Yuba County Served with Brief to invalidate Measure K

Marysville, Ca.

On June 24, 2019 Yuba County was served with a brief, from Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association and two Yuba County residents, in the un-incorporated area of Yuba County, Charlie Mathews and John Mistler, to invalidate Measure K. (HJTA, et al. v. County of Yuba, et al. – Yuba Superior

CASE NO. CVPT18-00021273)

The hearing will take place on August 26, 2019 at 10:00 a.m. in Department 4 with the Honorable Judge Stephen Berrier Measure K proposes a 1% sales tax. It is called the "Public Safety/Essential Services Protection Ordinance." The county believes the tax is a "General Tax" requiring a 50% +1 vote to pass. The opponents believe the county promoted the tax as a "Special Tax" which would require approval of two thirds of the voters to pass. The tax passed in November with 53%.

Full documents of the brief can be seen on eterritorial.com

Illegal Cannabis Cultivation Investigated

Oregon House, Ca.

At approximately 8:00 a.m. on 6/25/19, the YCSO Marijuana Enforcement Team (METYU) with the assistance of Net-5 and Yuba County Code Enforcement officers executed a search warrant 8200 block of Marysville Rd in Oregon House. During the search, Deputies located approximately 2,400 marijuana plants among four residences converted to grow houses on two parcels that are believed to be connected.

During the execution of the search warrant, personnel on scene required the use of masks due to black mold inside the homes used for the illegal grows. Code Enforcement condemned the homes as unsafe to occupy due to the mold infestation.

Two illegal rifles were located and seized. One suspect, identified as 39-year-old

You You Kuo of Sacramento, was arrested at the location and cited for 11358 H&S/ Illegal Cannabis Cultivation and 11359 H&S/Illegal Possession of Marijuana for Sale.

Camp Popeye

by Lou Binninger

The newest lawless territory in Marysville is Camp Popeye behind the abandoned Popeye's Restaurant on Tenth. Anything goes -- drug deals, 'tweakers' screaming at one another all night as their dog joins in, garbage everywhere, a guy sits in an upholstered chair like a throne in the parking lot surrounded by stray mattresses.

Two weeks ago, squatters started a fire along the fence adjacent to a line of houses to the north. Smoke drifted through the formerly tame neighborhood prior to Marysville Fire's arrival.

Last week, four humans were draped across the asphalt lot like sea lions laid out on the pier in San Francisco. Anything goes here. A single mother arose for work in a nearby residence to find someone removed all four wheels and the battery from her VW. Where there is no fear of consequences, people take what they want and do what they will.

This city management philosophy is the polar opposite of the 'Fixing Broken Windows' theory of taming the lawless. This is called 'Look the Other Way' theory. The only thing missing in the Popeye's alley is a homicide. 'Fixing Broken Windows' says if you ignore the stripped car, the petty law breaking etc. you will eventually get a home invasion, sexual assault or homicide. Address the petty issues to prevent the more gnarly deviance.

No surprises here except for government paralysis. Today's 'liberal brilliance' is to ignore problems and make excuses. Thank God for Elite Security keeping a lid on it where they are hired. One of their security guards was even confronted by a miscreant last week.

A nineteen-year-old woman from the house with the stripped car says she's afraid of being assaulted at night walking to shop at Walgreens. You must pay a price or withstand a hustle to visit nearby Panda Express, CVS, Starbucks, Tri Counties Bank etc. Vagrants go behind the bushes at Wal-

No King but Jesus

by Lou Binninger

In 1836, Noah Webster, often considered "The Father of American Education," believed that the purpose of schools was to advance the Christian faith. "In my view, the Christian religion is the most important and one of the first things in which all children, under a free government ought to be instructed...No truth is more evident to my mind than that the Christian religion must be the basis of any government intended to secure the rights and privileges of a free people."

Tragically, the Biblical values upon which the nation was founded and thrived have come under continual assault and it continues today. John Dewey, a philosopher and psychologist born October 20, 1859, is known as "The Architect of Modern Education." He said, "There is no God, and there is no soul. Hence, there are no needs for the props of traditional religion."

Is it any wonder that America, the richest country in the world now falls behind even some Third World nations in student performance today? American schools now are considered a Jesus-free zone while poor village children in Communist Vietnam can wear backpacks declaring 'Jesus Loves Me' on them?

Abortions and deviant sexual lifestyles can be obtained at school here and a student has a shot at being molested or engaging in a sexual encounter with a teacher. Meanwhile, the union controlled schools protect the perverts and even knowing hire them.

It is no surprise that our founding history has been dumb-down, revised, and attacked in schools today. Much has even been hidden or discarded. However, any serious look at the original writings, personal correspondence, biographies and public statements of the founders will reveal lives directed by a Christian worldview.

Not every founder was a Christian convert, but even the few that were not were influenced by Biblical principles that shaped their political ideals. This Biblical thinking can be noted in our founding documents. The Declaration of Independence identified the source of all authority and rights as "The Creator" and not government. They were God-given, not man-made rights.

There would be no king or established religion to stand in the path of human liberty or dignity – both uniquely Judeo – Christian ideals. An oft-repeated phrase in the colonies was "No King but Jesus."

While the term "Founding Fathers" could describe a larger

Learn How to Process and Mill Wood

Nevada City, CA

On July 13, 2019, the Yuba Watershed Institute will host a workshop called "Working with Local Wood: Harvesting, Handling, Processing, & Milling Local Wood to Quality Lumber."

The workshop will take place from 9:30 am to 4 pm at the North Columbia Schoolhouse Cultural Center (17894 Tyler Foote Road, Nevada City, CA 95959).

Milling your own lumber is more than cutting boards from a log. This workshop will cover the following topics, and more: how to select trees for quality and quantity; how to get the log to the mill, or vice versa; the best way to mill a log for different purposes; and what to do with the boards after milling in order to save your investment and preserve the board's worth. Both conifer and hardwood species will be discussed.

The presenters at this Saturday workshop have many decades of experience dealing with local woods, which include some of the world's premier species and some of the most difficult to dry and preserve.

Len Brackett spent five years as an apprentice in Japan learning temple building in the traditional timber framing manner and established East Wind Construction Company on the San Juan Ridge 45 years ago. The rich Japanese cultural understanding and appreciation of conifer wood is deep and fascinating.

Bob Erickson has been a furniture maker since 1969 and brings a wide-ranging knowledge of what it means to work with local hardwoods and the pitfalls of not doing it right. His work is in the permanent collections of the Smithsonian Museum of American Art and Los Angeles County Museum plus others.

Theo Killigrew des Tombe has been a timber faller for CAL FIRE and a saw mill operator since 1996. He operates a Wood-Mizer LT40 portable sawmill and will display and demonstrate its operation. In the off season he is found in Nashville's music venues playing and singing his original songs.

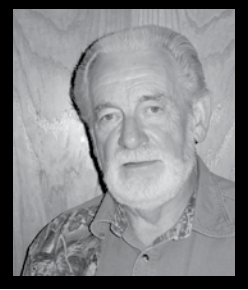

Robert Beauchamp has a diverse business plan. He is an accomplished furniture maker, a California walnut sawyer and dealer and a pine cone picking contractor who has climbed many of the largest trees in the world, the giant sequoias. He harvests, mills, and sells California Claro walnut.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

We remind those who salmon fish of the upcoming opening on July 16th. The limit is back to two salmon due to the run this year being better than last year. During the early part of the season we like to try spinners, spoons and plugs.

We have reports that the kokanee salmon bite is outstanding at this time at Bullard's Bar Reservoir with limits common.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife planted catchable trout last week in Philbrook Reservoir and Sly Creek Reservoir in Butte County. Stumpy Meadows Reservoir in El Dorado County. In Nevada and Placer Counties: Boca Reservoir, Donner Lake, French Meadows Reservoir and Sugar Pine Reservoir. In Plumas County trout were placed in Antelope Reservoir, Bucks Lake, Little Grass Valley Reservoir and Sly Creek Reservoir. Boca Reservoir, Gold Lake and Upper Salmon Lake received fish in Sierra County. Deer Creek and the South Fork of Battle Creek, located in Tehama County also received plants.

As expected, Whiskeytown Reservoir is putting out some nice sized Kokanee Salmon. Some of the fish are 18 inches or larger and are being caught at around 25 feet on down.

July 6th, which also is my birthday, is the first of two FREE FISHING DAYS in California. Anyone can fish for any fish in the state on this date.

The Feather River is finally starting to drop which means the striper fishing will more than likely slow down and most of the fish will head down river and back to the Delta.

Summer has arrived in the Sierra Nevada Mountains and most lakes, reservoirs, streams and rivers will be or already are accessible for fishing and hiking. Expect to still find snow above 7000 feet.

Closing thought: "Life Does not have to be perfect to be wonderful."

~ In Loving Memory ~

Orval Ray Fowler, Author of the WallyGumper™ Book Series

Orval Ray Fowler passed away at his Mountain home in Clipper Mills California. He was peaceful and surrounded by the blue grass music he loved, and the morning hummingbirds. Ray was 92 years, and is survived by his two daughters and son, with a family that span from the mainland, to Hawaii, to Japan; comprised of numerous grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, plus generations of nephews and nieces.

Rays personal legacy includes; being raised in a unique Educational environment in that both his parents were teachers, on a 166 acre farm in the mountains of Monongahela River Valley of Pennsylvania. His upbringing was during the Great Depression; where the values of self sufficiency and independence were instilled. Upon leaving high school, where he was lettered in football, he served in the US Marine Corps during World War II. When discharged from the Marine Corps, he met the love of his life, Grace Irene, in San Francisco. They shared 54 years of marriage together. Additionally, he played semi pro baseball in San Francisco, and was a Teamster for four decades in the Dairy Industry, as well as being a Mason. Upon retirement, he began his second career for environmental services with Re-cology, at the Transfer Station in Brownsville, California.

Since his wife passed in 2002, Ray turned towards writing the folklore of his country upbringing, blending it with her Native American heritage. During these years, Ray became known as a storyteller and musician throughout the foothills of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The result was 17 years of writing that brought many artists together from the San Francisco Bay Area & the Sierra Nevada Mountain community; in book signings, soiree' gatherings of blue grass music, and round drum singing. He published 7 books, with five more in the cue. Numerous volumes of WallyGumper™ Family Adventures are now available in the public domain.

Our family would like to extend our gratitude for the services of the Sutter North Browns-ville Clinic, Sutter North Home Health Care Staff, Cal Fire/Foothill Volunteer Fire Department and the EMT Crews, for their care and support. Ray's passing signifies a demarcation of multiple generations of our family in the Sierra Nevada Foothills and mountains; beginning with the Little North Fork of the Feather River in the 1900's to Clipper Mills in the 1960's. Memorial services will be private; in lieu of flowers the family requests donations to Shriners Children Hospital Burn Unit, Attention: Joseph Ramos, 2425 Stockton Blvd, Sacramento, CA 95817: on behalf of Orval Ray Fowler & Grace Irene Hill-Fowler, in honoring their shared end-of-life-request. Additionally, a complete set of the WallyGumper™ Book Series is being donated to both the Shriner's Children's Library & The Lakota Children's Enrichment Project.

Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over This 4th of July Holiday

Yuba City, Ca.

The 4th of July holiday is a time to enjoy fireworks and show country pride but is also traditionally one of the more dangerous times on the road.

To keep families safe this Independence Day, the Yuba City Police Department will have increased enforcement focused on impaired driving during the 4th of July holiday.

According to preliminary data from the California Highway Patrol, seven people were killed and 73 injured in alcohol-related crashes statewide on fourth of July last year. Every deadly crash involved a driver who had been drinking.

"Drinking and driving is a bad combination," Yuba City Police Department Sgt. Kim

Slade said. "The consequences are abundantly clear, yet people still make the poor decision to drive after drinking. Please be smart and make this 4th of July holiday a fun and memorable one."

If you are headed to 4th of July parties, designate a sober driver before heading out for the evening. If you are hosting a party, offer nonalcoholic drinks for designated sober drivers and monitor who is drinking. See people leaving who have been drinking? Check how they are getting home. Offer to let them stay the night if a sober driver is not available to take them home.

"Driving with just a buzz doesn't cut it," Yuba City Police Department Sgt. Kim Slade said. "With the rise in ride-share options, there really is no excuse for driving impaired."

The average cost of a DUI arrest is approximately $13,500, accounting for vehicle impound fees, fines, attorney fees, auto insurance hikes and other penalties. The Yuba City Police Department also reminds residents that prescription drugs, over-the-counter medications and marijuana can all be impairing and land you a DUI, especially in combination with alcohol and/or other drugs.

Funding for DUI enforcement was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Sutter County Museum

Open Frida Kahlo's Garden June 2019

Frida Kahlo (1907–1954) is considered one of the most significant artists of the twentieth century. Her body of work, consisting of some 250 paintings and drawings, is at once intensely personal and universal in scope, and relies heavily on the natural world. The exhibition Frida Kahlo's Garden transports visitors to Kahlo's garden to experience her world as she did. Frida Kahlo's Garden opened June 15, 2019 at the Sutter County Museum.

The garden at Casa Azul (or Blue House), Kahlo's lifelong home in Coyoacán, Mexico City, was a creative refuge and a source of inspiration for the artist and her husband, Diego Rivera (1886–1957). The garden, which was filled with native plants, housed Kahlo and Rivera's collection of pre-Hispanic artifacts and folk art displayed on a four-tiered pyramid inspired by the Mesoamerican city of Teotihuacan. This exhibition offers insights into the ways in which the garden at Casa Azul, the diversity of plant life in Mexico, and the rich cultural history of the country nourished the creativity of the world's great artists.

Often overshadowed by her husband's career and the traumatic events in her life, this exhibition approaches Kahlo from a different angle, to broaden the discussion of the artist by focusing on the influence of her surrounding environment, both natural and nationalistic. This approach examines her garden, her home, and the revolutionary influences that impacted her life.

Kahlo's works are filled with colorful and compelling depictions of flowers, foliage, and fruits, many native to Mexico. Her choice of botanical imagery reflects the embrace of archetypal Mexican indigenous and natural elements that defined art in the decades following the Mexican Revolution (1910–20). Through her profoundly personal paintings, which convey cultural, spiritual, and intimate messages, her reverence for nature, and her nationalistic fashion sense, Kahlo has become an icon within the artistic world.

Visitors to this exhibition will explore iconic photographs of the artist and her home and garden, in addition to reproductions of several of her paintings. Also included are information about native Mexican plants that were grown in her garden, a dress from the Mexican state of Oaxaca where Kahlo sourced much of her attire, and examples of folk art collected by Kahlo and Rivera. Additionally, visitors will learn about Mexican culture, including traditional festivities, food and drink, and agricultural practices.

This exhibition is made possible by NEH on the Road, a special initiative of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Frida Kahlo's Garden is adapted from the exhibition, FRIDA KAHLO: ART, GARDEN, LIFE, organized by guest curator Adriana Zavala at The New York Botanical Garden. It was made possible with major funding from the Institute of Museum and Library Services, Karen Katen Foundation, The LuEsther T. Mertz Charitable Trust, MetLife Foundation, National Endowment for the Arts, National Endowment for the Humanities, New York State Council on the Arts with the support of Governor Andrew M. Cuomo and the New York State Legislature, and Gillian and Robert Steel. It was adapted and toured for NEH on the Road by the Mid-America Arts Alliance.

Saturday, July 6th, Geney Holley will hold a scrapbooking project event at Books & More from 10:00 am to 12:00 pm. If you are interested just bring your memories and stop on by to join in on the fun and laughter that usually breaks out during the crafting classes. Books & More is located on Willow Glen Rd. in Brownsville.

Just a reminder that the Old West Trio will be bringing their western harmony to Lucero Vineyards & Winery on Sunday, July 7th. The event starts at 4:00 pm and tickets are $20.00 per person. Contact Marian Lucero at 530-632-5076 for tickets or more information. Lucero Vineyards & Winery is located at 10654 Texas Hill Rd. in Dobbins.

The Brownsville Classic Car show will be held in the Historic Chestnut Grove, 8979 La Porte Rd. on July 13. This show benefits Autism Speaks and will include raffles, food and a DJ. The goal for Autism Speaks is to change the future for all who struggle with an autism disorder. Admission is free and one gets to see many beautiful restored autos as well as visit with neighbors, have lunch and enjoy the shade of chestnuts. Anyone needing information please call Linda Wooldridge 530 675-9060.

We would like to start up Next Step again for a couple of reasons. To have a community car taking people to the Farmer's Market, Stone soup or even to town would be great. However, that takes money and dedication. Can we raise both? Having a Bingo game at the Farmer's Market would be a start. If we could find volunteers to run the game on Saturdays from 11 to 1, or so, would give us that start. There are also other projects proposed by Next Step that could use attention. If you or someone you know might want to help out, please stop by Books & More or call 675-3275 and talk to Yvonne.

Look Back in Time – In 1925 Dobbins residents voted to double the road taxes from 50 cents to one dollar a year to fix the roads (if only!).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

Anna

Starring: Sasha Luss, Helen Mirren, and Luke Evans.
Rated: R, Runtime: 1 hour 59 minutes.

A young woman in search of choosing a new life is recruited by the KGB. She works hard for the KGB and works even harder to find a way out. Her work carries her to most of Europe where she is noticed by the CIA. Things get complicated and a bit more interesting.

Anna, earns three out of five, Stiff Backed Monkeys. The story starts out meh, then works its way up to okay and finally arrives at pretty good by the end. The acting is good and the production value is also good. The last ten minutes make the movie not a waste of money to see if you happen to have a hankering to see a movie on the big screen and eat a giant tub of popcorn.

Elizabeth Warren and AOC insert them self's into Sears Acquisitions

Upstart Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (AOC) and Presidential candidate Senator Elizabeth Warren have sent a letter to Sears' former CEO Eddie Lampert, criticizing him for his efforts to avoid repaying Sears for $43 million in severance to the retailer's workers. A war of words and accusations between Lampert and the now defunct Sears Holdings has Lampert claiming the pay back to employees is no longer valid. The argument stems from Lampert's acquisition of the beleaguered retailers assets.

Lampert bought Sears assets through an affiliate of his hedge fund ESL. Lampert as its CEO headed up Sears as it spiraled into chapter 11. The original deal, which saved the company from total liquidation, also stated that Lampert would reimburse Sears severance costs for workers who lost their employment in the bankruptcy. Further muddying the waters is the fact Steven Mnuchin, Trumps secretary treasury, was on the board of directors at Sears and now both him and Lampert are being sued by Sears. Adding more conspiracy to the story is the additional fact that Sears bankrupt pension were taken over by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC), an organization that helps administer and settle pension's claims from involvement members. It just also happens to be overseen by Mnuchin, as well as the secretaries of commerce and labor. You can't make this stuff up.

Now that the smoke is clearing, or just starting to clear as the case may be, Lampert and his firm are claiming Sear's part of the deal is suspect and he may not pay the severance pay.

Yes it sounds complicated and it likely is, but my point is not the bankruptcy itself but the camel nose insertions by Warren and AOC, who for all intents and purposes, probably know less about Sears and its acquisition then the lowliest assistant accountant in any one of the number of firms that are handling the Sears mess.

Likely based on more of a political pulpit than an employee related one, although Warren has bankruptcy knowledge by study, AOC probably leans more into the personal experience aspect of the mechanism. Not to say she's filed bankruptcy, she hasn't, but her net worth of only a few thousand (Weekllystandard.com) mostly stemming from a bartending job gives little reason to think she knows much about a corporate bankruptcy such as a size that is the Sears liquidation. More likely she is exercising her well known talent of riding the political bandwagon and shooting off her now infamous mouth.

The point here being is that both the army of Sears lawyers and accountants along with the Lampert's many CPA's together with the bankruptcy courts will get to the bottom of this and probably get pretty close to if not spot on to the truth and who is possibly screwing who.

That Warren and AOC are joining forces, both of whom recently appeared together in their own version of a propaganda video on the Sears issue, the question should be asked is exactly what, besides more dissent, is their goal here?

Like I said, the armies of lawyers and accountants that are likely to see all the financials will bring their findings to the courts and then the courts will decide. That Warren and AOC are attempting to stir up controversy because one of the people involved is a cabinet member of the current administration is typical of the political maneuvering that is common among those that practice such things.

Warren and AOC can't possibly help the financial forensics. The accountants and lawyers involved would never permit it. What Warren and AOC can do is cause more hate and polarization that many claim has become the cornerstone of their party's strategy. In more common language, they love to stir the brown stuff.

A federal judge ruled that forbidding vagrants, the homeless, whom ever, to squat on public properties is 'cruel and unusual punishment' while they wallow in their addiction, behave like animals and die in their misery. This is the liberal's 21st Century version of compassion.

This judge is a socialist kook. This is the same spirit of stupid that traps single mothers in welfare and believes that the government can be the father to their children.

Has the judge been tested for syphilis? The disease affects the brain in advanced stages.

Arresting and booking people under the influence and for petty crimes gives the judicial system, probation and drug counselors the opportunity to address the arrestee's issues and get them to a drug program. This approach is successful in other states where recovered addicts are grateful that someone cared enough to detain them and stop their insanity.

Funding addicts until they are mindless and feces covered is not compassion or freedom. It is lawless, barbaric and ignorant. If a judge declared the sun circles the earth would we teach it?

Former Sutter County Sheriff Parker said we could not arrest our way out of this (homeless) problem. Can anyone name a deviant behavior that we have eradicated by arrests? Is that the mission?

Murder, rape, molestation, robbery, spousal abuse etc. have never stopped but we are still arresting people for these crimes. Arrests have not eradicated criminal behavior going all the way back to Cain and Abel (first family and first murder).

The judge's directive to add one more facility in each community before trespassing laws can be enforced proves that he is an idiot. Has anyone drug tested him lately? Most cities have options locally or nearby that these people have refused.

The government created this problem by funding deviant behavior for decades. Economist Walter Williams says if you want more of something then subsidize it. If you want less, tax it. Hundreds of millions of tax dollars along with church charity are causing the problem to increase, but it sure makes the donors and politicians feel like they are saving the world.

A Man of Many Talents
 by Carol Withington

Dennis Drummond Carter, a prominent Nevada City resident, can be best described as a man of many talents. Born on January 1, 1814 in Drummondtown, Virginia of Indian and African parentage, Carter moved to Philadelphia in 1825 where he would eventually receive a musical education. While there, Carter excelled on the Bass Viol along with a variety of other instruments.

In 1837, Carter joined the prestigious Frank Johnson Band, which was quite an honor for this young musician. Johnson was the first African American composer to have his work published in the United States in 1818. He would become Carter's mentor.

According to the "Atlantic Black Star" newspaper, in 1838 Johnson, along with his group of musicians, traveled throughout Europe. It was a trip of a lifetime for Carter because of what occurred. Relating a special event in Thompson and West's "History of Nevada County", Carter revealed that "while in England, they, by request, played before Queen Victoria".

Following the European tour, Carter returned to Philadelphia where he continued with his music career. But by 1848, according to Delilah Beasley in "The Negro Trail Blazers of California", Carter actually worked as a miner for a short time. Finding no success in this endeavor, Carter traveled back to Philadelphia where he became a music instructor. However, the lure of California remained. In 1851, Carter was back to stay in the Golden State where he settled in Nevada City.

Once again he taught music, forming classes in a circuit of cities, beginning with Grass Valley and ending in San Francisco. In addition, Carter became the leader of the Military Band of Nevada City, performing for many area events. Among his many private students was Abraham Freeman Holland, a Marysville pioneer, who, unlike Carter, found great success in mining as a member of the Sweet Vengeance Mine in Browns Valley.

In 1855, Carter attended the first California Colored Convention in Sacramento. As a delegate for Nevada County, he met Edward Parker Duplex of Marysville. Both, as activists, would become long-time friends. Carter's interests also included Free Masonry where he served as Most Worshipful Grand Master of the California Prince Hall Lodge in 1863 and from 1868-69.

When African American men were granted voting rights in 1870, it was Carter that made a major effort to see that all who were eligible were registered. Three years later, Carter even ran for Town Marshall. And with his music popularity and leadership qualities, it is no wonder that he was included in the "History of Nevada County".

Carter and his wife Jennie enjoyed the many events in Nevada and Yuba Counties that included parades, speeches and, of course, music. In the August edition, Part I of "Let's Celebrate" will include the 1867 and 1870 noteworthy happenings that occurred in Marysville, Grass Valley and Nevada City - often seen through the eyes of Jennie Carter.

group, the 55 delegates to the Constitutional Convention included 28 Episcopalians, 8 Presbyterians, 7 Congregationalists, 2 Lutherans, 2 Dutch Reformed, 2 Methodists, 2 Roman Catholics, 1 unknown, and 3 deists (belief in an impersonal God who started the world but left it to itself). So, 93% of this body were church members or were deeply influenced by a biblical view of man and government."

The last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence Charles Carroll said, "Without morals a republic cannot subsist any length of time; they therefore who are decrying the Christian religion, whose morality is so sublime and pure...are undermining the solid foundation of morals, the best security of the duration of free governments."

The churches were the primary source of revolutionary activism telling colonists that the British government was usurping their God-given rights, and the King and Parliament were violating the laws of God. Founders believed that it was their sacred duty to uphold the law of God against the unjust and oppressive laws of man.

In 1775, the Lutheran pastor John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg spoke from Ecclesiastes 3:1, "To everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven. Concluding he said, "In the language of the Holy Writ, there is a time for all things. There is a time to preach and a time to fight. And now is the time to fight."

He then removed his clerical robes to reveal a uniform of a Revolutionary Army officer. That same afternoon, leading 300 men, he marched off to join General Washington's troops and became Col-

On Reparations

Much has been written about Reparations for the Descendants of Slaves here in the Americas and now is my time to chime in on the subject for further examination and discussion. First, I want to quote the former NFL athlete Burgess Owens speaking before the House Judiciary subcommittee hearing on slavery reparations said this "I do believe in restitution. Let's point to the party that was part of slavery, KKK, Jim Crow, that has killed over 40% of our black babies, 20 million of them. State of California, 75% of our black boys can't past standard reading and writing test, a Democratic state. Let's pay reparation. Let's pay restitution. How about a Democratic Party pay for all the misery brought to my race."

I totally agree with his statement, never in my life living in America all my life were my parents, teachers or preachers instructing me that I was owed anything from anybody. My 1964 high school graduation speaker told us to "strive for the highest" and not to do so with my hand out. This move of seeking reparations is nothing more than another plan to seek vote from politically illiterate African Americans by promising them a different kind of "Welfare". It's another political tool using Red Soda pop and watermelon I remember being offered in my segregated neighborhood by politicians seeking the votes from the Negroes.

When it comes to these calls for reparations, I would think that if any people deserved reparations it would be the Native Americans that Columbus called "Indian"; but they have found a way to recover of a sort by establishing "Casinos" on land that onel of the 8th Virginia Regiment.

Ministers turned the colonial resistance into a righteous cause and served at every level of the conflict, from military chaplains to members of the state legislatures to taking up arms to leading troops to battle.

Patrick Henry's words were true, "Three million people, armed with the holy cause of liberty, and in such a country as that which we possess, are invincible by any force which our enemy can send against us."

Tragically, John Dewey, Barack the Narcissist and others who come in the same socialist and Godless spirit have replaced a God-given liberty with a Satanic lawlessness and rebellion. It's working very well and the sooner ministers and church people wake-up the better.

was deemed to be theirs in the first place. If the "Reparation" advocates were smart, they would take a page out of the Native American book and establish "Casino's" on former Plantations where African slaves were incarcerated and distribute the revenue to the decedents of those slaves. The logic behind this method based on the fact African Tribes sold their own countrymen into slavery and if reparations were distributed to those who identify themselves as African Americans, you would be rewarding descendants of those who sold their own into the slave trade too.

In closing, the call for reparations is another tool of enslavement using victimization as the new chains.

Open Letter to William Barr Attorney General

To Whom It May Concern: My wife Barbara J. Dodds received a phone call from Mega Millions in November, 2017.

They told her that she had won $850,000.00. My wife gave me the phone and they told me the same thing. I said send the check. Mr. Anderson said I need to send $500.00 to them to receive the money. I will send money only to someone in the United States. They sent my wife an email saying they would. I hung up and called the Butte County District Attorney's office. They told me they do not handle these things Just the FTC did and gave me their phone number. I called them and they gave me a file number #9042891. They did not tell me that they would not investigate They only wanted to gather information. Had I known that it would have stopped there. I have over sixty emails with names and phone numbers from these people that scammed my wife. I know the names are probably incorrect, but someone had to sign up to get the phone numbers.

I would like for you to investigate this. They have scammed my wife and me. Taking hundreds of dollars from us. The worst part was the JD theft. They cleaned out our bank account and maxed out three credit cards. They made it look like I did it. My wife Barbara J. Dodds has since passed away. I know this is all a scam. I do not know why the FDC did not investigate these people and have them arrested.

The main people involved with this scam are Mega Millions, Publishers Clearing House, Money Tree.com, Optum RX and Readers Digest. I am sure these companies are being used for the scammers cover up, and I am sure they are aware of it. They think the people that are being scammed are stupid. They even threatened our lives.

I believe I have enough information for you to pursue this scam, and have them arrested and put in jail. I would appreciate you looking into this matter and I pray that you will. If nothing else, at least the identity theft.

Sincerely,
Dale Dodds

Border Patrol Agents Revive Drowning Teen

(Commentator's Note: The Open Borders crowd and the opposition to the humanitarian crisis at the southwestern border continue to spew negative news about the handling of illegals crossing the border. The following news report gives a totally different mind-set of the border agents as they carry out their daily duties.)

EAGLE PASS, Texas — U.S. Border Patrol agents assigned to the Eagle Pass South Station marine unit saved the life of an undocumented immigrant teen after he and his family, all from Honduras, attempted to cross the Rio Grande River Tuesday afternoon, June 25th.

"Words cannot express my gratitude nor convey the sense of pride I have for these agents," said

Del Rio Sector Chief Patrol Agent Raul L. Ortiz. "Without a doubt, their quick life-saving actions brought this young man back from the brink of death."

On June 25, Border Patrol agents performing maritime operations on the Rio Grande River observed two individuals struggling to stay afloat near the Eagle Pass Port of Entry. As agents moved to assist, they saw a third person a short distance downstream, submerged beneath the surface and unmoving. Agents moved closer and pulled the lifeless teen aboard their vessel. The 13-year-old male was unconscious and not breathing, and had been underwater for more than a full minute. The vessel commander quickly performed CPR, assisted by the vessel's crewman. Through the agents' efforts, the teen eventually coughed up water, began breathing on his own and regained consciousness. The other two people, later determined to be the rescued teen's parents, were recovered from the river and all were brought safely to the U.S. shore

Border Patrol EMT agents were on scene and evaluated the family of three until EMS personnel arrived. They transported the teenage male, accompanied by his mother, to a local hospital for advanced care. After being medically cleared, the family was taken to the Eagle Pass South Station where they were processed per CBP guidelines.

• Stephen Franks keeps us informed of idiotic bills crawling like cockroaches through our State Capitol. “A bill that prohibits California from authorizing new oil and gas infrastructure on state public lands, AB 342, moved on to the Senate. A bill that would require smog checks for semi-trucks, SB 210, moved on to the Assembly. A mandated buffer between new oil wells and homes and schools, AB 345, failed in the Appropriations Committee, but it will be considered in 2020.”

• Canada has some of the strictest gun laws in the world. Go to the Canadian border and be told that if you are caught with a pistol, it's off to jail for one year. Where are all these folks getting weapons in Toronto to shoot up a victory parade? Even the most severe gun laws do not work.

• AOC says the US is running concentration camps on the southern border. In real concentration camps people are brought against their will. The people at the border travelled there of their own free will.

• No matter how much Congress spends on the border, it is wrong for the taxpayers to be footing the bill. We should keep the tariffs going until the bill is paid.

• The idea of people who never owned slaves paying money to people who never were slaves is simply another entitlement to keep Blacks voting for Democrats. The idea is locked and loaded today and stinks worse than a skunk.

• Democrats in California will not be satisfied until they receive 100% of all votes in all elections. That result is what they call Democracy. • The “eugenics movement” advocated public policies to manipulate the population to produce what the movement feels is to be a public that is genetically superior. Supreme Court Associate Justice Clarence Thomas is, once again, under attack due to Thomas' opinion in Box v. Planned Parenthood of Indiana and Kentucky, recently considered by the Supreme Court. According to the Indiana law doctors must inform women that “Indiana does not allow a fetus to be aborted solely because the fetus's race, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, or diagnosis or potential diagnosis of the fetus having Down syndrome or any other disability. Liberals cried “foul” when Thomas rightly observed that abortion based on race, sex or disability amounts to giving constitutional protection to the eugenics movement because he struck the highly sensitive note that liberals want to stand in God's place. Liberals demand to define and decide who lives and who dies. In other words, bureaucrats decide who's worthwhile to have around and who's not.

• The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that private property does not exist. They ruled that unions can trespass any time they want to harass workers and managers of private companies. Cedar Point, which raises strawberry plants, alleged organizers from the United Farm Workers union came on its property, without notice, and “disrupted work by moving through the trim sheds with bullhorns, distracting and intimidating workers.” First the farmers. When will it be your business? In California the unions own your business.

• According to scientists who actually know something about the subject, tell us that sea-level trends “vary considerably because they depend not only on the average global trend, but also on tectonic movements of adjacent land. In many places vertical land motion, either up or down, exceeds the very slow global sea-level trend. Consequently, at some locations sea level is rising much faster than the global rate, and at other locations sea level is falling. One example is found in Stockholm, Sweden. There is no rise. In fact the sea-level is falling due to regional vertical land motion. Water intrusion problems around the Chesapeake Bay in Virginia and Maryland are also not due to sea-level rise, but instead to land subsidence (the sinking of the land surface) from human activity such as groundwater depletion. The author (renowned Swedish sea level expert Prof. Axel Mörrer) published in the International Journal of Earth & Environmental Sciences, dumps lots of cold water on the premise that today's sea level rise is caused by man and is unusual. Mörrer's paper looks back at the last 500 years of sea level rise and shows that natural variables are the major drivers, and not man-made CO2-driven global warming. (Oh, by the way, this was published in 2017).

• According to recent writers “the best available data” shows “evidence is lacking for any recent changes in global sea level that lie outside natural variation.” The investigators point out that if the negative effects of the claimed rise in sea level, such as a loss of surface area, were to be visible anywhere, it would most likely be in the small islands and coral atolls in the Pacific Ocean. However, research indicates many of these islands and atolls are actually increasing in size. Simply, they are “not being inundated by rising seas due to anthropogenic climate change.” As the authors carefully state in their treatise, “Fears of an accelerated rise in sea levels caused by anthropogenic climate change are misplaced and overblown. Further, this fear mongering should not be used by policymakers in coastal states and cities to advocate for policies that would seek to limit or eliminate carbon dioxide emissions.”

School is out for the summer and summer is for enjoying your yard and all the effort put into it. The most important thing to be done, of course, is keeping things adequately irrigated during the hot summer months we have. Irrigating is best done early in the day for maximum growth and health of your plants. Drip systems offer the careful use of water by delivering the water just to the targeted plant and not all the surrounding area, and is therefore a system that keeps weeds down as well. The problem we find with them is that they must be carefully monitored to be sure they are working properly and are not clogged. The use of mulch around and between plants help to keep the areas moist between watering. A really efficient system takes a bit of planning and altering as plants grow larger and require more water. Usually that is done by adding emitters when needed. Having it all on a timer makes your irrigating so simple it's easy to forget about it, but it should be checked, especially if you notice any plants looking stressed. It is necessary to know the flow rate on emitters – how much water per minute - or is it per hour? It makes a world of difference. Know-

As a professional bar tender, she does not know, even as a Member of Congress, that to do that would end all tourism in this country—even Disneyland would be destroyed. Yet, not evidence other than junk science and paid for studies by conflicted academics and government socialists, are the proof needed for her. Then you have the corrupt, Socialist government of California.

“Nevertheless, in order to help California “decarbonize,” the PUC wants to force all buildings and business operations to go all electric despite the tremendous cost and

Sacramento, Ca. Assemblyman James Gallagher (R-Yuba City) today issued the following statement in response to AB 78, a Budget Trailer Bill that establishes a penalty for those not having health insurance in California:

“I am opposed to the proposed tax penalty in the budget for anyone not purchasing health insurance. The idea that we should mandate under threat of a fine or penalty that you purchase health insurance, or any product/service for that matter, runs counter to poor return on investment. Most people in this state are living from paycheck to paycheck. They can't afford an electricity bill that is going to increase three times faster than their gas bill, nor the estimated $7,200 it will cost to convert the average home from gas to electric. Furthermore, electricity not only costs more, but we don't have the grid capacity to go all electric, especially when you consider the higher voltage system required to recharge car batteries.

These people don't realize that electricity is a secondary power source. It has to be produced by a primary source. Across America, our American values and any concept of personal freedom. And the idea that it is “necessary” to bring down the costs of healthcare and premiums is just laughable at this point.

“Since we embarked on this failed Obama-care experiment has anyone seen their costs go down? Does anyone charge less? Have your premiums gone anywhere but up? So why are we doubling down on this in California. Same old story: Government gets bigger and more intrusive and you pay fossil fuels are still the primary power source of 63 percent of all electricity. Moreover, solar and wind power sources, due to the intermittent nature of their output, must rely on natural gas for backup. Unless and until the state power sources are 100 percent renewable (which is going to take decades), why fool ourselves converting to all electrical appliances, as if electricity itself is green, when in reality the electricity is still being generated by fossil fuels?”

Will the people, at the ballot box, stop the corruption and the economic destruction of California? If we don't, learn to call yourself a Texan.

ing how much water the emitters produce will let you accurately decide how long they should run to do a thorough job of watering. We sometimes have calls about the advisability of planting a tree in the middle of the July heat. It can be done if you are going to be there to be sure that the tree will be watered adequately. It would need a deep watering about three times a week through the heat of the summer. Deep watering requires a basin around the base of the tree. It should be just deep enough that a very light stream of water can be left on for several hours without overflowing, insuring that the water is soaking in around and into the tree's roots. Another easy way is to accomplish this by using a piece of 2” plastic pipe that is long enough to reach the bottom of the planting hole and extend several inches above ground level. About three sets of four or five ½” holes need to be drilled in a vertical line in the lower end of the pipe to allow the water to drain. Put that pipe in vertically to the bottom of the hole as you put the planting mix in around the tree. Hang the hose into the pipe and turn the water on slowly, leaving it for several hours to deep water the tree. One add-

Put that pipe in vertically to the bottom of the hole as you put the planting mix in around the tree. Hang the hose into the pipe and turn the water on slowly, leaving it for several hours to deep water the tree. One added precaution to insure a good result is to add a capful of ‘Superthrive’ to the irrigation water the first time or two. Put some rocks into the bottom several inches of the pipe to help to keep mud from clogging the pipe.

For those folks in the foothills dealing with the rapid growth of wild blackberries, poison oak, poison ivy, and other bushy and woody unwanted growth, this is good time to spray them with a brush killer. It must be done while they are growing vigorously for the best result. Using a product labeled as “brush killer” will do a better job than a general herbicide like Remuda or Roundup. These pesky plants it might require more than one spraying.

Do you like Monarch butterflies? Most of us seem to, and there is a plant available that will attract them. Asclepias curassavia, a variety of milkweed. It is quite an attractive annual plant with vivid red or bright yellow clusters of small flowers. The Monarchs lay their eggs on the stems which then hatch into caterpillars. They then feed on the foliage of the plant for nourishment. Nature has more interesting, clever and amazing ways of doing things than any of us will ever know, but it is fun to watch when you see it.

Mower blades should be set at 2” of height during the hottest months. It may not give as smooth a finish as a lower setting, but it will take less water to maintain a nice green lawn. The higher setting helps the longer grass to shade the ground beneath which helps to retain moisture, thus keeping the grass green with fewer waterings.

Fertilize your summer vegetables and annuals to keep them flowering and/or fruiting. Use B.T. on the big green worms that defoliate tomato plants. Don't neglect those pretty hanging baskets. They need thorough watering to keep them pretty and that tends to wash nutrient right out of the bottom of that basket. It is probably easiest to use a 3 or 4 month slow release fertilizer on them. Annuals that you may have planted for all the color they provide will bloom longer if you have the time to dead head them frequently, and give them a bit of fertilizer.

Enjoy the pleasures of summer.

Yuba Sutter Arts Awarded California Arts Council "JUMP StArts" Grant

Marysville, Ca. On June 5th, the California Arts Council announced a grant award of $45,000 to the Yuba Sutter Arts Council (YSA) as part of its JUMP StArts program. JUMP StArts supports high-quality arts education and artists-in-residence programs for youth engaged in the juvenile justice system. These may be students who have been arrested, are on probation, attend alternative high schools or are incarcerated at a juvenile justice facility. Projects must be designed and developed in partnership between an arts organization and a juvenile justice facility or social service organization. The program mobilizes partnerships between arts organizations and juvenile justice entities to create arts-learning opportunities that foster positive socio-emotional, behavioral, academic, and developmental outcomes for system-engaged youth. This is the second year of Yuba Sutter Arts' involvement in the Jump StArts program. A collaboration between YSA and the Yuba and Sutter County Offices of Education, teaching artists visit various facilities including Camp Maxine Singer, Tri-County Juvenile Hall, T.E. Mathews High School, Feather River Academy and Albert Powell High School and provide unique, weekly arts experiences for the students. Arts instruction has included African drum and dance, ceramics, guitar, poetry and visual arts. YSA is one of 51 grantees chosen for the JUMP StArts program. The award was featured as part of a larger announcement from the California Arts Council, with grant funds totaling a projected $24,508,541 for 2018-19, the highest investment in statewide arts programming since the 2000-01 fiscal year.

"Arts and culture are inextricably linked to our humanity," said Nashormeh Lindo, California Arts Council Chair. "They serve as a universal touchpoint for understanding and addressing our societal issues—dismantling inequity, healing trauma, reframing justice, inspiring truth and shaping futures. The Council is humbled to support the vital work of Yuba Sutter Arts and its passionate efforts to make a better California for us all."

To view a complete listing of all JUMP StArts grantees, visit http://arts.ca.gov/programs/program_files/1819/CurrentGrantees/FY18-19_Project_Descriptions_JUMP.pdf.

Food and Farm News

Hearing focuses on soil health

Programs to benefit soil health should be "locally focused and producer-led," according to a California Farm Bureau Federation officer who testified before Congress Tuesday. CFBF First Vice President Shannon Douglass told a House subcommittee about soil-health practices she uses on her Glenn County farm. She said programs to encourage similar practices should be flexible, incentive-based and backed by up-to-date research.

Nutria eradication efforts may get boost

Additional resources may be on the way, to help control and eradicate an invasive rodent. More than 500 nutria have been trapped in Central California. The creatures threaten crops, levees and other water systems. The new state budget passed by the Legislature includes nearly $2 million to boost nutria eradication work, and members of Congress have introduced a bill to revive a federal eradication program.

Cherry losses reach disaster status

Losses to cherry crops caused by springtime rains have led at least three California counties to file or consider crop-disaster declarations. San Joaquin County says more than half its cherries were lost to the storms, and has filed a disaster request. Madera and Stanislaus counties will likely do so, too. Ultimately, a disaster decree from the U.S. Agriculture Department could qualify affected farmers for low-interest loans and other aid.

Walnut promotions emphasize heart health

Encouraged by results of a retail marketing campaign focused on heart health, the California Walnut Board says it plans to expand the program nationally. Advertisements and in-store displays promoted walnuts as a heart-healthy food during American Heart Month in February. The Walnut Board says improved sales in test markets this year will lead to nationwide expansion of the program next year.

What is PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

Public Safety Power Shutoff or PSPS is a precautionary safety measure that may proactively turn off power lines when extreme fire danger conditions are forecast. We will do this to reduce wildfire risks and keep our customers safe.

To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

What criteria does PG&E consider when calling a PSPS?

No single factor will initiate a Public Safety Power Shutoff as each situation is unique. The factors we generally consider include:

- A Red Flag Warning declared by the National Weather Service
- Forecasts of strong winds and wind gusts
- Low humidity levels
- Critically dry vegetation that could fuel a wildfire
- And on-the-ground, real-time observations from PG&E field crews

In the interest of public safety, we continue to update and refine our criteria and protocols on an ongoing basis.

How will I know if a PSPS has been called in my neighborhood?

Because extreme weather threats can change quickly, our goal is to provide notice through phone calls, emails and text messages to customers 48 hours in advance, again at 24 hours and again just prior to turning off the power for safety. Updates will also be shared through social media, local news, radio and pge.com until the time power is restored. To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

How can I prepare for a PSPS?

We advise you to think in advance about your family's needs and how you might be impacted in the event of a power shutoff — or for any emergency.

- Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including pets?
- If you own a generator, is it ready to operate safely?
- Do you know how to open your garage door manually?
- Do you have cash and a full tank of gas, in the event ATMs and gas stations are unavailable?
- Are your mobile phones fully charged?
