem to hear a lot of these concise mantras put forth way too often. And some don't make any sense. In fact, come to think of it, most of them don't.

One common one I am hearing now that the presidential elections are coming is “pay their fair share”.

Referring to the rich obviously, I have to scoff at this ridiculous petition to get votes. Pay their fair share. This might go along with the other foolish rhetoric common nowadays “the living wage”.

So dissecting these, I have to start by saying whom exactly decides what is fair and what exactly is a living wage?

Someone else besides the one on the hook for paying it I suppose. Seemingly it's always somebody else deciding what another should pay. And isn't that the way of it.

I dare to say there is two types of people in the world. Those that make enough money and those that want to take it. You could also say there are those that believe retaining one's personal possessions is a basic right and those that ignore that right.

Regardless of what the “thing” is, if someone has too much of it, there will be someone else who lays claim to it. This claim usually has little to do with how the thing was obtained. No matter if someone worked his butt off to get it, saved a long time to amass it or just inherited it from a parent that did, if its deemed “too much” there are those that believe it should now be someone else's, or at least part of it should be. That's where the subjective part of the mantra comes in. Words like fair share or living wage are tossed about like some God given edict applies.

Can't recall ever seeing what exactly a “fair” share is, or just what amount is a wage suitable for living. But those that believe such things seem to have an idea of just how much is too much. Thank goodness breasts aren't divisible, or hair transferable.

Wait a minute, now that I think of it, I could use little more of the latter. Is it fair some have hair like Motley Crue while others have to sunscreen up their dome?

It's probably not fair. Sometimes I admit it bugs me when I look at a picture of someone with a hairline resembling a Planet of the Apes movie. He won the hair lottery. I did not.

But hey, although seemingly unfair, I realize it's not unfair, although it may seem like it is at times.

Rather my good sense calls it life. Life is not fair. It's a part of, well, life.

Nowhere is it written that life is fair. One could say life is unfair. Birds eat worms. Not exactly fair to the worm. In fact it's fatal. But its life. Trying to mandate fairness in life is like trying to stop it from raining. It's an exercise in absolute futility.

Some mope around dwelling on all the inequality that life offers up. But then you end up moping instead being grateful. That's not life, its ingratitude. And I was told more than once, if we're not thankful for what we have, we will never be happy with what we don't.

Yes some people make more money. Some a lot more. Some have millions while others have none.

Funny thing is, we were all born naked. Some with a bank account, true, but everyone has the right to try and make a bank account and last time I looked, there were still a lot of people starting with nothing becoming people with something.

Through hard work? Maybe. Maybe some hit the lottery and didn't work at all. Is that fair?

No, it's called the lottery and it's not fair that somebody wins it, but it happens. Funny thing however, nobody ever goes after them in the news. For some reason if you win it, all is fair. But if you work for it, nothing is.

No dear reader, I don't know what paying a fair share means, nor a living wage. Both take someone to be the judge of whatever that is, and I am not ready to have so much hubris to think anyone can or should decide such things for another.

I don't mind if there is rich people, millionaires or billionaires. There is no shortage of greenbacks if one thinks of a way to acquire them.

And it's not fair my head has thinning hair while my neighbor's thick curly locks flow magnificently in the wind.

It's called life.

Get over it.

Elks Drug Awareness Program

Submitted by Roy Newman, Past Exalted Ruler Marysville Elks Lodge #783

Stemming from a recent partnership with the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA), the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks (BPOE) has created a Resource Center, which is the largest volunteer drug awareness program in the United States. The Elks are committed to eliminating the use and abuse of illegal drugs by all members of society and believe that in order to ensure a bright future for our country, it is essential that our children be raised in a drug-free environment.

The BPOE is very proud of its army of volunteers who freely give their time and talents to this most noble cause. The Elks' Drug Awareness Resource Center has been established as a gateway for teachers, youth group leaders, parents, grandparents, teens, and others to better arm themselves with information on drug awareness education.

The State of Florida recently passed legislation that requires drug education classes for students in grades K through 12. More states are considering this legislation and more educators are turning to the Elks to provide assistance and materials to enhance their curriculums.

If you'd like to join the Elks' “Army of Volunteers”, visit the Elks' Resource Center's recently released website: www.elksteenzone.org, and find out how!!

Impeachment (For the Children) A Political Action Not Based on Due Process

by John Mistler

Impeachment is the process by which a legislative body levels charges (accusations) against a government official. Impeachment does not in itself remove the official definitively from office; it is similar to an indictment in criminal law, and thus it is essentially the statement of charges or accusations against the official. (A political action not based on our law of due process).

Once an individual is impeached, (by a majority of the House of Representatives vote on agreement of the accusations) they must then face the possibility of conviction on the charges or accusations by a legislative vote, which is separate from the impeachment, but flows from it, and a judgment which convicts the official on the articles of impeachment entails the official's definitive removal from office. (A political action by a majority vote of the Senate, not based on the law of due process).

Because impeachment and conviction of officials involve an overturning of the normal constitutional procedures by which individuals achieve high office (election, ratification, or appointment) and because it generally requires a supermajority, they are usually reserved for those deemed to have committed serious abuses of their office. In the United States, for example, impeachment at the federal level is limited to those who may have committed "Treason, Bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors".

Article One of the United States Constitution gives the House of Representatives the sole power of impeachment and the Senate the sole power to try impeachments of officers of the U.S. federal government.

Impeachment is only the first of two stages, and conviction during the second stage requires "the concurrence of two thirds of the members present".

Although the subject of the charge is criminal action, it does not constitute a criminal trial; the only question under consideration is the removal of the individual from office, and the possibilities of a subsequent vote preventing the removed official from ever again holding political office in the jurisdiction where they were removed.

As of this writing the Speaker of the House is refusing to forward the Articles of Impeachment to the Senate, the next step in impeachment. The Senate could reject the Articles or begin a due process to determine if the Articles are legitimate or meet the standard of impeachment rising to Treason, Bribery, or other crimes and misdemeanors. The Senate does not have to, but could call witnesses to refute the accusations; this side of the story has not been told yet.

A majority of Democrats in the House of Representatives said they voted for impeachment "for the children."

When Liberals can't solve a problem they say. It's the "New Normal."

When they pass legislation that cannot be defended they say, "We need to do it for the children."

Protecting Trees from Bark Beetles

Sixty years ago, Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research for whom I worked was doing experiments on Ponderosa pines in Crystal Bay Nevada where Incline Village is now located. Before we began there was a meeting of private landowners, the US forest Service, forestry professors and forest entomologists from Germany, UC Berkeley, Humboldt State College and Oregon State University at Corvallis. The gist of the information conveyed to the people gathered there was drastic thinning was required of the second growth forest that had sprung up after the area had been literally clear cut for timbers for the Comstock lode at Virginia City Nevada. The sandy soil didn't have the water retention required for such a forest.

The thinning never occurred and, in a few years, a minor infestation of the mountain pine beetle attacking the Ponderosa pine became almost a total removal of Ponderosa pine from the Tahoe basin.

Our crew was taking oleoresin (pitch or resin) exudation pressures of the Ponderosa pines.

Before dawn the resin pressures would be above 100 psi. But soon as the sun rays hit the pine needles the resin pressures would drop often to zero. In order to get enough CO2 for photosynthesis the stomata had to open wide, but this led to the transpiration of much needed water. And the soil didn't have enough water to replace the water lost to transpiration. When this happened the resin pressure dropped as water is a necessary ingredient to maintain resin pressure. At over six thousand feet elevation the Tahoe basin has thin air with low CO2 and insufficient water in the soil for thick healthy forests. So, the trees were in CO2 and water starvation. High resin pressure is the trees natural defense against bark beetle attack. When bark beetle populations get high even healthy trees with high resin pressures are susceptible to beetle attack. It is called a mass attack and is like turning on hundreds of water faucets in a home at the same time with the pressure dropping to zero. The tree may be able to flood out a few attacks but not hundreds.

Taking Biochemistry at UC Davis I came to understand the miracle of photosynthesis and the vast amount of energy it removes from the environment during the conversion of light energy, CO2 and water into glucose and oxygen. Increasing the amount of CO2 in our atmosphere increases the rate of photosynthesis taking more energy out of the atmosphere causing most species of plants to grow faster and letting them encroach on drier regions as they don't have to open their stomates as wide reducing transpiration. To see the effect of photosynthesis put your hand on cement on a hot summer day and it will burn, then put your hand on a lawn and it will be cool. And we haven't discussed the vast amount of photosynthesis that takes place in our oceans.

Most of the CO2 present in our atmosphere and oceans millions of years ago is today locked up in rocks such as limestone, dolomite and other rock assemblages.

There have been ice ages where the CO2 concentrations in our atmosphere were much higher than it is today, as determined from ice cores from Antarctica and Greenland.

So, the question is does increasing CO2 lower the temperature offsetting its greenhouse effect?

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

Following is the celebrated December 17, 2019, letter from President Trump to Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi, in part:

Trump's Letter to Pelosi Protesting Impeachment

Dear Madam Speaker:

I write to express my strongest and most powerful protest against the partisan impeachment crusade being pursued by the Democrats in the House of Representatives. This impeachment represents an unprecedented and unconstitutional abuse of power by Democrat Lawmakers, unequaled in nearly two and a half centuries of American legislative history.

The Articles of Impeachment introduced by the House Judiciary Committee are not recognizable under any standard of Constitutional theory, interpretation, or jurisprudence. They include no crimes, no misdemeanors, and no offenses whatsoever. You have cheapened the importance of the very ugly word, impeachment!

Your first claim, "Abuse of Power," is a completely disingenuous, meritless, and baseless invention of your imagination. You know that I had a totally innocent conversation with the President of Ukraine. I then had a second conversation that has been misquoted, mischaracterized, and fraudulently misrepresented. Fortunately, there was a transcript of the conversation taken, and you know from the transcript (which was immediately made available) that the paragraph in question was perfect. I said to President Zelensky: "I would like you to do us a favor, though, because our country has been through a lot and Ukraine knows a lot about it." I said do us a favor, not me, and our country, not a campaign. I then mentioned the Attorney General of the United States. Every time I talk with a foreign leader, I put America's interests first, just as I did with President Zelensky.

You know full well that Vice President Biden used his office and $1 billion dollars of U.S. aid money to coerce Ukraine into firing the prosecutor who was digging into the company paying his son millions of dollars.

You know this because Biden bragged about it on video. Biden openly stated: "I said, 'I'm telling you, you're not getting the billion dollars'...I looked at them and said: 'I'm leaving in six hours. If the prosecutor is not fired, you're not getting the money.' Well, son of a bitch. He got fired." Even Joe Biden admitted just days ago in an interview with NPR that it "looked bad."

Now you are trying to impeach me by falsely ac-curring me of doing what Joe Biden has admitted he actually did.

President Zelensky has repeatedly declared that I did nothing wrong, and that there was No Pressure. He further emphasized that it was a "good phone call," that "I don't feel pressure," and explicitly stressed that "nobody pushed me." U.S. Ambassador Sondland testified that I told him: "No quid pro quo. I want nothing. I want nothing. I want President Zelensky to do the right thing, do what he ran on."

Congressman Adam Schiff cheated and lied all the way up to the present day, even going so far as to fraudulently make up, out of thin air, my conversation with President Zelensky of Ukraine and read this fantasy language to Congress as though it were said by me.

His shameless lies and deceptions, dating all the way back to the Russia Hoax, is one of the main reasons we are here today.

There is nothing I would rather do than stop referring to your party as the Do-Nothing Democrats. Unfortunately, I don't know that you will ever give me a chance to do so.

After three years of unfair and unwarranted investigations, 45 million dollars spent, 18 angry Democrat prosecutors, the entire force of the FBI, headed by leadership now proven to be totally incompetent and corrupt, you have found NOTHING! Few people in high position could have endured or passed this test. You do not know, nor do you care, the great damage and hurt you have inflicted upon wonderful and loving members of my family. You conducted a fake investigation upon the democratically elected President of the United States, and you are doing it yet again.

There are not many people who could have taken the punishment inflicted during this period of time, and yet done so much for the success of America and its citizens. But instead of putting our country first, you have decided to disgrace our country still further. You completely failed with the Mueller report because there was nothing to find, so you decided to take the next hoax that came along, the phone call with Ukraine — even though it was a perfect call. And by the way, when I speak to foreign countries, there are many people, with permission, listening to the call on both sides of the conversation.

You are the ones interfering in America's elections. You are the ones subverting America's Democracy. You are the ones Obstructing Justice. You are the ones bringing pain and suffering to our Republic for your own selfish personal, political, and partisan gain.

Before the Impeachment Hoax, it was the Russian Witch Hunt. Against all evidence, and regardless of the truth, you and your deputies claimed that my campaign colluded with the Russians — a grave, malicious, and slanderous lie, a falsehood like no other. You forced our Nation through turmoil and torment over a wholly fabricated story, illegally purchased from a foreign spy by Hillary Clinton and the DNC in order to assault our democracy.

I have been deprived of basic Constitutional Due Process from the beginning of this impeachment scam right up until the present. I have been denied the most fundamental rights afforded by the Constitution, including the right to present evidence, to have my own counsel present, to confront accusers, and to call and cross-examine witnesses, like the so-called whistleblower who started this entire hoax with a false report of the phone call that bears no relationship to the actual phone call that was made.

Once I presented the transcribed call, which surprised and shocked the fraudsters (they never thought that such evidence would be presented), the so-called whistleblower, and the second whistleblower, disappeared because they got caught, their report was a fraud, and they were no longer going to be made available to us.

History will judge you harshly as you proceed with this impeachment charade. Your legacy will be that of turning the House of Representatives from a revered legislative body into a Star Chamber of partisan persecution.

One hundred years from now, when people look back at this affair, I want them to understand it, and learn from it, so that it can never happen to another President again.

Sincerely yours,
Donald J. Trump
President of the United States

God's Unchanging Word (Holy Bible) Reveals His Unchanging Nature

Older folks, are most likely, to stay with their Christmas traditions, that they were raised with. For myself, I want to hear, the old standard Christmas carols, sung out of the church hymn book by a choir. This always helps me focus on the true meaning of the holiday, and that is the birth of Jesus. The Bible teaches that God's son was born in Bethlehem, Israel, please see Titus 2v11-14. Here the apostle Paul gives us, the foundation truth, about why our savior was born long ago of the Virgin Mary. That truth about Jesus never changes. For God's word is permanent, please read Isaiah 40v7-8 and 1st Peter 1v25—"But the word of the Lord endures forever. And this is the word (Bible), which by the gospel is preached to you." in King sexual slur to a male student. A week later, long time TEM Principal Chris Meyers was removed from his position after returning from a conference. Vice Principal Steve Rebozzi had interviewed staff members in Meyers' absence leading to Meyers' re-assignment to teach at Carden School and Rebozzi taking his place at TEM.

Last week, TEM teacher Nicolo Orozco emailed a copy of a letter to more than 200 Yuba County Office of Education (YCOE) employees that he wrote to YCOE Superintendent Francisco Reveles.

The letter indicated first year employee Orozco had also been dismissed and Orozco was asking Reveles if he was fired in retaliation for reporting an unsafe environment for employees and child abuse at TEM. Orozco had reported both the Sylvester White incident and also inappropriate touching of students by teacher Jim Whiteaker.

Orozco indicated that Whiteaker slapped students on the butt and put his hands on their shoulders and neck area. Whiteaker was hired by YCOE after resigning from Yuba

City Unified School District in July 2018 due to multiple reports of inappropriate sexual contact over a twenty year career.

Also, TEM teacher Tammie Fagan has been relieved of her duties after a series of inappropriate texts were discovered among employees critical of YCOE staff and an inappropriate outburst by Fagan at the school.

Taxpayers may wonder how much learning could be occurring among the neediest kids in the county when the adults in charge can't behave well.

Food and Farm News

Committee action sets up House vote on trade pact

With the House of Representatives set to vote this week on the U.S.-Mexico-Canada trade agreement, farm groups say they welcome progress on the pact. The House Ways and Means Committee voted Tuesday to send the agreement to the full House. The Senate will likely act on it next year. Farm organizations say the agreement will improve the flow of agricultural trade in North America, which supports jobs in rural and urban areas alike.

Almond sales remain strong to export customers

New advertising and marketing programs in different countries have helped almond marketers expand exports despite retaliatory tariffs in China and other countries. At an annual conference, people in the almond business said overall export sales have risen even though sales to China fell by about one quarter. In all, California almonds are sold in more than 100 countries, with exports to other nations compensating for the drop in Chinese purchases.

U.S. will import less meat next year

Drought in Australia and New Zealand will contribute to reduced meat imports in the U.S. next year. Most beef and lamb imports come from the two nations, and the U.S. Agriculture Department predicts a second straight year of declines in 2020. Pork imports will decrease due to record U.S. production and strong demand in Asian nations suffering outbreaks of swine flu. Imports represent about 8% of U.S. red meat consumption.

Families dominate nation's farm ownership

Farming remains overwhelmingly a family business, according to an annual government report. The report says 98% of farms are family farms of varying sizes, accounting for 88% of farm production. Many operators of small and mid-sized family farms rely on off-farm work to supplement their agricultural income. The report says more than 70% of farms receive no farm-related government payments.

New Round of DMV 'Motor Voter' Errors Reported

by Chris Reed

One of Gavin Newsom's first acts after taking office as governor in January was to create a "DMV Re-invention Strike Team" to improve the performance of the state Department of Motor Vehicles.

This came after one of the worst years a state agency has had in recent history. In August 2018, CalWatchdog and many other news outlets reported that wait times were nearly 50 percent longer at DMV offices than the previous summer. The problem was blamed on a heavy increase in visits caused by the federal 2005 Real ID Act. It requires Californians to have either passports or new federal ID cards before they can take commercial flights starting in October 2020. The DMV is the agency that issues the Real IDs.

A month later, another scandal emerged, with thousands of thousands of voters reporting errors in their political party affiliation due to mistakes made in the DMV's new "motor voter" automatic registration program, which began in April 2018. An audit released in August of this year found the problem was far worse than initially believed, with more than a quarter-million errors in registration in the first five months of the program – 83,684 duplicate voter registrations and 171,145 DMV records with inconsistencies on party membership.

Newsom's "strike team" issued its report in July on what it had done to fix the agency and said internal data showed a reduction in wait teams of 58 minutes over the previous summer. Two weeks ago, the DMV issued a statement saying that wait times had continued to decline and averaged 38 minutes in September.

But now the DMV's other 2018 problem has re-emerged with reports in Northern California of pervasive errors in motor voter registrations, prompting Republican lawmakers to renew their call to put the program on hold until its flaws are comprehensively fixed.

At least 600 complaints so far; number could soar

"At least 600 Californians, including lifelong Republicans and Democrats, have had their voter registration unexpectedly changed, and several county elections officials are pinning much of the blame on the state's Department of Motor Vehicles," the Sacramento Bee reported. The daughter of California Senate Republican Leader Shanon Grove of Bakersfield, who had recently used a Sacramento County DMV office, was among those affected. Grove is a leading critic of motor voter.

Sacramento CBS 13's news team reported at least 300 apparent complaints in Santa Clara County, nearly 200 in Sacramento County and at least 100 in Shasta County.

Reports noted that it's possible that some of the mistakes were made by voters themselves not used to election services at DMV and that some voters may have misremembered what party status they had chosen previously. But as CBS 13 reported, problems appeared to be turning up in every county as soon as registrars began sending out voter notifications related to the March primary. With El Dorado County sending out notifications last Friday and dozens of counties doing so in coming weeks, the dimensions of the problem could be far bigger than initially assumed – just like last year.

Oregon, which introduced its version of motor voter in January 2016, has had far fewer problems.

Feucht Takes on Garamendi

gions on the edge of the Bay Area. Garamendi has been a loyal liberal, is a staunch advocate of Obamacare, voted to impeach President Trump and repeatedly preserved the right to kill babies at any time in the birthing process. He also voted against extra terrorist screening for immigrants from Iraq and Syria.

The top industries supporting Garamendi in 2019 have been unions (transportation, building, industrial, government employees) and real estate. Usually 70%-80% of his financial support comes from outside District 3.

Conservative millennial Sean Feucht says, "I am running because it's time for average Americans who have no desire to be politicians to stand up and change our country's path before it's too late." Feucht is tired of big government, excessive regulations and the assault on Constitutional rights.

"I am running for the unborn, the unheard, the forgotten and millions of unengaged hardworking Americans who have lost hope in politics."

"I'm running to restore common sense to government. All Americans deserve a government that empowers the individual and restores decision-making to the states and local communities, where people are best equipped to fix the nation's problems."

Kate Feucht describes her husband in a video ad as "A man of faith, a man of mission, a man of character and integrity, not driven by ego but purpose. A man that knows what feeding the hungry, protecting the vulnerable, fighting for one's beliefs is all about..."

The father of four says that the "government is morally and economically bankrupt" and he attacks "leaders who feverishly promote the slaughter of the unborn and the newborn." Along with running for office Feucht is challenging his generation to quit whining and waiting. His message is to not seek a career in politics but determine to make a change in the nation.

Feucht has written five books, including "Integrity: Character of the Kingdom," has produced 20 albums, and is the founder of two businesses and three non-profit organizations. His nonprofits have made a difference in some of the most oppressed and troubled regions of the world. Sean has brought a message of hope to the Yazidi people of Iraq and the slum children of India, as well as to the people of more than fifty other nations.

Feucht was born and spent his early life in Montana and attended high school in the Virginia Beach, VA area. He graduated from Oral Roberts University majoring in business with a minor in music.

John Garamendi has been a key factor in nearly 50-years of liberal dominance in California. Feucht couldn't be more different. Voters need to be registered Republican to vote for Feucht in the primary March 3, 2020.

The Gold Country Disc Golf Association Donates to United Way of Nevada County

The 5th Annual Derek Sorensen Memorial Disc Golf Tournament was held on Oct. 19th during United Way's Grills & Grilles event at Western Gateway Park. The tournament was hosted by the Gold Country Disc Golf Association in memory of Derek Sorensen who was an avid disc golf player. A hundred percent of the tournament proceeds were donated to United Way of Nevada County in Derek's memory, culminating in a total donation of $2,765.00.

Derek was 26 years old when his loving family lost him. His mother, Debbie Evans said, "He was a best friend to many and a great friend to all. He was not judgmental; never a bully and he loved all living things. He loved all living things; dogs, cats, butterflies, birds, bees and even slugs. Derek was passionate about the Yuba River, loved the mountains, the ocean and most of all the desert and he enjoyed many sports, bowling, hiking, camping, biking, snowboarding and playing disc golf. He is missed by many."

All proceeds from the tournament went to United Way of Nevada County's Community Impact Fund. The funds are used to help individuals and families in Nevada County meet their Basic Needs of Food, Emergency Shelter and Access to Health Care. Through strategic and focused direction, United Way of Nevada County continues to focus on its mission to improve lives by mobilizing the caring power of our community.
