Repairs on SR-20 in Yuba County

Yuba County, Ca.

Caltrans is replacing nearly nine lane miles of pavement on State Route 20 from Loma Rica Road to Spring Valley Road east of Marysville due to funds from Senate Bill 1 (SB 1), the Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017.

“State Route 20 experiences a lot of wear and tear because it is the principal east-west route for motorists traveling between the Yuba-Sutter area and Nevada County,” said Caltrans Director Laurie Berman. “This project allows crews to make long-term repairs, providing a smoother, safer ride for motorists and the region’s commercial operators.”

More than 10,000 and approximately 420 truckers per day use this segment of SR-20.

“Without funding from SB 1, the pavement would continue to deteriorate, which would have a direct impact on travelers and result in costly maintenance repairs in the future,” said Caltrans District 3 Director Amarjeet S. Benipal. “Having a smooth roadway is important for the local recreational and agricultural industry in the Yuba-Sutter and Nevada County regions.”

Lamon Construction of Yuba City is the contractor on this $16.8 million project, which will rehabilitate the pavement, widen shoulders, create a 20-foot clear recovery zone, flatten a rise in the roadway to increase sight distance, improve drainage systems and replace center-line rumble strips.

Motorists should allow additional travel time through the area because of intermittent daytime and nighttime work. The work schedule is subject to change due to traffic incidents, weather, availability of equipment and/or materials, and/or construction-related issues. Motorists are encouraged to “Be Work Zone Alert.”

SB 1 provides an ongoing funding increase of approximately $1.8 billion annually for the maintenance and rehabilitation of the state highway system. SB 1 funds will enable Caltrans to fix more than 17,000 lane miles of pavement, 500 bridges and 55,000 culverts by 2027.

More information and updates on projects can be found at <http://www.dot.ca.gov/d3/projects/> or on Twitter via @CaltransDist3 and on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/CaltransDistrict3>

Caltrans is committed to conducting its business in a fully transparent manner and detailing its progress to the public. For complete details on SB 1, visit <http://www.rebuildingca.ca.gov/>.

The Education Plantation

by Lou Binninger

Free enterprise and competition have led to an astounding abundance and prosperity throughout the Western world and wherever they have been tried, even in what once was known as the Third or Underdeveloped World.

Never have so many people moved out of abject poverty, gained access to clean water, enough food, education and technology as in the last 50 years. Innovation, freedom and competition have sparked the burst forward.

However, Tony Thurmond, California’s new Superintendent of Schools, maintains that competition has no place in government schools. What utter nonsense.

Tony suffers from a mental flat spot. His cure to low performance is always more money (higher prices for education). Why didn’t the fast food industry think of this?

It wasn’t long ago in the early 1990s that Yuba-Sutter parents wanting to homeschool were harassed by school officials and threatened with legal action. However, County School Superintendent Ric Teagarden launched the Yuba County Career Preparatory Charter School (first in the area) and was met with disdain by the unified district. Teagarden set parents free by allowing them to teach their children under his charter school covering.

Now, charter schools are everywhere and the unified districts offer all types of educational alternatives for students that don’t fit into mainstream methods. However, even the government charter school people see through socialist glasses being adamantly against private competition in education.

The government sees no problem with forcefully removing money from taxpayers for schools including from those having no kids in the system. And it sees no problem with choosing the school where kids attend. If you don’t like it you can pay a second time for private schools as the government keeps your school monies.

Low performing teachers are horrified at the thought of losing tenure and facing competition. And lousy schools that should be given a decent burial want laws that keep kids on their education plantation. These anti-choice mandates are not tolerated elsewhere in society.

Why not extend the socialist policy of no competition and force all union teachers to only buy from a single vender like one restaurant, one grocery store, one car dealer, one clothing store, stay at one hotel, etc. Why not - because unions and politicians are hypocrites.

In the meantime, our monopolistic government schools are indoctrinating children against the tenets of our founding fathers,

Convicted Murderer Dies in Prison Three Decades After Killing

Marysville, Ca.

A man convicted of the 1988 murder of a 62 year old mother of six and grandmother of ten died in prison earlier this month, ending years of failed parole hearings that kept him locked up.

Henry Roy Carls was arrested and subsequently convicted of the first degree murder of Anita Allan, following the July 12, 1988 incident. Carls was sentenced to 25 years-to-life. He died in the custody of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation on March 2 of this year.

“Mr. Carls filed for parole multiple times over the past several years, and each time our office was there along with members of Ms. Allan’s family to make sure the Board of Parole Hearings had a clear understanding of the heinous nature of his crime,” said Yuba County Deputy District Attorney Melanie Bendorf. “The fact that he never experienced life outside of prison after his conviction is an important final victory for Anita.”

Bendorf said the Board consistently determined that Carls remained a danger to society and denied his release.

Allan worked in the Attendance Office at Yuba City High School and as a teacher’s aide at Yuba College. She was at her home in Marysville when Carls attacked and killed her.

Taxifornia

by Lou Binninger

As social media continues to sizzle with Measure K controversy one pro-tax combatant mocked that the argument is only about 1 cent on the dollar. He did not reveal that he is a CalPERS pension recipient and at the highest retirement rate.

Pro-tax people are often the last to donate to charitable causes (See book “Who Really Cares”). And, there is no law to prohibit people donating to the government to cover the unfunded pension deficit if they wish.

Actually all taxes amount to a few pennies on the dollar. The problem is that there are hundreds of them and most of the money is wasted via bad management and corruption. There is nothing like being nickel and dimed to death, right? At the end of each year those coins amount to thousands of dollars per person.

Depending on who is paying, when all taxes and fees are totaled it could come to 40%-70% or more of income. On top of that add California’s spiked prices for fuel and energy and the increased costs off products connected to these resources due to the state’s outrageous regulations. And how are those road repairs working for you anti-Prop 6 people?

For a driver traveling 12,000 miles per year and getting 30 miles per gallon, he is paying $456 more for gas in California compared to the national average. And now, a Yuba County resident purchasing a $30,000 vehicle will pay an added $300 compared to buying before April 1.

Here is a list of more than 90 taxes that some or all Californians pay; Air Transportation Taxes (just look at how much you were charged the last time you flew), Biodiesel Fuel Taxes, Building Permit Taxes, Business Registration Fees, Capital Gains Taxes, Cigarette Taxes, Court Fines (indirect taxes), Disposal Fees, Dog License Taxes, Drivers’ License Fees, Employer Health

Links and Lores Keeping up with the Joneses

by Carol Withington

Historical research can be frustrating at times, especially when two African-American pioneers appear to have identical names. In Delilah Beasley's book-- "The Negro Trail Blazers of California"--a person by the name of Nimrod Jones arrived in California in 1849 and was a pioneer of Marysville. However, this particular Jones never lived in Yuba County.

However, a Nimrod Wellington Jones, a native of Virginia, settled in neighboring Nevada County where he purchased a lot for $50 on June 14, 1859. His name first appeared in Nevada County's 1867 Bean's Directory, where Jones was listed as a cook. Two years later, the name of Nimrod Street was included in H.S. Bradley's official map of Nevada City.

According to the 1870 Census Jones was listed in the Nevada Township as a laborer and was indicated as W for white in the column entry for race. It was not until ten years later, that Jones was accurately listed as Black.

In 1871, Jones, along with 37 other African-American men in Nevada County, exercised their right to vote. And whenever he moved, Jones always re-registered.

On March 4, 1875, Jones sold his Nevada City property for $275. He then moved to San Francisco where he remained until his death in the early 1890s. He never remarried after his wife Rosana died in 1869. There were no children.

During his sixteen years in Nevada City, Nimrod Wellington Jones was highly respected and the community "embraced" him as a citizen. In fact, the name of Nimrod Street still stands proudly across from Pioneer Park.

RILEY (NIMROD) JONES

Riley (Nimrod) Jones arrived in California in 1849. A native of Kentucky, he settled in Marysville. Somewhere along the way, the name of Nimrod was mistakenly attached to him by many historians. However, local newspaper accounts never used the name of Nimrod when referring to Riley.

During his lifetime,

Jones served as trustee of Mt. Olivet Baptist Church. He was employed as a scavenger for the city of Marysville from 1869-1872, according to the city council minutes. When Jones died at the age of 70, the January 1889 newspaper described him as "one of the oldest colored men" in the city. The funeral took place at Mt. Olivet Baptist Church. Sadly, a Globe Mutual Company policy of $1,000 on his life did not materialize. The company was in liquidation at the time of his death and only $52.25 was eventually given to Louisa, his wife.

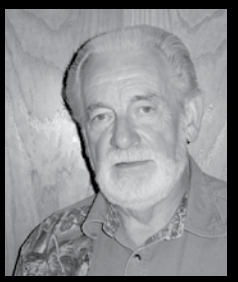

Hopefully, this solves the mystery of the two pioneers by the name of Jones. Both were hard workers who served well in their respective communities. Each have earned a special place in the African-American history of Yuba and Nevada Counties.

Next month will include the introduction of journalist Jennie Carter of Nevada County who, along with her musician husband Dennis, had connections to Yuba County.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for more than 75 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

From what we have learned it appears the bass are on the move. Smallmouth, largemouth and spotted bass are being caught in local ponds, reservoirs, rivers and bypasses. Some of the bass are huge and are coming from Clear Lake, Lake Oroville and the Thermalito Afterbay. We have reports of bass up to 10 pounds being taken at this time.

Trout are finally on the bite at Collins Lake above Browns Valley. Fish have been taken from shore and near the dam, which was the hot spot last week. Trout up to five pounds have been caught. The Department of Fish and Wildlife planted the lake last week along with what the pens are producing. The reservoir is currently full.

Striped bass are being caught in the Sacramento and Feather Rivers but most are small at this time. Colusa Landing (Steelhead Lodge), Wards Landing and the ramp at Colusa State Park are all open. The Sacramento River is still running high and murky.

The Nor-Cal Guides and Sportsmen's Association is having a striped bass derby on April 20, 2019 at the Colusa Public Ramp located at 50 Tenth Street in Colusa. Both adult and youth tickets are available. Awards will be for male strippers only with cash awards starting at $3000.00 for first place in the adult category and starting at $300.00 for first place in the youth group. We checked out Lake Berryessa last Friday and found very few boats on the lake which is brim full. Some anglers had luck last week with drop shot rigs and rubber worms. The fish averaged a couple of pounds.

Closing thought: If you get into a tall chimney or down a deep well and look up you can see stars, even during daylight hours.

Support Your Local Youth 4-H Leaders

Several local 4-H members are looking forward to visiting the National 4-H Center near Washington DC and attending the Leadership Washington Focus (LWF) and the Citizenship Washington Focus (CWF). This trip is an educational and life changing trip coming up for them in July 2019. The group will be attending conferences to improve leadership skills, build motivational skills to lead others in meaningful action, to work together to create and accomplish goals, to practice effective inter-personal communication skills through group discussion and public speaking, to build self-confidence and perseverance, they will be practicing respect, and forming friendships. This trip will be building a foundation for these kids, ages 12 to 15, setting them up for a successful and confident future.

In previous years there has only been about three to five kids per year able to attend the trip, but this years' number of young attendees has drastically increased. This year, we are proud to be sending thirteen young leaders from our area, including members of Wheatland 4-H and Franklin 4-H clubs. We can't wait to build a successful leadership team with this strong group of kids. As part of their journey to attend LWF and CWF, these kids have been working relentlessly to raise money to pay for 100% of their own travel expenses, doing a plethora of fundraisers, collecting recycling, and seeking donations. Through the years, every teen that has attended the conferences has been able to fund their trip entirely through fundraising, sponsorships, and local support. We are hoping to accomplish this goal, even with our significantly increased numbers this year. We are asking for support in our journey. These kids deserve an opportunity to learn, to dream, to grow, and to lead. A donation from you will help give a child the chance to unlock and discover their potential; it will make an impact on kids that will be leading our future generations.

To make a donation, please contact the Yuba Sutter 4-H office or Johanna Lassaga (530)701-2770, or you can send donations to Wheatland 4-H Leadership at P.O. Box 365, Wheatland, CA 95692

Yuba Sutter Youth Choir – “Meet the Beatles!”

Scholarships Available

Marysville, Ca.

Yuba Sutter Arts is pleased to announce that registration is now open for the second session of the Spring 2019 season of the Yuba Sutter Youth Choir. The new session gets underway Monday, April 22 at 6pm. The theme will be “Meet the Beatles!”

The Yuba Sutter Youth Choir is part of Yuba Sutter Arts’ Arts in Education program. Classes will be held at the Burrows Theater at 630 E Street in Marysville. Instruction is offered for students from 7 - 14-years of age. Weekly classes will be held on Monday and Wednesdays starting on April 22 through June 3. A final performance will be held on June 5 at 7pm. The reduced cost for the Spring session is $30 per student which includes the students’ music portfolio and a Youth Choir T-shirt. For returning 2019 students who already have a T-shirt, the cost is only $25. Full scholarships are available for qualifying students.

Gay Galvin

The choir will learn songs from The Beatles catalog including “Michelle,” “Yellow Submarine,” “Here Comes the Sun,” “All You Need is Love,” “I Wanna Hold Your Hand,” and “Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da,” among others.

Once again, the Youth Choir will be directed by Gay Galvin, Yuba Sutter Arts’ “Musician in Residence.” Gay has been singing and playing piano since she was six years old. Trained in classical and jazz styles, she has worked in big bands, musicals, jazz trios and various classical ensembles. She is an accomplished vocalist and has taught choir at all age levels.

“I’m so privileged to be leading the youth choir again this year,” said Gay. “And what better way to engage young singers than with the universally loved songs created by The Beatles,” she added.

Gay is originally from Ohio and has a master’s degree in music. She teaches piano in her studio in Marysville. She plays most musical genres and has even played in rock bands. In Ohio, she led her own jazz trio, something she hopes to reestablish in this area.

“We are pleased to be able to continue our Youth Choir program and especially now that we can continue to offer it to students at a significantly reduced rate thanks to additional grant funding we’ve received,” said David Read, Yuba Sutter Arts Executive Director.

Interested parents or guardians should visit yubasutterarts.org to register or contact YSA at 530-742-ARTS or email abbie@yubasutterarts.org.

Father Dan Madigan Comes to Smartsville

by Kit Burton

“Fr. Daniel O’Sullivan, founding pastor of Smartsville’s Church of the Immaculate Conception”

The little town of Smartsville, virtually unknown to most residents of Northern California, was once home to gold rush pioneers whose descendants are now among the prominent and successful of our state. At Pioneer Day we honor those pioneers, tell their stories, and welcome visiting family members. This year on Saturday, April 27, retired Catholic Priest Father Daniel Madigan, with a delegation from Sacramento, will give a celebratory Mass to honor those born in Ireland that ministered to the gold miners and their families in the Sierra foothills.

Fr. Madigan, like most of the gold rush era Priests, was born and raised in Ireland. Ordained in 1964 for the Diocese of Sacramento, he was assigned to the poorest of Sacramento’s neighborhoods. From this challenging beginning he started the Sacramento Food Bank, an organization that is still going strong and inspiring hundreds of volunteers.

After serving as pastor at Sacramento’s Church of the Immaculate Conception he became pastor of St. Joseph’s Church in Clarksburg where he established another food ministry. He received a master’s degree in social work from Cal State Sacramento and a doctorate from the Union Institute of Cincinnati, retiring in 2014 at age 76 after a career of 50 years.

On a trip to Ireland to visit family he discovered that his great, great grandmother had two sons, Daniel and Eugene O’Sullivan, who became Catholic priests and ministered in the Marysville Vicariate. This genealogical revelation led Fr. Madigan to research all of the Irish-born priests in the Northern California Sierras and to publish several books detailing that history.

Soon after gold was discovered at Sutter’s mill in 1848 miners were panning in the Yuba River about 20 miles upstream from Marysville. A town quickly formed at Rose’s Bar followed by others at Timbuctoo, Smartsville, and Sucker Flat. Religious services of many denominations were held at suitable locations by travelling missionaries – one Catholic service, in 1860, is documented at St. Rose’s church in Timbuctoo. By 1862 St. Rose’s had re-located to Smartsville at the site of the church presently under restoration.

A disastrous fire in 1870 burned St. Rose’s church to the ground. Responding quickly, the Irish Catholic congregation raised $6,000, rebuilt the building, and renamed it Church of the Immaculate Conception. Fr. Daniel O’Sullivan (Fr. Madigan’s distant relative) was sent to become its first full time pastor and remained there until 1878.

With the suppression of hydraulic mining the population of Smartsville diminished and services at the Church of the Immaculate Conception were discontinued sometime in the 1960s.

Fr. Dan Madigan was doubtless aware that in 1998 the Sacramento Diocese helped a group of Smartsville citizens form a non-profit corporation called the Smartsville Church Restoration Fund, Inc. (SCRFI) and donated the building and grounds to the new group. Fr. Dan has followed SCRFI’s restoration work and, at Pioneer Day on April 27, at 9 am, a group from Sacramento will deliver a gold-rush style Mass on the main stage.

Fr. Dan and members of his delegation will stay in Smartsville during the day to discuss with visitors the Catholic Church’s role in the history of Smartsville and other gold rush towns. If you have ever wondered about the beginnings of the Catholic Church during the gold rush, here is your chance to talk to the expert.

Pioneer Day, now in its 12th year, is a free, family-friendly festival featuring mining tours, music on stage, arts and crafts vendors, great food, activities for kids, and an opportunity to see the church bell-tower under restoration. The date, again, is Saturday April 27 from 9am to 4pm.

For more information visit our Pioneer Day website: <http://pioneer-day.info>, or call Kit Burton at (530) 701-2639 or Kathy Smith at (916) 838-2757.

Wildland Fire as Phenomenon April 4 & 5, 2019

The University of California Cooperative Extension, US Forest Service and the Center for Forestry at UC Berkeley will be hosting a two-day workshop on integration of wildland fire science into education of youth from Kindergarten through 12th grade. It is aimed at both formal and non-formal educators interested in incorporating wildland fire science into their educational engagement with youth.

The workshop will be held Thursday and Friday April 4th and 5th from 9 am to 4 pm at Blodgett Forest Research Station, 4501 Blodgett Forest Rd. in Georgetown in El Dorado County.

In the workshop, participants will:

- Engage in activities from the Sierra Nevada FIRE FireWorks curriculum and Project Learning Tree
  - Learn how to develop phenomena-based lessons supporting the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS)
  - Integrate best practices into place-based learning
- For more information please contact Sandy Derby at stderby@ucanr.edu.

Upcoming Yuba College Event

Yuba College is excited to host the Sierra Nevada Winds Orchestra, composed of 45 brass, woodwind and percussion musicians, joined together in 1990 for the pleasure of performing as an ensemble. Many of the members have played with the Sacramento, Camellia and other symphonies, as well as with notable military bands. The Winds are well-known for their varied musical repertoire, and they particularly delight in performing works by contemporary composers.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF DOROTHY LEA OWENS Case No. CVPB19-000019

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate or both of (specify all names by which the decedent was known): DOROTHY LEA OWENS

A Petition for Probate has been filed by (Name of Petitioner): ROBERT WILLIAM MACK, JR. in the Superior Court of California, County of (specify): YUBA

The Petition for Probate requests that (name): ROBERT WILLIAM MACK, JR. be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the independent Administration of Sates Act.(This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: May 6, 2019 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 4 located at Superior Court of California, County of Yuba, 215 5th Street Ste. 200 Marysville, CA 95901.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58 (b) of the California Probate code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California Law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF YUBA

In the Matter of the Adoption Petition of Heather Manley, Adopting Parent.

Case No. CVSA 18-00067

Endorsed Filed Yuba County

Superior Court. Bonnie Sloan, Superior Court Clerk
by N. Edwards Court Clerk Dated Dec. 17, 2018

PETITION TO TERMINATE PARENTAL RIGHTS

Petitioner alleges as follows:

1. Petitioner, Heather Ann Manley is concurrently filing for a Step Parent Adoption in the Yuba County Superior Court in the above-entitled matter.
2. Brittany Parker, is the biological mother/father of Brayden Manley, born 15th June, 2014. Petitioner's wife/husband, Michael Manley Jr. is the biological mother/father of the child. Legal custody and visitation have never been established.
3. The biological father/mother, Brittany Parker has not seen the child for the past 1 years, nor has paid any support for the past one years for said child.
4. The biological mother/father is informed and thereon believes that the biological Father/mother whereabouts are unknown/living in Yuba County.
5. The mother/father and step-father/step-mother have been providing all the emotional and physical support and have been solely responsible for the minor child Brayden Manley.
6. The petitioner herein believes that it is in the best interest of the child that the parental rights of the biological father/mother, Brittany Parker, be terminated as he/she has never accepted responsibility with regard to the child. nor indicated that he/she is willing or able to provide for the child, and pursuant Family Code section 7822, has abandoned the minor child.
7. A hearing will be held on a date as determined pursuant to Family Code Section 7667, which will be separately noticed.
8. WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that the court enter an order determining that the parental rights of Brittany Parker, with reference to the minor child, Brayden Jay Manley, be terminated.
Dated this 25th day of October, 2018.

Heather Manley, Petitioner

The Acting Company Presents The Merry Wives of Windsor

Some of Shakespeare's most beloved comic characters come together in his bawdy, riotous romp, The Merry Wives of Windsor.

The year is 1931. It is more than a decade since an end was declared to the "War to End All Wars." Prohibition is still in effect, but not nearly as well enforced as in its inception. As much of the country reels from the repercussions of the Great Stock Market Crash, people in many American towns, such as the quiet Georgian community of Windsor Park, cling to their traditions.

While baseball is the pastime for most of America, the game of golf is favored by the Southern Middle Class, and Windsor Park is no exception. Everyone in Windsor is abuzz for the coming of the annual "Order of the Garter" tournament and celebration. The tournament has attracted many new and interesting characters to Windsor, including an especially flamboyant gentleman by the name of Sir John Falstaff...

Such is the setting for the Acting Company's

Spring 2019 Production of William Shakespeare's The Merry Wives of Windsor. Our tale unfolds in this sleepy hamlet in Georgia. It is here that beloved Shakespearean bon vivant Sir John Falstaff enters the scene. Having fallen into a state of near-poverty and looking to climb back up the social ladder, Falstaff hatches a laughably convoluted plan to woo two wealthy local wives, Mistress Page and Mistress Ford, simultaneously. Upon discovering his ruse, the two "merry wives" concoct a plan of their own to punish Falstaff for his trickery and hubris. The ensuing whirlwind of mistaken identity, romantic deceit, and emotional and physical duels churns out high comedy with a distinct Shakespearean flair.

Directors Lauren and Matt Coats have chosen to transplant Shakespeare's story from the 16th century to 1930's Georgia, USA, creating a fresh context for the well-known comic business. While Shakespeare buffs will feel at home among the period details, uninitiated audience members will also relate to Falstaff's troubles and the hilarious antics that ensue. Tee up for an evening of laughter with The Merry Wives of Windsor!

Main Stage performances are Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. and Sundays at 2:00 p.m. Discounts: $18 for Seniors, Students, and Military Families on Opening Weekend. Scheduled parties of six or more are $18 per person for the entirety of the run.

The Acting Company is a small venue, only 74 seats. Our shows frequently sell out, so it's best to purchase tickets in advance, either online or through our Box Office.

Our Box Office is open Monday - Friday; Noon - 2:00 p.m. and 30 minutes before show time during performances. Our Theater and Box Office can be found at 815 B Street, Yuba City, CA 95991. We can also be reached at (530) 751-1100 or info@actingcompany.org. Our home on the web is www.ActingCompany.org and facebook.com/TheActingCompany. See you there!

Caveat Emptor

My son and I visited a large banking and brokerage firm last week and I posted on social media what great institutions these money conglomerates are and how unthinkable it would be to have these taken over by the central government. Needless to say social media lit up with comments about how allegedly criminal the banks were during the housing crisis implosion.

I must say I have a real problem placing the all the subsequent foreclosures at the feet of these institutions.

Know what you're signing is something we've undoubtedly all been told. Caveat emptor in Latin. Buyer beware in plain English.

Apparently those words and the lesson they illustrate was ignored by thousands of home buyers. Yet keep in mind thousands more didn't take the bait but had to pay for those that did.

Calling a spade by its rightful moniker, if you signed something based on what somebody told you in lieu of reading and understanding what you signed, I and likely many others have a bridge we can sell you.

The blame lies not on the lender in my opinion but on the name which appears on the signature line. If you didn't understand what you were signing, that's what lawyers are for. And if you're signing your good name to a loan worth hundreds of thousands, all the more reason to call one.

Not pulling any punches here, but where was your friendly and self-professed real estate expert, your realtor? Urging you to buy the house no doubt, which never falls in value (LOL). And did your realtor ask if you understand the mortgage terms?

How about your friendly loan agent who may have been a friend of the realtor? Did he or she flat out lie to you about the terms? If so perhaps another lawyer might have been in order.

Basically if anyone thrust a packet of complicated papers in front of you, was there no voice inside your head telling you there might be some stuff in there you might not completely understand?

There's that gnawing feeling again that perhaps you should spend a few hundred on a lawyer. After all you're agreeing to pay back thousands over decades, so a few hundred bucks to save your butt might have been prudent.

There were many who learned what it means to sign your name and subsequently didn't. So who's at fault again?

Oh wait a minute. The banks of course.

Hold on a minute. Had the banks had to shoulder the risk perhaps they would have been more prudent.

But the Feds, wanting to make sure everyone realized the "American Dream" of home ownership, stepped up to guarantee the loans, and in many cases took the loans off the banks hands shortly after the ink dried.

So what risk did the banks really have (none) and who removed that risk?

Your good old Uncle Sam.

However I didn't see any picket signs with his name on it.

We have a regulatory body overseeing the banks called the Federal Reserve. Guess they were asleep while all this malfeasance was taking place. After all, with a nation full of people willing to sign on the bottom line not understanding what was on the many lines above it, what the heck.

The Fed knows what they're doing right?

And if any illegalities were taking place, they surely would have put a stop to it.

Guess they took too much NyQuil.

So lots of egg ended up on lots of buyers faces when the loans readjusted, like the contract said they would. But since I heard somewhere it's not my fault because the banks took advantage of me and forced me at gunpoint to sign my name, I feel really angry at them because they had no risk (thanks to the Feds), no oversight (thanks to the Feds), and I had no warnings (thanks to the realtor and their friend the loan agent). Besides everyone was doing it and I heard you could make a fortune. And had I made a fortune I would have thought the banks were great but since I lost money now I hate them.

So now I think these institutions should all be broken up and run by the same people that buy hammers for the military at $1,500.00 a pop. Just think how much homes will cost if hammers cost $1,500.00? That will be so much better.

Because heaven forbid if it was my fault.

By the way, I'm interested in a bridge. Know any for sale?

I hear you can make a fortune on them.

The Education Plantation

the Judeo-Christian ethic, the Constitution, and traditional sexual values.

A new California sex-education framework will be voted on by the Board of Education May 8-9. The draft recommends the book “Who Are You?” for pre-k–3rd graders as a “guide to develop their gender identity.”

The book explains to children that gender is a spectrum – unlimited and ever-expanding, rather than two biological sexes. Gender is defined as “boy, girl, both, neither, trans, gender-queer, non-binary, gender fluid, transgender, gender neutral, agender, neutrois, bigender, third gender, two spirit...” The draft describes sexual orientations as fluid. LGBTQ+ is noted as an ever-changing spectrum with expanding concepts to include “queer, questioning, intersex, asexual, allies and alternative identities (LGBTQQIAA).”

“Informed Parents of California,” a group of more than 12,900 concerned parents, assembled a 24-page summary of the guidelines for k-6th graders that includes some of the recommended supplemental materials. Lessons for 6-year-olds offer details about sex like: “The man’s penis goes inside the woman’s vagina,” and “sperm can swim out through the small opening in the man’s penis – and into the woman’s vagina.”

A book for third graders shows a drawing of a penis ejaculating sperm while inserted into a vagina. Another book introduces 10-year-olds to anal sex, and the slang for male and female genitals.

Earlier this month, Lily Eskelsen García, National Education Association (NEA) president, read sections of “I am Jazz,” a book about a sexually confused child, to a kindergarten class in Arlington, VA. Parents had a fit.

Of course, the NEA is fond of confused Kevin Jennings and bestows honors his way. Kevin is founder of the Gay Lesbian Straight Education Network (GLSEN). This group conducted the “Fistgate” conference at Tufts University in Massachusetts in March 2000. There, state employees gave graphic instructions about “fisting,” and other forms of sexual activity to children as young as 12.

Parents are in an uproar throughout the state as NEA and GLSEN have free-rein pushing sexual deviancy dogma to children that are mandated by law to sit-still and whose parents’ wages will be garnished should they fail to pay their taxes for this child abuse. It’s time for vouchers and freedom for families.

Are you still up for more? The Governor wants to add another tax on drinking water. And in 2020 there will be a proposition to repeal Prop 13 tax limits on business real estate. If passed that will be the beginning of the end for residential real estate tax protection as well. Politicians are using a divide and conquer strategy, wooing homeowners to throw business property under the real estate tax bus. Losing property tax protection will make homes unaffordable for all but the uber-rich and drive more business out of state.

With 51 California cities and counties raising sales taxes on April 1 we have come a long way since 1913 when a vast majority of the population paid a personal income tax rate of 1 percent while the highest marginal tax rate was 7 percent. And there were very few of the taxes noted above. What changed? Socialism bred massive government growth.

Accountability ... Accountability ... Accountability

Actor Jon Voight, a former Hollywood Liberal, was on Fox’s Mark Levin’s Sunday Night talk show recently and he described when he had liberal political views early on in his Hollywood movie career. It was only after frequent political gabfests over a number of years that he started questioning the liberal platforms of the Democratic Party. He said one of the break points was when the liberals decided to change their brand label from “Liberal” to “Progressive”...because it gave them more of a “Forward Movement” branding.

Well, Jon, like you and President Ronald Reagan, who previously was a carded Democrat, you both obviously came to the same conclusion of saying, “I didn’t leave the Democrat Party, they left me.”...and especially over the last decade or so, they have continued into a harder left turn and have morphed into “Regressives.”

Remember, the Truman and Kennedy Democrats are the Conservative Republicans of today.

The Regressives... just look at the mindset of three of the “Newbies” in the House of Representatives that I call The Three Mouseketeers that include Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Ilhan Omar and Rashida Tlaib. What a Trio...but, here again, keep it up girls and you will see more migration to the conservative side of the aisle from carded Democrats and “on-the-fence” Independents.

The Mueller Report

The dark clouds of “Russian Collusion” that have been hanging over President Trump’s head over the past two years-plus are finally over after Special Counsel Robert Mueller handed over his report to the new U.S Attorney General Bill Barr which will be released to the Congress and the public in the next few weeks. Finally... Light is once again shining over the White House... No Collusion with the Russians and No Obstruction of Justice. Free at Last... Good God Almighty...Free at Last!!

Whoa, Nellie, Hold Up There, Whoa...Not So Fast...say some Regressive members of the Senate and the People’s House. Immediately after AG Barr got the Mueller Report that Senator Adam “Shifty” Schiff’s House Intelligence Committee started his investigation into President Trump as well as Congressman Jerry Nadler’s House Judicial Committee’s separate investigation after issuing 82 subpoenas from his committee. And don’t forget “Slapsie Maxey” Maxine Waters is still yelling “Impeach 45...Impeach 45”.

The Newbie Mouseke-

teer Rashida Tlaib had to get onto the frenzied attack mode by trying to round up some Representative cattle to get a bill through on Impeachment...Impeachment!!

Keep it up, Regressives, Keep it up... Meanwhile, Back to the Future!

Payback is a Bitch... Accountability Now!

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Lindsey Graham, R-S.C., tore into the media’s “horrendous” coverage of the federal Russia investigation last Wednesday, March 27th.

Graham made the comment as he discussed how his committee will be looking into how the Mueller investigation got started after Attorney General William Barr determined the Mueller report exonerated President Trump of all Russia collusion allegations.

During an interview with CNN, the lawmaker said the mainstream media “missed a whole big story about how it got off the rails” in regards to the controversial documents that underpinned the investigation.

“I’d say that’s stupid. If the shoe were on the other foot, if the Republican Party had hired Steele to investigate Clinton, created a document that was a bunch of garbage against Clinton, that got a warrant against a Clinton adviser, everyone would be up in arms,” Graham said.

Graham was referring to British ex-spy Christopher Steele’s dossier containing unverified claims about Trump’s ties to Russia, which was used by the FBI to obtain warrants to spy on one-time Trump campaign aide, Carter Page. Republicans alleged the FBI may have misled the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court (FISC) and Graham has re-ignited an investigation into potential abuse.

Graham outlined his priorities after Barr summarized the conclusions of Mueller’s 22-month investigation of Russian interference in the 2016 election. Barr said Mueller found no Trump campaign conspiracy with Russia. Mueller made no decision on whether Trump obstructed justice, but Barr and Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein found insufficient evidence to pursue an obstruction charge.

Senator Graham wants A New Special Counsel

Graham said Monday March 25th, that he will probe alleged abuses of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) at the start of the Russia investigation, while calling on Attorney General Bill Barr to appoint a new special counsel to investigate the “other side of the story.”

Graham made the comments during a press conference on Capitol Hill following the release of the findings in the Robert Mueller investigation, which did not uncover evidence of a Trump-Russia conspiracy in 2016. Graham and other Trump allies cited the findings to renew scrutiny of the probe’s origins at the FBI. The chairman said he’ll look into any alleged misconduct related to the Russia investigation on the part of the Justice Department, the FBI and the Democrats, but added that due to “the emotional nature of this” he believes a new appointment is necessary.

“I’d like to find somebody, like a Mr. Mueller, that can look into what happened with the FISA warrants and the counterintelligence investigation.

“I hope Mr. Barr will appoint somebody outside the current system to look into these allegations, somebody we all trust, and let them do what Mueller did,” he continued, adding that he has been calling for the appointment of a second special counsel since 2017 to investigate “whether or not a counterintelligence investigation was opened as a back door to spy on the Trump campaign.

Justice Department Inspector General Michael Horowitz is currently investigating any alleged misconduct related to FISA warrants delivered from the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court (FISC).

Graham said he wants answers on how much money the Democrats paid research firm Fusion GPS to commission the dossier, or if the contents of the dossier have been verified.

Graham’s announcement comes after the attorney general released a summary of Mueller’s findings, revealing that the special counsel found no evidence of collusion between members of, or anyone associated with, the Trump campaign and Russia during the 2016 presidential election.

Graham vowed to call Barr to testify on the Mueller report, but suggested he could also call on Justice Department official Bruce Ohr and former FBI Director James Comey to appear before his committee.

This comes after Graham responded to a tweet from Comey showing him in the woods with the text, “So many questions.” Graham shot back: “Could not agree more. See you soon.” (A snappy reminder to Comey that he will be called to testify before his committee).

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

• According to liberals, 26-year-olds are children and should be allowed to remain on their parents' health insurance. The same crowd maintains that 16-year-olds are adults who should be allowed to vote. Well, which is it?

• And school kids are going on strike for climate change. Of course, kids, you will still want air conditioning in your house; you want TV in all the rooms in the house; your classes are all computerized; you are addicted to electronic devices and games; and you get to and from school in a pack of exhaust emitting cars instead of walking.

• Recall that Hitler asked that the Sudetenland Germans should be incorporated into the German Reich carved out of the borders of the Czech Republic? Why was this so important to the Fuehrer? Because all the defense positions and solid military industry were in this little chunk of land. The same seems true of the Golan Heights which Trump recently said should be part of Israel's borders. It is a strategic defense barrier against Israel's enemies. This analogy may not be totally on target, but it has some similarities.

• P.J. O'Rourke says it plainly: "Freedom is not empowerment. Empowerment is what the Serbs have in Bosnia. Anybody can grab a gun and be empowered. It's not entitlement. An entitlement is what people on welfare get, and how free are they? It's not an endlessly expanding list of rights -- the "right" to education, the "right" to food and housing. That's not freedom, that's dependency. Those aren't rights; those are the rations of slavery -- hay and a barn for human cattle. There is only one basic human right, the right to do as you damn well please. And with it comes the only basic human duty; the duty to take the consequences."

• Democrats want a voting system in which politicians who promise the most free stuff to the largest number of people win. And the Democrats want to make certain that as many people as possible are receiving free stuff so they will vote to continue the givers in office. And the Democrats want everyone in the world, not just citizens to vote, so they can stay in power. Because of this belief, we have to now fight to retain the Electoral College, the brilliant technique introduced by the Founding Fathers to assure that all the states have a say in who wins the Presidency. Without it, the Hollywood crowd and New England would forever determine the Chief Executive.

• Television is filled with young children educating their parents or other adults about all kinds of things imaginable. Clean water, feeding the hungry, giving to charity etc. The subtle message is, kids are smarter and more progressive than adults.

• Fox took Judge Jeanine off the air because of a complaint by a Muslim. Gross cowards.

• The whole world is breaking down the doors to get into America. Is it because America is a hell hole like the country these folks abandoned? No. It is because America is the best country the world has to offer. Maybe some Democrats ought to be able to figure out that fact.

• And what of the snowflakes who said they would leave the country if Trump were elected? They need to honor their word. To quote Lady Macbeth, "Out, damn'd spot".

• Are you aware that over 90% of all mass shootings have occurred in Gun-free Zones?

• Most of the Democrats are now bringing up the old canard of climate change. This time the world is going to end in 12 years. Perhaps they should check their history to remind their pea-brains that such has been the rallying cry for decades now. Hasn't happened yet.

• The United Nations is on another asinine campaign. They want to "tax" red meat. Such a plan shows how utterly ignorant world politicians really are. They go bonkers over cow farts. Then they don't want the cows killed for food to feed the world. So, dumbskies, which is it; meat or farts?

• Kamala Harris has joined the "let's invite them to dinner" snowflakes on the death penalty issue. She and her fellow-travelers know that Newsom's moratorium is damn-well the first step to parole the "worst of the worst." At the same time they want to disarm the public so more innocent people can be freely targeted. Looks like they also believe in the Ocasio-Cortez philosophy of reducing the population.

• Another thought on our junior senator, Kamala Harris. She started her rise to power as the "friend" of Willie Brown. Is that an appropriate role model for our daughters these days?

• Can you believe it? Environmentalists don't want bulldozers fighting wildfires. Ok. How about all you brilliant snowflakes picking up a Pulaski Fire Axe and getting your sorry tails out on the fire lines.

• The Democrats praise Beto jumping up on table tops to shout his brand of tripe. Isn't that a prime example of toxic masculinity?

• Nowadays it seemed that everything is being called "hate speech". Anyone using the phrase "hate speech" should be tossed in jail for 30 days to consider their anti-first amendment behavior. And they should have their mouth washed out with soap.

• The statements of politicians after the Christchurch, New Zealand massacre were nothing more than prepared sermons reciting the same old trite phrases. There was plenty of warning of that potential event which was ignored.

• Media Matters and the Southern Poverty hate group need their 501c charity status revoked as neither one is engaged in charitable work. Both are political attack dogs for the Democratic Party. Well, Garamendi?

• DeBlassio in New York says no meat on Mondays for NY's school children. Another brain dead snowflake to follow up with no 16 ounce soft drinks or plastic straws. How about following up with "no toothpicks"? You've got to save the trees.

• So, where is Al Gore? Has anyone sent out the St. Bernards with a cask of vinegar?

• Universal Basic Income is nothing more than welfare under a different name. And we are going to pay for it with our tax money? Crazy people have been elected to office.

• A final word on Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. The Bible says that when becoming an adult, you should put aside your childish ways.

Sutter County Provides $67,000 to Casa de Esperanza

The Sutter County Board of Supervisors has approved a $67,883 contract with Casa de Esperanza to provide child abuse prevention counseling services to Sutter County children and families.

The non-profit organization, which operates a shelter program for victims of domestic violence, has provided the counseling service for Sutter County children and families for more than two decades, during which time Sutter County has authorized approximately $1 million for these services.

"This is a program where we do therapeutic based counseling for children who are either at risk of abuse, or have been abused or neglected, and non-offending parents," Casa de Esperanza Executive Director Marsha Krouse Taylor said during Tuesday's Board of Supervisors meeting. "There is absolutely no cost at all to the families who are getting this service."

Families can access the service after hours, such as on a weekend or an evening.

The counseling services are provided in English, Spanish, Punjabi, or Hmong, she said.

Counselors also work with pre-verbal children through play therapy.

The primary source of referrals is Child Protective Services, but Casa is seeing an increase in referrals from schools. Private individuals who have heard of the program, or who have had a family member go through the program at some point, also make referrals.

"We've had great success," Krouse Taylor said. "One of our greatest success stories is we currently have a volunteer intern assisting with the program to get her license for marriage and family therapy, who herself as a child went through the program 18 years ago."

"We know it works. We know we are unique. And we are very, very fortunate to have had the partnership with Sutter County for as long as we have."

Funding for the child abuse program originates from the State of California Department of Social Services Office of Child Abuse Prevention and the contract is managed by Sutter County Health and Human Services.

Since 1977, Sutter County has provided a home for Casa de Esperanza to serve as a shelter for domestic violence victims from Sutter, Yuba, and Colusa counties, at a cost of just $1 a year. In 2016, fire caused extensive damage to the home. Sutter County has been working with hazardous waste cleanup crews, its insurance company, an architect, and Casa representatives to restore the building to allow the shelter operation to continue. In the interim, Adventist Health Rideout has been housing the shelter program.

Casa is seeking to expand its operations due to the need for additional shelter space and is seeking contributions to a capital fund to locate property and a building of sufficient size for expansion.

A Sea Level Rise Conundrum – Greenland's Cycles

by Stephen Frank

Al Gore has claimed, on his way to making hundreds of millions of dollars off the scam, that the sea is rising, polar bears no longer exist and climate change is going to kill us—shortly. How soon? Possibly after he makes his first billion off this canard.

"During the last 100 years, Greenland oscillated between gaining and losing ice. Its greatest loss raised sea level by 0.07 inches in 2012, about half the total sea level rise of 0.12 inches a year. That accelerated loss was trumpeted as just what climate models predict. However, Greenland's melt rates then declined and by 2017 it was gaining enough ice to slightly reduce sea level rise.

Furthermore, the cause of rapidly melting ice since the 1990s was fewer clouds. Fewer summer clouds allow more solar heating and cycles of atmospheric circulation naturally alter cloud cover. In addition, researchers reported Greenland's ice-free regions experienced various warming and cooling trends over the past 15 years, but concluded if there was any general trend, "it is mostly a cooling". They also admitted they "cannot differentiate between anthropogenic forcing [in other words: warming from human added CO2] and natural fluctuations."

Greenland was once a great agriculture area.

Then climate change, naturally, happened and it became a giant ice cube. Al Gore and his buddies, including the Republicans supporting cap and trade, think by believing something is true is the same as it being true. Hopefully they will grow up

Dumbo

Dumbo, the cartoon about a flying baby elephant is transformed into a live action movie with computer generated flying elephants. A baby elephant is coerced into flying for the entertainment of people by two nearly orphaned children with a pretty feather.

Dumbo, earns two out of five, Drawer Monkeys. The production effort on this film is amazing. The sets are detailed to convey a sense of unreality and desperation of character. The story pulls at our heartstrings with the learning of the death of a mother of two children (Standard for Disney films.) and their war wounded father returning to try and fit into the world he left behind. The acting matches the flow and editing of the film. Each scene is disjointed from the next and has little regard for the last.

Dumbo, is better watched on, Netflix, or Red Box or on a long flight across the country that burn fifty two thousand gallons of fuel to make. I did not expect much from this movie and I didn't get much from it. There were some nice scenes and just under a handful of laughs. The over all feel of the film is a miasma of depression and sadness.

Gay Galvin Trio (l-r) Kit Bailey, Gay Galvin, Jason Wilkins

Gay Galvin Jazz Trio in Concert

Marysville, Ca. Yuba Sutter Arts is pleased to welcome back to the Burrows Theater jazz pianist and vocalist, Gay Galvin, along with her Jazz Trio. The group includes Kit Bailey on drums, Jason Wilkins on bass and Gay on keyboard and vocals.

The concert will be held on Saturday, April 13th at The Burrows Theater at Yuba Sutter Arts, 630 E Street in Marysville. Doors open at 6:30pm and the concert starts at 7:00. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at yubasutterarts.com or at Yuba Sutter Arts' office at 624 E Street in Marysville Wednesday through Friday from 11-4.

Gay Galvin has been playing piano since she was six years old. Trained in classical and jazz styles, she has worked in big bands, musicals, jazz trios and various classical ensembles. Married to singer/songwriter, Tom Galvin, the couple has performed at the Burrow Theaters in concert as a duo. Gay has performed in various ensembles throughout the community including concerts at Yuba College and in productions at The Acting Company. Gay and Tom also both played for the Applause performances of "Home for the Holidays" last December to help raise funds for the completion of the Sutter Theater.

Gay is originally from Ohio and has a Masters degree in piano performance in jazz. She teaches classical/Suzuki piano and jazz/improv in her studio in Marysville. She has played across most musical genres and in a variety of ensembles including some rock bands, but her heart belongs to jazz. Yuba Sutter Arts is proud to have Gay as their "Musician in Residence."

Kit Bailey loves rhythm. He began performing in a Sacramento Scottish bagpipe band in 1966 and soon joined orchestras and wind ensembles all over California. He worked with Sarah Vaughan, Benny Goodman and Phyllis Diller. Once he discovered jazz, he devoured Caribbean and Afro-Cuban styles and instruments. Kit has recorded with many Northern California jazz bands and other ensembles since moving to Nevada County in 1988.

Jason Wilkins studied with Dr. Art Davis, Putter Smith and Darek Oles. He has performed with his own Jason Wilkins Group since 1996, the rock and roll band Three Blind Mice and has even toured with the Bently Brothers Circus. He has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Contrabass from UC Irvine.

Come support live music in the community and enjoy these very gifted musicians. Plenty of free parking is available on the streets adjacent to the theatre and at the Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots directly across the street.

Food and Farm News

Farm, water groups urge investment in water projects

If Congress works on a package of infrastructure legislation this year, Western farm and water organizations say the bill should include investments in water projects. More than 100 groups from California and 12 other states wrote Congress this week, urging investments in water storage, conservation, recycling and other projects. The organizations say Western states need "every tool available" to prepare for future dry years.

Olive growers contemplate harvest mechanization

Many olive growers

could face a difficult choice in a year or so: modify their groves for mechanization or face an uncertain future. After one of the state's two olive processors canceled contracts with some farmers, the other offered to accept the fruit--but would only promise long-term contracts if farmers commit to mechanization. Most olives grown for oil are already harvested mechanically, but olives for canning have been hand-harvested.

Genome research aims to benefit walnuts

Walnut trees could better withstand soil-borne diseases, as a result of research announced this week.

Scientists with the University of California, Davis, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture say they sequenced the genome of a walnut hybrid, thereby unlocking the genomes of both parent trees. Researchers say the genome sequences of the two walnut species could allow them to identify traits that help trees resist diseases and pests.

Extract from avocado seeds may have helpful properties

An extract derived from avocado seeds shows promise as a treatment against inflammation, according to scientists at Penn State University. The researchers say laboratory tests indicate the extract may slow inflammation. If that holds true, the extract could be developed as a functional food ingredient or pharmaceutical. Because most avocado seeds are thrown away, creating uses for them could generate a new market for growers and processors.
