Marysville Trestle in Danger of Collapse

by John Mistler

Marysville, Ca.
 On the evening of March 23, 2018 it was noticed that the Union Pacific Trestle had begun to sag.
 In a Facebook post by Austin Herbaugh Yuba County Supervisor Mike Leahy said that the trestle had sunk 30 inches. Emergency Repairs are underway to fix the train trestle reportedly in danger of collapse in Marysville. Leahy shared a photo of the trestle on Facebook, warning residents to stay clear of the of the area of the Yuba River just east of the E Street Bridge.

 Leahy says this is the same location where crews did extensive work last year. The Yuba County Water Agency has shut off the spillway at New Bullards Bar Reservoir. According to Leahy, there is enough emergency space at the reservoir to hold the extra water during the repair work.

On Monday morning Yuba County Office of Emergency Services was up-dated by the Union Pacific. They were told that no diesel from the pipeline on the trestle was lost. They pumped it out before any spills.
 The cause of the sag was a pier that was sinking and pulling the trestle down. They cut the pier loose and put in a temporary pier.

Update on Widening Hwy 70

by John Mistler

Marysville, Ca.
 On January 23, 2018 the Yuba County citizens of District 10 made a well organized presentation to the board. With the theme "Let's Do It Right", the presentation began, recognizing there was a safety issue that needed correcting.
 The Board of Supervisors all agreed that they needed more information. Caltrans will now do a full blown Environmental Impact Report (EIR) and when completed will present it to the Board of Supervisors for comment.
 Mr. Knudson, of Cal-trans, said, "The next step is to continue to do studies to complete the draft environmental document. When those studies are completed and the draft environmental document is prepared, it will be put out for public review and comments. There will be meetings during this time, we don't have a schedule when they will take place yet but we will be meeting with the public to further discuss the design of the project." The environmental draft should be available by the end of the year.

 Now two months later the Chico Enterprise-Record reports that $ 400,000,000 in funding has been approved to widen the dangerous stretch of highway 70 between Oroville and Marysville. The funding will allow widening the highway to five lanes from Oroville to the Yuba County line. From the county line south to Laurellan the road will be widened to three lanes, and back to five lanes from Laurellen to Marysville including the widening of the highway under the railroad tracks.

Sanctuary Laws Illegal and Dangerous

by Lou Binninger

The city council of little Los Alamitos in Orange County, a town of under 12,000 people had the courage to announce their resistance to Gov. Brown and the La Raza Government Sanctuary State law. These legislators are the same moral bottom feeders that prosecuted the undercover reporters who discovered Planned Parenthood was selling body parts of aborted babies.
 The city council voted 4-1 to defend the constitution and law enforcement rather than protect foreign criminals in the U.S. The 4.09 square mile city is represented in the state legislature by Republican Senator Janet Nguyen (Vietnamese Immigrant) and Republican Assemblyman Travis Allen.
 About 160 people showed up to the City Council meeting, a monthly event that usually gathers little interest to ever fill the tiny 40-seat chamber. Many citizens addressed council members before the vote was taken.
 Los Alamitos critics take issue with the SB 54 "Sanctuary State Law" which Gov. Jerry Brown signed after the Legislature passed it last year. It prohibits state and local police agencies

The Fat Tax

by Lou Binninger

After spending awhile in Asia and landing back in America people appear overinflated. They look like they're going to pop. It takes yards of material to cover them. Women often look like they have a meteorite attached to their backside. Guys get pants that are wider and shorter to get a grip below the belly.
 Nichole Quick, the good doctor for Yuba County Health, reports like those before her that Yuba County is too fat, too sick, smokes too much and overindulges in narcotics and adult beverages. Of all California's 58 counties Yuba scores near the top for consuming too much of all the wrong stuff.
 So, what's the difference? If people enjoy their life, why fret. Maybe fat folks are happier. Why don't we just let people be?
 Yuba County is spending around $8 million and change per year to tell everyone how to be healthy, eat this way, quit smoking, use a condom, drink water and wear a hat when it's hot. However, what if Yuba County people are like the guy that pays the gym membership, but stays home? County health employees, like the gym owner, prosper while those paying for the service stay the same.
 Since Yuba County is broke maybe supervisors should try closing the health department for 3-5 years to see what impact it has on the well-being of residents. The county may be surprised and save some money to pay their employee pension liability. Yes, granted, most of the health money is from state and federal sources. But, what if a health department has little impact on people's health? Should we pay employees anyway?
 Since the same educational information is on the Internet and social media at no cost why should county residents pay twice, once in taxes and a second time to attend to their own health needs?
 What causes people to change? Think about smoking. Although some experts disagree, many say that increasing the taxes on cig-

Some History of Loma Rica

by Leigha Robbins

Have you ever wondered what Loma Rica was like before the 1920s? I learned the town of Loma Rica --even before Florentine Veigne bought it--was called Colony Cannstadt. The different land owners in the area enticed the folks to live in Cannstadt.

The land was fertile enough to grow grapes. The Germans came out here first, arriving from the city of Cannstadt. Cannstadt Colony had a great blacksmith in town named August John George Sethe who came out here first of September 1884. He did horse shoeing, made drills for mining, and fashioned iron works for the railroads.

Another person that lived in the town back then was a German named Johann Freidrich Heinrich Anschlag. He went by the name of Fritz Anschlag. He was born in the city of Koeinsburg, east of Prussia in 1864. At the age of two years old he lost his mom. He was taken care of by a governess. He attended school at age five though

16. His father took him out of school to train him to work for a living.

A fall from a ladder caused Anschlag to experience a multitude of problems in his life. Mental problems arose, including depression, and caused chronic unemployment. His mental state degraded further at the loss of his father. His uncle took him home and put him to work on his ranch. Anschlag kept making mistake after mistake, and eventually left the ranch.

While searching for employment, Anschlag stole a gold watch and stuffed in his pocket. He paid for just one cheap watch. He thought of taking it back to the store but was afraid to be arrested. He then pawned the watch to a different store and was arrested. The courts signed him up for the military service, but he was unfit.

On November the 11th, 1886, Anschlag left home. It took 14 days to arrive in New York. He stayed for three days, then hopped a train to San Francisco. Anschlag received a very large amount of money from home. He made up his mind to buy a farm to see if farming was his ideal work. He came across Bangor and then to a place called Colony Cannstadt, where he found some land and began negotiations for its purchase.

Anschlag made a day trip to the City to purchase some seed. While in town he happened to pass a store. Right outside by the store there was some fence wiring. He hopped off his wagon and brought four reels of wire into his buggy. Then drove on and stole some sacks of coffee. At another store he stole someone's packages that had names on them. He made the trip back home and discovered that he forgot to pick up the seed.

A day later, the Sheriff came, put him in handcuffs, and took him to the city, to see the Justice of the Peace. Anschlag was found guilty and placed into prison for 60 days. When released, he returned to Bader's ranch again. After about a month, he got the urge to come up with a plan on how to kill his neighbor, Julius Fuge, and steal his land. He came to Anschlag's property while on the way to the post office at Bangor. He asked permission to cross Anschlag's field to shorten his walk. At this time, Bader came to the house; the three men stood around talking for a short while. Then Bader and Fuge trod off to the post office before it closed. Anschlag joined them with his gun, pretending to hunt for hares. He crossed the field a short distance, Fuge to his left and Bader on his right. He carried the gun on his shoulder and said, "rabbit!" Anschlag drew his gun from his shoulder and, pointing it Fuge, pulled the trigger. The gun discharged its contents into Fuge's neck, killing him instantly. Bader and Anschlag stood for a moment, looking at each other. Then they looked around to see if anyone had seen them. Then Anschlag said, "let's us bury him." They promised not to tell a living soul about what had happened that day. A couple of weeks had gone by as Anschlag began to fear that someone would find out that he killed Fuge. He left Colony Cannstadt to move to San Louis Obispo, and start a new life.

FISHIN' TALK

by Boots Johnson

Dan "Boots" Johnson has fished and hunted in California for 73 years. Anyone with questions or comments can email him at boots3@syix.com

Wednesday, April 11th is the first class of the E.C. Powell Fly Fishers introduction to fly fishing. The classes will continue the same day each week for four classroom sessions. The classes will be held from 6 P.M. to 8 P.M. Interested parties should contact the Yuba City Parks and Recreation Department at 1201 Civic Center or call 822-4850 for more information. The classes will cover all of the basics of fly fishing including rods, lines and knot tying. Basic casting instructions will also be included along with different types of flies, their use and more.

The following waters have received planted trout: EL DORADO COUNTY: Folsom Lake; NEVADA COUNTY: Englebright Reservoir, Rollins Reservoir and Scotts Flat Reservoir; PLACER COUNTY: Lake Valley Reservoir; SACRAMENTO COUNTY: Folsom Lake and YUBA COUNTY also in Englebright Reservoir.

It appears the opener for the general trout season will be met with somewhat better conditions due to the recent storms. Runoff should have lots of water in the high country with runoff being a lot better that a month ago. We certainly will not see, or I feel this way, April conditions in June. Expect, for all of you out there who stream fish, including this writer, to see good waters and hungry trout at the opening at the end of April. Good luck and happy fishing!

As the cold weather slowly goes away we all look forward to spring and summer. However, this year could very well be another surprise with winter turning into summer without the wonderful feeling of spring. This has happened before and we all must live with constant changes. No matter what Mother Nature throws at us we will be positive and plan on catching fish to barbecue, fry or bake at our favorite campground or backyard.

See you on the water and best regards to you and your family.

Closing Thought: "Don't let the world distract you from the things that really matter."

Art, Wine and Wickets Goes 70s!

Help Paint More of Those "Groovy" Utility Boxes

Marysville, Ca.

Have you seen the "coolest" cow in town on the utility box at Stabler Lane and Butte House Road? How about the "groovy" rooster and chickens crossing the road on Franklin near Highway 99? Would you like to see more of these "far out," unexpected works of art in the community? Then join the Rotary Club of Yuba City and Yuba Sutter Arts who are once again partnering for a fun-filled spring afternoon bash. It's the second annual Art, Wine and Wickets event to raise funds to paint more of the boxes.

And this year, the party will be made even more groovy as we celebrate the 70s with live music of the era by the Sacramento band, "Woodstock High," a vintage 70s VW minivan for photo opps, lots of cool tie dye, bitchen artists, games and you helping to create the vibe. Can you dig it?

The event will be held on Saturday, April 14, 2018 from 11am - 4pm at Cordi Winery, 10401 Ingram Lane in Live Oak. Tickets are $30, all-inclusive. Boogie on out to the county to a beautiful setting amongst the vineyards at the base of the Sutter Buttes. Ticket price includes admission, wine tasting, a glass of wine, gourmet lunch by Midtown Grill, unlimited croquet and other lawn games.

You will meet local artists and be able to discuss their artwork with them; nature photographer - Sue Graue, ceramicist - Brandon Lee-Dyer, sculptor - Herman Mercado and painter - Cindy Gavin.

And what about the "wickets" part of Art, Wine and Wickets? Did you play backyard croquet when you were growing up? The nostalgia never stops so put on your tie dye t-shirt or dress and spend a leisurely afternoon sipping wine while playing a few games with friends. You can even get in on the croquet tournament to see who's got the hottest mallet in town. Art, Wine and Wickets is a 21 and over event. Dressing in 70s style attire is encouraged, but not required.

The "Cover It!" Utility Box Mural Project is designed to support public art programs and to enhance the community through the use of mini-murals. The project will continue to enhance the aesthetics of Yuba-Sutter, promote civic pride, increase pedestrian traffic and extend public art to new areas and unexpected places while creating an attractive environment and allowing art to be introduced to the public in a creative and inventive way. The program goal is to bring beauty to unexpected places such as utility boxes and other public infrastructure.

CHP "START SMART" Program

California has the second highest fatality rate nationwide, involving drivers between the ages of 15-20. To help combat this growing problem, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) is conducting classes for teens and their parents. This is a program specifically geared toward reducing collisions and injuries involving teen drivers. This innovative program is called "Start Smart," Driving Smart to Stay Safe.

WHO: Teens age 15-20 and their parents.

WHAT: To raise awareness regarding the consequences of a poor choice when mixed with the decision to drive a motor vehicle. Attendees will hear personal testimony from someone directly affected by a tragic collision.

WHEN: 6:30 p.m., May 2, 2018. Please call to reserve a seat.

WHERE: Yuba Sutter CHP office 1619 Poole Boulevard, Yuba City, CA 95993

WHY: To save the lives and prevent injuries to teen drivers.

This class has been held bi-monthly for the past 13 years at the Yuba Sutter CHP Office. We are reaching out to the community and encouraging anyone interested in participating to call the Yuba Sutter CHP office and enroll. The class is free, takes 2 hours, and is guaranteed to leave a lasting impression on everyone in attendance. It has been said many times, this is the most important 2 hours a teen and parent can spend together to learn about the dangers of driving.

Sutter Performing Arts Association's "The Theater Gallery"

The Theater Gallery reopens on April 4, after undergoing three months of renovations. We will celebrate our brand new look with our monthlong exhibit featuring artist MARY ANN NATION and work by our resident artists. Our hosted Artist Reception will be Thursday, April 12, from 5 - 7 pm with complimentary refreshments. Admission to our gallery is always free, and we are located at 756 Plumas Street, Yuba City, next to the Sutter Theater. Gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 12 - 5 pm.

MARY ANN NATION's beautiful oil paintings of landscapes and seascapes distinctly convey her loose impressionistic style. An artist for seventeen years, Mary Ann's colorful paintings are all oils done with a palette knife. Many of her pieces are plein air paintings, and others are those rendered from her own photos or still life subjects. Her work has been shown in art galleries in Fort Bragg, Colusa, Marysville, and Yuba City. Mary Ann considers making oil paintings of clients' travel photos both challenging and immensely rewarding. For her, painting is a way to capture nature and share its beauty with others. Don't miss this spectacular show in the month of April!

The Theater Gallery is open every week, Wednesday through Saturday, from noon to 5:00 p.m. Come in and enter the drawing to win a jewelry piece each month. An Artist Reception is held from 5:00 to 7:00 pm usually on the first Thursday of every month, complete with complimentary refreshments. Proceeds from The Theater Gallery benefit the Sutter Performing Arts Association's effort to renovate the Sutter Theater, turning it into a viable community center. For more information, please visit our website at: www.suttertheater.org or follow The Theater Gallery on Facebook.

from notifying federal immigration officials in many cases when legal and illegal immigrants subject to deportation are about to be released from custody.

The Trump administration went to federal court to invalidate Sanctuary State laws, claiming they obstruct federal immigration law and thus violate the Constitution's supremacy clause. This clause gives federal law precedence over state measures. That case is pending. Los Alamitos leaders voted to file an amicus brief to the Justice Department's lawsuit.

Orange County, once a conservative stronghold, voted in 2016 for Hillary Clinton for President and also helped elect democrat rookie State Senator Josh Newman (D-Fullerton). Newman is facing a recall for voting to raise the gas tax.

Orange County officials led by Supervisor and former member of the State Board of Equalization Michelle Park Steel (South Korean immigrant) as well as leaders in Aliso Viejo and Buena Park said Tuesday they plan to push for various versions of the anti-sanctuary ordinance as well.

Steel said the first duty of government is to protect its citizens, and a law that prevents Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) from apprehending criminal illegal immigrants does just the opposite.

"We are not talking about law-abiding illegal aliens. We're talking about criminals on the street. It's very dangerous, and public safety is very, very important in Orange County," Steel said. "We just want to stop these criminals walking on our streets."

Steel hopes that California's 57 other counties join Orange County in rejecting the "bad law," because all Californians deserve to be in a safe environment.

Shasta County Supervisors approved a resolution declaring the county is not a sanctuary jurisdiction. Similar efforts to officially resist the sanctuary law fell short in Kern County and the City of Costa Mesa.

Local Third District Assemblyman James

Gallagher is encouraging cities and counties he represents to follow the lead of Los Alamitos and others in rejecting the bad law.

No official declarations have been made yet by local elected bodies in Yuba-Sutter Counties, but it is unlikely that Yuba County will act. The relicensing of Bullard's Bar Dam worth hundreds of millions of dollars in revenue is still unfinished and supervisors fear a vengeful Governor Brown could punish the county for opposing the Sanctuary Law.

Citizens in the 1800s formed this state to serve and protect counties and cities rather than be a dictator over them. State government is now corrupt, morally bankrupt, has too much control and too much power. The massive bureaucracy is an ineffective mess and harmful to the citizens. Cities and counties are now held captive by those who were supposed to serve them.

The State has gone from being a republic to a regime.

Brownsville Bailiwick & Beyond

Now we are well into spring. Will the weather settle down some? If March came in like a lion, will it go out like a lamb? We had many beautiful snow days during the last few weeks, but most of us are ready for some warm spring weather. The snow pack has grown, the pile of fire wood is going down, we are looking at seed catalogs getting ready for Mother Nature's next surprise.

Saturday, March 31st, the Spring Fling Communities Yard Sale will be held in the parking lots of Books and More and the Brownsville Mercantile. Spaces are free so bring your crafts, or if you have yard sale type items just bring them down and set up. Across the street in the Gold Eagle Market parking lot, the Forbestow Advisory Council will be holding their annual Easter Bake Sale. Stop on by and pick up your Easter dessert the check out the treasures at the yard sale.

There will be two free Easter Egg Hunts for the kiddies on Saturday, March 31st. One will be held at the Ponderosa Park in Brownsville. There will be free hot dog lunches as well as prizes for the kids who find the lucky eggs. The second Easter Egg Hunt will be held in Dobbins/

Oregon House. We do not have the times for either egg hunt or the location of the Dobbins/OH event. Thinking maybe the Alcouffe?

Look Back in Time - in 1925 at the rabbit races in Rackerby some rabbits were clocked at 13 3/4 seconds faster than any others run in California (can you imagine clocking the speed of rabbits?).

Hope to see you in Brownsville soon.

California celebrates Agriculture Day
Hundreds of people braved a light rain to gather outside the state Capitol in Sacramento Tuesday for celebrations commemorating National Agriculture Day. The event focused on the environmental stewardship shown by the state's farmers and ranchers. Coinciding with the first day of spring, Agriculture Day highlights the value of agriculture's contributions to people's daily lives. Agriculture Week celebrations will be held throughout the week in many parts of the state and nation.

Recovery from Thomas Fire could take years

More than three months after the Thomas Fire ripped through Ventura and Santa Barbara counties, farmers and ranchers continue to assess the long-term impacts. Avocado farmers say some fire-blackened trees have started to put out new growth, leading to hope they may recover. Cattle ranchers within the fire zone say it will take years for their herds and grazing land to recover fully. A lemon grower says Santa Ana winds caused more problems than the fire did.

California-grown asparagus reaches market

The state's remaining asparagus farmers hope shoppers will look for California-grown asparagus in markets before Easter. Asparagus acreage in the state has declined during the past 20 years, in large part due to lower-cost competition from Mexico. But California farmers still grow about 7,000 acres of asparagus, mainly along the Central Coast, in the San Joaquin Delta and the Central Valley. Harvest will continue through mid-May.

Report shows gaps in agricultural science teaching

A study issued Tuesday points to gaps in training students for careers in agricultural science. The National 4-H Council and Bayer surveyed teachers and parents. Most respondents said they consider agricultural science important. But many high school science teachers said they don't feel qualified to teach agricultural science. An earlier federal study showed demand for agriculture-science employers greatly outweighs the number of qualified graduates available.

Foothill Scouts Host Fundraiser Dinner & Auctions

Boy Scout Troop 6400 and Cub Scout Pack 6400 are hosting a banquet, silent auction and cake auction on Saturday, April 7 from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the Alcouffe Community Center, 9185 Marysville Road, Oregon House. The dinner will include pulled pork and all the fixings, at a cost of $12 for adults, $8 for children under 10 years, and $35 for families (2 adults plus children).

The funds raised will support local scouting activities including camp, leadership and citizenship activities, rank advancement, and community service projects. The foothills Troop and Pack will be joined by guests, Boy Scout Troop and Cub Scout Pack 21 from Marysville, in the banquet and auctions. (530) 692-9664.

On Wednesday evening March 14, about 35 people showed up for a North Yuba Grown sponsored a Meet Your County Staff Town Hall Meeting at the Alcouffe Community Center in Oregon House. After a some brief introductions by County Supervisor Fletcher, and North Yuba Grown spokesman Gary Hawthorne, the meeting got underway.

Leading off was Community Services Director Kevin Mallen. Mr. Mallen spent some time discussing the response to the recent Cascade Fire in Loma Rica. He said, of the 147 homes lost, 39 permits to rebuilt had been applied for, with an average turn around time of two weeks. He expected 2018 to be a busy year.

Next, Mike Lee, with Public Works spoke. He narrated that maintaining the 650 miles of public roads in the county had become challenging as the gas tax has been reduced over the years. He did emphasize that if SB-1, the Transportation Funding Act, came through as proposed, it would provide much needed money for road maintenance and repair. He provided a road proposed road resurfacing table for county roads through 2021.

Next to speak was Clark Pickell with Environmental Health. He revealed that there has been a major change in how the state now considers what the capacity of a septic system can handle. In effect, previous built systems were over engineered by 50%. This means, a septic system designed for two bedrooms can actually handle four bedrooms.

Building Department and Code Enforcement Director Jeremy Strang spoke next. He articulated how many people, who have out of code structures, are reluctant to come forward to avoid expensive conformity requirements. He emphasized, that was mostly unfounded, and his department is willing to work with people on bringing their buildings up to code.

Finally, it was Kevin Perkins, from the Planning Department, turn to speak. Planner Perkins began by describing how the 2011 General Plan Update and subsequent zoning, was intended to bring the zoning ordinances more up to date and support agritourism. He thanked several members of North Yuba Grown for their valuable contributions to the planning process. He then went on to say how the Supervisors want a "living document", one that can be changed as needed to keep up with the times. He welcomed ongoing input and suggestions from the public for refinements and changes to the zoning rules.

A similar meeting is planned for Brownsville at the Ponderosa Community Center in April.

Tariffs vs Tax Credits

The media has been rife with news about the Trump steel tariffs and the opinions run the gamut from full support to outright stern objection. The argument is not so much about whether our steel industries need protection as whole as an argument could be and has been made that China, the target of the tariffs, has been playing unfairly in the arena of free trade. Although most of the media coverage has centered around the specifics of the industry in question, the microscope of analysis should be explaining and detailing how tariffs are thought to work and whether tariffs in general are a useful and efficient remedy to such maladies. Simply put, this particular tariff is an additional tax placed on Chinese steel. Therefore the price of domestic steel would not be reduced.

The obvious reasoning is that by making an import more expensive though tariffs and thereby making American steel more attractive by comparison, our domestic steel industry would benefit.

The first question I would ask is wouldn't a tax credit offered to our steel companies serve the same purpose?

Think of it this way: by installing tariffs on imported steel, the price of domestic steel would not drop in nominal terms. The cost savings to the industries that use steel therefore would not be reduced. These steel consuming industries such as the auto and packaging companies to name a few would see no savings.

Meanwhile the tariff money goes into the coffers of those that initiated the tax, and that means into government coffers.

I have always made the argument that if the governing authorities want to help the bulk of the economy, meaning the consumer, a tax credit would serve the same purpose by giving our industries the needed break in question.

The difference is by allowing domestic steel companies to take a tax credit, they could offer their steel at lower prices to those consuming it. That in turn would mean lower steel prices to those that make the end products which is all the stuff you and I buy that use steel. This would result in a general price reduction in all products that use steel and its related products and that in turn would mean more money in the pockets of American consumers to spend on other items in the economy.

Conversely, when a tariff is used, there is no price reduction in the end product which means the consumer saves nothing. The money which is the tariff tax goes into government coffers and that should be the end of the story but it's not. It is generally believed the import tariffs actually cause price increases in whatever end product is in question so you get a double whammy and not in your favor dear reader.

One could argue the government would use those additional monies to spend on whatever it spends its money on, but since the consumer is the driving force of all economies, putting that money into the hands of the everyday Joe would not only help a struggling constituency which is all of us, but get into the economy that much quicker.

It's believed by some, this analyst included, that money in the hands of consumers is more wisely spent with less waste than putting that money into an already bloated bureaucracy known as Uncle Sam.

In each specific case a tariff is implemented, the subsequently higher priced import does make the domestic product more attractive by comparison, but besides stuffing government coffers, the consumer would see no benefit from reduced prices. In fact the consumer would likely see higher prices. Compare this to a tax credit which would have a similar effect on domestic steel demand yet have the additional benefit of lowering prices to the consumer.

That the powers at be wish to help domestic producers and assist in what arguably could be unfair practices is the obvious reasoning. That the money goes into the hands of Washington instead of into the American consumer is the larger issue and something few people are even discussing.

CRITIC'S CORNER

A Wrinkle in Time
 Starring: Storm Reid, Oprah Winfrey, and Reese Witherspoon.
 Rated: PG, Runtime: 109 minutes.

A scientist manages to sling himself across the Universe and didn't even leave a note. Four years after the disappearance of her father Meg is contacted by three ethereal beings that help Meg, Charles Wallace, and Calvin, travel the universe to rescue her father from the, It.

The story flows like a dandelion seed on a warm spring breeze. Brushing against themes and plot points without settling on any part for very long. The acting is nicely done and the visual effects are just plain lovely.

A Wrinkle in Time, earns three out of five, Tesseract Monkeys. The main attraction of this film is the visual effects and the teasing of a greater understanding. There is certainly less substance than one would expect, but it is a pleasant place to be for a couple of hours.

THINK About It!

By Charlie McNiff

That was a Massive Political Earthquake (about 8.5 on the Richter Scale) Friday nite, March 16th around 10 pm in Washington, D.C. A Huge Fissure opened up when FBI Deputy Director (No. 2 Guy) Andrew McCabe was fired by Attorney General Jeff Sessions in those late hours the night before St. Patrick's Day.

It seemingly came out of nowhere when it erupted from the FBI OPR before it got to the Attorney General's desk. OPR... what the hell is that?... and probably 99.999% of the citizenry in this country had the same thought. Even some in the TV Media didn't know what it was. The OPR is the FBI's Office of Professional Responsibility that is akin to the Internal Affairs crew of the police and sheriff's departments for review and determinations of wrongdoings within those ranks.

The FBI has an iron-clad rule that cannot be broken. You Cannot Lie... You Will Be Fired!

O.K., so when FBI Inspector General Michael Horowitz (appointed by President Obama in 2012) made his determination that McCabe had to go, his decision was sent to Director of the OPR Robin Ashton, (who was appointed by Attorney General Eric Holder in December 2010) for a final review and determination. The OPR was the unbeknownst hammer to us in the hinterlands and outside the circle of law enforcement.

In the realm of the Justice Dept., it's like being another Watchdog of the Watchdog Inspector General. It's a Double Check! And when the OPR determined that Mc-Cabe leaked and lied... repeatedly...that was it and the Hammer was given to Attorney General Jeff Sessions to slam McCabe on the Anvil!

As a happenstance, Law Professor Allen Der-showitz was on the Laura Ingraham Show of Fox News when the Hammer came down and he mentioned, in part, "those kinds of offices (OPR) generally protect their own but for them to come down that hard on McCabe it really had to have proved facts with credibility and really be bad." Professor Der-showitz added, "Being a conservative Civil Libertarian, we can agree on this action for the good of the country."

Even Jonathan Turley, a constitutional lawyer and professor, said, "the testimonies of both McCabe and former FBI Director James Comey could make him (Comey) a leaker and a liar!"

It seems these two bunny rabbits, Flopsy and Mopsy (McCabe and Comey), can't get their ear antennas focused and keep bashing their heads together in the process.

Newt Gingrich, former Speaker of the House, chimed in, "It's gotten to be something new each week that leads to a much bigger picture...and the unraveling has just begun to unfold..."

As in biblical times, the Walls of Jericho are starting to crumble...and when they are reduced to rubble it could be strewn with a slew of creatures gasping for air in the Deep Swamp!!!

Former CIA Director John Brennan appointed by President Obama in March 2013, sent this sweet tweet to President

Trump after McCabe's fall from grace, "When the full extent of your venality, moral turpitude, and political corruption becomes known, you will take your rightful place as a disgraced demagogue in the dustbin of history. You may scapegoat Andy McCabe, but you will not destroy America... America will triumph over you."

Well, John, as to Your venality, moral turpitude and political corruption, you might cringe a little apologetically every time you look in a mirror for those faults you accuse others of having.

In that that vein, realizing there are storm clouds gathering in the Senate and House for a "Second" Special Counsel to investigate other areas of known malfeasance (O.K., Crimes!)...could it be possible Mr. Brennan, that the high echelons of your CIA tenure might have dirty smudges on their faces, not unlike the Andy McCabe Escapade.

Washington, D.C. is getting to be known as Lawyers Heaven!

Many aftershocks are expected to occur from the March 16th political earthquake (and it could be in similar 8.0 or bigger Richter Scale movements that includes falling dominoes of higher-ups in the Obama Administration).

Think about it, Obama's going to get a ringside seat at the frivolities from his residence that sits just a few miles from the Nation's Capitol. And if the fires get too hot, he might have to be on the lookout for some burning embers flying his way...Democrats sure don't want any of his coat-tails to catch on fire.

Re: Who's Running Sutter County

I would advise you to immediately revoke the present No Camping Ordinance and replace it with the former No Camping Ordinance. This will satisfy the majority, if not all, of the plaintiffs complaints and eliminate the need for an injunction. The only remaining issue is property damage claims which should be minimal due to the fact the ordinance was never enforced.

off that freeway. With approximately 300 drivers Monday through Friday trying to enter this freeway between 6:00 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. with close to 50 agricultural farms during harvest, there will be several thousand semi tractor trailers and workers entering and exiting for several months during the harvest. With approximately 40 school bus stops on Highway 70, we absolutely believe this highway will become more DANGEROUS WITH MORE FATALITIES. Let's discuss Marysville. The traffic??? Want to talk about back log. Several times in a week traffic backs up two miles out of Marysville right past Marysville High. That is what our children need: More emissions, Drivers entering and exiting from Marysville High trying to get back on B St will become twice as difficult.

If this concerns you please contact your city, county, and State Representatives.

And contact Cal Trans also

cigarettes causes people to stop smoking. At $9 a pack per day, that smoker spends $3,285 annually. The majority of these users are poor. (Many of the local squatters are smokers.) However, retailers argue that price increases are not a major factor causing people to quit.

State and federal taxes per pack are at $3.88. Most of the recent $2.00/pack tax is going to Medi-Cal and then to insurance companies to insure poor people. With the decision in 1987 to provide free medical to people unwilling to care for themselves government uses 'sin' taxes to offset those costs.

When people want government to take responsibility for their lives then they surrender their freedom in that same measure. If we want a government to pay for our food, rent, medical care and education, that same government gains the right to tell us what to eat, drink and smoke, where to live and attend school and whether that medical treatment is allowed.

Social scientists and medical professionals are predicting that obesity will become the leading health crisis that smoking once was 25 years ago. Billions have been spent on anti-smoking education campaigns. However, some feel that laws prohibiting where people can indulge have done as much or more to get people to stop.

California taxes are high, but not the highest on smokes (New York is #1). California does have some of the toughest restrictions on where people can light-up and now is second lowest next to Utah on the incidence of tobacco use. However, Yuba County resists those healthy trends.

What about obesity? Some argue that fat people are abusing the healthcare system (insurance) because of ailments related to being over-weight. Others counter that fat people die younger thereby compensating for getting more than their share of services early on.

Facts show that most of the medical care dollars per all individuals are spent at the very end for people in their 70s, 80s and 90s to prolong life a year or so. Expensive operations and extraordinary care in hospital intensive care units can cost hundreds of thousands of dollars in a week.

Is it too futuristic for the La Raza Government in Sacramento to tax people based upon their weight? If a one-pack a day California smoker is spending $1416 annually in cigarette taxes how about charging $15 per pound overweight annually. That would be $1500 for a person carrying 100 pounds too much for their height.

People could visit a weigh-in center each year like we get a smog check. With the weigh-in certificate they could pay their annual dues to eat all they want. Here's to happy fat people who like government medical care.

Your One Minute News Digest

by Don Rae

• Just returned from Texas trip. All the money for roads is being spent there. Every road is under construction or repair. And the speed limits are the same for all vehicles. Never a pile up behind some 18-wheeler. Perhaps CalTrans needs some basic education and Moonbeam needs to knock off the bullet-train to nowhere.

• And another observation. The average regular gas in Texas was $2.37.

• Moonbeam and his loonies want all cars in California to be electric. How does he think he can finance the needed infrastructure to pull off this utopian idea? What will he do with gasoline/diesel cars coming in as tourists from other states? How is he going to compensate those who own gas cars since he will have made them unsalable? What is he going to do with all the millions of cars rotting by the wayside?

• Then again Moonbeam is a real dolt. He appoints an "illegal invader" to a State job? Senate President pro Tem Kevin de León (a Democrat) appointed Lizbeth Mateo to the California Student Opportunity and Access Program Project Grant Advisory Committee (whatever that group is). When will common sense Californians rise up to say we've had enough?

• Well, maybe Moonbeam is just trying one-up San Francisco. Last year San Francisco passed Proposition N, allowing illegal invaders to vote in school board elections.

• During the Korean War the NOKOs used children and women as cannon fodder in front of attacking troops. In the Iran/Iraq War, children were used to go in front of the troops to clear minefields. Today, the lefties are using kids to front the war against guns.

• Another example of the "religion of peace" occurred in Florida. Justifying his actions based on his Muslim beliefs, a 17-year old knifed a boy to death and injured two others in a sleepover. The Palm Beach Post reported the kid had been investigated for "alleged violent tendencies" by the Jupiter Police Department, the Palm Beach County School District police, and the FBI. And we are supposed to give up our guns and let law enforcement protect us?

• The state legislature is at it again. If SB826 goes into effect, a publicly held corporation with California as its principal place of business would be required to have a minimum of three women directors, if its authorized number of directors is six or more. Quotas by government fiat for private business.

• The lefties at UCLA are demanding students pay $14.99 a term for the social justice program. Isn't it wonderful that students must pay to end free speech in a public university.

• The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals judges refused to block the U.S. District Court in Oregon from hearing a suit filed by an environmental group "Our Children's Trust". In other words, not only do children have the right to sue over environmental issues, but judges can usurp the Congress and President over energy and environmental policy. When did the Ninth Circuit become the Constitution of the United States?

• What a joke. Arnold Schwarzenegger is taking oil companies to court "for knowingly killing people all over the world."

• Apparently the Sacramento County Superior Court doesn't recall, or even know, history. In a recent ruling, California must stop using nearly 80 pesticides on public and private property. Thanks to Rachel Carson and a bunch of Leftists using environmentalism as a reason, caused a ban on DDT. That action allowed malaria to kill millions, mostly in Third World countries. In India, just to mention one example, between 1952 and 1962, use of DDT decreased malaria cases from 100 million to 60,000. The ban on DDT caused the number of cases to increase to 6 million. So, our local courts want to forbid even more useful agents to protect our food? How many deaths will such lunacy cause?

• Although mental illness is a major concern in California, local agencies have not spent some $2.5 billion that is available to meet those needs, according to a state auditor report. Why? Isn't mental illness a significant factor in all kinds of violence, including gun violence? Answer that query, bureaucrats.

• Joe Biden is going around telling everyone he is a champion of women. Have you ever gone back to look at video of him while Vice-president. An octopus around women.

• This 17-year-old kid from Parkland named Hogg is being made a fool by CNN and company. Now he's suggesting that what we need in the United States is "proportional representation" in everything we do. Perhaps he could check out his own school to see how proportional it is. Or his own town. According to his leftist indoctrination, we should all hire and live by race, color, gender, etc. rather than talent.

• Then again, Hogg is a typical product of public school indoctrination. In other words ignorant and immature.

• The liberals are badly conflicted. Think of it. They don't believe teenagers should be allowed to buy guns, but they believe teenagers should be allowed to dictate who should and should not possess guns. Loons.

• Huge salaries, gigantic benefit packages, and royal-like perks. Public servants fight tooth and nail to win elections and earn a soft living. In the constitutional convention in Philadelphia, Benjamin Franklin, among others, expressed the strong view that representatives of the people should serve without payments from the public purse. Our founding patriots felt that such a plan would discourage office holders from viewing politics as a paid career which would distance themselves from the public they are meant to serve and represent. It would also cut down the corruption creeping into politics (as it has today) whereby their families are enriched through various devious means. Look at the assets of many, such as Hillary, Biden, Waters and even McCabe. Too bad the suggested provision failed to make the cut in the eventual Constitution.

• Have you noticed much in the mainstream media about the armed security guard who gunned down the shooter in a Maryland school? The incident completely goes against the mainstream narrative, so it can't be shown or written about. By the way, the shooter was using a Glock hand gun, which in Maryland is illegal for anyone under 21 to have. Ever heard the phrase "Criminals don't obey the law? Any law.

Feather River Tea Party Patriots Guest Speaker Lt. Colonel Charlie Schaupp (Ret.) Conservative Candidate for 3rd Congressional District

Yuba City, Ca.

The Feather River Tea Party Patriots announced Lt. Col. Charlie Schaupp (Ret.), Conservative Candidate for the 3rd Congressional District, will be the Special Guest Speaker for their next meeting, Monday, April 2, 2018.

The Schaupp family currently farms over 3000 acres in the 3rd Congressional District and Charlie understands first-hand what it means to produce crops, make a payroll, pay rents, pay property taxes, and run a business to make ends meet. The family has farmed in the Hungry Hollow area of northern Yolo County since his great-grandparents settled there in the 1880's.

Charlie Schaupp's agricultural roots run as deep as his passion for freedom. Charlie is a graduate of Yuba College where he received an associate degree in agricultural business. He received his bachelor's degree in agriculture from California State University, Chico with an emphasis in soils, irrigation and drainage. A water science specialist, Charlie also engaged in additional graduate studies in hydrology and water resource development.

Lieutenant Colonel Schaupp, United States Marines, is a proven patriot. He is a retired Marine officer and his 28-year service with Marine reserves was both extensive and honorable. During a 5-year mobilization in the Global War on Terrorism, Charlie served as Anti-Terrorism Officer for the 3rd Marine Division, Security Officer for First Marine Expeditionary Force in battle of Falujah (duties as a special staff officer to General Conway assigned to safeguard access to classified information and operations), and Deputy Camp Commander and Anti-Terrorism officer for Camp Courtney, Okinawa-Japan, protecting and safeguarding over 5000 Marines and families who were deployed overseas.

Charlie was also mobilized in 1991 for Operation Desert Storm and served as the Commanding Officer of Company B, 4th LSB 'The Stockton Marines' in combat operations supporting the 2nd Marine Division's attack and advance into Kuwait City. He, again, was called up in the service of freedom in 1997 and was mobilized to support peace enforcement operations in the Bosnia crisis.

Charlie is earnestly committed to helping our youth. He served as a Boy Scout leader for over 20 years and while deployed overseas to Okinawa, Japan, he carried out the duties as the Assistant District Commissioner and Scout Round-table Commissioner in the Far East Council to ensure the success of scouting programs for our military families who were stationed in foreign countries. For his service to scouting, Charlie is a recipient of the Silver Bear District Leadership Award from the Boy Scouts.

Charlie is strongly committed to lowering taxes. As a former director of the Yolo County Taxpayers Association, he worked to ensure elected officials were held accountable when spending tax money thereby ensuring governmental fiscal responsibility. He is also a proud veteran and serves in several veteran organizations. He is currently the Commander of Western Yolo Post 7143, Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW).

Don't forget – Our regular feature In The News with Paul Preston, Agenda 21 Radio, will follow our Special Guest Speaker. Paul will be discussing events of the day.

Everyone is welcome. There is no membership and no cost to attend. The Feather River Tea Party Patriots meeting starts at 6:30 p.m. sharp and will be held at the Crossroads Community Church, 445 B Street, Yuba City. Doors open at 6:00 p.m.; come early to register, socialize with like-minded patriots, and get a good seat. For more information contact Larry or Carla at (530) 755-4409
