“Test Drive” New Yuba Voting System Elections Office Offers Three Open House-Style Events

Marysville, Ca.
Yuba County residents can get a good feel for the new touchscreen voting system they will be using during next year's March Presidential Primary, as the county's Election Office offers three opportunities this summer to take an updated voting booth for a “test drive.”
The open house-style events will showcase the new Democracy Suite Voting System, which gives voters the opportunity to mark ballots either electronically using a touchscreen system or use a more traditional paper ballot. Election staff will be on hand to answer questions to give residents the opportunity to try out the new system.

Open houses are scheduled at the following locations:

- Tuesday, July 16, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Wheatland Community Center, 101 C Street in Wheatland
- Wednesday, July 31. 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Board of Supervisors Chambers, 915 8th Street in Marysville.
- Thursday, August 1, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Alcouffe Center, 9185 Marysville Road in Oregon House

Party of Racists

by Lou Binninger

Burgess Owens, former Oakland Raider Super Bowl XV Champion, entrepreneur, bestselling author and speaker said, “I used to be a Democrat until I did my history and found out the misery that that party brought to my race.”

Owens once suffered under the delusion that Republicans were the people that hated, enslaved, abused and lynched blacks. He had the integrity to do his own research and own-up to his ignorance.

He was in Washington D.C. recently to testify before the House Judiciary Circus about whether innocent white Americans today should pay reparations to blacks for the harm done to other blacks hundreds of years ago.

Burgess said to the committee, “I do believe in restitution. Let's point to the party that was part of slavery, KKK, and Jim Crow that has killed over 40 percent of our black babies, 20 million of them. (In the) State of California, 75 percent of our black boys can't pass a standard reading and writing test, a Democratic state. Let's pay reparation. Let's pay restitution. How about the Democratic Party pay for all the misery brought to my race?”

The Democratic Party touts itself as the Party of Race, close but no cigar. It's the Party of Racists. Writer Jeffrey Lord in 2008 laid out the evidence pointing to the Democrats as the Party of Slavery. Lord notes that the following facts are mysteriously absent from the Democrat National Committee website.

- There is no reference to the number of Democratic Party platforms supporting slavery. There were six from 1840 through 1860.
- There is no reference to the number of Democratic presidents who owned slaves. There were seven from 1800 through 1861.
- There is no reference to the number of Democratic Party platforms that either supported segregation outright or were silent on the subject. There were 20, from 1868 through 1948.
- There is no reference to “Jim Crow laws,” nor is there reference to the role Democrats played in creating them. These were the post-Civil War laws passed enthusiastically by Democrats in that pesky 52-year part of the DNC's missing years. These laws segregated public schools, public transportation, restaurants, rest rooms and public places in general (everything from water coolers to beaches). The reason Rosa Parks became famous is that she sat in the “whites only” front section of a bus, the “whites only” designation of Democrats.
- There is no reference to the formation of the Ku Klux Klan, which, according to Columbia University historian Eric Foner, became “a military force serving the interests of the Democratic Party.” Nor is there reference to University of North Carolina historian Allen Trelease's description of the Klan as the “terrorist arm of the Democratic Party.”
- There is no reference to the fact Democrats opposed the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution. The 13th banned slavery. The 14th effectively overturned the infamous

Hell on Earth

A local juvenile, when asked why he “held-up” a convenience store, said he needed money because he was living on the street having left his family. When asked why he didn't go to work he said he needed money right away and the store “could afford it.” The boy was an addict.

A youngster too stupid to figure out how to make a living is understandable particularly if he hadn't any practice, skills or tutoring about his future responsibilities. And, labor unions and government are behind a nonsensical work permit system and have severely limited the jobs juveniles can do compared to 50 years ago.

However, the combination of low intelligence, unGodly values and addiction were plenty to get this kid incarcerated and heading for a rehab. What was thought provoking was the worldview that the national chain store “could afford” to contribute to the boy's selfish, lazy, irresponsible existence.

The waif was physically fit but mentally retarded. People that don't know where they came from, what they're here for and where they're going are retarded. They may be able to speak, read and write but they are intellectually crippled or lost. Give credit to a secular-any-value-will-do government school system that believes it is a better parent than the real deal.

If asked how much he would take in cash to kill someone the youngster would have a price. Last week, in a Yuba County Jail class a number of guys had a price when asked the question “Would you kill someone if I paid you?” That's not good news for society. If there is no God then it makes no difference whether

James is an active supporter of Purple Heart Anglers, a non-profit organization founded in 2009 to help aid in the healing of disabled veterans through fishing and hunting trips. James provides a $50 discount to any military veteran for a guided fishing trip.

The 30 year old, 200+ members Rooster Tails Fishing Club of Northern California, Inc. is a non-profit organization that meets the third Friday of each month to educate, entertain, and enhance fishing experience. Unlike many bass and fly fishing clubs that concentrate on very specific types of fishing, the Rooster Tails Fishing Club provides a balanced mix of fishing techniques presented by fishing experts targeting a variety of fish species on multiple types of waters. FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

There were many people who took advantage of the free fishing day last Saturday with some trying their luck for the first time. It is hoped that the free days will give some folks a chance to see how enjoyable fishing really is and take up the sport full time.

Up Portola Way Lake Davis received a nice trout plant last week which should bring smiles to those who give this reservoir a try. Speaking of this Dam, I can recall fishing both big and little Grizzly creeks before the valley was flooded. My friend Bill Baggett and I spent many a morning fishing for the rainbow trout in these streams. Deer were abundant here and it was not unusual to spot a small herd of deer crossing the streams. The trout were always cooperative, feisty and excellent table fare with none over 13 inches.

Lake Oroville is putting out some nice landlocked king salmon at this time. Best bet is to fish near the green bridge (as usual).

Little Grass Valley Reservoir near La Porte

is the place to go for brown trout, with some fish in the three to five pound range. This reservoir received a trout plant a week or so ago and we wonder if the smaller rainbows are responsible for the good brown bite at this time.

Fishing has picked up at Jackson Meadows Reservoir. The lake is full at this time and the trout are active and available.

Stampede Reservoir is a hot spot for kokanee salmon. Limits are a sure thing and it is recommended to fish the west side of the lake.

We are told that Collins Lake has gone to summer mode at this time. Trout will be found in the deeper parts of the lake mostly by lead line and downriggers.

Lake Tahoe fishing is still good for mackinaw lake trout with kokanee also available for those who fish for them. Rainbow trout are also being taken occasionally.

Closing thought: "The best gift you can give to others may be your time."

Agencies report progress on voluntary river agreements

Voluntary agreements to improve fish habitat in Central Valley rivers have made "substantial progress," according to state agencies. The agreements have been offered as an alternative to a state plan to redirect river flows. Leaders of the state environmental and natural-resources agencies say final evaluation of the agreements could come by October. The agreements would include targeted river flows, plus other projects to enhance fish habitat.

Analysis may help predict Sierra tree die-offs

From what they learned studying the impact of the recent, multiyear drought, researchers say they can now predict where future droughts will hit Sierra Nevada forests the hardest. Two professors at the University of California, Merced, say parts of the Sierra reached a tipping point in 2015, when a combination of drought and dry soil caused trees to die in large numbers. They say their analysis of the past drought will help diagnose and forecast future forest die-offs.

Sensors could help ranchers locate cattle

Using a high-tech tracking system, students at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo hope one day to help cattle ranchers keep track of their herds. The students designed sensors that could allow ranchers to find cattle that separate from the herd. The sensors would be worn on a collar to monitor an animal's location and temperature. The students plan to begin testing the system with cattle, and want to use similar technology to benefit other aspects of ranching.

Survey shows little price change for cookout foods

Retail prices remain virtually unchanged for traditional Independence Day cookout foods, according to an annual survey by the American Farm Bureau Federation. The survey showed prices for a summer cookout to serve 10 people averaged $52.80, up less than 1 percent from a year ago. Volunteer shoppers across the country checked prices on foods including hot dogs, cheeseburgers, potato salad, lemonade and watermelon.

Party of Racists

1857 Dred Scott decision (made by Democratic pro-slavery Supreme Court justices) by guaranteeing due process and equal protection to former slaves. The 15th gave black Americans the right to vote.

There is no reference to the fact that Democrats opposed the Civil Rights Act of 1866. It was passed by the Republican Congress over the veto of President Andrew Johnson, who had been a Democrat before joining Lincoln's ticket in 1864. The law was designed to provide blacks with the right to own private property, sign contracts, sue and serve as witnesses in a legal proceeding.

There is no reference to the Democrats' opposition to the Civil Rights Act of 1875. It was passed by a Republican Congress and signed into law by President Ulysses Grant. The law prohibited racial discrimination in public places and public accommodations.

There is no reference to the Democrats' 1904 platform, which devotes a section to "Sectional and Racial Agitation," claiming the GOP's protests against segregation and the denial of voting rights to blacks sought to "revive the dead and hateful race and sectional animosities in any part of our common country," which in turn "means confusion, distraction of business, and the re-opening of wounds now happily healed."

- There is no reference to four Democratic platforms, 1908-20, that are silent on blacks, segregation, lynching and voting rights as racial problems in the country grew. By contrast the GOP platforms of those years specifically address "Rights of the Negro" (1908), oppose lynching (in 1912, 1920, 1924, 1928) and, as the New Deal kicks in, speak out about the dangers of making blacks "wards of the state."

- There is no reference to the Democratic Convention of 1924, known to history as the "Klanbake." The 103-ballot convention was held in Madison Square Garden. Hundreds of delegates were members of the Ku Klux Klan, the Klan so powerful that a plank condemning Klan violence was defeated outright. To celebrate, the Klan staged a rally with 10,000 hooded Klansmen in a field in New Jersey directly across the Hudson from the site of the convention. Attended by hundreds of cheering convention delegates, the rally featured burning crosses and calls for violence against African-Americans and Catholics.

- There is no reference to the fact that it was Democrats who segregated the federal government, at the direction of President Woodrow Wilson upon taking office in 1913. There is a reference to the fact that President Harry Truman integrated the military after World War II.

- There is reference to the fact that Democrats created the Federal Reserve Board, passed labor and child welfare laws, and created Social Security with Wilson's New Freedom and FDR's New Deal. There is no mention that these programs were created as the result of an agreement to ignore segregation and the lynching of blacks. Neither is there a reference to the thousands of local officials, state legislators, state governors, U.S. congressmen and U.S. senators who were elected as supporters of slavery and then segregation between 1800 and 1965. Nor is there reference to the deal with the devil that left segregation and lynching as a way of life in return for election support for three post-Civil War Democratic presidents, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt.

- There is no reference that three-fourths of the opposition to the 1964 Civil Rights Bill in the U.S. House came from Democrats, or that 80% of the "nay" vote in the Senate came from Democrats. Certainly there is no reference you shoot hoops, heroin or someone in the head.

The young criminal's logic is akin to government taking money from hard-working citizens and giving it away with no accountability to people who sit. The government says the same thing about its taxpayer cash cow as my young friend, they can "afford it." The peoples' bank accounts are ripe for the picking whether they are cooperative or not, the same as my friends hold-up target. The store had more money than he had so he was just redistributing the wealth.

On July 4, 2019, in Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love, approximately 60 youth out on the streets with others celebrating Independence Day entered Walgreens about 10pm, assaulted a clerk, and did $6,000 - $7,000 worth of physical and theft damage to the store. The crime is under investigation.

Looters were thinking Walgreens "can afford it." What's the difference between a mob of 60 looting, other than the media coverage, and 60 people per day stealing from WalMart or Harbor Freight?

What people believe makes a difference. American cities, once a place where people gathered for safety and protection, are now where you are more likely to be shot, carjacked, hustled, ripped-off, assaulted or acquire a disease.

And now federal judges are telling government leaders to stand-down and let cities deteriorate into dangerous jungles of addiction, sickness and chaos. What modern society once overcame and left behind a psychic judge now sees the Constitution demanding that we revisit.

Just after midnight July 5 while returning to Marysville over the E Street Bridge the homeless camp along the Yuba River below was on fire spewing black smoke with a toxic plastic and rubber stench. Noted, yawn and move on. That's California 2019.

Governor Newsom says California is the model for the rest of the country. His arrogance makes him a candidate for the Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, wilderness treatment described in Daniel 4.

Illegal Cannabis Cultivation

Dixon Hill Rd, Dobbins

At approximately 8:00 a.m. on 7/5/19, the YCSO Marijuana Enforcement Team (METYU) with the assistance of Yuba County Code Enforcement officers executed a search warrant in the 13000 block of Dixon Hill Rd in Dobbins. During the search, Deputies located and eradicated approximately 1,224 marijuana plants at an outdoor grow in an unpermitted temporary greenhouse structure. No suspects were located at the site during the search.

Deputies conducted an approximate one-month long investigation of the site which investigators first became aware of following a fire at a related grow in Forbestown in May, 2019. The Dixon Hill Rd grow location was then confirmed by overflights of the area.

Feather River Tea Party Patriots

with Guest Speaker Scott Bennett

Yuba City, Ca.

The new Feather River Tea Party Patriots announced Scott Bennett, U.S. Army Special Operations Officer and Psychological Warfare analyst, will be the Special Guest Speaker for their next meeting, Monday, July 15, 2019.

In 2011, 2LT Scott Bennett, U.S. Army Special Operations Officer and Psychological Warfare analyst, worked in the highest levels of counterterrorism, intelligence, and politics in Washington DC. He had been awarded a Direct Military Commission by the President of the United States and was a leading writer and thinker at the State Department Counterterrorism Office, U.S. Special Operations Command, U.S. Special Operations Command, and the George W. Bush Administration.

After discovering and exposing massive corruption within the Obama White House and military contractors, he was unlawfully imprisoned on trumped up charges by the Obama Administration. Why? In performance of his sworn military officer's oath, Bennett had filed intelligence analysis reports exposing illegal terrorist finance corruption and money-laundering operations involving the Clinton Foundation, the law firm Covington and Burling, the Department of Justice (Eric Holder, Lanny Breuer, Loretta Lynch, Kevin Downing), Saudi Arabia-Qatar and the Muslim Brotherhood, US Central Command, and the international defense contractor, Booz Allen Hamilton.

Lt Bennett was threatened, then imprisoned and tortured in a horrifying "Kafkaesque" sojourn; but with a renewed spiritual strength, and an unyielding tenacity and determination, Bennett eventually fought his way out and exposed the "domestic enemies" who had subverted the U.S. Constitution and betrayed the American people. It was in the traumatic silence of jail and agony of isolation that Lt Scott Bennett was able to synthesize his past work, contacts, experience and intelligence research to discover the real story behind Booz Allen Hamilton, the Carlyle Group, and the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, and give the American people the truth they always suspected, but could never find. Now they can.

The compilation of reports and letters to Congress, and synthesized intelligence materials (unclassified) is told in his book "SHELL GAME." Autographed copies will be available at the meeting. Contact info available at: www.shell-gamewhistleblower.com. Recently, Scott Bennett has been a frequent visitor to the White House and various trips to the middle east, including Iran.

Don't forget – Our regular feature In The News with Paul Preston, Agenda 21 Radio, will follow our Special Guest Speaker. Paul will be discussing events of the day.

There is no membership requirement to attend and everyone is welcome. Doors open at 6:00 pm; meeting begins promptly at 6:30 pm. Come early to register, socialize with like-minded patriots, and get a good seat.

The meeting will be Monday, July 15, 2019, at the Crossroads Community Church, 445 B Street, Yuba City, CA 95991.

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Stone Soup is in its third year now and the lunch crowd is growing. Every Thursday lunch is served at noon: homemade soups, salads, bread and dessert for a donation of $3.00. Of course, other donations are appreciated as this program helps support the community center itself. Now there are workshops being offered each first and third Thursday after lunch. On July 18 there will be a person from Legal Aid discussing trusts and reverse mortgages. Good information for all of us. The Brownsville Farmer's Market is doing well. They had live music last weekend and plan to have more on the first Saturday of each month. They are hoping to start a Bingo game each Saturday, too. Activities are planned for kids, there is a great hot lunch, and vendors with interesting items. Now that summer is upon us, more produce will be coming in so come join the fun.

Yeah! Gold Eagle Market rebuild has started. It's going to be great to watch the building take shape. Also, the cell tower must be getting close to being completed. The construction workers haven't been out on Willow Glen. Frenchtown Road, Oregon Hill, and Frenchtown Dobbins all got a nice new repave. Things have been hop-pin' in Brownsville and beyond.

Thank you to the Foothill Volunteer Firefighters Association for the spectacular Independence Day Celebration. The BBQ, raffle, Kids Muster and fireworks made the day extra special. Thank you also to all those donated time, raffle prizes and fireworks.

The Brownsville Mercantile is under new management and they have added some nice changes. Fresh cut flowers are available for order, you can get cold beverages, frozen quiche, ice cream bars, and snacks. There is still a room or two that are being reorganized and renewed, but they are open for business so stop in, say hello and peruse each of the nine rooms. You're sure to find a treasure.

Oops! In our last column we mentioned that Loretta will be at Books & More with her fabulous soups starting on Saturday, July 6. But what we failed to mention was that she will be there the first Saturday of each month, starting on July 6. Loretta's soup is not to be missed.

Don't forget the classic car rally at the Chestnut Grove this Saturday. Come help support Autism Speaks and have a great day. There is a good raffle, food and some beautiful cars to look at.

Look Back in Time – In 1910 A. H. Ermatinger took a load of lumber to Honcot and hauled a load of hay for Ruff & Ermatinger's logging camp at Scales (hauling stuff up and down the hill just like today).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

“Test Drive” New Yuba Voting System

Elections Office Offers Three Open House-Style Events

“We want to give our voters a glimpse of the technology that will greet them at the voting precincts next year,” said Yuba County Clerk-Recorder Terry Hansen. “The touchscreen system is very user-friendly and designed to safeguard the integrity of each vote.”

The California Secretary of State recently de-certified the widely-used Legacy Voting System that had been in place for several years, making it necessary for many county elections offices throughout the state to purchase new systems. Hansen said the required change gives her office the opportunity to make improvements to the voting booth experience.

In each voting booth, a touchscreen tablet will be just one method available for completing a ballot. After voting using the touchscreen, a paper ballot prints out, which the voter will then place in the ballot box. The computer system is designed to keep no record of votes that were cast. The electronic system also allows voting by way of an audio ballot.

Paper ballots will also be available for voters who prefer that method. The updated ballots will no longer use the connect-the-arrow approach. Instead, voters will only have to fill in a simple oblong hollow “bubble.”

More information about the new voting system and hands-on demos can be found online at www.yubaelections.org.

Laddering

Laddering is a strategy investors can use in a variety of asset classes. Laddering is structuring a number of similar assets with differing time periods or maturity dates. In my opinion laddering is best explained by using Certificates of Deposits (CD) that you would get from a bank.

To ladder a group of CDs, an investor would buy a group of CDs with differing maturities. Typical lengths of CDs are 21 days, 1 month, 3 months, 6 month, 7 months, 9 months, 1 year, 2 year, 3 year, 5 year, and 10 years. There are 11 CDs above with 11 different maturity dates.

An example would be to buy one CD of each length above. This would mean the investor would have a CD coming due according to the maturity dates above. This accomplishes two things. It means the investor would have cash due him when each CD matures, continually making cash available for up to 10 years with 11 dates in total had the investor bought all the CDs listed. Of course not all 11 have to be bought. An investor could buy as many or as few as he desired. In addition to having an amount available at every maturity date, the investor would get a different amount of interest paid to him with each CD. The longer dated ones would usually pay a higher amount with the shorter duration paying less. This is not always the case such as when the yield curve inverts, an event typified by shorter maturity dated CDs paying more than longer dated ones but that occurrence is rare and is a story for another day.

Although the longer dated CDs pay more interest, they are more susceptible to movement in the economy’s general interest level. Since your interest rate on a CD purchased is locked until the maturity, when rates rise for example, you can buy the higher interest rate CDs when each of your CDs matures. If interest rates fall however, you longer maturity CDs would look more attractive, as the higher rates they pay are locked in.

Laddering can also be used on annuities. In this case, an investor would buy a handful of annuities with different payment conditions, different maturity dates and perhaps even differing “gearing” to an underlying index. In other words the investor buys a handful of different annuities. Since annuities come in a variety of structures and there are literally hundreds available, selecting a few different ones might provide an additional level of performance based on what happens in the markets.

Although how one sets up a ladder on whatever asset class they choose will take some knowledge, your investment advisor or some time spent in researching what is available and how laddering works might go a long way in accomplishing better diversification in your portfolio.

Laddering can also be used on a variety of what is called fixed income investments such as individual bonds, mortgages and other types of debt instruments. In simple terms, buying a variety of time sensitive investments with different maturities and conditions might be preferred over owning a lot of just one thing.

Laddering may not necessarily prevent losses. This is not a recommendation to buy or sell any securities. Investing involves risk depending on the type of investment. Consult with a financial professional before making any investment decisions and do your own research before investing.

California Implementing Major Changes for Firearm Industry

Multiple Regulations and Bans took effect on July 1st

On July 1st, 2019 the State of California will prohibit lead ammunition for hunting, establish new identification requirements to purchase ammunition and/or firearms and implement “phase 2” of Proposition 63 (new ammunition requirements).

What you need to know:

Traditional Ammo Ban for Hunting

Beginning on July 1st, California will become the first state in the nation to require non-lead, or alternative, ammunition for all firearms-related hunting. Alternative ammunition has been required for waterfowl hunting nationwide since 1991.

California’s phase-in of alternative ammunition for hunting originated with state legislation signed into law in 2013. In 2015, the California Fish and Game Commission adopted regulations to phase in the requirement over time with full implementation July 1, 2019.

The alternative ammo requirement includes hunting on public land, private property and licensed game bird clubs, and applies to rifles, shotguns, pistols and muzzleloaders in any gauge or caliber for the take of any legal species. The alternative ammo requirement extends to the legal take of nongame birds and mammals and includes firearms used for depredation to take species causing property damage.

The requirement does not apply to hunting with pellet rifles. Since pellet rifles are not classified as firearms, the use of traditional pellets is allowed. Traditional ammunition is allowed for target shooting where that activity is permitted.

The first California hunting seasons impacted by the traditional ammunition ban include the general rabbit season, which opens statewide July 1, and the A Zone general deer season, which opens Aug. 10 along much of the California coast.

For more information, visit CDFW’s Nonlead Ammunition in California webpage at www.wildlife.ca.gov/hunting/nonlead-ammunition

New Identification Requirements

Last week the Department of Justice in California issued proposed “emergency” regulations establishing identification Requirements for Firearms and Ammunition Eligibility Checks by mandating all firearm and ammunition purchasers possess a federally compliant “REAL ID” or provide additional documentation of lawful presence in the U.S. California. Californians wishing to purchase a firearm or ammunition will need to obtain a “REAL ID” from the CA DMV or provide secondary identification at the time of purchase such as:

If a person doesn’t have a REAL ID, buyers are required to provide documentation, in conjunction with their non-REAL ID, showing they’re legal citizens and are allowed to possess a firearm and/or ammunition. Acceptable forms of documentation include:

- (1) Valid, unexpired U.S. passport or passport card.
- (2) Certified copy of U.S. birth certificate.
- (3) U.S. Certificate or Consular Report of Birth Abroad of a U.S. Citizen.
- (4) Valid, unexpired foreign passport with valid U.S. immigrant visa and approved Record of Arrival/Departure (I-94) form.
- (5) Certified copy of birth certificate from a U.S. Territory.
- (6) Certificate of Naturalization or U.S. Citizenship.
- (7) Valid, unexpired Permanent Resident Card.

If a person’s name is different between the driver’s license and the documentation they provide, the applicant has to prove there was a name change.

Acceptable documents include:

- (1) An adoption document that contains the legal name of the applicant as a result of the adoption.
- (2) A name change document that contains the applicant’s legal name both before and, as a result of, the name change.
- (3) A marriage certificate.
- (4) A dissolution of marriage document that contains the legal name of the applicant as a result of the court action.
- (5) A certificate, declaration or registration document verifying the formation of a domestic partnership.
- (6) A dissolution of domestic partnership document that contains the legal name of the applicant as a result of the court action.

New Ammo Regulations – “Eligibility Checks”

Also beginning on July 1st, California will implement new ammunition regulations for all transfers made in the state. A DOJ point of sale standard eligibility check costing $1 or a $19 basic eligibility check will be required for all sales.

Pursuant to Penal Code sections 30352 and 30370, the Department of Justice will determine that a person is eligible to purchase or transfer ammunition if they meet one of the following requirements:

The person has a current Certificate of Eligibility issued by the Department

The person’s information matches an entry in the Automated Firearms System (name, date of birth, current address, and driver license or other government identification) and does not fall within a class of persons who are prohibited from owning or possessing ammunition. The Department shall make this determination by cross-referencing the Prohibited Armed Persons file (also known as the Armed and Prohibited Persons System).

The person is not prohibited from purchasing or possessing ammunition. The Department determines eligibility based on a comprehensive review of its records (similar to a firearm eligibility check).

Please note: this eligibility check requires a manual review of records by a Department analyst. As such, the Department may take longer to respond with a determination as to eligibility. Response times may take several days. Persons will have the ability to check the status of their eligibility check through the Ammunition Eligibility Check Status and Information page (available July 1, 2019).

The person was approved by the Department to receive a firearm from the ammunition vendor, pursuant to Penal Code section 28220, if that vendor is a licensed firearm dealer, and the ammunition is delivered to the person in the same transaction as the firearm. In this scenario, the dealer will use the approved firearm eligibility check as the approval to purchase ammunition, and will submit the ammunition purchase to the Department during the delivery of the firearm.

In a nutshell, DOJ will determine eligibility through two types of checks:

Standard Eligibility Check - $1

If an individual has a valid Certificate of Eligibility (COE).

If an individual has an Automated Firearm System (AFS) record and the information on their ID matches the information (name, address etc.) in the AFS and has not changed.

Basic Eligibility Check - $19

If an individual does not have a COE isn’t in the AFS or the information in the AFS doesn’t match their ID. This is a manual check and could take up to 10 days.

This option requires the vendor to collect the purchasers name, date of birth, current address, gender, hair color, eye color, height, weight, driver license or other government identification number, telephone number, United States citizenship status, federal Alien Registration Number or I-94, place of birth, alias name(s), and race.

*Non-California residents without a COE may be ineligible to purchase ammunition. According to DOJ, they cannot determine whether or not a non-resident is prohibited from purchasing or possessing ammunition.

Record Keeping Requirements: – Starting July 1, 2019, all California ammunition vendors must record information on a DOJ form before selling or transferring ownership of ammunition. The forms must be kept no less than 5 years.

Private Transactions: – Licensed vendors are required by law to process private party ammunition transactions and cannot refuse to process in-person private party ammunition transfers but vendors may also charge a fee for the service to the purchaser. If the purchaser is present for immediate delivery, licensed vendors can charge the purchaser no more than $5. If the purchaser is not present for the immediate delivery, vendors may charge an additional “storage” fee as agreed upon with the purchaser prior to the vendor receiving the ammunition (there isn’t a cap).

The newly adopted regulation adopts chapter 13, sections 4350-4353, which can be found within Title 11 of the California Code of Regulations (CCR). The full text of the adopted regulations can be found here.

Shaft

A young FBI data analyst seeks out his estranged father to help him solve the death of his friend. During the course of the investigation father and son bond over investigative tactics and shared danger.

Shaft, Earns four out of five, Fight Dancing Monkeys. The story is solid, and the acting is fun to watch. I can’t wait until Samuel L. Jackson does a musical. The movie has good flow with unapologetic action and themes. I like how the title isn’t Shaft Two, or Shaft: the Reckoning, it is just plain Shaft. There is more than a little cussing and less than a lot of nudity, so you fine folks with standards have fair warning. My only regret is that I wasn’t able to see it sooner.

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

Two top Obama appointees could be the first two in the political firing squad brought about by the Mueller Russian Hoax to be questioned by congressional investigative committees.

The Washington, D.C. Swamp is starting to be drained and there are a lot of people who will have to pay the price for their criminal activities in trying to overthrow the duly elected president of the United States.

Start lubricating those handcuffs.

Two of the prime suspects and their wiggling around follow:

Obama's U.N. Ambassador Samantha Power Could be Called to Testify

Emails from former U.N. Ambassador Samantha Power displaying a bias against President Trump may be shared with the public as soon as Wednesday.

Fox News host Sean Hannity said on his evening show Tuesday June 25th, that he was told that the "biggest shoe to drop may be coming tomorrow" regarding the Trump-Russia investigation, saying his "little birdies" were telling him the potential bombshell had to do with "unmasking."

Hannity introduced The Hill's John Solomon, who said he had obtained emails from Power around the time she reportedly requested to "unmask" more than 260 Americans whose identities were caught up in the surveillance of non-U.S. citizens.

Solomon said these government emails display the "same sort of anti-Trump bias" that were evident in text messages exchanged by ex-FBI officials Peter Strzok and Lisa Page while they were involved in the investigations into Hillary Clinton's emails and the Trump campaign.

"I can tell you that Samantha Power and her colleagues were doing the same thing on the official State Department's email system "what she was saying about Trump at the same time these unmaskings were going on, I am certain it's going to trouble the American public."

Soon after it was reported in fall 2017 that Power sought to unmask hundreds of Americans, she testified to the House Intelligence Committee. Then-Oversight Chairman Trey Gowdy, who was a member of the House Intelligence Committee, told Fox News that Power testified that she was not the official requesting that unmasking in every case.

"I think if she were on your show, she would say those requests to unmask may have been attributed to her, but they greatly exceed by an exponential factor the requests she actually made," the former South Carolina congressman said.

Gowdy further stated that if there was "someone else making requests on behalf of a principal in the intelligence community, we need to know that because we're getting ready to reauthorize a program that's really important to the country, but also has a masking component to it."

Ex-CIA Chief John Brennan Could Be Exposed in Coup Attempt

In an early June article in the Communities Digital News: ROME, ITALY: The Prime Minister of Italy has recently fired two of the countries most powerful intelligence chiefs in a major shake-up. It was directly attributed to their participation with John Brennan and the CIA in using Joseph Mifsud to set up George Papadopoulos as a pretext for launching the great Russia Hoax of 2016.

"Russian agent" Joseph Mifsud is actually an American Asset

The use of Italian intelligence agencies to spy on members of the Trump campaign have roiled the internal workings of the Italian government at the highest levels. Simply put, Joseph Mifsud, who is represented in the Mueller report on page one as a "Russian agent", is actually a senior Italian intelligence asset.

He works with British intelligence, the CIA and the FBI. Mifsud trains intelligence agents at a center for advanced intel studies in the hills above Rome. He is living there now. His rent is paid for by the institute.

This is the mysterious "Russian agent" that is at the very center of the "official" explanation of the origins of the Mueller probe.

According to George Papadopoulos, the Trump campaign associate Mifsud targeted, the Italian parliament is now debating whether to declassify materials related to the Mifsud-Papadopoulos operation.

"The Italian government is currently holding hearings in parliament to declassify material related to their monitoring of me at link campus in Rome and Joseph Mifsud. Recommend American journalists reach out to their Italian colleagues. You are missing the story of the century." ... George Papadopoulos (@GeorgePapa19) June 5, 2019

This development aligns with Attorney General William Barr's scope letter to House Judicial Chairman Jerrold Nadler:

"... The review is broad in scope and multifaceted, and is intended to illuminate open questions regarding the activities of U.S. and foreign intelligence services as well as non-governmental organizations and individuals."

Mifsud's connection to Western intelligence agencies was known more than a year ago. Despite Mifsud's known history of working for British and U.S. intel agencies Robert Mueller had no story to tell unless Mifsud was a Russian asset.

So Mueller told his story and Democrats and the mainstream media covered for him.

Let that roll around in your mind while you consider whether President Trump is right about the media being the enemy of the people.

Don't be surprised if, non-governmental organizations and individuals might very well be Barr making reference to The European Council on Foreign Affairs (ECFR) and George Soros, the Mega Multi Billionaire that spreads billions of dollars to left wing organizations that include numerous Open Borders organizations.

Rural Broadband Update

Last week, the House Small Business Subcommittee on Contracting and Infrastructure held a hearing on broadband mapping data in rural areas. The subcommittee listened to testimony from a panel of rural broadband carriers on how broadband mapping data can be improved.

Accurate broadband mapping data is essential to closing the digital divide between urban and rural America. While the federal government continues to increase public investment in rural broadband deployment, accurate data is required to determine where funding should be prioritized.

In addition, rural carriers attempting to provide coverage for underserved areas are receiving misinformation on which areas are truly underserved. "As long as broadband maps remain unreliable and riddled with erroneous, overly broad coverage claims, we will not be able to maximize our efforts to reach all unserved areas or to sustain services in areas where funding is needed to do so," said Beth Osler, Director of Customer and Industry Relations at UniTel, a local carrier from rural Maine. Dan Stelpflug, Director of Operation at the Engineering and Technology at Allama-kee Clayton Electric Cooperative in Potsville Iowa, identified a separate issue with rural carriers. Stelpflug pointed out rural carriers are not adequately staffed to identify and apply for federal grants administered by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Rural carriers also lack the staff to meet the Federal Communications Commission's (FCC's) reporting requirements for projects funded by federal dollars.

Local and rural carriers are critical in closing the digital divide because they often served areas that are most underserved and most undesirable to nationwide carriers. In recent years, the federal government has committed more assistance to deliver high-speed broadband coverage to rural areas but the FCC needs to improve its broadband mapping data and engage further with rural carriers.

SB 167 to Mitigate Impact From Deenergization

Rural County Representatives of California (RCRC) has conveyed its continued support of Senate Bill 167, authored by Senator Bill Dodd (D-Napa). SB 167 would require electric utilities to mitigate the impact their deenergization events have on Californians who rely on life-support equipment.

In October 2018, over 60,000 residents in Amador, Butte, Calaveras, El Dorado, Lake, Napa, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra, Sonoma, and Yuba Counties had their power shut off for up to three days in order to mitigate wildfire risk associated with extreme weather conditions. More recently, a PG&E deenergization impacted over 22,000 customers in Butte, Napa, Solano, Yolo, and Yuba Counties. Some residents called 911 with emergencies ranging from requesting welfare checks on individuals whose care required electricity to requesting an ambulance because the caller's husband was running out of oxygen. These are the Californians SB 167 seeks to protect.

Rural areas are often populated by a higher percentage of elderly persons that rely on electricity to sustain vital health care needs. RCRC believes that SB 167 will help mitigate the impacts of deenergization on those who rely on life-support equipment.

SB 167 currently awaits consideration in the Assembly Utilities & Energy Committee.

Taking Responsibility

Taking Responsibility
A Canadian artist was fired after his cartoon of President Trump went viral and found itself posted on social media. The cartoonist Michael de Adder, pictured President Trump standing near a river bank beside a golf cart with a golf club in his hand and looking down on the bodies that were supposed to represent the bodies of the father and daughter who drowned in the Rio Grande while trying to cross from Mexico into Texas. The caption of the cartoon had President Trump asking, "Do you mind if we play through?" When I saw this I was instantly appalled at the depictions in the cartoon, but as I read the comments by others who had seen the same cartoon, they applauded the cartoonist and the depictions in the cartoon, I couldn't believe the insult that was against our President but more insulting was the use of this dead father and his precious little girl as a tool by all who hate the President.

It occurred to me that anyone who applauded that picture and agreed with its false narrative were heartless and insensitive to the real problem which is inaction of democrats congress, California Governor Gavin Newsom, Presidential candidate Senator Kamala Harris, Oakland Mayor Libby Schaaf and the myriad of Sanctuary Cities who encouraged this dead father (Oscar Alberto Martinez Ramirez and his 23-month-old daughter, Angie Valeria) to risk his life and the life of his child to come into our country ILLEGALLY. They also ignore the fact that my relatives who apply LEGALLY can't come across an ocean and start living off a system of FREE benefits of what they believe is the "Promise Land." So, if you agree with and say that this FALSE NAR-RATIVE IS TRUE, YOU TOO ARE PART OF THE PROBLEM. YOU HELPED TO DROWN THIS FATHER AND HIS CHILD. The picture should show you and the rest of the Sanctuary City proponents with your INDEX FINGERS GESTURING "COME HERE", WE WILL GIVE YOU SANCTUARY. It is you, who have killed this family, it is you who have called them "Immigrant" when in fact they are Lawbreakers, illegal entrants who disdain our laws and refuse to abide by the rules of REAL IMMIGRANTS, who legally stand in line, fill out the paperwork, pay the fees and come into our country THE RIGHT WAY and become citizens and viable residents of the land contributing to the society rather than being a draw on the resources of society.

Why Some Don't Like Trump

I took it on myself to find out why people hated President Trump. So each person who would talk bad about him I would ask them what they didn't like about President Trump. And it was funny most of them didn't really know, Some told me half truth's as soon I would show them they were wrong they were OK. One was made at the tariff's he put on Mexico but when he finished the negotiations all was well with

I guess these Democrats don't have any solid beliefs. They just twist whichever way seems most beneficial at the moment.

(YUBA CITY)

The New California State movement announced Grievance 76 will be publicly declared at 11 a.m., Tuesday, July 9, 2019, in front of the Sutter County Courthouse (1175 Civic Center Blvd., Yuba City), Yuba County Government Center (915 8th Street, Marysville), Butte County Courthouse (1 Court Street, Oroville), and other courthouses and government centers in New California counties throughout California.

New California State is the formation of a new state by egregiously aggrieved United States' citizens living in California who, to escape the lawlessness and tyranny of the state of California, are following the only Constitutional path to form a new state from an existing state.

New Californians have been declaring and publicly reading a new grievance against the state of California every Tuesday morning at 11 a.m. since declaring independence January 15, 2018.

Grievance 74 was declared and read June 25, 2019:

Statement of Facts. The people of California are suffering from a tyrannical state government which fails to provide a republican form of governance, enables and supports across its southern border the invasion of the United States of America by illegal foreign nationals, and protects vicious criminals who commit outrageous acts of violence upon the Citizens of America, all caused by a government of and for a mono-party system led by a tyrannical dictator who openly defies federal law.

The California State government repeatedly and egregiously violates:

Article IV, Section 4, of the United States Constitution, which decrees: "The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence; and

Article VI of the U.S. Constitution, which decrees: "This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding."

LAWLESS LEADERSHIP IS THE ORDER OF THE DAY

California's mono-party political machine, its socialist governor, elected officials, agencies, and regional governance boards are engaging in lawlessness; routinely violate Article IV, Section 4, and Article VI of the U.S. Constitution; and actively engage in acts of insurrection against the U.S. Constitution.

California's socialist governor is leading the effort to dismantle the constitutional rule of law in California and the United States:

While the President was announcing the cessation of aid to Central American countries to stem the invasion of illegal foreign nationals into the United States, the California socialist governor was meeting with the president of El Salvador and stated, "California will assert itself if this administration wants to walk away." International aid and immigration are handled by the federal government, but the socialist governor has shown an incredible ability to disregard tradition and violate the Constitution to forge forward with his own agenda.

As mayor of San Francisco in 2004, he openly violated state law and ignored the will of the people when he authorized his office to issue marriage licenses to same-sex couples.

He has embarked on a pattern of ignoring existing law -- a pattern that has become more and more brazen, yet every bit as successful.

He was the face of the successful referendum to legalize marijuana in California in 2016. The next year, as a result, he took in hundreds of thousands of dollars in campaign contributions from the cannabis industry, even though it was and continues to be illegal under federal law. Additional states have since followed California, and the U.S. Department of Justice thus far has not intervened.

He ignored federal immigration laws and declared California a sanctuary state.

He signed an executive order setting a moratorium on the death penalty, giving a reprieve to 737 criminals who had been given the death sentence through California's judicial system. As in the past, this act came just three years after California voters rejected an initiative to end the death penalty, instead passing a measure to speed up executions. And it was just after he assured voters on the campaign trail that he would, in fact, enforce the death penalty.

The Declaration of Independence states, "Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." Without that consent, governments are tyrannies, unjustly handing out penalties with the stolen power they have seized by force or manipulation.

Voices have been silenced. The republic is dead in California.

New California State citizens pray for the President to exercise his authority under the Insurrection Act of 1807 to end the tyranny foisted upon United States' Citizens living in California State.

Oregon Legislature Votes To Essentially Ban Single-Family Zoning

by Stephan Frank

Usually it, is California that starts the crazy, anti-freedom movements. In this case Oregon gets the award for killing off the American dream. They are passing legislation to end single family housing zones. Who benefits? Developers building eight story apartments and current single family homeowners that, when signed into law, increases the value of their home because of the now government mandated limited supply. Under socialism the rich get richer—and this is how they do it.

"The state's House and Senate have now both passed a measure that requires cities with more than 10,000 people to allow duplexes in areas zoned for single-family homes. In the Portland metro area it goes a step further, requiring cities and counties to allow the building of housing such as quadplexes and "cotage clusters" of homes around a common yard.

House Bill 2001 will now go before Gov. Kate Brown, a Democrat, who is expected to sign it. It had bipartisan support and was approved on the last day of a wild legislative session that saw some Republican senators flee the state over a climate bill.

Bi-partisan support? Cap and Trade, which gives $500 million a year the train to nowhere scam by raising gas taxes to up to 72 cents a gallon on 1/1/20 also was bi-partisan seven Assembly Republicans supported this and killed off volunteers that thought the GOP stood for responsible tax policy and honest government. Expect Sacramento Democrats to pass this and kill off our American dream.
