

Historic Attraction Ready for Action

at Empire Mine
by Courtney Ferguson

Photo by Courtney Ferguson. Over-the-Hill Gang members Jim Ward (l) and Tom Newmark are proud of the way this Cornish Pump Engine adds “new authenticity for visitors to enjoy” at Empire Mine State Historic Park. Courtney Ferguson is Empire Mine Park Association’s Outreach Coordinator (as well as a freelance writer). EMPA has helped support, maintain, and improve Empire Mine State Historic Park since 1976.

Empire Mine’s gritty mine yard has a new attraction that whirrs, clanks, weaves and creaks. “After almost three years in the making, visitors can now see a Cornish Pump Engine in action,” said Over-the-Hill Gang member Jim Ward. “It’s been a labor of love, resourcefulness, and just plain hard work; yet each time we see the engine in action, we’re aware that it truly is history come to life, adding new authenticity for visitors to enjoy.”

Docent and past President of Empire Mine Park Association Jim Dierberger purchased the hardware from the Nevada County Historical Society, and a few parts were donated or reconstructed. Originally built around 1880 by the Fishkill Landing Machine Company in New York, the Cornish Pump Engine was powered by steam. At that time, ground water was an ever-present challenge, and the Cornish Pump was the only practical way to remove the water from deep mines. The pump engine on the surface was connected to a vertically separated series of pumps in the mine that were vertically spaced about 200 feet apart. On each pump stroke, the water was lifted about 3 feet. Connecting the engine to the pumps was a set of large timbers that rose and descended in response to the force exerted by the Cornish Pump Engine’s walking beam.

“Not only did we have to put the pieces together like a puzzle,” Ward explained, “we needed to build concrete benches to stabilize and support its substantial size. We also needed to make adaptations, such as driving the fly wheel with an electric motor instead of steam. Specialized skills and endless patience were required too. Bob Hansen’s meticulous mechanical skills, for example, were vital when it came to aligning the bearings. Everyone pitched in to breathe new life into this old workhorse piece of equipment.”

The Over-the-Hill Gang is comprised of dedicated volunteers who share their time and varied talents to help maintain and improve Empire Mine State Historic Park. Last year they completed a working Two-Stamp Stamp Mill that was donated to the park in 1975. It’s now a highlight of many park tours. In addition to Ward, other members include Tom Bumgarner, Bob Flanigan, Frank Hamlin, Bob Hansen, Ed Kittredge, Gary Larsen, Tom Newmark, Jim Schroeder, Dick Spoerer, Alan Trood, Mike Whitsel, Steve Wolf, Bert Wymer, and Don Schmidt.

Located between the Blacksmith Shop and the Hoist House, the recently-completed Cornish Pump Engine is now part of many public tours and special events. Phone the Visitor Center,

Growth, G and Plumbing Problems

by Lou Binninger

Just a week has passed since the primary and the political engines are revving-up to bait and switch voters out of more money in November. Water bonds always pass even if the funds get used for bike paths and saving frogs. And usually anything to do with a child will work, a children’s hospital bond or even to preserve the right to end the life of a youngster.

Both Sutter and Yuba County Clerks Donna Johnston and Terry Hansen said they would need more time to count thousands of ballots coming in “last minute.” That is fodder for conspiracy theories and good news to those hoping for a different outcome and for those liking larger numbers of people voting.

Based on initial returns Measure G, the Plumas Lake Elementary School Bond, appears to have failed. It needed two-thirds voter approval but a majority said no.

Many voters were poorly informed by the school district and County Supervisor Gary Bradford as to why the measure was needed. Latecoming information in the local mainstream and social media raised many questions and refuted reasons for giving the government another $250-500 per year per household for 30 years.

Pro-bond arguments suggesting future overcrowding were an intellectual stretch. Bradford was pitching the bond but knew little about the state of schools in his district. Every new slab poured in Plumas Lake (PL) does not transfer to student population growth. There are

by Lou Binninger

Yuba County residents are used to getting expensive mailers from the government. Some of the pieces tell folks in the valley how to prepare for high water and buy flood insurance. Then hill dwellers are told how to maintain a green belt around their dwellings to defend against a forest fire.

The notices include contact numbers and social media sites to use in case of an emergency. Since the county is broke due to employee pension costs can’t insurance companies provide this reminder to protect their losses or solicit more business?

Do all these notifications make any difference? No one really knows for sure. During the Oroville Dam spillway debacle and evacuation there were only so many ways out of the valley and then people waited hours in traffic for the water to arrive. People prepared and hurried-up to wait.

The old-school AM radio broadcast could have coordinated all travelers but it wasn’t part of the communication mix. Sad, since it is less problematic compared to battery-powered cell phones trying to reach websites and social media while on the road. Plus, one station relaying the truth dispels many social media myths and trash talkers. Incorporating a radio station would not have cost any tax dollars.

In Yuba City and Sutter County after spending millions each year waiting for a disaster, leaders could not even get their evacuation message to match-up. Chaos and frustration ensued. Exactly what is gained by having special emergency officials when fire and police do this work every day and actually have a plan to address emergencies? Short on money and not wanting to reduce pensions then maybe cut here.

Could we survive without the counties using radio and print to caution people to wear a hat and drink water during a heat wave? And, don’t forget sunscreen. How about reminding us to wear a coat when chilly out? Short on money, cut here.

Do taxpayers really have to pay for male and female condoms, dental dams and the like so some people can have them free? Sexually transmitted diseases are increasing even after condom bombing both counties. Maybe this has less to do with the item and more to do with lack of intelligence.

Can’t people fund their own sex so we can fund pensions? Or maybe businesses or nonprofits could provide the products as a promo? Liquor stores could offer a bunch of condoms for a certain priced purchase or attach them to a pack of cigarettes or maybe we could permit their purchase with an EBT card. That makes sense because some liberals argue that abortion cuts down on the number of future criminals. If that’s true, then EBT-purchased condoms could slow generational welfare. There is a method to this madness.

Paying for the health costs of keeping smokers alive is a fortune, but why does the government have to provide anti-smoking education and cessation classes versus the medical community? Health organizations like Sutter North are already contacting their patients offering all kinds of incentives for check-ups, tune-ups and good behavior. Giving tobacco taxes to the medical community to offer services would be far less expensive than hiring government employees.

Government rehabilitation efforts have the lowest recovery rates

The Oregon House-Dobbins Water Association

“Fighting for our Water Rights”

by John Mistler

On May 23, residents of Oregon House and Dobbins came together at a meeting in the Alcouff Center to form the Oregon House-Dobbins Water Association (OHDWA) to preserve and work for the communities’ water and water rights. This is in response to notification from the North Yuba Water District (NYWD) that they would not receive any irrigation water this year.

The Association’s mission is: To be a positive, persistent voice for the water rights and futures of the Oregon House and Dobbins communities to ensure the delivery of abundant irrigation and drinking water to our communities in perpetuity.

The moderator of the meeting was Dr. Gretchen Flohr who received a variety of issues/questions from the well attended meeting. Without water; land values are decreasing, no well water recharge and trees and plants are dying. The biggest question from all was, “Why has the water been shut off?” There has been no explanation from the North Yuba Water District. Yet, Little Grass Valley Lake is full and water is overflowing at Lake Mildred. Some people also thought this could be a vindictive response to the people killing a 218 tax increase.

Several members of the OHDWA attended the NYWD meeting the following evening to protest the water shut-off and request an answer to why the water was shut off. The NYWD said they would make that information available in a letter to the affected people and in press releases to the newspapers.

Election Update

The final results of the June 5 election were not available at the time we went to press.

Michael Lavoie – Brandson Swim Baits

The Rooster Tails Fishing Club monthly breakfast will be held at the Auburn Elks Lodge at 195 Pine Street in Auburn on June 15th. This free event is open to club members, spouses, and non-member guests. Doors to the Lodge open at 7:00 a.m. to share fresh brewed coffee. A fantastic $15 wide-selection buffet breakfast is served at 8:00 am followed at 9:00 am with special guest speaker Michael Lavoie, owner of Branson Baits, who will tell attendees about a new approach for catching trophy fish using custom US made, hand-poured swim baits. Reservations are not required, but breakfast attendees are encouraged to arrive early for best parking and seminar seating.

Michael's baits incorporate electronics as a weapon to finding, marking, and targeting vulnerable big fish in salt and freshwater. Michael meticulously compiled data on the positive attributes of hundreds of swim baits and incorporated them into one design. It took him over a year to come up with a finished mold that was used to make a hand-poured super-bait that repetitively caught fish. Not just any fish, but trophy size, toothy, monster fish! His baits are now in demand by Pro Tournament Anglers as well as by fishing guides in the know. Branson baits have proven results specializing in saltwater and freshwater fish including halibut, striped bass, ling cod, rock cod, Cabazon, largemouth bass, and other large predator fish species.

In addition, Michael will be bringing with him a factory technician from Lowrance Electronics to up-date RT member's fishfinders/GPS units for free. Members are encouraged to bring their Lowrance units early to the meeting. You don't want to miss this special presentation if you are interested in scoring a wall-hanger fish.

The 30 year old, 200+ members Rooster Tails Fishing Club of Northern California, Inc. is a non-profit organization that meets the third Friday of each month to educate, entertain, and enhance fishing experience. Unlike many bass and fly fishing clubs that concentrate on very specific types of fishing, the Rooster Tails Fishing Club provides a balanced mix of fishing techniques presented by fishing experts targeting a variety of fish species on multiple types of waters. For more information contact Jim, Club Chairman, 530-887-0479, or visit the club's web site at www.roostertailsfishingclub.org.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

We have reports of a good striper bite at Butte City on the Sacramento River as well as local fish being available on the Feather River near Shanghai Bend.

Up Lake Tahoe way the big mackinaw lake trout are cooperating both at the North and South shores. Kokanee Salmon are also hitting. Reports also tell us some rainbow and brown trout are also in the mix.

Lake Almanor has settled down and has a good small mouth bass bite underway. This is the time of year to catch huge rainbow and brown trout trolling any lure which resembles a minnow. Best bet is to troll slowly with downriggers or lead line.

Mountain stream, river and creek flows are excellent at this time with ideal conditions for trout. We suggest if you go to concentrate on early morning and late evening fishing to get the best results. Also, look for insect hatching and imitate these bugs for fresh trout in the frying pan.

Speaking of trout fishing. I recall a trip up to Poorman Creek many years ago. Poorman Creek is located in Nevada County near the small community of Washington off of State Route 20 above Nevada City. We stopped at Washington Creek on the way in to collect some hellgrammites and continued through Washington, then up the hill past the old lumber mill and log pond, then around the mountain past the old dump into the canyon to Poorman Creek. This small creek was inhabited mostly by rainbow trout. Catching a brown trout was maybe once a year if you were lucky.

Bill and I had a limit of fish by mid-morning. We ate our lunch, cleaned up the mess someone else had left behind and headed home. On the way out on the gravel road we were stopped by a game warden. After he inspected the fish and checked our fishing licenses he made note of the trash lying in back of the pickup. We advised him we had cleaned up the area at the stream. He was very happy for what we did and told us if everyone did the same the forests and streams would certainly be cleaner and much more sanitary.

Closing thought: "Forgiveness, no matter how long it takes, really is a gift you give yourself."

Rough and Ready Secession Days Chili Cook-Off Celebration

Rough and Ready, Ca. Shortly after its founding in 1849, Rough and Ready was a thriving little town, big enough to nearly become the County Seat. Over the intervening decades the town went through cycles of growth and contraction, but the community never forgot its roots and its heritage as The Great Republic of Rough and Ready. 169 years after Captain A.A. Townsend started the settlement, the town celebrates its history and the 3 months in 1850 that the town briefly stood alone in secession from the United States, as the Great Republic. This year, once again, the town comes alive and welcomes citizens and visitors alike to enjoy the annual Secession Days Chili Cook-off celebration on Sunday, June 24.

This year the town celebrates with a special guest...the Great-Great Grandson of Rough and Ready's founder, Capt. Townsend of Shullsburg, Wisconsin. Callen Harty, a recognized author and playwright, will offer a short presentation on his ancestor, Capt. Townsend.

The day kicks-off at 7am, when the Firefighters of Rough and Ready will cook a delicious breakfast of eggs cooked-to-order, ham, pancakes and beverage for only $8.00 for adults and $6 for children. Breakfast will be served inside the Fire Station until 10 am. Meanwhile, across the street, Kit and Janet Burton (AKA Plinky and Plunky) will be entertaining the crowd with their own special blend of music.

Around 10:00am, the Rough and Ready Rascals will make their appearance and offer their latest rendition of "The Ongoing Saga of Rough and Ready: The Play", which pokes good-natured fun at the early history of the town. Always a crowd favorite, you won't want to miss this fun-filled production. At the conclusion of the melodrama, having worked up a good appetite again, wander over to the Community Center booth for a hamburger or some home-baked goodies... or make your way back to the Fire Station, where the Firefighter's Association will be offering pulled pork sandwiches with coleslaw, chips and cold drinks.

While all of this is going on, our Chili Chefs will have begun the preparation of their favored chili recipes. Stop by and visit with them. Perhaps they'll share a secret or two! Also at 11:00, Tasting Kits will go on sale for $5 each. The tasting won't begin until 1pm, but the judges who will determine the $500 first place winner and the 2nd Place $250 winner, as well as those who purchased tasting kits and a chance to vote for the $250 People's Choice Award, will be ready for some chili!

But there's more to the Secession Days Chili Cook-off than just food and entertainment. Stroll through and check out the many and varied wares of our crafters and vendors. Enjoy some Kettle Corn, cotton candy, nachos or other snacks and refreshments. Stop in at the Fippin Blacksmith Shop, where our blacksmith Michael Smallwood will have fired up the forge, and where you can purchase official Rough and Ready souvenirs and apparel.

The kids haven't been forgotten, either, thanks to our volunteer Firefighters. They've set up a free Bounce House, a color station and dummy drags to keep the kids happy and entertained. There will be a water spray area, as well, so bring the kids' bathing suits or dry clothes just in case!

Things start wrapping up about 2:30, to end a fun day for the entire family. There is no admission and parking is free. Overflow parking is available at the Community Center

(the former Grange Hall). All proceeds go to help local community non-profit organizations: The Rough and Ready Chamber of Commerce, The Rough and Ready Community Center, and the Rough and Ready Firefighter's Association.

Dobbins Elementary Garden Established by Local Eagle Scout

Local Eagle Scout, Charlie Lovell, was looking for his Senior Eagle Project. He thought of coming to the local elementary school, Dobbins Elementary. He asked the principal, Duane Triplett, if they had anything that needed to be done. The principal mentioned that he was just thinking about their school garden. "Our school garden has been run down for years with no one to take care of it," said Mr. Triplett. "We are thinking of having classes to come and repair the garden to get it going." But at that, moment Charlie knew what he was going to do for his Eagle Project. He was going to repair the Dobbins Elementary school garden!

The first thing that he had to do was sketch a proposal or idea of what he wanted. Charlie then sketched out the plan. It was not as sufficient as he thought it should be, so he decided to make some alterations to it by realigning the water system and much more. After the changes were made, it was going to be as close to perfect as it could be. He had a great plan he was happy and proud of. He was ready to get his hands dirty.

The next step in Charlie's plan was to see if anybody would help by donating money toward his project to help get it in the ground (literally). That's when the local Ace Hardware, owned by Mike and Shelly Mangini, came into play. Ace Hardware donated a sizable amount to Charlie's Eagle Project. Now that he had some money he was now able to get the necessary supplies and get started. In the process of getting all of his supplies, he had cleared out the closest three Home Depot gardening areas!

Charlie came to the school ready to dig in and plant pumpkins, carrots, mushrooms, tomatoes, and cucumbers. He wanted to give the students of Dobbins Elementary an overall comprehensive garden experience provided with both vegetables and fruit that can be eaten throughout the school year. His hope is to have the students help keep the garden clean and maintained by picking as many weeds that may grow in the future. This helps to ensure local pride in the community and depth of understanding in plant life cycles as well as health benefits of eating local and organic foods.

Charlie was able to finish the garden project within three weekends with the help of some of his scout friends. Charlie Lovell was done with his Eagle Project! After the conclusion of his project, Dobbins Elementary School had a schoolwide gathering to honor Charlie for his amazing effort and work!

TOPICS OF INTEREST

Kitten season is upon us! If you find very young kittens (feral) without their mother, leave them alone; their mother may be taking a break. If the mother does not come back, consider fostering them rather than flooding the shelter with kittens, since the shelter cannot handle them. Check out maddiesfund.org to learn how to foster kittens. Fostering can be a very rewarding experience.

STARS Volunteers:

Volunteers are needed for the animal shelter. If you have time on your hands and would like to help out, become a STARS volunteer. Contact Deneen Barnhill at the shelter to find out how.

Donations: The STARS help support the ACS Shelter. Donations are used to help offset spay and neutering costs, feed costs, and other costs associated with the care of the animals. If you would like to donate, you may send donations/checks to YCACS STARS at the Animal care address: 5245 Feather River Blvd. Olivehurst, CA 95961. You can also donate via our Facebook page. Thank you in advance for any help you can provide.

Amended NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF Lisa M. Church Case NO. CVPB18-000060

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate or both of (specify all names by which the decedent was known): Lisa May Church; Lisa M. Church

A Petition for Probate has been filed by (name of petitioner): Philip Church in the Superior Court of California, County of (specify): Yuba

The Petition for Probate requests that (name): Philip Church be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: July 2, 2018 at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 4 located at Superior Court of California, County of Yuba, 215 5th Street Ste. 200 Marysville, CA 95901.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58 (b) of the California Probate code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California Law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Keeping Gains as Market Falls

How does an investor preserve gains they have made when markets fall? Knowing how to deal with market falls, fits and spurts is key to preserving capital and saving what you may have made in market rallies.

Since we are all in the market to make more than we had originally, keeping gains when you have them as markets fall is akin to making sure you don’t just give it back when Mr. Market throws a hissy fit.

Since one never knows when the market will fall, by how much and when it will stop, having a strategy of some sorts is a prudent idea.

There are many strategies and most but not all involve selling out either partially on entirely when your trigger points are hit. Trigger points are just mental milestones where you have agreed to get out in some way or another and/or adopt a stance that may not get hit so hard or may even gain when the overall markets fall.

One strategy might be a percentage point where one could agree that once the portfolio has gains, when the gains are lost by 50% (or whatever the point is) you just sell out your account entirely. That’s a simple strategy anyone can implement, although it may not be the best. Let’s say you started with $100K and it gains 20K making your portfolio worth 120K . If the value falls to 110K you sell out.

You could also tie the trigger to an index such as the Dow or Nasdaq or whatever. The percentages could be anything you selected and there is an infinite number of combinations you could adopt. The key here is whatever method you decide on, the reason you are doing it is to retain at least some of the gains you may have made.

Another method could be partially selling out some stocks instead of a complete sell out. One could also convert more and more into cash if the market sells off. As cash increases relative to stocks, the portfolio experiences less and less overall volatility.

An investor could also start swapping out stocks for fixed income investments (bonds or preferred stocks to mention but a few). Fixed income, although no guarantee they will off-set market routs, historically they have been regarded as “anti- stock market”, if I could use such a term. An investor could also buy inverse or “contrary” funds. Some call these “Bear funds” which attempt to gear negatively to the market, meaning they may go up when general markets go down.

No matter what method one considers, the point is to not give all your gains back when the market sells off and protect the portfolio from a devastating set back. An experienced financial advisor can discuss a variety of protections enabling you to perhaps sleep better at night knowing your money is at least somewhat defensive in posture if things go south.

Keep in mind, investing involves risk in exchange for the possibilities of gains and although there are a variety of methods available to help protect you, there are no guarantees that they will work as planned, If an investor cannot accept any risk, U.S. Government guaranteed savings accounts, bank CD’s and things such as U.S. Treasuries and other debt instruments are available.

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

Continuing from last week's "Collusion Against Trump."

July 1, 2016: Under fire for meeting with former President Clinton amid the probe into his wife, Attorney General Lynch publicly states she'll accept whatever FBI Director Comey recommends—without interfering.

FBI official Lisa Page texts her boyfriend, FBI official Peter Strzok, sarcastically commenting that Lynch's proclamation is "a real profile in courage, since she knows no charges will be brought."

Sept. 2016: Fusion GPS' Steele becomes FBI source and uses associate deputy attorney general Bruce Ohr as point of contact. Steele tells Ohr that he's "desperate that Donald Trump not get elected."

Sept. 2, 2016: FBI officials Lisa Page and Peter Strzok text that "[President Obama] wants to know everything we're doing."

Sept. 23, 2016: It's revealed that Justice Department has granted five Clinton officials immunity from prosecution: former chief of staff Cheryl Mills, State Department staffers John Bentel and Heather Samuelson, and Clinton computer workers Paul Combetta and Brian Pagliano.

End of Sept. 2016: Fusion GPS' Glenn Simpson and Christopher Steele meet with reporters, including New York Times, Washington Post, Yahoo News, the New Yorker and CNN or ABC. One meeting is at office of Democratic National Committee general counsel.

Early October 2016: Fusion GPS' Christopher Steele, the Yemen-born author of anti-Trump "dossier," meets in New York with David Corn, Washington-bureau chief of Mother Jones.

Mid-Oct. 2016: Fusion GPS' Steele again briefs reporters about Trump political opposition research. The reporters are from the New York Times, the Washington Post, and Yahoo News.

Oct. 24, 2016: Benjamin Wittes, confidant of FBI Director James Comey and editor-in-chief of the blog Lawfare, writes of the need for an "insurance policy" in case Trump wins. It's the same phrase FBI officials Lisa Page and Peter Strzok had used when discussing the possibility of a Trump win.

Nov. 8, 2016: Trump is elected president.

Obama National Security Adviser Susan Rice's interest in NSA materials accelerates, according to later news reports.

Late Nov. 2016: Justice Dept. official Bruce Ohr officially tells FBI about his contacts with Fusion GPS' Christopher Steele and about Ohr's wife's contract work for Fusion GPS.

Dec. 2016: Text messages between FBI officials Strzok and Page are later said to be "lost" due to a technical glitch beginning at this point.

Dec. 15, 2016: Obama intel officials "incidentally" spy on Trump officials meeting with the United Arab Emirates crown prince in Trump Tower. This is taken to mean the government was wiretapping the prince and "happened to capture" Trump officials communicating with him at Trump Tower. Identities of Americans accidentally captured in such surveillance are strictly protected or "masked" inside intel agencies for constitutional privacy reasons.

Obama National Security Adviser Susan Rice secretly "unmasks" names of the Trump officials, officially revealing their identities. They reportedly include: Steve Bannon, Jared Kushner and Lt. Gen. Michael Flynn.

Director of National Intelligence Clapper expands rules to allow the National Security Agency (NSA) to widely disseminate classified surveillance material within the government.

All Rightee...NOW... Back to the Future...

As the critical eye can see, there has been a huge amount of signal dates that are absent from these two articles. Last week's highlighted dates were taken from four of 17 pages of the "Timeline." The remaining 13 pages, if cherry picked, would probably take another four or five issues and still would not do justice to Sharyl's work...and only take us up to March 20, 2018.

What Sharyl Attkisson has provided those of us with critical eyes is authoritatively giving us an almost day to day commentary on the most massive, unthinkable abuse of power by the highest seats of government in Washington, D.C. in the history of the United States.

It truly does exceed, by a wide margin, the shenanigans of the Watergate Scandal...and we have yet to uncover the firing of FBI Director James Comey and Acting FBI Director Andy McCabe...and bad actors such as former CIA Director John Brennan, former Director of National Intelligence James Clapper...and recent reports of stringing into the White House itself...Whoops, almost forgot, recent word is that over 30 rank and file in the DOJ, FBI and Intel community are wanting to testify against "the suits." No wonder Andy McCabe is asking for immunity to testify (sing like a canary)...or he would "take the 5th."

Rather than bore you for 8 or 10 weeks or lots more...there's other fish to fry on a weekly basis.

Therefore, for the reader to get the full picture of the immensity of "government gone wild" (because there's a ton of stuff yet to explode from the DOJ Inspector General) I will direct you to Sharyl's website...for the rest of the story...from the start of the "timeline" through March 20, 2018.

It's...<http://sharylattkisson.com/2018/05/20/collusion-against-trump-timeline/>

P.S. Follow the unfolding cast of characters of the Deep Swamp in Foggy Bottom on TV with blow-by-blow commentary by FOX's Laura Ingraham and Sean Hannity. This is REAL TV News!

Deep State Revealed

The May 30th edition of your publication contained an editorial written by someone by the name of R. W. Gless, regarding the Deep State. It certainly is refreshing to see that there are others in this state that actually gets it; it is something I do not encounter too often in my day to day interactions with the masses.

I have been trying to open people's eyes about the Deep State for at least a decade, if not longer; all to no avail. All I encounter is the same old two party paradigm nonsense; "Gotta vote Republican so Democrats don't get in" or vice versa. You can't imagine the barriers people put up when you even suggest that there are forces in operation behind the scenes that actually control, manipulate and shape the policy of our government.

The sad thing is, the Deep State is not something new; it has been around for years; dating back AT LEAST to the early years of the 20th Century when Woodrow Wilson was president and signed the Federal Reserve Act, and when the 16th Amendment was ratified; tying us forever to the debt our government incurs.

Our public school systems have failed us miserably, and I might add intentionally; because they have come under the control of the Deep State as well. They do not want a well educated and well informed public; that simply won't do for them. Instead they want a dumbed down apathetic and complacent people who accept, without protest, an ever increasing litany of laws, rules and regulations that control their lives.

Land of the free? Ha, what a joke!

Today the writings of our Founders are as foreign to most people as the hieroglyphs found on ancient Egyptian parchments. There were those among our Founder, most predominantly Patrick Henry, who warned us of the dangers of accepting the constitution and the government it established. He, correctly I might add, warned of the dangers to our liberty and the inability of the people to restrain it within the confines of that document.

In a speech delivered to the Virginia Ratifying Assembly Mr. Henry stated, "Where is the responsibility --- that leading principle in the British government? In that government a punishment, certain and inevitable, is provided: But in this, there is no real actual punishment for the grossest maladministration. They may go without punishment, though they commit the most outrageous violation on our immunities. That paper may tell me they will be punished. I ask, by what law? They must make the law --- for there is no existing law to do it. What --- will they make a law to punish themselves? This, Sir, is my great objection to the Constitution, that there is no true responsibility --- and that the preservation of our liberty depends on the single chance of men being virtuous enough to make laws to punish themselves."

Our system was designed with the hope that the people would remain educated and informed, as well as preserving a love of liberty over the comfort provided by a government that cares over our every need from cradle to grave. None of these things have happened, and as a consequence we have allowed false and designing me to be elected and integrate themselves into the system and control it from the shadows.

The Deep State is a cancer, a gangrene that cannot be removed by the simple firing of a few key people within our government. The Deep State is symptomatic of a much larger problem, the unwillingness of the people to keep a watchful eye upon their government, and resist, with force if necessary, every single usurpation of power beyond those specifically granted them by the Constitution.

While I applaud President Trump for bringing the Deep State to the forefront of public discussions, I fear it is too entrenched for a single man to eradicate.

Bad Language Not OK

The more I watch Democrats on TV and their use of language that would embarrass a sailor on prime-time TV. It's the women that upsets me the worst. And some of them have been elected to help run this great country; it is embarrassing that this is being seen by foreign Countries. It reminds me of what my grandfather use to tell us youngsters; when we said a bad word the reason was the lack of a vocabulary and the

Re: NYWD

An article titled North Yuba Water District in the May 30 Territorial Dispatch, states that NYWD plans to "pipe ten miles of the Forbestown Ditch" at an estimated cost of 8 to 14 million dollars. They received a $500,000 state grant and plan to use prop. 1 grants and financing through the Yuba County Water agency for the project. Grant money doesn't just magically appear, it comes from taxes we paid in the past and financing comes from increased taxes in the future. I doubt anyone is complaining about not being taxed enough.

NYWD paid for feasibility studies which describe the Forbestown Ditch pipe as the first phase in a plan to eventually pipe the Dobbins Oregon House irrigation ditch to provide domestic water to Dobbins and Oregon House. Domestic water requires a water treatment plant (cost estimates not included). Other communities with new water treatment plants find their water bills are unaffordable, their cost of living has dramatically increased, and property values have diminished. Many Dobbins and Oregon house residents live on fixed incomes, and with few jobs in the area means the cost of living is unaffordable for most families.

NYWD has denied irrigation water to Dobbins Oregon house customers for 4 out of 5 years with no stated plan to restore irrigation water in the future. The irrigation ditch not only provides water to farms, but feeds our wells, and provides a natural habitat. Without the ditch water, open spaces dry out and become fuel for forest fires. After the fires last year, we need the water more than ever.

We absolutely need safe plentiful water for all residents now and into the future, but it must be affordable. We need our irrigation water, our wells, and domestic water to serve a growing population in the future. When NYWD takes control of our irrigation water, starts projects, and secures loans to be paid by our taxes, as residents, and taxpayers, we should have input, and be allowed to vote on things that determine the future of water in our community.

many empty school seats now.

There is no guarantee of student numbers growing because under the next president and governor both likely to be Democrat, housing sales will slump. Add this to new water use penalties, higher vehicle and road taxes and on and on, more middle income people will be leaving the state. Those left will need subsidized low-income housing. PL is far from that.

Inter and intra-district transfers can be ended to create more space if ever needed. Modular classrooms can offer a buffer for years to come should the "predicted" student attendance boom occur.

Some PL residents were naïve when debating the myriad of taxes, fees and assessments added to their property taxes. One bill showed that the fees on top of property taxes doubled the total amount owed.

Basic tax on one PL home was 1,871.70. However, the total figure owed the county was $3586.86. Whew, that was a sleeping dog now bothered. Some people had simply lost track of what they were paying and for what.

Another huge expense when it comes to living in Yuba County's PL and Edgewater developments is the Kitec Plumbing system. Thousands of the homes have the flawed plumbing. Once touted as a superior product to copper and much faster to install, the plumbing is prone to premature failure.

It is now off the market and there is a class action suit against the manufacturers. See kitecsettlement.com and bpelaw.com/kitec-plumbing-should-you-be-concerned/ for more information.

The property with the tax bill noted above was built in 2004 and in 2017 its Kitec Plumbing gave way flooding the home. It took thirty thousand dollars and months to remove and replace concrete, siding, sheet rock and carpet to re-plumb and renovate.

The Plumbing Doctor in Yuba City said they were hired to replace a Kitec Plumbing system before a break occurred. The job cost $10,000. However, every fix would be a different cost based on design and size.

Sun City Lincoln Hills Community Association just south of Yuba County notified all their residents once failures began. It's not if there will be a failure but how soon it will occur.

Edgewater and Plumas Lake developments are attractive and new compared with the rest of Yuba County. However, the taxes and assessments combined with flawed plumbing on many homes make the communities the most expensive in the region.

Regarding Measure G, pollsters tell politicians that primaries are the poorest time to get bonds passed. Most of the primary voters are old angry conservative white guys who know better. However, November is the better election to shear the sheep since the young naïve and more liberal come out.

So, look for up to 20 measures on the November ballot wanting your money and suggesting people will starve, be murdered, die of a heart attack or be molested unless voters say yes.

Major Flood Risk Reduction and Dam Safety Enhancements

planned for New Bullards Bar

Marysville, Ca, – A significant reduction in flood risk and enhancements to dam safety are in the works for Yuba County.

Yuba County Water Agency today approved moving forward with the environmental documentation, permitting and design of a secondary spillway at New Bullards Bar Dam.

The construction of an estimated $160 million secondary spillway will increase water release capabilities in preparation for major storm events, ultimately creating additional room for inflows in the reservoir. This will decrease flood risk downstream, including the areas of Marysville, Linda, Olivehurst, Plumas Lake and Yuba City.

"New Bullards Bar Dam is already in great shape," said Yuba County Water Agency General Manager

Curt Aikens. "This enhancement will help even more. Especially after Oroville, we know more than ever how important it is to have redundancy with a secondary option for releases in case of an emergency."

As a result of the major flood in 1997, Yuba County Water Agency initiated a series of studies, completed in 2002, to identify future projects to reduce the region's flood risk.

One such project was a plan to increase the release capability of New Bullards Bar Reservoir by constructing a secondary spillway.

The feasibility study, conducted in 2016, considered various alternatives and determined a secondary spillway, with the lowest water release point 31.5 feet lower than the existing spillway, to be the best option to accomplish the agency's goals at the lowest cost with the least negative environmental impact.

This phase of the project is estimated to wrap up in 2021, with construction beginning in 2022. It is estimated to take approximately three years to build. Both the cost and schedule are rough estimates at this time, expected to be much more clearly defined as the project is further designed.

An additional benefit of the secondary spillway is the redundancy of an alternate for water releases in case of a problem with the primary spillway. The secondary spillway would, on its own, be able to manage releases from the reservoir in a 1 in 260 year storm event without exceeding the maximum pool elevation.

Paying for What

for addicts and alcoholics. Why are we using tax dollars for this when private and more specifically spiritually-based rehabs are having the success? Of course, God forbid that taxpayers’ money go to effective religious nonprofits. Why doesn’t government just stop doing what doesn’t work?

Government is the disease for which it pretends to be the cure. A socialist welfare system lean on love and no accountability costs a fortune and sucks the self-worth and pride from recipients. The system ruins people. Meth eventually ruins users as well but at least makes them feel wonderful while on the way.

The entitlement mentality crippling generations of Americans was created and is maintained and defended by government. Recipients have a disdain for people in a place of superiority that do not demand a fair exchange for goods provided.

God created people to work and serve others. Robbing people of this mission is evil and destructive. Giving hand-outs without accountability and reciprocity says people are not worthy to provide a service for the help.

Welfare has done far more to harm society than drugs and alcohol could ever do. Now government wants more and more money to do more damage. That’s just crazy.

Memorial Day Weekend. Gun control (listen up Hogg) has been the go-to solution to crime for decades. The city even banned handgun ownership in 1982, only to have the ban overturned by the courts. Chicago is also a Democrat controlled city. So, what else is new?

- It would be interesting to see who’s moving into California. Moonbeam and friends appear to be focusing on the homeless and illegal invaders to take the place of middle class folks jumping ship to Texas and Idaho. Coming along for the ride is disease (such as had been eradicated decades ago in this Country). In addition healthcare and welfare funds are running out.
- Moonbeam signed a pair of bills requiring everyone in the state to reduce their water consumption by 50% starting in 2022. The fish will get all they want however. So will Southern California. Aren’t lefties the saviors of the little guy?
- And then these bought and paid for union lovers passed a bill to rid the State of arbitration clauses in employment contracts. Great. More work for attorneys. More clogged up courts. More cost to employees and employers. Where do these fools get these idiotic ideas?
- The Democrats literally added fuel to the fire. They agreed to let Elon Musk market flamethrowers to the public. How hypocritical is that stupidity. Add flamethrowers to the arsenal in the streets while they are worried about how many rounds a rifle magazine can hold? In the near future, some 20,000 people may be walking the streets with the devices, which resemble toy guns but can emit flames at least 2 feet long. Not only did your lawmakers approve the sale, but they killed a bill which would have reined in recreational fire-spitting.
- Higher oil prices are translating directly to soaring gas prices,” declared Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, “something we know disproportionately hurts middle- and lower-income people.” If Chucky-boy is right then why have Democrats spent the past two decades advocating policies that artificially spike fossil fuel prices?
- Did you attend the Starbucks anti-bias training? Did you enjoy the video on white cops beating up blacks? Isn’t that a super way to create a business atmosphere of anti-bias and inclusion. Some snowflake in the Starbucks hierarchy has no common sense and is illiterate in the
- Why is Roseanne fired and dozens of lefties in entertainment and politics retain their jobs and the mainstream media doesn’t offer a peep? Very simple, ABC was horrified that Roseanne brought in a huge audience for her pro-Trump views. ABC couldn’t wait to find a reason to dump her. And lately the same clowns are talking about re-booting” the series, but without Roseanne? Who would replace her? Hillary? Behar?
- Do you fly a lot? Did you know that under Obama the FAA reduced the qualifications for Air Traffic Controller – in the name of diversity? Shouldn’t qualifications for a job where the consequence of error is life or death, be based totally on job related knowledge and skill? What about it, Garamendi?
- The mainstream media simply can’t get over itself. The Tribune Washington Bureau in its first sentence about the Supreme Court bakery case claims the verdict was “narrow.” 7-2 is narrow? Bias galore.
- And then a couple of days later a so-called comedian Samantha Bee cussed about Ivanka Trump. More than likely she’ll get a “Key to the City” from West Hollywood.
- It appears that MSN-BC pushed the FBI into investigating how Joy Behar’s emails got hacked, knowing at the time that the “hacking” did not occur and was fake news. Why haven’t those responsible been charged with knowingly filing a fraudulent crime report?
- Mike Rowe, an Eagle Scout, mealy-mouthed his feelings during a segment with Tucker Carlson on the Boy Scouts taking “boy” out of their lexicon. He has shown himself to be as much of a moral coward as the current Boy Scout executives who have caved into the “anti-boy” agenda.
- The hate the left tries to generate goes to new lengths. Democrats tweet pictures from 2014 showing illegal alien children in steel cages. They thought they’d get away with using the 2014 picture to bash Trump. Why aren’t those responsible fired?

Current Thoughts – Lower Yuba River Accord

by YCWA Board Chairman Brent Hastey

May 2018 officially marked 10 successful years of the Lower Yuba River Accord, a statewide model settlement agreement between 18 different agencies, with many different interests and needs, all working together to make the Yuba River better.

The Lower Yuba River Accord improves conditions for salmon and steelhead in the Yuba River, provides funding to reduce the risk of flooding for the people of Yuba County, protects water rights for local farmers and ranchers, and provides critical water supplies during a drought year for communities throughout California. It is literally a win-win-win.

Getting this deal done was no small feat.

After nearly two decades of controversy and fighting in and out of a courtroom, Yuba County Water Agency led competing interests to a consensus, showing that collaboration can truly work when different agencies are willing to sit down

Yuba City DMV Will Open Saturdays

by Assemblyman James Gallagher

As a result of our efforts, the Yuba City DMV field office will offer Saturday services from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on June 16 and June 23. These offices will then transition to the first and third Saturday of each month beginning in July.

Saturday appointments can be scheduled up to 90 days in advance using the DMV’s website

Oregon House/Dobbins Water Association

by Jenny Cavaliere

A letter sent by Jeff Maupin, General Manager of North Yuba Water District(NYWD) to the 119 irrigation customers in the communities of Oregon House/Dobbins in late March of this year informing customers that there would be no deliveries of irrigation water this season which begins April 15th to October 15th. Sadly, there was no board participation in this onerous decision.

This letter enraged the farmers, ranchers, folks who own orchards, vineyards, or the many folks who grow a garden for their family. In response to this onerous decision by the manager, a group of irrigation customers met to discuss how to organize the community to become informed and educated.

The Oregon House/Dobbins Water Association mailed postcards to 885 irrigation customers and folks who are annexed into the district, pay taxes and have never received service and invited them to the associations first community meeting.

Please view the video of our Community meeting (May 23, 2018): https://youtu.be/Vc4ci7_NDI8

The mission of the

and hash-out their differences.

And it is working today. During the summer and early fall, the water temperature of the Yuba River is typically 7 to 15 degrees cooler than other rivers in the region, since implementation of the Accord. Some of the water that is released for the benefit of the fish can be sold to downstream communities in need, and that revenue comes right back to YCWA, to pay the local cost of our major levee improvements in Yuba County, which have us on track to be the first community in California to reach the state’s requirement for 200-year levee certification in urban areas. There are way too many other accomplishments to list them all, but there’s a video on our website that goes into more specifics, if you’re interested.

Reflecting back on the 10 years of success, a couple things stand out. The Accord has proven to be a durable solution that can withstand the test of time, and every single organization involved had a leader at the table and someone willing to find a way to make it work until the final deal was done.

Without every single one of those important leaders, the end result may have been completely different, or perhaps the whole deal would have even fallen apart. But they stuck it out, fought through the challenges and made something great happen.

We recently hosted an event celebrating the success of the Lower Yuba River Accord, and it was great to have so many of the original players and the who’s who in California water attend. And I cannot tell you the pride I felt at hearing so many power players in the water world repeatedly say how Yuba County Water Agency was setting a high bar and had developed a model that should be replicated, both for water management as we face more extreme weather patterns, and for solving complex water problems in California (are there any other kind?).

We certainly live in an unusually divisive time, where understanding and even public discourse have really taken a hit. So, I can’t tell you how refreshing it is to have the Accord remind us that collaboration is something to be embraced. It’s not a dirty word! Reasonable people can come together with a focus on their interests and find science-based approaches that work for everyone. I can only hope that we will see more of that in the years to come, with the many challenges we have ahead of us.

Food Bank Summer Lunch Program of Nevada County

On June 11th the Food Bank of Nevada County begins the annual Summer Lunch Program. Volunteers will hand out free, healthy lunches to kids at low-income apartment complexes throughout the county. Meals will be delivered at six apartment complexes and the YMCA summer camp, Monday through Friday each week until August 3rd, 2018.

The Summer Lunch Program distributes the lunches during set schedules (based upon location) between noon and 1 p.m. The apartments participating are: Oak Ridge Apartments, Glenbrook Apartments, Nevada Woods Apartments, Valley Commons and Springhill Gardens I and II. Children are not required to live at those apartment complexes to show up and receive a free meal if they are in need. Lunches will also be provided to the YMCA summer camp at Memorial Park.

The Food Bank of Nevada County is always looking for volunteers and sponsors to help make and distribute the meals. Volunteers spend the morning making sandwiches and packaging lunches before loading up the meals for delivery. It's a great opportunity to stay connected to the community and do something to give back.

The summer lunch program is funded by both United Way of Nevada County and the Food Bank of Nevada County. Please call 272-3796 for more information on the program or to volunteer your time at the Food Bank.

Yuba Sutter Arts' "Music Everywhere" Program

Marysville, Ca.

The greater Yuba-Sutter area is blessed with a very diverse and extremely talented group of local musicians. A music lover can hear live music somewhere nearby just about every night of the week. Often there are multiple events going on. With the open mics being held at the new Skip's Music Café in Marysville on Wednesday evenings, and the events hosted by Joe Moya and Clark Buschmann and Music in the Park concerts in Yuba City and Marysville, there's lots of great music all around. Many local restaurants and bars feature live bands and Ed Hudson has a new music show on 93Q Radio on Sunday afternoons featuring local musicians. Geez! So much music, so little time.

So why did Yuba Sutter Arts throw its hat in the ring and introduce its "Music Everywhere" series? Enter Gay Galvin, Yuba Sutter Arts' Musician in Residence. Gay is a well know jazz pianist, vocalist and music educator and performs locally both as a soloist and as part of many ensembles. In addition to running the monthly "Jazz Jams" at the Burrows Theater, she and her musician husband, Tom, produce a variety of concerts each year. Gay is the curator of the "Music Everywhere" series and does an outstanding job of bringing some less well known artists to the forefront.

"We wanted to introduce and feature some musicians that don't quite fit into the usual mold," said David Read, YSA

Executive Director. "The 'Music Everywhere' musicians will typically be solo acts with an occasional duo and often they'll be playing non-traditional music. They are jazz musicians, singer/ song-writers, virtuoso instrumentalists or even blues players," he added.

Here are the current participating locations and the remainder of the June schedule:

June 27 6:30-8:30

June 13 6:30-8:30

"And it's a bit of a pay back to these sponsoring locations who help Yuba Sutter Arts put on many of its offsite events," added Abbie Cesena, YSA Managing Director. "Justin's Kitchen hosts our monthly spoken word open mic nights and our 'Art & Oysters' event and Ting's Refuge hosts 'Citizen Artist' and 'Portraits of Veterans'." Both locations are also part of our 'Art Everywhere' satellite art gallery program featuring the work of local artists," she added.

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Father's Day is June 17th, the perfect day to show Dad how much you love him. You could BBQ for him, mow the lawn, scoop the dog poop and wash the car without being asked. Remember all the occasions he has been there for you, picking you up when you fall, running behind you when you were learning to ride your bike, setting you straight when you misbehaved, teaching you how to throw a ball, calling you his princess, and all the other wonderful things dad does. Give him a big hug and kiss and the day off!!

On Father's Day the Hill Top Gang will be serving breakfast, all you can eat for $6, served from 8 to 11 at the community center in Brownsville. Then visit the Yuba Feather Museum in Forbestown from noon to 4, a great place to get a feel for history in this area, then buy an ice cream cone or root beer float.

There are many local volunteers working hard to put on a good playtime at the Ponderosa when school is out. Every Wednesday afternoon there are several activities planned both at the park and the meeting room downstairs in the community building. This will start June 13. There will be volunteers helping children (and adults) have fun from 12:30 to 4:30. The program will be free, but is asking for a donation to help pay for rent of the building, snacks and craft supplies.

The big fire that took down our Gold Eagle brought out the best in many of our citizens. There are so many offers to help, giving a ride, bringing back groceries and more. Brownsville Station offered a free meal to employees that no longer have a job. Tony's Smoke Shop will start to carry a few groceries. We won't have gas for awhile, just have to remember to keep gas in the tank. It is too bad that it takes a tragedy to help people offer their time and money to help neighbors and do something with the community, but it helps when needed.

We had an oops in our last column. I had stated that the Brownsville Farmers Market started at 8 am but it is actually 9 am. Sorry for the booboo! That gives you an extra hour to sleep in on Saturdays before you head out for your fresh vegetables, fruits, breads, eggs, and so much more.

Look Back in Time — In 1913 there were 327 autos in Butte County. One person in every 100 owns a Joy Carriage. (even discounting the towns of Chico and Oroville, I wonder how many autos and pickups there are in our foothill area).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

Food and Farm News

Farm exporters monitor trade dispute

As Mexico, Canada and the European Union promise to retaliate for U.S. tariffs on steel and aluminum, California farm exporters assess the potential impact on their businesses. Each trading partner has proposed new tariffs on U.S. agricultural products, such as rice, apples, kidney beans, cheese, ketchup and strawberry jam. But the tariffs would not take effect immediately, and farm groups continue to press for an easing of trade tensions.

Authorities warn of continued danger to citrus trees

They remain a serious threat to citrus trees, but the number of Asian citrus psyllids trapped in the San Joaquin Valley has been declining. Authorities say they've trapped fewer of the insects this year in the state's main citrus-growing area. The psyllid can carry a fatal plant disease that has so far been kept out of the state's commercial groves. But in Southern California, the number of residential citrus trees infected with the disease continues to rise.

Water remains tight in Klamath Basin

Farmers in the Klamath Basin worry about the prospect of a midseason shutoff, but say they hope to have enough water to grow their crops this summer. Water supplies in the basin have been tight due to drier weather and restrictions aimed at benefiting protected fish. A federal project will deliver partial supplies to Klamath farmers this month, but a lawsuit involving water for fish could prompt curtailment of supplies before crops are ready to harvest.

Parts of rural California lack broadband access

"There's a lot of urgency" to expand broadband service in rural California, according to speakers at a Sacramento meeting Tuesday. The State Board of Food and Agriculture heard from agricultural and technology experts, who called high-speed Internet service a necessity for rural public-safety, health-care and on-farm business uses. The board cited a federal report indicating 1.4 million Californians lack access to broadband Internet at any speed.

Wild Horse Gather Planned for September

Alturas, Ca.

The Modoc National Forest plans to gather approximately 1,000 wild horses from the Devil's Garden Plateau Wild Horse Territory this fall to address impacts on aquatic resources, wildlife, grazing and traditional cultural practices. Reducing the population will allow range and riparian ecological conditions to recover, while also supporting herd health by reducing competition for limited food, water and habitat.

A public meeting to provide updates and answer questions is planned for July 11, 2018 at 4 p.m. at the Forest Supervisors Office, 225 West Eighth St., in Alturas.

"We are honored to have this wild horse herd on the Modoc National Forest," said Forest Supervisor Amanda McAdams. "We are working hard to manage for healthy wild horses that live in balance with wildlife, watersheds and a resilient sage-steppe ecosystem."

This action is prescribed by the 2013 Devil's Garden Plateau Wild Horse Territory Management Plan found online at <http://www.fs.fed.us/nepa/fs-usda-pop.php/?project=32426>. This plan designates an appropriate management level of 206-402 adult wild horses. There are currently an estimated 3,900 on and around the territory.

Gathered horses will be transported to short-term holding where they will be fed, watered and humanely cared for. Most are expected to be under 10 years old, and the Devil's Garden offers horses with good minds that can be trained for any number of uses. Find information on how to adopt wild horses at <https://www.blm.gov/> adoptahorse/.

Finding adopters will remain the first priority for all horses. The Forest Service is also planning to make horses 10 years and older available for sale as authorized by the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act, recognizing the likelihood of older horses being adopted is limited. Partner and public support has been a key element to past success and will remain irreplaceable in finding homes for as many horses as possible.

If you would like to help provide homes for horses, take part in the Modoc Mustang Trainer Program or want to learn more about Devil's Garden Plateau Wild Horse Territory and horses, please see <https://go.usa.gov/xQ3r3> or email modoc_info@fs.fed.us.
