Scaffolding's Ready, Let's Go To Work

by Kit Burton

A scaffolding and shoring crew from SkyLine Scaffolding arrived in Smartsville bright and early on April 1. By the end of the week the building's bell tower was fitted with scaffolding and ready for restoration workers.

Damaged wood that has been exposed to the weather must be removed and replaced above the double front doors, consequently the weight of the bell tower above the doors must be securely supported until the wood is replaced. This shoring work is crucial for worker safety.

Skyline crews also installed scaffolding so that restoration workers can safely work high up on the cupola where the church bell resides. In addition, scaffolding allows workers to replace siding and paint the entire front of the bell tower. Although it hardly looks so large, the cupola is the size of a small bedroom. Louvers on the four openings of the octagonal cupola are boards one-inch thick!

John Bales and Molly Greenhouse, the Project Superintendent and Crew Leader also arrived on April 1 and have spent their first weekend getting ready for restoration to begin. John is a highly skilled woodworker with 30 years' experience in historic building restoration. Molly manages the volunteer helpers and makes sure the materials are in-place. Both John and Molly are regulars with HistoriCorps, our bell tower restoration partners, a non-profit corporation that preserves and protects historic structures all over the U.S.

Construction will be in progress through May and therefore Smartsville's Pioneer Day, on Saturday April 27, will be a little different this year. Yes, we will still have music on stage, mining tours, arts and crafts vendors, good food, and kids' activities. And no construction work will be taking place on that day. But the church will look different, some things may be in different locations, and entering the church through the front doors will not be possible.

"Scaffolding changes the appearance of Smartsville's historic church"

We have asked John and Molly if they will share some of their experiences with visitors at Pioneer Day and we expect their presentation will be in the form of a question and answer session as part of our Timbuctoo Theater schedule.

So, be assured that Pioneer Day will be as great as ever. Be prepared to witness our historic former Catholic Church being made beautiful again. Activities begin at 9am with an authentic Catholic gold-rush Mass conducted by retired Fr. Dan Madigan, followed by enough entertainment to make Pioneer Day worthy of the title "Best Small-Town Gold Rush Festival in California."

For more information visit pioneerday.info or call Kit Burton at (530) 701-2639 or Kathy Smith at (916) 838-2757.

Going Broke by Borrowing

by Lou Binninger

Those that run late paying bills are in financial trouble. However, debt-laden families can reduce their spending and look for new ways to earn money to meet their obligations in a timely fashion.

If families have incurred credit card debt (overspent) and cannot pay-off the card each month or have borrowed money for cars or projects, they are paying interest and therefore a premium to make purchases prior to being able to afford them. Some call this practice living above our means.

Since 2015, GOBankingRates has asked Americans how much they have in savings. Each year, the survey results have shown that a majority of adults don't even have $1,000 in a savings account and are thus living paycheck to paycheck.

That's bad news and bad thinking. If workers become unemployed for just a short time it will mean disaster.

My parents had one loan, a loan to purchase a home through the GI Bill following World War II. They were blue collar workers. No consumer debt was incurred.

Cars were purchased with cash. They feared debt. If they didn't have the money, nothing was purchased. Maybe the trauma of the Great Depression and WWII kept a rein on their wants.

My father extended some credit to customers at his business. He kept track on 3X5 cards. Watching him "do the books" and occasionally hearing a weary comment about unpaid receivables was a life lesson.

Empty Stomachs Full Churches

by Lou Binninger

Americans are incredibly spoiled and naïve, taking life here for granted. Liberal Americans are spoiled and dangerously stupid.

In 1987-88 while making trips to the Otay Mesa section of Tijuana to build a 2-story addition on an orphanage the power and water would go off for a few hours each day. We worked around socialist dysfunction, poverty and bribery to complete the project.

After being in all the Communist countries along with other Third World, resource-rich nations, Mexico gets the bouquet for bribes, police corruption, and inept management.

The average resident was wonderful but clueless to what just 10 minutes north made America rock with prosperity. TJ was huge, poor and lawless. The cartel gangland-style shootings along with the political and journalist murders had yet to come.

Socialists can't make their country successful but want to come to the US to cash-in on the benefits produced from the absence of political and regulatory oppression. The ideological blindness of immigrants will produce the same sh..hole nation here that they insist on gaining asylum from.

Venezuela was once the US of South America. It was modern, wealthy, stable and resource-laden. Then, the socialists got their way. Most all business was nationalized including one of the world's greatest oil reserves.

The people swallowed the stupid pill. Everything in life rises and falls on the quality of leadership. Socialist leadership became wealthy while guiding the nation to ruin.

Venezuelans have not resorted to eating their off-spring but they are headed that way. Most people have lost an average of 20 pounds or more on the "Maduro (President Nicolas Maduro) diet."

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

It is time to start thinking about summer activities and that means opening the museum in Forbestown. Opening day is June 1 from 9 to 4 and a chili cook-off is planned. We need chili cooks to sign up to participate. Watch for the fliers coming out soon. Yuba Feather Historical Association meets for their seasonal pot luck dinner meeting at Ponderosa Community center and will be asking members to sign up to help at the museum during the summer. It is a great way to meet new people, learn about local history and enjoy a weekend afternoon. Don't forget the ice cream socials on the 3rd Sunday and last Saturday of the summer months.

Come join in the fun of the Annual Forbestown Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by Elevation Church AG and the Forbestown Activity Center. This event will be held on Saturday, April 20th at 11:00 am in the Forbestown Community Park for all kids 0 – 18 years. Come join in the Easter fun and enjoy the beautiful Spring weather that is anticipated.

Look Back in Time – In 1898 Jared Forbes brought up a beautiful lot of flowers on the stage for the Methodist Episcopal church in Forbestown (where did he get flowers this early in the season?).

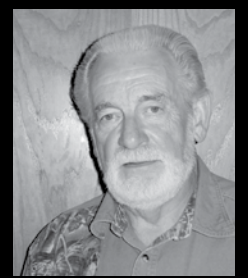

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

There has been lots of activity on the Feather River boat ramps, including Boyd's, Yuba City and Star Bend. In fact, there have been so many boats fishing for the striper run that if you do not get there early there will be no place to park. If this situation is happening on week days just think of the chaos on weekends.

We have a report of fishing success on the Feather last Friday. The wind was blowing and there were boats everywhere with most boats coming in with one striper or none at all. Just about all was used, including pile worms, cut bait, flies and streamers and also drifting with minnows.

The reason for the big crowd on the Feather River is because of the condition of the Sacramento River. Once it stabilizes and the water drops a bit some of the pressure on the Feather will move to the Sac.

Another problem on the Feather River was the way the Department of Water Resources cut of the flow at Oroville Dam. The water was dropping last week so fast if you were anchored you could actually see the water drop along the banks. This problem has been addressed in the past and apparently the problem has met with deaf ears at the state level.

Collins Lake, up above Browns Valley, is putting out some nice rainbow trout. A report told us the fishing pressure here is light during the week. On weekends fish have been caught, with the largest fish being a 7 pound 12 inch rainbow which was landed by Tom Ives who lives in Browns Valley. The fish fell for yellow power bait.

The bass grow big in Lake Oroville. Just ask Dennis Helms who lives in Chico. Dennis pulled a huge 12 and a half large-mouth black bass out of the lake.

Folsom Lake and Englebright Reservoir both received planted trout last week.

Closing thought: "Cashews and strawberries are the only fruit which grows its seeds on the outside."

Food and Farm News

Spring planting for vegetables underway despite rain

Vegetable growers around California are planting their spring crops, even though some are running late because of late-season rain. One grower in Sacramento County said he's about a month behind; a Fresno County-based farmer said the biggest obstacle has been getting fields prepared, and with summer heat not far off, time--and timing--will be of the essence.

New food and nutrient data system provides deeper look

of Agriculture has released a new food and nutrient data system that integrates five types of data in one place. FoodData Central, intended for researchers, health care providers, policy makers and consumers, builds upon existing USDA data to help users understand the variability in nutrient values of foods, and how factors such as climate and agricultural practices can affect nutritional profiles.

Analysis suggests farmers need disaster assistance to continue contributions to economy

An analysis by the American Farm Bureau Federation found that farming provides economic benefits throughout areas of the nation affected by recent natural disasters. In California counties impacted by wildfires in 2018, agriculture represented $5 billion in economic contributions and 31,000 jobs. AFBF's chief economist found current levels of assistance inadequate to help farmers rebuild, advocating for Congress to approve additional federal disaster aid.

Avocados could have potential in Sacramento Valley

The Sacramento Valley holds promise for growing the ever-popular avocado, according to a University of California Cooperative Extension farm advisor. In a recent talk in Winters for interested farmers, she noted the flat land, water supply and interest in local foods as benefits, and highlighted the GEM avocado variety as one with potential. Pollination is the primary problem for regional growers to overcome, requiring a pollinator variety and honeybees.

Making History / Making the Future

A Conversation and Book Signing with Veteran Activists, Students and the Community About "Thinking Globally and Acting Locally" in Yuba-Sutter

Marysville, Ca.

Join Yuba Sutter Arts and the Yuba College Sociology department for a conversation and special presentation by authors Mickey Flacks and Dick Flacks about their new book, Making History/ Making Blintzes, by founding members of Students for a Democratic Society.

The event, which is free and open to the public, will take place on Thursday, April 25, from 5-8 pm in the Art Gallery at Yuba Sutter Arts, 624 E Street in Marysville. For more information, call 530-741-6700. There will be live music, refreshments, appetizers and blintzes!

Sociology students at Yuba College, under the direction of Professor Dr. Marc Flacks, have banded together to help create this 'teach-in' event in order to bring awareness to local social issues and inspire change in the community. Specifically, the students want to try to understand why students have left Yuba College and the reasons they do not return prior to completion of their course of study. Why are Yuba College students who were enrolled in Fall 2018 not currently enrolled for Spring 2019? The college hopes to learn more about how to help students who face issues that prevent them from succeeding in their education and putting policies and programs in place to help students be successful.

Tom Galvin will be on hand to provide a lesson on social activism through popular music. Tom is a local musician, troubadour and leads the monthly "Songwriter Slam" at Yuba Sutter Arts.

The event will also feature activists and authors Mickey and Dick Flacks who will be talking about their recently published memoir, Making History/ Making Blintzes: How Two Red Diaper Babies Found Each Other and Discovered America. When the nation seems divided, it is good for small communities to come together for a civil discussion of local issues.

UCSB emeritus professor of sociology DICK FLACKS has co-authored with his life partner MICK-EY, this chronicle of their political and personal lives. As active members of the Civil Rights and anti-Vietnam War movements in the 1960's and leaders in today's social movements, their stories are a first-hand account of progressive American activism from the 1960's to the present.

Come enjoy food, music, and a community discussion about the local issues Yuba-Sutter is facing.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call, (800) 758-8052 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site, www.homesearch.com, for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, T.S.# 9948-2069. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected above in the telephone information or on the internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The Petition for Probate requests that (name): Eileen Marie Crowley be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the independent Administration of Sates Act.(This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: May 20, 2019 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 4 located at Superior Court of California, County of Yuba, 215 5th Street Ste. 200 Marysville, CA 95901.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58 (b) of the California Probate code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California Law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

All The Progressive Plotters

by Victor Hansen

Right after the 2016 election, Green Party candidate Jill Stein—cheered on by Hillary Clinton dead-enders—sued in three states to recount votes and thereby overturn Donald Trump’s victory in the Electoral College. Before the quixotic effort imploded, Stein was praised as an iconic progressive social justice warrior who might stop the hated Trump from even entering the White House.

When that did not work, B-list Hollywood celebrities mobilized, with television and radio commercials, to shame electors in Trump-won states into not voting for the president-elect during the official Electoral College balloting in December 2016. Their idea was that select morally superior electors should reject their constitutional directives and throw the election into the House of Representatives where even more morally superior NeverTrump Republicans might join with even much more morally superior Democrats to find the perfect morally superior NeverTrump alternative.

When that did not work, more than 60 Democratic House members voted to bring up Trump’s impeachment for vote. Trump had only been in office a few weeks. Then San Francisco billionaire Tom Steyer toured the country and lavished millions on advertisements demanding Trump’s removal by impeachment—and was sorely disappointed when he discovered that billion-dollar-fueled virtue-signaling proved utterly bankrupt virtue-signaling.

When that did not work, celebrities and politicians hit social media and the airwaves to so demonize Trump that culturally it would become taboo even to voice prior support for the elected president. Their chief tool was a strange new sort of presidential assassination chic, as Madonna, David Crosby, Robert de Niro, Johnny Depp, Snoop Dogg, Peter Fonda, Kathy Griffin, and a host of others linguistically vied with one another in finding the most appropriately violent end of Trump—blowing him up, burning him up, beating him up, shooting him up, caging him up, or decapitating him. Apparently, the aim—aside from careerist chest-thumping among the entertainment elite—was to lower the bar of Trump disparagement and insidiously delegitimize his presidency.

When that did not work, during the president’s first year in office, the Democrats and the media at various times sought to invoke the 25th Amendment, claiming Trump was so mentally or physically impaired that he was not able to carry out the duties of president. At one point, congressional Democrats called Yale University psychiatrist Dr. Bandy X. Lee to testify that Trump was unfit to continue. In fact, to prove her credentials, Lee edited The Dangerous Case of Donald Trump that offered arguments from 27 psychiatrists and other mental health experts. In May 2017, acting FBI Director Andrew McCabe and Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein met secretly in efforts to poll Trump cabinet members to discover whether they could find a majority to remove Trump from office—again on grounds that he was mentally unbalanced. According to McCabe, Rosenstein offered to wear a wire, in some sort of bizarre comic coup attempt to catch Trump off-guard in a confidential conversation.

When that did not work, 200 congressional Democrats in late 2018 sued in federal court to remove President Trump, claiming he had violated the esoteric Emoluments Clause of the Constitution that forbids federal officials from taking gifts, jobs, and titles from foreign governments. They alleged Trump’s presidency has enhanced his overseas real estate holdings and interests. Yet, according to some sources, the various Trump companies have lost some $1 billion in value after he took office—to the delight of the same critics who swore he has profited enormously as president.

When that did not work, the ongoing “Resistance” both covertly and overtly sought ways to retard or destroy the Trump presidency—often by leaking presidential memos, conversations, and phone calls. An anonymous op-ed published in the New York Times on September 15, 2018 boasted of a plan of resistance to his governance and initiatives from those in the administrative state from inside the Trump Administration, most of them allegedly establishment Republicans.

When that did not work, progressive heartthrob lawyer and now indicted Michael Avenatti reintroduced pornographic film star Stormy Daniels to the public. He claimed that Daniels had somehow been tricked into signing a supposedly improper and now invalid non-disclosure agreement not to talk about an alleged sexual encounter of a decade earlier with private citizen Trump in an exchange for a payment of $135,000.

Allegedly, Trump’s acquiescence to Daniels’ veritable blackmail demands had now impaired her own opportunities of further profiting to a far greater degree from the past alleged tryst with a now President Trump. Until his recent indictment for a number of felonies, Avenatti himself had translated his work with Daniels into media celebrity-hood, appearing over 100 times on cable news shows to damn Trump, predict his impeachment, and prep his promised 2020 presidential run against Trump.

When that did not work, federal law enforcement officials stormed the offices of Trump lawyer Michael Cohen, in search of incriminating materials. Cohen quickly was leveraged by federal attorneys, flipped, and offered anti-Trump testimonies and documents in exchange for leniency. He produced stealth tapes of private conversations with his own client Trump—and shortly afterward was disbarred by the New York State Supreme Court for pleading guilty to a series of felonies.

When that did not work, Russian collusion hysteria continued to sweep the country. The moribund phony Steele dossier (that had failed to derail the Trump campaign and transition) was reignited by the media and progressive politicians after the firing of FBI director James Comey, leading to the recusal of Attorney General Jeff Sessions, and the emergence of Deputy Attorney General Rosenstein.

Rosenstein then appointed Robert Mueller as special counsel—in a series of events prompted by none other than fired James Comey, who admitted that he illegally leaked confidential, if not some classified, presidential memos to create the conditions necessary for such a special appointment. Mueller’s subsequent media darling attorneys—praised as the “dream team,” “all-stars,” “army,” “untouchables,” and “hunter-killer team”—of mostly Democratic partisans, some Clinton donors, and a few who had defended either the Clinton Foundation or Clinton aides then spent 22 months, and between $30-40 million trying to build a case. In the end, they leveraged mostly minor Trump satellites on process crimes, misleading testimonies, or past business deals in hopes of finding collusionary guilt. Leaking was a Mueller team trademark as each week the collusionary media announced another “bombshell” or “noose tightening” around the neck of Donald Trump—or mysteriously showed up at the home of the next Mueller victim, to wait for the arrival of SWAT teams to swoop into make an arrest.

When that did not work, congressional committees and the left-wing mob next went after William Barr, Trump’s “hand-picked” attorney general (are not all AGs “hand-picked” by the president?). Barr’s crime was that he had followed the law to the letter. And so Barr spent a few days after the arrival of the exonerating Mueller collusion report to ensure first, before releasing it to the public, that it did not endanger national security or besmirch the reputations of innocent named individuals. If in a blink, “collusion” had died, soon in its death throes it birthed “obstruction”—as if Trump’s objections to vast resources wasted on chasing an imaginary non-crime of collusion was obstruction.

When that did not work, congressional committees mobilized to sue and force Trump to release at least six years of his private income tax records, elements of which already in bits and pieces had been leaked.

Are such efforts in the future to be institutionalized?

Will the Left nod and keep still, if Republicans attempt to remove an elected Democratic President before his tenure is up? Are appeals to impeachment, the 25th Amendment, the Emoluments Clause, the Logan Act, and a Special Counsel the now normal cargo of political opposition to any future elected president?

Is it now permissible in 2020 for Trump’s FBI director to insert an informant into the campaign of the Democratic presidential nominee? If Joe Biden is the 2020 nominee, will the Trump Justice Department seek FISA warrants to monitor the communications of Biden’s campaign team—in worries that Biden son’s business practices in the Ukraine had earlier compromised Biden who had intervened on his behalf by threatening to cut off aid to Ukraine? Will they investigate Biden’s propensity to hug and kiss under-aged girls? Will Trump’s CIA director contact foreign nationals to aid in spying on Biden’s aides? Will National Security Advisor John Bolton request that the names of surveilled Biden campaign officials become unmasked as a way of having them leaked to the media? Will Trump hire a British spy to gather together rumors and gossip about Biden’s previous overseas trips and foreign contacts, especially in the Ukraine, and then see them seeded among the Trump CIA, FBI, Justice Department, and State Department? Is that the sort of country we have now?

America over the last half century had been nursed on the dogma that the Left was the guarantor of civil liberties. That was the old message of the battles supposedly waged on our behalf by the ACLU, the free-speech areas on campuses, and the Earl Warren Court.

Not now. The left believes that almost any means necessary, extra-legal and anti-constitutional or not, are justified to achieve their noble ends. Progressive luminaries at CNN and the New York Times have lectured us that reporters need not be disinterested any more in the age of Trump—or that it might be a crime to shout “lock her up” at a Trump rally. Will those standards apply to coverage of future Democratic presidents?

No reporter seems to care that Hillary Clinton hired a foreign national to work with other foreign nationals to sabotage, first, her opponent’s campaign, then his transition and his presidency, along with the wink and nod help from key Obama officials at the Department of Justice, State Department, National Security Council, FBI and CIA.

The final irony? If the CIA, FBI, and DOJ have gone the banana republic way of Lois Lerner’s IRS and shredded the Constitution, they still failed to remove Donald Trump.

Trump still stands. In Nietzschean fashion what did not kill him apparently only made him stronger.

Our God Has The Right to Make Choices

I like you, were not given a choice, about where you would be born. Also no choice about the family, you would be born to be a part of. Not even at what point in the history of humanity, that you would , make your appearance as a person in the world.

Here is the good news for all of us. God’s only Son, Jesus, he did make all those Choices for himself, as God, He could and did, please see 1st John 5

v. 20- “And we know that the sin of God has come, and has given us an understanding, that we may know Him who is true, and we are in Him, who is true, in His Son Jesus Christ. That is the true God, and eternal life.”

Now you can make a choice about Jesus. My Bible Teaches, that He rose from the dead, and He ascended into Heaven, around 2,000 years ago.

Please read Acts 1 v.

9-11, also Colossians 1 v. 19-22

Only Jesus, who died on the cross for your sins, can forgive you and me of our sins debt against our holy god. For by His grace, He paid the full price for our sin. By faith I’ll be joining Jesus in Heaven. So what about you friend? It is your choice.

Thank you for your time, Happy Easter, Larry Matulich Stockton Ca.

School Politics?

Tough times are afoot at Olivehurst Elementary School. The MJUSD administration has seen it fit to non reelect both site administrators. This is after they had done the same thing just 2 years prior to another administrator. Yes, you read that correctly. MJUSD has fired a principal of 8 months, a principal of 1.5 years, and a vice principal of 8 months from Olivehurst Elementary. The school has had 3 administrators in 3 years! The majority collective staff voice is opposed to these decisions. Some are saying that our voice does not matter. The politics of such decisions are shameful. A revolving door of administration is not good for staff and it is not good for students. MJUSD administration and school board need to put the needs of students ahead of district politics. They must reconsider the non reelect status of the current principal and vice principal of Olivehurst Elementary School.

Erin Villagomez Olivehurst, Ca.

Thank You Don Rae

Thank goodness for sane rational and smart people like you, We only wish your voice was heard throughout US. We cannot even fathom the idiocy of the far left socialist democrats ringing throughout the country.

“ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOOS NEST”

Describes AO Cortez- Bernie and Warren +Newsom- Harris – Etc. let’s look at getting rid of all cattle all those blue collar democrat young people lose their jobs at every fast food place in the USA. No more cows eventually –no milk, cheese or butter. So they tell us what to eat.

Free college for everyone? Impossible Maybe in a small socialist country of 30 million but not 330million. Welcome centers for illegal immigrants the latest from the dem in NY Gutierrez- why not roll out the red carpet? Doesn’t the word “illegal” mean anything?

Community Beliefs Put Aside

A shocking statement from Supervisors Leahy and Bradford: "...the committee believes it is important to put aside personal and community beliefs." What the heck is this? Well, it is just one of the misleading justifications these pro-marijuana Supervisors are using to promote commercial marijuana in Yuba County. Supervisors Leahy and Bradford are the two supervisors serving on the Ad-Hoc Committee formed to explore and review applicable laws and operations related to Cannabis. They presented their report to the Board of Supervisors, on April 10, 2019. Almost any reader of the report would realize their intent was not just to "review applicable laws and operations", but to also make recommendations on adopting Yuba County Regulations allowing for the sale and growing of large scale outdoor and indoor marijuana. They exceeded their authority and they did so using questionable methods.

Their very first and only public meeting in Yuba County was an indicator of their intent to produce a report with a predetermined outcome. Supervisor Leahy had personally telephoned and invited a Sacramento based marijuana advocate, while at the same time not providing the same courtesy to local opponents of commercial marijuana. They tried to pack the audience at the expense of local residents. Supervisor Bradford also demonstrated his bias against factual evidence by stating that local residents are split on the issue. He made no acknowledgement and still does not, of the fact that Yuba County residents/voters recently voted down three pro-marijuana Yuba County Measures and the State Proposition 64. I guess, he just decided to “put aside” information not supporting his agenda.

Again and again found throughout their report are unbalanced non-public meetings and assumptions made without supporting facts. Take for example their meeting with District 10 farmers and email responses from Southern Yuba County Farmers. The verbal responses from District 10 farmers are lukewarm, at best, to the concept of commercial marijuana growing. But the written comments from South County Farmers are numerous and damning. One such example: "outdoor can-

County is an invitation to trouble. Crime, theft, increased violence and the degradation of what we have worked so hard to accomplish to improve this area will become a factor." Did Supervisor Bradford not hear his own constituents' comments, did he just put them aside?

Another example is their selective visit to a pro-marijuana minority supporter, Supervisor Garamendi in Calaveras County. Why didn't they visit the majority Supervisors that voted to rescind that County's short lived Ordinance allowing for large outdoor marijuana grows? The majority rescinded that Ordinance because of the very large influx of marijuana growers that: would not register, caused massive environmental damages and crime increases including shotgun shootings in the streets.

Call the Board of Supervisors' office, at 749-7510, and request a copy of the 21 page report. Learn for yourself the dangers these two Supervisors are attempting to inflict on Yuba County!

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

- Keep in mind when you hear Democrats talk. They claim that DACA youth should not have to pay for their parents' crimes – like jumping the southern border. Yet they demand white people should pay today for slavery which ended in 1865. Convenient logic.

• Trump fires those who can't cut the mustard and do the job they are hired to do. Politicians who become President simply hire off the Deep State rack, the great majority of whom are nothing more than politicians. Why don't they get fired? Because they are part of the club and are expected to play musical chairs throughout their career regardless of their ability to get things done. Trump is finding this out and trying desperately to find capable appointments.

• Were you aware that we have troops stationed in Ethiopia discussing the Ethiopian Navy. If you are familiar with African geography, Ethiopia is landlocked. Perhaps they are planning for a sand navy. This is not a complaint about our troops. But they are assigned in 193 countries in the world; not counting those always assigned to embassies. Wouldn't they do more good in defending the country if they were on the southern border of the United States?

- Nothing unusual here, but just a reminder for your edification. When the guilty can't think of anything intelligent to say: Kim Foxx (of Chicago) blames the criticism leveled at her for the Jussie Smolett debacle on, what else? Racism. And who is standing with her as she avoids responsibility for her own actions – Why none other than the race-baiters Sharpton, Jackson and Bobby Rush.

- Do you ever get the impression that politicians go to liars' school and graduate summa cum laude?

- Parents of autistic children are beating up Disneyland for disallowing huge child carriers because the kids will get over-stimulated and the carriers won't fit all corridors or attractions. Folks, Disneyland is by design and definition "over-stimulate." If a child cannot be exposed to that atmosphere, then the parents should take that into consideration when choosing a place to visit with their child.

- Continue adding immigrants from all countries of the world and create in America a serious case of Balkanization. Folks of widely different cultures, languages and history, not even considering dire circumstances, need decades to assimilate into Americas' culture. Think of what has happened in the Balkans and other places around the globe where politicians have drawn national boundary lines. Hate. Genocide. Suppression of religion. Ethnic cleansing. And more horrid results. America closed immigration (except for a few exceptions) for around 40 years in the early 1900's. Maybe that is an idea whose time is come again. We need to assimilate possibly 20 million immigrants now hanging around today's street corners. Halting all immigration for awhile is not a bad idea.

- Here we go again. The “world is coming to an end soon” crowd has another brilliant concept for us to contemplate. Toxic masculinity is changing the climate. Of course they don’t tell us how or whether such change may be a good thing to keep the planet in orbit longer. It does make us wonder whether there are any real scientists around today. Wow! Men are as powerful as sunspots.

- And again. Reparations are due to all Blacks whose ancestors were freed by a virtually all white army in 1865. And not a single person born in the USA in the last 100 plus years was a slave, except in some warped mixed-up minds. By the way, the first slaves to come to America were Irish orphans dropped off in New England before any Blacks arrived.

- A suggestion. Blacks should reflect on how much better off they are today than they would be if their ancestors had stayed in Africa. Are any Black Americans beating down the borders to live in Kenya, Uganda, and Ivory Coast- even Liberia. Count your blessings.

• Last week a man on a bicycle in Los Angeles cruised down the street slashing away with a knife. Result: nine people carved up. Isn't it time we did something about knives? We've done something about straws and sugary drinks. Shouldn't we license knives; restrict their length; require they be made out of rubber. And also not more than 10 knives at a time. Most likely this will be part of the solution our brilliant politicians will come up with. But doesn't this incident point out the need for institutionalizing those who are mentally ill and can't take care of themselves or control their behavior? Why can't either party do something positive and helpful rather than send out condolence cards?

- P.J. O'Rourke: "Freedom is not empowerment. Empowerment is what the Serbs have in Bosnia. Anybody can grab a gun and be empowered. It's not entitlement. An entitlement is what people on welfare get, and how free are they? It's not an endlessly expanding list of rights -- the "right" to education, the "right" to food and housing. That's not freedom, that's dependency. Those aren't rights. Those are the rations of slavery -- hay and a barn for human cattle. There is only one basic human right, the right to do as you damn well please. And with it comes the only basic human duty, the duty to take the consequences."

• A judge finally realized there is a 2nd amendment and ruled the prohibition of gun magazines designed to hold more than 10 rounds was unconstitutional. So gun dealers went out and spent plenty buying from wholesalers and huge numbers of gun owners purchased the now legal item. Unfortunately for the law-abiding citizen the same judge – who probably got up on the wrong side of the bed – stayed his order so those dealers are now stuck with unsalable merchandise and a business loss. Those who bought the magazines are now criminals. What a stupid state of affairs. Perhaps this judge ought to make all the victims whole out of his public salary. Sure, he decreed that anyone following his original order won't be jailed or fined. That is until he changes his mind again.

- Let's finish this today with another Democratic lie. Since they have nothing to stand on after the Russia report, they go back many months to say that Trump called all asylum seekers "Animals." BS. Listen to the tape. He only referred to MS13 members as Animals. But for Democrats, a vicious lie is honey to their lips.

NID Offers 6 Month Internships

Nevada County, Ca.

The Nevada Irrigation District has graciously taken the lead in piloting a 6 month paid internship via the Nevada Joint Union High School District scholarship program by offering two scholarships to be awarded to the Class of 2019 and setting the trend for more local businesses to follow suit.

This year, graduating seniors within the school district were offered the opportunity to submit their district scholarship application and their letter of interest to NID through the district's Scholarship Coordinator, Kimala DeSena. Organized by NID's HR Director, Jana Kolakowski, department managers at NID recently hosted an informal presentation to interested scholarship applicants about the history, purpose and future of the District. Insight into the different District divisions and careers were shared and the overall career outlook in water and hydroelectric agencies.

Next step will be a half day tour of the hydroelectric facility, as well as other NID locations, to give the interested candidates a hands-on view of potential internship positions possible with NID. Last step will be a panel interview before NID decides who the two final recipients will be chosen. Recipients will be awarded at their school's awards night next month in May. If you are an interested business or organization that would like to know more about offering local scholarships to the NJUHS high school sites, please contact Kimala DeSena, Scholarship and Fund Development Coordinator for more information at (530)273-3351 x224 or kdesena@njuhsd.com.

Going Broke by Borrowing

Wasting money, overspending and paying thousands of dollars in interest reduces wealth. Many owe far more than they earn and have in assets. Owning more than you are worth is considered being bankrupt.

For the wealthiest nation in the world, many families and government being in horrible financial shape is a tragedy. Often, through a change of course an individual or family can right the financial ship.

However, government does not have the will to change its ways. Government does not produce goods but takes money from the citizens via taxes, hundreds of them, to operate. And, a massive bureaucracy has an interest in keeping the status quo.

If enough taxes cannot be raised to satisfy the spending whims of politicians then borrowing funds to burden later generations is the strategy. Presuming that the future will be financially brighter is foolish and will lead to bankruptcy and ruin.

Borrowing makes a mismanaged government appear affordable. If borrowing was forbidden spending would come under much greater scrutiny. Nothing sharpens the mind as having to face the full cost of one's choices with limited resources.

Borrowing creates a gross injustice burdening those too young to vote and the unborn. As environmentalists rightly argue that we should leave the earth in better shape than we found it, we are leaving a toxic financial future for our children.

Governments like Yuba County hide the fact that they are broke, being consistently unable to meet financial obligations with cash flow. In fact, it wasn't until 2012 that the unfunded debt owed for employee pensions was mandated by state accounting standards (GASB #68) to be included in the books. Prior to 2012, millions in debt was hidden from the taxpayers per the politicians and union leadership.

Appeal Democrat writer Chris Kaufman noted on March 28, 2019 that Yuba County was to borrow $9 million from the Yuba County Water Agency to fund road repairs. Not a whimper was heard from citizens who feel impotent when it comes to stopping shortsighted politicians from plundering the county coffers.

This $9 million isn't one of these short-term 12-month loans to pay down runaway pension debt. It has a 10-year payback with more than $1.1 million in interest according to Kaufman. So, if the $9 million for roads is wisely spent then taxpayers paid $10.1 million for $9 million in road work. Taxpayers lose $1.1 million of their hard-earned money as a penalty for bad management.

This is lousy stewardship no matter whether county supervisors created a sweet interest rate at the water agency or not. Taking 10-years to pay for a road is crazy, but crazy has become the norm for government. What will the condition of the repaired roads be in 10-years when the payments are complete? Do we borrow once again?

In 10-years the current supervisors and bureaucrats will be gone while leaving the debt burden for a future generation. Borrowing leads to more mismanagement, poor spending scrutiny and an expanding government bureaucracy.

Empty Stomachs Full Churches

Big rigs full of food and supplies are hijacked on the way to cities by criminals and starving people. Pets, dumpsters and zoo animals are backfilling the government's inability to maintain the food chain.

Now, since most businesses have pretty much stopped and the electricity and water are off for hours at a time, people are digging up graves to retrieve jewelry and gold fillings to buy needed items. It's a nation-wide Donner Party experience.

Murders and crime have also spiked. Oh, candles are also in short supply.

This is a rare opportunity for American university professors to organize student summer opportunities in Venezuela to study socialism where it is operating without hindrance. The fragile students may be offended however by the snacking on dogs, cats, and zoo-kind.

However, while stomachs are empty the churches are now full. Maybe Venezuelans in the good times were like Americans today. Why would you need God when you are doing just fine on your own. You can cheat on a spouse, have sex with the same kind, an animal or a demon and still prosper. You can lie and steal and be a leader. What a country!

Venezuelans today are in a life-threatening crisis. They are dying from untreated diseases and a lack of food. When the nation becomes so screwed-up and dangerous that you lose confidence in a political solution the idea of God resurfaces.

Churches of all flavors in Venezuela are growing. People are calling out for mercy. Diabetics that have gone months with no insulin are looking to God. Asthmatics with no medicine are asking for a miracle. People have lost everything.

While millions have fled the country those remaining to suffer the disaster are seeking God for deliverance. Live or die those that renewed or discovered the faith are preparing for their socialist future.

The Sutter County High School Speech Contest

What: 'Public Business' From The Floor Speech Contest

When: Monday, April 30, 2019, 6 p.m.

Where: Sutter County Board of Supervisors Chambers, 466 Second Street, Yuba City

Who: Any high school student in Sutter County

Why: Because your First Amendment rights are powerful

How: Cash prize sponsorship provided by Active 20-30 Club of Yuba City/Marysville

Contact to participate: csmith@co.sutter.ca.us; 530-822-7100 ext. 114

Speaking rules and judging guidelines: Utilizing the same procedures established for a real meeting, participants will be given up to three minutes each to speak on any topic related to Sutter County local government. (We suggest you visit www.suttercounty.org and search through County departments if you need ideas on what to talk about). A time clock will be employed. Participants are expected to complete their remarks prior to the end of three minutes, and should continue beyond three minutes only to complete a sentence. Participants will be judged on the following criteria: whether topic is under the jurisdiction of the county; whether speaker clearly identified a position or action he or she wishes the Board of Supervisors to take; a speaker's use of facts and examples to illustrate he or she researched the topic; adherence to the three minute time limit; and general speaking skills (i.e., eye contact, composure, articulation, and projection.) Judges will consist of members of the Board of Supervisors, and a representative from the Active 20-30 Club of Yuba City-Marysville. Judges will be instructed to consider the effectiveness of the presentation, and not whether they agree or disagree with the position taken by the participating student.

Contest awards: Cash prizes will be given to the five participants who are judged to have the highest score. All participants will receive a Certificate of Recognition from the Board of Supervisors that can be included in their student portfolio.

List of Suggested Topics (Participants are not required to choose from this list. It is presented only as an example of matters that do fall under the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors follows below). # What is PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

Public Safety Power Shutoff
or PSPS is a precautionary safety measure that may proactively turn off power lines when extreme fire danger conditions are forecast. We will do this to reduce wildfire risks and keep our customers safe.

To receive wildfire safety alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

What criteria does PG&E consider when calling a PSPS?

No single factor will initiate a Public Safety Power Shutoff as each situation is unique. The factors we generally consider include:

- A Red Flag Warning declared by the National Weather Service
- Forecasts of strong winds and wind gusts
- Low humidity levels
- Critically dry vegetation that could fuel a wildfire
- And on-the-ground, real-time observations from PG&E field crews

How will I know if a PSPS has been called in my neighborhood?

Because extreme weather threats can change quickly, our goal is to provide notice through phone calls, emails and text messages to customers 48 hours in advance, again at 24 hours and again just prior to turning off the power for safety. Updates will also be shared through social media, local news, radio and pge.com until the time power is restored. To receive wildfire safety alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

How can I prepare for a PSPS?

We advise you to think in advance about your family's needs and how you might be impacted in the event of a power shutoff — or for any emergency.

- Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including pets?
- If you own a generator, is it ready to operate safely?
- Do you know how to open your garage door manually?
- Do you have cash and a full tank of gas, in the event ATMs and gas stations are unavailable?
- Are your mobile phones fully charged?

I H Fever

Vintage Tractor Days

by Rod Hisken

The Alcouffe Center will host Vintage Tractor Days on May 4th and 5th in Oregon House. There will be a number of activities that will appeal to the family. Tractor rides, hay wagons, bounce houses, appropriate vendors for farming, tractor games, drives, special displays and presentations. It's a place and time you can take your kids for fun entertaining experiences, learn about living history, and not spend a bunch of money.

This year will be a bit different and the show has a history of providing unique displays of the long time annual event. This year a special guest will be the owner and editor of Western Antique Iron Trader. This magazine is widely subscribed by collectors of antique farm memorabilia from British Columbia to Arizona.

Last year the John Deere Ice Cream maker

drew a big crowd.

This year there will be three displays that have not been shown in Oregon House or any place else.

One of the fun things about the Vintage Tractor Hobby is the teasing that go on between friends. Such as, "If it ain't red, keep it in the shed. (Sorry to my high school English teacher) Friends don't let friends drive red tractors."

One of my buddies has a special kind of sickness, "IH Fever". He likes RED. I have pity for his poor judgment. Not only does he like red tractors, the affliction goes deeper than that. He will spend years and money on anything International.

International Harvester was formed in 1902 by representatives of the JP Morgan Law Firm. They combined five companies including two major rivals, McCormack and Deering. The conglomerate produced farm equipment, construction equipment, trucks, automobiles, household items and an array of commercial products.

Their first truck appeared on the market in 1907 and remain in the large truck market today known as Navistar International.

Manufacturing of pickups occurred over a number of years with the peak being between the 1940s though the 1970s ending about 1975. The letter series of K,L,R, and B were used. A number following the letter usually related to the load capacity.

While the hobby is not for everybody, those afflicted have vehicles with autopilots programmed to Garage Sales, Estate Sales, exhaust pipes sticking out through brush, a flash of red sticking out in a crack of a board in an old barn or rusty junk in a fence row. Now my good friend Jim Escherman is about as noticeable as a red Holstein standing out in a treeless pasture, he even likes IH trucks!

One day I was driving up Bald Mountain Road when my truck got out of control and found a drive with an estate sales sign. I was greeted by a friendly hand shake and was toured through a yard of GOLD. The man's father had passed and his stuff was being passed on to those who also might enjoy it. Several tractors, horseshoes, signs, tools, lamps, tillage equipment, and other assorted treasures were present. One gem was a 60's IH pickup. Flat tires, rust, and a bed full stuff that might be used someday. I could hardly wait to call Jim! He came over almost immediately and became the third owner of a 1968 1100B. The first owner was JW Johnson of Wheatland and the second was Barrie Marshall of Browns Valley. The truck has a 304 V8, 4speed transmission, and has a half ton rating. The four year off frame restoration was a work of passion, sweat, skinned knuckles, friends, and bill you don't discuss with your wife. It will be on display framed by a 1953 Phase II Farmall M and on the other side will be a Farmall Super M with a Torque Amplifier. The M series was a big seller for IH and produced in several versions. Jim has all the examples in his collection.

So, come on up to Oregon House the first weekend of May. The Sierra Foothills are at their best for beauty and the folks are friendly. Come see the three exhibits you won't see anywhere else. There will also be a number of other tractors on display with the owners glowing to share their treasures with the public.

African Drumming with Drum Master Olivia James

Participate Learn, Perform

Marysville, Ca.

What do djembes (pr. "gem-bay"), dunduns, batas and bougarabous all have in common? If you said they are all different types of African drums, you would be right. If you have ever wanted to learn more about these amazing instruments and the remarkable sounds they can create, now is your chance. Come to a free "Meet the Drum Master" introductory session with Olivia Yasmin James on Friday, April 19 at Justin's Kitchen in Yuba City from 6-7:30pm. Then sign up for a six-week drumming class that meets on Fridays from April 26 - May 31 starting at 6pm. The cost of the class is $100. Loaner instruments are available or bring your own.

Olivia is the Artistic Director and Founder of Fenix Drum and Dance Company in Sacramento. Based in Yuba City, she has been studying West African and Afro-Caribbean dance and drumming since she was nine years old. With a solid background in classical ballet, jazz, tap, and hip-hop, she strives to take traditional dance to a new level. She has studied extensively with master traditional drum and dance teachers both in the United States and in West Africa. Olivia is a registered teaching artist with Sacramento Metropolitan Arts Commission and is the recipient of several grants designed to promote traditional arts. Olivia currently teaches African drum and dance in Sutter and Yuba County Schools as part of Yuba Sutter Arts' Jump StArts program for at risk and system engaged youth.

Fenix Drum and Dance is a performing troupe specializing in dance and drumming from West Africa, the Congo and the Caribbean. The high energy multi-generational, multi-ethnic group highlights the richness and complexity of traditional dance and music of the African diaspora. The journey begins in Africa in their performances and then travels across the ocean to the Caribbean and the Americas.

The drum is renowned throughout Africa. Sub-Saharan and especially West African music are characterized by a "strong rhythmic interest" that exhibits common characteristics in all regions of this vast territory. Rhythmic techniques carried over the Atlantic were fundamental ingredients in various musical styles of the Americas: samba and other Brazilian genres, Afro-Cuban music and Afro-American musical genres such as blues, jazz, rhythm & blues, funk, soul, reggae, hip hop, and rock and roll were of immense importance in 20th century popular music.

A Look at Socialism

I have written about the socialistic movement in many recent columns, reacting to the increased interest in this flawed but seductive economic model so many people seem to be biting on.

Just recently I was contacted by a movie producer who gleaned one of many ideas put forth in my articles that intrigued him to the point where he wants to make a documentary on the subject with yours truly at the forefront. I'm flattered of course. It won't be the first documentary on me and hopefully won't be the last.

The thing that caught his attention in my articles was one particular psychological allure of socialism I theorized and to date I honestly have not seen any other columnist take this tact.

The basic premise of the socialist economic model is well known and well publicized in the propaganda supporting it and it goes like this:

The capitalistic system is flawed, the worker is taken advantage of, and a central government needs to take control of things to level the playing field. Offshoots of the capitalistic criticism encompasses the belief that the rich are greedy and uncompassionate, that they put profits before people, and over time the wealth concentrates in the hands of a very few, while more and more average Joe's are economically ground up under the wheels of capitalistic greed.

The conclusion drawn is a socialistic based economy would benefit the worker and even out the playing field.

Humm, where have we heard that before?

I don't think there's much argument from socialism's supporter on these statements. Note I didn't say realities. The statements are the familiar catcalls of socialists now and in the past and if they were true, perhaps the socialists would have valid point or two. The drawbacks and realities of how socialism really works is for another day however.

What caught the ear of the movie producer was my claim that the sharpest hook of socialistic propaganda is more of a psychological one then economic.

And here is what I said: "Socialism reaches out to the very core of ones beliefs and taps into deep rooted self-blame and self-esteem issues that might haunt one's mind. The opinion of oneself is often based on being able to support oneself and earn a decent living.

Socialism replaces that doubt with a new and more palatable concept. One's economic plight is not the result of bad choices, bad luck or lack of work ethic. Instead it's the systems fault.

Keep in mind it is a difficult reality one faces when they can't earn a decent living. It touches the core of ones self-esteem, their view of themselves and their self-worth image.

Regardless of how one arrived at where they're at, not being able to afford their preferred lifestyle is a gut wrenching reality and can be a demeaning one. The appeal of socialism lifts the self-criticism inherent is being not making enough money and introduces the concept "it's not my fault where I'm at but the fault of greedy corporations, a profit based, inherently uncompassionate system and all the things that go along with so-called capitalistic greed.

The seduction of socialism gives validation to one's plight, shifts the blame to others and away from one's self. It restores self-esteem and redirects it into anger. Anger toward the system, the people that have more, and of course the "evil corporations".

In one quick and easy swallow, the socialistic pill cures all self-doubt, eliminates the concept of responsibility and unites you with others who fall under the belief:

It's not me, it's the system.

In plain English, it's the system that made me poor, I knew all along it wasn't me, and I'm no longer responsible for where I am at. Someone else is. It restores ones view of themselves, buffers it with anger, and gives them a target to aim at. And all with a happy ending where everyone has a home, a new car, can sit at the river all day and write poetry and sing songs in a big circle after a dinner of grey gruel and dry biscuits.

(Just kidding about the last part, although the last part is the only truism in the whole paragraph)

Socialism indeed has its enticements. They run deep into one's psyche. Its attracts people to bite on the lie. And bite they are. By shifting the responsibility of one's life choices onto somebody else, then promising the best of all things paid for by someone else, the words "someone else" are the key components. Socialism looks outwardly for one's satisfaction in life and also its blame. Personal responsibility is set aside and replaced by the incrimination of anyone but self.

Sadly, its promised solutions will never be, and have never been. Either the people go broke under the weight of the expense, or the government does.

Marc Cuniberti hosts "Money Matters" on KVMR FM aired on 65 radio stations nationwide. He is a financial columnist for a variety of publications. ## Take A Walk In The Park

at South Yuba River State Park

Submitted by John Field, SYRPA Publicity

Now that the rain is finally subsiding and Spring is in the air, there is an abundance of beauty to enjoy and be a part of with the various docent led walks offered at the South Yuba River State Park.

Wildflower Walks are offered at least into mid-May every Saturday at 10am and Sunday at 11am. Docent led hikes last about 1.5 hours. The Buttermilk Bend trail is an easy 2 mile hike out and back. The Buttermilk Bend Trail, which winds above the wild and scenic South Yuba River, is highly regarded for the many species that bloom on its hills and slopes. Each season observers are delighted with an everchanging tableau of spring color. Early season walkers may find Western Buttercups, Zigzag Larkspur, and Shooting Stars. By mid-season, the hills usually turn gold and purple with Tufted Poppies and a variety of lupine. Mid to late season floral treats can include Fairy Lanterns, Chinese Houses, and Birds-eye Gilia. Docents will share facts, legends and the many uses of the flowers and plants along the trail.

Bird Walks will take place on April 13, April 26, May 3 and May 11 all at 8am. Anticipate seeing birds common to a woodland/riparian habitat such as Towhees, Dippers, Various Wood Peckers, Blue Birds, Kinglets, Phoebe's, Quail, Bald Eagles during the winter breeding season and the many spring migrants in the park (Warblers, Grosbeaks, Swallows and more). All bird walks are also docent led and last about two hours.

To make your visit complete, bring picnic lunch and allow time to take in the park Visitor Center, check out the covered bridge (while is it under renovation) and barn (both built in 1862), and the restored 1920's gas station.

The Visitor Center is open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Thursday through

Sunday

Follow Pleasant Valley Road in Penn Valley north past the Visitor Center over the South Yuba River to the Bridgeport North Parking lot. Parking is $5.00. Sturdy walking shoes, hat and water are recommended. A $3.00 donation is requested and appreciated. (Dogs are not permitted on the guided walks as the trail is narrow and the groups can be large.)

The walks and blooms are at the whim of Mother Nature. Rain may cancel.

Call 530-432-2546 for information.

For more information, call the park at (530) 432-2546, or go to www.southyubariverstatepark.org.

CRITIC'S CORNER

by Matt Woolery

Shazam

Starring: Zachary Levi, Mark Strong and Asher Angel. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 2 hours, 12 minutes.

In an act of desperation, a wizard gives all of his powers to a fourteen-year-old boy. Billy Batson is then tasked with saving the world from the actual Seven Deadly Sins. He must first master his new powers and learn the secret to defeating his foes.

Shazam, earns four out of five, Lightning Finger Monkeys. The story is well crafted and drifts away from the dark depressing and hopeless themes of most DC Universe movies. It is light hearted for the most part, but still has elements of grit and deep shadows. The acting is great, and it seems like the cast had a lot of fun working on this film. The effects were very well done and as a side note, Philadelphia buses have the strongest windshields made by man. This is a fun movie and well worth the trip to see on the big screen.
