Local Girl Scouts Help Children in CPS

Marysville, Ca.

Yuba City Girl Scouts Troop 41 filled nearly 50 bags with age-appropriate items -- like stuffed animals, snacks, hand-made blankets and diapers -- to help local children during difficult family situations.

The troop, comprised of three teens, worked hard to put together the bags for children who are placed in the Yuba County Child Protective Services program.

The goals of CPS are to both protect children and to reunite them with their families. The three Girl Scout packed the bags with necessities for kids -- who range in age from newborn to teen—to help them during that transition, which can be understandably difficult.

Each year for their Silver

Star Project, the troop works to fulfill a need within the community. Previous projects included making baskets for pets adopted from the local shelter and filling backpacks with supplies for people who are homeless.

The bags dropped off Tuesday were especially well-timed, as CPS is nearly out of similar backpacks that are given to children based on availability. A previous group that donated backpacks in the past is unable to do so anymore.

Proceeds from the famous Girl Scouts cookie sales fund all troop activities throughout the year, including service projects like this.

Members of the Child and Adult Protective Services program were on hand as the Girl Scout unloaded the bags, expressing appreciation for the work they did to raise the money, purchase the items, and even make blankets for children who are working through a tough and important process.

"We are more than pleased and excited to have the children in our community come and support their peers in a very difficult and traumatic situation," Child Adult Protective Services Deputy Director Tony Gordon said. "To have children recognize that there is a need to bring some balance into a difficult situation is admirable and we are fortunate to have them partner with us. We are honored to have them assist us in bringing care and comfort to the children we serve."

Water Discoloration Prompts No-Swim Advisory for Yuba River Middle Fork

Marysville, Ca.

Yuba County health officials have issued a precautionary "No-Swim Advisory" for specific areas of the Middle Fork of the Yuba River downstream from Bullards Bar Reservoir, after a yellowish sediment discoloration of the water was noted.

Swimming restrictions are now in place for the Rice's Crossing water access, Missouri Bar, and Lower Missouri Bar.

The murky yellowish water conditions are similar to those discovered this week along the South Fork of the Yuba River in Nevada County. In that instance, E. coli levels were found to be double the safe recommended levels by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

Because of the similarities with the river discoloration in Nevada County, Yuba County officials say it is important to take steps immediately to protect public health.

The discoloration on the Middle Fork in Yuba County was first observed late Saturday by Yuba Water Agency workers at the Colgate Power Plant, and the details were then relayed to the Yuba County Office of Emergency Services. A Yuba County Environment Health team is collecting water samples this morning for testing purposes to determine whether the water poses a health risk.

Currently, the water being released from Bullards Bar Dam, located upstream from the power plant, is running clear and shows no sign of the discoloration.

Yuba County OES is working closely with Nevada County officials. The Army Corps of Engineers is posting the "No-Swim Advisory" notices, and OES officials said other state and federal agencies have been notified, as well.

High levels of E. coli are toxic to humans and animals. The No-Swim Advisory includes swimming, ingesting, bathing and recreational activities.

Updated information will be posted at www.BePreparedYuba.org as it becomes available.

Newsom Recall Launched

by Lou Binninger

An effort to recall California Governor Gavin Newsom has been authorized by the Secretary of State. Organizers have until February 13, 2020, to collect 1,495,709 signatures of registered voters to force an election.

Successful recalls of governors are rare. Only four gubernatorial recalls have ever qualified for the ballot. And just two governors in U.S. history, North Dakota's Lynn Frazier (1988) and California's Gray Davis (2003) were removed from office by a recall election.

Gov Newsom took office in January 2019 but was not a novice to state politics. The nephew of Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi has influenced statewide policies for 16 years prior to winning the governor's race by nearly 62%. He was mayor of San Francisco 2004 – 2011 and then Lt Governor under Jerry Brown 2011 – 2019.

San Francisco, held hostage by the homeless and drug addicts has become the toilet of California where a "Crap App" helps people step-over fresh deposits of human waste. This is a result of Newsom's mayoral policies.

Due to egregious state and city environmental regulations only the wealthy can afford to live in San Francisco. And the state's housing industry is grounded by climate hoax mandates.

Newsom's legacy is one of violating the law, resisting the federal government and ignoring the will of the people. As mayor, contrary to law, he performed marriage ceremonies for same gender couples and did nothing while the homeless established squatter camps, shot drugs and relieved themselves in public.

As Lt Governor and now Governor he has declared California a sanctuary for illegal aliens and provided 100,000 of them free healthcare at a cost of $100 million dollars. Troops sent by President Trump to secure the border were removed by Newsom. It is estimated that 70% of illegals will end-up on welfare while illegals already cost state taxpayers $30 billion annually in benefits.

One of every three welfare recipients in America resides in California and one in four residents fall below the poverty line.

Thousands of businesses have left the state along with millions of taxpaying working class people. Social media is alive with Californians exploring where to relocate as future refugees of the regulation-rich socialist state.

Prop Tax Protection Under Assault

by Lou Binninger

Once upon a time, California home and commercial property owners after working for decades to pay their mortgages / taxes, get their kids through school along with paying medical, food and transportation expenses, were being forced out of their homes and businesses by government.

Those who endured the Great Depression and survived WW II, the Korean War, and now ready for retirement were being deprived of their homes by punishing tax policies. Property taxes could literally double from one year to the next.

Then in 1978, Howard Jarvis and Paul Gann put Proposition 13 on the ballot (Passed with 62.6% of vote) which reduced property taxes, changed how property values were assessed and limited the percentage property taxes could be increased each year.

All property values were reset at 1976 levels. Property could be reassessed whenever it sold. Otherwise the value could be increased by no more than 2% each year for taxing purposes.

The other significant aspect of Prop 13 was that it required a two-thirds majority in both legislative houses for future increases of any state taxes. It also required a two-thirds vote majority in elections for local governments to increase special taxes. (A "special tax" is a tax devoted specifically to a purpose: e.g. homelessness or road repair; money that does not go into a general fund.)

As a result, millions of Californians have been able to keep their property and avoid thousands of dollars in taxes each year thanks to Prop 13.

Today, longtime Californians who understand and have benefitted from Proposition 13 are in shock that people would consider doing away with the property tax relief that saved their homes and businesses. However, they underestimate the ignorance of today's voters, the socialist leanings of youngsters and

The rich are hoarding cash

Don't look now but the so called "smart money" is hoarding cash.

With ominous sounding economic news headlines peppering the media like "yield curve inversion" and prognostications of a coming recession, there is another not-so-publicized event happening which has might also be pointing to stormy seas ahead in the stock market ahead.

The "rich" as they're called are supposedly hoarding cash in significant amounts.

CNBC reports spending by those that can have reduced their buying of real estate, jewelry, retail stores, and toys such as boats and classic cars to name a few.

Reports have the middle class still opening their wallets, but the thought is when the very rich stop buying or a least slow down their spending and start banking the cash, there is a very good reason.

For instance, luxury retailer Barney's filed for bankruptcy and no other than the famous Nordstrom's is seeing three straight quarterly declines in sales. (Bloomberg). Manhattan real estate priced over 1.5 million have seen their sales fall 5% during the second quarter of 2019 (Redfin). Playgrounds for the rich and famous like Aspen and the Hamptons are seeing similar anemic results compared to past years.

Million dollar and up automobiles, another favorite toy of the super-rich are also finding the same lack of exuberance. Art auctions are down with a 10% decline at Sotheby's and a stunning 22% at Christies from a year ago.

I would imagine few people will lose sleep or shed tears over such facts, but the recent pull-back in the spending of the wealth can be an indicator of something that will have farther reaching effects than just a drop in sales figures at the exotic retailers and "toy" sellers.

The top 10% of earners amount for about half of consumer spending (Moody Analytics) and if that's the case, when the rich stop spending, overall economic performance may start to suffer.

When the wealthy are not spending, they are stockpiling cash.

Although the middle-income people have picked up some of the overall slack, slowing job growth could affect that as well.

The rich also own the lion share of stocks with 80% attributed to this high income group. They also own the majority of large businesses and businesses that export to other countries.

With tariffs the talk of the town, a tariff war could combine with an overall business slowdown and lagging stock market, giving the super-rich yet another reason to close their wallets.

Although comparatively few in numbers, the rich control a large proportion of the wealth, and when that wealth stops moving or even slows down, history shows so can the general economy and the rest of us with it.

Sixth Annual OKTOBERFEST

Nevada City, Ca. – Celebrate Fall by raising a mug at the sixth annual OKTOBERFEST celebration at Pioneer Park on Saturday, October 5th, benefitting the KARE Crisis Nursery. The event is from 3 to 7 pm. Brews from 9 producers will be featured, including Ol' Republic, Grass Valley Brewing Company, 1849 Brewing Company, Three Forks, T.W. Pitchers Brewing, Feather Falls, North Coast, Lost Coast and Lagunitas. Also available will be German wines. Guests can purchase German food plates of sauerbraten or bratwurst, as well as scrumptious desserts of strudel and Dr. Sarah's Pie's. The festival music will kick off with oompah music from the Hannebrink Duo, followed by the "kick-off-your-shoes-and-dance" music of the Roadtest Band. Tony Norskog, collector of vintage motorcycles, is hosting an exhibition of interesting German bikes, and anyone arriving on a German motorcycle will be admitted for free.

Proceeds from the event help to support the KARE Crisis Nursery, which provides respite and emergency childcare services for local families who fall on hard times.

So, dust off your lederhosen, put a feather in your cap, and come enjoy a wonderful afternoon in the park for a great cause. Tickets are available Nevada City SPD, the Bookseller, Eventbrite, or by calling KARE at 265 0693 (karecrisisnursery.org).

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

My heartfelt thanks to those readers who contacted me in regard to my son Kevin's passing and a special note to Kathy for her kind words.

The campgrounds up Hat Creek way are almost empty and will close on October 15th for the year. Fishing is still good in this stream with a chance for both rainbow and brook trout.

Salmon fishing on the Sacramento and Feather River has improved and will continue to get better with the days and weeks to come with fish coming throughout the system. Reports tell us many of the kings are holding about three or four feet off the bottom while others are just quickly moving through. We have learned from past experience that you need to be there when the salmon move through. We have spent hours on both rivers with no results when the run slows or stops. Another thing to remember is they will stop in deep holes to rest and even stick their noses into the sand against an underwater bank and hold their position using very little effort in the current, and then continue on their journey to spawn.

The cool weather recently has picked up the bite in many areas especially in streams and rivers in the high country.

The catfish bite is still on at Collins Lake near Dobbins. The beach areas are good and also anyone who goes to fish should try Elmer's Cove.

We have reports of a large school of kokanee moving up river at Bullard's bar Reservoir. It appears they are headed for the inlet area of the river as they prepare to spawn. The fish are starting to turn color at this time.

The bass bite at Lake Oroville is showing an increase in the bite with Fall approaching. Best bet it to fish with top water lures in the early morning and also keep to the shaded areas during the daylight hours.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife have planted Deer Creek. It might be a good idea at this time to run up and spend the night at the Potato Patch campground and enjoy a dinner or breakfast of rainbow trout, bacon and eggs. Yum!

Closing thought "Sometimes the hardest thing and the right thing are the same."

Homicide Investigation

Marysville, Ca.

On Sunday, September 22th, 2019, at approximately 3:48 am, officers from the Marysville Police Department responded to a report of a disturbance that was occurring at the 1000 block of F St. When officers arrived on scene they located a 37 year old female adult with a gunshot wound, who later succumbed to her injuries.

Through investigation, officers have identified the suspect as Jesse Jaramillo (29 years) from Live Oak, CA. Jaramillo fled the scene and detectives are working several leads to locate Jaramillo. Jaramillo has ties to the Butte County, Yuba County and Sutter County area. Jaramillo should be considered armed and dangerous. Anyone that knows Jaramillo's whereabouts are encouraged to contact the Marysville Police Department at 530-749-3908.

OOOLA I JUST FOUND A TORTOISE! PLAYING A FLUTE!
 WHOA!
 THAT'S SO WEIRD. I'D HAVE THOUGHT TORTOISES WOULD PLAY THE TUBA.
 GREETINGS. MY NAME IS SHARP.
 YOU... YOU CAN TALK?
 OF COURSE, FRIEND. I AM EQUALLY AMAZED AT YOUR VERBAL COMPETENCE. I HAVE NEVER MET A PRIMATE WITH SOPHISTICATED LANGUAGE SKILLS.
 WHAT ANY OF THOSE WORDS MEAN?
 CORRECTION: I AM ASTONISHED AT THE WIDE VARIANCE OF COMMUNICATION SKILLS EXHIBITED BY THIS SMALL SAMPLE SET.
 PARDON MY MANNERS. I MUST BRING YOU TO MEET THE OTHERS.
 OH WOW! WE GET TO SEE YOUR CUTE LITTLE TORTOISE VILLAGE?
 I BET THEY HAVE LITTLE HUTS SHAPED LIKE TORTOISE SHELLS.
 I BET WE'LL BE SEEN AS FUTURISTIC GODS.
 THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT I EXPECTED.
 ARE YOU TAKING US TO MEET YOUR LEADER?
 WHAT? NO. SHE'S MUCH TOO BUSY FOR A COUPLE OF PRIMATE NOVELTIES. NO OFFENSE.
 NONE TAKEN, PROBABLY.
 WE'RE GOING TO SEE A SCIENTIST.
 GEEZ, I WAS HOPING WE'D GET A BREAK FROM SCIENTISTS FOR A LITTLE WHILE.
 IS WONMUG LISTENING IN ON US?
 UMMM... NO?
 WOW! YOUR SOCIETY IS SO ADVANCED.
 YES, IT MUST BE VERY SHOCKING TO YOU.
 APOLOGIES THAT I CANNOT OFFER YOU A BANANA OR A VINE TO SWING ON. I KNOW HOW YOU PRIMATES ARE.
 SHARP, COME ON, JUST BECAUSE WE'RE PRIMATES...
 OOP, WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
 I WASN'T GROOMING YOU. THERE WAS JUST A BUG IN YOUR FUR... I MEAN HAIR.
 ULDO, I HAVE SOME CREATURES I THINK YOU'D LIKE TO MEET
 OH, GOOD, PRIMATES. I'LL CONDUCT SOME PAINFUL, AND PROBABLY LETHAL, EXPERIMENTS ON THEM LATER.
 COME NOW, SAY SOMETHING TO ULDO.
 I... ER... HELLO?
 WHO WHAT NOW?
 GASP! SHARP, THESE ARE THE SMARTEST PRIMATES I'VE EVER WITNESSED!

Food and Farm News

Farmers, ranchers watch outcome of legislation

Governor Newsom has until October 13 to sign or veto bills sent to him at the end of the state legislative session. Farm organizations welcomed his plan to veto a bill that would preserve California environmental and labor standards from changes initiated by the Trump administration. Other bills sent to the governor's desk include one sponsored by the California Farm Bureau, to create a rural economic advisor in the state Department of Food and Agriculture.

Rural roads remain in poor shape

Nearly one-third of California rural roads rate in poor condition--the second-highest percentage in the nation--according to an annual report from a transportation group. For farmers and ranchers, that can mean delays and danger in moving crops and livestock to market. Californians began paying higher gas taxes last year to fund transportation projects, but observers say it's too early to see what impact that will have on rural road conditions.

Biological control may slow watershed weed

A tiny wasp shows promise in controlling a giant weed along California riverbanks. Biologists say the wasp can help reduce stands of the Arundo reed that has invaded watersheds. The wasp is native to the Mediterranean region and lays its eggs on the reed, ultimately reducing its growth. Researchers introduced the wasps near Orland and Madera, and say they have had some effect on the reeds. The wasps do not harm humans, crops or native plants.

Orange crop to be a bit smaller

The coming season's navel orange harvest will be slightly smaller, according to a preseason crop forecast. Estimators say California farmers will harvest enough navel oranges to fill 76 million 40-pound cartons, down 7 percent from the previous season. The vast majority of the oranges will come from the San Joaquin Valley. California leads the nation in orange production.

Tri-County Jr./Amateur Rodeo

Gridley, Ca. – The Tri-County Rodeo Association will have their Annual Junior/Amateur rodeo on October 5th and 6th. There will be competitors of all ages in Junior and Amateur divisions, but their primary focus is noticeably for youth participants. Keeping young people engaged in social and/or competitive activities was a major catalyst for the Tri-County Rodeo, and that tradition lives on through rodeo events, such as Mutton Bust'n and Goat Tying, as well as the Tri-County Rodeo Royal Court where young ladies compete for the titles of Tri-County Rodeo Queen, and Tri-County Rodeo Mini-Miss.

The Tri-County Rodeo Association is a small local non-profit organization that is not only surviving, but thriving due to a 100% volunteer workforce and local sponsorship; many of which are local small businesses and business owners.

The Tri-County Rodeo is located at the Butte County Fairgrounds in Gridley, California. In spite of economic climates, admission to the rodeo remains free. Please join them this year and enjoy family fun that includes: Bulls, Broncs, Barrel Racing, Raffles, Vendors, and a Snack Shack with plenty of good grub. Come out and 'Get Your Country On!' Slack starts at 9am, and Performance at 12-noon daily.

General Jim's Burgers will be there along with other vendors.

Yuba County Pet of the Week

Meet Hallie, (black and white female) and Ripley (gray and white tabby male). They are about 10 weeks old. They, like many others, are in need of loving homes. Come to the shelter to see all of the cute, and adorable kittens! Now is the time to get a new baby to love. There are many to choose from, and all will make wonderful companions. If you need barn cats, they may be just right for you.

Civil War Days

Marysville, Ca.

Experience the sights and sounds of infantry, cavalry horses, and civilians at Cotton Rosser Arena Pavilion, Riverfront Park, Marysville, October 5 and 6, 2019; presented by the National Civil War Association.

The Civil War comes alive with living history activities and battle reenactments presented by the National Civil War Association, the second oldest continuously existing Civil War reenacting organization in Northern California.

The reenactors will set up an historically accurate camp, dress in period clothing and relive some of the most dramatic events in U. S. history. The public is invited to visit the camp 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, and 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, for a trip back in time to 1863. Battles will be held at 1:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, and 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Sunday. Learn about the life of a soldier ... speak to Union and Rebel alike ... see and hear cannons roar! See living history in the round, including the medicine, music and the fashions of the mid-1800s.

The National Civil War Association NCWA is a volunteer non-profit public education organization. NCWA events explore previously ignored events that took place in California during the Civil War, looking at the roles of Californians, women, Chinese-American soldiers, and the complexity of African-American experiences in the midst of war.

Admission price for adults is $10; military, students and seniors, $8, children 5 and under FREE.

Parking is $2.00.

The NCWA will also hold a School Day program Friday, October 4. Living history education offered is aligned with state U.S. history curriculum for grades 4, 5, 8 and 10. Contact Midrise Arnold at 925-628-3142 or midrise1863@yahoo.com for student group reservations (required) and details for Civil War School Day. Cost is $3.00 per student.

Lou Binninger at No Hostages Radio

After 5 years of doing live talk on a Nor Cal AM/FM station Lou Binninger is now using No Hostages Radio to give his take on the local, state, and national political and cultural scene.

Weekly radio episodes will appear at nohostagesradio.com as well as articles written for the Territorial Dispatch.

Listeners can also use their favorite podcast source to reach "nohostagesradio."

Tales of the Crypt

D/O Home Department

Please come and join us, the Dobbins-Oregon House Home Department, on the second Tuesday of each month from October through June. Our meetings and potlucks start at 10:00 am and go to 1:00 pm. They are held at the Yuba Foothills Agricultural Communities Association (YFACA) located at 10775 Texas Hill Road (on the corner of Texas Hill Road and Old Dobbins Road.)

We are both a community support group and a social organization for women of all ages, (though men are welcome). Our fundraisers vary from a "coffee-cup" circulation at meetings to raffles and a White Elephant Auction in November as well as occasional special projects. This year, members worked on a special quilt that was sold in a raffle.

We give $300.00 scholarship to a graduating Foothill high school student as well as donations to local schools, scouts, volunteer fire departments, and community hospice. We handcraft valentines for residents at care centers. Our sick or grieving members are supported with cards, calls, and visits.

After a brief business meeting, we typically have a speaker. Vintners, authors, hobbyists of all kinds, and garden club members as well as health, insurance, financial, and elderly-care specialists are just a few of the speakers we have had. After their presentations and our questions, we share a potluck lunch made by "some of the best cooks in Yuba County." At our December meetings, we have a traditional turkey meal with all the trimmings; in June, we have a barbecue at the Grove picnic grounds.

Our next meeting will be on October 8. Our speaker will discuss Medicare, insurance, and health care. Come join us. We are a friendly group!

Sister Cities Meet

On Thursday September 11th Judy Mann ventured out to the State Capitol to not only meet Representatives of tourism, but also to represent Marysville, as President of the Sister-City Group with Taiwan, (MPSCA), the "Marysville- Peikang Sister City Association"

The Director General Joseph Ma, Of (TECO) Taiwan Economic Cultural Office - of San Francisco Office, invited Ms Mann as a guest. "Marysville has been Sister Cities now for over 32 Years, this a big honor for Marysville and TECO." Director General Ma expressed his gratitude to all the community leaders for their unconditional support of Taiwan and longstanding friendship. He also expressed that mutual relations between Taiwan and the greater Sacramento area and Marysville have been developing and the relationship is vital. He thank us for the continuous support and dedication over the years.

A new Soft Drink, a root beer flavor drink was introduced from Taiwan and sampling of various Chinese Dim-

Sum of all sorts.

Judy indicated her highlight of the day was meeting Daisy... (Pictured Below) Daisy Chu wife of Assembly Member Kans-en Chu's. Daisy is involved with the Cultural Department in the Arts, Music & Education of the many Taiwan groups in the Fremont-Milpitas area.

General Ma invited Marysville Representatives to join him October

7th for their Annual 10-10 Celebration. The National Day of the Republic of China, also referred to as Double Ten Day, which is the National Day of the Republic of China (It commemorates the start of the Wuchang Uprising of 10 October 1911 (10-10 or double ten), which led to the end of the Dynasty in China and establishment of the Republic on 1 January 1912.

on our porches. A blanket is beginning to feel good in the middle of the night.

Next Step and the Farmer's Market crew are planning to operate a van-taxi service. If all goes as planned there will be a van operating on "the hill" and will offer rides around locally as well as to the valley. Ride will have to be organized ahead of time, not an emergency run. The van will hold up to seven people. There will be a set route and will include Stone Soup and Farmer's Market, shopping locally, and even be available for field trips. Watch for more details as the plan gets worked out.

The 18th Annual Warm September Nights Car Show will be held on Saturday, September 28th from 10 am to 4 pm at the Loma Rica Lions Club. Pre-registration for vehicles is $20.00 or $25.00 day of the show. Breakfast will start at 7:30 am and lunch will start at 10:30 am. There will be a raffle table and live music. This is a fantastic event and a great way to spend a Saturday afternoon. The event will take place rain or shine. The Lions Club is located at 5667 Fruitland Rd., in Loma Rica. Don't miss out.

Each Wednesday from 1 pm to 4 pm, the Forbestown Community Center will be open for games, free WIFI, library use, snacks and just some good old fashion getting together. Stop on by, say hello, get a boardgame going and have some fun. The Forbestown Community Center is located on New York Flat Rd., in Forbestown (of course).

Loretta will be at Books & More, with her delicious soups, on Saturday, October 5. It is first come first serve, so don't miss out on this treat. Her soups are not only great as soup but they can be used as a sauce base for other dishes. They are frozen so you can use them at your leisure. Books & More is located on Willow Glen Rd. in beautiful "downtown" Brownsville.

Look Back in Time – In 1926 many gathered in the famous old bar at Woodleaf Hotel. They were fans waiting to hear the Dempsey-Tunney fight over a radio (now it's all in our own living rooms on television).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon. Christine and Yvonne

CRITIC'S CORNER

Comedy Night at the Seven Mile House
Featuring: Phil from Chico, Jerm Leather, and Cami Oh.
Hosted by Randy Warner. Rated: R, Runtime: 2 hours.

This event was held at the Seven Mile House, surprisingly, located seven miles west of Marysville. For ten dollars you are treated to a perfectly cooked tri-tip sandwich, salad, baked beans, and a yummy peanut butter dessert.

Roughly fifty people attended. Three comedians put on a show that made us laugh then cringe then cringe laugh. Comedy is a subjective activity. Sometime the comics use forums such as this to work out new material so the jokes aren't as good as they will be four or five shows down the road. So, it is not fair to critique an unfinished product.

I enjoyed my time there and support the idea of live entertainment in our community. So often it is music, which is fun, but to find something different such a comedy or live theater is a benefit to the cultural landscape and life of our community.

Newsom Recall Launched

Newsom wants to shut down the oil industry and replace this abundant source of energy with feeble solar and wind power. Solar and wind cost a fortune to produce and cannot supply the needs of the state. Already utility costs are 60% higher than the national average and gasoline prices are $1 per gallon more due to shunning fossil fuels.

Newsom's newest proposal is to tax drinking water. His administration is also protecting the barbaric selling of aborted baby parts and prosecuting those who uncovered the criminal acts.

Liberal California has traditionally supported the death penalty for the most heinous criminal acts. However, Newsom gave a reprieve to 737 prisoners on death row and has been releasing violent offenders. Schools have gone from the best in the nation to last, now re-tooled as leftist indoctrination centers pushing evolution, climate change and sexual identity hoaxes.

Newsom's policies are producing less freedom, less opportunity, less prosperity, poorer quality of life and more regulations, more costs, and more government harassment. However, will those who oppose the status quo resist Newsom, move elsewhere, or shut-up and comply?

The factors that led to the recall of Gray Davis in 2003 were an unpopular governor, failed policies and an attractive alternative candidate. Davis had won his second term with just 47.2% of the vote. Newsom recently won big but his approval ratings are falling.

Davis inherited a budget surplus but created a $35 billion deficit while giving prison correctional officers a 35% pay increase. He also concurred with giving huge pension increases for government employees that are bankrupting the state today.

The utility grid was failing. The state was experiencing rolling blackouts affecting up to 1.5 million people and businesses. A "car tax" kicked in causing the average DMV fee to go from $70 to $210.

A number of alternative candidates joined the recall but Hollywood actor Arnold Schwarzenegger captured the interest of the most voters. People really had no idea what they were getting in Arnold but he knew how to work the crowd. Claiming to be a Republican he governed like a Democrat.

Today, Newsom has a bankrupt utility due primarily to absurd green regulations. PG and E is preparing people for Third World style brown-outs on windy days and customers will pay a small fortune for gas and electric in the future.

The Brown/Newsom car tax increase has made the Davis increase seem like chump change. SB 1 is taking an additional $5.1 billion each year from the pockets of Californians via DMV fees and fuel taxes.

The missing element is a charismatic candidate that can give hope to millions of Californians now cowering to a socialist state.

Appeal Democrat Kudos and Catcalls!

Your September 16th edition was a clear example of the 'love-hate, you impose relationship on your readers:

The excellent reporting and the photographic expertise-particularly the perfectly-captured front-page photo of Nellie Miller taking a break-neck turn at the 85th annual Marysville stam-pede last Sunday-comprised a testament to the value to the community of your good writer and your genuinely outstanding photographer, Chris Kaufman! This long-time resident shares the community's respect for his extraordinary talent. Way to go, Chris!

On the other side of the coin...on page A5, you publish a four-column Los Angeles Times-hate piece about supreme court Justice Brett Kavanaugh, based on ZERO bona-fide evidence, but rather on the insanely-corrosive hatred of the current national press, along with its full-time lap-dog-the deranged wing of the Democrat Party! As a result, balanced political conversation in America is being exterminated; and with God and the Golden Rule ruthlessly being driven out of the picture, our kids are becoming mindless little soviet automatons!

Closing Gauche Aquatic Park?

Is the circus in town? Because there were five clowns, supposedly council persons, at the Yuba City Council meetings I've attended. They didn't fool me; talking out both sides their mouths like sideshow "barkers". I am referring to the council's meetings to close Gauche Aquatic Park (GAP). Despite the Mayor's proclamation to keep GAP open, he and his troupe have been conducting private meetings exploring how to close GAP and dismantle Feather River Aquatic Club (FRAC). You call this "working" with the citizenry? GAP, like city parks, were built to benefit the citizenry, NOT to pay for themselves. While city parks are FREE, fees for pool use are appropriate. If not for FRAC, which pays the city to use GAP, you might as well just back-fill the pool like the old pool on Gray Avenue and expand the park. The city, to save costs, has exempted itself from State and Federal labor law and pays NO overtime to GAP employees when they work over eight hours in a day, over 40 hours in a week or working seven days in a week. GAP lifeguards, who protect you and your children, have worked up to three shifts in one day, over eight hours in a day, over 12 hours in a day, over 40 hours in a week and sometimes seven days a week without one dime in overtime pay and don't tell me they should be grateful, privileged, for a city job. Every other employer must obey these laws-----hypocrites.

Yuba Sups Don't Care

The supervisors' recent vote behind closed doors to appeal Judge Berrier's decision to invalidate Measure K is costing taxpayers more than $8,000 per day. Those are hard earned dollars that could have been used to care for families.

The supervisors should have allowed the public a say about the appeal in an open meeting. Instead, more lack of transparency and ripping-off the voters.

Supervisors have illegally used public funds to wage a political campaign, violating our free speech rights. They need to reduce the size of the government and cut costs rather than raise taxes and fees.

THINK About It!

Discovery of Fetal Remains at Abortionist's House Shows the Cruelty of Abortion

As you read this story published September 16, 2019, you may be wondering why there's not a huge outcry from women's groups and the "Fake News" media. And especially president Wannabe Pete Buttlegieg, the Mayor of South Bend, Indiana. Not even a single peep from any of them.

Buttegieg, who is being called Saint Pete by some for his recent ramblings about religion, is noticeably absent primarily because the abortion "doctor" at one time practiced his trade in Mayor Pete's hometown of South Bend.

The following is a sad commentary of how far down this particular rabbit hole would take someone.

Commentary By Melanie Israel is a research associate for the DeVos Center for Religion & Civil Society at The Heritage Foundation.

"Americans are reacting in disgust at the discovery of more than 2,000 fetal remains uncovered at the home of a deceased abortion doctor.

Late last week in Illinois, the family of Dr. Ulrich Klopfer happened upon the fetal remains and contacted the Will County Coroner's Office, which launched an investigation. According to the sheriff's department, the family is cooperating with the investigation and there is no evidence that abortions took place on Klopfer's property.

The coroner's office counted 2,246 preserved fetal remains before taking possession of them. Two thousand, two hundred forty-six.

Klopfer died on Sept. 3. Though a resident of Illinois at the time of his passing, he practiced at various clinics in Indiana for many years. The South Bend Tribune had described him as "likely Indiana's most prolific abortion doctor."

His reasons for storing the bodies of thousands of aborted babies at his home remains unclear. What is clear, however, is that Klopfer performed abortions on a staggeringly industrial scale, "with numbers going into the tens of thousands of procedures in multiple counties over several decades."

In 2016, Klopfer's medical license was suspended for violating a number of notice and documentation requirements. At one point during his practice, he performed an abortion on a 10-year-old girl who had been raped by her uncle, according to the South Bend Tribune.

Klopfer did not inform law enforcement of the rape and released the child to her parents, who were aware of the rape and would not take legal action.

A surveyor who inspected one of his clinics described it as "rundown, not well-maintained," and with a number of deficiencies, which included "equipment not being properly maintained; expired medications in an emergency drug kit; lack of infection control practices; no log of cleaning procedure rooms; and incomplete personnel policies."

At the time of his suspension, an Indiana Medical Licensing Board member spoke of Klopfer's "professional incompetence."

Well, that's one way to put it.

Klopfer's dangerous incompetence highlights the need for state laws that uphold common sense health and safety standards in abortion facilities.

Beyond that, this disturbing discovery reminds us that abortion victims rarely receive humane, dignified treatment after the procedure that ends their lives.

In recent years, a number of states, including Alabama, Arkansas, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Texas have enacted fetal burial laws, which recognize that the bodies of pre-born children are, in fact, human and should be treated accordingly—not disposed of along with used needles, surgical products, and animal carcasses (or in the case of Klopfer, kept preserved in the abortionist's home).

Less than four months ago, the Supreme Court upheld an Indiana law that requires proper burial of abortion victims. It appears that Klopfer, whose license was suspended in 2016, had ceased committing abortions before that requirement went into effect.

It is heartbreaking that even in death, after having suffered the violence of abortion, the victims are so often not treated with dignity and care.

Lawmakers around the country should follow the example of Indiana and other states and ensure, at the very least, the humane treatment of the remains of unborn children whose lives were cut short by abortion."

Charlie's Comment: Do you think California will pass a law similar to the aforementioned ten states? Probably not if Planned Parenthood has anything to say about it!!!

Lap Dogs

It has always amazed me how the editorial board of the Appeal Democrat like to give their opinion on the current politics in the area. When a judge makes a ruling on the illegal Measure K tax increase just because it passed with 53% of the vote, that is good enough for them and the heck with what the law saying that you need 66%. Wish we all had our own paper, so we could be judge and jury on all things political. If I try to submit a letter to the editor, I have all kinds of rules like, the "Appeal Democrat has the right to edit my letter for length, libel, clarity, accuracy, grammar and punctuation". Which basically says they can change my letter to what ever the Appeal Democrat thinks it should be, but I can't do the same with the "Our View" editorials they print. The true reason that Yuba County asked for a sales tax increase is to pay for the pension debt for county employees retirement fund. That is why they don't have enough money to run the county the way it has been run. The pension debt problem needs to be fixed, but you won't see them even talk about it. If you want to feel safe in your bed at night, then fix the problems of spending that Yuba County has.

YWA Funds Effort to Reduce Catastrophic Wildfire

Marysville, Ca.

In an effort to reduce the risk of catastrophic wildfire in the Yuba County foothills and preserve the critical water supply of the Yuba River, Yuba Water Agency approved a $45,000 grant to launch a Firewise USA Site Activation Program.

The Yuba Watershed Protection and Fire Safe Council will manage the program, which is designed to assist rural residents in collectively improving the fire resistance of their homes, properties and community, and completing the necessary requirements to become a Certified Firewise USA Site.

“Not unlike the water conservation program we offer in the valley, this is a way Yuba Water Agency can help residents directly,” said Yuba Water Agency Vice-Chairman Randy Fletcher. “By encouraging and sponsoring these Firewise sites, we are reducing the risk for the people who live in the foothills, and protecting our precious water resources at the same time.”

A certified Firewise USA Site can range anywhere from eight to 2,500 residences, and can be a street, subdivision, homeowner association, or other geographical location, as determined by the residents. Certified sites are formed to improve the fire resistance of neighborhoods, protect watershed health and reduce the negative environmental and water quality impacts that a wildfire could have in the area.

While residents can perform much of the work necessary to become a certified Firewise Site, those efforts also require specific support from trained defensible space advisors, geographic information systems (GIS) specialists and registered professional foresters or fire scientists.

The funds from Yuba

Water’s grant will be used for developing fire hazard and risk assessments, GIS mapping, program outreach and training for the defensible space advisors.

Another portion of the grant will be used to bring the National Fire Protection Association’s Take Action - Teens for Wildfire Safe Communities program to the foothills, which is designed to get teens involved in the process of helping communities be better prepared for a wildfire event.

“This funding will jumpstart a program that we desperately need in order to make significant improvements on the ground in our rural neighborhoods,” said Steve Andrews, coordinator for the Yuba Watershed Protection and Fire Safe Council. “So many of our foothill residents want to put the work in to get their defensible space in order, but they often don’t know exactly how to go about it. This grant will give us the resources to help advise and encourage these folks to work individually and together as neighbors to make a difference.”

Yuba Water Agency is able to fund efforts like this to reduce fire risk because they improve water supply and reduce the negative water quality impacts that a wildfire could have on the Yuba River Watershed.

For people interested in creating a firewise site visit yubafiresafe.org or contact the Yuba Watershed Protection and Fire Safe Council at 530-288-9355.

Additionally fire districts are able to purchase swift water rescue equipment

Two local fire districts will be better equipped to respond to water-related emergencies along the Yuba River with the help of funding from Yuba Water Agency.

As part of the Bill Shaw Rescue Equipment and Training Grant Program, Yuba Water today approved two grants, worth up to $10,000 each, for Linda Fire Protection District and Olivehurst Fire Department, to help them purchase new swift-water rescue equipment. Much of the districts’ current rescue equipment is outdated and in need of replacement.

“These fire departments provide critical rescue and emergency services for Yuba County residents and people recreating along the Yuba River,” said Yuba Water Agency Board Director Andy Vasquez. “Now they will be even better equipped to respond to dangerous, swift-water situations.”

Linda Fire Protection District will purchase technical rescue equipment, ropes and associated hardware.

The Olivehurst Fire Department will use the grant to replace outdated ropes and purchase additional swift water rescue gear.

Like all Bill Shaw grants, the agency is able to make these funds available because the first-responders may be called upon to provide emergency support to the agency’s facilities and staff, or to people recreating at its lakes or on the Yuba River.

Yuba Water Agency’s Bill Shaw Rescue Equipment and Training Grant Program, which was created in 2018, is designed for first-responder agencies in Yuba County and will cover the one-time costs of up to $10,000 per applicant annually, associated with the purchase of rescue equipment and specialized personnel training. Since its inception, the program has supported 14 agencies with $158,500 in grants.

of snow, Sacramento gets a lot of heat.

“England had peppered lawyers for California with questions about the law, which, while applying to presidential and gubernatorial candidates, was openly aimed by California leaders at Trump, who has refused to reveal his taxes. Trump, defying modern custom of presidential candidates releasing tax returns, has blamed an ongoing audit. But critics contend nothing would stop him from disclosing his tax returns.

The judge questioned whether California’s law is preempted by federal law, the Ethics in Government Act, that requires certain financial disclosures by presidential candidates. He also expressed doubt about the law’s compliance with the Constitution’s qualifications clause and suggested allowing California to set specific standards for candidates would lead to “a hodge podge” of different requirements by states.”

Prop Tax Protection Under Assault

the corrupt nature of Sacramento politicians.

A new initiative called “California Schools and Community Funding Act” is destined for the November 2020 ballot. The title is a euphemism used to deceive. This initiative is about removing Prop 13 limitations on commercial property thereby increasing property taxes which could bump a tax bill up 10-fold.

Supermarkets, office buildings, warehouses, factories, shopping centers, auto dealerships, medical offices, self-storage facilities, gas stations, hotels, restaurants and such would have their property reassessed at current market rates spiking their taxes.

However, buildings and real estate don’t pay taxes, people do. Increased taxes on commercial property will be passed along to the consumer.

In 2012, the Davenport Institute at Pepperdine University’s School of Public Policy did a study concluding that raising property taxes on businesses by an estimated $6 billion would cost the state economy $71.8 billion of lost output and more than 396,000 lost jobs in the first 5-years. The shame is that California does not have a revenue problem but rather a spending addiction among its leaders.

However, prior to the Pepperdine study, 12 attacks via bills, initiatives and amendments on Prop 13 benefits to commercial property had been waged but failed. Proponents of the current assault say they are just closing a “loophole,” but the tax treatment of commercial property is not a “loophole.” It was the will of the voters.

In 1978, with Prop 13 on the ballot Governor Jerry Brown and the legislature put Prop 8 on the ballot to create a split roll allowing higher taxes of commercial property. Voters rejected Prop 8 by 53-47%.

Since the 1800s, California has treated personal and commercial real estate the same for tax purposes. Prop 13 cut the property tax rate to 1% from a statewide average of 2.67% and put limits on the increases of the assessed value of property.

Opponents often argue that Prop 13 caused a reduction in per-pupil spending on education. It’s a myth. According to data from the National Center for Education Statistics, per pupil spending in California’s elementary and secondary schools has risen every year since the 1970s. Measured in constant dollars, per pupil spending in the state was $5,474 in 1969-70, $7,116 in 1979-80, $8,798 in 1989-90 and $9,255 in 1999-2000. In 2015-16, the state spent $11,893. (See <https://nces.ed.gov> in Table 236.65).

Those who would like to help preserve Prop 13 can go to www.hjta.org/ProtectProp13. It will explain how to volunteer, get a yard sign, and donate. There is also a printable informational sheet online or copies can also be obtained by calling HJTA at 213-384-9656 or 916-444-9950.

YWA Provides Water-Related Education Materials

Marysville, Ca.

Water-related educational programming is finding its way to classrooms throughout Yuba County, as Yuba Water Agency ramps up plans to build a first-class, river-front water education center.

At today’s meeting of the agency’s board of directors, funding was approved for two educational programs, adding to the mix of other offerings the agency is already supporting, in an effort to enhance the educational experience for Yuba County students..

Yuba-Sutter Arts - Learning Science Through Art program - $46,704

The board approved a $46,704 grant for Yuba-Sutter Arts’ new Learning Science Through Art water education program, which will teach local students about the Yuba River through science and art projects.

The water agency and Yuba-Sutter Arts have collaborated on this program to supplement the second and third grade curriculums at 23 Yuba County schools, to include more science and art-based projects that meet state education requirements, and ultimately bring further awareness about the environment and Yuba River.

“This program will help build a bridge between art and core science curriculum,” said Abbie Cesena, Yuba Sutter Arts managing director. “Creativity provides a natural link to critical thinking and helps provide a path to understanding subject matter that may otherwise be challenging,” she added.

The funding from Yuba Water Agency will be used to hire teaching artists and purchase the necessary materials for students.

Water-related educational items for Olivehurst Public Utility District - $20,000

A $20,000 grant approved today provides funding to help Olivehurst Public Utility District purchase water-related educational items in support of the Education Outreach Program, which is part of the California Department of Water Resources Disadvantaged Community Involvement Program.

Yuba Water Agency facilitates the grant from DWR that funds the program, which complements Olivehurst schools’ existing core curriculum, while assisting teachers and students in learning more about water, where it comes from, how to conserve it, and whether or not it is sanitary. OPUD is one of the partners involved in delivering the program.

The goal is to improve student learning in the areas of water access, availability, conservation and ecosystems, as well as to inspire the next generation of youth to be aware and knowledgeable when it comes to the water they drink.

Yuba Water’s funding allows OPUD to purchase educational literature, four water-filling stations for schools, water bottles for students, water shoes for field trips to the river, and other items that are not covered in the initial grant from DWR.

“We have been told that in some cases, the students only have one pair of shoes,” said Yuba Water Agency Director Doug Lofton. “We want to show these students the importance of water, but don’t want the program and field trips to be a burden on them if their shoes are ruined on the Salmon Expedition field trips. Providing items like water shoes will allow them to focus on their experience without having to worry about their own personal items.”

Yuba Water Agency is able to fund efforts like these because they educate the public about the agency’s mission areas.

Judge Blocks New California Law

Would Require Trump to Reveal Tax Returns

By Stephen Frank

Democrats tried to abuse the law and the voters by creating a new “law” to stop Donald Trump from being on the California Primary ballot. It would not have mattered—he would have been on the General Election ballot anyway. But, the real reason they tried this is that they wanted the DEPRESS/

SUPPRESS Republican turnout in the primaries. Why? To use the disgusting Top Two (prop. 14) to get as many Democrats on the November ballot and eliminate Republican candidates. That is how Russia runs its election—government decides who is allowed to run. What is the difference between Sacramento and Moscow? Moscow gets a lot

Classical Music for All Seasons

Marysville, CA. This Veridian String Quartet is pleased to announce the start of its 2019-2020 concert season and its tenth year of bringing high quality classical and classically inspired music to Yuba-Sutter. The Veridian String Quartet is a professional ensemble created to bring together the high-level musicians that perform in the region with the aim of strengthening local cultural life.

The first concert of the new season will be held on September 29th at First Lutheran Church in Yuba City. Titled "Calm & Chaos: Finding Equilibrium in Classical Favorites!," the concert will start with the heartache of the first movement of Mendelssohn's Op. 80, which he wrote in reaction to the sudden death of his sister, Fanny. The program continues with the variety of emotions present in Schumann's Quartet, Op. 41 No. 1 which he wrote "for Clara" after finally gaining consent, after 12 years, to marry his beloved. There are more heart flutters in Schubert's Quartetsatz or Quartet Movement in C minor, Schubert Thematic Catalogue" D 703, and finally we take a breath of resolve in the beauty of Mozart's Quartet No.17 in B-flat major, K.458. The concert concludes with the infamous jovial Finale Fugue of Beethoven Op. 59.

The Veridian String Quartet is proud to be collaborating with other local arts and culture organizations in addition to YSA. The second concert of the season, sponsored by the Friends of the Yuba County Library, is called "Popcorn Pops: Family Fun in Spirited Costume" and will be held at 4pm on October 26th at the Library in Marysville. The program will be repeated on October 27th at the Sutter County Library in Yuba City sponsored by The Friends of the Sutter County Library.

On January 26th, Veridian will present its always popular "Rock this Way: Our Annual Rock Out on Covers" at Yuba Sutter Arts and then on March 1st, the Quartet will present "String Jam 63: Jazz for Harp and String Quartet" at the Sutter County Museum.

The final concert of the season will be presented at the Sutter Theater on May 3rd - "Soar into Spring: With the Classics" - along with a performance of the winning entry from the annual composition competition.

The musicians for this season include Helen Graham on violin. Helen is President of the Yuba Sutter Youth Symphony Board of Directors and serves on the Veridian Symphony Orchestra Board. Rebekah Hood-Sava, cellist, has performed with orchestras throughout the country and currently teaches at Yuba College and Marysville Charter Academy for the Arts. Randy Fisher, Violin, has played in symphonies and quartets across the county and internationally. Kate Capra on viola is the newest member of the Veridian String Quartet and plays in a variety of ensembles as well as teaching young musicians. Tickets are available at Yuba Sutter Arts and Pete's Music Center as well as at <http://veridiansymphony.org/tickets/>. Incentives are available for season ticket purchasers.

Arts Educator of the Year Yuba Sutter

Marysville, Ca. During the recent Art Educators' Faculty Show opening reception, Yuba Sutter Arts announced the winner of its annual Arts Educator of the Year award. Each year, a local art teacher is chosen by a committee of YSA staff and board members. The recipient demonstrates artistic and teaching excellence in the classroom, expands the artistic awareness and skills of students and provides opportunities outside of the classroom to enable students to put their newfound skills into practice.

This year's Arts Educator of the Year Yuba-Sutter is Joe Lloyd, Marysville High School art instructor.

Joe was commended for having "opened the eyes" of many of his students by getting them involved with non-traditional art projects in collaboration with Yuba Sutter Arts. He had them paint a "street piano" public to play at a store on D Street in Marysville. His students were also invited to help paint murals in the tunnel near Marysville High School and they created works of art about the evils of tobacco use for a project funded by ETR. Joe's students will also be able to visit the Crocker Art Museum in Sacramento on a field trip funded by a collaborative grant with Yuba Sutter Arts.

Joe and Tina moved to Marysville about two years ago from the "big city" (Long Beach) and ever since have been making an impact on the local arts scene both as educators and working artists. They have opened a new art gallery called Painting and Sculpture Outpost in Marysville where they exhibit outstanding works of art and offer classes teaching a wide variety of techniques using many different media.

Joe has an MFA from Claremont Graduate University and has experimented with many styles and techniques in his personal work. Joe tried landscape painting and photography earlier in his art career before integrating those experiences into "abstract geometric landscapes"—beautifully complex paintings that immediately draw a viewer into his world. He revels in discontinuities and fissures and his paintings have a thoroughly delightful, freewheeling character open to the idea that a systematic approach might not add up in the end.

Joe has been successfully enriching the quality of life for his students and the community by furnishing arts education, advocacy and services and being a catalyst for effective arts education and creative placemaking. Joe has prepared students to further their education in the art field by giving them excellent skills and a love of art - both making art and looking at it with enthusiasm.

International Organist, Kimberly Marshall, to Perform in Yuba City

Marysville, Ca. Yuba Sutter Arts is proud to announce the fifth in its new series of organ concerts being held in collaboration with Marian Metson and First Lutheran Church in Yuba City. The featured organist will be internationally acclaimed organist, Kimberly Marshall.

The concert will be held on Friday, October 4th at 7:30pm. The location is First Lutheran Church, 850 Cooper Avenue in Yuba City. The concert is free, but donations will be accepted for the upkeep of the organ.

Kimberly Marshall is known worldwide for her compelling programs and presentations of organ music. She has taught at the Royal Academy of Music in London and Stanford University. Presently she is Professor at Arizona State University and the Malmö Academy of Music in Sweden.

Ms. Marshall has performed and presented her research at eleven national conventions of the American Guild of Organists and her recital tours have taken her to England, Germany, France, Sweden, the Netherlands, Austria, Bolivia and Korea. Most recently Ms. Marshall appeared at the Boston Early Music Festival, the Organ Historical Society national convention in Dallas and inaugurated the new organ in St. Petri Cathedral, Malmö, the largest instrument in Scandinavia. For the First Lutheran concert, she will be playing works by Bach, Buxtehude, Pasquini and other masters of the organ repertoire.

Marian Metson, coordinator of the concert series, was the organist at First Lutheran from 1994-2010. During her tenure at the Church, she ran a successful concert series that included top organists from around the country. As a result of a generous anonymous gift, Marian was asked by the church to reinstate the series.

"We were able to collaborate with Chico State where the organ builder had built his first instrument and attract some of the finest organists available," said Marian. "So now we have an opportunity for our community to once again hear world class organists playing on a world class instrument right here in Yuba-Sutter," she added.

The First Lutheran organ was built by Munetaka Yokota, who went on to build organs at universities in Sweden and in Rochester and Ithaca, New York in addition to Chico State. Yokota is revered in esoteric organ circles.
