Sheriff Anderson Speaker

Yuba County Public Safety Meeting

By John Mistler

Brownsville, Ca.

Approximately 50 people attended the Yuba County Public Safety meeting sponsored by Yuba Feather Community Services at the Ponderosa Community Center in Brownsville. The meeting organized by Buck Weckman was an attempt to allow people to ask questions of public officials about Public Safety and Essential Services or Measure K. Additional questions including past and present funding and staffing levels.

County officials in attendance were Sheriff-Wendell Anderson, District Attorney-Pat McGrath, Chief Probation Officer- Jim Arnold, County Administrator-Robert Bendorf, and Fire Chief Bill Shaw.

The presentation described the lack of funding for law enforcement, fire protection and how that directly affects people.

Most questions centered around how specifically the money would be spent if Measure K passed.

There was also a question about the recent letter received by the county from the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association (HJTA). The letter states, "Measure K's purposes are public safety and essential services protection. Signs promoting Measure K say "Keep Yuba County Safe." The terms "safety" and "essential" leave room for interpretation." "Safety," for example, would exclude library services. "Essential" means absolutely necessary or extremely important. Inevitably, "safety" and "essential" cannot refer to everything in Yuba County's budget. The letter further states that the Measure K is a "Special Tax" requiring 2/3 voter of approval, but is being sold to the voters as a "General Tax" requiring 50% + 1 to pass. Political maneuvering around Proposition 218's two-thirds voter approval requirement for a special tax is frowned upon. Should the Board pass Measure K on less than two-thirds voter approval, it would violate Proposition 218. Consequently, Measure K could be subject to costly litigation. HJTA urges the Board to acknowledge that Measure K requires a two-thirds vote." The Board of Supervisors have decided to continue down the path of a "General Tax". (In response to the question and the Board of Supervisors position, Robert Bendorf, Yuba County Administrator said, "Consistent with the language contained in the resolution and implementing ordinance approved by the Board of Supervisors, Measure K is presented to the voters as a general tax.")

The Good Doctor

by Lou Binninger

In support of the "Good Doctor" Ford during the recent Supreme Court Justice hearings, liberals insisted women never lie about sexual assault. That makes liberals liars or maybe they have just lost their minds. People of all flavors tell lies routinely even when there is no need. And, victims, courts and juries make mistakes.

In 1991, Gregory Counts, then 19, and Van Dyke Perry, 21 were arrested and charged with rape, sodomy, kidnapping and criminal possession of a weapon. There was no physical evidence and the semen on the victim did not match semen of the accused.

However, in 1992 a jury convicted Counts and Perry on all counts except for the weapons charges. Perry served 11 years, Counts 26.

In April 2018, Manhattan District Attorney, Cyrus R. Vance Jr., asked a judge in State Supreme Court to vacate their convictions based on newly discovered DNA evidence and the woman's decision to recant her testimony.

The woman told investigators that the rape "never happened." Her admission came after DNA testing connected the semen found on her body to another man through an F.B.I. database.

At age 22, Lawrence McKinney was convicted of rape and first degree burglary after a woman identified him as one of two men who attacked her in her apartment.

He entered prison in 1978 sentenced to 115 years. He was freed in 2009 after serving nearly 32 years.

DNA testing of the victim's bedding in August 2008, revealed three genetic profiles, none which belonged to McKinney. His conviction was reversed.

Mark Denny was 17 when he was arrested for a brutal rape and robbery at a Burger King in 1987. He always maintained his innocence. Now 46, his conviction has been vacated in Brooklyn, New York, and he was released from prison after serving nearly 30 years.

Political Scene

by Lou Binninger

While Governor Brown and the legislature have repeatedly deceived citizens to vote for water bonds that create no new storage President Trump is being credited for the passage of a new provision through the U.S. House of Representatives that will provide funding for California to build its first water storage infrastructure in 40 years.

For more than four decades liberals have blocked funds to provide more storage and flood control. Since 1979, California's population has grown by 70%, but the water infrastructure remained basically the same. This state's water must be stored and directed during wet months and years to prevent flooding and care for the dry times.

Republican Rep. Jeff Denham and Democrat Rep. Jim Costa have advocated for additional water storage for years in arid California. Denham's proposal allows irrigation districts to apply for low-interest federal loans from the Environmental Protection Agency to build new reservoirs, develop below ground storage, recycling and desalination projects.

Sites Reservoir would be a large off-stream facility (water to be pumped into it). Recently, the project received some funding from the Gov. Brown Water Committee that initially rejected the Site's proposal. Having some federal resources may have attracted the interest of state bureaucrats.

Howard Jarvis Taxpayer's Association (HJTA) President Jon Coupal says that the Proposition 6 title is, "Fake News," because it never mentions the words "tax" or "fee."

Attorney General Xavier Becerra's office gave the new gas tax repeal the official ballot title: "Proposition 006 - Eliminates Certain Road Repair And Transportation Funding." The liberal San Francisco Chronicle called it "a hostile official ballot title."

Those against the Prop 6 tax increase repeal have collected over $30 million or $7 for every $1 for the grass roots effort to roll-back the higher gas taxes and DMV fees. Watch for ads stating police, fire, law enforcement and teachers say to vote No. What they mean is that union bosses calling the shots want to stop the repeal and not your local emergency responder or teacher.

Another lie is that all road improvements would suddenly vanish if the Prop 6 repeal passes. If you want $700 a year or $7,000 back in your pocket over 10 years then vote yes. There is ample money in the state budget to care for the roads. Politicians are taxing citizens twice to fix the roads.

Big John Enos, River Salmon Fishing Extraordinaire

The Rooster Tails Fishing Club monthly breakfast will be held at the Auburn Elks Lodge at 195 Pine Street in Auburn on Friday, October 19th. This free event is open to club members, spouses, and non-member guests. Doors to the Lodge open at 7:00 a.m. to share fresh brewed coffee. A fantastic $15 wide-selection buffet breakfast is served at 8:00 am followed at 9:00 am with special guest speaker, Big John Enos, owner of Big John's Guide Service. John will explain how to score quality salmon in his secret river holes and other hot spots on Central Valley Rivers. Reservations are not required, but breakfast attendees are encouraged to arrive early for best parking and seminar seating. John has 14 years of river salmon fishing experience, especially on the upper Sacramento River, and finds that sharing his non-traditional fishing secrets has made him in high demand. Some angler's have found many of John's unorthodox, but legal, tackle modifications and fishing techniques a little different and maybe even strange, until they experience jarring explosion of monster salmon they catch. Interested salmon fishermen and women anglers are encouraged to arrive early to meet John and to secure a good seat for his presentation.

John owns a custom twenty-foot guide boat that comfortably accommodates four guests. Although John's specialty is fishing for river salmon, he also does guided trips for land-locked salmon, sturgeon, steelhead, striped bass, shad, and bass. He provides all species-specific tackle, including his custom lures, to make his guided fishing trips memorable.

The 30 year old, 200+ members Rooster Tails Fishing Club of Northern California, Inc. is a non-profit organization that meets the third Friday of each month to educate, entertain, and enhance fishing experience. Unlike many bass and fly fishing clubs that concentrate on very specific types of fishing, the Rooster Tails Fishing Club provides a balanced mix of fishing techniques presented by fishing experts targeting a variety of fish species on multiple types of waters. For more information contact Jim, Club Chairman, 530-887-0479, or visit the club's web site at www.roostertailsfishingclub.org.

The Appearing Series Arrives in Dobbins

Pastors Robert Fisher and Shawn Boonstra

Dobbins Ca. – More has been written in the Bible about the second coming of Jesus Christ than any other prophecy. Is the time near? Pastors Robert Fisher and Shawn Boonstra will lead a timely and interactive discussion at Vivian Johnson Hall, 10034 Marysville Road in Dobbins, starting Thursday, October 11 at 6 p.m. Local Dobbins radio station KIIW-LP 93.3 FM and the Dobbins Seventh-day Adventist Church are sponsoring the workshops; there is no cost to attend. A light dinner will be served at 5 p.m. Registration for the event is at www.appearing.org/Dobbins.

As global unrest and natural disasters across the planet build in intensity and frequency, many are left wondering if the time is near. Join Shawn Boonstra from the Voice of Prophecy as he explores the myths and facts that surround the Appearing—an event mentioned over 2,500 times in the Bible.

All workshop attendees will receive a free copy of The Appearing book from author Shawn Boonstra covering the circumstances and events surrounding The Second Coming. The first of five presentations is "A Planet in Upheaval," Thursday evening, October 11. The next presentations will be held Friday, October 12, "The Abomination of Desolation" at 6 p.m.; Saturday, October 13, "The Appearing" at 11 a.m., "Prophecy Interrupted" at 2 p.m., and "The Battle of Armageddon" at 4 p.m. A free luncheon will be held Saturday at noon at Vivian Johnson Hall, 10034 Marysville Road in Dobbins prior to the last two workshops.

Pastor Shawn Boonstra is speaker/director for the Voice of Prophecy (VOP) ministry. His broadcasts, live seminars and books have been a source of inspiration around the globe, and over the years, his live events have been presented on every continent except Antarctica. Each week, he hosts VOP's flagship broadcast, Disclosure. The program—which features his wife, VOP Associate Speaker Jean Boonstra, and special guests—takes a look at current events and trends, with an emphasis on how the Bible's perspective on today's issues is more relevant than ever. Robert Fisher has a Masters of Divinity degree, and has shared these Bible prophecies around the world. He served as a pastor in Pennsylvania prior to relocating to Northern California with his wife and three children. Vivian Johnson Hall is located at 10034 Marysville Road in Dobbins. FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Everyone is enjoying the cooler weather we have witnessed these past weeks and our weather source tells us to expect warmer days, but the daytime temperatures will probably be in the low eighties for a spell. He advises we will continue to have cooler nights which make it great for sleeping. Personally I cannot sleep well with the A/C running.

As far as the fish go.....they are also moving up from the cool depths of the reservoirs and lakes to shallower waters. Expect big fish to be caught this year in the coming month.

Keep in mind most streams close to fishing the end of this month. Check your regulations to determine what is open the rest of the year.

The long time people who fish local rivers for salmon, including myself, say at this time the salmon run is just about as good as it gets. This means the run has peaked and will slowly take a downward trend through the rest of October. So, if you have waited patiently and missed out on some outstanding fishing, now is the time to get out there and go after the salmon because it will not be long when the fish turn dark.

There is one important fact and that is you need to know where to fish for salmon in the Feather and Sacramento Rivers and what kind of lures to use, including roe. Best bet, if you do not know the river, is to contact someone who does or hire a guide. We suggest you check your local sporting goods store for info or guide service. Speaking of guides and the Sacramento River, remind me to tell you about my Uncle Tom Hammons. He was a guide for many years and I can attest to some of his knowledge, even the art of smelling for fish, especially for the Striped Bass.

We have a suggestion if you plan on fishing for trout in local reservoirs, or even up in the high country. The Department of Fish and Wildlife have been busy planting catchable trout and these fish are a prime menu for the bigger fish in the water so go after them with the larger trout lures which imitate a rainbow trout. You will not catch a bunch of fish but you just might catch the trout of a lifetime.

Closing thought: "A single day seems to linger on.....but the years just fly away."

This memorial tournament, which is normally held in conjunction with the United Way of Nevada County's Grills 'n' Grilles event, which has been postponed until next

He was not judgmental; never a bully and he loved all living things. He loved all living things; dogs, cats, butterflies, birds, bees and even slugs. Derek was passionate about the Yuba River, loved the mountains, the ocean and most of all the desert and he enjoyed many sports, bowling, hiking, camping, biking, snowboarding and playing disc golf. He is missed by many."

Please join United Way and Derek's family for this wonderful memorial tournament. You may register for the Doubles Tournament either by calling (530) 272-4400 or by signing up the day of the event from between 8:30am and 9:30am. Supervisor Fletcher has illegally and successfully voted to deny the people of Yuba County the right to vote on sharing profits from water sales.

Supervisor Fletcher also:

- ✓ Stopped evening Board of Supervisor meetings, which are more accessible to citizens.
- ✓ Recused himself from voting more than any other Supervisor, leaving us with no representation.
- ✓ Takes the side of government over his constituents.
- ✓ Maybe his worst offense was voting to mis-lead the voters of Yuba County on Measure K. He let people believe that they would be guaranteed additional law enforcement and fire protection through passage of Measure K.

The Howard Jarvis Taxpayer's Association has warned that Measure K is a "Special Tax", not a "General Tax" (with no guarantee how the money is spent), as Fletcher has told us. The taxpayers association has said they may sue Yuba County if the measure passes.

We cannot afford another 4 years of Supervisor Fletcher

A Celebration of Souls: Day of the Dead at Yuba Sutter Arts

Marysville, Ca. – On Sunday, October 20, Yuba Sutter Arts will again present a “Dia de Los Muertos” or “Day of the Dead” celebration. The event will be held at Yuba Sutter Arts’ Marysville theater, courtyard and art gallery at 630 E Street from 11 - 4pm. This community cultural celebration is free and suitable for all ages!

The holiday has become a part of our popular culture through the whimsical skeleton figures and other art work along with films like “Coco” and “The Book of Life.” Day of the Dead is celebrated throughout Mexico and is acknowledged around the world in other cultures. The holiday focuses on gatherings of family and friends who pray for and remember friends and family members who have passed, and to help support their spiritual journey.

At the event there will be food, drinks, movies, face-painting and vendors with Day of the Dead and Frida Kahlo inspired art! Come celebrate with and support local artists. Featured artists will include Lila Solorzano Rivera, a painter and the show's curator who will be conducting a live art demonstration, Randy Rivera, an air brush artist who will also be creating art during the event, John Huerta, painter and sculptor and jewelry maker, Toni Rodriguez. Other artists will also be onsite showing their work.

Featured entertainers will be the Mariachi Guadalajara Kings from Sacramento. The trio will perform traditional songs on accordion, bass and vihuela.

Day of the Dead is celebrated at roughly the same time of year as Halloween and since the two share some common roots, Day of the Dead is sometimes referred to as the “Mexican Halloween”, however, the focus of the two holidays is quite different. As celebrated today, Day of the Dead is essentially a family time, a time of reunion for both the living and the dead.

There are many traditions related to Day of the Dead. The flower most commonly associated with the holiday is the marigold which is thought to attract souls of the dead to the offerings. Traditionally, toys are brought for children who have passed (los angelitos, or “the little angels”). Families also offer trinkets or the deceased's favorite candies. Altares or altars are also created in homes, usually with foods such as candied pumpkin, pan de muerto (“bread of dead”), and sugar skulls. The ofrendas or offerings are left out in the homes as a welcoming gesture for the deceased.

Food and Farm News

Farm Bureau releases ballot recommendations

With the general election approaching, the California Farm Bureau Federation has released its recommendations on statewide ballot measures. CFBF directors encourage voters to approve a water-bond measure on the November ballot but to reject an initiative that would impose new restrictions on how farm animals are raised. The organization also took positions on five other measures that will be before voters next month.

Impact of trade disputes echoes through farm economy

Even farmers who sell all their crops domestically feel the impacts when trade disputes affect agricultural exports, according to California Farm Bureau President Jamie Johansson. Speaking to the State Board of Food and Agriculture Tuesday, Johansson said when crops can't be exported as usual, they're sold in the domestic market, affecting prices there. He said Farm Bureau is encouraged by the U.S.-Mexico-Canada trade agreement finalized this week.

California apple crop to be larger

More apples but fewer pears will come from California farms this season. The U.S. Agriculture Department estimates California apple production will increase 16 percent compared to a year ago. Production will be down in the nation's top-producing state, Washington, leaving the overall apple crop stable. The USDA projects California pear production to be down about 18 percent, due in part to what it called "inconsistent weather" in the growing season.

Study shows adoption of lower-fat foods

When compared with patterns of 35 years ago, Americans are choosing lower-fat foods more often, according to a new study. The U.S. Agriculture Department says both the fat content of food consumed at home and away from home has dropped, with the fat content of at-home foods declining more than that of away-from-home foods. The study says fat content can drop due to choices made by shoppers, changes in food products, or both.

The Good Doctor

He says he dreamed of being a cop when he was younger. Now, he hopes to open a barbershop and start a family. No witnesses including the other defendants placed him at the scene. The victim was confused and mistaken.

In March 2006, Crystal Mangum, a black student, stripper, escort and dancer accused three white Duke University Lacrosse athletes (Reade Seligmann, Collin Finnerty, and David Evans) of rape. They were eventually declared innocent of all charges as North Carolina Attorney General Roy Cooper said they were victims of a "tragic rush to judgment." The local Durham District Attorney Mike Nifong lost his right to practice law for his "dishonesty, fraud, deceit and misrepresentation" surrounding the case.

The lives and reputations of those accused were sullied, the athletic director wrongly fired, the Lacrosse program damaged and the university lost millions of dollars in multiple lawsuits as the innocent were slandered.

The Genesis account of Joseph describes the wife of his employer repeatedly soliciting him for sex and after repeated refusals she accused Joseph of rape putting an innocent man in prison for years.

In the Kavanaugh hearings did Senators Kamala "sleep my way to the top" Harris, Corey "the groper" Booker, Dianne "I Spy" Feinstein, Richard "Vietnam Warrior" Blumenthal and even Chuck "she's a bitch" Schumer remind anyone of those two-faced low life's out to kill Jesus a couple millennium ago?

Mark 14:55-59 says, "The chief priests and the whole Council tried to find some evidence against Jesus in order to put him to death, but they could not find any. Many witnesses told lies against Jesus, but their stories did not agree."

"Then some men stood up and told this lie against Jesus: 'We heard him say, 'I will tear down this Temple which men have made, and after three days I will build one that is not made by men.' Not even they, however, could make their stories agree."

The recent fiasco and fraud perpetrated on America by the liberals has been disgusting. Fronting the "Good Doctor" Ford as a victim of Brett Kavanaugh was in the spirit of the Sanhedrin searching for a cause to kill the Son of God. The rulers failed miserably but killed Him anyway.

Jesus told the religious and political power brokers in John 8:44, "You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies."

Ford and others were paid off like Judas. Good for them. They will all get theirs in the end.

Political Scene

once.

The socialist California government has filed 44 lawsuits against the Trump administration in the past 21 months, with major battles on health care, immigration and energy policy. Remember, California paid for the services of disgraced former US Attorney General Eric Holder who lied to Congress. The goal was to undermine Trump's policies.

The federal government, meanwhile, has filed three suits against California. The price tag for the California vs. Trump war was $9.2 million for the 2017-2018 fiscal year ending June 30, up from $2.8 million the previous year — which included six months of the president's first year in office.

Republican leaders and taxpayer advocates say the lawsuits amount to a political stunt and a waste of taxpayer money.

"Just because California and its Democratic leaders disagree with something the president or his administration does, that doesn't mean the courts are the place to have that disagreement," said Harmeet Dhillon, an attorney and committeewoman for the Republican National Committee. "Xavier Becerra is misusing the courts to score political points."

Becerra is also threatening California businesses with legal action should they cooperate with Immigration and Customs Enforcement in its pursuit of illegal alien criminals.

Sutter County Superior Court Judge Brian Aronson announced his retirement effective December 31, 2018. Aronson was just re-elected to the bench without opposition. He will have served for 15 years following his appointment by Governor Gray Davis in 2003 to succeed retiring Judge Timothy Evans.

The Sutter Courts news release made no mention of why the judge is retiring. Hopefully, he is in good health. However, it is unfortunate that Aronson didn't announce his retirement earlier to allow voters to choose the next jurist. Now, the citizens are ignored to politicize the judgeship with another appointment by the governor.

Attorneys rarely oppose an incumbent judge for fear of retribution as they continue to practice locally. Aronson's maneuver will block the public's input into the judicial selection process.

Aronson was questioned by the public in 2016 for what was perceived as low bail amounts set for more than 30 sex-sting perpetrators. Then, he refused to release the 2017-2018 Grand Jury report triggering the resignation of Jury members in protest after a year of work. His move was seen as protecting improper behavior by the District Attorney, the County Counsel and possibly others. The truth will never be known unless the report is leaked.

Night School
Starring: Tiffany Haddish, Kevin Hart and Taran Killam. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 1 hr 51 min.

After a minor set back at his BBQ salesman job, Teddy Walker goes back to school to earn his G.E.D. After schemes and persuasion fail, he resorts to hard work and neural reprogramming to overcome his obstacles to become the man he wants to be.

Night School, earns two out of five, Roof Jumping Monkeys. The acting was as good as could be expected and the production value was good enough. The execution of the story fell short of expectations. This movie relies on the star power of Kevin Hart, it certainly brought me in. There are few laughs that really earn it. The taint of political humor and race shaming hinders the story from reaching true comedic genius and keeps it from being worth the money to see on the big screen. Best to go see something else.

The Galvins and Friend In Concert Two Shows In One!

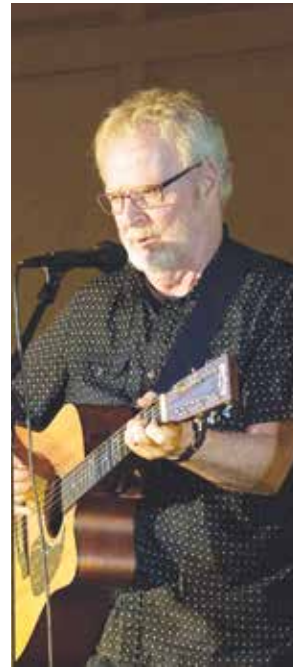

Marysville, Ca.

Yuba Sutter Arts is pleased to welcome back to its Burrows Theater stage singer/songwriters Tom and Gay Galvin along with fellow musician Steve Miller in a special one night only appearance. Tom and Gay have been performing individually and as a couple for many years. They bring a mix of folk and jazz originals in the best singer/songwriter tradition. Special guest Steve Miller will add his own sense of wonder and style of original music to the concert.

The concert will actually be two shows in one. The first show will feature songs by Tom and Gay. Both have wide-ranging experience in songwriting and performing. Tom's songs are upbeat and funny and greatly enhanced by Gay's masterful piano accompaniment. Gay will also perform a few of her jazzier originals. The second show will feature another local singer/songwriter, Steve Miller, who will perform a cycle of seven songs that tell a story; Steve's "Folk Opera," if you will. Think "Tommy" meets Tom Waits or something like that. Steve will be accompanied by Tom and Gay. With years of performance experience, Tom, Gay, and Steve are veterans who will be at the top of their game at the Burrows.

The concert will be held on Saturday, October 13 at 7pm at the Burrows Theater, 630 E Street in Marysville. General admission is $10 and admission for seniors, students and military is $8.

During the period from the '40s through the '60s, sparked by the American folk music revival, young performers became inspired by traditional folk music and began writing and performing their own original music. Well-known singer/songwriters include Neil Young, John Lennon, Bob Dylan, Van Morrison, Willie Nelson, Paul Simon, Leonard Cohen, and Joni Mitchell and other popular musicians to the present day including Taylor Swift. It is this long legacy that inspires and informs the work of Tom, Gay and Steve.

All three musicians have both appeared on the Lee Burrows Theater stage many times with various ensembles playing a variety of styles and genres of music. Tom has written songs for touring bands from the American Midwest to the American far west. He "troubadoured" around the country for several years while also training to become a psychotherapist. Gay Galvin has been playing piano since she was six years old. Trained in classical and jazz, she has worked in big bands, musicals, jazz trios and various classical ensembles.

Come support live music in the community and enjoy these very gifted musicians. Plenty of free parking is available on the streets adjacent to the theatre and at the Umpqua Bank and Bank of America parking lots directly across the street.

Animals In Disasters

by Carol J. Donaldson

Evacuation orders can be given for a variety of reasons. Currently, it is the peak of fire season. We have seen that it doesn't matter if you live in a large city or a rural area, you are equally affected.

Preplanning is essential. You are the first line of defense. Do the best you can. No one is asking you to risk your life for your animal but if you have a plan and get out early, everyone has a better chance of survival.

In disasters many animals do not fare well due to the actions of their owners. It is said that if you fail to plan, you plan to fail. It is your judgement of the situation and planning that will enable those you love to survive.

For a successful evacuation:

1. Have a disaster plan. Research disaster planning at FEMA, humane societies and county web sites for more information.

2. Practice that plan -Animals are notoriously hard to catch when tensions are high. Practice loading horses; actually drive your evacuation routes (multiple), know where to meet if separated, have a destination were your animals can stay.

3. Have a bag for everyone permanently packed. You may not be allowed to return home for several days; therefore be prepared. Your bag should include clothing, towel, washcloth, toiletries, flashlight and first aid supplies. Make sure you take your important papers (you and your pet), picture id's, documents proving you live at your address and medications. Your animal's bag should have extra collar, leashes, water/food dishes and water and food. You should also have pictures of your pet to prove ownership. Micro chipping can help return a lost pet.

4. Leave early if you are in danger, don't wait for the authorities to call. That call may not come in time.

5. Have cats in crates and dogs on leashes. Cats need to be crated early. If your dog has never ridden in the back of the pickup, he will not stay in. He needs to be crated or tied in the center of the pickup, if you tie him to the side, you very well may drag him to death.

6. Make sure you always have gas in your vehicle.

7. Have cash.

8. If you do not have a vehicle, have phone numbers of friends that you can call to help you evacuate.

Once in a shelter:

1. Keep your animals under control - dogs on leashes and/or crated and cats in crates. Cats should be confined in a safe room if you are transferring him to a larger cage. He will need a litter box.

2. Bring food and water for your pets - not all shelters accept pets nor do they have food available for them.

If you cannot get to your animals or you have to leave them, notify 911 and then the disaster command center they will direct you who to call for an animal welfare check or rescue. Contact anyone you think can help - news reporters, sheriff's posse, humane rescue groups in your area - get word out that your animals need help.

Increase their chance of survival by leaving them plenty of food and water. To leave them tied; penned up or running loose is a tough decision. Tied up or penned up is almost certain death in a flood or fire. Running loose they could interfere with first responders or be hit by a car. Large animals have a difficult time saving themselves due to the fencing surrounding them. Most will not jump or go through a fence. If they are swimming they cannot see the wire under the water and may become entangled in it. Don't forfeit their lives, get them out.

When you are able to return, check for anything hazardous, chemicals, snakes, downed wires and fences before you release your animals.

When you obtain an animal you take on the responsibility for his welfare. Yet time after time you hear and read about animals being abandon. If you are one of those people who think its just an animal and you are not going to take him, imagine if that was you. Everyone disappears, no food, no water, you can't leave, there is a wall of fire coming your way (horrible way to die) or you are swimming and swimming trying to keep your head above water until you can't do it anymore. Have some compassion - tell the disaster agency you left them behind or find a good home for them with someone who does care.

I talked several times with Yuba County earlier this year asking them how they wanted people to handle animal evacuations and who should they contact if they need assistance. I was told it was under review and I would have an answer soon - As of today I have no answers, other then call 911. Essentially you are on your own during an evacuation.

Keep your animals and family safe. Be prepared.

North Yuba Water District #4 Candidates

The incumbent for the 4th district is Donald Forgyson, the challenger is Gretchen Flohr. Who are they? First of all, let us deal with the incumbent. Donald Forgyson is a lifelong member of our local community. He is a senior member of our volunteer fire department and holds the title of Captain. Capt. Forgyson is also a rancher as well as having extensive property holdings in the area. He is one of the longest serving members on the Board of Directors of our community center. He is employed in the agricultural field. Capt. Forgyson is directly responsible for the 33,000 gallon water storage tank at the community center that feeds the fire hydrant located on Marysville Road. In addition, he was the primary facilitator in the installation of a 10,000 gallon water storage tank & hydrant system at the intersection of Texas Hill and Yuba Nevada roads. Another of his accomplishments is the creation of a fire hydrant on Indiana School Rd. that accesses the irrigation water when available. When you see the big yellow Water Tender responding to a fire, you can bet that Capt. Forgyson is at the wheel.

The challenger is Gretchen Flohr. She holds a Ph.D in Herpetology, Disease Ecology. A fairly extensive bio for Dr. Flohr is available via her LinkedIn page. Dr. Flohr is a relatively recent addition in our area so she has no long term local accomplishments to document. However, she has provided an extensive list of her various environmental accomplishments on her LinkedIn page. Her publications appear to deal significantly with frogs and salamanders. A local social media comment dubbed her as the "frog lady". She responded by saying she accepted this as a compliment and appeared to embrace the nickname. Another social media item stated that she was instrumental in getting an existing dam removed. (one supposes that the water storage behind the dam was then lost.) Dr. Flohr justified this by saying that the removal of the dam created a very friendly environment for various frogs.

As a voter in NYWD #4, you should give consideration to how you feel water in your area can best be utilized. What should be the top priority Fire or Frogs?

Supports Mistler

There's an issue happening in Yuba County and it seems everyone has hit their snooze button.

Write-in candidate, John Mistler, has accused incumbent supervisors Randy Fletcher and Andy Vasquez of breaking the law when it comes to peoples voting rights (denied the people's right to vote). Mr. Mistler has done his research and has court documentation to prove this.

The incumbents don't even deny it. Myself, I know what I'd be doing if I was running for public office and someone accused me of breaking the law.

It appears to me the incumbents have caved in and are hoping this issue just floats on by.

Supports Wright

Here we are a month out from the General Election, which includes the race for Supervisor of District 5. It's been a long, hard slog to the finish line and we're all a little tired and confused by all of the "Political Speak."

This is a statement of support for Alton Wright, and not a comment to disparage either Supervisor Fletcher or Mr. Mistler. I truly believe that all three are good men, and like most of us are trying every day to do and be the best they can.

I stand with Alton because I just like his ideas, his out of the box thinking and innovative solutions to some very serious and ongoing problems in our County. His knowledge and understanding of the issues is formidable and his interest, energy and dedication to improve life for every constituent is paramount. That's it, it's that simple for me.

Lynn Griffin
Brownsville, Ca.

Supports Mistler

I attended the supervisor debate at the Government Center on October 3. The subject of the homeless was brought up at the meeting. Mr. Mistler pointed out that 3 days before, myself and another female employee had to call the Marysville Police to come and remove someone sleeping in our doorway. Both incumbents, Fletcher and Vasquez had pointed out that the problem with homeless had improved drastically and Mr. Fletcher stated that his office was only a block away from ours and he said it had definitely improved.

Well let me tell you that must be an awful long block because there are more new people everyday. There are times we lock our door and only open it if a customer comes to the door.

It has not improved and anyone who thinks it has has their head buried deep in the sand.

The Truth About The Money (NYWD)

At the North Yuba Water District (NYWD) board meeting of September 27, 2018, one of the directors presented a well-researched report re: exactly how much money has actually been received through the 2005 SFWPA agreement. Much time was spent going back through records dating back to when payments were first received years ago.

A printout of the payment history was received from SFWPA's Stephan Wong, and each item was confirmed through NYWD financial reports. The bottom line? The $30+million figure is totally in error! The actual amount is just over $10 million.

That money has been used each year towards paying off (old, unpaid) loans, improving infrastructure, and more. Independent annual financial audits indicate NYWD is functioning much better than ever before

What other miscalculations/misinformation have people been given?

THINK

About It!

By Charlie McNiff

This Kavanaugh Thing Is Very Dangerous

Takenoteandremember these two quotes by Louisiana Senator John Kennedy last Tuesday, October 2nd, in reference to Senate Judicial Committee Democrats, "Sometimes people who are falling think they are flying"...and "You can't fix stupid, but you can vote them out."

As to the headline... "Yes, This Kavanaugh Thing is Very Dangerous"... in the sense that the Senate Judicial Committee Democrats apparently believe that you are Judged Guilty until Proven Innocent. If that ever, ever got to be the norm...then you can REALLY Kiss this country Goodbye. The "carved in stone" foundation of America's judicial system (and bedrock of our democracy)...as in many other countries around the world...is the presumption of innocence UNTIL proven guilty through due process.

When you have a person that's making an accusation who can't remember what year it happened (flip-flopping from late 1980's...to early 1980's...to mid 80's and then zeroing in on 1982)...and what month...much less than can't remember how she got to a house or even took her home... and the house it reportedly happened in...and can't remember where the house was...HELLO!!!

Plus...the accuser, Dr. Christine Blasey Ford, named four people who she said were at the party...and those four people questioned couldn't remember the party that Dr. Ford described...and one of the four, her girlfriend, said she didn't even know a Brett Kavanaugh!!!

Rachel Mitchell, who Republican Senators wisely hired as an expert in sexual violence (because they would be accused of bullying a woman by the Democrat side of the aisle) questioned Dr. Ford if she had ever talked to or given advice to anyone that were going to take a lie detector test...and Dr. Ford retorted very quickly and sternly..."NEVER."

WHOOOPS... A few days after the hearing her ex-boyfriend from years back said, in part, "One time she told me she gave a friend advice on how to pass a lie detector test to get a government job." Another HELLO!!!

When Rachel Mitchell asked Dr. Ford who paid for her polygraph test she looked like a deer staring into glaring headlights...and then slowly turned to both of her attorneys, Debra Katz and Michael Bromwick,...and finally Debra Katz took the microphone and said, "We paid for it."

Mitchell mentioned a few days after the hearing, in part, "No reasonable prosecutor would take Dr. Ford's case."

After the hearing, South Carolina Senator Lindsey Graham aggressively defended Judge Kavanaugh in the Democrat's "unethical scam and despicable behavior that has turned this hearing into a farce."

By the way, the lady that was screaming in Arizona Republican Senator Jeff Flake's face in the elevator that prompted him to follow Delaware Democrat Senator Chris Coons' advice Friday, September 28th to give the FBI "no more" than one week to investigate the "so-called witnesses" was Ana Maria Archila, co-executive director of Center for Popular Democracy funded by Mega Multi-Billionaire George Soros.

Don't you just love the names the far left comes up with for the activist organizations. They sure sound good.

Wednesday, October 3rd, FOX NEWS Tucker Carlson questioned our area Congressman John Garamendi THREE separate times if there should be an FBI investigation into the leak from California Senator Diane Feinstein's office that started the commotion that resulted in the delay in confirming Judge Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court in the first place...and ultimately the hearing.

You talk about Prancing Around the Mulberry Bush. Garamendi should be on Dancing With The Stars...the footwork shuffling from one side to the other without answering the question (THREE TIMES) was a sight to behold. Of course, being a career politician, you learn how to pirouette like a ballet dancer on your tippy toes so fluid and gracefully when you don't want to answer a question straight up.

Back to the Future... with Judge Kavanaugh's turn at the hearing. Bear in mind, he had gone through SIX background checks over the last 10 years without a scintilla of mischief. As he aptly put it in defense of his character and wealth of work on the bench as a judge, the Democrat Senators "had turned the Senate's Advise and Consent into a disarray of Search and Destroy." Talk about character assassination. It was actually sickening to hear all of the fictional mud they were dragging him through...but nothing stuck and a good, hot shower should wash it down the drain.

Judge Kavanaugh is to be commended for the courage to stand up and fight back at the snarling horde of swamp critters from the left side of the aisle trying to take him down.

Wednesday, October 3rd, after the FBI had wrapped up their investigation of 9 more people (150 total in the 7th background check over a 10-year period) a protestor got under Senator Graham's skin and he retorted, "Dump him in the water and see if he floats"...and kept on walking.

Don't forget Louisiana Republican Senator John Kennedy's quote when you vote in 4 weeks, "You can't fix stupid, but you can vote them out."

A COOL NOTE... Congratulations, President Trump, on bringing Canada into the newly negotiated North American Trade Agreement (NAFTA) along with Mexico.

Keep on Truckin', Trump!!!

Feather River Tea Party Patriots California Election Corruption

Yuba City, Ca.

The Feather River Tea Party Patriots announced Ruth Weiss, VP Director of Education and Training, Election Integrity Project California, will be the Special Guest Speaker for their next meeting, Monday, October 15, 2018.

The Election Integrity Project (EIP) seeks to preserve a government of, by, and for the people. As a nonpartisan organization, the Election Integrity Project empowers citizen volunteers, through education and training to participate actively in protecting our freedoms and way of life.

There is a lot of anxiety about election corruption in the upcoming General Election in November. As you know, SB 450 was signed into law last year and Sutter County was originally selected as a pilot county for "Vote Centers" for the June 2018 primary. As a result of input from our Tea Party, our County Elections Officer opted out of the pilot.

Many are concerned about voter fraud and what we can do about it in a Sanctuary State environment where the Administration, including the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, allows full citizen benefits and voting rights to illegal aliens and felons in prison and dead people.

Ruth Weiss, VP Director of Education and Training, will address some disturbing info and some exciting things that have happened regarding non-citizen voting. She will be able to address the topic thoroughly. She will also focus on how voters can protect themselves in the changing voting systems of the future. The future isn't as bright as "they" want us to believe. But voter education is key, and we can protect ourselves. We must have confidence in future election results. The main concern with the pilot "Vote Center" model of elections is that the opportunity for public oversight is greatly reduced. She will discuss a plan for modifying the EIP model of observation to fit the new situation and talk about how to build a team that will be effective, and how individuals can protect their own vote. Open to audience Q&A to follow.

Don't forget – Our regular feature In The News with Paul Preston, Agenda 21 Radio, will follow our Special Guest Speaker. Paul will be discussing events of the day.

Everyone is welcome. There is no membership and no cost to attend. The Feather River Tea Party Patriots meeting starts at 6:30 p.m. sharp and will be held at the Crossroads Community Church, 445 B Street, Yuba City. Doors open at 6:00 p.m.; come early to register, socialize with like-minded patriots, and get a good seat. For more information contact Larry or Carla at (530) 755-4409.

Farm Bureau Welcomes New U.S.-Mexico-Canada Trade Agreement

The newly revised North American Free Trade Agreement, renamed the U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement, promises to ease export of California-grown farm products, according to the California Farm Bureau Federation.

"The newly announced U.S.-Canada agreement, in combination with the earlier agreement between the U.S. and Mexico, strengthens relations with two key trading partners," CFBF President Jamie Johansson said, "and we urge Congress to ratify the USMCA without delay."

Johansson said the agreement will provide California farmers and ranchers with "much-needed certainty" in key export markets.

"We applaud the three governments for working to modernize the agricultural chapters in the agreement," he said. "It's a welcome development at a time when farmers have faced obstacles in selling their products to foreign customers."

Canada represents the second-largest market for California agricultural exports, with sales of more than $3.3 billion in 2016—the most recent year for which full statistics are available. Mexico is the No. 5 foreign market for California farm products, with sales of just more than $1 billion in 2016.

"Agricultural exports support thousands of jobs in California, both in rural areas where crops and commodities are grown and packed, and in urban centers from which products are marketed and shipped," Johansson said. "We hope the agreements with Mexico and now with Canada lead to further easing of trade restrictions."

The new agreements leave in effect Canadian and Mexican retaliatory tariffs on farm goods imposed after the U.S. placed tariffs on steel and aluminum imports. Johansson urged U.S. negotiators to reach agreements on those issues as soon as possible. "We've seen California farmers, ranchers and agricultural marketers lose sales because of the retaliatory tariffs from Canada, Mexico and in particular from China," he said. "Until those tariffs come off, farmers won't see the full benefit of the new U.S.-Mexico-Canada agreement."

Farm Bureau Announces Positions on Ballot Measures

As the November election nears, California Farm Bureau Federation directors encourage voters to approve a water bond measure but to reject an initiative that would impose new restrictions on how farm animals are raised. CFBF directors considered statewide ballot measures during a meeting in Sacramento.

The CFBF board endorsed passage of Proposition 3, an $8.9 billion measure to invest in water-system enhancements including groundwater supply, water recycling, efficiency improvements, safe drinking water and repairs to critical water projects.

"One of California's top priorities must be to enhance our water system," CFBF President Jamie Johansson said. "Proposition 3 builds on earlier investments. It represents the latest contribution to what must be an ongoing commitment to assure California's water system can meet its future needs."

The ballot initiative Proposition 12 would dictate specific requirements for housing egg-laying hens, veal calves and hogs. Johansson called the measure unnecessary.

"Everyone agrees farm animals should be treated with care," he said, "and California voters passed Proposition 2 on animal housing 10 years ago. California egg farmers who have managed to stay in business comply with those rules. All Proposition 12 does is allow trial lawyers to file predatory lawsuits against egg farmers, who provide some of the healthiest food on the planet. Proposition 12 would push egg prices higher in the state that already suffers from the nation's highest poverty rate."

Here is the full list of CFBF ballot recommendations:

Proposition 1—Veterans Housing Bonds	No position
Proposition 2—Shift in Tax Revenue	NO
Proposition 3—Water System Enhancements	YES
Proposition 4—Children's Hospital Bonds	No position
Proposition 5—Property Tax Assessment Transfer	YES
Proposition 6—Fuel Tax Repeal	YES
Proposition 7—Daylight Saving Time	No position
Proposition 8—Kidney Dialysis Price Setting	NO
Proposition 9 was removed from the ballot
Proposition 10—Rent Control	NO
Proposition 11—Ambulance Employees	No position
Proposition 12—Farm Animal Housing	NO

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

• If the FBI, in six background investigations, didn't get even a whiff of the allegations being thrown around against Kavanaugh, either the incidents never happened or FBI agents can't find their buttocks with both hands.

• And think about the FBI hierarchy's behavior since the election. Are they going to allow a fair investigation of Kavanaugh? Makes you wonder.

• Insanity is on display in Washington. If you are charged, without a shred of evidence, of being a serial rapist of young girls and you defend yourself, you are not temperamentally suited for your job?

• Presumption of innocence is a human right. What say you, Garamendi?

• And Feinstein is asking California to send her back to the Senate? She is an embarrassment.

• Truth means nothing to progressives (and by extension many Democrats). The Constitution is nothing but an old piece of decaying paper. And the presumption of innocence is just a concept from the dustbin of history. Well, Garamendi, you want voters to retain you in your cushy job. Is this your political philosophy?

• Some snowflake professor at Georgetown University by the name of "Fair" says all white men should die and be castrated. Why isn't she fired? Why are any alumni continuing to send support to Georgetown?

• Praise for Moonbeam again. Unbelievable. He vetoed the ridiculous bill allowing illegal invaders to serve on all elected boards in the State. Further, he vetoed the bill forbidding ICE from making arrests in court buildings. Will wonders never cease?

• Unfortunately Moonbeam blows good will as he issues pardons to illegal invaders so they won't get deported. He wants them on the local streets so they can commit more crime.

• Democrats claim illegal aliens do not register to vote, or vote. In Texas, a Mexican National has pled guilty to election fraud for voting. It is illegal in Texas for non-citizens to register and vote. In California, Moonbeam will issue a pardon and DMV offices are swamped with illegals getting driver licenses and being automatically registered on voter rolls. And the legislature tried to pass a bill allowing illegals to serve on all elected and appointed government entities. Why don't we just become a Mexican province and vote for a Mexican president?

• Maxine Waters used to be the stupidest legislator in Washington. Not anymore. She's been surpassed by Senator Hirono of Hawaii. She's the one that said all men should just shut up.

• The National Low Income Housing Coalition has determined that California has only 22% of affordable and available rental homes for extremely low-income households. "Affordable housing" and homelessness is primarily fueled by government policy. Permits and taxes are continually being raised. It takes years, and sometimes decades, to get a project off the drawing board and into the building phase. Even then, lawsuits will stop construction. A good example is the 19,000 house project at the Grapevine near Interstate 5, which took 20 years to get approved. Think about how much more those units will cost buyers than they would have 20 years ago.

• Elk Grove School District is trying out a potential California history textbook for first graders. In its pages the authors praise Gavin Newsom for how wonderful he is by marrying same sex couples. The authors manage to leave out the fact that he did so in violation of State law. Of course, the school district says the use of the partisan textbook is non-political and has nothing to do with Newsom's current election campaign for governor. Progressives lie. Government schools lie. And children are being indoctrinated.

• North Dakota has a chance for a fair election. The Eighth Circuit ruled that North Dakota residents can only vote if they show identification with their current residential address – not a mailing address. Voter ID is crucial; but in California that would mean the Democrats would lose.

• A focus group found many college students who receive an absentee ballot simply fail to send it back because a US stamp seems to be something they've never encountered. What is being taught in public schools?

• Amazing how the mainstream media ignores the new trade agreements. They are the biggest economic boost imaginable. Yet an ice cube throwing event 40 years ago takes the top news spot. The left is getting sicker by the second.

• Illegal invaders contributing to America is mostly misleading. Each year they send some $56 billion back to their home countries. Oh, that is after getting US taxpayers to provide them with free lunches, free education, free medical care, free "get out a jail" cards and more.

• The lawyer Avenatti is a good definition of a "Bridge too far." He blew the Democratic playbook. The vile fiction of Avenatti's client's story was just too ridiculous to be believed.

• San Francisco has a brand new residential tower tipping over and a just completed transit building falling apart. What is the City's engineering & building permit/inspection department smoking? Maybe that's why there are so many needles in public places and funny-smelling smoke wafting through the Streets of San Francisco.

• Since Jonas Salk found a prevention for polio without any government funding, there hasn't been another similar breakthrough. Why? There are almost daily "runs" for years on end to raise money to end diseases, but it never seems to happen.

• There are statues of him and streets, schools and buildings are named for him. Martin Luther King Jr. said famously that he looks forward to when all "are judged not by the color of their skin, but the content of their character." Given the lefties clamor against "white, Christian men" should we tear down all the MLK monuments, street signs and rename all the schools. What say you Garamendi?

• Remember decades ago California demanded catalytic converters to eliminate polluting emissions from auto tail pipes? Did you think that piece of equipment, which damaged the life of cars and trucks, would satisfy the lefties? Of course not. The goal post keeps moving until we will be forced to buy hugely expensive electric cars and pay the remainder of our money for electricity.

Frenchtown Inn Tasting Room Ribbon Cutting

Oregon House, Ca. It was a balmy Saturday afternoon for the tasting room ribbon cutting at Frenchtown Inn in Oregon House. Some wisps of high cirrus clouds dotted the otherwise clear blue sky as over one hundred people gathered for the event. At 2:30, Jacki Lee, from the Yuba Sutter Chamber of Commerce, turned on the microphone of the pa system and announced that everybody should stop and listen. It was time for the Frenchtown Inn owner and proprietor to say a few words thanking everybody for helping to make this event possible. Next, after a few words from the district's county supervisor describing how such business ventures are good for everybody, it was time to cut the bright red ribbon and have a champagne toast.

stone pizza ovens which are still operational today. Shakey's parties were legendary, and people still remember them to this day.

All during the event, the tasting room was open for business, offering tastings from Renaissance Vineyard and Winery and Grant-Marie Winery. I was told sales were good. The tasting room is open on Saturdays, noon until 4 pm. After about two hours, most people had left and it was time to start closing down and packing up. The Frenchtown Inn website is: frenchtowninn.com

People wandered about exploring the 100 acre property high and low. Tours of the house were given, and some were fortunate enough to hear the story of Shakey Johnson. Mr. Johnson founded the Shakey Pizza Parlor franchise in the mid 1960's. In the early 1970's, he developed this property, including carving out the 7 acre lake. Across the lake was the venue for parties, where he built three

California Water Services Marysville District Supports Local Homeless Youth

MARYSVILLE, CA. – As part of its commitment to improving the lives of those in its service areas, California Water Service's (Cal Water) Marysville District today donated a commercial-grade clothes washer and dryer, along with laundry essentials, to Marysville High School, so homeless and underserved students that attend the school will have access to clean clothes. Steve White, who teaches civics at Marysville High School, believed students could benefit from an on-campus laundry facility after seeing an article about a high school in New Jersey that installed laundry facilities as a means to keep homeless students from being bullied and missing school. According to White, the laundry facility directly decreased bullying from other students, as the underserved students now had access to cleaner clothes. As a result of decreased bullying, the students' attendance increased. Recognizing the positive impact seen in the New Jersey high school, White put a donation request on Facebook, which was then forwarded to Cal Water by Marysville Mayor Ricky Samayoa. "Cal Water has a heart for helping our community anytime possible," said Cal Water Local Manager Robert Thompson. "Having been homeless for a brief time as a child, the donation request really resonated with me. We hope that with the new laundry facility, these students can attend class with the dignity and pride that they deserve."

"The new laundry facility will have a big impact for our most vulnerable students, and will hopefully remove any concerns they had about showing up to class. Graduating from school is the most important step for securing a brighter future, so it is crucial as a community that we do whatever we can to help these kids get to class," said Marysville High School Principal Shevaun Mathews. "On behalf of Marysville High School, we want to thank California Water Service for its partnership and for their continued support of the Marysville community."

According to Thompson, the donation comes from the utility's philanthropic giving program, not from water rates. Cal Water serves approximately 12,200 people through approximately 3,600 service connections in the Marysville area and about 2 million people through 484,900 service connections in California. The utility has provided water service in the area since 1930. Additional information may be obtained online at www.calwater.com.
