

Stonyford's Superb Seventy-Fifth Show

by Roy Stewart

Superb in every way describes the 75th Annual Stonyford Rodeo held on May 5 and 6, 2018. The weather on both days was balmy and slightly overcast. The crowd--estimated at over 2,050 fans on Saturday and 1,400 on Sunday--filled the stadium with their cheering and clapping. The amateur and professional contestants delivered exciting action with their riding and animal-handling skills. The bucking stock made the cowboys work hard for their small victories. The entertainers--announcer Don Jesser, clown/barrelman J. J. Harrison and specialty act, John Payne--delighted the crowd with their professionalism--especially, the one-arm Payne with his superb riding and whip-handling skills. And, the rodeo professionals--bullfighters, pickup men, Queen girls, and gate-handling cowboys--demonstrated their remarkable skills in protecting the cowboys, clearing stock from the arena, and otherwise keeping the rodeo running efficiently.

The rodeo began on both days with the Flying Cossacks entering and circling the arena. They were a locally grown team of eight trick-riding children, seven of whom are members of the extended Moore family. An earlier generation of Moore family members was instrumental in starting this rodeo 75 years ago, in 1943. Carmel Moore Ellerman, her four daughters, and niece represented the Flying Cossacks. Carmel was the team's teacher, coach, mother, and aunt. Daughters Mette Ellerman Jones, Tami Ellerman Thompson, Fawn Ellerman Mendoza, and Jozell Ellerman, along with their niece, Karen (Gay) Moore were performers. The other three performers not present were Carmel's son Troy Ellerman, her niece Debbi Moore Ingram, and their friend from Paskenta, Casey Weston. As a team, the Flying Cossacks last appeared in Stonyford in 1987--they finished their trick-riding careers at the 1991 NFR (National Rodeo Finals) in Las Vegas.

Also on both days, Stonyford honored local area veterans with a horizontal unrolling of a large Stars-and-Stripes flag being held by members of the Maxwell American Legion Post. On Saturday, Senator Jim Nielsen presented the Stony Creek Horsemen's Association with a framed California legislative resolution honoring the organization for its 75 years of rodeo.

Following these ceremonies, the rodeo began with novice bull riding that was followed by bareback riding, team roping, junior steer riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, WPRA barrel racing, and bull riding. Intermixed with all this rodeo action were the dedication to Barry and Sandy Corbin, the crowd-pleasing Mutton Bustin' and the exciting specialty act: John Payne, the One-Arm Bandit. His act showcased his one-arm riding and bullwhipping skills while herding two shaggy American buffalo onto the top of a long stock-hauling trailer.

Eight cowboys competed in the Novice Bull Riding, three on Saturday and five on Sunday. They rode hard but none was able to remain on their bulls for the eight seconds needed to qualify. Seven men wrestled steers on Saturday and another seven on Sunday. The most memorable contest was Saturday's Johnny B. Fruiht, of Santa Rosa, who rolled over with the steer three times before emerging upright and wrestling it to the ground. Unfortunately, he broke the barrier, which added ten seconds to his remarkable 14.4-second time. Three cowboys on Saturday and three on Sunday successfully subdued their steers. Sunday's Blaine Jones won $1,465 with his 5.5-second time. Three others finished in the money: Dillon Hushour, 2nd place; Dane Browning, 3rd place; and Ryle Smith, 4th place.

Four riders on Saturday and five on Sunday competed in Junior Steer Riding. The steers got the better of both days' events, with only one contestant qualifying on each day. Braedyn Schweninger won the event with an 89-point ride, and Hughes Hunter came in second at 72-points.

Bareback riding, always exciting, was especially so this year. Four men rode each day, and seven of the eight qualified with good scores, the lowest being 64 points. The eighth man, Sunday's Cauy Pool, delivered the most unusual performance. On the third buck after leaving the chute, his horse, Black Berry Juice, went to ground, then rolled upright with Cauy still aboard. Cauy stayed with this bucking fool through the 8-second buzzer and bucked on for another second or two before a pickup man lifted him off. It was a hell of a ride, but no score. He got a re-ride later in the rodeo, but finished out of the money. Sunday's Grant Denny won $940 with his 82-point ride. Wyatt Denny, at 79.5 points; Casey Meroshnekoff, at 79 points, and Brent Bannon, at 75 points, finished in the money.

Nineteen roping teams competed for money in the Team Roping events. Each team has two ropers, one for the animal's head (header) and one for its rear legs (heeler). Most failed in their roping; however, seven made the grade: five on Saturday and two on Sunday. Saturday's Doyle Hoskins (heeler) and Joseph Shawnego (header) won $1,465 each with their 5.2-second time. Five other teams finished in the money.

Seventeen cowboys enrolled in Saddle Bronc Riding: seven on Saturday and ten on Sunday. Fewer than half had qualifying rides: four on Saturday and four on Sunday. In retrospect, after viewing the video, Saturday's Rowdy Stone had the most poignant ride: he made the buzzer but committed a disqualifying technical violation. The photo reveals his agony, as he squatted in the arena for a second or two, after gracefully leaving his horse. Johnny Espeland took home the 1st place money of $1,147 with his 81-point ride. Sutter County District Attorney Amanda Hopper in an Appeal-Democrat article accused her opponent Chris Carlos and her former Chief Investigator Jason Parker of conspiring together and making a You Tube video of her cousin Michael Bartschi. Bartschi says on the video that Hopper repeatedly molested him when they were children.

However, Bartschi never had contact with Carlos or Parker. He did initiate an ongoing interaction with a community member for 4-5 weeks before the video surfaced. The citizen says the emails from Bartschi were provided to writer Jake Abbott at the Appeal-Democrat showing the information and how it came to the community. Facebook messages, voicemails and emails to Abbott, Rachel Rosenbaum and the newspaper editor were never acknowledged.

The Appeal then published the story where Hopper falsely accused Carlos and Parker of creating the dust-up regarding Bartschi's molestation accusation. The paper not only ran the story but did not include the information sent to them contradicting Hopper's claim.

Does anyone recall US United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice lying on 5 Sunday talk shows saying the assault on the US Embassy in Benghazi, Libya was due to a video trailer mocking Muslims? Hillary Clinton, President Obama and the media also were complicit in that tale.

Whether Bartschi's accusations have any merit or not, a District Attorney concocting a story and the daily newspaper going along with it is not good news for the community however the election turns-out.

Farmer and water profits reformer Charlie Mathews won a seat on the Yuba County Water Agency (YCWA) in 2016 by saying to Yuba County citizens "Your Water, Your Money." His initiative to let the county voters decide how Bullards Bar Dam water and power sales profits would be divided more fairly among cities, agencies, districts and community members was illegally blocked by YCWA directors. The citizens were deprived of their constitutional right to vote on the profits but elected Charlie anyway.

Obama Ed Heads Say Boycott Schools

by Lou Binninger

Arne Duncan and Peter Cunningham who served in President Obama's Department of Education think a mass boycott where parents remove their kids from schools would provoke Congress to make more laws restricting the purchase and use of guns. Their comments came after the latest school shooting in Santa Fe, Texas.

"This is brilliant and tragically necessary," said former Secretary of Education Duncan about the boycott idea. "What if no children went to school until gun laws changed to keep them safe? My family is all in if we can do this at scale. Parents, will you please join us?"

Mr. Cunningham, former Department of Education Assistant Secretary for Communications and Outreach and now the executive director of Education Post, wrote an article suggesting parents keep their kids out of school starting September 4 until Congress passes "background checks for all gun purchases, a ban on assault weapons and high capacity magazines, and funding for gun research."

"Maybe it's time for America's 50 million school parents to simply pull their kids out of school until we have better gun laws," Cunningham tweeted.

Duncan's 7-year tenure as Education Secretary was noted for lousy student scores and forbidding charter schools to poor families and minorities stuck in glorified childcare.

Neither Duncan nor Cunningham provided any logic or substance as to how their new restrictions would insure student safety. In fact, many political leaders and department heads at state and federal levels are protected by armed security 24-hours a day. Furthermore, anywhere other than schools in the nation where safety and security are required, armed officials are standing by.

Why there is a liberal blind spot and double standard regarding safety and guns makes one question whether students really are the concern versus dead children being used as an excuse to remove guns from law abiding citizens. Campus violence is being used to leverage an agenda to undermine the Second Amendment.

Campus shootings could be ended immediately if states

Search Warrant Served at Illegal Marijuana Grow

Browns Valley, Ca.

On 05/09/18 at approximately 7am the Yuba County Sheriff Marijuana Enforcement Team along with the Net-5 Task Force, served a search warrant in the 9400 block of Sicard Flat Road. At the residence, an outdoor marijuana garden with 65 plants and an empty indoor grow room was located. Items within the residence were indicative of sales which included pay-owe sheets, packaging, and scales. In addition, approximately 1,000 marijuana seeds were located, some of which were labeled with a price. 45 year old Brian Smith of Browns Valley was cited for Possession of Marijuana for Sale and Illegal Cultivation of Marijuana.

Yuba-Sutter Political Notes

Now, the Yuba County 5th District Supervisor race pitting incumbent and YCWA director Randy Fletcher against Territorial Dispatch owner John Mistler and Alton Wright has the water and power profits issue front and center again.

Mistler, also a former Supervisor and YCWA director, has been arguing that all citizens should benefit economically with the cities, agencies and water districts along with the farmer/pumpers. Right now, only the pumpers and YCWA are making millions each year.

In the last election, the pumpers contributed $150,000 to defeat the people's right to vote on the initiative and Charlie's bid to join the YCWA board. The easiest way to stop an initiative is to keep it off the ballot. Bingo.

However, Charlie survived the hit-mail and robo-call blitz and now farmers are boycotting his rice drying business. Someone said somewhere that the love of money is the root of all evil. So far, Charlie's former opponent Tib Belza, the YCWA directors and the pumpers believe the only evil one here is Charlie questioning the water and power cartel.

Supervisor Fletcher likes YCWA's status quo, a tight-fisted keep-people-in-the-dark control over water / power profits where county supervisors double-dip financially as YCWA directors. YCWA chairman Brent Hastey likes the fact that when supervisors run short of money they can switch hats and smoothly vote to transfer funds from the water agency. Hastey likes the 7-0 vote harmony. Others don't think the arrangement passes the ethics smell test.

This is a David versus Goliath political race pitting Mistler's self-run campaign against the YCWA's half million development dollars being sown into the 5th District, the pumpers' influence money, their public relations firm and Fletcher taking credit for YCWA cash coming to his district.

Finally, for all you parents of K-12 students, Tuesday May 22 is the day government schools celebrate Harvey Milk Day. Harvey is noted for having sex with underage teen boys and flaunted his advocacy of enjoying multiple partners.

Your child's teacher may be instructing about Harvey this week and may even show the film "Milk." The Hollywood film did not tell the truth about Harvey, but the legislature became so euphoric and celebratory with their sentiments about man-boy sex that they shared their exuberance with the entire state. It's Harvey Milk Day!

Sutter Performing Arts Association's "The Theater Gallery"

The Theater Gallery in Yuba City will feature the vibrant paintings of guest artist MICHAEL PASQUALE in the month of June. The exhibit will be in the newly-remodeled art gallery, 756 Plumas Street in downtown Yuba City. Also on view are works by the gallery's six resident artists. Don't miss our hosted Artist Reception on Thursday, June 7, from 5 - 7 pm with complimentary refreshments. Admission to our art gallery is always free, and we display a new exhibit every month. We are located adjacent to the Sutter Theater and are open Wednesday through Saturday from 12 - 5 pm.

Regional artist MICHAEL PASQUALE has been a contractor for several years and is the current President of the Board of Trustees for Yuba Community College. With a background in art, he creates bold, vivid paintings in his home studio. He often uses pearls and translucent pieces in colorful acrylic abstracts, giving them a tactile quality. Another artistic endeavor is making paintings on glass, where the paint is actually the substrate, and peeling it creates the design. Always looking for something new to try, Michael is presently taking a class on encaustic wax painting which allows for depth and texture in two-dimensional painting. Come and enjoy this fantastic show at The Theater Gallery in June!

The Theater Gallery is open every week, Wednesday through Saturday, from noon to 5:00 p.m. Come in and enter the drawing to win a jewelry piece each month. An Artist Reception is held from 5:00 to 7:00 pm usually on the first Thursday of every month, complete with complimentary refreshments. Proceeds from The Theater Gallery benefit the Sutter Performing Arts Association's effort to renovate the Sutter Theater, turning it into a viable community center. For more information, please visit our website at: www.suttertheater.org or follow The Theater Gallery on Facebook.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

My son Ted and I headed up to Little Grass Valley Reservoir, above La Porte, to check on our reserved sites at Red Feather Camp Ground. The sites were big enough for our new trailers so we checked out the lake, the south fork of the Feather River and other campgrounds. The gate to Red Feather was closed so we walked in. The rest of the campgrounds were being cleaned up. The Lake was beautiful, almost full and the surface was like glass. The south fork of the Feather was running about right with no white water.

We stopped at One Eye Jack's Restaurant in Camptonville on the way back down the hill for lunch. It was a kick to see all the old tools, posters and other artifacts throughout the store and eatery. The service was great and the food was delicious. Apparently they make all their entries from scratch. I highly recommend a stop on the way up the hill if you are in need of forgotten groceries or a good meal.

Striped Bass are still in the system with the Sacramento being the best bet at this time. Shad are plentiful and can be taken just about in any river in the valley with the Feather River being the best. These fish are fighters and will hit anything thrown at them, including spinners, jigs, flies and bait. Best bet it to pick up some shad flies or jigs at your local tackle shop. As far as the striper fishing goes we hear the best bet, at this time, on the Sacramento River is near Verona up to Grimes.

Reservoirs in the Northern part of the state are beginning to produce trout, kokanee, bass and kings on a regular basis and should just get better. Stampede Reservoir, at this time, is a hot spot for Kokanee Salmon. The big Mack's who live in Tahoe are on the prowl and are being caught up to 17 pounds.

Closing thought "Celebrate every victory.....Big or Small."

A Petition for Probate has been filed by (name of petitioner): Deborah Lee Baker in the Superior Court of California, County of (specify): Yuba

The Petition for Probate requests that (name): Deborah Lee Baker be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

Obama Ed Heads Say Boycott Schools

would allow local school districts to hire armed guards (private or government) and enable willing and able teachers to carry concealed weapons. Again, the same approach has been used wherever high security is necessary.

As international travel began to boom in the 1970's an epidemic of airline hijackings occurred. Travelers suddenly were petrified of flying. However, hijackings quickly ended by increasing airport and airline security. Today, most people could not recall when hijackings started and stopped. Hijackings are history.

School assaults could join hijackings as a sad era but one that is in the past. The people standing in the way of a resolution are selfish politicians bowing to special interests. A school massacre is a great opportunity for the “swampers” to gain some media facetime and get re-elected.

President Trump has accomplished one task after another that politicians of all flavors have sworn, pledged and promised to do, but done nothing. If it were Trump's call, schools would be made safe just as simply as the US embassy in Israel moved to Jerusalem after legislators authorized it in 1995.

Trump took office in January 2017. It took 16 months to do a simple task that had been bungled for 23 years with Clinton, Bush, and Obama at the helm and nearly 1,000 “swampers” getting wealthy.

Students could be made safe if politicians gave schools the same protection they enjoy.

THE Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Brownsville Farmer's Market will be open before you know it: June 9. It will be open every Saturday from 9 am until noon. It is hoped that many vendors selling produce, jams/jellies, baked goods, and crafts will speak for a booth. Call Gary Hawthorn for more information (692-9006).

It is time for the Yuba

Feather Museum to open its doors again. Opening Day is June 2 at 9 am. Both the museum itself and the replica village will be open. There will be a bake sale, music, the old time engines and more. General Jim will supply food and all should have a good time. Come on in and help open the season. During the summer, the museum is open on week-end afternoons from noon until 4; it makes a great place to bring visitors or spend an afternoon. Bring a lunch and visit with our docents.

Bob & Jim's Breakfast and Burgers will start their summer hours starting on March 25th. The new hours will be Monday – Saturday 8 am – 6 pm and Sunday 8 am – 4 pm. Breakfast will not be served after 11:00 am. Don't let the name fool you, Bob and Jim's serves more than breakfast and burgers. You can get biscuits and gravy, sandwiches, soup, wraps, chili and more as well as daily specials. Best burgers and chicken fried steak around. They are located on the corner of Willow Glen Rd. and La Porte Rd. in Brownsville.

Look Back in Time – In 1914 Leslie Gordon passed through Rackerby with a load of freight for his store in Brownsville (wonder which store and what "freight?").

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

I often ask people why they didn't sell out their stocks during the 2008/09 crisis and a concrete answer is usually not forthcoming. Many respond with a perplexed look like they themselves never asked the question. CRITIC'S CORNER
by Matt Woolery

Life of the Party
Starring: Melissa McCarthy, Debby Ryan, and Gillian Jacobs. Rated: PG-13, Runtime: 105 minutes.

After an abrupt declaration of divorce Deanna decides to go back to college in order to finish her archaeology degree. It happens that it is also her daughters last year of school as well. As Deanna reacquaints herself to college life the usual antics ensue.

The flow of the film is clunky as the director tries to fit a plot around the some well and not so well crafted jokes. The last third of the film finds the groove as the actors play off of each other with more ease. The acting itself is rather well done and the production value fits well within the genre.

Life of the Party, earns three out of five, Hairbrush Monkeys. This is not a must see movie, but it is fun and will leave you entertained and disturbed. There are funny and awkward scenes and a few really touching moments.

as a teaching aide. Not that investing is like pulling a slot machine handle although there are some that do draw the similarities but I am not one of them.

Suppose you go into casino and pony up to a slot machine and promptly lose $100.00, something that not hard to do as some of you know. What most people do next is predictable. Not so much as to when but what most will eventually do is at some point get up and leave. They've basically lost enough and elect to not lose anymore. What they don't do is continue to drain their entire life savings and keep playing.

Fast forward to the investor and his life savings in a brokerage account. When markets fall a common brain disease may take place in both the advisor and investors mind at the same time and it's so common one might call it a plague when markets fall.

It goes something like this: The investor sees his portfolio drop by say 5% and thinks "its not down far enough to worry" and his advisor, who is usually paid by how much he manages, confirms the investors thought and says the same. Now suppose the market continues to fall. Down 10%. The thought "You're not down far enough" is repeated by both parties, Ditto at 15%, 20%, and 25%, then something magical happens in the mid-brain and at some point the mind-set changes from "you're not down far enough" to "you're down too far to get out now".

Sound familiar?

Now compare that to our gambling friend. Does he continue to think he's down too far to get out now and hit the ATM until it catches fire thinking all the while he's down too far to get out and should stay in and keep gambling?

No. What he does is exercise prudent money management, gets up and leaves.

Not so however when one gambles their life savings in a brokerage account. From not down far enough to down too far, our poor investor is actually worse off than the gambling addict. At least the addict leaves at some point while the investors straps himself in for the continuing ride downhill if it indeed continues to plummet with no exit strategy.

This is the reason why minor losses can turn into painful wipeouts and why many people still don't have plan for the next rout if it occurs and how they will deal with it.

Investing is indeed not to be confused with gambling on a slot machine but when it comes to calling it a day, the slot player may indeed have a better plan and a brighter future than the average investor.

finished with money.

Seventeen cowboys also competed in Tie-Down Roping. Thirteen got their calves successfully lassoed and immobilized. Jordan Ketscher, last year's All-Around Cowboy, won $913 with his 9.3-second time. Five others finished with money.

Up to this point, it was a male-only rodeo; but women also competed near the end. Their event was WPRA (Women's Professional Rodeo Association) Barrel Racing. Ten women competed on Saturday and nine on Sunday. Stonyford's own Vicky Cook took 1st place and $910, with her 17.26-second ride. Seven other women scored cash prizes ranging from $791 for 2nd place to $79 for 8th place.

Finally, it was time for Bull Riding—professional rodeo's most exciting event. Stonyford divided this event into two sections in which ten riders competed on Saturday and another ten on Sunday. This year the bulls won two fewer contests than in three of the last four years. Four cowboys stayed up for eight seconds this year, as compared with only two in 2014, 2015, and 2017. Twenty-sixteen was a banner year for the cowboys: five of them hung on for the full eight seconds. This year Lon Danley's 83.5-second ride took the 1st place prize money of $1,247. The other three qualifiers, Ryan McConnell (83), Chase Dougherty (81.5) and Colton Dougherty (71) took home decreasing amounts of $970, $727, and $520, respectively.

If this was not enough for Stonyford's diehard fans, "slack" events followed each day's rodeo. Saturday had seven barrel-race and nine team-roping competitions. Sunday had eight barrel-race and twenty-five team-roping contests.

This year's All-Around Cowboy was Doyle Hoskins, who won $1,623 in tie-down roping and team roping.

• Former New York Attorney General Eric Schneiderman is not only a Democrat but a vocal supporter of women's rights, a darling of the left and even talked about as a Democratic candidate for president in 2020. He's now in disgrace for his behavior with women. He is proof beyond any doubt that Democrats blame others for what they do themselves. Look at Weinstein, Weiner, Ted Kennedy and Clinton, just to name a few prominent names.

• California Democrats want an additional $1 billion to expand medical and a health care tax credit for some 114,000 undocumented immigrants. Leave it to the Democrats to favor illegal invaders over American citizens.

• Some unfortunate remarks were uttered by McCain about Sarah Palin. A person of honor does not do something like that. Maybe we are seeing McCain's true colors.

• A Democratic Mother's Day ad suggested that moms warn their kids about the Republicans while showing photos of radicals marching with torches in the streets. Disgraceful. The Democrats will use the deepest sewer to spread their filth.

• And the State Legislature almost made May Day into a paid state holiday. No, we are not talking about maypoles, flowers and welcoming Spring. We are talking about Miguel Santiago (D) of the State Legislature introducing a bill to make May 1, International Workers Day (a holiday with Socialist and Communist roots) as a paid holiday in California. It failed, but barely.

• Hillary trots off to Australia to sell her book (of fiction) and mouths off about the Iran deal. Kerry also chimes in with his two cents. Trump's success in foreign relations shows vividly the incompetence of the prior administration which hopefully, pains these has-beens. Which side are you on Garamendi?

• Wonder of wonders. Garamendi recently stated on Fox News that he was "hopeful" that the North Korean and Iranian situations will result in positives for the US. Maybe he is waking up from his Democratic stupor.

• Remember history. The Iran deal is not a treaty. It was a piece of paper signed by Obama and Kerry which they dared not bring to the Senate for confirmation as they knew it was tripe.

• Sleeping Beauty is politically incorrect? Mother demands it be removed from school shelves. Why? Because Prince Charming kisses a sleeping woman without her consent. Of course this saves her and she awakes from the spell put on her by the wicked stepmother. When will this insanity cease?

• NATO members are still not paying their share of the organization's cost. The agreement creating NATO said each country was to contribute 2% of its' GDP. When will our "allies" meet their obligations? Go, Trump, go.

• Why all the attention on the Salton Sea? It was formed due to a breach in a canal off the Colorado River in 1905. Over the eons, the Salton basin has experienced recurring episodes of lake, followed by dried-out sink. The so-called wildlife refuges are recent phoneme. Taxpayer money could be better spent elsewhere.

• California Democrats are desperate to continue their destruction of the Golden State. They are crying about the census asking residents to reveal whether they are US citizens or not. Of course, the more illegal invaders the Democrats can dig up will help Federal funding and congressional representation. Already the DMV is automatically registering illegals when they apply for drivers licenses even though it is illegal for non-citizens to vote. But so long as they get the votes, the Democrats care nothing about the law.

• California is requiring all new homes built starting in two years to be solar powered. This new regulation will add some $10,000 or more to every new house. Watch. My Prediction: The next step will be to require solar on all existing homes before they can be sold. Then they will require all homes to be retrofitted. What happens to the average Californian? Huge increases in home prices; massive rent increases and more un-affordability. Don't the Dems just love the average Californian?

• Now we have Bias Committees on college campuses. They ask students to anonymously spy on and turn-in any student who says something they don't like. Star chambers. Secret police behavior. Hopefully these fascists allow secret reports to be addressed about professors and staff as well as students.

• Experts again. But maybe this time they are on to something. Their latest diatribe claims that depression increased by 33% in the years from 2013 to 2016. Not a surprise. Obama was in office. Who wouldn't be depressed?

• Good old boy Andrew Cuomo, Governor of New York, said when his buddy Attorney General Eric Schneiderman was found out as a harasser of women, that such was the problem of all men. Really? The illicit behavior of one man reflects on all men? Typical leftie thinking.

• Our brilliant Senator Kamala Harris raked Gina Haspel over the coals about morality. Hopefully Harris reflects carefully her own sense of morality.

• Too bad our kids aren't being taught a quote, commonly attributed to Voltaire (but may predate him): "I disapprove of what you say, but will defend to the death your right to say it." These days, colleges and liberal politicians rephrase it to read: "I disapprove of what you say or think and if you don't shut up, I will destroy you."

• Tenant's rights groups are floating a ballot measure to force rent control over all private property in the State. They claim such would lower the cost of housing. Doubtful. It simply will force owners to get out of the rental business. Then where will the tenants go?

• Of course, the Democrats will support the tenants' efforts. But check this out. Most of the large cities in the nation are run by Democrats. How many are doing well? Take Detroit as a prime example. Abandoned homes being looked at as worthy only of bulldozing. No money to pay for any services. And you expect California to do better by electing Democrats?

• It seems most lefties passed by the table labeled "brains" before birth. Maybe they thought it said "rain" and ran off to get an umbrella. At any rate, an anglo teenager in Utah wore a Chinese-style dress to her prom. The libs went crazy claiming she had appropriated Chinese culture and demanded her apology and more. Of course, Chinese women wear Western style dresses, don't they?

• The Swedish Academy is in a pickle with a scandal forcing a delay in awarding the annual literature prize. Only now a scandal is coming to light? It would seem certain that offering the Peace Prize to Obama was as big a scandal as could be had.

• According to reports, California school teachers are the 3rd highest paid in the country. Yet California students are ranked 48th in math achievement and 49th in reading. Perhaps if we raise salaries even more students will reach 50th in the nation in these critical categories. What is going on?

Yuba Ted, Who is Yuba Ted?

Well it took a while to figure out, but it's not a person, it's our road dept. honchos it translates into You butt head.

Defensible space signs that cost $1000s upon $1000s are all over this hill, the last sentence says were doing our part, are you doing yours, Yuba Ted says, your part? Do we have drivable roads?

Frenchtown Rd has not been resurfaced in 50 yrs. Oh they resurfaced it right up to the doorstep of 1000 Trails from Marysville Rd, I wonder whose palm was greased there? Williams was paved.. Maybe 6 homes on that road, & little traffic but good for those folks, Iowa City was resurfaced, again very little traffic. Oh but that gal worked for the county for decades, so that entitlement was owed.

If you are west bound making the corner at the bottom on Pierson Hill it is impossible to stay on your side of the road. The entire corner is patches and I believe partially responsible for a fatality that occurred there last year.

The creek lies north of Frenchtown Rd, so which direction would the run off flow...BINGO! Evidently the county doesn't understand that, there are only 4 culverts between Willow Glen & New York House Rd, 2 of which are always plugged with debris, Yuba Teds answer to culverts, is a sign in a foot of standing runoff that says flooded. Where is the $ going Ted?

Now they are replacing the bridge on New your House that is in the same condition as all the bridges only less traffic, at a cost of who knows how many millions. Maybe some Federal $ came in I don't know, to replace the bridge with the least amount of traffic & virtually no truck traffic makes little sense to me but who am I? But another of the great unwashed.

Frenchtown Rd is the only busiest route between these communities other than Oregon Hill that has been washed out for years.

Someone at Code Enforcement told me “ Y'all know you people in the Foothills are not a big Priority”

Re: Answers Needed

Ms. Gillespie, editor of the Rabbit Creek Journal, would have her “answers” had she not huffed off my FaceBook (FB) page several months ago just because she didn't like the “answers” that I provided her. The thousands of people who follow and reach out to my campaign FB page are well informed how the ideas are thought out and realized. In today's connected, fast-paced world, yes, even in Yuba County, social media is the best platform, to flesh out ideas, not a print newspaper.

For example, if she read my FB page about the emergency preparedness drill, she'd see it would be fashioned after a recent one in Forest Ranch; The meth/opioid issue would be addressed by a blue ribbon community committee lead by health experts, religious leaders and law enforcement; Improving public safety, like sirens in the foothills, would be funded through a private/public combo. Instead, when Ms. Gillespie was following my FB page she “spouted” off disdain for any new ideas, didn't offer any of her own and was generally negative about everything, not unlike her paper.

Also, if she possessed a smidgen of critical thinking, and had she loyally followed my campaign, she'd understand how many of the ideas, many from the people of District 5, would be financed and made practical. She must not comprehend the concepts of public/private financing, budget re-appropriations, grants and other economic techniques are how I'd see turning these ideas into realities. She must not understand how fiscally conservative I am. No, she'd rather support one candidate who wants to increase our local taxes while the other wants to carve out more for law enforcement, a budget item that already gobbles up 72% of the general fund.

For Ms. Gillespie to not see how these ideas address “real life problems” for our residents, well, she must be living in another county or different time period – It's terribly insensitive to the people of Yuba County to not consider something like drug abuse or public safety “everyday issues.”

It sounds like she's happy with the old, tired ways of the past that have propelled us into many negative measures, unfair decisions that are miring our progress and ongoing conflicts of interest that will keep the other candidates from fully and fairly performing their job.

Finally, I'd rather have several “noble goals” than a single goal about groundwater or not delivered promised goals like the incumbent.

tax boost you can count on service cutbacks in a few years. Possibly less police officers, not more? YC financial certification is now untrue.

The possible 1% boost in sales tax was revealed in a document published by Yuba City senior staff related to a March workshop and a May 1 council meeting. It needs council OK to advance to a November ballot measure.

We are urging YC council to consider this very soon so there will be plenty of time for YC shoppers to tell council their views. YC taxpayers should also know that any tax measure will carry a hefty charge from the Sutter County elections office. Not to mention the charge to taxpayers for the study already done by FM3 of Oakland. Is there no local firm can do that study? What about “shopping local”? Yuba City wants you to “shop local”. Does YC senior staff follow that approach themselves?

SR 70 Safety Project?

Caltrans seems bent on what they term a safety project; widening State Route 70 through District 10, north of Marysville to the Butte/Yuba county line. Their initial goal is to make the new highway three lanes, one each way, with a continuous left turn lane in the center. They call this a safety improvement but it will not be safer. There are three lanes now between Noble Road and Woodruff Lane and residents of District 10 refer to this middle lane as a “Suicide” lane due to the fact that so many impatient drivers use this as an illegal passing lane. This is particularly problematic during the fruit, nut and rice seasons, with 40 ton trucks; as many as 200 per ag station per day entering and exiting the highway. It is also a huge problem in the fog. Also, there are over 200 driveways, connecting roads and farm roads entering or crossing the highway.

Caltrans' stated position is that they intend to buy enough right-of-way now, to expand the highway to five lanes in the future and to increase the speed limit to 65mph (which will of course, in reality, mean 75). This will move more traffic, faster into the bottleneck of Marysville. Frequently, traffic is backed up now from the intersection of highways 20 and 70 on the east side of Ellis Lake, north three miles to Saddleback Drive and south from the E Street bridge to Erle Road. Highway 20 quite often backs up to 17th street. Having this stop-and-go traffic, both cars and trucks, adjacent to Marysville High School and 1 block from Covillaud School will be an increased health risk for our students and the residents of Marysville. As it is now, people don't come into our city unless they have to, or to pass through it to get from one place to another.

Caltrans is willing and intends to spend 141 million, plus, of taxpayer money on a “Bandaid” that won't even cover the wound. Even they call it a temporary fix. Marysville will surely have to be by-passed in the very near future. In the meantime, it is ludicrous and irresponsible to squander that much hard-earned, taxpayer money on a temporary solution that is not a solution at all. AND, to ruin the agricultural community of District 10 and the City of Marysville in the process. This is a bell that cannot be unrung. It is estimated that 35-40 homes will be affected in Historic District 10 alone.

It seems that the collective ego and mismanagement of Caltrans will not allow them to even consider any other alternatives, such as a by-pass. Very sad. With a proper by-pass, most of the problems would be solved and motorists would be able to travel from Chico and Oroville, to Sacramento and beyond, unimpeded. Also, it would provide a true escape route from Oroville Dam problems and possible flooding of the Feather River, and not into a flood plain, where the levees are the only levees in the county that are not certified.

Fake News Lexicon of the Year

President Trump should be awarded by the Meriam-Webster Dictionary for the new lexicon of the year, “fake news“. It has met all the criteria, the use is widespread, sustained and meaningful. According to polls people are losing trust in the mass media. Since the 2016 election the media has suffered its sharpest decline in public confidence in a twenty year downward trend according to Gallup. So far in the month of May CNN ratings have crashed 20% compared to May 2017. It seems people are not interested in Stormy.

The negative reporting on President Trump is as high as 90% ignoring his accomplishments all together. He has done more in less time than any other President.

Every day the scales are tipped against the President. He fights the Fake News, the Democrats and entrenched Republicans that want him out. They are afraid of President Trump, a populist, becoming a transformative President and upsetting the two party election system for the next generation or beyond with a third populist party. The resistance is formidable and will try everything to stop him.

The problem for the Fake News and the Resistance is that President Trump represents the ordinary people that voted for him. They see the double standard. Case in point, the latest dustup with Kelly Sadler, the White House staffer that made the unfortunate remark in private about Senator McCain. She apologized but they demand that she be fired. They are holding President Trump responsible because she works in his administration. When a Democrat says or behaves with impunity, they apologize and then forgiven. Bill Clinton was forgiven after he apologized. Joe Biden was barely admonished for, “This is a big (expletive) deal”. In fact he was adoringly tagged Uncle Joe and his gaffes.

If President Trump is responsible for everything his staff says and does in private then certainly Obama has to be, and probably is, responsible for the secret actions of his FBI, CIA, State Department and White House staff. Why did Susan Rice email herself in the last 5 minutes from her White House office memorializing a meeting with Obama from weeks prior that everything was done “on the up and up.” What was she referring to? Most would expect staffers to be reflecting, sharing final goodbyes not emailing themselves. It's like the reporting and follow up on the Hillary Campaign and emails, none.

This unrelenting, unfair treatment by the Fake News and the Resistance to stop the President and motivate their base to vote in the Midterm is having a similar but undesirable result with his base, they are motivated too. His rallies are larger than ever and his approval ratings are up across the board. Keep America Great!

Disbelief, Disappointment, Dismay No Water

Today two Cal Fire workers came to my home. They were giving suggestions to homeowners how to best prepare for fire prevention.

They said my pond would be of great help if there is a fire. They looked dismayed when I told them it would dry up because we are not getting irrigation.

I showed them my 2' stand up with attached fire hose that shoots water 75' because of the quarter mole of gravity flow. I told them the fire hose would not be working because no irrigation, they were more dismayed.

I told them that I had a sprinkler on my roof, also will not be used, again they were dismayed.

But when I told them there would be no water in the ditch from which they normally could fill their fire trucks; oh, the disbelief, the disappointment, the dismay.

Another reason that it is unthinkable, unconscionable, and unbelievable that we are denied our water.

OPINION

Supports Brandon Barnes

Jeff Pierce worked as a deputy and Sergeant for me when I was a captain and undersheriff at Sutter County sheriffs department. He was a good officer. Jeff states he has been in law-enforcement 35+ years second in command for eight. He is just now proposing new policies and programs to fix the ills of the sheriffs office. My question is why now, why didn't he fix things during the last eight years. He had the authority to do so. you might think now it was just for political gain. The sheriffs office needs new blood not the same good old boys club, Jeff is endorsed by three former local sheriffs and the current sheriff, but not any of his own associations which to me speaks volumes about how he is perceived by his own personnel.

Dennis Hauck states

he has been in law-enforcement for 25 years but has only attained the rank of sergeant, obviously his supervisors know something about his abilities and character that prevent them from promoting him further. Marysville would not appoint him chief of police yet he wants us to elect him sheriff, which carries considerably more responsibility. Dennis has no administrative experience with the most liable department in the county, the jail, no experience with coroners work, civil process, communications or with multiple million dollar budgets. I hear that Mr. Hauck is a good man, belongs to many service clubs, knows lots of influential people, none of which qualify him for sheriff he also does not have a single Association in his department which endorses him, which also speaks volumes about how his peers perceive him.

Brandon Barnes is currently the captain of the jail in Yuba county, he has experience in all aspects and responsibilities involved with the overseeing of the daily operations of a sheriff dept. he is a graduate of the FBI Academy, California police officers standards and training command college and has a degree in administration of justice. He is endorsed by his Sheriff ,undersheriff, management ,sergeant and Deputy sheriffs Association's. He definitely has the qualifications, ability and enthusiasm to be our next sheriff. I support Brandon Barnes for the next sheriff of Sutter County.

Steve Sizelove former undersheriff, retired captain Sutter County Sheriff's Department. Live Oak, Ca.

Supports John Mistler

I've given it a lot of thought. John Mistler is our best bet for supervisor this time around. I'm glad he has latched on to an important issue, i.e. proper distribution of the millions of dollars coming from Yuba County water (see Mistler's articles in the Territorial Dispatch explaining the issue) in addition, Mistler has been active in Yuba County for many years and has learned a lot. I've had a number of talks and meeting with him, discussing county issues.

On the other hand, as many of us have found out, Randy Fletcher is BAD for Yuba County.

What energy he does put into this county goes mainly to a few of his political donors who own land in the county they want to develop---mainly in Oregon House and upper foothills. Remember, his first efforts, when he got into office, were to adopt a "clustering plan" in the upper 1/3 of the county ---to allow much greater density of housing in the upper foothills...but he and his buddies were cleanly shot down by a legal challenge.

Also, Mr. Fletcher is acting very much like he is tired of little old Yuba County and would like to move on to greener pastures, i.e. the state of California. (This sort of thing is not rare... Remember Dan Logue). I understand he is traveling around the state and contacting other politicians in the state.

AND, (if you can believe it), Mr. Fletcher has a bad habit of refusing to vote on a lot of very important issues when they come to the Board of Supervisors. I suppose he is worried that he might lose some of his insurance customers by voting a certain way on a particular issue, but, hey, isn't that his job. It looks like he worried more about his welfare than doing his job right.

Doesn't Support Fletcher

After 12 years on the Yuba County Board of Supervisors I know what it takes to be a County Supervisor. In 2010 D-10 and Hallwood were placed in District 5. Four years ago, Randy Fletcher was elected to represent District 5 over the past 4 years I have been disappointed in the job Mr. Fletcher has done to support D-10. The first action Mr. Fletcher took upon becoming Chair of the Board was to reduce the number of meetings for the board by 50% the Board now meets twice a month. There was nothing mentioned about reducing the Board salary by 50% The board is now receiving the same salary for half the work. Mr. Fletcher also eliminated the one meeting per month in the evening making it difficult for those working to attend meetings.

Mr. Fletcher has done well representing those in the foothills he was instrumental in returning several hundred thousand dollars to the Fellow Ship of Friends this was money paid in taxes after the Fellow Ship claimed to be a church even though they never applied for a waiver. Mr. Fletcher was also able to obtain a grant from the Yuba County Water Agency to purchase fire truck for Dobbins Fire Department

Mr. Fletcher seems to work very hard for parts of his district at a recent meeting I asked him when he was going to support beginning the process of repairing the Levees in D-10 he went into a long speech about how the Water Agency could not afford to repair these levees I never mentioned the Agency paying for any work, they did not pay for the south county or Marysville Levees. Members of the board went to the state and the federal government to secure funding. There are over 50 business located in D-10 thousands of tons of dried Prunes, Walnuts, Rice as well as other agricultural products. Not if but when a levee fails in D-10 it will take decades for Yuba County to recover there will be hundreds of jobs lost the effect will be devastating. I wonder how many businesses and homes Mr. Fletchers insurance company has flood insurance on, doesn't he owe it to those who he has insured to attempt to protect their property?

On a recent post on his face book page Mr. Fletcher posted he has been working for 31/2 years on a project to reduce fire danger. The Yuba County Water Agency approved a $1.5 million contribution to fund this project while I feel this is important. I will ask again when is Mr. Fletcher going to begin work on protecting the valley floor from flooding?

Mr. Fletcher also has a habit of missing meetings where a controversial item is to be discussed for example a recent vote regarding the proposed casino the vote was 3 yes 1 no Mr. Fletcher was absent. District 5 needs a Supervisor that represents all of the district not just the foothills.

During this election Mr. Fletcher has failed to attend most of the candidate forms when casting your vote chose a candidate who will represent the entire 5th District

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

Think About It....

Adding to last issue's commentary on Denmark's immigration woes, following are excerpts of an article by Margaret Wente of Sweden's immigration problem published September 11, 2015 but recently updated.

Wente's comments:... In Europe, refugees from Syria and Iraq have been cramming the ferry-trains heading from Germany to Denmark. But once in Denmark, many refused to get off. Where they really want to go is Sweden, where refugee policies are more generous. When the Danes said no, they hopped off the trains, and began heading toward the Swedish border by taxi, bus, and foot.

Sweden has the most welcoming asylum policies and most generous welfare programs in the European Union.

So how are things working out in the most immigration-friendly country on the planet?

Not so well, says Tino Sanandaji. Mr. Sanandaji is himself an immigrant, a Kurdish-Swedish economist who was born in Iran and moved to Sweden when he was 10. He has a doctorate in economics from the University of Chicago and specializes in immigration issues.

In an interview, he commented, "There has been a lack of integration among non-European refugees." Forty-eight per cent of immigrants of working age don't work, he said. Even after 15 years in Sweden, their employment rates reach only about 60 per cent. Sweden has the biggest employment gap in Europe between natives and non-natives.

In Sweden, where equality is revered, inequality is now entrenched. Forty-two per cent of the long-term unemployed are immigrants. Fifty-eight per cent of welfare payments go to immigrants. Forty-five per cent of children with low test scores are immigrants. Immigrants on average earn less than 40 per cent of Swedes. The majority of people charged with murder, rape and robbery are either first- or second-generation immigrants.

Sweden's fantasy is that if you socialize the children of immigrants and refugees correctly, they'll grow up to be just like native Swedes. But it hasn't worked out that way. Much of the second generation lives in nice Swedish welfare ghettos. The social strains – white flight, a general decline in trust – are growing worse. The immigrant-heavy city of Malmö, just across the bridge from Denmark, is an economic and social basket case.

Sweden's generosity costs a fortune, at a time when economic growth is stagnant. The country now spends about $4-billion a year on settling new refugees – up from $1-billion a few years ago, Mr. Sanandaji said. And they keep coming. Sweden automatically accepts unaccompanied minors. "We used to take in 500 unaccompanied minors a year," he said. "This year we are expecting 12,000."

Sweden is a cautionary tale for anyone who believes that Europe is capable of assimilating the hundreds of thousands of refugees and migrants who are besieging the continent, or the millions more who are desperately poised to follow in their wake. The argument that these people are vital to boost the economy – that they will magically create economic growth and bail the Europeans out of their demographic decline – is a fantasy.

It's really very simple, Mr. Sanandaji explained. You can't combine open borders with a welfare state. "If you're offering generous welfare benefits to every citizen, and anyone can come and use these benefits, then a very large number of people will try to do that. And it's just mathematically impossible for a small country like Sweden to fund those benefits."

Things will get worse before they get better. As Judy Dempsey, a senior analyst at a Berlin think tank, told The Wall Street Journal, "Europe hasn't seen anything yet in terms of the numbers or the backlash."

Meanwhile, Sweden's neighbor, Denmark, has cut the benefits for refugees in half, and has taken out ads in Lebanese newspapers warning would-be migrants to stay home. The Danes don't want to be a moral superpower. They can't afford it.

O.K....Now, Back to the Future...In recent articles we related Multi-Mega Billionaire George Soros and his October 17, 2017 transference of 18 BILLION $$$ to his Open Society Foundation that funded 199 (mostly leaning far left politically) organizations... that included 16 "OPEN BORDER" groups...and he still had 8 Billion in net worth.

In the May 9, 2018 issue of the Territorial Dispatch, this column reported that California comprised 12% of the U.S. population but also handled a WHOPPING 33% of all Welfare recipients in the U.S. We wondered what percent of that covered the illegal immigration traffic.

The U.S. is in the process of a progressing catastrophe.

The Wall must be built...and immigration laws must be tightened and enforced.

Supports Steve Souza

As a hardworking, conscientious appraiser, Steve Souza is held in high regard in the foothills. Steve will bring fresh thinking to the Yuba County Assessors position.

I met Steve around twenty-five years ago when he called me to let me know that he had heard that the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Dobbins was going to be torn down. The church had fallen into serious disrepair and had not been used for over 10 years. Without Steve bringing this issue to our attention, the community may have lost a beautiful and historic building.

With Steve's help the communities of Dobbins and Oregon House came together to form a Save the Church Committee. Over the next number of years many community volunteers worked hard to save the more than one-hundred year old church and having it reinstated as a Catholic Church. With the help of devoted citizens like Bill Bozza, Bob Roberts, Dan Lucero and Tony Baker and many others, the church has been fully restored and has an active membership with services each Sunday.

So, on election day Choosa Souza and you won't get a Loosa.

Folks, this is the ethics and morals of your Assemblyman, Senator and DA, and it's NOT the first time.

Gallagher and Nielsen pulled a similar stunt in the County Supervisor race last cycle, spreading lies about Mat Conant. Just ask Mat! You, the voters, saw through the lies last time, and elected Mat. Please see through it again.

Stop the insanity. Gallagher and Nielsen out right LIED, I am completely OPPOSED to the sanctuary state law, and they know it. I'm running for Sutter County District Attorney because I'm tired of seeing DA Amanda Hopper on the front page in another scandal.

If you are ready for a working DA with true experience who will bring credibility back, please vote for me, Chris Carlos, for District Attorney. Read my plan at www.LessPoliticsMoreService.com.

Please send a message to our Assemblyman and Senator to get their ethics in check. You should be fighting for us at the Capital, not wasting your time throwing slime in local races.

Chris Carlos
Sutter Co. DA Candidate

Why me?

Here we are... The home stretch and you have an important decision to make:

Are you sticking with the status quo, “been there, done that” ways of the past or do you want to move Yuba County to a better place with a rewarding future for everyone?

You’ve helped me stay focused on the issues that matter most to you, your family and our community.

You’ve inquired about my life, residency, business and political beliefs; I hope I’ve answered your questions fully and eased all concerns.

You’ve asked that I present the facts, some not very comforting, about the current state of affairs in Yuba County and District 5.

You’ve inspired me to provide perspective, ideas and vision, as well as to take bold campaign positions; I trust I’ve succeeded in this mission.

You’ve experienced my sincere, hands-on approach to help people, like those in District 10, Dobbins and Oregon House, where government is presently stepping on property rights and livelihoods, as well as my efforts to save customers from being ripped off by the 2015 NYWD rate increase.

You should now be convinced that I’m the right mix of practical, forward-thinking with a good dash of local conservative sensibility stirred in.

You know that I have what it takes - From extensive corporate business experience to deep “Hill People” roots, I have the abilities and resources to work with everyone, as well as the expertise and attitude to collaborate and negotiate with any private or public entity.

However, this is about today - I offer Yuba County, and the residents of District 5, fresh vision, fair decisions and conflict-free leadership - I’m not running on a record of yesterday. I’m running for our future.

As your supervisor, your servant, over the next four years I will listen carefully, weighing all perspectives, following your lead and committing to be my very best for you;

I will consider every penny, your money, as more important than my own, always seeking efficiencies and cost-savings;

I will be transparent, available to all, reasonable and dogged to protect the rights of every citizen.

I don’t profess to have all the answers.
I know they are out there in your hearts and minds, the great people of Yuba County.

Let’s make Yuba County shine!

I humbly ask for your vote on June 5th. Thanks!

Paid by the committee to elect “Alton Wright for Supervisor 2018” FPPC# 1402609

One evening John and Kitty were discussing the mess California is in politically and how we lack representation even in Yuba County.

John said, "If we, the citizens, can't afford an attorney, we can't get justice. Our current Supervisor has denied the citizens the right to vote on an initiative that is an important water issue. He knows the citizens can't afford an attorney to protect our rights to vote."

Kitty replied, "Why don't you quit complaining and do something about it."

That is why I am running for Supervisor.
