Another Day Another Tax

by Lou Binninger

Yuba County residents are punch drunk from repeated tax increase moves by cities, the county, school districts, state (road taxes) and now Reclamation District 784 assessments.

Meanwhile government is making people poor in others ways, as well. The CPUC (California Public Utility District) granted PG and E the clearance to raise rates after they and the state mismanaged our forests and utilities causing massive forest fires and historic destruction. The citizens pick-up the tab.

P G and E rates are already 60% higher than the national average. Our gasoline prices are a dollar greater per gallon than other states.

This has everything to do with greedy mismanaging politicians and bureaucrats with a bent for centralized management of our lives while wasting our money and natural resources. Report after report reveal corruption, waste, foolish projects, incompetence, too many workers with many not accomplishing a thing.

Prevailing wage government jobs like highways and schools waste 20-30% on labor costs due to the Davis-Bacon Act establishing union – government collusion that mandates all contractors pay exorbitant wages. The loser is the common citizen.

Recently, Reclamation District 784 (RD784) that manages

Freedom of Conscience and Speech Unwanted

by Lou Binninger

Due to the Left's agenda to make America socialist few people today understand that America, the government, constitution and value system were created by followers of Jesus Christ. Ninety-eight percent of the initial immigrants arriving here were Protestant Christians fleeing persecution to start a new life based on Biblical principles.

Equality, inclusion, liberty and freedom are Protestant Christian values that many still hold dear. Before the Protestant Reformation people thought heaven could only be obtained through the Catholic Church. However, these newcomers believed in the revolutionary idea of the priesthood of the believer which removed a priestly class that stood between God and the believer.

The concept that everyone was a priest and therefore of equal value led to the freeing of the slaves, the equality of women, free speech and conscience, religion and the many other rights we still are unique for. However, for the last 50 years there has been a furious assault by the Left against Christianity, its followers and our nation's founding principles.

The revolutionaries of the 60's were deceived as they deceived others. That deception and darkness have continued with amazing effectiveness in undermining the key institutions of American society – education, government, media and the family while a good portion of the people now follow blindly like dumb sheep.

You can't have the inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness unless there is a God or you have respect for those with faith in God. Atheists and/or socialists could never have successfully created this nation. They could however destroy it.

In 1962, the Supreme Court removed prayer from schools.

Huge "Community Resource Fair" Coming to Yuba City May 18th

The 9th Annual "Community Resource Fair" is set for Saturday, May 18 from 10:00 until 1:00 at Gauche Aquatic Park at Wilbur Ave. and C St. in Yuba City.

The event has increased in size each year, with this year being no exception.

Sponsored by the Yuba-Sutter-Colusa United Way, the "Community Resource Fair" features some 76 local non-profit and governmental agencies sporting loads of information about their low-cost and no-cost services and programs for individuals and families.

"I am amazed at how many services are available locally that many people didn't know existed," said Bob Harlan, Executive Director of Yuba-Sutter-Colusa United Way.

"It's a one-stop shop for dozens of types of human services. There literally is something for everyone," Harlan said.

In addition to the information tables, the first 850 people will receive a free barbeque lunch. Plus, there is a kid's fun run, children's activities, a "Walk and Roll for Disability Awareness" walk with about 550 participants and some 75 prizes in a free half-hourly drawing.

While the event caters mostly to low-income families, there are many exhibitors catering to all income levels.

For more information and a list of exhibitors, visit www.yuba-sutter-unitedway.org. Click on "Events." Or call (530) 743-1847.

The Community Resource Fair is sponsored in part by Sutter Health, the Sutter County Children and Families Commission, Nivano Physicians, Ridgeline Specialized Pediatric Day Health & Respite Services, Allstate-True Blue Insurance and Anthem BlueCross.

CalFresh Food Benefits Expansion

Yuba City, Ca. The Sutter County Health and Human Services Department, Employment and Eligibility Services Branch is pleased to announce the expansion of the CalFresh food assistance program to serve people who receive Supplemental Security Income/State Supplementary Payment (SSI/SSP) benefits beginning June 1, 2019. There will be no change or reduction to their SSI/SSP benefits. This announcement marks the kick-off of the annual CalFresh Awareness Month in May.

"Expanding CalFresh to SSI/SSP recipients in Sutter County will help improve nutrition and health in the community by providing food benefits to seniors and people with disabilities." Nancy O'Hara – Director, Sutter County Health and Human Services Department.

The Employment and Eligibility Services Branch is prepared to help older adults and people with disabilities who receive SSI/SSP apply for CalFresh food assistance and encourages applicants to apply beginning June 1, 2019. There will be an unprecedented high volume of applicants this summer as CalFresh expands to serve up to 3,900 SSI/SSP recipients in Sutter County. Counties have been working overtime to be as prepared as they can be to launch this historic CalFresh program expansion.

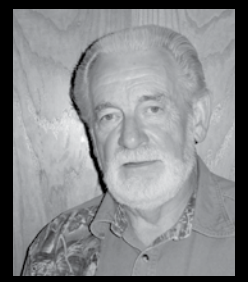

Households that already receive CalFresh and currently have a member of their household that has been excluded because they receive SSI do not need to re-apply. Counties will evaluate those households for CalFresh benefits at their next report date.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Lots of folks have headed up to Stampede Reservoir for some good kokanee fishing. The roads are both open and the ramp has been plowed. The fish are spread out all over the lake and are holding in 10 to 30 feet of water. Some kokanee are in the 15 inch range. There are lots of boats in the water. Stampede reservoir is considered one of the best lakes in the north state for the landlocked kokanee salmon.

Another hot spot is Shasta Lake up near Redding. All species of fish are in the spring to summer mode and have been giving anglers a thrill with lots of action. The trout are still near the surface and trolling is producing fish. As usual when the sun begins to warm the water the trout will move down to 50 or 60 feet.

Ice House Reservoir is now open with all roads cleared. The lake is down a bit around 14 feet with the launch ramp still in the water. Water temperature last week was in the 40's.

Now is the time to go to Lake Tahoe for Mackinaw Lake Trout. The fish are on the move and just about every boat is scoring at this time.

Englebright Reservoir, above Marysville is still full of hungry trout. The bite, which was outstanding last week, is still happening.

The spotted bass at Lake Oroville are being caught next to the bank and so many fish are active it is not unusual to catch and release ten limits a day.

Up Eagle Lake way the fishing opens over Memorial Day weekend. Reports tell us there is fish to be caught and lots of boats will be in the water.

Striped Bass are still around in the Feather and Sacramento Rivers. Shad are here and are active in the early morning and late evening. Catfish are still being taken in all waters of the Sacramento Valley and foothills.

Catchable trout have been planted in the following waters. BUTTE COUNTY: Butte Creek; LASSEN COUNTY: Lower Goodrich Creek and the lower Susan river; PLUMAS COUNTY: Butte Valley Reservoir; TEHAMA COUNTY: South Fork of Battle Creek, Deer Creek and Gurnsey Creek.

Closing thought: "I can't teach anything...

.....I can only make them think." Socrates

United Way's 11th Annual "DAY OF ACTION"

United Way of Nevada County (UWNC) is planning its 11th annual "Day of Action." This is a national day of service for United Ways throughout the world; a day to positively change communities. This year, United Way of Nevada County's "Day of Action" will be held on Friday, May 31st. This day of giving back to the community will be a fun and rewarding event for all of the individuals involved. Many projects will be accomplished on this day of collaboration. Projects such as painting, gardening, weeding, organizing, and building things are just an example of some of the different types of projects that will be taking place on the Day of Action.

People from all parts of the community will come together to help the non-profit organizations that work so hard all year round to help the people who need it most. Businesses and individuals are signing up to help. A local group from the ManKind Project, have signed up to volunteer as well. Students and families are always welcome to join the fun and help the community during this day of action. Megan Timpany, Executive Director of UWNC, said, "We look forward to working with the volunteers that will be participating in the 11th Annual 'Day of Action. Without such wonderful volunteers, we would not be able to hold this great day of action." United Way of Nevada County's mission is to improve lives by mobilizing the caring power of our community. United Way of Nevada County's focus areas are the basic needs of our community, including food, emergency shelter and access to health care. If you would like to get involved, or if you are a nonprofit that needs help with a project, please call 274-8111 or email admin@uwnc.org .

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. 150 Years of Christian Service

First Christian Church, Colusa, is celebrating 150 years of Christian service in Colusa. We are in the original building at 725 Jay Street, Colusa. We are celebrating on Sunday, May 19, from 4-6 p.m., with a brief history of the church, greetings from others, worship service, speakers, music and communion (open to all believers). Following the service, we will serve food and drinks.

Since the church is located in a residential neighborhood, there is only street parking and we encourage car pooling. We hope you will help us celebrate. For more information, call Sara Niles at 1-530-356-9385 after 11 a.m.

Before the erection of their own church buildings, the congregations of several denominations held their services in the court room of the present Colusa County Court House. At least as early as January 1866, the Disciples of Christ or Christians, were meeting there regularly.

In August of 1868, work was commenced on the Christian Church edifice by M.B. Farris. It was completed in March of 1869, of hand-made, locally kilned brick, made of clay material from a clay bank near the old junior high school. The design of the building was a practical adaptation of colonial architecture resulting in a simple, functional, white-painted brick structure with Gothic arched doors and windows. A brick bell tower forty-two feet high, upon which a wooden spire was built projecting upward an additional thirty-three feet, was added to the structure in 1879. The steeple was removed many years later. Another interesting feature of the present building is the two entry doors.

Although apparently not part of the original construction, for many years the two doors admitted men to sit on the men's side of the sanctuary and women to sit on the women's side.

On March 27, 1869, the Colusa Sun reported that "The Christian Church has at last been completed and services will be held there tonight and tomorrow. Elder DeWitt will preach."

Early pastors and members of the Colusa Church were closely identified with the establishment of Pierce Christian College in 1874, in College City. Andrew Pierce, for whom the College was named, was a member of the Colusa congregation. The Colusa congregation was also the "mother church" for several other Christian Churches in the area.

The church currently meets on Sundays at 5 p.m. (no morning service)! The current pastor (for the past two years), is Samuel Krouse.

Art Fundraiser for 2020 Health Clinic

Local artists, Mindy Oberne and Roger Lewis, are having an art fundraiser Saturday and Sunday, May 18-19 from 10am to 5pm, at 13169 Twin Star Lane, their Grass Valley home. All proceeds will be donated to the Grass Valley Free 2-day Health Care Clinic being held in January 2020 at the Nevada County Fairgrounds.

Longtime residents, Mindy and Roger, have made their living in the art world for many years and have a permanent gallery of their works on their property. Three expeditions to Antarctica, via helicopter equipped Russian icebreakers, have created incredible images of wildlife and scenery rarely captured. "Forty years of Nevada County living have allowed us to photograph the historic local architecture and the beautiful four seasons we experience in these foothills," said photographer Roger Lewis.

Retired after thirty-five years of designing and selling handbags, Mindy has been creating functional and decorative ceramics for over nine years. "I started working with clay when I retired and wanted to just play again", said Mindy. "I am amazed at the endless possibilities there are with this medium. I do some work on the wheel, but my favorite is hand-building. My artichoke teapot was chosen by the Kamm Teapot Foundation to be in their collection. I also instruct in hand-building at my home."

The 2-day free health clinic, January 11&12 2020, will be provided by the California CareForce, and hosted by United Way of Nevada County Services will include medical, dental and vision care. Free prescription glasses will be made on-site. Dental x-rays, cleanings, fillings, and if necessary, extractions will be provided. All these services will be available to all, free, no questions asked. For information on donating and volunteering go to uwnc.org or for patient info go to CaliforniaCareForce.org.

In 2015, the California CareForce provided a free clinic for Grass Valley at the Grass Valley Veteran's Hall. Over 550 patients were served with almost $250,000 worth of services provided. "We're very lucky to have the CareForce help us again. They have 2 large annual clinics in Coachella and Sacramento, but rarely make it to small communities like ours." said Mindy.

"It's very sad that in a country as rich as ours, there are so many who are suffering because they are unable to afford basic health care such as dental and vision." said Roger. "That's why we feel it so important to support this clinic. We encourage all to do the same."

To view a video of the gallery, go to www.youtube.com and search for Mindy Oberne. For more information about the gallery, contact Mindy and Roger at moberne117@gmail.com.

Food and Farm News

Rice planting accelerates after late start

It'll be a short and intense planting season for California rice farmers. Late spring rains kept farmers out of their fields, and they say some rice ground will be left unplanted because of lingering floodwaters. But farmers say planting weather has improved, water availability will be good, and they expect decent markets for their rice. The California Rice Commission predicts about 500,000 acres of the crop will be planted.

Water supplies remain constrained in some areas

In the western San Joaquin Valley, farmers who buy water from the federal Central Valley Project hope to see supplies improve, and water districts seek to supplement supplies. CVP farm customers in the region stand to receive only 65 percent allocations, despite the above-average snowpack. At least one water district says it plans to buy water from a neighboring district with full supplies. The CVP may revise allocations later this month.

Carrot supplies maintain momentum

Shipments of fresh carrots set their fastest pace in 20 years during the first quarter of 2019. The U.S. Agriculture Department says carrot shipments also rose in 2018, during which production surged 18 percent compared to the previous year. In terms of per-person availability, carrots saw the largest increase last year among all fresh vegetables. California accounts for almost 80 percent of the nation's fresh-carrot production.

Grant aims to head off an invasive pest

Hoping to reduce the impact of an invasive pest before it arrives in California, the state Department of Food and Agriculture has awarded a grant to researchers to study biological controls for the insect. The spotted lantern fly arrived in North America five years ago and has spread in the eastern U.S. University of California scientists will test whether a tiny wasp can be used to combat the lantern fly, should it reach the state.

Sutter Performing Arts Association's "The Theater Art Gallery"

Coming to The Theater Art Gallery in June are magnificent paintings by JACK CHRISTIE and inspired fused glasswork by T. ROBERT DARROUGH. This enticing gallery exhibit runs from June 6 - 29, with a welcoming Artist Reception from 5 - 8 pm on Thursday, June 6. Come and enjoy our free event with complimentary refreshments, as you meet the artists and view their work. The reception coincides with the Downtown Business Association's First Thursday Stroll. The gallery is located next to the Sutter Theater at 756 Plumas Street, downtown Yuba City. Hours: Thurs - Sat, 12 to 5 pm. Wed by appointment. Call 908-5704 or 329-1733. Visit us at HYPERLINK "http://www.suttertheater.org" or on Facebook.

No stranger to the Fine Arts and the intricacies of art galleries, JACK CHRISTIE is one of our region's most recognized artists. For many years he owned and operated the upstairs art gallery in Yuba City's Hillcrest Plaza known as "Christie's Fine Art and Framing." As a ten year old, he began drawing and painting and later honed his skills at the California College of Arts and Crafts. His late wife Diana encouraged him to seriously start painting again in his forties. Since then he has sold over 160 paintings and prints, and has shown work in local galleries, art shows, fairs, and Sacramento art clubs. Many of his oil paintings and watercolors depict rural farm buildings and tractors. He especially likes painting things that spark joy in his life. Recently, his focus has been painting watercolors of owners and their pets. Attention to detail comes through in all his sublime paintings.

Self-taught fused glass artist Tim Darrough goes by his artist name of T. ROBERT DARROUGH. He was born in Marysville and has been a Yuba-Sutter resident all his life. Ever since he wandered into a glass shop as a young man, he knew then and there that he would someday create beautiful glass designs. The intense desire he felt at the time led to his passion to create art stemming from his love of vivid colors, blending them to bring joy and pleasure to others. A recipient of many awards for his exquisite glasswork, including KVIE's 2017 Art Auction award of Best in Class, Tim has exhibited his work in Sacramento art galleries and in galleries here in the Yuba-Sutter area. Be sure to view his stunning creations during the month of June.

The Theater Art Gallery is open every week, Thursday through Saturday, from noon to 5:00 pm, and Wednesday by appointment. Call 908-5704 or 329-1733. Proceeds from The Theater Art Gallery benefit the Sutter Performing Arts Association's effort to renovate the Sutter Theater, turning it into a viable community center. For more information, please visit our website at: www.suttertheater.org, or visit us on Facebook.

Federal Reserve Balance Sheet

The Federal Reserve balance sheet is not a commonly discussed topic at your local dinner party but in the world of economics it's definitely a subject that gets a lot of attention.

When one hears the word balance sheet, it tends to conjure up a vision of long rows of numbers on a paper that, when added up, leans the mind's eye to picture mountains of green cash sitting in a vault somewhere, or something like that.

Although it's likely most if not all of us would probably prefer to imagine a hefty balance sheet to reflect our own financial condition, in the case of the Federal Reserve's balance sheet, the opposite tends to be true.

Although many would think a balance sheet details how much money one has, the legal term is it's actually as a statement of the assets, liabilities, and capital of a business or other organization at a particular point in time. In simplistic terms, it's what you own, owe and it correlates the two.

In the case of the Federal Reserve, a hefty balance sheet might sound like a good thing, but some might argue it is anything but. The Fed's balance sheet is actually a list of what it owns and it's not just piles of green cash. Again some might argue it's another type of pile the Fed's balance sheet reflects. One might get a better picture of whether that statement is true or not by knowing the pile was commonly about a trillion dollars prior to 2008 and now it sits at over four trillion. There is a reason for the massive increase.

Four trillion sounds like a pile of cash but actually there is little cash there. What is there is about one trillion in what it had historically held prior to 08, which is mostly U.S. government debt and now there is about three trillion of what it bought to pull us out of the global monetary implosion that was the crisis.

So what did the Fed buy and from whom did they buy it?

The balance sheet contains what is called U.S. debt (treasuries which our IOU's from the Uncle Sam), agency debt (U.S. debt that might be from other government institutions or offshoots) and mortgage backed securities (MBS) to name a few.

It buys the U.S. debt instruments from the government (no the Federal Reserve is technically not a government entity) and buys the MBS from, among other places, the banking system.

These purchases are known as "asset purchases" and are a part of their "open market operations (OMO).

OMO can be thought of as a gas pedal to throttle the economy. The Fed's can buy stuff from the banks, which puts more money into the system, pushing down on the economic pedal to stimulate, or sells back this stuff to the banks, easing up on the pedal to cool an economy off. These buys and sells either put money into the economic system (when it buys) or takes money out of the system (when it sells).

During 2008/9 the banks were saturated in mortgages that were going bad. The Federal Reserve, whose balance sheet up until that time held mostly U.S. debt to the tune of one trillion, printed up another 3.5 trillion and bought mortgages and "other assets" from the banking system as well as from other public and private enterprises.

This mechanism is thought to have stabilized the banking system which was under severe strain at the time due to trillions in mortgages that were defaulting due to the housing blow up. There are opponents of this mechanism and its use but that's a story for another day.

The Fed's, having increased their balance sheet (holdings) from one trillion to 4.5 trillion during crisis, is now attempting to decrease (sell off) some of its holdings.

You won't hear much about this on the evening news as it's not something they want to advertise. The reason being anytime large amounts of money are withdrawn from an economy, the economy tends to want to stall out or slow.

As the Fed attempts to unwind (reduce by selling assets it previously bought) money is taken out of the system as the buyers (banking system among others) give their money back to the Fed for these assets.

If you recall, when the Fed's sell, like they are doing now, the "pedal" is lifted and the economy slows. Since the crisis, the Fed's have tried to unwind before, only to back off when economic conditions slowed.

Only time will tell if they will be more successful this time around.

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

Early Origins of “Attempted Coup”

The circus sideshow being played out in Washington, D.C. with Congressman Jerry Nadler’s House Judicial Committee’s “Contempt of Congress” vote against U.S. Attorney Bill Barr is further evidence of the Regressive Democrat’s strategy to put as many roadblocks in front of President Trump as possible...and constantly. Lest we forget, the Democrat Hierarchy got together a couple of days after Trump won the presidency and determined to “Litigate and Investigate” anyone and everybody that is or has been involved with him.

You would think after the Mueller Report came out with “No Collusion and No Obstruction” that things would smooth out. No...No...No. They have to Litigate and Investigate Constantly...keep him on the run...especially with Attorney General Barr getting feisty by not giving in to their demands of releasing 100% of the Mueller Report.

Barr, by law, does not have to release ANY of the report. But he did, 98.5% of it...because he would be breaking the law if he released the remaining 1.5% that contained confidential grand jury information. The Regressive Dems are trying to Bully Down AG Barr because he said, “We’re going to find out the origins of the Mueller Russian Collusion.”

Not withstanding... very close on the horizon is the Inspector General Horowitz releasing his report on other skullduggery such as the FISA warrants, etc, and other investigations that needs to have some individuals dressed in orange before a judge.

The circus antics of “Nagging” Jerry Nadler’s committee resembles a bunch of early cinematic comedic Keystone Cops running around in circles bumping into each other...all the while tossing Chicken Little back and forth who’s yelling “The Sky is Falling...The Sky is Falling.”

“Coup” Early Origins

What brings us to a recent disclosure by investigative reporters John Solomon and Sara Carter on an episode of the early origins of high echelon government criminal activity in March, 2017, about six weeks after Donald Trump took office as president.

The episode is related, in part, in a transcript from Mark Levin’s Sunday night show on FOX, “Life, Liberty & Levin,” March 31, 2019.

MARK LEVIN, HOST: Welcome America, I’m Mark Levin. This is “Life, Liberty & Levin.” We have two great guests -- John Solomon and Sara Carter.

LEVIN: You’ve dug into this story about Russia, about the Obama administration, about spying, about what I consider the greatest political scandal, if not in modern history, in all history -- and I’m very much a historian.

For two years, this collusion narrative -- really two and a half years has been pushed. Pushed by the Hillary campaign, by the DNC by their propagandist, by the surrogates, by the media. You’re professional journalists.

LEVIN: You both operate in an area of journalism where you deal with shady characters from time to time, where you’re dealing in the shadows from time to time. Have you ever had any unusual experiences doing that?

LEVIN: Have you ever been approached in an unusual way?

SOLOMON: Oh, I’ll tell you story about a mailbox which occurred at my home. It’s seminal to the Russia story. Sara and I had just begun working on what we called the NSA abuse stories.

CARTER: Yes, the unmasking.

SOLOMON: ... that we were working and unmasking it. We had just gone on television and Sean’s show -- Sean Hannity’s show -- that night we talked about this sudden rise in unmasking, and I came -- I drove home. I got to my mailbox, pulled in my car, there was a blue sedan sitting outside the mailbox and there were two gentlemen clearly intelligence officers somewhere from the government, they never identified their names and they stepped out and said, “Are you Mr. Solomon?” I said, “Yes.” They said, “We just saw you on Sean Hannity’s show. We wanted to talk to you for a second. We can’t tell you much because most of what we know is classified, but we will tell you this, if you keep digging, you will find out that the United States intelligence community was used for a political opposition research project and we are deeply concerned.”

I said, “Well, why are you concerned?”

“We need these tools. Things like FISA and the NSA to catch your bad guys, and if we misuse it for political dirty tricks, we won’t have those tools when the next terrorist attack or the next spy shows up in town. We need you to go find out what happened.” And that’s all they told me. It was about 11:30 by the time we finished the conversation.

I ran in. I wrote this long e-mail of everything I could remember. As soon as Sara hits the box about two o’clock in the morning, she’s still up. She responds right back, but that’s how we got started into really understanding this is much bigger than just an unmasking scandal.

CARTER: It was huge.

LEVIN: How long ago was this?

SOLOMON: March of 2017.

CARTER: Yes, March 2017 because we’d already been working on the stories. I mean, we were getting tipped off. We saw what was happening to General Flynn -- Lieutenant General Mike Flynn. I remember being approached by let’s say Federal law enforcement officers who had told me, “You really need to dig into what’s happened to Lieutenant General Flynn. Apparently, there’s a lot that had been going on inside the FBI. Look at Andrew McCabe. Focus on some of these characters.” It was the same thing that happened to John

I started focusing in and just really taking a step back, saying “What’s going on here?” And the more we started to investigate, little by little; we started peeling back what we call the onion, right, the layers of the onion. It really felt like that.

So then I think, it can’t get much worse than this. It can’t get much worse than this.

(“Think About It” comment: And it most certainly did get worse...and has become the largest political scandal in American history. It makes Watergate look like kids playing marbles in the schoolyard.)

LEVIN: I expect this White House to play that out, to protect grand jury information, to protect executive privilege information and to thwart some of the unreasonable requests that Congress may make, but it’s going to play out. It is going to end up in the courts and it’s a way of the Democrats to continue to extend the narrative even though their narrative has been proven false.”

Exposing Human Trafficking

by Jenna Mckaye

When I ask people how they picture human trafficking happening they often compare it to the movie Taken - A young lady vacationing in Paris, kidnapped and sold by her captors. But if you ask most survivors of human-trafficking they will say they were not dragged out from under a bed and sold on a boat for 1/2 million dollars. While it can happen that way, here in America, domestic trafficking looks much different. Less than 10% are kidnapped. Traffickers lure away their victims by gaining their trust, posing as a boyfriend and by offering their victims false promises. The average age of a sex-trafficking victim is 12 to 14 years old. I read a quote from a trafficker that said, “It’s impossible to protect all girls from guys like me. This is what we do. We eat, we sleep, we drink and we think of ways to trick young girls into doing what we want them to do.”

Human trafficking is the fastest growing criminal enterprise in the world.

There are more people in slavery today than any other time in history. With such big statistics, to fight it, every community has to be educated. A couple years ago I drove by a house here locally in Marysville, and there was obvious signs of trafficking going on. I called 911 and said I suspected trafficking going on in the house. When the officer arrived, he said, “Yes we are investigating. This guy is on parole for trafficking girls in the Bay Area.” As I sat there in my car I wasn’t so surprised that it was happening or that the police were on to it, what frustrated me was all the people walking past that house having no idea what the signs were and to make a call. Statistics show that a girl that is trafficked has a seven-year life span. When we picture it happening only one way, then we are missing all the other ways it happens. When I survived it 13 years ago I had no idea that I was a victim of human trafficking. It wasn’t like what you see in the movies. I was never educated on it in my small private high school. If I had been, not only could it have been prevented but I would have been able to rescue myself sooner. That is why I tour around the country, speaking and training others. Training First Responders on how to identify and respond to victims. Invitations to college campuses, community forums to educate others on how to identify trafficking in their community. I share my story to give hope to other survivors, and I started the Jenna Mckaye Foundation to assist victims directly and set them up with services and resources. One of the best parts of my job is to look a victim in the eyes and say, “You are my past and I am your future.” I get to be the person that I needed all those years ago. It takes a community though. We are all in this fight together. All I want to know is that when I go into community and when I leave, there’s an opportunity for it to be different for the next girl or boy. Somebody in the audience is going to change things in that community. There are all these survivors out there waiting for somebody to guide them, waiting for them to give them the opportunities to make a new life for themselves. In doing this work, I have realized that traffickers seem to be aware that we are not educating our students here in rural communities. They send recruiters, often one of their victims to befriend a girl and lure her away to a city, away from her support system, and then they trafficked her there. It’s a common theme among the victims of whom I am able to help. According to the National Center for missing and exploited children, 1 in 7 American kids will run away from home and 1 in 3 will become victims within 48 hours. I remember when I first started doing this work I read that statistic and the 48 hours’ timeframe really struck me. It wasn’t until I started speaking and getting involved and meeting other survivor leaders that I realized how many others there were like me.

If you would like to learn more human trafficking and about what you can do to make a difference, please follow upcoming events and trainings on jennamckaye.com

If you see someone you think might be being trafficked, call the national human trafficking hot-line at (888-373-7888). It could save a life.

Water Policy KILLING Central Valley Agriculture

by Stephen Frank

Guv Brown gave fish the water needed for farmers. The Cal-EPA has so limited the pesticides allowed to be used, crops are no longer being grown. The fastest growing crop is not row or tree crops, it is solar farms. This is the area the High Speed Rail wants to tear apart—it has already created slums in Fresno,

“The role of GSAs is to develop a Groundwater Sustainability Plan by the law’s deadline in 2020. These plans will determine how much groundwater per acre can be pumped while still complying with the requirements of SGMA. This is known as “the safe yield.”

Let’s take, for example, a farmer who has 100 acres planted with trees. Each acre requires three acre-feet of water annually for the trees to thrive, or 300 acre-feet of water for the whole property.

Typically, the farmer can get 100 acre-feet of surface water from the irrigation district, but needs to pump 200 acre-feet of groundwater for the rest of his farm. However, the Groundwater Sustainability Plan for his area only allows a safe yield of one acre-foot of water per acre – meaning our farmer receives only 100 acre-feet of groundwater and has a shortfall of 100 acre-feet to water his trees.”

This means over drafting of groundwater—causing areas to of the Valley to sink, some several feet. Guv Brown refused to recharge the groundwater. Now the farmers and the State is paying for his desire to kill off agriculture. Shame on us for allowing this and electing him and his Democrat buddies, killing jobs and the economy.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

• What will Latin America do when all their children have been sold to unknown people who will take them across the desert to the southern US border?

• The crazed Democrats are demanding all of the Mueller report, including all the Grand Jury information. Unfortunately for Nadler and his simple-minded cohorts, it is illegal to release such information. So the Democrats are demanding that Barr commit a crime by releasing the information and if he doesn't they plan on boxing his ears. See how honest the Democrats are. How about it, Garamendi, are you joining the criminal group? We hope not.

• Trump told publicly of the $1B in business losses more than 15 years ago. Yet the New York Times ran a front page story last week on the issue. Did they forget? Why is the NYT considered so great?

• Juan Williams has gone off the rails. His reasoning is so sick he must have gone to Yale or Harvard with the rest of the "highly qualified" students.

• Where do you think your tax dollars go? Would you believe that the State is giving your money to farmers to grow weeds? Why are the liberal brain-dead bureaucrats and politicians using your money for this ridiculousness? Climate change. The dumber than a fence post crowd is doing this to pull carbon out of the atmosphere which the state claims is crucial to meet its climate goals. Millions of dollars are being handed out for this farce. Don't worry about growing food – we now support "carbon farmers".

• is the cost of food going up so high? Because Sacramento is limiting water allocations and using tax dollars to grow weeds instead of food. Junk science is forcing higher taxes and bad farming and few know about it. Thought you should know how your money is spent by Sacramento—the mainstream media will not tell you.

• Have you seen the video of a Philadelphia politician harassing teen girls who were with their mother peacefully protesting at a Planned Parenthood office. His name is Brian Sims and he is nothing more than a sick Democrat. Where does the party find these jerks. Hopefully the girls' parents will sue the pants off this idiot.

• With Hollywood and friends continuing to put out violent killing videos for kids, is it any wonder that we see so many children acting up. Are these horrible productions only for adults? Not on your life. They are directed for children. The result is youth engaged in the visual thought that violence, mayhem and killing is nothing more than a sport to be happily engaged in. Guns are not the problem, except that Hollywood portrays them as the one quick and easy way to solve all your emotional problems. Hollywood is the problem; not guns.

• When is education going to change for the better? Did you hear Rep. Swalwell of Oakland complain that women deserve equal mention to men in the Constitution? Since neither are mentioned, we find only "the people." Has Swalwell ever read the Constitution or any other document for that matter?

• Hillary is still saying that the election was stolen from her by the Russians. We thought it was the Martians who did the dirty deed.

• Poverty is primarily caused by the government. Just take a look at the taxes the multiple levels of government take from the people.

• It doesn't take much of a search to spot the price of gasoline these days. All the regulations and the fact that California won't allow drilling in many places in the State does nothing more than increase the amount of poverty in the State. Poverty? A government success.

• Medicare for all and free. So say the leading Democrats. How much more immoral can you get? Limited care, long waits, fewer doctors and hospitals and no insurance against catastrophe. That's the socialist Democrats for you. Oh, and the socialist Democrats think a cost of $32B or so is free. What math classes did these snowflakes take?

• More taxes on the legislative agenda. A $25 fee to purchase a new firearm. This is AB18 by another Democratic Assembly member Marc Levine of Marin County.

• More pro ball players are proving their hate for Trump by not accepting his invitation to the White House. These over-paid children who have never grown up are what we are turning out in our schools and many parents are doing nothing to correct. Shame on them all.

• Who are the idiots who elected Ilhan Omar to Congress? She says Jesus was a Palestinian. Another stupid statement from her feeble brain – Palestine didn't exist at Jesus' time and Islam was 600 years in the future. Well, actually she fits in well with the rest of our brilliant politicians.

• Handshakes are no longer appropriate. Why? Because there is physical contact that might be viewed as inappropriate. "Woke" is wacky.

• Democrats want prisoners to vote (Just like they want illegal invaders to do the same). Jailed folks who receive unearned federal, state and local taxpayer money should be allowed to vote for those who are providing the largesse? In fact, why should any one be allowed to vote who is receiving free money and housing by those they vote for? Something smells.

• If the current Democrat 2020 contenders mean what they say, they are proving beyond any reasonable doubt that they hate America. What say you, Garamendi?

• Newsom has asked for a report on gas prices. It's simple, dummie. Just look out your window at the nearest gas station. You don't need a report, you need to do something positive now!

• Latin American migrants are flooding California, Arizona and New Mexico. The Democrats are hoping that all these illegal's will vote as they ply them with education, housing, medical care, food stamps and drivers licenses. What happens, snowflakes, when the newbies vote to take California out of the Union and make it a province of Mexico. Just think, we can be part of the Central American hellhole they just left. Be careful what you wish for. You might just get it.

Assembly Bill 430: Myth vs Fact Camp Fire Housing Assistance Act

MYTH: AB 430 takes away local control.

FACT: Any housing project benefitting from AB 430 must still abide by the city zoning regulations, design standards and general plan. It has to be an area that locals have already approved for residential development. Additionally, Asm. Gallagher is working with legislative colleagues to potentially remove provisions that require ministerial approval at the local level and thereby provide full conditional use authority.

MYTH: AB 430 is a thinly veiled attempt to circumvent CEQA.

FACT: There is no veil – Asm. Gallagher is very openly seeking a CEQA exemption for vital housing projects in our region. CEQA is constantly abused by special interests and NIMBYs to stop or slow down housing projects. Project opponents hire attorneys that abuse CEQA by exploiting technicalities that have no real environmental impacts.

MYTH: AB 430 does nothing to address affordable housing.

FACT: Affordability is brought about by removing regulatory barriers and increasing housing supply. AB 430 addresses both of these issues. Increased supply lowers prices and rents. That is an economic fact. In addition to AB 430, Asm. Gallagher is also requesting millions of dollars in affordable housing tax credits dedicated to the Camp Fire region.

MYTH: AB 430 will put further stress on local infrastructure and increase traffic.

FACT: Cities can require housing developers to pay development impact fees. Cities can also force developers to make infrastructure improvements to roads, drainage, sewer, etc. AB 430 does not change this at all. Planning for infrastructure and what will be needed for future development is a prudent thing to do, and locals can and should do just that. This is completely in their control.

MYTH: AB 430 will exacerbate climate change.

FACT: AB 430 requires developments to achieve LEED gold certification or the comparable rating under the GreenPoint rating system or voluntary tier under the CA Green Building Code.

MYTH: AB 430 will allow developers to build without restriction.

FACT: The bill disqualifies projects that have detrimental environmental impacts by excluding projects that are located in floodplains and floodways, protected farmland, and lands identified for conservation. AB 430 also disqualifies areas that are protected by the federal Endangered Species Act, the California Endangered Species Act, and the Native Plant Protection Act. Additionally, sites are limited to no more than 50 acres with a required minimum density of at least four units per acre.

MYTH: AB 430 will encourage urban sprawl.

FACT: AB 430 requires that the development be located within the territorial boundaries or specialized residential planning areas identified in the general plan of the following cities: Biggs, Chico, Gridley, Orland, or Oroville.

MYTH: AB 430 will only benefit homebuyers from the Bay Area.

FACT: All 57 homes in the new Oroville Olive Grove subdivision have already been sold and 75% of the buyers are Camp Fire victims. According to new population figures from the Dept. of Finance, upwards of 20,000 wildfire victims are now living in Chico, and more than 3,500 are residing in Oroville. They need housing.

MYTH: AB 430 threatens Chico's Greenline.

FACT: There is specific language in the bill to protect the Greenline. No projects proposed outside the Greenline would qualify under AB 430.

MYTH: AB 430 is being jammed through the legislative process without stakeholder input.

FACT: Legislation is always a work in progress. Asm. Gallagher's office solicited feedback from all local governments and a broad group of stakeholders more than a month before the first committee vote. The bill has already been amended three times to address concerns from Butte County, the Sierra Club and others. Asm. Gallagher is willing to address concerns as much as possible without defeating the central purpose of the legislation.

What is PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

Public Safety Power Shutoff or PSPS is a precautionary safety measure that may proactively turn off power lines when extreme fire danger conditions are forecast. We will do this to reduce wildfire risks and keep our customers safe.

To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

What criteria does PG&E consider when calling a PSPS?

No single factor will initiate a Public Safety Power Shutoff as each situation is unique. The factors we generally consider include:

- A Red Flag Warning declared by the National Weather Service
- Forecasts of strong winds and wind gusts
- Low humidity levels
- Critically dry vegetation that could fuel a wildfire
- And on-the-ground, real-time observations from PG&E field crews

In the interest of public safety, we continue to update and refine our criteria and protocols on an ongoing basis.

How will I know if a PSPS has been called in my neighborhood?

Because extreme weather threats can change quickly, our goal is to provide notice through phone calls, emails and text messages to customers 48 hours in advance, again at 24 hours and again just prior to turning off the power for safety. Updates will also be shared through social media, local news, radio and pge.com until the time power is restored. To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

How can I prepare for a PSPS?

We advise you to think in advance about your family's needs and how you might be impacted in the event of a power shutoff — or for any emergency.

- Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including pets?
- If you own a generator, is it ready to operate safely?
- Do you know how to open your garage door manually?
- Do you have cash and a full tank of gas, in the event ATMs and gas stations are unavailable?
- Are your mobile phones fully charged?

Western Art Show and Sale All Proceeds to Benefit the Museum of the Forgotten Warriors

Marysville, Ca.

One of the best kept secrets on the history front in the Yuba-Sutter area is the remarkable Museum of the Forgotten Warriors located in Marysville just past Yuba College. Founded in 1985 by the late Dann Spear, it now covers over 8,000 square feet not counting the outside park areas with displays of helicopters, amphibious landing craft and other historical artifacts. The interior spaces contain perfectly curated displays of memorabilia dating back to the Revolutionary War right up to current conflicts with significant representation of Beale Air Force Base and the 9th Reconnaissance Wing. The museum is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit run solely by volunteers.

Yuba Sutter Arts is proud to announce that is partnering with the Museum for a very special Western Art Show to help raise funds to ensure the continuing operations and maintenance of the collections and facilities. The core of the collection to be sold is a series of oil paintings by local artist and Viet Nam Veteran, Bert Johnson. In addition, Bert is a musician who played with the likes of Jerry Garcia and the Grateful Dead.

The paintings can be viewed at The Museum of the Forgotten Warriors, 5865 A Road, Marysville, on Saturdays from 10-2. The show and sale will be held on Saturday May 25th from 5-7pm. Refreshments will be served.

"I have loved art and music since I was a young boy," said Bert. "In High School, I was the school artist and put on portrait painting demonstrations. I have had my art in a number of art shows and gallery exhibitions," he added.

Bert was inspired by the western art work of Charles M. Russell and Frederic Remington. His oils catch the light of his subjects which are dynamic and connect with the viewer in a powerful way. Bert's subjects are right out of your favorite western scene and will help you connect with your inner cowboy even if you've never spent a day in the saddle.

In addition, U.S. Air Force Veteran and master ceramic artist, Chris Thompson, has donated a number of bowls, mugs and other original pieces that will also be available for purchase. Chris has been leading Yuba Sutter Arts' Ceramics for Veterans classes this past year.

Join us for this very unique event and help support an important part of Yuba-Sutter's cultural heritage.

CRITIC'S CORNER
by Matt Woolery
Tolkien
Starring: Nicholas Hoult, Lily Collins and Colm Meaney. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 1 hr, 52 minutes.

This is a telling of the early life of, John Ronald Reuel Tolkien, and the influences that set him on the path to write one of the greatest and most revolutionary works of fiction. The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings. These stories opened the imagination of the world and constructed the gates for other authors to go through in order to create their own worlds full of magic and heroes that inspire readers to see the world in the light of the possible and to strip away the fear of the different and unfamiliar.

Tolkien, earns five out of five, Toll Keen Monkeys. This is a well crafted film that will not appeal to everyone. It is more of a biography and an intimate telling of the author rather than the work. The story jumps through time and references people that are not widely known and who lived before World War One. The acting is superb and the cinematography is very well done. Showing the vibrancy of rural England and the stark desolation and horror of trench warfare. This is simply a wonderfully told story.

the care of ditches and levees in Yuba County sent an announcement that on May 9th it would consider raising the parcel assessment to fund its work. Ballots would then be sent to property owners the week of May 13 telling each what will be owed.

If the new assessment request is approved then the increased amount will be charged beginning 2019. If not approved, the assessment will remain as it is now.

The mailer describes the importance of caring for our water ways. It says RD784 is not getting enough from its assessment and an assessment from TRLIA (Three Rivers Levee Improvement Authority formed in 2004).

Those who have done some research say RD784 wants to double its assessment. One owner says he paid $183.10 for his TRLIA Levee and Flood Assessment for 2018-19. His additional RD784 assessment will increase in 2019 from $243.54 to $370.04 or $126.50, a 52% increase. The two assessments will amount to $553.14 if the assessment is approved.

The same parcel owner notes that TRLIA reports an $8.5 million surplus in 2018-19 and forecasts a $7.4 million surplus in 2019-20.

One Plumas Lake citizen's tax bill lists property taxes plus eleven additional assessments. The property tax was approximately 67% of the total with the other fees, bonds and taxes making up another 33%. If the RD784 assessment increase is not rejected by county residents may also be seeing two more school bonds on the ballot in 2020.

If passed it will bring to 15 items on the annual "property tax" bill again spiking what they owe to live in Yuba County.

This tax statement analysis does not include the new Measure K 1% sales tax increases added to Yuba County purchases and purchases of autos where ever acquired. The Measure K increase could bump sales tax costs by hundreds to thousands a year per family.

Here is the tricky part of the RD784 mailing. This will not be a go-to-the-polls ballot box vote. Those disagreeing with the increase will have to respond to the notice they receive in the mail. No response equals agreement with the assessment increase. Most of these measures pass due to the passivity of the voters.

Freedom of Conscience and Speech Unwanted

For 170 years there had been prayer in schools. A ruling of 6 to 1 found that it was unconstitutional. Not only forbidding prayer, the ruling affected what is taught as now it had to remain on the low that the Pilgrims were Christians fleeing religious persecution. Children were deprived of their true history. What's more, the Pilgrims, Columbus and even Thanksgiving had to be denigrated.

The Left talks of inclusion but it routinely divides by ethnicity, gender, and sexual preference, creating division and class conflict. The Left talks of tolerance and free speech but wherever the movement gains control both are undermined. Followers of Jesus have become a hate group, the scriptures hate speech and neither will be tolerated by the 'tolerant.'

One early Christian heresy was that sin was contrary to human nature and if Christians would just do good works they could create heaven on earth without divine intervention. Proper church teaching was that sin is a part of human nature and it was man's pride that thought he would build and create without God's involvement.

Today, the Left is a cult that worships at the altar of political correctness. The movement decides what is 'righteous' or politically correct and then any deviance from that way will be attacked and perpetrators punished. The politically correct movement is anti-God and atheistic.

If government would simply enforce politically correct doctrine then the Left believes we can have paradise on earth. This is a devilish doctrine that God has opposed from the beginning.

The Left desires to silence the conscience, speech and the defense of beliefs it detests. The basis of our freedom is religious liberty and therefore our freedom of conscience. The movement is at war with those that disagree with them. The Left hates Christians, the Bible and the God that is behind it all.

The Left adheres to the satanic doctrine. This evil way rests upon the tenets of "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law. Ordinary morality is only for ordinary people. Intolerance is evidence of impotence." Anything goes, short of the Judeo-Christian ethic.

California State Board of Education member Feliza Ortiz-Licon believes in teaching our youngest children about oral and anal sex, including photos and explaining all the deviant sexual life styles. She says the curriculum is about people's civil rights. Parents are forbidden from interfering in the mandatory instruction.

We are close to endorsing adult-child and human-animal sexual relations.

Regarding abortion rights Alabama assembly member John Rogers says "Some kids are unwanted, so you kill them now or kill them later. You bring them into the world unwanted, unloved, then you send them to the electric chair. So you kill them now or you kill them later." Liberal leaders scramble for the title to kill the most and the oldest infants and do it with ease and do it at taxpayers' expense. This is insanity.

Never in our history have more leaders of our most respected national law enforcement agencies lied, deceived and been lawless while attempting a nonviolent coup to remove the President of the United States.

We are in trouble because most are just dumb sheep. Others won't pay the price to fight for freedom.
